Red Cross Drive Lags; $477.50 In Memphis and Hall County are lagging far behind in the current Red Cross fund-raising drive, W. D. Young, chairman of the membership drive committee, revealed today. The county's quota for this year is $2,487.00; only $477.50 had been collected through Wednesday.

Most of the difficulty encountered in the preliminary stages of the drive has been in finding persons to participate in the canvassing activity. Teams are being set up all over the county to solicit contributions. In Memphis the teams are charged with the responsibility of canvassing the various business firms and professional offices.

Hall To Keep 30.2 Per Cent
Hall County will keep 30.2 per cent of the money collected here. The remaining 69.8 per cent will go to the organization's national headquarters. From there money and supplies will be allocated to disaster areas anywhere in the nation as the need arises. If the local quota is exceeded, half of the excess money will stay in this county.

Most of the local fund is spent in helping servicemen from this area—either in contacting relatives or making emergency loans. The Red Cross also acts as a certifying agency in cases of emergency leaves or hardship discharge cases. Scores of such cases are handled each year at a minimum of expense. The county chapter is budgeted to spend only $70 a month. The officers of the local chapter are all volunteers. (Continued on page 8)

Three-Year Contracts Given Supt., and Staff; Childress Is New Coach

The Memphis school board gave the superintendent and his staff of principals and coaches a vote of confidence by electing them for three more years, James A. Anthony, president, announced after a meeting of that group Tuesday night at the high school. Al received a three-year contract. W. C. Davis was re-elected a superintendent of the Memphis Public Schools.

Childress Head Coach
George F. Childress, former principal of the high school, was named head football coach and athletic director. He has been a principal in the grade schools.

Childress replaces John Hansard who resigned his position as coach prior to the board meeting, it was announced.

Hansard Not Candidate
"Hansard has had several good offers from other schools that might be a better opportunity than here," Supt. Davis said. The former coach was not a candidate for re-election, he added.

Weldon McCreary, vocational agriculture teacher at the high school for several years, was elected as principal of the high school to replace Childress.

New principal of the junior high school is Billy G. Tate. Lorton L. Thomas was named principal of the William B. Travis School, and Zady Belle Walker was re-elected as principal of the Stephen F. Austin School.

Raymond Lane remains as assistant coach of the Cyclones. Judge Whitfield was named principal of the colored school.

Supt. Davis Urges Parents List Names Of Children On Rolls

W. C. Davis, superintendent of Memphis schools, this week urged all parents of children who will be 6 years of age by Sept. 1 to get in touch with the school census taker, and get their children on the rolls.

Miss Ira Hammond, a teacher here, is census taker for the local schools. Her telephone number is Memphis 685.

Citizens Board Set Up to Study Education Needs

A Citizen's Planning Board, to study and determine present and future educational needs and resources of the Memphis area, was set up at the Tuesday night meeting of the Memphis school board. Supt. W. C. Davis of the Memphis schools said that this group of educators and laymen will work in co-operation with the overall state education planning program as well as to assist the local school board in the operation of the local schools.

Eighteen persons including two board members, a teacher from each of the local schools, and Supt. Davis, were appointed to serve for one-year terms on the Citizens Planning Board. At the end of the first year, one-third of the board personnel will be held over to serve another term and new members will be appointed.

Those appointed to the board are: W. C. Davis, Ace Gailey, Mrs. Henry Foster, Mrs. O. I. Seale, Homer Tucker, Mrs. Mac Tarver, Lewis Foxhall, Mrs. Herschel Combs, Miss Neville Wrenn, Mrs. Reba Stroehle, Mrs. Sophie Stillwell, Mrs. Ted Barnes, Mrs. J. M. Ferrel, Mrs. Frank Monzingo, Mrs. Adrian Odom, Mrs. Arvin Orr, Mrs. Robert Sexauer, and Mrs. Paul Smith.

Sgt. Rasco Wins Infantry Badge

Sgt. Jimmy D. Rasco, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Rasco of Memphis, has won the Combat Infantryman Badge, symbol of the front line fighting man, while serving in Korea with the 45th Infantry Division.

The badge has a tiny Revolutionary War flintlock rifle mounted against a blue rectangular background. A wreath surrounds the badge. The Oklahoma-National Guard Division left the United States early in 1951 and trained extensively on the Japanese island of Hokkaido before it was committed to action in Korea in December.

Sgt. Rasco, mess sergeant in Company C of the 180th Infantry Regiment, joined the division shortly after entering the army in October of 1950.

Mrs. Ed Monzingo 'Doing Fine' After Appendectomy Sun.

Mrs. Ed Monzingo, who underwent an emergency appendectomy Sunday night at a local hospital, was reported "doing fine" at mid-week. She became ill Saturday.

Her husband, Ed Monzingo, who is a patient at the same hospital, is also reported to be "considerably improved" after suffering a heart attack last week.

PMA Pamphlets Being Mailed Out; Banks Foot Bills

Lynn L. McKown, county PMA officer, announced this week that the Hall County Handbook on Conservation Practices for 1952 is being mailed out to farmers this week.

The Memphis Democrat printed the 1500 handbooks which contain valuable information on conservation practices established by the United States Department of Agriculture. The pamphlet also contains information about PMA policies. (Continued on page 8)

Cleburne Firm Is Lowest Bidder On Highway 1619

John F. Buckner, road building contractor with headquarters in Cleburne, Tex., was low bidder in Austin Wednesday on construction of the Farm-to-Market Highway No. 1619. His bid was $75,451.73, which was the lowest received by the Texas Highway Department.

The announcement was released early Thursday morning by Bill Hamm, resident highway engineer of Childrens. Hamm stated that actual construction should begin within 30 days. There are approximately seven miles in the proposed road, which includes mileage in both Hall and Childress Counties.

NEGRO CHARGED ON 2 MURDER ATTEMPT COUNTS

A Memphis Negro has been charged on two counts of assault with attempt to murder as a result of a shooting scrape about midnight Friday night at the Harlem Inn.

Jack Scott, Negro, is being held in the county jail awaiting grand jury action. He was unable to make bond on the two counts. Bond was set at $1,000 on each count.

Leroy Figgs, Negro, victim of one of the two shots fired, was carried to a local hospital with a serious bullet wound in the chin. (Continued on page 8)

Only 50 Enrolled Since Last Week In Booster Drive

The Cyclone Booster Club membership drive is still some 150 short of the announced goal of 200 new members, Clint Srygley, president of the club, said today. Approximately 50 new members have been signed up since last week; about that many more were enrolled in the campaign prior to last week.

Srygley said that a meeting will be held next Wednesday night in his barber shop "to see how the campaign is progressing." The members will discuss the plan to sell one large sign to finance the scoreboard clock which the Boosters plan to install before this school year is out. He said that the club would probably be ready to take sealed bids after the meeting.

In describing the electric clock wanted by the club, Srygley said it would have an overall height of about 18 feet. The scoreboard portion with electrically-lighted numbers is about half that high. The advertisement would be placed below the clock. Game statistics which will be flashed on the board by electrical impulses include visitors' score, home score, downs, and yards to go for first down. The clock itself will show the time of quarter with the numbers changing as the seconds tick away.

