Twelve Cars Of Wheat Shipped From Hall County

Twelve carloads of 1954 wheat had been shipped from Hall County through Wednesday, according to Lynn L. McKown, manager of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office here.

Of these, Omer Hill Elevator in Memphis had shipped six cars, Setliff Elevator at Turkey, four cars, and the Farmers Union Co-op in Memphis, two cars.

McKown said that elevator operators believe this comprises about 60 per cent of their 1954 business. If this proves true, about eight more cars remain to be shipped.

Hail in the Turkey area damaged the wheat and the grain has not ripened as rapidly as in other parts of the county, resulting in a delay in harvesting.

The A. S. C. office manager said most wheat is testing out No. 1, according to information he had obtained.

Ample Storage Is Money Maker, Co. Agent Says

Importance of having sufficient storage space for grain crops this year in order to obtain better prices was stressed again this week by County Agent W. B. Hooser.

The nation has more grain and oil seed crops in storage now than ever before and Texas storage facilities are full in most areas, Hooser declared. The result is that producers will have to be responsible for finding space for their 1954 crops.

If commercial storage is unavailable and private storage is not provided, crops will have to be sold at harvest time when prices usually are lowest, and at the same time, lose the benefit of government support prices, the county agent continued.

Conditions and price supports vary from county to county, Hooser said.

Grain sorghum can be stored on the farm without loss of grain or quality if it is: (1) Dry enough; (2) Stored in approved structures (Continued on Page 10)

The Cap Rock League annual all-star game will be played at Hedley, Sunday afternoon, July 4th, with stars from Hedley, Clarendon and Troy Laundry of Amarillo representing the south and Pampa, Groom and Amarillo Greenhouse, representing the north.

Most Local Firms To Close July 5

Many Memphis business houses and offices will be closed Monday, July 5, according to Haskell J. Howell, chairman of the retail merchants committee of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce. This was ascertained during a survey Monday.

All stores around the square, with the possible exception of some grocery firms, cafes and theatres, will be closed, Howell said. This will include dry goods, auto, drug and variety stores, banks and utility firms. The postoffice and government offices also will remain closed.

Dollar Day, which normally is held the first Monday in each month, has been postponed until Monday, July 12, Howell said.

Engages In Air-to-Air Rocket Competition

Staff Sergeant David R. Wright, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. David R. Wright of 707 North Twelfth Street in Memphis, is one of eight Air Force men from Texas who have been selected to participate in this nation's first air-to-air rocket competition, now being staged over the Arizona desert near Yuma.

Air Force officials in Washington are closely following the results, for they feel that these will indicate to some extent, the degree of development that Air Force rocket warfare has attained.

Sergeant Wright works in the maintenance engineering section on the Crew Training rocket team from Moody Air Force Base, Ga. Four jet interceptor teams are competing in the rocket-firing competition. Three of these represent the three air defense forces within the Air Defense Command and the fourth represents the Air Training Command. The teams were chosen following elimination shoot-offs.

Meetings Will Be Held To Promote Better Living Conditions Across Area

The schedule has been completed for a series of "Progress Day" meetings here Tuesday which all residents of this area are invited to attend and offer suggestions as to how the area can be made a better place to live. Making this announcement Monday was Clifford Farmer, manager of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce and Hall County Board of Development, which is sponsoring the meetings. Farmer said group leaders for the various sessions also have been named.

"Progress Day" has been planned for the sole purpose of giving everyone in this section an opportunity of contributing his or her ideas on improving the economy and living conditions in the area. Citizens are urged to give the project their wholehearted support, as the program which results can go far in revitalizing business, agriculture and the general atmosphere in Memphis and the surrounding territory.

All meetings are designed to take a minimum of peoples' time, as they will be one hour in length. They will be informal and those attending may present their suggestions orally if they wish, or on cards which will be passed out at the sessions. Citizens may attend as many of the meetings as desired.

Letters of invitation sent out this week under the signature of Ben Parks, Chamber of Commerce president, contains this thought-provoking statement:

"Your suggestions... may be the beginning of a new industry, a new agricultural endeavor for the area, or any one of countless other activities that will improve the economic well-being of our area and enhance our earning possibilities."

Clifford Farmer, manager of the C. of C., said that his organization had tried to contact as many individuals as possible and wants everyone, whether Chamber of Commerce members or not, to attend one or more of the sessions Tuesday, as they are being held with the good of everybody in mind.

Meeting times and group leaders are as follows: 9 a. m., Merchants (Retail & Wholesale)—H. J. Howell and John Fowler.

10 a. m., Services and Trades—Mills Roberts and J. W. Coppedge. 11 a. m., Oil, Gasoline and Automotive—B. J. Walker and Tomie Potts.

