Rogers Hits Rigid Parity Enemies In Memphis Speech Monday Night

"America must remain close to the soil if it is to survive," Walter Rogers, Representative of the 18th Congressional District, told an audience at the amphitheatre in the Memphis City Park Monday night. The Congressman is making a short visit in the Panhandle between sessions of Congress and come to Memphis to speak after being invited by his supporters in this area. Rogers hit hard at the foes of rigid 90 per cent parity for basic farm products in his speech. Legislation, he said, for many years has been to promote the industrial growth of this nation, but we must maintain a balance between industry and agriculture and not let industry engulf the farmers. America must not become a land of concrete and steel, the family type farm must be protected, for the agriculture economy is the answer to the problems of towns in this area, the Congressman stated. Rogers said that if the family type farm is destroyed, and the land is farmed by big land concerns, towns in the area will become ghost towns. "Certain groups in the United States think the farmers are getting a free ride and that the farm program is causing the big national debt, but this is not true," Rogers stated. In some circles, the congressman from Pampa said, the word surplus is a bad word, and these same people are shouting that the farmer is getting something for nothing. However these people are not to be criticized, for they don't know what they are talking about, the speaker stated. Rogers got his biggest response from the audience when he hit hard at the groups who accuse the congress of "playing politics" when it tried to push through legislation to aid agriculture. He quoted an article in a paper put out by the United States Chamber of Commerce as saying, "A politically inspired majority in the House of Representatives eased through a bill to support prices at 90 per cent of parity for farm products." Then he added, "If supporting something that will put farmers on an equal with the rest of the nation is playing politics, I'll be playing politics from now on." After the applause subsided, he went on by saying there was no difference between farmers getting parity support for their products and the big industries getting government contracts. This big farm surplus that everyone is so afraid of is something that will sustain life, but another big surplus which we have, but that is never criticized, is the military arms surplus, he said. The very people who are criticizing the loudest about the farm program, are the ones who are building these weapons of war. They spend billions every year for war materials that become obsolete by the time the last bolt is in place, and they are a surplus which we may never have any use for, he representative said, and their fight against the farm program doesn't make sense. He added that he voted for the military budget because "we must have the arms to protect this country. If we are not protected, it will be the fault of the military, for congress has provided them (Continued on Page 12)

Port Rate For Cotton Announced

The rate of 15/16 inch white cotton for 1955 has been set at 33.39 cents, Lynn L. McKown, of the Hall County ASC, said Monday. The support price will be paid in full at the local compress. The support price is up from a figure of 33.10 cents in 1954 and in 1952 the support price was 31.75 cents a pound. McKown said, with the price being made up at banks in the county by the ASC committee. Loans disbursed through the ASC office manager will be sent to the offices of the Commodity Corporation at New Or-

31 Cyclones Report For Football Team

Thirty-one boys have drawn Memphis Cyclone uniforms and are making the leather pop in preparation for the coming football season, which opens on Sept. 9 in Tulsa. Head Coach D. C. Andrews and assistants, Kenneth Miller and Nolan Poteset, have been running the boys through two workouts each day since Monday and plan to keep this up until school opens on Sept. 6. Andrews had 12 lettermen eligible to play this season, but only 11 drew uniforms Monday. Tommy Foster, a 160-pound letterman back, decided against coming out again this season. Andrews said Wednesday afternoon that he was satisfied with the progress the team was making and he thought the boys would look even better when they worked the early season soreness out of their muscles. Andrews is attempting to solve his quarterback problem with Cleve Evans, Jim Harris and Joe Young. All three boys have been alternating at the post. Evans looked good Wednesday afternoon when his faking had the defense tackling the wrong man, and the long loose faker uncoiled a long pass that hit the receiver right on the button. The coach said all three boys are looking good at the man-under spot, and will be ready for the season opener. Another speed merchant halfback has been uncovered to go with Halfback Dean Sustaire. He is Daryl Long, a small back who stepped up from last year's B team. Keith (Butch) Adcock and Terry Monzingo were blasting into the line from fullback Wednesday and it appears that the two boys will wage a dog fight all season for the spot. Andrews said his reserve situation in the line could be stronger, but he felt that his reserve backs were better than average for a Class A school. The tackle posts in the line are manned by two big rough 200 pounders in the form of Jerry McQueen and Paul Wilson. About (Continued on Page 12)

