all the vehicles in this state by the Sept. 6 deadline, the number of cars inspected weekly will have to be doubled, the State Department of Public Safety said this week.

"No Further Extension" There can be no further extension of the deadline and operators of vehicles not inspected on Sept. 7 will be subject to arrest. The law provides a fine not to exceed $200.00 for any person guilty of operating a vehicle after Sept. 7 if the vehicle has not been inspected and approved.

The Department of Public Safety urged all car operators to have their machines inspected as quickly as possible while there is plenty of time.

Renew Worn-Out Wagon Bed!

YOU DON'T have to get along with a rough and splintery wagon bed any longer. Here are the easy directions for covering the old surface with a material that is inexpensive, extremely smooth, moisture-resistant and very durable.

With wagon sides removed, place panels of Masonite 1/2" tempered hardboard over the entire bed. Fasten it with bolts or screws. Necessary openings may be made with a drill and keyhole saw. The wagon sides and ends may be lined in the same way.

The smooth surface of the tempered hardboard makes shoveling a cleaner and easier task.

Farm wagon beds aren't the only spots for this versatile material. For working surfaces in the shop, barn or milk house, tempered hardboard is the answer. It also is widely used in dry wall construction.

Grapefruit Now Season's Best Buy

Good news from Florida is that the fresh grapefruit crop will peak in April and May, a budget buy for halving and squeezing like oranges. This special crop features small sizes. Pink as well as white grapefruit will be vitamin C bargains; seedless as well as seeded, the kind Floridians prefer for juice and flavor. If you buy grapefruit with seeds for halving and garnishing, before separating the fruit from dividing membrane take a sharp knife and with a circling movement cut through the membrane all around the seeds and lift out core and seeds all at once. Cut around each section, loosening fruit from membrane. Fill center with sliced strawberries, melon balls or any seasonal fruit.

You are urged to work and pray for a great spiritual awakening in Memphis.

Physics Students Present Program To Rotary Club

Two members of the Physics class, Max Kennedy and Charles Messer, and their instructor, Miss Neville Wrenn, presented the program for the Rotary Club, April 8, at noon.

Miss Wrenn introduced the subject "Water." She emphasized the source, occurrence and need of water.

Messer Shows Composition
Charles Messer then showed the composition of water to be H<sub>2</sub>O by electrolysis.

Max Kennedy had as his topic "Kinds of Water." In his demonstration, Max showed the difference between very hard water, Memphis water, and very soft water by the soap test. He also showed how to soften Memphis water by boiling.

Then Charles gave a summary of methods of treating water to purify it.

Odd Facts About Water
Some odd facts this group have found about water are: 1. It can be used to stretch a steel tube. 2. Water too pure to drink helps give more light by being used to wash out fluorescent lights before being treated. 3. In case of an atomic attack, water in wells is likely to be the only safe water.

Woman Looking For Book Lost 12 Years

Mrs. Artie Nance of Amarillo is looking for a book that she lost about a dozen years ago in the Hulver Community near Estelline.

It's not a bank book; nor is it a valuable rare old edition of some classic. But, it is something that has a tremendous sentimental value to her—a record book of the now non-existent Methodist Church of Hulver. It has records of the organization of the church and contains names of the charter members.

The Church was organized in her parents' home in 1890, and she became a member soon afterwards.

The book was lost years ago when she lent it to a friend in Hulver. Through the years she has prayed the now-forgotten borrower would send it back. She has no idea where the book is now, but thinks it may lie discarded in some trunk or attic.

Her address is 604 Birmingham Street, Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Grant and children of Amarillo spent the weekend with Mrs. Neville Dunn.

Methodist Sunday School Class Plans Party Fri-Night

Musical entertainment will include a flute duet by Johnnie McDaniel and Jeanne Foxhall with Betty Lemons as accompanist. Doyle Coffey will sing a bass solo number, "It Is No Secret," and Mrs. John Smith will be accompanist.

