FIRST WHEAT LOAD SENT LOAN PRICE IS AWAITED

Wheat harvest activity in Hall County—not expected to be too impressive under any conditions—was halted by rains this week.

Elevator operators here said Wednesday that the rains had stopped harvest work but expected most farmers to begin cutting today if there was no more precipitation and if dew was not too heavy.

Cloudy skies have delayed the drying of the ripened grain and most combines have been idle since Thursday.

Omer Hill, operator of the Hill and White Elevator, reported shipping out the first load of the cereal grain Saturday morning. He said it was a minimum load—from 90 to 100 thousand pounds—and was sent to Dallas. It was good wheat, with an average test of .60 and no moisture, Hill said.

Most wheat farmers are awaiting the official announcement of the 1950 wheat loan to be announced. PMA Secretary Lynn McKown said Wednesday that this loan price will be announced as soon as the senate approves the Commodity Credit Corporation's lending powers for the year.

Senate action Tuesday night killed a Republican move to slash the farm program appropriations and the regular bill is expected to become law any day now.

McKown said he believes the figure will advance from two to three cents over last year's loan price of $1.92 per bushel. He estimated that the final figure will be $1.95.

Memphis elevator operators reported Wednesday that they are paying $1.93 per bushel for No. 1 wheat.

RETAIL SALES IN HALL COUNTY GAIN 230 PERCENT OVER 1939

Highlighted by an increase of 230 per cent in retail sales, Hall County showed a large expansion in dollar volume of trade from 1939 to 1948 according to preliminary figures from the 1948 Census of Business released by the Bureau of Census, U. S. Department of Commerce.

Retail sales in the county during 1948 aggregated 9.9 million to reach the 230 per cent increase over the $3.0 million in 1939, date of the last business census.

Wholesale sales in Hall County reached a total of $8.0 million as compared with $0.8 million in 1940 for an increase of 800 per cent while service trades receipts totaling $443,000 were recorded in 1948 as compared with $144,000 in 1939.

There were nearly twice as many employees working in Hall County in 1948 as in 1939. Establishments reported a combined total of 605 paid employees for the workweek ended nearest Nov. 15, 1948, as compared with 396 employees for the same period in 1939.

County establishments included 179 retail trade, 30 wholesale trade and 55 service trades.

Memphis had 98 retail trade establishments with sales and revenue (Continued on Page 8)

CLAUDE'S COMMENTS

By J. C. W.

The new secret ballot law was used the first time in Starr County recently. Pancho Guerra, the son of an old party leader and Starr County boss, was found guilty by a county jury of having failed to return the stub boxes until four days after the April 1 school election.

He was fined $500 and six months in jail. The readers will remember that Starr and a few other southernmost counties were much in the news when Lyndon Johnson and Coke Stevenson almost tied in the Senatorial race.

AEC Member Will Speak At PMA District Meet

The District Production and Marketing Administration meeting will be held in Childress Monday and Tuesday.

This meeting will be held to consider plans and recommendations for the 1951 conservation program for this area, according to Hall County PMA Secretary Lynn McKown.

He said delegates will also be named to take the local recommendations to the state PMA meeting at College Station later in the summer.

Dr. Montgomery, professor of economics at Texas University and a member of the Atomic Energy Commission, will deliver the principal address to the district delegates Tuesday morning. He will discuss economics and atomic energy in relation to agriculture.

The meeting will be held in the Childress Hotel Monday and in the Community House Tuesday.

McKown will attend the meeting along with the Hall County committee members. Included are R. A. Eddleman of Estelline, Starr Johnson of Brice and Algie Turner of Turkey.

Rains Hurt Rodeo Attendance; Oklahoma Cowboy Is Star

The Hall County Rodeo—delayed one day by bad weather and never quite clear of its threats—wound up Saturday night when the cowboy winners were named in five events.

A giant parade Thursday afternoon—one of the largest ever seen here—kicked off the three-day activities but a .72-inch of rainfall Thursday night forced postponement of the opening rodeo performance.

Another rain Friday afternoon threatened to delay the show even further but the skies cleared early enough for the performance to go on as scheduled.

Despite the wet turf, the Friday night show was one of the best rodeos ever staged here. The stock furnished by Beutler Bros. lived up to all advance publicity and the specialty acts by Cecil Cornish and his horses as well as Roy Hefner's clowning left little to be desired.

A Saturday afternoon show was held to make up for the Thursday night cancellation and the finals were reeled off Saturday night.

The constant threat of bad weather kept expected out-of-town crowds away and the gate at the last two performances was disappointing.

Hall County Rodeo officials reported that the show ended up with a $2,609.42 deficit. Broken down, these figures include: $1,051.37, balance on hand, plus $4,560.50, ticket sales, commissions and donations, totalling $5,611.87.

Expenses included: $6,620.00, paid to Beutler Bros. for stock, prize money and specialty acts and the Secretary of State; $70, incorporation tax; $22.50, labor; $128.42, advertising and memberships; $736.75, taxes; $368.37, paid to school for stadium rental; $175, paid for printing; $100, miscellaneous, totalling $8,221.29.

The officials said they were disappointed because of the bad weather break and resulting small crowds, but thanked everyone for their fine spirit and cooperation and expressed a belief that continued good rodeos will be held in the future.

