Bouquet is Handed Memphis Democrat

Congratulations to you and your associates in winning The Fort Worth Star-Telegram award for the best promotion of agriculture of any weekly publication in Texas.

Harvest May Gross Over $1,500,000

From estimates made this week it is likely that the record Hall County wheat crop will bring in over one and a half million dollars in revenue to county farmers.

The Memphis Democrat was announced the top weekly newspaper in the state in agricultural promotion in Amarillo Saturday at the final day of the three-day Texas Press Association convention. J. M. North Jr., editor of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, personally announced the winner of the contest, sponsored by the Star-Telegram.

The Democrat was winner some years ago of the Dallas News loving cup for the best weekly newspaper in Texas, and during the years has received other honors and favorable mentions. The Star-Telegram award comes as a coveted honor, since it places The Democrat at the top in agricultural promotion in Texas—an award rightly placed, the publishers believe, since the paper places agricultural news first in importance in its columns week after week.

The Fort Worth Star-Telegram, sponsoring the award, ran a facsimile reproduction of The Democrat masthead in the Sunday issue, together with a story of the convention and the awards. According to the Star-Telegram story, "The Memphis Democrat winner over other Texas weeklies, filled every issue during the May 15, 1946, to May 15, 1947, contest year with agricultural news of importance to Hall County farm people."

The state official said engineers and technicians would be visiting the county regularly this summer to insure an accurate survey of water and health conditions.

His arm was broken and the shoulder socket was injured. After examination here he was taken Wednesday to a bone specialist in Oklahoma City, according to the report.

Relatives, Herschel Ledford and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Ledford and son Carl Lee of Wichita Falls arrived in Memphis Tuesday. Herschel Ledford, his son, and his wife accompanied him to Oklahoma City.

CLAUDE'S COMMENTS

In about four weeks this section of country will have opportunity to attend a rodeo, an airport dedication, and an old settlers celebration in Memphis. Promoters are doing everything possible to have the stage all set for the event.

Rain and cool weather has been retarding the harvesting of wheat and getting a good stand of cotton. However, the work goes on with optimism. The wheat harvest will soon be over, provided the rains do not keep coming, and cotton and feed will be given attention. Two good money crops in the same year will put money in the county.

Last and this week there has been some shortage of cars for shipping wheat, but due to constant and untiring efforts of the chamber of commerce a good many cars have been diverted to Memphis, and due also to wet weather a part of the time, the (Continued on page 5)

Grasses Gain Favor Here

Cover crops and grasses are paying off in Hall County, both in cash and in soil conservation. Rayford Jones of the Baylor community planted one and a half acres of weeping love grass, has harvested 28 pounds per acre and sold seed for $5 per pound, showing an income of $140 per acre, county agent W. B. Hooser said. The grass is coming in high favor with farmers of the area, as a valued pasture grass.

Hulen Clifton of Estelline planted around five demonstration plots of Austrian winter peas on land that had been blowing every year. This year, thanks to the planting of a good cover crop, the land is in good condition. An application of super phosphate helped the winter peas off to a good start, Hooser said.

Clifton has also planted demonstration plots of weeping love grass, and a plot of a mixture of clover and other grasses.

A few months ago Ed Drake of Lakeview planted to crested wheat grass. He shifted cattle back and forth on the crested and other plots and found that his dairy cattle gave up to one gallon of milk per cow each day more on crested wheat grass than when grazed on temporary pasture such as sudan grass. Drake also has demonstration grass plots underway now.

Practically all farmers in the area are becoming grass and legume conscious, Hooser said. The grass can afford good forage the year around, and legumes will replace in the soil elements essential for plant growth.

Hooser said it would be well for all farmers in the county to observe the demonstration plots, to see what can and is being done in various sections of the county.

Since the war's end, the total value of Savings Bonds outstanding has grown almost 10 per cent.

The Voice Of The People

Editor's note—this space is open to all readers of The Democrat for the purpose of expressing their opinions on any and all subjects. All signed letters will be printed here upon request, so long as they carry clean, unambiguous material. The following should be considered the opinion of the writer, in no matter reflecting on the editorial policies of the newspaper.

SOME FACTS AND FIGURES CONCERNING THE PROPOSED RURAL HIGH SCHOOL AT LAKEVIEW

In an effort to correct some misunderstandings and to better inform the citizens of the proposed district, the Lakeview School Board wishes to supply the following information about our school.

The total bonded indebtedness of the Lakeview Independent School District is $35,540. We have, this year, retired a 1913 bond issue that was not due until 1953, thus saving $75 interest per year. We have a balance of $1,924.07 in the interest and sinking fund.

We have seven school buses. We owe $4,500 on these, payable $1,500 per year for the next three years.

Due to increased cost of operation, we are indebted to our teachers, $3,196.49, due July 1, and August 1.

We have a deficit in our local maintenance fund of $1,835.39 and against transportation $1,707.09.

To offset this deficiency, there is outstanding in our district more than $5,000 in delinquent school taxes, which could and should be paid now.

We have conservatively estimated our resources of buildings, buses, and equipment to be worth in excess of $100,000.

By creating a Rural High School District composed of Lakeview, Lesley, Brice, Deep Lake, Webster, and Pleasant Valley, all property would be assessed at State and County evaluations. To insure adequate funds, however, the tax rate should be increased to $1.25 instead of $1 we now have. (This could only be done by a majority of the qualified voters at an election called for that purpose.)

