HOMECOMING PICNIC AT CITY PARK SUNDAY

Final plans were worked out early this week for Hall County's Homecoming Picnic, which will be held at the City Park in Memphis Sunday, September 18. Estimates ranging from 500 to 1,000 have been given of the expected number of local citizens and former Hall Countians who will attend.

BILLY SALMON GINS FIRST BALE OF 1955 COTTON

Billy Salmon of the Brice community ginned the first bale of Hall County cotton from the 1955 crop last Thursday afternoon, Sept. 8. The bale was ginned by the Memphis Farmers Co-Operative Gin in Memphis.

Salmon reported that he brought 2,220 pounds of pulled cotton to the gin, from which he received a bale weighing 470 pounds, and got 950 pounds of seed. The first bale was gathered from 16 to 17 acres of irrigated cotton, which was planted April 27. Salmon estimated that the cotton will yield approximately one and one-half bales per acre.

Members Name New Directors Monday Of Country Club

Stockholders of the Memphis Country Club named their board of directors for the coming year in elections held Monday evening at the annual meeting of the organization.

Re-elected as members of the board were Eddie Foxhall, H. R. Crawford and W. A. Simmons. These men have served for one year.

The four new board members chosen by stockholders were T. H. Deaver, Homer Tucker, M. E. McNally, Jr., and Bob Magnus.

Herschel Combs, who is retiring president, called for a meeting of the new board next Monday evening, Sept. 19. At this time the board will choose the club's president and vice president, and make plans for the club's operation for the coming year.

Foxhall has served as vice president during the past 12 months. Out-going directors, in addition to Combs, are J. O. Cobb, Oren Jones and Dick Fowler.

The president gave a report of the club's operation for the past year and explained in detail the financial statement. Simmons, who has been serving as a member of the well and irrigation committee, gave a report on that group's work toward irrigating the fairways of the course.

Eagles Will Meet Quanh Team At Lakeview Tonight

The Lakeview Eagles will meet the "B" team from Quanh Thursday night, Sept. 15, at Eagle Field, which will be their second contest of the season. The game will start at 8 o'clock.

Coach Andy Gardenhire has been working with a generally young and inexperienced squad this season. For the past three weeks, he has been putting them through strenuous workout sessions.

Although the Eagles lost their first game to the powerful eleven from Darouzzett 26-0, they are expected to help entertain the visitors. Responses to many invitations sent out by local people to those who live elsewhere have been many. In fact, those who moved away from this county have been hoping for years that a reunion would be held, for they want to attend and meet up with their former friends and neighbors.

The Homecoming Picnic is being sponsored by the Memphis Improvement and Beautification Association. W. E. Leslie is acting chairman of the group. Various committees have been appointed and are working out all details. Emphasis will be placed upon making former citizens enjoy their visit back to their home county.

Homefolks—that is those who have remained in Hall County will be hosts for the occasion.

"We want our homefolks to attend Sunday School and church Sunday morning, then load up their baskets of food and head for the City Park," sponsors stated. "You will have plenty of time to spread your lunch and enjoy a meal with old friends."

Mrs. N. A. Hightower will be in charge of registering all who attend the Homecoming Picnic. She will be assisted by three or four other women.

Ottie Jones will serve as master of ceremonies. Following the luncheon, S. S. Montgomery will extend a welcome. Response will be given by one or more of the visitors.

After a short business session, everyone will be requested to engage in a "free-for-all gab-fest" all over the picnic grounds.

The stage is all set for the first reunion of Hall County and ex-Hall County citizens. In fact, it will be the first picnic of any kind in a decade to be held here. The last one was in 1945 when a rodeo was held and the Old Settlers had a reunion at the same time.

The Homecoming basket picnic slated at City Park Sunday, September 18, is a combination of all Hall Countians and ex-countians, old settlers and newcomers alike. It has been announced that homefolks are to be the hosts and are expected to help entertain the visitors. Responses to many invitations sent out by local people to those who live elsewhere have been many. In fact, those who moved away from this county have been hoping for years that a reunion would be held, for they want to attend and meet up with their former friends and neighbors.

Homefolks are urged to prepare baskets of food, attend their Sunday Schools and churches, pick up their baskets and go to the park and do their part as hosts in making it a day of enjoyment for all.

