Polio Vaccination Plans For County Are Being Made

Plans are being made to conduct a polio vaccination campaign for the first and second grade students of the various Hall County schools, Miss Mary Foreman, county school superintendent said Tuesday. Miss Foreman released the information after conferring with Dr. J. A. Odum, county health officer, who will be in charge of the contemplated vaccination program. Superintendents of the schools in Memphis, Estelline, Turkey and Lakeview have been contacted and they are sending letters to parents to inform them of the service and to ascertain if they desire their children to participate. The program will be conducted on a voluntary basis, minus any compulsion, Miss Foreman said. The vaccinations are to be performed after evaluation of the 1954 field trial of the Salk Polio-myelitis Vaccine is completed, probably early in April. Plans are to give the vaccinations by the end of the present school year. Vaccine will be provided by the Texas State Department of Health, at no cost to those whose children participate. The vaccine will be sent to Dr. Odum and he and his staff will administer it. Three doses of vaccine will be given each child, with the second inoculation coming one week after the initial one, and the third, four weeks after the second. Children in the first and second grades have been selected because of the high incidence of paralytic polio in this group.

O. L. HELM

Three More File For City Office

Interest in the April city election increased during the past week as one citizen filed for mayor and two more filed for positions as aldermen. Announcing as a candidate for mayor was O. L. Helm, according to Dwight Kinard, city secretary. Helm is now serving as mayor pro tem. He is filling out the unexpired term of the late Carl Harrison, who was mayor at the time of his death last July. Helm is the second man to announce for the office. (Continued On Page 12)

The door to the throne room opened when Jerry Hickey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hickey of Memphis, stumbled on the brain-teaser "exorbitant" and Jackie spelled it correctly. She entered and took possession of the crown by following up with the correct form for "fossil".

Shari Ann Gentry, who is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Gentry of Memphis, captured the championship in the junior spelling bee. She is 12 years old.

Jackie, a seventh grade student, enjoys such athletic activities as basketball and baseball. In her more relaxed moments, she goes in for reading, embroidering, and oh, yes, spelling.

Shari Ann is in the sixth grade at William B. Travis Elementary School. She is active in band and 4-H Club work, as well as basketball and volleyball, at her school, and lists piano playing, sewing, sports, reading, animals and games. (Continued on Page 12)

Memphis Members Celebrate Rotary's Golden Anniversary

The Rotary Club is joining with other clubs all over the world in celebrating the Golden Anniversary of the founding of the organization. The actual date of the founding of Rotary was February 23, 1905—just 50 years ago yesterday.

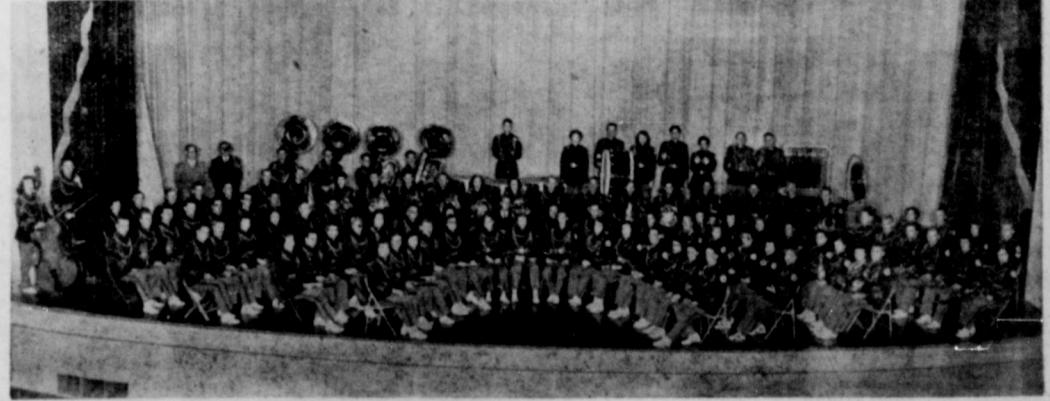

GAYLE GREENE

soon spread from city to city in the United States and Canada and then crossed the oceans to every continent. For half a century, Rotary has grown in numbers and strength. In the last twelve months, for example, more than 450 new clubs have been organized in 58 countries of Europe, Africa, Asia, the Americas and Pacific Islands. Today, Rotary is a world-wide organization of some 400,000 business and professional executives who are members of more than 8,400 Rotary Clubs in 89 countries of the world.

