Louis Edwards Sends 41-Pound Melon To Democrat This Week

Just to prove to the wide world that Hall County can raise the finest watermelons this side of Fort Worth (including Parker County), Lewis Edwards bedded down half a dozen of his best Tom Watsons just before Frost this past fall.

Last Friday, the last day of the year, his father, R. C. Edwards, brought a big 41-pounder to the office of The Democrat and presented it with his compliments to this newspaper.

"It has been in the seed bin since frost," said the elder Edwards. "Lewis raised it on the Oren Jones farm, on Indian Creek, about 3 1/2 miles east of Plaska. He had several left that look as good as the day they were pulled off the vine."

When asked if Lewis raises them for the market, his father said that he doesn't, "just for home consumption, with a few left over for friends and neighbors."

Mr. Edwards says he lived in Parker County before coming to Hall County and that his folks down there quit sending him melons several years ago when they found out the Edwards were raising bigger and better ones out here.

Port Craven Hurt In Car Collision Near Lelia Lake

Port F. Craven of Memphis was in a local hospital Wednesday with a broken ankle and minor injuries following a collision between two cars near Lelia Lake late Tuesday.

Mr. Craven was riding as a passenger in a car driven by Cicero Milam of Memphis at the time. Mr. Milam also was brought to the hospital here Tuesday night for treatment but was released after a broken nose was fixed up.

The second car figuring in the accident was driven by William J. Hardy of Amarillo. It was a 1949 Dodge tudor while Mr. Milam was driving his 1940 model Hudson sedan.

Polio Fund Needs Replenishing Now, O'Connor Reports

I am sending this wire to all fund raising chairmen because of my duty to advise you of the importance of the next March of Dimes drive. In 1948 alone it has cost 17 million dollars to care for infantile paralysis patients. Of this amount, national headquarters sent to chapters six million five hundred thousand dollars.

Our epidemic emergency aid fund at National headquarters is now completely exhausted. Many chapter treasurers have been totally depleted. Make no mistake about it. This is an emergency situation.

If we are to continue to help polio victims and be prepared for epidemics next year, and continue our research and educational programs, the March of Dimes in January must be the greatest ever and net at least 30 million.

Without this sum, we cannot fulfill our pledges to patients and to the public. Please do everything to help.

Basil O'Connor, president.

The above message was received in Memphis by Mr. Lemons via Western Union, and is self-explanatory, thinks the chairman.

"Our local collections in last year's drive for polio funds amounted to only $1635.42," points out Mr. Lemons.

"However, during 1948 a total of $3,931.71 was spent by our committee for helping three victims of the polio, children from Hall county," he added.

"In other words, we had to call on the National Headquarters for help and they sent us two checks, one for $1,025 and the other for $2,089, or a total of $3,114," he adds.

"All of that money has been spent and we still have two of our patients in the hospital at Abilene which are costing us several hundred dollars each week," adds Thos. E. Noel, who is treasurer for the local fund.

"What is Hall County going to do about this situation?" is the big question now uppermost in the minds of Chairman Lemons and Treasurer Noel as they get ready for the annual Polio campaign which will get started officially on January 15 and end on January 31.

Final plans for the annual banquet for the high school football squad, being sponsored by the Lions club, will be announced next week, says Chairman W. B. Wilson Jr.

Mr. Wilson says the principal speaker will be Coach Dutch Meyer of T.C.U. and the date will be Wednesday night, January 19. "Otherwise, we will have to wait until next week to announce the full program for this occasion," he said Wednesday.

Final plans for holding the Twelfth Annual 4-H and FFA Fat Stock Show for Hall County were made at a meeting at the Chamber of Commerce office Monday afternoon called by Tommie Potts, chairman of the special committee named for this event.

A total of $500 will be raised by this committee to pay for the prizes to be awarded at the show. Sub-committees were appointed with four sub-chairmen, Buster Helm, Clyde Milam, Wendell Harrison and N. W. Durham. The town has been divided into four sections and each committee will work one of the sections in raising the funds. Chairman Potts set January 15 as the final date for completing this job.

J. A. Scofield of Vernon, district agent for the Extension service, will again be the judge for the show. Mr. Scofield has served in this capacity for the last two shows.

The show will be held in one of the buildings at the Memphis Compress, Mr. Potts announced. As to prizes, while the complete list is not ready, a cash prize of $30 has been set up for the grand champion and $20 for the reserve champion.

All entries for this show will have to be in by 5 p. m. on Friday, January 21, says County Agent W. B. Hooser. There were about 50 entries last year.

Funeral Services Here Today For Dr. J. F. Tomlinson

Funeral services were scheduled this (Thursday) afternoon at the Murphy-Spicer Chapel in Memphis for Dr. John Franklin Tomlinson, 73, who died in Pharr last Monday.

Rev. B. L. Peacock, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will officiate. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery.

