County Ginnings Total 3,489 Bales Tuesday Afternoon

Hall County had ginned 3,489 bales of cotton as of Tuesday, according to a survey made by William M. Cross of Clarendon, farm placement interviewer. Two weeks ago, the figure was only 632 bales.

The huge gain since then came as the result of plentiful supplies of sunshine, which has allowed cotton pickers to stay in the fields day after day and also has caused cotton to open more rapidly.

It has been little short of amazing the way bolls have popped open within the past week. If the dry, mild weather continues for another two or three weeks, Hall County stands a good chance of making about as much cotton as it did last year.

Ginners over the county estimate that from 20 to 30 per cent of the cotton was open the first of the week, Cross said.

He said there appears to be plenty of crews at the present time, adding that a great many crews have come into the county within the past week. In that time, he estimated that several hundred pickers had arrived here. But within the next two weeks, he continued, an additional 500 hands probably will be needed.

If farmers need assistance in getting pickers, Cross will be glad to help them. He maintains headquarters at Bruce Brothers Service Station, at the junction of Highways 287 and 256, in Memphis.

A. C. P. Meeting Due Here Friday

A joint meeting of all Hall County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committees and the county soil conservation board will be held Friday afternoon at 2 p. m., in the county courtroom here. The announcement was made Tuesday by Lynn McKown, manager of the A. S. C. office in Memphis.

At the meeting, practices for the 1956 Agricultural Conservation Program will be selected.

The meeting should be of particular interest to Hall County farmers, because an explanation will be made of a plan for restoring washed-out terraces in the county.

Also invited to attend the session are contractors who will do (Continued on Page 8, Sec. 1)

Chest X-Rays To Be Made Here All Day Saturday

Everyone's Participation Urged by County Chairman

Chest x-rays will be made here all day Saturday and as many people as possible are urged to take advantage of this service, Ben Parks, chairman of the campaign, declared this week. The x-ray apparatus, which is being furnished by the Texas State Department of Health, will be located at the Lone Star Gas Company, on the west side of the square.

Provision for workers, to act as hostesses and to take care of paper work, has been completed, Mrs. Herschel Combs, co-chairman, said Tuesday.

X-rays can be made in a matter of seconds, Parks said. He made the statement to reassure persons, who might think they would have to wait for sometime before they could be accommodated.

The service is free and it is not necessary to undress to be x-rayed.

No one under 15 years of age is eligible to participate since it is felt that if adults with tuberculosis can be detected, children will automatically be protected, since youngsters can become infected from older persons.

And even though X-rayed last year and found free of a tubercular condition, persons should have a new X-ray made Saturday, in order to be sure that they still are in a healthy condition. In most instances, persons' conditions are satisfactory. However, in cases where the reverse is true, individuals are able to take steps to remedy the situation and escape more serious trouble later.

Posters, publicizing the X-ray drive, have been placed at business houses in Turkey, Estelline, Lakeview and Memphis.

According to Mrs. Combs, Federated Women who will assist with the X-rays Saturday and hours they will be on duty are as follows:

9 a. m. — 12 noon: Mrs. J. K. Porter and Mrs. Sidney Baker, Delphian Club; Mrs. Mac Tarver and Mrs. Boyd Rogers, 1913 Study Club; Mrs. J. A. Odum, Atalantean Club; Mrs. Clinton Culp, Pathfinders Council; and Mrs. Glynn Thompson, United Daughters of the Confederacy.

12 noon — 3 p. m.: Mrs. Bill Hajek, Mrs. Robert Clark and Mrs. O. R. Goodall, Delphian Club; Mrs. Allen Grundy, 1913 Study Club; and Mrs. Herb Curry and Mrs. J. W. Coppedge, Atalantean Club.

3 p. m. — 6 p. m.: Mrs. Kenneth Dale, and Mrs. Hershel Potts, Delphian Club; Mrs. Alice Gailey, 1913 Study Club; Mrs. Ed Hill, Atalantean Club; and Mrs. R. L. Duncan, Mrs. Robert Moss and Mrs. Clifford Farmer, Woman's Culture Club.

Grain Shipments In County Total 113 Cars So Far

A total of 113 cars of grain sorghums had been shipped by Hall County elevators up to Wednesday, according to Lynn McKown, manager of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office here. The A. S. C. official announced the shipments, after talking with elevator operators here and at Turkey.

A carload of grain is considered to have an average weight of 100,000 pounds, so this would mean that 11,300,000 pounds have been sent out of the county. Figuring the price roughly at one and one-half cents a pound, this would represent total payments to producers of somewhere between $160,000 and $170,000.

Farmers, who put grain in the government loan, net about $154 or $155 per hundred for that (Continued on Page 8, Sec. 1)

Boys Break Into Estelline Homes

Two Estelline homes in which no one was living have been ransacked within recent weeks, according to sheriff W. P. Baten. The ransackings were not discovered until the past week, however, the officer continued.

The homes belong to Mrs. Clyde Wilkerson of Salida, Colo., and Mrs. Lonnie Cowan of Duncan, Okla.

Memphis Scouts In Hedley Parade

Cub Scouts and Den Mothers of Pack 35 and Boy Scouts of Troop 35 will participate in the Hedley Cotton Festival parade on Saturday afternoon, according to scoutmaster Ted Myers.

There are now six Cub Dens in Memphis, consisting of 40 Cub Scouts, with W. A. "Dub" Leigon as their Cub Master.

Cyclones And Bucks Play Here Friday

The Memphis Cyclone football squad should be in pretty good shape when they go against the White Deer Bucks here Friday night. The starting whistle is scheduled to blow at 8 p. m., at Cyclone Stadium.

It will be the fourth conference game of the season for Memphis, which now has two district victories against one defeat, and a season record of three wins and two losses.

Cyclone team mates will welcome Butch Adcock, fullback, back to the active list Friday night. Adcock has been out of the lineup since suffering a crushed vertebra in the Crowell game. He and coach D. C. Andrews went to Amarillo Tuesday, where Adcock was examined by a bone specialist. Following a thorough examination, the specialist told the two that the Cyclone player could return to action. Andrews said Wednesday that Adcock would be suited out Friday night but probably would be used only sparingly, since he would need more practice to get back in top shape.

Andrews said that two other players, Cleve Evans, a quarterback, and Sherman Clemons, a halfback, still would not see action. He explained that Clemons would be out the remainder of the season and that Evans probably would be.

Another Cyclone expected to be out of the lineup this week is (Continued on page 4, sect. 1)

Firemen Attend Dallas Convention

Six members of the Memphis Fire Department attended a firemen's meeting at Dallas over the weekend.

Attending the Northwest Texas District Firemen's Convention from Memphis were: Thomas Clayton, chief; R. A. Massey, assistant chief; and Odie Sturdevant, O. R. Sayre, Johnny Hancock and Glenn Bruce.

The firemen left here Saturday and returned Sunday night.

Official Explains Voting Regulations

Poll tax paying time is here again and county tax assessor-collector Olin W. Cooper has compiled in a brief summary which should be of considerable help to certain groups in helping them to determine whether they need to pay poll taxes or not.

One group is the one composed of men and women who have recently turned 21 years of age or soon will.

According to Cooper, those who were 21 before Jan. 1, 1955, will need poll tax receipts to be eligible to vote in 1956 elections. Those who were 21 after Jan. 1, 1955, or are 21 at least 30 days prior to an election, may vote without paying a poll tax but must have exemption certificates. The certificates may be obtained at the county tax assessor-collector's office in the courthouse here.

The other group that Cooper had in mind, are persons who are 60 years of age.

Persons who are 60 years old before Jan. 1, 1955, can vote without paying poll taxes or obtaining exemption certificates, but those who were 60 years of age after

World War II Buddies Reunited Here

Last Saw Each Other In 1943

Two World War II buddies met here last Thursday afternoon for the first time since they were sent to different overseas theaters in 1943.

One of the men is sheriff W. P. Baten and the other is James M. Chaney, one of the Dallas police officers who attended the funeral services for Cynthia Combs, who was killed in an accident at the State Fair of Texas.

After the rites, deputy sheriff

Elmer Neel introduced Baten to the visiting officers.

After being introduced, Chaney continued to grasp Baten's hand with a smile and declared, "I guess Bill Baten doesn't know me."

"Just as soon as he said that," remarked the sheriff Monday morning, in recalling the incident, "I recognized him."

And well he should, for he and Chaney served as platoon sergeants at Camp Wallace, Tex., until they were separated late in 1945, shortly before they were assigned to foreign duty. Baten was sent to the Southwest Pacific and Chaney to the European Theater.