There will be no set program, other than a short welcome address, short responses, short business session, then all will be at liberty to do as they please. The question of whether to have an annual reunion in the years to (Continued on Page Ten)

By buying large beef cuts like the standing 10-inch rib roast weighing six to eight pounds, the average family can get three complete, yet different meals. The Texas Beef Council recommends having the butcher remove several rib steaks for a broiled dinner one night; and the rib-ends for short-rib braising another. The remaining cut make a delicious roast, adequate for four persons.

Of the 23 wheat varieties designated by the USDA as undesirable because of inferior milling or baking qualities, seven are reported as grown in Texas. They are Red Chief, Red Jacket, Kinking, Chiefkan, Early Blackhull, New Chief and Yogo. Under the 1956 price-support program, they will draw a 20 cents a bushel discount. The discount is to discourage their use by growers.

Legionnaires Start Drive For Members

Members of Simmons-Noel Post of the American Legion this week were starting on their annual membership drive, and special emphasis will be placed on this for the next several weeks. According to T. J. Bridges, publicity chairman, satisfactory progress has already been reported.

The annual membership drive will officially open Oct. 1, but members of the local post are working toward winning 25 cents for each member who is signed up prior to that date. This amount will be withheld from department dues.

Bridges reported that Commander Hubert Dennis and O. V. Alexander had formed a two-man membership team, and are now contacting ex-service men of the area. At the present time, over 100 members have been signed up and have paid their 1956 dues. Last year's drive brought in 156 members.

At a meeting in Lubbock recently, Commander Dennis pledged to Departmentment Commander Charles Downing a membership in the Simmons-Noel Post of over 200.

All Legionnaires are being urged to make their plans now to attend the district convention, which will be held in Clarendon Sept. 24 and 25. A large delegation is expected to attend from the local post.

Serving the post this year, in addition to Dennis, are: J. R. Mitchell, Jr., vice commander and chairman of the membership committee; Herschel Pounds, adjutant; Gene Lindsey, finance officer; Roy Guthrie, chaplain; and Foster Carson, sergeant-at-arms.

Dr. Jack L. Rose To Attend Dallas Visual Forum

Dr. Jack L. Rose, local optometrist, will attend the Visual Training Forum at the annual meeting in Dallas on Sunday and Monday, Sept. 18 and 19.

In speaking of the meeting Dr. Rose said it is one of the outstanding post-graduate educational meetings of optometrists in the southwest. The most modern methods of caring for visual problems will be presented.

Dr. Rose further added, "Visual efficiency and comprehension, the ability to learn and remember what you have read, cannot be measured by the 20-20 chart alone. Visual training, in addition, to lenses, is often necessary to raise the seeing ability of the student or adult to the level demanded by their work. Low visual efficiency causes poor grades, discomfort and many other symptoms not usually associated with vision. Efficient vision promotes progress, health, and happiness."

Williams of Broomes Island, Md., is scheduled to return to the San Francisco naval base Sept. 23. He is serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier, USS Oriskany.

The Fleet News Center, which issued the information last week, stated that the carrier had won the Navy "E" for "battle efficiency tests and operations. The Oriskany has been on her third tour of duty in the Far East.

Inspection Of Motor Vehicles Start Sept. 15

Austin, Sept. 9 (spl.) Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, announced today that the Public Safety Commission has set September 15, 1955, through April 15, 1956, as the new motor vehicle inspection period for state motorists.

Garrison pointed out that this will give Texas car owners a full seven months to report to one of the more than 4,000 licensed inspection stations in the state for a safety check of their vehicles.

Farmers Warn On Child Labor During School

Farm youngsters are urged to stay in school when the weather is open, according to information released recently by the Department of Labor.

Field Office Supervisor B. Nunn of the department's wage-hour division of Agriculture, N. M., said the provisions of the Federal Labor Standards Act prohibit the employment of children under 16 years of age in agriculture, during hours of school.

"So, children under 16 years of age are not legally employed in agriculture, such as cotton picking during local school hours," Nunn said. "The law also prohibits interstate or foreign commerce of farm products."

Farmers are responsible for the federal law if they force their children to do farm work during school hours. The law applies equally to local children and to migrants.

Nunn said "school hours" means those hours when the child is actually in session of school district where the child is currently living. The law, he said, sets minimum age for employment on farms before or after school hours, or during school or vacations.

Texas Will Produce Half Of Nation's Grain Sorghum

Texas will produce more than half of the nation's grain sorghum crop this year, with a bumper crop expected to beat last year's yield by more than 20 per cent.