Rotarians the world over are observing not only the Golden Anniversary of the founding of Rotary, but of the entire service club movement, since Rotary was the pioneer club to establish as its fundamental characteristic the spirit of altruism and of service to mankind.

The founding of Rotary loosed an idea that was by no means confined to the club Paul Harris started 50 years ago. The vitality of the movement is to be found in number of other service clubs that have embraced the ideals set forth by Rotary, which is an eloquent tribute to the good job Rotary has done, and the good being done by the other clubs that have come into being.

College Band To Be Here Monday Afternoon

The West Texas State College Concert Band will offer a varied program when it appears in the Memphis High School auditorium at 3 p. m. Monday, under the direction of M. J. Newman. The program is one of 14 which the group will give during the annual spring tour of Panhandle high schools, which will be made between Monday and March 4. The organization is composed of approximately 75 selected members of the Buffalo Band, recognized as one of the top musical aggregations in the Southwest. Program to be played includes a recent composition for band, "Sketches from the West," published this year by Dr. Houston Bright, associate professor of music at WT and director of the A Cappella Choir. "Sketches" consists of five separate movements. Three other special numbers will be on the program. These are a contemporary piece, "The Man Who Invented Music" by Don Gillis; "A Carnival of Carnivals," with the Horn Choir and the Philharmonic Four being featured; and Khachaturian's "Concerto for Piano, 1st Movement," which features a piano soloist. Don Bauer, a freshman from Tulsa, will be narrator for "The Man Who Invented Music," and Miss Marilyn Cowan of Amarillo, will be guest soloist for the "Concerto for Piano, 1st Movement." Members of the Horn Choir are Dabney Williams, El Paso; Betty Evans, Amarillo; Gene Merritt, Amarillo; Dian Chase, Borger; and Joe Don Leach, Tulsa. Other selections on the program are the four-movement "The Gods Go A-Begging" by Handel-Beecham; "An Original Suite," in three movements, by Gordon Jacob; "Italian Polka" by Rachmaninoff; "The Rakes of Mallow" by Anderson; and a number of marches.

Partnership or Corporation John Brown and Bill Smith desire to operate a business together. Should this be done as partners or as a corporation? The answer to this problem involves many legal questions.

Perhaps the most important factor is that the business or personal acts of either John or Bill may be binding upon the partnership. The corporation, however, can act only through its officers and agents, and then only within the limitations granted by the articles of incorporation.

As members of a partnership both John and Bill are liable for all of the debts of the business. In the case they have business losses, the creditors of the partnership could take all of the assets of the partnership, and all of the personal assets of either John or Bill, or both (except a few exempt by law), in order to satisfy partnership debts.

On the other hand, if they form a corporation the creditors may go only against the assets of the corporation so that the most that either John or Bill can lose is the amount they have invested in the business. The creditors could not touch the personal property of either John or Bill.

Upon the death of John or Bill, it is necessary to liquidate the partnership out in the case of a corporation the operation of the business is not affected by the death of either. The firm continues as the same business with the heirs of the one who dies substituted as the owner of the stock.

Of primary interest to John and Bill is the amount of income taxes they have to pay. As a partnership, each includes on his individual income tax return his proportionate share of the income as shown on the partnership return. This is because the partnership is not recognized as a taxable entity.

The corporation is recognized as a taxable entity, so it pays a tax on the amount of its net income, after deducting the salaries of John and Bill and other expenses.

