Stricken Farmers Seeking Government Aid

PETITION NOW IN CIRCULATION ASKING NEW TERRACING FUNDS

Hall County Farmers are now circulating a petition which will endeavor to gain government financial assistance in rebuilding the terraces which have been destroyed by recent storms.

A group of the farmers—whose terraces were destroyed and damaged started the petition following a ruling by the Production and Marketing Administration Committee that all reconstruction of these terraces must be done with PMA assistance.

This petition is addressed to Secretary of the Agriculture Charles F. Brannon and will be sent directly to him for action.

Agricultural officials here pointed out that the extent of the damage in this county reached emergency proportions and that the Agricultural Department may see fit to authorize financial assistance to the farmers.

It is estimated that some 40,000 acres of farming land have been damaged by hail storms and rains. Damages to terraces is estimated to run as high as $25,000.

The government assistance, if granted, will come through the PMA and will probably be similar to the method of payment for original terrace construction. Under this plan, the government pays the farmer $79.20 per mile for this work.

The farmers hope to have this petition signed by all persons interested in agriculture in this county. They plan to mail it to the Agricultural Department head next week.

The complete text of the petition:

"Dear Mr. Secretary, We, the undersigned citizens of Hall County, Texas, wish to call to your attention a situation which we feel is worthy of your personal attention.

"Some 40,000 acres of the best farming land in Hall County and a like amount in adjoining counties, have been ravaged by the most destructive hailstorms and floods in the memory of the oldest inhabitant. With 25 inch rainfall within a 60 day period, in an

Hall County Livestock Show Set For Sept 12

Sept. 11-12 were the dates set for the new Hall County Livestock Show at a meeting sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and Hall County Board of Development Thursday night.

Chamber of Commerce officers, members of the dairy and beef cattle committees, Hall County Dairy Association officers and County Agent W. B. Hooser were present to make plans for the coming show.

"This year's show will include all classes of dairy and beef cattle," C-C Manager Clifford Farmer said. "We know the show will include Jersey, Hereford and Angus entries and we hope to have Holsteins and Shorthorns."

He pointed out that the show has included dairy cattle only in the past. Farmer said the first and second place winners here will probably go on to Childress for their show Sept. 13-16 and to the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo on Sept. 17-23. From these plans are indefinite but will probably include other shows in this area.

The show will be held at the Memphis Compress Co. Professor Anderson of the animal husbandry department at Texas Technological College will be judge. Farmer said that standard classifications will be used in all age classes. Ribbons will be awarded to winners from first through sixth places with rosettes to be presented to the grandchampions.

This show is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce in connection with the County Agents office. H. J. Howell is general chairman of the show.

Those attending the meeting included: Farmer, Hooser, Howell, Herschel Combs, C-C president; Wendell Harrison, C-C vice-president; Stacey Waites, T. E. Noel, M. E. CLAUDE'S COMMENTS

By J. C. W.

A Negro youth wanted to get his clothes out of a tailor shop in Memphis Sunday morning, giving his reason for wanting them that day as being "I am starting on my vacation". "Vacation from what?" he was asked. "I ain't doing nuthin since school was out, but must have a vacation," he replied. I know of some white children who have done nothing but play since school closed, but they just must have a vacation.

Looking over an old grammar I find the sentence to be diagrammed and parsed: "Nero fiddled while Rome burned." I have been wondering ever since if it was Nero and if it was a piano instead of a fiddle, for many American lives are being sacrificed while some of our leaders are waiting until after the November election (Continued on page 12)

Politics Again Are Popular As Election Nears

Politics began "warming up" in Hall County again this week as voters eye the approaching August 26 second primary.

The only local race in this election is for sheriff with Raymond Ballew and E. S. (Peck) Morrison the run-off candidates. Of equal interest to voters of this county, however, is the run-off for the nomination to the 18th District Congressional Seat. Mrs. Altavene Clark of Amarillo and Walter Rogers of Pampa are opponents in this election.

Latest development in the sheriff's race came today when Morrison announced that he will participate in no more public speakings before the election. He and Ballew have spoken at Estelline, Turkey, Newlin, Plaska and Lakeview since the first primary.

