RED CROSS DRIVE

Contributions to the annual Red Cross drive in Hall County are well on their way. The goal for the county-wide collection is $2600. Only about $860.00 has been turned in to date, Treasurer A. Smith reported. Most of this contribution has been made by the population in Memphis and our rural solicitors are turning in their campaign "buckets," Smith said. The drive is still in progress and will continue for about two weeks, according to J. A. Anthony, Fund Campaign Chairman. He urged all persons who have not been contacted by drive workers to make their contributions immediately. This can be done at the State Bank or by turning the contribution over to Anthony. "We have tried to contact every one, but, of course, it is not always possible to do this," Anthony said. Anthony and Smith both indicated that if possible they would like to reach its quota within the next two weeks and the drive can be closed successfully.

BASEBALL MEN ELECT NEW OFFICERS

It is open to the public and all interested persons are invited. Memphis was given an extension until April 15 to enter the league year. J. McDaniel, past president said that the officers and directors are checking on several angles that will be reported on before final decision is made on entering a team for the 1951 season.

Proposed Cattle-Feeding Plant Will Not Be Built Near Memphis

Memphis and Hall County will not get a proposed $200,000 cattle feeding plant. This information was given to officials of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce and Hall County Board of Development Tuesday in a telephone conversation with Ed Johnson of Amarillo, one of the interested persons who had planned to build the plant here. Further verification was obtained Wednesday when The Democrat talked to Jay Taylor, partner with Johnson in livestock enterprises. Taylor told The Democrat that he and Johnson had given up the idea of building the proposed cattle feeding plant near Memphis following telephone conversation with men who reside in Memphis. Taylor said these men told him that this community did not want the feeding plant at Memphis. He further stated he had been told that, if the plant was constructed, he and his partners would face injunction suits in courts, and that they were advised to consider sites a few miles from town. "I want you to know that this reaction on the part of some of your people is a great disappointment to us," Taylor said. "As we told a small group of you a few weeks ago, we had made some pretty definite plans about setting up of a feeding plant near Memphis." Program Four weeks ago, officers of the C. of C. were contacted by Mr. Taylor and Mr. Johnson regarding the proposal, and a request was made that a few people meet with them to hear the feed plant plans outlined. A group of about 10 men met with Taylor, Johnson and two other citizens of Amarillo, and discussed the program fully. Taylor and Johnson told the group that they planned to spend approximately $200,000 in setting up the cattle feeding plant. They stated that they were considering the Memphis site due to the fact that feed needed for fattening animals was grown on Hall County farms and that other feed was manufactured by the oil mill in Memphis. It was pointed out that they wanted to construct a plant which would care for up to 10,000 head of cattle. The layout of the plant itself was to be the most modern that could be constructed. It was further emphasized that every method known to science for combating flies and filth would be adopted when—and if— (Continued on page 12)

Mrs. H. B. Estes Wins Cotton Guessing Contest

Mrs. H. B. Estes of Memphis won first place in the 1950 Cotton Guessing contest, conducted annually by The Democrat. Final tabulation of cotton ginned in the county this year amounted to 30,123 bales. Mrs. Estes guessed 30,188 to win first place. She was only 65 bales from the correct answer, much closer than previous winners. Mrs. Estes will receive a three-year subscription to The Democrat as first prize. Two contestants tied for second place with identical guesses of 30,000. They are Mrs. G. D. Worthington of Lakeview and Mrs. W. H. Monzingo of Memphis. They will receive two-year subscriptions to The Democrat. Third place winner is Bill Kinslow who guessed 29,999 bales. He will receive a one-year subscription to The Democrat. Two hundred and four persons entered guesses in the contest. Lowest figure entered was 16,000 and highest guess was 55,000 bales. Total cotton ginned last year was the lowest amount produced in Hall County in the past few years. In 1949 the county record was broken as 88,214 bales were ginned. In 1948, 42,941 bales were ginned and 42,176 bales in 1947. Census Enumerator Ace Gailey released the year's figures this week. The seven counties here in the cotton country were closer in total amount of cotton produced last year than in any previous year. As usual, Hall county led the seven counties but only by about 2,000 bales. Other counties and their production are: Briscoe, 29,051; Childress, 18,802; Collingsworth, 20,986; Cottle 22,634; Donley, 4,688 and Motley 7,953.