There are enough scholastics in the proposed district for at least seventy (77) teachers. This would mean a teacher for each grade in grade school and a teacher for each department in high school.

By combining the efforts and resources of these districts, we believe that we could have one of the best schools in the state. Due to our location and plan of operation, we believe that we meet the needs of the rural boys and girls whom we serve, better and more economically than it could be done elsewhere.

The above is a true statement. J. B. Duren, President. J. T. Hoggatt, Secretary. State of Texas, County of Hall.

Subscribed and sworn to this 24th day of June AD 1947. B. E. Davenport, Notary Public, Hall County Texas.

In the dining room the chosen colors of pink, green, and yellow were carried out in the floral decorations. The tea table was overlaid with a beautiful hand-made crocheted banquet cloth and the color scheme was also carried out artistically in the napkins, mints, and sandwiches.

Concessions For Cotton Carnival Being Contracted

Because out-of-town concerns are asking for concession rights for the Cotton, Chemurgic, and Ceramics Carnival here October 3-4, H. J. Howell, concessions chairman, is making an urgent appeal to all Hall County people desiring a concession for this two-day celebration to contact him immediately.

"We want our local citizens to have first chance at the concession rights they want," Howell said, "but we also must be assured of contracts as quickly as possible due to the size of this celebration. Many out-of-town firms are asking for these contracts and we must make decision soon."

Howell and his committee have already signed up the Dudley Shows for carnival week and are dickering with other attractions at this time.

section of country, it received first consideration at all times. Being judged first in Texas as the weekly paper doing the most promotional work for agriculture for the past year is proof in itself that The Democrat has been sincere in all its efforts toward going forward with Hall County and her resources.

Plans for the Cotton Carnival here October 3-4 are shaping up so rapidly that it is almost unbelievable. Radio and news agencies, film companies, photographers and writers for national publications, and various other news disseminating agencies are asking for more information regarding the event.

Chairmen of various committees were named some weeks ago for the Cotton Carnival. These chairmen should complete their committees at once, else the planning work will fall behind, in the suggestion of Pat Flynn, manager of the chamber of commerce.

To give an idea of the space expected to be occupied by the various exhibits and cotton and clay processing machinery to be displayed at the Cotton Carnival, the whole square will be filled and every available space including the high school gym will be filled, to say nothing of the space to be used by the various concessions. It takes real imagination to conceive just how big an affair the cotton carnival will be—nothing in the history of Hall County ever happened that compared in any respect to what this promises to be. So it is time for all to get in the big middle of preparations and do some work as well as put up some money.

The Memphis Democrat offers a sizable cash prize to the community 4-H Club of this county for the best displays of agricultural products and clays at the Cotton Carnival. It is to be desired that products of Hall County in quantity be on display during the carnival in order that visiting processors may see what resources Hall County has to offer. When the outside world finds out what this great cotton producing area has to offer, it will not be so difficult to induce processors of such products to establish mills and plants in the area. This in turn would necessarily bring better prices for the products to the farmers.

Letters, telegrams, phone calls and personal visits indicate that the interest is growing by leaps and bounds. A letter from Max Bentley, editor of West Texas Today, publication of the West Texas chamber of commerce, states the September issue of that magazine will heavily feature the Cotton, Chemurgic, and Ceramics Carnival. I might suggest a good picture for the cover page of West Texas Today—the Hall County cotton scene he ran last year in the Childress number.

and School Administrators Conference. Mary Foreman, Hall County superintendent, attended the three-day session.

Dr. Merle Prunty of Stephens College, Columbia, Mo., was principal speaker. During his talk on present day educational trends he said that Dr. Homer Rainey, former Texas University president and now head of Stephens College, was well-liked as president there.

Recent school legislation was discussed by the first assistant state superintendent, T. M. Trimble, Miss Foreman said.

Panel discussions on educational problems were led by five county superintendents.

W. L. Hughes, who has sponsored the county superintendents' conferences for over 20 years, gave a talk on the philosophy of education and the future needs of the education world.

Talks were also given on the "Importance of the Home in the Life of the Child," Miss Foreman said.

Production of all types of food crops is likely to be higher this year than in any of the last three years.

Monday night the Alamo service station won 4-3 over the Lions; the FFA won 11-2 over the Baptists; and David Corley's Southsiders won 8-7 over Grundy's Northwestside team.

Texans bought 97 million dollars worth of U. S. Savings Bonds in the first five months of 1947.

VFW, Quitaque To Play Here Sunday

The VFW team will meet Quitaque here Sunday afternoon in a return match, team manager C. B. Hickey reports. The vets won their last contest at Quitaque 11-6.

In a contest at Amarillo last week the vets proved they were equal to the publicized hurling of left-hander Henry and they forced the Superior Manufacturer's to 11 innings of play before the Amarillo team finally eked out a 9-8 victory over the visiting vets. Henry pitched the final five innings for Amarillo, Buchanan having started.

Vandevanter and McQueen hurled for the VFW in the Amarillo game.

situation is improved to some extent.

A survey of the wheat harvest shows that very little more than half the wheat has been cut, and already the value of the harvested wheat is estimated at $875,000 in Hall County. It is now believed the total will run more than at first predicted—one and a half million dollars—an amount never before reached in this county for a wheat crop.

