JOHN ANGLIN

Young Tenor Will Present Concert Here

A career that has grown steadily because of innate artistry and a magnificent voice, is that of John Anglin, the great Negro tenor who will be heard here Sunday afternoon at 3 p. m. at the Memphis High School auditorium.

"We'll extend it clear through April if this is necessary to raise the quota," Carter said.

Carter thanked all the persons who have co-operated in the drive to date and asked their further support until the necessary amount has been raised.

"We had hoped to carry this county over its 1950 quota," Carter said. "If all the workers in this drive will continue to do their job then we can still reach this goal."

He pointed out that solicitation has been carried out through most of the residential and business sections of Memphis but that the workers will cover the city again if it is necessary.

"If any person has not been contacted by drive workers, they can make their contributions at the First State Bank," he said.

"And if they wish, persons who want to make contributions can call me at 345 and I will come by personally and pick up such funds," he added.

Carter pointed out that this money is necessary to insure Red Cross operations for the coming year and that contributions from citizens is the only means the organization has of continuing its fine work in stricken areas of the state and nation.

He spoke briefly at the Memphis Lions Club luncheon Wednesday and asked that group's support in bringing the drive to its 1950 quota.

"We'll just have to keep asking for contributions until the goal is reached," he said.

Carter said that his drive assistants throughout the county are still working and that they can be contacted by persons wishing to make contributions.

This group includes Mrs. John McCauley, head of the Memphis residential drive, W. C. Foote, W. W. Wise, Jim Beeson, Bob Stephens, Roy Coleman, Ben Alexander and J. W. Coppege, all working in the Memphis business district.

Supt. W. C. Davis is heading the school drive.

County leaders include Joe Dickson at Pliska, Mrs. H. C. Vines at Brice and Loran Denton at Lakeview.

Also H. H. Hall at Pleasant Valley, Tom Salem at Turkey and Everett Hughes at Newlin.

SCHOOL CENSUS ENDS MARCH 31; LOCALS SEEK COMPLETE LIST

Children who should be reported but are not are those born between Sept. 1, 1933 and before Sept. 1, 1934.

Children who will become six years of age by Sept. 1 of this year will be counted in this census. Their names turned in by parents to County Superintendent W. C. Davis.

Insect Killing Not Easy, Says Health Officer

"There is no easy road to the abatement of insects and rodents," says Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. Frequently people get enthusiastic about the destruction of the insects and believe that, if an airplane flies over the town, or if a huge fogging machine rolls through town spreading an insecticide, the insects will be killed instantly and peace from the insect nuisance will remain forever. This is an erroneous and, unfortunately, bad practice, because it creates an unwarranted sense of security.

Before killing is anticipated, a thorough clean-up of the community should be carried on. This means cleaning up the rubbish and garbage and eliminating all insect feeding and breeding places. It might mean the draining or filling in of wet areas for destruction of the mosquito larvae. When this is done, one will be surprised how few insects are left to become a nuisance and, perhaps, a public health problem.

Following this, it is suggested that insecticides be sprayed man-

Panhandle Dairy Has Milking Facilities

The nation's third largest dairy show has once again moved into the front of the show world with the installation of milking facilities for all its exhibitors.

In cooperation with the Surge Milking Machine Company, the stalls at the Panhandle-Plains Dairy Show have been provided with vacuum pipes and stall cocks. It is believed that these are the only show facilities in the nation so equipped.

The Panhandle-Plains Dairy Show will be held from April 10 to 14, 1950, and a record number of exhibitors from Texas, New Mexico, and Oklahoma are expected for this year's advent.

"S.O.S." has no literal meaning, but was chosen as a distress signal because of its ease in transmitting.

ually to those places inhabited by the insects. Experience has shown that a 2 per cent to 5 per cent solution of DDT is still the most effective insecticide to use for general sanitation. This is spread to form a thin coat on the surface where it can remain for future destruction. A spray that will just moisten the surface is sufficient to be effective. Spray only those areas where you know the insects gather.

Auto Accidents Will Increase, Woerner Claims

One hundred and two less persons died in Traffic accidents in Texas during 1949 than in 1948. The Traffic Death Book for last year officially closed on March 15th, according to a statement released today by Colonel Homer Garrison, Jr., Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, and the final toll stands at 1,957 fatalities.

This figure is 9 more than the prediction made a year ago by N. W. Woerner, Chief of the Safety Department's Statistical Division, Garrison said.

In forecasting the fatalities for 1949, Chief Woerner went against many existing indications of certain increases in the death rate and said that the figure would drop. It did by the 102 margin.

Woerner released for the first time today his prediction for 1950. He says that this year will be the most costly and tragic in the history of the state. He predicts an all-time high of 2,068 traffic fatalities. Basing his gloomy forecast on increasing apathy toward the traffic problem, he solemnly declares that he hopes he is wrong.

Atalantean Club Enjoys Trip to Boy's Ranch

Boy's Ranch, located at Old Tascosa north of Amarillo, was the site for a day's outing enjoyed by members of the Atalantean Club and several guests on Wednesday of last week. The trip to Boy's Ranch was planned as a part of the year's study under the theme, "The Human Cavalcade."

The group left Memphis early Wednesday morning arriving at the ranch in time to have lunch with the boys. In the afternoon the group made an inspection tour, guided by the superintendent. They visited the class rooms, work shop, gym, saddle shop, swimming pool, chapel, and old courthouse.

"There are 120 boys living on the ranch and the hospitable manner in which the boys receive the guests makes it real joy to visit there, Mrs. Haskell Howell, president of the club, stated.

"We were amazed to learn that it only requires $280.00 a year to keep a boy at the ranch. The reason for this low cost is that the boys do the work, operating a truck farm, dairy, ranch, laundry, and etc.," Mrs. Howell pointed out.

