Hall County voters went to the polls Saturday—nearly 3,000 strong—nominated a new man for county judge, re-elected the county clerk, and put two veterans in the run-off for sheriff, unofficial returns from all 16 boxes in the county show.

THANKS

The Democrat is indebted to the following firms and individuals for aiding with the election party held last Saturday night, and to them this newspaper expresses its thanks and appreciation:

F. E. Monzingo, West Texas Utilities company, Wm. Cameron and company, Potts Chevrolet, Foster Watkins, Memphis School board, Carl Harrison, Lemons Furniture, Durham-Jones Pharmacy, Jack Hightower, E. E. Roberts, T. B. Rogers.

And any others whom we may have overlooked and who aided in making the election party a success.

Here are the winners: State representative, 121st district: Sheffy Mahan of Childress. District attorney, Leonard King of Childress.

County clerk: John Russell of Estelline.

County sheriff: Joe L. Mothershed of Parnell, and Earl E. Hill of Memphis, formerly of Turkey, in the run-off.

In the state races, Tom Connally thoroughly out-classed a field of five to win re-nomination to the U. S. senatorship without the necessity of a run-off. Others in the race were Floyd E. Ryan, A. B. (Cyclone) Davis, Laverna Somerville, and Terrell Sledge.

Beauford Jester, the favored gubernatorial candidate of Hall Countians, led in the governor's race, with Homer P. Rainey second. Jester and Rainey will have another four weeks of campaigning before meeting in the run-off primary August 24.

Grover Sellers finished third, Jerry Sadler fourth, and John Lee Smith fifth, according to latest Texas Election Bureau returns.

Allan Shivers led in the lieutenant governor's race, finding himself in the run-off with Boyce House, who finished second. House led by a large majority in Hall County.

CLAUDE'S COMMENTS

By J. C. W.

Memphians are looking forward with eagerness to the coming Saturday night. That is bath-taking time, and will also be the first time in some weeks that the bath water will be soft enough to make one feel like he is clean without that sticky feeling engendered by gypsy water. All of this preamble was brought about Wednesday when it was announced that the water from two new wells had been turned into the mains—at least 75 per cent more water, and of less hardness than any heretofore furnished.

Then, too, there is satisfaction in knowing that the shrubs and (Continued on page 8)

POOLING OF 1945 LOAN COTTON TO BE OCTOBER 1

BORROWER CAN GET $10 TO $15 PER BALE PROFIT BY SELLING

All of the 1945 cotton crop still under loan October 1 of this year will be pooled on that date by the Commodity Credit Corporation, Lynn L. McKown, secretary of the Hall County ACA, was informed this week by B. F. Vance, state director of the production and marketing administration.

Such loans matured July 31 and the borrower has the right of repayment prior to October 1, McKown said. At the present price of cotton, however, the borrower should be able to dispose of this cotton at profit above loan and charges against the cotton.

A borrower would be able to realize about $10 to $15 per bale, McKown said, provided he sells while cotton is high. If he waits until the cotton is pooled, he is gambling on the prospects of making more per bale, and he probably will not realize quite as much.

There are a large number of such borrowers in Hall County, the ACA secretary pointed out, who have equities on the 1945 crop. He advised that the equities be disposed of before the October 1 deadline to prevent possible loss to area farmers.

Mrs. Pete Ballard, Pioneer Resident Of County, Dies

Moved to Newlin in '91; Funeral Rites Held There; Interment at Newlin

Mrs. Pete Ballard, pioneer Hall County woman who came to this county in 1891 and who was known throughout the area as "Aunt Jennie" Ballard, died Sunday afternoon at about 6:30 o'clock.

Funeral services were held at the First Methodist Church in Newlin Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, conducted by Rev. A. V. Hendricks, assisted by Rev. B. L. Peacock, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Memphis. Interment was in the Newlin cemetery under the direction of the Murphy-Snider-Estes Funeral Home of Memphis.

Mrs. Ballard was 83 years, 11 months, and 14 days of age at the time of her death.

Mr. and Mrs. Ballard came from Smith County, Tenn., to Newlin, arriving in that community by train December 19, 1891. There was no depot in Newlin at that time.

Lodging for their first night in Newlin was furnished by an early settler, Mr. Redman. Newlin had two stores and one hotel when the Ballards arrived.

Their first year in the county, Mr. and Mrs. Ballard rented the farm now occupied by Gus Odom, and the following year they purchased 200 acres of land just west of the Odom place. They have lived there since that time, moving in 1920 to a new home just across the road from their former place.

Mrs. Ballard was born August (Continued on page 8)

Scattered Rains Aid Some Crops

A new high temperature of 110 for this summer found Memphians sweltering Sunday, but was slightly quelled by scattered showers and some hail Sunday night and then again Monday night.

Clouds over Memphis Sunday night indicated that some moisture might fall, but the rain failed to materialize here. Rain was reported as falling near Lakeview, Lesley, Plaska, Friendship, and Newlin, with the amount varying from a trace to almost an inch in some spots.

Some hail was reported as falling near the Friendship community, and some near Lakeview Sunday night. One crop of 400 acres of cotton was reported as hailed out.

Monday night found more clouds, and Memphis received only a light shower, hardly enough to register in the official gauge of J. J. McMickin, local weather observer.

The highest temperature of the summer came Sunday, McMickin said, but Monday the thermometer's high had dropped to a mere 105 degrees.

Farmers agree that a good general rain—minus hail—is badly needed throughout this entire area. In a few spots, however, the scattered showers during the season have come at just the right time and rain is not particularly needed; but these spots are few and far between.

On top of the dry news in Memphis, good wet news came in the form of an announcement from the Community Public Service company that water is now being pumped into town from the two new wells on the Stanford farm. The supply is now ample for the city, W. V. Coursey, local manager, said this week.

Revival at Lesley To Begin Sunday

A revival meeting will begin at the First Baptist Church of Lesley Sunday, August 4, Rev. W. I. Goodman, pastor, announced this week.

Rev. Ralph Perkins of Abilene, a returned chaplain, will do the preaching, and Horace Lowe, noted singer from Childress will have charge of the song service.

The public is invited to attend all services of this meeting, Rev. Goodman said.

Street Marking In City Continues

Marking of the streets in Memphis is continuing and will continue until Memphis has the majority of streets marked and a general plan established for locating the streets and houses, J. B. Crockett, city industrial engineer, reported this week.