Ballew has announced four speaking dates between now and the election and said today that he will definitely carry out these engagements. These speakings have attracted a great deal of attention throughout the county.

Hall County voters were reminded this week that the final date for absentee voting is Tuesday. Twenty-nine absentee votes have been cast to date, according to County Clerk Sybil Garley.

County Judge M. O. Goodpasture announced this week that the Commissioner's Court has approved (Continued on page 12)

REV. HILL

10-Day Revival Scheduled For Lakeview Church

Rev. Lester L. Hill, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Wellington, will conduct the revival. J. W. Longshore will lead the song services.

Rev. Hill has had a great deal of experience as a speaker and evangelist. He served as a chaplain during World War II and was stationed in the Mediterranean theatre.

While there, he had the opportunity to visit most areas in the Holy Land and these travels will enable him to bring the life and personality of Christ nearer to his congregation, Rev. Evans said.

Among his revival subjects are: "A Revival—Why?, What? and How?"; "The Three Greatest Verbs of the Bible"; "Christ, our Light, Illustrated From A Visit To His Birthplace"; and "The Wonderful Man of Galilee".

The public is cordially invited to attend this revival.

Cyclone Grid Mentor Holds Hope For Title Club

The absence of these two boys will be felt, particularly this season when inexperience is so obvious on the teams roster.

Coach York said the fact that 11 lettermen are now working out has no significance as far as real experience and talent is concerned.

"The large number of injuries last season forced us to play and letter almost every boy on the squad," he said. "It's too early to be sure, of course, but it looks as if some of these returning lettermen will be beaten out of their positions by boys who have had little or no experience in the past."

The Cyclone mentor said he is fairly well pleased with the progress of the workouts thus far. He pointed out that the squad will have to be brought along more slowly than last year in early workouts because of the large element of young and inexperienced players.

Workouts the first two days have been devoted to fundamentals. The backfield candidates have been learning to handle their offensive positions while linemen have been drilling on offensive and defensive play under Coach Ray Newton's supervision.

Memphis Meets Dumas Tonight In Estes Park Play-Off Game

The play-off finals will be decided by the best three-out-of-five games. It starts Sunday.

The Owls finished third in the Oklahoma tournament, dropping their final game to Woodward Saturday night. However, the Memphis club came away with its share of the individual and team honors.

Bus Dorman, who played for Wellington during the current season but joined the Owls for this tourney, was picked as the most popular player. Owl Manager Burr Pruett was chosen the outstanding sportsman of the tournament. Both received trophies.

Six Owl players were also named to the all-star teams which were picked from the players participating. Both professional and amateur teams were picked with the player's past experience determining which club he was named to.

Ed Mathis, Jim Lloyd and Kenneth Stonecipher were chosen as members of the amateur all-star team. Hank Dlugokeeki, Doc Pittman and Ed McKay were named to the professional all-stars.

Final seasonal standings in the Red River Valley League were released this week by President Paul Ord. Hobart finished well in front with Dumas, Memphis and Mangum trailing closely in that order. Paducah took over fifth place from Wellington.

Plainview Now Urging Support Of M. F. Griffin

Friends of Judge Meade F. Griffin in the 64th Judicial District, in which he served and practiced law for more than a quarter of a century, are eager to see West Texans turn out in large numbers August 26 and give him a typically enthusiastic West Texas boost.

His homefolks in Hale County gave him 4,234 votes to 256 for his three opponents in the first primary. His margin in surrounding counties was almost as great. He had a substantial statewide lead over his nearest opponent.

He was the choice of the greatest number of Texans in the first primary.

Griffin served in both World Wars, is 56 years of age, and except when with the colors has engaged in active law practice for 25 years.

Griffin seeks his first elective term. Since he accepted appointment by the late Governor Jester, gave up a fine law practice, and has satisfactorily filled the position for 15 months, it seems only reasonable to his home town friends that he be elected for a full term.

Pearls of Wisdom

by J. H. R.

being the symbol of purity, it has other historical significance as a writer in Life magazine some time ago told us. For instance, in Cleopatra's time, powdered pearls were highly regarded as aphrodisiacs (drugs that excite love impulses). It was further believed that pearls worn by unfaithful wives changed color.

