State Convention Of Farm Bureau Commences Nov. 8

GALVESTON—A 39-member Texas Farm Bureau resolutions committee will meet here Nov. 4-5-6 to draft tentative resolutions which later will be submitted to voting delegates for adoption, rejection or revision.

The vanguard of an expected 1,500 members will begin registering here Sunday, Nov. 8, for the organization's 1st annual convention. The meeting, at which policies will be adopted to guide the TFB through 1955, will adjourn Nov. 10.

The TFB resolutions committee has the responsibility of writing tentative resolutions based on recommendations made by county Farm Bureau conventions.

These recommendations will be sorted according to subject matter and assigned to various sub-committees. Sub-committee tentative drafts must be approved by the entire committee before they can be submitted to voting delegates.

Voting will be Nov. 10. Some 180 counties are expected to send voting delegates.

Adopted resolutions on state issues become policies of the TFB for 1955. Resolutions pertaining to national affairs become recommendations to the American Farm Bureau Federation convention which meets Dec. 12-16 in New York.

Other highlights on the state convention agenda are the state queen contest and speeches by TFB President J. Walter Hammond, Iowa Farm Bureau President Howard Hill, Senator James O. Eastland of Mississippi, and Dr. W. H. (Bill) Alexander, pastor of First Christian Church in Oklahoma City.

Amendments Bringing Farm Families Under Social Security Are Explained

The 1954 Amendments to the Social Security Act now bring Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance to most farm families. These amendments go into effect January 1, 1955 and make two main changes concerning farm people, according to John R. Sanderson, manager of the Amarillo S. S. A. office. Major changes are explained below.

If farmers hire farm help on their farms, or do farm work for other farmers, the following changes are important to you:

1. Whether farm work is covered for social security purposes, starting January 1, 1955, depends on the amount of cash earned, not on the number of days worked. Any employee paid $100 or more in cash wages for farm work during a calendar year is covered for social security purposes.

2. Any farm worker who has earned this social security coverage, should be sure to show his social security card to his employer. If an employer, be sure to demand to see the worker's card so his name and number can be included directly from the card. This information must be included when the social security tax return is made, and only by copying the name and number directly from the card can an employer be sure to have this information accurately.

3. Cash wages of less than $100 in a year are not covered for social security purposes and will not be reported.

If a farmer operates his own or a rented farm, the following changes are important:

1. If net profits are as much as $400 in 1955, a social security report will be made on these profits early in 1956 when the individual's 1955 income tax return is filed.

2. Even if net profits are less than $400 in a year, an individual on a voluntary basis, report for social security purposes up to 1/2 of his gross income before expenses, not to exceed $900.

3. This voluntary coverage applies only if individuals have net profits of less than $400 . . . coverage is compulsory if net profits are as much as $400.

Purposes of Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance are:

1. To pay retirement insurance to covered employees after reaching age 65, and in some cases to the wife or children of such persons.

2. To pay survivors insurance, in monthly payments, to the survivors of deceased workers.

The program is financed as follows:

1. For employees, the tax rate is 2 per cent of the cash wages paid, with the employer paying a matching tax of 2 per cent.

2. For the self-employed farm operator, the tax rate is 3 per cent of net profits up to a maximum of $4200 per year.

Any social security office will be glad to supply further information. The social security office for the Texas Panhandle is located in room 324 of the New Post Office Building in Amarillo. Regular visits, at least one a month, are made from that office to practically all county seat towns in the Panhandle. Visit, telephone, or write that office for further

Texas Educational Spending Lagging, UT Official Says

AUSTIN—Industrially and educationally, Texas is competing in the major leagues now, but education is playing only "excellent minor-league ball," a University of Texas official told the Texas Personnel and Management Association.

Texas now is in competition with California, New York, Michigan, Ohio, Florida, Washington and "the other top-ranking industrial empire," Dr. L. D. Haskey, University vice president and College of Education dean, said.

"Our expenditures for elementary and secondary schools are the lowest of any state in our league, and we are not even in the minors in our investment in college education," he reported. "We made a tremendous spurt forward in our support of elementary and secondary education by the enactment of the Gilmer-Aikin legislation in 1949, but a just-completed study by the Texas Research League demonstrates clearly that while we stood still between 1949 and 1954, our competitor states moved far beyond us on a more."

Texas ranks well below any of its competitors in public funds, per student enrolled, going into public colleges and universities, Dr. Haskey continued.

"Faced with the almost daily development of new industries and new professions, the state college has been under since 1951 what amounts to a legislative prohibition against developing any new educational program," he reminded.

Dr. Haskey emphasized that Texans need to invest more "brain power," as well as more money, in their educational system if they are to keep up with the academic Joneses. He called for greater citizen participation in formulating school policies and programs.

Homemakers Told Use Discretion in Housework

COLLEGE STATION—Be lazy. Do a better job, say home-management experts. Leave anything that you can get someone else to do. If you don't do it all, you are smart.

Experts call it "smart" housework. While you ask yourself questions: (1) What can you get someone else to do? (2) What can you do yourself? (3) Does it have to be done at all? (4) What can you leave undone? (5) What do you have to do, makes the difference, says Minnie Bell, management specialist for the Agricultural Extension Service.

