Gregory Announces Estelline '51 Faculty

Senior students will be in charge of the school on Saturday, Sept. 1, at the high school, Supt. C. O. Gregory announced this week and the school term gets underway Monday.

Gregory announced that the schools Monday and a luncheon will be held at the school and lunch will be served in the cafeteria.

Gregory believes we have an excellent faculty and can look forward to a good year, Gregory said.

Members of the Estelline school faculty include Mrs. Trudy Britt, first grade, Mrs. R. B. Tucker, second grade, Mrs. J. W. Buchanan, third grade, Mrs. A. C. Hudson, sixth grade teacher, Huey H. Cook Jr., fourth grade, and elementary school. Cook comes from Shamrock and is a graduate of West State and taught last year in Teller. Mrs. J. W. Hudson teaches music and R. B. Tucker will serve as school principal.

Other high school instructors include Mrs. Elizabeth Kennedy, LeSott, who will act as coach next year. He is a graduate of Payne College and taught at Lakeview last year. Others include Rayworth, Mrs. Arva Knight and M. Carroll. Carroll will teach vocational agriculture. He is a Texas Tech graduate and has taught at the past two years.

Ira B. Bates is instructor of the Negro school.

The school cafeteria was renovated this summer and Mrs. Wade will be superintendent. Other employees are Mrs. McCullum, Mrs. Olive Rich, and Mrs. Jewel Tyree.

Drivers this year will be Morrison, Bob Butler, Rev. Cooper, Huey Cook and Barnett. C. T. Jarvis is custodian.

Bonnie Willis will be superintendent of the grade school. Mrs. Eula and Mrs. Porter Willis also will be in charge of the education program.

County Budget For 1952 Passed

The proposed budget for Hall County was submitted to a hearing last Saturday afternoon in County Court and with no opposition was passed by all Commissioners.

The budget for 1952 calls for taxation on county property of $95,000 which is about $9,000 more than this year, however there is less cash on hand for 1952 than there was at the start of 1951.

A break-down of the 1952 budget shows $35,100 cash estimated to be on hand after this year, as compared with $67,000 cash last year. Taxes this year were $85,000 and will be $95,000 next year. Other incomes this year amounted to $84,025 and are estimated for 1952 to be $110,025. This gives a total income for 1952 of $240,125 against estimated disbursements of $203,735.28 which would leave a cash balance of about $36,389.92.

The $95,000 taxation on county property comes from the assessed value of taxable property in the county amounting to $10,000,000.00. The county tax rate here is 95¢ per $100. assessment.

EAGLE SCOUT AWARD GOES TO JIMMY DAVIS

Presentation of the Eagle Scout award was made to Scout Jimmy Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Davis, by Scout Leader Ace Gailley at a ceremony presented before the Lions Club Wednesday.

Davis received the Eagle Scout award in the presence of Explorer Scouts Carrol Gardenhire, Leon Rogers, Jackie Boone, Roy Coleman, Buzzy Patrick, James Freeman, James Moss and Roddy Bice, Scout C. L. Wynn and Candidate Scout Jarry Hickey and mascot Marvin Middleton.

Ted Myers, Scoutmaster, was master of ceremonies and conducted the Court of Honor: the Allegiance to the flag was led by Davis, a program of Scouting from Cubs through Explorer Scouts was reviewed by Myers, presentation of awards, an address, "Is It Worth It," by Scoutmaster Myers and retreat.

In his speech, Myers pointed out how the training as Scouts helps American boys to better prepare for their future as compared with the suppression of Scouting work in most foreign countries, especially the communist controlled powers.

Scouting teaches boys to help their church, other people, their country, enables them to take care of themselves, be physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight, Myers said.

Representative Rogers To Address Local People Here Tuesday Night

Congressman Will Speak At 8 P. M. On Current Topics

The cotton harvest problem and future of the farm program will be the highlight of an address by Congressman Walter Rogers of Pampa when he speaks at a county-wide meeting of Hall County citizens next Tuesday evening. He will speak from the platform in front of the amphitheater in the City Park in Memphis. The meeting is scheduled to begin promptly at 8 p. m.

Taking as his subject, "Report from Washington," Cong. Rogers not only will discuss the farm problems facing the people of the Panhandle, but will delve into such matters as the international situation, prices and controls, socialism and bureaucracy and the 1952 political outlook.

Rogers and his secretary, Dee Dodson of Quitaque, and two of the congressman's sons arrived in Pampa Wednesday. He will spend approximately 10 days in the Panhandle, and will appear before groups in about half of the counties in this district.