Crockett requests that house owners and renters of the city obtain house numbers from the hardware and variety stores in town and mark the houses in the city so that each address may be easily located.

In a few days all paved streets, and other streets with curbs only, will be marked, and home owners are asked to place the house numbers on their dwellings at once. Business houses downtown should be numbered also, it was explained.

Other streets will be marked as rapidly as possible, and when this is done, house numbers in these areas should be put up, Crockett said.

J. H. 'Happy' Boren Dies in Memphis After Long Illness

Funeral Rites Are Held In Baptist Church at Lakeview; Burial There

John Harlem (Happy) Boren, long-time resident of this area, died in a local hospital Monday after an illness of a number of months.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the First Baptist Church in Lakeview. Rev. H. T. Harris conducted the services, assisted by Rev. Aubrey C. Haynes and Rev. Jeff Moore.

Interment was in the Lakeview cemetery under the direction of the Womack Funeral Home.

Boren was born March 8, 1894, in Indian Territory in Oklahoma, and was 52 years, 4 months, and 20 days of age at the time of his death. He moved with his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Boren, to Hall County, where the family settled in the Lakeview community.

Boren was in the retail grocery business in Hedley for a number of years, and sold his business a few months ago due to ill health and moved to Memphis. His health gradually became worse.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Ina Boren of Memphis; one daughter, Mrs. Bobbie Nell Woods of Quitaque; three brothers, Hollis Boren of Memphis, Jim W. Boren of Wichita Falls, and George E. Boren of Atwood, Okla.; two sisters, Mrs. C. B. Linley of Lubbock, and Mrs. A. C. Stephens of Memphis; and one grandson, John Elden Woods of Quitaque.

Pallbearers were Obe Holland, Jay Hunt, Roy Alexander, Clifton Strygley, Del Wells, and Don Wright.

Funeral services were held at the First Methodist Church in Newlin Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, conducted by Rev. A. V. Hendricks, assisted by Rev. B. L. TENANTS REMAIN AT CHILDRESS OFFICE

More Should Inquire

Since Congress has renewed the rent control act for another year, rent and the rent regulations will be the same as they were on August 30, 1946, rent control officials said this week.

Your landlord has gone up on rent and has not gone down since renewal of rent control, you should report this to the area rent office, which is located at 1-2 Commerce street, Childress.

All accommodations for rent should be registered with the area rent office within 30 days from the first rental date. The tenant should be shown a copy of the registration statement when he moves into the accommodations, and a change in tenancy form should be obtained and sent in to the office. Any tenant who is in doubt as to what his maximum rent is or whether the property has been registered should contact the area rent office. We will be glad to supply each of you with any information we can and urge you to call on us and report relations known to us, officials said.

The area rent office should be notified as to any eviction action a landlord takes. This office will supply landlords with information as to eviction. Buyers and sellers of property should contact this office in regard to getting possession. Anyone being evicted or wishing to evict should discuss the situation with the director of the area.

All complaints received in this office from both landlords and tenants will be treated in a confidential manner, it was explained. Landlords and tenants are urged to report any rental problem to the rent office and the personnel of this office will be glad to discuss each problem and to help in any way possible.

Rental property in two areas under the direction of this office. They are the Childress defense rental area which consists of Childress County, and the Memphis-Quannah defense rental area which consists of Hardeman, Hall, Tottle, and Collingsworth Counties.

Merchants Make Preparations For Wednesday Bargain Day

Hi! Look-ee! Hi! Look-ee!

Perhaps the great majority of merchants will not actually be using those words, but they will be in the minds of clerks behind practically every counter in town when Bargain Days open next Wednesday, August 7, and continue thereafter each Wednesday.

In the future, merchants of the city plan to stage a Bargain Day each Wednesday, in an effort to stimulate middle-of-the-week shopping here. It is believed that the merchants will be in a better position to take care of customers, and to render better service by offering bargains on Wednesdays, thereby increasing the amount of shopping on that day.

There is still a shortage of many items, merchants pointed out, but plans now are to offer bargains in a large number of items on the Bargain Day Wednesday. By having two popular shopping days, Wednesday and Saturday, business men believe that much better service for customers can be given.

During the war years, help was scarce, and there still is a shortage of help in some stores, it was explained. If some of the shopping which normally comes on Saturday can be changed to Wednesday, merchants feel that customers will be greatly benefitted. With this in mind, they plan to offer special attractions in the way of prices each Wednesday.

Some business firms are cooperating in the movement by setting up a bargain counter, and others are displaying articles to be sold at lower-than-normal prices. Other incentives are to be offered from week to week, members of the retail committee of the chamber of commerce said, and attention will be given to making the day attractive to rural residents of Hall County.

"Everyone is interested in bargains at this time, due to the great increase in the cost of living," J. B. Crockett, chamber of commerce manager, said, "and the business men of Memphis intend to make these Bargain Days as attractive as possible, thereby giving us two days during the week when we can expect large crowds."

The bargains offered are to be handled in different ways in different stores, it was explained. In addition to the bargain counter idea, some merchants plan to group a number of small articles, offering them for sale at greatly reduced prices.

Farmers Reminded to Keep Income Records to Ease Tax Return Burdens

With the halfway mark in the year's business recently gone by, Tyrus Timm, economist in farm management for the A. and M. College extension service, reminds farmers that the income tax will again be due on January 15, 1947, and that complete farm records should be kept. Like the last year, a farmer may elect to make a final return on March 15, 1947, but this last date is for final correction. The main bill still is due on January 15.

More than 95 per cent of Texas farm families file on a cash basis, says Timm. In this connection, various sections of the Texas Farm Record Book prepared by Texas A. and M. College will give the facts necessary for income tax returns.

The total amount of money received for crops and livestock raised on the farm should be recorded on pages 10-23 of the Texas Farm Record Book. Cash received for such services as work on other farms, hire of tractor, AAA payments and the like should be itemized on the same pages in the miscellaneous sales column.

List sales of livestock and other items previously bought on pages 24-25 under purchase price on pages 24-25 under expenses. All cash farm operating expenses (not household) and the purchase price of animals that died during the year also should be put on these pages.

Depreciation on farm buildings and equipment goes on pages 1-7. If you don't have one, full particulars about the Texas Farm Record Book may be obtained from your local county agent.