The club president urged all loyal Cyclone fans to help in the membership drive. The club is helping to defray expenses for operations on two of the players injured last season, and will need every cent it can get to make the proposed improvements on the stadium, he said.

Cloud-Seeding Generators To Be Operating by April 1

The heralded and long-awaited silver iodide generators, expected to increase rainfall in this area, will be set up and ready to begin seeding clouds by April 1, Lewis Foxhall, executive chairman of the Red River Weather Improvement Association, has announced.

This announcement came after a contract was agreed upon by the Texas-Oklahoma Moisture Improvement Association and the Water Resources Development Corporation of Denver at a meeting Monday in Hollis, Okla. The Denver firm promised to have the generators set up and manned by the first of April. The silver iodide heaters may be turned on before then if they are installed soon enough.

The Texas-Oklahoma outfit has no legal status; it is merely an administrative organization set up by the weather improvement corporations in each state. The Texas counties are incorporated under the name of the Red River Weather Improvement Association and their counterparts in Oklahoma are under the name of West Oklahoma Weather Improvement Association.

Four counties in Texas are charter members of the Red River group with several more expected to join later. The charter members are Hall, Childress, Collingsworth and Donley counties. Each by terms of the contract, is obligated to pay one cent for every acre within their respective boundaries.

The Denver firm gets .8 of every penny for furnishing generators and weather data, and the other .2 goes for administrative. (Continued on page 5)

MEETING SET MARCH 27 HERE TO ORGANIZE HALL FARM BUREAU

To organize a Hall County Farm Bureau will be held March 27, in the District at the courthouse. S. Sexauer said today. A representative from the Texas Farm Bureau will be present to discuss the organization's policies.

The state and national organizations offer co-operative insurance to members. Both units exert strong political influence in Austin and in Washington. The main program of the Texas Farm Bureau is now aimed toward securing a workable treaty with Mexico to insure sufficient Mexican labor during harvest seasons.

The national organization is responsible for writing many of the more progressive and beneficial agricultural laws which have come out of Washington since the early 1930's.

Dale Is Manager Of Community's Newest Truckers

Kenneth Dale is office manager for Memphis' newest trucking service. Dale, who was formerly a state highway patrolman stationed at Clarendon, began his work here about two months ago when the Cudd Brothers Trucking Company opened its Memphis office at Homer Burleson's Conoco Service Station.

The company, which also has offices at Clarendon and Wellington, recently rented warehouse space from the Evans Transfer and Storage Company. Dale said the line offers straight trucking service anywhere, anytime. The firm is bonded and operates under a Texas Railroad Commission permit.

Dale moved his wife and three-year-old daughter here about Feb. 1. They are making their home at 820 Skiddy St.

Lubbock Tech students had different reactions to Senator Robert A. Taft's speech at Lubbock last week. The consensus of opinion was that he is a politician without too much appeal to the common people. One fellow said, "Taft can never be president. His initials are all wrong. Where as FDR was a good abbreviation for Roosevelt and HST is satisfactory for Truman, but RAT would never do."

Last Friday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Davenport at Lakeview I found that several of the Davenport family are readers of my column—at least they admitted it. By the way, just a week before Mr. and Mrs. Davenport celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary.

Last week I asked if anyone remembered Judge W. E. Gee's having taught in Hall County. Two people have come up with an answer. Mrs. W. C. Milam and Mrs. A. M. Wyatt say they attended school taught here by Judge Gee. Mrs. Milam places the time at 1896 to 1899, and the school house stood on the block on which the Bean apartment now stands. The school house was burned about 1902, and the present old building on Main street was the next to be built.

Mrs. Billy Thompson wrote a letter to Wes Izzard that drew a quick front page response in. (Continued on page 8)

Hilarious Senior Play Slated For Monday Night at School

The Memphis High School senior class will present its hilarious three-act farce, "His Name Was Aunt Nellie," at 8 p. m. Monday night in the high school auditorium. Mrs. Roy L. Guthrie is director of the play which was written by Andrew Jameson.

This ridiculous, vacillating play centers about a "gay old rip," Aunt Nellie, who comes to live with her prim relatives, the Baldwins, in the conservative town of Seaford, Conn.

The Baldwin family consists of five members: Archibald Baldwin, the "respectable" second vice president of Seaford's bank; his wife, Bertha, who aspires to be president of the garden club; Sheila, their lovely, 19-year-old daughter, who is desperately in love with an actor; Fred, their 17-year-old son, who longs more than anything else to join the Navy and save his nation; and Joyce, their impish 15-year-old daughter, who has been studying psychology in school and who is firmly convinced that she has a besetting sin.

The Baldwins are served by a life-long negro maid, Cleo, who takes all the liberties in the book.

The Baldwins have as dear friends and neighbors Mr. and Mrs. Ed Saunders. Ed hopes he is a man but he prays that no one will call the cat; while Mabel carries heavily her responsibility of wife, guardian, and financial backbone for her husband.

Jerry Parkham is the ambitious, self-confident young actor who has been in Seaford for the summer. He has lost money on his summer theatre project but has gained a sweetheart, Sheila Baldwin, and a staunch friend, Mr. Van Dilling, who is president of Mr. Baldwin's bank and the leading citizen of Seaford.

Archie Baldwin is being played by Charles Messer who has provided his dramatic ability in previous productions, the chief of which was "Joan of Lorraine." In "Aunt Nellie," Charles portrays the difficult role of the husband and father who aspires to hold his impeccable reputation but who has one little besetting sin. On the "hot spot" every minute, Archie is forced to use all his ingenuity to wiggle out of his dilemmas.

Mrs. Baldwin, Bertha, is played by Carnis Durham, the senior who is still basking in the sunlight of her achievements last summer in American Legion Auxiliary Girls' State. She does superb work as the wife torn between the love for her husband and her role as the conventional, Puritanic, little-town social leader.

Sheila Baldwin is played by Patsy Jarrell, another favorite of the Memphis High School stage. In "Aunt Nellie," Patsy is the love-sick, hero-worshipping, typical girl of all ages.

Fred Baldwin is being played by a new-comer to the high school stage, Raymond Whitten. He does a clever job with the "All-American" boy who feels his call to service, who loves his family and his country, but who has the courage to defy his father by asserting his own rights.

Joyce Baldwin is being played by Dee Ellen Durrett. She proves that she is not so old but that she remembers her own impulses at the age of 15, and she weaves into the characterization of Joyce the subtle delineation of a sweet, loving young daughter growing into maturity yet ever ready to tease, to haggle Sheila's boy. Easter Cantata To Be Presented By Presbyterians

For this service, the regular members of the Presbyterian choir will be assisted by Mrs. Clyde Milam, Mrs. Dick Shelton, and Mrs. Bedford Smith in the soprano and alto sections; and M. D. Gunstream and Sam Jackson in the tenor and bass sections.

The Cantata combines two beautiful anthems: "The Seven Last Words" by Protheroe and "The Hallelujah" chorus from Handel's "Messiah." The public is cordially invited to enjoy this candlelight service of sacred music.