Deceased resided in Memphis from 1901 to 1932. He practiced dentistry and, at the same time, operated a drug store here which he sold to Charles Meacham when he moved to Seymour in 1932. His family took a prominent lead in civic affairs here.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Mary Alice Tomlinson of Pharr, three daughters, Mrs. Carl Whitfield of Fate, Ga., Mrs. Doris Buck of TSCU at Denton and Mrs. B. A. Daniel of Wytheville, Va.; one sister, Mrs. Kate Cornett of Dowell, Ill., and one brother, H. H. Tomlinson of Missoula, Montana.

Pallbearers will be: D.L.C. Kinard, R. S. Greene, John McMickin, Dr. T. L. Lewis, M. G. Tarver and H. F. Tarver.

Born in Wytheville, Va., May 22, 1875, Dr. Tomlinson moved to Haskell, Texas, in 1899. He moved about 1901 and to Seymour about 1932, then to Pharr a year ago last November.

Honorary pallbearers included the following: Standlee Roberts of Denton, S. S. Montgomery, A. Baldwin, J. L. Barnes, T. H. Deaver, John Deaver, Dr. J. A. Odom, J. G. Brown, Max King, Jim King, W. D. Still Honest Folks In This World Says User Of Pocketbook

Talk about Christmas and the holidays and you will eventually get around to talking about somebody losing something like a purse, bag or what have you.

This Christmastime, in Hall County, was no exception. Joe Neal Berry of Lakeview came rushing into the office Friday morning saying he had lost his pocket-book somewhere in North Memphis. He said it contained "about $20 in cash and a check for $180 and cards, etc."

About an hour later, the purse was brought to the Democrat office by Jesse Armstrong, college student and son of Rev. and Mrs. C. C. Armstrong, who had picked it up on the street. It still had the cash and other items in it.

"Will give a $10 reward to whoever finds it," declared Mr. Berry.

So, later, when he had come back and gotten the purse, he looked up young Armstrong and offered him the reward. However, Jesse declined the reward, saying he was glad to be able to help in such a case.

Still Honest Folks In This World Say User Of Pocketbook

Talk about Christmas and the holidays and you will eventually get around to talking about somebody losing something like a purse, bag or what have you.

This Christmastime, in Hall County, was no exception.

Joe Neal Berry of Lakeview came rushing into the office Friday morning saying he had lost his pocket-book somewhere in North Memphis. He said it contained "about $20 in cash and a check for $180 and cards, etc."

About an hour later, the purse was brought to The Democrat office by Jesse Armstrong, college student and son of Rev. and Mrs. C. C. Armstrong, who had picked it up on the street. It still had the cash and other items in it.

"Will give a $10 reward to whoever finds it," declared Mr. Berry.

So, later, when he had come back and gotten the purse, he looked up young Armstrong and offered him the reward. However, Jesse declined the reward, saying he was glad to have been able to help in such a case.

13-Degree Weather Brings Some Snow To County Monday

The coldest weather of the winter to date struck in Hall County Monday when the norther that blew in early that morning brought 13-degree temperature both Tuesday and Wednesday mornings, according to the records kept by John J. McMickin, weather observer.

About 15 of an inch of moisture resulted from the light snow fall here Monday forenoon, with heavier falls around Estelline and Turkey. The snow was heavier to the west and north of here also.

Temperatures of the past five days follow:

Saturday, January 1, 34 low and 48 high.

Sunday, January 2, 32 low and 62 high.

Monday, January 3, 46 (at 5 a. m.) and 66 (afternoon before).

Tuesday, January 4, 13 low and 38 high.

Wednesday, January 5, 13 low and 47.

Louis Edwards Sends 41-Pound Melon To Democrat This Week

Just to prove to the wide world that Hall County can raise the finest watermelons this side of Fort Worth (including Parker County), Lewis Edwards bedded down half a dozen of his best Tom Watsons just before Frost this past fall.

Last Friday, the last day of the year, his father, R. C. Edwards, brought a big 41-pounder to the office of The Democrat and presented it with his compliments to this newspaper.

"It has been in the seed bin since frost," said the elder Edwards. "Lewis raised it on the Oren Jones farm, on Indian Creek, about 3 1/2 miles east of Plaska. He had several left that look as good as the day they were pulled off the vine."

When asked if Lewis raises them for the market, his father said that he doesn't, "just for home consumption, with a few left over for friends and neighbors."

Mr. Edwards says he lived in Parker County before coming to Hall County and that his folks down there quit sending him melons several years ago when they found out the Edwards were raising bigger and better ones out here.

Port F. Craven of Memphis was in a local hospital Wednesday with a broken ankle and minor injuries following a collision between two cars near Lelia Lake late Tuesday.

Mr. Craven was riding as a passenger in a car driven by Clyde Milam of Memphis at the time. Mr. Milam also was brought to the hospital here Tuesday night for treatment but was released after a broken nose was fixed up.