If over a period of years the earnings of the corporation exceed reasonable salaries for the two owners, these earnings will be distributed to John and Bill in the form of dividends. The funds with which the dividends are paid have already been subject to tax in the hands of the corporation.

Texas Livestock Face Quarantine, Senator Declares

AUSTIN—The Texas livestock industry stands in danger of being paralyzed by a federal quarantine on cattle leaving the state, unless something is done to eradicate Brucellosis (infectious abortion) in cattle within the next three years, Sen. Andy Rogers, District 30, of Childress, says.

The quarantine would be imposed as a result of an ordinance issued by the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare and adopted in 1953 by the State Health Officer, according to Rogers. That ordinance would require Texas and its livestock industry—beef and dairy—to eradicate the disease by 1958. Else, no cattle, beef, or dairy products can be shipped out of the state once the quarantine is imposed.

In commenting on Senate Bill 172, which he introduced in the current legislative session, Sen. Rogers said the widespread infection of beef and dairy animals in Texas "is the most serious of our health-livestock problems."

He pointed out that the problem is also an economic one, since eradication would necessarily entail eventually ridding herds of infected animals.

Commonly known as Bang's Disease and infectious abortion in cattle, the disease occurs in humans as "undulant fever", and it has made tremendous gains since the strict eradication measures of the 1930s were discontinued.

Sen. Rogers said that the bill he introduced contains the necessary instruments to set in motion one of the programs of eradication. It would set up administrative and inspection machinery, he said, and would qualify the state for an approximate $1,000,000 slice of a total $15 million in federal funds set up to combat the disease.

Duke Frisbie Out For Grid Training

Duke Frisbie, former Memphis High School quarterback, was one of the players scheduled to report out Monday at Lubbock when spring football training got underway at Texas Tech. He is the son of Mrs. B. D. Frisbie. Frisbie lettered for four years while playing for the local high school. He was graduated in the spring of 1954 and last fall won his freshman letter at Tech.

The Memphis youth is one of 28 freshmen lettermen who were expected to participate in the training program. In addition, 26 varsity lettermen from the 1954 team which captured the Border Conference championship, were slated to show up, as well as another letterman just out of the service, nine squadmen, four junior college transfers and an incoming freshman.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Monzingo, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Monzingo, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Turner and Clifton Burnett attended the boxing in Fort Worth over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Breland and Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Jack McMurry and children of Amarillo visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gip McMurry Sunday.

County Youths On Honor Roll At Tech

Three Hall County youths among the 213 students who the first semester earned honor roll at Texas Tech, according to Dean Dysart E. ... Each student on the honor roll passed all subjects, with an average of "B" or better.

Honor students from the county are: Marvin B. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Smith; Ronald Lee Cawfield, Mr. and Mrs. Guy M. Cawfield; and Ray Neil Lee of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Lakeview.

Smith and Cawfield are majoring in petroleum engineering and Lewis is majoring in engineering. All are freshmen at the college.

To Relieve Misery of COLD take 60 LIQUID OR TABLETS

but are again taxed on the individual returns of John and Bill when distributed.

The income tax advantage or disadvantage of a partnership as compared with a corporation depends on the net income from the business, the salaries John and Bill receive, the amount of their other income, and the requirements of the business for liquid funds.

In the event either of the owners is interested in planning his estate to reduce taxes at the time of his death, he can do it more easily through a corporation than a partnership.

New Highway Map Of Texas Issued

AUSTIN—A special accordion wrap-around fold has been developed and is one of the features of the 1953 Official Texas Travel Map which has just been published, according to D. C. Greer, State Highway Engineer. The old wheeze about needing another map as a travel map is not true of the Texas map, he pointed out.

ing used, the map is also easier to read than ever before. The rapid growth of the Texas Highway System has presented more of a problem each year in preparing the map. The system has been growing at the rate of about 3,000 miles a year, he said, and this additional mileage, he said, has been taken off this year, so that more essential information may be read easily and quickly.

