

SANTA TO BE HERE DEC. 17TH

Special Christmas Gifts To Be Given As St. Nick Talks To Boys And Girls

Santa Claus will arrive in Memphis for his annual visit Monday afternoon, December 17. Chamber of Commerce officials who are helping Santa plan his visit here said he will see all children and pass out gifts to them at the court house square. Officials announced that Santa party would be organized different this year in order to avoid the crowds rushing Santa during his visit here.

Plans call for school officials to turn out the children according to ages starting with the lower grades first. Each school room is to be supervised by a teacher and as many mothers as possible and the children will march in a line by Santa Claus.

Christmas packages of fruit and candy will be distributed by Santa's helpers and the name "Santa Claus" will be stamped on each child's hand as he receives a present.

There will be no parade with Santa before the gifts are distributed and the children talk to Santa but afterwards, a patrol followed by the fire truck with Santa Claus aboard will circle the square and he will be escorted out of town.

Additional arrangements and plans will be worked out next week, Clifford Farmer said and cooperation of all merchants, schools and parents is urged, he added.

Decoration of the downtown area is almost complete and lights have been turned on this week.

Sewer Cleaning Work Gets Underway Tues.

Representatives of Southwest Norcam Company of Dallas who were awarded a contract to clean the local city sewer system arrived Monday and work began Tuesday morning in preparation to clean Memphis sewers.

Twelve manholes also will be dug and installed by the workmen. These manholes are necessary for cleaning the sewers and permanent manholes will make future sewer cleaning much simpler, officials pointed out.

Workmen began digging the first manhole at 10th street between Main and Noel streets. That sewer will be cleaned through town and also starting at 11th street the sewer between Main and Brice to Front street will be cleaned. Also some mains in residential areas will be cleaned.

After a sewer survey conducted by Southwestern Norcam these sewers were the ones reported to be in the worst shape and also the ones to be cleaned are the main passage lines and many other feeder lines tie into them; therefore, cleaning of these lines will help all the feeder lines move sewage faster.

City Engineer Glenn Carlos said that the other sewer lines not cleaned at this time would later be treated with a copper-sulphate solution to help clear out any obstructions.

Carlos also stated that material and supplies for building the manholes and cleaning the sewers had been ordered and was expected this week.

Workmen expect to complete the job in about two months or less if favorable weather continues.

Mayor Carl Harrison added that Southwestern Norcam officials assured the city officials that the sewer lines would have their original capacity after cleaning.

SHIVERS PROCLAIMS "OPERATION DEMOCRACY" DAY—Voting is the best insurance of freedom, Governor Allan Shivers said in proclaiming December 7 as "Operation Democracy" Day in Texas. State Legion Commander Charlie Gibson, left, and Americanism Chairman John Ben Shepherd, right, urged Texans to observe the Legion's special get-out-the-vote program.

ROWS OF COTTON BALES—Bales of ginned cotton are growing in rows out by the Memphis Compress almost as long as the cotton rows where the cotton was pulled in the fields. Compress officials said they have more than 22,000 bales of this year's crop already stored. Official figures of the amount produced as of December 1 will be published next week.

Cotton Men Point Out Big '51 Crop Demands

Consumption prospects, together with the commodity loan program, make it neither wise nor necessary for the cotton farmer to dump his crop at depressed price levels during the abnormal pressure of the current harvest season, Harold A. Young, president of the National Cotton Council, said recently in a message to producer-delegates of the industry-wide organization.

The Council president emphasized that the demand outlook is still just as strong as was anticipated at the time the government requested a 16,000,000-bale cotton crop last December.

Department of Agriculture figures, he said, point to a domestic consumption during the coming year of 10,500,000 bales and exports of 5,500,000 bales, giving a total disappearance of 16,000,000 bales.

"With consumption at such levels, a crop of 17,000,000 bales indicates a carryover on August 1, 1952, of 3,200,000 bales, as compared with a carryover of 6,846,000 bales on August 1, 1951," Young said. "The carryover on August 1, 1951, was 2,000,000 bales, the smallest in 25 years."

"These figures give every reason for confidence in cotton's stability throughout the season ahead, provided an orderly flow of bales into the market can be

Cagers Win 1st Game Over Lefors Tuesday

The Memphis Cyclones journeyed to Lefors Tuesday night for their first basketball game of the 1951-52 season and defeated the Lefors Pirates 33-30.

The Lefors girls team rallied to defeat the Memphis Cyclonettes in an overtime period 33-32. The Cyclone B team also won over the Lefors B boys 15-13. Roy Coleman led the B squad with eight points.

In the Cyclone A game, Ronnie Smith, Davey Corley, Rayford

Hutcherson, Duane Miller and Jimmy Morrison started the game. Others making the trip were Jimmy Davis, Julius Stevens, Macky Allen, Lloyd West, Jack Montgomery, Carrol Gardenhire and several other Memphis Cagers.

The A squad came from behind in the second half to win the game.

The Memphis cagers play host tomorrow night, Friday, to the Hollis, Okla., basketball squad. (Continued on page 8)

Lakeview Methodists Add New Parsonage

The Lakeview Methodist church under the leadership of a building committee has launched a campaign to erect a new parsonage.

The first phase of the campaign that of raising money to finance the new parsonage, was launched Monday night after a meeting of the building committee.

At a called session of the Quarterly Conference last Sunday night, a building committee was named under the leadership of Rev. W. E. Hamilton, district superintendent.

Heading the committee will be J. L. Richburg, chairman, Mrs. H. L. Davenport was named secretary-treasurer and others on the committee are Del Wells, J. W. Longshore, W. M. Gowdy, Mrs. Edd Hillhouse, Mrs. J. B. Byars, Ted Montgomery and Lee Blanks.

The present parsonage will be sold, committee members stated. The church is inviting members and friends to contribute to the building fund and any donation may be sent to Mrs. H. L. Davenport, treasurer, at Lakeview, Tex.

Quail Wings Needed To End Wildlife Study

Quail hunters are reminded by W. C. Glazener of the Texas Game and Fish Commission that quail wings are again wanted this season to complete the study started last year on age and sex ratio and other important information concerning bobwhite quail.

Glazener said, "If you or any of your friends are in a position to participate, just let us know. We will be glad to mail you a supply of return envelopes on which you need not pay postage. Continuing, he explained, "It is our opinion that 300 to 500 wings will be required to serve as a dependable sample from a given county. Therefore, we will greatly appreciate any efforts you might make to fill such a need."

To the hunters who sent in quail wings last year will be sent an analysis report if they request it.

