CLAUDE'S COMMENTS

By J. C. W.

"It's not the nut on the wheel that causes car wrecks, but the nut behind the wheel." Wreckless drivers still try to pass trucks going up hill. I know. Had to make to the bar ditch this side of Hedley last week when a hot-rod tried passing two trucks right at the top of the hill. I sat on the horn and if it could have talked plain English that hot-rod's ears would have surely caught a lot of words he never heard before.

This is hand-signal month. So declared by Governor Allan Shivers. Hand signals are easy to use if drivers of cars will just use them. When expecting to take a right-hand turn, the hand should be held up; left-hand turn, (Continued on Page 8)

TEXAS SAFETY ASSOCIATION

HAND SIGNAL MONTH—January has been designated as Hand Signal Month in Texas by the Texas Safety Association as one way to help prevent accidents on roads and highways in this state. Gin Reports Show County Total Now Above 42,000

Cotton reported to have been ginned here in Hall County, classed by the government Cotton Classing Office in Altus, Okla., as of January 3 was said to be well past the 42,000 bale mark, according to a report received by County Agent W. B. Hooser.

Cotton classing office report lists 42,247 bale samples having been received by the office as of the third from Hall County gins.

County Agent Hooser said the total should be somewhat higher than that now for not all gins are included in the cotton classing report.

Last official U. S. Department of Commerce Census Bureau report was given Dec. 1, and listed 36,630 bales. Their January 1 report should be announced next week.

SPEAKER—Governor Allen Shivers is expected to speak here in Memphis next Tuesday at a joint luncheon meeting of the Lions, Rotary and Business & Professional Women's Clubs according to information received this week. Shivers will be in Childress Monday night and is making a swing through this part of the country. No political announcements have been made in connection with the trip.

Water Co. Receives O. K. to Drill

Community Public Service Company received authorization Monday from the National Production Authority for construction of the two new water wells called for under the franchise granted the company by the city last November.

The authorization and allotment of controlled materials calls for construction of the wells during the first quarter of 1952, W. V. Coursey, water company manager, stated.

Approval of the project was speeded up by special appeal to the Water Resources Division of NPA, Coursey said. Normally applications must be filed at least 105 days before the quarter of the year in which construction is to begin, but this requirement was waived by NPA when the need for an early increase in the local water supply was shown.

A contract for drilling the wells and installing the well pumps has been let to the Layne-Texas Company. The wells will be located on the Stanford tract north of town and are expected to have an output of 200 gallons per minute each. Work will be started by the contractor as soon as all materials have been assembled on the site.

Charles H. Booth Buried At Newlin

Funeral services for Charles Henry Booth, 59, a resident of Hall County for more than 23 years, who died at his home near Lesley last Thursday, were held Saturday afternoon.

The Rev. Young Tucker, pastor of the Lesley Baptist Church held the service, and burial was at the Newlin cemetery.

Booth married Miss Dora L. Luff in 1914 at Peerless, Texas, and they moved to Hall County in 1928 where they settled at the Newlin community. Later they moved to Lesley. Booth had been a member of the Lesley Baptist Church for several years.

He is survived by his wife; two daughters, Mrs. Gladys Anthony of Memphis and Mildred Booth of Lesley; two sons, Grover of Memphis and Joe of Lesley; four brothers, Edgar of Peerless, Ben and John of Shawnee, Okla., and George of Bobbitt, Nev.; a stepmother, Mrs. Stella Booth of Lesley; three half-brothers, Claud of Lubbock and Edd and Bluford of Lesley, and three grandchildren. Two children preceded him in death.

Pall bearers included M. D. Kennard, M. M. Kennard, J. O. Adams, Kirby Hagin, Bill Murrell and John Hatley.

Funeral services were arranged by Murphy-Spicer.

Family Folders Being Mailed

Work has already commenced here in Hall County by March of Dimes volunteers in preparation to collect the county quota, which will again be $5,000, according to Chairman R. C. Lemons and Secretary Roselyn Williams.

Family March of Dimes folders have been mailed to business firms and families already, Miss Williams said. "We are trying to send every family in this county one of the family coin or currency folders," Miss Williams added.

Already some of the folders have returned with contributions, Miss Williams added.

In addition, Ted Myers and many teen-age boys have been helping the campaign by distributing the iron-lungs in drug stores. The boys also plan Saturday to set up their wishing well on the square and pass around with contribution containers and help solicit funds for the drive.

They will pass these containers at the Invitational Basketball tournament this week end and also tour the residential section this Saturday.

Miss Williams added that workers would appreciate families or persons returning the March of Dimes folders with their contribution, as soon as possible.

Deadline Nears As Local Voters Pay Poll Taxes

"More than 83 per cent of the qualified voters of Hall County have already bought their 1952 poll tax," county Tax Collector Assessor J. W. Coppedge announced this week.

Citizens have until the end of this month in which to purchase their $1.75 poll tax, but the majority of them seem to have already qualified themselves to vote this year, Coppedge added.

"Our business has been extra heavy this week," he said, "ever since General Eisenhower made his announcement Sunday."

"There seems to be much interest in the national elections this year and evidently more people are paying poll taxes in order that they can have a voice in the elections," he continued.

Commerce Directors To Count Ballots At Friday Meeting

Chamber of Commerce Manager Clifford Farmer announced that directors of the organization would meet sometime Friday to count ballots of the recent election of directors for the coming year.

Twelve new directors were elected and three associate directors from the county precincts will be named by the newly elected board to help plan activities for Hall County next year, Farmer said. Directors will be notified as to the time of the meeting.

Short Last Year Hall County Fell Short of the County-wide Drive of $5,000.

The total amount collected in this county amounted to $2795.45. Half of this amount was turned over to the National Headquarters of the March of Dimes and locally this chapter spent $342.70 in aiding polio victims.

This leaves the county treasurer rather shy of funds if much help for polio victims is needed this coming year, Chairman Lemons pointed out.

In the past four years more than 100,000 Americans have been polio victims. This almost equals the total for all other years since the foundation was started in 1938.