Water, Wind, Erosion Problems of SCS Here

Stoppage of water and wind erosion plus starting growths of cover crops has been the major problems of the Hall County Soil Conservation during the past year, according to District Conservationist Guy Cawfield. During the past year this district has constructed more than 700 miles of terraces on local farms. More than 315 miles have been built since this year started. Approximately 350 farms are cooperating in the county this year. The district soil conservation board was organized here in 1940 and since that time there has been distinct notice in increased crop production. Cotton acreage now yields an additional 25 per cent more before 1940. Project One of the outstanding projects in the county this year is located on the O. B. Hoover farm near Newlin. Here, panic grass was planted in May of 1950 on a hillside, very steep, in moderately shallow soil. This land always had been ideal for it was too steep for cultivation. However it is suitable for excellent pasture. The field had (Continued on Page 12)

THE CHANGING FARMS

Throughout the United States for the past two or three decades we have noticed the change that has come over various industries. Our cities have grown, businesses have changed and are now for the most part, larger, more prosperous...

The American farmer is no exception to this change throughout the country.

Today, American farmers own 91 billion dollars worth of land, buildings, livestock and equipment. This gigantic food "factory" turned out approximately 30 billion dollars worth of produce in 1950, or a third of the value of the "plant" itself.

In 1900 and even in 1910, American agriculture produced only a sixth of its own physical value in a year. Even in prosperous 1929 it produced a little less than one-fourth of its "plant" value, according to a study by the Family Economics Bureau.

Though America's farm population has sunk from 32 million persons to 28 million in less than half-a-century, this 12 per cent smaller force now produces twice as much food and other products as in 1900; has boosted its output per man hour by 35 per cent since 1940, according to the study.

Accomplishment

The American farmer has accomplished these gains through a 900 per cent increase in his investment in tools and machinery since 1910, and by use of better methods, better seed, better livestock, and more fertilizer.

The average U. S. farm is a third bigger today, comprising 195 acres of land, as against an average of 146 acres in 1900 and 145 acres in 1925.

Annual net income per farm was only $350 in 1900; $960 in 1925 and amounted to an estimated $2,225 in 1950.

The statistical "average farmer" in 1950 was 49 years old. His 195 acres of land with their buildings were worth $10,000. He owned $2,200 worth of implements, machinery and motor vehicles. His livestock and poultry were worth $2,100. . . . a total "plant" value of $14,300.

In addition he had $1,200 worth of crops in storage, and he held about $3,100 in cash, bank deposits and savings bonds; he also owned $350 worth of stock in his local cooperative.

Against these assets was a mortgage now paid down to $850 only 8 1/2 per cent of the value of his land and buildings (his mortgage amounted to 20 per cent of land and building value before the war); he also owed his bank, the CCC and his local merchants a total of about $1,100, leaving him a net worth of $17,000.

He sold $4,350 worth of produce in 1950, on which he netted $2,225. He and his family also used about $350 worth of their own farm produce during the year. This totalled $4,700 worth of output from land, buildings, livestock and equipment valued at $14,300 or about a third of the "plant" value.

In 1950 there were 6,372,000 farms in the United States.

QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

The Free Market Is A Public Asset

The president of a chain store system recently observed that price controls "don't cure inflation. They merely smother the symptoms."

Fortune magazine expressed a similar idea when it said that "inflation is never cured by ceilings, but merely repressed and driven underground."

There never was a time when it was more important for the people to understand and appreciate what the free market, with its competitive prices, means to them. The Fortune article, which went deeply into the problem of inflation in a war or semi-war economy, put the case in these words: "Every free market is a public asset for two reasons: first, it distributes goods more promptly and efficiently than any other system known, second, it provides a continuing measure of value and it is only such measure widely respected both by economists and by the average man." And that is true of no other kind of market ever devised.

Price competition is the first casualty of price control. The pressure on manufacturer and merchant to try to outdo their competitors in order to attract their customers is the first casualty of price control. The pressure on manufacturer and merchant to try to outdo their competitors in order to attract their customers is the first casualty of price control.

Mother of Two Praises Hadacol

HADACOL Supplies Deficient Systems With Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron

Mrs. Elmer Hise, 3225 2nd Ave., Council Bluffs, Iowa, is a good mother, and like all good mothers she keeps a careful watch for the welfare of her two young children.

And when little four-year-old Lucille Hise wasn't feeling as her mother knew she should do something about it. Mrs. Hise gave Lucille HADACOL because she had heard how much it was helping children who had poor appetites and stomach distress caused by deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin. It helped her so much that now Mrs. Hise gives HADACOL to both of her children.

Here is what Mrs. Hise says: "My daughter has taken two bottles of HADACOL and she has been eating more than before and also sleeps better. I think HADACOL is the best thing for children who do not have an appetite. My daughter is four years old. Before taking HADACOL my daughter complained of her stomach hurting her, and I got her a bottle of HADACOL and she says her stomach doesn't bother her any more. I think HADACOL is wonderful. I am also giving HADACOL to my three-year-old daughter."

HADACOL Is So Effective An important thing about HADACOL is that you get Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron in liquid form, which means that they are quickly absorbed and dispatched to the blood stream, ready to go right to work. HADACOL helps build up the hemoglobin content of the blood (when iron is needed) to carry these precious Vitamins and Minerals to every part of your body.

