CHILLY WORK—With their lakes frozen solid at America's First Boys' Ranch, Amarillo, Texas, during the recent cold weather, the boys have had to go out each morning and cut holes in the ice so their cows could drink. Since a fire destroyed their barn recently the boys have had to do all their milking and taking care of the stock in the open.

Another youth, Eugene Pearl, who was riding double with him, also was killed. Eugene was the 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Pearl of Sonora.

Services for Noel Wayne have been set tentatively for Saturday morning in the Spicer Funeral Chapel, Rev. J. S. Tipton, pastor of the Hedley Baptist Church, will officiate. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery, under direction of Spicer Funeral Home.

SEVEREST WEATHER OF SEASON STRIKES AREA WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Trip to Trap Big Surprise

Sometimes it looks like you just can't win.

That's probably how Bill Williams, Estelline Church of Christ minister, feels this week.

Mr. Williams, who likes to trap, formerly lived in Arkansas. There, it was commonplace to catch foxes.

He came to Estelline recently. Knowing this was a coyote country, and never having caught one, he decided to try his luck.

Monday night, he went to the Lawrence Price farm, 5 miles northwest of Estelline, to see if he had snagged anything in his traps.

And what did he find? Not the coyote that by rights should have been there, but a strictly out-of-habitat grey fox.

Temperatures Dip Near Zero; Ice, Snow Make Roads Slick

Severest weather of the season struck the Memphis area and the entire Panhandle-Plains region Wednesday night, on the heels of a hard-driving cold front. Temperatures dipped toward zero, and their effect was intensified by strong northerly winds. Biggest snow of the season swept across the region, making numerous highways around Amarillo and in the northern section of the Panhandle extremely hazardous, if not impassable at times, and forcing a large number of schools to recess classes.

Mrs. Lester's Brother Dies At Amarillo

Funeral services for Bert L. Clark, brother of Mrs. Inez Lester of Memphis, were held Wednesday afternoon of last week in Griggs Pioneer Chapel at Amarillo. Rev. Henry Eason, pastor of Industrial Baptist Church in Amarillo, officiated.

Burial was in Llano Cemetery, Amarillo, with N. S. Griggs & Sons Funeral Home in charge.

Mr. Clark, who lived in Amarillo, died Tuesday morning of last week in an ambulance, while en route to a hospital, after suffering from a heart ailment.

Lowest mercury reading here Thursday morning was 13 degrees, according to John McMickin, weather observer. He estimated that about four inches of snow had fallen by daylight this morning, but stated that it was more in the form of grains and contained only a minimum amount of moisture.

No traffic accidents had been reported this morning in and around Memphis, nor had there been any reports of anyone being injured as a result of icy streets, sidewalks and porches.

The strong winds were causing the snow to drift considerably especially in low places and protected spots, and along fence-rows. The wind-driven snow also reduced visibility, sometimes making driving hazardous.

Memphis motorists were having a hard time of it.

Wheat Measuring To Begin Monday

Measuring of wheat land in Hall County will begin Monday, Lynn McKown, manager of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office here, said this week. The county has a wheat allotment total of 16,585 acres on 381 farms, according to McKown. He estimated that 13,000 to 14,000 acres had actually been sown to the grain. Last year, 11,848 acres were planted in wheat.

Wheat land will be measured and if there is an excess, the resulting plowup also will be measured one time, without charge. However, if additional trips have to be made before in-

Water Confirmation Election Approved At Childress Meet

Representatives from Memphis joined with those from six other area towns at a meeting in Childress last Thursday night in unanimously agreeing on an election to confirm the Greenbelt Municipal and Industrial Water Authority.

Before such an election can be held, each of the seven cities will have to petition the State Board of Water Engineers at Austin to call it. If the state agency sets an election, it will be held simultaneously in the seven communities, probably within the next 90 days.

Longtime Jeweler, R. H. Wherry, Dies

Robert H. Wherry, longtime jeweler and variety store owner in Memphis, died Wednesday morning at his home, 914 Cleveland. He had been in failing health for some time. He was 75 years old.

Funeral services were conducted this afternoon (Thursday) at 3:30 o'clock in the First Baptist Church, of which he had been a member since 1912. Rev. Fern A. Miller, pastor, officiated.

Burial was in Fairview Cemetery, with Spicer Funeral Home in charge.

Born at Rock Hill, S. C., April 8, 1875, Mr. Wherry continued to live in that state until coming to Houston County, Tex., in 1899. While living in the East Texas county, he operated a store at Raynard for some time.

From Houston County, he moved westward to Vernon, where he was associated in the jewelry business for some four years with E. M. Leutwyler.

In 1908, he returned to Houston County long enough to be married to Miss Addie Pennington, at Grapeland.

The couple came to Memphis in 1912 and has lived here ever since.

Mr. Wherry and Mr. Leutwyler were partners in a jewelry store here until the former bought the latter's interest about two years after arriving here. Mr. Wherry continued his business activities until the past December.

Mr. Wherry was a member of the Garrett Memorial Bible Class of the First Baptist Church, of which W. T. Hightower is teacher.

