Two Players Out For Wildcat Game Tomorrow Night

Two first string players were injured in practice this week as the Cyclone prepares for their game Friday night against the Canadian eleven at Cyclone stadium.

Wayne Jenkins, big Cyclone tackle, re-injured an old knee injury and will be out indefinitely from the line-up.

Jimmy Morrison also will be out indefinitely with torn ankle ligaments. Jenkins was injured Monday and Morrison Tuesday.

The Cyclones face a tough game Friday night for Coach John Hansard said the Canadian team will average around 180 pounds, with the backfield alone averaging 197 pounds.

Canadian will probably be out to defeat the Cyclone, partially because it is the first meeting of the two teams in several years and also to get back at Coach Hansard who left Canadian to come to Memphis.

Charles Hartman has been named to replace Jenkins in the starting lineup and Clyde Tamplin has been added to the starting backfield.

In the backfield in addition to Tamplin at fullback, Harvey Ken Recommendation Sent To Agriculture Dept.

Farmers' recommendations concerning the agriculture program of the government as expressed at four county meetings have been correlated by committees appointed by the farmers and these ideas have been forwarded to Washington.

Outstanding among the recommendations made by farmers concerning farm labor. Local farmers agreed that all activities of the department of labor as it applies to farm work should be transferred to the department of agriculture.

Local farmers voiced a protest to any bureaucratic plan to determine the size of the American farm or any other Socialistic or Communist trends. Also recommended by county farmers was the idea that funds appropriated to this county for promotion and execution of the approved soil conservation practices be controlled locally in order to meet and satisfy existing local conditions and to better utilize the funds.

Farmers also want to give local committees the authority to make payments by draft when a practice is completed and approved.

Autumntime
Alas, the vacation trips, the warm dreary days, and the picnicking jaunts have come and gone with the passing of summer and the gentle breezes and soft sunlight of autumn have overtaken us. "Summer passed slowly, silently away, trailing her dusty leaves, her sun-parched flowers, leaving bright skies a-tumble with white clouds and memory a-swarm with pleasant hours. Fall moved briskly into the gold-washed hall slipped on a gay house-coat, picked up her broom, and with a quick toss of her wind-blown head, began the task of tiding the room."

(Webb Dycus)
No hand can hold the autumn back;
There is an end to summer,
A gracious heart acquires the knack
Of welcome to newcomer.

The Human Body Is More Complex Than an Automobile

★ You wouldn't take your car to a garage and refuse to tell the mechanic what was wrong. The mechanic would have every right to doubt your sanity. Yet people frequently refuse to tell the physician of their ailments. They are anxious to have an "unbiased opinion."

You can save time and expense by being frank with your physician. To do a competent job of diagnosis he needs the history of your symptoms. The human body is far more complex than an automobile. For the best results give him all the facts.

All we need is the physician's prescription. We are content to compound it exactly as he specifies.

But my heart clings persistently Unto the summer season . . .
And finds in every turn-of-coat tree The flagrant proof of treason!
(Sjanna Solum)
September's original spot in the parade of months was seventh until Julius Caesar had the happy idea of making the month of January the first of the year. It's first Monday, Labor Day, is distinguished by a suspension of all labors and several famous personalities chose to be born in September. Lafayette, America's first friend, Queen Elizabeth, O. Henry, John J. Pershing are among the notables whose birth-month was September. Balboa discovered the long hidden Pacific ocean in September 1513 and George Washington made his farewell address this month 1769.
To youthful minds September means a going back to school. But besides the beginning of school September's twenty-third day marks the official beginning of fall with the autumnal equinox. While children, back to school Search new and pungent books Their errant thoughts go back To summer days, meadows, grass and brooks.
As to the portents and omens coming with September, the olive green shrysolite was originally the birthstone of this month until it was retired in favor of the sapphire which is more expensive. Of course, the birth flower is the aster, and if you were born during the first twenty-two days of this month, under the sign Virgo, you have a calm, inquiring mind and great powers of persuasion. You possess remarkable vitality and if the fourteenth year is passed safely you will probably live to a ripe old age.

September sweet and cidery
Is lazy as a yawn,
My thoughts are light and spidery
Soon most of them are gone.

