Two graduated Memphis Cyclones, Carrol Gardenhire at end, James Freeman at guard will see duty in the West's forward wall.

Estelline's hard running half-back, Doyle Walker, will be operating behind these two linemen in the West's backfield.

Gardenhire was selected this year as the Democrat's outstanding offensive lineman and Freeman was selected as the Cyclones outstanding defensive back.

Walker was the main driving force in the Estelline eleven this past season and many observers rate him as one of the outstanding players to come from Hall County in some years.

Coaching this year's West squad will be Frank Kimbrough and Clark Jarnigan of West Texas State. Garvin Beauchamp and Oliver Jackson of Abilene Christian College will be directing the East squad.

The two teams have been hand picked from end to end and through the backfield, so either Thompson returned to Lakeview in 1952 and was minister of the church until his death this spring.

Church officials have invited everyone to join them in all the services of this ten day revival campaign.

Softball Tournament Opens In Park Tues.

The annual summer softball tournament for the Peeewe and Junior league teams will open Tuesday night, Aug. 9, at 7:30 in the City Park, Ted Myers, league director announced Wednesday.

Myers said there will be awards for all the members of each team participating in the tournament games. Five games will be played in each division to decide a tournament winner.

Each team captain is urged by Myers to have their team members at each game and each player should be present to play in all tournament games.

Friday night the Peeewe league Yankees won an easy 14-4 victory over the Giants. John Lemons, Billy Thompson, Jimmy Harrison, Jack Stargel, Clinton Culp and Bennie Spear all scored for the Yankees.

Don Craig, David May and Buster McQueen scored for the Giants.

Housing Needed For 12 Families

Chamber of Commerce manager Clifford Farmer this week issued a plea for houses and apartments for 12 families who will be coming to Memphis between August 20, and Sept. 1.

Farmer said the families would need some houses and apartments to be furnished and others to be unfurnished.

These families are moving here with a company and will be here for several months, if they can find housing. If housing is not available, they might go on to a neighboring town, Farmer said.

Anyone having rental property that will be vacant between the 20th and the last of the month are urged to call Farmer at the Chamber of Commerce office. That phone number is 444.

Youth Is Injured In Truck Wreck Saturday Morning

Kenneth Taylor, 18, suffered a dislocated right elbow when the pick-up truck he was driving went off the southeast end of the creek bridge on Highway 256 at the west city limits of Memphis, Saturday morning at 11 o'clock.

The state highway patrolman who investigated the accident said that Taylor apparently was not going very fast when the truck hit the end of the bridge rail and rolled over into the creek.

The officer said the boy could not give any reason for hitting the bridge.

The truck was owned by J. H. Gleaton of Memphis.

2 Teachers Added To School Faculty

The Memphis Independent School District Board elected two teachers to the faculty in a meeting Monday night at the high school.

Mrs. Clifford Farmer and Mrs. Glenn Bruce were the two teachers elected by the board. Both teachers have been in the Memphis system before. Superintendent W. C. Davis said.

The board elected a third person to the faculty as principal of the Travis Elementary School. However, the man elected, Leroy (Speedy) Scott, turned the job down in order to take a position in business.

Davis said that Mrs. Farmer would be placed in the intermediate department of the school. He said she was not replacing anyone, but was hired when the school's scholastics increased enough to allow for another teacher under the Gilmer-Akin school program.

Mrs. Bruce is filling the vacancy created by the resignation of Mrs. L. L. Thomas, who with her husband have accepted jobs in the Amarillo school system.

Thomas was principal of Travis Elementary School while in the system.

Davis said that at present the school had a complete faculty of teachers, except for the principal position in the Travis school.

The school system was allowed, according to Davis, two more teachers this year because of increased scholastics. One of these was for the elementary schools and one for Morningside schools.

County Missing Severe Heat Wave

While much of the nation was sweltering in heat waves, Hall County was enjoying relatively mild temperatures for this time of year.

PLEATED — This pretty homemaker shows off her apron featuring a brand new development in cotton fabrics — permanent pleating. A fabric finisher, a pleating company, and textile resin chemists have worked out a new technique that achieves permanent pleating for cotton, the National Cotton Council reports. A plastic resin, applied with the right amount of heat, sets the pleating. When the pleated cotton fabric is washed, it requires no ironing.