Burk Believes Advertising Gets Results

E. T. Burk, congressional candidate from the 18th district, reported this week that the mail has been pouring in requesting copies of his platform.

Burk was in Memphis Saturday to meet the residents of this area and to discuss their problems with them.

He has used newspaper advertising to offer copies of his platform to the voters of the 18th district.

"It seems to me that the newspapers of this district are extremely effective," Burk said. "During the remainder of the congressional campaign, I intend to use as much newspaper space as possible to discuss the problems of this district."

"I intend to tell the voters that honest and efficient representation is what they need," he said. "During my years in business I have often heard people say that they wish they had public officials who didn't play selfish politics all the time."

"I am running for Congress without the backing of any selfish group. I will be in position to represent all the people of this district."

"When I go to Congress there won't be a single citizen in this district who doesn't have a ready and reliable friend in Washington," he asserted.

He said that, in response to his advertising, hundreds of citizens have become voluntary workers for "Burk For Congress". Burk said that he will visit all parts of the 28-county district within the next few weeks.

Three Cyclones Get In Ft. Worth Track Finals

Memphis Cyclone track performers won their way into three final events at the Southwestern Track, Field and Golf Meet at Ft. Worth Saturday.

Bobby Young ran fourth in the finals of the 120-yard high hurdles. Bobby Crooks ran fifth in the 440-yard dash and Charles May took a sixth place in the 880-yard dash finals.

Coach Charles York took seven cindermen to the Ft. Worth meet. Others who entered were: Pete Moore in the weights, Scotty Grundy in the mile, Lee Bloxom in the mile relay and Kenneth McQueen in the weights.

Crooks, Moore and May joined Bloxom for the mile relay event. Odessa won the high school division title, followed by Sunset of Dallas. Amarillo was a strong contender after their brilliant showing in the preliminaries but the Sandies fell way behind in Saturday's blue chip session.

Here are the final results in the events in which Cyclones competed:

Ex-Eagle Cager Is Runner-Up Of Tech Scorers

Basketball fans at Texas Tech are talking of a highly successful season for the Red Raiders, although wins were 14 and losses 12.

Coach Polk Robison started with mostly sophomores and prediction were Tech would win no more than four Border conference tilts. It ended with eight wins and eight losses and fifth place in the loop.

In addition Guard Jiggs Jackson, Monument, N.M., senior, was third in scoring in the conference and assured himself of a place on the All-Border team. Jackson tickled for 330 points, an average of 12.7 a game, for the season and was seventh among the nation's free throw artists with 64 of 79 tries for a percentage of .810.

Center Gene Gibson, Lakeview, only center senior on the team, hit 286 points for runner-up honors and was widely mentioned for All-Border honors, also.

From affield the Red Raiders hit for a percentage of .309, with Sophomore Verdell Turner, Lubbock, out front with .342 and a total of 213 points. Sophomore Jack Alderson, Lubbock, clicked for a percentage of .316 and 290 points. Gibson was seventh and Alderson eighth among Borger scorers.

Tech scored 1490 points in 26 games, against 1400 for opponents and had a .628 free throw percentage, as compared with .599 for the opposition. Tech took 1899 shots from the floor, while holding opponents to 1695.

Coach Robison already has started working with freshmen who will make up a large share of his squad next season. Almost certain to make the traveling squad are Sophomores Alderson,

Turner, Ted O'Neil of Wellington, Irl Brown of Kotonah, N. Y., and Jim Eddins, of Sudan, along with Freshmen Paul Nolen of Alvarado, Lewis Martin of Dimmitt, Virgil Johnson of Lubbock, Don Seale of Idalou, and Sandy Welton of Fairmont, W. Va.

It follows that the greatest of follies is to sacrifice health for any other kind of happiness, whatever it may be—for gain, advancement, learning, for fame, let alone, then, for fleeting sensual pleasures," advised Arthur Schopenhauer.

Rapp Angus Herd Inspired By A Gift Heifer In 1942

ESTELLINE BLACK CATTLE HERD ONE OF PANHANDLE'S BEST

Registered heifer—presented as a gift in 1942 to an FFA member—has served as the inspiration for one of the best Aberdeen Angus herds in the Panhandle today.

The heifer was presented to Winifred Rapp in 1942 as a gift from the Estelline Public School. The heifer was raised as a FFA member attending Estelline.

A cow with a heifer calf at foot was purchased at the Luther McClung sale in Ft. Worth in November of 1949. The cow is a half sister to the 1947 Ft. Worth Grand Champion Bull and the heifer calf was sired by Prince Sunbeam 305th, a son of Prince Sunbeam 29th—a bull that has sired over a million dollars worth of cattle.

This January Mr. Rapp and Jerrel added a few more heifers from an outstanding Kansas herd and one from a herd in Oklahoma. They now have 25 heifers in their Aberdeen Angus herd.

The two Estelline men made a trip into the Corn Belt in 1948 to find a top herd sire. They purchased a yearling bull, Homeplace Eileenmere 62nd, sired by Eileenmere 487th, the great Penney and James herd sire of Hamilton, Missouri. Penney and James paid $30,000 for their sire. They have sold one of his sons for $20,000 and many others for high prices. Their sire is credited with being one of the greatest of the Angus breed.

Homeplace Eileenmere 62nd has for a mother a double granddaughter of Bandolier of Anoka 6th—International Grand Champion bull with a great breeding record.

The Rapps are getting a few calves by him now and say they are looking very promising. They are confident that breeding is very important in the herd bull.

A program of line breeding is being carried on in this small herd to acquire uniformity which the Rapps feel is necessary in a commercial herd of cows.

"It is being kept in mind that the butcher's block is the ultimate end for our herd and they are being bred for that purpose," Jerrel said. "The packer pays the most for animals that yield the greatest amount of high quality edible meat and the farmer and rancher who raise this quality of cattle will realize the greatest net profit," he added.