Rogers told a representative of The Democrat Wednesday night that he would spend the day Tuesday, Sept. 4, in Memphis. He is scheduled to address a joint meeting of the Lions Club, Rotary Club and Business and Professional Women's Club at noon. During the morning and afternoon, the congressman will visit friends in Memphis, and take a tour over Hall County.

"I am deeply interested in the cotton situation, not only from the standpoint of the labor problem, but from the standpoint of the prices at which it is selling today," he said. "I intend to tell my friends in Hall County some of..."

New Registration Plan Announced By Supt. Davis

School buses will begin to roll for the Memphis Independent School district next Thursday morning as students report to the school building Thursday and Friday for registration and preliminary work before school actually gets underway Monday, September 10, Supt. W. C. Davis announced this week.

Both days will be short and students will be dismissed shortly after lunch Davis said.

Registration schedules for elementary students Thursday are different this year and parents are asked to check this story and send their children to the proper schools to register. Changes have been made since the Junior high school has been turned into an elementary school and the Junior high students moved to the high school building.

Registration schedules are as follows: All seventh and eighth grade students as well as high school students will report to the High school for enrollment.

First grade students who live south of Noel street will report to the Junior high school for enrollment. First graders who live north of Noel street and all first graders who ride the school bus will report to West Wart for enrollment.

All second grade students who live south of Noel street will enroll at Junior high and all second grade students who live north of Noel and all second graders who ride the bus will enroll at West Wart.

All third grade students who live south of Noel will enroll at Junior high and all third graders who live north of Noel and all third grade bus students will enroll at West Wart.

Fourth grade students who live south of Noel and all fourth graders who ride the bus will enroll at Junior high school. But all fourth grade students who live north of Noel street will enroll at West Wart.

Fifth graders who live south of Noel and all fifth graders who ride the bus will enroll at Junior high but fifth grade students who live north of Noel will report to West Wart to enroll.

All sixth grade students who live south of Noel street will enroll at Junior high and sixth grade students who live north of Noel plus all sixth graders who ride the bus will enroll at West Wart.

The reason for the divisions as they have been planned by school officials, Davis reported, is to balance the number of school students in the two schools. He asked that the public and parents be patient with the schools for a few days until the system begins to operate.

Faculty Members To Attend Pre School Session

A pre-school planning program for all faculty members of the Memphis Independent School District, PTA officers and substitute teachers will be held September 3, 4 and 5, Supt. W. C. Davis announced today.

The faculty will have lunch each day in the cafeteria and the program will be directed by teachers who attended summer workshops at colleges this year.

Plans for the coming school term will be made and explained to teachers and other arrangements made for the school session starting Monday.

Davis reported that remodeling plans on all four schools, Junior High, West Ward, High School and Negro school, are in the final stage and will be completed before school begins.

New rubber tile floors have been installed at all schools plus re-painting and additional rooms added to the school buildings.

Fire Record For Memphis Classed Good

Information was received this week by Fire Chief J. T. Clayton from Olin Culberson, Secretary of the State Firemen's and Fire Marshal's Association as to the wonderful record of premiums and losses the city of Memphis now has.

The past two years the city has earned a 25 per cent credit on their fire record. This is a benefit to Memphis citizens because cities which enjoy a fire credit do not have to pay as high insurance rates as cities with penalties.

During the year 1951, thus far Memphis also will earn the 25 per cent credit.

Secretary Culberson wrote Chief Clayton commenting on the record and pointed out what a...

Other suggestions were unanimous for 100 per cent parity.

Liquor Violations Tried In Court

Four cases of liquor violation were heard in County Court under Judge M. O. Goodpasture last week, two by trial and two in which the defendants pleaded guilty.

Thieves Enter Farm Home, Steal With Loot

New leads have yet been developed in the burglary of the Wynn farm home last week but Sheriff's officers are following several clues.

Spans were in Illinois at the time a son in service and they broke in through their front door and looted the entrance.

As missing were a shot-gun, two radios, several pieces of furniture, an electric clock, a stove, a box of jewelry, two dishes and pans, pillows and numerous other items.

The burglary took place somewhere between August 20 and August 22.

New Vehicle Laws Go In Effect Sat.

County Tax Collector-Assessor J. W. Coppedge forwarded new regulations this week, recently passed by the state legislature effecting auto dealers and persons engaged in motor vehicle transfers.