VA Changes Home Loan Requirements

Veterans purchasing homes with the aid of GI Loans will be required to make a down payment of at least two percent, and the maximum time for repayment of loans will be set at 25 years, Robert W. Sisson, manager of the VA regional office, Lubbock, announced.

Similarly moderate credit requirements are being placed in effect by the Federal Housing Administration for homes purchased with FHA insured mortgages.

Since April 23, 1953, the VA has had no mandatory down payment requirement, and the mortgage repayment period could run as high as 30 years.

Today's action, Sisson said, was taken after a thorough study of national economic conditions, especially those prevailing in the residential construction and mortgage financing fields. The new requirements are expected to help protect prospective GI Loan applicants against increased prices of homes, overextension of credit and financial risks further, they should tend to stabilize the mortgage market by eliminating the 30 year no down payment loan which currently is being traded at widening discount margins.

The new requirements are not retroactive. They are not applicable to purchase of home for which VA has issued certificates of reasonable value prior to July 30, or in cases where requests for appraisals actually have been received in VA offices prior to July 30.

Also, the requirements will not apply to GI loans made solely for the replacement or reconstruction of residential property that has been destroyed or substantially damaged by flood, fire, or other similar catastrophes nor to repair alteration or improvement loans.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Hulsey of Tulia visited here over the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Guthrie. Tommie Lynn returned home with her parents after a visit here.

Bill Davis of Panhandle visited here with his parents Saturday to San Antonio, where he will attend coaching school this week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Murphy attended a reunion of the Anderson family in Abilene Sunday, at Cobb Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Koeninger and Neva Sue visited Saturday with their nephew and family in Plainview. On Sunday they visited Mr. Koeninger's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Koeninger, who have recently moved into their new home in the Hale Center community. Social Security Agent Coming Mon.

You can earn more money in 1955 and still keep your social security checks under the liberalized retirement test, according to John R. Sanderson, manager of the Amarillo Social Security District Office.

"You can earn as much as $1200 during 1955, either in wages or in net earnings from a business, without losing any benefit payments. If you make more than $1200, you will lose a month's payment for each $80 over $1200, but you will not lose a check for any month in which you earn less than $80 in wages or don't operate your business," he added.

"Beginning in 1955, the retirement test will apply to all wage or business earnings, whether subject to social security or not," Sanderson added.

"Placing the retirement test on an annual basis will be particularly helpful to seasonal workers. If, for instance, you were to work each year for the four months of June through September at $300 a month, you would have your social security benefits suspended for those months under former restrictions, but under those coming into effect, you would not lose any monthly payments," he concluded.

Civil Service Test For Social Workers

The United States Civil Commission announces regulations for Social Workers at $4525 to $5440 per annum employment at Sheppard Air Base and other Federal Air Bases in the State of Texas.

Full information and applications may be obtained at post office or from the Regional Secretary, Board of Civil Service Examiners, Sheppard Air Force Base, Wichita Falls, Texas.

Antarctic Blooms For First Time

WASHINGTON—The Antarctic Continent, which according to scientists has been barren of color for millions of years, will blossom out during the coming Antarctic Summer in brilliant orange, blue, scarlet, green, and even black.

The occasion for the new coloring will be the appearance of the U. S. Navy's Task Force 43 scheduled to arrive at Little America in late December (mid-summer in the Antarctic). Personnel of the Task Force, officially dubbed "Operation Deepfreeze," will don outer garments of brilliant, contrasting colors for protection and psychological measures.

Against the frigid white of the Antarctic snow and ice, these garments will stand out vividly, easily seen from great distances. Dog teams and their drivers traveling inland will face less risk of becoming lost, since they can be located from the air.

The bright-colored parkas and trousers are being manufactured especially for the expedition at a cost of less than $14.00 per suit. They will be worn over regular cold-weather equipment.

The Task Force of six ships, a special SeaBee battalion, and a cold-weather aircraft squadron will sail for the Antarctic in November. The planes will take off and land on skis as well as wheels on specially compacted snow-runways at the U. S. scientific bases.

While the ships and planes will return to the U. S. in the Spring, the SeaBee battalion will "Winter-over" in the Antarctic.

Salting and watering facilities and fences on the range are excellent management tools, but how well they are used determines their value. They can be used to increase the output of the range in the form of meat and lower the per unit cost of production.

A Year Of Crop Surpluses

Prospects for the fall of 1955 foretell another bumper farm crop year despite the ravages of drought in mid-western states.

