Escape Serious Injury Auto-Truck Smash-up

Two people miraculously escaped serious injuries when a truck and an automobile collided into each other in Cummings Cafe on the highway at about 10:30 p.m.

The truck was driven by Peggy Adams, 20, of Memphis, and the driver was Joan Edwards, 19, of Memphis. The truck was piloted by John Virgil Anderson of Dallas.

Anderson escaped being crushed by laying over in the seat of the truck when the top was smashed in.

The truck tractor was marked off as a complete loss by the insurance adjuster who investigated the accident Sunday morning, and the trailer had to be unloaded before it could be moved on to Dallas.

The car was also an almost complete loss, according to the investigating officers.

The Strickland Motor Freight Company of Dallas, saw the girls apparently turning in front of him, he attempted to miss them, according to reports.

The two vehicles collided almost head-on on Anderson's side of the road and his truck went on into the ditch, turned over, and the trailer jack-knifed on the cab, crushing the top and back almost down to the steering wheel.

Area Hit Again By Heavy Rains Crops Hailed Out Around Plaska

Mid-day turned into dusk dark Wednesday as Hall County suffered its second farm damaging rain and hail storm within a week.

The sky turned dark at 11 o'clock yesterday morning as heavy clouds rolled in from the north accompanied by rain and wind. A few hail stones fell, but not enough to count as a hail storm.

Memphis received 1.07 inches of rain during the day and night, according to J. J. McMicken.

Heavier rains fell to the west of Memphis and H. A. Hodges said that he received about 2 inches on his farm at Plaska. A heavy hail storm accompanied the rain and destroyed what young cotton that was up and had been saved from last week's flood.

The bridges across Indian Creek, three miles west of Memphis on highway 256 washed out, and the Oaks creek bridge two miles east of Lakeview on the same highway was reported damaged by the high water.

The bridge pilings in the main channel of Indian Creek were washed out and the west end of the bridge sagged down in a V shape.

Hodges said that Oaks creek was out of banks again yesterday and all over the farms that are south of Lakeview along this creek were under water.

After last week's big rains County Agent W. B. Hooser made a tour of these farms and he said that several of them were washed completely away and looked like river beds.

Hodges said yesterday that the Hall County Farm Bureau was going to make an attempt to get federal aid to assist in widening the Oaks channel from two miles south of Lakeview to a distance of seven miles below the town.

This is necessary so the creek can carry the flood waters and protect the farms that border each side of it.

Hodges said it would be a waste of money to replace terraces and other water control practices on these farms until the channel was widened, because every big rain forced the creek out of its banks and destroyed the terraces.

Hodges, who is president of the Hall County Farm Bureau said he (Continued on Page 10)

Report From Washington

By Walter Rogers

Congressman, 18th District

Foreign Relations
Senate has just passed the foreign aid program of $9 to 18. This calls for $1 billion in new funds to supplement the present $1 billion in the foreign aid program. I have been told from sources that these unspent funds in the amount of several billion dollars. The estimates vary from $1 billion to $2 billion. This is a variance. The reason for the variance lies in the fact that it is difficult to get the money on a subject from a country that does not receive false information, but you receive only information as will barely be the question that you ask. Unless you know how to get information at all. In any case, it presently appears that the dollars in new money that the foreign aid program will have available to it are between 12 and 15 billion. Part of this has been lost, part has not.

to correct their own governments and try to bring to their own countries the things that we in America have. A much better balance on a large scale could be maintained.

The Public Debt

It is anticipated that the administration will ask for a new ceiling on the public debt. It presently stands at around 277 billion dollars, which is a figure that is among the all-time highs in the public debt of this country. You will recall that Congress authorized an increase in the public debt authority to 281 billion on a temporary basis. (Incidentally, I voted against that increased authority.) The debt will recede a few billion when corporation taxes come in, but will increase thereafter for several months. The administration no doubt feels that they will need additional authority to borrow more money. Very little has been said recently about the public debt, probably because it has been increased rather than reduced, as the American people were told it would be. The administration will have to make out an excellent case if they get the authority to increase it.