Mrs. Clent Srygley will give a survey of the year's activities. Charter members of the class will be recognized, and visitors will be introduced.

Charles Dean, teacher of the Couples Class of the Plainview Methodist Church, will address the group.

The program will be closed with the benediction by R. C. Lemon.

CHRYSLER FirePower

is so much more than HORSEPOWER

- + It's worth remembering that today's Chrysler V-8 is not a "warmed-over" engine, but basically brand new . . . the first truly new type engine of modern times. It does, indeed, open new horsepower potentials, but what it can mean to you goes way beyond just that . . .
- + FirePower is also a better-built engine throughout. It doesn't require premium fuel. It runs with less waste, less heat, less wear, less carbon deposit than other type engines can do. More of your gasoline's energy is turned into actual road power, greater reserve for passing and top speeds when needed . . .
- + FirePower gives your gasoline a better place to work . . . the first hemispherical combustion chamber in a stock-car engine. It makes possible more power from every drop of gas. You feel it the minute you open up a Chrysler, in greater accelerating power than you've ever had at your command . . .
- + Why not drive this revolutionary new-type engine, and feel its wonderful difference for yourself? Let your Chrysler dealer show you how much more than horsepower your money can buy in the engine Chrysler has designed from scratch to do an engine's job better, longer, and more efficiently than previous engines can hope to do!

Cafe Price Law To Be Explained Here April 16

A meeting of all Memphis operators of restaurants and other eating and drinking establishments, including drug stores with soda fountains, has been called for 2:30 p. m. Wednesday, April 16 in the City Hall.

The new Ceiling Price Regulation (CPR 134) which covers the operators of eating and drinking establishments, effective April 7, will be explained by officials of the Lubbock district OPS office.

Representing the price stabilization agency will be Luther Gray, restaurant pricing specialist.

He reminded cafe operators that ceiling prices must be posted not later than April 25 by restaurants in a place where they will be easily visible to customers.

The new regulation freezes restaurant prices at the level shown on menus or charged during the week of February 3-9, 1952.

Price officials pointed out that the new regulation specifically applies to restaurants, European-plan hotels (including room service) taverns, cafes, cafeterias, soda fountains, catering establishments, field kitchens, lunch wagons and delicatessens.

Actually, the address was two blocks off, but John got the letter anyway. It was mailed on March 20 at London.

The letter reads: "Buckingham Palace, 19th March, 1952. Dear John, The Queen commands me to write and thank you for your kind letter. Her majesty was deeply touched by your thought for her in her sorrow. Yours Sincerely, M. C. Dartens."

John is a bona-fide American, but from his quiet pride in his letter from the new Queen, it is apparent that he will be a devoted admirer of Queen Elizabeth II as long as he lives.

The Memphis golf team assured themselves of a trip to the regional meet later this month in Lubbock by placing second in the links play. Scores for the Cyclones in 36 holes were: Ronnie Mac Smith, 94-90-184; Bob Sheen, 91-90-181; Bert Sheen, 92-94-186; Carrol Gardenhire, 115-89-204.

Shamrock placed first in the matches, and also landed a man on the singles team. High, gusty winds made the scores jump somewhat higher than usual, Memphis Coach Weldon McCreary said.

Junior Boys Win First

The Memphis Junior Boys coped first in volleyball while the junior girls placed third.

In softball, Memphis landed four places. The senior boys and girls each won second, while the junior boys and girls won first places in that event in the junior division.

In the tennis competitions in both senior and junior divisions, Memphis grabbed eight places. Carl Lee and Rayford Hutcherson took first in the senior boys doubles while Margaret Massey and Betty Kennon placed first in the senior girls division.

Girls Win Doubles

Juanell Brooks and Sharon Harrison captured first in the junior girls doubles, and James Diamond and David Duncan won first in the junior boys doubles.