Polio Fund Needs Replenishing Now, O'Connor Reports

New York, N. Y., R. C. LEMONS, Hall Co. Campaign Director.

I am sending this wire to all fund raising chairmen because of my duty to advise you of the importance of the next March of Dimes drive. In 1948 alone it has cost 17 million dollars to care for infantile paralysis patients. Of this amount, national headquarters sent to chapters six million five hundred thousand dollars.

Our epidemic emergency aid fund at National headquarters is now completely exhausted. Many chapter treasures have been totally depleted. Make no mistake about it. This is an emergency situation.

If we are to continue to help polio victims and be prepared for epidemics next year, and continue our research and educational programs, the March of Dimes in January must be the greatest ever and net at least 30 million.

Without this sum, we cannot fulfill our pledges to patients and to the public. Please do everything to help.

Basil O'Connor, president.

Final plans for holding the Twelfth Annual 4-H and Fat Stock Show for Hall County were made at a meeting at the Chamber of Commerce office Monday afternoon called by Tommie Potts, chairman of the special committee named for this event.

A total of $500 will be raised by this committee to pay for the prizes to be awarded at the show. Sub-committees were appointed with four sub-chairmen, Buster Helm, Clyde Milam, Wendell Harrison and N. W. Durham. The town has been divided into four sections and each committee will work one of the sections in raising the funds. Chairman Potts set January 15 as the final date for completing this job.

J. A. Scofield of Vernon, district agent for the Extension service, will again be the judge for the show. Mr. Scofield has served in this capacity for the last two shows.

The show will be held in one of the buildings at the Memphis Compress, Mr. Potts announced.

As to prizes, while the complete list is not ready, a cash prize of $30 has been set up for the grand champion and $20 for the reserve champion.

All entries for this show will have to be in by 5 p. m. on Friday, January 21, says County Agent W. B. Hooser. There were about 50 entries last year.

Was Conscientious Objector

Lew Ayres, Movie Star, Baptized During War By Local Minister

The chaplain who baptized Lew Ayres, the famous movie star, before Lew went overseas during World War II with the 36th Evacuation hospital unit, is now pastor of the First Christian church in Memphis.

He is Rev. Bedford W. Smith, one of the hardest working and most conscientious ministers in these parts.

"Although everyone knows that Lew Ayres was a conscientious objector, he worked with me as my chaplain's assistant for 20 months, part of the time in the Southern California desert on maneuvers and the rest of the time in the Pacific, from Hollandia in Dutch New Guinea on up to the Philippines," recalls Rev. Smith.

Many incidents are cited by the Memphis minister to support his assertion that the movie star was a "conscientious worker at his job as well as a conscientious objector to war."

"Before going over, Lew voluntarily asked that his rank be reduced from sergeant to private first-class so that another soldier could get the promotion because he needed the extra money so bad," Mr. Smith says. "Lew was very popular with the soldiers and he didn't drink or smoke, being a clean fellow in all of his habits. While we were at sea, on the way to the South Pacific, one of the movies made by Lew before he went into service was shown on the boat. In the movie, he was shown drinking a highball. He told me then he wouldn't want to act that part again. After we had gotten to a war zone and all medicines were ordered to wear arms in self-defense against snipers, Lew would not strap a revolver on himself, because of his belief. However, when we took some Japs as prisoners and had them in the hospital, Lew would visit them and took a great interest in their personal welfare, strictly from a humanitarian standpoint."

Lew Gave Jap Cigarettes

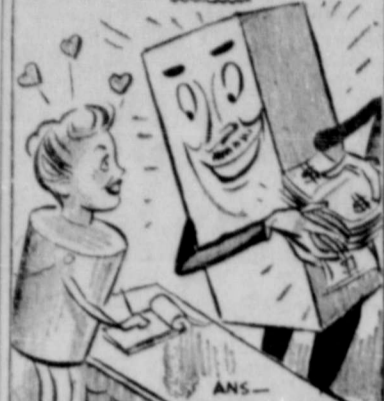

"I well remember that Lew would give the package of cigarettes he drew as a part of his daily ration to one of the Jap prisoners who were not allowed any American cigarettes. One day a colonel from the intelligence office found this Jap prisoner was smoking the cigarettes. He immediately demanded the source of the cigarettes and jumped Lew about giving them to the prisoner, telling him it was against regulations and ordered him to stop it. Lew told him that the cigarettes were his and he would do as he pleased with them. The colonel told him he would see his commanding officer about it. Lew ran around to his commanding officer and told him about the whole thing, so when the intelligence officer saw him later, the commanding officer upheld Lew's right to give the cigarettes to the prisoner if he wished to do so. That shows the determination of the movie star."