65 Students Attend MS Band Rehearsal

Miss Kathy Phillips, director of the Memphis High School music department, said Wednesday that she had 65 students attending preschool band practice. The practices began Monday morning, and will continue until school starts. Miss Phillips said this first week has been devoted to playing, but the Cyclone Band will start marching Monday in preparation for the opening football game on Sept. 9, at Tulsa. There have been approximately 45 students attending the Cyclone or "A" band rehearsals at six o'clock each afternoon, the director said. However, she said she was expecting to have a 56-piece band when school starts. Miss Phillips said the junior band which is made up of junior high school students and sixth graders has approximately 20 future musicians attending morning sessions and she is expecting this band to grow some after school starts, also.

Miss Betty Claude Hickey will be drum major for the Cyclone Band this year. She was selected from the majorette ranks by Miss Phillips. The drum major will be appearing in this fall in a new uniform which is much like the one the drum majors have been wearing in the past. Majorettes this year will be Sharon Harrison, Monta June Saye, Shirley Reed, Linda Fields and Ouida Massey. Miss Fields and Miss Massey are newcomers to the twirling ranks. Miss Phillips said that this year's Cyclone Band will have only six seniors in its ranks.

Westis Injured In Car Accident Near Silverton

Mr. and Mrs. Lamar West of Memphis and their two grandchildren, Mike and Carlene West of Abernathy, were injured in a car wreck south of Silverton Friday afternoon at 6 o'clock. The couple were taking their grandchildren home from a visit in Memphis, when their car hit some water that was running across the road from an irrigation ditch. When the car hit the water, a front tire blew out and the vehicle turned over, and came to rest on its top. They were taken to a Lockney hospital where it was reported that Mr. West was treated for four broken ribs, and Mrs. West had a broken collar bone and severe bruises. Mike suffered a broken bone in his foot and Carlene was treated for bruises. The injured persons were released from the hospital after a 24-hour stay. Keith (Butch) Adcock and Terry Monzingo were blasting into the line from fullback Wednesday and it appears that the two boys will wage a dog fight all season for the spot. Andrews said his reserve situation in the line could be stronger, but he felt that his reserve backs were better than average for a Class A school. ## Eagles Win Championship In Junior Softball League

The Junior Softball League Eagles beat the Rattlers 10-9 to win the Junior League Tournament championship Friday night in the City Park. The Eagles beat the Rattlers three straight games to take the tournament. The winner was determined by the outcome of a best three-out-of-five game series. Teddy Barnes led the Eagles to their third victory by scoring three runs, two of which were made on home runs. Bucky Adcock also hit a four-bagger for the winners. Others scoring runs for the Eagles were Berry Wright, Dan Goffinett and Kenneth Allison. Robert Gardner slammed out a homer for the losers and he was assisted in scoring by Barry Phillips, Don Galley, Allyn Harrison, Henry Foster, Donnie Spicer, and Darrell Simmons. The awards for the tournament winners and runners-up will be made this Friday night at the park. The winners will get silver softballs with "Champions 1955" inscribed on them. The runners-up will receive bronze softballs. A game for the junior champions is being arranged with an Estelline junior team for this Friday night. The Peeve League Giants went ahead in the series standing, two games to one, by beating the Yankees 21 to 10 last Friday night. Scoring for the winning team was Jimmy Sturdevant, Buster McQueen, Hoot Jones, Emmett Taylor, Don Craig, Larry Helm, and Barry Ferrel. Making the runs for the losers were Jimmy Harrison, John Lemons, Robert Noah, Billy Thompson, Mike Simmons, Gary Simmons and Jack Stargel. The season batting averages for the Junior League showed the Eagles as the heaviest hitting team of the two. Bucky Adcock was the top hitter in the league and for the Eagles with a .588 average. Jimmy Fields led the Rattlers with a .408 average. The averages were compiled on all the boys who played regularly during the 17-game season. Ted Myers, league director, said. A few names were left off the list because the boys only played in two or three games. The batting averages for the Eagles gives Bucky Adcock, .588; Teddy Barnes, .552; Perry Wright, .528; Ronald Ables, .468; Larry Craig, .432; Robert Moss, .422; Don Watts, .422; Don Goffinett, .396; and Gordon Newton, .276. Slugging averages for the Rattlers show Jimmy Fields, .408; Robert Gardner, .396; Allyn Harrison, .384; Phil Howard, .384; Donnie Spicer, .372; Henry Foster, .360; Don Galley, .336; Darrell Simmons, .336; Barry Phillips, .276; Wayne Leslie, .252; and Larry Combest, .252.