The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research says the production grain in grain sorghum can be attributed to a 15 per cent increase in acreage and generally more rainfall in most areas.

The Bureau also reports remarkably high yields are in prospect for most of the cotton-producing areas, due to improved soil moisture supplemented by irrigation about 5 per cent of the state's crop.

Cotton production is expected to be down only about 1 per cent, although Texans planted a million fewer acres in cotton this year than in 1954.

Highway Group Will Promote Travel On 287

Plans for additional travel promotion were completed at a meeting of officers and directors of the National U. S. 287 Highway Association at Fort Collins, Colo., Sunday, according to Clifford Farmer, president of the organization.

Several large roadside signs pointing out the advantage of staying on U. S. 287 were authorized at the meeting. Some of these will be for southbound travelers and should have a direct effect on traffic going south through Memphis.

Additional printing of "Stay on 187" strip maps for distribution through travel bureaus, service stations, cafes and motels were authorized, Farmer reported.

Plans were made for a bus caravan starting in Denver and going south on U. S. 287 to Point Arthur, tentatively scheduled for the last of February.

The bus caravan of highway boosters from along the highway will be aimed at publicizing winter travel southward on U. S. 287. Most of the work of the highway association in the past has been planned for encouragement of summer tourist travel going north and west.

"Memphis can benefit directly from the winter tourist travel headed for the Gulf area if we can keep them on U. S. 287," Farmer said.

Lakeview Seniors Elect Officers At Class Meet Mon.

The Senior class of Lakeview High School met Monday, September 5, and elected officers for the coming year.

Ann Ariola was named president of the class for 1955-56. Other officers elected included Gurvis Kennard, vice president; Jo Ann Melton, secretary; Evelyn Revell, treasurer and Sherry Denton, reporter.

At the same time Evelyn Revell was selected as editor of the annual staff and George James was chosen as Senior sponsor.

Projects are underway in Texas and Colorado at present, including four-laning from Dumas to Amarillo. Other projects expected in the near future are between Childress and Memphis and through Memphis.

Famer, who presided at the meeting attended by highway association officers from Wyoming, Colorado, Oklahoma and Texas, said that reports of traffic counts from various highways presented during the sessions showed that travel over U. S. 287 has increased while some other well-known tourist highways showed a decline in traffic compared with a year earlier.

Bill Asks Firms On Lookout Bogus Drafts

Bill Baten this week called on business firms to be on the lookout for persons attempting to cash Southern Railway Company Ticket Redemption stamps.

He reported that an unknown person had cashed a large number of blank redemption stamps last month.

In the past four weeks, 15 of the stamps in amounts from $89.35 have been cashed in St. Louis, Mo., Kansas City, Mo., Denver, Colo., and other cities.

Some of the stamps were made out payable to the name of W. B. Baten.

The sheriff said that the drafts were printed on green colored paper, and are payable to the name of W. B. Baten.

He said that the drafts were cashed at shoe stores, grocery stores, jewelry stores, clothing stores and restaurants.

Declining Farm Income In Politics

Headlines in the newspapers over this nation recently saying "Shuman Blames Price-Fixing For Farm Income Dip," and similar ones, are causing much re-evaluation of the farm program by persons who make their livelihood in farm communities such as this.

Mr. Shuman is president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, and the speech which has been quoted was made recently in West Virginia. It was delivered at the annual meeting of the West Virginia Farm Bureau.

He told his audience that he placed most of the blame for falling farm income and farm surpluses squarely on "unwise government price fixing." Shuman added that "if the variable price support program favored by Farm Bureau had been allowed to operate farmers would have adjusted their production to changing consumer demand."

With those remarks he points directly to basic arguments being put forth by the administration and interested individuals who are worrying about the declining farm dollar. He is also referring, indirectly to the out-moded, so-called law of "supply and demand." We have always wondered at the fallacy of those three words when they are applied to the facts of life.

The spokesman for the national farm organization clearly stated his opposition to any kind of rigid price support program. He said the 90 per cent of parity price support has caused farm prices to "become a political football."

We agree with him, although the reference to football could be improved upon. We agree in thinking that when the income of any segment of our population drops one-fourth, it is time to bring it squarely into politics. Farm income is down 24 per cent, and a recent publicity release says add another three per cent to the figure. Lower farm prices are going to be recognized by every candidate who seeks public office next year. In those districts where the majority of the voters think the farmer is getting handouts, which cause their food and clothing prices to go up, men will be elected who will vote to lower farm prices. And if a majority of those kind of thinkers are elected, prices farmers get will not stop their downward trend at 75 per cent of parity, but may go on downward.