Goes On Secret Mission

Rev. Smith says he was transferred to a secret task force after that and he learned that Lew quit the chaplain assistant's job after that. On this secret task force job, Mr. Smith was with the first troops to reach Aparri,

Final Call For Junior Red Cross Made This Week

Final call for making contributions to the Hall County Junior Red Cross roll call in the public schools was made this week by Miss Mary Foreman, county superintendent.

Up to last Monday, two school systems had reported their enrollment.

They were Memphis, which includes all three of the city's schools, for a total of $43.48, and the school system of the county, for a total of $1.52.

"Schools which have made no report, so far, are Keview, Turkey and Estelline," said the superintendent. "We'd like these reports to make the total 100 percent for this year."

"We would like to see every school child enrolled with an average of 10 cents each. If they give only a penny, they will be counted."

The Junior Red Cross gave a check for $30 during the Christmas season to five and five girls enrolled in the Methodist Orphans Home at Parnell, Miss Foreman reports.

We try to keep 5 years ahead of the times!

THEY'RE being born in record numbers these days; 4 million babies last year—12 million since the war!

They make one very important reason for the gigantic expansion program of the business-managed electric companies. Another reason is that everybody's appetite for electric service is getting bigger—in towns and on farms, in homes and in industry.

Ordinarily, we work and plan about 5 years ahead to meet the anticipated demand for electric service. (It takes a long time to plan, build and equip power plants.)

Today, in addition, we're working hard to catch up with much needed construction we could not do during the war years!

Six-Inch Sermon

† REV. ROBERT H. HARPER †
Sources of Our Knowledge of Jesus.

Lesson for January 9: Luke 1: 1-4; John 20:30-31; 21:25; 1 Corinthians 15:3-5; 1 John 1:1-4.

Memory Selection: John 20:31. THE sources of our knowledge of Jesus are chiefly the four Gospels and the Epistles of Paul. It was in the latter half of the first century that the need was felt of a written record. Previously men knew about Jesus through their personal contact with him, or from others who had known him.

Paul began his Epistles about the year 52; the Gospels were begun three years later. Mark's Gospel was the first written, and John's the last. Matthew, Mark, and Luke are known as the Synoptics because their Gospels are much alike, even to phraseology. John's Gospel is different from the others, both in its narrative and the purpose of the author.

Matthew wrote to show that Jesus came in fulfillment of prophecy, Mark records what Jesus did, showing him as a man of action, and Luke enlarges upon Matthew and Mark. John writes of the mystery of Christ's Person—to show who Jesus is. Paul writes, not as a historian, but as a pastor—to settle matters of controversy in churches he had founded, to set their people right in doctrine, and to encourage them in Christian living. But Paul's Epistles include much historical material, while they have been of great value in shaping Christian doctrine.

Thus, from different writers we gain the blessed truth—all we need to know concerning Him whose name is above every name.

Okinawa Natives Primitive Folks Says Floyd Guess

Folks, that is the Japanese natives, who live on Okinawa are primitive people, declares Floyd Guess, corporal in the Air Forces, who completed a 60-day leave at Lakeview with homefolks this week before reporting to Fort Worth for further orders.

Floyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Guess of Lakeview, completed 22 months of service on Okinawa about two months ago. Although he won't be 20 until January 14, young Guess has been in the service for 28 months, having enlisted for three years.

Floyd visited in Tokyo and on the Philippines while over there, spending a 7-day rest leave in the Jap capital. He says they have some modern buildings in Tokyo but that a grass house might be located in the same block. He adds that Tokyo has millions of people.

This young Air Force corporal is the oldest child in a family of 11 children so he had a big time at home with the family this Christmas.

Incidentally, he lost his pocket-book in Memphis a few days ago and someone brought it to The Democrat. An ad was run in the paper last week telling about it, so Floyd came in Friday and got it. It didn't have any money in it but it did have a lot of pictures and Floyd's social security card.

"No, I didn't have any money in it when I lost it," he smiled.

BOYCE HOUSE "Gives You Texas"

Bat Masterson, one of the most famous peace officers of the old Southwestern days, has been credited with having killed as many as 27 men. As a matter of fact, however, according to his old friend, Wyatt Earp, another great peace officer Bat killed only four men.

This does not take into account, however, any Indians he might have killed in the Battle of Adobe Walls in the Texas Panhandle for Masterson, then little more than a boy, was one of the small force of frontiersmen who beat back the attack of hundreds of redskins, commanded by the celebrated chief, Quanah Parker.

The first man that Bat Masterson killed in a pistol duel was in Sweetwater, Texas, when he was 18 years old. He was serving as a civilian scout with the army and was dancing with a dance-hall girl one night when a man who was inflamed with jealousy entered and drew his pistol. The girl caught sight of him first and threw her arms around Bat to try to protect him. The man fired however and killed her, the bullet passing through her body and wounding Masterson, who shot her slayer through the heart.

