HOMEMAKING FROM THE GROUND UP—Mrs. Helen McMurry is one of the very few women in the house building business. Since beginning five years ago, she has supervised the building of more than 150 houses in Abilene.

Helen McMurry Builds New Homes In Abilene

Though home construction is still generally considered chiefly a man's field, Mrs. Helen McMurry, daughter of Mrs. E. H. Stanford of Memphis, has brought it very much within the sphere of a woman's world. In fact, the success of this unusual builder, who has personally supervised the erection of approximately 150 Abilene homes within the last five years, might be attributed to the woman's touch.

Mrs. McMurry's extraordinary building career was launched in March 1950, shortly after she moved to Abilene. She had no previous experience in the field. Her only business experience during the short transition from a housewife, having been gained in the office of the Abilene Real Estate Exchange.

Since that modest beginning with one house, Mrs. McMurry has built homes in practically all the new additions to Abilene.

Mrs. McMurry prefers contemporary architecture for residences and though she uses plans drawn by architects, she plans the color schemes and interior decorations.

THE DUST STORMS

The dust storms in the Southwest are again getting front page billing in the Eastern Press. Some are carrying pictures showing a scene that appears to be taken at midnight. The caption under the picture is, "Mid-day in Pampa, Texas, Looking Down Main Street." This is somewhat misleading, because there isn't a Main Street in Pampa. I sometimes wonder how so many mistakes are made. One picture was taken in Amarillo and captioned, "Looking from the Herring to the Capitol in Amarillo." Now, this is the sort of thing that causes confusion. People say to me: "I didn't know the Capitol of Texas was at Amarillo." Well, I then have to explain that the paper should have said, "Looking from the Herring Hotel to the Capitol Hotel." Then they say: "Well, is it true that a fellow named Thompson owns the Herring Hotel?" I say, "Now I have heard that, but I'm not sure about it." Then they say: "If his name is Thompson, why does he call it the Herring?" I tell them to write General Thompson he has the full answer to that.

The next question is: "Why isn't the Capitol at Amarillo?" I have explained to them that Texas is so big that by the time our Chamber of Commerce had heard that they were considering choosing a capitol site and our delegation had gotten to the convention, they already had the building built and occupied. The roads were pretty bad back then, but I don't mention that, just let size take care of it. They usually try to corner me by asking why we don't move it. I tell them that size has us stymied on that one, too, because we can't get our appropriation approved for that much.

Then comes the payoff question. One of the group always says: "By the way, do you all ever have any dust storms out there?" It just goes to show how much confusion can be caused by

INTERESTING NOTES

I picked up a large city daily the other day, and on the front page was a picture of a person involved in a scandal. I opened the paper, and on page three was a picture of Winston Churchill and a write-up about his retirement. The thought struck me that the headline should have been: "Historic Figure Replaced on Page One by Cheap Scandal." How tragic. What is our yardstick of importance?

Watch for some interesting developments on the small business front. There is a gigantic struggle going on behind the scenes between forces of monopoly and independents. This could turn into the "Battle of the Century."

Carl Wood Catches 28-Pound Catfish

Carl Wood, local grocery man, went deep sea fishing last week, but couldn't catch anything but small ones in the ocean, so he came back to Lake Texoma and caught a 28 pound catfish.

Mr. and Mrs. Wood went to Houston Monday, April 4, to visit Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Womack. They went on to Galveston fishing, but, according to Wood, it was too rough for good deep sea fishing.

"We only caught 50 or 60 small ones down there," he said.

Thursday they returned to Grand Prairie to visit his brother, J. C. Wood, Jr., and he and Carl went to Texoma Friday. Friday afternoon they caught the big catfish on a trotline using cut bait.

They also caught one weighing 12 pounds and another one which weighed six pounds. These were taken on the trotline, also.

Mrs. Henry Newman and Mrs. Ira Hammond visited Miss Jessie Chaney in Saint Jo and Mr. and Mrs. Rowe Newman in Denton during the Easter holidays. Miss Chaney returned home with them for a visit.