The manufacture of pearls, "the beautiful business of the lowly mollusk," comes about by the secretion of "nacre," a protective coating of the oyster irritated by the presence of a foreign body in its shell. This nacre forms layers of iridescent lustre about the nucleus and thus the pearl results. Pearls are found in river mussels and other mollusks as well as in the oyster. These precious stones of rare beauty are graded for commercial value according to shape, size, and color. Though the most highly prized ones are perfectly round or pear-shaped pure white in color and nearly translucent with an iridescent sheen, there are other colors as gray, blue, yellow, and pink.

It is not unusual for a string of matched real pearls to cost $200,000. The next best thing to the real pearls are the "cultured" ones the secret of which process was discovered by one Baron Mikimoto of Japan. By inserting a particle into the oyster's shell, he is able to cultivate pearls of such beauty that their sale wrecked the pearl market in 1926. The difference between a real and a cultured pearl lies primarily in the size of the foreign object in the center and the number and thickness of the layers of nacre surrounding it, which give the pearl its lustre and translucence. Even then laboratory tests are necessary to distinguish the one from the other. If one is not so particular, the artificial pearls, glass beads coated with fish silver, can be had for a nominal sum.

Many and varied stories of fact and fable about the pearl have been handed down through the years. Perhaps the most remarkable short story in English literature is "The Necklace" by Guy de Maupassant. If you have not read it, do so as it is a tale of a string of pearls and years of sacrifice, a story of suspense and with a surprising ending. John Steinbeck wrote a good story which was later screened called "The Pearl."

Still another story, supposedly true, tells of the Pearl of Asia. The largest pearl of its kind in the world, it is reputed to be three inches long, nearly two inches at the base and weighs, complete in its exquisite Chinese mounting, about a third of a pound (not so much as cabbages go but enormous for a pearl). It was discovered by divers in the Persian Gulf in the year 1628 and is today owned by the Catholic Board of Foreign Missions in France and valued at $71,429. However, like the famous Hope diamond, this monstrous jewel is thought to carry ill luck in its wake and so, despite its fabulous size and beauty, no one wants it. So much for the world's largest pearl.

BLAMES ADMINISTRATION FOR CRISIS IN KOREA

The following letter was published last week by The Democrat from Congressman Ben Harrison here in the city. It might help enlighten the seriousness of our situation. Mistakes that cannot be condoned have been made by many of our high ranking national leaders. It is our firm belief that these men should be discharged from government service immediately, regardless of their political standing.

The single question that has been asked me more than any other by the people back home recently has been: "Where has all our defense money gone?" I've done a little research on the answer.

During the last five years Uncle Sam has spent $96 billions on defense. However, $45 billions of that was spent in 1946 before demobilization was complete and much of the money appropriated that year went into terminal leave and other benefits. I think the more fair figure is $50 billions spent on defense since 1946.

Out of every dollar we have spent on defense during the last four years, 65 cents went for salaries, clothing, food and housing for our military manpower. Out of every dollar, 20 cents went for research, administrative work and maintenance of the National Guard and Reserve. And, out of every dollar spent for national defense, only 15 cents went to procure weapons, ships and planes.

The smallness of the last figure shows why we had not bought a single tank since the war ended. This policy was followed despite the fact that we knew by our experience in World War II that Russian tanks were far superior to our own, and we knew from our intelligence sources that Russia was making tanks furiously in preparation for war. Russia now has 40,000 tanks, more than 7 times our total.

As a matter of fact, Washington is still asleep at the switch, because there are too many people here who cannot think and plan without an eye to political advantages. A General in the Pentagon told me earlier in the week that the Army can't plan intelligently for the future or take the measures that should be taken until the power that be decide that this war is a great deal more important than the November election.

Personally, I think anybody who can't rise above politics and party loyalties in the face of this crisis should be kicked off Capitol Hill. If ever we needed non-partisan and unselfish cooperation among all Americans, it is now. If we can't be plain, solid Americans together now instead of merely Republicans and Democrats, then we deserve to be beaten by the Russians.