Ed was acting as marshal and some cowboys created a disturbance in a saloon. Ed and Bat were approaching to quiet the disturbance and one of the cowboys mortally wounded Ed. Bat killed the slayer and when a friend of this man rushed out with a pistol, Bat shot him twice, inflicting mortal wounds.

When another of the Masterson brothers was having trouble, Bat went back to Dodge City and there was some shooting and when the smoke lifted, Bat's fourth man was accounted for.

Incidentally, Masterson later became a sports writer in New York City and died while at his desk, writing. Oddly enough, the man who had figured in some of the most exciting events of the turbulent Southwest, had just finished writing a humorous bit of philosophy:

"There are many in this old world of ours who hold that things break about even for all of us. I have observed, for example, that we all get about the same amount of ice. The rich get it in the summer-time and the poor get it in the winter."

Sentinels of Health

Don't Neglect Them!
Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—life itself—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure. When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel tired, nervous, all worn out. Frequent, scanty or burning passages are sometimes further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance. The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. Use Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Are endorsed the country over. Insist on Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

Hall County Can Make Big Row Crop Despite The Drouth

"That irrigation well on the T. H. Gattis farm, two miles east of the store at Brice, is a good one," declared W. H. Youngblood, well-known farmer of that section, in Memphis Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Youngblood says the water has very little, if any, gyp in it and that it continues to have a strong flow every time the pump is turned on.

A citizen of Hall County since 1902, having come here from Ellis County where a brother still resides, Mr. Youngblood has strong faith in this county as a farming country.

"We may have some dust storms this year," he says. "But, I have found out, from past years, that our land still produces fairly good crops even in dry years. For instance, we still have a fine opportunity for row crops in 1949 despite the present dry condition of the soil."

Quick pastures are small grains, sweetclovers, sudan grass, and stubble fields, and give high yields of fresh green grazing for a few weeks in late fall, early spring and mid-summer when the sod pastures are low.

Cyclone Quintet Meets Stride; To Defers Friday Nite

The Cyclone squad plays Lelia Lake here tonight (Thursday), starting at 7 o'clock, according to a last-minute announcement by Coach McCulloch. It should be a good game and worth the money.

The Memphis Cyclones have just about gotten that old victory stride in basketball!

They won an easy victory over Wellington's Rockets here Tuesday night. Coach McCulloch used some of his "B" team squad to wind up the game, with a final score of 45 to 23.

Once or twice, the Cyclones showed some real flashes of basketball. They appeared to be welded into an unbeatable team.

They were out by the visitors was enough to cool off the Cyclone combination. They dropped back into the mediocre stride after the game.

Leroy Green managed to chalk up some 17 points with good support from his team-mates. Garbush came through with four bases, while Sammy Rasco, Morrison, Crooks, Messer and Grundy made good showings. Grundy only played in the last half. Don Lasco and Clark both were in the game at the end.

O'Neil, Hirely, Riley, Melton and McChetan made up the quintet for the visitors, with Melton showing up fairly strong.

The Cyclone squad will go to Memphis Friday night for their third conference game. They won their first with McLean before the holidays. Surprisingly, they defeated the highly-touted Floydada team here last Thursday night but lost to Hollis a few nights before, both non-conference games.

Contractor Says Brice Well Best In This Section

"It is the best well in the two-county area," declared A. H. Moore, drilling contractor on the T. H. Gattis irrigation well at Brice.

Mr. Moore and his son, Bud, drilled the well, the first successful irrigation well in Hall County, completing it on December 20.

"We only drilled to a depth of 68 feet as we found 46 feet of water sand down that far," he said. "The water now stands within 21 feet of the surface and, on a steady run, it should average 925 gallons per minute."

This is said to have a better flow than wells in the Ashtola area. The contractors installed a 16-inch casing and an 8-inch pump was placed on the well.

Mr. Moore says he has been drilling wells in the Panhandle for the last 23 years, of which 20 years he lived in Shamrock. They have resided in Clarendon the past three years.

Work Is Started On Remodelling Legion Hall Here

Work on remodelling the Memphis Legion hall was started this week following an adjustment of damages from the recent fire that gutted the interior of the main auditorium as well as the recreation room, kitchen and restrooms.

Ed Clark Sr. is foreman in charge of the remodelling job. "The first job will be to replace the windows and repair of the roof so bad weather will not damage the building further," said Frank Van Pelt, post commander.

"We hope to have the building in good shape again in 60 days time, depending on the weather, of course," said Van Pelt.

The Simmons-Noel post, owners of the building, now has 134 members paid up for 1949. "This is 70 percent of our quota of 191 for the new year," the commander said. "We hope to get many more in the next two months."

Use of the hall was stopped by the fire which broke out two weeks before Christmas. The Legion Auxiliary had met the night before the fire and made plans for a Christmas party. These plans were cancelled at once as none of the building, except the apartment where the caretaker lives, can be used at the present. The fire was put out before it reached the apartment at the east end.