The Rapp's decision to have an Aberdeen Angus herd dates back to Winifred's steer in 1941 that stayed on his feed and gained so well. Two years later Mr. Rapp sold all the cattle he had of another breed and made his decision to concentrate on the production of registered Aberdeen Angus.

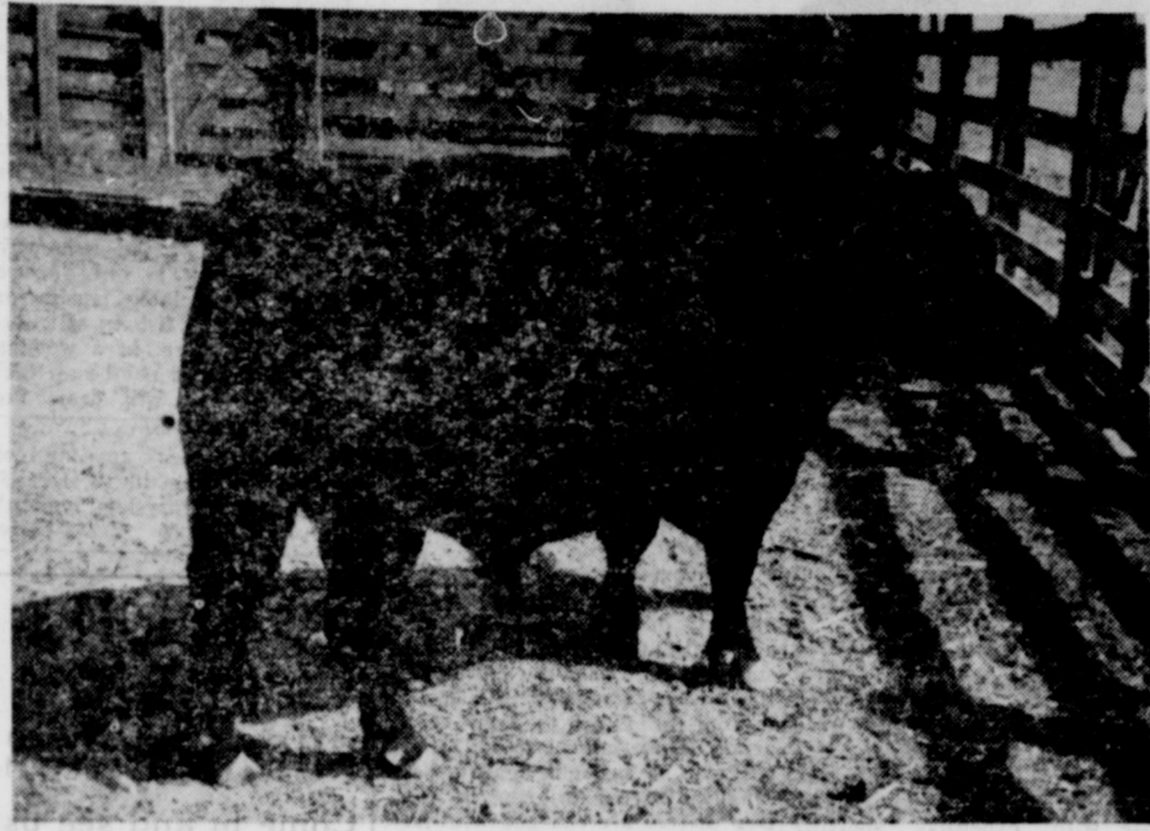

Mr. Rapp believes that the rapidly increasing demand for these black cattle is indicated by the growth of the Texas Aberdeen Angus Breeders Association. He points out that membership rose from 130 in early 1949 to 430 members at the end of the year.

"Perhaps another reason for this demand is the fact that a black steer has won the carcass contest at the Chicago International Livestock Exposition 42 out of the past 44 years," he stated.

There are many advantages to having an Angus herd in this area, according to the Rapps. Included are the black cattle's resistance to pink eye, the fact that they never have cancer eye, their hornless characteristics and longevity.

They also point out that the Angus are excellent rustlers, good milkers and adapt themselves to any kind of conditions, ranging from the flies and ticks of South Texas to the coldest sections of Canada.

The Rapps say that their ultimate goal in this Angus herd is to improve quality of commercial cattle belonging to the average farmer and rancher.

BLACK CATTLE — C. A. and Jerrel Rapp of Estelline have been building one of the Panhandle's best Aberdeen Angus herds for the past five years. Shown above is their prize herd sire, Homeplace Eileenmere 62, son of the famed Eileenmere 487th. They purchased the bull in 1948 from the Penney and James herd in Hamilton, Missouri. Below is a group of the Angus cattle taken at the Rapp farm.

Agricultural Census Forms To Be Mailed To Farmers Here

Texas farmers and ranchmen will soon be receiving a copy of the 1950 agricultural census questionnaire and each is requested to fill it out and have it ready for the census taker when he calls next month. The questionnaire is being sent to all rural route boxholders and to boxholders in small towns where there are a considerable number of farmers. The copy should not be discarded, says Mrs. Herbert Sisk, County Crew Leader, but should be studied carefully and completely filled in with accurate information. Here's why.

The Census of Agriculture provides an inventory of our farms and farm resources. It gives facts indispensable in dealing with current farm problems. It benefits everybody, says Mrs. Sisk, because it gives a picture of what is happening in the rural areas of the state and nation and includes facts on land use, crop and livestock production, how many people live on farms, kinds of machinery used, farm home facilities and a large number of other equally important items.