The Natural Resources Board was set up five years ago to draw the blueprints for definite plans by which this country could be placed on a full mobilization status at a moment's notice. John Steelman was part-time chairman and, since the job is a full-time job and then some, nothing constructive was done. Then two precious years were wasted in an unsuccessful political fight to get Mon Wallgren, former Governor of Washington and close friend of President Truman, appointed as Chairman. The Board had no real head during these years. Finally, Stuart Symington was recently appointed Chairman, after he resigned from his position as Under Secretary for Air because of his disagreement with the policies of Defense Secretary Louis Johnson.

OF THE FINE CARS IN VALUE

BIG MOMENT- with a Double Impact

It's a big moment when any new car rolls up to your door and you start out fresh and spanking bright. Think, then, what it's going to mean when that new car is a ROADMASTER like this one pictured here. You'll swing wide the door and slide into a car that's truly fine—and looks it. You'll put foot to treadle and touch off the might of a great, 152-horsepower Fireball straight-eight that's ready to master any road—or anything it meets there. You'll have the silken magic of Dynaflo Drive to simplify your driving, ease your way. A handsome flexible steering wheel, automatic windshield washers, soft Foamtex cushions, and many other items that are "extras" elsewhere are standard equipment here. But even while you enjoy all that, you've a still deeper satisfaction enriching your pleasure. For here you have not only a fine car, but a sound and frugal investment as well. You have paid less per pound than any comparable car costs—and automotive men will tell you price per pound is the soundest measure there is of solid, thoroughgoing merit.

You've bought quality—top quality—all the fine things a fine car should provide. But you haven't spent a penny more than a fine car need cost. And that can mean a lot. For instance—Drop in on your Buick dealer. Try out a ROADMASTER. Match it, feature by feature and point by point, with any other fine car on the road. Then get the price. You may well find that you can get not only a new ROADMASTER for the sum you had in mind—but maybe a new fur coat for your wife as well!

MR. AND MRS. BENGY GODFREY

First Methodist Church is Scene For Cheek-Godfrey Nuptial Vows

The First Methodist Church was the scene August 5 for the marriage of Miss Nell Rita Cheek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cheek, to Bengy Godfrey, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Godfrey. Rev. Rollo Davidson, pastor, read the double ring service at 8:00 o'clock. Miss Lois Wines, pianist, played a nuptial prelude while the guests assembled.

Introducing the ceremony, Mrs. Andy DeWees of Amarillo sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because". "Always" was played in soft accompaniment for the exchange of vows. For the benediction Rev. Davidson repeated the Lord's Prayer as the couple knelt at the altar. The traditional wedding marches were used for the processional and recessional.

Basket arrangements of white gladioli and fern flanked by branched candelabra bearing lighted tapers decorated the altar. In the background was an arch interlaced with fern and baby breath tied in the center with a large white satin bow.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Doyce Gregory as matron of honor. She wore a pink organdy dress over pink taffeta and carried a bouquet of daisies tied with white satin ribbon. A garland of daisies in her hair completed her costume.

E. H. Godfrey attended his son-in-law and ushers were Kenneth and Billy Cheek, brothers of the bride.

Given in marriage by her father the bride was attractive in a white organdy dress over white taffets. The frock was designed with scalloped neckline outlined with tube roses, fitted bodice and tiny puffed sleeves. The full three tiered skirt was ballerina length. Her shoulder length veil which was strewn with tube roses was attached to a band made of the same flowers. She carried a bouquet of white gladioli encircled with tube roses and tied tiny puff of pink and white maline and satin streamers.

Mrs. Cheek, mother of the bride wore a frock of navy sheer, and Mrs. Godfrey, the groom's mother also wore a navy frock. Both wore corsages of pink and white carnations.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride's table was laid with lace and appointed in silver and crystal. The bride's bouquet was the only decorations. Mrs. Doyle Gregory, sister of the bride, served cake and Mrs. John Smith sister of the groom, served punch.

For traveling, the bride wore a gabardine suit of brown with green accessories and a corsage of gladioli. Upon their return from a short honeymoon trip, Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey will be at home in Memphis.

Mrs. Godfrey is a graduate of Lakeview High School with the class of '48. At the present time she is receptionist at Goodall Hospital.