As the farm income drops, so will that of the businessman in villages, towns and cities located in farming communities. Then the trend is felt at the wholesale level and on into the factories.

It's time every interested person should recognize that the declining farm dollar is in politics—and make plans to do something about it.

BATTLEDORE AND SHUTTLECOCK

Press Paragraphs— QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

Accounting for the Money
Many area weeklies have been waging a campaign to force political subdivisions to account to the public for the tax money they handle. They have met vigorous opposition in some communities from county officials who chant in unison that the newspapers are interested in feathering their own nests since the accounts would have to be published in the papers. So far, the county officials have been successful in defeating legislation that would let the public in on how its money is spent.

For several years, the Morton Tribune, down in Cochran county, has been feuding with county officials because of the scarcity of financial news around the courthouse. This feud resulted in loss of revenue to the Tribune since there are some people who permit sentiments to overrule business judgement in the placement of advertising.

Just last week the payoff came to the Morton Tribune. The paper ran an extra announcing the arrest of four Cochran county officials who were charged with misapplication of county funds. The men, former county auditor, county treasurer, county clerk and county commissioner, have posted bonds totaling $14,000. All are accused of using county money for their own purposes.

No doubt the taxpayers of Cochran county could have paid for several publication notices in the newspaper and still have saved money.

Someday it may be discovered that newspapermen sometimes have motives other than mercenary ones. —The Tulsa Herald

Another Advantage to Education
In this day and time a high school education is a necessity for a youngster to make a living worth more than a bare existence, but there are still those who quit school, not because they have to do so, but because they want to enjoy making money.

There is a sound economic reason for continuing through school. Measured in cold cash, it means about $20,000.

The U. S. Department of Labor figures that the cash value of finishing the last year of high school, measured over a period of 40 working years, results in earnings of about $20,000 more than those who failed to finish.

One of the findings of the 1950 census was that men over 24 who had completed eight years of grade school averaged $2,533 per year. Those who graduated from high school, however, averaged $3,285 a year an increase of over $700.

The same study showed that those who had four years of college received an average annual wage of $4,407, proving perhaps that education pays in more ways than one.

In every town and city there are successful men who did not go to college, perhaps did not finish high school or even grade school. But these exceptions are few and far between and even these men are the strongest boosters for education in their community.

The youngster who has quit school should make every effort to return this fall. Measured in dollars and cents, the argument for a high school diploma is pretty convincing. — Ochiltree County Herald

Mercantiling Hurst Farmers

American reversion to mercantilism is costing all of us. Mercantilism is an economic system in which private parties own the means of production, but the government teams up with certain of them to prevent free markets from operating and to give economic advantage to those with sufficient political pull.

An example of this which operates to the special disadvantage of us in the cotton country is the "cargo preference" law. This law requires that half of any goods sold for export must be carried in U. S. ships, if the goods were financed by government loan. This keeps high cost American ships busy, but it futher reduces the amount of American cotton which can be sold overseas. It makes our price higher than ever.

Of course, our own bit of mercantilism (price supports) makes our cotton pretty high in the first place, then when we add extra freight to that, it becomes almost impossible for American cotton to move into world markets.

Such restrictions tend to breed more of the same as every economic group clamours that it has as much right to such assistance as the first ones do. Eventually they can become so burdensome as to greatly restrict the ability of the economy to expand and keep the standard of living increasing. That is what has happened in most European countries, and it can happen here if we do not become alarmed about the possibility and realize that free men get fairer treatment and a better standard of living by letting free markets regulate our production and distribution than if we let the politicians do it. —The Lamb County Leader

It is not necessary for us to understand all of the things the Defense Department is doing for them to be good for the country. Accordingly, it does no harm for us to say we do not understand what the executive department hopes to get done through this organization away out on the plains of Texas. In some of the big centers, we are told, there are residents who are "hipped" on disaster defense. Many of these have built their own intricate holes in the ground with gadgets that would do credit to Goldberg. And the federal government, (that is official Washington) we know is ready to go underground when the signal is sounded. Somebody is bound to know a lot more than we have the remotest inkling about, too, when they "organize" people, call them from their jobs, hold meetings, ask for volunteer time, to head off "disaster" to the land and its people. Seemingly we should be told more or told less. — Floyd County Hesperian

Gas Bonds Carry Here By Landslide of Ten To One— Citizens of Memphis turned out in large numbers Tuesday, went to the Polls and by their ballots expressed their preference for a municipally owned gas system for this city rather than a continuation of the high rates charged for gas that were raised even higher through an optional rate by the utilities company now serving Memphis. The bond issue carried by a landslide of ten to one, leaving no doubt as to what the people want. The result of the election is not a surprise, although the extent by which it carried did come as a surprise to some. The final vote was 359 for the bonds and 35 against.

