REPORT FROM WASHINGTON

Congressman, 18th District
By Walter Rogers

CONTROL PROGRAM—It has always been my position that this matter should be set up and treated in separate legislation so that the Congress would not be placed in the position of having to accept undesirable and unnecessary controls on materials and products not in short supply in order to insure proper allocation of these strategic products and materials.

It was interesting to note in the proceedings that twelve of the Texas members cast identical votes on this legislation in all roll calls. These included four amendments and the vote on final passage. It was also interesting to note that all during the debate on this bill the gallery was well filled with employees of the OPS and many OPS cars were parked around the Capitol.

If the House version of this bill prevails, it will mean that there will be a sizeable reduction in the federal payroll insofar as the OPS and similar agencies are concerned. It will also mean that many small merchants in all fields will be relieved of the tremendous burden of having to devote most of their time to filling out government forms and trying to understand the double talk that is contained in most orders and regulations issued by these agencies.

I know that this will be a relief to these merchants and small business people and that they will certainly welcome it. You will no doubt be told that such a course will inevitably lead to inflation. Such is not the case. If any inflation results, it is going to be strictly man-made, and the people of this country can prevent it. There will no doubt be attempts by some selfish interests, politicians and otherwise, to frighten the American people by forcing prices up on some articles. This situation can be remedied very quickly by retaliation on the part of the house wife, who does most of the buying, and I hope that the people of this country will not permit themselves to be taken advantage of by selfish interests, either political or extra profit seeking.

During the debate I offered an amendment to try to correct the wrong that has been imposed upon the farmers under the Fair Labor Standards Act. It is that provision in the Fair Standards Act that caused the farmers of our section of the country so much trouble the past two years during harvest.

However, absenteeism caught up with us and cost us the amendment. There were only approximately 110 members present when this amendment came up, about one-fourth of the membership of the House. A great majority of these were big city members, and you can imagine what happened to us country boys when we tried to help the farmers and the migrant workers. It was another case of these so-called coalitions in the House falling to pieces. The extreme liberals teamed up with the so-called extreme conservatives and snowed the country boys under. We got two votes on the Republican side of the aisle and eight on the Democratic side. However, this is not a new experience for those of us from the South and Southwest but we never give up, and that is what worries the big city boys. We knew that we didn't have a chance of passing the amendment under the circumstances, but I wanted to separate the sheep from the goats, and that is exactly what we did.

THE NEW IMMIGRATION BILL: The House soundly overrode the President's veto on the new immigration bill, and I sincerely hope that the Senate will do the same.

TIDELANDS: The tidelands bill is still in the Senate waiting to be voted on, on the question of overriding the President's veto. It presently appears that this vote will not be taken before fall. It was originally agreed, as I told you in a previous newsletter, that the vote would be taken between June 5th and the 10th. However, both sides were rather reluctant for an immediate showdown and postponed the matter. Unless there is a change in the plans, it could well be that the vote will not be taken until Congress reconvenes after the November elections, which is not improbable. This is one reason that I hesitate to vote for adjournment sine die, as I want to see this tidelands veto overridden as soon as possible and these lands returned to their rightful owners, the States.

"Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed. That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute a new Government..." (From the Declaration of Independence now 176 years true)

... and the fight for Freedom must never cease!

Absolutism Government is no respecter of person or place. It can and does raise its ugly, ungodly standard over traditionally free soils as it does over England and the land of the Czars. None of the real, pretended, or promised benefits of Absolutism Government can in the end justify its existence.

The freedoms for which generations of Americans have fought and died are slipping away from us... centralized government and bureaucratic directives are nibbling away at our American heritage.

Freedom is not free—it had to be fought for, and you will have to fight to maintain it. Now is the time for everyone to come out, stand up, be counted, and vote the way he desires to vote, regardless of those who would perpetuate power politics.

It's getting to be a rare day when you see a real, genuine bargain advertised. In these days of planned economy everything seems to be included in the plans except economy.

But we have here an honest-to-Pete bargain to tell you about. It's a bargain because it's much more useful than it once was, and costs much less than it used to.

It's the television set.

In 1948 our 10-inch screen set cost $6.25 per square inch of picture. Today, our 20-inch set costs only about $1.37 per square inch, and gives you a much finer picture almost four times the size.

So, you see, with all the forces of inflation, a counterforce has been quietly at work. Research and engineering are steadily plugging along—improving products—making them do more, cost less, and last longer.

At least, that's the way it is at General Electric.