A Message To Every Voter Of This County

In Behalf Of My Candidacy For Sheriff

I will not be putting out any rumors between now and Aug. 26th. Anything that is circulated will be started by other parties. I am not trying to win this race with rumors. I am putting my reputation and my ability on the line as qualifications for the office I seek. Neither am I trying to run on any other person's demerits. I want you to vote for me because you think I am the kind of man you want to see hold down the Sheriff's office

As far as this matter of deputies is concerned, I am not considering any person until after the returns from the polls are totaled. If I am elected your Sheriff, I will have until Jan. 1, 1951, to hire a deputy or deputies. I will give this matter serious consideration before a decision is made.

I want every matter which has been discussed in this race to be out in the open. I do not have anything to hide, and want every person to fully understand every issue.

If any person in this county wants to ask me ANY QUESTION, please call my home in Memphis and leave your name and address with my wife. The telephone number is 337. I will try to call upon you and answer any question you might have.

Please remember, as you make up your mind to cast your vote for Sheriff, that I am obligated to no individual or group of individuals. If I am elected your Sheriff my hands will not be tied by any promises. I have paid my own expenses all the way in this race. I have listened to every person who wanted to talk to me about the Sheriff's office. From these conversations I do know that our people are for law and order. That is exactly how I think, as my life for these 47 years will show.

This is the first time in my life I have ever run for public office. I am finding out that it does take a lot of work—and money. But at the same time I am finding out more and more about people, and am making new friends every day I campaign.

IF YOU BELIEVE IN THE THINGS I STAND FOR AND THE STRAIGHT-FORWARD ENFORCEMENT OF THE LAW, VOTE FOR ME WHEN YOU GO TO THE POLLS ON SATURDAY, AUGUST 26th.

Respectfully submitted,

ADVERTISING

We heard a man make a silly—and rather stupid—slam against advertising recently. Referring to the price of a particular item, he commented that the advertising expense made the price about 30 percent more than it normally would be. He questioned the value of advertising in our economic system.

Now we don't know where he got his figures for these assertions but we seriously doubt their accuracy. Research has proven that the advertising expense on many items is less than one percent of the total cost.

Nor can we understand how this man could question the value of advertising to our economic growth. Actually advertising is one of the most essential elements in a country which bases its economic livelihood on free enterprise.

Ask any thoughtful tourist who has been to the European continent to tell you some of the difference between this country and those, and chances are he will comment on the lack of advertising there. And, partly as a result of this, there is a lack of automobiles, radios and other conveniences and necessities which are so common in this country.

Advertising has helped build the big industries of this country which, in turn, have supplied you with the products that makes your living standard the highest in the world.

Large scale advertising is a comparative "youngster," even in this country. It is a growing field and has suffered—still does, in fact—the usual pains of its growth. But it is a very progressive field and has done a great service to this country. It is honestly striving to correct its mistakes.

It is impossible to imagine an economic system such as ours without advertising.

"President Truman says the government has been the salvation of private enterprise, but the record shows that time and again private enterprise has been the salvation of the government."—Somerset (Pa.) Daily American.

THAT RAILROAD BOXCAR

Subsidies to the competitors of the railroads are not only harmful to the rails—but they are unfair to shippers to whom continued and efficient service by railroads is essential. That view did not come from a railroad spokesman. It came instead from an officer of a large company whose sole interest in the matter lies in the quality and dependability of transportation service—a vice president of General Mills, Inc.

He declared that a "smoothly functioning railroad plant is indispensable" to the nation both in peacetime and wartime, and added, "The welfare of this nation is today just as dependent upon a healthy system of railroad transportation as it was before great public expenditures were made upon other forms. It remains as true today as ever before that the economy of the United States is built around the railroad freight car."

Moreover, as he also pointed out, the railroads' subsidized competitors do not provide a cheaper service. In many instances the total cost is higher. It is a concealed cost, which must be paid for directly or indirectly by the taxpayers. As a perfect illustration, witness the highway problem practically all the states now face. The cost of road building and maintenance has skyrocketed. The major roads are being destroyed faster than we can replace them.

Without the railroads, this country, as we know it could not exist.

