MAN OF MYSTERY—Appearing here Friday night in a series of optical illusions and magician's acts will be Lee Grabel. He will be assisted by a troupe of accomplished performers. An evening, chock-full of entertainment, is promised.

Magic Show Here Friday Evening

What would you think if you saw someone suspended in mid-air playing a piano?
You will have the opportunity of seeing this and other unbelievable occurrences Friday night when illusionist Lee Grabel and his show appears on the stage of the Memphis High School auditorium. Curtain time is 8 p. m.
A loop will be passed around the suspended piano player to add to the mysteriousness of the act. During the more than two-hour performance, a woman also will be shot from a cannon into a net over the heads of the audience. When the net is brought down, the woman will have disappeared, according to Bill Ballew, Jaycee chairman of arrangements.
In addition to acts of this type there will be card and other magician's tricks.
The Lee Grabel show has played throughout this country and Europe. In this country, the show reportedly has remained in such cities as New York and Miami as long as two or three months.
Grabel is scheduled to go to California where he will present a television series.
Adult admission Friday night will be $1, and for students and those of pre-school age, 50 cents. There are only a limited number of tickets, Ballew said. Satisfaction is guaranteed or money will be refunded.
The show is being sponsored by the Memphis Junior Chamber of Commerce and tickets may be obtained from any member.
Proceeds will be used to help on some city improvement, according to Ballew.

It costs a lot to be an American. But not too much. The American principle of personal and economic liberty provides more opportunity and more good for more people than any other system devised by man. Privately owned and operated industry is the American principle at work.

In America, private industry pays its own way. Pays the lion's share of taxes necessary to support our government. Were it not for private, tax-paying industry your individual tax would be much greater — for the burden of government would rest entirely on your shoulders.

Paste this in your hat. And when you file your income tax return, take off your hat to the American way of life.

Joyce Durrett and Jack McGlothlin Wed In Ceremony at First Christian Church

The First Christian Church of Memphis was the scene Sunday, February 22, for the marriage vows exchanged by Miss Joyce Durrett and Jack McGlothlin in an impressive double-ring ceremony.

Minister Paul Thompson, pastor of the Lakeview Church of Christ, read the service at 4 p. m.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Durrett of Lakeview and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ray McGlothlin, Sr. of Abilene.

Mrs. Carl Smith played appropriate wedding selections while the guests were assembling. She accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Ray McGlothlin, Jr., brother and sister-in-law of the groom, as they presented "Because," "I Love You Truly" and "Through the Years." The traditional processional and recessional music was used.

Given in marriage by her cousin, V. C. Durrett, the bride was attired in a full-length gown of Chantilly lace over white satin. The dress was fashioned with a high, stand-up collar and long fitted sleeves were petal pointed over each hand. Small, self-covered buttons adorned the front of the bodice, from which cascaded a full, flared skirt.

Her veil of imported hand-rolled nylon illusion was fingertip length and fell from painted tiera smoked in pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with a single white orchid surrounded by Stephanotis.

Maid of honor was Miss Dee Ellen Durrett, sister of the bride, who wore a pink frock of moire faille taffeta with a shoulder cape of pink lace. Her dress was styled like the bride's gown.

Miss Loiselle Whitefield of Lakeview and Mrs. James Lott of Amarillo were bridesmaids and Misses Rita Doyce Durrett, cousin of the bride, and Martha Joy Reed, both of Lakeview, served as Junior Bridesmaids. They were attired in identical dresses of pale green moire taffeta designed with green net stoles.

The feminine attendants all wore bands of pink roses in their hair and carried crescent bouquets of pink roses.

Ginafae Berry and Linda Hall of Lakeview were flower girls. They were dressed in frocks of pink taffeta. Ronald Pate of Lakeview was the ring bearer.

Harold McGlothlin of Abilene, brother of the groom, was best man. Paul Thompson of Lakeview and Gene Terhune of Abilene were ushers and Keith Crozier and Paul Phillips, both of Abilene, served as junior groomsmen.

The wedding party proceeded down the aisle through several archways covered in greenery featuring miniature, pink wedding bells which were attached at the top of the arch. Branched candelabra bearing pink tapers, which were lighted by John Thompson and Gene Terhune, were flanked by baskets of pink gladiolas and greenery.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Church annex. The receiving line was composed of the bride and groom, Mrs. B. M. Durrett, Mrs. Ray McGlothlin, Sr., Mrs. Paul Thompson, Miss Dee Ellen Durrett, Mrs. James Lott and Miss Loiselle Whitefield.