In most states, it provides the major source of county figures on agriculture as well as the basic information on the changes, growth and improvements in agriculture in each county. Mrs. Sisk points out that the information taken from the census often is used in planning program designed to improve farming and rural life and farm organizations likewise base many of their decisions on this information. The annual estimates of the production of crops and livestock products are based upon figures obtained in the nationwide farm census but most important, it provides the basis for the making of allocations among counties of quotas for the acreage of many important farm crops.

Mrs. Sisk says the information you give the census enumerators is confidential and cannot be used for taxation, investigation or regulation. An act of Congress provides the protection. Every person who fills out census form or answers the questions asked by an enumerator are likewise required to give accurate and truthful information.

The accuracy of the farm census will depend upon the cooperation of every farmer and ranchman. The accuracy of the County totals depend upon accurate returns from each individual for county totals are obtained by adding the individual reports together.

When you get the agricultural census questionnaire, don't throw it away, but answer every question asked completely and accurately for as Mrs. Sisk points out, the farm census is mighty important to agriculture.

AMARILLO MAN INJURED IN WRECK NEAR HERE SUNDAY

An Amarillo man, Fred Russell, was injured 10 miles east of Memphis early Sunday when he lost control of his automobile and it overturned on Highway 256. Russell's automobile, a 1942 black sedan, was badly damaged. He suffered back injuries but his condition was not reported critical. He is now in an Amarillo hospital.

A Murphy-Spicer ambulance went to the scene of the wreck at 4:45 a.m. Sunday. Officers said the wreck occurred between 3:00 a.m. and that time.

The wreck was found by a Hollis, Okla., trucker who was driving west. The automobile had crashed through a fence and rolled over into a field and was out of sight from the highway.

The Hollis man's attention was attracted when a beacon light near the highway caused a reflection from the fender of the car. He stopped, found the fence torn down and, upon investigating, discovered the wreckage. Russell was thrown from the car to a distance some 35 to 50 feet away.

He was brought to a Memphis Hospital and then carried on to Amarillo. Russell was on his way to Hollis to visit relatives when the accident occurred. He was alone in the automobile.

The cheapest milk production comes from improved pastures followed by silage, hay and concentrates. A good dairy cow will return approximately 7 times as much income from an acre of improved pasture as will any other type of livestock.

Dairy Expert Says Morning Grazing Best

Spring weather is bringing on the usual crop of weeds and new growth in pastures. To most livestock producers this is a welcome development but to the dairyman who is selling milk it brings on problems. Chief among them, says R. E. Burleson, associate extension dairy husbandman of Texas A. & M. College, is the off flavors in milk. To prevent this condition, he says the pasture should be grazed during the morning. The cows should be in several hours before milking time. Dairy men, says Burleson, are justified in spending money for fertilizers and for other practices that will lead to better pastures. He points out that a good dairy cow will return approximately 7 times as much income from an acre of improved pasture as will any other type of livestock. For this same reason, he continues, dairy cows also require better pastures to do an efficient job of producing milk.

It should be remembered, he says that feed costs represent about 50 or 60 per cent of the total cost of producing milk and anything that can be done to reduce this cost will increase income. In one dairy herd improvement association, a few dairymen are producing milk at a feed cost of around $2 per hundred pounds while the costs for other members in the same association is running over $4 per hundred.

The difference, he says, is the feeding program being followed by the dairymen. The cheapest production comes from improved pastures followed by silage, hay and concentrates. He reports that 1947 cost figures show that 100 pounds of 4 percent milk can be produced from grazing on an improved pasture for forty cents as against $3.60 for concentrates. The cost of production factor is going to determine which dairymen are going to stay in business and make money and which will be forced out because of inefficiency.

With these facts in mind, he says the conclusion is obvious: dairymen must produce as much milk as possible from roughages, including improved pastures, silage and hay.

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kesting

You've heard that "ignorance of the law is no excuse." Well, that statement applies to dog owners too. It is especially important for them—particularly those with expensive sporting dogs—to know the laws that affect dogs in their community and in places where their dogs are to be shown or entered in field trials.

Here is a brief resume of the kinds of laws that prevail in various parts of the country. They will give you an idea of what to watch out for.

All states and some cities demand that dogs be licensed. Some provide that an inoculation for rabies be given before the license is issued.

In almost every state owners are obliged to prevent their dogs from trespassing, but in only one state (Kentucky) is it lawful for landowners to kill intruding dogs.

A dog can be declared a nuisance if his presence or his barking and howling constitutes a real annoyance to neighbors of normal nervous temperament.

If a dog is suspected of having rabies and bites someone, the dog can be destroyed and examined so proper treatment can be given the victim.

A dog can be killed if found molesting domestic animals. In one state at least, a dog may be killed on sight if seen chasing deer.

A dog owner can get insurance that absolves him from his dog's actions.

A dog that has been impounded cannot be destroyed until the owner has had reasonable time to recover him.

In some states hit-and-run statutes exist which impose a fine on any driver who hits a dog and fails to stop. Likewise, some states require that the driver pay the owner damages if the dog is injured or killed through negligence. Sometimes criminal charges can be brought against persons killing or injuring a dog. Dog thieves are charged with larceny in many cases.

If you want your prize fish to look as good over the mantel as when you pulled it from the water, be careful how you treat it from that moment until it reaches the taxidermist. Here's what you should do, according to Theodore G. Languth, himself a taxidermist.

As soon as the fish is landed, end its struggles quickly by striking it sharply on the head. The blow should not be so hard as to crush the skull, so use a blunt instrument.

Carefully wiping surplus water, weeds, mud, etc., off the fish. Immediately rub salt over the entire body, including the fins.

If you want to, you can skin the fish now. Cut along its side not the belly, down the middle line from gills to tail and skin out. A little powdered alum on your hands is helpful when skinning fish. Leave the skull intact, unless you are an experienced skinner. There is quite a chunk of solid meat in the cheek of a fish which can be removed (from the inside, of course).