Freckles Brown of Lawton, Okla., proved to be the class of the contestants in the rodeo. He won everything but the chutes. (Continued on page 5)

Improved Dairying Being Urged In June

June is dairy month in Texas, and County Agent W. B. Hooser this week released nine points for improving production and financial returns from herds in Hall County.

First, he pointed out, is the sale of milk and milk products. "Everyone in the dairy industry should make it part of their business to encourage the consumption of more milk and milk products. Dairy activities during the month should have the cooperation of everyone in the industry since such cooperation would eliminate any surplus of milk and create a demand for more milk." Here are the other pointers County Agent Hooser outlined:

Milk as a Food—Milk is produced on the dairy farm for food purposes and handling it as food is the responsibility of the dairyman.

Comfortable Cows—In hot weather cows graze better at night or during the cool of the day. They are better off in the shade with an ample supply of clean, cool water and good roughage during the heat of the day.

Roughage Supply—This is a good reason for production of the sudan per cow, staggering the plantings. Put up one ton of hay per cow. If hay must be purchased, the best time is during the harvest season.

Three tons of silage per cow can be put up for $12 to $15 and is the cheapest and best feed, next to green grass.

Develop Herd Replacements—Watch heifer calves, saving those from best cows and grow them out better. Keep free of internal and external parasites.

Summer Grazing—Stagger sudan plantings to try and have temporary grazing all summer.

Shade and Water—These become more important as summer heat approaches. Be sure water is clean, cool and conveniently located for cows. It may pay to provide water in grazing patches if possible.

Bloat on Clover Pastures—

Hungry cows grazing on rank clover are subject to bloat. Feeding hay before turning cows into pasture will help prevent this.

Condition of Dry Cows—Dry cows must be in good condition to give birth to normal calves and to milk well the next lactation. Pastures alone will not get the job done. Good quality roughage and proper mineral mixture should be provided. Feed a few pounds of grain daily if body weight needs to be built up.

In connection with these pointers, County Agent Hooser gave the following list of the most important factors in lowering the cost of milk production. They include:

Well balanced low cost feeding programs making maximum use of roughages; high production of milk per cow (250 pounds average fat production per cow has been about the minimum average for a profitable cow); developing better herd replacements and adequate care and feeding of the dry and freshening cow.

Adequate, comfortable, well-arranged, sanitary buildings, shelters, lots and pens for proper care of dairy animals, particularly during bad weather; sound planning in a balanced dairy operation; labor efficiency and use of labor saving devices and maintaining good herd health.

Ten Pointers Given To Check Poultry Losses

County Agent W. B. Hooser issued some good advice for Hall County poultry raisers this week. He pointed out that losses in some flocks are too heavy, causing financial loss and inconvenience to the poultry raisers.

Here are 10 ways, he recommends, to cut down on the losses in the flocks:

1. Buy chicks and breeding birds from the closest source and from one who is following a good breeding and disease control program.
2. Buy chicks originating from hens tested for pollorum disease.
3. Keep the young chicks away from older birds.
4. Allow no contaminated equipment to be brought on the premises.
5. Keep no chickens in disease-

6. Keep visitors away from poultry houses or ranges.
7. Prevent chickens from back into the flock.
8. Do not let sick chickens on the premises.
9. If any disease is observed, get authoritative advice promptly.
10. Practice a strict sanitation.

YOU CAN HELP YOUR DOCTOR

. . . to render a better service to his patients by better understanding his problems. That is the purpose of this message, which is published to point out several ways to conserve his time and energy.

Your Cooperation Will Assure Better Medical Care for Everyone

Here are some suggestions that will assure better medical care for all, and at the same time get the most from your Doctor's limited time.

HELP YOUR DOCTOR PROTECT HIS HEALTH

Your Doctor must have his sleep and regular meals to protect his health. SLEEP is important. Day calls are cheaper than night calls. Call your Doctor before the sun goes down. Avoid night calls except when absolutely necessary.

GO TO YOUR DOCTOR'S OFFICE IF YOU CAN

Avoid asking your Doctor to call at your home unless necessary. Go to his office if possible. This will not only save his time, but will save you money as well.

PHONE OR HOUSE CALLS BEFORE 9:00 A. M.

When house calls are necessary, phone your Doctor before 9:00 o'clock in the morning if possible. Then he can plan his house calls efficiently and avoid back-tracking, thereby saving his time and energy.

BE PATIENT! DOCTORS ARE VERY BUSY

Remember, your Doctor has more patients than ever before. Please be patient if the house calls are delayed or longer waits are necessary at his office and don't waste his time with foolish questions either at his office or over the phone.

DON'T NEGLECT EARLY SIGNS OF SICKNESS

Watch for early signs of sickness. Don't try to "wait out" obvious symptoms. When children awake in the morning with 100 degrees temperature or more, phone your Doctor at once.

USE THE PHONE IN MINOR CASES

Often a few minutes on the phone with your Doctor will straighten out minor cases. Use the phone and let your Doctor decide if a call is necessary.

Salvation Army Major To Visit Here Next Week

Major Bernice Lyons, Field representative for The Salvation Army in Texas, will visit Hall County the week beginning June 12 to continue the work of W. D. Pedigo who recently retired.

Major Lyons will conduct the Salvation Army's Annual appeal in Hall County to help finance the statewide program which the Salvation Army is carrying out in Texas.