2 p. m., Ladies Session—Miss Mary Foreman and Mrs. Jim Beeson. 3 p. m., Professional Group—Dr. Jack Rose and W. C. Davis.

8 p. m., Farmers and Ranchers—Harold Hodges and Paul Montgomery. All sessions will be held in the district court room at the courthouse in Memphis.

In the group meetings two specific matters will be considered, as follows:

1. Ideas and suggestions on projects the Chamber of Commerce should undertake to make Memphis and the surrounding area better.

Flood Control Methods Outlined At Area Meeting In Wellington Friday

Methods of flood control outlined during a meeting in Wellington Friday of representatives from nine area counties. Existing methods—detainer dams and proper soil conservation—were stressed.

Another benefit from detention dams was listed by the state conservationist, that of holding sediment in up-stream areas, so that large lakes, which provide water for municipalities, will receive less silt.

He said detention dams hold flood waters, then free them gradually, in order to blunt damage the torrents would otherwise do.

As to proper soil conservation, Walsler pointed up the necessity of holding rain where it falls and making studies to determine the soundness and suitability of locations to ascertain if benefits would exceed costs. Units also would have to make arrangements for improvements.

Before entering the Marine Corps in March, 1951, Corporal Potter attended Memphis High School and was employed by Wm. Cameron Lumber Company here. He is now assigned as a guard at the Marine Barracks at the U. S. Naval Ammunition Depot at McAlester, Okla.

Crops Spurt In Past Week

It was crop-growing weather in this area the past week, as sunshine and hot temperatures replaced rain and lower readings. Most, if not all, farmers had their cotton and feed planted, and crops were looking better every day.

Although temperatures hovered around the century mark, there had been no strong, blistering winds so far to scorch tender cotton and feed. Predictions this morning were for at least several more days of sunny weather.

According to Weatherman John McMickin, temperatures the past week were as follows: last Thursday, 64-99 degrees; Friday 69-97; Saturday 69-98; Sunday 68-98; Monday 70-99; Tuesday 70-100; and Wednesday 72-102. Low reading this morning was 70 degrees.

Reeves Discusses Legislation At County Bureau Meeting Monday

Reports on farm legislation made by the state and national representatives made by State Representative Elbert Reeves of Matador at a regular monthly meeting of the county Farm Bureau Monday night at Turkey.

Reeves also discussed farm bills already enacted in the state and national legislatures.

Hodges of Plaska, county agent, also spoke on farm matters and asked members to present matters they felt were important to the state Farm Bureau, to be passed on to the state Farm Bureau committee.

Elmer Lacy of Turkey, county vice-president, was in charge of the program. The next regular meeting of the Hall County Farm Bureau is scheduled to be held in the courthouse here, Monday night, July 19. The session will start at 7:30 o'clock.

made along this line. He said the county organization is a family affair and invited women and children, as well as men, to attend meetings.

The county president commented on the manner in which the county Farm Bureau has grown in spite of adverse weather conditions, going on to declare that farmers need the organization more at such times than when production and prices are high.

George Ray Colvin of Turkey, explained benefits to be gained from the Farm Bureau, if members avail themselves of them.

Mrs. Cole Boswell of Turkey presented a program of entertainment which included several piano solos and a dialogue.

Elmer Lacy of Turkey, county vice-president, was in charge of the program.

The next regular meeting of the Hall County Farm Bureau is scheduled to be held in the courthouse here, Monday night, July 19. The session will start at 7:30 o'clock.

LOST AND FOUND—COWart, the turtle that became one of the family at our house, disappeared from his usual haunts Monday. A thorough search failed to bring him to light. Tuesday, Grover Kesterson, who lives a block west of our house, reported that COWart was at his house revelling in the shower produced by their lawn sprinkler. When asked if COWart seemed tired out after the block-long journey, Grover replied that to the contrary COWart seemed rather frisky. COWart's chum is still with us, but seems very downcast over the fickleness of her boy friend.

Chain Reaction

Atomic processes do not have a monopoly on chain reactions. The rumor mill here in Washington produced a political chain reaction last week. It started out with the rumor that Governor Dewey, of New York, would not seek reelection as Governor. Whether Tom Dewey intended it or not, the Washington rumor mill promptly handed him the Republican nomination for President. Here is the way it was done. When the news leaked out that Dewey might not seek reelection as Governor of New York, it was promptly concluded by some that this meant a bid by him for the Presidency. Here is what was supposed to happen. One of the Supreme Court justices was to resign. This vacancy would be filled by President Eisenhower appointing the present Secretary of State, John Foster Dulles. This would leave the Secretary of State's position open, which would be filled by Governor Thomas Dewey. He was to use his position as Secretary of State to get all of his fences mended and be ready to accept the Republican nomination for President in 1956. In the meantime, he was supposed to arrange for Senator Ives to succeed him as Governor of New York. Thus he would be assured of the electoral vote of New York State and have the inside track for the Presidency. Senator Ives promptly denied that he was a candidate for Governor of New York. In any event, this gives you an idea of how rumors start and what happens to them after they get to moving from one month to another.