More than $60,000,000 has been spent in the past three years and the National Foundation is several million dollars in debt. In debt because they have taken care of polio victims who were unable to pay the high cost of treatment.

That is why the March of Dimes urges you to contribute as much as you can this year, so that future polio victims can be treated and taken care of with the finest medical care.

By Mail

Chairman Lemons stated that anyone wishing to donate could mail a check or currency to R. C. Lemons, Chairman Hall County Chapter Infantile Paralysis, Memphis.

Lemons added that polio doesn't check with a person's bank book before it strikes and very few families can afford to pay the entire cost of caring for a polio patient. For this reason everyone should join the March of Dimes.

Citizenship Week To Be Observed Here

Mayor Carl Harrison has issued proclamation designating the week of January 14 through January 19 as "American Citizenship Week." His action is in line with recent "Official Memorandum" issued by Governor Shivers setting up the entire month of January, 1952, as "American Citizenship Month." Stressing the responsibilities and duties of the individual citizen in preserving a democratic way of life, the content is part of an annual citizenship program sponsored by the voters of Texas.

"Every individual should stop and think about the fact that he has obligations as well as privileges arising from our status as citizens of a free and democratic nation," the proclamation refers to his official decree. We cannot expect to retain our liberties forever unless each of us reasonably shares in performing our obligations of citizenship."

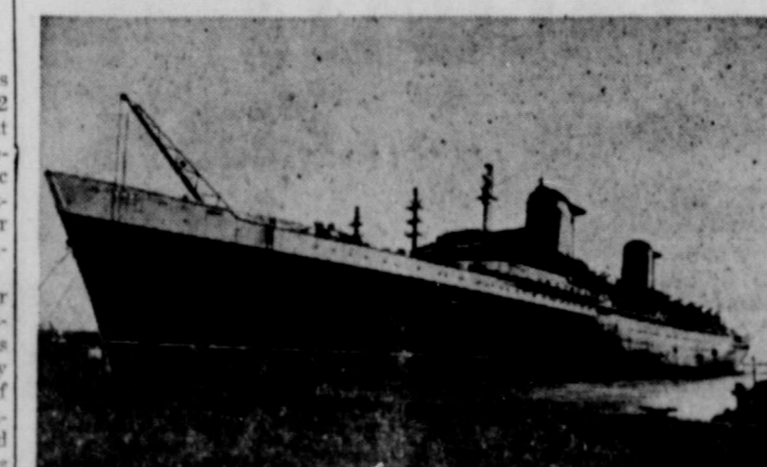

Spearheaded by the State Bar of Texas, which is furnishing speakers for local programs throughout the state, the 1952 campaign has as its theme, "What Can I Do For Democracy?" Approximately 7500 local civic minded organizations are expected to cooperate in the drive, bar president Cecil F. Burney has announced.

Among groups taking part over the state will be local organizations of Lions Internations, Texas Federated Womens Clubs, Rotary International, Texas League of Women Voters, Optimist International, the American Legion and Legion Auxilliary, and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Also participating will be C. I. O. and A. F. of L. locals, the various railroad brotherhoods, local G. I. Forum, Chambers of Commerce and Junior Chamber of Commerce, the State Bar has indicated. In addition, every college, junior college and university in Texas has been asked to conduct special assembly programs.

Seagoing Beauty is Groomed for Debut

SUPERLINER—The giant liner United States, largest and fastest passenger ship ever built in this country, looms large against the winter sky at her outfitting dock in Virginia. The vessel is now 85 per cent completed, with interior installations now underway, and is scheduled to make her maiden voyage from New York to Southampton and Le Harve early next summer. Her peacetime capacity will be 2,000 passengers and a crew of 1,000, although in wartime, she could carry a complete division of 14,000 men a distance of 10,000 miles without stopping for fuel, water or food.

City Taxes Now 70% Collected

City Tax Collector Glen Carlos announced this week that 70 per cent of the amount of taxes listed on the 1951 rolls has already been collected.

Remainder of the taxes will probably be paid this month, he added.

The collector also reported that advance payments on sewer service charges were being paid and reminded other residents that they can save as much as two dollars per year on advance sewer payments. Refunds are made in case any person moves before the end of the year. Advance payments will be taken until the end of this month.

Drivers Urged To Learn Proper Hand Signals

Governor Allan Shivers has urged the automobile drivers in Texas to learn proper hand signals and apply them while driving as a means of lowering the "death and injury toll on our streets and highways". This appeal is contained in an official memorandum issued by Shivers which designates January as "hand signal month" in the Lone Star State.

"The use of proper hand signals," said Shivers, "is a most effective weapon in the curbing of traffic accidents. The hand-signaling motorist is the courteous motorist. I am firmly convinced that if all drivers were courteous while at the wheel, our traffic toll would be reduced to the minimum.

"When a motorist applies hand signals in his driving, he automatically becomes conscious of all aspects of traffic safety and courtesy—the protection of pedestrians, the danger of weaving in traffic, the death-dealing results of speed, the folly of hogging the highway, the importance of yielding the right-of-way. So, I urge all motorists to acquaint themselves with the proper hand signals and to apply them diligently. The hand signal is the mark of a courteous driver; he doesn't keep the other driver guessing".

Shivers stated that a number

New Magazine On Soil, Water For Landowners

Landowners around Memphis are getting their first copies this week of the landowners' magazine of Texas, a sort of grass-roots proposition undertaken by the men and women who own and operate the millions of acres of land in the State.

The Magazine, called "Soil and Water," contains 40 pages of information on conservation in all the major sections of Texas, plus a cover printed in color.