Duane Miller Is Expected To Help Indians This Fall

Duane Miller, a 195 junior at Midwestern University at Wichita Falls and ex-Memphis Cyclone football star, is being counted on to play a big part in the Indian's battle to get out of the Gulf Coast Conference cellar this fall.

Miller was the starting center and played most of the game in the annual exes-varsity game that closed spring training drills in Wichita recently.

The Indians will be playing under a completely new coaching staff this fall. Dick Todd has been named head coach, and he picked Dennis Vinzant and Pat Pattison as his assistants.

Todd is a former Texas A & M all-American and coach of the Washington Redskins. Vinzant has been end coach at Tulane University for the past nine seasons. Before that he was line coach and head basketball coach at East Texas State in Commerce. While there he coached some of the greatest linemen and cage teams ever to wear the blue and gold of the Texas school.

Pattison is a legend in West Texas. He took Lubbock High School to two consecutive state grid titles in 1951 and 1952.

Hall County First

Hall County agriculture again has stepped into the lead in another project to protect our valuable farm land.

The County Committee for the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation program realized early that this county was going to be in serious trouble again from wind erosion and that the farmers were going to need funds to help pay for the listing and chiseling that would be needed to keep this dirt from blowing.

These four men, R. A. Eddleman, chairman, Estelline, T. R. Fuston, Jr., vice-chairman, Turkey, Joe C. Montgomery, Memphis, and L. L. McKown, office manager, drew up a request for $100,000 for control of wind erosion and submitted it on March 16. They were the first county in Texas to submit their request and Texas was the first state.

When the allocation of funds was made this week, this foresightedness paid off. Hall County was allowed $104,300, while the surrounding counties, which were later in making their requests, each received only about one quarter the amount allotted here.

The committeemen and office manager are to be highly commended for their outstanding leadership in securing this much aid in controlling wind erosion. With the amount of land that needs control work done in this county, it would have been almost impossible for the farmers to pay for all the work themselves. Therefore, without this aid we would have suffered a heavy loss of top soil from wind erosion.

Education In Driving

Traffic accidents were down during 1954 — a few less than two million people were killed or injured during the 12 months. In 1953 more than two million persons were traffic casualties. This is a disgusting waste of life and property.

This waste—the worst in a wasteful country—becomes even more disgusting when one reads that three out of every four of these accidents happen in clear weather, on dry roads, and the cars were traveling straight ahead.

These statistics point out that the drivers are careless and unmindful of their driving responsibilities. Even though state, county and local authorities spend millions each year building safer roads, and patrolling highways and streets, the drivers still kill and injure themselves with bad driving.

Every year thousands of new drivers are added to our crowded highway. Who are they and where do they come from? They are children who reach the driving age each year, and they come from the high schools of the nation.

If these useless accidents are to be stopped, these new drivers must be educated to the responsibilities they assume when taking the wheel of a car. Who is going to do this educating? The drivers that have been killing each other with bad driving. That would be like the blind leading the blind.

A program of driver training has been introduced in many Texas high schools and proven successful with teen-age drivers. The officials have estimated that even with the present inadequate program, the course has cut accidents among the trained teen-agers by 50 per cent.

There is a bill in Austin now to set up a compulsory course of driver training in every Texas high school. This bill has been endorsed by the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs. They said, "We are for the driver education and are willing to help pay for it."

The cost of the proposed program would be 40 cents per person or one dollar per car in Texas. This amount could be saved by the reduction in the surcharge in Automobile insurance for drivers under 25 who have had an approved course in driver education, and many times over by the reduction of the $150 million we have been spending in Texas every year for accidents.

Our public schools try to educate the youth of Texas to cope with the problems of our complex society. The automobile is a basic part of our fast moving life, and in all fairness to these children, we should teach them how to operate the car and live.

The best scholastic education in the world will not make a success of a youth if he is killed in an automobile accident because he wasn't properly taught his responsibilities as a driver.

Thoughts For Thursday
What is said of the preacher could likewise be said about every other person who attempts to please the public.
We all need to face the fact that all men are flesh and blood, that all of us are imperfect, that no two of us see eye to eye on every subject, that there are two sides to every question.

It all adds up to tolerance and patience which, if we had them, would make life so much more pleasant for those about us and would in turn tend to increase our circle of friends.