Funeral services were held here at 3:30 p. m. The caravan will break up and members return home as they wish.

As the Highway 287 boosters progress from Longmont to Port Arthur, they expect to add to the caravan.

The schedule calls for the caravan to jump off from Longmont, Colo., at 8 o'clock Monday morning, Feb. 20. The group will spend their first night at Dumas. Leaving Dumas at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning, they will pause here at noon for lunch, then travel on to Wichita Falls, where they will spend the night.

The Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce highway committee has planned a special program that night, which all county judges

The Authority was created by an act of the Texas Legislature in the spring of 1954.

A vote to confirm it would not entail any financial responsibility. Before financing of a proposed dam on the upper Salt Fork of Red River could be undertaken, or water rates set or taxes levied, citizens of the interested cities would have to approve the moves in further elections. Such elections cannot be held, however, until the Authority is confirmed.

At the Childress session last week, it was explained that towns that do not confirm the Authority would be dropped but could buy water from the Authority later, if it should be formed and the dam built.

It was pointed out that if enough communities do not favor confirmation of the Authority, it likely will be abandoned and water rights opened to other towns farther down the river.

Announcement was made at the meeting that the Fort Worth & Denver Railway Company will permit pipelines to run along their right-of-way, where necessary.

According to present plans, a dam would be constructed on Salt Fork near Hedley. Water would be used for municipal and industrial purposes, as well as for irrigation. The lake itself would be a recreation spot.

Attending the Childress session from here were: Mayor O. L. Helm; Councilman L. W. Stanford; Clifford Farmer, manager of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce and Hall County Board of Development; and Herschel Combs, co-publisher of The Democrat.

Other towns represented were Hedley, Clarendon, Wellington, Childress, Paducah and Quannah.

Report From Washington

By Walter Rogers
Congressman, 18th District

Foreign Policy

There has probably been more lip service paid to bipartisan foreign policy in this country and less done about it than in any country in any civilization in the history of the world. The present hullabaloo about the ill-advised, inappropriate and highly uncalled for statements by Secretary of State Dulles have triggered a general foreign policy debate in every section of this country. The obvious political overtones of the Secretary's interview with a national picture magazine are further evidenced by the great amount of self-praise that he heaped upon himself. Since the reaction to these statements has rebounded like a thunder cloud, the Secretary immediately began to call for a bipartisan foreign policy. Most Secretaries of State consider a bipartisan policy one that they have molded and one that the members of the other party should not criticize. Of course, if the wheels of democracy are going to operate as intended by our forefathers, there could be no such bipartisan policy as so defined. Open debate is one of the cornerstones of our democracy and when the right to criticize is abolished the democratic form of government will be out of balance. The question about the "brink of war" statement is not whether or not this country was at the "brink of war," but whether or not a Secretary of State should be granting exclusive interviews to favored organs concerning matters of tremendous importance to all of the people, without first advising the duly elected officials of these people that he claims to have carried to the "brink of war" and then pulled them back from the edge of the chasm. The best thing to be done is for Mr. Dulles to openly admit that he has been highly pleased with his own operations but probably shouldn't have bragged about them so much in his exclusive interview. This would point the matter up and end it for the time being so that the people in this country could get business and try to prevent any further trips to the edge of the precipice.

Federal Aid to Education

The proponents of federal aid to education have made great headway in the last few years. They have kept up a constant pressure on several fronts. One of these has been for the expansion of school construction funds. This is the avenue in which the greatest progress has been made. Little progress has been made in the plans for federal aid for the payment of administrative expenses. But there is still a tremendous pressure for such action. The present bill that is before the Rules Committee, and will probably be before the House of Representatives by the time you receive this letter, calls for an expenditure of

BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA

OFFICIAL BOY SCOUT WEEK POSTER

More than 4,100,000 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Explorers, and adult leaders throughout the nation will observe Boy Scout Week, February 6 to 12, marking the 46th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America.

Since 1910, Scouting has served over 24,500,000 boys and adult leaders.

The new Four-Year Program, "Onward for God and My Country," is launched in 1956 to help prepare America's boys to live in today's world and to prepare them to carry their full share in the years ahead.

Boy Scout Week observances will feature rededication ceremonies to be conducted by each of the nation's 104,000 units at their meeting places on February 8, the actual birthday of Scouting in America. Demonstrations and exhibits will dramatize the purposes of the Boy Scouts of America and its rich heritage.

1.6 billion dollars. Mr. Eisenhower has supported this type of legislation although his request is somewhat different from the bill that is pending. He wants to spend $250 million a year for 5 years or a total of 1 billion, 250 million. The present bill that is before the Congress calls for the expenditure of 400 million dollars for 4 years or a total of 1.6 billion. You can see that the argument is not for or against federal aid but is simply a question of how much. There is no question that if there is to be federal aid for education the bill that is before the Congress would be better to carry out the announced desires of the President to provide class rooms and provide them immediately. It might be pointed out that if the people of this country were allowed to retain in each state the amount of money that is spent for foreign aid, there wouldn't be any shortage of class rooms or necessary money to administer school programs.