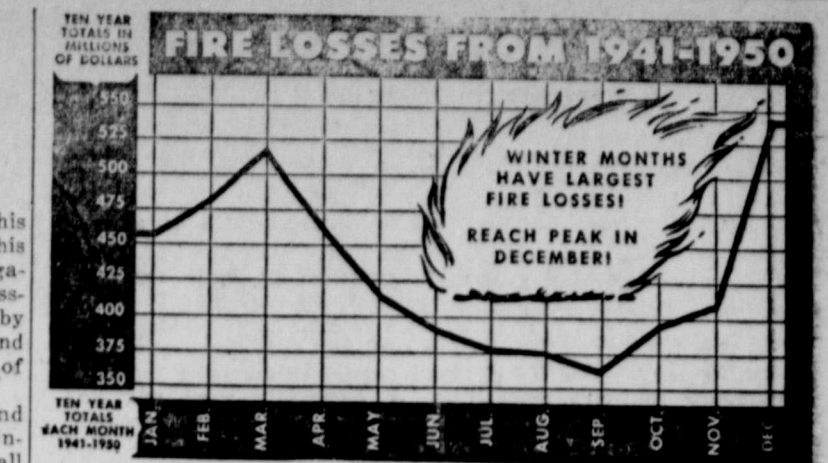

Established by the District Supervisors of the 164 Soil Conservation Districts representing over 142 million acres of Texas land, the magazine, to be issued monthly, points out in its first issue that "conservation isn't something you achieve and then sit back and admire, like a twelve-point buck over the mantle, its a continuing job and will never be finished as long as man makes a living off the soil."

Achieving conservation through Soil Conservation Districts, it adds, is "the very essence of development of cities and towns in Texas have carried out campaigns on hand signal education, and in practically all cases, these points have become recognized for their "courteous drivers"

The state-wide hand-signal campaign is sponsored by the Texas Safety Association, Inc. and is patterned after the project conducted jointly last September in Dallas, by the Citizens Traffic Commission and the Dallas Civic Club, Highway posters and other media proclaimed the slogan: "Right turn—hand up. Left turn—hand out. Slow or stop—hand down."

The hand signal month in Texas is to be promoted by the press and radio facilities throughout the State and is to be directed by J. O. Musick of Austin, General Manager of the Texas Safety Association; Bruce Cunningham of Dallas, representing the Dallas Civic Club and the Citizens Traffic Commission, and Weldon Hart, formerly of Governor Shivers press staff.

democracy. The nation's Soil Conservation Districts, operated by the landowners themselves, constitute a new nationwide declaration of faith in democracy at a time when the fainthearted fear the breakdown of our type government.

Contents of the magazine, which is printed on glossy paper, includes numerous pictures of soil conservation results throughout the state, articles by experts on conservation, a statement of purposes by the President of the Association of Texas Soil Conservation District Supervisors, M. C. Puckett of Fort Stockton, a short history of soil conservation in Texas by Louis Merrill, Regional Director of the Soil Conservation Service, an announcement of the annual meeting of the Supervisors in Brownwood January 23-24, 1952, and numerous feature articles on soil conservation accomplishments in all its phases throughout the state. Publication offices of the magazine are in Temple.

Nations represented in the UN fleet include the United Kingdom, France, Denmark, the Netherlands, New Zealand, Sanada, the Republic of Korea, Colombia, Thailand and the United States.

Livestock Men Hunt Winter Cattle Feed

Texas livestock men are searching far and wide for roughages to feed their cattle this winter. They have been importing hay from the Midwest since last July.

This search has uncovered several emergency roughage materials. Some of these are low in quality but may be used if fed with other roughages of higher quality and a protein supplement such as cottonseed meal.

John H. Jones, animal husbandman with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, reports that corn-cob-and-shuck meal, ground peanut hulls, dehydrated green cotton stalks and gin trash are some of the emergency roughages now being fed.

"Most of the corn cobs and shucks in Central Texas have been ground into meal for roughage," says Jones. "Although this meal has a low protein content, it has more fattening value than most of the other emergency roughages. It makes a good bulky kind of feed, suitable as a carrier for cottonseed meal."

Ground peanut hulls are low in protein and very high in crude fiber. Grinding improves the hulls for feeding, and they may be used as part of the filler for cattle. A commonly used mixture consists of 40 percent ground peanut hulls, 40 percent cottonseed hulls and 20 percent cottonseed meal.

One of the most promising emergency roughages is dehydrated green cotton stalks. The preparation of this material resulted from a scarcity of alfalfa for dehydration and the urgent need for feed. Green, leafy cotton stalks were available, and Joe Varisco of College Station was able to prepare a small tonnage of dehydrated cotton stalk material before frost.

Analysis of a sample of the dehydrated cotton stalks at the State Chemist's Laboratory showed a crude protein content of 10.35 percent and a nitrogen-free extract content of 45.66 percent. The material has good quality, color and smell.

Varisco gave several sacks of the dehydrated stalks to the Experiment Station. J. E. Roberts, superintendent of the Main Station Farm at College Station, reports that cattle eat the material very readily.

PANHANDLE CHAMPIONS!

Others claim that in mild weather spoilage of ducks is hastened if the intestines are not removed immediately after shooting. Their recommended method is to "buttonhook" them. This is done with a buttonhook or a wood hook by inserting it in the vent and twisting it to catch the inside of the large intestine for removal through the vent. The entire intestine can be drawn out without enlarging the opening. This method should be used on all ducks early in the season. All dipper or puddle ducks, such as mallards and pintails, will spoil more rapidly than diving ducks because of the type of vegetation they feed upon. Most old hunters insist that the best way to preserve the delicate flavor of upland game such as quail, grouse and prairie chicken is to draw the birds immediately and fill the cavity with grass. Robinson is a great believer in carrying game birds by a strap rather than in a hunting coat. It doesn't take long for a badly shot bird to spoil in your game pocket. After you've shot a bird the natural thing is to shove it in your pocket and continue the hunt. You forget that this bird is hot with body heat. This may be all right if you have only a field to cover, but I would advise you to carry your birds in your hand or by strap if you have a long hike before you. The sooner you get them back to your car and dry them out, the better the flavor of your game will be.

Every outdoorsman should know how to protect his eyes from bright sunshine by the use of effective sunglasses.