Sure, it's smart to look at the price tag. But it's also smart to look beyond . . . to the performance of the product and the name of the maker. The best possible products at the lowest possible prices—that's G.E.'s idea of good business.

You can put your confidence in—

"Incubator Baby," Weighing Only Forty Ounces At Birth, Goes Home

Dennis has gone home. For him as well as his parents, this was quite an event because he was three months old last Saturday and had never seen his home and was with his parents only when they came to visit him in the nursery of the Odom Clinic Hospital.

Dennis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Taylor. He was born March 28 and weighed 40 ounces—only four ounces more than the famous mid-Atlantic baby reported recently in the daily press.

Thereafter began his life in the nursery incubator where he remained under oxygen for 38 days. He was fed with a syringe through a tube inserted in his throat.

Almost from the start Dennis was more active than the average baby, kicking and waving his arms freely and even turning himself around in his incubator home. It was impossible to keep him covered because of his activity.

Dennis gained weight steadily. On April 5 he was removed from the incubator and placed in a nursery crib. The occasion was celebrated by his nurses by dressing him in a little pink gown for the first time—a kleenex being used for a diaper.

He came to consider the nursery as his home and resented the intrusion when other babies were born and placed in the nursery with him. He fussed only during such intrusions and had to be quieted by his nurse, who admitted that he was a little bit spoiled.

Dennis' parents were promised that he could go home when he weighed five pounds, but when the time came he was not yet adjusted entirely to bottle feeding and had to wait a little longer.

Tuesday Dennis marked a memorable occasion in his and the life of his parents. He bid farewell to his nurses and went home, a lively hefty youngster of six pounds, 14 ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Thompson had as visitors Friday night and Saturday Mrs. Joe Thompson and daughter, Prissy of Borger and Glenda Thompson of Dallas.

Clarendon Rodeo To Start Today

Over two thousand dollars in Rodeo prize money, a handsome handmade saddle and shop made cowboy boots is proving very attractive to the rodeo performers of the amateur circuit and surrounding ranches as can already be judged by the entries that have been received for the big three day celebration to be held in Clarendon today, tomorrow and Saturday.

Sixteen beeves will be served in the free barbecue on the courthouse lawn at 11:30 on the morning of the Fourth. Free barbecue and rodeos are traditional with the Clarendon celebrations and this is no exception.

Cowboys from over a hundred and fifty miles from Clarendon have already called to enter the rodeo contests. Rodeo events include the girl sponsors barrel races, the wild bull rush, wild mare races, calf roping, bareback bronc riding, bronc riding, ribbon roping and cutting horse contests.

Other attractions are the dances each night at the American Legion Hall with Emmett Allen and his Sunset Ramblers, the Old Settlers get-together and the matched horse races on the afternoon of the fifth.

Hall County Has Sent 35 Prisoners To State Prison in Past Ten Years

Hall County in the past ten years has committed 35 prisoners to the Texas Prison System.

This was revealed recently in a study conducted inside the prison by graduate students at Sam Houston Teachers College, under the supervision of Dr. Rupert C. Koeningger head of the college's sociology department.

In number of commitments per thousand population, the County ranked 55th in the state with 3.20 persons per thousand committed, the study further showed.

Ten counties during the period, 1942 to 1951, representing 41.73 per cent of the total population based on the 1950 census, committed 50.27 per cent of the prisoners.

In order of the number of commitments they were Harris, Dallas, Bexar, El Paso, Tarrant, Hidalgo, Travis, Cameron, and Wichita. These counties committed 11,424 of the 22,705 total commitments.

Highest among them in percentage of population in commitments was El Paso County, which sent 5.77 men per thousand and ranks ninth in the State in percentage of commitments. Next was Hidalgo, which committed 4.51 per thousand, nineteenth in the State. Others in the number per thousand committed were Harris, 4.07, Wichita, 3.76, Dallas, 3.38, Cameron, 3.13, Jefferson, 3.18, Bexar, 2.87, Travis, 2.74, and Tarrant 2.66.

Two counties—Kennedy and Loving—have not committed anyone to the prison in the ten years.

More persons were committed to the prison in 1951 than in any other year during the study. There were 3,056. The lowest year was 1943 when 1,579 were committed. The number has increased each year since, except in 1948 when the number fell below the 1947 mark.

Deep Plowing—

twice as tall and in much better condition on the land plowed deep than in the untouched area.

Across the road in the same vicinity, two adjacent fields had been plowed to cotton. Where the land, operated by Roberts, had been deep plowed cotton was tall and green. Across the fence-row, there was no cotton at all—only a stubble here and there protruding above the tiny sand dunes. Subsoil on this land had not been touched by the deep plow.