Among these projects of interest to citizens all over the state are the Salvation Army's home and hospital in San Antonio for unwed mothers, the work of the Army in prisons and jails, its missing persons service, its relief work in time of disaster, and its welfare work in the more than 200 Texas communities that benefit greatly from the work of this humanitarian organization.

The work of the Army in Texas is rapidly expanding, and the Salvation Army must depend on its many friends to support the necessary work being done.

Major Lyons was assigned to Texas shortly after her graduation from Salvation Army Officers Training School and for the past 20 years has worked in almost every section of the state.

Junior, Intermediate Softball Loops Begin Friday

The Junior and Intermediate Softball League will open Friday night at the City Park, according to Ted Myers, league director.

Myers said the feature Junior game will be the meeting of the Wildcats and the Red Devils.

This game will start at 8 p. m. and all interested fans in this area are invited to attend.

The Junior League was organized at a special meeting held at the City Park Sunday afternoon. Three teams have joined the league and two more are being organized.

Myers said the teams being organized—the Bearcats and the Eagles—need to find captains for the teams. Any boys who think they would like to organize and lead these clubs should contact him as soon as possible.

The Wildcats, Longhorns and Red Devils are now in the league. James Moss is captain of the Wildcats, Carrol Gardenhire leads the Red Devils and Jimmy Hill is captain of the Longhorn.

Two teams are now entered in the Intermediate League, the Cardinals, led by Duane Miller, and the Tornados, captained by David Corley.

The Cardinals had a very impressive season last year by winning 13 straight games. The Tornados are expected to show a great deal of improvement this year with the addition of talented performers.

These two clubs will clash at 9:15 p. m. Friday in the opening night's finale event.

Myers said any boys who have not signed up for softball but who would like to play should contact either the team captains or him. He pointed out that there are plenty of positions open on the teams.

Junior League age groups include 11 to 14 inclusive while the Intermediate League ages are from 15 to 17 inclusive.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Adams of Lesley and Mr. and Mrs. D. Adams and son, Billie, of Westlaco visited Mr. and Mrs. Lester Gladden of Dimmie last Wednesday.

Still Winning:

Memphis Outhits Hobart 3-2 Here Tuesday Night

The two-hit hurling of new comer Ed Mathis plus some timely hitting by another new face, Don Williamson, gave the Memphis Owls a close 3-2 win over Hobart Tuesday night in a Red River Valley League game played at Estes Park.

Memphis had to come from behind once and then broke a 2-2 knotted score to gain their hard fought victory.

Mathis, a fast chunking right hander who has been playing varsity ball with TCU until this week, really turned on the steam, striking out eight Hobart batters and allowing only one earned run. Hobart could never solve his fast-offering.

In the final analysis, however, it was the timely hitting of Williamson that spelled the margin of the Owl win. The big outfielder, who has been playing with Tyler in the East Texas League, tapped out a single in the fifth and a double in the seventh.

Hobart went ahead in the first inning when Jantzen reached first on a walk and was pushed around via a stolen base and a sacrifice. Duvall singled in the seventh and was aided by Jones' single and a Memphis error in making the final Oklahoma tally.

The Memphis tying rally came in the fifth when Farmer got on by a fielder's choice and Coppedge advanced him as well as reaching first when Hobart Catcher Duvall bungled a strike. McKay walked to load the bases and then Williamson hit, bringing home Farmer and Coppedge. Edmondson batted a high fly out to right field to end the inning.

The game-clinching score came in the seventh. With two away, McKay reached first on a single, advanced on a Hobart error and came home on Williamson's double.

Coble was the losing pitcher. Memphis worked him for seven hits and four walks.

By Donal Lee Mitchell:

Diversified Farming Means Better Living

Ed. note: The following essay is one of the recent winners in the gilt contest sponsored by local businessmen and the Sears program. Donal Lee Mitchell, the author, is 11 years of age and is a fourth grade student at Parnell. He is a member of the 4-H Club there.)

Diversified farming is raising many different crops instead of one or two. Sometimes farmers raise cows, pigs, chickens, sheep and goats. These help farmers make money, they give farmers milk, meat and eggs and many other things. This kind of farming will improve the soil, too.

Peas, wheat, straw, alfalfa and other such crops can be plowed under to add nitrogen and humus to soil.

Every farmer should have a garden. It gives his family many good foods besides the money it saves. You can plant beets, beans, potatoes and watermelons. If the farmer has too many, his wife will can them for the winter. They might have a frozen food locker.

A farmer can kill a calf and put him in the locker. He can put any kind of meat in the locker as well as fresh fruits and vegetables.

Really far-seeing farmers have practiced diversified farming as far back in our history as George Washington. Since it payed these when the land was new and rich, it is surely necessary to keep our land productive.

Keller Named Game Warden Of Hall County

Charles F. Keller has been named game warden for Hall County following a change of county territories June 1 by the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission.

Keller will be game warden for Hall, Childress, Cottle and Motley Counties. He replaces G. P. Davis who is now assigned to Wheeler, Gray, Donley and Oellingsworth Counties.

Keller and Davis were in Memphis Tuesday to attend the game law and conservation meeting held in the county courtroom. Keller spent the day becoming acquainted with Memphians.

He said he will probably reside in Paducah. He is married and has two children and was graduated from the game warden school at Texas A&M on May 29.