Plans Complete For Tex.-Okla. Fair Next Week

Iowa Park, Texas, Sept. 18 (Special)—The enchantment of the fair is felt by thousands as the time draws close for the 23rd edition of the Texas-Oklahoma Fair to be presented, beginning Monday, Sept. 24. Preparation for the big six day panorama has been underway for several weeks at the half-million dollar plant. A new agriculture exhibit wing with 5,000 feet of floor space and a permanent ticket office and turnstiles at the front entrance gate have just been completed. New paint has been splashed on both inside and out of some of the eight buildings, new offices have been added, with a huge map of the grounds painted on the wall of the manager's office and one of the entire fair area, spotted with co-operating newspapers and radio stations on one entire wall of the newly redecorated public relations office.

Cotton Experiments Made By Texas A & M

Approximately equal yields of cotton were obtained under irrigation by planting two rows and skipping one and by planting each row, according to D. L. Jones, superintendent of the Lubbock Experiment Station. Little difference in yields were observed between the two practices in tests conducted under irrigation at Lubbock during the three years 1948-50. Where each row was planted, an average of 382 pounds of lint per acre was obtained, while 370 pounds of lint was obtained from planting two rows and skipping one. During the two dry years of 1948 and 1950, the practice of allowing every third row to remain blank returned greater yields. In tests conducted under dry land conditions during the four years 1929-32, the practice of planting each row gave an average of 23 percent higher yields. These results were obtained where the "plant two-skip one plots" had two-thirds as many plants as where each row was planted. Jones points out that planting each row hastens maturity as compared to planting two and skipping one.

The practice of allowing each third row to remain unplanted, on the average, retards maturity except where the number of plants are equal on an acre basis, reduces harvest time, presents a weed management problem in the blank row, and is not easily adapted to four-row equipment. The results of this research are

You are assured of CAREFUL ginning when you bring your cotton to J. M. TINDALL GIN. Our crew does not run the stands so fast that the saws tears your cotton up. They do all they can to preserve your staple, and our cleaning system will give you a good sample.

This type of ginning means more money to the cotton grower. Keep in mind the fact that we will turn out your cotton promptly and without rush. There will be no loss of time and very little waiting around when you come here. Railroad Warning Signal To Begin Operation Soon Signal warnings at the Fort Worth and Denver railroad crossing in Memphis at the east end of Noel street will probably be in operation early next week, Construction Foreman Glenn Miller said this week.

Miller and a railroad crew have been here the past two weeks installing the signal warning system.

The apparatus consists of flashing lights to warn vehicle traffic, a red stop light and a bell warning.

Estimated cost of the entire signal system runs close to $10,000 railroad officials stated.

Installation of the warning signal terminates a struggle by the city for more than two years to have the warning signals installed at the crossing. Both the FW&D railroad and the state highway department cooperated in installation of the signal.

Drivers Asked To Stop When Bus Stops

School authorities are asking your attention to the fact that some drivers are failing to come to a complete halt, as required by law, when the buses are stopped, either for picking up or unloading passengers—

...to them. Others, who returned home and suffered from the drouth for two of the days were gone, may not be either. My only thought was about the trip we made with others—if they were things. While the weather was our entire trip was just a night, with the exception of a 212-degree weather for a few days in the Sacramento Valley. I felt rather guilty knowing that I had deserted our friends who were suffering from the drouth and we were just feeling the scenery and pleasant

I had sufficient common sense to tell you what I enjoyed, so you could see in your mind's eye the wonderful, astounding and entertaining sights at the fair. The slogan, "See First," is a good one. I travel all his life life and I don't see all that America

If you have been to Yellowstone Park and saw probably what we did. The park is 89 miles long and wide—about nine counties the size of the whole area is grandeur and wonders. In the first article I wrote about finding a guide—my fellow—who took us through the park.

At Cody, we went west up the river toward the entrance to Yellowstone river. A deep gorge we saw this for miles, with the gorge rising high higher. We viewed the Bill dam in this gorge. I felt high—second highest in the west. Next was Buffalo hunting lodge, Pohas was an impressive building of logs and was large. Here the famous hunter when they visited him and hunted wild animals in that area. Here the altitude of 8559 feet got me to panting for breath. But after lying down on one of Buffalo Bill's couches for a while I was ready to go on. Entering the park gate and stopping to pay the fees, the gate keeper said "Be sure to see Old Faithful first thing." I said, "I brought her with me." G. K.: "She spouts every hour and six minutes." "Yes, and all the time between times," I replied. "Sorry, sir, I had reference to the big geyser," GK explained. All I could say to that was "Oh."