New regulations are effective September 1, this year. The new law still levies 1.1 per cent tax on each retail sale, and there will be a $5 tax on all even trades, a $10 tax on gifts, a $15 tax on vehicles registered by new residents of this state.

A motor vehicle is any self-propelled vehicle including trailers and semi-trailers. Coppedge said the law requires the purchaser and seller to make a joint affidavit setting forth the value in dollars of the total consideration, not the difference, received or to be received by the seller in a retail sale.

Coppedge also pointed out there is a levy of $25 to $100 against the seller for errors in the joint affidavit.

He added that the information is being sent to persons in order that there will be no overdue delay in transfer of any motor vehicle titles.

Frank Monzingo Has 1st '51 Bale

Hall County's first cotton of 1951 came from the gin at 2 p. m. last Friday.

The first bale weighed 415 pounds and was ginned from cotton picked on the F. E. Monzingo farm, six miles east of Memphis. The Farmers Union Co-op Gin processed the first bale.

County Agent W. B. Hooser speaking of cotton prospects in this county said, "Hall has chances for some of the best cotton produced in the state this year, if nothing happens to hinder production."

Parts of the county are suffering with sunburnt and dry cotton.

No official estimate of production from the approximately 175,000 acres planted in this county has been made.

32 Cyclones Report For Daily Workouts

Coaches John Hansard and Bob Blair began football workouts with 32 Memphis high school football aspirants Monday with two workouts each day scheduled until school starts Monday week.

Of the 32 boys out this year, only five were regulars on last year's Cyclone first string. Several others are lettermen and still others were squadmen last season.

Hansard and Blair have been drilling the boys in fundamentals with lots of blocking and tackling and lots more running trying to round out their prospects and get them in shape. Hansard has outlined a rigid training schedule for the boys but hopes to have them ready for their first game September 7 against Tulsa.

The Cyclones have yet to divide into teams and scrimmage.

Hansard indicated that would come later after they have definitely learned their fundamentals and plays.

Regulars back this year include Duane Miller, Carl Lee, Charles Messer, Max Kenedy and Freddy Vinson.

Other gridmen suited out this year include Billy Vallance, Roland Caufield, Frank Norman, Omer Johnson, Kenneth Cheek, Jimmy Davis, Roy Coleman, Monty Clark, Jackie Boone, Max McCoy, Dave Archer, Charles Hartman, Jimmy Morrison, Harvey Kennedy, Carrol Gardenhire, Gayle Monzingo, Bobby Don Burnett, Vance Adams, Wayne Jenkins, Julius Stevens, Macky Allen, Ronnie Smith, Dave Corley, Duke Frisby and Clyde Tamplin.

Managers this year are Troy Taylor and Denny Davis.

Game Officials Approve Changes In Dove Season

Endorsement of the mourning dove season changes as a step toward "good conservation" was voiced by the Executive Secretary of the Game, Fish & Oyster Commission.

His comment followed an announcement by the Federal Fish and Wildlife Service that the Texas mourning dove season would be reduced from 45 to 40 days for most of the state, with the daily shooting period cut from sunup to sundown, to noon to sundown.

The Fish and Wildlife Service which makes the final decision on all migratory birds, followed the season opening dates for mourning doves as recommended by the Game Commission, pursuant to a popular poll of Texas sportsmen.

The opening in the north zone which comprises about three-fourths of Texas, will be September 1, as usual and will end October 10. The south zone will be November 15. The season in that zone will close December 21, with the season three days shorter than the north zone because south zone hunters in twelve counties will have a special three-day white wing dove season, September 14, 16 and 18.

The Executive Secretary said field reports indicate sufficient

Pearls of Wisdom

Strung by J. H. R.

names of their trades or occupations so there was Collier (a dealer in coal or maker of charcoal) Sawyer (a carpenter), Hooper (a fisherman), and Cutler (a maker of knives) to name only a few.

Perhaps this early custom of adopting one's surname from the trade he followed helps to explain why there are so many Smiths in the world. Smith came from the Anglo-Saxon 'smitan' meaning to smite or strike with a hammer. In the Middle Ages, the smith's was the essential industry. He made plows and scythes for the farms; breastplates, spear-arms, and knives for combatant metal collars for serfs. Shoeing horses was only a small part of his work. A black-smith, by the way, worked with iron or black metal, a white-smith worked with tin or white metal. By the same token a 'wright' worked in wood so there was Wainwright, Cartwright, Arkwright (maker of wooden chests).