Lloyd West and Anita Murphy each came through with second in the singles divisions of senior tennis. Joan Kennon won first in the junior girls division, and Jerry Hill was runner-up in the singles division of junior boys tennis.

Club Contemplates

O. M. Cosby, Jr., Gayle Green and Louis Saied are on the committee.

Stockholders Will Vote

Stockholders will meet sometime the latter part of next week to vote on the proposal. The date of the meeting will be announced after the board meeting Monday night.

The proposed pool would be built in the vicinity of the 9th hole on the Club's golf course. Grisham said. The pool would be 80 feet long and 40 feet wide, according to present plans. The cost of around $20,000.00 would include a filtering plant and a bath house for women. The Club has locker rooms and a bath house for men.

Last week some of the leaders in the movement to build a new pool for Memphis planned to have it built in the city park. However it was found impractical to build a public pool where there would be no way to exercise control over it. When the Country Club offered to sponsor the project, the original plan was dropped.

May Add 50 Members Grisham said that the Club contemplates taking in 50 new members to help finance the pool. However, he added these proposals will have to await vote by the stockholders.

The minim, about a drop, is the smallest unit of liquid measure.

cept any sum and turn it over to the treasurer.

The Red Cross spent some 20 thousand dollars in Hall County about 1931, feeding and clothing people who were destitute and in need of aid. Let's pay back some of that to help people who are in far worse condition than we were then.

Last week I told how George

Forgy spent days and nights without pay in helping to see that needy people were fed. Another young fellow also volunteered his services and did a fine job of keeping books in that trying time.

He is none other than Tom A. Ballew, now of the Bank of America in Los Angeles, Calif. It was a coincidence that I received a letter from Tom about the time the ink dried on last week's paper.

His letter was interesting and I am quoting a portion of it here: "While I am conscious of the need of a clean up in Washington, hope you good Democrats won't be too hard on the administration and bite the hand that has been feeding you for the last 20 years. I haven't forgotten the time that we had the task of assisting the Red Cross during the Hoover Administration."

Tom's point is well taken, but the Democrats of Hall County and the nation are making, and will continue to make, an effort to keep the government in the hands of the Democratic party, but headed by men who will not coddle pinks, minks, and stinks.

Wonder if the Tuesday night's weather flurry was the "Easter Spell"? It was changeable enough to suit the most exacting, with wind and dust shifting from point to point, thunder and lightning, rain squalls, and in some places hail. It seems all the county had from traces to more than an inch of rainfall, all of which changed the outlook for 1952.

Old Tack says the Time Magazine quotes a fellow who thinks the word "duststorm" should be shortened to "dustorm." That fellow is about 18 years late with the suggestion, for during the dustbowl era, "dustorm" is the way I wrote it. A few weeks ago I spelled it that way, and the proofreader thought it was a typographical error and changed it on me.

Please, dear readers, do not misread or misconstrue what I am writing in this paragraph, as many did last year, when I suggested that the City Council should establish some kind of warning system at the approach of a storm. After the suggestion last year, every time a fire alarm was sounded, people thought it was a storm signal, just because I had suggested a storm alarm should be established. This is the stormy season, and please, Mr. Mayor, let's see if a certain kind of whistling alarm can be worked out.

The past weekend newsmen from all over the Panhandle held an annual two-day session, Friday in Amarillo and Saturday at Boys Ranch at Old Tascosa, one of the real pioneer places in the Panhandle which was the seat of government for some 16 counties during the '80s. Grave markers in Boot Hill cemetery and the appropriate word "killed" on a certain date. Then there is the old adobe house which was occupied by Mrs. McCormick, earliest citizen of Tascosa, and last to die. Also, the old courthouse where early-day legal business was transacted and justice was dispatched in short order.

Boys Ranch, established by Cal Farley, now occupies the site of old Tascosa, with houses and barracks, dining hall, gym, church, school, and other necessary adjuncts which now takes care of nearly 150 boys who are getting

Of Things That Used To Be

Every once in a while some fad comes along and momentarily sweeps the whole nation off its collective feet. Not long ago—so recent in fact that remnants remain yet—the nation was beset by a whole avalanche of fads from the Golden Twenties. People, it seems, were trying to recapture an era that is gone forever.