The coincidence here last Thursday was not the first, the two officers learned during their reunion. Baten returned to the states and was discharged, Dec. 19, 1945, and Chaney arrived from overseas and received his discharge just a few days later, on Dec. 30. Then in July of the next year, Baten

Hedley Cotton Festival at Hedley Friday and Saturday

Preparations were being made Wednesday for the annual Hedley Cotton Festival. Entertainment will include a carnival, coronation of the Festival Queen, and other free attractions, such as bands, Boy Scout Indian Dancers, and a grand parade. The celebration is expected to be the best in the event's history, according to Clifford Johnson, one of the Festival's strongest backers. His belief is based on a better-than-average cotton crop around Hedley and assistance that will be forthcoming from outside sources. He'll probably be right, too, because each Festival seems to be better than the last one.

Miss Sandra Youree will reign as Queen of the Festival until she crowns her successor during coronation ceremonies Friday night. Activities will start rolling at 10 a. m. Friday and continue until midnight Saturday.

Among bands, scheduled to provide music for the celebration, are high school aggregations from Memphis, Clarendon and Wellington. The Negro school drum and bugle corps from Clarendon also will be present. The Memphis band has taken first place honors at the Festival the past three years. The coronation of the queen will be preceded by an all-cotton (Continued on Page 8, Sec. 1)

Late Harvest Shows In Bank Statements

A check of financial statements for the four Hall County banks, compiled at the close of business Oct. 7, showed that the usual fall influx of income from crops had not gotten underway. This could be attributed, no doubt, to the extreme lateness in the county of this year's crops. Probably never in the history of this country have farmers planted as many times and over so long a period as many of them did this year. But as sunny day succeeds sunny day, prospects for a fairly good crop grow steadily brighter.

Kay Leslie Reported Making Progress

Kay Leslie, 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Leslie, was reported Wednesday to have satisfactorily withstood a pelvic operation Tuesday in a Dallas hospital. Key was critically injured, Oct. 11, when a ferris wheel seat at the State Fair in Dallas broke plummeting her about 90 feet to the ground.

A companion, Cynthia Combest, daughter of Nelson Combest of Memphis, was killed in the accident, but another friend, Barbara Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Allen of Memphis, fortunately suffered only minor injuries.

Kay is seemingly conscious all of the time now and recognizes everyone, according to reports reaching here.

Carnival Promises Good Time for All

If you're looking for something where all of your family can have a good time, circle the date of Oct. 31.

Because on Monday evening of that day, there'll be plenty of entertainment and food for everybody at the annual Austin and Travis Parent-Teachers Association Halloween Carnival. Mom, Pop and all the kids can come early and stay late, as a full evening of activities has been planned. All festivities will be held at Memphis High School.

Mom can be completely carefree that evening, not even bothering about supper, because the entire family can get everything from food to drinks in the cafeteria, starting at 6 p. m. After they finish eating, they can go on into the gymnasium and be ready to enjoy themselves.

Entertainment will get underway at 7 p. m., with the first of two performances of a hillbilly play, "A-Feudin' and A-Fightin'," presented by members of the Future Homemakers of America chapter, under direction of Mrs. Mary Sue Beasley, high school home economics teacher. The second performance will commence at 8 p. m. Both presentations will be staged in the high school auditorium. An admission price of 10 cents will be charged at each show.

Texans To Benefit From Federal Funds

AUSTIN—Texas sportsman will benefit ultimately under new Congressional authority authorizing use of Pittman-Robertson funds for facilitating wildlife harvest on game management areas, reports Howard D. Dodgen, Secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

The official notification just received from Washington provides in effect that up to thirty percent of P-R money may be earmarked specifically for "Game Management" projects such as to finance arrangements for public shooting of surplus game on the several game management areas in Texas.

The announcement came as the Commission contemplates the most extensive series of public hunts in Texas history, with at least three experimental demonstration areas listed as for hunt locations for deer, and with other special shoots possible.

The executive secretary emphasized that the new fund diversion cannot be utilized this fall since the Commission has already financed the special hunt program under rigid legislative budget restrictions.

"This new provision is timely," Dodgen said, "because beginning next year we would have been hard pressed to continue the harvest of surplus game on our management areas for lack of funds. We still will be pinched through the current biennium since we have to match the P-R funds on the basis of one Texas dollar to every three allocated from Federal funds."

Pitman-Robertson funds are raised under a special eleven percent tax on guns and ammunition distributed to the states mainly on the basis of the number of hunting licenses sold and on the state's respective land areas. Texas has difficulty qualifying for the maximum possible P-R grant because of Legislative restrictions that have aggravated an acute fund crisis.

The new law specifically provides that P-R funds may be used for the wildlife management area harvests to the extent of financing hunter-use facilities, hunter-access roads, actual management of the controlled hunts, manning checking stations to obtain scientific data, emergency winter feeding of game, predator control and setting up studies preliminary to the actual public hunts.

Dean Sustaire Amarillo Paper's Player Of Week

Dean Sustaire, Memphis Cyclone halfback, was chosen as Class A Player of the Week Wednesday by the Amarillo Daily News. The choice was made according to Eddie Mullens, Daily News sports writer, "not only for his outstanding work last Friday night, but for his work all season."

Continuing, the article says, "The most consistent ball carrier for the Cyclones this semester, Dean has had to shoulder much of the leather toting load due to numerous injuries in the Memphis mail carrying department."

Sustaire scored all three of the Cyclone touchdowns against McLean last week, to spearhead a 19-0 victory.

Wesley Hammonds, of Corpus Christi, arrived here Monday to help his mother, Mrs. O. L. Hammonds, celebrate her birthday the following day. Hammonds, who is now able to walk without a cane after being in a critical condition for some time following an automobile accident, went on to Plainview from here. Others at Mrs. Hammond's birthday celebration were Mr. and Mrs. R. S. McBee and Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Chaney.

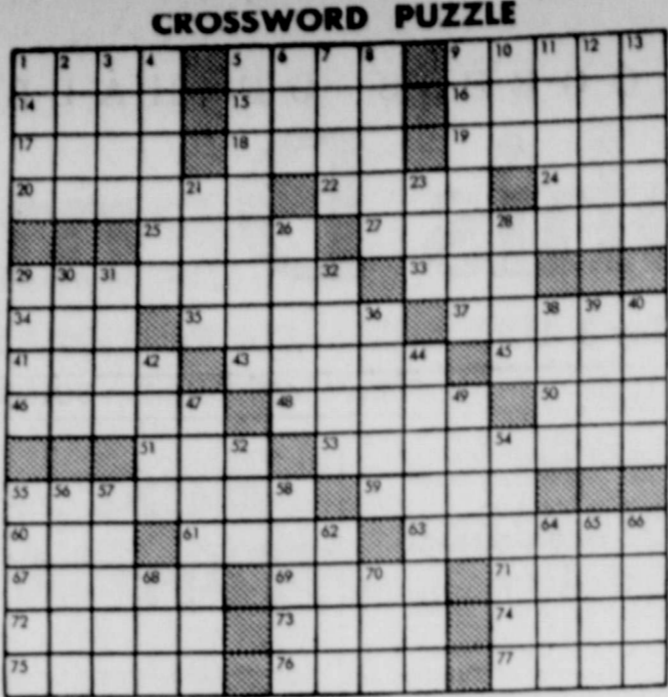

Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Durham of Lovington, who lived in Hall County for many years, arrived here Tuesday to transact business. They planned to return home the latter part of this week.

Cub Pack To Meet Tuesday Evening

Memphis Cub Pack 35 will meet at 7 p.m. Tuesday, at the Boy Scout Hall, on the second floor of the Carnegie Library.

At the meeting, Bob Cat badges will be presented to all Cub Scouts. There are six Cub Scout Dens in Memphis, composed of 38 Scouts.

Leaders are: Mrs. Lynn McKown, Den 1; Mrs. R. C. Lemons, Den 2; Mrs. Dub Simmons, Den 3; Mrs. Clinton Culp, Den 4; Mrs. Lee Brown, Den 5; and Mrs. Elmont Branigan, Den 6.

Cyclists And Pedestrians Warned About Hazards Of Night Traffic

"Bike riding or walking, be bright at night!"

E. C. McFadden, president of Texas Safety Association, Inc., gives this advice to Texas walkers and cyclists in warning of the hazards of night traffic.

McFadden was speaking in support of the night traffic hazards program being conducted this month by the Texas Safety Association, Department of Public Safety, and the National Safety Council.

"I mean 'be bright' in two ways," McFadden explains. "First of all be bright literally. For pedestrians this means illuminate yourself with white, light colored or reflectorized clothing or carry a flashlight or a piece of reflectorized material. For cyclists it means illuminating both bicycle and rider. The bike should have a good head light and tail light and should also be trimmed with white or reflectorized material."