By far the deadliest weapon of early Middle Ages was the bow and arrow. Hence the names Bowman, Bowes, Archer, Stringer (who made special cord for bows). If your family always lived in the same town, theirs might be a name that described the location of their home—at the well at the bridge, at the ash tree. So there was John at the Ford, or John at the Ash. Later the names were shortened to Atwood, Atwater Atwell etc.

Of course, many people took colors for their surnames as Black, White and such. Still others had surnames suggested by tavern signs with animals and other objects painted in gay colors. to wit, Fox, Wolf, Buck, Spear Horn, and Keyes. But perhaps the easiest way to identify a person was to connect him with his father, Walter the son of John became Walter Johnson. Such names were called a 'patronymic', formed by adding a syllable or letter to the end of the name or Mac, Ap, Fitz, or O' in front of the father's name, Fitzpatrick, O'Rielly MacShane for example.

Most of our ancestors, however, poo-pooed the necessity for surnames being content to be known as Joe or Mary. In fact, as late as 1465, Edward IV of England had to pass a law compelling certain of his subjects to adopt a family name. The law read in part:

"They shall take unto them a surname, either of some Towne or some Coloum as Black or Brown, or some Arte or Science as Smythe or Carpenter, or some office as Cooke or Butler."

And now if you will rock in your hammock until next week I'll give you some more clues that may help you to discover how your name came to be.

VET PROBLEMS AND ANSWERS

Q. During my service in the Navy, I received two service-connected disabilities—one during peacetime and the other during World War II. Now that I have been discharged, could I get two separate disability compensation checks from VA, one for each disability?

A. No. Only one compensation award may be paid to an individual veteran, regardless of the number of disabilities he may have incurred. However, if VA approves your claim for disability compensation, payment for your combined disabilities will be made at wartime rates, despite the fact that one of the disabilities occurred during peacetime service.

Q. Does a veteran with a dishonorable discharge have the right to file a claim for a VA benefit?

A. It is always the privilege of any veteran to file a claim with VA. But in order to establish eligibility for VA benefits he must prove he was insane at the time he committed the act for which he was dishonorably discharged.

Q. Are the widower and children of a woman veteran entitled to pension at her death?

A. Under present laws, a widower is not entitled to pension if eligibility requirements are met.

Q. I signed a statement of my discharge that my disability existed before I entered service. Will this render me ineligible for disability compensation?

A. No. One provision of the Bill nullifies any such statement made at the time of discharge as to whether your disability was incurred in or aggravated by your service as made by VA. Compensation will be awarded for service-connected disabilities which existed to service.

Q. I signed a statement of my discharge that my disability existed before I entered service. Will this render me ineligible for disability compensation?

OPS To Hike Ceiling Prices On Pork Loins

Dollars-and-cents ceiling prices that will mean increases of 3 to 9 cents a pound in the cost of pork loins have been issued by the Office of Price Stabilization in order to offset the cost to processors and sellers of substantial increases in the cost of live hogs since last January, the Lubbock district OPS office advises.

The higher ceiling prices affect pork loins weighing 16 pounds or less and will affect retail prices of roasts and chops. The OPS will replace those frozen at unusually low levels by the ceiling price regulation last January.

The new interim regulation which was immediately effective sets a maximum ceiling price of 52 cents a pound for regular loins weighing 16 pounds or less delivered in Chicago to the market by a seller who slaughters his own hogs. The ceiling price cuts the loin from a dressed weight of 16 pounds to a live weight of 16 pounds or less.

State Fair To Exhibit Show Herds 14 Days

Show herds of all beef and dairy cattle breeds shown at the 1951 State Fair of Texas will be on exhibit through the opening 14 days of the fair, Oct. 6-19, Livestock Manager Ray Wilson has announced.

In addition, there will be exhibition herds of Santa Gertrudis Charbray and Charolais cattle on hand during the opening 14 days of the fair.

Because the fair has such a lengthy run, many fairgoers have missed seeing their favorite breed because its show was over or hadn't yet begun on the day they visited the fair.

Congressman— (Continued from Page 1) the things I believe should come to pass when I appear at your county-wide meeting."

Beef and dairy cattle shows are held separately—beef cattle being shown Oct. 6-12, and dairy cattle Oct. 12-19 this year.

Show herds of Guernseys, Holstein-Friesians, Jerseys and Milking Shorthorns will be on exhibit during the beef cattle shows, and top herds of Herefords, Aberdeen Angus, Shorthorns and Brahmans will remain in the cattle barns during the dairy show. This is made possible through cooperation of breed associations and prominent breeders, Wilson said.