Big Atomic Strides Made By Industry

By BILL JURY

Industry has come a long way down the strange, fantastic new highway of the Atomic Age; down a route to which there may be no end; to the creation of a standard of living beyond comprehension in today's world.

On a national scale the atomic energy industry has done a lot of maturing since its beginning during World War II. It has settled down from a "crash" project—full of unknowns slated to last no longer than the war which gave birth to it—to a business, based on well-understood principles operating on clearly defined long-range plans. The atomic energy plant at Hanford, Washington is a good illustration of the change.

Built in a life-and-death race with time the first atomic reactor and separations plant at Hanford, though primitive by today's standards, have since been called an engineering marvel.

Much of the research and development work behind improvements revealed by the Atomic Energy Commission's semi-annual reports to Congress was performed in laboratories located at Hanford. The lab work still is in progress—aimed at finding further improvements.

Eventually, the production of electric power will be the economic basis of a strong privately owned and operated atomic industry, some experts believe. And it is expected that the rapidly growing atomic energy industry will grow still larger as private industry moves into it.

The atomic energy program now includes around $5 billion worth of plant facilities and will, within a few years, represent an investment of more than $8 billion. Hanford, the plutonium-producing plant operated by General Electric company for the Atomic Energy Commission, already has become a billion-dollar plant.

The atomic industry has been described as one of high investment per employee and low investment turnover. Its similarity in financial characteristics to the utility industry makes it necessary that it have a steady, predictable market for what it produces if it is to be run successfully by private companies.

Electric power is held as the only answer, for the weapons market is subject to too much fluctuation.

Because the nation is using electricity in ever-increasing quantities (the demand doubles about every 10 or 15 years), atomic power not only is regarded as the answer to the growth of a healthy, privately owned atomic industry, but as a welcome addition to the conventional sources of power.

From the point of view of world supply of energy, the utilization of atomic energy is becoming a "must."

GE's top atomic official has predicted that privately financed atomic power plants will compete successfully with conventional power plants in five to 10 years.

LAFF OF THE WEEK

"It's your boss—what do I tell him? . . . cold? . . . headache? . . . upset stomach? . . . backache? . . . dizziness? . . . flu? . . . sinus? . . . sore throat? . . . eye strain? . . . earache? . . . neuralgia? . . . chills? . . . Heartburn? . . ."

Francis K. McCune, general manager of the GE Atomic Products Division, recently forecast that electric utility companies will be owning and operating a number of atomic power plants within the next 10 years. He said he believed some of these will be full-scale and, what is more important, they will generate electricity at competitive cost.

"We believe that this will be accomplished without government subsidy for production plant construction or operation, and with government-supplied fuel priced at cost-of-production levels," McCune declared.

The time has arrived, he added, when we can look toward definite goals in the area of commercial atomic power—goals that can and will be achieved, and that almost inevitably will lead to expansion into a power age of great proportions with resultant benefits in human well-being.

Their instructions are ... "If a lot of grain contains castor beans or pieces of castor beans then the lot should be graded sample grade." Funches stated further that an inspector or supervisor would need only to be assured of the presence of the castor beans or pieces to down-grade the lot of grain.

Spears says the alkaloid poison is known as ricin and is found not only in the beans but also in the stems and leaves of the castor bean plant. Therefore, none of the plant should be allowed to contaminate feed or food grains.

Ridding fields of volunteer plants does not usually present a serious problem since the plants are easily killed by cultural methods. But if plants are present in a grain sorghum field, they should be removed from the field before the crop is harvested, says the agronomist.