OPS Releases Operational Cost Figures For 1951

The Office of Price Stabilization employed an average of 7,405 persons and spent a total of $55,703,558 in 1951, Director Ellis Arnall announced today.

Arnall became OPS director three weeks ago. Today he said, "It is a good thing to let the public know about the operations of the agencies of their government. I have been impressed by the fact that the OPS program of stabilizing prices cost each American only 36 cents last year."

"On the basis of the most conservative estimate of what would have happened to prices if control had not been in effect, each man, woman and child in the nation was saved many, many times the cost to them of the stabilization program."

The year's average employment for the agency was divided into 1,752 persons in the national office and 5,653, in the 14 regional and 89 district offices. Total salaries were $10,508,892 in Washington and $ 8,672,858 in the field. Additional expenses, for services, equipment, printing, distribution of regulations, etc., came to $8,845,478 in the national office and $7,676,330 in the field.

County Agent Urges Hall Co. 4-H Boys To Pick Calves Now

County Agent W. B. Hooser said this week that all Hall County 4-H boys planning to feed out calves for the coming year should begin selection of the calves now. He said he would be glad to assist any of the boys in the selections.

Hooser said that a Lakeview 4-H boy, Raymond L. Hall, has just bought a registered Hereford cow and calf. The cow is a T. O. Hereford and the calf is a Larry Domino. The cow is bred back to Larry Domino, he said.

Seventeen Attend W.S.C.S. Meeting

The W.S.C.S. met in the parlor of the Methodist Church Monday, March 17. The new study, "Everybody Needs a Church," was introduced by the leader, Mrs. C. R. Webster. The hymn, "Old Time Religion," was followed by the Devotional, which was given by Mrs. Mary Lou Erwin. She used the 23rd Psalm and concluded with a survey of the growth of minority religious groups in the United States.

"The Twelve Most Successful Churches of the United States," a survey made by the Christian Century, was begun by Mrs. C. W. Broome and Mrs. Bob Roberts. Others participating on the afternoon program were Mrs. J. S. Ballard, Mrs. Myrtis Pheasant, Mrs. N. A. Hightower and Mrs. Ann Dickson. Seventeen women were present.

Vets Keeping Up GI Loan Payments

World War II veterans already have repaid in full about $1.5 billion in GI loans for homes, farms and businesses since the GI program went into effect nearly 7 years ago, the Veterans Administration announced today.

This represents almost 9 percent of the $16.8 billion in GI loans closed to January 25, 1952, the latest date for which statistics are available.

In the number of loans repaid in full, the percentage is even greater. A total of 329,749 GI loans have been repaid in full nearly 12 percent of the 2,837,651 GI loans closed.

Cyclone Thin-Clads To Run In Panhandle Meet Saturday

Coach Joe Lane and his track and field squad will try to improve their luck Saturday in an invitational meet in Panhandle. His abbreviated team of Harvey Kennedy and Clyde Tamplin didn't fare so well Saturday at the Southwest Recreation Meet in Fort Worth.

Lane says he will take his entire team along on the trip, but he doesn't have any high hopes this time for there will be about seven other high schools represented and the competition will be rough. Harvey Kennedy, Memphis' chief threat in the dashes will be handicapped with a sore leg for Saturday's fun. He ruptured a blood vessel in his leg Tuesday.

Tampien, who got to the finals in the 880-yard run in Fort Worth over the weekend, will provide someone with plenty of competition in the half-mile and in the man-killing 440-yard dash. Tampien didn't compete in the final of the half-mile run Saturday due to a sore throat.

Kennedy got as far as the semi-finals in the 200-yard dash in the Cowtown races. When one considers that high schools—many larger than Memphis—from all over Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Texas sent their finest and fastest lads, then the local boy couldn't be expected to win many points. Memphis, while not stealing the show like Stillwater, Okla., and Iran, Tex., made a better showing than the majority of schools entered.

Coach Lane says Wayne Jenkins is improving in the shot put, and will give somebody trouble later on in the season. In the other "throwing" event, the discus, Roy Don Coleman seems to be a good prospect for the future. He has size and strength and should be good, Lane says.

The Cyclone thin-clads have a busy month ahead of them. A week from Saturday they will return to White Deer where they made a good showing two weeks ago. One week later, the team will play host to other teams in this district in the district track and field meet.

The total coast line of the United States is 4,883 statute miles.

ALL TEXAS NOW DESIGNATED AS DISASTER AREA BY GOVERNMENT

All Texas counties are now designated as disaster areas by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The action qualifies farmers who have suffered crop losses and who are unable to obtain credit elsewhere for loans from the Farmers Home Administration to put in 1952 crops.

Announcement of this ruling came from Dallas, state headquarters of the FHA.

Bad weather conditions in 1951 reduced crop yields and tightened up credit conditions, so that many farmers were unable to finance crop plantings. Disaster loans are now available in each county.

Farmers who have sustained production losses on crops and livestock may apply for funds to pay for seed, fertilizer and materials for insect control where needed, gas and oil for tractors, feed for livestock, essential farm and home operating expenses, machinery repairs and other expenses incident to the production of a crop.

Credit is advanced under authority of Public Law 38. Before a loan is made a County Committee of three farmers must certify that the applicant suffered a substantial production loss. Farmers may apply for loans at the office of County Supervisor J. J. Roan, Jr. His office is located in the Hall County Bank Building in Memphis.

Funds will be available to ranchers whose herds have been depleted by the drought. They can borrow to restock their pastures. Farmers who qualify under the disaster loan regulations may discuss their needs with the county supervisor.

Better farming practices are emphasized in the FHA loan program. These will be discussed and agreed upon by the county supervisor and the applicant when the loan application is prepared.

A program of diversification is the safest course. Farmers who have carried out a balanced farming program with livestock do not need emergency aid this year even though they did sustain losses because of drought conditions last year, according to a survey of case files, the county supervisor emphasized.

Despite her five-year plans, Russia is still unable to produce more than 194 billion kilowatt hours of electric power, while the United States produces 360 billion. That is 495 kilowatt hours for each person in Russia and 2,323 in the United States.

Plains Historical Writers' Contest Declared Open

The Panhandle-Plains Historical Society this week announced Apr. 15 as the deadline for the Southwestern Historical Writers' Contest for 1952. Entry into the contest is open to anyone interested in preparing a paper from historical source materials of the Southwestern Plains.

First prize in the contest is $100 and second prize is $50. Papers may be written upon any phase of the history of West Texas and the Southwest. Reminiscences, diaries, biographies, letters, town and county histories, or the history of institutional developments of any kind will be acceptable.

Emphasis should be placed by a writer upon human interest and general historical value. All research papers should be documented with bibliography attached. Dates and specific locations should be emphasized wherever possible, and any subject undertaken should be fully developed.

Papers must be typewritten on one side only, double spaced and on 8 1/2 by 11 paper.

Papers should be addressed to the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society, Canyon, Texas.

VETERANS NEWS

Q. I plan to get a GI home loan, and I'd like to find out what would happen in case I fail to make my loan payments. I don't expect to default, of course, but I do want to learn all the aspects.

A. Failure to make your loan payments may lead to foreclosure and loss of your home. Also, if the government is required to pay a claim because of your failure to meet payments, you will become indebted to the government for the amount of any such claim.