Pens and Chutes Prevent Injuries, Veterinarian Says

Crowding pens and loading chutes will prevent many unnecessary injuries to farm people in handling livestock, says Dr. E. A. Grist, veterinarian for the Texas A. and M. College extension service.

The use of practical handling facilities will enable the person working the stock to get the job done better as well as ward off personal injuries. By handling cattle in small, improperly fenced pens, farm people receive too many unnecessary injuries. Dr. Grist says. Crowding pens and loading chutes will prevent being shoved against a fence or kicked severely.

Dr. Grist recommends dehorning cattle, as a protection to the worker as well as other cattle. The long tusks on old boars are another dangerous weapon, and should be clipped. A ring should be put in the nose of the old bull, and he should be handled at all times as if he were dangerous. Nervous or excitable livestock might be marketed, as these are the animals the worker will most likely lose patience with, and injuries occur when patience is lost.

The job of doctoring livestock is particularly dangerous when old strong arm cowboy tactics are used. Farm workers should check the facilities for doing the job at hand. Convenience and practicality have much to do with farm safety.

Gerlach Sells into Parts Supply; Parts Building

The parts supply business of A. Gerlach was sold this week to Lee Brown, veteran parts man from Childress, and will be operated in the same location.

Gerlach, however, will maintain an automotive service business, which will be housed in the same building on Noel street at the present time.

Work was started this week on a new 50x50 brick building to be constructed immediately west of the building now housing the Gerlach battery and electric company, which will, upon completion of the building, move his automotive service business into the new structure, he said this week.

Plans now are to have the building complete within five weeks, although shortage of materials may hold up construction to some extent.

Brown, who has been making his home in Childress, has been in the part supply business for the past nine years. He is already in charge of his new business, and will operate it under the name of Brown Parts Supply.

The members of troop 35 plan to enter the Adobe Walls Council swimming meet at Pampa August 6, Myers said. One more car will be needed to take the boys to the meet, he explained, and in order to take high honors in the events, as many of the boys are needed as possible.

Memphians Lose Two Games Here
Double-Header
 Canyon Buffaloes Win 5-3, Clarendon by 7-1; Play Quannah Here Sunday

The sun was too hot for them, and so were the Canyon Buffaloes as they lost two games here in a double-header. The Clarendon base-killers, and as a result the Memphians lost two games on the diamond last Sunday afternoon.

The 7-inning struggle with the Canyon team, undefeated team from West Texas State College, ended with a 5 to 3 victory by Canyon, and the 9-inning Red River Valley league tilt with Clarendon ended with the visitors on the long end of a 7 to 1 score.

But even so, the local players were not discouraged, for they held the powerful Canyon team to one of the lowest scores they have yet compiled this year against various opponents.

Gawis Davis started on the mound for the local team, with Herschel Stewart taking over for the final two innings. Woodrow Phillips caught, and was relieved by Doc Saye. The Buffaloes scored once in the 2nd, three in the 3rd, and once more in the 7th. Memphis got its three runs in the 3rd.

In the second game, Clarendon got one in the 2nd, one in the 4th, three in the 5th, one in the 6th, one in the 7th, and held the local players to a lone score in the final inning.

O. B. Hoover pitched the first seven innings for Memphis, with Stewart finishing the game. J. W. Coppedge and Doc Saye caught.

Memphis will meet Quannah on the local field here Sunday afternoon in another league game. The final game in league play will be Sunday afternoon, August 11, when the Memphis team journeys to Wellington.

The Voice of The People

(Editor's note—this space is open to all readers of The Democrat for the purpose of expressing their opinions on any and all subjects. All signed letters will be printed here upon request, so long as they carry clean, unobscure material. The following should be considered the opinion of the writer, in no manner reflecting on the editorial policies of the news paper.)

SILLY VOTERS

As long as we, the voters of this nation, continue to elect men to congress or to state legislature who were born with a silver spoon in their mouths, we are fooling ourselves and doing an injustice to our country.

Those men were reared by a class who did not study the needs and welfare of others; for instance, their forefathers were taught that slavery was right. I am talking now about home folks southerners, if you please. I was born in these southern states and I have a right to say the things I am saying. The class of men I have in mind believe that a poll tax is just because it bars the poor, from voting, a privilege which should be their legal right. When a bill comes before our congress to repeal the poll tax some of our southern senators take the floor and filibuster for days and nights to keep a vote on the question from coming up. That's another way of sipping out of that silver spoon that they inherited. This class of men will hold to that old heritage all their silly lives.

When we, the under-privileged and cast-off voters, begin studying these fellows whom we have voted for the past 20 to 30 years, and whom we thought were so smart and were big enough to do all the things they were elected to do, we are faced with the tragic fact that they were bigger at the time of their birth than they are today. They are like the wasp, the only thing we know of except some men, that are bigger at birth than any other time in life.

The class of men I am thinking of know no more of the general public's needs than a poor church mouse; anyway, the general public has almost decided the management of our government should be changed from a male to a female management. A certain class of congressmen would have us believe that road houses, honky-tonks, and beer joints located outside the city limits where the law can't be enforced, are a good thing. They will tell us of the great taxes derived from such, but they do not tell us the trouble these hellish things bring to the people or the cost to our taxpayers in prosecuting the criminals born there.

These men I have in mind never did anything except attend school. Education is a very essential thing. Every child should do all possible to attain an education, but an education alone will not show us how to do all the things that should be done, we must have practical experience. We learn to plow by plowing, we learn by hard knocks to take a yearling by his tail and put him in his place. We must learn to milk a cow and how to grub sprouts, learn that a cotton bloom turns red the second day, that silks on the shoots of corn bloom to make grain.

To get things done and to do some things, a congressman must be a practical thinker, and an honest worker. While he loafs in California and spends Christmas 'til the middle of January, he should visit the under-privileged starving children, see the mothers who are working long hours to earn a support for loved husband and some little children, then that congressman if he has learned to be a man will not be so unthoughtful of the real welfare of his country. He surely will realize his responsibilities to the people who sent him to Washington to help safeguard the nation, and he will, if he can, lay aside that silver spoon (his birth-right).