LETTERS from READERS

The Democrat welcomes letters from its readers on subjects which are of general interest to the public. We will try to publish all letters received, as far as limited space will allow. All letters must be signed but the signature will be omitted when the letter is published if this is specifically requested. Due to an early press run, all letters should be in to this office on Monday prior to the Thursday edition. Those which are received on later days will be held until the following week.

Dear Editor:

If you would be so kind as to publish this in your weekly newspaper, we would ever be grateful to you. I was born and reared in Hall County at Parnell, along with four brothers and two sisters.

All of my brothers served in World War II. Our father is W. T. Nivens of Parnell.

My oldest brother, whose name is Wesley Nivens, is now a resident of Dumas. He is a talented violinist and makes a part of his livelihood playing for social.

He has a wife and two children. He was injured in a car wreck last Tuesday night on the outskirts of Amarillo. The doctor says all his ribs on the right side are broken and possibly his collar bone. He has a deep gash on his forehead and a small spot seems to be forming on his lung which could be pneumonia.

I want to ask all Christian people who read your paper to pray for him for I know God can and will answer prayers if we will submit to him our needs.

Wesley served three years in the infantry in the Pacific Theatre. God saw fit to take care of him and bring him back safe to his family and loved ones and I feel like if it be God's will now, he will heal him so he can soon be home with his family.

He was removed by ambulance to a Dumas hospital Friday. A cash contribution has been started for him and if anyone cares to donate, just address it to: Wesley Nivens, Gen. Del., Dumas, Texas.

It would be so gratefully acknowledged by him and his entire family.

Union, she was admitted with the understanding that she would retain her tidelands. This seems to be one instance where our government has repudiated her own treaty. Other cases decided by the Supreme Court had to do with segregation and state schools—a matter that was expected since the balance of wealth and power is centralized in the Northeast portion of the Nation.

This is a great country, especially following good rains and cool weather. Some farmers have had to replant their cotton, while others are planting the first time. Many crops were up and not damaged by the rains.

May was clean-up month in Memphis, and I must compliment some 90 per cent of the citizens for co-operating in making the town a cleaner-looking and better-appearing place of abode. The few who didn't co-operate, either didn't care how things look or were too busy chasing the almighty dollar.

Trees, lawns, shrubs and flowers have taken on a new lease of life and beauty within the past week. There are many places in town that are worth seeing.

And still more buildings are being erected or remodeled in Memphis. Every section of town is doing its share of improvement.

Keener Hudson, an old Wellington boy who for several years was engaged in the drug business in Edinburg and operated some orange groves on the side, is now druggist at Durham's. He says the Valley took an awful beating in the freeze of a year ago last spring, but believes it will stage a come-back when the orchards are put into production once more. So, no section of the country can keep going full tilt year after year. This proved to be the case with Panhandle wheat growers. For some ten or more years, good wheat crops were made. This year was practically a complete wheat crop failure.

A large crowd of fans watched the ball game Tuesday night between Memphis and Hobart. It was anybody's game from first to last—airtight and a pitcher's battle. An error could have changed the score in favor of the other team. Good games are conducive of better attendance and more gate receipts.

Memphis held another first-class rodeo last week-end. One performance was rained out, cutting down the receipts. This rodeo can be improved and built up from year to year. There is no good reason why Memphis can't be a real rodeo center.

The parade preceding the rodeo was a good one, and it was viewed by this front-porch sitter. It takes a lot of work by public-spirited people to stage any kind of worthwhile event, and Memphis has a including $492 in prize money, and was certainly the outstanding cowboy this year.

The Oklahoma professional—small in size but long in ability—took top money in the Brahma bull riding, saddle bronc riding and bareback bronc riding, and split for second with Bill Ward of Canyon City, Colo. in the bulldogging event. He did not enter the calf roping contest.

There were no serious injuries to contestants but the Saturday afternoon performance took an unusual twist when one of the bareback broncs suffered a broken back. I. N. (Ike) Keese, Memphis entry, was riding the bronc at the time of the accident.

The usual merriment and enthusiasm of rodeo audiences was lost for a few minutes while arena officials dragged the animal off the stadium and were forced to shoot him. Arena Director Lynn Beutler explained that the bronc probably broke its back while bucking with the rider out of the saddle.

"The horse expected the weight of the rider when he bucked up but the rider was out of the saddle at the time and this probably caused the accident," he said.

Miss Billie Jean Hassell of Childress was named winner in the Girl Sponsor Contest. She had an average time of 18.8 seconds in the barrel rides. Miss Jannett Ranson of Perryton finished a close second with a time of 18.7 seconds while Miss June Bull of Lefors was third with an average of 20.5 seconds. Awards of a $75 savings bond, a $25 bond and $10 cash were given these winners.

One of the Memphis entries, Leonard McCravy, finished among the top contestants. McCravy won the second day money in the Brahma bull riding, split for fourth the third day and finished third in the overall average. His prize money totaled about $50.

Final winners: Brahma Bull Riding—Freckles Brown, first; Ray Roberts, Gainesville, second; Leonard McCravy, third.

Saddle Bronc Riding—Freckles Brown, first; Bart Clennon, Sturgis, S. Dak., second; Sonny Lingler, Alamosa Colo., third.

Bareback Bronc Riding—Freckles Brown, first; Jack Salisbury, second; Mike Raymond, Albuquerque, N. M., third.

Calf Roping—Red McCormick, Lawton, Okla., first; Earl Brown, Arabian, second; Arthur Kilgore, Childress, third.