Q. I am a married veteran, training under the GI Bill, and I've just been rated as 60 per cent disabled by VA. Will VA pay me both the extra amount of disability compensation that goes to those with dependents, plus the higher rate of GI subsistence for veterans with families?

A. No. Instead, VA will pay you either one of the extra amounts for veterans with dependents—but not both. You have the right to choose whichever extra payment you wish to receive.

Q. If the next-of-kin of a deceased veteran qualifies for both VA compensation and pension, may that person receive both awards?

A. No. Such a person may elect to receive whichever benefit is most advantageous. The benefit not chosen is placed in suspense, and the suspense may be lifted at any time by the person making another election.

Q. I expect to enter a VA hospital in the near future. Will I have a choice as to which hospital I will go?

A. Generally, a veteran is assigned to a hospital nearest his home. But crowded conditions in certain hospitals, or the type of disability suffered by the veteran might result in his being assigned to a special hospital in another section of the country.

Armstrong County now has collected enough money to join the group, and five other counties have begun soliciting. They are Cottle, Motley, Dickens, King and Hardeman.

Included in the Texas delegation which went to Hollis Monday were four directors of the Red River Association and Lewis Foxhall and William B. Teague, Memphis lawyer who acted as legal advisor for the group. Paul Montgomery represented Hall County as a director.

The group met with directors of the Oklahoma corporation Monday afternoon to establish a joint administrative organization to act as liaison between the two groups and the Denver corporation. They voted to hire a secretary and set up a permanent office at Sayre, Okla.

Dr. Irvin P. Kirick's rain-increasers will install teletype machines in that office and provide long-range weather forecasts besides information on special weather conditions. Each contributor-farmer will be sent forecasts corrected monthly and weekly. The Krick firm will employ operators for generators, usually someone in the communities where the generators are placed, to turn the machines on and off.

Foxhall and Teague said that the Texas-Oklahoma counties secured a much better contract than the one negotiated last year at Waco with the same rain-increaser corporation.

The directors from Oklahoma and Texas met with the representative of the Denver firm Monday night in Hollis. The contracts won't be signed until the Water Resources Development Corporation finishes drawing them up and sends them back. Each contractee will sign identical but separate contracts with the rain-increaser.

At a meeting of the Red River Weather Improvement Association Saturday in Memphis, a charter was drawn up and sent to Austin. The 12 directors on the board voted a resolution to make Memphis headquarters of the organization.

SPORTS AFIELD By Ted Kestry

It's high time anglers know just what their rights are concerning waters that are posted "no fishing."

According to Benzo Dee Bowers, a lawyer with an interest in sportsmen's problems, the overrules prescribing or limiting your rights are these: The exclusive privilege of fishing in nonnavigable, or private streams and lakes, belongs to the owners of the land on both sides, and others cannot fish there without the consent of these owners; but anybody is entitled to fish navigable or public waters if he can get to them without going upon or across lands of others who do not permit his doing so. In other words, the right to fish by those who own lands on navigable or public waters or lakes or streams is not exclusive.

So when a landowner tries to chase a fisherman away from a promising fishing spot the major question is whether the waters are public (navigable) or private (nonnavigable) in nature.

Courts have been ruling on this

CIGAR-SMOKING QUEEN . . . The pearly king and queen of Finbury enjoy cigars after election as the festival king and queen of the pearls in London.

LOST TRIO . . . Three youngsters, separated from parents in Brooklyn subway station, are awed by police car ride to precinct station to await parents.

question for years. They have affirmed that a stream is navigable from a fisherman's standpoint if it is "floatable." Any river or lake is floatable if used or if it can be used, for driving logs or rafts, or padding boats and canoes, running motorboats and the like.

In recent years there has been an enlargement on the meaning of "navigable." Judges have said that any body of water is navigable and therefore available to any member of the public for fishing notwithstanding objections from bordering landowners, if it is boatable for hunting, fishing or pleasure.

There's a thread of warning for fishermen that runs all through the entire scope of these rights to fish navigable or public waters, even in states where the broadest application is given. It is this: In getting into or upon the waters you fish, you have not the slightest privilege or authority to stand or walk upon or across any part of the land bordering upon the stream or lake without permission of its owner. If you do, you risk prosecution or damage suit for trespassing.

The question logically arises as to how one wanting to fish public waters can step gingerly enough to avoid committing an act of trespass. It can be done. It is being done—times without number. You may have to enter or leave the stream only where it touches a highway or other public property. In many locations you can find an agreeable landowner at some point along the river or lake shore who will permit you to enter the water from there. Once in, either afloat or wading, you are entitled to fish anywhere in the river or lake.

A statute mile is 5,280 feet long.

Tuesday's Amarillo News. The letter was reprinted in full, and voiced many things that are troubling a lot of people these days concerning the way America is swinging far to the left, and about which many want to do something.

Even Panhandle weather seems to be troubled, as evidenced by the different kinds trying to get the stage—windy, dusty, thunder showers—and not one seems to get the right-of-way. I suppose it is winter trying to do all it can before turning things over to spring.

Anyway, weather as a subject gives plenty of people "profitunity" to have something to talk about.

Ray Crawford, son of Mrs. Hugh Crawford of Memphis, is becoming quite a magician. He is attending Clarendon College, and an item appearing in the college publication, The Clarion, lists various acts to be put on March 25 at the Varsity Show. The affair is to be emceed by "our own delightfully entertaining Ray Crawford who is quite a performer in his own right."

Isn't it about time for city and county officials to begin beautifying the parks and the courthouse lawn?

I notice that Blake Timmons of Amarillo has been appointed temporary chairman of the Panhandle for the Loyal Democrats of Texas. The LDs plan to capture the precinct conventions in Texas and get all delegates to the state convention to vote for an instructed delegation to the national convention. Governor Alan Shivers leads the opposition to an instructed delegation so that some horse-trading can be done toward thwarting Truman's nomination. I am wondering if Union Laborites will control the Amarillo and Berger precinct conventions like they have done a few times in the past?

Builders are at work on a new bridge across Red River south of the Mulberry bridge. When that is completed, the next step will be to connect up with Silverton. Also, it would be good if a bridge were across the river at Oxbow and paving done from the present paved road, that now ends just about a mile north of Oxbow, connecting with the Estelline-Turkey road at Tampico. Such a project would give south of the river people a needed outlet to the north, and those on the north an outlet to the south.

friend for money to "hedge her losses," and to torment her gossip neighbor with tid-bits of the family scandal.

Cleo, the colored maid, is played by a veteran of the Memphis High School stage, Margaret Ann Massey. She is the independent, negro servant who is interested in the welfare of her employers, who wants them to take their "vita-

"Good evening, sir—I'm selling doorknobs that glow in the dark..."

minies" and who will not condone a scandal because she has high "mortality."

Ed Saunders, the Baldwin's neighbor, is portrayed by Clinton Jones. As the hen-pecked husband who "sees the light," Clinton is a scream.