PAUL JAMES SUC CUMBS AFTER STROKE OF APOPLEXY: Paul A. James, 49 years, 7 months and 25 days old, who has been actively identified with the life of Memphis and Hall county with the exception of a few years since 1910, died at a local hospital at 8:40 o'clock Tuesday night, following a stroke of apoplexy which occurred while he was playing golf late Monday afternoon on the links of the Memphis Country Club. Mr. James had complained of a headache earlier in the day, and mentioned the fact after he had started his game. Of a sudden, he told his companions that he was done for and could not see. Realizing the seriousness of his condition, W. C. Dickey and Tom Dunbar hurried with Mr. James to a local hospital. Their earlier surmises had been correct as the physician in charge announced that Mr. James had suffered a stroke of apoplexy and was in a serious condition. After arriving at the hospital, he never regained consciousness and his condition gradually grew worse until he expired.

NINETY FARMERS GO TO PLAINVIEW SHOW: Thirty-five business men, members of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce, furnished transportation to 90 farmers of Hall County to the Texas Panhandle-Plains Dairy Show in Plainview on Tuesday morning of this week. The party left Memphis at six o'clock and are spending the entire day in witnessing the dairy show. There were some 30 cars that took the Hall County delegation, which was one of the largest groups in Plainview, Tuesday, and the best delegation from any one of farmers.

Buying the coin was E. M. Ewen, president of the association. The second sold to B. F. Cope, vice president and the third went to Mrs. Davenport, secretary. Mr. then brought additional which he plans to send to County pioneers who have to other areas.

Law Banning Lewd Literature Passed

AUSTIN.—The Texas Senate last week gave final passage to a bill sponsored by Senator Andy Robert of Childress, that will prohibit the publishing and distribution of lewd, vulgar and depraved literature, moving pictures and penny arcade pictures in Texas.

Aimed at lewd and immoral material that has been rapped as a major contributing factor to problems of juvenile delinquency, the measure was introduced in the House by Rep. G. Melihany of Wheeler. A second such measure by Rep. Pol of Dallas, dealing only with publication and distribution of comic books, was also passed by the Senate and sent to the House for further consideration.

Passed by a whopping majority in both the Senate and House of Representatives, the bills lack only the governor's signature to become law.

"This problem of lewd and depraved literature of all kinds being placed in the hands of our children by irresponsible publishers and distributors is one that we cannot afford to shrug off," Senator Rogers said. "Guided by enlightened public awareness and realization of the growing dangers of immorality and delinquency, we have passed a measure that can do much to solve this problem. We realize that morality cannot be legislated. But we can help create a more healthy atmosphere for the growth and development of our citizens of tomorrow."

First And Second Grade Children To Get Salk Polio Vaccine Soon

Every first and second grade school child in Hall County is eligible to receive the newly approved Salk polio vaccine, if their parents sign the request slip that was sent to them this week.

These forms were given to the children this week to be taken home and the parents should be watching to be sure that their children get home with the slip, Miss Mary Foreman, County School Superintendent said.

Estelle sent the forms out Tuesday, Lakeview gave their forms out Wednesday, and Turkey and Memphis are giving the forms out today (Thursday).

Mike Hyre, state representative for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, met with the Hall County Chapter and Miss Foreman and W. C. Davis, Superintendent of the Memphis Schools, Monday to give them the latest information on how the vaccine would be sent to the different counties.

When the announcement was made Tuesday, by Dr. Thomas Francis Jr., of the University of Michigan that the vaccine developed by Dr. Jonas E. Salk at the University of Pittsburgh was safe and 80 to 90 per cent effective, manufacturers of the vaccine began shipping it to all 48 state health headquarters.

Farmers Can Apply For 1956 Wheat Acreage Allotment

Farmers on land on which no wheat was seeded for grain for any of the years 1953, 1954 and 1955 may apply for a 1956 wheat acreage allotment, according to R. A. Eddleman, chairman of the Hall County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

To be considered for an allotment on a farm which had no wheat seeded for grain for any of those years, the farmer must apply in writing to his county ASC committee by Friday, July 15.