Sunglasses should be chosen as carefully as a pair of corrective spectacles. Don't use the cheap plastic and celluloid or molded-glass type. Get a pair with optically perfect lens of high-quality glass. The cheap ones not only give you poor protection but will cause eyestrain.

By far the most effective and most popular tinted lens for general outdoor use is the yellow-green type. This color filters out almost all the potentially harmful ultraviolet and infrared rays. There is little color distortion—which means no trouble distinguishing traffic lights!

The regular use of this yellow-green type of lens will protect your eyes from eyestrain. (Continued on page 8)

Texans To Fight For Tidelands During February

February will be "Tidelands Defense Month" in Texas, the Statewide Tidelands Committee announced today through its Chairman, Guy C. Jackson, Jr., of Anahuac.

Attention of Texans will be called to the tidelands issue by means of newspaper advertisements and stories, radio broadcasts, magazines and other means, the Chairman said.

Funds will be sought to carry on a national campaign for Congressional action quit-claiming the tidelands to the states.

"We are faced with a determined fight in Congress this next session", Jackson said. "We must carry the facts of the tidelands case to the people of every state in the nation. We must finance the cost of sending nationally-known Texans into every state to carry the facts to the people. Then we are confident Congress will act favorably on legislation which will nullify the effects of the Supreme Court decisions."

"Monthly magazines of the participating organizations will print a four-page pamphlet in the February issue to help their members to participate in the drive for funds", Jackson said.

The House of Representatives passed quit-claim legislation in Austin of 1951 by a vote of 265 to 109. The Senate is expected to consider legislation in the current session. Funds raised by the Statewide Tidelands Committee will be devoted to a national campaign to awaken the country to the dangers of the tidelands decisions and to secure strong support in every state for Senate approval of a quit-claim bill.

Pearls of Wisdom

How Time Flies

Each New Year brings into being a new calendar by which we plan our work, and regulate our daily lives. Probably no other commodity is so precious and so want only wasted as 'time'. Certainly, few gadgets are more essential to our day-to-day welfare than the clock and the calendar. From a day to an eon, time broken down into its component parts, is reckoned by weeks, months, decades, and scores of years—not forgetting the centuries.

In very ancient times, the calendar was based almost entirely on the changes of the moon. The month, even now, is the period from one full moon to the next, about thirty days in all. Even the week, consisting as it does today of seven days is a unit of time dating from prehistoric antiquity. Originally, each of the seven days corresponded to one of the seven moving heavenly bodies and may have been set aside for worship of that particular god or goddess. And so . . .

One by one, one by one, Stitches of the hours run Through the fine seams of the day;

Till like a garment it is done And laid away.

Julius Caesar in 45 B. C. decreed that their "should" henceforth be three years of 365 days each followed by a year with 366 days. And so the Julian calendar served the purpose until, in 1582, Pope Gregory VIII made some changes and introduced the leap year into the picture. Since that time, folks have been too busy with other things to bother much about revising the calendar. If we can manage for a new one each January and remember the little verse about the days of the month in case we are caught with our calendar missing, we let time take care of itself. Oh yes, the verse . . .

Thirty days hath September, April, June and November, All the rest have thirty-one Excepting February in fine Which has but twenty-eight 'Til Leap Year gives it twenty-nine.

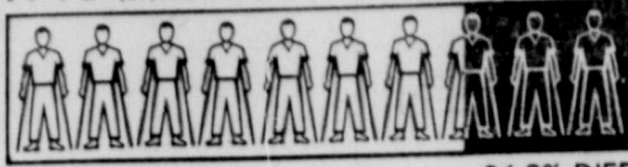

Aided and abetted as we are with clocks, hour glasses, sun dials, calendars and that handy compendium of wit, weather, and wisdom, the Almanac, we are content to adopt the "grass-hopper" attitude and fritter our time away. Presently we awaken with a start to the fact that our garment of years is raveling fast and our accomplishments are meager.

"Dost thou love life? Then do not squander time, for that is the stuff that life is made of," admonished Benjamin Franklin. It behooves one early in life to practice making each day so interesting for himself and others that it never seems long enough, play that there's no time for fill each day so full of work and wasting.

When things crowd in on Ma too much And chores neglected chide her, "Life's plenty long enough," says she.

MARCH OF DIMES HELPS REDUCE POLIO DEATH RATE

1916 First major epidemic (27,363 cases) recorded in U. S.

1949 Largest epidemic (42,366 cases) ever recorded in U. S.

The significant reduction in the polio death rate during the past decade is attributed by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis to two factors: 1) more accurate reporting of less serious polio cases in recent years and 2) the greater development and availability of improved treatment methods and equipment made possible in large part by the March of Dimes. January is 1952 March of Dimes month.

"But I sure wish it was wider!" (Evantha Caldwell)
Bear in mind that, "Today is the tomorrow we worried about yesterday" and live each day to the fullest because . . .
One by one the days go by, The suns climb up and down the sky;
One by one their seams are run As Time's untiring fingers ply. And life is done . . .

Auto Outpaces War As Mass Killer

The automobiles will outpace war as a mass killer of Americans sometime in February, when its toll will exceed for the first time in history the total of the nation's military dead since 1775, unless the new year starts with a marked decline in traffic deaths and Korean casualties increase greatly in the meantime, the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies said today.

At the end of the first year of the Korean war, military deaths in all U. S. wars since the revolution started had reached approximately 1,004,000, according to the Association's comparative study of war and traffic fatalities. The automobile killed its millionth victim on December 22, 1951, on Christmas Day, when the Korean war was 18 months old, was approximately 500 over the historic mark, 3,500 below the all time total of war deaths at 56,500 higher than the tally of 944,000 motor vehicle fatalities at the start of the Korean war on June 25, 1950. In the 18 months the Department of Defense has reported about 800 U. S. military deaths in Korea.

Barring resumption of full-scale war and far greater American casualties in Korea or a huge lull in the motor vehicle deaths during the next few weeks, the automobile will soon overtake the war's head start of 125 years in which 530,000 military deaths had occurred before the war age claimed its first victim just before the twentieth century began, the Association declared. At the 18-month mark of Korean hostilities, traffic fatalities were occurring seven times faster than those of war, claiming in one day as many American lives as the total lost in one week's fighting in Korea.