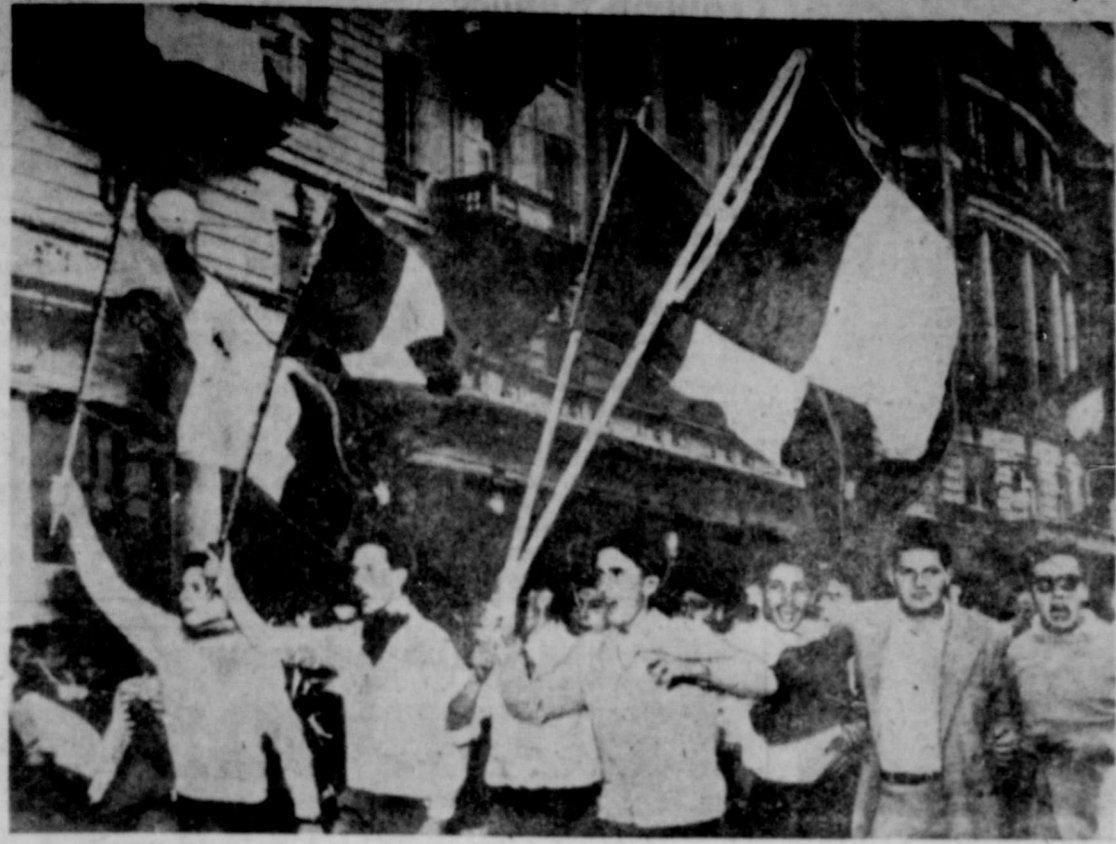

What you can leave undone? You don't want to bend, stretch or reach too far, and you can avoid it. Things within easy reach. Hang up coats on hooks. Wash dishes or something else or something else. Let dishes dry.

Some things do have to be done. You have to iron sheets, towels, socks, knitted goods. You have to wash dishes, clean the stove, mop the floor, wash the car, etc.

Management of the house is just about as important as the supply of moisture. Rainfall would provide a good answer in most cases.

Overloading Of Washing Machines Should Be Avoided For Best Results

COLLEGE STATION—For best results in your washing machine, don't overload it with too many clothes or too many large pieces of clothing. Home management specialists for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service say this advice comes as a result of an extensive study made at the Ohio Experiment Station.

Findings from the study indicate proper loading is important for successful laundering in any washing machine. Research included washing 20,000 pounds of soiled clothes from 32 different families in 5 different automatic washers and a reliable, well-known conventional or non-automatic washer for comparison.

The specialists say the research also indicates a combination of large and small pieces is practical and satisfactory for family washing. Combinations of small items washed well because they could move freely, but a load of sheets, for example, gave trouble. In agitator-type washers a load of sheets could not move freely. They billowed around the agitators, and turned over so slowly that the mechanism seemed to work continuously only on part of the washing.

For best results, the research indicates a typical assortment for an 8-pound load: 2 sheets, 2 pillow slips, 2 bath towels, 2 men's white shirts, 2 luncheon cloths, and about a pound of tea towels or other small items. In the typical family wash there will be two such loads, then a third load of dresses and undergarments; and finally a load of colored or badly soiled items that must be washed separately from the white clothes.

Appliance Cord Care Discussed By Home Specialist

COLLEGE STATION—Electric repair shops often report their biggest business is in repairing damaged appliance cords. Yet, it's easy to keep these "lifelines" of electrical appliances in good condition.

Many cord casualties result from the unfortunate practice of pulling on the cord rather than the plug, says Bernice Claytor, extension home management specialist. This eventually loosens the wire from the plug and sometimes causes a short circuit.

Here's how to disconnect for safety and for longer cord life: If there is a switch at the outlet, Mrs. Claytor says, turn it off before you pull the plug. This prevents sparking between metal prongs and outlet which damages metal and in time causes a poor connection.

If there's no switch, disconnect the plug from the wall outlet first. Grasp the plug—not the cord—and pull straight. I the plug sticks, rock gently from side to side as you pull to loosen one connection at a time.

It's a good practice, too, she adds, to disconnect electric cords from the outlet each time you finish using an appliance.

When cords are not in use, keep them in a clean, dry, cool place. A permanently attached cord may be wrapped around the appliance loosely, but make sure the appliance is cool first.

Keep cords free from kinks, knots or sharp bends which break fine wires or insulated covering, Mrs. Claytor concludes. Cords may be coiled loosely on a shelf or in a drawer.

Recent rains bolstered the agricultural outlook and farmers in many areas are busy planting winter legume crops. Legumes should be planted as soon as moisture supplies are adequate to insure a stand and get the crop off to a good start. Legumes normally are planted in Texas until about November 1.

Church Of Christ Announces Services

Bible Study begins Sunday morning at 9:45 a. m. with classes for all. At 10:45 a. m. the song worship will begin for the regular morning service.

The sermon subject will be "The Grace of Giving" II Cor. 8:1-15. At this time of the year our attention is called to numerous appeals for a united fund for worthy causes. While many will heed this call for help, few will respond to the Heavenly appeal as made by Paul in I Cor. 16:1-2. Someone said that a person is not really converted to the Lord until his "pocket-book is converted." This may be true, but it is also noteworthy that a close examination of the New Testament reveals that giving unto the Lord is a voluntary matter. Four principle points given in the New Testament concerning this grace will be studied in this lesson.

The sermon for Sunday night will be "Leaning on Broken Staves" II Kings 18:21-24, with services beginning at 7:00 p. m. This lesson to Israel, who did not call upon the Lord for help, but upon one who would do more harm than good, may be applied to many today who should look unto the Lord rather than elsewhere for assistance. It is dangerous to depend upon ourselves, or doctrine of men, or riches lest they "go into his hand and pierce it," but it is safe to look unto the Lord and His revealed Will for our salvation.

Ladies Bible class meets Tuesday afternoon at 3:30, with study beginning with Acts 13:28. Mid-week Bible study begins at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday.

"The reason people are down on the Bible is that they're not up on the Bible."

The Texas cotton crop is the most valuable crop grown in a single political subdivision in the world.

Youth Of City Gather $218.00 In CROP Drive

Approximately $218.00 was collected for the Christian Rural Overseas Program by a group of Memphis youths who called at residences throughout the city Sunday evening, Mrs. Carl Harrison said today.

Over 65 youths from the various churches in the city joined forces in the fund-raising campaign. The group met at the Methodist Church at 8:30 p. m. for instructions and assignments to various parts of the city.

Later they returned to the church for a devotional and were then served hot chocolate and cookies.

Campaigns of this nature over the United States will enable CROP to send milk to the hungry of the world at the rate of $20 worth of milk for every dollar collected by young people.

Mrs. Harrison said the youth were well pleased with the local donations, but are looking forward to doing even more to raise funds for the campaign next year.