Trade With Red Countries

The extension of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act for one year is very significant. In the first place, the supporters of reciprocal trade wanted an extension of not less than three years. President Eisenhower had said that he wanted a three-year extension. However, there was some behind the scenes maneuvering that resulted in the White House compromising on a one-year extension. Secretary of Commerce Weeks said in effect that this would be ample time in which to study the entire situation and enable this country to decide whether or not it wanted to go further with the reciprocal trade agreements, and if so, how far. This sort of operation actually creates a situation of confusion between this country and the foreign countries with whom we trade. Many of these foreign countries are presently engaged in trading with Russia, China and the satellites of these two countries. Should this country announce the policy of refusing to trade with any country that was engaged in trade with any of the Red dominated countries, it could cause great confusion in the world markets. However, the possibility of creating confusion should not be an excuse for putting off until tomorrow decisions that should be made today on this vital issue. None of the Red satellites are self-sustaining and must look to other countries for a major part of their civilian as well as their military needs.

The President was reported as saying in a news conference that we should continue to trade with these Red satellites because it was only by trade that we could woo them over to our side. I sincerely hope that he is right, but I must beg to disagree. Russia intends to keep these satellite countries under her domination by force of arms or otherwise. Therefore, we have very little, if any, outside chance to woo one of these countries into our group without an internal revolution in that country. In the second place, Russia is going to continue the policy of permitting this country to indirectly furnish food and fiber to her satellites through nations that are friendly to us. By doing this, she can devote most of the productive powers of herself and these satellite countries to armament. In the third place, the trade relations that Russia and her satellite countries have with some of the nations that are friendly to us provide an excellent opportunity for the Reds to do some wooing of their own, even to the extent of threats. I have tried to weigh this problem from every conceivable angle and have concluded that in trade agreements between this country and other countries there must be some very rigid limitations concerning trade between the other country and the Russian or Russian dominated countries. In fact, I support an economic blockade of the Red countries and their satellites to the fullest extent that it can be made effective by this country and our allies. We should spend a great deal more time and effort in cementing the relations between the countries in the Western Hemisphere so that we could put up a solid front against Communist aggression in Asia or any other place in the world. Had this policy been followed out, I do not believe that we would be faced with the situation we are now faced with in Guatemala. You can look for this trade issue to grow bigger and bigger within the next few months.

Night Radiation Being Studied By Texas Graduate

AUSTIN—Scientific facts of interest to truck farmers and fruit growers are expected from a University of Texas investigation of night cooling.

Egyptian Graduate Student Mahmoud Mahamed Mahmoud is studying the natural phenomenon, known to his ancestors as far back as 2,500 B. C.

Night cooling or radiation is a process responsible for many freezes. Here's what happens: Air in the earth's outer atmosphere always is cooler than air near the ground. In the daytime, the sun heats up the earth and that in turn helps heat the lower atmosphere.

When the sun disappears, cool rays from the upper atmosphere replace hot daytime rays, dropping temperatures on the earth and in the lower atmosphere. Any object slows night radiation—

AS GENERAL ELECTRIC SEES IT

Few people realize how rapidly America's economy is growing

General Electric is backing its belief in a long-term period of industrial growth by the biggest building program in its history, spending more than a billion dollars since 1946

Anyone who spreads fears that we may be facing another major depression ignores completely how much America has changed since the 1930's.

First G-E refrigerator helped create 100,000 jobs

Here are just two examples of what has happened.

The first electric refrigerator with a sealed-in mechanism was introduced by General Electric in 1926, and its production in that year required only a few hundred people. Today, refrigerators and freezers make up a billion-dollar business which employs more than 100,000 men and women in manufacturing, plus additional thousands in retailing and distribution. The freezer itself has made possible another whole new industry, frozen foods.

In 1939, most of us knew electronics only as tubes in our radio, and the entire industry sold 230 million dollars' worth of equipment.

Electronics is now a 4 1/2-billion-dollar business, and some experts predict it will grow to 20 billions in the 1960's. General Electric, just one producer, now has electronic-equipment factories in 13 different parts of the country and has stepped up its payroll in this field to 27,000 in just 15 years.

This trend of expansion is not slowing down. It's rapidly accelerating.