The historic death race between these two mass killers toward their respective million marks ended with war claiming the life of a new unknown soldier, "GI-X" in Korea last September 3 or 4, according to the Association's study. His civilian counterpart in traffic accidents, "Victim X," died about 110 days later. Both "GI-X" and "Victim X" will remain unknown, it added, although some attempts have been made to establish the identity of the millionth traffic victim, of which no one can be certain because of incomplete early statistics.

However, the deaths of these historic victims of war and the automobile a little more than three and a half months apart have centered attention on the relative deadlines of occasional American wars and daily traffic accidents, the Association said in pointing out that within two months the automobile will take a commanding lead as the deadliest of the two wholesale destroyers of American lives.

"Americans must face the fact that the automobile is a bigger killer of their sons and daughters than our wars," said Thomas N. Roate, public safety director of the Association and acting manager of its accident prevention department, in commenting on the study. "The new year should witness the most determined effort ever made by the nation to reduce the tremendous loss of life in highway accidents.

"An even greater highway safety movement than that which sought to delay the death of 'Victim X,' he millionth traffic fatality, must be launched immediately to save lives that otherwise will be lost because of carelessness and law violation by drivers during 1952. During the Christmas holidays, just after the millionth automobile death occurred, traffic fatalities dropped about one-third compared with the previous year.

While the most intensive traffic safety drive in history did not prevent the death of 'Victim X' in 1951, it probably delayed it and also has provided the foundation for a bigger, stronger campaign by all states and communities this year in a nation which is more fully conscious of the menace of traffic accidents than ever before. The encouraging drop in traffic fatalities which followed the death of the millionth automobile victim must be continued throughout 1952.

Automobile deaths climbed rapidly to the million mark in the 52 years, three months and one week after the first known traffic fatality occurred in New York City in September, 1899, just before the present century dawned. War deaths in the same period totaled about 474,000, the Association said.

In the first decade of the present century, 1900 through 1909, automobiles killed about 5,000 men, women and children, the Association has estimated. From 1900 to the end of 1906, deaths from the new horseless carriages averaged about 320 a year, it said. In 1907, according to the best records available, the motor vehicle death toll was 666. The following year 834 fatalities occurred and by 1909 there were 1,254 persons killed in a single year. In this first decade motor vehicle registrations had climbed from 8,000 in 1900 to 312,000 at the end of 1909.

By 1913, when registrations for the first time exceeded the million mark and stood at 1,258,000 passenger cars and trucks, the 1907 motor vehicle fatality rate of 0.8 deaths per 100,000 population was more than five times greater. It reached 4.4 deaths per 100,000 Americans in 1913. For the first six months of last year it was 24.8 deaths per 100,000 persons in the nation.

This compares with 30.8 in 1937, highest point of motor vehicle deaths computed on a population basis. In that year 39,643 traffic deaths occurred, the second highest toll in history and only several hundred below the peak of 39,969 fatalities in 1941, when the motor vehicle death rate was 30.0 per 100,000 population.

In the second decade, 1910-19, there were 62,969 automobile fatalities. They climbed to 209,894 in the twenties, and in the following years, 1930-39, reached the peak of any decade to date, with 342,588 traffic deaths recorded.

Travel restrictions of the war years lowered to 308,827 the toll of the 1940-49 decade, but as the second half of the century started, fatalities in 1950 rose 3,500 over the previous year and for 1951 were estimated at 37,500, some 2,500 higher than in 1950. These big increases in deaths have given an ominous start to the second half of the century with respect to motor vehicle fatalities, the Association said. This decade's fatalities so far total about 72,500 for the first two years, compared with 66,600 for the first two years of the "terrible thirties," it said, or some 6,000 higher.

American war casualties during the first 18 months of fighting in Korea averaged 33 deaths per day, the same toll that prevailed in the first year of the war to last June 25. On U. S. highways the automobile fatality toll for the identical 18 months since the start of the Korean war has been computed by the Association at 103 deaths per day, four higher than the daily average for traffic deaths during the first year of the war.

The Defense Department total of 17,800 American military fatalities in Korea in 18 months excludes any of the 10,650 currently listed as missing, 3,200 of whom have been listed by Communist negotiators at Pannunjon as prisoners of the Red forces. The Association's study showed that while U. S. military deaths climbed from 986,247 at the start of the Korean war to approximately 1,004,000 as of Christmas Day, in the same 18-month period traffic fatalities rose at a three times swifter pace, from 944,000 to the 1,000,000 mark reached on December 22.

During January of last year 2,840 deaths occurred on the highways, a 20 per cent increase over the previous January, and 2,260 persons died in accidents in February. If these tolls are exceeded in the weeks ahead, the Association said, by mid-February or soon afterwards the all-time total of automobile deaths will exceed the aggregate of the nation's military deaths for the first time.

hold hand straight out; slowing down or stopping, hand down. Useless gestures while driving confuse the driver of the following car. Just a little politeness on the part of drivers at all times will do much to prevent needless fender-denting, ruffled feelings and less wrecks.

While on the subject of car driving, there is one more form of politeness that should be observed. When streets are slushy or water stands in puddles, a driver should slow up at crossings, otherwise those on foot get splashed and clothes ruined. I saw such incidents happen during the past week right on busy streets of Memphis.

I go to church once in a while.

MAYOR McGUP By John Jarvis

As I go into the building a program is handed me. But the preacher takes all the anticipated joy out of me by making all the announcements verbally that are already printed in the program.

That keeps me from having something to read when the preacher's sermon gets too dull for listening. So, all I can do is make doodle marks on the program, or read songs in the song book that I have read many times before.

Governor Allan Shivers is to be the speaker next Tuesday at a joint-meeting of the Memphis Lions and Rotary Clubs. It will likely not be a political speech, but his hearers may learn whether or he will be a candidate for governor or U. S. Senator.