The map can also be truly considered a Texas production," Greer went on to say, "since the paper is made in East Texas from Texas trees, and the map is printed right here in Texas too."

The colored pictorial side of the map and emphasizes events and state's borders, and are sent to those who return a special map card which they can obtain when purchasing license plates.

A recent survey by researchers of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station shows that more than 90 per cent of the western producers studied were financed by feed dealers or manufacturers.

Report From Washington

By Walter Rogers

Congressman, 18th District

The Gas Question has been said and written in the past. The Supreme Court held in effect that the federal government could produce and gather all natural gas you wanted, but it would be to a company engaged in the production of gas from one source. The federal government is now subject to regulation of the Federal Power Commission under the Natural Gas Act. This act, by virtue of federal regulation of the production and distribution of natural gas, is another example of the language of the language which has been used to centralize this power. The decision was a three-to-two decision. The three who voted against the decision were Justice Douglas, Justice Brandeis, and Justice Burton. The majority of the Supreme Court, Justice Chief Justice Warren, Justice Tom Clark, and Justice Potter Stewart, voted for the decision. The decision therefore for federal control of all these small companies in the production and distribution of natural gas. When the decision was announced, I immediately introduced legislation to correct the grievous wrongs which would follow from it. However, it was so late in the session that there was little time to get anything done. After this session began, I introduced legislation to correct the situation and to preserve in those rights guaranteed under the Constitution and under the status of the individual. I shall refer to this legislation because it involves a fundamental principle, not concerned with the gas business or any single type of energy, but concerned with every part of the economy of this country.

have reached the crossroads and must decide whether or not they are ready to move into central government centered in Washington and thereby change the type of government, if not the name thereof, which we inherited from the founding fathers of this nation. I sincerely hope we can count on a united front of those who love America and constitutional government. There are certain elements in this country who pay lip service to enterprise, to constitutional government, and to the integrity of the individual, but whose greed prompts them to refuse to support or resist any proposed legislation unless they can gain some concession. Let us hope it will not be necessary to take grips with such a policy or attempt to correct an injury of individual rights.

It is Always Important to People in The Panhandle to have been holding hearings on the progress that has been made in the projects designed for the removal of brackish water. As I pointed out last year, this program has not developed a method that is economically feasible, but work on it and we hope and pray for it. Four scientists appeared before the committee and gave a most interesting discussion on the several methods being pursued. Dr. Hickman briefly, concisely and clearly stated the object of the program when he said that what man was trying to do was to construct a giant kidney. He pointed out that the function of the kidney of the human body is to separate the salt from the fluid. Nature has a method of lifting water from the sea, desalting it, and placing it on earth in the form of rain or snow. When man learns to do this with the degree of efficiency that will make it economically sound, it could well be the answer to wars and the beginning of the perpetual peace which we have all sought.

Statehood For Alaska and Hawaii. Alaska and Hawaii have been given permission by the House Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs to form the forty-ninth and fiftieth states of the United States. The proceeding was somewhat amusing and at times confusing. The Secretary of Interior appeared before the committee on behalf of statehood for Hawaii but not for Alaska. His testimony resulted in his making out about the same case for both territories. Secretary of Defense Wilson wrote a letter for Hawaii and opposing Alaska. However, his reasoning was completely faulty because the reasons he gave for being against Alaska were more applicable against Hawaii. The whole transaction smelled a little political. An amendment was offered cutting off a tremendous portion of Alaska into a proposed special military reservation, but the amendment was defeated. Immediately thereafter, word went up and down the halls that the gentleman at 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, to wit, Mr. Eisenhower, would veto the bill unless the military reservation amendment was passed applicable to Alaska but not to Hawaii. This caused the statehood advocates to do a lot of scurrying because both territories are in one bill. The result was that a new amendment was prepared to satisfy the President and was made a part of the bill.

My observation concerning this whole proceeding was that if the bill is finally passed and becomes law, it will be the longest step in our generation toward the complete centralization of government and could well be the beginning of the disintegration of the United States of America as such. Frankly, I do not believe that statehood will be granted to either territory this session.