Many exciting new industries are predictable as we learn how to make full use of atomic energy. Another important new field will be electronic machinery that will make work easier, production swifter. Our scientists are experimenting with metal crystals 50 times stronger than any metals we now know. New and better home appliances are on the way. More uses for the gas turbine are coming out of jet-engine experiments.

These are only a few of the things General Electric is interested in, and other companies, of course, are hard at work on equally promising projects.

Our belief in a long-term period of industrial growth is not wishful speculation. It's being backed by the greatest building program America has ever seen. Last year, the nation's industries spent 28 billion, 400 million dollars for new plant and equipment; this year, they will spend only slightly less. Our own investment since 1946 has already reached more than a billion dollars. In 1954, a record 175 million dollars will be invested in new plant facilities by G.E., 24% more than last year.

This is the kind of confidence we have in the country's future.

... will continue to keep America's economy expanding

Highlights and Sidelights FROM YOUR State CAPITOL

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN, Tex.—If will not take time to cast your ballot in the Democratic primaries on July 24.

There are only six contested races, as certified by the State Democratic Executive Committee, making up one of the party's short-ballot races. There are but 26 names on the ballots for 14 state elective offices.

Governor's Race
Governor Allan Shivers, running for re-election, designated Dick Yarborough and his backers as "dreamers" who see as a solution of our ills centralization of all government in Washington.

As an example of his meaning, Shivers said his opponents were naming him for supporting the Republican nominee for President in 1952.

"They say I'm a traitor," Shivers commented. "If getting the kids back for our school children means I'm a traitor, then I am guilty." The governor added: "My opposition paid lip service to the tidelands. This two-way loser's biggest backers said tidelands belonged to the federal government."

Yarborough had hurled the charge of disloyalty at Shivers because of the latter's support of Yarborough.

Yarborough also struck out against Shivers' bid for a third term, saying "Texas tradition condemns a third term. We approved the Twenty-second Amendment which forbids a third term for President."

Women in Politics
The Texas women took over prominent spots in the state's political show last week.

Mrs. Pat Dougherty will manage the campaign of her husband, Dudley T. Dougherty, for the United States senate. Mrs. Charles Deval Kilgore, whose husband is publisher of the Kilgore News Herald, was appointed state chairman of the Democratic Women for Shivers.

Demo Convention
A decision that will give big publicity to the party was made in 1954 a strong voice in the State Democratic Convention was made by State Democrats in agreeing to count both parties' 1952 votes in deciding their convention strength.

The Democratic Convention convenes in September at Mineral Wells. The committee, meeting in Austin, agreed unanimously on the proposal after being told by its legal committee that the total vote was the correct basis on which to determine delegate strength.

Insurance Investigations
One Texas insurance firm went into receivership and another appeared ready in another week of insurance shake-ups.

Ralph W. Hammonds of Houston, head of the Lloyds of North America Insurance Company, admitted insolvency and his firm went into permanent receivership.

Also caught in the whirling door of insurance investigations was the suspended General American Casualty Company with headquarters in San Antonio. Suspension followed a voluntary request of the firm's president Ralph D. Stokes. Incomplete checks of the company's books showed it was "approximately one million dollars in debt," Insurance Board Chairman Garland Smith said.

No Insurance Mess
State Senator George Parkhouse told a meeting of insurance men in Austin that most of the controversy was being played out of true import.

He said that most of the trouble was being "generated artificially and unnecessarily to serve the political purposes of a little group of men." He added that the Legislature should, however, patch some present law loopholes and pay ex-

'Ridiculous' Charges
Charges by a former agent of the State Liquor Board that the liquor industry and politicians run the board was termed "absolutely ridiculous" by Administrator Coke Stevenson, Jr.

Stevenson said the accusation of former member Weldon Burney, who called the board corrupt and dominated by politics, was without basis.

The San Antonio man resigned May 27. Stevenson said that he had been demoted in grade and appeared dissatisfied when he couldn't get a transfer back to McAllen where he was stationed when Stevenson took office.

Water Is Big Problem
Water is one of the state's big problems, the president of the Texas Water Conservation Association told Texas University attorneys and water engineers.

Guy C. Jackson Jr., asking for water improvements, called for a "state-wide water plan" and for the state to assume financial responsibility for dams and other water improvements.

Joins Campaign Staff
A manager of Governor Allan Shivers' successful 1952 race has been named to help manage the Governor's campaign for re-election.

Jack Dillard, director of Alumni Affairs for Baylor University, will assist Senator Otis Lock of Lufkin in forming strategy for the campaign which was fired off Monday with a rally and radio broadcast at Lufkin, Shivers' home.