It is rumored that John McCarty of Amarillo will be a candidate for the Texas Senate—that is, if Grady Hazlewood does not choose to run. John would make a good man in the Texas Senate. However, he is not in the new senatorial district, and that would make us in the lower district just side-line rooters.

In this new 30th Senatorial district, consisting of Bailey, Hale, Lamb, Floyd, Motley, Childress, Hall, Briscoe, Swisher, Castro, Parmer, Deaf Smith, Armstrong, Donley and Collingsworth counties, a race is shaping up that will likely be interesting before the campaign ends. That race will be for State Senator, and up to now the contestants are Harold LaFont of Plainview and Andrew J. Rogers of Childress.

In National politics, this will be a year of charges and counter charges, especially in the Republican party, since Eisenhower has announced he is available for the nomination by Republicans for the highest post in the United States—President. Robt. Taft has built up a good political machine and Ike will have a hard time being nominated. What the Democrats want this year, especially in the South, is for some other man to run on the Democratic ticket. Truman should be announcing his political intentions in a short time.

This section of country received an inch of moisture from the snow of last week, and it has all gone into the ground to give a start toward a good crop this year.

So many changes have been made in business institutions since the first of the year, one hardly knows just whose place of business he is entering as he goes about over town. New faces and new locations may put a little more pep into merchandising.

DRIVE SAFELY should be the main resolution for 1952 by every driver of an automobile.

"I notice your comments were rather short last week," R. S. Greene said Tuesday. I had been under the impression that very few if any busy business men had time for a little relaxation (for relaxation is what it is when any one stops reading worth-while stuff to look over Comments) but Greene has boosted my ego just a little by acknowledging in public that he stops to read my stuff.

Allen Dunbar and Dr. Jack Baldwin heard Mr. Greene say he reads Comments, and chimed in with "We also do, and the wants ads too." When things get in that kind of stew, I wonder if I have slipped more than I knew. Anyway, my thanks to you, fellows, who are among the few who make life worth living from every point of view.

Have people forgotten how to whistle? Is it the serious condition of the world is in that keep-people from being happy enough to whistle or sing? What has become of the whistlers? Are they too tense to relax enough to sharpen their knives and cut long shavings from good soft white pine? And what has become of our time? We seldom have time enough to more than say, "Howdy"? Is it all leading to national suicides?

Mrs. Mattie Ballard said Tuesday that I should write Comments if I expect her to keep reading them. Thanks, Mrs. Ballard, I will do better. Sometimes, however, laziness holds me back. I suppose it is laziness. Or, could it be lack of pep.

Chief of Police T. D. Weatherby says an officer of Dallas connected with law enforcement told him first of the week that Memphis has the cleanest record from the law violation standpoint of any town in Texas. No petty thieving, no break-in robberies, and fewer other violations puts our town right on top. This is something Memphians should be proud of and hope it continues.

Mothers Welcome Lower Cost Of Baby Skin Care Items

Thousands of mothers are welcoming the removal of the excise tax on baby products. Now, mothers who purchase baby lotion, baby oil, baby powder and baby cream for baby's skin no longer have to pay the 20% extra on each container. The tax exemption, which went into effect November 1, comes as a real boon to the family budget when multiplied by the number of times modern mothers use these products. Today's babies get baby lotion or oil after each bath, liberal sprinklings of powder at each diaper switch, and soothing patting of baby lotion before each outdoor session in sun, breeze and rain. The result is the proverbial "skin like a baby's" and as of the beginning of this month, no longer taxable.

PACE-SETTER—Studebaker's strikingly new Starliner, a five-passenger, hardtop convertible, will be offered in both the Champion and Commander lines. The new 1952 models went on display today at W. H. Monzingo Motors. A Starliner has not been received in Memphis yet, but Monzingo said he expected one later this month.

New Studebakers Now on Display Featuring Rear, Front Changes

New models of the 1952 Studebaker automobiles were to go on display here in Memphis this morning in the show and sales room of the W. H. Monzingo Motors.

The "Starliner" is a five-passenger, hardtop convertible, is the pace car for Studebaker's 1952 models.

This newest body style by Studebaker is offered in both the Champion and Commander lines and is available in eleven different two-tone color combination and two upholstery options. The "Starliner" typifies, both outside and inside, the striking design and appointments of the company's entire series of new models.

Externally, the '52 Studebakers reveal entirely new front-end treatment and substantial re-styling in the rear. Hoods are longer and lower, with new emblems and ornaments. Grilles embody wrap-around styling and stand out as the most distinctive front-end features of the new models. The massive wrap-around bumpers are equipped with four vertical guards, two located under the headlamps to protect the vehicle from the customary bumps encountered in day-to-day driving, and two smaller guards to protect the license plate from damage. Headlamps have been re-designed and the parking lights, also of new design, are larger.

The most significant changes in the rear are found in the tail lights and trunk lid handles. The tail lights, which appear to be integral parts of the rear fenders rather than "added on" assemblies, give the effect of extending the sweep of the fenders and thus a corresponding increase in body length. Their design, however, does not sacrifice any of the increased area of illumination which proved so popular on the '51 models.

Trunk lid handles incorporate new styling on all but the lowest price Champion model. New hood and fender ornaments, along with re-designed stainless steel gravel mats on State Commander, Land Cruiser, Convertible and "Starliner" models complete the more prominent exterior alterations.

Surer, yet softer and easier brake action has been achieved by changes in the brake pedal linkage, the adoption of floating rear shoes in all brakes, and brake linings with greater resistance to fading. The use of floating, rather than fixed, rear shoes in the brakes makes both front end and rear shoes completely self-adjusting. For the motorist this means a minimum of maintenance worry coupled with maximum braking safety.

Other innovations include instrument panel push button starting on all models equipped with automatic drive, a new type of starter for the Commander which is held in positive engagement until the engine is fully operating, moisture-proof ignition systems, and a boost in the generator output to 45 amperes on both the Champion and Commander.