Veterans Insurance Questions Discussed

Editors Note: Many servicemen from Korea and elsewhere are being discharged now. Their most frequent questions concern their rights to Government life insurance. This is the first of a series of four articles prepared by Veterans Administration, that will attempt to answer these questions.

W. R. Brownlee, Lakeview Pioneer Buried Saturday

Funeral services were held last Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock for William R. Brownlee, who died in the Amarillo Veterans hospital last Thursday, at the First Baptist church in Lakeview.

The Rev. Roy Shahan of Memphis and the Rev. F. N. Allen of Lakeview conducted the service. Burial was in Lakeview cemetery under arrangement of Murphy-Spicer.

Brownlee, 72, had lived in Hall county 27 years after coming here in 1924 from Eastland county. His first wife died in 1912 in Eastland and in 1918 he married Miss Ollie Hudson and they moved (Continued on page 8)

Memphis to Hedley highway toll climbed still higher yesterday afternoon as the crash was reported from near head-on smash-up reported about three miles from Memphis last Saturday.

Samrod, 21, of Clarendon was outright in the wreck. Vincent Phillip Gracioso was critically injured with internal injuries. Gracioso died about 3:30 p. m. in the Arkansas hospital where he was taken.

Highway accident occurred yesterday, thick fog as the two cars headed on. One of the drivers reported to be attempting to pass a cattle truck as the accident happened. A third car, a 1950 Nash, was involved in the wreck.

Services for Semrod will be held in Clarendon Monday for Clarendon will probably be held in Denver.

Paul was the son of Paul and recently began working for the Hall County Farm Agency. The boy had just returned from Texas Tech and was planning his call to enter the service.

As a Staff Sergeant in the Army, he was a Korean War veteran and just recently had returned to this country.

His parents include his parents, Mrs. Alexander Gracioso, of Colorado.

Ambulance services were provided for the victims to the hospitals and then moved to Amarillo.

The Baptist Worker's Conference will be held at the Lelia Lake church next Tuesday beginning at 10 a. m. Speakers for the day will be Rev. O. L. Jones, Hedley, Rev. Collins Webb, Turkey, Mrs. A. Bailey, Estelline, Mrs. Bee Nichols, Memphis, and Dr. A. J. Quinn, District Ten Missionary, of Amarillo.

The next meeting of the Baptist Pastor's Conference will be held Monday, Jan. 7, 1952.

Texas Farmers '51 Income Over Billion Dollars

Texas was among six Mid-American states to make the "billion dollar farm income" club in 1950, according to a survey made public by Capper's Farmer.

Texas farmers received $1,993,263,000 in cash farm income last year, including $806,100,000 from livestock and livestock products and $1,187,163,000 from crops, says the survey, based on U. S. Department of Agriculture statistics.

The nationally-circulated farm magazine reports that the five other states in the billion dollar farm cash income bracket were: Iowa, with $2,058,101,000; Illinois, $1,720,080,000; Minnesota, $1,164,558,000; Missouri, $1,009,281,000; Kansas, $1,000,790,000.

Total 1950 U. S. cash farm income was $27,920,746,000, comprising $15,598,222,000 from livestock and $12,322,524,000 from crops.

Farm income for 1951 is likely to set an all-time high of $35 billion, or $7 billion above last year's level, the magazine estimates.

"WE STRIVE TO PLEASE"

Explanation Is Made Motor Vehicle Law

Confusion over the reports of traffic accidents and the state's new Motor Vehicle Responsibility Law today by Public Safety Director Garrison, Jr., who says any change in the law is so slight that it is no difficulty at all to understand.

Under the state's Uniform Traffic Law, the operator of every motor vehicle that is involved in an accident resulting in death or injury to a person, or total property damage to an apparent extent of $25 or more, must file a complete written report with the Texas Department of Public Safety within 24 hours, exactly as they do now. Official forms for this purpose may be obtained from any sheriff's office, local police station, highway patrolman of the Texas Department of Public Safety, as at present. In other words, there is no change whatever in the present rules for reporting accidents of the type just described.

When you obtain a regular accident report, beginning January 1, there will also be furnished along with it an Insurance Information form, labeled Form 21, which must be filled out completely and accurately should the accident in which you were involved result in death or injury to a person, or property damage to any one person, including yourself, in excess of $100 since this will bring the accident under the provision of the new Safety Responsibility Law. If the accident did not involve death or injury to a person, or property damage to any one person, including yourself, in excess of $100, you may disregard this Insurance Information section.

If you are required to file it, however, be sure that you still get the regular accident report section off to the Texas Department of Public Safety within 24 hours, despite the fact that you may take up to 10 days to send in the insurance section.

The simplest procedure, Director Garrison pointed out, will be simultaneous filing of all required information, but this will require a motorist to be prepared to answer the insurance and security questions promptly and file the combined report within 24 hours. Any motorist can do this however, if he follows these suggestions of the Director:

1. Carefully read the state's leaflet about the law and keep it handy in your car.
2. Get a report form, study the questions, and keep it in your car; you may need it in a hurry.
3. If you are insured, keep the name of your insurance company, number of your policy and amount and kind of insurance it provides, in your car for immediate reference.
4. If you are not insured, make up your mind in advance how you will meet the new law's security requirements by other means, as explained in the state's leaflet, if you are involved in a traffic accident.

"It cannot be repeated too often," Director Garrison said, "that the driver of every car involved in an accident must file all required information with the Department of Public Safety within the brief periods stated. Any

Farmers Produce Jet-Engine Oil; Or Castor Beans

Farmers in certain areas of Texas are growing castor beans as a commercial crop this year, in response to military demands for a grease used to lubricate jet engines. The grease is made from —ugh!—castor oil.

A report on Texas castor bean production was made by Stanley A. Arbingast, University of Texas assistant professor of resources of Business Research assistant director.

"In addition to its familiar utilization in medicine, either the oil or one of its extracts is used in the manufacture of hydraulic fluids, leather preservatives, fly paper, fly oils, asphalt floor tile, electric insulating materials, lubricants, hair dressings, toilet creams, lacquers, soaps, rubber substitutes, sedative acid for nylon manufacture, caulking and gasket compounds, sulfonated oils, and plastics of various types," Arbingast said.

"It is also widely used in the textile industry as an agent in the dyeing of cottons."

Residue left after oil is extracted from the bean contains ammonia, phosphoric acid and potash, and finds a ready market as a fertilizer. The hulls are approximately equal to barnyard manure in soil-building qualities, and agricultural agents are encouraging farmers to apply bean hulls to

Panhandle Wheat Land Yields Grain Sorghum

Panhandle farmers made excellent use of wheat land this year for growing grain sorghums, points out Knox Parr, district Extension agent at Amarillo.