The Reciprocal Trade Argument

One aspect of the Reciprocal Trade Amendment is the effect imports of manufactured articles will have on like articles produced in this country. The argument has been that it would destroy the standard of living of many of the workers in this country. An amusing thing happened the other day. One of the Members received a telegram from one of his constituents asking the Member to please oppose the Reciprocal Trade Extension desired by Mr. Eisenhower. The telegram ended in these words: "Permitting these imports to come into this country might upset my standard of living." The Member felt sure that the telegraph company must have had a bad speller.

AF Emphasizes NCO's Importance

The Air Force's 1955 re-enlistment program is re-emphasizing the prestige, authority and leadership of noncommissioned officers, according to T/Sgt. George Ahern, who is in charge of the Air Force recruiting station at Childress.

Sgt. Ahern said that a recent policy guide was published by Headquarters, USAF, calling for NCO job assignments of increased complexity and responsibility, more commensurate with experience and ability.

As an outgrowth of the new policy, more attention is being given by the Air Force to the basic social and economic needs of airmen, including efforts to provide adequate housing for both single and married airmen. It also calls for continuing support to the individual and his family, emphasizing educational, recreational and social programs and facilities.

Further details on enlistment and re-enlistment are available at the Air Force recruiting station at Childress.

Heart Campaign To Close Monday

The annual Heart Fund Drive in Hall County is scheduled to close Monday, Ted Myers, county chairman, announced this week.

Heart ailments are one of the leading health problems in this nation today and heart fund money is used to finance research and treatment, and education of the general public, in order to improve this situation.

Since anyone may be subject to heart troubles, it is to the best interest of the general public to give wholehearted support to the drive for funds, in order that the outlook for the future may continue to brighten.

Contributions so far have been slower than in past years, Myers says. Heart banks are located at various business firms over the county and the county chairman said it will be appreciated if citizens will drop contributions in the banks during the final days of the current campaign.

Myers asks merchants to send their checks to L. C. Martin at the First State Bank in Memphis, to Dr. R. E. Clark, Jr., at the Clark Clinic here, or to him, addressed to General Delivery, Memphis.

Editorial

A Window To The World

Guest editorial presented by the Rotary Club of Memphis in commemoration of the Golden Anniversary of Rotary.

February 23, 1955 is the Golden Anniversary of Rotary. Just 50 years ago four men met in a Chicago office. They came together at the suggestion of Paul Harris, a young lawyer, who felt that men of different trades and professions should become acquainted. At first, the new club met in rotation at the stores and offices of members. This practice, soon abandoned in favor of regular meetings and the same hotel or restaurant, explains the name—"Rotary."

Very quickly, Rotary became international. With less than two score clubs in existence, one was formed in Winnipeg, Canada. The very next year saw the establishment of clubs in Dublin and Belfast, Ireland, and in London, England. Thereafter Rotary spread rapidly over the globe, through the Old World to the Far East, from the tip of Latin America to the North Cape and to Australia.

Today, there are more than 8,400 Rotary Clubs in 89 countries and geographical regions throughout the world. This expansion of the first service club throws light on its character. Rotary is not exclusive. It has no secrets, no mysterious rites to arouse suspicion. Men of all nationalities, religions and cultures have joined the movement.

In consequence, Rotary clubs flourish in countries where bitter feelings of racial or political antagonism have existed. Neighbors, whose differences had maintained a wall of silent hate between them, find themselves enjoying a cheerful fellowship together at the weekly meetings of the clubs. And the fruit of the acquaintance are soon apparent in the community at large as understanding improves and mutual cooperation develops.

Such experiences were the background for a conviction that grew with the spread of Rotary across the world. If association in Rotary can have these consequences in local communities, why cannot a similar contribution be made in the wider community that is the world? The answer to this question came at the first international convention to be held outside of the U. S. A., at Edinburgh in 1921. Rotarians from 25 countries gathered in the Scottish capital, declared their determination "To encourage and foster the advancement of international understanding, good will and peace through a world fellowship of business and professional men united in the ideal of service."