A tentative program will include music by the Memphis High School Band, introduction of welcoming committee who will be platform guests, and welcome address by Mayor Carl Harrison. The speaker will be introduced by Arthur Eddleman, PMA chairman. After Congressman Rogers speaks, a county gift will be presented to him by M. C. Allen.

Doctors Advise Health Check-Up For Children

"Children are not really ready to enter school until they have had complete physical examination," Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer reminds parents.

"All boys and girls enrolling in the kindergarten or first grade classes of Texas schools should be taken to their physicians, or to a public health clinic, for an immediate check-up if they have not had such an examination in recent months.

"It is important to act as promptly as possible. This is recommended in order to allow time for medical treatments or corrections that may be necessary before school opens. No youngster should be permitted to begin a school career with less than the best possible physical equipment."

"As most parents know, vaccination against smallpox is necessary. Those who receive this immunization in infancy should be vaccinated again in order to assure a high degree of immunity and those who have never received this protection should be vaccinated without delay.

Persons under 17 years of age may secure a license free of charge for resident hunting. Resident hunting licenses cost $2.15 Resident fishing license cost $1.65.

Resident fishing licenses are required when using artificial bait or when fishing out of the county of residence.

Duplicates of all licenses may be secured for 50 cents. Copies of the Texas' new game laws will be available in the county clerk office about September 15.

PARIS-INSPIRED STYLES AND COLORS DRAMATIC IN NEW FALL COATS AND SUITS

The three-piece suit, the pencil slim suit skirt with a torso jacket and the pyramid coat, such as these styled by Betty Rose, will dominate Milady's wardrobe this fall. More vivid colors than usual for fall will be seen in both coats and suits. It will be the pyramid for fashion in coats again. The pyramid is modified, with the fullness coming from the sides, rather than from the back, and the hemline sweep is lessened. But the basic silhouette is that of a long, full coat, slimmer at the shoulders rather than at the hemline. Shoulders are a real style story this year, sloping, raglan, saddle. Sleeves of all types combine with collar, pocket and button interest to give coats a new look. A sprinkling of novelties, such as the three-piece suit shown here, will brighten the style picture, and the short coat will be more popular than ever this fall and winter. It is liked for its contrast, effectiveness in textured fabrics and because it is less expensive. The suit silhouette is slim, high-shouldered by interest in detail, such as insets of fabric, novelty buttons and jewel trim. The average length of the torso or sheath jacket is 26 inches.

Covered with a lace cloth, the table was appointed in crystal and silver. Centering the table was a lovely floral arrangement.

Mrs. John Fowler and Mrs. Rudolph Miller alternated at the crystal punch service and they were assisted in serving by Mrs. Dick Fowler and Mrs. Edwin Hill.

After the guests were seated, an appropriate musical program was presented by Lois Wines and Patsy Sue Hays, pianists, and Margaret Ann Massey, who gave a reading with a background of music.

The honoree, her mother, Mrs. Lockhart; and the groom-elect's mother, Mrs. McCreary, were presented with corsages from the hostesses.

REPORT FROM WASHINGTON

By CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS

FAITH OF FOUR FATHERS: Mrs. Rogers and I took the four oldest children to the Carter Barron Memorial Amphitheatre here in Washington the other night to see the play "Faith of Our Fathers."

The amphitheatre is a beautiful open air theatre in Rock Creek Park that reminded me in many respects of the Red Rock Theatre near Denver, Colorado. Of course it can't compare with the Red Rock Theatre from a natural standpoint.

However it is beautiful and the trees that form the back drop on the stage could never be matched by man-made objects for beauty.

The play portrays vividly the early events in our history, both pre-revolutionary days and post-revolutionary days. I wish that every man, woman and child in the United States could see it because it so clearly awakens one to the tremendous trials and tribulations that confronted the great patriots, the founders of this nation. Certainly faith in God and country was the moving force that carried these patriots forward, and without it, I wonder where we would be today.

It behooves all of us to rededicate ourselves and to resubscribe to the deep and abiding faith displayed by George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, Patrick Henry, and all of the first citizens of the United States of America, a nation that has grown from scattered bands of rebels, solidly united in faith and purpose, to the greatest nation in the history of mankind.