Wheat for harvest as grain is a deductible crop. That is, all wheat for grain is deducted from cropland acreage before cotton allotments are figured.

Therefore, farmers who seed wheat for grain will never be able to obtain an equal cotton acreage with non-wheat farms.

The 1956 regular wheat allotments are now being compiled in the county and all farmers who feel that there is an error in their wheat history should contact the county office.

$104,300 Allotted Wind Erosion Work

The request of the Hall County ASC Committee for additional funds to make cost-share payments for listing and chiseling for wind erosion control was granted on Friday, April 8. Hall County received $104,300 for this program, Lynn L. McKown announced this week.

Hall County was the first county in Texas to request additional funds under the wind erosion control program. The original request was made on March 16.

Requests were accepted by the local ASC office for cost-share assistance on listing and chiseling on March 17. At the close of business on Friday, April 8, applications had been filed by 966 farmers on 208,600 acres of cropland which is approximately 90 per cent of the cropland in the county.

The original plan was to offer assistance on contour listing and contour chiseling; however, the contour provision was later amended to permit cost-share assistance for listing and chiseling (Continued on Page 8)

Many Schools Open For Army Recruits

Although some of the wartime veterans benefits have expired, there are still many opportunities for young citizens who volunteer to serve their country in the U. S. Army, according to Capt. Vern O. Peters of the U. S. Army Recruiting Station.

Since the Army is more "specialists conscious" than ever before, there are unlimited opportunities for technical school training as well as training on the job by actually performing skilled duties under supervision, Capt. Peters pointed out.

For example, qualified high school graduates can choose from over 100 courses in specialists schools and have their attendance guaranteed before they are required to enlist.

Also available to volunteers is the choice of selecting from 13 branches, which includes Signal Corps and Ordnance where many of the technical skills are required. For example, in the Signal Corps all phases of communication can be found as well as photography. In the Ordnance Corps, a person can learn trades that range from handling some of the army's heaviest equipment to watch repairing.

"Those who want to travel in Europe during their army service may enlist under the army's unit rotation program called 'Operation Gyroscope,' and be assured of assignment in Europe this coming summer," Capt. Peters concluded.

Persons interested in more details regarding the benefits of army service are urged to visit the U. S. Army Recruiting Station, 212 East 7th Street, Amarillo, Texas, or phone DR 4-8402. An army recruiter is also in Memphis every Thursday and may be contacted at either the post office or the court house.

MAYOR McGUP By John Jarvis

Mrs. Scott's Mother Dies At Everman

The mother of Mrs. Henry Scott of Memphis, Mrs. John Robbins, 77, died Friday afternoon, April 8, at Everman, Texas, and funeral services were conducted in the Everman First Baptist Church Sunday afternoon.

The services were conducted by Dr. Bowden, pastor of the church. She had been in ill health for the past two years, but was seriously ill for only two weeks.

She is survived by her husband, two other daughters besides Mrs.

Scott, Mrs. W. E. Hadley and Mrs. D. E. Vaughn, both of Everman, two sons, Adrian Robbins and Herman Robbins, both of Fort Worth, 10 grandchildren, 13 great grandchildren and one sister, Mrs. Ola Widener of Fort Worth.

Burial was in the Everman cemetery.

Monday when Mrs. Scott was returning to Memphis, by train, her daughter and granddaughter, Mrs. D. Jack Battle and Tana of Port Arthur, were on the train when Mrs. Scott got on in Fort Worth.

In Wichita Falls Mrs. Scott's other daughter, Mrs. C. E. Tension and son Jack joined them on the train. The daughters and grandchildren are visiting with Mrs. Scott this week.

Keene, Texas, a town founded by Seventh Day Adventists in 1890, is said to be the only community in the United States where the post office is open on Sunday.

Because there had been no mention in the contract of a cornerstone for the Texas State Capitol, Gus Wilke, the contractor, paid for it out of his own pocket.

Food Preserving Awards To 4-Hers

Awards valued at $50,000 are being offered 4-H Club members in the 1955 National 4-H Garden, Canning and Frozen Foods program.