The second way in which both pedestrians and cyclists must be bright is mentally, McFadden said. He warned that many pedestrians and bicycle riders meet their deaths in night traffic accidents because of carelessness.

"To stay safe, obey all traffic laws and always assume that the driver can't see you," McFadden said. "Never cross a street or highway unless you are absolutely certain that you have ample time to reach the other side in complete safety."

McFadden said the proper place for walkers is on the sidewalk. When there are no sidewalks, he said, pedestrians should walk on the left shoulder of the road facing traffic. Cyclists, he said, should ride on the right side of the road, with traffic.

People over 65, because their reactions are usually slow and their eyesight or hearing may be impaired, are particularly vulnerable in night traffic, McFadden said.

"If you're an oldster, don't venture out in traffic alone at night," he advises. "Remember, darkness hides danger, play it safe!"

Clarify Dog Use In Hunting Deer

AUSTIN—Dogs may be used to hunt deer during the legal hunting season in Sabine and Nacogdoches counties despite an apparent change in their status has been announced by Howard D. Dodgen, Game and Fish Commission.

The disclosure, based on an opinion by Attorney General John Ben Sheppard, came after the Commission's Law Digest was published and distributed containing the names of ten counties instead of twelve where deer hounds actually may be used during the open season on deer.

The additional counties joined this category after the Attorney General officially interpreted the provisions of a bill passed by the last Legislature under sponsorship of Representative Charles Heitman of Nacogdoches.

The original measure was designed to forbid use of dogs to hunt deer during the legal hunting seasons in Sabine, San Augustine and Nacogdoches counties. Then, Representative Heitman moved to amend the proposal to limit the restriction to San Augustine county alone.

In the Legislative processes, according to the Attorney General, conflict developed between the contents of the bill's text and the bill's title. At first, after the measure's final passage and signing into law, it seemed that the ban on dogs still applied to Sabine, Nacogdoches and San Augustine counties.

Now, the final interpretation of the new act provides that Sabine and Nacogdoches revert to their original status as concerns legal use of deer hounds. Thus San Augustine county alone is listed as forbidding use of dogs for deer hunting.

The other ten counties permitting deer hounds are: Brazoria, Fort Bend, Hardin, Jasper, Matagorda, Newton, Panola, Polk, Shelby and T Tyler.

Dodgen said use of dogs to hunt deer formerly was widespread in the East Texas brush country but that the number of counties permitting this custom had gradually dwindled.

Teeth Should Be Massaged And Brushed Daily

AUSTIN — The fact that dental decay is likely to occur in the mouth of the average person, despite proper home care given the teeth, does not lessen the importance of brushing the teeth and massaging the gums daily, nor does it minimize the need for cleaning and inspection of the teeth by the family dentist twice a year.

Dr. Henry A. Holle, Commissioner of Health, says that the lack of these measures gives added power to germs that attack the enamel of the teeth and gum tissues.

"If, despite the proper application of such procedures, decay is suspected or teeth are injured in any way, the thoughtful person will seek the dentist's office promptly for the necessary corrective work," Dr. Holle said. "It is surprising, in these days of painless dentistry, that persons neglect to make dental defects, inevitable otherwise, because they fear the discomfort they might experience in the dentist's office." He added: "There are no painless dentistry treatments. Apparently they can get along with reduced mastication, discomfort and sometimes the crooked teeth are a possible consequence of the teeth."

Dr. Holle advised those interested in preserving dental and bodily health to give daily attention to their teeth, and visit the dentist each year, and promote the dentist's services or other suspicious arise between the period.

"In short," Dr. Holle said, "successful mouth hygiene not only intelligent personal application of prophylactic complete and timely care with the family dentist."

Many Items Used As Money During Mankind's History

MINNEAPOLIS — For money, man, at various times in his history has used shells, beads, stones, porpoise teeth, whales' teeth, bear tusks, scapels of redheaded woodpeckers, beaver skins, blankets, knives, woven mats, pieces of cloth, cattle, pigs, rice, corn, wool, wheat, indigo, tobacco, salt, sugar, rum, and beer. Coins themselves, says the family economics bureau of Northwestern National Life Insurance company, have been made of glass, earth-and-glue, leather, lead, tin, and brass, as well as gold, silver and copper. But the figures show that by far the favorite money of modern America is the bank check, the bureau points out. Per capita in the U. S. today there is about $11 in silver, copper and alloy coins, $172 in paper money, and $630 in checking accounts. The money in the checking accounts passes from hand to hand three times as fast as does the paper money and coin. Our total business transactions in the U. S. average about six billion dollars daily, or well over two trillion dollars a year. Of this enormous volume of money changing hands, only ten per cent is paid in "folding money" and coin, the bureau says, while 90 per cent is paid in bank checks. An average of 19 million checks are written daily in the U. S., of an average face value of a little less than $300 per check.

Benjamin Franklin was the first U. S. Postmaster General.

The week of October 23-29 has been designated as National Farm City Week. Local observances are being planned across the nation. Its purpose is to develop understanding between rural and urban residents.

Meals served daily aboard the Navy aircraft carrier USS Forrestal will number 10,500. The modern warship was commissioned October 1.

Hybrid Beans Prove Better In Texas Tests

COLLEGE STATION — The highest yielding castor bean hybrids were consistently superior to the regular varieties in most irrigated and dryland tests conducted at nine locations in Texas during 1954.

The dryland tests were conducted at College Station, the experiment stations at Denton and Stephenville and on the farm of Estes Hargrave near Sulphur Springs. Both irrigated and dryland tests were conducted at the Chillicothe station. Other irrigated tests were made on the farm of H. E. Gohlke near Littlefield and at the Lubbock station. The test at Plainview was conducted on the Baker Castor Bean Corporation.

According to D. D. Poole, plant pathologist of the USDA and Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Western Hybrids 4 and 7, USDA 74 Hybrid and the varieties Custer and Cimarron produced best under dryland conditions.

Western Hybrids 4, 7, and 10 and USDA Hybrids 74 and 367 gave the best yields under irrigation. Yields ranged as high as 2,800 pounds of clean beans on acre. Average increases in yield of the hybrids over Cimarron ranged from 10 per cent for the lowest yielding to 69 per cent for the highest yielding hybrid. Also listed by Poole as advantages for the hybrids were early seedling vigor and rapid recovery from the drouth.

Poole says castor bean plantings in the state dropped from 100,000 acres in 1953 to about 15,000 acres in 1954. The drop in the guaranteed price from nine to six cents per pound is cited as a primary cause of the reduced plantings, according to Poole. He says net returns to growers generally were poor.

These and other facts on the 1954 tests are available from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas. Ask for Progress Report 1802.

All of the Memphis boys were in shape Wednesday for tonight's tilt, coach Nolan Potet said. One player, Sandy Smith, a tackle, had his nose broken in the game with Clarendon last week, but Potet said he will be ready for action against Hollis.

Texas Farm Bureau lays 22 Proposals

The Texas Farm Bureau of Directors has approved 22 recommendations made by its special advisory committee. These recommendations are concerned with livestock, dairy, water, field crops, and vegetables.

The following is a list of approved recommendations:

We recommend that the Texas Farm Bureau County Animal Health Committees should include on their committees representatives of the poultry industry, beef, dairy, poultry, sheep, and goats, representative of the county.

We recommend to the Texas Farm Bureau board of directors to cooperate in the operation of the Texas Animal Health Commission as we have in the past.

We recommend that the Texas Farm Bureau continue its self-help program by all segments of the industry.

We recommend that the TFB should revise the feed laws of the state so that the ingredients on the label in the feed, for the use of the consumer.

We recommend the program of the AFBF be instituted by the AFBF in all counties throughout the state.

We recommend that the TFB should export markets including agricultural products.

We are in agreement with the present policy of the TFB as regards water.

We recommend that the TFB should make a careful study of the information from all sources.

Following the Board shall prepare recommendations on our water problem including conservation, control, drainage and moving water to areas of short supply.

We recommend that the Board of Directors of the Farm Bureau expedite the agreement with the U. S. to make Texas dairymen eligible for federal assistance in their control.

We recommend that a study be made of the use of the ring method for determining the prevalence of Brucellosis in dairy cattle.

We recommend that any money made available to the Brucellosis program in Texas.

We recommend that the TFB should coordinate between the groups and that Mr. Heideman of the AFBF should attend and help to program and formulate for future action. Such should be represented as the American Dairy Association, Dairy Products Institute, and other groups that might be invited to TFB Board of Directors to advise on the program.

We recommend that a further study be made of the present and necessary action be taken by the AFB to get enacted in the next term of the legislature a feed law with necessary provisions that will guarantee protection to the consumer of feed in Texas.