Wheat has been the one crop in this area for more than 10 years. However, extremely low wheat yields were produced in 1950 and 1951 because of the disastrous effect of drought, severe cold, insects and disease. Wheat farmers turned to grain sorghums as a crop for their bare land.

In 1951 approximately 65 percent of the wheat land in the area was planted to grain sorghums. Hansford and Ochiltree counties each planted approximately 225,000 acres to grain sorghums. Moore county produced 5,000 tons of sorghum silage. Similar situations existed in many other counties.

Farmers used the same machinery for planting sorghum they used for wheat. When the crop matured, they harvested it with wheat machinery, stored it in wheat elevators and sold it to wheat buyers.

"This is a big change, which probably will remain with us and help stabilize agriculture in the Plains area," says Parr. "Farmers with more than one crop to depend upon are much better financial risk."

He points out that wheat and grain sorghums are planted and harvested in different seasons, which eases the farm labor situation to a certain extent.

The development of livestock feeding program is another change which Parr thinks might take place as a result of growing grain sorghums in the area. Grain sorghum or sweet sorghum silage can replace wheat pasture when cattle have to be taken off wheat pasture for any reason.

Parr reports that grain sorghum yields on dry land in 1951 probably averaged better than 20 bushels per acre, with some around 70 bushels. In irrigated areas yields ranged up to 100 bushels per acre.

An appreciable number of wheat farmers are now planning to plant one-third or more of their land to grain sorghums each year, says Parr. Grain sorghum stubble is good insurance against the blow hazard during winter months.

Local Angus Farm Buys Show Champ From Chicago Sale

Caprock Angus Farm of Memphis purchased the "Show-Window Sale" animal at the International Livestock Show in Chicago last week.

The yearling Angus heifer Castle Blackcap Lady won ninth in a class of 36 in the open show and third in the show sale cattle. She had previously been grand-champion in two state shows.

The yearling is expected to arrive here this weekend.

Lone Star State 4-H Winners

Leaders, Jr. Ann Nimmo Gene Tongate Virginia Eubank

Ranking records in the 1951 National 4-H Achievement and Leadership programs have brought state honors to four Texas club members. Brief outlines of their records follow:

Gene Tongate, Kingsville, Tex. A set of two miniature statues, symbolizing achievement, one of a club boy and one of a club girl, was presented to each by the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work. These were designed especially for 4-H by a well-known sculptress.

Outstanding leadership abilities and an excellent job in 4-H Club and community work won state honors for Gene Tongate, 17, Brooksmith, and Virginia Eubank, 18, San Antonio, in the 4-H Leadership program.

Virginia has been a 4-H'er for four years, during which time she won the Danforth Foundation Award for the most "4-Square" girl in the county. She has served as a junior leader and was chosen to go to the district camp as a recreational leader.

VET PROBLEMS AND ANSWERS

Q. I'd like to get a GI business loan to set my brother up in the shoe repair business. He's not a veteran, but I served in World War II. Is it possible to obtain a loan for this purpose?

A. No. Under the law, you must devote your personal labor or supervision to the business enterprise. You may not use a GI business loan for a business in which you will not participate.

Q. I was hurt in a railroad accident recently, as I was on my way, under orders, to report for induction into the armed forces. Being permanently disabled, I was not accepted for duty. Am I eligible for GI insurance that's available to disabled Korean veterans—even though I've never been in uniform?

A. Yes. You may be eligible for GI insurance, but you must apply for it within one year from the date you suffered your disability. Get in touch with your nearest VA office as soon as possible, in order to get full details and take the necessary steps.

Q. I'm in active service, and the VA has taken over payments of my $10,000 commercial life insurance policy under the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act. How long after my discharge will VA continue to make those payments?

A. VA will make your payments up to two years after your service has ended. But remember, you'll have to repay VA for all the money it paid in your behalf.

Q. May I choose anyone I wish to be the beneficiary of my National Service Life Insurance policy?

A. Yes. There is no restriction

Cattle Feeding Test Results Announced

Practically equal gains were obtained with solvent-processed and hydraulic-processed cottonseed meals as protein supplements in the 1950-51 cattle feeding studies at the Spur Experiment Station. P. T. Marion, assistant animal husbandman at the Spur station, reports that gains obtained with whole cotton seed in this experiment were too expensive for economical feeding, when cotton seed was valued at $90.50 per ton.

A greater net return was obtained from feeding steers four pounds of cottonseed meal and four pounds of sorghum grain daily than from feeding two pounds of cottonseed meal and six pounds of grain. The steps fed four pounds of cottonseed meal gained one-fifth of a pound more weight per head daily.

The addition of four pounds of alfalfa hay to rations containing cottonseed meal, sorghum grain and sumac silage increased the steer gains and net returns over rations fed without alfalfa hay.

Daily gains of steers were lowered 0.32 pound by the addition of one-half of a pound of granulated salt per steer to the daily ration. Other than lower gain and a decline in appetite during the last 28 days of feeding, no ill effects were apparent from the high salt intake.

Wasting Money on Foreign Relations Creates No Good Will We are in complete sympathy with the members of Congress who are attempting to reduce the foreign aid bill.

Just recently we heard a number of the North Atlantic pact delegation in Europe tell of the terrible waste which was going on by this group, as wild party after wild party was pulled off—at the expense of the American taxpayers.

We do not blame Congress for becoming hostile against such waste.

So long as the money is going where it was intended to go, and is accomplishing worthwhile projects which it is supposed to accomplish, no one will object to having his taxes increased to pay the bill.

When it comes to waste, we are all opposed to the waste of public money, whether it be right here in Randall county; down at Austin; or in Washington.

Pearls of Wisdom

liberal translation of the Latin phrase, "cave sedem", means "beware of sitting" or in the Southern vernacular, "Don't let the rocking chair get you". Some people pride themselves not so much on "having chicken every day" as having an alibi for their indulgences. When confronted on occasion, by some oversight on their part, like an empty sleeve, they delight in throwing forth an alibi. Be it age, ailment, or sheer indolence, "let John do it" (attitude) is a contentedly and "from my alibi rocking chair."

Once a little boy was sitting beside the road when a wayfarer passed by and asked what he was doing there. "Well", he said, "sometimes I sit and think and sometimes I just sit". Now if you are sitting thinking or perchance resting on your laurels of former achievements, then that's different. Pray, beware of that old rocking chair of idleness and don't use your age for an excuse either. Years of experience and properly applied time to learning should have fitted you to do more in less time and with less effort. Of course, physical infirmities are one thing but if you are enjoying good health then be up and doing.