Ukuleles and banjos for the young college swains reappeared in music stores; juke boxes blared out the brassy syncopation of rag-time tunes; and the Charleston replaced jitter bugging with couples who like to mix calisthenics with their dancing. For the literary-minded, F. Scott Fitzgerald suddenly became the "golden boy" of American letters.

Why this nostalgic yearning to live in the past? Well, for one thing, the decade from 1920 to 1930 was, indeed, an exciting and momentous episode in American history.

It was a time for frivolous, riotous, carefree living. Money came comparatively easy and went fast. Prohibition had ushered in the hip flask and the "speak easy," and in some parts of the country a man was judged by the number of bootleggers he knew. Everyone lived for today because prosperity was just around the corner; besides, it was fun taking a flapper for a ride in your Stutz Bearcat, and dancing 'til three o'clock in the morning.

True, the League of Nations was dying, Mussolini had introduced the word "fascist" to our vocabulary, and an ex-corporal of the German army got arrested for a beer-hall disturbance in Munich, but those were minor worries. After all, hadn't Kellogg and Briand signed a little pact that guaranteed peace for all time.

It was an era for greatness and of daring deeds. Babe Ruth hit 60 homers, and Lindbergh flew alone across the Atlantic to Paris. The New York Times, in describing the Lone Eagle's flight, gushed editorially: "The suspense of it, the daring of it, the triumph and glory of it..."

The decade of the turbulent twenties was a time of sensational news. The Sacco-Vanzetti trial caused riots all over the civilized world. Loeb, Leopold, "Peaches," and "Daddy" Browning became household names. The whole country grieved when Floyd Collins was trapped and doomed to die in a cave in Kentucky.

It was a time for bigness—whether in building skyscrapers or in dreaming dreams. Everybody dreamed of getting rich overnight, and many did by playing the stock market. The big businessman reigned supreme, and was compared to Christ in the Gospel. According to Bruce Barton, a popular columnist of the times, Somehow, the worker and the farmer and the little businessman got pushed away from the feeding trough, but there was food enough to go around.

The people thought they had the great American Dream within their grasp, but they were all living in a fool's paradise.

There was an ominous rumbling along the busy exchanges on Wall Street all through the summer of 1929, and the bottom dropped out on Oct. 29. The bubble of false prosperity had burst. The great emotional binge was over; a dream had vanished. The long hang-over has been referred to as the Great Depression.

Historians, economists, and theologians all have their special and varied reasons for the failure of the Golden Twenties, but they all agree that the decade was a unique experience, and had a personality all its own.

The American people have been sobered by a depression and two wars since then. The epoch that was the twenties will never be relived again.

But wouldn't it be wonderful if we had today the same clear-eyed, optimistic vision of the future that prevailed some 25 or 30 years ago?

Press Paragraphs— QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

Not So Hard-Boiled
The people of the Tri-State Empire are going to see a lot in their county papers the next few weeks about Boys Ranch. That's our prediction after meeting at the ranch Saturday with other members of the Panhandle Press Association.

As a clan, newspaper folks are hard to convince. They are accused of being skeptical, cynical and hard-boiled. They develop these traits after a few years of experience dealing with sharpies who would use the editors and their papers for devious purpose. Probably there is some truth in the accusations.

But at Boys Ranch, the Panhandle editors showed another side of their collective nature. Newspaper folks are soft-hearted and sentimental, too. And that mob of grinning, likeable youngsters got on their soft side in record time.

The association's annual Saturday luncheon was held at the dining hall at the ranch. To allow the newsmen opportunity to get acquainted with some of the youngsters, at least one lad was seated at every table with the adults.