We recommend that the TFB, working with the Commissioner of Agriculture of Texas, or his representative, to examine and administer the "Sweet Potato Law," view to eliminating those quantities of sweet potatoes diverted from basic crops.

We recommend that a committee be appointed by the President of the TFB, to study the price differential between what the producer receives and what the consumer pays in the retail market. A study should be made of making recommendations whereby the producer will secure a higher percentage of the retail price of his product.

Poultry — Realizing the haphazard methods of poultry financing, we recommend that the Texas Farm Bureau Board of Directors point up the various methods of financing poultry projects by: Information to Texas Bankers Association on a state level; appoint local Farm Bureau committees to disseminate the same information to local banks and producers.

We favor the TFB's stand on a new feed control law.

(Inspection of Poultry Processing plants) As a means of assuring the greatest degree of wholesomeness in poultry offered to the consuming public, we recommend that the TFB favor federal mandatory inspection of all poultry meat to be sold in interstate trade, provided that: the cost be paid for out of federal appropriations as in the case of livestock and livestock products; supervised lay inspectors be used when necessary and advisable; it be administered by the U. S. D. A.

Reliable reports indicate that inferior biological products can and are being sold, especially virus vaccines contaminated with bacteria and other viruses or lacking potency, or both. In view of these facts, we recommend that the TFB seek the establishment of a Federal Testing Laboratory where biological products can be accurately tested; also effect the necessary changes in Federal laws and authority to provide the greatest possible protection of our livestock industries against inferior biological products.

Field Crops — We recommend that Commodity Credit Corporation set a loan value for each split grade of cotton.

We recommend that all storage charges on all storable commodities in C. C. C. be paid by purchaser or redeemer.

Texas Tech Seeks High Teaching Standards

LUBBOCK — Texas Tech is continuing to seek a higher quality of teaching, despite faculty-taxing enrollments and intensified competition for first class faculty members.

Tech's Council of Deans and Faculty Advisory Committee have issued a special joint report to the faculty on how to improve the College's teaching, already considered adequate.

The report gives major consideration to the attitudes of Tech's supporters, faculty and students which contribute toward a favorable "academic climate."

Tech's relations with its publics are a most priceless possession, the report points out.

"We are perhaps inclined to take for granted the unique good will which the people of Lubbock and West Texas have toward the College," the report states. "If it were less than it is, we would soon notice the effect on this matter of climate."

"The entire Tech faculty is concerned over what the increase in size will do to the warm, friendly spirit which has characterized the College through its first 30 years," the joint committees stated.

The report calls attention to the continuing need for a common mission and common objectives as the College grows and to the value of already completed college-wide studies on research, academic programs, self evaluation and teacher education.

Other recommendations are made on how to improve teaching by minimizing non-academic chores, making wider use of teaching aids, developing methods to increase interest in learning, careful classroom management, and study of testing and grading techniques.

Thomas Jefferson was the first U. S. Secretary of State.

Sweetclover Still Leading Legume In Texas

COLLEGE STATION — Despite the development of many improved varieties, sweetclover, one of the oldest soil building legumes, remains the most widely adapted and recommended for use in Texas.

"Through more than 60 years of testing at Texas experimental stations, sweetclover gained and has retained a leading position in modern farming practices," says Dr. R. C. Potts, agronomist at Texas A. and M. College.

As early as 1894 plant scientists had noted the value of sweetclover as "a renovating crop for enriching worn lands. Madrid and Hubam are the most important sweetclover varieties now grown in the state. Evergreen and annual yellow-flowered sweetclover are of lesser adaptability.

Sweetclover provides abundant grazing and when harvested is a profitable hay and silage crop, Dr. Potts notes in a recent publication, "Sweetclover in Texas."

The protein and phosphorus content of this legume is described as "excellent." At Temple, steers on sweetclover-oat pasture gained up to 2.1 pounds daily.

Production of sweetclover seed has added substantially to Texas farm income in recent years, averaging 11,060,000 pounds annually for the period of 1950-53. Most of it was produced in the Blackland and Grand Prairie regions. Harvested yields averaged 150 to 300 pounds of seed an acre.

Sweetclover adds nitrogen to the soil, makes the soil more friable increasing aeration and provides a protective land cover. Maximum soil benefits are obtained by harvesting a seed crop and returning the crop residue to the soil.

Hollow-Cone Spray Best Pest Control, State Tests Show

COLLEGE STATION — The hollow-cone spray nozzle is superior to those which give a flat fan-shaped spray pattern for cotton insect control, tests indicate.

This finding emerged from three year tests at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station designed to determine the best type and nozzle arrangement for cotton boll weevil and bollworm control.

Hollow-cone type nozzles gave better control of insects and subsequent higher cotton yields.

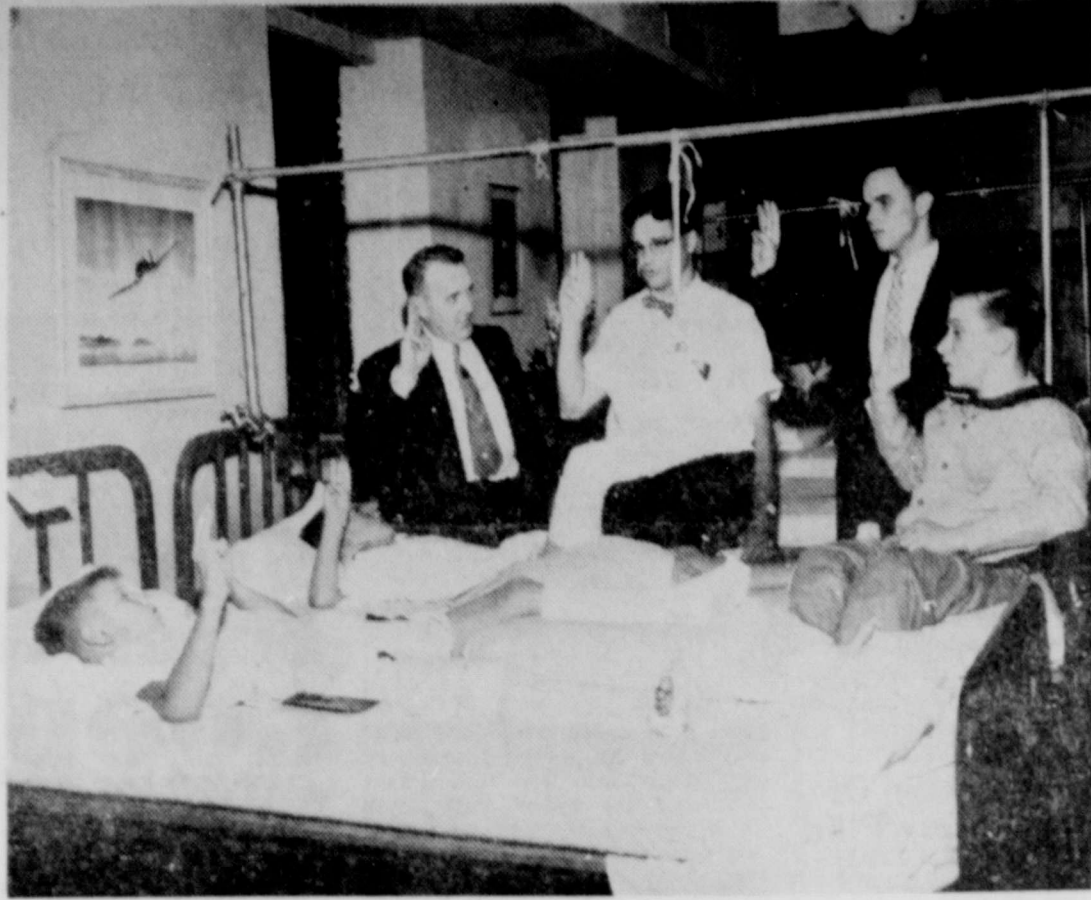

Throughout the studies, sprayed plots yielded approximately half a bale more cotton an acre than untreated plots.

One hollow-cone type nozzle placed directly above the row gave yields equal to those where two and three hollow-cone nozzles were placed at the top and sides of the drill rows.

Complete results of the 1952-54 studies are given in Progress Report 1752, which is available from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

Wayland Professor Shares Experiences

PLAINVIEW — Dr. Robert L. Dobson, chairman of Bible and Religion Division at Wayland College, is sharing with his students and friends the many experiences he had the past summer on a trip covering 12,000 miles by air, hundreds more by train and bus and uncounted miles on foot.

Invitations for him to speak before church and school groups have been coming in since his return in late August and he is accepting as many as his Wayland teaching duties will permit.

In the party with Dr. Dobson were five ministers, one layman and three women. Conductor of the study tour was Dr. Joe Burton, editor of "Home Life," a monthly family magazine published by Southern Baptists.