SONG BIRD FOR T-O FAIR—Jean Oliver, who will be the featured singer in the production, "Top Hat and Spurs," can provide not only beautiful music but visitors to the Texas-Oklahoma Fair in Iowa Park, Texas, Sept. 24-29 will discover that she's not hard to look at. The beautiful singer will appear nightly on the big entertainment program to be presented in the T-O Fair auditorium.

Next, we reached Craig Pass at 8369-foot elevation and this is at the Continental Divide. The guide told us we would see something that is not seen in any other part of the whole world. It was Isa Lake right on top of the divide, fed by springs and at the east end of the lake water drains toward the Atlantic ocean and at the west end toward the Pacific. Besides that, the small lake is full of water lilies, and is said to be the highest lily pool in the United States. A few miles further on we skirted the shore line of Yellowstone Lake for miles. The Yellowstone river enters this lake at the south end and flows out at the north end, finally into the Missouri river somewhere in eastern Montana or western North Dakota. The size of the lake is 21 by 33 miles the shore line about 100 miles and the average depth is about 100 feet. It is claimed to be a fisherman's paradise.

The park has many wild animals, including bear, buffalo, deer, antelope, moose, etc. and wild turkey. The first few of the black and brown bear we saw I had to stop and take their picture. But after seeing around 30 we wouldn't stop for them anymore. They rear up and stick their snouts in car windows and beg for something to eat, and said to be vicious once aroused so people are warned to not get familiar with them and try to pet them. Saw two bull moose on the rounds of the park. Arriving at Old Faithful Inn we stopped for the night and left with a leaner purse the next morning. This inn was built in 1920 and is one of the show places of the west. In the middle of the expansive lobby is a chimney 70 feet high, contains 240 tons of rock, has four large fire places and four small ones. Some one remarked the small ones were to throw matches in after lighting fires in the large ones. On the front of the chimney is a clock which has a pendulum some 30 feet long.

The next morning, naturally we went to see Old Faithful geyser spout. She has spouted more than a half million times since she was named in 1870. Hourly eruptions lasting about four minutes attain a height of from 116 to 171 feet. It, and the many other geysers and boiling pools are said to have been the scene of volcanoes some time in the past. Just before it was due to erupt scalding steam, a rain cloud passed over, but got past before the eruptions. At the same time Castle geyser, a half mile further on broke loose. It is said to be the oldest in the park and spouts 65 to 100 feet high. A small 20-foot spouter also started up. All three were strutting their stuff at the same time, and a rainbow hovered over the scene. The picture snapped of this scene ought to be a jim dandy.

Other geysers, paint pots, morning glory and emerald pools, and steaming hillsides cover a large area, and are interesting sights indeed. Leaving the geyser area we made for Yellowstone Grand Canyon where the lower falls were viewed. The height of the falls is 308 feet and is profoundly impressive and awe-inspiring, while the roaring of the falling water fills the canyon with a mighty volume of sound. For beauty of form and delicacy of color this Grand Canyon of the Yellowstone is world famous.

Near Dunraven Pass, over 9000 feet elevation, is the old Teddy Roosevelt lodge where he lived and served as a forest ranger. He established the first ranger station at Papito, near Cody. Only a few of the many things seen have been touched upon, but take it from me, Yellowstone Park has everything and much more to see than any other like area in the world, is my sincere belief. Leaving the park by way of the north entrance at Gardiner Montana, the night was spent at Livingston, from which place a Northern Pacific train was boarded for further adventure.

Bring Your Cotton to YOUR GIN

BY KEEPING US BUSY AT THE START OF THE SEASON, YOU EARN BIGGER REBATES NEXT SPRING!

This gin is now turning out good samples for the farmers of this area, after being completely overhauled during the summer months. It's in tip-top shape throughout, and a NEW MURRAY DRIER has been installed. In addition to being in perfect shape mechanically, your plant is being maned by an experienced crew of workmen.

Right now as the season gets underway, it is well that you remember the importance of bringing your cotton here—now, before the rush starts. By keeping your gin busy, you will be making it possible for us to pay you a greater dividend next spring.

THE FIELD HAND SITUATION IS UNCERTAIN

Again this year, we'll work with our customers in every way we can in trying to locate hands to pull this crop. The labor picture is uncertain, although hands are known to be here, and others are on the way. Let us know if you need help, and we'll do what we can for you.

We'll help in filling out the necessary papers if you wish to place your cotton in the government loan. If you want to sell, there will be cotton buyers coming by the gin every day who will make you a price on every bale you wish to sell.