All babies are equal, some are born in tents, some in log cabins, some in mansions. But what about the baby that was born in a manger, a cow barn? He did no harm, but all was spiritual and practical. He was a baby but unlike some others, he grew to manhood teaching the people ways of righteousness. But there are some born later who never grew except in stature. Their minds became so involved with the little idea of world possessions. As they travel through this battered sin-cursed world they never developed into adult minds which would be able to help others.

I'd rather be like the little babe who's mother could not find a respectable lodging place to stay over night, than be like Pilate with all his smart dictating friends. A frozen soul and billions of gold. (What say ye?)

I have been speaking of men who have had the rule and power over their superior sex for millions of years. Some are still babies. In other ways of speaking, they are still like those little insects which are larger at birth than any other time in its life. (Some men are like that.) Women are good home makers. They should have the right to step in and take charge of our nation, their home, which they have stood by and have seen their men folks bring almost to the point of ruin. Oh, men have learned many valuable things. They have learned to fly through the air like a bird, they have learned to swim under the water like a fish, but how have they learned to be a helpful man?

The real red-blooded women of America have become ashamed of the ways of men, so much that they are thinking of rebuilding the home so that all may enjoy equally the production and the pleasures of the home. The mothers of the nation are not over-anxious for this job but they feel their responsibilities toward the home of their child, to make it a fit place to live.

The Lord said, the rich he would send away empty. But we silly voters don't send them away empty. We return them to their fat jobs again and again hoping they will do some good. But they continue to suck their silver spoons. Such men belong to big business, that class who seeks to destroy the power of OPA so that prices of all goods and rents will go higher and all money in circulation will be spent as quickly as possible then all the poor people who have borrowed money to build homes will be broke and lose their homes and all they have. What then? Big business will take advantage of the depression.

It seems to me the voters, though we be so silly, would learn some time to put the butter on the right side of our bread. It seems it's too late now. Butter has gone sky high. Never too late to do good, butter will be cheap when the money is all in the hands of Big Business. It won't be long now. When this happens everything will be awfully cheap, and no money to buy with. We can not butter our bread then as much as we can at this time. But we will suffer when money gets higher than butter.

The Voice of The People

(Editor's note—this space is open to all readers of The Democrat for the purpose of expressing their opinions on any and all subjects. All signed letters will be printed here upon request, so long as they carry clean, unobscure material. The following should be considered the opinion of the writer, in no manner reflecting on the editorial policies of the news paper.)

SILLY VOTERS

As long as we, the voters of this nation, continue to elect men to congress or to state legislature who were born with a silver spoon in their mouths, we are fooling ourselves and doing an injustice to our country.

Those men were reared by a class who did not study the needs and welfare of others; for instance, their forefathers were taught that slavery was right. I am talking now about home folks southerners, if you please. I was born in these southern states and I have a right to say the things I am saying. The class of men I have in mind believe that a poll tax is just because it bars the poor, from voting, a privilege which should be their legal right. When a bill comes before our congress to repeal the poll tax some of our southern senators take the floor and filibuster for days and nights to keep a vote on the question from coming up. That's another way of sipping out of that silver spoon that they inherited. This class of men will hold to that old heritage all their silly lives.

When we, the under-privileged and cast-off voters, begin studying these fellows whom we have voted for the past 20 to 30 years, and whom we thought were so smart and were big enough to do all the things they were elected to do, we are faced with the tragic fact that they were bigger at the time of their birth than they are today. They are like the wasp, the only thing we know of except some men, that are bigger at birth than any other time in life.

The class of men I am thinking of know no more of the general public's needs than a poor church mouse; anyway, the general public has almost decided the management of our government should be changed from a male to a female management. A certain class of congressmen would have us believe that road houses, honky-tonks, and beer joints located outside the city limits where the law can't be enforced, are a good thing. They will tell us of the great taxes derived from such, but they do not tell us the trouble these hellish things bring to the people or the cost to our taxpayers in prosecuting the criminals born there.

These men I have in mind never did anything except attend school. Education is a very essential thing. Every child should do all possible to attain an education, but an education alone will not show us how to do all the things that should be done, we must have practical experience. We learn to plow by plowing, we learn by hard knocks to take a yearling by his tail and put him in his place. We must learn to milk a cow and how to grub sprouts, learn that a cotton bloom turns red the second day, that silks on the shoots of corn bloom to make grain.

To get things done and to do some things, a congressman must be a practical thinker, and an honest worker. While he loafs in California and spends Christmas 'til the middle of January, he should visit the under-privileged starving children, see the mothers who are working long hours to earn a support for loved husband and some little children, then that congressman if he has learned to be a man will not be so unthoughtful of the real welfare of his country. He surely will realize his responsibilities to the people who sent him to Washington to help safeguard the nation, and he will, if he can, lay aside that silver spoon (his birth-right).

All babies are equal, some are born in tents, some in log cabins, some in mansions. But what about the baby that was born in a manger, a cow barn? He did no harm, but all was spiritual and practical. He was a baby but unlike some others, he grew to manhood teaching the people ways of righteousness. But there are some born later who never grew except in stature. Their minds became so involved with the little idea of world possessions. As they travel through this battered sin-cursed world they never developed into adult minds which would be able to help others.

I'd rather be like the little babe who's mother could not find a respectable lodging place to stay over night, than be like Pilate with all his smart dictating friends. A frozen soul and billions of gold. (What say ye?)

I have been speaking of men who have had the rule and power over their superior sex for millions of years. Some are still babies. In other ways of speaking, they are still like those little insects which are larger at birth than any other time in its life. (Some men are like that.) Women are good home makers. They should have the right to step in and take charge of our nation, their home, which they have stood by and have seen their men folks bring almost to the point of ruin. Oh, men have learned many valuable things. They have learned to fly through the air like a bird, they have learned to swim under the water like a fish, but how have they learned to be a helpful man?

The real red-blooded women of America have become ashamed of the ways of men, so much that they are thinking of rebuilding the home so that all may enjoy equally the production and the pleasures of the home. The mothers of the nation are not over-anxious for this job but they feel their responsibilities toward the home of their child, to make it a fit place to live.

The Lord said, the rich he would send away empty. But we silly voters don't send them away empty. We return them to their fat jobs again and again hoping they will do some good. But they continue to suck their silver spoons. Such men belong to big business, that class who seeks to destroy the power of OPA so that prices of all goods and rents will

152 Million Units Of Surplus Goods Are Sold by WAA

Approximately 152 million units of surplus consumer goods, ranging from household appliances to fence posts, have been disposed of in more than 140 nationally-conducted sales programs completed to date, War Assets Administration has announced.