Federal Agricultural Exams Announced

In addition, for Junior Agricultural Assistant and Fishery Marketing Specialist, they must have had appropriate education or experience. The Student Trainee examination covers various fields of science and engineering and is for recruiting college students in these fields for participation in special training programs requiring alternate periods of attendance at college and work in a Federal agency.

Further information, including instructions on applying, and application forms may be obtained from the Commission's representative, H. C. Pounds, located at the post office in Memphis or from the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C. Applications for the Junior Agricultural Assistant examination must be received, or postmarked not later than November 9, 1954. The other examinations are open until further notice.

The old saying "as pretty as a picture" isn't modern anymore. Today, the saying goes "as pretty as a new Tappan gas range." Shoppers are saying that the new Tappans have been designed to add smartness and distinction to any kitchen.

To match the beauty of this favorite gas range, are such features as an all-chrome top and valve panel, and a built-in griddle. Every line, form, dimension and angle of this new range is planned to provide more efficient cooking. The high back panel protects walls from popping greasy foods, places instruments at convenient eye-level and positions the

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

Soil-Saving Farmers Get Tax Break Under New Law

Expenses incurred by farmers in the prevention of soil erosion have been given favorable tax treatment under the new 1954 Internal Revenue Code.

Prior to enactment of this new provision, the Internal Revenue Service had attempted, with varying success, to require the capitalization of expenses incurred in contour farming, terracing and other soil erosion work.

The new law permits farmers to deduct in each year all expenditures incurred in that year for "soil or water conservation in respect of land used in farming, or for the prevention of erosion of land used in farming."

This deduction is limited, however, to 25 per cent of the gross income derived from farming for the taxable year. Any excess over and above the 25 per cent is deductible in succeeding years, but in each year the entire deduction is limited to 25 per cent of gross income.

This liberalizing provision does not allow the deduction of expenditures for the purchase, construction, improvement or installation of depreciable machinery, tile, masonry, metal or wood structures, appliances and facilities such as tanks, pipes, reservoirs, canals, dams, wells, pumps and conduits. Such expenditures, as under the prior law, must be capitalized and deducted over the estimated useful life of the asset.

Those expenses which may be deducted include the cost of leveling, grading, terracing, contour furrowing, construction, control and protection of diversion canals, drainage ditches, earthen dams, water works, outlets and ponds, brush removal and planting of windbreaks and other treatment or moving of earth, provided that these expenditures are incurred for the prevention of erosion of farm lands.

A farmer may elect to deduct these expenses incurred in 1954 on his 1954 tax return, or if no such expenses were incurred in 1954, may make the election on his tax return for the first year in which such expenditures are incurred. However, if the election is not made at that time, the taxpayer must obtain the consent of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue before being allowed to expense these items.

Once made, an election is binding for all subsequent years, unless the taxpayer requests and obtains authority to make the change.

Annual Texas Tech Homecoming Set For Nov. 12-13

LUBBOCK—An Old Timers Reunion for the classes of 1926 through 1938 will be one of the highlights of the 29th annual Texas Tech Homecoming, scheduled November 12-13.

Members of the 13 classes and their spouses will be honored at a dance, Friday night, November 12 in the ballroom of the Lubbock Hotel, according to L. C. Walker, executive secretary of the Ex-Students Association at Tech.

Get-together parties for the classes of 1939 through 1943, 1944 through 1949, and 1950 through 1954, will also be held that night in the Student Union Building, Walker said.

Registration for Homecoming Alumni will be held in the downtown Lubbock hotels and on the campus that Friday afternoon and Saturday morning.

Other features of this year's celebration will be a pep rally and bonfire, south of the gymnasium, on Friday night; the Homecoming parade, football game between Tech and Tulsa University, and the annual Homecoming dance in the Recreation Hall on Saturday night.

Plans for the traditional pregame buffet luncheon are still tentative, Walker said.

The annual meeting of the Ex-Students Association Council will be held in the Student Union Building the afternoon of Nov. 12.

Miss Ann Lee Turner, senior coed from Fort Worth, is this year's student Homecoming chairman.

A machine developed by scientists of the USDA detects the presence of green-rot bacteria in eggs. This bacterial infection causes more egg spoilage than any other egg rot. The new electronic machine detects the presence in the egg of the bacteria at a very early stage of development and thus can be used to eliminate infected eggs from market and storage channels.

Duck And Goose Prospects Said Good In Texas

AUSTIN—Texas duck and geese hunters should have "a pretty good" season, judging by advance indications, says Howard Dodgen, executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

The waterfowl season opens in Texas at noon Friday, November 5, to continue through January 3.

"Recent good rains in East Texas, and particularly along the Gulf Coast have provided a promising setting for the fall shoot," said the executive secretary.

He said reports from northern parts of the Central flyway indicated "a fair population of ducks and apparently some increase in geese, especially snow geese." He added that "there is no great abundance, but enough to justify the liberal Texas season of 60 days."

Observers in coastal areas were pleased with the recent rains.

"Come just in time, but we need more," said Wildlife Biologist J. R. Singleton at Winnie. "It had been pretty dry, and we were afraid lack of water in the marshes, where the birds feed, might prompt them to leapfrog Texas and go into Mexico and Central America," he added.

"There also was danger from marsh fires, and likewise concern that ducks and geese would concentrate around stagnant water and create the risk of extensive botulism. But, for the moment, this hazard has been dissipated, because of good coastal rains ranging up to 10 inches in the Coastal Bend area around Corpus Christi," he added.

Game Warden Tom Waddell at Eagle Lake said the recent rains have helped water and feeding conditions in Colorado County, which is noted for its concentrations of both ducks and geese.

Singleton, Waddell and other reported "a normal movement" of waterfowl from northern nesting areas into Texas.

Regulations are practically unchanged from last year. The duck limit is five per day, or ten in possession. The goose limit is five in the aggregate per day, or five in possession.

Shooting hours, after the opening day, are from one-half hour before sunrise until sunset. Guns must be plugged for three-shell limit.

The executive secretary suggested that hunters check with their game wardens or read their hunting digests and, above all, to be careful with firearms and "always get permission of landowners."

Publication Tells Oil Well Operation

AUSTIN—A new University of Texas publication tells the dramatic story of how oilmen have won a half-million petroleum wells in operation.

The University's Petroleum Extension Service produced the page booklet, which explains maintenance in simple language and color and black-and-white illustrations. The American Association of Oilwell Drilling Contractors and Texas Education Department cooperated in the project.

Some petroleum operations "as delicate as breaking up and some require the explosive force of a block-buster bomb," writers declare. "The perfection of these operations by control in the bottom of a bore at a distance of a mile is one of the minor miracles of the oil industry."