Studebaker's much-talked-about V-8 power plant introduced with such success a year ago on the Commander and Land Cruiser remains essentially unchanged. The efficient and economical 6-cylinder engine which powers the popular Champion series likewise reflects no basic changes.

Big Tractor Festival Slated Here Thursday

Next Thursday is the big day in Memphis for the celebration of the Ford Farming Festival and our own salute to Agriculture.

Plenty of entertainment for young and old has been promised by Foxhall-Middleton Tractor Co., sponsor of the event.

The field day demonstration of all Dearborn equipment mounted on Ford tractors will be held starting at 11 a. m. at George Greenhaw's farm 1 1/2 miles southwest of Memphis on the Friendship road.

Thursday evening at 7:30 p. m. at the American Legion Hall a motion picture, "Holiday for Bill" a romantic comedy filmed on a modern American farm starting stage, screen and TV stars, Hazel Dawn, Jr., and Paul Langton, will be shown.

Admission is free. In addition prizes, entertainment and a big time is promised all, according to Whitey Middleton. "This Festival is a salute to agriculture for our own community—a tribute to the significant part we play in the agricultural progress of our nation," Middleton added.

Two representatives from the Ford tractor factory also will be in Memphis that day and evening to talk with farmers concerning the Ford tractor and Dearborn equipment. Middleton said. The public is invited to both the demonstrations and to the movie and entertainment at the Legion Hall.

Q. Dear Peggy: Is there any cosmetic preparation that you can recommend for a skin outraged with pimples or hickies? I see young people plagued with adolescent acne and young women my age still often affected.

A. The first step is to cleanse the skin as perfectly as possible with a lotion cleanser, no oil, a cleanser containing a fin skin antiseptic.

Follow this with a greaseless antiseptic creaming over the immaculately clean skin. This way you stop the spread of infection over the surface while giving quick help for improvement.

Drum Major Describes Orange Bowl Event

Jacky Gilbert, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Martin, and Memphis High School Drum Major, attended the National Baton Twirlers' Convention at Miami, Fla., from December 28, 1951, through January 1, 1952.

Because of Jacky's ability to twirl and drum major, he was selected by Bill Allen, head of the entire Convention, to lead the group of drum majors and majorettes in the Orange Bowl Parade on New Year's Eve Day.

The parade one of the largest ever held in Miami, lasted three hours.

Approximately three hundred and fifty drum majors and majorettes assembled in Miami for the first baton twirlers' convention associated with the Orange Bowl Festival.

"The ocean being unusually calm, this was the most picturesque of all the events," stated Jacky. He added, "The entire trip is one to remember always."

Here's John Moltz, on his way to work. And you can bet that not once today will he consider what woke him up turned morning's dark into cheerful light furnished him with a hot bath shaved his face washed and ironed his shirt cooked his coffee and toast

... what, in fact, did practically everything to send him happily to work. Yes, the answer is electric service—a good and faithful servant we all take pretty much for granted.

A servant whose wages are only a few cents a day! When you think about it, your electric service is just about the biggest bargain in the family budget.

YOUR CITIZENSHIP DUTY

The month of January has been designated as "American Citizenship Month," in a state-wide drive for better citizenship involving thousands of local civic, veterans, fraternal and labor groups. Spearheaded by the State Bar of Texas these citizens plan to stress the responsibilities of the individual citizen in preserving the democratic way of life. Theme of the 1952 crusade will be "What Can I Do For Democracy?" Each of us has a cause to realize and appreciate that the great privilege of being free is possible only in a society where all share in the duties and responsibilities of citizenship. Among those cooperating in the 1952 "American Citizenship Month" will be local organizations of Lions International, Texas Federated Womens Clubs, Rotary International, Texas League of Women Voters, Optimist International, the American Legion, Legion Auxiliary and Veterans of Foreign Wars. Goal of this entire state-wide program is to get every person in Texas, young and old, to make better citizenship a resolution which they will keep and enforce. One of the best ways to start this individual help toward better citizenship is to pay your poll tax, so that you may vote in the coming elections this year. You will not only be helping to contribute to good citizenship but you may help towards cleaning up and helping to straighten out the political mess in which our present government is wallowing. Reports are out that Taft is planning a tour of Texas to sew up Republicans in this state. Other candidates will be along shortly for similar reasons, trying to win Texas' support. If you pay your poll tax, then you can have some say as to the way the delegates will be instructed to vote and no only that, but if you are eligible to vote, you will have a say in what principles and ideals the candidates adhere to for the coming election. Never in history has America and the United States needed men of integrity and honesty as they do today. Men with forthright courage and of moral strength are needed to lead this nation. To get such men, the elections must be conducted so that all citizens have a voice in who is elected. To make sure political machines lose control, we, the average citizens, must get all the average citizens to vote, thus overwhelming the power of any political machine . . . and make party delegates take note of the voice and power of the people. The party delegates throw their support the way the primary election goes . . . therefore here in Texas, we must have our united strength in the first election, in July. It makes no difference how you vote, just be sure and vote for what you believe is right . . . if we can get enough people in this state, this nation, to vote for what they believe is right, we will insure getting leaders that can lead this country forward, instead of getting puppets of political machines or influenced candidates. You have only until the end of January, this month, to pay your poll tax. It costs you $1.75. That's not much to pay for a voice in this great country of ours. And remember, all the griping and criticism any one does after the election, won't help . . . the time to help is now . . . the way, is to get your poll tax receipt so you can vote come the elections. Don't wait for your neighbor or someone else, drop by the County Tax office and get your poll tax receipt now!