More About the Soviet Union

The town of Odessa is located in the south part of Russia proper and is the main Black Sea Port. It is in all respects an excellent seaport and can accommodate many seagoing vessels both surface and underwater craft. The difficulty that Russia has always had has been her limited access to the Mediterranean through the Dardanelles and not in the lack of seaport facilities within the Black Sea. Rising from the seaport are the famous steppes on which 2,000 were killed in the 1905 revolution. It was this mass slaughter of the revolutionists that broke the back of this uprising and held this movement in check for the following 12 years.

The city has a population of approximately one and one-half million. Since Odessa is a city of one and one-half million people, I was greatly surprised when our airplane landed on a sod field. I asked why they did not have a concrete runway and was told that a new airport was under construction just a few miles from where we landed. However, when we departed Russia, several of us scanned the countryside but were unable to locate anything that looked like an airport under construction. Perhaps they had it well camouflaged.

It was here that we were allowed to go into a People's Court. We asked a number of times to be allowed to see some criminal cases being tried but were always told that there was no court in session either civil or criminal. We MORE... pickup "finally locate finally located a court in Odessa and then insisted that we be taken there. It was being conducted in very small quarters and appeared to be similar to police courts in this country. There was a high bench behind which were seated three people. In the center was the law judge who was president of the court. He was dressed in a blue serge suit, a dark blue shirt and a tie almost the same color. He appeared to be a man about 50 years old. On his left was a woman who dressed in a dark blue military style ladies suit. She appeared to be about 40 years old (I am not too good at guessing women's ages and I understand it is a very dangerous pastime anyway). On the right of the law judge was a man who appeared to be in his thirties, slight of build and dressed in a tweed looking shirt and the collar was turned back over his coat collar. These two, the woman and the younger man, were told were magistrates and not lawyers. When we came into the courtroom the judge had retired to an ante-room to write a decision. Suddenly there was a ringing of a bell, a side door opened and the court marched in and stepped up on the bench which was just inside the door. Down in front of the bench were two very small desks. One of these was occupied by a man who appeared to be in his sixties. We were told that he was the government lawyer who represented the government's interest. The other desk was unoccupied but was available for a lawyer representing a party to a suit, or it could be occupied by the party himself if he did not wish a lawyer. This area was blocked off from the spectators by a bar or fence similar to the bars in our court rooms. The law member of the court proceeded to read the decision. One of the interpreters was seated by me and was whispering the decision in English as the judge read it in Russian. The suit concerned a claim of a Russian electrician who had been sent to another city for some special work by the corporation that he had been working for. The work was to be done for another corporation. It seems that the original corporation refused to pay the worker's rent while he was in the distant village and the corporation for which he was doing the work refused to pay. The worker had to pay it out of his own pocket and was suing to recover his rent money, some 900 rubles. It was very obvious that the worker was going to prevail, the only question being, which corporation would have to pay the bill. I asked the interpreter, "If the government owns the corporation, what difference does it make who has to pay the bill?" The interpreter explained that it was a question of economics with the corporation because they had to meet their norms in so far as their own production was concerned and that this amount of money would be charged as an expense against the one who had to pay the rent, or so we were told. The reading of the decision having been finished, one law member of the court made an announcement in Russian whereupon there was a loud voice in the back of the courtroom and a young man came forward in before the court to confer at length with the law member. The interpreter told me that he had a case the one that had just decided and was so pleased with the decision that he wanted to try it forthwith. As we court room the court was in the trial of the case of the worker against the

TO BUYERS OF

Hospital Insurance

From our experience in handling claims, we have learned that a number of companies writing hospital insurance in this area are not giving the coverage they represent their policies to give... or they are not paying claims in a satisfactory manner.

This is especially true of some companies selling policies to people beyond age 65... and so-called non-cancelable policies. Some claim to have the written approval of your doctors and hospitals.

We feel this condition is serious enough to warn you not to buy any hospital insurance, whether reportedly approved by your doctor or not, until you have consulted with your hospital... the people who turn in the claims and know what the results are.

Share-Croppers Self-Employed For SS Purposes

"Share-croppers in the Texas Panhandle will be interested in knowing that they are generally considered self-employed for social security purposes," says John R. Sanderson, district manager of the Amarillo Social Security Administration office. "This means share-croppers are building toward protection for themselves in their old age and protection for their families in case of their death. To qualify for this valuable family protection, they must have net earnings of at least $400 from their farming operations in a year."

Sanderson pointed out that share-croppers, like all farm operators, will report their earnings for social security purposes for the year 1955 by filing an income tax return with a farm schedule. Share-croppers must file these tax returns with the District Director of Internal Revenue of Dallas, early in 1956, in order to receive social security credits for their farming operations, even though they do not owe any income tax.

Under a recent interpretation issued by the Internal Revenue Service and the Social Security Administration, share-croppers in this area would be considered as self-employed. The landowner participating in the usual share-crop arrangement would be considered as receiving income from rent and would not have to report his income from his share of the crop for social security purposes, nor would he receive and social security credit, Sanderson continued.