As members of that world fellowship, Rotarians in Memphis support this declaration which has become a part of the Object of Rotary. We are most grateful for the opportunity accorded by The Memphis Democrat at this occasion of the Golden Anniversary to aid in promoting and fostering the prospects of peace between nations.

QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

Governor's Salary
The Governor of Texas now gets $25,000 a year, which makes us optimistic enough to say that there may be a slackening off of extra-curricular activities attached to the office. For instance, maybe state printing contracts won't be awarded to concerns in which the governor is financially interested. There may be no more "land deals" whereby the governor sells worthless land he doesn't own for wagonloads of greenbacks. There may not even be a recurrence of shady activities of the Veteran's Land Board, of which the governor is a member and the veterans of Texas are bagholders. Frankly, we think Texas is doing wrong in paying any governor a salary at all. All of them admit the position is strictly one of honor and prestige. All of them want the honor, plus a chance to "do something for the good people of Texas." Such being the case what's wrong in Texas advertising for bids for the job? What capable fellow wouldn't pay Texas $25,000 a year for a job that brings him hundreds of thousands on the side? In many hotels, bellboys have to pay for the privilege of carrying bags and bottled beer to tip-happy guests.

The side money and tips make the difference. So it would in the governor's office. He could pay the state treasury $25,000 a year for the honor and privilege of earning his side money in the free enterprise, democratic way. But we sure frown on the habit of paying some bloke $25,000 a year just so he can have the opportunity to pick up a million bucks on the side. No doubt we could get some real "talent" in the office, once people recognized that the salary is only a fraction of what accrues to the holder of the office.

URANIUM SPLURGE
A few weeks ago The Herald Editor was with a group in Austin and the discussion turned to uranium.

An oil man said that uranium is in the stage that oil was 30 to 50 years ago. He predicted that vast fortunes would be made from development of uranium mines.

This man said it was a great speculation, but he feels that the persons who discover uranium have a sure road to fortunes because the government will take over and develop the projects.

An attorney said that a junior member of his firm worked with some clients on uranium. This young lawyer became so interested that he took a leave of absence from the firm, got a gieger counter and started out searching for uranium.

Probably hundreds of millions of dollars will be lost by speculators. You won't hear too much about the losers. Only the ones who make the big money will be in the head lines.

NOT BROKE YET

Back in the 30's, a school of thought typified by Rexford Tugwell advocated that the "dust bowl" country of the Middle West and Southwest should be allowed to return to native grass, inhabited by horned toads, prairie dogs and scrub cattle.

Dust was then swirling over large sections. The depression had fastened with an iron grip. Some folks had lost their courage and their belongings. So Washington advised people to leave and some people did leave.

But the dust bowl country was not abandoned and even if it has not blossomed in recent years, the folks out here are not broke yet. A decade of boom years, with a combination of ideal weather and high prices, cleared up back debts, gave ownership to land, made improvements and put the farm people in shape to go into another dry period, which they have.

There hasn't been a wheat crop since 1949 and the prospects are poor for one in 1955. Business hasn't been good, but there has been some business, and the business men of Perryton are still in there pitching, as evidenced by the showing they made at the junior stock sale Monday.

The calves averaged 36 cents a pound, the sheep 38 and hogs 34 cents, making averages that would have been considered good back when farm prices were booming. The Perryton businessmen made a substantial investment in the farm youth of this area and we know that this financial assistance is appreciated.

Things are not good, but the folks are not broke yet.

The beautiful Bel Air Sport Coupe with Body by Wire

It's highway robbery!

For sheer fun out on the road, Chevrolet's stealing the thunder from the high-priced cars!

Up to this year, maybe there were reasons for wanting one of the higher-priced cars. If you demanded something really special in the way of driving fun, you simply had to pay a premium to get it.