On the basis of figures received from its 33 regional offices, WAA estimated that the goods, which cost the government about $168,000,000, brought an average return of more than 47 per cent. Most of the items were in new condition and, in some instances returned full OPA prices, WAA said.

In many of the sales, orders received exceeded the quantities of goods available by as much as 100 to 900 per cent, WAA reported. In all the sales the complete inventories were disposed of. However, WAA said, this does not mean that surpluses of these items no longer exist. Additional stocks of many of the items have been declared surplus since the sales were conducted.

TO OUR CUSTOMERS

A Hearty "Thank You"

For your patience and cooperation during the recent water shortage

Our new pipeline and two new wells have been completed and are now in service. The former capacity of our system has been increased by 75%, which assures an ample supply of water for all present requirements plus a reserve for future growth.

We regret that delays due to strikes and other causes beyond our control prevented us from completing this improvement before the summer peak demand hit, but similar delays have been common in all types of construction and this project was no exception.

We sincerely appreciate your cooperation and patience during the period of shortage and assure you that we will make every effort to see that your water supply is kept adequate to meet the demand at all times in the future.

Winning Essay—

DIVERSIFIED FARMING PAYS

Editor's Note: This is another in the series of winning essays on diversified farming, submitted in the recent contest for 4-H Club members of Hall County. This essay was written by Gayle Fowler, Route 2, Memphis.

In diversified farming you must terrace your land. On the level farm and on the contour, rotate different kinds of crops on your land each year. Never follow with the same crop on the same land year after year, such as planting cotton after cotton. Change your land where you had cotton planted to maize or cane.

On the "strip crop," you must plow your land and have the rows contoured to keep the land from blowing, and to keep the soil from washing away. The land will produce better products if it is terraced and if the terraces are kept up like they should be.

You should plant several different kinds of crops on your farm, so that if some does not produce, the others will.

On your farm, you should plant cotton, maize, corn, cane, soy beans, peas, peanuts, potatoes, wheat, sudan, alfalfa, and broom corn.

You must have the proper farm machinery to do your farm work with and the right kind to gather each crop.

You should also have cattle, hogs, chickens, sheep, and turkeys on your farm to go with your farming. Our government is asking the American farmers to raise all the grain, wheat, hogs, cattle, cream, milk, eggs, and poultry they can to help feed our country and our allies abroad.

Diversified farming means having a better standard of living at home, instead of having all your needs in town. If all the American farmers would follow this plan, there would be a better standard of living in our country today.

Texas Still Needs Ranch Workers, Survey Indicates

General farm and ranch workers are still needed in most sections of Texas despite the return to farms in large numbers of veterans and war plant workers, according to a labor survey conducted by C. Hohn, state farm labor supervisor with the Texas A. and M. College extension service.

In the Panhandle, labor needs are not large, but general farm workers are wanted in Lipscomb County and tractor drivers in Swisher and Roberts Counties. Hoe hands are in demand in Crosby and Lynn Counties.

Cotton and grain sorghum growers in the Rolling Plains country from San Angelo to Oklahoma need year-around farm hands and cotton choppers in Childress, Donley, Foard, Kent, Stonewall, and Haskell Counties.

General farm and ranch workers are needed in the eastern counties of the Edwards Plateau. North of Brownwood to Oklahoma in the West Cross Timbers and North Central Grazing Areas, a few general farm and ranch workers as well as year-round and skilled laborers are in demand. There is opportunity for dairy hands in this area also, says Hohn.

Year-around farm and dairy hands will find work in the northern part of the black and grand prairie areas above Austin. General farm hands are needed in the South Texas blackland from Beeville to Brenham where cotton picking has begun in Bee and De Witt Counties.

The survey showed that in nearly all sections, living quarters will be furnished for year-around workers, with wage rates running from $60 to $140 per month. Day hand rates range from $3 to $8 in some sections.

Change Of Ownership

We have just purchased the entire stock of replacement automotive parts owned by Gerlach Battery & Electric, as well as all store fixtures. This firm will be operated under the name of BROWN AUTO SUPPLY, and will be housed in the same building on West Noel Street.

The same lines of replacement parts and supplies will continue to be handled under our ownership, and some new lines will be added from time to time. Our stocks are fairly complete at this time, although shortages still exist on some critical items.

For the present the service department of Gerlach Battery & Electric will be housed in the rear of our building. All equipment and supplies for doing specialty work in the automotive line will be moved soon to a new location.

We shall continue to be wholesale and retail dealers of all parts and supplies needed for cars, trucks, pickups and tractors. Special attention will be given to orders placed by mechanics, and if parts needed should be short, we'll try to get them as quickly as possible.

Water Supply—

was let the same month. Actual test drilling was begun in February, but the first group of test wells showed no favorable locations for permanent wells, so it was necessary to make a second set of tests which were completed in March.

Further delay was encountered with completion of the permanent wells in May. Material ordered at the time the final tests were made failed to arrive on schedule and held up installation and testing of the pumps until July 8. A strike in a pipe factory delayed for two months the delivery of pipe ordered for the line connecting the new wells with the present system, and a foundry strike held up shipment of steel couplings for the line until July 28.

With the two new wells in service, Memphis is assured of a water supply ample for all foreseeable needs, according to Coursey. "We had hoped to have this improvement completed before the summer peak demand hit," Coursey said, "but all types of construction have been subject to delays during the last year and this project has had more than its share." Coursey also stated that he wished to express his thanks to Memphis water users for their patience and cooperation during the recent period of shortage.

She was united with the Presbyterian church in 1882, and after moving to Hall County became a member of the Memphis church. Mrs. Ballard was active in religious work, as well as in work in the community where she made her home for so many years.

Survivors include her husband; five sons, W. B. Ballard of Tulla, O. G. Ballard of Newlin, Joe Allen Ballard of Estelline, S. D. Ballard of Plainview, and L. D. Ballard of Floydada; and eight grandchildren.

Book on Tascosa Released for Sale

Maverick Town, the story of Old Tascosa, is the name of a new book just released, written by John L. McCarty, assistant publisher of the Amarillo Globe and News.