Memphis Wins One Act Play Contest

"Thank You Doctor" will be the one-act play entry from District 2-A at the Area Contest in Canyon on April 7. The play cast and director, Mrs. R. L. Guthrie, traveled to Wellington March 30 to compete for the first place in the District.

The plays were given in the Wellington auditorium and judged by Miss Carter, head of the English Department in Childress. Miss Smith, President of the District PTA and Mr. Cunningham from Quail. The one-act play cast from Wellington won second with their performance in "The Sister McIntosh."

"Thank You, Doctor" evolves around the clever plot of Mrs. Lester (Ann Spoon) to steal a $50,000 string of pearls from the Carter's Jewelry Store delivery boy, Denny Cort (Jacky Gilbert).

Mrs. Lester maneuvers Dr. Gurney (Alvin Bishop), famous brain specialist, and his competent assistant Nurse Gray, (Patricia Alexander) into helping her without realizing her intention.

Comedy is added by a loony patient (D'Arman Peabody) who has a habit of bursting in unannounced with crazy actions and words. The patient really turns out to be a detective, disguised in order to trap Mrs. Lester in her thievery attempt.

Pearls of Wisdom

Strung by J. H. R.

Signs of Spring
 on walking down the street, should suddenly be blinded by a splash of color don't be afraid for you are "seeing red" and need a round of Lydia Pinkham pills. More than likely, you are the Mexican pink socks and the green sweater with the red trim. The teenagers are celebrating the coming of spring as the line of vision.
 Furthermore, any day now, the "spring fever" will take place along with the mumps, measles, and scarlet fever. No matter of age or locale, young and old alike may be seized with a languid feeling of "laissez faire" or "let John do it". A good idea to adopt about this time of year is "cease sedem" (a La phrase meaning "beware of the sun" or in the Southern vanacular, "Don't let the old rocking chair get you" but when "spring is bustin' out all over" who wants to bother with mottos or house cleaning or old school.

 What does it matter that two times two

Makes four when overhead
 The sky's a dome of blue
 And the robin's breast is red!
 I dont know who thought up school

But I've this much to say
 School's no place for kids like me
 On a beautiful April day!

In London, Kensington Gardens are blossoming with flowers and nurse maids. The first sunny days are bringing the children out to float their sail boats on the ponds in the parks. The shops in Mayfair are displaying their spring finery and even George Burchett the tattoo artist on Waterloo Road is busy with his new spring designs. The trend in fashionable tattoo artistry, according to Mr. Burchett is toward "daintiness of design and subtle coloration."

A customer can't go wrong with such time-honored patterns as ships, dragons, and anchors but butterflies and flowers are much in demand as spring approaches. Some of his lady patrons are having little butterflies tattooed on their shoulders as fetching touch with decollete gowns.

And in other cities, a familiar harbinger of spring is the organ grinder and his frisky monkey. "Tony, the organ grinder, with his monkey on his arm comes with the crocuses in the spring, their anites to perform. With April showers, they appear to play and chatter for a nenny or do their act spreading cheer as well if you haven't any.

While Tony lustily sings to heaven, in a deep mellow baritone, his little friends in jacket and cap cuts "monkey-shines" of his own. As sure as the jonquils do appear, so does this cheerful twosome. Without them, even the spring of the year would seem somewhat gruesome." (Tilly)

The "Bobby-soxers" may appear in Gypsy colors gay.
 And styles of fashion change completely
 But I'm glad to say:
 The grass will be green, the sky blue
 This season and for aye.

 THAN OTHER LEADING MAKES OF TRACTOR TIRES

Power-Curve cleats are higher for longer wear and deeper bite. Each arrowhead cleat digs into the soil and holds, gives you full traction in reverse as well as forward. Your work goes faster because Power-Curve cleats are tapered at the top to slice into the soil like a knife blade. Power-Curve cleats are braced by their shape so they won't bend and scrub. And more tread rubber means you may get as much as a year's more wear from Power-Curve tractor tires. See this powerful new tire today!

Call to Action

HAVE you ever wondered how it would feel to go the limit on power and comfort and quality in an automobile?

Or how it would feel to be lord and master of a car that can take its place with the finest in the "fine-car field"?

Then, sir, this is a call to action.

The first action is yours—the simple action of getting in touch with a Buick dealer and planting yourself behind the wheel of a ROADMASTER.

Then let this great-powered and dazzling performer take over.

There's action in every one of the 152 horsepower in its Fireball engine—more action than most proud owners of this eager beauty will ever use.

There's counter-action in its gentle and sure-gripping brakes, the finest that Buick has ever engineered.