Before the luncheon hour was completed, we thought the wives of at least a couple of publishers were ready to spirit their young friends off the ranch and take them home.

It is no understatement to say the newsmen and their wives were smitten completely with the ranch— with the work that Cal Farley is doing with the youth of our (Continued on page 7)

Want a lot of mileage for your money?

WE'LL admit that the price tags of automobiles—all automobiles—are not what they used to be. But it's just as true today as ever before that some price tags are lower than others, and some are most less to own than others. So let's see how a Buick SPECIAL fits into the picture. Take first cost. If you put the price tag of this Buick against price tags of cars that have always been tagged as belonging in "the low-priced field"—you'll find that, in actual dollars, a Buick's surprisingly close to these cars of lesser size and horsepower. But that's just the beginning. What you're getting here is Buick quality—this SPECIAL comes down the same assembly line as SUPERS and ROADMASTERS. Its heft tells you it has extra sturdiness in frame and structure. Its Fireball Engine delivers extra power. It is an eight, a valve-in-head, with high compression, and the miles you can get from a gallon of gas make it a thrifty performer. You get Buick's Million Dollar Ride, which protects you—and the car—from jars and jolts. Even the tires are bigger—which, any tire man will tell you, lengthens their wear. And if you pay a bit extra for Dynaflo Drive* you're easing the strain on the engine, the rear end, the tires—and eliminating clutch repair bills.

So when we talk about "mileage for your money" we're talking about the miles you'll get from your car—including the unused miles that are what you have to sell when you trade it in.

Maybe that's why Buick's doing so well in the present market. Why not come in and see what a great car this is for you? Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. Wheel Covers standard on ROADMASTERS, optional at extra cost on other Series. White sidewalls optional at extra cost when available. *Standard on ROADMASTERS, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Farmer Proves Why His Hen Eggs Should Sell By The Pound

There are no more dinosaurs, but H. G. Nelson who lives on Route 1, brought a monstrosity of an egg into town recently that looks like it might have been laid by one of those prehistoric reptiles.

When weighed and measured the egg was found to weigh four and two-thirds ounces and measured six and a half by eight inches in circumference.

Nelson, who sells his eggs at the Memphis Grocery, brought the egg to prove to the grocer, Orville Goodpasture, why he had stated that his eggs should be sold by the pound rather than by the dozen. Nelson says he has collected about a dozen of the big eggs, all of them laid by the same Booth White Leghorn hen.

He may have to continue selling his eggs by the dozen, however, as the hen died after producing the last big one.

REPORT FROM WASHINGTON

Congressman, 18th District

By Walter Rogers

COST PLUS CONTRACTS
The need for defense expenditures and the tremendous cost of weapons for our continued strength with which to oppose armed aggression cannot be discounted. Every American is ready, able and willing to step forward on a moment's notice and provide whatever is necessary in order to defend our way of life.

No Blank Check for Military
However, this does not mean that the military is entitled to a blank check that is to be paid for out of the taxpayers' pockets. The tremendous costs of the preparedness program is all the more reason for the exercise of business principles in carrying out this program. Unless some of the tactics employed in obtaining the materials and weapons necessary for our defense are changed, our entire economy could be in danger.

Two General Types
Operating, the taxpayers of the cost-plus contracts that are still blighting this country. They are of two general types (1) The cost-plus fixed fee; (2) The cost-plus fixed percentage fees based on a percentage of cost. No one needs to be advised that such contracts encourage spending. In addition, they actually invite all kinds of trick artifices and schemes of a financial nature.

General Appears As Witness
In recent proceedings before the House of Representatives it was brought out by Congressman Gore of Tennessee that during the hearings concerning some of the appropriations General Thomas Farrell appeared as a witness. He held the position of Assistant General Manager of the Atomic Energy Commission. His salary was $17,500 a year. He was hired away from his employment by ARO, a corporation organized under the laws of Tennessee for the purpose of making a contract with the Air Force and obtaining a fee for operating the aerodynamic wind tunnel facility at Tullahoma, which is now under construction.