Methods, he adds, have been developed for detecting the presence of castor bean plant material in ground feeds as well as the whole grain.

Maximum Patrol Ordered To Stop Early Hunters

AUSTIN—Maximum patrol has been ordered by the Director of Law Enforcement for the Texas Game and Fish Commission to discourage pre-season hunting.

He said he acted after indications that "some people are not aware that severe penalties are mandatory under the law for persons breaking the game laws."

The Director said wardens have reported cases of shooting deer, white-winged doves mourning doves and quail.

"The temptation will increase now as the legal hunting period approaches," said the Director. "And I just wanted to caution people hunting before the legal period that our men are on the alert."

The Director said he has been assured by "countless Justices of the Peace" that they will enthusiastically cooperate in seeing that justice is applied. Hunters caught breaking the game laws face heavy fines or jail sentences and also may lose their hunting privileges.

He went on to say that all but a small segment of the hunting population cooperate and await the legal seasons, and urged the predominant majority to cooperate with their local game wardens in pin pointing the comparatively few who shoot out of season.

Several $100 fines were metered out pre-season shooting according to the latest arrest report. Four men from one small far-west Texas town were fined for shooting quail.

"Many of the doves still are nesting," he said, "and potshooting an adult dove now could mean the loss of its young."

3 Former Cyclones Named On College Football Teams

Three former Cyclone football stars will be playing their football trade again this fall for different colleges in Texas.

Dwane Miller, a 190-pound line-man, will be at the starting center position this fall for the Midwestern University Indians.

David Corley, who lettered as a sophomore for the West Texas Buffalos last season, will be running from a halfback position for the Buffs again this fall.

Duke Frisbie, rated as the fastest man of the Texas Tech squad, is slated to do some of his fancy broken field running for the powerful Red Raiders this fall. In the final spring training game, Duke sped 61 yards for a touchdown in the longest run of the game.

A fourth Cyclone, Fred Vinson, who was counted on to strengthen the Southwest Texas State Bobcat line this fall, has been sidelined by an old shoulder injury.

Vinson was in Memphis over the weekend and said that he was giving up football since re-injuring the shoulder.

Mrs. L. A. Dickey and Mrs. Paul Brewer and Glenda of Wellington visited here Friday in the home of their daughter and sister, Mrs. Herschel Combs.

W. D. Ballew Trial Slated For Oct. 17

William D. Ballew of Memphis, will be tried in Wellington on Oct. 17, 1955, for alleged rape by force and threats, District Attorney Allen Harp of Childress, said Wednesday.

The case was tried in Clarendon last fall and resulted in a hung jury.

Venue of the case was changed to Collingsworth County and the case was again tried at Wellington in February of this year. Ballew was found guilty and assessed a five-year sentence in the state penitentiary by the Collingsworth County jury.

Ballew appealed the case to the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals at Austin, and the higher court reversed the case.

Harp said a special venire of 100 persons will be called as a jury panel from which a jury will be selected to try the case.

The University of Texas broke a long standing tradition this year and named Jacky Gilbert of Memphis as drum major of the Longhorn Band for the third consecutive year.

In Criminal Cases
United States a defendant in criminal action is presumed innocent until his guilt is proved beyond a reasonable doubt. Guilt or innocence is determined at his trial—not when he is arrested.

It is a common concept in mind it is to see why the right to a fair trial is guaranteed by the Constitution of the United States. A capital crime is one in which the punishment may be death. In Texas murder, treason and robbery with fire-arms are capital offenses.

Defendants are bailable in all cases except where the proof is so strong that a capital offense has been committed and it is probable that the defendant will assess the death penalty.

When making an arrest is by law to take the accused before a magistrate. The duty of the magistrate is to determine the truth of the accusation. He determines if the accused should be bailed or held without bail or set for the date of trial. The law procedure for reviewing cases before the Court of Appeals.

An accused is on bail until trial commences he has to remain on bail during his case. Where the trial of a defendant has been delayed for fifteen years the defendant has the right to have the bail pending the appeal. If the penalty is fifteen years the defendant is kept in custody from the jury returns its verdict.