'The Family Our Concern' Discussed At Pathfinders'

Mrs. Anna Dickson was hostess to the Pathfinders' Council Feb. 24, at 3 p. m. in a regular meeting. Prayer was led by Mrs. Dickson in the opening of the business session. Reports on the packages sent to Austria were read.

Mrs. Earl Hill, program chairman, introduced the afternoon's study with the quotation from Garfield, "The sanctity of marriage and the family relation makes the cornerstone of our American society and civilization." Roll call was answered with "What Constitutes a Family?" The pledge to the flag was given and the group read in unison the Club Collect.

Mrs. Lee Brown gave a very enlightening discussion of "Parents' Responsibility in Character Development," using the Palmer Foundation as research material. She named the following topics as the foundation for learning to have good character: expressing ones' self, being loved and accepted, undergoing discipline as learning, making ones' own decisions and the taking the consequences."

Mrs. Robert Spicer outlined the "Gifts We Bring Our Children" as projects of the Federated Club Women. She stated that we are striving to develop the youth conservation projects in six areas that represent youths fundamental needs; training for family life, citizenship, employment, vocational guidance, health and education, recreation, and leisure time activities, community planning council and state planning council.

Mrs. Earl Pritchett discussed lene Christian College. Mr. McGlothlin graduated from Abilene High School and Abilene Christian College with the class of 1950.

The bride was a graduate of Lakeview High School and Abilene Christian College.

covered with white lace cloth over pink satin and centered with the tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. Members of the house party were Mrs. Clifton Burnett, Mrs. John Reed, and Mrs. C. C. Crozier and Lois Mortenson, both of Abilene.

Out-of-town wedding guests included Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Byars, Mr. and Mrs. Duane Byars, Mrs. Rena Sears, Mrs. Richard Gowan, all of Amarillo, Mrs. C. C. Crozier, Miss Lois Mortenson, Newman Groves, Johnny Beard and Mrs. Gene Terhune, all of Abilene.

For traveling, Mrs. McGlothlin chose a blue faille suit complemented with black and white accessories.

The couple left for a wedding trip to various points in Florida. After March 15, Mr. and Mrs. McGlothlin will be at home in D'Hanis.

The bride was a graduate of Lakeview High School and Abilene Christian College.

grounded due to bad weather. That was about the time that British plane had gone down, so they were taking extra precautions. It snowed about 6 inches Monday night and the girls were delighted with it. Jim let them go out and play and they really had fun.

and landed in Lages, Azores at 2:30 a. m. Friday but it was only 9 hours active flying time. Buses met us at the plane and we were whisked away to the officer's club where we ate. The club was open for us. We had a cup of coffee and ham and eggs.

Our plane was filled to capacity with dependents and service men from various branches of the service. We left the Azores at 4:30 a. m. and everyone in the plane reclined their seats and settled back for a few hours sleep.

We went to the officers club for all our meals. Italian boys were the waiters and Arab boys are clean-up boys. On Sunday we went to downtown Tripoli which was quite interesting. The shops were all closed, though, as they religiously have a siesta each afternoon, and of course, this was during the siesta time.

We left Tripoli Wednesday a. m., Feb. 11. We flew down the coast of Africa, over the places where Rommel had his troops massed during the war and where there was many furious tank fights. You can still see the tracks of the tanks and there are still many abandoned tanks there.

coast there is still full of land mines which are mostly wooden and very hard to detect. He said he had flown over several times during the summer when it was very hot, and seen some of them explode. He also told a story about Rommel having his men drive their tanks all night, and trucks with logs tied on the back of them, around and around in circles over a vast area of ground so they made a lot of tracks.

This is practically all desert and only a few signs of life which are Nomad tribes are seen. We flew almost all the way along the Mediterranean and the bluest blue of any water I've ever seen. We flew and circled over Alexandria and from there on to Cairo were villages and towns all very green and fertile looking.

We gained another hour of time and landed at Cairo about 2 p. m. to refuel the plane and also ourselves. We had a steak, baked potatoes, carrots, bread and butter and tea. We were only allowed to follow the traffic officer to the top floor of the terminal, as we had no passport for Cairo.

UP GOES THE POWER OF EVERY BUICK-

World's newest V8

Special Super and Roadmaster!