THE ONLY WAY TO HANDLE HOGS

Press Paragraphs— QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

Water When water, one of the blessings God showered upon man, is recklessly squandered until a danger of its unavailability becomes evident, something must be done. Something is being done in the Plains area of Texas where the counties are banding together to demand the creation of underground water conservation districts.

The State Board of Water Engineers has announced a public hearing to be held in Plainview, August 29. At that time the Board will designate any or all of the counties as an underground water reservoir. Then, and only then, can steps be adequately taken to conserve the water so vital to our crops.

Lamb, Hale and Hockley counties petitioned for hearings and submitted a fee for such business but the fee was returned when the Board decided to undergo the expense for all interested counties at the same time. Recently Bailey County formed the Bailey County Water Conservation Association to lend its support to this movement. It is an extremely vital issue to all of us who make our homes on the Plains. A scarcity in water or a doubled or tripled expense in the securing of water, can mean ruin to farmers of this county.

Counties named in the hearing including Cackran, should lend all the support available. All the talk about too much Government regulation will not give us water when we need it.—Morton Tribune.

in the same period plowed millions into brick and mortar and plants and land and things they could look at, at prices that appeared ruinous to you. Now isn't that right? We mean they spent money by the millions and billions for improvements instead of paying it out in dividends. Now you and I look for a terrible inflation period, do we not? Aren't we putting away sugar and pepper and trying to get automobiles and plows and tractors and tires stacked away? And soap and nylon hose and barbed wire, nails and bathroom fixtures. Also towels and sheets, paper bags and toilet tissue. With the government and everybody trying to keep us from doing it . . . shame, shame, they say, while they (the government agencies included) are doing the same thing. Mass thinking is nearly always wrong. Is it this time? Are we headed for a recession? The impossible often, often happens. Watch the proved smart ones and do like they do.—Foard County News.

McKay's Homer Provides Win

Ed McKay slammed out a home run with the bases full in the bottom of the eighth here Sunday afternoon to pace the Owls to an 8-6 win over Hobart in their final Red River Valley League tilt.

Don Williamson followed McKay at bat and also hit a four-bagger to add an additional run to the Owls' victory margin.

The visitors staged a brief rally in the ninth when Brawley connected with a homer for one run but it was too little and too late.

Doc Pittman opened on the mound for Memphis but was relieved by LeRoy Kamphouse in Consolidation play in the tournament saw Estelline defeat Lesley 7-3 in a mild upset. S. Davis was the winning pitcher while Willis Clark was charged with the loss.

Winkler, Davis, Tucker, Gardenhire, Moore, Cooper and Walker paced the winners at bat. Gowdy and Payne scored for Lesley.

The Cardinals advanced to the finals in the tournament with a 11-7 win over Lesley Thursday night. Lloyd West hurled for the winners while Willis Clark was the losing Lesley pitcher.

Carl Lee led the Cardinal hitting, collecting four safe taps. Other top plate performers were Duke Frisbie, Rayford Hutcherson, Duane Miller, Bennie West, Jimmy Gibson and Lloyd West.

Joe Booth, Willis Clark, Bobbie Clark, Arnold and Whitehead were the leading Lesley hitters.

In the other first round game Thursday night, the Rebels shellacked Estelline 13-1. Max Kennedy, Roddy Stargel, Jack Spry, Wayne Saunders and Bobby Howe paced the winners' attack. Cooper and Smith were the only Estelline hitters able to hit the air-tight hurling of Bobby Hanna. Walker was the losing hurler.

League Director Ted Myers said the regular season for this league has been ended since many of the boys are now working out for football. However, the players wishing to do so will be re-organized into new teams and play will continue until school starts, he said.

the fifth frame. Hobart used three hurlers, Calwell, Oaks and Wright. Hobart scored two runs in the second, two in the fourth and another in the fifth prior to Brawley's four-bagger.

Veltman scored the first Owl run in the second inning. He singled to reach base. Two walks and a Hobart error helped send him around.

The two Owl runs scored in the third frame came off Veltman's double with two mates aboard. Williamson had reached base on an error while Pruett had walked.