One of the best crops seen in section was on a farm operated by Fred Barry and owned by "Pete" Smith. All of the approximately three hundred acres of cotton-land had been deep-plowed, and all but about ten acres was in good shape. This was a narrow strip around the cotton field where sand had blown in from adjacent fields.

The agricultural men said that it was the best-looking crop they had ever seen on the place.

Nearing the Plaska Community, the group saw sound agricultural methods being used on the farm owned by Otis Jones and Oren Jones and operated by Lewis Edwards. Grain sorghum was planted in strips through the cotton, and both cash crops looked good.

Most of the rest of the trip was spent in inspecting crops near the river and in the Lakeview Community. Most of the cotton is in good condition in those areas, but, but, like in the rest of the county, rain is needed.

There are about 10,000 acres of "blow-sand" land in Hall County. On farms where there has been no deep-plowing, most of the cotton is completely lost to the drifting sand. It is easy to follow the trail of the deep-plow in those eroded areas. Green cotton is found all along its invisible path.

Agricultural authorities making the trip were Lynn L. McKown, PMA officer; W. B. Hooser, county agent; Guy Cawfield, Soil Conservation Service; and J. J. Roan, Farm Security Administration.

CARD OF THANKS

The loving kindness and tender ministrations of friends are the greatest human comforts that can come to those over whom the dark shadow of grief hovers. Truly nothing was left undone in our hour of need. INDEPENDENCE DAY*

Tomorrow we will observe the most hallowed of all our national holidays—the 176th anniversary of the adoption of the Declaration of Independence.

It was on July 4th 1776, that delegates to the Continental Congress meeting in Philadelphia agreed on the final draft of perhaps the most significant document in the history of human relations. Delegates from 12 of the 13 colonies voted in favor of the Declaration. New York was not represented that day in the voting as its delegates had not been authorized to support the movement for independence from England. That state, however, pledged itself at a convention five days later to support the Declaration.

John Hancock, president of the assembly, affixed his bold signature to the manuscript on July 4. The document was later engrossed on a parchment in accordance with a resolution passed July 19, and on Aug. 2 was signed by the 53 members then present.

Thomas Jefferson drafted the famous document, and it was changed but little from his copy. On the drafting committee with him were John Adams of Massachusetts, Roger Sherman of Connecticut, Robert Livingston of New York, and Benjamin Franklin of Pennsylvania.

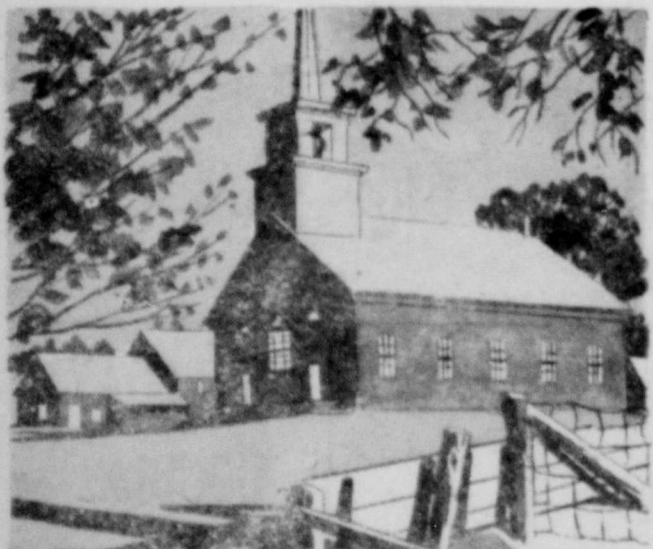

There had been other notable documents advancing the inherent rights of Man—including the Magna Carta in 1215—before the signing of the Declaration of Independence. But it is doubtful if any caused a more powerful impact on history than this eloquent declaration did. It was the beginning of a new era in the annals of mankind. After it came the French Revolution and the series of revolutions that freed South America and much of the rest of the world from tyranny.

Too few people in this country are acquainted with the principles as set down in the historic document. It is a beautiful prose poem, conceived in the noble hearts of a people enslaved by an oppressive government.

Perhaps it is fitting on the eve of the anniversary of the signing of the Declaration to quote excerpts from it:

"When, in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume, among the powers of the earth, the separate, and equal station to which the laws of nature and of nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

"We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these, are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed; that, whenever any form of government becomes destructive to these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or abolish it, and to institute a new government, laying its foundation on such principles, and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to affect their safety and happiness."