Large Number Is Enrolled Monday In City Schools—According to an announcement by Superintendent H. A. Jackson, the total enrollment for Memphis High School, Junior High School and West Ward numbered 863. The number enrolled in East Ward is not included in the count. The Junior High School was second with a total enrollment of 228, according to Lester C. Linn, principal. The high school was third and last of the three schools with enrollment of 197.

This edition is being published to advertise four events which are important to the city and to the counties of Hall County. First events is the formal opening of the Kraft Cheese Company in Memphis, which will prove to be a benefit to the dairy men of the county and dairymen of the state providing them with a new income not heretofore available. The second event is the annual Hall County Fair which is quite appropriate held in connection with the opening of the cheese plant. We believe that the dairy industry through the years has been beneficial by showing that dairy cattle can be made to pay for themselves. The third event is the opening of City Park in Memphis. We already know the benefits of the cotton season to this area. We wish all the much success.

Mosquitoes Cost Farmers Money

COLLEGE STATION — Mosquitoes can be a severe problem, as well as an annoyance, on the farm. They often cause livestock to lose weight by driving them away from lush pastures and may also cause poultry to lose weight and lay fewer eggs, say entomologists of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

To get rid of mosquitoes, the entomologists suggests that you first look for standing water on or near your property. Mosquitoes breed in such places as temporary rain pools, flooded areas, irrigated pastures, salt marshes, ponds, and even in water caught in tin cans, rain butters, or discarded tires.

Wherever possible, eliminate these breeding places by removing the water. In the case of ponds and irrigated pastures, the entire water surface should be sprayed or dusted with an insecticide.

The following sprays are recommended for controlling mosquito larvae in standing water: (1) A one per cent emulsion or oil solution of DDT, chlordane, toxaphene, TDE, or methoxychlor; or (2) a 0.5 (five-tenths) per cent emulsion or oil solution of lindane, dieldrin, or heptachlor. Each of these should be applied at a rate of 1 ounce per 100 square feet, or about 10 quarts per acre of water surface.

If it is easier to dust the water surface, a ready-mixed 5 or 10-per cent DDT dust may be applied at a rate of 2 to 5 pounds per acre. A very light mist of pyrethrum is recommended to kill mosquito larvae in fishponds and ornamental pools without poisoning fish or plants. This also is available ready for use from insecticide dealers. No more than 1 ounce of spray should be applied per 100 square feet of water surface.

It may be necessary to use a residual spray on areas where adult mosquitoes rest or hide. For this purpose a 5 per cent DDT, 2-per cent chlordane, or 1-per cent lindane spray, applied to foundations and underparts of buildings, tree trunks, logs, and vegetation will be effective for a week or more.

County Agents can give directions for mixing these recommended sprays at the proper strength. Oil solutions and emulsions should not be used on vegetation because they may burn the leaves, say the entomologists.

Readers Differ In Ginning Estimates

List Grows In Contest

Readers of The Democrat were holding back during the last few days, and "waiting to see when it will rain" before listing their estimates in this newspaper's Annual Cotton Guessing Contest.

But a different trend is being seen as the contest entered its second week. Last year the trend was for lower and lower guesses as the deadline neared. This year it is different, although the weather remained dry and hot, and cotton fields were looking worse each day.

Every reader of The Democrat is invited to come in and place their estimates on the number of bales of cotton which will be ginned in Hall County this year. The contest will close at 5 p. m. Saturday, Sept. 24.

Thompson, George

in the Sear's contest. They placed as follows: second place to Ph.D. Howard of Memphis; third place to Daryl Long of Memphis; fourth, Donald Wayne Widener of Memphis; fifth, Maurice Hood of Estelline; sixth, Tony Molloy of Lakeview; seventh, Shari Gentry of Memphis and eighth, Mike Widener of Memphis.