It's more than pride that makes a man want a lot of horsepower beneath the hood of the car he owns. For the real point in reaching record horsepowers and compression ratios goes beyond miles per hour. It steps up performance and economy in normal driving. That's what Buick engineers did when they upped the power and compression of each 1953 Buick - SPECIAL, SUPER and ROADMASTER - to the highest figures in Buick's fifty-year history. In the SUPER and ROADMASTER, they put a new kind of V8 Engine - first passenger-car V8 with 8.5 to 1 compression, and a long list of other major engineering advances. For the SPECIAL, they redesigned the famed F-263 Fireball 8 Engine - gave it shorter flame travel, faster firing, higher horsepower and compression. And to these spirited engines they coupled the new Twin-Turbine Dynaflo Drive* that adds flash-fast, quiet getaway to utter smoothness. Just to give you an example of what all this means: The 1953 Buick SPECIAL with Dynaflo can beat the mighty 1952 ROADMASTER on getaway - can reach 30 mph (when the law allows) with a combined speed and jerk-free smoothness no other car can equal. Of course, there's far more to these new Buicks for 1953 - some seven dozen new features alone. But why not come in and see for yourself that these are the greatest Buicks - and the greatest values - in fifty great years.

Abbie Louise Massey, 9-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Massey, returned to her second-grade class at Austin Elementary school Tuesday, after being absent for more than a week because of burns.

Abbie Louise was in a local hospital, after she suffered first and second degree burns on her hips, legs and left arm, Sunday, Feb. 22, at the family home. Her clothes ignited when she came too close to a lighted heater.

So the People May Know

At the insistence of Texas Press Association, the 51st Legislature in 1949 passed the "Mandatory Publications Act."

The act was passed because some city, county, and other local government officials had failed to comply with state regulations requiring them to publish in the newspapers facts concerning the financing and operation of their offices.

The mandatory publications act provided that "all public officers of the state, counties, cities and school districts who are required by law to publish legal notices or financial statements and who shall fail, refuse, or neglect to make such publications shall be guilty of malfeasance of office and subject to forfeiture of salary for the month in which such failure occurs. Such officers shall be subject to removal from office upon wilful continuance of such neglect of duty."

The act also provided that "suits to enjoin or recover payment of salary and for removal from office under law shall be instituted in the proper district court by the county or district attorney of the county in which the offending officer resides."

Further provisions of the publications act will be told in this series of articles.

Education Is Democracy's Keystone

This week Memphis, along with communities throughout the state, is observing Texas Public School Week. Taking part are not only students and their teachers but parents, businessmen and others. As a matter of fact, the week was proclaimed to give everyone an opportunity to become acquainted with the work of his school system.

While visiting the schools, citizens will have a chance to see the theme of the week, "Public Schools—Democracy in Action," practiced by youngsters whose responsibility within a few years will be the continuance of our way of life.

The democratic way can only be assured through education —education which teaches coming generations the meaning of democracy and its potential dividends to them, such as freedom of thought, religion, speech and action.

There is much talk of the threat of Communism today. It can only be a threat to the extent that citizens and future ci-zens are ignorant of its danger to democratic principles.

As long as we keep informed, are alert to ideologies, foreign to American beliefs, and take proper safeguards, we can feel reasonably certain that "government of the people, for the people and by the people" will not perish.

We will keep informed if we maintain a strong system of public education which encourages students to add steadfastly to their knowledge and to think logically.

Citizens this week are getting some idea of the extent to which the Texas educational system is accomplishing this.

makes sense to have strong security measures in operation where military secrets concerning foreign policy are involved. . . . But there are many government departments whose work is only vaguely connected with the defense effort and the heads of these departments now have the same right to withhold information as is held by military agencies. Freedom of the press is a well established part of American rights. Free Access to information about the work of government is different,

MORE FOR OUR MONEY

On many occasions without access to facts of the case have laid a large part of the blame for high prices at the door of the retailer.

It would be far more logical and far more just to consider how much higher prices might be had if not been for the tremendous progress retailing has made over the years.

The development of the mass-distribution idea is a first-class example. This revolutionary innovation in retailing's philosophy was pioneered by the chain systems, and it is to the credit of other types of merchants that they saw its merits and efficiently adapted it to their own operations. The whole principle of mass-distribution was and is to sell more goods, to sell them at a lower unit profit than was previously considered possible, and to earn a satisfactory total profit through the increase volume. Today many food retailers keep, as profit, only one cent or a fraction more out of each dollar their customers spend with them. Retailers in other lines have a profit of but three to four cents out of that dollar. In other words, matters have reached the point where if the retailers earned no profit whatsoever the saving to the consumer would be hardly noticeable.