Words fail to describe Jerry the young actor, performed by Jacky Gilbert. He has proved his versatility to Memphis audiences in past performances. But this role tops the list because Jacky himself (as Jerry) admits that he is handsome, personable, is a fine actor, and he thinks "long green" is spinach. His quick transition from one disguise to another will keep the audience wondering what he will do next.

Mr. Van Dilling is played by Coy Smith. His natural personality of gentlemanly demeanor is conducive to his interpretation of Seaforth banker, tall, dignified, fair-minded, eager to help, but alert concerning any hint of scandal that might involve the bank.

The supporting production staff is led by Betty Kennon, student director. Assisting are Gloria Harris, production manager, and Don Beasley, business manager.

Assistants are: Wayne Jenkins, stage manager; Frank Norman, curtain and lights; Betty Kennon, sound effects; Carl Lee, announcer; Murial Bruton, properties; Jo Ann Webster, make-up; Clinton Jones, photography; Nan Crowder, posters; Dempsey Archer, advertising.

Wreck Victim

tioner in Los Angeles. The FBI said Smith had been a federal fugitive since that date. He is wanted for the transportation of a stolen automobile from Las Vegas, Nev., to California.

The new Mercury Smith was driving was completely demolished in the accident which occurred about three miles east of town about 1:30 p. m. Sunday. The Highway patrol said he apparently fell asleep while coming west on Highway 256.

The car left the pavement, traveled about 1050 feet on the shoulder, then flew another 40 feet before touching the ground again. Then it flipped several times and smashed against an embankment, pinning Smith in the wreckage.

Chief of Police T. D. Weatherby was first officer to reach the scene. He was joined later by Highway Patrolman Clinton Culp and N. D. Calloway. A Murphy-Spicer ambulance carried the victim to a local hospital for treatment of superficial injuries. He was released the next morning after he had paid for his hospitalization with a check later found to be worthless. It was written on a California bank.

Smith had walked a few hundred feet from the hospital when Patrolmen Culp and Calloway picked him up for questioning. A search of the wrecked car had revealed an extra set of license plates. The tags on the vehicle were issued for an older model car.

The suspect was then taken to the county jail, and the sheriff's office joined the questioning. Smith kept his interrogators puzzled as to his identity for hours while they checked with other law enforcement officers over the Southwest for information about their quarry.

Smith first spun several thinly-woven tales, including stories that he was A. W. O. L. from Letterman General Hospital in San Francisco; that he bought the car from his brother in Tulsa; and that he was a victim of amnesia and didn't know where he got the car.

Finally, the investigating officers managed to unravel the confusion surrounding the mysterious young man. Smith mentioned that he had "borrowed" the car from friends, whom he doesn't further identify, in Blanchard, Okla. He gave the name J. D. Smith with this story. He had called himself by other names in the other stories.

After communicating with authorities in Oklahoma, the officers here learned that a man of Smith's description was wanted by the FBI. An FBI man from Amarillo came down Tuesday and interviewed the suspect, identifying him as the man they wanted.

Smith will be carried to Amarillo where he will be arraigned before a federal court on the charge filed in Los Angeles. If he pleads guilty, he will be tried in Amarillo. If he says he is not guilty, he will be returned to California for trial.

Durham Acts As Disburser

N. W. Durham, who as home service chairman of the local chapter, has the time-consuming job of handling local cases and disbursing money from the local fund.

On the local level, a good percentage of the allocated money is spent on destitute persons—both resident and transient—who look to the Red Cross in time of need.

In such cases the home service chairman will check first with the Red Cross authorities in the transient's home town to check upon the character of the person seeking aid. This is done to eliminate unnecessary disbursement to the chronically unemployed who though able-bodied, refuse to work if some relief agency will feed them. On the local level, the Red Cross chapter provides groceries and other necessities for temporary relief of destitute families.

Emphasizes Meeting Quota

"We don't believe in letting anyone go hungry in this country," Durham said. He emphasized the need for meeting the local quota and, if possible, exceeding it. Since half of the amount raised above the goal will go to the local chapter, it will remain here and mean that much more left over for next year and enough to take care of most exigencies. It will also help to lower the national quota next year.

Drive Chairman Young expressed hope that local citizens would give more generously of their time and money this year. He said that there appeared to be too much apathy on the part of the public. To contrast the lack of interest in the Hall County drive, he cited the case of Crowell, in Foard County, which had once received Red Cross relief after a disastrous tornado. This year the people there exceeded their goal the first day of the drive, he said.

The free distribution of these handbooks was made possible through the co-operation of the two banks in Memphis. Both the First State Bank and the First National Bank contributed an equal share toward paying printing costs. This is the fifth year that the two firms have done this.

McKown said that this was one of the very few counties which publishes a handbook with the costs being paid for by private business. He commended the two local banks for their contribution to soil conservation in Hall County.

Tuesday's Amarillo News. The letter was reprinted in full, and voiced many things that are troubling a lot of people these days concerning the way America is swinging far to the left, and about which many want to do something.

Even Panhandle weather seems to be troubled, as evidenced by the different kinds trying to get the stage—windy, dusty, thunder showers—and not one seems to get the right-of-way. I suppose it is winter trying to do all it can before turning things over to spring.

Anyway, weather as a subject gives plenty of people "profitability" to have something to talk about.

Ray Crawford, son of Mrs. Hugh Crawford of Memphis, is becoming quite a magician. He is attending Clarendon College, and an item appearing in the college publication, The Clarion, lists various acts to be put on March 28 at the Varsity Show. The affair is to be emceed by "our own delightfully entertaining Ray Crawford who is quite a performer in his own right."

Isn't it about time for city and county officials to begin beautifying the parks and the courthouse lawn?

I notice that Blake Timmons of Amarillo has been appointed temporary chairman of the Panhandle for the Loyal Democrats of Texas. The LDs plan to capture the precinct conventions in Texas and get all delegates to the state convention to vote for an instructed delegation to the national convention. Governor Alan Shivers leads the opposition to an instructed delegation so that some horse-trading can be done toward thwarting Truman's nomination. I am wondering if Union Laborites will control the Amarillo and Borger precinct conventions like they have done a few times in the past?

Builders are at work on a new bridge across Red River south of the Mulberry bridge. When that is completed, the next step will be to connect up with Silverton. Also, it would be good if a bridge were across the river at Osbow and paving done from the present paved road, that now ends just about a mile north of Osbow, connecting with the Estelline-Turkey road at Tampien. Such a project would give south of the river people a needed outlet to the north, and those on the north an outlet to the south.

and receive no pay for their services.

Durham Acts As Disburser
N. W. Durham, who as home service chairman of the local chapter, has the time-consuming job of handling local cases and disbursing money from the local fund.

On the local level, a good percentage of the allocated money is spent on destitute persons—both resident and transient—who look to the Red Cross in time of need.

In such cases the home service chairman will check first with Red Cross authorities in the transient's home town to check upon the character of the person seeking aid. This is done to eliminate unnecessary disbursement to the chronically unemployed who though able-bodied, refuse to work if some relief agency will feed them. On the local level, the Red Cross chapter provides groceries and other necessities for temporary relief of destitute families.