Bulldogging—Jiggs Burke, Comanche, Okla., first; Freckles Brown and Bill Ward, split for second and third.

The remainder of the county had 81 retail trade establishments with sales and receipts totalling $2,758,000. The group had 89 proprietors and 119 employees. Service trades in the remainder of the county totalled 18 with sales and receipts totalling $102,000. There were 20 proprietors and nine employees.

In the county retail establishments, the lumber-building-hardware group led all others in sales and receipts with a total of $3,116,000. The food group—not including eating and drinking places—was second with a total of $2,412,000, and the automotive group was third with a total of $1,548,000 in sales and receipts.

In addition to the show, there will be a Tiny Tot Popularity Contest. Any child under six years of age is eligible to enter. Parents should contact Mrs. Paul McCanne at Lakeview to enter their children in this contest, he said.

pasture said. "When completed, the State Highway Department will assume maintenance of these roads at no expense to the county."

He said that none of these roads are included in the proposed road which will run southwest of Mulberry Bridge across Red River. This road, which probably will be built within the next 18 months, will be about eight miles in length and include a bridge across Red River.

As the lights were lowered, the installing grand assisting marshal, Mrs. Lola Webster, entered and lighted the fourteen green and yellow candles on either side of the altar, where the open Bible had been previously placed.

Irwin Johnsey, retiring worthy patron, then introduced the following installing officers: Grand officer, Thelma Bairfield; grand marshal, Annie May Foster; grand secretary, Maud Milam; grand chaplain, Anna Dickson; grand organist, Mattie Lou Dav-enport.

At the time Mrs. Della Pall-meyer presented the past Matron's Jewel to the retiring worthy matron, Anna May Foster.

After receiving the gavel, following the installation, Mrs. Bonnie McMillan gave a short address of appreciation, Mrs. Hattye Dem Thompson then presented Mrs. Anna May Foster and Irwin Johnsey gifts from their retiring officers. She also presented the incoming worthy matron a beautiful gift, given by her officers.

At this time Mrs. Nell Tread-well, accompanied by Miss Gertrude Rasco, sang in her own beautiful manner, "Star of the East."

Saint Patrick get popular credit for running the snakes out of Ireland, and perhaps we can assume he had something to do with the green isle's lack of mad dogs.

Anyway, none of the British Isles have rabies and that's more than we can say for Texas.

Neither does New England, here in the United States, nor the Rocky Mountain area have rabies. But Texas is having a lot of losses from rabies in skunks, dogs, wolves and foxes now which take a heavy toll of livestock and send many people to clinics for the rabies treatment.

Dr. Kenneth Young of the State Health Department, warned stockmen of Denton county that they may expect an outbreak of fox rabies in about six months, so to get ready for it. The epidemic has been working west and north after entering Texas from Louisiana last year.

The thing to do, he says, is to vaccinate your dogs. When a strange animal puts in an appearance around the place, usually it's the dog that makes first contact with it. Humans get rabies from dogs.

The only way you get rabies is to get the germ under the skin, as by biting, or into the eye, or in an open wound. It's a nerve disease, climbing to the brain and then down to the salivary glands.

The treatment which humans must take after exposure is not fool proof. Better vaccinate the dogs, and kill the foxes and wolves. Make the barn skunk proof.

People will do more to protect valuable livestock than to protect themselves and their families from disease.

We note with considerable relief that a college professor in Washington has, after years of study, concluded that people are smarter than monkeys.

Also, we hear that "drive-in" churches are gaining in popularity. Looks like the steering wheel would get in the way at kneeling time. Parking meters could be used for collection plates.

One of the reasons the federal milk marketing controls may have tough sledding in a vote by dairy producers in some parts of Texas is that certain milk handlers have come out for it, too.

Some of them favor the federal control of milk marketing, though, because they prefer it to dealing with dairy co-operatives.

New varieties of wheat, oats, grasses, grain sorghums, hybrid corn, tomatoes, watermelons and many other crops are being developed right along. You miss getting a lot of good information first hand when you miss the field days at the various Texas Agricultural Experiment Stations around the state.

The first bale of cotton attracts a lot of attention and brings a premium price, but we doubt that its average quality would measure up with the mid-season bale.

Mrs. James Moroney, whose husband is a high Dallas Morning News official, is a real farmer. Country life was entirely new to her four years ago when they acquired a place near Euless, but she forsakes city social life for her hogs, sheep, turkeys and beef cows now.

Naturally, the real test of a new idea is the way it works out for the people who give it a trial. So, with cotton farmers telling us every day now that this early season cotton insect dusting and spraying is the real McCoy, we believe it.

We suspected it right along, enough to make us flap our chops about it on the radio, and put it in these columns. Now, we know.

One of our good friends down the country is a lady who keeps a flock of chickens who turn out good eggs, and this lady takes good care of said hen fruit after she gets them from the nest and until they leave her custody at the local retail store or some such place.

RESCUE . . . Mrs. Jeanette Bugay and helicopter pilot Owen Nichols are pulled ashore in rowboat near Niagara Falls, N. Y., after series of dramatic events in the rescue of Mrs. Bugay from the Niagara river. As she clung to a rock near the Canadian falls, a helicopter attempted to reach her after firemen in a boat had failed, but the helicopter crashed. A second helicopter completed the rescue by dropping a rope to a rowboat that saved Mrs. Bugay and the pilots of the wrecked helicopter.