Don't worry if some flesh is left on the skin; it will not spoil if plenty of salt is used. The whole skin, salted heavily inside and out, can be shipped immediately.

The whole fish can be shipped if there is no one on hand who can skin it. Cut along the middle line (not the belly) from gills to vent and remove entrails and gills. Fill the inside of the fish with salt and wrap it in one or two folds of cheesecloth, muslin or burlap. Pack the fish in salt, 1/2-inch deep or more, in a wooden box. The box need not be airtight because the salt will draw the

Hatchery Poults Recommended

Quality of turkeys produced is definitely on the up-keep it there, Texas producers must continue to produce the best quality poults to do a good job of growing out, says W. J. siderations, he says, is to get them from a Texas hatchery and as close to home as possible. Poults shipped long distances are sub- jected to many hazards that can cause plenty of trouble once they are in the brooder house, he adds.

Much of the progress made in Texas during recent years has been due to the National Turkey Improvement Plan. This plan, he points out, sets up standards that must be met by hatcherymen and breeders and it assures the poul- tery buyers of getting the highest quality poults. The hatcheries that operate under the Plan are super- vised by men who do inspection work on both flock selection and blood testing. This means that the supervisors see that all birds are removed from the flock that do not meet the required standards for good breeders and after blood testing all pullorum reactors are also removed. This is the reason that Moore recommends that you purchase your poults from a hatchery that operates under the National Turkey Improvement Plan. It is just good insurance for getting what you pay for.

He says that poults should be purchased from 26 to 28 weeks prior to the expected date of marketing. In other words, six and one-half to seven months are required for the growing and fat- tening period for turkeys.

In conclusion, he says, it is not possible to take a poor quality poults and grow it into a high quality finished bird. The inher- ited qualities must be in the poul- tery to begin with and if you expect to market the kind of bird that consumers want, you must do a good job of feeding and manag- ing these poults as they develop.

TELEPHONE TALK and TAXES

Most people consider talking on the telephone to be very much of a regular part of daily life. In spite of its day-in- day-out usefulness, however, the Federal Government in- creases on taxing telephone service as much as 25%. This is higher than the 20% tax on luxuries.

All long distance calls costing 25c or over are taxed 25%. The Federal tax increases the cost of your local service by 15%. Other forms of telephone service are taxed from 8 to 25%. This excise tax is imposed directly upon you as a tele- phone user. Your telephone company, at its own expense, acts as a tax collector.

These excise taxes are in addition to corporation income taxes and other taxes which the company pays to the Fed- eral Government either directly or indirectly.

This excise tax was designed as a wartime emergency measure and as such served its purpose. But the war has been over for some time. We are sure that your Senators and Congressmen would welcome your views as a taxpayer on this continued peacetime tax as a necessity.

An improved Ford tractor will go on display Saturday, March 25th, in the showroom of Foxhall-Middleton Tractor Co. in Memphis according to an announcement this week by Eddie Foxhall and W. Middleton, owners.

The owners of the tractor dealership stated that the tractor they will be featuring in the future is the result of many months of study and experimentation by factory engineers. Featured will be 36 improvements over the present model.

Heading the list of improvements, which is the result of demands from farmers over the nation, is a side-mounted distributor which is entirely new. Ten improvements in the power plant itself have been announced, along with seven transmission changes. Also to be pointed out to farmers will be the remarkable steering of the new tractor. In the rear axle, four improvements have been made, and seven have been listed for the hybrid corn.

"We think we will be covered by farmers," Middleton stated. "We will be pushing lots of it on farms."

CENSUS DIVIDES WHOLE INTO HOLES

ON APRIL 1, about 140,000 enumerators—fact-finders for the nation—will begin a census of 45 million American dwelling units and over six million farms, containing 150 million Americans.

On that day, the job of collecting the largest single body of data available for general use, the largest single statistical survey ever made, will get under way.

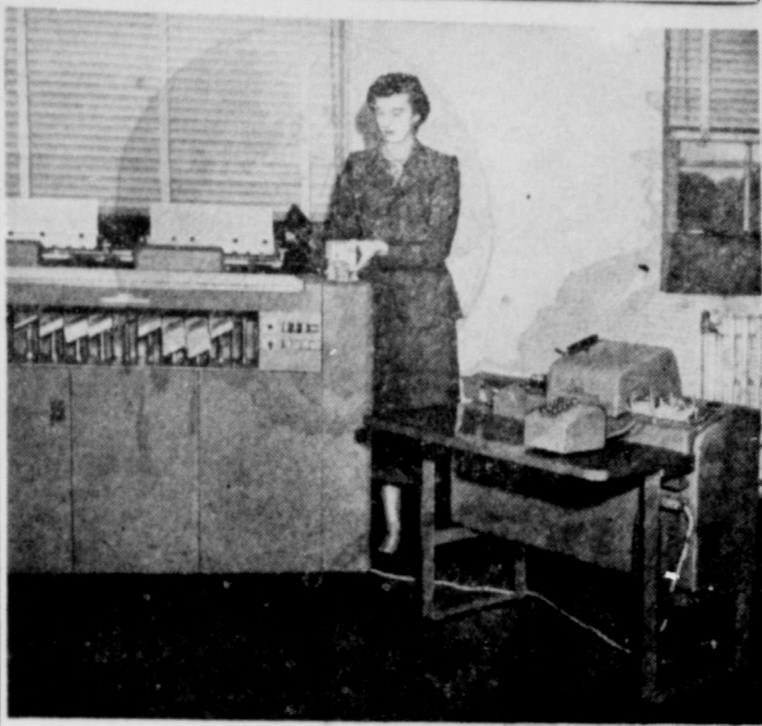

The United States census has its beginning in the heated debates of the federal constitutional convention of 1787 over the question as to whether states should have equal or proportional representation in the congress of the United States. The struggle resolved itself in the true democratic fashion of compromise. Two seats in the senate were provided for each state and a varying number of seats in the house of representatives in proportion to the population of each state.