The publication is the fifth "primer" series on oilfield operations published by the Petroleum Extension Service. The price is $1.50 per copy.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

Soil-Saving Farmers Get Tax Break Under New Law

Expenses incurred by farmers in the prevention of soil erosion have been given favorable tax treatment under the new 1954 Internal Revenue Code.

Prior to enactment of this new provision, the Internal Revenue Service had attempted, with varying success, to require the capitalization of expenses incurred in contour farming, terracing and other soil erosion work.

The new law permits farmers to deduct in each year all expenditures incurred in that year for "soil or water conservation in respect of land used in farming, or for the prevention of erosion of land used in farming."

This deduction is limited, however, to 25 per cent of the gross income derived from farming for the taxable year. Any excess over and above the 25 per cent is deductible in succeeding years, but in each year the entire deduction is limited to 25 per cent of gross income.

This liberalizing provision does not allow the deduction of expenditures for the purchase, construction, improvement or installation of depreciable machinery, tile, masonry, metal or wood structures, appliances and facilities such as tanks, pipes, reservoirs, canals, dams, wells, pumps and conduits. Such expenditures, as under the prior law, must be capitalized and deducted over the estimated useful life of the asset.

Those expenses which may be deducted include the cost of leveling, grading, terracing, contour furrowing, construction, control and protection of diversion canals, drainage ditches, earthen dams, water works, outlets and ponds, brush removal and planting of windbreaks and other treatment or moving of earth, provided that these expenditures are incurred for the prevention of erosion of farm lands.

A farmer may elect to deduct these expenses incurred in 1954 on his 1954 tax return, or if no such expenses were incurred in 1954, may make the election on his tax return for the first year in which such expenditures are incurred. However, if the election is not made at that time, the taxpayer must obtain the consent of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue before being allowed to expense these items.

Once made, an election is binding for all subsequent years, unless the taxpayer requests and obtains authority to make the change.

Annual Texas Tech Homecoming Set For Nov. 12-13

LUBBOCK—An Old Timers Reunion for the classes of 1926 through 1938 will be one of the highlights of the 29th annual Texas Tech Homecoming, scheduled November 12-13.

Members of the 13 classes and their spouses will be honored at a dance, Friday night, November 12 in the ballroom of the Lubbock Hotel, according to L. C. Walker, executive secretary of the Ex-Students Association at Tech.

Get-together parties for the classes of 1939 through 1943, 1944 through 1949, and 1950 through 1954, will also be held that night in the Student Union Building, Walker said.

Registration for Homecoming Alumni will be held in the downtown Lubbock hotels and on the campus that Friday afternoon and Saturday morning.

Other features of this year's celebration will be a pep rally and bonfire, south of the gymnasium, on Friday night; the Homecoming parade, football game between Tech and Tulsa University, and the annual Homecoming dance in the Recreation Hall on Saturday night.

Plans for the traditional pregame buffet luncheon are still tentative, Walker said.

The annual meeting of the Ex-Students Association Council will be held in the Student Union Building the afternoon of Nov. 12.

Miss Ann Lee Turner, senior coed from Fort Worth, is this year's student Homecoming chairman.

A machine developed by scientists of the USDA detects the presence of green-rot bacteria in eggs. This bacterial infection causes more egg spoilage than any other egg rot. The new electronic machine detects the presence in the egg of the bacteria at a very early stage of development and thus can be used to eliminate infected eggs from market and storage channels.

Duck And Goose Prospects Said Good In Texas

AUSTIN—Texas duck and geese hunters should have "a pretty good" season, judging by advance indications, says Howard Dodge, executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

The waterfowl season opens in Texas at noon Friday, November 5, to continue through January 3.

"Recent good rains in East Texas, and particularly along the Gulf Coast have provided a promising setting for the fall shoot," said the executive secretary.

He said reports from northern parts of the Central flyway indicated "a fair population of ducks and apparently some increase in geese, especially snow geese." He added that "there is no great abundance, but enough to justify the liberal Texas season of 60 days."

Observers in coastal areas were pleased with the recent rains.

"Came just in time, but we need more," said Wildlife Biologist J. R. Singleton at Winnie. "It had been pretty dry, and we were afraid lack of water in the marshes, where the birds feed, might prompt them to leapfrog Texas and go into Mexico and Central America," he added.

"There also was danger from marsh fires, and likewise concern that ducks and geese would concentrate around stagnant water and create the risk of extensive botulism. But, for the moment, this hazard has been dissipated, because of good coastal rains ranging up to 10 inches in the Coastal Bend area around Corpus Christi," he added.

Game Warden Tom Waddell at Eagle Lake said the recent rains have helped water and feeding conditions in Colorado County, which is noted for its concentrations of both ducks and geese.

Singleton, Waddell and other reported "a normal movement" of waterfowl from northern nesting areas into Texas.

Regulations are practically unchanged from last year. The duck limit is five per day, or ten in possession. The goose limit is five in the aggregate per day, or five in possession.

Shooting hours, after the opening day, are from one-half hour before sunrise until sunset. Guns must be plugged for three-shell limit.

The executive secretary suggested that hunters check with their game wardens or read their hunting digests and, above all, to be careful with firearms and "always get permission of landowners."

Publication Tells Oil Well Operation

AUSTIN—A new University of Texas publication tells the story of how oilmen keep their half-million petroleum wells in operation.

The University's Petroleum Extension Service produced the page booklet, which explains maintenance in simple language and color and black-and-white illustrations. The American Association of Oilwell Drilling Engineers and Texas Education Department cooperated in the project.

Some petroleum operators "as delicate as breaking up and some require the use of a force of a block-buster bomb," writers declare. "The performance of these operations by control in the bottom of the bore at a distance of a mile or more is one of the minor miracles of the oil industry."

The publication is the first "primer" series on oilfield operations published by the Petroleum Extension Service. The price is $1.50 per copy.

Carpet Control Is Outlined

COLLEGE STATION—Careful thorough cleaning with the latest vacuum cleaners, the use of DDT and other insecticides for protection against the destructive clothes moths and carpet beetles, and the use of special cleaning, especially vacuum cleaner, prevents dust and hair from accumulating and offering extra food for the insects. Cleaning with DDT removes the insects and their eggs.

A good idea, says Bernice Clayton, extension home management specialist, to rotate rugs and occasionally since insects feed under heavy furniture it is difficult to clean. Clayton suggests a spray of DDT solution for carpets at intervals of two months. It takes about one-half to two quarts of DDT solution for a 9 by 12 rug of average size.

Special attention to parts of the carpet that will be under a sofa, bookcase or other furniture.

Washed animal hair and wool under rugs will also need a spray on both sides, says Clayton.

Attaching wall-to-wall carpeting requires particular attention to the edges all the way around.

Clayton, the specialist says that many expensive broadloom carpets are made of wool and are very susceptible to insect damage. It is advisable to have a reliable pest-control cleaning firm.