Never a Dull Moment

Last Sunday I was at home trying to catch up on some of the chores around the house. I had been trying to put up some awnings and almost fell off the ladder three times. At one point I had a screen in one hand, an awning in the other, one leg hooked over an upstairs window and the other foot on the ladder, when the ladder started slipping. I don't know what happened, but I lost no limbs and everything worked out all right, except I didn't get the awning up. I had just come into the house and was resting when the phone rang. It was a friend of mine wanting to ask about some of the legislation that was pending before one of my committees. Just as I got into a full explanation, Susan came to the door and advised me that the kitchen was on fire. I excused myself from the telephone, went to the kitchen and found the stove on fire. Susan was baking a cake and something inflammable had spilled in the oven and caught fire. It took me about ten minutes to get it put out and get back to the phone. My friend was very apologetic and said that perhaps he should let me go, but I told him that we had put out the fire and Susan was back in the cake-baking business.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

June is traditionally the month for weddings, and many couples will be taking marriage vows this month. But, while a certain symbolic transfer of "worldly goods" is often associated with the wedding ceremony, under Texas law, the act of marrying another does not give you the authorization to take control of his property.

Generally speaking, each spouse has the right to control and dispose of his or her own separate property. The separate property of a husband or wife includes property owned by either before marriage, and that which is acquired by either after marriage by gift or inheritance. Any other property acquired after marriage is presumed by law to be community property until the contrary is clearly proved.

Aside from the ordinary community estate, there is a class of property known as the wife's "special community," which includes all the income from her separate real property, and probably the interest on bonds or notes, and dividends on stocks owned in her separate right. While the husband may have similar assets, the law accords them no particular distinction from ordinary community property.

Although the history of the matter is somewhat confusing, it appears that under present day law the husband has control of ordinary community property; but control of the wife's special community property is reserved to her.

Certain restrictions are imposed upon both husband and wife in exercising such control. For instance, the husband cannot legally dispose of community property in such a way as to defraud the wife, nor can he sell the home-stand without her signature and acknowledgment. And the wife's sale or mortgage of her separate real estate, stocks or bonds is not valid unless her husband joins with her in the transaction—he must sign and execute the necessary legal papers along with her. There are laws exempting the wife's separate and special community property from liability for debts incurred by the husband. Such liability is restricted to his separate property and the ordinary community property.

On the other hand, debts incurred by the wife in obtaining necessities for herself or the children bind all property belonging to either party, including the husband's separate property. For other debts which she has power to incur, only her separate and special community property are liable.

All of these distinctions emphasize the advisability of keeping proper records. By doing so the various classes of community and separate property owned by a married couple will always be easily distinguishable. Each category will then receive the special protection afforded to it by the laws of the state.

Cattle Need Some Proteins During Dry Summer Days

COLLEGE STATION — Protein supplements, minerals and plenty of roughage form the necessary combination for keeping livestock healthy and growing during the dry, summer months when green grazing is short.

Too many producers overlook the protein supplement and mineral part of this combination, according to U. D. Thompson, extension animal husbandman. Livestock need more than dry grass—oft times the only feed available in mid-summer.

Thompson suggests supplementing the roughage, whether it be dry pasture, baled hay or bundles, with two pounds of cottonseed meal or cake for each animal daily. Research has shown that 41 percent protein supplements are the most economical to feed.

Granulated salt and steamed bone meal supply the necessary minerals, Thompson says. These may be fed free-choice separately or in combination.

By creep feeding, producers can lighten the load on mother cows and market heavier calves. Start the calves on oats, Thompson suggests, slowly reducing the oats and adding corn. When all green grazing is exhausted, the addition of 10 pounds of cottonseed meal to each 100 pounds of grain mix is recommended.

"WORSE THAN WORCHESTER TORNADO" — Mrs. Bertha E. Kubly, 2 South Street Worchester, Mass. (right) plans rehabilitation for Mrs. Flora Parr, Age 71, whose home was completely demolished in the tornado which struck the community May 25th. Because of her long experience in all phases of disaster work, Mrs. Kubly was flown to Blackwell. She said, after visiting the ruins of the Parr home and Blackwell in general, "We thought the destruction in the Worchester tornado of 1953 was bad but it cannot compare to what I have seen here."