That is the prediction of the National Agricultural Research bureau in Washington. Not only will it be a "bumper" year, but perhaps the biggest production of all time, if the experts are correct.

It is a paradox that increased production in 1955 will spell trouble ahead for Texas and the nation's farmers in the form of prices, mounting surpluses and critical storage problems. And no relief from the farm cost-income pinch is in sight. As a result, the "farm problem" is certain to become more and more an issue in 1956 politics.

Washington apparently is uncertain as to what—if anything—to do next. It is not likely that Congress will act to ease the price squeeze before adjournment around the first of August.

Farm officials in Washington show no sign of easing their determination to block a return to 90 per cent mandatory supports for basic crops. Large supplies of most farm products now indicate supports will be lowered to the 75 per cent parity minimum for basics—cotton and tobacco excepted—next January. Wheat already has been announced at 76 per cent.

Crop reports indicate SURPLUSES—in capital letters. Storage space, especially for feed grains, is at a premium. The Commodity Credit Corporation announced this month plans to build up to 100 million bushels of new space. Need for storage will be even greater than that if crop prospects hold up. And the farmer must have his goods stored to get supports.

Nation-wide it looks like record production on barley, soybeans, grain sorghums, hay—and near record for corn, oats and dry beans. Compared with last year, production may fall in wheat, cotton, rice, sugar, tobacco, apples and peaches.

Trouble looms for potato growers. Irish potato production is forecast at 44.3 million bushels over last year and the sweet potato crop looks 15 per cent larger. There is new talk about a demand for potato price support program—an unpopular notion with those who remember the disastrous program of the 1940's.

The 12th annual Farm Safety Week will soon be history but, says the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety committee, the same will be said of many rural accident victims unless they remember "Your safety is in Your hands".

Clean-Up Week

Clean-Up Week started today and will continue until next Thursday, when the organizations and citizens of Memphis will all join in to make a final clean-up and haul-off drive on Thursday, August 11.

In the beginning the annual clean-up campaign day was sponsored by the Lions Club. Then last year the Junior Chamber of Commerce joined the Lions in trying to put the clean-up day over.

Because of apathy of the part of many people and plain laziness on the part of others, this clean-up drive was being dodged like the plague this year by all organizations. Each organization felt that the job was too big for any one or two groups and the workers last year sweated in the 100 degree and above heat, while many property owners sat in the house under the air-conditioner, so they didn't care to clean-up for those people again this year.

After a concentrated effort several people and groups and two or three meetings, the town is today launching a clean-up drive and asking everyone to do their part. This drive is not sponsored by any one group, it is being pushed by the people of Memphis who want to have a clean town. If there are any nays on the back to be passed out, the whole town will receive them, for it is an "All Hands Job."

The men and women, and it is a big part of the town, working in the drive, have agreed that for people who are physically and financially unable to get their property clean, there will be working parties to clean these places. However it is very doubtful if the people who are too lazy to clean and burn their own trash get any hauled away.

One man summed up the feelings of many at a meeting the other night. He said, "I am more than ready to help clean the places belonging to people who are unable to do the cleaning, but for the ballgame listeners and golf players, I am going to be hard to find."

The town faces a big jog this week and it is going to take everyone's help to see the matter through to a successful conclusion. When the job is over the people who didn't join in and clean-up will stick out like a sore thumb. You may be able to sweep a little dirt under the rugs, but they don't make rugs big enough to cover up these big weeds.

If we cut and burn all the weeds and trash that can be burned this week, people will drive from miles around to see if Memphis is on fire. For one week let's be known as the "smokey city", so after that we may be known as the "city beautiful."

The age old saying about being higher than a kite is really out of date now. With the new gimmick the scientists are getting ready to put out now, it will be "higher than a satellite."

Voters of Gray County, including those in the local area within the county, will decide the fate of the $350,000 hospital bond issue this Saturday.

Of that issue, $50,000 will go for the construction and equipping of a branch of the county hospital in McLean; the remainder will be used to enlarge the facilities of Highland General Hospital in Pampa by 40 rooms.

There is little doubt that the present hospital needs enlarging.
Local representatives on the county hospital board have informed us that the hospital is taxed to its capacity practically all of the time. Almost every day, additional beds for patients have to be set up in the solariums, and even in hallways. The $300,000 will no doubt be spent wisely in the enlargement of the county-owned facilities in Pampa.