By the way, the chamber of commerce is starting a drive for more members. The way I see it, this organization should have the active and sympathetic support of the entire citizenship, because it is endeavoring to make Hall County better in every way; trying to let the outside world know of its many natural resources; and trying to interest outside capital in locating some factories in West Texas instead of centralizing them back east, which in itself would bring a better market to our doors instead of bolstering the pocketbooks of the "dumyankes" back east. By bringing more people and more industries to this county, every person owning property would be benefitted and every worker would have a better job. All these things and more are being attempted by the chamber of commerce for the common good. It will take the united effort of all to accomplish worthwhile things. Are you, my friends, willing to let the other civic-minded neighbors shoulder the load without even lending a hand when they are working to make things better for the entire citizenship? Think it over. Don't let George do it all.

Mrs. B. Webster has a yard full of flowers—beautiful blooming flowers at her home at the northwest edge of town. Drive by and take a look. Her hollyhocks are still blooming, though a week ago they were perfect. And other flowers in her yard are worth seeing. If one doubts that flowers grow here, a trip to her home will prove the contrary.

To be judged the best agricultural promotion weekly in Texas, as was The Democrat in the recent Texas Press Association contest staged by The Fort Worth Star-Telegram, is something for the publishers to be highly elated over. So pardon me, folks, for "blowing our own horn." The contest, entered by a number of Texas weeklies, embraced one year of time—May 15, 1946 to May 15, 1947. The Democrat entry showed from one to a dozen—sometimes many more—articles were printed in each of the 52 issues concerning the various phases of agriculture as pertained to Hall County. In other words, it followed a constant and consistent program throughout the year. Since agriculture is the one and only big business in this

Six-Inch Sermon

† REV. ROBERT H. HARPER †
A Man Whose Name Was Job.
Lesson for July 6: Job 1:1; 27:1-5; 31:19-28.

Memory Selection: Job 27:6.
"There was a man in the land of Uz, whose name was Job." In this grandly simple sentence is presented one of the greatest spirits of antiquity. The book bearing his name investigates the problem of human suffering. Two lessons more will be given to the book. Today we study the man himself.

"Somewhere southeast of Palestine" is all we can say of the location of Uz. Evidently a pasture land, its wealth was in flocks and herds. In these Job was rich, described as "the greatest of all the men of the east." But wealth did not bring any particular temptations to Job—his riches did not corrupt him. He was accustomed to succor those less fortunate than himself. He withheld not from the poor, the widow, the scantily clothed, the fatherless. He was "eyes to the blind" and "feet to the lame." But he did not acquire the means to help these by oppressing his laborers, but dealt faithfully and justly with those he employed.

His character was above reproach—he was upright, fearing God and eschewing evil. Priest of his own household, he arose early to offer burnt offerings according to the number of his sons and daughters. Later, when all he had was swept away with the "rapidity of a drama," he maintained his integrity throughout his unparalleled sufferings of body and mind, and in the end God himself vindicated Job. In years to come may men say or write of you, "There was a man in the land of America, whose name was"—yours.

2000 Workers In Ochiltree County For Wheat Harvest
Ochiltree county is a bedlam of activity as the harvest is getting underway and gaining momentum, according to reports from Perryton. Sheriff Bill Lance states, "approximately 2,000 itinerant workers have migrated to Perryton in search of employment."
Perryton, hub of Ochiltree County, resembles an oil boom town of the early twenties—combines are rolling in, trucks are parked along Main street, license tags read Missouri, Oklahoma, North Dakota, Colorado, Nebraska, Wyoming. Sixteen states have sent combines, Sheriff Lance said. Joseph A. Harmon, 54, from Clever, Mo., who started to follow the harvest in Duke, Okla., is in Perryton for work. "Harvesting is quite a life," he mumbled. Harmon sleeps in his cab truck. He earns his living by hauling wheat to the granaries. His truck holds 200 bushels of wheat.
Clarence Backer, 43, from Redfield, S. D., has been farming for 29 years. He has a 12-man crew and 4 combines—7 trucks and trailer houses in which men live. Backer is an old timer at wheat harvesting this season, starting at Quanah, and then going to Perryton. From Perryton he plans to tour to Springfield, Colo., Idalia, Colo., Redfield, S. D., and stop at Minot, N. D. Backer who has visited the fields and spoken to farmers en route south stated, "Ochiltree has one of the best crops I've seen. The wheat prospects are good all the way down. We started cutting June 4." Backer estimates that it will 30 to 40 bushels an acre in Ochiltree and he can't see how they'll miss not having the record harvest.
Workers will receive combine men down, $3 per acre for first 15 bushels plus 10 cents per bushel for all over 15 bushels to the acre, which will average $4.50 to $7 an acre, common laborers will receive $8 a day, and combine operators draw $10 to $15 per day, the report stated.

who ran the whole show for three days of entertainment and instruction at Texas A. and M. College. Plans in the making now call for a similar program, with maximum participation scheduled for the youngsters.

Potts and Miss Stevens explain that in addition to the county attendance quota, 4-H members who are taking part in the state dress revue, rifle matches, or who are on any other part of the scheduled program will attend the get-together. All boys and girls, however, must be at least 14 years of age to make the round-up trip.

Salad a Day Helps Keep Ills Away

The New Broad Leaf Endive is a Fine Summer Salad.

Green, leafy vegetables, which supply your family with Vitamin A and calcium, include the leaf crops which are served uncooked in salads. If you like bowl salads, you can serve one at least once a day without complaint.

Many leaves can be used for bowl salad, including all the greens which are also cooked. But our chief reliance will probably be on leaf lettuce and endive, especially the form known as escarole or broad leaved endive.