The book, now on sale at $3 per copy at bookstores throughout the Panhandle, is a story of the famous old town of this area, where formerly roamed such story-book characters as Billy the Kid, Pat Garrett, and Jim East. Books are on sale at The Democrat.

The author, a professional newspaperman, is a native Texas, a graduate of WTSC at Canyon, and has written numerous articles about Tascosa. His first article on Tascosa was written in 1925, and he has been gathering material for the book for a number of years.

grass can be given a good drink—something which they have not had for some weeks, due to the water shortage. If and when it rains all vegetation will be given a needed uplift.

My hat is off to Bill Coursey, local manager of the water company, who, since being made manager, has untiringly worked to secure more water for Memphis. For years it seemed no effort was made to increase the supply very materially, and when Coursey became manager he asked for and received cooperation from the company in making tests and getting new wells drilled. Due to delay in shipment of couplings, the additional water supply was not provided until this week. The pipe is of composition construction and therefore could not be welded, forcing the wait for the couplings.

Primary election number 1 is a thing of the past. Some candidates were gladdened and some were disappointed with the results, but all defeated ones took their defeat gracefully and without malice. The Democrat's election party was well attended and held the interest of people until long after midnight.

Only one county race and one precinct race, along with state races will hold the spotlight during the next few weeks, to be terminated on the night of August 24. The county run-off will be between two G's—Joe Mothershed and Earl Hill, and the precinct race will be for County Commissioner of precinct three—the Turkey district. Both races will likely wax warm and bring out a lot of voters.

Bill Phleguer of West Main street told Matilda Upstart of West Noel street the other day that he had driven his car for ten years and never had a wreck. After looking at the old bus, Matilda said, "You have had a wreck for ten years and never driven a car."

A Letter Of Appreciation

Camp Pendleton
 Oceanside, Calif.
 July 28, 1946

Dear Hall County Friends,

Just a word to express my thanks for the large vote I received in the election last Saturday. I want every one of you to know that I appreciate the work done for me.

My wife wired me today the results of the election. I am going to my commanding officer and try and get a leave to come home before the election on August 24. If I can come back, I will thank you personally for supporting me. Will try to be back in Hall County by August 10th.

I want to ask my friends to keep working for me in my race for sheriff. I want to say again that if I am elected your sheriff I shall try to be the kind of officer the voters want.

Sincerely yours,

(Signed) Joe Mothershed

Election—

James won over Clarence Williams to be re-elected state treasurer.

Price Daniel was nominated as attorney general by downing Pat M. Neff Jr. in a fairly close race. The two McDonalds, J. E., the present office-holder, and R. E. will face each other in the second primary in the campaign for commissioner of agriculture.

Olin Culberson easily won over his two opponents for railroad commissioner; Mac Coker and Ike Lyons failed to poll enough votes to place either of them in the run-off with Culberson.

For associate justice supreme court, place 1, John H. Sharp, incumbent, easily won over Chas. T. Rowland; for place 2, returns show Graham B. Smedley leading James B. Hubbard; and for judge of the court of criminal appeals, Tom Beauchamp, incumbent, will face Jesse Owens in the second primary.

Latest returns show Sheffy Mahan taking the state representative's race with 5,090 to 3,507 for Hubert Lee, incumbent.

Leonard King was assured of nomination with a total of 5,405 to 4,400 for Sam J. Hamilton, incumbent.

The county judge's race found John Russell winning with a narrow margin of 90 votes. He polled 1424 to M. O. Goodpasture's 1334.

In the county clerk's race, the leader of which varied during the receipt of election returns, Miss Gurley polled 1424 to 1329 for Raymond Cheves. Miss Gurley was seeking her second term.

Joe L. Mothershed, who still is serving with the U. S. Marines and who was not present for most of the campaign, led a field of three in the sheriff's race, getting 1309 votes. Earl E. Hill, discharged veteran, was second with 943 to place him in the run-off with Mothershed, and Forrest L. Hall followed in third place with 541 votes.

Roy Patton won re-nomination as commissioner of precinct 1 with 894 votes to 388 for W. B. Morrison. H. W. Spear was re-nominated commissioner of precinct 2 with 401 votes to W. R. (Roy) Gilbreath's 147. Fred Berry likewise was re-nominated commissioner precinct 3, polling 283 votes to 169 for Wayne Chambliss.

I. R. Twilla, present commissioner of precinct 4, was in second place in his race with 174 votes to 212 for the leader, J. B. Bugh. The third man was Gordon Hedrick, with 126, leaving Bush and Twilla in the run-off.

J. S. Grimes easily won over Morgan Baker in the justice of the peace of precinct 1 race here, getting 774 votes to Baker's 391.

The votes will be canvassed by members of the Democratic executive committee at a meeting this next Saturday, when official results of the campaigns will be announced.

The election party sponsored by the Democrat turned out to be a huge success, but when the final returns were posted at 3:15 o'clock Sunday morning, few people were left to read them. Even the candidates had gone home.

All voting precincts had reported by about 11:30, with the exception of the two Memphis boxes. These two boxes, with a total of nearly 1,200 votes, were not completed with their tallying until about 3 o'clock Sunday morning.

Memphians Down Lions of Childress

You wouldn't have expected it to see them working out, but members of the Memphis Lions Club got together a sufficiently-good softball team to down a Childress Lions group with a 19 to 10 score here Wednesday night.

The Childress club had challenged the local men to a series of games on a home and home basis. Funds derived from the sale of tickets here will go to the local Boy Scouts, and the Childress needs will be used to buy equipment for youthful softball players there.

The local club's team will play the Childress group in Childress next Wednesday night.

Mrs. Fred Kolster of Carson City, Nev., entertained Sunday at a luncheon to announce the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Miss Ella A. Kolster, to Herbert R. Garner of Memphis.

The luncheon was held at Carson Hot Springs. Centering the bride's table was a crystal basket filled with blue and white flowers and flanked by crystal candelabras with tall white tapers. Favor corsages of carnations and daisies were at each place and place cards engraved with blue and silver bells revealed the date and were inscribed, "Ella and Herb." cently received her honorable discharge from the women's reserve of the Marine Corps. She served with the Marines for 23 months.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:

- 1 Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion, thus help build resistance for the "time" to come.
- 2 Started 3 days before "your time," it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes. Try Cardui. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.