Make your plans now to bring your cotton to this gin. We'll be here 24 hours every day if the volume of ginning demands it. At the same time, your gin plant will be giving you the best turnout and samples it is possible to give.

REMEMBER....

The more you can gin here — The more your dividend check will be!

"Squad To Play Wellington Tonight

Cyclone "B" football team will meet their grid season tonight at Wellington against the Wellington team at 7:30. George Childress is reportedly a good group of ball players however the team is shy in reserve.

"B" squad has only lost one game, by a single point, at Wellington last year. In the last two years of the Wellington team they were undefeated in 11 games. They lost one game last year, but the same teams they are expected to play this season.

They have new jerseys in school colors of black and white to wear this year. They have a game schedule with Wellington.

The first home game will be at Wellington tonight, September 20, at Wellington Stadium against the Wellington "B" squad.

Scheduled games include Wellington at Childress, there, Oct. 11; Paducah, here Oct. 18; Childress, here, Oct. 25; and Paducah, Oct. 25.

Probable starters for Wellington tonight are: Coach Childress; Edwards and Jerry McEwen; Henry Vallance and other, tackles; Red Erwin and Hayes Hammonds, guards; Harley Von Simmons, center; Cleve Evans, quarterback, Dean Sustaie and Lee Waddell, half backs and Jimmy Jenkins full-back.

Other who will probably play include Jackie Justice in the backfield, Bill Cheek, Paul Wilson, Raymond Wilson, Don Howell and Terry Moore in the line.

Childress said he had a lot of other fine boys out for practice and many would see action during the season.

Servicemen May Enjoy Magazine On Game, Fish

A message from home, bearing the breath of the outdoors, is proposed for Texans serving in the armed forces.

The message would be in the form of TEXAS GAME and FISH a magazine dedicated to Texas wildlife and the efforts being made to restore and preserve it.

The plan to have friends and families of servicemen subscribe to the publication was endorsed by Fred Maly, wildlife expert for the San Antonio Express and Evening News and president of the Texas Outdoor Writers Association.

"TEXAS GAME and FISH deserves the support of all Texas, because it is the best official medium for informing sportsmen and conservationists. The magazine is particularly meritorious for sending to our kinfolks and friends in the armed forces."

Maly's backing followed this comment by Upshur Vincent in his outdoor column in the Fort Worth Star Telegram:

"Every hunter and fisherman in Texas ought to read each month a magazine called TEXAS GAME and FISH that is published by the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission.

"It would be a good idea, too, if the publication were required reading in every public school for children aged 10 to 20 years. The subscription is just $1 a year (for twelve issues) and it's surely a bargain."

Vincent reviewed the July issue's contents and then wrote: "Space forbids mention of all good reading contained in this number — but it's a bargain. And only five per cent of the sportsmen of Texas are subscribers."

Dr. and Mrs. J. Hanna of Glenrose visited in the home of their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Blackie Callaway over the weekend.

Wild turkey generally take water only once a day, flying from their roost for the daily drink.

Rotary Club Hears Korean Veteran Speak

First Lieut. Lesley Calhoun, who recently returned after more than 33 months in Korea, was a luncheon guest at the Rotary Club Tuesday.

Calhoun formerly lived in Memphis and landed in the states earlier this month.

He spoke briefly to Rotarians of Korea and his experience in the far east. He described how mountainous Korea is and how the United Nations forces there are in much better shape now than earlier in the war.

Lt. Calhoun expressed no opinion on the present peace talks but he did tell Rotarians that Japan is becoming more democratic and that communism is losing ground daily in that nation.

Rotarian Robert Spicer also spoke at the luncheon before Lt. Calhoun and gave a classification talk on the funeral business.

Advice has been forwarded that fruits, nuts and candies are good things to send since they are not perishable. Also, if they are packed in a tin box or container, it will insure delivery better than normal packaging.

The recipes given here all start with a main ingredient from a can. They're all quick to fix and good enough to serve for a party. They will stand you in good stead for the rest of the summer and currently are far easier on the budget than fresh meats.

REPORT FROM WASHINGTON

By Walter Rogers
Congressman, 18th District

When we got back to Washington after a most enjoyable trip to the district. The shortness of the session would not permit me to visit the places that I wanted to, in an early adjournment of Congress would make it possible for me to get back to Washington. We came back to Washington by the northern route, that is, by way of St. Louis and Indianapolis through Pennsylvania down to Washington. I rode on the Pennsylvania Turnpike for about 400 miles. It cost us 85 cents, and well worth it. There are no toll roads coming into the Turnpike and you can set your speed at 40 miles an hour. You can't get off the Turnpike except at the 40-mile intervals. This is supposed to be paying its way and may be the answer to the highway situation in many states. We finally made it to Washington about 3:00 a. m. Wednesday and were pretty worn out from the trip.