Tax Exemption Asked
Two Texas turnpike corporations have asked the State Supreme Court whether toll roads built by private firms can have tax exemptions.

The Texas Turnpike Company and the Sam Houston Turnpike Corporation appealed from the Dallas Court of Civil Appeals.

Both are seeking to build toll roads in the state; one from Dallas to Houston and the other a Dallas-San Antonio route.

Webb-Cooper Nuptial Vows Solemnized In Mission Baptist Church Saturday

Nuptial vows were solemnized on Saturday evening, June 12, for Donna Webb, daughter of Mrs. Mack Graham of this city, and Paul Cooper, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Cooper of Shamrock.

Rev. Fern Miller, pastor of the First Baptist Church, read the double-ring service in the Mission Baptist Church in Memphis.

The altar was decorated with baskets of pink and white gladioli. Centering the nuptial space was an arch entwined with greenery and flanked with floor candelabra bearing lighted tapers. A background of greenery completed the setting.

Miss Donna Erwin of Canyon sang "Because" and "Through the Years." As a benediction she sang "The Lord's Prayer." Miss Katherine Wright played the piano accompaniment and the traditional wedding marches for the professional and recessional.

Candlelighters were Mrs. Weid-on Fowler of Memphis and Miss Cynthia Hull of Canyon.

Mrs. Jack Monzingo of Carlsbad, N. M., was her sister's matron-of-honor. She wore a ballerina length dress of baby blue shantung with pink accessories. Her dress was fashioned with a fitted bodice and full skirt.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Jack Monzingo, Carlsbad, N. M., was attired in a ballerina length gown of white satin over which she wore a moldie bodice of lace styled with a lace bolero jacket and full skirt of white tulle. She wore a small white half-hat with a brief veil and carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid nestling in a base of white feathered carnations.

The bride carried out the traditional bridal custom of wearing "something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue."

Mrs. Graham, the bride's mother, and Mrs. Cooper, the mother of the groom, both wore navy frocks complemented by white accessories. Both wore corsages of white gardenias.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother. The bride's chosen colors of pink and white were carried out in table decorations. The three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a wedding bell, was served by Miss Cynthia Hull of Shamrock. Mrs. Gene Hammil of Shamrock and Miss Frankye Srygley of Memphis presided at the punch service. Miss Gereta Graham registered the guests.

For traveling the bride chose a dress of nylon print trimmed with avocado velvet and accented with avocado accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Memphis High School and attended West Texas State College at Canyon.

The bridesroom is a graduate of Shamrock High School and a student at West Texas State College, Canyon. He will resume his college work at WTSC in September.

Mrs. A. B. Hickey, Pioneer Couple, Observe Golden Wedding Anniversary

Mrs. A. B. Hickey, Hall County resident for nearly 30 years, celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary recently at home of their daughter, Mrs. Frank Monzingo, 1315 Bradford, whom they are making their home at the present time.

Members of the family present for the celebration on the fact that Mrs. Hickey's husband did not permit a large party, although her health is improved, she is still confined to bed much of the time.

Mrs. Hickey and Mr. Hickey were married in a double ceremony in Detroit, Mich. on May 26, 1904. Mrs. Hickey is the sister of Mr. Hickey.

Speaking of the wedding, Mr. Hickey said they were married in a ceremony which was considered the most of travel in those days as most people traveled by wagon. "We drove to the minister's house, stopping in the park which is located nearby, and were quite surprised to see a host of friends rush from the house to witness the wedding," Mr. Hickey recalled. "We thought we were keeping our marriage a secret."

Mrs. Hickey, the former Sarah Frances Cushberry, was born in Franklin, Ky., and came to Texas with her parents when she was just a baby. They settled at Paris, Texas.

Mr. Hickey is a native Texan and was born at Blossom, in Lamar County. He grew to manhood there and he and Mrs. Hickey lived in Blossom for a number of years after they were married. They moved to Hall County in 1925 locating at Plaska.

A barber by profession, Mr. Hickey has been engaged in this business most of his life with the exception of a few years when he worked for the railroad when he was a young man.

After settling at Plaska, Mr. Hickey opened his own barber shop, one which he operated for more than 20 years. Approximately 9 years ago, Mr. Hickey closed his shop and bought a Help-Self laundry in Memphis and he and Mrs. Hickey moved here. About a year and a half ago, Mr. Hickey sold the laundry and retired.

On Saturday Mrs. Monzingo entertained with a dinner honoring Mr. and Mrs. Hickey and Mr. and Mrs. Hale who now reside in Turkey. Also present at the dinner was Horace Scales of Hamlin, a friend of long standing.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Hickey

On Sunday members of the family enjoyed a picnic in observance of the occasion. Present for this affair were the Hickey's three children, seven grandchildren and one great grandchild.