Constitution also says that bail must be set in excessive amount. That is considered a re-arrest depends largely on the circumstances and the amount. Bail must be set to assure the court that the person will appear at the date set.

Usually will ask the attorney for a recommendation as to the amount of bail. The amount recommended, giving his reason. Judge will settle on an amount he believes reasonable to assure the accused's presence at the trial.

Occasionally we read of someone "skipping bail." This means that he failed to show up in court at the required time. In such cases the court can order his bail forfeited. The person is still subject to re-arrest and prosecution, however.

The beef animals has "natural seams" just like a dress or suit. It's a simple task to divide beef along these guides and use smooth-grained portions for roasting or broiling. That part where the grain has no single direction should be braised for tenderest results, according to the Texas Beef Council.

When the big 1955 spring pig crop begins to hit the market places of the nation, hog prices are expected to edge lower. The one bright spot at present in Texas is the prospect for good corn and grain sorghum crops over the state. These large supplies of grain may maintain the corn-hog ratio near present levels.

Early Training

The Cyclones have begun training for the coming football season before school starts because there is not enough time to get in shape for the 10 game schedule after classes begin. It is also time for the drivers of Memphis to start training ourselves about safe driving habits around schools, for there will not be time when classes begin.

In a few short days classes will begin and the school grounds and building that have been dormant for three months will spring to life. As the school property again is filled with children, the streets leading to the schools will also have more children than usual on them. When there are children near streets, the possibility that one or more will run into the street without looking is always present.

The schools and parents drill safety into the children, but when two or more kids get together to play, the lessons so carefully taught are forgotten. When the children forget traffic safety the only person left to protect them is the drivers of the cars on the streets.

During these next few days before school starts why not try doing a little pre-season training by slowing down when in a school area. If one practises enough at it, he will automatically drive slower when the children are in school.

We have more time than children, so let's use a little more time when driving by school, so that our half of the children in traffic problem will be solved.

Remember there can only be one winner when a child and an automobile tangle in a street.

When Enterprise Is Handcuffed

Until about a year ago, natural gas at the wellhead was sold in a competitive free market. Then, as a result of a Supreme Court decision, wellhead sales were brought under federal regulation. Many believe that this was never the intent of Congress in past legislation relating to the gas industry, and there is strong support within and without the government for clarifying the law and freeing producers from this burden.

It is argued by some that federal regulation is needed to protect natural gas users. That idea arises from a deep misunderstanding of the economics of finding and producing natural gas, and from confusing the highly competitive, exceedingly risky gas-producing business with the public utility businesses of gas transportation and distribution, which are regulated.

Natural gas producers are not protected natural monopolies as are public utilities. There are thousands of them and they must compete every day of the year both in seeking new gas-producing properties and in selling gas after it is found. Moreover, the field price of natural gas is by far the smallest part of the ultimate retail price—in 1953, for example, it amounted to only about 10 per cent of the price paid by the residential consumer. Thus, if the producer had received nothing at all for his gas, the savings to the consumers would have been very small.

From 1945 to June, 1954, when gas at the wellhead was not regulated, the price paid by residential consumers rose 12 per cent—much less than the rise for most other commodities and services.

It must not be forgotten that the distributing companies which deliver the gas to the consumer have long been and will continue to be regulated public utilities.

Finally, it seems inevitable that if the field price of gas at the well continues to be regulated, much higher prices will result in the long run. Producers will be discouraged and new development will slow. The supply of gas going into interstate commerce will dwindle, causing lower transmission loads and higher unit transportation costs. It's an example of the truism that no one can win or profit when enterprise is handcuffed by unnecessary bureaucratic control.

A WORD TO THE WISE

Press Paragraphs—

QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

No Place For Klan

The state attorney general is checking reports by his investigators that an attempt to revive the Ku Klux Klan is under way in East Texas. There is no identification of the organizers or indication from whence they come. Apparently the effort, if there is one, is due to the Supreme Court's ruling on integration.

If integration is to be a bone of contention, the Klan is hardly the answer. There will be no solution of the problem in a campaign of terror by hooded citizens who establish themselves outside the law, under cover of darkness, utilizing tools of fear. At least that was the history of the old Klan, some of whose leaders were found to have feet of clay and quite as devoid of character as were the people whom they sought to punish.