Ranch Resources Cut In Half By 12 Year Drouth

COLLEGE STATION — A 50 percent reduction in livestock numbers has been noted in the Edwards Plateau and Trans-Pecos areas of Texas since drouth began in 1943. Many ranchmen who prior to 1950 did little supplemental feeding were averaging $25 annually for feed expenditures for each animal unit at the end of 1953.

These findings have grown out of a study by two agricultural economists at Texas A & M College on the economic effects of drouth on the resources of West Texas ranches. Most of the 162 ranch operators studied by C. A. Bonnen and J. M. Ward were within 100 miles of San Angelo, the area hardest hit by the drouth. At San Angelo, a 60-inch rainfall deficiency accumulated in the 11-year period, 1943-53.

Grass clippings studied at the Sonora Ranch Experiment Station yielded only 20 pounds an acre of air-dry forage in 1951 and none in '52 and '53. Between 1950 and 1953 the economists found a 37.5 percent decline in net worth among one group of 45 ranches. At the end of this period, short-term debts of the same ranches amounted to 103 per cent of the value of their livestock. They had reduced their livestock numbers 28 per cent, cash 50 percent, and total assets were down 20 percent, while liabilities, including a 10 percent rise in land mortgages, were up 38 percent and life insurance, 42 percent.

Another group of 92 ranches which received special livestock loans from the Farmers Home Administration owed in short-term debts 206 percent of the value of their livestock. This group represented the more extreme financial conditions among ranchmen.

Sharp changes in prices of livestock during the period complicated the drouth problems for both ranchmen and credit agencies. Bonnen and Ward reported. As prices rose, ranchmen were reluctant to reduce stocking rates, probably speculating on a break in the drouth. This led to heavy use of high-priced feed in expectation of continued high prices, and expanded borrowing when the expected prices did not come about.

Skin Divers Aid Fish Observers

AUSTIN.—Use of skin diving techniques to study fish for the general purpose of aiding anglers is under consideration by the Texas Game and Fish Commission.

The commission's chief aquatic biologist said formal request has been made of the federal government to use Dingell-Johnson funds, derived from a special tax on fishing gear, to finance the projects.

The program, if authorized, will be first used in Lake Travis of the Highland Lakes chain, because it has unusually clear water. The studies eventually would be made in other Texas lakes.

Primary objectives would be to locate black bass concentrations; determine what lures will entice them and pass such information on to the anglers; study habitat conditions that cause bass to gather in certain areas in preference to others; and spot schools of rough fish and inform the bonded commercial fishermen under contract where to set nets to increase the take of rough fish.

The chief aquatic biologist said major emphasis would be placed at the start in observing black bass in Lake Travis.

"We have reason to believe that there is a greater black bass population in Lake Travis than is reflected in fishermen's catches," he said. "But our studies have not been complete. For one thing, black bass are so skittish or smart we do not get representative catches of that species in our netting observations. Black bass simply are too cagey and do not get caught in the same proportion to other kinds of fish. By actually observing the behavior of bass around net sets we hope to obtain a correction factor in order to arrive at a more correct estimation of the bass population in our lakes."

He said the wariness of black bass is typified in their toward skin divers as they experiments already made carp, buffalo, panfish, and other species show no fear from skin divers, shy away. But it has been noted that if the diver will quietly and sit on the the blacks will finally escape.

He reported the experienced one skin diving fan who the side to locate a black concentration and what bait they preferred turning to the surface ordinary angler, this man being a certain type of lure and "made a killing."

Prescription Sick Pastures Best, Regrowth

LARGE STATION — Rest is the best prescription for overgrazed pastures, says a specialist.

Many ranches are carrying too many head of livestock, producers prefer to defer one-fourth of the remaining, A. H. extension range specialist says. This many pastures have the full advantage of recent rains.

With most native grasses vegetative cover will make recovery in a shorter time. Poorer pastures can be later since they may require several years to recover. To remove all livestock from a pasture than to leave it docked, he adds.

For three to six months, rest. But if the grazing is too heavy, wait at least until the growing grasses mature before a seed and plant reproduction in addition to increasing of existing plants.

Specialist recommends mowing the pasture during the winter. This method provides forage for livestock and distribute plant seed.