Hired At $30,000
General Farrell was hired by ARO at a salary of $30,000 per year. This of course was quite an advance for General Farrell and from no doubt a personal standpoint he was justified in leaving the government and going to work for ARO. However, when we look into the matter we find that under the cost-plus-fee contract under which ARO was operating the $30,000 salary of General Farrell, because the Government was having to pay the cost of the project and this cost included the salary paid by the ARO Corporation to General Farrell.

Called Example of Fallacy
The Committee felt that General Farrell was an able and distinguished man and doing a fine job for the Atomic Energy Commission at his $17,500 a year salary. This transaction is a perfect example of the fallacy of cost-plus contracts, and it is like a man and his wife at an auction sale bidding against each other. It doesn't make any difference which one gets the article, the family bank account will pay the bill. Much more has been uncovered, and I wish space would permit me to include it in this letter.

Certain Matters Justified
We all understand that there are certain matters that could probably be justified on a cost-plus basis; for example, the contract for the construction of weapons that could not be let on competitive bids because of the secrecy of the weapon involved. Another example is the construction of such things as an atomic powered submarine, and other like items, the actual cost of which cannot be anticipated because it is entirely experimental in nature.

Money Can Be Saved
However, the great bulk of cost-plus contracts can be done away with and much money can be saved the American taxpayer. This is vitally necessary at the present time because it is one method by which expenditures can be cut without endangering the preparedness program. You can expect to see quite a bit of this when the Armed Services appropriations bills come before the House. This Congress is going to demand the application of business principles in military expenditures and they are going to get it.

APPROPRIATIONS BILLS
The Appropriations Committee has worked out and is bringing the several appropriations bills to the House floor with great speed. As I told you in a previous newsletter, this committee has made drastic cuts in the budget proposals and the bills are being cut again on the House floor.

Increase Attempts Failed
There have been several attempts to increase appropriations in these bills, but they have failed.

Junior Cyclones Win In All Four Events

Junior athletes under tutoring of George Childress won every event in the district 3-A athletic contest Friday and Saturday. The four events were the 50-yard dash, the high jump, the 100-yard dash, and the 140-yard dash.

Four First Places
The juniors in the 50-yard dash, the 100-yard dash, the high jump, and the 140-yard dash.

The boys softball team started their season with a 38 to 2 victory over Shamrock Friday.

Coach Childress is understandably proud of these boys who demonstrated without a doubt that they are the best junior softballers in District 3-A.

Girls Take First Too
The junior girls softball team quickly proved that they would take a back seat to no one as they annexed the championship of their division Friday in two games.

They trampled Wellington, 19 to 4, then came back to take a close one from Shamrock, 14 to 10 for was the winning pitcher for Memphis in both contests.

Other players on the standout team are: Rita Benton, catcher; Betty Claude Hickey, first base; Ann Cofer, second base; Della Jo Kennedy, short; Jonna Sue Smith, third base; Mary Ann Eppers, left field; Theresa Browning, center field; and Marie Lynn, right field.

Volleyball Boys Win
The boys volleyball team won the championship of the district in that event after roundly defeating Wellington in two games, both times by the score of 15 to 1. The boys drew a bye in the first round of competition.

Biggest Thrill In Track
The biggest thrill of the junior division came in the last event of the track meet—the fast 440-yard sprint relay. As the relay teams got set for the starting signal, the outcome of the meet depended upon the way the contestants stood up in this last event.

Meet Hung In Balance
Canadian was leading in total number of points with 19. Memphis was a close second with 17. Lefors had netted 15. Wellington was way behind with only 4. For the three leaders the meet hung in the balance, awaiting the finish of the relay event.