The Senate has caught up with a lot of work during the recess of the House and we are again back at work on the important legislative matters that must be finished if Congress is to adjourn by this time this fall. The raise in the military appropriations by the Senate is receiving much discussion here, as many of the members realize that Five Billion dollars is a whale of a lot of money. There is also much discussion about the Senate version of the tax bill. Many of the members feel that the Senate version will tend to put too much of the burden on the lower and middle income groups and will not operate like the House bill, which fairly distributes the burden across the board. The nature of the tax raise in the House is temporary in principle, while the Senate version appears to have certain degree of permanency. The need for additional taxes at the present time can only be justified by military requirements for defense purposes and should be on a temporary basis. The American taxpayer is entitled to a substantial reduction in taxes as soon as the

I have received inquiries concerning the new income tax regulations on the sale of one's home. Under the present law if you sell your residence, you are selling a capital asset, and fifty percent of the profit is included in gross income provided you have owned the home for more than six months. If you have owned it for less than six-months the entire profit is includable in gross income. Under the new version, the Revenue Act of 1951 as passed by the House, a person may sell his home and repurchase another home within a period he is given one year prior to the date of such sale and ending one year after such date and use the proceeds from his old home to purchase the new home. If he uses the entire proceeds from his old home he will not be required to pay any income tax on the sale price of his old home. However, if he purchases a new home at a less price than that for which he sold his old home, he of course will be required to account for the difference between the purchase price of his new home and the selling price of his old home.

Cotton Harvest Starts Operating Here In County

The 1951 cotton harvesting season in Hall County began rolling in full swing this week and here in Memphis smoke from the incinerator where burrs are burned settled over town.

The hum of cotton gins can now be heard throughout the day and gin activity is rapidly reaching peak operation. Most gins expect to keep busy from now until the season is over.

The amount of cotton to be made in the county is still in the doubtful stage but cotton market prospects are brighter than many had calculated.

It is reported that originally 175,000 acres were planted in cotton, however, wind, hail and storm damage has taken its toll.

In some parts of the county much cotton was plowed up when it looked as if it would not produce enough to pay and other acres were burned badly during the hot, dry summer that caused some cotton to open prematurely.

Much of the county cotton however, withstood the dry, hot weather and took on new life following recent rains.

Most farmers are faced with a picker shortage at present and the harvest is not yet in full operation. But employment services are helping to steer some pickers this way to alleviate the situation.

Early opening of the cotton was advanced as one reason for the picker shortage.

"The purpose of the law and of the training school is to raise the standard of the vocational or practical nurse," Odom said, "and in time any person who nurses for pay must be either a graduate vocational nurse or registered nurse."

While the first classes will be composed to some extent of nurses now employed by the hospital, new applicants will be included in the first class, Odom announced. Applications for training must be made to Odom in person at the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Odom and Mrs. Solomon returned Tuesday from Hillsboro and Meridian where they observed schools in operation at Hillsboro Clinic Hospital and at the Holt Hospital, where they obtained valuable information on the training program.

Dr. R. D. Holt of Meridian is also a member of the newly-created State Board of Vocational Nurse Examiners. Both hospitals have been operating successful schools for the past two years and Dr. Holt is an originator of the program. However, it is believed that the local school will be the first to be put into operation in the Panhandle.

Skirt Story Has Its Ups, Downs

SAN FRANCISCO—Have you been worrying lately about the ups and downs of skirt lengths? Well, don't believe what you hear and read . . . skirts won't be down to your ankles again for many months to come . . . if ever!

Paris decrees the longer line, while America sits in wonderment awaiting the decision of our fashion-conscious, fashion-wise American women. Every designer has an opinion on the subject . . . some more vehement than others. Yet, on one thing they all agree and that is, this time the public will pass the final judgement.

Out here in California, where the very nature of our existence demands a usual, comfortable clothes the longer skirt question is being met with skeptical eyes. According to Stephanie Koret, internationally known designer of women's sportswear "Pair-Offs" there is no definite skirt length suitable to all figures.