In The Lap Of Congress

A report made by the U. S. Chamber of Commerce had this to say about the electric power situation: "In two sections of the country, the Tennessee Valley and the Pacific Northwest, public power has driven private capital out of new plant construction. These regions today find themselves right back in the lap of Congress, where they must plead their need for development, project by project, before appropriation committees.

"These appropriation committees are accountable to people of all sections of the country whose tax money they spend. They will want equitable distribution among all Congressional Districts, and it will be no surprise if representatives of other areas are a bit lackadaisical in caring for complaints about 'power shortages' in those areas now, allegedly, dependent on Congress."

When any region gives the government a monopoly of an essential service, or when it permits the threat of continuing socialization to prevent private development, it is simply asking for trouble. Its progress or lack of it depends upon the whims of Congress, which may change drastically from session to session. It is placed in the position of a mendicant, asking for alms.

Ambitious plans are now in the blueprint stage for establishing more power monopolies based on the TVA model, in other areas. If those plans go through, these areas will also find themselves "in the lap of Congress." The private power industry, which always did a superb job of handling the demand in the past, will be powerless. Even if it is not entirely no investor will risk his money when the prospect of socialization is imminent. "Public power" is one way of depriving the public of power it would otherwise have! Power shortages seem to be by-products of political power monopolies.

Starter For The Year

New Year's resolutions have been the butt of innumerable jokes. And that's quite understandable—most resolutions are made as the result of remorse from an excess of holiday cheer, and are forgotten as soon as the headache goes away.

But there's another kind of resolution which everyone should make soberly and sincerely, and carry out conscientiously. A resolution of that character might be phrased in such fashion as this: "During 1949, I will do my part to reduce our disgraceful and unnecessary fire loss which is costing this nation more than 10,000 lives and $700,000,000 a year."

There's nothing academic or impersonal about fire. The fact that it never cost you a dollar directly doesn't mean a thing. All of us pay for fire in one way or another—in the taxable assets it destroys, in its depressing influence on employment and purchasing power, in its consumption of irreplaceable materials, in higher insurance rates, and so on. And, more important, the family that never had a fire may be wiped out by one tomorrow.

Those piles of paper and rubbish and discarded clothing—that frayed lamp cord you've meant to replace and haven't—that faulty heating unit that should have been repaired last week or last year—"little things" such as these are fire's dependable allies. All of them can be corrected easily. How about doing that now as a starter for the New Year?

Press Paragraphs

QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

TIDELANDS SUIT
 There is no reason for the surprised pose taken by Gov. Jester and some other state officials over the filing of the suit to rob Texas school children of the billions expected from the tidelands. They were apprized long in advance that it would be filed. They knew that Mr. Truman intended that it should be instituted and apparently was waiting only until after the election to see that it was done.

The tidelands attitude of Mr. Truman and of his party (as controlled by the Northern wing) has been wholly consistent. He vetoed the measure seeking to return to the states title to properties that had never been questioned until Harold Ickes decided otherwise. Administration supporters prevented the Young Democrats taking an unfavorable stand at their 1947 national convention, and administration supporters at the Philadelphia Democratic convention headed off similar action by the national party.

Here in Texas the matter was pool-poohed during the campaign. "It was just campaign talk," Texans were told. "No fear of the loss of our tidelands—if it is ever tested," the inference being that the Texas title would never be involved.

Whether or not such statements were believed, Texas Democrats voted for the party which planned the rape of their state, against the party which put in its platform a demand for return of those lands to the states. They refused to make any vigorous protest against the seizure of the billion dollars or more belonging to the public schools; rather, indeed, they gave it tacit approval.

Aroused and embittered, the State of Texas may be able to do something to defend its title. It unquestionably has rights beyond those of most of the states, for when it joined the United States it expressly reserved its public lands and the United States recognized those rights in the annexation resolution. But if it loses, as always is possible in any case going to the present United States Supreme Court, Governor Jester is correct in his statement that if the Federal government can nationalize these submergible lands, it also can nationalize lands, minerals and other things in the interior, apparently in violation of that section of the Federal Constitution which is supposed to protect against governmental confiscation of property without due process of law and full compensation.

Further to increase Texans' bitterness, Tom Clark's suit seeks to recover from the state all the millions of dollars it has received since the California decision of June 23, 1947—money that already has been spent in maintaining the public school system and return of which would necessitate additional taxation upon the people of Texas.—Hidalgo County News.

"WHAT SAY, SONNY?"

By BERNARD BRISTER

MASON, Tex., Jan. 5—Boyhood's dream got another break today, for Fred Gipson, the Mason County writer of western and adventure stories, has proved that even a frustrated coon hunter can be successful.

Mother Gipson early resisted in his behalf her son's conviction that he would grow up to be an upstanding a coon hunter as ever roamed the Texas hills. But talent will out. Fred Gipson's first novel telling the story of a boy's dreams of baying hounds and big boar coons on chilly nights, went on sale at bookstores throughout the United States today. "HOUND DOG MAN" is one of the selections of the Book-of-the-Month Club for January, and as such is Gipson's first real brush with the Collector of Internal Revenue.