During hot weather we must depend on escarole, which takes 90 days to mature. By sowing a row at the same time as the first lettuce sowing, we may have it ready in midsummer when trouble with lettuce usually begins. Three sowings of endive, made twenty days apart, will provide you with daily salad leaves until freezing weather.

The best quality of both broad and curly leaved endive is obtained by giving the plants plenty of room in the row so they mature loose heads. The leaves grow crisp and turn cream colored at the base. Newer varieties lack the bitter tang which older forms used to have before frost had sweetened them. It is no longer the practice to bleach the leaves by tying them up, or placing the heads between boards, as this reduces the vitamin content of the leaves.

Endive not only stands hot weather better than lettuce, but it remains in good condition longer in the fall, being improved in quality by frosty weather.

It's Not the Heat, It's the Humanity

There was just a bit of difference in opinion in a local cafe Wednesday, a slight difference about the weather.

Tourists were eating breakfast. They complained it was too cold, so off went the conditioner. Then in walked a native. He complained it was too hot. There was an explanation. The native wanted to be hospitable so sweat-ed out his breakfast.

The tourists were from Dallas. They say it really gets hot along the Trinity.

county AAA committee. The sample of grain is sent to a certified grain laboratory for testing, and the loan is made on the record of their findings. A servitude fee or 1 cent per bushel will be charged for this service.

The farmer must agree to keep the wheat in storage until April 30, 1948, and a storage allowance of 7 cents per bushel will be paid at the time the wheat is delivered to the government, according to the announcement.

All wheat on which the government makes a loan must be free of any other mortgage, and the interest on the loan will be 3 per cent per annum.

McKown estimated that very few Hall County farmers would take advantage of the loan.

surveys are bringing engineers and technicians from the State Board of Health, Engineers, and U. S. Geological survey. Industrial engineers have been making surveys within the county the past two weeks checking on industrial possibilities. The state forestry head has said he would be here soon to check potential sites for a state-wide nursery. The chamber is also seeking another experimental farm and station in Hall County to better serve its farmers of the region. Plans also are being made to submit state schools asking for permanent facilities for 4-H Club members, FFA's, and other youth organizations.

"These are but a few of the chamber plans," Smith declared, "which are aimed to assist every person in the county. Therefore, we hope our citizens will rally to our campaign and help us show the nation we are united and determined to capitalize on our cotton, agriculture, clays, and related products."

Committee chairmen handling the cotton carnival advance plans have estimated it will require practically every man and woman in the county serving on some committee to handle the crowds and events slated for the two-day commemoration.

W. B. Hooser, Hall County agent and chairman of the regional committee has named the following county leaders on his committee: Starr Johnson, Brice; Robert Sexauer, Lakeview; John Russell and Arthur Eddleman, Estelline; Alga Turner, Turkey; and Arthur Gidden, Plaska.

Some 25 committees will be required to handle all details now under way. Chairmen are urging everyone to accept these responsibilities and assist in carrying them through to completion.

Gov. Beauford H. Jester, leading state officers and officials, national and regional celebrities and dignitaries are accepting invitations to attend the Hall County celebration.

"These are but few of the reasons we are asking everyone now to become a member of the chamber of commerce to join," Smith said.

Mrs. Tom Crow and children of Lubbock are here visiting her mother, Mrs. W. M. Hillyer. Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Crow are also visiting Mrs. Hillyer.

Cal Farley Will Visit Salisbury Sewing Club

Cal Farley of Amarillo will be the guest of the Salisbury Sewing Club in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lee on Tuesday afternoon, July 8, at 3 o'clock. It was announced this week. He plans to bring with him at least two boys from Boy's Ranch at Tascosa. Since the members of this club have become interested in Boy's Ranch they have learned of other people who are eager to do something for the boys. Therefore, they are setting this date to invite every person in Hall County who is interested in helping in any way with this project to meet with Mr. Farley in the Lee home to discuss a county-wide organization, a spokesman for the club stated. Mrs. Lee, president of the club, stresses the point that a personal invitation is not to be expected.

Comfort Stressed In Summer Dresses Designed By USDA

The ideal work dress would be so comfortable that the wearer would not know whether she had on a dress at all.

Clarice Scott, USDA clothing specialist, has designed four summer work dresses which come pretty close to this ideal.

The Texas A. and M. College extension service clothing specialist, Mrs. Dora R. Barnes, says Miss Scott's designs offer complete freedom of movement with no pulling or binding anywhere. "They are made for an easy fit, which is quite different from oversize," she points out.

The designs are based on studies on safety and comfort in dresses for such jobs as gardening, canning, and washing. The four dresses were scientifically planned for convenience and durability; they flatter the wearer, too.

Since the dresses are for summer use, they have no collar and no sleeves. Wings used in place of sleeves are double-layered to hold shape and crispness. Pockets are at hand level, with the openings slanted for convenient use. Ties, belts, and sashes are made to fit closely and to fasten out of the way at the back.

Skirts are about calf length and just wide enough for the normal stride—long or full skirts drop about the feet when the bearer stoops and may be caught on shoe heels or stepped on.

Each dress is easy to put on and take off, and easy to wash and iron.

Winning 4-H Essay

Editor's Note: This is the seventh in a series of prize-winning essays, from the contest conducted in the county recently. Bennie West of Memphis wrote the following paper on "Diversified Farming."

When I start out to farming for myself I would farm on a diversified plan.

I would always plow my land as soon as possible after harvesting in order that I could get the benefit of the cover crop for fertilizer.

Then I would use twenty-inch sweeps on my tractors and lay the land off with furrows five inches deep, using at the same plowing a dammer that dams the furrow ever six to ten feet, which would hold and conserve the rainfall.