Of the half million 4-Hers who participate in the three projects each year, those with outstanding records will be honored on county, state, sectional and national levels. Much of the foodstuffs grown in the 100,000 acres of 4-H gardens are used fresh, but members also can over six million quarts of food and freeze more than three million pounds annually.

Medals will be offered to four outstanding garden members in each county. State winners in the program will receive trips to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago Nov. 27-Dec. 1. The eight top-ranking 4-Hers among the state winners will get $300 college scholarships each. For the 10th consecutive year, the tractor division of Allis-Chalmers is providing the awards for garden winners.

Similar county and state awards are made available to canning winners. The six top state winners will receive $300 scholarships from the Kerr Glass Mfg. Corp., donor of the canning awards, at the National Congress.

In the frozen foods program, medals are provided for two county winners by International Harvester, awards donor. State winners will receive $50 U. S. Savings Bonds. All-expense trips to the National 4-H Club Congress will be given eight sectional winners, representing all parts of the country, and six of the trip winners will be presented $300 scholarships as national winners. Club members in the programs "learn by doing," while increasing individual and family incomes by reducing the amount of food purchased and providing the family with healthful food. 4-H Club work is coordinated by the Cooperative Extension and full information on program is available from extension agents. (Read the Classified)

Spring Clean Up Needed On Farms

Now is the time to get rid of the winter's accumulation of junk and trash. Nature is replacing winter's bleak landscape with the soft green of renewing life of spring and needs the cooperation of everyone to complete the job.

If every farm family would conduct a cleanup campaign at home—inside and out—it would help eliminate fire and accident hazards, make home a safer place to live, and result in happier and more productive workdays, says the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Committee.

Farm fires take a heavy toll of life and property each year in the nation, about 3,000 lives and $139,000,000 worth of property. Both figures could be reduced, believes the committee, with good "housekeeping." Cleaner farms will mean fewer fires.

Inspection, they say, is the first step in fire prevention. Remove the hazards which may cause fires and accidents and ask the neighbors to cooperate in a community cleanup campaign.

Secondly, points out the committee, stop taking fire risks. Careless smoking habits and the misuse of matches are major causes of fire. Too, kerosene, gasoline or other flammable liquid should never be used for starting or boosting fires in stoves, ranges or fireplaces. Be sure flammable liquids are safely stored and away from farm buildings.

If trash is burned, pick a still, damp day for burning and have help and equipment ready in case it is needed. Then be sure the fire is out before leaving it unattended.

Exports of U. S. farm products were 15 percent higher for the last July-February period than for the same period a year earlier. Total farm exports for the period were valued at $2.2 billion against $1.9 billion for the year earlier.

Hedley Boys See Easter Pageant In Wichita Mountains

Eighteen Boy Scouts of Troop 36 of Hedley and five sponsors attended the 30th annual Wichita Mountains Easter Service near Lawton, Okla., over the holiday weekend.

The troop left Hedley at one o'clock Saturday afternoon. They stopped at Craterville Park where they visited the Frontier Museum, rode various rides and had supper.

From the park, they went on to the Easter Pageant site which is located near Mount Sheridan in the heart of the Wichitas. It is 22 miles northwest of Lawton.

The terrain here is said to be much like that of Judea, where Christ spent his life and did his teaching.

Hedley's troop arrived at the pageant site about nine o'clock Saturday night. Here, they set up bed rolls and made ready to view the five hour religious spectacle.

The program began at midnight with a two hour religious musical program, and the pageant, "The Pathways to Immortality," began at two a. m. and was concluded at five a. m.

After the pageant the scouts returned to Craterville park to a camp site where they cooked their breakfast and then began the trip home. They arrived in Hedley at 12:30 Sunday.

Scouts making the trip were: Leonard Mullins, Rodney Hargrove, Monte Rogers, David Moreman, Jack Doherty, John Dickson, W. A. Jenkins, Roger Messer, Doyle Clendennen, Bill Maddox, Gilbert Speed, Garry Alexander, Tony Jenkins, Lloyd Messer, Jimmy Youree, Harold Moffitt, Tensley Mullins, and James Younger.

The sponsors were: Scoutmaster Boaz Stotts, Ray Dean Brown, Clifford Johnson, Marion Shaw and L. D. Messer.