But there's also luxury—the luxury of double-depth Foamtex cushions and custom upholstery—and of ample roadweight magnificently poised on coil springs which individually cushion every wheel.

There's a spacious feeling of room, above and around you—room that is unsurpassed anywhere in the fine-car field.

And to make every mile effortless and relaxed, there's the very exclusive advantage of Dynaflo Drive—not as an "extra," but as a standard ROADMASTER feature.

So why not drop in and satisfy yourself, as our guest, that here indeed is a fine car that goes the limit—in everything but price!

Check for yourself what others ask—and what others offer—and you'll discover ROADMASTER prices a call to action that a wise man can't ignore.

Meet the Seniors

The three Seniors to be presented this week are Eddie Harrell, Shirley Hale, and Margaret Harris.

Eddie Harrell, the 19 year old son of Mrs. Jess Roden, is a well-liked member of the Senior Class. He is a member of the Cue and Curtain Club and was a member of the cast for the Senior play, "Cracked Nuts". Eddie stated in his interview that he enjoys hunting animals as well as hunting for dates of battles in his history book under the instruction of history teacher, Coach Fred Wright. Eddie's plans for the future are indefinite.

Shirley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Hale, is another familiar Senior. She was 18, August 17, and during this time she learned to like tennis, swimming, and dancing. Besides these extracurricular activities, Shirley likes bookkeeping and plans to major in Business Administration at Clarendon Junior College. Mrs. Guthrie, who teaches Shirley in English, is her favorite teacher. Shirley was President of F.H.A. and also its Secretary. She has been an M.H.S. librarian for three years and is a member of "A" Band, Senior Choral, and "Sub-Debs". Shirley might well be classified as a typical Senior.

Margaret Harris 18 year old Senior was born February 11, 1932 to Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Harris. Typing tops Margaret's list of subjects, and the typing teacher, Miss Smith, is her best-liked instructor. She enjoys skating, but also likes home economics or singing in the Choral Club. Margaret plans to major in secretarial work at Draughon's Business College, Amarillo, after graduation in May.

D. L. Kinard Plays Review Theatre Meet

D. L. C. Kinard gave an interesting play review of "The Silver Whistle" before members of the Memphis Little Theatre Tuesday afternoon, March 28. The meeting was held in the home of Misses Iris and Roselyn Williams as the Silver Whistle is the most popular of several plays written by Robert McEnro. Mrs. Kinard told the group. Written in three acts, the play is built around several elderly people who are confined to a home for the aged.

Mrs. T. M. Harrison, president, conducted the business session. Reports were given by two special committee chairmen, Mrs. Ray Childress, who reported on the city wide cleanup campaign, and Ethel Hillhouse, who told the group about the play "Goodbye My Fancy" which will be presented sometime in May. Miss Hillhouse, director, stated that casting almost complete and rehearsal would begin soon.

Pathfinders' Meet In Young Home

The Pathfinders Council met March 13, in the home of Mrs. W. D. Young.

A business meeting was conducted and a Texas Program was presented in story and harmony.

Lovely refreshments were served to Mmes. O. M. Gunstream, Earl Pritchett, A. O. Gidden Bill Monzingo, Gene Chamberlain, Robert Breedlove, Chas. Williams, Jr., Hall Nelson, A. Gidden, Anne Dickson, Barney Burnett, and Misses Betty Lemons, Elizabeth Grundy and the hostess.

Hints & Tips on Gardening

Poppies and larkspurs have a habit of coming up where you don't want them to grow. They can be transplanted only if it is done while very small, preferably as soon as the leaves are developed enough so you can tell what they are—even then their roots are two inches or more in the ground which makes it necessary to move them with quite a clump of dirt so that the little hair-like roots are undisturbed. If they have rich soil and plenty of water they make a spring-snow worth having. Plant them in the background where stalks can be removed in time to plant annuals later.

Hedge plants and shrubs must be planted soon if you are to get good growth this year.

Vitex should be pruned as severely as you like before new growth starts.

Salisbury Club Meets Tuesday In Jerrel Home

Mrs. Felix Jarrel, assisted by Mrs. E. L. McQueen Jr., entertained members of the Salisbury Sewing Club Tuesday afternoon. The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Jarrel.

Refreshments were served to three guests, Miss Peggy Mitchell, Mrs. Joe Brooks, Mrs. M. P. Martin, and the following members: Mmes. Larry McQueen, E. L. McQueen, E. L. McQueen Jr., W. B. McQueen, Doc Messick, Cecil Lockhart, T. K. Wilton, C. F. Stout, L. I. Davis, John Nichols, Lorene Lockhart, Ten Barnes, Jess Mitchell, W. D. Lawrence, E. Lee, Ida Hutcherson and Neal Sweat.

The next meeting is scheduled for May 1 in the home of Mrs. T. K. Wilton. Mrs. Cecil Lockhart will serve as co-hostess.