Main destinations of the tour were London, where they attended the Baptist World Alliance, and the Holy Land. Going by way of New York, the group flew to Glasgow, Scotland. Dr. Dobson labels the trip through Trossachs to Edinburgh as one of the most interesting sections. The trip to England, was by train through the Lake District of Northern England, the district made famous by the poet Wordsworth.

A highlight of the week in London was the sermon preached by a Baptist pastor from Moscow. This was the first year that Russia has permitted representation at a Baptist World Alliance since the Communists came into power.

The party flew to Jerusalem, which served as headquarters while they studied the historical points mentioned in the Bible, such as the Mount of Olives, Calvary, the Garden of the Tomb, and Gethsemane.

By car the group went to Bethany, Jericho, the River Jordan, the traditional site of the baptism of Jesus, the Dead Sea and Bethlehem.

"We were agreed that our greatest inspiration came on Sunday morning as we stood in the Garden of the Tomb, read the resurrection story, sang 'He Arose', and joined in prayer. It was here that we were impressed as never before that the tomb is empty and that Christ truly lives," Dr. Dobson declared.

"My swim in the Dead Sea was also an interesting experience," he says.

Stops after leaving Jerusalem included the ruins of Caesarea, Haifa and Tel-Aviv, major cities in modern Israel. Visits were also made to Cana, Nazareth, the Sea of Galilee, Mount Tabor, the Valley Esdralon and Joppa by the Sea.

On the return journey the Dobson party flew to Greece, where they visited Athens, with its Acropolis, the ruins of which still command the admiration of the whole world.

Dobson left the party for an automobile trip to Corinth to have a short visit with the family of Miss Maida Esmerian, Wayland College senior from Greece.

Proceeding on the return trip, the party went to Munich, Germany and Zurich and Geneva, Switzerland. In Zurich they visited the Southern Baptist Seminary which was established after World War II.

"Connie" gave them trouble as they flew the Atlantic by providing high winds and rain while they were over the ocean.

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kestug

When hunting big game a sportsman often comes on small game that would make a toothsome addition to the pot. Or he may see a small fur bearer whose pelt he covets. Unfortunately, the charge of a big rifle would blow them up with nothing left for the table or taxidermist.

Of course, there may be fleeting opportunities for cutting the heads off small game with the big rifle, but these do not occur often, and the noise of the heavy cartridge would alarm big game in the vicinity. A shotgun or a .22 rifle could be used, but the former has the disadvantage of noise, and both make another gun to tote along.

Another possible solution is a reduced, small-game load for the big rifle. Col. Townsend Whelen has used this with much success in Canada, but cautions that such loads have two disadvantages. The sight adjustment must be changed, and the report is usually much louder than is desirable in big game country. Also the expense of reloading tools and of experiments to develop a suitable reduced load exceeds the price of a good handgun.

The solution seems to be a light, high grade .22 caliber pistol or revolver. It is easily and conveniently carried while hunting with a big rifle. Besides pot meat, it will account for varmints including snakes and can be used for killing large fish not protected by law. It is also ideal for the casual plinker. The .22 long rifle has excellent killing effect and its report is not too loud.

The best models for such use are light weight pistols and revolvers for the .22 long rifle cartridge, with adjustable target rear sights. The short 4 1/2-inch barrel is slightly preferable to the 6-inch barrel.

Whelen regards the adjustable target sights as being absolutely necessary on such a weapon, indeed for any handgun that is to be interesting and satisfying to shoot. To kill small game surely and neatly you must hit it in a vital spot, just as in target shooting you must hit close to the 10-ring. Each make of ammunition will shoot to a slightly different spot and likewise any difference in the manner and tension with which the gun is held will cause it to center its bullets differently. If the pistol is to shoot close to where it is aimed, it must be possible to adjust the sights according to the ammunition and one's hold.

It takes about 200 bolls of cotton to make a good white shirt, figuring 3-4 pound of lint cotton per shirt. This year's cotton acreage would make a strip about 9 miles wide and 3,000 miles long.

Most Destructive Insect Pests In Texas Listed

COLLEGE STATION — Cotton bollworms, grasshoppers, boll weevils were the most damaging insects to Texas last year.

Aphids, rice weevils, spider mites, thrips, army and plant bugs complete the list of the state's 19 most destructive pests in their order of economic importance," says a report by Dr. J. C. Gault, department of entomology, Texas A. and M. College.

Pink bollworms should be added to this list, Gault says, because of its present economic importance, but for its present age to Texas cotton.

The cotton bollworm is known as the corn ear worm and tomato fruit worm.

Nationwide, the corn grasshoppers, aphids and were listed among the most important insects of 1954 by entomologists.

Corn earworms, spider mites also dominated the listings.

Jonathan, McIntosh, Golden, Stayman, Winona and Rome Beauty are varieties available at farmers. Knowing the special characteristics of each variety and infestation to their use.

NEED OF A STANDARD IN RELIGION

Very often it is said, "It just doesn't make any difference what you think in religion, so long as you are honest." This saying is never used in any sphere of thinking except of religion, and it should not be used in this area.

When you visualize the butcher saying, as he gives you 7/8 of a pound of meat for 1 lb., "Now, it makes no difference what you think, so long as you are honest," or the merchant in the hardware store saying the same thing when he measures 30 inches of material for a yard; or the pharmacist as he measures 3 gal. of some prescription instead of 3 ounces? We need a standard of weights and measures in this land and it should be diligently adhered to. In every incident, whether with the tailor, doctor or groceryman, 100 pennies are equal to $1.00. The standard is set. Any deviation from the set standard will bring screams of agony and cries of "cheat" from any one of us. Deviation in the physical world just will not be allowed.

Contrary to much popular belief we have a binding standard in religion. It is the New Testament. (II Tim. 3:16-17). The scriptures were given by inspiration of God. (II Pet. 1:21). These are the very words that will judge us at the judgment bar of Christ. (Rev. 20:11-15; Jno. 5:28-29; 12:48). The picture is much the same as the laws of the land. One might break every law in the book, and if he never arraigned before the judge he would not suffer the breaking these laws. EACH ONE OF US WILL BE ARRaigned BEFORE THE RIGHTeous JUDGE ONE DAY. (Heb. 9:27)

With in Him. Jno. 8:24; Heb. 11:6; Jno. 3:16. Repentance of sin. Lu. 13:3; Acts 17:30; II Pet. 3:9. Confession of His name. Matt. 10:32-33; Rom. 10:9-10. Baptism into Him. Rom. 6:3-4; Gal. 3:26-27. Faithfulness until death. Rev. 2:10.

If you haven't prepared to meet God by His standard of a never ending eternity in hell. (Rev. 21:8). Then the standard is set, men may scoff at it or mock but it will be there one day of a certainty. ARE YOU READY FOR THAT DAY?

Cotton Measuring

900 acres and farmers planted about 99.8 per cent of this, or nearer to the allotment than in the history of the county. The A. S. C. official said that more than 90 per cent of the cotton is currently standing.

He said that this has been the most difficult year for measuring cotton he has experienced, because of unfavorable weather which delayed planting earlier in the year, and also because of the unusually large number of plowups. There were approximately 575 farmers who had to plow up some cotton, he explained.

Mayor Thanks

Oct. 18 dateline, reads as follows: "We would like to express our thanks to the fine people of Dallas for the many acts of kindness extended as a result of the tragic accident which happened in your great city early last week.

"Especially would we like to thank your fine Police Department for their great work in connection with this accident. Special thanks should go to Patrolmen Boyd and Garrison for their great work at the scene of the accident and to Patrolmen Huddleston and Chaney who came to Memphis for final services for Cynthia. No finer Ambassadors of sympathy could have been selected. We should also like to send special thanks to your fine Medical profession for the fine attention to Barbara and for the magnificent fight they are making, to save Kay.

"This has been a great blow to our community and through it all we have the feeling that you have suffered along with us. We can only hope that out of this terrible tragedy will come a better understanding between our people, a kindred spirit that will spread throughout this great State of ours and make it a more wonderful place in which to live."

Grain Shipments

which is first class, according to McKown. However, much of the early maize has been dark, and the A. S. C. official said he had received word that 7 cents will be discounted from discolored grain, which would leave producers about $1.48 per hundred.

It is estimated that the grain harvest around Turkey is about half complete but elevator men here believe that combining has just started in the Memphis area. Sixty-three cars had been shipped from Turkey and 50 from Memphis. In addition, 75 cars of grain had been shipped from Quitaque, much of this probably having been grown in the southwestern corner of Hall County, west of Turkey.

There have been reports of a shortage of freight cars on the plains but county elevator operators say this situation has not occurred so far, but that it might within the near future.