To implement this provision, the framers of our constitution provided for a population count of each state at 10-year intervals. Three years later, in 1790, the first count was taken and the decennial census of the United States was born.

Compared with later ones, that first census was a simple undertaking. Only the names of household heads were listed, and the facts sought were two: the number of males and females in each household; and whether free or slave.

Two hundred questions—though not everyone will be asked all of them—make up the questionnaires for this year's census, covering population, housing, and agriculture; two hundred questions to be asked from the Mississippi Delta country to above the Arctic circle; 200 questions to be asked from the Maine lobster pots to the smudge pots in the California orchards.

The census law requires completion of all reports by December 31, 1952. And by December first of this year the official population figures for each state must be compiled and given to the President so he in turn can pass this information on to the 82nd congress!

The millions of facts collected in the seventeenth decennial census will be recorded on 270 million punched cards—one for every person, one for every dwelling unit, and eight or more for every farm.

If, for example, you are presented by the enumerator with one of the questions asked for every fifth dwelling unit, the fact that you have or do not have a television set will appear as a small rectangular hole punched in the proper column of a card.

The card in which that hole is punched will contain all the other information obtained about the dwelling unit in which you live. The cards will then be automatically sorted, and those cards with a hole in the place coded for television set owners will be selected from those cards with no punched holes in that spot. Then statistical and accounting machines will print the results into the desired tables.

The scope of the sorting operation alone can be visualized best when we realize that the task of transferring the basic facts from census questionnaires to the cards by means of key punch machines will take about a year, and it is said that approximately two million cards will be punched every day at operation peak.

This is the way the census divides its whole mass of meaningless information into meaningful items of data.

LET'S FINISH THE JOB

Memphis apparently is in line for free city mail delivery in the near future—providing a sufficient number of homes are equipped with house number.

There should be no problem here. The campaign for house numbers and street markers was successfully carried out last year. Sufficient house numbers are now on hand to meet postal requirements.

But there is a problem. It's a simple one, however, and can be solved immediately. The residents of Memphis who have not done so, should install their house numbers at once.

Many who have not done this probably have been intending to do so but just never "quite get around to it." Others have undoubtedly lost interest in the whole thing and see no reason to take time out from other activities to do this.

There is sufficient reason to do it now. Free city mail delivery for Memphis is hinging on the installation of these house numbers.

Most Memphians gave their full support to the campaign last summer to raise funds for these house numbers. Obtaining mail delivery service was one of the main objectives of this campaign. It would certainly be tragic for this plan to fall through after progressing this far.

The installation of the house numbers will take only a few minutes of your time. So if you haven't done so, won't you go by the Chamber of Commerce office and get your house numbers and install them as soon as possible. Through your co-operation the campaign is near its successful conclusion, but reaching the final goal depends upon your assistance in completing this house number installation.

Have Your Children Been Counted?

The school census now underway in Hall County is very important to our public schools. State aid to these schools will be allotted on the basis of the number of children of public school age.

The census takers know their job and do it efficiently but occasionally they miss some children who should be counted. If you know of any youngsters between the ages of six and 18 years who have not been counted, then you should contact your census taker or your school officials at once.

Hall County children receive the benefit from this state aid and it is only logical that we should make sure the county obtains its maximum amount.

Press Paragraphs— QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

A Permanent Fixture?

J. E. McDonald, state commissioner of agriculture, has decided that Texas cannot get along without his services, and will therefore run for his 13th term.

Old Mac announced early in the year that he would not be a candidate.

He is of the opinion that while wise men change their minds, fools never do. He has therefore changed his mind and has tossed his hat into the ring.

There has never been so independent a politician in Texas as McDonald. He is bitterly opposed to the Democratic administration in Washington and its dealings with the agricultural problem. He has been most vocal in his protests.

A number of opponents were lured into the race by his original announcement. We shall now see what they will do about the campaign.—Canyon News.

On Labor and Management

Marquis Childs, a columnist of liberal views, who has often taken the side of labor in industrial controversies, recently discussed some important long-term aspects of John L. Lewis' policies as they affect the soft coal industry, the miners, and the public. In part, he said, "The demands that Lewis has been able to enforce because of his monopolistic hold have created a distortion with serious implications for the whole economy. It has contributed to price rises that have steadily pushed up the whole price level. As a result, many Americans—in agriculture and outside the unionized industries—are being priced out of the market...."

"If enough people are priced out of the market, it will be quickly felt in a lessening demand for consumer goods. Even a mild depression would be likely to play havoc with the welfare system that Lewis has got out of the coal industry; a system that has little relation to actual soundness."

Any group—whether it be labor union or an industry—which tries to force extreme demands, regardless of the effect on the rest of the nation, is riding toward destruction.—Munday Times.

Concerning the Census

Taking of the census is a job which several persons will begin soon in Floyd county. The zero hour is Saturday, April 1. Who'll get his name and that of his family put down first we wonder? And who will dilly dally around and let the census man miss him? The situation is much more favorable for a good count here than it was 10 years ago and 20 years ago. and that important segment of business or society thinks that other information would be helpful to the country. For one thing, the statisticians and the business machine punchers have got to be furnished jobs and kept happy to keep them out of the poor house or the nut factory. They have to be kept going one way or another. Every question you answer that appears foolish will keep one of them happy for weeks and weeks. Such as these prevail on the Bureau of the Census to put in this and that question that won't hurt you to answer; and will make them extremely happy. GREATEST COTTON CROP IN HISTORY—According to an authentic report recently released by the State Department of Commerce, the 1925 cotton crop of Hall County has reached a total of 58,518 bales on March 20. COUNTY FARMERS URGED TO REDUCE COTTON ACREAGE—Forward looking farmers of Memphis and Hall County are joining hands in a common cause to insist that the agricultural situation in this county be bettered by reducing the acreage plant to cotton and by planting a better staple seed. Conditions have reached the stage where they are nothing short of alarming and if acreage is not reduced and better staple seed planted, Hall County may expect to face the next cotton season with probably eight cent cotton.
52,294 BALES OF COTTON WERE GINNED LAST SEASON—The Department of Commerce, through the department of census, has announced that Hall County ginned 52,294 bales of cotton in 1929. This compares with 82,515 bales in 1928.