REPORT FROM WASHINGTON

By CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS

It has been rather quiet during the past week around the Capitol. This is due to the recess of the House for a ten-day period. It is the lull before the storm, as the manpower bill will be on the floor next week from all indications, and this is to be quite a controversial issue. The House committee has rewritten a major portion of the Senate version of this legislation.

Legislations are that the draft age is going to be a highly controversial matter. There will also be amendments undertaking to fix the power to send troops overseas, which is the question now being debated by the Senate in a separate bill. The final version of this legislation is going to have a tremendous impact on world events.

This Congress is being watched by all foreign powers with a great deal of interest. Events in the next three months will determine the course of this country for a long period to come. These events will definitely have a bearing on the period during which the preparedness program will continue.

The approach of the UN forces to the 38th parallel in Korea brings closer to hand the decision of great importance. The question of "to cross or not to cross" will be the most serious question that this country faces or has faced since it was crossed last fall. The potential all-out war with China may well depend upon the correct answer to this question. It is certainly as important to China as it is to this country, if not more so.

History reveals that there has never been a time when there was a unified China. The Red forces fully realize this and it is causing them great concern. A peaceful settlement by Mao at this juncture would be one of the greatest steps in history toward world peace. If he can save his face by ceasing hostilities, it will no doubt be done. If he does not feel that he can save his face, he will let every Red Chinaman die before he gives his cease fire order.

MOBILIZATION: Much talk has been going the rounds about the statement of Charles Wilson to the effect we can fight an all out war by the third year and the statement by General Marshall to the effect that he was disturbed by the letdown in general opinion concerning our preparedness program. Actually these two statements are not in conflict.

There is no question but that the public in many sections of the country has permitted the recent successes in Korea to create a feeling of security. This could prove detrimental to the preparedness program, but it has not had that effect to date.

This congress is not going to relax the preparedness program by reason of any temporary successes. We all realize that the salvation of this country and our way of life is going to depend upon the immediate building of a strong military force and that this force is essential as a backdrop in any peace negotiations with any of the aggressor nations.

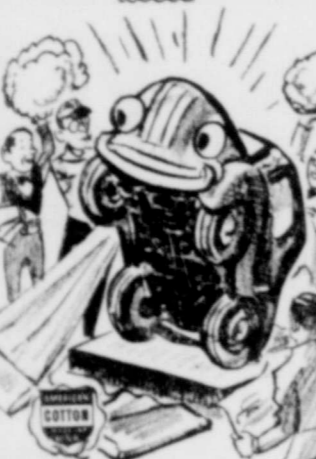

THE PRESIDENT OF FRANCE—The Stars and Stripes are flying at all corners of the Capital flanked by the French-tricolor. This is in honor of le President Auriol, the first French President to visit this country. This visit is definitely building a bulwark against communism.

CRIME INVESTIGATIONS:—Much mail is being received asking for continuance of the Kefauver Committee. The permanent committee on this matter should be a joint committee with full investigation powers. Crime, like communism, is going to be crushed in this country. Look for some big developments.

Food Production Top Project Among 4-H Clubs

Texas 118,327 4-H Club members will be emphasizing three major food producing projects this year. They hope to top 1950 production in field crops, garden and poultry. Some 2,000,000 youths throughout the nation will be doing their part in the mobilization program by participating in 4-H Club activities.

In these projects 4-H boys and girls, ranging from 10 to 21 years learn latest scientific agricultural techniques and approved farming practices. They also have an opportunity to demonstrate phases in which they have become particularly skilled. Learning to judge crops, garden produce, poultry and eggs is another part of their 4-H training.

Awards will be made next fall to club members who have done the best job. Medals will be presented to county winners, a trip to the 1951 National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago to state winners, and a $300 college scholarship to the national champions. Donor of awards in the field crops project is International Harvester. Poultry awards are given by Dearborn Motors, and garden by Allis-Chalmers Mfg. Company.

Memphis Student Sings in Concert

Cleora Mae Tiner, student from Memphis at Midwestern University in Wichita Falls, was one of forty music students participating in the University's Spring Music Festival from March 18 through April 1. Miss Tiner sang with the Madrigal singers in the festival's third concert.

All three concerns have provided these incentives for the past several years.

Local 4-H Club leaders and County Extension agents conduct the projects which are under the supervision of the Cooperative Extension Service.

Dairy Show Slated April 7 At Plainview

The nation's oldest dairymen show, the Panhandle-Plains Dairy Show, now in its 24th consecutive year, will open on April 7 in Plainview.

A major addition to this year's event is the inclusion of the Brown Swiss breed. Show officials are expecting 50 head of choice cattle in this division. Other breeds represented in the show are Guernsey, Jersey, Holstein, and Milking Shorthorn.