In the Businessmen's class the swine placed as follows: second place to Ronny and Clifford Edwards of Memphis; third place to Don House of Turkey and fourth place to Johnny Lavender of Memphis.

Frank Wendt, county agriculture agent of Wilbarger County, was judge of the show. Mr. Wendt, who is recognized as an authority on swine and other livestock, stated that both classes of swine shown here were the most uniform groups he had ever judged.

The grand champion gilt and boar will be entered in the Area Sear's Show, which is scheduled to be held in Amarillo Sept. 19. County Agent W. B. Hooser, said.

Raymond Earl Hall, Lakeview 4-H Club boy, will also exhibit three Hereford heifers at the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo Sept. 19.

Two Hall County 4-H Club members are also planning to enter Hereford heifers at the State-Line Fair at Shamrock Sept. 17. Shari Gentry will exhibit four and Raymond Earl Hall will show three animals.

to the actual number of bales ginned from this year's crop will win a three-year subscription to this newspaper. Second best guess will be worth a two-year subscription, and the person winning third will receive a one-year subscription.

Figures released the latter part of March, 1950, by the Census Bureau of the U. S. Department of Commerce will be used to determine the winner.

Below is a list of guessers, their estimates and addresses, except those residing in Memphis:

Free Polio

Odom said, this procedure closely approximates that employed in the field trials of 1945 and is the one procedure of those tested which induces the best antibody response. Other methods of using the vaccine were discussed but not recommended, the report said.

Dr. Odom was advised that the supply of free vaccine would be extremely limited at first and will be confined to the five to nine age group. The State Department of Health said "every effort is being made to extend the priority age to include all children under 10 years of age and pregnant women of any age," and "eventually, all children under 20 years of age will be included," but because of the shortage, the age limit of five to nine must be observed. Dr. Odom pointed out that this applies only to free vaccine supplied by the United States Public Health Service.

Because of the time element involved, Dr. Odom pointed out, first shots would be given soon so that the third shot may be given next spring just before the polio season arrives.

come will be settled. If it is decided to perpetuate the affair, officers will be chosen and the date set for next year's event. The homecoming this year is being sponsored by the Memphis Improvement and Beautification Association, an organization that grew out of the recent temporary Clean-Up setup. Should it be decided to continue the homecomings, the newly elected officers will then take over to carry on, and the sponsors of the present picnic will stand ready at all times to assist in any way possible.

A number of committees have been doing good work in preparing for Sunday's event. Never before have the people been more cooperative in community effort than they have been throughout this year. For instance, all joined in a big-scale paving program early this year, then in a successful and thorough clean-up of the whole town, and in the homecoming.

In the recent sale of the Orr Studio, a lot of pictures of old-time scenes were donated to the women of the Methodist Church. These pictures have been placed on display in a business building south side of square. They may be seen Friday afternoon, all day Saturday, and Sunday afternoon. Should any one want any of the pictures, they may be obtained for a small price, the women state.

Friends of Hall County and former residents, whatever you do, be sure to include the picnic in your actions Sunday.

Yesterday was the 93rd birthday anniversary of Belitha Scott, who came to Hall County 65 years ago and had a hand in building Memphis. Friends and neighbors sent greeting cards, flowers, birthday cakes, and many called to congratulate him on attaining a long life. Mr. Scott retains an active mind and memory and gives dates and details of many events happening throughout the years he has lived in Memphis. We wish him many more returns of the day.

Billy Salmon

Matthew Allen, manager of the Memphis Compress Company. He paid 37 cents per pound. Salmon received $100.00 from the Memphis Chamber of Commerce for bringing in the first bale.

Odiell Anthony, manager of the gin, reported that the bale was of fine quality. He estimated that it would be graded "middling," and that the staple length was one inch.

"I want to thank the chamber of commerce for the prize money which I received," Salmon said late Tuesday afternoon. "Also I wish to thank Matthew Allen for buying the bale, and Clyde Fowler for bidding on it. And to the Memphis Farmers Co-Op Gin go my thanks for ginning the bale free of charge."

Salmon credits irrigation for the early cotton. It was watered from a well drilled last year which enabled him to make two bales to the acre on the irrigated land.

Farming in Hall County all his life, this is the second time he has won a "first bale" honor. The first time he earned this distinction was in 1928 when the cotton was ginned at Quitaque.

A second well has been drilled by Salmon and will be put into operation in time for next year's crop. Irrigation offers great possibilities for increasing cotton production in Hall County, according to Salmon.