THANKS

I wish to express my sincere thanks to all the people of Hall County for the kind consideration that was given me in my race for State Representative.

THANKS For Your Support

To all voters of Precinct No. 1, I wish to express my thanks for the support given me in my campaign for re-election as your commissioner. Your help was deeply appreciated.

It is my intention to serve you fairly and efficiently during my next term of office, thereby meriting the trust which you have given me. You may rest assured that I will represent you at all times in the administration of the affairs of the county.

Commissioner, Precinct No. 1

Expressing My Appreciation

EARL E. HILL

To all the voters of Hall County, I wish to express my appreciation for the support given me in the first primary. The fact that my supporters helped me sufficiently to place me in the run-off makes me feel as if I should not let them down by not doing all in my power to gain more votes in the second primary.

As a discharged veteran of World War II, I am seeking the office of sheriff of Hall County in an effort to get started back in civilian life again. I appreciate the office sufficiently to do all in my power to gain the office, and to work at the campaign personally in an effort to gain your support in the second primary. I do not, however, ask your vote merely because I am a veteran, but mainly because I believe myself fully qualified to fill the office. I have already received my discharge with the rank of staff sergeant. I am a married man—my wife is the former Alice Baker of Memphis—and I need the office as a means of supporting my family.

I have lived all my life in Hall County, except for the time I was in the army, most of the time in the Bridle Bit Community, and attended the public schools in Turkey. With my knowledge of Hall County, its problems and needs, I feel that I can handle the sheriff's work efficiently and justly.

ANOTHER PRIMARY OVER

BALLOTING IN HALL COUNTY in last Saturday's primary was unusually heavy, as was expected, and the large number of voters trekking to the polls indicates that people are still interested in the persons chosen to represent them in the public offices.

Some of the county races were exceedingly close, especially those of county judge and county clerk, with unofficial returns giving the leading candidates less than one hundred votes majority.

The votes will be canvassed Saturday by the county Democratic executive committee, and official nominees will be declared. In Texas, of course, where the Democratic party reigns supreme, the primary nominees are virtually assured of election to the office.

In past years, the unofficial returns compiled at the election parties on the election nights have been quite accurate, and it is believed that the official returns will agree closely with the unofficial returns. It is possible, of course, that a mistake can be made, since most of the returns are taken by long distance telephone and usually there is a great deal of confusion at the election gatherings. However, few mistakes have been made in the past, and they are not likely this year.

We, as well as most other citizens, are glad that Hall Countians turned out in large numbers for the election, and hope that the second primary will attract as large a vote, although there will not be nearly so many candidates on the ballot. As we stated last week, it takes a thorough vote for a truly representative reflection of the voter's desires.

GOING AHEAD

ONE MORE improvement, that of marking the streets of Memphis, is in the process of being accomplished.

Members of the city council made a thorough investigation of the means by which the streets might be marked, and had thought they would be able to erect concrete markers. The estimated cost, as given by a contractor, was about $1,000, and the council believed this cost too high for the city's budget to stand.

As a result, paved streets will be marked on the curbs, and wooden markers will be erected at intervals on other streets. These markers will serve sufficiently, it is believed, and The Democrat is of the opinion that they will be much better than none at all.

The council is urging each resident to mark his house with the proper number. The city, of course, will not mark individual houses, and this function will be left up to the citizens. Numbering the houses is a much-needed project.

If you haven't noticed it as yet, it should be pointed out that the courthouse lawn now gives the appearance of much work having been done. The Democrat pointed out the need for work on the lawn early in the year, and the appearance of the lawn has been greatly improved. Due to the shortage of water, the grass is now suffering, but at least it has been improved.

Let's continue to look forward with other needed projects. Let's cooperate with the city council and the chamber of commerce in getting over these projects, and make Memphis the best town in the Panhandle. It can be done, and it will be done if full cooperation is given.

Press Paragraphs—

QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

Controlled Press

The Canyon News: The publisher of every newspaper in Texas represents the accusations of some of the candidates that the newspapers are "bought off." In the first place there is not enough money in America to start to begin to buy up the newspapers; and in the second place, no one but a supreme jackass would want to control all of the newspapers. You will find a controlled press only under a supreme dictatorship. If Texas falls for dictatorship, none of these blabbering candidates would be allowed to run for office. When you hear such pronouncements, just consider that the speaker would like to see just such a state of affairs as a controlled press—with him as the supreme dictator. So long as America is free the press will be free. When you lose your right to think and talk as you please, you may expect a controlled press—and you won't like it.

No, No, Not That

The Amarillo Globe: Britain is currently living on less-than-war-time ration. Fats and oils are so scarce that desperate housewives have even bought up all the available paraffin, causing a shortage of that unpalatable substitute. If, on such a diet, British listeners should be treated to American commercials recommending something for relief for over-eating, it is conceivable that international relations might be rather badly strained. Perhaps a "discouragement" of American commercial broadcasts would save us embarrassment, and the British an acute attack of bad temper.

Life's That Way

Ed Bishop in the Dalhart Texan: You can often get a bit of a laugh out of catching and reading the UP teletype stories that come into the Texan. Recently two items came in close enough together to be funny. The first referred to the shortage of toilet tissue and said "not a single roll is on the shelves of eight grocery stores." The next item said that the War Assets Administration would offer for sale 4,000 pounds of Epsom salts.

The Big and Little

The Ochiltree County Herald: It's a rather amusing paradox that the really big men think of themselves as small in comparison with their opportunities, and that the little men think of themselves as "too big" in comparison with the very same opportunities.

Medicine

The Briscoe County News: Private medicine has given the American people the best service in the world and there is no need for socialized medicine now. Government can help improve the economic conditions to better the health of the nation and it can cooperate with private medicine in promoting pre-payment plans for medical and hospital service without compulsion. Let government take care of the indigent and destitute but don't change the whole medical system to one of compulsion to accomplish that end.

Sounds Like Memphis

The Chillicothe Valley News: The city water supply is low again, and this time marks the lowest for the season. Failure of the pumps or failure of the wells has not caused the shortage. Water is just being used faster than the pumps can get it out of the wells. The wells are in good shape and the pumps are all working perfectly, but the demand is far above the amount possible to be pumped. The average water usage of cities is 150 gallons per person per day, but the water we are now using amounts to 300 gallons per day, just twice the average consumption.