The table was centered with a lace-tiered wedding cake topped with the numerals, "50." Carrying out the wedding scene of 50 years ago, the table featured a miniature replica of the horse and buggy in which the bride and groom were married.

They included Mr. and Mrs. Frank Monzingo and children, Gayle and Carol Ann, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Hickey and children, Betty Claude, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hickey and daughter Janet; and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hickey and children, Jerry, Deeda and Dayna. Also present was Mrs. Hickey's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Ferguson of Memphis.

Farmers Urged To Begin 'Hopper Control Program

Farmers were urged this week to begin a program for the control of grasshoppers. The admonition was issued by County Agent W. B. Hooser.

Hooser said a survey in January indicated the number of the insects likely would not be large. However, the county agent said that if pastures should deteriorate later in the summer, the pests would become a greater menace to growing crops, as they left grasslands to seek other vegetation to graze on. With this in mind, grasshoppers will be easier to cope with now than later when they are larger, Hooser declared.

Farmers are advised to use toxaphene and chlordane around the borders of their fields, where they adjoin pasturelands. The county agent explained that the best time to put them out is early in the morning, as grasshoppers normally do not feed later in the day.

Hooser said the government is no longer supplying sodium flour silicate as grasshopper bait material. However, he said he had a small supply on hand at his office in the courthouse for emergency use where farmers have big jumbo grasshoppers on their land.

The county agent also advised farmers to use insecticides around alfalfa patches, if they plan to cut it for hay. He said this precaution should be taken because when the alfalfa was cut, grasshoppers will scatter into surrounding areas.

Only Limited School Repairs Needed Here

A limited repair and renovation program will be carried out this summer in the Memphis public school system, Supt. W. C. Davis said Monday. Davis said buildings in the system are kept in good operating shape and this circumvented the necessity of any major overhauls.

During this summer, the band house at the high school will be cleaned up, repainted and redecorated, the superintendent explained. This will comprise the principal portion of summer improvement plans.

D. L. C. Kinard arrived home Tuesday from Houston where he went for a clinical check-up at M. D. Anderson Hospital. Mr. Kinard received an excellent report.

Serving People Pays Dividends

Our attention has been called to a high honor which has come to a former Memphis minister. The story of the minister and how he came to be honored appears in the July issue of The Progressive Farmer. Each year, the farm magazine honors outstanding rural ministers.

The Texas minister chosen this year is Rev. E. C. Cargill, whom old-timers likely will remember served as pastor of the First Presbyterian Church here about 15 years ago. Reverend Cargill lives in Italy, Texas, but serves not only the Park Presbyterian Church there but also the church at Avalon, which is nearby, and has since 1940. This in spite of the fact that he is now 82 years old.

To show the regard his neighbors have for him, Italy held an E. C. Cargill Day in 1949, according to the article in the farm paper. Almost all churches in the community participated in the all-day program, with more than 700 persons attending.

Reverend Cargill gives his wife much of the credit for whatever he has accomplished but the article states that both have encouraged the missionary efforts of small churches.

The article concludes:

"People in Italy think of Mr. Cargill as 'a man who has given his life in pastoral service, in dedication to people, and in concern for the total community.'"

Reverend Cargill very likely is a refutation of the oft-repeated declaration, "But I can't do anything."

The Italy pastor probably would be the first to say that he is very unimportant in this world as far as financial standing or high position is concerned. As a matter of fact, being the kind of man he is, he probably has given these matters little thought, feeling that they are of slight importance.

To him, something else was of infinitely greater importance—serving and working for the good of his fellow man.

More of us probably should have the same kind of desire. It may be that each of us cannot do much by himself but there is little question that if enough of us resolved—like Reverend Cargill—to serve others to the best of our ability, it would be a better world.

Progress Is Everybody's Business

Citizens of Memphis and the area surrounding it are going to have the opportunity on June 29 of listing the things they believe will help make this community and territory better places in which to live and work.

On that date, citizens will meet in a series of meetings to talk over and develop ideas which will have behind them the purpose of revitalizing community spirit and progressiveness.

As many persons as possible should take part in these discussion groups because they are designed to eventually make life more enjoyable and stable for everybody. Chances of the project succeeding will increase in proportion to the number of citizens who cooperate in making suggestions as to what they think the community and area needs and then follow this up by actively supporting any program which may be formulated.

All of us who have lived here very long know that our economy is extremely changeable, dependent as it is on agriculture. When crops and prices are good, everybody gets along pretty well. But when drouth comes—as it always has—and crops are short, then we all feel the effects, some to the extent of having to move away to find work to provide food and clothing for themselves and their families.