Harper & Brothers, his publishers, immediately labeled this first novel a "find," and claim for their new writer a touch of Mark Twain with a "clear, fluent style all his own, unsurpassed for naturalness and lyric beauty."

But Fred Gipson is no new writer to Texas. Newspaper readers in Corpus Christi, San Angelo, Paris, Abilene, Marshall and dozens of small towns over the state remember his chuckle-filled columns a few years ago. And "hundreds of thousands from Main to Cape Town have found high adventure in hundreds of Gipson stories in the Western pulp magazines. He is the author of a previous book, "Fabulous Empire," Colonel Zack Miller's own story of the 101 Ranch in Oklahoma, and of numerous pieces in the Readers' Digest, Colliers' Holiday and other "slick" periodicals.

In looks and manner Gipson could qualify as a typical West Texas sheepman or cattleman. He's gangly, a little bit stooped, wears the mark of a Prohibition days fruit jar across the bridge of his nose, and talks with the deliberate and scratchy voice that comes of being bred in the country west of Fort Worth.

Writing is a special brand of agony with him, and his wife, Tommie, who lives through each one of his stories with him, claims that sometimes at the typewriter he runs two and three degrees temperature. But he can never long stay away from writing. It's got him. He hardly took time to buy a hound dog of his own and a Frigidaire from the first proceeds of his novel before he was back at the typewriter.

He claims he is already well into a second novel, but about all he will reveal is that it is about "the problems of a grass widower here in the hill country."

Fred missed his heart's desire of being a coon hunter and all round woods prowler by the necessity of having to go to work when times got hard on his parents' Mason County farm. "I've picked cotton," he says. "I have swung a ten-pound sledge hammer all day, pounding out concrete slabs. I have handled a four-up Fresno mule team in dirt pits when the heat was 110 in the shade. I've done saddle work from before daylight till long after the stars were out at night.

HOUND DOG MAN—Fred Gipson, Mason County writer, hit the big time with his first novel this week. His "Hound Dog Man" released by Harper & Brothers is a January selection of the Book-of-the-Month Club. His floppy-eared companion here is Darling Duke, one of his first investments from the advance he received on the book. Gipson is a well-known Texas newspaper and magazine writer.

I've built fences, clerked in drug stores, kept books for a grocer, driven a caterpillar tractor, and had a whirl at selling. And the sweat and pain and exhaustion of these jobs compares in no way to the agony of putting down words in a manner to please exacting editors."

Gipson and his family suffered two years of debt and disaster—lightening struck and killed the milk cow—while his first novel was being written, and more than another year while it was seeking a publisher.

He knew for the first time the struggle had been worth it when he read the happy telegram from his agent in New York: "GET-TER SET DOWN BEFORE YOU READ ANY FURTHER. BOOK-OF-THE-MONTH CLUB WANTS HOUND DOG MAN AS DUAL SELECTION SOME TIME AFTER FIRST OF YEAR. THEY AND HARPERS TENTATIVELY SCHEDULE IT FOR FEBRUARY. YOUR GUARANTEE $25,000. TOTAL WILL PROBABLY BE AROUND $35,000."

Even Gipson, now 40, considers that a pretty good take for any unreformed coon hunter. In "HOUND DOG MAN" we take part in a classic coon hunt with the famous hound dog man, Blackie Scantling, the hero of every man and boy with a touch of the wanderlust—the despair of mothers and daughters and other more practical citizens.

Twelve-year-old Cotton Kinney wanted two things more than anything in the world—to get a hunting dog of his own, and to run in the woods along the river with Blackie Scantling after a big Texas boar coon. Though his mother fretted, Cotton just had to go off with Blackie on Christmas week. So Cotton and Blackie and two hound dogs, Rock and Drum—along with Cotton's fat friend Spud and his little Feist dog—embarked on a series of wonder adventures. There was the time when Blackie charged the bull; and the time the hound dog Rock got caught on the catfish line and Blackie ended up in the icy water fighting a huge coon. Then there were runs through the clear cold moonlight nights with the bugle-clear cry of the hounds up ahead. There were visits with grown-folks like Fiddling Tom who could bring the sun up with the sweetness of his music. And a glorious feast off the giant turkey-gobbler that Cotton had tangled with in the woods. At Fiddling Tom's Cotton fell in love with a coal-black hound pup and sorrowed to himself that he could not take him home. And he felt uneasy about Blackie's ways with the beautiful girl Dony and what he heard her say about wanting the "marrying papers" first.

The story comes to a swift climax when Cotton rides to fetch Doc Cole after Dave, a daredevil horsebreaker, smashes his leg and all the neighbors turn out for a leg-setting party. There Dony handles the wayward Blackie in a most unexpected fashion and Cotton grows up in the ways of mothers and fathers and people in general.