Better Driving

The Canadian Record: While we're ranting about driving, we might also add that almost every car on the road, except the few new ones, has something wrong with it which the competent Canadian mechanics could fix. Bad lights, faulty wheel balances, horns that don't work, brakes that don't work, all take very little money or time to get fixed. What we need is: An awakening of their responsibility and senses on the part of the drivers; An enforcement of our laws; a regular check-up by the owners of their cars; it will take a lot of the hazard out of living in Canadian.

Joke

The Claude News: When Mr. Brusselsprout dropped dead in his office, it was the sad duty of the accountant, Mr. Harper, to break the doleful tidings to his widow. He found Mrs. Brusselsprout lapping up a hefty plate of liver and

This Week in WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON.—Racketeering schools and employers are reaping a rich harvest from the veterans' education program, charges Dr. Francis J. Brown, national authority on the GI bill of rights educational provisions. Dr. Brown states that tighter controls are needed. Over 900 million dollars have already been expended in the program. Before the end of the year Dr. Brown predicts that two million former servicemen will be enrolled in various forms of schooling and training. His charges are contained in a report to the American Council on Public Affairs.

Some schools, asserts Dr. Brown, have increased fees and have added "questionable courses" to get all they can from the government. Employers in many cases have looked upon the "on-the-job" apprentice training for veterans as merely a way to get a lucrative government subsidy. These abuses cannot be corrected under the present loose laws, Dr. Brown comments.

The Veterans' administration can exercise control over the veteran, but not over the school which he chooses to attend. It is up to the states to inspect and supervise the schools that are receiving federal payments for veterans' tuition fees. Many states are not doing any policing, since the veterans' educational law does not provide any funds to reimburse states for supervisory expenses. "There are already more than 90,000 training establishments that states have approved for veterans. You can see what a tremendous job it would be to inspect all of them," explains the doctor.

While it is impossible to estimate how much unscrupulous schools and employers have profited through loopholes in the educational laws, the sum must be tremendous, continues Dr. Brown. He cites these typical cases:

A flying school has divided the training course into three parts so that it can collect $500 per course for each veteran, or a total of $1,500 per man. Formerly the entire course had been given for a fee of $500.

A shoe shop that hired men under the "on-the-job" program gave no instruction, and the veterans learned only what they could pick up by watching other workers. Most of the offenders are private trade schools, Dr. Brown says. Non-profit institutions, including most colleges and universities, are not guilty of these practices.

The senate committee that is investigating war contract scandals is running out of funds. Senator Mead, chairman, has asked for more money to carry on the committee's tasks. It got $85,000 early in the year. Need for more money was explained by Senator Brewster. He said unexpected expenses had been incurred during the probe into the Illinois munitions combine, in which Representative McJ. has been called for testimony.

Health Committee Urges Community To Prevent Polio

"Communities must be prepared again for the summer and fall increase in the number of cases of infantile paralysis," says the Memphis chamber of commerce health committee.

Medical experts cannot predict where or whom the disease will attack, but they admit epidemics may occur in some localities during the next few months.

Helpful information and precautions that may prevent the spread of poliomyelitis, or less its severity, have been summarized in a bulletin published recently by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. The U. S. chamber of commerce calls attention to this information contained in the bulletin.

Medical science still does not know the carrying agent of the polio virus, nor has it found an effective serum or vaccine. It is known that 50 per cent of all infantile paralysis victims recover completely, 30 per cent are left with slight disability and only 20 per cent suffer serious crippling or death.

Infantile paralysis is difficult to diagnose. Symptoms present in many minor illnesses—fever, headache, vomiting, nausea—may also be symptoms of infantile paralysis. A physician should be consulted at the slightest suspicion of the disease.

Simple precautions recommended for epidemic areas are:

1. Avoid chilling and overtiring.
 2. Do not swim or bathe in polluted waters.
 3. Avoid tonsil and adenoid operations in children during the paralysis season.
 4. Wash hands before eating.
 5. Protect food from flies.
- Fear and panic are harmful to the efforts of a community or individual in the fight against poliomyelitis. The advice and assistance of expert medical personnel having treatment centers and the best equipment at their disposal are readily available to combat epidemics and minimize the effects of the disease. The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis and its Chapters are pledged that no victim need lack treatment for lack of funds regardless of age, race, creed, or color.

Vaccination for Smallpox Urged By Health Officer

"From a health standpoint children are not ready to enter school until they have been successfully vaccinated against smallpox," Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, reminds parents who expect to enroll their youngsters in September. "Many school districts make vaccination an entrance requirement, and children who have never been vaccinated, and also those vaccinated in infancy, should be taken to the physician for vaccination now, so that the scar will be well healed before school opens."

Immunization against diphtheria is also strongly recommended for further protection. Parents are urged to have their children protected from diphtheria by immunization with toxoid. Children who had this protection in infancy should receive a booster dose before entering school in order to maintain immunity at a high level.

"These two types of protection against disease should be considered 'musts' for preschool children," Dr. Cox declared. "Any other immunizations that the physician may recommend will, of course, provide additional health security."

In addition to this protection against specific communicable diseases each child getting ready to enter school should also receive a complete physical examination by his private physician or at the nearest clinic. Any treatment or correction of defects advised by the doctor should be undertaken immediately in order that the child may enter school in the best possible physical condition.

My Thanks To Hall Countians

Although I did not come out victorious in the primary, according to unofficial returns, I know that I have many loyal friends in Hall County. To these friends and other countians, I wish to express my thanks for your support and consideration.

Naturally I desired the office very much, but there is no grudge in my heart for those who did not cast their vote for me. Should I ever seek a public office in the future, I will appreciate your help at that time.

See that tread mark! See how much road it covers! It's the mark of a new B.F. Goodrich tire made by its wider, flatter surface. ELECTRICITY IS IN GOOD HANDS!

More Power

The cutting of land by the plow, the drilling of an oil well in the ground, the use of an axe against an oak—These are the symbols of man's power. That is how the pioneers of this country fought for survival. We have come a long way since then, but we still retain the initiative that built this country—freedom of enterprise.

Now the battle with nature has changed. Business-managed, tax-paying electric companies have turned the surging tide of nature's power into work beneficial to you. Giant turbines convert power to electricity to bring greater convenience, more pleasure and better living to homes everywhere.