During the Community Clinic on June 29, this will be one of the matters on which residents will have the opportunity of joining their opinions in finding a solution, or at least a partial remedy.

If citizens are disturbed enough about the instability of the economy of this area to give this Community Clinic and any subsequent program their wholehearted support, there is no reason why we cannot go forward instead of gradually losing ground as we have been doing the past 25 years.

A lot can be done if people have vision and the determination to go with it.

QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

Press Paragraphs—

WATER CONSERVATION

Water conservation is an acre-by-acre, farm-by-farm proposition. No half-way measures are going to solve the water problem which now plagues Texas. The recent scourge of dust has been a nuisance over the eastern half of our state, but it speaks tragedy to our soil in West Texas.

These storms are just the beginning. Worse is yet to come unless we get water and soil conservation immediately.

Dams will be useful in this program but they alone are not the final answer. Although we waste 85 per cent of our annual water supply by downstream floods and field run-offs, we need more than dams to hold back the tide.

The practice of every known water and soil conservation measure on the farm level is the first step. Then we need some practical laws which would help control underground and surface supplies in the critical areas of the state. This would help assure a fair distribution of what we have.

In building dams, three types may be necessary—small check dams in the upper tributaries, larger storage dams to furnish municipal water and irrigation, and huge dual-purpose storage and power dams on the major rivers.

All these steps should be considered in seeking a solution. But it would be futile to consider the steps separately. If only the large dams were built, they would soon be clogged with upstream silt due to the lack of other conservation methods.

Our future water supply will determine whether we continue our industrial development in Texas or succumb to economic stagnation.

We must take action on our water problem!

SECRECY SEEMS UNFAIR

Many are greatly puzzled by President Eisenhower's order refusing to allow executive appointees to testify as to who attended a meeting in which it was decided to air army's case against Senator McCarthy.

Both sides entered the investigation with the promise that nothing would be withheld; that all would testify under oath and that the public would have all the facts at the end of the row.

The President's order denies McCarthy the right to show who were instrumental in bringing the charges against him and the chance to develop testimony as to what their motives might have been in the matter.

The President would have been fully justified in banging the heads of both army and McCarthy in order to prevent the whole foul show and would have won the gratitude of the nation had he done so.

But having allowed both to advertise and stage a finish fight, it now seems grossly unfair to toss the lariat of an executive secrecy order out to tie the hands of one of the contestants.

McCarthy has a right to show who charged him and why. He has the right to show whether or not Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams was in that meeting (and it now seems certain that he was) and whether he was there acting for President Eisenhower or on his own hook.

No one approves of Senator McCarthy's methods less than ourselves, but it seems unfair to change the rules after one had permitted the fight to start.

—Moore County News (Dumas)

Many farm animals, especially cattle, will die this year from what is commonly called "hardware disease." These losses can be prevented by making sure that nails, pieces of wire, scrap and junk don't get into the feed or animals are kept out of lots where the metal may be picked up.

For the first three months of this year, beef production was up 13 per cent compared with the same period last year; veal was up 24 per cent; pork was down 14 per cent and mutton and lamb was down 1 per cent.

In a double-ring ceremony in the First Baptist Church on Sunday, June 20, Miss Jeannine Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Miller of Pampa, became the bride of Billy C. Archer, son of Mrs. E. G. Archer of Memphis.

Rev. Jesse Miller performed the marriage service before a fan arrangement of white satin covers with baby orchids against which were banked orchid gladioli. Marble urns of orchid gladioli and two candelabra complemented the setting.

Candlelighters were George Archer, brother of the groom, and Mary Kinsey, niece of the groom, who wore a ballerina length dress of white taffeta with a wristlet of baby orchids.

Mrs. S. C. Hindman provided the nuptial music and played "Romance" by Rubinstein, "Serenade" by Schubert, "Evening Star" by Wagner and Dedication by Franz. She accompanied Wayne Henley, Cheney, Kans., uncle of the bride, who sang "We Pledge Our Love" by Bohn, words by Polack; "Today, Oh Lord, We at Thine Altar Stand" by Decker, words by Polack; "The Lord's Prayer" by Mallot. Mrs. Hindman also played the traditional wedding marches.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin topped with a lace coat fashioned with long sleeves extending into points over the hands and a scalloped peplum. Her finger-tip

Lone Star Gas Company

O. I. Seale Transferred To Abilene As General Manager For Cotton Oil Firm

O. I. Seale, who has been district manager for Western Cotton Oil Company here for about four years, has been promoted to general manager of all company gins in three states and part of another, according to an announcement made this week. The change was effective June 15 but the family does not plan to move to Abilene, where Seale will be headquartered, until the first part of July.