The show is open to exhibitors from the states of Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma, and a general registration of over 500 head of cattle is expected. Unique in its respects, the Panhandle-Plains Dairy Show facilities is one of the few in the nation in which the stall is equipped with the milking facilities.

The president of the 1951 Panhandle-Plains Dairy Show is W. J. Witkowski, Farmer-Dairymen's Club, Happy.

The dates of the show are April 7-13. You get only the best of vice when you bring your milk to Wit Monzingo, your Chryslers mouth dealer.

Insurance Man, Moore Honored

A. Moore, Panhandle representative of Kansas City Life Insurance Company, has been named Vice President for renewals of the Company's President's Club, an organization of Kansas City Life Insurance men.

Moore has been with the Company since 1928. He is a member of the Texas Agency, the O. Sam Cummings Agency, for more than 20 years. Besides being elected Vice President of the Club, Moore is also a charter and qualifying member of the President's Club and the Leader's Round Table of Texas, top producing agent of the Texas Association of Life Underwriters.

He is a winner of the National Quality Award, a distinction reserved for members in the National Association of Life Underwriters who specialize in writing quality life insurance.

O. Sam Cummings, state manager for Texas of Kansas City Life Insurance Company, lauded Moore for his outstanding record and said: "No member of our Cummings Agency field organization is any better known or more universally beloved than Zeb Moore for 21 years a leader in production—and throughout his entire career of 20 years full-time work a member of the Company App-A-Week Club. Not in a single week since he became a career underwriter in our Agency as an associate of the late Nath Hudgins, then District Manager at Memphis, has Zeb failed to submit one or more applications.

"The most remarkable feature of Zeb's record is that his business is spread over an area of not less than 100 square miles. Memphis is where he began his work.

New Price Rules Named on Foods For This Month

A system of price control for the nation's grocery stores, modeled after the most successful war-time regulations in the food field, will be put into operation in April, the Office of Price Stabilization has announced.

The new system will result in a great many price changes, with decreases expected to considerably exceed any increases. Michael V. DiSalle, OPS director said.

DiSalle announced issuance of three companion pricing regulations, all effective April, 1951 which fix controlled percentage margins that wholesalers and retailers must henceforth use in pricing a wide variety of market basket foods. For convenience the percentages are described as the percentage over cost instead of percentage over sales.

The regulations establish the highest price that can be charged legally. All wholesalers and retailers, of course, are free to sell below the established ceiling price.

Among major foods covered in the regulation are butter, packaged cheese, baby food, cocoa, breakfast cereals, coffee and tea.

He has policy holders in literally dozens of communities in the Texas Panhandle, and despite their residence in scattered territory, hard as they are to reach, Zeb achieved the almost phenomenal persistency record which finally led to his great distinction as President's Club Vice President for Renewals.

"No wonder Zeb has succeeded in a big way! His philosophy of life—service to his fellow men—made his a 'natural' for life underwriting," Cummings said.

flour mixes, canned and frozen fruits and vegetables, jams and jellies, lard, mayonnaise and salad dressings, shortenings, canned meats and canned fish.

In all, more than one-half (60 per cent) of food purchases in the nation's 650,000 retail stores are covered.

The new regulations are issued to take these foods from under the general "freeze" order of January 26 and put them under a system of price control which weathered the test of experience during the war period.

Major grocery items not covered are fresh milk, and cream, fresh meats, bread, fresh fruits and vegetables, sugar, ice cream, soft drinks and candy, along with a number of less important foods and "specialty" items. Beers, wines, and liquors are also excluded.

Except for fresh fruits and vegetables and sugar, which are now exempt from price control, prices of all excluded items remain under the General Ceiling Price Regulation. Regulations to meet the special pricing problems involved in production and sale of the excluded items are being prepared at OPS for early issuance.

PMA-SCS Agencies To Consolidate In One Office

Representatives of government agriculture offices met in the PMA office Saturday afternoon to discuss the recent government order to consolidate the Production Marketing Administration and the Soil Conservation Service and other offices if possible.

The PMA and SCS will be consolidated and the Farm Home Administration and the county extension offices may join the consolidation.

Adequate space to house the consolidation was the problem discussed and efforts are now under way to secure the basement of the post office building. Final approval must come from postal authorities and federal supervisors.

"A consolidation of these four agencies would definitely be of advantage of farmers in the area," Lynn McKown, PMA administrative officer said. "Such a move would enable a farmer to transact his business with the agencies all at one time and one place."

Present at the meeting were G.

W. Taylor of Childress, district Soil Conservation Service office; Guy Cawfield, County Conservationist; J. J. McDaniel, supervisor of county SCS district board; Earl W. Wilson, acting supervisor of FHA; County Agent W. B. Hooser; PMA county committee: R. A. Eddleman, J. C. Montgomery and R. D. Hall; and McKown.