For tax return forms and other information relating to the filing of returns and tax obligations, contact the Internal Revenue Office at Amarillo. For information concerning your right to social security payments, contact your social security office at Amarillo.

Housekeeper Exams Announced by VA

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced examinations for executive housekeeper, $3,870 to $5,915 a year, for duty in Veterans Administration Hospitals throughout the United States and in Puerto Rico; for Social Worker (General Welfare), $4,525 to $7,570 a year, for duty in the Bureau of Indian Affairs in the western states and in Alaska; and for Student Trainee (Engineering), $2,960 to $3,415 a year, for duty with the Bureau of Reclamation in the western states and in Alaska.

No written tests are required for executive housekeeper and Social Worker but applicants must have had appropriate experience or a combination of education and experience.

Further information and application forms may be obtained from H. C. Pounds, located at the Post Office in Memphis, or from the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C.

Winter Requires New Set Driving Habits for Safety

"Winter requires a new set of driving habits to keep from skidding into traffic accidents," E. C. McFadden of Dallas, president of the Texas Safety Association, said in a discussion of winter driving hazards sponsored by the Texas Safety Association, Department of Public Safety and the National Safety Council.

Outlining the effects of sudden temperature changes on snowy or icy roads, early darkness, slippery roads and other bad weather conditions on driving, McFadden said the proper techniques for winter driving were derived from tests conducted by the National Safety Council Committee on Winter Driving Hazards for the past 16 winters.

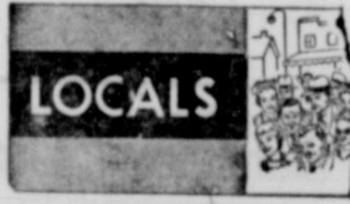

In these tests he said, it has been found that braking distances can be reduced considerably by pumping brakes so they are alternately applied and then completely released. This technique also helps retain steering control, he said, and is especially effective on glare ice and on hard packed snow.

Describing the proper technique for getting a car started on snow or ice, McFadden advised starting in second or high gear, thus permitting smoother acceleration which may get the car started without futile wheel spinning. Tests show, however, that tire chains provide much needed traction to start and stop on hard packed snow or ice.

"Winter driving is difficult and exceedingly dangerous for even the best of drivers," McFadden said. "That is why it is important for motorists to realize that they can't go lickety-split into winter weather with the same set of driving habits and equipment which they used during the summer and fall months."

"Drivers must learn how to cope with glare ice, snow, rain, freezing temperatures, and this requires the 'know-how' of winter driving."

McFadden called attention to the motto which every winter driver should heed: "Want to Survive? Winterize Your Drive."

Texas Business Activity in 1955 Sets New Record

AUSTIN — Business activity in Texas established an all-time record in 1955, increasing 10 per cent over 1954 and exceeding somewhat the increase registered for business in the remainder of the U. S., the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

"The strongest major segment in the Texas economy during 1955 was industrial activity," Dr. John R. Stockton, Bureau director, points out. "If 1956 continues the trends that developed during 1955, it is to be expected that industrial activity will supply the strongest force, tending to sustain the level of Texas business activity."

Rapid growth of the U. S. population is an important factor in inducing business concerns to plan for more capacity, the Bureau points out.

"Even with no increase in the standard of living, the growing population would require an ever-increasing volume of goods," Dr. Stockton notes. "And there is no indication that the standard of living will not continue to rise, thereby giving an additional impetus to the demand for all kinds of products."

However, prospects for farm income in 1956 do not appear much brighter than in 1955, which registered a decline of 10 per cent from 1954. Prices received by farmers have been declining almost without interruption since 1951, and most official estimates look for a continuation of that trend, the Bureau says.

Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Porter and sons visited in Vernon over the weekend with his parents, Rev. and Mrs. R. L. Porter. Mrs. Porter has been ill for the past week but is now improved.

Park Service Staffing Western Construction Office

The National Park Service is now staffing a Western Design and Construction Office to undertake a program of construction and improvements in national parks and monuments to serve the additional millions of expected visitors in the next ten years. The office is located in San Francisco and will be planning headquarters for improvements in seventeen states west of the Mississippi as well as Alaska and Hawaii.

Recruiting is going on for approximately 50 landscape archiects, $4,525 to $5,440 civil engineers, $4,345 a year, and architects, $7,570 a year. Applications now being accepted at National Park Service office, Geary St., San Francisco. Points will be made in accordance with civil service regulations.

Application forms may be obtained from the office Regional Director, Eight Civil Service Region, Room 1114 Commerce Street, Tex., or from H. C. Pounds, District Service Representative, Memphis Post Office. Post not having a Civil Service representative will have a list of the nearest location where application forms may be obtained.

Former Memphis Girl May Hold Unique Distinction in Music Circles

A former Memphis girl apparently is a "lady of distinction" in musical circles of the United States. She is Jeanne Way, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Way, who live at Birmingham, Ala., but once resided here.