I would terrace and contour land in order to conserve the moisture, and I believe in following the terraces. I think the dammer is most effective of anything I have seen for moisture conservation.

To conserve the moisture is very important, especially in West Texas, where our rainfall some years is very scant.

In planting I would be careful to get a stand, but I wouldn't want it too thick.

One of the main things for profitable farming is harvesting when a crop is ready.

I think that after I have made a crop the only thing to do is to get it at the right time. As a rule cotton is our money crop, but a barnful of feed of all kinds is salvation for the farmer.

So I would diversify my farming and rotate the crops each year in order to keep my land built up.

I think chickens would pay in two ways, feeding the family and having some to sell.

I think a dairy herd is a main line of defense and not the gar-

Potts Chevrolet To Show New Trucks Saturday

The new Advance-Design line of Chevrolet trucks and commercial cars will be shown to the public June 28 in Memphis it was announced this week by Tomie M. Potts.

"All over the nation on that date Chevrolet dealers will be exhibiting the new trucks," Potts said. "We are having a special showing in Memphis and cordially invite truck owners, fleet operators, and others interested in trucks to visit our showrooms."

Advance information on the trucks, Potts said, indicates that the line will be the most comprehensive in the history of Chevrolet and will feature driver comforts and conveniences not heretofore available in motor trucks.

"For the first time in the history of the automotive industry, a truck has been designed which has as a basic concept the comfort and safety of the driver," Potts said. "We predict that the result will have the complete endorsement of truck owners and drivers."

Re-styled and precision-engineered, the Advance-Design line of trucks, Potts declared, provides an efficient, dependable, safe, and low-cost unit for practically every type of hauling and transportation requirement.

The display at the Potts Chevrolet Company will open at 8 a. m. and close at 6 p. m. daily. Trained truck men will be on hand to explain the features of the vehicles.

Odd Fellows And Rebekahs Will Have Picnic This Evening

The members of the Memphis Odd Fellows and Rebekah Lodge will have a picnic at the City Park this evening at 7 o'clock. All members and their families are urged to attend and bring a well-filled picnic basket, according to J. E. Willeford, Noble Grand.

den, as we can't always raise a garden in West Texas because of dry weather, freezes, or sandstorms.

I would grow all of my cow feed, several different kinds, so if one failed maybe the others would hit. I would have a hammer mill and grind my own feed, using cane, hegar, and headed maize, using over these a little cottonseed meal which makes the feed appetizing, too, and by this way of feeding, I would use feed that would otherwise be a waste.

I would milk six or eight cows. So they could pay the grocery bill and other little bills.

I think a good pasture helps to make dairying and other cattle feeding profitable. I would try to have a sudan pasture from early spring until frost and a winter pasture of wheat, oats, or barley. I could use an electric fence, which can be built very quickly.

To summarize, the only way we can make farming profitable is to use our heads, be energetic, rotate the crops, diversify and make use of our products at home.

Total amount of farm fertilizers sold to Texas farmers and ranchers in 1945-46 was 305,510 tons, as compared with 217,760 in 1944-45.

Memphis Wins Sunday Leaguer From Quail 5 to 1

Memphis took Sunday's league game from Quail 5 to 1 as the Memphians collected 12 hits while Keller's 10-strikeout pitching held the visitors to 2 hits.

Young, Quail pitcher, accounted for their one run. He walked, then came in on Patchell's single. Young struck out 2, walked 1; Keller walked 6.

Scoring started in the second inning when Keller singled, was advanced by McKnight's bunt, then came in on Barnes' single. Barnes came home on a well-placed bunt by Davis.

Barnes was the heavy hitter with 3, including a triple in the eighth that paid off when Stidger singled to left field. Moyer and Keller hit doubles.

Memphis worked a double play as Quail went to bat the first time. Coppedge to Moyer to McKnight nabbed a man at second and at first.

Quail checked two Memphians in the third when second baseman Thompson caught Keller's infield fly, then threw to first before Gibson could return.

Sport-Scope

Memphis lost a game last week to Canyon. A few players were tied up with the wheat harvest, but consensus of opinion among the team members seems to be that Memphis is playing too many games with the straight league team. The league team might run a better Sunday record if more relief is afforded by using more young players in the night games.

Dave Price the younger played an entire game last week, for the first time this season. He held down third and nothing passed him. He maintained a healthy peg to first. With a little more practice in the batting department Dave will look all right.

Big news in the RRV league this week was Quana's 4-3 edge over Mobeetic Sunday, the first time that team has tasted defeat this year.

Going into the last of the ninth inning Quana trailed 1-3 and still came from behind to win. Milton Deason was the Mobeetic pitcher. Memphis fans will recall that Deason, who was a Yank try-out here, pitched for Canyon on their last trek to Memphis.

Adrian Johnson was the winning pitcher for Quana. Quana scored first in the second inning on doubles by Snooze Edmondson and Bob Yaeger.

Mobeetic tallied all three runs in the fourth on a walk to Tom Riley, a double to Dorman, a walk to E. Fulenwider, two sacrifices by Glen Braden and S. Stephenson, and a single by A. Vanpool.

In the last frame Snooze Edmondson was on by shortstop error, Jack Foster was hit by a pitched ball, Tinker Richardson doubled, Jack Hatcher walked, and Luther Garner singled home the tying runs. Johnston grounded out but Richardson crossed the plate with the winning run.