While we disagree with the objective of the Texas Citizens Council and those Big Spring citizens who have brought suit in the courts to enjoin the school district there from carrying out an integration order, this much can be said for them: They are proceeding apparently in the legal, orderly American way. Its sponsors say their move is a "trial balloon" intended to clear the legal air in connection with the Supreme Court's ruling.

They are not resorting to some kind of vague, mob-like "midnight justice" but are going to the courts, which is as things should be under the American system. Long and vitriolic litigation will be unfortunate, but in a court of law there is room for honorable adversaries to have honest differences of opinion.

The American court system exists to settle such differences in a calm, judicial manner.

No American citizen, regardless of strong racial feelings, has had to put on a sheet to do the thing that was right. Channels of action are not only set in the Constitution but in the traditions of this country, and the Klan isn't mentioned in any of them.

It would be a blot on the South to resort to undercover means to resist integration, which had made large voluntary advances even before the Supreme Court ruling.

Those who take issue with the Supreme Court ruling will be doing their cause a disservice to reveal the extra-legal Ku Klux Klan. —San Angelo Standard Times.

Philosophy for a Crucial Age

Recently, we read a number of essays on civil defense, written by local high school students. We were impressed by two things—the writing ability of these students and their mature, realistic thinking.

The youthful writers painted pictures of terrifying H-bombs whipping out cities, destroying property and murdering people. They saw their own families burned and dying from effects of these bombs. They visualized plans of action to be taken when warning of impending disaster was given.

For a moment a sense of pity decended upon us. Why should these youths, normally concerned with going to college, establishing families and starting out to make a fortune, have to be concerned with war, destruction and disaster—not in Europe or Asia but right here in America.

Then our mind wandered backward 10 to 15 years to a time when graduates also were plagued with inevitable military service and an uncertain future. Then we recalled the era in which we graduated from high school—a time of depression. The picture was dismal.

Back we went to the distant past—Civil and Revolutionary War days, the 100 Years Wars, the Dark Ages, the days of Nero—Herod.

It occurred to us that there have been 17-year-old youngsters standing on the brink of life ever since the creation of man. To them the future often seemed ever darker than it is now. Most of them knew what it was to see property and life wiped out. We doubt if they wrote essays on civil defense, but well they might have.

Our deduction was that life, whether in the first of twentieth century, has never been a bed of roses. It has been cruel to many in many ages. It does not promise us freedom from responsibility and care. Ours is not to indulge in self pity, either from ourselves or our children. It is to face intelligently and philosophically the path that lies ahead—Tulia (Tex) Herald.

Families represented at the picnic were as follows: Boyd Allison, W. R. Scott, Dr. Leon Taylor, J. H. Morris, Ed Hill, Maurice Nixon, W. C. Dickey, C. W. Kinslow, Ralph Williams, Jim King, N. A. Hightower, H. B. Estes, Miss Imogene King, Bill Cosby, J. W. Coppedge, Earl A. Allen, Herb Curry, S. B. Palmeyer, Henry Foster, Cecil McCollum, L. C. Martin, Claud Johnson, J. H. Norman, Dr. J. A. Odum, and Myrtis Phelan.

FURNITURE SIGNS OF THE TIMES—A giant chaise longue, five feet in diameter, was a show stopper at the recent Southwest Furniture Market in Dallas. This lounge and other king-sized upholstered furniture are expected to be shown in Southwestern furniture stores in months to come. More and more extra-large furniture is being manufactured to meet consumer demand for greater seating capacity in television-equipped rooms. And, as the attractive model shows here, there is plenty of room for more than one person on this lounge. The fabric is tan matelasse nub.

Lakeview Eagles Open Football Practice Monday

Andy Gardenhire, new head coach at Lakeview High School, opened football workouts Monday, with between 20 and 30 boys reporting for practice.

The new coach, a graduate of Memphis High School and West Texas State, will have 12 lettermen from last year. Eight of his lettermen were starters last year, and six of them are linemen and two are backs.

Gardenhire said that his biggest problem to be solved before the season opens is finding a quarterback to direct his Split-T attack.