But this lady is just plain boiled at not being able to get any more for her cackleberries than folks who let the eggs get inferior before selling them.

She is also pretty unhappy on learning that Texas dealers are buying eggs right along in Minnesota, and other northern states, because they say they can't get enough top quality eggs in Texas to meet the consumer demand.

Our good lady correspondent just doesn't believe that last part is so. We suspect a lot of others feel the same way. She also takes umbrage at the suggestion, made by one of the "experts" that egg producers should go in for volume production if they expect to get the highest prices.

Rightfully, she thinks the folks who bring only a few eggs to market should get a price in line with how good the eggs are.

Remembering that there is strength in union, etc., perhaps she should get some of her good neighbors to put their eggs with hers, or vice versa, when they go to market. And have them certified as to quality grade.

The only other way we can think of is for her to find a buyer who appreciates quality enough to pay for it, and sell to him alone.

The Bosque County Farm Bureau treated us like a king just back from the crusades when we went to Valley Mills last week to show them the moving pictures we made in South America during the WBAP Cattleman's Tour.

There had been a bad hail in the county a few days before, and some of the folks were saying they were ruined unless they could get permission to replant their cotton, and plant more cotton where the grain had been ruined.

Two men were hospitalized and an automobile badly damaged Thursday evening when a 1936 car sideswiped a late model on Highway 287 near the Donley County line. The wreck occurred about 6:30 p.m.

Marvin Eugene Bryon, 32, and Sonny Emmal, 20, of Memphis were in the 1936 car. They were traveling toward Memphis and their automobile overturned and rolled around 25 feet to the railroad track. They both reside in Memphis.

R. B. Dumler of Liberal, Kansas was driving the automobile which was sideswiped. He was not injured and his car was not badly damaged.

The two Memphis men have been released from local hospitals. Emmal was the more seriously injured since the automobile rolled on him. He was treated for a broken rib and a number of cuts and bruises.

Highway Patrolman N. D. Caloway investigated the accident. He said no charges were filed.

JACK WALKER SHOULD KNOW GOLF; HE STARTED AT THE AGE OF SIX

(Ed. note: The following article on Jack Walker, son of Mrs. R. C. Walker, appeared in the May 26 issue of the Odessa American.)

enough to keep him off the varsity. Between tours round the golf course and recreational sessions on the tennis courts, Walker found

If the people of Memphis, Texas in the early 1920's thought a successful golf career would be the result when a six-year-old lad took to the game there with his brother's clubs, they were correct.

It's been 22 years and numerous putts since, but Jack E. Walker, the lad who started at six and owned his own sticks at seven, currently is earning his bread and butter from the game as assistant professional at the Odessa Country Club.

Walker, a stocky, compact man of 28, has been at the local club almost three months, coming here from Dallas March 1 where he was working for the Dallas Athletic Country Club.

Though his powerful build suggests football, Walker has always been a two-sports man, golf and tennis. He participated in those two sports during his high school days at Memphis and continued with them in college days at Lubbock's Texas Tech.

After playing varsity golf for the Red Raiders during the '41 and '42 season, he put away his clubs and went to see a man about a war. When he returned it was time for the '47 season but the lay-off hadn't dulled his game ime to acquire a degree with a major in business administration. Too, while he'd been away to see a man about a war he'd found time to see a girl about a marriage. On Feb. 14, 1948, he was married to Merrilyn Spider, a Lubbock girl whom he'd met at Dalla during the war years when she was an airline hostess.

The golfing career which he'd been building toward for so long almost got sidetracked when he was graduated from Tech. His first year out of college was spent in Hillsboro where he had a fire insurance agency.

His first love—golf—beckoned though and he discarded his insurance agency and took a job at the Dallas Athletic Club.

Walker and his wife have nothing personal against Dallas, but they're both natives of West Texas and when the offer to come to Odessa was put before them, they didn't hesitate. They're sincere when they say, "West Texans are our type of people."

In addition to numerous other duties around the Odessa club, Walker also gives golf lessons. It's safe to assume that his lessons are backed by plenty of golfing know-how.

You can acquire a lot of knowledge when you start at something when you're six years old.

THE TOIL OF DOCTORS and Scientists, free and unhampered, has built American health to the highest level in the world.

Almost all the millions of Americans are honest people, who want improvements and progress in medical care. Your own Doctor, and 125,000 more like him, are daily working step by step toward that end. They are primarily interested in the quality of medical care that saves lives.

Focus the spotlight of your good judgment on the advantages of voluntary selection of your own physician; voluntary selection of the kind of prepaid medical and hospital care that fits your needs, for less than Federal deductions would cost.

Turn that spotlight of honest commonsense on the insurmountable consequences of Compulsory Health Insurance—lowered quality of health and medical care.

A car you'll get a big bang out of every time you see it parked in front of your house—every time you slip into its front seat—every sweet and easy mile you travel in it.

Well, come see what this beauty does for you.

How the doors swing open in warm welcome at a thumb touch on a button. How the broad seats invite you to take it easy. How the big straight-eight under the bonnet snaps into purring life at your toe-touch.

And then note—

How smoothly you slip away from the curb—especially when Dynaflo* is handling the power transmission.

How firm and steady the whole car feels. How it holds on curves, free of "heel-over" and sway. How each coil-sprung wheel quicksteps over bumps and rough spots that mean jounce and jiggle on most cars—how buoyantly road-free a Buick is.