There is likewise little doubt of the need for a small hospital in McLean. Local boosters of the branch here are not seeking an enormous institution, for they well know that the population in this area is not sufficient to support a large hospital.

But these boosters (and included among them are the big majority of the citizens of south Gray tution here is needed, and needed badly. They also feel that area citizens will support such a hospital, for simple arithmetic will reveal that about three times as much money as will be needed to support the hospital is spent by local citizens on medical and hospital care.

The fate of a branch hospital in McLean lies in the hands of the qualified voters who are property taxpayers. By this we mean that a person may vote in the election if he or she is a person qualified by payment of poll tax or by exemption, plus the requirement of—having property listed on the tax rolls (both husband and wife are termed eligible under this statute).

No one has any way of determining how the election will go.
Particularly is it hard to determine how the votes in the Pampa area will cast their ballots. There is some opposition to the issue there, but it is not thought to be large. There is some opposition to the issue right here in McLean, but it is thought to be of a minor nature.

We believe the passage of the issue is of vital importance to the McLean area. We further believe that the issue will carry by a sizeable majority if the voters will go to the polls in large numbers. We hope they do.

Here Is That

Short (s) Subject Again
The wearing of shorts on the streets by the women has landed in the Gallup Poll shuffle. A survey has been made by this famed gatherer of votes on elections, and this and that propositions. It finds that men by a margin of 5-to-3 have turned thumbs down on the idea of women parading the streets in shorts.

The women came back and struck the men a 4-to-1 blow against men wearing shorts on the streets. The writer would like to add his vote to that of the women.

The men should be prohibited from appearing anywhere in public in shorts beyond their own backyard, and preferably, the backyard should be enclosed with a high board fence.

If men want to retain their handsome looks in the eyes of the women folks, better they should remain clothed from head to foot.

Gallup poll showed a vote of better than 2-to-1 opposing high school students wearing shorts to school.

Atomic Tools Look Strange, Awesome

Strange and awesome devices are being used today in the search for the atom. A. Powell, physicist at the University of Chicago, says the new instruments may have been fostered in the minds of Jules Verne or H. G. Wells and later discarded because they were considered "too incredible."

Their collective presence in laboratories and workshops of the atomic age eventually may have an effect on the lives of the farmers and city-dwellers as the steam locomotive of the past.

The atomic scientists are employing these hyper-instruments to explore worlds to a degree never imagined possible.

The electron microscope is the General Electric company's research work at the atomic energy works, for particles on ten-millionth of an inch in diameter can be observed under this magnifying glass for the first time in the world, and if you write letters that small, you would need a magnifying glass the size of the Earth to read them.

Members of the GE organization of the Atomic Energy Commission use the microscope to observe animal tissues and other materials which have been exposed to atomic radiation.

Gas-filled tubes used in the work are "leak-free" in a mass spectrometer detector. The device is so sensitive that it can detect a leak as small as one molecule in 2,000 years for its life.

Light-measuring instruments at the Hanford plutonium plant register weights so small that they are beyond human comprehension. A balance, one of the three sensitive instruments in use by scientists, can measure weights no more than one-hundred-thousandth of a gram.

There is no place for such a device as this in the butcher shop around the corner, but to the scientists in his laboratory, it is an indispensable tool in his quest for greater knowledge about the amazing world of the atom.

Cattle Should Get Salt, Water From Different Places

COLLEGE STATION — Tools are equipment used for doing specific jobs. The quality of the tools used is important but equally or more so is now the tools are utilized for doing the job.

A. H. Walker, extension range specialists, says the salting and watering facilities and fences on the range are excellent management tools, but how well they are used determines their value.

Most operators, either from habit or because of convenience, salt at the watering places. Walker explains that better distribution of grazing and less trampling of plants is secured by salting away from the watering facilities . . . a fourth, half or even a mile away.

Research studies, he adds, at the Sonora Station have shown that more uniform grazing is obtained from cattle, sheep and goats when the water is at one end of the pasture and the salt at the other.

Salt should be placed on knolls, benches, openings in the timber or the gentle slopes, says the specialist. Cattle need an average of two pounds of salt each month with more in the lush growing season. Sheep need about a half pound each month and granulated salt fed in protected troughs is recommended.

Walker says place the watering facilities to get a balanced utilization of forage and this means proper grazing distribution. In excessively steep and rough country, water should be available each half mile and in relatively flat country at intervals of one to one and a half miles. Earthen tanks should be deep with a small surface area to cut down on evaporation. In some sections of Texas from five to seven feet of water are lost annually to evaporation, says Walker.