"THIRD HOUSE OF CONGRESS"

Press Paragraphs—
QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

Cullman (Ala.) Modernistic Times (Dem.) says: Four word editorial: Washington — minks, pinks, stinks. Your Stake in the Dollar With a record amount of life insurance in their name, the American people have everything at stake in the United States dollar. Figures show that our population of 155,000,000 owns 200,000,000 life policies of seven major types. The aggregate value is $234,000,000,000. This can only mean that the great bulk of the people have placed their faith in the security of the American dollar. And yet the government continues to devalue the dollar through uncontrolled spending. In the six years which ended with 1951, the Federal Government will have collected more taxes by $8,400,000,000 than it collected in the entire previous history of the country. And the public has reached $257,000,000,000. Then, as if this strain were not enough on the stability of the dollar, the situation is made more perilous by the government's spending billions of dollars on socialistic ventures in direct opposition to highly taxed private industry. This socialization has gained such momentum in the United States that it is no longer considered an incidental expense of government. The cost, direct and indirect, is a substantial part of today's huge budgets. The government cannot go on socializing taxable industry and business, and spending so excessively, without destroying private enterprise and the savings of the people. —Industrial Review. Dunn and Bradstreet reported prices up again, last week. But never mind, the government's Price Stabilization Board is still on the job, so you can look for new, but higher prices, up, up, until the bubble bursts. Our government needs more money to spend, and the higher the tax, the more of that "plus the tax" money rolls in. —Echo (Minn.) Enterprise And now comes troubled Iran with open palms asking the United States to tickle them with $120 million in monthly payments of $10 million. Having cut her own financial throat by robbing England of her oil interests, she offers to secure our government, with the stolen plant. Seems like it would be a dumb procedure to make such a loan, but Mr. Truman talks favorably just the same. —Pittsburg (Tex.) Gazette There are always some in politics who look upon a public office as a private snap. Among the thousands upon thousands of public employees there are bound to be a certain percentage of dishonest ones. When one party gets into power there is usually a stampede of the hungry "outs" to join the "ins". If there is a change of administration next year, you will observe them streaming back to the winning side and again getting their snouts and paws into the public trough. Dishonesty is Our present-day sport of aquaplaning developed from the surf board of the native Hawaiians. Tortoises on the Galanagos Islands are believed to be the oldest living creatures on earth.

REPORT FROM WASHINGTON

By Walter Rogers
Congressman, 18th District

The new session of Congress has started, and from all appearances there will be a number of highly controversial issues. Much midnight oil will be burned in settling these issues, as the Congress will want to adjourn at an early date: the reason being that is a presidential election year and the two major party conventions at Chicago this summer will generate much heat.

All factions of both parties will spend much time in preparation for these conventions and for the anticipated fights. Both parties are split several ways, and this always makes for heated arguments and convention scraps.

I do not think that President Truman intend to seek re-nomination. If he does so, it will be the result of a complete change of mind on his part that has taken place within the last thirty days.

The talk around here as to the probable presidential nominee of the Democratic Party includes the following: Chief Justice Fred Vinson, of the Supreme Court; Senator Estes Kefauver; Senator Harry Byrd; W. Stuart Symington and Senator Richard B. Russell. There are others, but these are the most prominent at the present time.

As vice-presidential nominee, we hear the name of Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, of Texas, often mentioned. In the Republican Party the talk continues to center around Senator Taft. A split in that party is evidenced by the many news reports concerning the leading contenders, to wit: Senator Taft, Governor Warren, Harold Stassen, and of course Tom Dewey, who says he does not want it, who, I am convinced could be prevailed upon to accept it.

The names mentioned in both parties of course are the names of those who at the present time have actively or passively indicated their availability. As to what statement General Eisenhower will make, no one knows as of this date, to wit, January 4, 1952, the date this letter is being written.

Frankly, it is my opinion that the nomination of General Eisenhower by both parties would solve many problems, both domestic and foreign, that are presently faced by the people of this country. Either party could provide strong vice-presidential nominees.

Such a procedure under the present circumstances would in my opinion meet with the approval of the general public. After all, the general public is supposed to be running this country, and I am certainly not ready for that to be changed. Should Eisenhower definitely reject nomination by either party, this could well be a year of hark horses. Some good level-headed dark horses that are well versed in 5th grade arithmetic might be the answer to much of the domestic and political confusion. In order for a man to be qualified for President of the United States it is not necessary that he be a widely publicized figure.

There are many, many men who could do an outstanding job as President whose names are not known outside of the section of the country in which they reside. It might do both parties well to explore that source for presidential material.

PROPOSED RE-ORGANIZATION OF THE BUREAU OF INTERNAL REVENUE: The President's proposed re-organization of the Bureau of Internal Revenue has met with both approval and condemnation. Those who are most outspoken in their criticism are the ones who have appeared

Roy Patton has authorized the Memphis Democrat to notify the voters of Precinct No. 1 that he will be a candidate for re-election as County Commissioner, subject to the Democratic party primary. This announcement follows:

"I have decided to submit my name again as a candidate for Commissioner of Precinct 1 of Hall County. In announcing for this office, I want to point to the two Farm-to-Market Roads in my precinct which have been working for. One of these roads has been finished, and construction for the other should start in February. If I am elected, I will continue to work toward getting more miles of improved roads in Hall County.

"I want to thank everyone for all past favors, as it has been my pleasure to serve as one of your county officials. I want you to know that I will appreciate your continued support in the forthcoming campaign.

Respectfully submitted,

Roy Patton To Ask Re-election As Commissioner

Roy Patton has authorized the Memphis Democrat to notify the voters of Precinct No. 1 that he will be a candidate for re-election as County Commissioner, subject to the Democratic party primaries. This announcement follows: "I have decided to submit my name again as a candidate for Commissioner of Precinct 1 of Hall County. In announcing for this office, I want to point to the two Farm-to-Market Roads in my precinct which we have been working for. One of these roads has been finished, and construction for the other should start in February. If I am elected, I will continue to work toward getting more miles of improved roads in Hall County. "If I am returned to the office of Commissioner, I will do my best to work for the citizens of this county in every way I can. I have tried to approach all matters from a sincere and impartial standpoint in the past, and will continue to do this in the future. "I want to thank everyone for all past favors, as it has been my pleasure to serve as one of your county officials. I want you to know that I will appreciate your continued support in the forthcoming campaign. Respectfully submitted, ROY PATTON."

Herby Shahan, son of Rev. and Mrs. Roy Shahan, a clarinetist in the Hardin-Simmons Band is touring with the band this week.