Kirkland won the Sunday RRV game from Clarendon 6-3, but it was nearly a miss. Going into the last half of the eighth inning the Kirkland team trailed 2-3. Clarendon had taken the lead in the sixth when D. Harper fumbled G. Putman's grounder with two out. B. J. Mooring singled and C. Putman singled to right to score Putman and Mooring. Clarendon added another in the seventh when D. Harper again fumbled a grounder by Spier and dropped a fly ball by S. Nobles. Bill Mooring's single scored Spier.

Needing a run to tie up the game Kirkland worked two walks off Howerton in the eighth, and they were sacrificed along by Pelly. Trooper hit a long sacrifice fly to score B. Harper. D. Harper singled, scoring Jones. C. Harper singled and both scored on Trooper's single.

Mr. and Mrs. John Burnett of Newlin were business visitors in Memphis Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Lee and children of Wichita Falls visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lee over the week-end.

Judy Cary Greathouse of Dallas is here visiting with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Hank Hankins.

Win 10 to 5 Over Dickens Saturday

Memphis won Saturday night's game 10-5 over Dickens, a representative of the Caprock league. Martin, Dickens hurler, proved to be one of the heaviest sluggers to perform here as he hit two over-the-fence home runs and a single for his three times at bat, also bringing in Porter on his seventh-inning homer.

In the second, Dennis threw from behind the plate to Watkins at second in a faked play to lure Martin in home and tagged him out on Watkins' return throw.

Martin and Jackson struckout 12 Memphis men, walking 6, while McKnight fanned 9 and walked 1. Keller and Stidger hit doubles, Jackson of Dickens tripled.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:

- 1 Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion, thus help build resistance for the "time" to come.
- 2 Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes.

Try Cardui. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.

The Bookshelf

With one book adopted by the Oregon schools and another of the same series on the press nearly ready for publication, Mrs. Reuben Gischler is looking forward to getting together a new volume for the public.

A former student of WTSC, Mrs. Gischler has been making her home in Oregon for the last several years, teaching, and attending school at the University of Oregon. She has decided, however, to complete her degree work at WTSC, according to a report this week.

"Muslin Town" is the name of the book Oregon children will have the opportunity to read as collateral work. On it, Mrs. Gischler collaborated with Gwendolyn Lampshire Hayden.

"Thunderhill," their next book, is the story of Yaka, a Nez Perce ring local interest in getting rid of the pest.

The county agent says that the local commissioners have purchased a power sprayer for each precinct and 200 drums of poison to use in the Johnson grass eradication drive.

Indian boy who helped Mr. Spalding print the first books in the Indian language, at Lapwai Press, the first printing press west of the Rocky Mountains. The volume will be off the press early this fall.

Besides her books, Mrs. Gischler has written numerous stories which have appeared in children's magazines.

American readers would do well to ignore the increasing volume of drizzle that flows from book and "literary" clubs over the nation. Most best sellers being decided in advance nowadays—not by the readers, as the jacket blurbs proclaim, but by the insidiously scientific promotion department and its budget.

Through the years, however, it is inevitable that occasionally the promotion budget and the worth of a book should coincide. This holds true with Sinclair Lewis' most recent, and perhaps most important book: "Kingsblood Royal."

Any adult willing to think should read the book; it cannot fail to stir thought and emotion about one of the most crucial issues of our civilization.

Lewis has been variously heralded in the past as a cynic, an embittered critic and drum-beater. He has been awarded the highest literary honors. His books have been placed on "half-credit" lists by high school English teachers—for the reason that they were easy to read! They are easy to read because of the simple, powerful use of the American idiom and the great inherent dramatic craftsmanship. These are the same teachers who, missing the greatest satire in the English language, place Swift's "Gulliver's Travels" on a reading list for small children.

"Kingsblood Royal," however, is not the old Sinclair Lewis, with his well-planted barbs at American life. It is a more powerful Lewis, without caricature, without satire.

It is a horror-provoking indictment that will not fail to bring the reader closer to the subject, no matter how close he feels he may be.

Gunnar Myrdal's "American Dilemma" of two years ago was an admirable scientific approach to the subject. It was not read.

People will read this book by Lewis. And they will remember what they have read.

Give DDT Mix For Use On Cotton Pests

Latest recommendations for the use of DDT to kill cotton insects have been released by the entomologists of the Texas A. and M. College extension service.

To control flea hoppers, the entomologists recommend a mixture of five per cent DDT and sulphur, with at least 75 per cent of the mixture consisting of sulphur. Applied at the rate of 12 to 15 pounds per acre, one application is usually enough to get the hoppers.

The bollworm takes a 10 per cent DDT and sulphur mixture, consisting also of 75 per cent sulphur. Ten to 15 pounds of this mixture per acre at five day intervals is the recommended rate of treatment. Stink bugs and plant bugs can be controlled, the entomologists say, with the same poison mixture recommended for bollworms.

Thrips, another cotton pest, are controlled with a five per cent DDT and sulphur dust, applied at 10 pounds an acre.

Sentinels of Health

Don't Neglect Them!

Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—life itself—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure. When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backaches, persistent headaches, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel tired, nervous, all worn out.

Frequent, scanty or burning passages are sometimes further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance. The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. Use Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Are endorsed the country over. Insist on Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

HOME SWEET HOME

A great many people must feel a sense of frustrated sadness now as they remember those wartime advertisements which pictured the dream home of the future—a miracle of convenience, beauty and functional design, in which all you had to do was to touch a few buttons and silent machines would press your clothes, mix your drinks and do practically everything else. These advertisements were often tied in with pleas to buy war bonds so you'd have the wherewithal to purchase the dream house once peace returned.