Be sure to build the fence for the purpose intended. Smaller pastures give better distribution of livestock, make deferred grazing possible and lend themselves to systematic range improvement practices, such as brush control and seasonal grazing. Finally, Walker says, use a map to spot these management tools if the most value is to be obtained from their use on your range.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Slappy and children of Vernon visited here over the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dan McCollum.

Mrs. Pete McCanne and Kim have returned to their home in Animas, N. M., after a three-week visit here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oran Adcock and sons.

R. L. Smith of Fort Worth, brother of the late Bill Smith, visited in the home of his niece, Mrs. T. O. Pounds, from Saturday until Monday.

Mrs. L. G. Doshier of Oklahoma City, Okla., visited here the first of the week with her sister, Mrs. A. W. Howard.

Miss Shila McComb Becomes Bride of Melton V. Smith in Houston Rites

In a double-ring ceremony performed at the St. Andrews Presbyterian Church in Houston, Saturday, July 30, Miss Shila Anne McComb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. McComb of Houston, became the bride of Melton V. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Smith of Estelline.

Dr. Robert H. Bullock, pastor, read the marriage service at 8 p. m.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white Chantilly lace in fleur de bois pattern over white satin. The sculptured bodice was fashioned with a lavalier neckline effected by folds of tulle edged with scalloped lace embroidered with clusters of bridal pearls. The sleeves were brief and scalloped and were complemented by short gauntlets. Small buttons extended down the back of the gown and into the bouffant skirt of lace that cascaded over a double flounce of tulle that swept into a chapel train.

Her finger-tip veil of French illusion was attached to a cloche of tulle embroidered with lace and pearls. Her cascade bouquet was centered with a white orchid, fleur de a'mour and lily of the valley.

She carried an heirloom handkerchief belonging to her great-grandmother and wore her grandmother's sunburst diamond pin.

Mrs. Thomas Assett of Fort Worth, former roommate and sorority sister of the bride at the University of Michigan, attended as matron of honor and Miss Beverly Benson of Austin was maid of honor. Miss Barbara Smith of Estelline, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid.

The bride's attendants wore identical gowns of aqua taffeta fashioned with boat necklines edged with shirring. The same detail marked the elongated bodices and full gathered skirts that ended to floor-length. Completing their costumes were bandeau of pearls and velvet with shadow veils and short white gloves. They carried cascade bouquets of yellow daisies.

Miss Rebecca Bailey of Houston was flower girl. She wore a floor-length dress of white embroidered organdy fashioned with a full gathered skirt, and a bandeau of small yellow and white flowers in her hair.

Master Maury Melton of Austin was ring bearer.

William Bishop of Austin was best man and ushers were John F. McComb, Jr., David G. McComb, brothers of the bride; James Whaley of Houston and Doyle Walker of Estelline.

Mrs. McComb, mother of the bride, was attired in a frock of Mauve organza and lace with matching accessories. The groom's mother, Mrs. Smith, wore a dress of wedgewood blue silk organza with matching accessories.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the Houston Club. Included in the house party were Mrs. Howard Shear of Austin, Miss Kathrine Glendinning of Denver, Colo., Mrs. J. I. Glendinning of Ft. Collins, Colo., Miss Dorothy Deitrick of Houston.

For traveling the bride chose an aqua Italian cotton suit with matching hat. She wore black patent bag and shoes.

Mrs. Smith is a graduate of the University of Michigan and received her M Ed. degree from the University of Texas. She was a member of Gamma Phi Beta.

Mr. Smith is a graduate of North Texas State College and holds his M Ed. degree from the Report From Washington

By Walter Rogers
Congressman, 18th District

Washington Heat
The trouble is that when you move too fast on these complex bills, you do not have time to properly clean them up. This results many times in the defeat of measures that could have been passed if properly and thoroughly considered. Many feel that the fate of the highway bill was a good example. The gas bill skinned through on about as close a margin as possible. The closeness of the vote was not due to the time the bill was considered. The history of this legislation is studded with close votes. Similar legislation barely passed the Congress in 1950 and was vetoed by President Truman. The legislation in this session was subject to 9 weeks' hearings before the committee. As a member of that committee, I was in attendance at practically every session and could see from the very beginning that the vote would be very close. It was. On the first vote, it was 14 for and 44 against. This meant that the bill had failed. However, one of those who voted against the bill was gracious enough to move its reconsideration. The bill was reconsidered by another close vote, and was finally passed out of the committee by a vote of 16 to 15. The bill then went to the Rules Committee, where it received a rule by the very narrow vote of 6 to 5. The first vote in the House was 210 for the bill and 203 against. On final passage, the vote was 208 for and 203 against. One member who had previously voted for the bill voted present. Many of the members are referring to the bill as the "Close Shave" rather than the gas bill. We hope it does better in the Senate.