According to an article in a Birmingham newspaper, Miss Way is one of only three women to possess the title, "tromboness" in a symphony orchestra in this country, as far as can be determined. She holds the position in the Birmingham Civic Symphony.

She first became interested in the trombone as a seventh grade student, when someone was needed to play such an instrument in the school band. A friend of the family had one, she tried it, liked it, and presto, she was in the band. (It may have been the local school band, because she was a student here for several years.)

Miss Way attended North Texas State College at Denton and for three years studied trombone with Roger Smith, who played with the Metropolitan Orchestra and teaches at Juilliard School of Music in New York City.

Last year, she taught elementary school music, among other subjects, at Plainville. In addition, she commuted to Amarillo, to play in that city's symphonic orchestra.

Recently, she became a resident of Birmingham. She dreams of some day making music a full-time career.

While the family was living here, Way was vice-president of the First State Bank for several years. Miss Way's brother, Tom, recently received his master's degree from North Texas State and will teach English at Texas Tech in the second semester just starting.

Both Miss Way and her brother attended Memphis High School.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Hoffman and family of Lubbock visited here over the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. May and Mr. and Mrs. Felix Jarrell.

THE LAW
in Texas
Year's Tax Record
no time like the present to get your tax record straight in your mind, to determine that will aid you in your year's income tax calculation. That is to maintain your income and outgo record can be simple and it may save you tax money.
Average man who works for his salary doesn't have to himself with keeping records — at least so he. His employer keeps a record of his earnings and looks primarily to the tax for information on his wages and for the withholding taxes out of his wages, whether or not you run a business of your own, you have to know each year is claimable interest in your income. And the law requires that you keep books for what he ever asks for an audit.
If you own your own business you are buying it by installing it like that house. When you'll want to be able to sell it, you'll want to be able to show Uncle Sam why you had no capital loss or that you had a loss. Perhaps you received that summer cottage on the lake from your father. If you tried to sell it, you'll want to show Uncle Sam why the cost of improvements made while you owned it, was what its fair market value at the time Dad gave you. It may be that you are receiving an annuity on an insurance policy. If so, do you know how much that policy costs and how much of that cost you have recovered tax-free to date?
There are many kinds of transactions you enter into that may some day affect computation of your personal income tax. The best proof of the cost of anything you've purchased is a receipted bill or cancelled check. If one of these pieces in evidence relates to any transaction that may affect your income in later years, it's a good idea to keep it. Your "partner" may some day ask to see it.
(This column, based on Federal law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts because the facts may change the application of the law.)

Wright Armstrong, Fort Worth railroad executive, will be the principal speaker at the 36th annual banquet of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce and Hall County Board of Development to be held Friday night, March 2. The announcement was made Tuesday by Clifford Farmer, manager of the civic organization.

The dinner will be held in the William B. Travis cafeteria, commencing at 7:30 o'clock.

Armstrong is vice-president of the Fort Worth & Denver Railway Company and is a past president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

New officers and four new directors will be installed at the annual dinner.

Dwight Kinard will take office as president, succeeding Mills Roberts. Eddie Foxhall will become vice-president, and Homer Tucker, secretary.

The new directors are Tucker, M. C. Allen, Herschel Combs and J. W. Coppedge.

Further information on the banquet program will be published later.

Misunderstanding About Cafe Hours

Apparently through a misunderstanding of an advertisement which appeared in The Democrat last week, some persons received the wrong impression concerning the operating hours of the Lucky "7" Cafe, which Mrs. Jimmie Wheeler is now operating.

According to Mrs. Wheeler, the cafe is open from 5 a. m. to 11:30 p. m. Monday through Friday, and on Sunday, Saturday, the cafe opens at 5 a. m., but does not close until 2 a. m. Sunday.

The restaurant, formerly known as Banta's Cafe, is located on Highway 287 just south of Noel Street.

Youths Cop Honors At Amarillo Show

Hall County youngsters amassed a sizeable number of honors at the Amarillo Fat Stock Show in Amarillo last week, according to County Agent W. B. Hooser.

Improvement of resident and business areas in the town, and improvement of conditions in the agricultural field.

While not on the level, the snow of last night certainly will prove a blessing to the Panhandle area. Where fields had stalks still standing, and where otherwise the fields had been listed, it held the snow which will help to alleviate the drouthy condition somewhat.

The first Tuesday after the first Monday in November is the date set a long time ago for the general political election. The State Legislature passed nine proposed constitutional amendments at the last session, setting eight of them for general election day and one for the second Tuesday—one week later. This blunder will cost the taxpayers several hundred thousand dollars to hold the second election when it could have been done at one time. This is just one of the many ways that gross carelessness in governmental affairs is reflected in more flattening of the "dear people's" purses.

A competitor is not the man in business next door. He is the man in Amarillo, Childress, Wichita Falls, etc.

Customers are not only the people who are not in business, but the business men themselves have to buy some things from other business men. Towns like Memphis and other towns are wondering what to do to improve conditions in their areas, believing the general run of people are not aware of the fast encroachment by big city merchandising methods to lure folks from near and far to do their trading in the big marts. Surveys of many Memphis-size towns reveal that it is not only some customers who go to other towns than their own to do their buying, but that some business men (which terms include retailers, institutions and professional men) patronize the other towns rather than their own when needing supplies.