"Drop your hem or raise your hem", advises Designer Koret, "but be sure the length is BE-COMING to you! Just let your mirror be your guide. Adapt your skirt length to your individual type of living . . . be it a hurried working day or a leisure-laden week-end. Remember that a style reveals your fashion know-how when it looks well on you and you alone.

Don't be misled by this controversy", concludes Stephanie Koret. "With the advent of each showing, there always is one style note which threatens to set the fashion world afire. Our American fashions are adapted to our American way of life. Let's keep them that way!

Let us help you keep your car in A-1 condition — One-Stop Service; wash and lubrication a specialty. Kermit Monzingo, Chrysler-Plymouth service. Adv

Drive slowly— be doubly sure that you are in control of your car, able to stop on a split-second notice if a child should dash in front of you.

Observe signs — heed signs warning you where to-and-from school traffic is especially heavy; obey the signals of special guards at crossings.

Note the time — remember that children dash to school in the morning, they dash from school in late afternoon, they dash around school during recesses and at noon. Watch out for these peak traffic periods.

Check your car — take a little time now to have the mechanical condition of your car carefully checked. Don't let bad brakes, faulty steering or lazy windshield wipers undo your careful driving.

Remember—last year nearly 120,000 school age children were injured or killed in traffic accidents. Observe all the rules for driving near schools, and reduce the danger that threatens school children in your vicinity.

Be Careful—the child you save may be your own!

Hear that Coach George Childress has a good squad of boys playing football on the Cyclone "B" squad.

This is certainly good insurance for a better Cyclone squad in years to come.

FFA Boys Plan Work For Coming Year

The Memphis FFA, as they set up their year's work, will enlist the aid of four Lone Star Farmers three, who are still in school Raymond Whitton, Don Beasley and Coy Smith. Troy Phillips graduated last spring.

These four boys, along with J. W. McCreary attended the state convention in Houston this summer and brought back many new ideas for the year's program of work.

While on their trip to Houston the boys visited Austin, Galveston and points of interest around Houston, such as the Battleship Texas and the San Jacinto Battle Grounds.

These boys have done an outstanding job in FFA work for the past 3 years, and their records and honors should cause some of the younger FFA members to strive for higher goals.

In the past three years the following boys from Memphis have been awarded the Lone Star Farmer Degree; the highest degree offered by the State FFA association: Wayne Hutcherson, Roddy Stargel, Cletus Lewis, Troy Phillips, Don Beasley, Coy Smith and Raymond Whitton.

FFA Boys Take Summer Camping Trip in Colorado

The Memphis FFA closed out their year's activities with the summer recreational and educational tour, and are now in the process of setting up their program for this year.

The summer trip, one of the highlights of the years program was a big success. The boys spent four days camping out in the mountains west of Colorado Springs. During their stay there, they observed many beautiful ranches, fat cattle, National Forest, and went through a gold mine.

One of the days was spent hiking up one of the mountains over 12,000 ft. high. The group did their own cooking and other camp work and, except for the cold nights, thoroughly enjoyed the entire trip.

The following boys made the trip accompanied by their advisor, J. W. McCreary: Raymond Whitton, Coy Smith, Wayne Jenkins, Cletus Lewis, Wayne Wiggins, Delbert Hightower, Jimmie Morrison, Rayford Hutcherson, John Foster, Charles Hartman and Vance Adams.

A one-act play will be presented in the Interscholastic League Contest and the class will appear on KCTX, radio station at Childress. Throughout the year, public speaking will be featured in the form of individual work, symposiums and dramas.

300 Students Attend West Ward

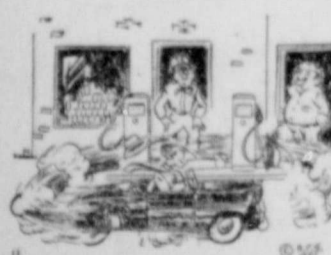

The West Ward School has an enrollment of 300 students enrolled in grades one through six.

Principal Leon Thomas said he was expecting the enrollment to be larger in another month. He said there were two sections in every grade except the fourth and fifth. "The people have been very co-operative and I wish to thank everyone", Thomas reported. He also said he was well satisfied with the work of the teachers and the employees in West Ward.

Thomas' office is open from 1:00 to 4:00 during the school week. He expressed a desire that everyone co-operate and West Ward students not come onto the school ground before 8:50, because teachers are preparing their work and can not supervise the playground.