THE BAFFLES By Mahoney

The fight on the gas bill, as all of you know, was long and hard, and those of us who have vigorously opposed federal control of our economy are highly pleased with the results of the vote in the House yesterday. There are several provisions in the bill that are distasteful to me and will probably be distasteful to many independent producers, but the main feature of the bill which I have long and ardently supported, freeing the independent producer and gatherer from bureaucratic federal control, is intact. Thank goodness.

bill will have passed, with Eisenhower's recommendation on public housing included.

A NEW FAD

Washington seems to have gone hog-wild about the Hawaiian theme. This must be history repeating itself. I remember when I was a child, every vaudeville had to have a Hawaiian act and Hawaiian music. The Chautauqua (remember them?) was never without one. In fact, it got so bad that ukulele sales skyrocketed and everyone ran around saying "Aloha", not knowing whether it was a good or bad word. The new fad involves digging pits in the ground and lining them with hot lava stones and getting Hawaiian chefs to cook whole pigs in them. They also make up quite a few other Hawaiian dishes that all have reputations of good taste. Also involved in the ceremonies is a huge punchbowl full of Hawaiian punch. Everybody is giving a large straw and are instructed to drink out of the punch bowl. This part of the ceremony reminds one of the old-time round horse trough that used to sit at the northeast corner of the court house. It's not my intention to insinuate that the drinkers from one bear any resemblance to the drinkers from the other. What I had in mind was that in both instances, all are trying to drink at the same time.

The Housing Bill

The housing bill finally cleared the Rules Committee after remaining there under a 6 to 6 deadlock for quite a while. The controversy hinged around public housing, and this will be the center of the fight on the floor of the House today. Had the public housing feature been in a separate bill, there would have been very little hold-up. The reason that the housing bill as such is a "must" in the President's views, is because it contains authority concerning the entire housing program. If this bill is not passed before Congress adjourns, it could very easily be the cause of disrupting a large segment of our economy and cause great hardship in many sections. The public housing features have been opposed vigorously and have been cut down in prior years. Attempts will be made to cut them out of the bill this year, but it is my prediction that by the time you get this letter, the housing

Hot summer weather means longer and longer working hours for me... and added jobs. For when the temperature soars there's much, much more work for me to do in addition to my regular chores... work that I'm glad to do so long as it's helping you.

My hours and wages, as shown on your electric service bill, may be larger during this hot weather, but I believe you'll agree that a few extra pennies a day for the extra hours I've worked is a real bargain in more comfortable summer living.

Wildlife Crop Shows Promise

Mid-summer reports indicate the animal kingdom of Texas is beginning to rally from the drouth-dictated slump, according to the Director of Wildlife Restoration for the Game and Fish Commission.

Field studies, he added, show mourning doves to be in particularly good numbers while quail are coming back in some areas. Also water and food conditions promise possibly attractive habitat for the migrating ducks come November. Deer are present in average numbers and a favorable antelope fawn crop is reported.

One negative report concerns wild turkey which seem to have had another poor production season after promising spring prospects. However, a good hatch of young turkeys have been reported from some sections.

"Of course, no one can tell just what will happen before the harvest season begins in the fall, but present indications point to a pretty good overall hunt," said the director.

"Our field men agree that right now Texas has one of its greatest mourning dove populations. Food is abundant, mainly because of the usual fine weed crop that always develops when prolonged drouth conditions are eased. Whether these birds will remain here for the fall shoot is something that nature alone can determine.

"Adult deer seem to be on the rebound. Bucks are fat and are growing good antlers. Last year the ranges were so barren and nourishment so short, many bucks did not even grow horns. We are concerned now over the usual screw worm infestation that always hits the fawns in wet seasons.

The loss from this cause has been reported as above average in some areas.