This is one of the fruits of open competition. In the allegedly "good old days" the village storekeeper often had pretty much a monopoly and, being human, his prices often were based on all-the-traffic-will-bear-theory. Today no retailer has any monopoly on anything, and if the public finds his prices or his stock or his services unacceptable he won't last long in the business world.

All things considered, we want more for our money than we ever did before.

Something In It For Us

The champion hog caller was asked what was the secret of his success. For several years he had been acclaimed the best hog caller in his section, though to the layman there seemed little if any difference between him and the others.

"I don't know that I'm any better than the other fellows," he began modestly. "Every one of them has as good a voice as I have, and he can be heard as far.
We all use about the same tones, but there's one thing maybe the rest of them never thought of.
You know, there's a lot of human nature in a hog, and when I call him I try to make him think that if he'll listen to me, there is something in it for the hog."

We can turn the statement around and say that there is a least a little bit of hog in human nature. And if we can manage to convey to the man that there is something in it for him—not necessarily material, but mental and spiritual — something that will make him happier — he will be more likely to respond when we call him.

Civic minded citizens recognize that truth. They make it plain that community enterprise will make him a better citizen, and his community and nation better places in which to live — The Hamlin Herald.

IS PUBLIC TO SHOW GRATITUDE RETURNED KOREAN VETERANS

... Certificates of appreciation will be issued by the American Legion to returned Korean veterans...

Church Launches Lord's Acre Plan

... The Lord's Acre Plan stewardship movement was launched recently at a conference in the Lakeview Methodist Church.

... Under the plan, as many members and friends as will, take a project during summer months and in the fall, proceeds are given to the church...

... Among projects which persons may carry on are raising of cotton, wheat or grass, or feeding of livestock.

... Heading the plan at the Lakeview church is J. P. Montgomery Jr. Others on the committee are Mrs. Lee Blanks, Mrs. Troy Payne, J. W. Longshore and Bernard F. Seay.

... Pledges will be made Sunday morning, March 22, as part of the morning worship service.

... Hardin-Simmons U. students from Abilene who visited in Memphis over the weekend were Bobby Pat Young, Betty Ann Goodall, Charles Cullin and Beryle Davis...

... All accidents are silly—and unexpected.

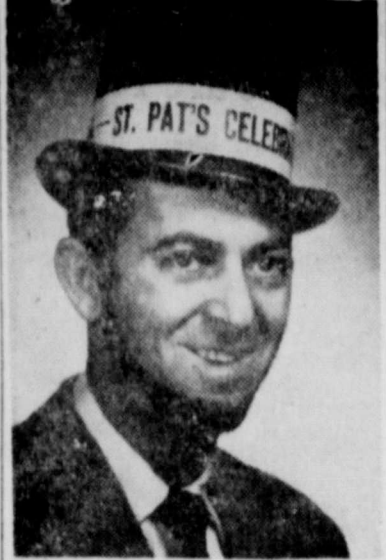

... The grocer boy does not plan to trip over a toy wagon in your driveway and break an arm.

... But it can cost you thousands in a damage suit.

... Or your dog may bite a stranger (or a friend). You may hit somebody with a golf ball. Your child may sock a passerby with a rock...

... A very inexpensive American Fore policy will cover you against damage suits from all these and other unplanned expensive accidents.

Amén, Brother

A manufacturer of farm machinery has placed himself on record as admitting his equipment is too efficient! Farmers who own this equipment were surprised recently to receive a message asking them not to use the company's harvesting implements, such as its mechanical corn pickers, to full advantages.

These machines, the company warned, are a potential threat to wildlife on the farm. "The modern corn picker" (for example) the message stated, "which scarcely misses an ear or kernel, leaving slim pickins for birds and animals."

"Farmers who wish to protect wildlife and provide good hunting for themselves and their friends can save animals by 'cutting corners.'" This is done, the company explains by cutting diagonally across the back corner of each field harvested, thus leaving a natural shelter stocked with feed for "your wildlife."

Few farmers, we think will begrudge "the bushel or the forkful that you waste . . . giving a break to game already hard-pressed from every side." And most, we are sure, will saw "Amén, brother."