Not any more! The Motoramic Chevrolet has changed all that. Who could wish for more excitement than the new 162-h.p. "Turbo-Fire V8" delivers? (For those who do, 180-h.p. is optional at extra cost in all V8 models.) Chevrolet also offers the two highest powered sixes in its field.

Come in and see how the Motoramic Chevrolet is stealing the thunder from the high-priced cars!

Traffic Courtesy Yields Big Dividends

All the drivers in Texas pledge to sign written pledges, but Roaper and Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., Director of the Department of Public Safety, have issued a joint appeal for each driver in the state to make a "pact" with himself agreeing to adhere to the basic rules of driving courtesy.

Roaper said that the Code of the Road commits the driver to do no more than observe the ordinary rules of traffic courtesy. Here are its provisions:

Courteous driving will save lives. My code of the road is COURTESY.

I will NOT be the cause of an accident.

I WILL SHARE the road by driving in the proper lane.

ALLOW ample clearance when passing.

YIELD the right of way to other drivers . . . to pedestrians.

GIVE proper signals for turns and stops.

DIM my headlights when meeting or following vehicles.

RESPECT traffic laws, signs, signals and road markings.

ADJUST my driving to road, traffic and weather conditions.

Growers Advised To Fertilize Plum And Peach Trees

COLLEGE STATION—Peach and plum trees will grow-off faster and offer chances for bigger harvests if treated early in the year with a complete fertilizer.

Three-hundred to 400 pounds of 12-12-12 in February or March followed in April by a 300 pound application of 5-10-10 will do the job in an orchard of 70 bearing trees an acre.

Spread four to six pounds of the 12-12-12 mixture around each tree and a like amount of 5-10-10 in April, advises J. F. Rosborough, extension horticultural marketing specialist. Scatter the fertilizer in an area from the outer edges of each tree's shade cover to within three or four feet of the trunk, Rosborough says.

Disk the fertilizer into the soil to a depth of three or four inches immediately after application.

A grove of 70 trees an acre needs at least 60 pounds of nitrogen, 80-100 pounds of phosphoric acid, and 60-80 pounds of potash yearly. These requirements are met with the above recommendation, the specialist adds.

Rosborough explains that fruit trees need abundant nitrogen early in the season. Heavy applications later, however, may cause excessive terminal growth and delayed ripening of the fruit.

Late April and early May is a critical time in fruit production, he concludes. That's the time when trees develop a fruit crop and set next year's fruiting buds.

Roan Reports On Emergency Program

Applications of 139 farmers and ranchers for 2,651,354 pounds of grain had been approved by the Memphis Farmers Home Administration Committee when the Hall County emergency feed program ended Feb. 15, J. J. Roan, Jr., FHA county supervisor, said Wednesday. Two ranchers applied for 70 tons of hay, under the program.

After the FHA committee approved the applications, the Hall County ASC office here issued purchase certificates to the farmers and ranchers for the specified amounts. The certificates are good for 120 days after issuance, Roan explained. It is believed emergency feed, now approved, will supply feed needs of cattle until grass starts growing.

Texas Building Hits New High Last Year

AUSTIN—Texas building reached a new high in 1954 with small cities leading the way in per capita construction, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

Irving issued $4,708,511 worth of building permits per person. Other leading cities were Mesquite, with $1,464.03; Garland, $1,224.58; Killeen, $1,036.20, and Pasa Jena, $822.33 per person.

Largest percentage increase in building was in Beeville, where receipts were up 1,060 per cent, followed by Killeen, 1,000 per cent; Keokuk, 570 per cent; Alice and Kilgore, each 190 per cent; and Lampasas, 170 per cent.

A more active year is predicted for 1955, the Bureau says.

Value of 1954 residential building increased 47 per cent over 1953, with one-family houses — 95 per cent of total residential building—contributing a 54 per cent increase. Non-residential building increased 14 per cent over 1953. Leading the way in such new construction were commercial garages, public works and utilities, service stations, churches, stores and other mercantile buildings, factories and work shops, and office and bank buildings, in that order.