"Rain has fallen in sufficient quantities to fill pot holes and has stimulated good grain growth—both for the ultimate benefits of waterfowl which reportedly are having a good hatching season. Of course, many things can happen between now and migration time. Quail comeback reports have been particularly promising from the Panhandle, South Plains and parts of East Texas."

7 Attend Canyon Reading Clinic

Six teachers from Memphis and Lakeview schools and the county superintendent attended the third annual Reading Conference at West Texas State College in Canyon last week.

The teachers attending were Mrs. Carrie Bell King, Miss Clara Pyeatt and Mrs. Sophie Stilwell of Memphis; Margaret McElreath and Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Wood of Lakeview. Miss Mary Foreman, county superintendent, also attended the conference.

Miss Foreman said that several teachers from Turkey also attended the sessions, but she didn't know their names, or just how many attended.

The three-day program presented Dr. Ullin W. Leavell, director of the McGuffey Reading Clinic, University of Virginia.

Another expert on the program was Miss Kay L. Ware, consultant in charge of the St. Louis Public Schools Reading Clinic.

The third expert in the conference was Dr. Dwight L. Burton, associate professor of Language arts education, Florida State University. This conference studied the problems of teaching reading to children and also ways of making literature more attractive to the students.

City Clean-Up - (Continued From Page One)

up has been sponsored by one or two services clubs, but with this year's heavy rainfall and heavy growth of weeds, no one or two organizations felt able to carry out the campaign.

This year the drive was started at a city-wide meeting held in the park and planning committees were appointed to draw up the blueprint for the drive.

Before this year the clean-up drive has been only one day in length. However, this year the planners decided there was too much to be done in one day, so a week would be named, with the last day being haul-off day.

In order not to duplicate last year's mistake of having to haul truck load after truck load of grass and weeds, the planning committee this year is urging everyone to burn everything that is combustible.

By doing this, they point out, the men working on the trucks will have about half as much work to do.

The Wilkinson's formerly owned the Wilkinson Motor Co. in Estelline. He is now a director of the Rocky Mountain Ford Dealers Advertising Board.

Wilkinson was one of the 14 men elected to the Dealers' Council by the 6,000 dealers in the country. He now owns the Wilkinson Motor in Salida.

The Wilkinson's flew to Detroit and were guest of the company while there. They saw the Henry Ford Museum, and Greenfield Village, and were entertained with luncheons and dinners besides attending the business sessions.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Kennedy and family of Estelline are visiting with the Wilkinson this summer.

536 To Be Called In Sept. Draft

AUSTIN.—A state draft call for 536 men for September was announced Thursday by Brigadier General Paul L. Wakefield, state Selective Service director.

The quota, the state's share of a national call for 10,000 men, is 14 less than the August quota. The July call is identical with the August quota. Calls have ranged between 500 and 550 a month during most of 1955.

Local board quotas for the September induction into the Army will be mailed from state Selective Service headquarters during the first week in August.

There will be no physical-mental examinations of men for military service through the draft boards in September, except in isolated cases, General Wakefield said.

With the exception of volunteers and possible delinquents, the August induction call will be filled only with men who on September 1 are 21 years of age or older, General Wakefield stated.

He said such direction of induction of older age groups was under authority of the national director of Selective Service and such instructions were received with the state call.

Good Farm, Home Managers Stay Ahead Of Pack

Good farm and home managers are known for their ability to "stay ahead of the pack." In predicting the future, John G. McHaney, extension economist, says that changes place real profit premiums on outstanding family management.

World and national forces are today shaping the prices of tomorrow, next year and the next decade, and government programs may be tending to bring higher or lower prices, explains the specialist.

"Knowledge and understanding of how these forces work and their ultimate effect upon agricultural production and prices are basic for making management plans."

Right now with the price-cost squeeze continuing to tighten on the farmer, management and more efficient production offer some relief. Prices paid for farm products continue to decline—about 5 per cent lower now than a year ago—prices of production items needed by the farmer have declined only one per cent. The incomes for consumers are now about four per cent above those of last summer and food store sales are six per cent higher.

During the past year competition in the consumer market has become extremely keen, says the economist. Credit has been used by many retailers to promote sales with the result that credit outstanding has increased more rapidly than income and is near peak levels.

Under present conditions it will pay to shop around for consumer goods, says McHaney. Money saved in this manner amounts to an increase in the family income and is good management. But, he warns, it is also good management not to over extend credit nor to purchase items not particularly needed just because they can be obtained at bargain prices. All must be paid for sooner or later.