When a merchant gives trade stamps, does his customer then have to go to Amarillo or some other city to get the stamps redeemed in merchandise handled by the big city merchant? Then, when he goes to the city to get his stamps redeemed, does he then buy anything else while there?

We learn that Tullia abandoned the trade stamp plan a year or so ago, and that the merchants there have found an improvement in business. May we suggest to the chamber of commerce retailers committee that it might be well to study merchandising methods of other towns, then pass the findings on to local merchants.

The time is right for the Memphis Improvement & Beautification Association, organized last summer, to perfect the organization and put its members to work.

Among the cafes, new, exchanged or re-opened in Memphis lately are: Bill & Al Dunn's new cafe across from the Burleson and Bruce Bros. filling stations; Cummings Cafe north of town, re-opened since refinishing following a fire; The Banta Cafe, in the Baxter Imp. Co. building, which was recently sold by Mrs. McClure to Mrs. Jimmie Wheeler. Besides the three above mentioned, there are several other good places to eat in Memphis.

Memphis merchants, while wondering about the future of the town and their own businesses, believe business to be on a par, or a little better than on the average at this time of year. In order to continue in business, merchants must receive a fair price for their merchandise, and their prices are in keeping with the general run of towns in the Memphis class. They, like all citizens, want to see Memphis progress, not go backward, and therefore are concerned to the point that they are anxious to find the solution to keeping the town on the upward trend.

Wiley Kiffin Rites Conducted at Turkey

Funeral rites for Wiley Kiffin, who had been a resident of Turkey for 41 years, were conducted Sunday afternoon in the First Methodist Church at Turkey. Rev. John A. Rakestraw, pastor, officiated.

Burial was in Dreamland Cemetery at Turkey, under direction of Eudy-Seale Funeral Home.

Mr. Kiffin, a retired farmer, died Friday in a hospital at Wichita Falls. He was 80 years old. A sister, Mrs. Melinda Bashford of Turkey, survives.

Aristotle (322 B. C.) and Pliny the elder (77 A. D.) mention de-termined attempts to build submersible craft.

Sentences Passed In District Court

Sentences were rendered in three district court cases here this week, according to Sheriff W. P. Baten.

In one, Essie Dorothy Joiner, charged with murder without malice, in connection with the death of her husband, James H. Joiner, received a two-year penitentiary term. She gave verbal notice of her intention to appeal the verdict.

The jury in the trial of Clifton P. Melton, charged with driving while intoxicated, second offense, failed to reach a decision.

G. D. Lowe, who was charged with driving while intoxicated, second offense, pleaded guilty before District Judge Luther Gribble of Wellington, and was given a two-year suspended sentence.

The Hall County grand jury will meet here Monday and petit jurors will report for duty in district court Tuesday, Baten said.

Season's Severest - (Continued From Page One)

to be particularly careful, because of snow which had been packed on streets by traffic until it was ice-rink slick. Some drivers also were encountering trouble backing out of parking places in the business district, due to a combination of ice and curb-deep snow. Other difficulty occurred from drifted driveways and motors that refused to start.

Schools were closed in Memphis today, and the Estelline and Lakeview schools also were closed, according to radio reports.

Law enforcement officers said highways were dangerous and were urging people not to travel, unless absolutely necessary. They were cautioning those who did take to the highways, to be extremely careful. Highway 287 northwest of Memphis to Hedley was reported to be especially hazardous, with some trucks calling it the worst stretch they had encountered, the result of bad drifting.

Telephone and electric service in Memphis and the surrounding territory was reported to be normal. H. E. Craig, district manager for General Telephone Company, said operators were swamped with calls this morning, as students phoned to learn whether there would be school, patrons made calls to ascertain if relatives and friends were all right, or performed tasks by telephone which they likely would have done personally, in better weather.

Trains and busses were operating on or near schedule, and delays that were occurring, being of a minor nature, spokesmen said.

Thursday night was expected to be even colder, although snow was slated to end sometime this afternoon, according to the forecast this morning from the weather bureau at Amarillo. A low of 4 degrees below zero was predicted for Amarillo tonight. Winds were supposed to abate during the night.

Mercury readings here the past week, as recorded by McMickin, were as follows: Last Thursday 26-69 degrees; Friday 32-81; Saturday 43-68; Sunday 33-38; Monday 17-34; Tuesday 18-39; and Wednesday 21-23.

Although the first official Navy uniform was adopted by the Continental Congress in 1776, it was not commonly worn, as few officers could afford a complete outfit.

Draft Boards Report 65,569 Register in Texas

AUSTIN — A total of 65,569 Texans registered at local draft boards in the state during 1955, practically all of whom were 18-year-olds.

This compares with a total of 63,852, in 1954, 66,546 in 1953, 69,023 in 1952, and 59,098 in 1951.

Federal law requires men to register on their 18th birthday, or within five days thereafter, Lt. Col. Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, pointed out.