Scoutmaster Stotts said on behalf of the boys and himself, he wanted to thank everyone who helped make the trip possible and an extra thanks to the men that provided transportation for the troop.

Piano Auditions Close Here Today

Two piano students received their high school diplomas in Piano Guild Work, during the five days of auditions at the Memphis Center which ended today.

Adjudicator for the auditions was Walter Charnbury, professor of piano at Rollins College at Winter Park, Fla.

The two students receiving their diplomas were Patsy Patton of Wellington. Her teacher is Miss Allen; and Harold Aspren, Memphis, student of Miss Gertrude Rasco.

"Mr. Charnbury has been very fair, helpful and inspiring in his comments to students and teachers, and all feel it has been an opportunity and privilege to play for such an adjudicator," Miss Rasco said.

From here Charnbury will go to Tallahassee, Florida, and Brownfield, before returning to his home in Florida.

These Guild auditions offer many goals for all students and inspire them and their teachers to great efforts each year, Miss Rasco said.

Questions & Answers For Veterans

Q—I have been out of military service for a year and a half. If I apply for disability compensation, is there any chance that my payments could be made retroactive to the date of my discharge?

A—No. For veterans who wait longer than one year to apply, compensation payments may be made retroactive only to the date of the application. For those who file within one year's time, it is possible for the payments to become effective as of the day after discharge from service.

Q—My three-year starting deadline for Korean GI training is coming close. I want to apply for a correspondence course. What does VA consider as the starting date of the course?

A—The starting date of your correspondence course is the date the school sends you your first lesson.

Q—Is it possible to convert Korean GI term insurance to permanent plans? I understand this could be done with World War II GI insurance. I am not a disabled veteran.

A—Under the law, Korean GI term insurance may not be converted to permanent plans of insurance. It is possible, however, for disabled Korean veterans to obtain permanent GI insurance policies under certain circumstances.

Q—I am a disabled World War II veteran. May I still apply for Public Law 16 training, or is it

WORDS AND THOUGHTS

A—You still may apply for training under Public Law 16. However, under the law you may train only in a course that you can complete by July 25, 1956.

Q—I mailed VA a letter applying for disability compensation, and VA sent me a form to be filled out. Since I have been out of service more than a year, my compensation can be effective only to the date I applied. Which date will that be—the date of my letter or the date of my formal application?

A—If your claim is approved, your compensation payments may date back to the date your letter was received by VA.

Q—I am studying for a graduate degree under the Korean GI Bill. I have to satisfy a foreign language requirement, but my school does not offer foreign language courses. May I take such a course in a different school?

A—Yes, provided your school does three things: (1) certifies to VA that you are a graduate student; (2) designates the subject you are to take at the second school, and (3) agrees to allow full credit for your language course in partial fulfillment of your degree program.

Q—I intend to file a claim for a pension, based on the death of my husband, a World War I veteran. Is there any deadline for applying?

A—There is no deadline for applying for a death pension. However, if you apply within one year of your husband's death, the payments may be made retroactive to the day following his death. If you wait longer than one year, the payments are effective as of the date you filed your application.

Q—I am a World War II veteran and I have gone back on active duty. My National Service Life Insurance premiums are being waived while I am in uniform. Even though I am not paying premiums, will I collect dividends on my policy?

A—No. During the period of waiver, GI insurance dividends are not payable.

Q—I am taking on-the-job training under the Korean GI Bill. Although I have not completed my training, my employer has increased my pay so that now I am receiving the beginning wage paid to a fully-trained worker. Does that mean my GI allowance will be cut off?

A. Not necessarily. Your GI allowance will not stop, so long as it is established that you still are a trainee in all respects except pay.

Q. Is it possible to collect GI unemployment pay at the same time I am enrolled in school under the Korean GI Bill? Since I am in school, I am not working.

A. No, it is not possible, under the law, to obtain GI unemployment allowances while you are enrolled in training under the Korean GI Bill. Although you may not be working, you are drawing monthly GI training allowances from the Government.

Q. I am entitled to increased disability compensation pay by reason of my dependents. What does VA consider as the effective date of those increased payments?

A. The effective date of increased payments because of dependents is the date on which VA receives evidence establishing entitlement to the extra pay.