THE KANSAS AND MISSOURI FLOODS: The Army prepared a motion picture of the devastation in the flooded areas of Kansas, Missouri and Oklahoma, and named the picture "The Great Flood of 1951." I had the opportunity of viewing this picture the other evening, and the damage wrought is inconceivable.

It proves beyond doubt that there is no greater force than nature on a rampage. The destruction extended into every phase of American life in those communities—churches with four and five feet of stinking mud, homes swept away or so badly damaged that they had to be condemned for human habitation, brick buildings crushed like egg shells, steel railroad bridges crushed away as if they were sticks; tank cars, box cars and locomotives bowled over and swept away like tenpins, highways ripped apart, great slabs of concrete and steel tossed about as a wind would blow playing cards section after section of farm lands covered in several feet of sand gravel and silt, complete orchards covered with mud and silt to the extent that only the tops of the once productive fruit trees appear on the surface as sage brush, cattle, hogs, and other livestock drowned by the hundreds.

People, thousands in number were made homeless; great stocks of food were so damaged that they spoiled and rotted; sewer systems were clogged up and the danger of disease and epidemics was ever present. This devastation and the hardships occasioned by it will be felt for a long time in the economy of this nation.

Jackie Gilbert Attends Drum Major's School

Teachers To Use Wildlife Notes In Classrooms

Junior is going to learn about the soils, the waters, the forests, and the animals on a big scale this fall, according to the Publications Director for the Game, Fish & Oyster Commission.

He reports that teachers already are forwarding their requests for the school packets which contain 36 different pieces of literature, most of which is specially prepared for use in the school room.

One of the main reasons for the increasing interest is the fact that many teacher workshops on resource-use education were held this summer.

Requests are received daily for the individual packets from children barely able to write their own names on up to boys and girls in high school.

The individual packets contain 13 pieces of material not the least of which is a full-page feature entitled: "Tracks—Do You Know Them?"

This page contains tracks of opossum, cottontail, muskrat, raccoon, mink, skunk, bobcat, coyote and deer.

The six full-colored drawings of

It Pays To Advertise

Institutional advertising is one of the essentials of business in times of stress and shortages. It is a practical method of holding public attention for manufacturers and sellers whose products are short in supply, or whose buyers are temporarily without funds, and whose names might well be forgotten if not kept before the public.

This practice of advertising was well proved during World War I. Many firms can thank their strenuous efforts along institutional lines for their existence today, without the effort—the need for which they learned from the mistakes of other firms during World War I—they would now be extinct.

More important—much of the rapid, post-war recovery was possible because American business had maintained some sort of public recognition of its products.

It is just common sense that if the buying public doesn't know what you have to sell, whether it is service or products which it needs, the public isn't going to come into your place of business to spend any money!

Comes now consideration for mobilization controls to prevail during what may or may not be full-fledged World War III.

One of the things some economists desire to do is to revise tax regulations in order to bar deductions for institutional advertising.

They want to classify the institutional advertising as "lobbying."

More specifically stated: they want to use the excuse of wartime regulations to upset the traditional American way of doing business and to add just one more wedge for control of the press through advertising curbs.

The press is vital to the conduct of a winning war and to the upbuilding of a post-war economy. Take away from the press an opportunity to maintain itself in a fair manner, (institutional advertising is essential to that) and you further destroy future opportunities.

We of the press don't believe that this institutional advertising can be classed as "lobbying." Institutional advertising is selling—to be sure, selling an idea—but selling just as much as a dollar-day bargain ad sells.

This type of advertising has long been used to acquaint the buying public with products unfamiliar to them. Any advertising which causes someone to remember a product is certainly useful advertising.

No man can expect the public to buy anything it doesn't know of or accept.

This advertising, classed as institutional, does this job of familiarizing the buying public with products and service.

Advertising isn't something you can measure the return in so many dollars, but never be fooled into believing advertising, any kind, is not rewarding!

It pays to advertise.

LABOR DAY MESSAGE TO JOE

Press Paragraphs— QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

Gigantic Auction

Just what is a stock exchange? As everyone knows, it is a place where the securities of corporations of many kinds and sizes are bought and sold. But what many people don't seem to know is that the exchanges have no control whatsoever over the prices at which these shares in enterprise change hands. The prices are determined by one thing only—the figure which the owner is willing to accept for his property and the figure which the prospective buyer is willing to pay.

The exchanges amount to a gigantic auction which deals in securities just as other kinds of auctions deal in furniture, work of art, livestock or farm equipment. And the exchanges provide a two way auction market. Buyers compete against each other in bidding to buy; sellers compete in offers to sell, and going prices are known at all times.