The coach is giving the boys their first look at this style of attack. Not only is he going to have to teach it to his quarterback, but also to the rest of the squad, he said.

Gardenhire came to Lakeview this year after coaching in the Tulia junior high school last spring. He graduated from West Texas State in January.

His assistant for this season and also the junior high coach will be George James who was a junior high coach and assistant coach at Ralls High School. He is a graduate of Hardin-Simmons University.

The Lakeview schedule for the coming season is: Sept. 9, Boys Ranch; Sept. 16, Open; Sept. 23, Silverton; Sept. 30, Estelline; Oct. 6, Chillicothe "B"; Oct. 14, Quitaque; Oct. 21, at Matador; Oct. 28, Wheeler; Nov. 4, Open; Nov. 11, at Turkey.

with the necessary money for the defense program.

The congressman said that he had been criticized by both the Democratic and Republican sides of the House of Representatives for his stand on foreign aid, but he felt that it was time for the American people to start thinking about America instead of "sob sisters" running around over the world trying to save people who don't want to be saved.

"Our present foreign aid program," he explained, "is providing foreign countries with the equipment and technical know-how to produce products that are competing with United States farm products on the world market. A large part of the money that is going into this aid is coming out of the American farmers' pockets."

There is a big difference between helping people that need help to live and giving money to people who are sitting around waiting for us to give them more money, he exclaimed.

The national debt on Aug. 16, 1955, was more than 276 billion dollars, the highest in the history of this nation, he said, and the farm program didn't have anything to do with making that debt.

Everything in the economy is going up, except the price of farm products and the farmer is going to have to be better than an Indian rubberman if he is to cope with the stretch between prices he pays for things and his income, Rogers stated.

Farm population is decreasing and the people are going to the towns and into the labor market to become cogs in the wheel which produces the products that they used to be consumers for. Finally this situation will put the economy out of balance. This, he stated, will lead to social problems and become a fertile field for socialistic legislation and communism.

Congressman Rogers told his listeners that history shows that the nations which have crumbled have been led away from the soil. "We must profit from their mistakes and protect the family size farm," he added.

He concluded by saying that the farmer was going to have trouble getting favorable legislation passed through congress, but there was a group of legislators in Washington that were fighting for the rights of agriculture.

The speaker was introduced by R. A. Eddleman, chairman of the Hall County ASC committee. Eddleman also acted as master of ceremonies for the meeting.

Before Rogers spoke, the audience was entertained by a western string band composed of V. C. Durrett, R. D. Jones, Mack Graham and Wes Nivens, and a girls trio composed of Rita Durrett, Dixie Osborne and Brenda Bristor.

that a homecoming would be held September 18 at Memphis City Park.

It is the custom of these county picnics for each family attending, both homefolks and ex-homefolks, to bring baskets of food which is spread in picnic style. And that is the way the Memphis picnic will be held.

Now, folks, let's all begin making plans for the homecoming. When you have occasion to write any former countian, tell him or her about the homecoming picnic. In this way many will learn about the occasion, and likely will attend. The time—September 18—should be ideal. It will be before crop harvest starts and the weather should be more ideal for the occasion. Ex-Hall Countians like to meet one another so well they hold picnics in various places, and certainly they would like to attend one in their former county.

Leaving here Saturday morning, Mrs. Wells and Commentator made the trip to Lubbock. We side-tripped to Vigo Park northwest of Silverton and visited the Cleron McMurry family long enough to drive over the highly developed irrigated farm, seeing plenty of feed and cotton at their best, registered dairy cattle, and Hampshire hogs, as well as a flock of white chickens (100 eggs per day ca-

From there we drove eight miles west of Tulsa and turned southward on roads, and along the way found some of the South's best farms and crops under irrigation, wilting and burning. Quaint. Farms under irrigation mean a lot of work on the farmer, but such work off in greater yields. At Lubbock late Saturday, we in for a good night's rest that we might be ready for a strenuous day at the Homecoming Picnic. Here we met acquaintances, and spent under ideal weather conditions, and in surroundings right. A good lot of former neighbors. Many drove home by way of Floydada, Matador, and over the Turkey-Cleron way north from Tulsa, and then home.