The Dollars that Go Farthest are those You Spend for Farm Machinery!

This picture of farm prices shows that the dollars you invest in farm machinery today go farther than the dollars you spend for other things.

For in spite of steel prices that climbed over 60% and factory wages that increased over 90%, the price of farm machinery was held down to about 44% over the 1939 level.

In the meantime, farm labor costs stepped up over 200%... and the prices of such things as livestock feed multiplied, too. These are things that you had to buy every month... even though you found the price tag going higher and higher.

The situation today is that the cost of crop-producing machinery is on a comparatively low level. This is shown by the dash line in the chart above.

It is easy to see that the prices of other things would be to take quite a tumble to make them as good a buy as labor-saving, crop-saving farm machinery that you find your dealer's floor today.

Don't be misled by a few dramatic cuts in other prices. Remember, farm equipment has been and is today your best buy for your money. Be able to recognize the importance of being equipped to care for and to harvest the crop that depend upon for this year's profits.

The firms below are sponsoring this advertisement that every farmer may know the difference in the level of prices in Farm Machinery and other farm expenses and income.

This Week in WASHINGTON

CONGRESS MET the potato surplus crisis and did nothing about it. All efforts at alleviating the surplus and lowering support prices failed by overwhelming votes.

Also, before the settlement of the coal strike, President Truman effectually demonstrated during the week that injunction under the Taft-Hartley act will not mine coal, that even contempt citations and a fine will not mine coal. With the Taft-Hartley act ineffectual in bringing about labor peace, there was some activity to try once more to bring about repeal or amendment of the act at this session of congress. This move however is likely to prove abortive.

The fines which have been assessed against the union will not hurt the UMW. The miners' union has plenty of money, some say as high as $20,000,000 in cash and bonds, plus a lot of downtown Washington property and controlling ownership of a Washington bank. Most everyone here knew that you couldn't force an American citizen to work unless he wants to work—either by fines, injunctions or what-not.

Sen. Wayne Morris (R., Ore.), in a public statement, declared the act had proved ineffective and that it had proved just as unfair to labor as the Wagner act was unfair to employers. He pointed out that under the terms of the act all the coal operators have to do to win, is sit tight in the bargaining rooms until the conditions become a national emergency.

President Truman, unwilling to use the act until the last possible moment, was forced to use it finally and proved that it wouldn't mine coal or settle any question. So he comes out of the deal with some political advantage, leaving the proponents of the Taft-Hartley act hanging on a rather insubstantial limb.

According to the political wisecracks here, the split in the ranks of the Republican party is becoming wider and wider, rather than closing, as we hoped would be the case after the GOP Lincoln birthday box supper and statement of principles.

Glasses have an amazing effect on vision—especially after they have been filled and emptied several times!—The Burning Question.

Latest evidence is the action of Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr. of Massachusetts and Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio in sending opposite advice to members of their party in the house on the question of support of FEPC measures. Senator Lodge, who is becoming more and more the liberal leader in the senate, questioned about the GOP slogan of "Liberty or Socialism," said he believed it did not meet the issues at all, was more or less ridiculous and that he did not believe the Democrats are socialists.

He said that what the GOP needed is some realistic liberal action to carry out the campaign promises of the 1948 platform and less talk about slogans, etc. Asked whether or not he was a GOP candidate for President, the handsome senator from Massachusetts replied that it would be "fatuous" for him to answer.

Senator Lodge and Senator Taft also have split wide open on the constitutional amendment, introduced by Senator Lodge and passed by the senate, which would abolish the electoral college and set up a proportional electoral vote based on the proportion of popular vote for President. Senator Lodge says it will help the GOP and will give a two party system to the south and New England states. Senator Taft says "it won't," that it will hurt the GOP. Anyway, although it went through the senate with an overwhelming vote, there is some question now about it getting by the house.

The house ways and means committee heard witnesses from cooperatives and from the National Tax Equality association and the National Associated Businessmen, Inc., opening up again the question of taxing patronage refunds of farm cooperatives. In the meantime, the house small business committee, in a majority report of 69 pages released by Congressman Wright Patman of Texas, declared the two organizations, NTEA and NAB, together with two other organizations called the National Small Business Men's association and the Small Business Economic Foundation, do "not truly represent small business."

Six-Inch Sermon

REV. ROBERT H. HARPER

The Church in Rome.

Lesson for March 26: Romans 1: 7-12; Acts 28: 14-15, 30-31.

Memory Selection: Romans 1: 16.

Dear Editor:

"Water, the life blood of West Texas." Thus a prominent chamber of commerce speaker stated the most critical problem of all Texas.

The speaker sounded a solemn warning against the wrong kind of control of this most vital natural resource. He pointed out that strong efforts are being made by selfish interests to gain control of all Texas water.

Even our precious liberty is tied up with the water problem, the speaker said: "If you value the freedom of America, say so. Tell your friends what it means to lose these freedoms. Openly oppose such programs."

Other leaders in the battle for control of the state's water resources have emphasized that very fact, and warned every citizen in city and country to make this vital problem his personal business and fight for rights that are threatened by selfish interests.