Prison Rodeo Has Wild Opening

HUNTSVILLE — The 24th annual Prison Rodeo opened recently before an estimated crowd of 17,000 persons with one of the wildest opening day performances in the show's history.

More blood was shed by convict rodeo riders here than by a tiny Mexican bull that rushed a pretty woman bullfighter who featured the opening of this big annual fall event. It was reputed to be Texas' first bloodless bullfight with pet Bette Ford, 24-year-old ex-bathing suit model who turned bullfighter, in the leading role.

Her appearance was witnessed with more restrained curiosity than enthusiasm by the spectators. If the crowd wrongly timed their "ole's" for Miss Ford, their knowledge of Texas-style bronc and bull riding, roping and wild horse racing brought forth brass-throated roars of approval. Miss Ford, however, will be back on the 4th Sunday show, Oct. 23rd, to give fans a chance to redeem themselves.

The 1955 edition of the rodeo opened when 10 chute-crazed Brahma bulls burst onto the arena at the same time. When their flailing hoofs had carried the plunging brutes into mid-arena, riders lay scattered like carelessly-tossed toy dolls.

From that point until spectators had seen riders, square dancing on horseback, saddle bronc riding, wild bull riding, wild horse racing, bareback bronc riding and a chariot race and the show ended more than two hours later, the rodeo moved at a fast clip under the able direction of Albert Moore and his corps of mounted assistants.

gave a brief address praising the Prison Board and its rodeo chairman, H. H. Coffield, for the success of the event which supplies funds for prisoner recreation and rehabilitation.

Rodeo manager Albert Moore has brought in some registered Brahma bulls that will top any bucking ever seen in the Prison Stadium arena. Among the bucking horses are many that have given this rodeo much of its reputation: Nema, Booger, Power House, Reno, Tojo and a number of others all familiar to penitentiary rodeo fans.

The remaining dates of this big show are October 23rd and 30th. Folks wishing seats for any of the performances of this year's series of shows are urged to make reservations early while choice reserved seats are still available. These may be made by sending check or money order by letter or wire to L. W. Wright, Rodeo Ticket Office, Huntsville, Texas.

Continues to Shrink... The Fokker plant in Holland is 7 feet below sea level, as is the airport. I am afraid, however, that neither of these planes will meet the need of the United States for the feeder type plane to make flights of between 100 and 200 miles. If air travel is to become successful without government subsidies, the operation must be economically feasible by providing fares low enough for the people to be able to pay them. Otherwise, government subsidy must be continued or the feeder line service stopped. The type of plane needed in Europe will not meet the needs of the plane needed in the United States. The air traffic in Europe is expanding rapidly. The United States must not relax in this field. Much encouragement was exhibited by our delegates to the National Civil Aviation Organization which was held at the Hague. It might be well to mention that Russia had a number of satellites attending, and participated in the proceedings. The delegates told me that their cooperation was excellent. There are many problems concerning the international aviation problems with which I am not satisfied. I was happy to hear that the ICAO convention was held in a congenial and cooperative atmosphere, because I believe much can be accomplished through that medium.

and cooperative atmosphere, because I believe much can be accomplished through that medium.

The Health Program
The health programs in the several Scandanavian countries and Holland vary in many respects, and I understand that they all differ from the health program in England. However, all are definitely in the field of socialized medicine. Some have certain methods of permitting you to choose your own doctor and the State bearing the expense or a part thereof. Other plans provide for self-selection of family doctors, but not for specialists in hospitals. Hospital expenses are also taken care of by different methods. Most of the plans are highly complicated, but none seem to me to even begin to provide the effectiveness of the doctor-patient relationship that has always existed in the United States.

All of the countries are vitally interested in the polio vaccine program. In fact, Denmark has made great strides in carrying out its program, perhaps the greatest in Europe. It is manufacturing vaccine. Norway is not manufacturing vaccine and has not been able to get its program underway. However, present plans are moving along and the health authorities assured us that they would appreciate all possible cooperation from the United States. Their country has been hard hit for several years.

Some Farm Wives Need SS Cards District Man Says

Many farm wives have been making inquiries as to their need for a Social Security card, says John R. Sanderson, district manager of the Amarillo Social Security Office.

Sanderson went on to add that a wife does not need a card unless she operates a farm separate to that of her husband. The income from a farm is reported as the earnings of the spouse that performs the majority of the work on the farm. It cannot be reported as the earnings of both husband and wife.

These net earnings are reported at the end of the year on the income tax return. It is possible that no income tax will be due because of the number of exemptions allowed but a tax return should be filed and the Social Security, or the Self-Employment Tax paid.

Once this tax has been paid, the account of the spouse is credited with that amount of net earnings. When social security benefits are applied for, the amount of the benefits are based upon the average net earnings that have been reported to a particular account. A wife can be entitled to benefits based on the wage record of her husband. Therefore, there is no need of a wife obtaining a Social Security Number unless she operates a farm separate to that of her husband.

If there is a question about this or any other phase of Social Security, persons may contact Nat Houston, Social Security representative, who will be at the courthouse in Memphis at 1 p.m. Monday.

Cyclone Wins 19-0 Over McLean Tigers

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

The Memphis Cyclone defeated the McLean Tigers 19-0 Friday night in a conference game at Duncan in McLean, which featured good blocking and bruising tackling by the local eleven.

McLean elected to receive after winning the coin toss, and took Bobby Townsend's kick-off back to their 40-yard line. A running attempt failed, and a pass fell incomplete. Then a fumble was recovered by the Cyclone.

Terry Monzingo picked up a nice gain through the line, then End Jimmy Jenkins snagged Quarterback Joe Young's pass for another seven yards. Then Halfback Dean Sustaire drove through the line behind good blocking and galloped 38 yards for the first touchdown. The attempt for the extra point was good.

The second touchdown was tabulated by Memphis during the second quarter, and came about after several line plunges by all backs placing the ball on McLean's two-yard line. From this point Sustaire went over for the counter. The attempt for the extra point failed.

Sustaire broke into the clear later in the game, racing 88 yards to cross the McLean goal line. In the closing seconds of the first half, Paul Garvin of the Tiger team passed to Right End Tracy Cooper, who went approximately 70 yards before being tackled by Bobby Townsend. Time ran out before McLean could take advantage of the run.

Neither team was able to score during the second half. The Tigers took to the air on practically every play in attempt to overcome the score, but gains were ineffective. The Cyclone attack was sporadic, with losses offsetting the gains.

Statistics showed that both teams amassed 10 first downs. Memphis fumbled seven times and their opponents nine. The Tigers attempted 17 passes and completed 7 of them, gaining a total of 83 yards. Ten passes were tossed by the Cyclone, and three connected for a gain of 34 yards.

WTCC Raps Proposed Westex Cotton Cut

ABILENE — Cotton acreage allotments for West Texas cotton farmers in 1956 will be cut 260,000 acres below allotments for 1955, according to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, on the basis of unofficial information on a program under study by the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. The lower Rio Grande Valley counties will be cut about 40,000 acres in 1956 below 1955 acreage.

The program is based upon an estimate of a reduction in the state allotment amounting to 200,000 acres less in 1956 than given to the state in 1955. It is anticipated that all cotton producing states will receive lower quotas in 1956 than those provided in 1955.

The entire 1956 cut will be made in West Texas and Southwest Texas counties plus a further cut of about 100,000 acres in those counties so that East Texas and east Central Texas counties may be given an increase in 1956 of approximately 110,000 acres more than acreage allotments made to those counties in 1955.

This is contrary to the general trend which has prevailed in those counties in East and east Central Texas which have shown a gradual decline in cotton acreage in uncontrolled years and consistently large underplantings of cotton acreage allotments in controlled years.

The last uncontrolled year was 1953. The 1956 program will give one area of 24 counties in East Texas, crop reporting district number 5-N, an allotment which will total two per cent more acres than those counties planted in the last uncontrolled year of 1953. This district would gain eight per cent more acres in 1956 than allotted in 1955.

Other East Texas districts in 1956 will show cuts below 1953 ranging from 22 to 29 per cent. In West Texas counties, the acreage allotments for 1956 will show more severe reductions ranging from 38 to 46 per cent below acreage planted in 1953. One district, number 1-S in the Lubbock area, will show a decrease in 1956 of nearly seven per cent below 1955 allotments.

In 1955, West Texas counties took cuts from 23 to 40 per cent below 1953 acreage, while East Texas counties showed cuts from only five per cent to 34 per cent below 1953.

The program for 1956 amounts to a reversal of previous practices and policies in many respects. Part of the program will provide for additional acreage to small farmers in East Texas who have allotments from 15 to 25 acres in cotton.