Peace has been around quite a while now, but the dream house hasn't put in an appearance. The grim truth is that obtaining any kind of a house at all is the toughest problem faced by millions of Americans. Most commodity shortages are being rapidly made up—but the housing shortage grows worse than ever.

Business Week recently ran an article on housing with the cynical, and highly accurate, title: "Home Sweet Home—At a Price." It touches on some of the most immediate problems facing the homebuilder and homebuyer. First of those problems, of course, is cost. Existing homes that were worth five or six thousand a few years ago now command ten or twelve. And when you enter the never-never land of new construction, anything can happen—and usually does. Few contractors will now build on a firm contract—they insist on a fee or cost-plus basis of work. Business journals carry gruesome accounts of homes which were designed to be built for ten thousand or under—and wound up in the twenty thousand dollar bracket. Commercial builders, who used to develop subdivisions, have drawn in their horns and some of them have stepped out of the picture entirely for the present. A number of building and loan companies, the backbone of whose business used to be homes, auto courts and apartments, have announced they will not make more loans for these purposes until the situation stabilizes.

The veteran home program, with its emphasis on under $10,000 houses, is so far in the doldrums as to be practically invisible. Many veterans, who put only a few dollars of their own money into projected homes, have found payments beyond their means and have let them go.

The reasons for high costs are obvious enough. Labor costs about twice as much as it used to, and complaints are heard that labor productivity is low. Material costs run to as high as three times the prewar level. Land values have followed the trend, and in many regions you must pay as much for a lot as you used to for an acre or so. But, logical as high costs may be, that doesn't help solve the basic problem—which is that homes cost a great deal more than the average family can possibly afford to pay. As Business Week says, "Costs must come down sharply, many in the industry are certain, if home building in 1947 is to come anywhere near the level predicted by the Department of Commerce—$6,000,000,000 in private residential building and a million private dwellings started."

High hopes have been held by some for prefabricated houses. These represent an attempt to apply mass-production principles to the building problem. A number of concerns are producing prefabs. However, so far at least, they have certainly not prevented a revolutionary influence. They, too, cost more than prospective buyers think they should—and they must be erected on a piece of land, and plumbed, heated and wired, all of which runs into money. Again, the sameness in design which is an inescapable feature of prefabs, is distasteful to many people. The average American is willing to drive a car just like Jones' next door—but he wants his home to be different.

Another complaint is that newly-built homes are inferior as well as expensive. Instances are cited of green lumber, bad foundations, flimsy hardware, inefficient heating plants, etc. These are unfortunate results of efforts to shave costs. However, it is reported that the quality of materials in general has improved of late. But has gone up along with quality.

So far as existing homes are concerned, they are still being listed at very high prices practically everywhere. But—and this is a very important "but"—indeed—they are moving much more slowly than they did even a few months ago. Buyer resistance is the reason. The owners want big money—the buyers want to pay less. It's comparable to the old analogy of the irresistible force and the immovable object.

What it all adds up to is that housing is a problem to which no one has found a solution. The dream home is farther away than ever, so far as the bulk of us is concerned—and it's come down to a question of how to get four walls, a roof and a floor at a price we can afford. Many authorities are afraid the situation will get worse before it gets better.

Deaf Smith Wheat
 While Ochiltree and Hansford counties fight it out in pre-harvest box scores over which will be the Hagner Wheat County in Texas this year, Deaf Smith County farmers, with easily the biggest wheat acreage in the state and some of the brightest prospects, are calmly preparing to harvest a wheat crop that may top both the North Plains counties.—The Hereford Brand.

$392,000 Check
 A certified check for $392,501.07 drawn on the San Antonio branch of the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas was deposited to the credit of the City of Hereford at the First National Bank Tuesday morning.

The check, one of the largest single deposits ever made at the local bank, was in payment for bonds voted by the city on April 30 for four major civic improvement projects.

"While the check was not the largest single deposit ever made at the local bank," Cashier V. O. Hennen said, "it was close to it."—The Hereford Brand.

No Museum Fund
 From all indications the appropriation of $90,000 to complete work on the museum building is dead. In the final hours of the recent session of the legislature, several appropriation bills were passed, which the comptroller ruled would run the state in the red, if approved by the governor.—The Canyon News.

Two-Party System?
 From the mail bag we learn that the Republican Party is growing weaker in Texas every year and will become extinct in the Lone Star State within a quarter of a century unless somebody gets busy and sells the two-party ideal. A lot of us will agree that a two-party system might be worthwhile but who wants to be a Republican?—Jerry W. Sitton in the Clay County Leader.

Nothing which has been touched in this column in months has attracted as much comment as the recent criticism of the incident in Pawtucket, Rhode Island, where a man was arrested and fined for laughing. Nearly all the reaction from our readers has been favorable but several letters were received from Rhode Island, or former Rhode Island, citizens and they took your columnist over the coals.

Their letters criticized Texas. In other words, the writers denied that I had the right to criticize their state but they had the right to criticize mine.

If Texans have faults—and of course we do have—that would be no excuse for the Pawtucket outrage—for that is what it is, an outrage. Our forefathers wrote into the Bill of Rights the assurance of freedom of speech, freedom of press, and freedom of worship; they did not provide for freedom of laughter for the reason they never dreamed that anyone would question that right.