Under present regulations and policies, no one is drafted under age 21 in Texas except volunteers or delinquents. But the law obligates males to register at 18. Since the present law was enacted in 1948, all males born since Aug. 20, 1922, have had and now have legal obligation to register, except those not yet 18.

A man who fails to register as required, upon prosecution and conviction, is subject to a fine up to $10,000, or five years in prison, or both.

"Altering of registration certificates, or the carrying of registration certificates by unauthorized persons is subject to the same punishment," Colonel Schwartz said.

Cases have come to light in the past where boys under 18 have had draft registration certificates in their possession so they can buy beer at public taverns.

The maintenance of a standing corps of volunteer nurses ready to help local doctors and nurses cope with emergencies is one of the important jobs of the Red Cross. A total of 650 assignments of Red Cross nurses to major disaster duty were made this year.

Around and About

Mrs. Ace Galey, who is serving as president of the Memphis Extension Association, has worked diligently the past few days setting the machinery in motion toward compiling a complete list of Memphis High School graduates. Although several ex-student banquets have been held here the past few years, the organization does not have a complete mailing list. This year, the organization is making an intensive effort to secure as many names and mailing addresses of ex-students as possible.

George Sexauer has acquired the reputation of being the "youthful" guest since establishing residence at the Kozy Cottage Korts, Riviera Beach, Fla., according to his daughter-in-law, Mary Helen. Mr. Sexauer, who has been a Florida visitor for several winters, has numerous friends from other states, especially from the North, who meet him there each year. . . this year he is the youngest guest at the Korts.

Another Memphis couple, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Greene, departed Monday for the sunny, warm state of Florida. Mr. and Mrs. Greene, too, have spent many winters vacationing in Florida. This year they plan to be gone for several weeks. . . Mr. Greene, who is a proficient golfer, is looking forward to some rounds of golf.

A. Baldwin, who always has a kind word and a sunny smile for his many friends, spent his 84th birthday Sunday in a Dallas hospital, where he is receiving medical treatment. . . but this was no handicap to Mr. Baldwin. He still celebrated his birthday complete with birthday cake and all the trimmings.

Although Christmas is in the past, perhaps many are still enjoying and appreciating some special gift which was received. . . but not many of us were as fortunate as Pearl Hague, who received for Christmas her first producing oil well. . . the well is located near Big Spring in Howard County. And there's other good news as conditions indicate there will be more to follow!

Speaking of oil, I wonder if we would object to some in Hall County. At the moment, a well is being drilled 8 or 10 miles northwest of Memphis, just over in Donley County. According to S. M. Watts, who operates Watts Auto Store and works as a driller on the side, the well was at a depth of 4364 feet Monday. The contract depth calls for 7,000 feet, he said. The E. B. Clark Drilling Co. is putting down the well, sponsored by Sun Oil and General Crude Oil companies.

In case you are living on Seventh Street and are considering getting a black cat for a pet I would advise against it. . . seems there is a "jinx" on black cats in our neighborhood! Just last week, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Roper lost their favorite pet—a black cat. Last summer when our daughter-in-law left for Japan, she left in our care her black kitten and with all the attention and care that can be lavished upon a pet, we still lost him. The Maddens, who live just south of us, say three black cats of theirs died early in the fall; and at the same time Bobby Clark, son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Clark, lost his cat.

Mrs. J. W. Morton of Atascadero, Calif., left Saturday for Kermit, where she will visit with relatives before returning to her home. She had been visiting here for about two months with her sister-in-law, Mrs. George Bass, and other relatives. Taking her to Kermit were her niece, Mrs. Ernest Lee, and Mrs. J. M. Baker. Mrs. Baker visited at Wink with her daughter, Mrs. Earl Hill, and husband, before she and Mrs. Lee returned here Monday.

Union For Farmers?

This is an era of unions and organizations, where it appears the only way individuals can make their influence felt is by joining a cooperative drive for whatever it is they want. However, there is one vast group in this country that is relatively unorganized and always has been. And it seems that most people think this group will never be organized, at least in unions, principally because of the nature of their work and their inherent belief in individual action. We are speaking of farmers, who even in this highly industrialized age, still are the backbone of our economy.

We are aware there are several good farm organizations which have been important factors in our agricultural life. But we believe these groups would agree that they fall short of having a majority of farmers as members. Even if they included an overwhelming majority of the farmers of this nation, under their current policies they likely would not be as effective in pushing their demands as are labor organizations, since they attempt to accomplish their goals through legislative channels rather than by militant action, as unions sometimes do.

But it appears farmers are going to have to start more direct action, if they expect to have a reasonable chance of holding their own with other groups. Farmers have always allowed others to set the prices for both the things they produced and the things they bought. The result has been that they have lived a very uncertain economic life, one which usually has been below the standard of most of their fellow citizens.

Labor unions, through their unceasing demands in recent years, have made farmers' positions even more precarious, because at the same time that farm families' incomes were falling,
the prices they have had to pay have been constantly rising, as costs of financing organized workers' growing benefits have boosted farmers' expenses.