REPORT FROM AUSTIN

Rep., 121st. District

forces. About 5000 of them arrived before the Drys did, and each of them wore a sign, also—stating that they were against statewide prohibition. These two large groups overflowed the House of Representatives and its huge gallery. Not even standing room was left. Squeezed in at their desks were most of the legislators. For nearly four hours the speakers for the Wets and the Drys argued back and forth. For nearly four hours there were fiery speeches, tears and testimonials. A great flow of sentiment and of facts, of emotion and of reason. Under the strict eyes of the House sergeant-at-arms, and his deputies, there was little noise or display from the great crowd, but the very air was wrought with tension, as both sides put themselves mentally behind their respective spokesmen.

BOTTLED IN BOND . . . Three little froggies who grew from tadpoles in booze bottle in Washington, D.C., marshland found they couldn't get out.

work. Both sides have had all the time they wanted to present their case. Both sides had their chosen leaders to lead the way. All had been equally welcomed and fairly heard. Then their elected representatives had passed judgment.

The issues at stake or their fate before our governing bodies will never be as important as this system of government which allows us all an even break if we will but exercise the privileges available to us by our government.

Immediately after the committee vote on the prohibition issue was announced, two elderly women sitting behind my desk were giving vent to their feelings. This included a general indictment of all legislators.

One lady whispered to the other: "That man in front of us is an example—there he sits, with a pretty secretary by his side. Notice how he looks at her? Pays her a big salary so she can look pretty to please him, while his poor wife stays at home and work his toenails and finernails off. Naturally he wouldn't work a secretary he pampers like that one, so you can just know what he does do, no wonder the good people can't get him to vote for Prohibition—oh, oh, oh!"

The woman by my side and I heard this conversation and could hardly hold our laughter for this allegedly pampered "secretary"

How To Save Extra Time For Housewives

Each Texas housewife can get an extra vacation of more than a week from household activities this year.

A little more than seven full days in the 365 could be added to the leisure time of every homemaker in the state if she would modernize her food shopping habits, a study conducted by the Servel Homemaker's Institute reveals.

The research disclosed that most of Texas' 1,643,876 housewives shop for groceries every day, a staggering total of 598,370,864 hours, or approximately 24,658,140 days. By shopping only twice a week for food, which now is possible because modern household refrigerators can hold more than a week's supply of food at a time, each housewife could reduce grocery shopping time by half. Whereas everyday shopping requires an estimated 15 full days a year of each homemaker, the twice-a-week system cuts the figure to 7.5 days.

The Servel study also revealed other flaws in women's food shopping habits. For example, 66 per cent waste valuable energy by concentrating grocery purchases into Friday and Saturday, although they could more easily shop during the first three days of the week when stores are less crowded.

One reason advanced for the housewife's adhering to weekend shopping habits is that she has not yet fully realized that modern refrigeration keeps perishable foods many days longer than was possible with the old icebox which long ago made necessary both frequent shopping and "loading up" for the weekend.

The error of every-day shopping is most prevalent among city homemakers, the research showed, because of the around-the-corner accessibility of stores. Suburban dwellers have learned to buy foods twice or three times a week, and the rural Saturday shopping habit is still fairly general in the state.

RESEARCH

More than 24 research contracts all of which are important to national defense are being performed for federal government agencies by the University of Texas at Austin.

Mulberry Road May Be Started

Advertisements of bids for construction of the bridge and pavement on the road from Mulberry to Red River may be expected next month if the county can secure right-of-ways in time, it was learned this week.

This road located southwest of Brice near the county line will provide about five or six miles of pavement to the Prairie Dog Fork of Red River where a bridge would be constructed across this fork. This would leave approximately 15 miles of a new road to be built at a later date in Turkey. At present the only road from Mulberry is a dirt road traveling southwest into Silvertown.

Cattle Feeding—

the set-up was established. Citizens of Memphis were assured that there would be very little odor, and that a satisfactory method for the removal of manure would be worked out. It was pointed out that no cattle would be slaughtered at the plant.

Taylor and Johnson did not ask the citizens of Memphis to give them land upon which to set up their plant, nor for capital of any kind. They did request that a committee talk to land owners in order to make preliminary contact toward purchase of property.

The Amarillo cattlemen and businessmen selected as their proposed site some 120 acres of land lying immediately south of the oil mill property. This location was made due to the fact that it offered perfect drainage in two directions from a point in the center of the tract, and for its nearness to the oil mill. Location close to the mill was necessary to eliminate cost of transporting cottonseed hulls and cottonseed meal, which would be purchased in large volume.

As outlined in the early proposal, feed pens would be built south of storage buildings office, and feed mixing plant. These buildings would be located on the north end of the property.