I have before me a letter from the mayor of Pawtucket who admits the man was arrested and fined for laughing but the fine was paid back, so that ought to make everything just ducky. The reason it was paid back was because editorial writers and columnists by the scores all over the nation protested. Was the chief of police fired or even reprimanded for making the arrest? Was the judge who levied the fine kicked out of office?

When the letters protesting

Those who don't like Texas ought to go back to the place they do like, then both they and we will be happy.

Agriculture Revolt Seen in Congress

The agricultural appropriation bill likely will be the last such bill approved by both houses of the congress. In the meantime, in farm circles here there is talk of a farm revolt from the traditional ranks of the GOP. Fact is that the house vote on the appropriation was the closest in this session and at one time only six GOP votes kept the bill from being sent back to the committee. Of the 174 votes for recommitment only 12 were republican and five of those were from the Iowa delegation. So the vote, 180 to 174 against recommitment, was decided almost entirely on party lines.

The only real republican opposition made to the farm cuts was voiced by Representative Clifford Hope of Kansas, chairman of the house agricultural committee. He declared that the appropriations committee by its slashes of some 341 millions of dollars in the department funds was "taking away the initiative of his committee," and partly through Hope's efforts, 40 million dollars was returned to the agricultural program. It is expected that the senate, as a result of the vigorous opposition of the farm leadership will restore at least partially some of the funds eliminated by the house, particularly the soil conservation and school lunch appropriations and likely some of the cuts from the rural electrical administration.

As a result of the conference of farm leaders, bankers and others interested in the farm land credit field, held at the instance of President Truman early in June, it is expected that a program, probably voluntary in nature and intended to curb the further increase of farm land prices, will be adopted by lenders. This program is expected to advise customers to hold on to their savings; provide for higher cash payments on sales involving a farm mortgage; hold down G.I. investment to prevent assumption of over-loaning on farm valuation; provide more lenient methods for acquisition of farm equipment to increase income; discourage pure speculation in farm lands and encourage farmers to buy on valuations based on normal earning power of land and to demand

Some of the largest growers in the county, awaiting harvesting conditions are, Luther Wade, 2,000 acres; J. H. Neufield, 1,700 acres; L. L. Lance and Sons, 3,500 acres; J. L. Blackburn and Ray Wright; Reece Taylor; and W. W. Blackburn. All predict a better than 30 bushel per acre average.

Ochiltree county, defending champion of producing the most grain of any county in America, is feuding with adjoining Hansford county, Deaf Smith county, former national champ; Texas county, Okla.; and Ford county, Kans. The Voice Of The People

(Editor's note—this space is open to all readers of The Democrat for the purpose of expressing their opinions on any and all subjects. All signed letters will be printed here upon request, so long as they carry clean, unbiased, material. The following should be considered the opinion of the writer, in no matter reflecting on the editorial policies of the newspaper.)

Memphis, Texas.
What this nation needs most is men in our congress that will act after they have preached. If we try half as hard to preserve our republic as the communists do to destroy it we would have but little to worry about.

When men may be fired from their jobs because of holding certain political beliefs, and if under the standard of democracy men are persecuted for radical opinions, then where is the freedom outlined in the bill of rights? If our way of life cannot compete with communism in an open free for all, there may be something wrong on our part. Are we as truly democratic as we profess to be?

A monopoly on the business interests, the nation's income, and the general production of our earth makes millions of communists.

For instance one man works one to two thousand acres of land, which takes the privilege from three to six families of earning an honest support. Such conditions make more communists. These three to six families are in pursuit of happiness which democracy, if rightly practiced, will give them their happy Godly heritage. The big shots of our nation are messing themselves up to their own sorrow. Like England they will have no one to blame but themselves. It will not be long until they will be howling "Wolf." Like the little boy we read of in the second reader, who felled himself.

Hogs have sense, but what does it amount to.

D. Hall of Britte College of the Bible, will be off the press coincident with the diamond jubilee observance, and an anniversary plate has been planned by the TCU women exes of Fort Worth.

The book, 390 pages with 30 pages of engravings, will tell the story of TCU, with an introduction by President M. E. Sadler.

The design for the 11-inch plate has been completed after two years of work, according to Mrs. Artemisia Bryson of the TCU English department and chairman of the project committee of the exes organization.

The border design was drawn by Mrs. Noel Keith, and the center was designed by Noel Keith, special assistant to President Sadler.

Two program periods have been designated for the jubilee—Monday through Friday, January 12-16, 1948; and Tuesday thru Sunday, June 1-6.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Denny of Childress visited with his mother, Mrs. B. F. Denny of Memphis, Sunday.

Where Do Managers Come From?

A DOZEN MEN operate turret lathes. A dozen clerks stand behind hardware counters. A dozen stevedores hoist dockyard freight.

Sooner or later, one operator, clerk, stevedore is going to reach out and do the work more competently than those alongside him.

This is a real beginning. But it is not enough for a man who hopes to manage.

A manager must have demonstrated that he can take orders, before he gives orders. He must know how to impart information. He must have character, courage, and the ability to administer.

If he has all these, he is ready to go on up. Some managers stay on the first, eighth, tenth steps, and do an important job. They are the foremen, superintendents, department heads, buyers. Some still keep going. The most farsighted and imaginative climb to the top.

This constant movement of men upward is one reason why American business has an ever-fresh point of view. Someone is always bringing a new idea on up with him.

Neither the men and women in industry nor the money in industry can be effective without good business-management. Nothing else is so important to the workers' welfare, the investors' welfare or the public welfare.