WTCC officials point out that an exact parallel in the hardship of the small farmer in East Texas exists in the economic hardship of the West Texas farmer planting 50-100 acres in 60 dry-land West Texas counties because of the greatly lower rainfall and lint production per acre in those counties by comparison with East Texas.

No provision is made in the program for the relief of low production areas in West Texas where average lint production per acre in the past five years has ranged from 30 pounds to 65 pounds per acre in much of the area. Most East Texas counties will consistently show in excess of 200 pounds of lint cotton per acre.

The Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, provides that the State ASC committee may set aside as much as 10 per cent of the acreage allotted for the state for a state reserve from which adjustments may be made for small farms, new farm ship and inequities and adjustments. Trend adjustments adopted in 1949 and have been used consistently in all the years following to produce efficient acreage to each farmer in the state no more than his fair share reduction in cotton acreage. In 1954 and 1955 a special formula was used in Texas was used in making adjustments in which a 60 per cent of the state's 240 cotton-producing counties shared.

No provision has been made in the 1956 program for adjustment. The 1956 program will to East Texas and east Texas counties a certain amount of acreage which counties claim was lost in the 1954 program through use of trend formula that the State ASC Committee. Action by the State ASC committee on the 1956 program probably be concluded in October.

have mushroomed in the areas adjacent to our towns and cities.

"These are some of the basic reasons why the Post Office Department believes a reasonable increase in first-class letter rates — from 3 cents to 4 cents for the first ounce — is well justified. Since the volume of letter mail handled in this country is so large, this moderate increase would yield revenues that would go a long way toward balancing the postal deficit."

Postmaster J. H. Vallance echoed the opinions of Mr. Summerfield and said he would like to know how the people of Memphis feel about it.

"The number of householders in the United States has increased almost two-thirds since letter rates were last changed, and new communities requiring postal service

Improve Cloth's Flame Resisting Qualifications

COLLEGE STATION — Cloth that passes the most stringent laboratory tests for flame resistance is the result of an improved flame-resistant treatment for cotton fabric. The process is a development of workers at the USDA's Southern Regional Research Laboratory, New Orleans, La.

Two other methods of making cotton cloth flame resistant had been developed by the laboratory. One was known as the "THPC" process and the other utilized a bromoformallyl-phosphate (BAP) material. Fabrics treated by either method are flame and glow resistant and useful for many purposes.

When the two treatments were combined and applied to the cloth, the combination proved much more effective than when either was used alone. The resulting product will pass the tough strip-burning test.

One part of BAP emulsion is mixed with two parts of the THPC resin solution and applied in a one-bath treatment. The cloth is impregnated with the mixture, then dried and heat-cured. The process adds about 18 per cent to the weight of the cloth but normal fabric properties are otherwise little changed. The flame-resistant finish is highly durable to both laundering and dry cleaning.

Additional information is available on the process from Southern Utilization Research Branch, 2100 Robt. E. Lee Blvd., New Orleans, 19, La.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Baker and Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Jones and Kathy and Hoot visited in Perryton over the weekend. While they were there they visited in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Pletcher, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Queener and Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Swinney.

There are about 180 miles of pipe aboard the aircraft carrier USS Forrestal. The modern warship will commence activities with naval forces afloat in early 1956.

The several million blueprints used in the construction of the Navy aircraft carrier USS Forrestal would for a pathway 30 inches wide extending for 2,100 miles.

Postal Head Views Proposed Rate Hike

"No businessman would seriously believe it possible for any business to absorb seven major increases in the expenses which account for over 90 per cent of a business's total cost without compensating increases in prices. Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield said recently in commenting on a proposed postal rate increase.

"This is the situation the Post Office Department faces — and since rate increases have not kept pace with costs, this huge business-like enterprise within Government is losing money at the rate of over a million dollars every working day.

Postage rates on first-class letters are the same today — three cents for the first ounce — as they were in 1932. Meanwhile,

Congress has voted wage increases to postal employees on five different occasions since then.

"Two increases in the rates paid the railroad for carrying the mails have also been approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission, in 1951 and 1954.

"These two major costs — wages and transportation — account for over 90 per cent of total Post Office Department costs.

"Not only has the Post Office Department faced these increases in cost without compensating increases in income, but it has been forced to serve an ever-increasing and shifting population.

"The number of householders in the United States has increased almost two-thirds since letter rates were last changed, and new communities requiring postal service

Controls Penalize Dryland Areas

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson Friday proposed that rigid production controls on cotton be continued next year. Under Benson's plan, producers would be required to cut acreage 4 per cent below this year.

Invoking federal marketing quotas, the Secretary set a national planting allotment of 17,391,304 acres, compared with 18,113,208 acres this year. Cotton acreage in 1955 was the smallest in more than 75 years.

As in the past, the proposed slice in acreage next year will become effective only if two-thirds or more cotton producers approve quotas, when a referendum is held, Dec. 13.

If growers do vote for them, it would be the third consecutive year that cotton controls have been effect. But in spite of this, the government currently has more than eight million bales on hand, or nearly a year's supply for domestic needs.

Surpluses have continued to mount, despite controls, for a number of reasons. Among these are a decline in exports, new cotton areas and higher-per-acre cotton production, and a switch from cotton to other materials.

The fact of the matter is that machinery, better farming methods, and improved seed have resulted in fewer farmers producing more than markets could consume. And it seems likely that the productive capacity of growers will continue to expand. If this proves true, then either markets must be found for the commodity or production must be cut still further.

But we don't believe this area with its long history as a cotton country, and other dryland areas like it, should be included in the acreage cuts, because the weather takes good care of that. There are years when we have bumper crops but they are well scattered, which a study of records for this county, will show. We are certain that a look at past production figures will prove beyond doubt that the average yield in Hall County has changed little, if any, and that we cannot be blamed for the glut of cotton.

Almost entirely responsible for the jump in production, in our opinion, are the new cotton-growing areas, such as those on the plains, and in Arizona and California. In these sections many producers have been able to couple irrigation and fertilizer, to increase yields immensely.

So, if there must be acreage cuts, we think those to blame for the surpluses should be the ones to receive them, not farmers who have had little or nothing to do with piling them up. Already, a considerable number of dryland cotton farmers have been driven from the farm, because allotments were too low for them to make anything from cotton, traditionally their money crop. Each additional cut in dryland allotments will mean that still more farmers will be forced to give up and seek other employment.

Penalizing these farmers and their families is, we believe like punishing an innocent person for someone else's wrong doing. If the federal government can't—or won't—realize what it is doing to citizens in dryland cotton areas, then we think these citizens and their neighbors should take steps, through their congressmen, to see that some changes are made.

Good Rules to Follow

By this time the school children over the land are pretty well settled in their seats, have been assigned their lessons, and received instructions from the teacher as to the rules and regulations she expects her pupils to live up to during the school term.

As the term proceeds on its way infractions of the disciplinary measures by some of the students will be no less taken advantage of than they have in any school term. The school will always have with it the student who knows more than the teacher, and doesn't mind, in his vulgar way, to tell the teacher about it. If the student only knew it, his teacher is the best friend he's got. She is striving in the best way she knows to fit him with a foundation to an education that will in the end amply qualify him to match intelligence with the scions of the educated world.

A school poster published in The Journal of the National Education Association contains five resolves which might well be taken by adults as well as children:

1. I will control my tongue and will not allow it to speak mean, vulgar, or profane words. I will think before I speak. I will tell the truth and only the truth.
2. I will control my temper, and will not get angry when people do things that displease me. Even when indignant against wrong and contradicting falsehood, I will keep my self control.
3. I will control my thoughts, and will not allow a foolish wish to spoil a wise purpose.
4. I will control my actions. I will be careful and thrifty and insist on doing right.
5. I will not ridicule or defile the character of another; I will keep my self-respect and help others to keep theirs.

We cannot afford to let our children get ahead of us in any of these five particulars.

Another Surplus Cause

America occupies a place unique in world history — the only nation in history that had to cope with the problem of food surpluses as a major issue.

One aspect of the problem is that farm surpluses are not due entirely to overproduction — declining consumption is equally as important. The ability of the farmer to produce has outstripped the growth of the country's population and per capita consumption of certain foods has dropped sharply.

Latest reports show, for example, that the per person consumption of wheat — in the form of bread and other cereal products — is one-third less than in the late 1920's.

The average American now eats 32 per cent less potatoes than 30 years ago and 50 per cent less butter.

Part of this decline is due to diet consciousness — the fear of getting fat — and this, too, is a peculiar American problem. In most countries, the problem is getting enough to eat — here it is how to avoid eating too much.

While bread and potato consumption is down, the consumption of lettuce, tomatoes and other salad vegetables has risen 20 per cent. The consumption of meat, poultry and eggs has risen, as has the demand for milk.