Lee Wadill took the starting position for Memphis. He jumped off to a good lead, an advantage Memphis enjoyed all the way. Jack Montgomery took the baton next, and he handed it to the third man, Jimmy Jenkins. So far the Memphis thinclads had a substantial lead, but they had to figure on the Lefors sprinter, Earhart, giving a lot of trouble. The Lefors runner was fast, but not fast enough to catch the flying heels of Jimmy Davis who crossed the finish line with the baton to win the event and the meet for the junior cyclones. The time was 49.6.

Memphis Tallied 22 Points
Final compilation of points in the junior track division gave Memphis 22 points, followed by Canadian with 19, Lefors, 18, and Wellington 5.

Individual high point man for the day was Jack Montgomery who racked up 12 1/2 points, or more than half of the Memphis total. He took first in the broad jump with a leap of 18 feet 4 1/2 inches; tied for first in the high jump with a leap of 4 feet 9 inches; finished third in the 100-yard dash; and ran on the winning 140-yard sprint relay team.

Other Standouts Named
Other standouts for the junior Cyclones included: Jimmy Jenkins, Jimmy Davis, Jackie Boone, and Lee Wadill. Jenkins placed second in the broad jump, third in the high jump, and was a member of the winning sprint relay team. Davis placed second in the 50-yard dash, and both he and Wadill were members of the sprint relay team. Jackie Boone chinned 20 times in the pull-up contest to take fourth place.

Childress Well Pleased
Coach Childress is well pleased with the showings of all his athletes, and is extra proud of the way they captured every event they entered.

Douglas Lawrence spent Saturday fishing at Lake McClellan.

Mr. and Mrs. Winfred Messer and two daughters moved here Friday from Amarillo. Mr. Messer will be employed at the bakery.

Pearls of Wisdom

Strung by J. H. R.

Spring Perennial
Even preceding the advent of the spring edition of the Sears-Roebuck "wish book", a neat compendium of hope and promise comes into the American home via the faithful postman. Few publications are so cheering in the latter days of winter as the lowly, but most welcome, "seed catalogue". Like a magic potion, its colored replicas of floral beauty and succulent vegetation conjure up visions of glorious garden triumphs in the minds of its avid readers. Ambition quickens the pulse of even the most indolent horticulturist as he thumbs through the pages of this perennial favorite, the seed catalogue.

What a wealth of beauty or tasty goodness is contained in a package of seed! Even more wonderful than the magician's pulling rabbits from hats, is the gardener's production of rows of vegetables and beds of flowers from dime packages of tiny seeds. More time, more "abra-cadabra" and more elbow grease is taken to complete the magic feat of the patient gardener but, of one thing he can be sure, each seed will reproduce and flourish according to the pattern of its own kind. The Lord God sees to that.

The kiss of the sun for pardon,
The song of the birds for mirth,
One is nearer God's heart in the garden
Than anywhere on earth.

Be it sulphur and molasses or saffrafr tea, most adults agree that, following the inactivity of winter days, a spring tonic to clear the head and quicken the circulation is in order. But less distasteful and equally as stimulating to vim, vigor, and vitality is the humble pastime of digging in "the good earth." One beauty of gardening is that it knows no limitations. Young and old, the well and ailing can try their skill in the creative art of growing things. Nor is the cost necessarily great. Anyone can stick a sweet potato in a jar of water and a few vines are prettier than the vine of this lowly legume. Only a handful of earth in a flower pot carefully sunned, watered, and tended will produce wonderful things to behold, results to gladden the heart.

You don't have to belong to The Order of the Green Thumb or a garden club to grow things. There are numerous books on gardening besides the minute instructions on the back of each package of seeds. Incidentally, Edgar A. Guest has written a beautiful bit of poetry about "A Package Of Seed." It is worth your perusal.

If your youngster is restless, bored with his usual entertainment, try a garden plot (ten by ten) to employ his energies and spare time. If you know a shut-in friend take her a pot of bulbs not yet blooming so she can watch them develop. Make a garden with your husband and enjoy the companionship of growing things together.

If you've lost a loved one, Margaret E. Sangster assures us