"The Cradle of Liberty"

Someone has in speaking of the churches of our country, called them "The Cradle of American Liberty". And well may they be called that. As we read history, we find the Pilgrim Fathers... the Revolutionary Heroes... the Pioneers on the Prairie... centering their affairs around the House of God. They literally made living the words of the Psalmist when he said: "I was glad when they said unto me, 'Let us go into the house of the Lord.'" As we seek to build a better, more understanding civilization today, let us follow the example they set. Join your friends in the church of your choice Sunday.

ANDY ROGERS

Can't help admiring the type of campaign being waged by Andy Rogers, candidate for the senate from this district. Hardly a week goes by that he doesn't find time to drop by the office for a minute. And he finds time to make practically every gathering of people in his territory, whether it be a farm bureau meeting or a chiropractic convention.

A well-known editor remarked just last week, "Any person who will work as hard as Andy Rogers is working to get elected can be depended upon to work just as hard for his constituents after he is elected."

When a person runs for office, we like to see him act like he wants to win.

Townsend Plan Is Growing as Old Age People Increase

It is remarkable the number of folks who believe in Dr. Francis E. Townsend and trek to the annual conventions of the old age pensioners.

When we first heard a Townsend lecture here in Canyon we were convinced that the speaker was a super-duper crackpot. He may have been all of that but he was convincing in his arguments.

No matter what any of us may think of the Townsend plan, let it be remembered that the idea is growing. More and more people are sold on the plan. It may be that there are more people 65 years of age than in former years, but those who have reached that age and are forced to look around hopeful of a survival at the hands of Social Security or Old Age Assistance, have long been convinced that this government, with its billions to spend for foreign aid, is doing too little to help the old people of this county, their native land.

HOW MUCH IS A BILLION? In these days of high finance, it's interesting to find some figures that bring home the immensity of a billion. Most of us have become so accustomed to hearing costs measured in billions of dollars that we sometimes forget just how much one billion dollars really is. A billion dollar bill laid end to end would encircle the earth nearly four times. If you made 19 trips between New York and Chicago you would cover a distance of nearly a billion inches. The propeller of an airplane traveling 300 miles per hour would cruise continuously—24 hours a day—for nearly two years. If a company had started into business back in the year 1 with a billion dollars capital and, through poor management, lost money at the rate of $1,000 per day, seven days a week, it would not have exhausted its original capital yet. And it would not go broke until nearly 800 years from now. A thousand dollars a day for more than 2,700 years—that's one billion dollars.

Newspapers

Seven head of cattle died in the vicinity last week as a result of a peculiar poison found in grain sorghums such as Johnson and Sudan grass at a certain stage of growth. Some people believe that such incidents should not be published. One of the greatest mysteries of all time is the fear of such events getting into the newspaper. If it doesn't get into the newspapers there's a large passel of gossip to build up from it. Gossip is not always true but newspaper accounts are, for the most part, highly accurate.

Newspapers are the greatest weapons against gossip that have ever been discovered. When the source of information that is given the public in newspapers becomes disrupted, gossip begins to flourish. Gossip can cause panic among an entire community to such an extent as to result in needless harm or injury.

A man of tireless energies "Bull" Durham is active in civic affairs. To list all the offices he has held, all the honors he has received, and all the humanitarian deeds he has done would be impossible to find space for here. It is significant that the magazine of the Khiva Temple in Amarillo calls him "one of the top men in Memphis and Panhandle Masonry."

Durham has received many of the highest honors in the Masonic Lodge. Besides being Past Eminent Commander of the Memphis Masonic bodies and a former Grand Marshall of the Grand Lodge of Texas, he has served on several Grand Lodge committees.

He is past president, charter member, and organizer of the Memphis Lions Club. He was the 25th person in the world to be awarded the Key of Nations for outstanding work in the principles of Lionism.

"Bull" is on the Executive committee of the Adobe Walls Boy Scout Council, home service chairman of the Hall County Red Cross chapter, president of the county Society for Crippled Children, a director of the Texas Society for Crippled Children, a director of the Masonic Temple association, and county chairman of the Cancer Society.

In all of this work he has had the help of his quiet, pretty and highly efficient wife, the former Fern Cauthen of Clarendon. The couple have two children, Dan, 11, and Jo Ann, 9.

Mrs. A. Anisman and Sheldon left Friday for Pittsburg, Pa. where they will visit with their parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Marcus, and other relatives.