The eminent British statesman and philosopher, G. K. Chesterton opined, "I do not believe in a fate that fall on them unless they act". One injects some zest into living when he is doing not a wishful thinker only. Dreams and careful thinking go into the ground work of a well-ordered existence but to be active in getting things done is reality. "All growth depends upon activity. There is no development physically or intellectually without effort, and effort means work. Work is not a curse; it is the prerogative of intelligence, the only means to manhood, and the measure of civilization", so wrote Calvin Coolidge.

Regardless of the fact, that we are all rushing madly in our several directions, we are searching ultimately for the same thing e.g., a happiness as evidenced by peace of mind and success in our major enterprises. Then beware of the old rocking chair and determine anew with Henry W. Longfellow, "I will be a man among men; and no longer a dreamer among the shadows. Henceforth be mine a life of action and reality! I will work on my own sphere, nor wish it other than it is. This alone is health and happiness."

With the above resolve in mind and properly applied to your living, you stand a good chance to be numbered among those who have attained success as defined in the following lines: "He has achieved success who has lived well, laughed often, and loved much; who gained the respect of intelligent men and the love of little children; who has filled his niche and accomplished his task; who has always looked for the best in others and given the best he had; whose life was an inspiration and whose memory is a benediction".

All one can be sure of if the old rocking chair of alibis, idleness, or indolence gets him is callosities.

Pearls of Wisdom

liberal translation of the Latin phrase, "cave sedem", means "be careful of sitting" or in the Socratic sense, "Don't let the rocking chair get you". Some people pride themselves not so much on having chicken every day as having an alibi for their indulgences. When confronted on an occasion, by some oversight on their part, like an alibi on the sleeve, they delight in going forth an alibi. Be it age, illness, or sheer indolence, "Let John do it" attitude) speak contentedly to and fro their alibi rocking chair.

Once a little boy was sitting beside the road when a wayfarer passed by and asked what he was doing there. "Well", he said, "sometimes I sit and think and sometimes I just sit". Now if you are sitting thinking or perchance resting on your laurels of former achievements, then that's different. Pray, beware of the 'old rocking chair of idleness' and don't use your age for an excuse either. Years of experience and properly applied time to learning should have fitted you to do more in less time and with less effort. Of course, physical infirmities are one thing but if you are enjoying good health then be up and doing.

The eminent British statesman and philosopher, G. K. Chesterton opined, "I do not believe in a fate that fall on them unless they act". One injects some zest into living when he is doing not a wishful thinker only. Dreams and careful thinking go into the ground work of a well-ordered existence but to be active in getting things done is reality. "All growth depends upon activity. There is no development physically or intellectually without effort, and effort means work. Work is not a curse; it is the prerogative of intelligence, the only means to manhood, and the measure of civilization", so wrote Calvin Coolidge.

Regardless of the fact, that we are all rushing madly in our several directions, we are searching ultimately for the same thing e.g., a happiness as evidenced by peace of mind and success in our major enterprises. Then beware of the old rocking chair and determine anew with Henry W. Longfellow "I will be a man among men; and no longer a dreamer among the shadows. Henceforth be mine a life of action and reality! I will work on my own sphere, nor wish it other than it is. This alone is health and happiness."

With the above resolve in mind and properly applied to your living, you stand a good chance to be numbered among those who have attained success as defined in the following lines: "He has achieved success who has lived well, laughed often, and loved much; who gained the respect of intelligent men and the love of little children; who has filled his niche and accomplished his task; who has always looked for the best in others and given the best he had; whose life was an inspiration and whose memory is a benediction".

All one can be sure of if the old rocking chair of alibis, idleness, or indolence gets him is callosities.

This is the key to many things.

It's the key to a Buick, as you may well guess.

It's the key to power that is nimble and mighty and always alert—and to miles that are wondrously smooth and supremely pleasant.

It's the key to a prized possession that will keep this Christmas joyous in memory for months and even years.

And it's the key to sparkling eyes and happy smiles and delighted surprise for that very special Someone who receives it.

Want to know why a Buick's key can work such wonders? Come in and find out firsthand.

This, we promise you, is one bit of veterans must have been ordered to active duty for 31 days or more; they must have served since June 27, 1950, and they must have been released from active service.

These veterans are eligible without physical examination, for a five-year level premium term policy in amounts ranging from $1,000 to $10,000, less any other Government life insurance in force at the time of application.

They must apply in writing to Veterans Administration, Washington 25, D. C., within 120 days after their release or separation from active service, and pay the required first premium.

The premium rates for most ages under this policy are the lowest of any Government life insurance yet authorized by the Congress.

While this policy may be renewed every five years at the premium rate for the then-attained age, it is not convertible to any other plan of Government life insurance, nor will it earn dividends.

Because it is a term policy running for only five years, it does not have any loan value, cash surrendered value, or extended insurance value. It merely provides life insurance coverage while premiums are being paid for the five-year period.

A veteran taking out this type of policy may name any person or persons or corporation, or his estate as the beneficiary or beneficiaries to whom payments shall be made in event of his death while the policy is in force under premium-paying conditions.

Death payments made to the beneficiary or beneficiaries are exempt from taxation, but the exemption does not extend to any property bought with this. These payments also are fully exempt from claims of creditors against the insured veteran or his beneficiary or beneficiaries, but this exemption does not apply against the United States.

Veterans who plan to apply for this insurance may do so immediately following separation or release from active service, but they must meet requirements within 120 days after separation or release.

For further information, veterans should contact their nearest VA office immediately after separation or release.

Cotton Men Point

(Continued from page 1) maintained during the harvest period." The federal commodity loan program offers the major opportunity for orderly marketing of the 1951 crop, Mr. Young said, pointing out that conditions prevailing this fall are identical to those for which the program was created.

"The loan program was never intended as a method of setting a price for cotton, but as a mechanism through which the farmer could avoid dumping his cotton on a glutted market in exactly the type of situation which now exists," he said.

"The loan program can and should be used in the weeks ahead to absorb the volume of cotton which is not needed immediately by domestic textile mills or for export, and which is in excess of the capacity of private financing facilities.

Without it, the splendid response of cotton farmers to their government's appeal for a 16,000,000-bale crop could easily result in raw cotton prices substantially less than the minimum the farmer expected when he planted his crop last spring, and also substantially less than the level prevailing when the appeal for a big defense crop was made by military and civilian agencies."

Young complimented the leadership of various producer organizations on the aggressive work being done, and gains already made, in informing individual farmers regarding use of the loan program. "I trust," he said, "that you will impress upon all of your group the immediate importance of this program as a mechanism through which each member may decide whether he wants to dispose of his crop at existing levels or hold it for later sale."