Practitioners looking over the ranges are considering in some instances that more often does the job as much as 15 percent of the grasses are left, rest the seed, the specialist

Vacation Travel Is Big Business In United States

COLLEGE STATION. — Vacation motor travel is big business in the United States. Each year more and more vacationers take to the road, with the majority in private cars and the average car is driven 1,200 miles during the vacation. As motor travel booms, traffic accidents, especially in rural areas, also boom.

The Texas Farm and Ranch safety committee offers a few suggestions which they feel, if followed, will take some of the boom out of accidents. They are given below:

Give the family car a thorough check-up before starting. Watch for signs of trouble along the way. Don't block vision by improperly loading the car. Good vision is a must for safe driving.

Be prepared for emergencies. A first aid kit, maps, permits, identification, a flash light and a tool kit, a few spare parts should be carried along.

With the driver rests much of the responsibility for a safe trip. His efficiency is greatly affected by fatigue. Plan the trip, urge the committee, to allow rest stops during the day and a good night's sleep each night. And don't try to drive and see the sights at the same time.

Ignorance of the law is only an excuse. Most states use standard traffic sign shapes. They are a constant guide to safe driving; know and obey them.

Traffic will be a problem during the vacation season in all parts of the country. Just don't get in a hurry and don't drive faster than conditions justify. Be adaptable and fit your driving to the peculiarities and conditions that exist in the areas through which you may travel.

Finally, take safety with you. It will bring you home in good shape and you can look forward to next year's trip.

Draft Physicals Slated For July

AUSTIN. — State draft headquarters Tuesday was preparing to send out a call to local boards for physical examinations for the first time in about six months.

The decision to have approximately 2,000 men over the state examined during July was made at state Selective Service headquarters recently, Lt. Col. Morris S. Schwartz, deputy state director, said.

The calls for the men to undergo the combined physical-mental examinations will be mailed out to local draft boards sometime during the first week in June, Col. Schwartz said.

The decision to have the men examined followed receipt of the Texas induction call for July from national Selective Service headquarters. This call for 550 men, compares with a quota of 549 for June and 544 for May.

The last physical-mental examinations for men registered with Texas draft boards was in January. Only special cases have been examined since that time, Col. Schwartz said, usually less than 100 men a month.

With the exception of volunteers, the July induction call will be filled only with men who on July 1 are at least 21 years of age, the deputy state director said.

Summer Softball

The summer softball league for young boys gets underway Tuesday night at the city park with the organization of the teams. There will be plenty of boys for this program, but the leaders in the set-up have stated they need more adults to take interest in the program and help with the coaching and officiating of the games.

This is a chance for a lot of us "grandstand" coaches and officials to put some of our "vocal coaching" into practice on the field. The teams will play two nights a week at the city park and there are very few men in town who could not use a little fresh air and exercise that often.

One of the program director's said that the boys did most of the practicing on their own and about the only time they needed a coach was during the game. That would mean a man would only have to work about two hours a week toward helping a group of kids have a good supervised summer recreation program. It is almost a cinch that when the summer is over that the coaches will have had more fun than the players.

Lets get behind the program and give it a helping hand,
for it is an investment in our citizens of the future.

Water Safety

With the advent of the warm summer months, swimming, fishing and boating is returning as Hall County's favorite recreation. Along with these fine summer activities is the ever present danger of drowning.

The area has already one death by drowning this season,
so lets be extra careful not to add any more to the total.

Water is like a spirited horse, one can't be afraid of it, but it must be shown respect. A person can have a lot of fun in and on the water if he will just observe a few well known safety precautions.

Don't swim right after eating, don't swim in water where no one else is around, don't dive into shallow or unknown depths, don't overload boats, don't rock a boat, and always have some kind of life preservers for use should the boat sink, are just a few of the safety measures that will prevent water deaths this summer.

With the use of just a little caution and common sense this summer, we can have a safe and happy summer while enjoying to the fullest our water recreation.

With numerous foreign countries throwing out their socialist government enterprises because they are too big a strain on the government treasury, many of our "government planners" should take their heads out of the "socialist sand" and take a look around before we too face national bankruptcy.