Many of the best water sources of the state are already in the hands of big corporations outside the state. One plant near the Gulf consumes more water than either Dallas or Houston, for which it does not pay one cent to the state. Other private corporations are grabbing for our water sources.

Unless the plain citizens go into action and make their desires known to their lawmakers in both Washington and Austin, they will soon wake up to the fact that they have lost the freedoms mentioned by the speaker.

Farmers are especially warned to get busy with lawmakers and candidates, since there is right now a mighty effort being made to have water code laws passed that threaten their vital interests. Now is the time to talk to candidates for both legislature and congress, and make them talk. Make them say what the will do about the water problem, if they should be elected.

Don't forget that you can vote only every two years. Find out what your prospective lawmakers expect to do for you, and to you, then make your votes count. Talk to your friends about this most vital problem.

Memphis Will Be Host To District 2-A Track Meet

Coach Charles York announced this week that the District 2-A Track and Field Meet will be held at Cyclone Stadium on Friday, April 14.

Memphis is defending champion of the district cinder path. Coach York has been working toward holding the meet here all year. His chief handicap has been the condition of the local track but he has had it put in good shape this spring.

Winners in the district clash here April 14 will win the right to compete in the regional meet and from there to the state gathering at Austin.

Coach York said that all the teams in District 2-A will probably compete in this year's meet. The complete entry list, in this case will include Memphis, Lefors, Shamrock, McLean, Wellington and Clarendon.

McLean did not compete in 1949. In addition to the varsity meet, there will be district competition among the junior track squads of these schools. The date for this competition will be announced later.

Coach York said the district should have greater overall strength in track this season. He believes this will be the closest and fastest meet since the war.

The schedule for the meet has not been arranged at this time. Coach York has considered staging the preliminaries on Friday afternoon and running the finals under the lights that night.

However, any such plans are still in the speculative stage, depending upon a number of things including the agreement of the other schools and the weather.

STUDENTS OF MEMPHIS SCHOOLS SHOWING INTEREST IN OLYMPICS

Coach Charles York said this week that plans for the Junior Olympics which will be held at Cyclone Stadium March 31 are progressing well.

The meet will be for students from the first through the 12th grades. Members of the Cyclone track squad are not eligible to compete and entrants cannot wear track shoes.

Coach York said all the students in the schools have been showing a great deal of interest in the Junior Olympics and he expects a large and enthusiastic field of entrants.

The only change that has been made in the original plans concerns the time the meet will start. The first race has been moved from 7 p. m. on the 31st to 7:30 p. m.

The complete schedule includes both girls and boys:
50-yard Dash:
7:30 p. m.—first grade; 7:35—second grade; 7:40—third grade; 7:45—fourth grade; 7:50—fifth grade; 7:55—sixth grade; 8:00—seventh grade.

8:05—eighth grade; 8:10—ninth grade; 8:15—10th grade;

The Cyclone mentor believes that holding the finals at night would give more fans a chance to attend. But he will not make any such plans until he can be sure that the weather will be warm enough to allow this night activity.

Speaking of Sports

WITH THE OL' SPEKTATOR

Coach Chuck York's 1950 track squad will see the most extensive action as a team to date Saturday when the clash at Panhandle is held.

It promises to be sort of sneak preview on just who will be contenders for the 2-A cinder in the district meet crown at Memphis April 14. McLean, Lefors, Wellington and Shamrock—all district competitors of the Cyclone—have indicated that they will be on hand for the Panhandle competition.

This meet will be the track curtain-raiser for most of the teams entered. Memphis and White Deer—a Class B power—both have seen two weekend's of activity, however.

Fans of District 2-A will be watching the red and white colors of the Wellington Skyrockets in Saturday's meet. Tutored by Maxey McKnight, the Rockets are placing new emphasis on track and gunning to upset everybody's apple cart during the first year of their expanded program. McKnight is reputed to be one of the area's better mentors.

He is evidently building his squad's strength around the dash performers and relay teams.

Carrying the Rocket's hopes in the field events is Rogers Melton, a youngster who made quite a name for himself on the gridiron last year.

Back in home territory, Coach York was pretty pleased with the showing his boys made in the stiff Ft. Worth competition last week. They ran against the classic performers in the state in Both Class A and AA.

York believes that more practice will put the Cyclone mile relay team in a spot to contend with any in this area. His trackmen were definitely not in good shape for the Ft. Worth competition. Bobby Crooks had seen few workouts prior to his run there due to basketball season and illness. Along similar lines, basketball and injuries have cut down on the number of workouts Lee Bloxom has participated in. He has been troubled by a knee injury but York hopes the quarter miler and relay team member will be ready to go Saturday.

He is also pleased with the improvement Charles May is showing in his half mile run. He has been consistently lowering his time and Coach York believes he will develop into one of the area's classiest performers should this improvement continue.

All in all, York seems fairly well satisfied with his team, both from the individual performer and overall strength standpoints. But he thinks the boys have a great deal of improvement to make before the district meet. And—as for Saturday's session at Panhandle—well, Coach York says, "It's going to be plenty rough!"

'Bud' Godfrey Is Candidate for Sheriff's Office

E. H. (Bud) Godfrey this week authorized The Memphis Democrat to announce his candidacy of the office of Sheriff of Hall County. Mr. Godfrey's statement to the voters follows:

"For the first time in my life I am asking the voters to elect me to the public office."

"I am 49 years of age; have lived in Texas 45 years, and in Hall County 34 years. For the past 28 years I have made my home in Memphis. From the years I have spent living here, I believe I can say that I am familiar with all problems that might confront a peace officer."

"I served as chief deputy under Sheriff W. C. Anderson from March 25, 1943, until February 25, 1945, at which time I resigned

"As I stated above, I have never before asked for a public office. But, if the people of Hall County will trust me with the office of Sheriff, I pledge that I will work for the job and will