* Dynaflo Drive is standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.

FOUR-WAY FOREFRONT

This rugged front end (1) sets the style note, (2) saves on repair costs—vertical bars are individually replaceable, (3) avoids "locking horns," (4) makes parking and garaging easier.

Fun? You bet it's fun—too much fun to miss.

And there's no reason to miss it, really, for this strapping traveler is priced under many sixes. Starts at figures just an easy step above the so-called Lowest Price cars.

EIGHTH INNING RALLY GIVES OWLS 6-5 WIN OVER PADUCAH

The Memphis Owls unleashed a six hit, five run blast in the eighth inning Thursday night to ease past Paducah 6-5 in a Red River Valley League game.

The host club led up to that time, 5-1. They scored twice in the first inning and three more in the sixth.

Memphis scored one run in the fifth frame when Riley walked and was sent home on hits by Carpenter and Coppedge.

Coppedge started the eighth inning with a single. Singles by McKay, Edmondson and Pruett and doubles by Stewart and Stonecifer were other highlights of the inning.

Riley was the winning pitcher. He gave up seven hits and four walks. Memphis tapped Paducah moundman Jones for 14 hits and received one gratis base.

Your Best Investment

The Liberty Bell exhibited here yesterday was indeed a fitting reminder of the savings bond drive now underway in Hall County and the nation.

This bell—symbolizing the independence of this country—also symbolizes the independence offered by the bonds.

First, of course, is the fact that buying these bonds represents a personal savings—an investment with a good return. Regardless of what philosophers have said about the subject, most of us are practical enough to realize that financial security is a person's greatest guarantee of individual independence.

All of us have some "pet" scheme in mind for the future—one that will require a certain amount of money. It may be building a new home, taking that trip abroad or sending the kids through college. Regardless of what we have in mind, our savings will eventually decide whether or not we can realize this dream.

United States Savings Bonds will serve us in this way if we will only let them. To the individual, these bonds represent an investment in future financial independence.

Just as important is the fact that an investment in savings bonds is an investment in the future of this country. The individual independence discussed above can have no significance if our government is not a Democratic one. You may think that our government is big and that your actions are not important to it.

Well, the government is big but you must always remember that it is vitally concerned with what you think and do and that it is actually no bigger than you. For, in this country, we the people—the bankers doctors, farmers, businessmen—are the government. It is our to do with as we please and represents the greatest experiment in history in man's belief in his own abilities and in those of his neighbors.

The fact that this country has survived over 150 years of Democratic government and is the world's ranking nation today surprises many great thinkers. Even many of our early American leaders considered a Democratic form of government incapable of succeeding. Alexander Hamilton, for one, had little faith in the people and predicted that this country would soon fall were they allowed to run the government. Even such stalwarts in the cause of Liberty as George Washington doubted that a government "of, for and by the people" could stand the ordeals of time.

These men would be amazed and pleased if they were alive to see how well the United States has functioned. They would be glad to know that the people can run a government—and make it the greatest in the world.

We who are living today have no doubts about our ability to govern ourselves. But much of the world does not share this viewpoint. Democracy is probably facing its greatest struggle today and in the next few decades. Socialism and Communism are all around us and seem to be gaining momentum daily.

An investment in United States Savings Bonds is an investment in Democracy for you and your children and future generations. So long as Commonism or imperialistic thinking is in the world, this country will be in danger. It will take money for arms, supplies and aid to other nations to keep Democracy alive and wholesome.

This, perhaps, is the most important reason for buying bonds. You can make no greater investment than in Democracy. And remember, your bonds are as safe as this country. Could you ask for any better security.

NATIONAL SOMNOLENCE

Press Paragraphs— QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

One of the best and most thought provoking definitions of "freedom of the press" that we have ever run across was expressed recently at a meeting of the Indiana State Press Association. One factor which makes it all the more impressive was the fact that it came, not from anyone connected with the newspaper profession, but from one of those anonymous millions—a newspaper reader.

His definition: "Freedom of the press is the right of the people to read news printed without restraint."

That man said more in sixteen words than most of us can express in sixteen hundred—the right of people to read news printed without restraint." That covers a lot of territory.

We of the newspaper profession who consider ourselves the guardians of this cherished freedom have often defended it as our right to publish news. Here is a man who puts the same principal into its proper perspective—as your right to read it.

Here is a lesson to be taken to heart by every newspaper man and every newspaper reader.

Freedom of the Press is not merely the right of newspapers to publish the news—but also, and equally important, the right of the public—the people—to read the news "published without restraint."

That implies a point too often overlooked by newspaper publishers: the right of the public to read the news in the secure knowledge that it has been published without restraint.

Freedom of the press works both ways. Its guarantee applies, or should apply, not only to the newspaper publisher, but to the newspaper reader as well.

Freedom of the Press is not only a privilege of the newspapers, but an obligation for the newspapers. If our newspapers are to merit the one, they must observe the other.

Our pledge to our readers, frequently stated but never more clearly expressed, is that whatever appears in the columns of The Record will be, within the limitations of our personal abilities, true facts . . . published without restraint.—Canadian Record.

Boom or Bust?
We heard a long discussion the other day which expressed opposing viewpoints of two very intelligent men, both who are looking at public questions from an entirely different standpoint.