Spread Washdays Throughout Week, Specialist Advises

COLLEGE STATION—Machines are responsible for this latest trend, but even washday is going modern.

It's now considered much more efficient for housewives who have machine washers to scrap their weekly washday and spread the families laundry work through the week, says Bernice Clayton, extension home management specialist.

Wash a load of clothes each day instead of four or five loads on a single day, she explains. This way there's less tax on the hot water supply, on the space for drying and even on the space for clothes storage—all considerations in today's smaller homes.

Many mothers are finding that by washing more frequently, the youngsters actually need fewer clothes. Thus, less closet and other

Texans Urged To Try Angling In Salt Water

ROCKPORT—Texans visiting the Gulf Coast for the waterfowl harvest should try their hand at salt water angling while in the area, recommended C. W. Reid, director of coastal fisheries for the Texas Game and Fish Commission.

Reid said this was an "old custom" for the regular visitors to the Coast and that newcomers might follow suit.

The waterfowl season opens at noon November 5.

"November usually is one of our better fishing months," said the director, "and good catches of trout, redfish and drum are common."

He suggested hunters interested in facilities should write the Chambers of Commerce at such key coastal places as Rockport, Corpus Christi, Port Isabel, Beaumont, Port Arthur, Galveston, Palacios and Port Lavaca.

The director said one advantage of fall fishing along the Coast by persons from inland areas is that cooler weather facilitates

He emphasized that fishing has been good there all year. The Coast is showing a comeback from the effects of the heavy freeze a few years ago that destroyed many fish caught along the shallow shorelines.

FIREMEN MAKE TWO OUT-OF-TOWN RUNS

The Memphis Fire Department made runs to two out-of-town fires within a three-hour period Monday afternoon. The first was to the site of a burning dwelling near Lakeview and the second was to the Paymaster Gin at Lesley.

The dwelling was a stucco house 2 miles southeast of Lakeview, belonging to V. C. Durrett, according to Bill Vardeman, driver for the local fire department. It was a total loss, Vardeman said.

The structure was occupied by the Lupe Sahagun family but only a young son was home at the time of the fire. The boy ran to a nearby field for his father when an oil stove caught on fire. The fire was burning fiercely by the time the father and son returned.

Neighbors saw the fire and summoned Memphis firefighters about 12:10 p. m. Monday.

One truck made the run but by the time the firemen arrived at the scene the house was practically gone.

About 2:30 p. m. Monday, the fire department was notified of the Lesley gin fire. Again, one truck answered the call.

On arrival at Lesley, firemen found the engine room of the gin ablaze.

The fire burned a stairway on the inside of the room and the roof but the gin was expected to be out of operation only four or five hours, according to Vardeman.

Vardeman said the blaze was a stubborn one and that firemen stayed at the scene until about 4 p. m.

He explained that the fire apparently started when a spark from a butane engine ignited some cotton lint in the room.

One truck from the Clarendon Fire Department arrived at the gin a few minutes after the one from here and helped bring the blaze under control, Vardeman said.

Motorists Urged To Have Vehicles Inspected Soon

An appeal was issued this week for automobile owners to begin thinking about getting cars and trucks checked at the state's inspection stations.

"Texans, individualists that they are, have already started a potential waiting line at the state's automobile inspection stations," Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said Wednesday.

"This waiting line shaping up now will be seen in the days preceding the inspection deadline next April 15th."

The director based his conclusion on the fact that auto inspections were running about 100,000 behind the figure for this time in 1953. He said that undue waiting to secure a check of vehicles may be avoided by motorists if they will visit one of the inspection stations at an early date.

Authorized inspection stations in Memphis include Foxhall Motor Company, Potts Chevrolet Company, and Sisk Motor Company.

"None of the stations are too rushed to give you prompt attention at this time," Garrison stated, "but indications now are pointing to long lines at most stations in April. This situation can be averted if motorists will visit a station in the near future, and secure the annual inspection."

Garrison pointed out that members of the Texas Highway Patrol handled some 12,000 violations of the Motor Vehicle Inspection Law during the period from April 15 to Sept. 1, 1954.

Assembly of God Church Revival Is In Progress

A revival meeting began Wednesday evening at the Assembly of God Church and will continue through November 14. Rev. Fred L. Ridener, pastor, announced today.

Services will be held each evening at 7:30 p. m. Evangelist Clinton E. Vanzant of Portales, N. M., is doing the preaching.

This money augments the pension provided by the government, and it is the only means of aid the disabled men have to help their families by their own efforts. Quite often this money means aid for members of the veteran's family who would otherwise have to rely on charity.

No set price is charged for poppies, but each individual is asked to contribute according to their wishes, the sponsors stated.

Now 'Sign Of Life' Will Be Placed On Many Texas Highways During Nov.

A new "sign of life" will appear on many of the highways of Texas this month. It's a new highway traffic sign and, like most of the others which are familiar roadside markers to motorists, it is designed to prevent costly motor vehicle accidents and save human lives.

These new signs will read "SPEED LIMITS RADAR ENFORCED" and the Texas Highway Department has slated their early construction in order that they will be in place by mid-November when the Texas Department of Public Safety is expected to begin the operation of Radar equipped patrol cars on the principal traffic arteries throughout the state.

Texas will thus join 31 other states and 50 cities which are currently employing Radar as a device for lowering the traffic accident rate due to excessive speed.

During the past several months the Texas Department of Public Safety has conducted an educational demonstration program of the Radar units in each of the 16 Texas Highway Patrol Districts within the state. Colonel Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the DPS says that these demonstrations have been staged for the benefit of members of the press, radio and TV as well as for public officials, including judges and prosecutors, in order to acquaint them with the operation and the accuracy of the devices.

"We know of no instance," said Garrison, "in which those who have witnessed these demonstrations have failed to acknowledge the accuracy and the fairness of this method of coping with fast drivers."

The Public Safety director also pointed out that speed continues to be the principal contributing factor in the State's fatal traffic accident picture. He emphasized that Radar is no "cure-all" for the traffic problem and, in no way replaces manpower in the enforcement of the speed laws.

"Rather," Garrison added, "we consider it only as another tool to be utilized in protecting the public against the consequences of the acts of the thoughtfulness, the careless and the indifferent drivers who constitute a menace to the public safety by driving too fast for conditions."

According to Garrison the "SPEED LIMITS RADAR ENFORCED" signs will be erected immediately outside the city limits of towns on the approach to stretches of highway where the mobile Radar units will be employed and just inside the state lines on those roadways where they will be in use. Additional signs will be placed, also, between the cities where it is deemed necessary to inform the public of the enforcement procedure being employed.