While the dust was blowing Tuesday afternoon, a real yard cleaning took place at our home. After all was made spick and span new leaves, paper, weeds, honey locust beans, and what have you, again had it looking like the cleaning went for nought. However, two truck loads of kindling and trash were hauled away and dumped where it won't likely come back into town.

Now, since I have cleaned my yard, how about others all over town doing likewise? Of course I can tell others what to do now—which I didn't dare to do a few days ago.

All joking aside, Odessa had so many cases of polio, the whole town turned out a few days ago to clean up, hoping to stop the spread of the dread disease. It a lot of cleaning up should be done.

For more than a quarter of a century, Amarillo had two papers, The Globe and The News. Then a few years ago, The Times entered the field. Now, combination as been effected wherein The Globe and The Times have been merged. This will likely prove beneficial to the territory served. Some good reporters and editors of both papers, now on the one should make an improvement in the Amarillo newspapers. They have all three been worthy of note in the past, and if anything should become more worthy of a place in the sun.

when time hangs heavy on my hands.

Each passing day we hear more and more about the malfeasance of federal employees, and it reflects badly on the entire administration. Also, we hear more and more things about the police action in Korea. We had the Reds bested on the ground and in the air, and first thing we knew, we learned they have us out-numbered in planes which our officers claim are much superior to those of the UN forces. And on top of all this, we keep talking truce with the Reds, when we know—from the six-year-old child to the aged citizens—they are just stalling and will not stick to any agreement they make. Wouldn't it be fine if we had people at the head of the government who would stand on their hind legs, draw a line and spit on it and dare them to come over. Surely, Americans, English and others have lost a lot of what we called "guts." Now, we pacify.

It is just 465 hours and minutes until Christmas Day. Already, the feet of Christmas countenances to a lot of Others have yet to feel the relatives sick, or in service rea do not have much to over.

W. S. Chancey Celebrates 95th Birthday Sunday

W. S. Chancey, who has resided in Hall County for nearly half a century, celebrated his 95th birthday quietly at his home, 911 Brice Sunday when members of his family gathered for a family dinner. Mr. Chancey's birthday was Monday but the dinner was held one day early.

Many friends called during the day to bring "good wishes" on this special occasion while others friends sent gifts and birthday greetings. A beautifully decorated birthday cake was presented to the honoree by Jake McCulloch, who operates the local bakery.

William Samuel Chancey was born in Perry, Ga., Dec. 3, 1856. He came to Hall County in 1908. Before coming to Hall County he lived in Louisiana, Sherman and St. Jo of Montague County. He was in the transfer business while living in St. Jo.

When he moved to Hall County he bought a farm south of Lakeview, which he still owns.

He married Alby Greenstreet on September 30, 1886. She died April 7, 1934. Since that time he has been living with his daughter, Mrs. Willie Kay.

Out-of-town guests attending the dinner Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Chancey and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Chancey and daughter, Mrs. Sam Chancey of Amarillo.

Local Artist's Pictures Place In Amarillo Show

Mrs. E. W. Godfrey Jr., won a blue ribbon on her copper-tooled pictures at the hobby show in Amarillo Sunday.

The show, which is an annual affair, was held in the Amarillo high school cafeteria from 2 until 6 o'clock Sunday afternoon and was sponsored by the Alpha Beta Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha.

Attending the show from Memphis were Mrs. Bob Ayers, Mrs. M. D. Gunstream, Mrs. Lloyd Vandeventer, and Mrs. E. W. Godfrey Jr., and Betty and Patsy.

"Adult Education" Is Program Topic At Delphian Meet

Mrs. J. L. Barnes, 718 South 7th, was hostess to members of the Delphian Club at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

The president, Mrs. Lynn McKown, opened the meeting by leading those present in the Lord's prayer, and then conducted a short business session.

Three new members, Mrs. Larry McQueen, Mrs. Roscoe Brown and Mrs. Daryl Brown, were welcomed into the club.

An informative program on "Adult Education" was introduced by Mrs. Henry Hays, program chairman. She quoted the topic for the program, "A New Trend for Trees" and showed how there are new trends for women in the world just as there are new trends for trees in industrial uses.

A panel, "What Role for Modern Woman" was given in most interesting way by Mrs. W. C. Davis, Mrs. A. Anisman and Mrs. Clarence Morris.

Mrs. Davis asked, "What's the trouble with modern woman?" In reply to this question, she gave some of the criticisms women are receiving today, among these, a quote from an English playwright who said, "Women, at best, is bad." She gave some reasons why so many women are discontented with their lives. She concluded her talk with a bright note on "Occupation Housewife," in which she said that any woman who does well at this great managerial task and creative activity should be proud of her occupation.

"Will a Career Solve Her Problem?" was discussed by Mrs. Anisman. She told how some theologians look upon the woman who works by choice as the "Lost Sex," other believe she symbolizes a revolution in our way of life and feel that it is she who typifies modern woman. She gave some of the pros and cons concerning this. For instance, does a career give a woman more dignity and self respect, or does it add to her complexity, and how does it effect her family, Mrs. Anisman ask.

Concluding this panel, Mrs. Morris said "Let's Look Again." She gave women a challenge to look at themselves again and deny some of the charges made by their detractors. She suggested education is an aid as Vassar president, Sarah Gibson Blanding said, "Teachings ultimate goal is to foster in the individual that happy combination of intellectual and emotional growth which will free her to work independently a life that satisfies her needs while enabling her to make a maximum contribution to others." Mrs. Morris said that women should live by their instincts which, as Dorothy Thompson said, "Unconscious knowledge" and that in women there is an untapped source of spiritual power which could contribute greatly toward world peace. She concluded by denying that women are confused and uncertain, and stating that they are matrons with a mission, and that we should be proud we are women.

After the program 21 members answered roll call.

A delicious desert plate was served to the following members: Mmes. A. Anisman, J. L. Barnes, Jack Boone, W. C. Davis, W. C. Dickey, Gordon Gilliam, M. D. Gunstream, Henry Hays, C. C. Hodges, Bill Kesterson, Carl Kulp, Weldon McCreary, Lynn McKown, J. S. McMurphy, C. D. Morris, J. W. Stokes, R. H. Wherry, Harold Smith, Larry McQueen, Roscoe Brown and Daryl Brown.

WSCS Meets Mon. In Dickson Home

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church had its regular meeting, Monday, Dec. 3, in the home of Mrs. Anna Dickson with Mrs. N. A. Hightower as co-hostess.

During the business session Mmes. Nelson and Erwin gave informative talks about the general conference of the Methodist Church held in Quitaque last week.

Mrs. Hoffman's devotional on Christmas giving was inspiring as well as Mrs. Hightower's prayer which followed it.