ANNUAL SPRING BOARD

Press Paragraphs—
QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

The Milk Went Sour
June is proclaimed as "Dairy Month" and the Herald waste basket is filled with publicity material sent out by the American Dairy Association which this organization wants us to run as free advertising, or "publicity."

Only catch is that the ADA has spent a great deal of money in promoting this Dairy Month. They have allotted a million or so to television stations, several hundred thousand to network radio,
about the same to magazines.
Then they have hired high powered publicity men, artists, copy writers, production men and advertising agencies to prepare material for us.

After spending all this time,
effort and money to get the newspapers and the local radio stations the Dairy Month material, they expect it to be used free, of course.

Every dairy farmer in this area
has kicked into the fund for promoting Dairy Month, but they don't have a thing to say about how these funds are distributed.

While we like milk, we don't like the ADA or the methods they use. If they're going to spend millions for advertising, we would like at least to have a chance at the crumbs.—Ochiltree County Herald.

County Re-Organization—A
Too-Hot Potato
There is a bill under consideration in the Texas Legislature this spring calling for re-districting of county commissioners on the basis of population instead of geography.

There are instances in Texas under the present set-up where as many as 95 per cent of the people in a county are represented by one commissioner, while the other 5 per cent are represented by the remaining three commissioners.

The ratio in Hemphill County isn't that extreme, although there are certainly more people in Commissioner Precinct No. 1 than in all the other three precincts combined.

There's little question but that Texas county government organization is antiquated and could stand quite a lot of revision in the interest of fair and equal representation as well as in the interests of economy and efficiency of management. . . but there's equally little chance that the situation will even be seriously discussed, much less remedied, at this session of the Legislature.

One reason, of course, is that the Texas Legislature, as usual, is completely bogged down, having frittered away all of the time allowed to the regular session without doing anything constructive about the serious and immediate problem of raising the state's budget.

Another, and more compelling reason, is that any such reorganization bill as has been proposed is going to draw plenty of active opposition from county officials who naturally do not like to have their status quo disturbed. . . and such opposition is not counterbalanced by any active support for a change from the general public.

As long as the voters of Texas
are willing to put up with unequal representation in county councils without raising a loud and concerted voice to Austin, the Legislature isn't likely to risk burning its fingers on any such, hot potato as this.—Cassidian Record.

A Few Observations
So far as the legislature is concerned, we are thoroughly disgusted.

Here the boys got their salaries raised from $10 to $25 per day. They have not put in as much time doing their job under the new wage scale as they did under the old one.

We have had three long-winded filibusters in the Senate. Wonder when the Senate will get over its high handed methods and kick out such practices.

Over in the House, we have that body under the control of the non-taxing lobbyists. In spite of the prevailing tax on beer in other states,
Texas refuses to budge.

We shall see what we shall see.

June is the traditional month for weddings, and the prospective bride never depends on luck to make her wedding a success. Every detail is planned to perfection, and nothing is left to luck.

Although the bride and her family assume most of the responsibility for making the wedding a big success, it is the bridegroom's responsibility to plan for the new home which will be established soon after the wedding vows are exchanged.

Luck should never enter into the groom's plans for this new home. Finances for the home should be one of the big factors in these plans. There is no better way to provide for the present and future expenses of the new home than with CHECKING AND SAVING ACCOUNTS WITH US.

A checking account with our bank provides you with an up to the minute record of your cash balance and expenses. The savings account provides a cash reserve for those unexpected and planned expenses of the future.

Come in and talk over your plans with us. We are always happy to help you plan your financial future.

All Chevrolet's competitors and most of the high-priced cars tried it recently in official NASCAR* trials—and took a licking!

Met the champ! The new Chevrolet "Turbo-Fire V8"—the most modern V8 on the road today. Here's what happened—

Daytona Beach, NASCAR Acceleration Tests Over Measured Mile From Standing Start. Chevrolet captured the 4 top positions in its class! 8 of the first 11! And on a time basis Chevrolet beat every high-priced car, too—but one! But wait!—this is just the beginning!

Daytona Beach, NASCAR Straightaway Running. Open to cars delivered in Florida for $2,500 or less. Chevrolet captured the first two places, 7 out of the first 11 places!

Daytona Beach, NASCAR 2-Way Straightaway Running Over Measured Mile. Open to cars from 250 to 299 cu. in. displacement. Chevrolet captured 3 of the first 5 places!