West All-Stars Upset East 14-13 In Greenbelt Bowl

RALLIES IN THIRD QUARTER; GREEN IS DEFENSIVE STANDOUT

which attracted fans to Childress' East squad in the first half, scored 13 points, but the West, tutored by Dick A & M, provided a punch after inter-rolled for 122 yards and picked up a grand total of 124 yards in their offensive play via the air lanes victory came as a sideline quarter-back given the East two touchdowns ad- game predictions. for this choice was of many boys from the East squad, and Fall's all stater,

Ray McKown of Eldridge of Phil- Jenkens of Clar- Class A boys—ranked backs. Kenneth Buck- address was the West's top running back, however. Bobby Crooks of Memphis and Bob Lane and Jack Logan of Turkey also turned in pleasing performances for the West.

The big West line lived up to its pre-game expectations. Tackle Kenneth McQueen of Memphis was a big factor in this line play. He and Charles Radford of Quana- nah sparkled on defense.

Price, the extra point special- ist, turned in the top end per- formance of the night although he barely out-shaded Vernon's Johnny Crouch who sported the white jersey of the East squad.

Both boys were key targets in their teams' aerial attacks.

A pair of Oklahoma backs car- most of the offensive burden of the East's first score in the initial period. Moving from their own 47 yard-line, Cleon Fails of Man- gum and Gerald "Pee-Wee" Smith of Elk City rambled through the West defense to the five-yard line. The score came from this spot on fourth down when Powell hit Crouch with a jump pass. The try for point was no good.

Bookout sparked the second East tally. He recovered Buckley's fumble on his own 24-yard line to check a West drive. Plays later he took a screen pass from Powell on his 30 and turned in a dazzling run to move the West to the one-yard line. Powell crossed the double stripe from there to score and found Crouch in the clear for the aerial extra point.

The West began to roll through the air with McKown tossing to Price but the end of the first half killed the drive on the East 12-yard line.

In the third stanza, McKown recovered an East fumble on the 46 and joined with Eldridge and Buckley to lead a ground offen- sive that moved to the East three. Eldridge slithered around right end for the first West score and Price converted.

Jimmy Jenkins tied up the ball game several plays later when he intercepted Powell's flat pass and sprinted 45 yards to score behind a smooth functioning blue-shirted blocking wall. Price split the up- rights with his conversion to salt the game away.

The East came knocking at the TD door again in the final period but saw their scoring opportunity die when end Dale Smith of Claude recovered a fumble on the two-yard line. McKown promptly got the West out of the hole with a booming 70-yard punt.

The game proved to be a thriller from start to finish. Few fans left the stadium before the final whistle had sounded. The competi- tive spirit of the players and their outstanding performances seem certain to make this new venture of the Childress Quarterback Club a success in the years to come.

Memphis coach Charles York and Buck Garrett of Childress as- sisted Todd with the West squad. Maxie McKnight of Wellington and Prince Scott of Vernon were on the East coaching staff with Aldrich.

The 48 players who partici- pated in the game were presented to the fans before the kick-off and were presented with jackets by the Quarterback Club. Half-time activities included the crowning of the first Greenbelt Bowl queen and the presentation of her court.

GARDENHIRE, SAUNDERS PACING BATTERS IN SOFTBALL LOOPS

Director Ted Myers this week released complete batting averages for players in the Junior and In- termediate softball leagues.

He pointed out the names of some players have been omitted but that they are boys who have not seen action in enough games to compute an accurate average on their batting.

At the same time, Myers point- ed out that all games from July 31 through August 4 were can- celled because of rain.

The following teams are in the Junior League: Wildcats, Red Devils, Longhorns and Eagles. In- termediate clubs include: Car- dinals, Rebels, Tornadoes, Rene- gades and Outlaws.

To The People Of Hall County

Due to the conflict of the dates of revival meeting which are being held in different communities of this county with that of candidate speakings,

I Will Not Speak At Any Place

during the remainder of the campaign. It is my opinion that these speakings interfere with the church affairs of this area, and I will not be a party to anything which conflicts with the programs of the churches of Hall County.

I intend to spend every hour possible talking in behalf of my candidacy for Sheriff of Hall County until the second primary. I have said before the kind of Sheriff I intend to make. The matter will be left up to the people.