GI Farm Reports Due By March 1

The nation's 16,000 World War II veterans taking GI Bill farm training are reminded by the Veterans Administration that reports of their 1954 earnings are due at their VA Regional Offices no later than March 1.

Failure to submit the reports by the deadline, VA warned, may result in discontinuance of GI subsistence payments until such time as the reports do reach VA.

Trainees who have not yet received the report forms may obtain them from their instructors.

These yearly reports, VA emphasized, do not apply to veterans taking institutional on-farm training under the Korean GI Bill, since their monthly allowances are computed on a different basis.

Public Schools Week Scheduled March 7-12

A variety of activities will be included in the observance here of Texas Public Schools Week, March 7-12, according to information released Saturday.

School officials are extending a cordial invitation to all parents to visit the local schools during the week and obtain first-hand knowledge about the programs, goals, and the problems of the teachers and the students. Visitors will be welcomed during school hours Tuesday through Thursday, March 8-10. Student guides will be available to show visitors around, to answer questions, and to direct them to classrooms which they may desire to visit.

Prizes will be awarded to the classroom in junior and senior high, and the William B. Travis and Stephen F. Austin elementary schools, that has the greatest number of visitors.

A special chapel program will be held in the high school auditorium at 2 p. m., March 8, at which Dr. L. B. Cooper, education and psychology professor at Texas Tech, will be the principal speaker.

As part of the publicity for the observance, students of the various schools will make posters to be placed in business houses around the square here.

A state-wide contest on "How To Keep America Great" will be held in connection with the week, under the sponsorship of the Knights Templars of Texas, according to Glenn Thompson, secretary of the Masonic organizations here. Thompson and Supt. W. C. Davis are working together in making arrangements in Memphis for Public Schools Week.

The essay competition is open to senior students only. A $1,000 scholarship will be awarded to the one writing the best essay, and a $250 scholarship will go to the author of the second-place composition. The scholarships will assist the winners in attending any Texas university or college in which they choose to enroll. Further details may be obtained from Superintendent Davis.

Texas citizens celebrated the centennial of state public schools last year, for it was in 1854 that provisions were made for establishing a system of public education.

Wheat Measuring Program To Start Tuesday In County

Field work to determine the acreage of wheat needed for 1955 will start on March 1 with three representatives of the Hall County ASC Committee beginning work on that date. This statement was made Wednesday by Lynn L. McKown, manager of the ASC office here.

Since Hall County is not substantially a major wheat county, the measuring of wheat is not expected to be a major undertaking, McKown said. There are only 292 farms with wheat allotments for 1955. On these, preliminary reports indicate that 25 per cent of these failed to seed wheat, due to dry weather.

Wheat farms are being measured by contract this year with the ASC County Committee paying a flat rate per farm for each one measured. Past experience has proven the unit payments method for measuring crops to be very satisfactory and no difficulty is expected this year.

All farmers who have seeded wheat without an allotment should report their acreage to the ASC Office to enable the measuring crews to visit their farms and determine the acreage seeded as the harvesting of wheat is controlled by law. All farmers who market wheat for any purpose in 1955 must have a marketing card.

The final wheat acreage for 1955 will be the acreage harvested for grain and all farmers with excess wheat acreage will have until May 15 to dispose of the excess.

All of the youthful exhibitors, except the Hudgins brothers, are members of the Estelline and Turkey 4-H Clubs. All received cash prizes and ribbons.

The show was staged on the grounds of the Veterans Agricultural Building.

Senior Play Nets Class About $200

Approximately $200 was realized by the senior class when members presented their annual play Friday evening in the auditorium of Memphis High School.

The mystery-comedy, "A Double Barreled Detective Story," by Mark Twain, was witnessed by a capacity audience.

Members of the class desire to express their appreciation to everyone who helped to make the production a success. Especially was the audience's reaction helpful, the seniors said.