The theme of the program was "Offering our Gifts." Mrs. Neeley explained in an enlightening way that no nationally has a monopoly on spiritual assets.

Mrs. Roberts' interesting discussion was about young people of different nationalities and the work they are doing. Mrs. Neeley closed the meeting with prayer, and all repeated the WSCS benediction.

Delicious refreshments were served to the above mentioned and Mmes. C. R. Webster, Myrtis Phelan, C. W. Broome, T. J. Hampton, Rufus Grisham, Mac Tarver, W. H. Monzingo, Bess Crump, Conrad Lohoefer, Harold Smith, Kermit Monzingo, Ollie Lee, Lee Brown, J. J. McDaniel, J. S. Ballard, C. E. Hankins, J. M. Baker and Frank Foxhall.

MR. AND MRS. JOHNNY HAYS

Miss Mary Rachel McCool Is Bride Of Johnny Robert Hayes In Pampa Rites

In a double-ring ceremony performed recently at the chapel of the First Presbyterian Church in Pampa, Miss Mary Rachel McCool became the bride of Johnny Robert Hayes of Pampa. Dr. Douglas Nelson, pastor, read the service in the presence of relatives and a few intimate friends of the couple.

Given in marriage by her father, W. B. McCool, the bride wore a gray brocaded taffeta dress with navy blue accessories. Her bouquet was white carnations and to carry out the tradition of something old, something borrowed she wore a gold bracelet belonging to her grandmother.

Miss Anita McCool, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Sergeant Dennis Taylor attended the groom as best man.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. McCool of Dumas and formerly of Memphis, is a graduate of the Lefors high school. She is employed at the Citizens Bank and Trust Co., Pampa.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hayes of Pampa. He is a graduate of the Pampa High school and attended West Texas State College before serving in the Navy. At present he is employed with the Texas Company in Pampa.

After a brief trip to San Antonio, Mr. and Mrs. Hayes will be at home at 314 N. Gray, Pampa.

"See How They Run," Little Theatre Production, Acclaimed Huge Success

By Mrs. Roy L. Guthrie

To its steadily growing list of artistic theatrical productions the Memphis Little Theatre added another huge success, "See How They Run" on Thursday evening, November 29. Truly, there was never a dull moment in the three act farce-comedy written by Philip King. The play showed through out the entire evening the careful polishing and interpretation of its directors, Mrs. Tommy Harrison and Mrs. John Deaver.

Miss Helen Boswell turned in a superb portrayal of the leading lady, Penelope Toop, wife of the Vicar of Merton-cum-Middlewick, England. Miss Boswell's casual handling of her part, an American born actress in the role of wife to an austere vicar, was almost professional. Her diction was especially clear and her lines pointed.

Mrs. Robert Sexauer, who has proved her versatility by presenting a wide range of roles on the Little Theatre stage, tackled and mastered a most difficult part, that of Ida, the maid. Her flat-footed stolidity set against her tinkling coquetry kept the audience in gales of laughter.

Mrs. Leo Fields presented the most difficult role in the play, that of the love-starved spinster who imbibed a bit too freely.

Mac Wilson, Jr. did a marvelous job with the part of Corporal Clive Winton, the American soldier who had known and acted with the vicar's wife, Mr. Wilson's performance showed excellent conception and interpretation. Dwight Kinard succeeded admirably in portraying the village vicar, the Reverend Lionel Toop, who was the essence of things "just right," who galloped over the stage in his "long handles," and who came to the end of the play in full possession of the hearts of the audience.

Dave McVey played the minor role of the "Intruder" in a masterful fashion, proving himself capable of any position he might like to fill on the stage. Conrad Lohoefer was particularly suited to the characterization of the Bishop of Lax. His tall, slender figure added to the dignity of his part. His comedy was well drawn. Haskell Howell, always a favorite with Memphis audiences, did not fall from his place in the sun. As the Reverend Arthur Humphrey, Mr. Howell delighted the audience with his insane pantomimes as well as his keen delivery of speeches. Bill Teague, as Sergeant Towers, displayed a clever understanding of the self-importance attributed to the average army sergeant.

The stage crew, under the able leadership of Mrs. Abe Anisman, arranged a most attractive and appropriate set, the charming living room of the vicarage.

Salisbury Club Honors Mrs. Lee at Surprise Party

Members of the Salisbury Needle Club entertained with a surprise birthday party honoring one of their members, Mrs. Ernest Lee when the club met in regular session last week in the home of Mrs. E. L. McQueen. Mrs. Cleo Nichols was co-hostess for this affair which combined the regular monthly meeting and surprise party.

During the business session, conducted by Mrs. Ted Barnes, president, officers were elected for the coming year and included: Mrs. Larry McQueen, president; Mrs. G. W. Lockhart, vice president; Mrs. Felix Jerrill, secretary-treasurer; and Caludia Lee, reporter.

Also during the afternoon a demonstration on plastic articles was given by Mrs. Helen Gray of Amarillo.

Delicious refreshments were served to the following: Mmes. Ted Barnes, C. F. Stout, Ed Hutcherson, D. W. Lawrence, Jess Mitchell, G. M. Bass, Ernest Lee, L. I. Davis, G. W. Lockhart, Ida Hutcherson, D. C. Messick, Felix Jerrill, W. B. McQueen, Ira McQueen Jr., Larry McQueen, members; two guests, Mrs. C. A. Williams and Mrs. Helen Gray of Amarillo and hostesses, Mrs. McQueen and Mrs. Nichols.

MHS Cheer Leaders Complete Season's Activities For '51

Four cheerleaders and a mascot lead the Cyclone football fans through an exciting season this year. Three of the leaders are Seniors.

Jo Anne Webster, head pep leader, was one of the two leaders last year. She came to Memphis from Houston two years ago and since made an outstanding showing as a cheerleader. Bettie Kennon was pep leader for her first time this year. She made an excellent showing throughout the season.

Dee Ellen Durrett was also a cheerleader for her first time. She proved to be one of the peppiest students in MHS and showed great improvement throughout the season.

Barbara Kulp, a Sophomore was a cheerleader for her first time also. She hails from Pennsylvania and brought numerous good yells for the student body this year. She has two more years in MHS.

Abbie Louise Massey, a very attractive little girl enrolled in the first grade, was mascot for the cheerleaders this year and proved to be one of the best mascots MHS has had. Although the weather was below freezing at various times, Abbie was always at the game and always had as much pep as the MHS cheerleaders.

marked contribution to longer

In the 1-4 range, most forward driving or cruising is done in his fourth gear speed which brings the new 3.68 to 1 rear axle into full economy service. The new axle ratio is a 15 per cent lower reduction than the previous 3.64 to 1 which results in corresponding reduction in engine revolutions per mile of travel. The result in quieter operation, improved fuel economy on the highway and driving more nearly approaches the effect of "coasting."