Fire Destroys Sahagun Home Near Lakeview

The four-room home of Mr. and Mrs. Lupe Sahagun, south of Lakeview, was completely destroyed by fire about noon Monday. The house is located on the farm operated by V. C. Durrett.

Mr. Durrett said Tuesday the Sahagun family lost all their household furnishings and clothing for the nine members of the family.

Tony Sahagun, 10-year-old son, was home alone when the fire started since he was ill and unable to attend school that morning. His mother was in a local hospital while his father was working in the field nearby. The other six children were in school.

The fire started from a kerosene heater. Tony noticed the heater was flooding and had ignited; so he ran to the field for his father. By the time they returned it was too late to save any of the furnishings.

Mr. Durrett said neither the furniture or house was covered by insurance.

Mr. and Mrs. Connie Ray Robertson and Glenn of Fort Worth spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Robertson of Lakeview.

Wesleyan Guild Continues Study Of India, Ceylon

Members of the Wesleyan Service Guild of the First Methodist Church met Monday evening in the church annex for the third session of the mission study on India, Pakistan and Ceylon.

The guild president, Mrs. A. O. Gidden introduced the call to worship with a prayer. Mrs. Mary Owens read the scripture, Acts 10: 34-43. The worship center was carefully planned to enhance the study theme.

Mrs. Mary Owens, leader of Mission Study announced the program.

In answer to the question, "What Is Being Done To Meet The Needs In These Countries?" Mrs. W. V. Coursey said, "It is deeply disturbing to Americans to discover that in spite of their generous giving, and high ideals, they are regarded with suspicion in these countries. But one single new factor has made possible an improvement in Indian-American relations, and that was the character and personality of Chester L. Bowles, former American ambassador at Delhi.

Mrs. W. A. Smith gave a review of the book, "Change of Heart" by H. A. Ehrensperger. He had this to say about his three years in India as a missionary, "I was aware of the tremendous social revolution going on and wanted to find out what was causing this change. I was eager to show the fascinating way in which religious can rub against each other in India. She needs Christian prophets arising out of her own culture. What happened in this story could start religious awakening when it happens to the right person."

One guest, Mrs. Edwin Hutcherson, and these members enjoyed tasty refreshments Mesdames Lee Brown, Clyde Morris, H. B. Bennett, Ruby Compton, John Fowler, A. O. Gidden, George Greenhaw, Louie Merrill, Mary Owens, Robert Spicer, W. A. Smith, L. A. Stilwell, Walter Jameson, J. H. Sharp, W. V. Coursey and Miss Ira Hutcherson.

A silver throne was on the 50-yard line in the center of the field. Miss Smith was escorted to the position before the throne. Members of the pep squad and the Cubs formed a football around the group, after which the lights were momentarily turned off and green lights illuminated the scene. Doyle Walker placed a white helmet on her head and proclaimed Miss Smith to be 1954 Football Queen. Eddie Braidfoot presented her with an arm bouquet of white carnations from the team. Monty Richerson then presented each of the pep squad leaders with a carnation corsage with a green "E" centering each one.

The group then sang "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," and the Estelline school song.

The queen was attired in a white formal gown accented with green jewelry. She was escorted to the sideline where she sat during the game which was dedicated to her.

The game was a hard-fought battle between two evenly matched teams. The kicking of Doyle Walker kept the Owls in their territory most of the game, which was a nothing-to-nothing game until the last seconds of the game when the Owls completed a pass and made the only score of the game, but failed to make the extra point.

Clarendon Defeats Memphis, 13-7, Tally Shortly Before Game's End

Clarendon Bronchos scored the winning touchdown in the closing moments here Friday night to mark a hard-won victory from the Cyclone, 13-7. The contest between the traditional rivals of the gridiron of Stadium in perfect football fashion. The tilt was a complete game.

Receiving the opening kick from the Bronchos, the Cyclone marched 75 yards to mark the only touchdown. The tally ended by Halfback Dean Hill from a 27-yard swing through the line failed.

Early in the third quarter, Sustaire intercepted a Broncho pass and returned it 22 yards to the visitors' 25 yard line. However, Clarendon held and the ball went over on the Broncho 22, to stop the Cyclone threat.

Late in the same period, Memphis pushed deep into Clarendon territory and on the first play in the fourth quarter put the ball on the visitors' 15, before a 5-yard loss and a 15-yard penalty forced the Cyclone to punt, the ball going out of bounds on the Clarendon 10. Later, the Bronchos had to punt from their own 15, and the ball ended up in Memphis' possession on the Clarendon 39.

Memphis was forced to punt and the ball went out of bounds, giving the Bronchos possession on their 11. After a series of downs, the visitors punted. Memphis fumbled and Clarendon recovered on their 44.

Two Broncho passes were incomplete but a third netted 13 yards, putting the ball on the Memphis' 43. From there, Johnson tossed to Right End R. Martin, who raced 43 yards to cross the Cyclone goal line standing up. Hill plunged over for the extra point.

On the following kickoff, Sustaire returned the ball 41 yards to the Memphis' 47. A pass was incomplete, then Quarterback Jimmy Davis picked up three yards as the game ended.

Memphis and Clarendon each made eight first downs, while Memphis accumulated 152 yards rushing, to 114 for Clarendon.

Gas Firm Honored For Safety Record

The Transmission Division of the Lone Star Gas Company was honored recently by the National Safety Council, for having won first place in the Group I Public Utilities Division of the Council's 1953-54 National Fleet Safety contest.

A. W. Breeland of Dallas, assistant director of personnel, accepted the award for Lone Star, during ceremonies in Chicago.

The Transmission Division of Lone Star operated a total of 4,823,283 miles during the contest period and posted an accident rate of .29 accidents per 100,000 miles.

More than 1,400 fleets throughout the nation competed in the contest.

Grain Storage Preparations Outlined By Agent

Grain should be stored only in bins which have been thoroughly cleaned of waste materials such as old grain, trash, feed sacks and other objects that may furnish living quarters for insects, says County Agent W. B. Hooser. Sometimes it is necessary to "sweep down" ceilings and walls, as well as floors, in order to remove hidden debris. Grain frequently collects in very small crevices, therefore if such are present they should be covered with builders molding to eliminate the possibility of grain collecting in them in the future.

After bins have been thoroughly cleaned, spray the inner surfaces with either DDT, 2 1/2 per cent, or Methoxychlor, 2 1/2 per cent, at the rate of 2 gallons per 1,000 square feet of surface area.

Either insecticide is available as wettable powders or emulsion concentrates. Add two pounds of 50 per cent wettable powder to 5 gallons of water, or one-half gallon of 25 per cent emulsion concentrate to 5 gallons of water.

Spray mixtures, containing .5 per cent pyrethrins or allethrin also are effective when applied to walls and floors.