Columbia, S. C. NASCAR 100-Mile Race on half-mile track. Very tight turns. Chevrolet finished first!

Fayetteville, N. C. NASCAR Late Model Event. Chevrolet again finished first. Because of even tighter turns the driver chose to run the entire 150 laps in second gear! Yet no overheating or pit stops!

These facts you can't laugh off. Sales leader. Road leader. A crowning achievement of Chevrolet and General Motors. Try a Chevrolet . . . and live in a land of going-away where you win all the arguments! Soon, maybe?

Way, way ahead!

Summer Swimming Instruction Opens Monday Morning

The City Swimming Pool's summer program of instruction begins Monday morning at 9 o'clock, according to a statement by Hubert Dennis, pool manager.

The pool will offer courses in swimming for beginning boys and girls, life saving, and a ladies morning, Dennis said.

Dennis and Margaret Ann Massey will conduct the classes. Miss Massey has completed the Red Cross swimming teachers' course and the life saving course.

The deadline for signing up for the swimming courses has been moved back until the first class period Monday morning, June 13. However, Dennis said, after that no one will be allowed to register for the course.

There are now 48 boys and 46 girls registered for the swimming course. Women were not asked to sign for the swimming course, but on women's morning each Wednesday from 9:30 until 11:30, instruction will be offered for those who are interested.

The classes for boys and girls will be held each Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The boys' class will begin at 9 o'clock each morning, and the girls' at 10.

Anyone wishing to take the Junior Life Saving Course will report to the pool at 1:30 on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday afternoons.

Dennis said to be eligible for this course a person must be 12 years old and hold a swimmers certificate from last summer's course, or have permission of the instructor.

Uncle Johnny, as he is known all over the country, watched Lodge grow from one store to a thriving community and change its name to Plaska. Then it lost its school and now it has diminished to one store again.

Area Hit Again

was going to try to call Washington either Wednesday night or today and see if he could get work started on getting the needed assistance.

Other reports of rainfall yesterday gave Estelina about the same amount as Memphis and Hedley also reported about an inch. Frank Finch said that he received around 3 inches on his place 10 miles northwest of Memphis. J. E. Masterson said he received .5 inch on his farm 6 miles south of Estelina.

In last week's flood the Donley County Water Control and Improvement District suffered between $500 and $600 in damages to equipment, according to manager Bill Coursey.

The water undermined their pump house and washed out several water gathering lines on the Boyd Rogers ranch northwest of town.

Coursey said the main transmission line was undamaged except for about 50 feet across a creek that was exposed. He said a cable support would have to be rigged to support this section of pipe.

Water got to within six inches of the main pump engine, but it was undamaged.

Coursey estimated that between 5 and 8 inches of rain fell in that area.

Two weeks of rain have washed out country roads and bridges and the only way that some farms can be reached is by tractor, W. B. Hooser said.

According to unofficial records kept by the Democrat, Memphis has received 11.81 inches of rain this year. Most of his has fallen during May and June.

High and low temperatures for the past seven days as recorded by J. J. McMicken, local weather recorder are: Friday, 85-62; Saturday, 88-63; Sunday 88-63; Monday 81-59; Tuesday, 85-59; Wednesday, 87-61; Thursday, 77-55.

Unidentified Skull Found By Boy Scout

All this week the Democrat has had on display a bone formation that has been called just about every kind of animal skull, but no one knows for sure just what it is.

Steve Blackmon found the thing about two months ago six miles south of town in Spring Creek while on a Boy Scout camping trip.

One of his teachers who is an amateur geologist said it was some type of pre-historic sea animal.

Steve and Paul Gene Nelson were exploring for arrow heads and old bones, Steve collects both, in the creek about one mile from the Gardner farm when Paul spotted the skull. Steve dug it up and added it to his collection.

He plans to turn the thing over to the museum in either Canyon or in Austin in the near future.

They are putting casts on his legs today and they think they will be able to move him in a few days and make some x-rays of the child's head.

The child was injured May 15 when he ran in front of a car on highway 256 at Leslie.

The boy was rushed to the Amarillo hospital where he was found to have two broken legs and serious head injuries.