Emphasizes Meeting Quota
"We don't believe in letting anyone go hungry in this county," Durham said. He emphasized the need for meeting the local quota and, if possible, exceeding it. Since half of the amount raised above the goal will go to the local chapter, it will remain here and mean that much more left over for next year and enough to take care of most emergencies. It will also help to lower the national quota next year.

Drive Chairman Young expressed hope that local citizens would give more generously of their time and money this year. He said that there appeared to be too much apathy on the part of the public. To contrast the lack of interest in the Hall County drive, he cited the case of Crowell, in Ford County, which had once received Red Cross relief after a disastrous tornado. This year the people there exceeded their goal the first day of the drive, he said.

The incident occurred at the Harlem Inn, operated by Joe Dary, Negro, the police said.

minnies" and who will not condone a scandal because she has high "mortals."

Ed Saunders, the Baldwin's neighbor, is portrayed by Clinton Jones. As the hen-pecked husband who "sees the light," Clinton is a scream.

Words fail to describe Jerry the young actor, performed by Jacky Gilbert. He has proved his versatility to Memphis audiences in past performances. But this role tops the list because Jacky himself (as Jerry) admits that he is handsome, personable, is a fine actor, and he thinks "long green" is spinach. His quick transition from one disguise to another will keep the audience wondering what he will do next.

Mr. Van Dilling is played by Coy Smith. His natural personality of gentlemanly demeanor is conducive to his interpretation of Seaforth banker, tall, dignified, fair-minded, eager to help, but alert concerning any hint of scandal that might involve the bank.

The supporting production staff is led by Betty Kennon, student director. Assisting are Gloria Harris, production manager, and Don Beasley, business manager.

Assistants are: Wayne Jenkins, curtain and lights; Betty Kennon, sound effects; Carl Lee, announcer; Murial Bruton, properties; Jo Ann Webster, make-up; Clinton Jones, photography; Nan Crowder, posters; Dempsey Archer, advertising.

Southwest for information about their quarry.

Smith first spun several thinly-woven tales, including stories that he was A. W. O. L. from Letterman General Hospital in San Francisco; that he bought the car from his brother in Tulsa; and that he was a victim of amnesia and didn't know where he got the car.

Finally, the investigating officers managed to unravel the confusion surrounding the mysterious young man. Smith mentioned that he had "borrowed" the car from friends, whom he doesn't further identify, in Blanchard, Okla. He gave the name J. D. Smith with this story. He called himself by other names in the other stories.

After communicating with authorities in Oklahoma, the officers here learned that a man of Smith's description was wanted by the FBI. An FBI man from Amarillo came down Tuesday and interviewed the suspect, identifying him as the man they wanted.

Smith will be carried to Amarillo where he will be arraigned before a federal court on the charge filed in Los Angeles. If he pleads guilty, he will be tried in Amarillo. If he says he is not guilty, he will be returned to California for trial.

BEAUTY OF PALO DURO CANYON ENOUGH FOR LIFETIME MEMORY

(Editor's Note—A boost for the Palo Duro Canyon is contained in a story published in Sunday's Dallas News. The story is by Evelyn Oppenheimer and is taken from Paul Wellman's novel, The Iron Mistress.)

In the summer of 1830 on a hunting trip with the Apache Lipan Indians Jim Bowie was the first white man to see what the off-trail tourists know as the "Grand Canyon of Texas," more specifically Palo Duro Gorge.

The comparison to the Arizona marvel is no overstatement, and it is incredible that a state as expert in press agency as Texas has let the traveling public pass through its Panhandle home of this scenic wonder en route to those in other states without telling them what they are missing.

Just seventeen miles south of the City of Amarillo is the little town of Canyon, best known for West Texas State College and its famed Historical Museum (300,000 specimens) and annual Writers Roundup, and only twelve miles beyond that campus one comes to this literal "jumping-off place" of such vast depth, breadth and colorful grandeur.

As if nature lay waiting to cry "Surprise!" you see nothing ahead to prepare you for Palo Duro Canyon as you approach it riding over the high rolling plains of wheat and prairie. Hereford. Then suddenly, shockingly, you are there, and you jam on your brakes, catch your breath, and stare unbelievably at the sight that the earth has opened before you and beneath you with almost deliberate drama.

At the rustic State Park entrance you eventually notice a small group of buffalo, remaining descendants of the innumerable herd that once made a happy hunting ground for the Indians and also for Col. Charles Goodnight, the first rancher to come here in 1826. He cleared out some ten thousand head of buffalo, made his own treaty with the Indians, and established his own huge cattle ranch which is now known as the J.A.

The trail which leads you in gradual descent 1,150 feet to the floor of Palo Duro Canyon is named for Pioneer Goodnight and a string of donkeys and horses are available to take you over twenty miles of bridle path down and through the canyon.

Dating from CCC days, a main lodge nestles in picturesque perfection on a curve of the rim that commands almost full view of the splendor of this gorge of over

These facilities man has made in the past two decades to explore and enjoy the beauty of this spectacle that nature spent over nine-million years to form. The process of erosion for over two million centuries cut this gigantic gash in the earth where science tells us there once was a great sea in the Permian age. As that sea receded leaving a desert region with saline lakes, strata of gypsum in red shales were formed by precipitation from those ancient lakes. This hard mineral is the one used commercially in plaster of paris production.

Most distinctive of Palo Duro are what the cowboys called "the Spanish Skirts," great vividly colored, rainbow-like formations that cover the side cliffs of the whole canyon and really look like the brilliant, flowing skirts of Spanish dancers, pink and white spread out in vast lengths, and of course each band of color represents several centuries of time for these are sedimentary rocks deposited during the later Triassic age, then fluted and eroded by wind and water. Among them anyone can find fossils of the prehistoric animals that once were here. Petrified wood is also a favorite souvenir in abundance.

Another striking feature are the fantastically shaped pedestal rocks, such as the ones aptly called The Lighthouse and Devil's Tombstone, that range in height up to seventy-five feet and are the result of differential weathering. With a bow to Colorado's Garden of the Gods this might be the Garden of the Goddesses in Texas.

No river flows here any more as the Colorado does in the Arizona Grand Canyon, but Palo Duro lacks for nothing as a sight to be seen, a truly stupendous manifestation of natural phenomena to be experienced. Under a blazing Texas sun, its beauty is enough for a lifetime memory. Under a full moon, it is almost too much for even a veteran romanticist.