The New York Stock Exchange which is the nation's largest, is the market place for the shares of some 1200 American corporations. And when buyers and sellers deal in these it is not on a "pig in a poke" basis. Before the Exchange accepts any security for listing, rigid and exact qualifications must be met. One is that there must be a sufficient number of shareholders to indicate wide interest in the security. Another is that pertinent information concerning the company, without which the investor could not judge the value of the stock, must be made available to the public.

No, there's nothing mysterious about the security exchanges, nothing that is known only to "insiders." At present, the exchanges serve some 15,000,000 individual owners of stocks—and these "capitalists," most of whom have average incomes and ordinary occupations, are a cross section of the American people.

—Industrial Review
"The two chief sources of (Federal) revenue are now personal income and corporation taxes. Can they be hiked sharply without serious economic consequences? The business leaders doubt it. They point out that income tax rates, especially in the middle and upper brackets, are approaching the saturation point. The Treasury itself has estimated that a 100 per cent tax on all incomes above $25,000—in other words, complete confiscation—would yield only $700,000,000 more in revenue. A 100 per cent bite on all earnings above $5,000—an obvious impracticability—would bring in $6,400,000,000."

"Britain has embraced Socialism completely turning away from the political philosophy that made her the greatest nation on earth. France, too, has embraced the theory of Socialism. In the Chamber of Deputies at the moment an alarming number of Communists hold seats and by power of numbers dictate a Socialistic concept of government that is but a few steps from Communism."
—Lake Orion, Mich., Weekly Review

"When the people—at least, when a majority of the people—of this country decide they wish to make a change in the policies which are daily causing bad matters to become worse, those policies will be changed. But the people themselves must bring the change. So long as our people regard the government as a benevolent and dutiful parent, rather than as a personal responsibility, just so long will be continue to head toward a completely socialistic state."

—Foley, Ala., Onlooker

"America became great through public ownership—but we don't mean the kind of public ownership the Socialist-minded bureaucrats mean. We refer to the corporations which have made this the mightiest industrial nation in the world. They are owned by the people—the stockholders—and they are owned directly by the people, without governmental interference or direction."
—Berlin, Maryland, Eastern Shore Times

Congress, President Examine Influence on Foreign Policy

WALTER A. SHEAR

NEWSPAPER and magazine articles have been written about the China lobby in this country, but according to those who are sponsoring a resolution in the House of Representatives, the influence of the lobby is far greater than the surface only has been.

The Senate voted authority to the foreign relations committee to conduct a probe, it likely will take the form of a three-pronged incursion into the activities of the lobby organizations: (1) those which have the backing of the Communist regime; (2) those which have the backing of the Chiang Kai-shek government in exile on Formosa, and (3) those organizations composed of Americans who have at one time or another sought to influence this country's foreign policy in the Far East.

Many of the charges which have been made on the floor of the House in congressional committee hearings in the newspapers are likely to be repeated on both sides of the political aisle and both within and without the House.

and the charge has been made that money appropriated by this government for aid to the Chiang government in China has found its way into this country for the purpose of spreading propaganda to influence the spending of more American money in China.

The two American groups, of which only one, the Committee to Defend America by Aiding Anti-Communist China, has filed with Congress under the lobby law, and the American China Policy Association, headed by Alfred Kohlberg, New York importer of Chinese goods, will come under the spotlight of the proposed probe.

The first, the Committee to Defend America by Aiding Anti-Communist China, is headed by Frederick K. McKee, Pittsburgh industrialist and philanthropist, and has been active in foreign policy groups since before World War I. Included in the McKee groups, according to a survey by Congressional Quarterly, are David Dubinsky, president International Ladies Garment Workers; Matthew Woll, president AFL Free Trade Union Committee and Jay Lovestone, executive secretary of the AFL group. Other outstanding names which have been linked with the McKee organization are Gen. William J. Donovan (Wild Bill), former GOP New York gubernatorial candidate; Carroll Reese, former chairman GOP national committee; James A. Farley, former chairman Democratic national committee and Charles Edison, former New Jersey governor.