Feed Purchases Taylor stated Wednesday that if plans had materialized, over $1,000,000 worth of feed would be bought from county farmers each year. To finish out the cattle, the operators would use grain been terraced two years before seeding the hillside last May. At present there is a stand of grass about waist high. It would have a carrying capacity of about an animal unit per acre for a years growing season.

Another outstanding project of the conservation office this year was the construction of a control dam and six fills where, before, was a washed out gully.

Gully Control This project is located on the Frank Foxhall farm also near Newlin. The gully for years had been a washed-out path for draining water from the levee and hills on this farm. It has been there for so many years the earth was washed away to about a four or five foot depth.

This gully carried off valuable water for miles. A dam approximately 35 feet long was built with a 12 inch overload pipe.

Behind this dam on lower elevation, six fills were constructed to raise and use this water which overflowed from the dam. At each of the fills the land was terraced in such a manner to permit the water to flow from the fills toward the land on each side which was crop land.

Another project which was continued this year in the county and which has shown amazing results concerns the O. S. Callihan farms.

Sub-Marginal In 1940 Callihan owned 120 acres of sub-marginal land. By observation of soil conservation methods he changed the land in to good productive land. From year to year, he purchased additional land, all sub-marginal. At present, he is one of the biggest farmers in Hall county and has built all his land from sub-marginal soil.

Working with Cawfield in the Hall county office are L. A. Richards Jr., H. R. Frisbie, R. H. Shackelford, all conservation aids and Miss Bernice Spencer, clerk.

The district participated in about 15 different soil conservation practices throughout the past few years. These include, terracing, contour farming, cover crops, construction of farm tanks, diversions, water spreading systems, mosquito eradication, grass seeding, range improvement, crop residue management, deep plowing, drainage ditches, irrigation, wildlife area improvement and general water facilities.

The Hall county district includes land north of the Red River to Highway 83 to the Childress-Wellington Highway into both Childress and Collingsworth counties.

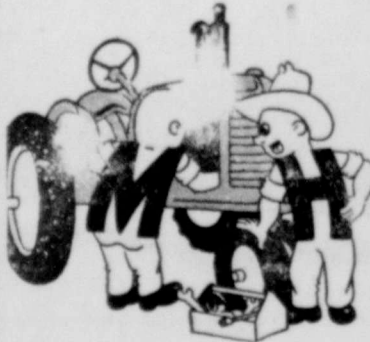

sorghums, alfalfa and bundles. He added that he and his partners had just opened feeding operations at Tucumcari, New Mexico.

Johnson and Taylor are owners of the Amarillo Livestock Company, the largest layout of its kind in the world. They are also officers and stockholders in the Tri-State Packing Company in Amarillo, which is to hold its formal opening within the next few weeks.

Custom Feeding Another proposal which was included in the plans for the plant here was a method of custom feeding for local farmers and ranchers. Under the plan as explained by Taylor and Johnson, any person could place cattle in the plant, purchase the feed, and the employees of the plant would care for it.

This custom feeding program is meeting with interest among a few farmers and ranchers who have heard about it. "We have been approached by other cities with attractive propositions," Taylor told The Democrat Wednesday, "but we were interested in a site near Memphis due to its particular advantages."

"We thought we were bringing you something you and the people of the rural communities would like to get. In the face of opposition we have received in the telephone conversations from a few of your citizens, we are forced to say that we are no longer interested in your city as a site," Taylor said.

When we tackle a repair job, you know it's done right!

The election of city officials passed off quietly Tuesday, and good men were elected to conduct the city's business for the next two years. The election of school trustees for the various school districts will take place Saturday and this is another important business affecting the communities. Both city and school officials, as well as directors of the chamber of commerce, serve without pay and most of the time without praise.

To Carl Harrison, the newly-elected mayor of Memphis, I want to extend congratulations. Also to extend my sympathy. Speaking as one who knows from experience, you will be cussed if you do and cussed if you do not. Your best bet while serving as mayor is to do your duty as you see it, having in mind the best interests of the community you serve. Then you can go to sleep at night with a clear conscience.

Don't expect much commendation for something well done, but on the other hand expect criticism for doing something that does not meet the approval of folks, especially from a few. My wish for you and your eight councilmen is that you will continue the good work started by the forefathers of Memphis, including that of your father, and keep the city in the forefront of towns of the Panhandle.

Carl, let's hope that Memphis never gets a citizen who is a character assassin—the kind of ghoulish who feasts on human character like a buzzard feeds on carrion, such as some towns have to tolerate; the kind of person who had rather destroy one's character than to do something constructive for his community. May you Mayor Carl Harrison never have to be the object of such a person's base thoughts and whispers, and may you have the plaudits, "Well done thou good and faithful servant", when you come to the end of your administration!