One of the main criticisms of the farm program of the past 20 years, with its high price supports mand was shifting away from these foods.

Farmers have been producing for the government instead of the market — it is more profitable and a whole lot safer that way.

It would appear that the farm problem is basically economic — but we continue to get a political solution.

Fifteen new body styles, longer by 2.4 inches, include six "hardtop" Catalinas, three of them four-door and three two-door. "Hardtop" models are available in all three series, the Star Chief, 870 and 860.

There is a choice of 57 new colors in "Vogue" two-toning or solid colors. Interiors utilize new fabrics and leather in a wide range of colors.

Pontiac offers three Strato-Streak body series in 1956. Longer by 2.4 inches overall, the 15 new body styles have a longer, sleeker silhouette.

Most luxurious of the three series, the Star Chief line consists of the custom Catalina and two and four-door "hardtops," four-door sedan, and convertible, on a 124-inch wheelbase and the Strato Station Wagon on 122-inch wheelbase.

In Pontiac's middle-priced 870 series with 122-inch wheelbase are the Catalina and two and four-door "hardtops," a four-door sedan, a two-door two-seat station wagon, and four-door three-seat station wagon. Comprising the low priced 860 series are the Catalina coupes and sedans, two and four-door sedans, two-door two-seat station wagons and four-door three-seat station wagons.

Continuing its trend in modern styling, Pontiac introduces a completely new array of exterior finishes.

The wide varieties of interior trim materials on the new models are most colorful and more luxurious than ever offered by Pontiac.

In addition to the new Strato-Flight transmission for the Star Chief series, Pontiac offers an improved Hydra-Matic transmission for the 870 and 860 series and a new Synchronesh transmission, incorporating many refinements and improvements.

Completely new power steering, power brakes and electric window lifts are available as optional equipment.

Front mounted air conditioning system entirely located under the hood which was pioneered by Pontiac in 1954, will be continued with a number of new features in 1956.

There are about 290 miles of electric cable aboard the aircraft carrier USS Forrestal which will assume duty with the naval forces now afloat in early 1956.

1956 Plymouths To Go On Display Friday At Hickey Motor Company

Plymouth's new aerodynamic 1956 cars will have their initial showing here Friday, in the showroom of Hickey Motor Company, Gerald Hickey, owner of the local agency said this week.

Plymouth president John P. Mansfield said the new models incorporate major advances in every phase of automobile design, with special emphasis on engine performance, safety and aerodynamic styling.

Plymouth has a wholly new engine for 1956. It is more powerful Hy-Fire V-8 with a polysphere combustion chamber design, a 277 cubic inch displacement and an 8 to 1 compression ratio.

Other major innovations include:

A push-button drive selector for Plymouth's PowerFlite automatic transmission.

New 90-90 Turbo-Torque PowerFlight on V-8 models. Ninety degree angles at the inlet and outlet blades of the torque converter impeller give faster breakaway performance.

New safety door latches to keep doors closed even under severe impact.

New 12-volt electrical system, new pull-type door handles and a new deck lid latch.

Highway Hi-Fi, a new car phonograph providing an hour of uninterrupted entertainment, and new Search-Tune radio.

Plymouth dealers will continue to offer safety belts, anchored to the frame and available for both front and rear seats, on all models.

All other Plymouth safety features are standard equipment items. They include an independent hand brake, dual cylinder front wipers and new safety beam head-wheel hydraulic brakes, safety rim wheels, electric windshield lights.

Optional power devices, in addition to push button PowerFlite transmission include full-time power steering, improved power brakes, push button power front seat adjustment and push button power window regulators.

Plymouth continues to offer both six cylinder and V-8 engines in its 1956 line.

The new Hy-Fire 277 engine is used in Belvedere and Suburban models. It is also available with a power package consisting of a four-barrel carburetor and dual exhausts, with a resultant increase in power.

For Savoy and Plaza cars, Plymouth also has a more powerful

V-8 engine with a displacement of 270 cubic inches and with many new performance features.

The 1956 Hy-Fire V-8's are by far the most powerful production engines ever put in a Plymouth car. Their "hottest" performance comes when the driver is most apt to need it for safety — when he is passing another vehicle in the mid-speed range on the highway.

In addition to the completely new aerodynamic rear end styling, the 1956 Plymouths have scores of new design details, inside and out.

Inside, the instrument panel is redesigned for greater convenience and new beauty. The new push button PowerFlight drive selector is on the left of the steering post where it is out of reach of front seat passengers who might otherwise accidentally change the driving range while the car is in motion. Push buttons are illuminated for night driving.

The ammeter and oil pressure gauge have been replaced by red flasher lights between the gasoline and water temperature gauges directly in front of the driver. The lights flash their warning for instant driver attention, thus eliminating the possibility of oversight or improper interpretation.

NEW PLYMOUTH 4 DOOR HARDTOP — Belvedere four-door hardtop is an entirely new model introduced by Plymouth in its 1956 line of cars. Aerodynamic styling, push button driving and powerful new Hy-Fire engine are among outstanding features. Safety door latches and other safety items are standard equipment.

Dairymen Urged To Get Ready For Wintertime

COLLEGE STATION — Get set for winter dairymen advised Extension Dairyman R. E. Bursleson. Don't wait, he adds until the first cold snap hits to winterize the facilities needed to make the cow herd comfortable during the winter months ahead. Nature's children are busy putting up the food they'll need and also looking after their winter housing requirements.

The dairymen who plans ahead will be the one not scratching and scrambling to get things in shape when winter hits and can expect his herd to maintain production at a high level, says Bursleson.

Give the cow herd ample shelter to protect them from the elements; be sure adequate feeding and hay rack space is available and give the lots a good cleaning. Fill in holes which may later become mud puddles and remember, points out Bursleson, that well drained lots and sheds add to cow comfort and this in turn can mean more production.

The squirrels have laid in their food supplies. Is your roughage supply of hay, silage and fall and winter pastures adequate? Plenty of roughage is essential even when grains and protein supplements are abundant, says Bursleson. Dairy rations built around plenty of roughage properly supplemented with a good grain mixture are the most economical and provide the bulk needed for proper digestion and increased efficiency.

Bursleson believes some dairymen are losing production now because they are not including sufficient protein in grain rations. For top production, he says, the protein level must be in balance with the quality of the roughage and pasture being used.

The months ahead offer a special challenge to dairymen, especially to their managerial ability. If the dairy herd gets the attention it deserves, right now is the time to get the dairy herd into shape for the winter season.

The Amazon River is 3,900 miles long.

BACK FROM SCHOOL MEET

Miss Mary Foreman returned Friday from San Diego, Calif., where she attended the National Conference for County and Rural Superintendents, Oct. 9-12. Miss Foreman, who is Hall County school superintendent, left Memphis Oct. 6. Among topics discussed at the San Diego sessions were leadership and services for today's schools, and the role of the state, the intermediate unit and the local district in public education.

A. Baldwin and Mrs. T. L. Rouse returned home Sunday after visiting for the past three weeks in Dallas, Tyler and Kilgore. In Dallas they visited with Dr. and Mrs. Alvin Baldwin; in Tyler with Dr. and Mrs. Russell E. Baldwin and in Kilgore with Mrs. J. O. Haynes.

Mr. and Mrs. Les Pruitt of Amarillo visited here Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Claude Hickey and other friends. The Pruitts are former residents of Memphis.

Raising Pullets In Confinement Has Advantages

COLLEGE STATION — Raising the pullet flock in confinement has several distinct advantages over the more common practice of growing them on range. According to Ben Wormell, extension poultry husbandman, the greatest benefit from raising pullets under a roof should come during the summer months when they need protection from the sun and severe local storms... wind, rain, and sometimes hail, which often causes trouble in pullet flocks on range.

Other advantages cited by Wormell include the great saving of space. About three acres of land are needed to range raise 1,000 pullets while the same number can be handled in a 20 by 100 feet shelter house.

Feed losses on the range due to wind, rain and that eaten by other animals and birds is often heavy. Poultrymen who raise their pullets in confinement say this loss is practically eliminated.

Reduced losses from diseases and predatory animals can be expected, says the specialist when the growing birds are confined. But the top saving comes in labor. The feed room is part of the building and makes the feeding job easier than range feeding. Feed troughs are scattered over a wide area. Even greater savings of time and labor can be had by using mechanical feeders.

Too, mechanical waterers used in the house to provide continuous supply of clean water which is a must for the production of all poultry.

Concluding, Wormell pointed out that the only disadvantage to the confinement method is the higher initial cost for shelters as compared with cost for range land. This, however, is largely controlled, he adds, by using mechanical feeders and waterers. The cost of housing offset the cost of confinement rearing should be met by the poultryman when he follows in growing his flock.