In connection with the new Dual-Range Hydra-Matic Drive, Pontiac moves into top position in the industry with the high engine compression ratio of 7.7 - 1. With this compression ratio power output has been increased and advantage taken of the high octane fuels now commercially available.
Premium fuels are required with the 7.7 to 1 compression ratio.

Lower compression ratio of 6.8 to 1 for use with regular fuel in connection with Dual-Range power transmission, is available at the option of the purchaser.

Among other improvements in the new cars are a "flipper" weather door seal on the new Catalina models which prevents water dropping into the drivers compartment when the door is opened.
new generator frame and improved armature shaft construction, new "cooler" operating spark plugs with stronger structural features, new fuel pump, and other innovations.

As an extra cost option, in connection with radio installation, Pontiac this year has introduced a motor-driven antenna, which permits raising or lowering the antenna from within the car. With this convenience it is no longer necessary manually to adjust the antenna for remote area reception or for clearance in and out of the garage.

Important among accessories available on the 1952 Pontiacs is heat resistant (E-Z-Eye) safety glass. This tinted glass reduces glare as well as radiant heat in the car interiors. It keeps the car cooler on sunny days and since the windshield has a graduated increase in tint from the top down it eases eye strain on the driver.

U. S. Needs Civil Defense

ONE FIRST AID STATION WOULD NEED 200 WORKERS

(This is the fourth of a series of articles on civil defense, based on the booklet "This Is Civil Defense" prepared by the Federal Civil Defense Administration. It may be obtained from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C., for ten cents.)

By MILLARD CALDWELL
Federal Civil Defense Administrator

The most staggering civil defense problems are public education, training, and organization. All must be solved without delay. Immediate training for some 15,000,000 Americans, and intensive education in self-protection for 135,000,000 others are vital. Here are some facts and figures for you to think about.

Try to picture the number of trained workers that would be needed to handle an attack situation. As an example, a single first-aid station should consist of almost 200 workers. They could handle about 600 wounded people in 24 hours.

To care for those injured by one Hiroshima-size atomic bomb, nearly 100 such first-aid stations would be needed. That adds up to more than 20,000 first-aid workers needed for each atomic bomb—but it doesn't include hospital staffs.

An engineering service as large or even larger would be needed to clear away the rubble before first-aiders could reach the wounded. A highly trained rescue service would be needed to get people out of wrecked or burning buildings. A large and efficient supply service would be needed to bring in food, clothing, and medicine.

Job of Helping Homeless There would be other jobs of putting out fires, restoring utilities, caring for the homeless, gathering families together again, feeding the people, and getting the factories and community life rolling once more.

Most of the ways of meeting atomic disaster are not new or different, except in size. The biggest problem is to prepare ourselves to handle disasters greater than any that ever have struck the United States.

Remember what you read in the previous article about the Japanese at Hiroshima and Nagasaki. They were almost completely unprepared—and what happened? Their indifference in organizing an efficient civil defense should be a grim warning to us.

Here are some really important things to remember. They make up civil defense:

1. A possible enemy has the weapons now to attack us.
2. There is a defense against any attack, including atomic warfare, and civil defense is a big part of it.

3. At least 15,000,000 Americans must be trained in civil defense, and every American must learn the facts of survival.
4. Without civil defense your city would be helpless; with civil defense, your losses could be cut in half.

Must Have Support
5. Your State and local civil defense directors must have your support. They have an important job for you no matter where you live.

6. Read the official civil defense booklets right away. You can double your chances of survival if you know what to do.

7. Civil defense is up to you. Get into civil defense right now.

The biggest problem before us now is to be prepared on the home front—and that problem can be met only through civil defense. Each of us must have a job to do if trouble comes—and must know how to do it.

(The next article will discuss who is responsible for civil defense.)

such weaknesses and that their position in the negotiations would be considerably shaken.

Sincerity of purpose in bringing about a peaceful solution to the problem would seem to me to warrant the provisions requested by the UN team concerning inspection by both sides. This would not only insure full compliance with the terms of a cease-fire agreement but would serve to evidence the honor of both sides in entering into such an agreement.

INVESTIGATIONS: The subcommittee of the House Ways and Means Committee continues to gather evidence of malpractice by a number of employees of the Internal Revenue Department. As fast as this evidence is gathered Commissioner Dunlap is swinging the axe to completely cleanse that department of questionable practices and questionable practices.

The way to finally stop such corruption is to go after bribe takers, and until this is done, the disease will not be entirely cured. It may be necessary to pass new legislation to properly punish such offenders.

This is a matter that is now under consideration by several of us who are in Washington at the present time. You can look for some definite action along this line in the next session of Congress.

CHRISTIANTY vs. ATHEISM: Here is a story I thought you would enjoy. A group of Russian explorers, all atheists, came across a tribe in dark Africa that had not adopted Christianity, we could benefit the Russians. The formerly been cannibals but had recently subscribed to Christianity. The chief welcomed the Russians and told them that they need have no fear because his people had become Christians.

The leader of the Russians questioned the chief as to what benefits he thought he could gain from Christianity. The chief replied that it would be difficult to tell all of the good things that Christianity had done for his people but that he was sure it had done a lot for the Russians.

The Russian advised the chief that they were all atheists and he could not possibly understand why the chief thought that the adoption of Christianity by the tribe would be having you folks for dinner, rather than to dinner." Maine is bounded by only one state, New Hampshire.

REPORT FROM WASHINGTON By Walter Rogers Congressman, 18th District

KOREA: At last some encouraging word is coming from Korea. The present accomplishments are the result of a long and tedious uphill climb and it is still a touch and go proposition. Much progress has been made in negotiations, and let us hope and pray that further progress will be made and a peaceful solution can be effected.

There are many things that I could say about this situation, but I shall refrain from so doing for the reason that a wrong word or a misconstrued phrase at this time could easily slow down, if not measurably hinder continued negotiations. The task is a difficult one and our members of the negotiating team are under a tremendous burden.

The success or failure of the entire program is going to depend solely upon the honor of the participating parties. For that reason there should be a clear and definite understanding on all points at issue so that there can be no misconception or misapplication of the terms employed.

Present indications are that an armistice can and will be worked out. However, there is always the possibility that the whole thing could blow sky high without warning. As I told you many months ago, the preparedness program of this country has proceeded pretty well on schedule, and it would certainly be to the best interests of all parties concerned that the war in Korea be ended forthwith.

If Russia and her satellites continue to stand in the way of world peace, they will soon find out that the United States of America does not bluff.