Mr. Farmer: Any Way You Look at It Your Gins Are Able To Do MORE For You This Year

By MORE we mean that by the purchase of around $17,000 worth of new modern machinery in the Memphis gin plant, and the construction of 20 additional housing units for transient workers, we are in position to give the farmers BETTER SERVICE. During the summer months we have installed five new 90-saw Murray Gin Stands, which replaced the 80-saw stands formerly used. At the same time, we installed new Super Mitchell Feeders in the Memphis plant. All in all, we believe that when the rush comes, we'll be able to gin approximately 20 bales per day MORE cotton for our patrons during each 24-hour period.

In addition to being able to gin more cotton in less time . . . we are now able to give a better TURNOUT and STAPLE. This is especially important this year with the market on lint cotton what it is. Both the plants in Memphis and Plaska are starting this season in perfect shape, and are manned by good crews.

See Us If You Need Field Hands

With the addition of the 20 housing units to those already on hand, we're better able to work with our patrons in obtaining field hands. See us if you need help. We'll do all we can to make it possible for you to harvest this year's crop.

Ask your neighbors who have already ginned with us this season about the type of ginning we are doing. These two farmer owned gins are operated for the BENEFIT OF THE COTTON FARMERS OF THIS AREA. All this adds up to the fact that the Farmers Union gins are good places to take your cotton this year.

The black and orange dressed band marched to the west side of the field and spelled "DHS". The Memphis Cyclone Band paraded onto the field playing "College Medley" and marched to the north goal, countermarched and saluted the stands. The black and gold uniformed band then formed a horseshoe and played "The Old Gray Mare".

A Lesson In Socialism

(We heard a teacher in Yonkers, N. Y. recently who taught his pupils a lesson in socialism. A lesson that each of us needs to learn. We thought his method and manner well worth-while and we pass it along to you and the teachers of this community.)

As a teacher in the public schools, I find that the socialist-communist idea of taking "from each according to his ability, and giving "to each according to his need" is now generally accepted without question by most of our pupils. In an effort to explain the fallacy in this theory, I sometimes try this approach with my pupils:

When one of the brighter or harder-working pupils makes a grade of 95 on a test, I suggest that I take away 20 points and give them to a student who has made only 55 points on his test. Thus each would contribute according to his ability and—since both would have a passing mark—each would receive according to his need

After I have juggled the grades of all the other pupils in this fashion, the result is usually a "common ownership" grade of between 75 and 80—the minimum needed for passing, or for survival. Then I speculate with the pupils as to the probable results if I actually used the socialistic theory for grading papers

First, the highly productive pupils—and they are always a minority in school as well as in life—would soon lose all incentive for producing. Why strive to make a high grade if part of it is taken from you by "authority" and given to someone else?

Second, the less productive pupils—a majority in school as elsewhere—would, for a time, be relieved of the necessity to study or produce. This socialist-communist system would continue until the high producers had sunk—or had been driven down—to the level of the low producers. At that point, in order for anyone to survive, the "authority" would have no alternate but to begin a system of compulsory labor and punishments against even the low producers. They, of course, would then complain bitterly but without understanding.

Finally I return the discussion to the ideas of freedom and enterprise—the market economy—where each person has freedom of choice, and is responsible for his own decisions and welfare.

Gratifyingly enough, most of my pupils then understand what I mean when I explain socialism—even in a democracy—will eventually result in a living-death for all except the "authorities" and a few of their favorite lackeys.

Press Paragraphs—

Statue To Truman

The Amarillo (Tex.) Daily News publishes a letter from J. A. Farr, residing near that city, who says he is a member of a committee engaged in the task of raising a $3,000,000 fund with which to erect a statue of Truman in Washington.

"We have decided," he says, "not to tease it by placing it next to Washington (who never told a lie) nor next to Lincoln (who is known as Honest Abe), nor next to Jefferson (who spurned a third term). The committee was in quite quandry, but after careful deliberation it has been decided to place the statue next to Columbus, who after all, did not know where he was going where he was when he got there, nor where he had been when he returned home, but he did the whole trip on borrowed money. Five thousand years ago Moses said, 'Pick up thy shovels, mount thy ass and camel, and I will lead you into the Promised Land.' Fifty-six hundred years later, Truman said—'Lay down your shovels, sit on your behind, light up a Camel. This is the Promised Land.'"

In The Age Of "Gimme"

It seems as if we are living in an age of "GIMME"—it's a hand-out every day and we must say "yes" to every insistent demand. It's not only a nation "here and there," but its wages, hours, and every other thing under the shining sun including politics, sending our boys to foreign countries and many other things that the majority don't all approve.