Seale said his new position will include supervision of some of the firm's business operations in this area and he will make periodic trips to this section. He will oversee all cotton gins belonging to the company in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico, and a portion of Arizona.

During the time he has been here, he has had supervision of the Memphis and Elk City, Okla., oil mills, plus approximately 36 gins in the two districts. No successor has been named, Seale said Monday.

Seale will have been with the company 21 years on July 31, first becoming associated with it at Nacogdoches, Texas. In June, 1935, he was transferred to Aransas, in the Sao Paulo province of Brazil, South America, as district manager. He supervised an oil mill, about 14 gins, and a fertilizer plant.

After 11 years in that position, he was transferred back to this country, with headquarters at El Paso. He was district manager Hooser said that at certain times and conditions, beneficial insects control or assist in controlling such cotton pests as the bollworm, aphid and spider mite. On the other hand, they are of little benefit in controlling other insects, such as the fleahoppers, lygus bugs, stink bugs and thrips.

Therefore, farmers should examine their fields frequently to determine whether or not insecticides are needed, according to the county agent. Recommended treatments for fleahopper and bollworm infestations are as follows:

Fleahopper - Examine the main-stem terminal "Bud" of 100 cotton plants (about 3 or 4 inches from the top of the cotton plant), recording the adults (with wings) and nymphs (young stage-without wings). These examinations should be made at several representative points in the field. Toxaphene, or 2-1 mixture, 4 lb. or DDT, 1/2 pound per acre, 7 to 10 intervals.

Bollworm - Examine 100 plant terminals and 4 to 5 young worms are found in small squares or on tender top leaves, infestation is high enough to start treatment. When they are first deposited on the plants, bollworm eggs are white and about the size of mustard seed.

Past experience has shown that the use of DDT alone for bollworm control greatly increases the possibility of injurious aphid infestations. Any grower who uses DDT alone should be prepared for a "knockout" control of aphids. 2-1 mixture, 3 lbs. per acre.

that are protected from outside moisture, insects, rodents, bugs and other hazards, and that have adequate turning or drying equipment; and (3) Fumigated and ventilated.

In Hall County, moisture content should be 14 per cent or less for safe storage. Producers are advised to contact the county agent's or the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation offices for more detailed recommendations on storage methods and requirements.

Farmers should check available space at commercial elevators and if space cannot be found, to look into the cost and feasibility of providing their own "on-the-farm" storage.

If private storage is constructed, it should be the type which will be most suited to farmers' long-range farming operations, Hooser said.

Directors of the civic group decided to hold the "Progress Day" sessions after meeting recently with Ralph Duncan, manager of the community services department of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Representatives of the regional organization are scheduled to be present at all of Tuesday's sessions.

Suggestions coming out of the meetings are to be used in formulating a constructive, forward-looking program for this area.

Once the target is spotted on the plane's radar screen, the plane is guided into the target by the air crew and the weapons are fired automatically. The air crew may never see the target itself, except as a blip on the radarscope in the plane.

The budget for the current year totals $68,331.67.

Mayor Carl Harrison last week expressed the opinion that property valuations likely will have to be raised to take care of decreasing revenue. During the current year, councilmen have had to fine-comb city spending to keep it within the income of the City of Memphis.

Harrison said that if revenue is increased it will have to be through raising property valuations since the tax rate already is at the statutory limit of $1.50 per hundred dollar tax valuation.

appeared a reprint of an editorial written by Charles Stout, Democrat news editor, which appeared in a recent issue of The Democrat. Congressman Walter Rogers asked Congress for permission to have the editorial reprinted in the Record, and his remarks prefacing the article were as follows: "Mr. Speaker, The Memphis Democrat, of Memphis, Texas, an outstanding weekly newspaper published an editorial entitled 'Red Arms for Guatemala.' This splendid editorial points up the situation which we in this country must face. It is with pride that I make it available to the Members of Congress and everyone who has the opportunity to read the Congressional Record."

And we here at The Democrat office are really puffed up with pride. Someone suggested that McCarthy might summon the whole force to appear as witnesses before his committee. Which would be just fine, if expense money accompanied the summons.

said this could be accomplished by proper land treatment.

Another speaker, Ed Felder, executive secretary of the Texas Water Resources Committee at Austin, explained the work of his committee, which includes advocacy of a complete survey of the surface water resources of the state.

He declared that at present only about 15 per cent of moisture which falls, remains to be used for beneficial use after run-off and evaporation.

Felder explained that under a law passed in 1913, creating the State Board of Water Engineers, priority is given to municipalities, with processors, manufacturers and industries next, followed by irrigation projects.