You have probably noticed in the newspapers that the communists do not want to agree to a free inspection behind the lines

AN INTERESTING REPORT

Last week we received in the mail a report on the news source curtain experienced by newspaper editors in Texas conducted by Donald Burchard, Head of the department of Journalism, Texas A & M College.

Earlier we received from Burchard, several weeks ago, a questionnaire concerning difficulty we had in getting news from certain sources.

The report, in full, which we received last week, is rather interesting and sheds some light on prominent topics of the present-day news.

Sixty-seven per cent of the papers responding to the questionnaire reported either isolated or frequent cases of denying to their reporters free access to public records or of being excluded from meetings.

Police departments led the list of government agencies denying access to news reporters. Difficulties ranged from deliberate withholding of news to simply failure to keep any sort of records that are available for inspection.

Locally, we have no complaint with law enforcement agencies. Since we have been here, they have never refused or hesitated to give us information and several times they have gone out of their way to make sure we had some information.

Second to police officers in denying news were city councils and school boards. Several cases were reported where these bodies "decided how much of the public's business the public should know."

Largest single violation seemed to be that city commissioners and school officials held meetings without notifying the press and information about what happened in the called meetings was not made public.

Of all the papers replying to the questionnaire, 40 percent reported that they had found no evidence of denying free access to public records, or of being excluded from meetings.

Only a few of the weekly newspaper editors reported outright refusal to give news, but nearly all of them encountered more or less reluctance on the part of some officials. Some ascribed this to a genuine distrust of publicity while many others found that it was due either to antagonism toward the editor or lack of faith in intelligence of people.

When we filled out the questionnaire we did not report any evidence of denying news coverage here in Memphis or elsewhere in Hall county. There have been and probably always will be a reluctance on the part of some individuals to give us news when we were after a story. However these individual cases were always ones which we simply went around or over their head and secured the information in question.

We were happy that here in our town we had no evidence of anyone denying public news. It is a mark of good government as well as cooperation between all governing bodies and this newspaper.

MURDER IN MOSCOW

Press Paragraphs— QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

Alexander F. Jones, president of the American Society of Newspapers Editors, calls for a prompt end to the free press privileges granted Communist correspondents in Washington.

"Tass Agency (the Soviet press bureau) enjoys the full privileges of the free press in the United States," says Jones. "American reporters in the Soviet countries are subjected to every indignity—even jail—in their attempt to do an honest reporting job—Tass is not a news service. It is a Russian government-supported and controlled propaganda bureau. Its Russian employees—Mikhail Fedorov in Washington, for example—are Soviet Government employees who come to this country on diplomatic passports. Tass serves no free customers. They represent a government whose political philosophy teaches and advocates the overthrow of the United States. Government by force and violence. Yet these representatives are accorded every privilege of the free press in Washington."

—Sycamore, Ohio, Leader

"Our citizens are guaranteed freedom, and freedom of the press is freedom of the people. But, constitutional guarantees can be abrogated and the newspapers of the United States are battling today to preserve a free press. To win a fight requires determination and courage to see it through no matter what the sacrifice."

—Plattsmouth, Nebr., Journal.

"There is something about a church which inspires reverence. It matters little whether it is a one-room building with hard-backed benches or a great cathedral with tall spires which point heavenward—it may be so because . . . people lower their voices when they enter, and greed and avarice are forgotten at the door. Inside the church are spoken the words and thoughts which have guided men for centuries. Inside it a person instinctively turns his eyes and his heart toward the altar of greater power and wisdom."

—Cuero, Tex. Record.

The United States once paid tribute to the Pirates of Tripoli and Algiers, for the privilege of trading in the Mediterranean.

Our Peculiar Responsibility

A modern, up-to-date pharmacy plays a vital part in the affairs of every community. Our first duty is combatting the ills of our citizens. Because of this fact, we hold the following to be important:

We believe a pharmacist should never fill a prescription which he would be unwilling to use or have used in his home. Neither do we prescribe—that is the physician's function exclusively. The ethical pharmacist would be the last person on earth to rely on "bargain-counter diagnosis," and knows that even minor ills, without competent medical attention, may become major ills. Neither do we prescribe for ourselves when we are really ill. The truism that the man who is his own physician "has a fool for a doctor," can well apply here. If you are sick enough to need medicine, you are sick enough to need the knowledge, skill and experience required to prescribe medicine. Therefore, see your doctor.

We hold the above to be important as far as our profession is concerned, and pledge ourselves to recognize at all times our peculiar responsibility to this community.

ONE PLANE... doesn't make an Air Force

Many special types of aircraft . . . built in many different plants . . . are assembled in our nation's Air Force to assure an air arm that will not fail.

In a way, that's how the natural gas business operates, too. "Multiple sources of supply," we call it, but it simply means we have pipe line connections in many different gas fields to assure natural gas service that will not fail.

United Gas is producing or purchasing gas in more than 200 gas fields—and is adding new sources of supply all the time. That's why we can tell the communities and industries that are our present customers, as well as those who are connected to our lines in the future, they can be sure of dependable, low-cost natural gas service from United Gas.

looking at the 1951 Chevrolet that was parked across from Potts which was smashed up in the wreck early Saturday morning. The car was almost new, had only about 2200 miles on it. I heard one fellow remark after looking at it that he was going home, get his car, bring it down to a used car dealer and sell it and absolutely refuse to ride in one on the highways anymore. And if you investigate very many of these wrecks you can sure understand how he feels.

Notice where Thompson Bros. Hardware is getting a new sidewalk around their building. I'm sure glad, for no longer than I've been here, I nearly broke my neck a couple of times on that corner. Also there are a few other places equally as bad in the sidewalks around town. Someone remarked recently it might be cheaper to fix the sidewalks than to face a law suit if someone gets hurt before they are fixed.

There is a lot of fat in government operations, and what we should do is to put the governmental agencies on a diet. --Paul Douglas.

In Lighter Vein No Parents Allowed: Two little girls were playing when one pretended that she wanted to rent the other's playhouse. "Have you any parents?" the playhouse owner asked. "Yes, two," was the reply. "I'm sorry," the small landlady said, "but I never rent to children with parents. They're so noisy and destructive."

A drive has been started in Travis county, Texas of Marine Corps families. They have sent out 5,000 copies of a list of resolutions namely condemning the inept and faulty Washington leaders in the handling of the Korean War and demand that the President and military leaders either withdraw all American forces from Korea or that a complete mobilization be had of all our resources, including sea and air power, to end the tragic war in Korea. This is something that may grow to national proportions.

When you fix your Christmas tree, put the base in a pan of water, then cover it with cotton to hide it. Thus your children, your house and your Christmas will be much safer from fire.