Only grain which is to be used for seed should be treated with 3 per cent DDT or 3 per cent methoxychlor dust (one ounce per bushel), Hooser warns.

Grain that will be used as feed may be treated with protectants containing .05 per cent pyrethrins (synergized pyrethrum), .8 per cent piperonyl butoxide and 99.15 per cent talc, applied at the rate of one pound per 10 bushels of grain. One trade name for this material is pyreneone. This dust mixture properly applied to clean sorghum grain dried to a uniform moisture content (10 to 12 per cent), gave protection up to five months.

However, the material was not effective under high temperatures and high moisture condition which afford favorable situations for insect development. The protectant also has little or no effect on grain already infested with insects. Stored grain that has become infested with insects in the field should be fumigated whether a protectant is to be used or not.

The application of plenty of the right kind of fertilizer will materially increase the value of small grain pastures.

Attention: Farmers Interested In Irrigation

There has been a change in the procedure concerning declarations of areas as eligible for soil and water conservation loans under Public Law 597. Formerly, the eligibility of an area was based on available information and recommendations of the Director of the Extension Service, State Soil Conservationist, Chairman of the Board of Water Engineers, and the official in charge of the USGS Water Resources Branch. At a recent meeting of the State Advisory Committee and representatives of the above agencies, the entire state was designated for approval of soil and water conservation loans for the development of underground water for irrigation based on test hole drilling and soil and water analysis showing that sufficient water of acceptable quality for the purpose intended can be developed within an economic depth.

The trend toward irrigation in this country is becoming more apparent all the time. It will probably mean that some marked changes will have to be made in the farm programs within the next several years in order to prevent discrimination between irrigated and dry land sections and in order to maintain a balanced food and fiber production throughout the entire country.

Cheese And Diplomacy
The committee for a National Trade Policy, Inc. is sending out reprints of an article which appeared in Collier's Sept. 3, 1954, written by William H. Draper, Jr. The entire article would indicate that the United States is losing customers to Communist Russia because of an unstable tariff policy. The writer uses Danish blue cheese as an example to show that U. S. diplomatic relations suffered seriously when a quota was placed on imports of cheese. The article charges the action of Congress to pressure from American dairymen. It points out that the Mutual Security Agency of this country had taught the Danes how to make and package cheese to suit American taste. It also contends that the action resulted in a large monetary loss to the Danes, a loss of one million dollars to the Mutual Security Agency and, therefore, the taxpayers, the delivery of a Danish tanker to Russia, and some other consequences. It was claimed that U. S. relations with Denmark were strained and that our subsequent negotiations with that country have not been the best. You can expect to hear a great deal in the near future about free world trade. Weigh it and analyze it very carefully.

Community had come into being, we were committed to furnish our fair share of forces for the defense of Europe. We have not yet repeated that commitment under the Paris Agreement, but Secretary Dulles has stated that he would recommend that we do so, if the new arrangement is approved. West Germany will have about 500,000 men in their three services. They will have about 12 divisions in the Army, an Air Force of proportionate strength, and some naval units which will probably be small. They will not be allowed to manufacture atomic, chemical, nor biological weapons.

West Germany

The agreements signed at Paris on Oct. 23, which, if ratified, will change the status of West Germany, were protocols to three treaties, as follows: (1) Protocol of Accession of the Federal Republic of Germany to the North Atlantic Treaty. (2) Protocol to the Brussels Treaty. This will bring Germany and Italy into the Brussels Treaty and will provide the machinery with which to control armaments. (3) Protocol granting sovereignty to the Federal Republic of Germany. The 14 NATO countries and the Federal Republic of Germany are involved in these agreements.

No new commitments were made by the United States in the Paris agreements. However, we have a general commitment under the North Atlantic Treaty to the effect that an armed attack on any one of the NATO nations will be considered an armed attack on all. Another, which has not yet been expressed, but which will probably be our main commitment, has to do with keeping our troops in Europe. If the European Defense

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Johnson of Sherman, Okla., have been visiting here with Mrs. A. B. Jones mother of Mrs. Johnson, and J. W. Johnson, Sr., father of Mr. Johnson. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson had been to Chicago and motored back to Memphis. Mrs. Johnson flew back to participate in the election November 2. While here, they attended the Ex-student luncheon and football game.

Mrs. Bertha Wilburn of Clarendon is visiting her sister and brother, Mrs. Byron Baldwin, and E. P. Thompson.

Efficiency Hikes Farm Productivity

American industry at one time more or less held a corner on efficiency and productive capacity but his is no longer true. Today, industry has been joined by another production giant—American agriculture. This has occurred within the past two decades and was made possible by the wholesale use of mechanized equipment, such as tractors, trucks and harvesting machinery.

Not long ago, Farm Journal had this to say in an editorial. "Farmers produce so abundantly that 85 per cent of the population can now choose other kinds of jobs. If farmers were not so efficient, a lot more people would have to go to work farming. This is an efficiency that since before the war has increased farm output by about 40 per cent, and does it with 17 per cent less labor."

Which represents a fine tribute to the progressiveness of the farmers of this nation, and to the tools and techniques they have adopted to bring about this revolution in agriculture in a relatively short time.

Electricity has provided a powerful force for improving working and living conditions on farms and chemistry likewise has been a great help, by furnishing fertilizers and weed and insect killers.

Another ally in the drastic change in the farm picture has been the farm equipment industry which has built machinery that enables farmers to produce more food and fibre at less cost and time—and in addition, provides the means for conserving the land so that productivity may be increased even more, and at the same time, saves the "good earth" for future generations.

It may seem that this boost in farm productivity may have gotten us into a "corner," since there appears to be a surplus of nearly every agricultural commodity at the present time. However, many farm, business and governmental leaders declare that this situation will be eliminated—and within the next few years.

Some of the things upon which they base their beliefs include our steadily increasing population, our rising standard of living, and the potential market, offered by the millions and millions of persons throughout the world who do not now have all they want to eat and wear.

All of this, coupled with continuing improvements in farming, makes us feel that the future of American agriculture will become increasingly brighter as the years go by.

Radars Due On Texas Highways

Speeders in Texas soon will have a "cop" to contend with that they probably will not be able to outrun, no matter how fast they drive. For radar—already in use in some other states, including neighboring Oklahoma and New Mexico—is coming to the highways of Texas.

According to Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, the Texas Highway Patrol will begin using radar speed meters this month to bring speeders under control. The safety department director says that while alcohol and fatigue are important causative factors in traffic accidents, records in his department indicate that speed stands alone as a common factor that determines the severity of accidents.

Garrison explains that the speed problem which radar is expected to help solve, involves a relatively small percentage of drivers in Texas. He says that about 10 per cent operate vehicles at unsafe speeds in the neighborhood of, and usually considerably beyond 70 miles an hour. This group, he says, is a heavy contributor to the one-driver accident toll which last year accounted for 60 per cent of all fatal mishaps on rural roads.