Q. A veteran-friend of mine who had been getting a pension somehow failed to send VA his annual income questionnaire. As a result, his pension has been stopped. If he now sends the questionnaire to VA, and if his income is below the legal maximum, will the payments be resumed?

A. If he returns the questionnaire within one year from the date it was originally sent to him, he will receive his pension payments all the way back to the date they were cut off. If he waits longer than one year, the payments will begin as of the date of receipt of the questionnaire that the date a new claim is filed. All this presupposes that the veteran's income is below the legal maximum for a pension.

Q—I am a World War II veteran in school under the GI Bill. When I get my AB degree, would it be possible for me to go on and obtain my Master's degree in the same field? I have plenty of GI entitlement.

A—Yes, it will be possible for you to go ahead and obtain your MA degree, so long as you help you reach your vocational objective.

Bureau Officials Will Be Elected Here Monday Night

The Hall County Farm Bureau will elect officers and directors for the coming year at their regular business meeting in the Travis Elementary School cafeteria Monday evening at 7:30.

A complete audit of the past year's financial report will be made at this meeting, Vice-President Robert Moss said.

Moss urged all members to attend the meeting. He said that membership is a family membership and that the men are urged to bring their wives and families to the meeting.

The membership drive that has been conducted by the bureau for the past three weeks has recruited around 100 new members for the county organization.

The county bureau president, Harold Hodges, has been in Austin and Waco this week meeting with the water conservation committee, of which he is a member.

The committee is trying to work out a way to protect the farmer's interest in the state water conservation program that cities and industries are now trying to control.

7 Women To Attend Borger PTA Meeting

Seven women from Memphis Parent Teacher Association will attend the thirty second annual conference of Eighth District, Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers on Tuesday, April 19, in Borger.

Mrs. John W. Smith, District Chairman of the Texas Endowment Founder's Day and Birthday committee, will also have a part in the meeting.

Others attending the meeting from Memphis are: Mrs. Worth Howard, Mrs. Robert Moss, Mrs. Robert Duncan, Mrs. Edward Hill, Mrs. Jess Roden and Mrs. Frances Bruce.

Mrs. Crews Henry of Canyon vice-president of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers, and Dr. Cecil Yarbrough, superintendent of Snyder schools will be the featured speakers at the conference.

First And Second

iod between the second and final shot.

At the meeting Monday, Miss Foreman said there were more than 300 children in the county schools who are eligible for the vaccine.

Any child who is unable to take the shots with his class, because of sickness or some other valid reason will be able to take is on and alternate date. However, should the parents fail to bring the child in until after the project is completed, they will have to pay the commercial cost of the shots.

The vaccine will be available commercially in a very short time and the prescription cost will be about $6 for the three shots, plus doctor's fees for giving the vaccine.

In field trials conducted last summer 4440,000 children in 44 states were given the shots and there were extremely infrequent reactions, and these in general of little significance.

The National Foundation spent 16 million dollars in conducting these field trials and tabulating the results. When the pharmaceutical companies that produced the vaccine for the tests were going to stop production, the Foundation decided to invest nine million more for vaccine, so if it were successful, there would be a supply on hand for use in fighting polio this season.

Since children of the first and second grade age have been the most susceptible to polio in the past, it was decided to use the vaccine bought with this money in inoculating them.

Hyre told the meeting Monday that the testing is behind us, and if the vaccine is as successful as preliminary reports show, then doctors and scientists think that within five or ten years polio will take its place along side of smallpox as a conquered disease.

not on the contour. This new provision makes most of Hall County cropland eligible for assistance.

Cost-share assistance payments will be made through the local ASC office immediately. It is expected that all approvals will be mailed to individual producers by March 15.

When the listing or chiseling is completed, farmers should return their approvals to the county office, McKown said. Their application will be submitted for payment immediately.

The Texas ASC committee allocated $718,000 in additional funds to 32 High Plains and Rolling Plains counties on April 8. The allocations for adjoining counties are as follows:

Collingsworth, $29,000; Cottle, $17,700; Donley, $28,500; Childress, $31,700; and Briscoe, $30,000.