But we promise many things hoping that some miracle will save us. In the issue of June Tax Outlook an editorial says "the sad point is that we have come to believe that the great man, the great organization, the great government, is the one that would promise the most."

Years ago, Garibaldi's soldiers shouted at him: "What will you give us if we follow you?" His reply was: "I'll give you wounds and sickness and suffering and death. But I'll give you with them the freedom of Italy!"

But we have nothing to offer the mind and the spirit that once led men to achievement; nothing to support the belief that any sacrifice is worthwhile that leaves us free, standing on our own feet, thinking our own thoughts and obligated to no one but our thoughts and obligated to no one but ourselves.

We talk of the "good life," but what we mean is the ample life, more free benefits, more free time, more free protection. And for what? That there may be better men and women, better education, better hearts, better homes? Nothing of the kind. Just material things. Not a word about wounds and suffering and the achievement of freedom. Only the slow attrition of hunger satisfied without sacrifice of production at the sweat of no man's brow. That was not the way this or any country was born and that is not the way any free country survives. —The Graham (Tex.) Leader

Population Forecast Made For Mid-West

Prosperity, enlarging and diversifying the resource base of many of these communities would seem to be absolutely essential if continued growth is to be expected. The study of past and present population trends reveals that there has also been notable growth in urban population at the expense of rural population. From 1940 to 1950 the number of people living in the cities and towns increased by more than 700,000 persons, or nearly 13 percent in the area.

Practically urban communities within the basins gained in population. Among the larger cities, Norman, Okla., had the highest rate of growth, 136 percent, and Wichita, Kan., Tulsa, Okla., Shreveport, La., Amarillo, Tex., and Wichita Falls, Tex., all cities of over 50,000 population, had increases of over 25 percent. At the same time, the rural population suffered a heavy loss. From 1940 to 1950 this loss amounted to 775,000 persons, or slightly over 16 percent. In contrast, rural population increased by over 7 percent nationally. The population growth to the year 1960 is expected to be 315,000 persons, or just over a 4 percent increase. When better automobiles are built BUICK will build them

What are the Dollar Signs Saying?

MAYBE you've noticed that dollars don't seem to talk as loud as they used to in a lot of places. But you ought to hear what they say about this Buick.

They say—here's the big thrill—big mileage—big power of a valve-in-head Fireball Engine—eight-cylinder performance at the price you'll pay for most sixes.

They say—here are size and room and comfort that are hard to match at anywhere near the price tag this Buick SPECIAL is wearing.

They say—here are such things as an oil filter, air cleaner, vacuum booster, built-in summer ventilation—not as "extras" but yours at no extra charge.

They say that "smart buy's Buick"—by a wide measure.

But a smart buyer will also let this dashing darling speak for itself. He'll take the wheel and feel how it snugs to the road on turns—holds its course on the highway with big-car assurance. He'll touch off the power of its Fireball Engine and get firsthand the lift of its nimble response. And he'll find out how coil springs on every wheel level out what he thought were bumpy roads.

Want to know more? How about coming in first thing tomorrow?

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other series.

Dumas Racks Up 30-0 Victory Over Cyclone

Dumas combined a fast offense with good defensive play last Friday night to hand the Cyclones their second gridiron defeat this year as they scored four touchdowns and added a safety to defeat the Memphis team 30-0.

Running from a T-formation the Dumas eleven swept to their first touchdown within a few minutes after the opening kickoff as Jerry Cashion tallied.

Jack Berry kicked all four extra points for the Demons.

The Demons second touchdown came after Joe Mowery went around his own right end and ran about 60 yards. Harvey Kennedy faked a kick just before the half time and was caught behind his own goal to give the Demons their 2-point safety.

Neither team scored during the third period but the Cyclones did show some fight as Clyde Tammelin made the first and only first down for the Memphis eleven

Dumas added their third touchdown in the fourth period after a screen pass and a lateral which was good for 25 yards and a TD.

Memphis' best scoring chance came after Charles Messer blocked a punt and recovered the ball on the Dumas 10-yard line, but the Cyclones was unable to score in four plays and lost the ball or downs.

In the statistics department Memphis had one first down, Dumas 16. Memphis punted four times for an average of 36 yard times for an average of 33 yards. The Cyclone had only a net of 5 yards rushing while Dumas had 330 yards.

One of the biggest crowds turned out for the first home game.