Mrs. W. C. Pinson has returned to her home in Clarksville after visiting for the past two weeks with her daughter, Mrs. C. W. McCoy and family. Sharon and Charlotte McCoy accompanied their grandmother home for a visit in Clarksville.

Mrs. Foster Watkins and son, Seth Dall visited here Saturday with their parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Seth Palmeyer.

'BIG CIRCUIT' ASKED FOR AMARILLO FAT STOCK SHOW

Directors of the Panhandle Hereford Breeders Association meeting in Amarillo recently recommended that the Amarillo Fat Stock Show and Exposition accept invitations to join the so-called "big circuit" of livestock shows which currently includes Denver, Fort Worth, San Antonio and Houston.

Tomie Potts of Memphis is president of the association. He said that the directors also voted to recommend to the fat stock show that a junior breeders show be made a part of the spring exhibition if accommodations for the junior entries are available.

Under the new plan, dates of shows will be set so that no conflicts will occur and herds can reach the various shows without delays.

The enlarged show will place on the shoulders of W. M. Gouldy secretary and general manager, the job of securing space for the entries. This will not be new to Mr. Gouldy who for many years wrestled with that problem before the present Livestock Pavilion was constructed at Tri-State Fairgrounds.

The American Hereford Association will raise its pro-rata part of premiums for the Hereford division, placing them on a par with other shows in the circuit.

While the Amarillo show always has been open, many breed associations do not recognize it as a national show. Conflicting dates and smaller premiums have kept many show herds from stopping in Amarillo.

The commission urges all interested persons to attend the meeting. This is the third consecutive year that meetings have been sponsored by the state agency.

County Hospital

borne by the entire population through their county government and cannot be provided by the doctors alone.

That the function of providing a community with hospital facilities is generally and rightfully assumed by the county or some charitable institution.

And that such action should be taken now while the county may secure government aid through the Hill-Burton Act.

The proposal made by Dr. O. R. Goodall, owner of the Goodall Hospital and Mrs. C. B. Dryden and J. A. Odum, owners of the Odum Clinic Hospital, called for the county to purchase the furniture, fixtures and equipment of the Goodall Hospital and the entire facilities of the Odum Clinic Hospital, with added construction to give the county a fully equipped 50-bed hospital.

The doctors pointed out that such a hospital would meet the needs of the community for many years and would give the county a hospital that is equal to any hospital within a radius of 90 miles.

In pointing out that Memphis is a medical center, worthy of the best facilities possible, the doctors said that regularly treat patients from distances up to 50 or 60 miles. The two hospitals served more than 2,000 patients last year and their annual volume of business exceeds $100,000. The two hospitals normally employ 30 or more persons.

In discussing the nursing situation and investment necessary to maintain adequate care and facilities, the doctors said that the present situation cannot be continued indefinitely and they plan to continue operating hospitals only until the county can take over or not later than January 1, 1953. Failure of the county to act favorably on this proposal, they said, will leave the entire area without hospital facilities.

"This is a selfish proposition only in that we want our patients to have the finest hospital care possible and the most modern and completely equipped hospital that can be made available to them," the doctors said. "We cannot provide these things on our own initiative and at our own expense."

They pointed out that the purchase of the hospitals by the county is a childless county recently action in some of the neighboring county. Childless county recently purchased a privately-owned hospital to form the Childless General Hospital. During 1951, the Childless General Hospital showed a net operating profit of $4,817.91, according to the annual report to the board of directors. Gray county also purchased a private hospital and later constructed an en-as possible.

The Amarillo lawyer presented the councilmen with a petition bearing about 50 names and requesting that the matter receive immediate attention.

After a lengthy discussion, the Council voted unanimously to place stop signs at street intersections along Front Street from Noel to 10th Street. Exact location of stop signs will be designated by the Streets and Alleys committee.

Also at the meeting, a petition signed by 118 qualified, tax-paying citizens requested a bond election to raise money to finance construction of a modern municipal swimming pool and a paving project to include 50 or more city blocks. Spokesman for the citizens group presenting the petition was J. W. Coppedge, president of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce and Hall County Board of Development.

After a short discussion by the aldermen, Mayor Harrison appointed a committee to gather additional information and report its findings to the Council in a special called session Tuesday, July 15. Councilmen on the committee are O. M. Cosby, Jr., O. L. Helm and J. M. Ferrel, Jr.

The Council also passed an annual ordinance setting ad valorem tax rate at 1.50 of 1 1/2 per cent for each valuation for 1952 taxes.