The organization headed by Kohlberg was recently in the public eye as the fountainhead of information used by Senator Joseph McCarthy in his smear campaign against Secretary of State Dean Acheson and others in the state department. Listed in the Kohlberg group are William Loeb, Manchester N.H., publisher, president of the organization; Max Eastman, author and roving editor of Readers Digest; Louis Waldman, one-time Socialist candidate for governor of New York; George Earle, former governor of Pennsylvania and former Representative Clare Booth Luce of Time, Life and Fortune publications. Both these organizations made substantial campaign contributions in the 1948 and 1950 campaigns to elect their friends, the most publicized, the Kohlberg contribution to Senator John Butler, who defeated Senator Millard Tydings of Maryland.

Ironically, the McKee committee contributed $300 to the campaign of Senator Wayne Morse in Oregon, while Kohlberg in addition contributed $1,000 to the fund of Senator Styles Bridges of New Hampshire. Chinese organizations active in this country will be discussed in a following article.

Hunting Season On Doves Opens Noon September 1

Uncertainty shrouded hunting prospects as Texans prepared to open the northern zone mourning dove season at noon Sept. 1.

The Executive Secretary said the record breaking droughts was the principal factor in casting so much doubt about the general mourning dove situation.

"We are never certain about mourning doves especially early in the season," said the Executive Director. "The shooting generally is spotted during the first phase of the shooting.

"For one thing, doves may be abundant in one area for the first day or two and then more or less disappear in the flush areas only to re-appear elsewhere where the opening hunt had been poor."

He said there was more than usual interest in the early hunting reports because of the known fact that the drought has cut dove production somewhat in Texas.

"When it is as dry and as hot as it has been in some areas doves simply do not nest," said the Executive Secretary. "And many times after doves have nested during the extreme dry spells, the eggs are not hatchable because of the lack of humidity in the air, which is needed to complete the hatching process."

He said knowledge of the nesting and feeding habits, as well as migratory traits of mourning doves, is being increased each year through the banding program. Hunters bagging doves with bands around their legs were asked to forward the bands to the Game Department in Austin along with the date and place the birds were harvested.

Dove hunting will be limited to afternoon hours this season by Federal ruling. The bag limits are ten per day and ten in possession.

About Memphis, Hall County

Had the occasion this past weekend to call on more than 60 business firms and organizations here in Memphis. Do you know how many business organizations there are here in Memphis? I don't either. But in checking over a list I note there are well over 200 businesses.

It was in connection with a community project and it is surprising how many business men seem to lack interest in the community here.

But the most amazing thing struck me as I called on all these different places was that so many of them I had never even been in their place of business before. Why, mostly because I never even knew they were there. Of course I haven't been in this community but about six months, but it's amazing how many businesses never advertise or let the public know they are in business. Some of these businesses might even have something I need sometime but if I don't know what they handle, chances are I won't do much business with them.

How about you, aren't there places here in town you don't know about? Bet there are!

Was talking to County Commissioner J. B. Bush of Turkey this past weekend and he reported the oil well a few miles east of Turkey has reported several favorable tests. They have already drilled past 8,000 feet.

An organization of morons can outvote twice as many wise men who are unorganized.

There are mornings when I feel like a million dollars—Federal, State, County, School and City taxes deducted.

At a golf club a member was boasting about his strength when a puny fellow member bet him $25 that he could wheel a load in a wheelbarrow from the clubhouse to the street which the athlete couldn't wheel back. "You're on," said the boaster. A wheelbarrow was brought up to the clubhouse. "All right," said the little guy. "Get in." —Philadelphia Bulletin.

If you don't have one, there are a few left at The Democrat office.

Talked to Coach Hansaid this past week and he said that whether the Cyclones win any games or not this year, the boys who stay out are certainly going to have to work to keep their positions. If that is true, the cyclones are liable to wind up winning quite a few games.

Haven't heard from Estelline or Lakeview about their grid teams this year yet, but it is a little early, next month the football season should be in full swing.

It's a real pleasure to do business with some of the merchants and businessmen here in town. We hope most of them consider it a pleasure to do business with The Democrat.

Stopped in to the hearing on the county budget last Saturday afternoon and was shocked! Aside from the judge and commissioners, I was the only other person to attend the hearing. Somehow that doesn't seem just right.

"Arthur, are you spitting in the fish bowl?"
"No, Ma, but I've been comin' pretty close."
—The Driller

It is now reported that 50 per cent of the doctors who switched to Camels are back to driving cars again.

Judge W. A. Morrison of the Criminal Court of Appeals in Austin was a visitor in The Democrat's office Tuesday. Judge Morrison, elected to a six-year term last year, was making a visit through this part of the country. He is one of the few judges from the Criminal Appeals Bench to stop and visit us.

After that one, I guess it had better be "30".