This Week in WASHINGTON

ALTHOUGH President Harry S. Truman at his press conferences and in his public appearances here in Washington appears to be in an amiable mood, full of the forgiving spirit of the holiday season, those closest to the President declare there has been no softening in his determination to push through his entire program pledged to the people in his campaign.

These observers declare the President doesn't want to "punish" anybody but at the same time he will not tolerate opposition from within his own party on the program he has sought for more than two years to extend, amplify and create new legislation which he regards as for the best interest of the masses of the people.

For this reason it is apparent that some of the moss-grown congressional rules must be eliminated. So the President is looking toward his leadership in the senate, notably vice-president-elect Alben Barkley, to eliminate the filibuster menace in the senate, and to speaker-elect Sam Rayburn to clip the wings of the powerful rules committee.

Fast action on some few measures and months of hearings over others will be the rule in the new congress. For instance, export control expires at the end of February. Immediate attempt to strengthen this control to prevent some of the fraud practiced under present law will get priority. The economic recovery administration and its program must be renewed in April.

The reciprocal trade agreements do not expire until June but there will be an attempt to repeal the 80th congress' provisions and extend the law for three years.

A new set-up, almost immediately, for the house un-American activities committee is in the cards. Congressman J. Hardin Peterson of Florida, a committee member, wants to make it a joint senate-house committee. Rent control runs out at the end of March and a new rent control extension law will be one of the early actions.

It is a foregone conclusion that the Hope-Alken long-range farm price support law will either be amended or knocked out for a new Democratic law. Leaders in the fight for rigid parity support will be Senator Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma in the senate and Congressman Harold

D. Cooley of North Carolina in the house.

Public housing and slum clearance will be reintroduced in the same form as the Wagner-Ellender-Taft bill in the 80th congress and likely it will pass. Senator J. William Fulbright of Arkansas, and Congressman L. Mendel Rivers of South Carolina will reintroduce the measure seeking to lift payroll taxes off oleomargarine.

Chairman Elbert Thomas of the senate labor and public welfare committee, will lead the fight for federal aid to education. Senator Murray of Montana, Wagner of New York, McGrath of Rhode Island, and Rep. John Dingell of Michigan will spearhead the fight for extensions of the social security program.

Also, Senators Wagner and Murray and Congressman Dingell will introduce the administration health insurance bill. Senators Murray, Wagner and Senator Claude Pepper of Florida, together with Congressman John Frank of Michigan will lead the fight for repeal of the Taft-Hartley law and the passage of a substitute labor bill.

Congressmen Helen Gahagan Douglas of California, Emanuel Celler of New York, and Senators Grath and Pepper will lead the fight for the civil rights program. Senator Spessard Holland of Florida offer a measure to outlaw the tax by constitutional amendment instead of by law.

Senator Elbert Thomas of Utah will head a bi-partisan group raise wages in a new minimum wage law. Senators Estes Kefauver, Tennessee, Murray of Montana, Chan Gurney of South Dakota, Taylor of Idaho, Harry P. Cain of Washington, Owen Brewster of Maine, Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, lead the fight for valley authority.

Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney of Wyoming and Congressman Mansfield of Montana will lead a battle for stand-by price and rationing control.

A split is in the cards over excess profits tax proposal. It is believed that senate finance chairman Walter P. George of Georgia is poised to imposition of the tax, though he has indicated he wants look at the budget and the expenditure sheet first. Senator O'Mahoney of Colorado and Congressman Harold likely lead the fight for the tax.

Enviied the world over

for her LOW-COST DEPENDABLE NATURAL GAS SERVICE

★ We, living here in the land of natural gas, are envied by those sections which do not have the advantages of this wonderful fuel.

Such envy is understandable when you consider the ease and convenience—the dependability and economy of cheap natural gas for automatic cooking, refrigeration, water heating, home heating or air conditioning.

Yes, the home with natural gas service is a lucky home, indeed. It has the best, the most modern service which is the envy of those parts of the country without it.

Income Tax Report Can Be Filed By Jan. 17, Dunlap Says

Farmers and other taxpayers who must make their income tax report by January 15 have until January 17 to get them in this time.

John B. Dunlap of Dallas, acting collector of internal revenue for North Texas, says the filing period is automatically extended to the 17th since the 15th falls on Saturday.

Mr. Dunlap also pointed out that many of these taxpayers can "kill two birds with one stone" by filing their final 1948 income tax returns instead of a declaration.

"In other words, a farmer required to file an original declaration or a business man desiring to file an amended declaration at this time can substitute his regular return on Form 1040, which he might otherwise wait to file on March 15" says Dunlap. "If he files his return and pays the tax in full by January 17, he can save the task of preparing and filing the 1948 declaration or amended declaration which is due then."