REPORT FROM WASHINGTON

Congressman, 18th District

By Walter Rogers

THE TIDELANDS: The tidelands issue is presently being fought out in the Senate, and as of March 13th, remained as the Senate's unfinished business in legislative session. The leader of the fight for federal control is Senator O'Mahoney of Wyoming. He is a very able man, very resourceful, and thoroughly familiar with his subject. He has in his camp a formidable array of talent, the powers and abilities of which must not be discounted. The proposal now pending as S. J. Res. 20 provides for continuation of operations under certain mineral leases covering submerged lands of the continental shelf, to encourage the development of such leases, and to provide for the protection of the interests of the United States in the oil and gas deposits of said lands. This is in effect an interim proposition that would provide present exploration and operation for the production of oil and gas from these submerged lands; and would leave unsettled the burning question of whether or not these lands belong to the separate states or to the Federal government. The proposal on its face would appear most inviting to those unfamiliar with the background of the matter and the principles involved. Should the O'Mahoney proposal be adopted, it would be the "foot in the door" for federal control that could well be the death knell of Texas' hopes to recover property that rightfully belongs to Texas. I witnessed a recent television program in the nature of a debate between Senator O'Mahoney and Senator Long, of Louisiana, concerning the tidelands question. I noted with interest one of the arguments of Senator O'Mahoney. He stated that since Louisiana purchase was paid for out of the federal treasury, it became the property of the federal government and that Louisiana, as a part of the territory so acquired, had no more right to claim the tidelands than would the other states included in the Louisiana purchase and the rest of the United States. He also pointed out that the California territory was ceded to the United States by Mexico. On the television program he had a map on which he pointed out these different territories in support of his arguments. The interesting thing to me was that he never once mentioned Texas or referred to how Texas came into the Union. The truth is that the above arguments could not possibly apply to Texas. The Texas case is entirely different. The unanswerable fact in the Texas case is that Texas retained title to its public lands and the source of the title to the land that you live on is a Texas patent, and not a United States patent. When Texas came into the Union, changing her status from a sovereign power to a state, and by the resolution of annexation retained her public lands, she owned the 10 and one half mile strip of submerged lands along her coast, and she still owns them under every conceivable law of mankind. For the federal government to assume ownership of these lands, is nothing less than larceny, whether it be by judicial decree or legislative edict. The Texas delegation will continue the fight to protect our property right, and it will not be settled right until these lands are returned to the rightful owner, the State of Texas.

THE WAR ON WASTE: The temper of the Congress concerning waste in government is evidenced in daily debate and floor speeches. The several departments of the government, both civil and military, are well aware that they are under a searing searchlight. The department heads and those responsible for the expenditures are examining and re-examining the operations of their departments. This is resulting in the trimming of small unnoticeable items that will mean millions of dollars in savings to the American taxpayer. The Congress is not going to be satisfied with the recommendations and reports of the departments, but is going to make deeper cuts and force the departments to absorb them. The action of the Congress on the appropriations bills that have come to the floor indicates that the economy wave is definitely on the move. Unless an expenditure can be unquestionably justified, the Congress will cut it off. The members are searching the budget requests and the committee hearing for every possible means of cutting down. This is a healthy situation and I hope we can keep it going full strength. It is the opening wedge for tax reduction.

FEDERAL AID: The report of the Joint Committee on Reduction of Non-Essential Federal Expenditures reflects that since 1934 the federal government has paid out 58.2 billion dollars in 1950 programs of aid to states and individuals. (This period covers 18 years.) The payments to individuals totalled more than 42 billion dollars, payments to state and local governments more than 16 billion. I hope that this report won't upset some of our allies, who during the seven-year period from 1945 to September 1951 received only approximately 25 billion in foreign aid grants. If some of these foreign powers learn that the American taxpayer is getting back some of his own money, no telling what might happen.

SIX KIDS AND POOCH NABBED . . . In Van Nuys, Calif., police nabbed these six youngsters and their dog Butch in a stolen car at the climax of a 90-mile-an-hour chase.

Weighing just reound, these small crean from the high Andean South America are li- worth their weight in gold. It is better understood it takes a thoughtful the price Mrs. Irons her first pair—$1650.00, began their "herd" year ago when Mrs. Irons pair and Mrs. Baker two pairs of Chinchil- Mrs. Irons has six and owns eight of the bluish of fur. either. The Chinchillas are odor- less and can be kept in the house. That's where Mrs. Irons keeps hers—housed in a cage about half the size of a bale of cotton. Mrs. Morgan has a similar cage which she keeps in a room off the ga- rage.

The Chinchillas can endure cold temperatures although it's not wise to subject them to polar conditions. The species came from a lofty region of cool, thin air (and it's best to keep them in a basement or some other cool place in the summertime.

Right now the Chinchilla indus- try is in much the same state as the registered livestock business. The animals are used for breeding purposes. The Chinchilla industry is not so much interested in im- proving strains as it is in building up a huge backlog of saleable fur. There are only five full-length Chinchilla coats in the United States. Lily Pons owns one of these, Mrs. Irons said.

present, Mrs. Irons and er plans to sell one pair chillas each. For the cur- h money, the national price for a pair runs all from $1,000.00 to $2-, ending on age, appear- lth, and quality of fur. Their animals have been d and graded by national s authorities.

the initial investment the small animals of the amily are economical to od for one for a whole s to about $3. A single ill eat a small amount of centrate and a handful a per day. Accommoda- t't have to be luxurious.

The Chinchilla fur is difficult to describe for there is no other fur quite like it. Imagine from 80 to 120 hairs growing in a single tuft where, on other animals, only a single hair grows! The hair is so thick that the fur cannot lean. It has three layers of colors—a blue undercoat, a shallow white layer, and on outercoat or veil of bluish-gray hue. Protruding be- yond the outercoat are the "king" hairs which offer protection for the fur underneath. The fur is so light that a yard of it weighs only about as much as a yard of rayon.

Just how much the Chinchillas will sell for when the Chinchilla authorities give the green light—probably anywhere from seven to ten years from now—is anybody's guess. Mrs. Irons thinks they will be much more valuable than mink.

At one time, perhaps a half century ago, the Chinchilla species became almost like the Dodo bird—extinct. That was when the fur was so highly regarded in the fashion centers of the world. A mining engineer managed to bring 11 furry creatures to the United States in 1923. They formed the nuclei for the industry now engaged in by some 7,000 persons in the United States.

That Chinchilla-raising is a sound, lucrative business. Mrs. Irons hasn't the slightest doubt. Recently she gave a pair of the valuable animals to her son, Denny, on his 13th birthday.

"They're to pay his way through college," she said.

WHAT ARE TODAY'S FACTS ABOUT NEW CAR ENGINES AND POWER STEERING?

LAST YEAR Chrysler introduced its new FirePower V-8 engine, and America's first passenger-car full-time power steering. Both new ideas "took hold" in a big way.

Today, others are announcing "new engines" and "power steering"... but with some basic differences worth keeping in mind if you're buying a new car.

First: about "new engines." The fact is, a really new engine design happens only once in a great while. It did happen in the FirePower V-8. Its 180 h.p. was only incidental to its basic new design. Its key idea is a hemispherical combustion chamber, which makes even non-premium gasoline develop more usable power than other designs can get from premium fuel.

Only Chrysler engineering has so far mastered this design. Several cars do have some power increase, in terms of previous designs. The important fact is that FirePower is not a "warmed-over" engine, but brand new in performance, construction, and efficiency.

In power steering, too, there are basic differences.

Chrysler uses hydraulic power, always in effect, to do two things. First, it does 4/5 the steering work as you turn the wheel. Second, we've cut the amount of wheel turn needed by over 1/3.

Parking or cruising, you get more and easier control than ever before. In sand, snow, or ruts, the hydraulic power is always there to keep the front wheels from "steering back" at you. You get the same amount and feel of control all the time... full-time ease and full-time safety.