One man said that the country was riding for a fall; that prices were too high; that labor was demanding more than it was worth; that there was certain to be a flare up in which the bubble would burst in our idiotic faces, just like it did in 1929.

The second man challenged these statements. His viewpoint was that the labor market was completely under control of men who knew what they were doing; that the union organizations were going to keep up prices with high wages and high prices on materials; that there was no danger in deficit spending; that we would never have another depression so long as we kept well balanced men in the White House.

You will see that the two men could never agree. Both were of the opinion that they were right in their viewpoint. The one was conservative, and the other a liberal.

"Yes, and what are you going to do when you reach the point that the people—especially those on salaries—cannot buy goods?" asked by these ultra radical liberals who are demanding more than they are worth?" asked the conservative.

"That situation will never come about. Labor is so well organized that prices will be kept up, even if the government has to resort to subsidies on labor and raw materials," stated the liberal.

Thus you see that right here in this Panhandle area we have citizens who disagree as to the possibilities of a major depression, or even a minor recession. The fact that prices are increasing is some sort of an answer to the perplexing situation.

Don't you wish that you knew the answers?—Canyon News.

Familiar Tune

Grab you off some tires at once. After you have driven the best bargain you can with the man who sells them take him up and let him put them on. You'll save money as you drive on good tires and watch the prices balloon to higher levels. Answer is that there is a world fight on for rubber. The United States is stock-piling rubber and numerous other items termed necessary for defense. The process has been carried on somewhat as the market conditions were favorable in many lines. Eggs, butter, natural rubber lead, zinc, copper, silver and a score of other things, that can be hoarded against the day need and an immensely expanded demand when the Russian bear has decided on the day and launches the blitz that will spell doom for many and will bring on another Armageddon. There have been two or three Armageddons in world history already, according to the ideas of mere man.

CICERO SMITH PLANS YARD IMPROVEMENTS—In keeping with the wave of prosperity and building operations which has been prevalent in Memphis for the past several years, the Cicero Smith Lumber Co., through its general manager, Mr. Johnson of Fort Worth, has been contemplating for some time to tear down the old buildings on the present site and replace them with new and modern buildings. At an early date the management contemplates tearing away the old buildings and sheds and replacing them with new all over the entire block now occupied by this splendid company.

$1,000,000 BANK MERGER PLANNED—One of the largest financial deals ever contemplated in West Texas is in the process of consummation, with the announcement made this week of the proposed merger of the First National Bank of Memphis and the Citizens State Bank of Memphis. Work has been progressing over a period of several months, and has now reached that stage where officials of both banks feel that the merger will be effected within the next several months, at the latest.

CLEAN UP DAYS ARE OBSERVED ENTIRE WEEK—When the local American Legion post requested Mayor S. T. Harrison to set aside two days in which to carry on a clean up campaign, it was believed that that period of time would be sufficient for a city-wide endeavor to make Memphis a cleaner place in which to live. However, early this week it was found that two days was not long enough for the task, and instead of confining clean-up activities to Monday and Tuesday, the whole week has been designated for the task, according to H. L. Nelson.

Bankers Hear Warning Against Small Business Insurance

DALLAS ECONOMIST AND BANKER DECRIES CREDIT CONTROL PLAN

Memphis bankers heard a warning that the Truman administration's move toward government insurance of small business loans is an opening wedge to complete nationalization of credit in Amarillo Saturday where they were attending the 45th Annual Convention of the Panhandle Bankers Association.

Dr. Arthur A. Smith, vice-president of the First National Bank of Dallas, issued this warning in his address before the bankers in the Herring Hotel.

"This insurance of small business loans is one of the most dangerous steps on the road toward the socialization process and is another nail in the coffin of free competition," Dr. Smith asserted.

He pointed out that Communist Manifesto, written 102 years ago, listed nationalization of credit as No. 5 on the list in the Communist's doctrine.

Dr. Smith, one of the nation's leading economists and former head of the economics department at SMU, said that control of credit is necessary to Truman's socialistic planning since the control of credit will mean control of the nation's purse strings and allow the government to do just about as it pleases.

He said that bankers, and the nation as a whole, are too complacent in their attitudes toward the federal government's "power grabs."

"Fifty years from now, if a historian is allowed to write freely, he will label this present period as the 'Age of Seduction.' Too many of us are giving up, saying we are doing all right."

Dr. Smith gave the following example of how banking will operate in the future should federally insured small business loans become law:

"Joe Doe, 28 years old, wants to build a plant to manufacture lawn furniture. He goes to his banker for a $25,000 loan. The loan officer tells Mr. Doe that he would be happy to make the loan provided the Federal Small Business Loan Insurance Corp. approves.

"Mr. Doe steps across the street to the FSBLIC office. He is given a number and must wait his turn to see the head of the office who listens to his case and then turns Joe's application over to the agency stacionian. Well, finally the stacionian, after consulting all furniture manufacturing concerns now operating, comes up with a decision. Already there are enough lawn furniture manufacturers. Any more would upset the balance.

"At this point Joe Doe blows his top, telling the FSBLIC man and later the banker that he is the best darned lawn furniture manufacturer in the country, and, he can make furniture better, faster and more efficiently than any others. But his protest is greeted with deaf ears."

The two-day convention ended Saturday with the election of new officers.

Attending from Memphis were: Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Noel, Mr. S. S. Montgomery and Mrs. Allan Grun-