Speeders will not be properly controlled, he goes on, until the probability of arrest is raised to a high point. Since insufficient highway patrolmen are not available to achieve this goal, the Department of Public Safety is turning to radar for help. On this point, Garrison states that a limited number of radar units, coupled with wide publicity might accomplish in two months what otherwise would require a year.

The safety director says radar is no cure-all, to traffic ills, for it draws heavily on manpower while waging a battle against one violation only.

Says Garrison, "We consider it only another weapon in the arsenal of society to protect the citizenship against the consequences of the acts of the thoughtless, the careless, and the indifferent."

"We have read reports from other states, in which speeders who have been arrested through radar have been quoted as thinking they were being treated unfairly, even though signs were posted at intervals along highways, warning that they were radar patrolled."

We personally cannot understand where anyone caught in a traffic violation—certainly one as dangerous as speeding—has a valid reason for complaint, for the purpose behind it all is to make life safer and surer for all motorists—including the offending speeders.

Press Paragraphs— QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

GOOD OLD DAYS

Folks who like to talk about "the good old days" are more than likely talking through their hats—few would turn the clock back if they could.

"The good old days" are remembered as happy, carefree days when people enjoyed the simple pleasures of life. But they also were days of long hours of back-breaking toil.

Who for example, would patronize the county grocery store if one were in business here today? A person could find the cracker barrel, the pickles and the wheel of cheese in the same place. The old store had an aroma of salt meat, bananas, apples and other delicacies that one never forgot.

The lack of change gave it an air of permanence and made it seem like an old friend. But today no one would buy crackers that had to be handled by a clerk. You wouldn't buy cheese where flies were walking over the cloth that covered it.

You wouldn't think of getting meat or milk except from refrigerated counters. You wouldn't want to trade at a store where they never heard of frozen foods.

That is one reason why the cost of living has gone up—the spread in price between the farmer and the consumer is in large measure the result of the demand of the consumer for expensively processed products. Today the consumer gets fancy packages refrigerated, air conditioning, sanitation and scores of things grandmother never heard of. And of course, the price has gone up.

The "good old days" are nice to talk about, especially when we want to complain, but people today would let a "good old store" starve to death for lack of patronage.

OUTLOOK CHANGES

The nine power agreement in London comes as a relief to Americans weary of helping to maintain an opportunity for democracy to exist in a Europe so full of jealousies and hatreds that it will not cooperate effectively in this struggle.

After nearly two centuries of keeping hands off European power politics, Americans finally became convinced that we could not remain aloof from the wars which develop there, so we had better try to do something to stop them before they start. There has been a disappointing tendency on the part of some European powers to just turn the job over to us and shirk their own responsibility for organizing a police force competent to keep the peace.

The London Act is hailed as the end of this tendency. It is being reported as the beginning of European unity and the solution to European defense. If that is true,

Everyone Urged To Cooperate In Making Child Traffic Safety Effective

Things get done when people get together, and this is especially true in the field of child traffic safety," Col. E. B. Tilley of the Texas Traffic Safety Association, made that point recently.

"We are to keep our children safe from traffic," he said, "it's going to be the combined efforts of the parents and the child themselves."

"The role of parents in this three-pronged effort is very important," Col. Tilley pointed out, "for we can regulate to a large extent the activities of their children, keeping them away from dangerous traffic areas when they are under the direct supervision of an adult. Parents also have opportunities to teach child traffic safety habits."

"Of course," he said, "one of the ways to do this is by example. Parents—and all adults—are to always follow safety rules in respect for and obedience to traffic laws."

He pointed out that children have adult judgment, how and that even when they are the very best training they are going to be unprepared in traffic situations.

"This is where the motorist does his part," Col. Tilley said, "up to the drivers to be especially alert near schools and playgrounds, in residential areas, and in places children might be expected to gather."

"At the same time children themselves must do the best they can to keep safe, observing the rules they have been taught."

"Schools are doing a fine job of teaching safety, from kindergarten through high school," he said, "and the police do all they can to keep children safe on our streets."

Cancer Research Fellowships Awarded

Thirteen 1954-55 Rosalie Hite fellowships for cancer research, totaling $31,500, have been awarded to University of Texas scientists.

The grants support chemistry, bacteriology and zoology studies and pathology and psychology investigations at the University's M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute at Houston.

The late Miss Rosalie Hite of Houston left the bulk of her estate to the University with the request that the income be used for research in the cause, prevention, treatment and cure of cancer.

Pre-doctoral grants stress basic training for graduate students expecting to do cancer research, while post-doctoral awards usually support advanced studies of the disease.

The Jasper Estate

The 'jasper' about which this tale concerns itself is not a compact, opaque, impure variety of quartz, usually red or yellow in color used by the ancients for seals, carvings, and other ornamental purposes and believed by the Greeks and Romans to possess healing qualities.

No, this story concerns a compact, muscular, imperfect but lovable variety of canine called Jasper. In color, he is black except when the summer sun gives his hair a bronze tinge. He thrived on kindly attention which was gladly ministered by his master and constant companion. To most folks he was a shaggy black shepherd dog, but to his devoted master, he was a special friend named Jasper.

For several years, Jasper and his master were seen everywhere together, never one without the other by his side. Then, the Lord saw fit to separate these constant companions and Jasper's dear friend, advanced in years, went on to a better land. But, even in the last will and testimony did the thoughtful owner remember his faithful partner, making special provisions for his care.

The brother of Jasper's owner accepted the care of the dog and endeavored to continue the kind treatment shown him theretofore. In accordance with the provisions of his master's will, when Jasper suffered the slightest illness, he was taken to the veterinarian clinic and a bill for medical treatment was addressed to "Jasper." In payment, a check was received signed by Mr. Cleveland Hater with 'Jasper' beneath his signature. You see, Jasper had his own bank account left to him by Mr. Will Hater of Clarendon, Texas, and this is the true and touching story of 'The Jasper Estate' made possible by gratitude for devotion rendered. Recently, 'finis' was written to this tender episode with the death of the old shepherd dog, Jasper. Because of objections to the dog's being buried longside his master, as Mr. Hater had planned, Jasper was laid to rest on the grounds of the Veterinarian Clinic.

What's a boy without a dog, I'd just like to know . . .
A kite without a tail
Or a clown without a show?
A dog to trail to the fishing hole,
To lie with his head in your lap
While you watch the clouds sail overhead,
Or go and fetch your cap.
The same is true of a man and a dog
For a man's a big little boy
And, when he's grown and lonely,
A dog is lots of joy.
As he sits close by in the twilight
Or lays content at your feet,
The companionship of a faithful dog
Is something tender and sweet.

Hand signals are free, use them freely.