Actually, the differences, both in engine performance and in steering safety and ease are impossible to put in words... but just as impossible not to feel the moment you get into a Chrysler and drive it! Why not see your Chrysler dealer and do that, soon?

Sift the Facts First

When the Presidential campaign gets in full swing a few months hence, the tax-paying public is going to become primary targets for all sorts of political propaganda. Neither side will resort to bold-faced lies, but buttered-up phrases, catchy slogans and slight distortions of facts will be broadcast, printed, and repeated in innumerable stump speeches—all to persuade the voter to vote a certain way.

The administration will hint loudly that a Republican victory will bring on another "Hoover depression." The G.O.P. will charge that continued government spending by the Administration will lead to bankruptcy and economic collapse. The Democrats will say that by giving money to the destitute peoples of the world Communism can be contained. The Republicans will appeal to the tax-payers not to give any more money to be sent "down the rat-hole."

The battle of phrases and slogans has already begun. The Republicans sounded the keynote of their domestic platform with their revelation that more money has been spent, more taxes have been levied by the Truman Administration than by all the administrations in the previous entire history of the United States. This sort of statement packs a powerful jolt, and is not easily forgotten.

However, the Democrats came right back with their equally astonishing statement that the American people have earned more money since 1945 than in the previous 156 years of our history as a republic.

Thus, the game of propaganda can be played by both sides between now and November the voter must sift the true from the false, and reach a decision which will better himself, his family, and his country.

QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

Dusters Still Blow
Presidential Candidate Bob Taft, viewing the dust storm in Lubbock, commented: "I thought Roosevelt stopped all this with those trees."

"Those trees" were the famed shelter belts of the mid-thirties which were supposed to break the wind and slow down the dust.

In the meantime, farm programs have had contradictory purposes. Millions have been spent to support high prices which encouraged farmers to plow up the conserved soil.

A farmer gets so much to retire his wheat land to grass. The next year he gets more to plow up the grass and put it back in wheat. The dust storms still blow.

which radio and television will play a major role.

Both national conventions will be televised and the TV broadcasts will be brought into Texas. The Democratic National Committee has voted to spend $1 million on radio and television for the 1952 campaign as compared with $493,956 for radio only in 1948. While no figures have been announced by the Republican National Committee, it is not expected to neglect its case over the air waves. Candidates—national, state and local—will utilize radio and TV facilities.

The advent of television into politics on a large scale should be an advantage to the people, who thereby will be able not only to hear the candidate for office but also to see him. Ultimately, some of the hokum should be drained from politics as millions of voters through TV get "ring-side seats" in the political arena. —Fort Worth Star-Telegram

A. RECEIVES REQUESTS MESQUITE CONTROL AID

County P.M.A. officer McKown announced this week that 21 farmers have asked for aid in mesquite control. Requests are for treating mesquite land with a chemical which is applied from an airplane. Limited funds this year will be lower, but McKown said the government will pay at least $1.75 per acre for control. The farmer paid the contractor $1.55, making a total of $3.30 per acre. McKown said that the kill in the tops of the plants was effective but that the root system may be still alive. He expects good results but added that a 100 per cent kill was not expected. McKown said that the farms in the program would be checked soon after April 1 for density of growth of the troublesome shrub. Normal time for treatment is May, but moisture conditions must be right before spraying is most effective. Moisture must be normal for 30 days before the leaves come out. Then after 40

RAIN DAMPENS GOLF MATCHES BUT NOT SPIRITS OF CYCLONES

Rain interfered with the gold match between Memphis and Shamrock, Sunday, March 9, but not before four of the Cyclone golfers pulled ahead in number of points. Two other local boys were even with their opponents when the downpour started.

The quartette of winners-one-points were Carrol Gardenhire, Jackie Ben Boone, Buzzy Patrick, and Bob Sheen. The pair unable to finish their match were Jimmy Davis and Omer Johnsey.

Childress was the next opponent at matches held there last Saturday. Childress will come here Saturday, March 22 to return the matches. The teeing-off noon. Golf Coach Weldon will get underway shortly after McCreary said his charges were going in for the game with great enthusiasm. The vocational agriculture teacher at the high school pointed out that the Memphis Country Club was to be commended for its fine spirit of cooperation.

McCreary, W. C. Davis, Superintendent, and O. B. Smith, local golf pro, accompanied the Cyclone golfers to Shamrock for the matches Sunday. Those making the trip included: Ronnie Mack Smith, Carl Lee, Bob Sheen, Bert Sheen, Johnsey, Davis, Boone, Patrick, Duane Miller, Julius Stevens and Gardenhire.

Visitor Tells Pupils Of Life In Brazil

Mrs. O. L. Seale visited the fourth grade room taught by Mrs. B. B. McMillian, March 5.

As a special feature for Texas Education Week, Mrs. Seale, who lived in Brazil nine years, told the class many things about that country. She lived chiefly in the cities of Recife and Sao Paulo.

"One of the most interesting things about the natives is that they do not heat their homes in the winter, for they believe if you go from a heated room to outdoors you will catch cold."

Mrs. Seale showed the students a hand-made scarf and an ash tray made with butterfly wings, a blanket made by the Indians, and some skins from animals of Brazil.

"This is an easy way to study Geography," was the remark made by one of the students.

New Trophy Case Added At School

Something new added to MHS is the new trophy case in the downstairs front hall. There are six sections in the top of the case and six in the bottom. It has a light in each section and the background is stained with mahogany varnish. The frame and the doors have a clear varnish finish.

Resuscitator Is Demonstrated To Chemistry Class

The Chemistry class was given a demonstration on the use of the resuscitator, recently, by the Fire Chief Thomas Clayton.

The resuscitator is divided into three divisions, the resuscitator, inhalator, and aspirator. The resuscitator is used to give artificial respiration; the inhalator, is used to give a person oxygen in case of heart attack and polio cases and the aspirator is used to clear out the phlegm from a person's throat.

"Each tank holds a capacity of 1200 pounds of pressure of oxygen. The oxygen is 99.9-10 percent pure," Clayton said.

Mr. Clayton demonstrated the use of each division with the assistance of D'Arman Peabody.

Max Kennedy demonstrated the prone method of artificial respiration with the assistance of Charles Hartman.

The members of the class who profited from this demonstration were Rayford Hutcherson, Troy Moore, Raymond Whitten, Floye Hammonds, Charles Messer, Frank Norman, Dee Ellen Durrett, Delbert Hightower, Frankie Lynn Srygley, Anita Murphy, Jimmy West, and Rita Jo Hale and Neville Wrenn, instructor.

New Books Added To MHS Library

New books added to the library contain three different types of writing: fiction, biography, and non-fiction according to information received from Miss Hammonds, librarian.

Those under the heading of fiction are "Little Lord Fauntleroy" by Burnett, "Skyblazer" by Brier, "Rusty: A Cowboy of the Old West" by Santee, "AGirl Can Dream" by Cavanna, and "Touchdown Glory" by Archibald. Books of biography are "Martha Washington" by Desmond, "Big Foot Wallace" by Garst, and "The Voyages of Christopher Columbus" by Sperry. The non-fiction books are "Brave Ships of America" by Leeming, and "Cano" by Galt.