We are not opposed to unions but when they continue their demands to the point it is hurting others, we think it is time for them to halt these demands. If they don't or won't, then we believe those being hurt should take steps necessary to protect themselves.

Whether the best way to accomplish this would be through unionization of farmers or in some other way we don't know.
Whether farmers could even be unionized, which many seem to doubt, we also do not know.

But this we do know. If farmers do not take steps to combat the inroads of other groups, they can be sure they will continue to come out on the short end of the economic horn of plenty.

Boy Scouts Have a Birthday

All of us are familiar, at least to some extent, with the Boy Scouts of America. Some of us have boys who are, or have been, members of the organization, others have been connected with the group in one capacity or another, and all of us have seen Scouts scurrying around carrying out a multitude of missions their elders have assigned them, or perhaps getting ready for a camping trip.

The organization has been a source of training, inspiration and fun for quite a while now, for it will observe its 46th birthday in the period from Feb. 6 through Feb. 12.

Scouting knows no restrictions for it provides a program for all boys everywhere. Possessing an inherent appeal for healthy, vigorous, normal American youngsters, as well as outlets for talents of even the handicapped, its successes range from sparsely settled rural areas to the most congested cities.

Boys can always find things to do but if they are below reasonable standards of conduct, youngsters may wind up in trouble. At times like this, Scouting often lends a helping hand to guide youths away from danger.

Today, there are 3,030,000 boys from 8 to 18 years of age who are active in Scouting. Starting out as Cub Scouts, the boys advance to Boy Scouts, and finally to Explorer Scouts.

Serving as leaders and "big brothers" are 1,070,000 adult volunteers, who devote many hours to working with the boys, because they want to help them grow into upstanding, useful citizens.

We believe all of our readers will join with us in saying
"Happy Birthday, Boy Scouts!"

DILEMMA AT GROUND HOG HOLE

Press Paragraphs —
QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

Odd Viewpoints

An explosion at the New London school, which took the lives of two hundred and ninety-four youngsters, is still recalled with horror by Texans . . . although this tragedy occurred nearly twenty years ago.

The Texas City explosion which claimed 512 lives is still green in the memory of Texas citizens, although it occurred more than eight years ago.

The Glacier-Higgins tornado in 1947 claimed more than half a hundred lives, attracted nationwide attention and sympathy, and is recalled regularly.

These and other occasional disasters of greater or lesser magnitude never fail to attract widespread attention and action . . .
but a far greater disaster which goes on under our noses and before our eyes day after day and year after year attracts scant notice.

That is the annual death toll on Texas highways alone which claims more than 2,000 lives every year . . . exceeding the destruction of the Glacier-Higgins tornado on many weekends, and during certain holiday periods laying the New London disaster in the shade and approaching the death-and-destruction figures of the Texas City blast.

If the entire population of Canadian were wiped out by some plague of violence in a single year, there would be an immediate and horrified demand for action across the nation to halt the spread of the disease. But approximately the same thing happens on Texas highways in a 12-month period . . . and keeps on happening with monotonous regularity year after year . . . and not an eyebrow is raised.

The deadly plague of highway death is sweeping the state . . .
unchecked but not incurable. All we need to do is to stop a major portion of the destruction by persuading the average driver to take his foot off the accelerator.

Sounds simple, doesn't it? Try it yourself . . . and persuade your neighbors to "take the cure." The life you save may be your own.—

Message Political

The President's message to the Congress on the state of the union was political in nature, as state of the union messages usually are, by the necessity of the circumstances. It was a long message and dealt with many problems, domestic and foreign. The disposition of nearly every problem on the list will have a direct bearing on every family in Floyd County. Here are some of them:
Farm legislation, federal aid for school building, tax cuts, balanced budget, foreign policy, foreign aid, military spending, highway program. As noted by Walter C.
Hornaday, the president did not touch on the natural gas measure.
It was too hot a potato to put into the presidential message. The high court has ruled the federal government can invade private property and set the price of natural gas at the well-head. It is a case quite similar in nature to that of the Tideland in that it says the government can take what it wants. It has the additional objection to us that it violates states' rights. "You've got it. We want it. Hand it here." That's the spirit of it. And that is what one of the big battles in congress is to be about. Resisting federal encroachment. — Floyd County

County Experiment Farm
Since Castro County is primarily a farming area, the News has had a long-standing policy of publishing almost everything that comes from Texas A&M and other college farm experiment stations.
Whether or not it has served any real value to farmers of this area, we have no way of knowing.
It still remains the best way we know of for letting local agricultivists learn of the state work being done in their interests.

The trouble, though, as we see it, is that too few of these experiments and farm practice modifications apply to farms in this county. We have junked stories time and again dealing with the growing of peanuts, tomatoes, rice and other farm commodities enjoying very little, if any, popularity in this county.

We have some sharp farmers in Castro County who could undoubtedly come up with some good new ideas with the proper encouragement and financial aid. Ideas that could pay off in new crops, conservation practices, marketing, fertilizing, watering, machinery, cultivating and a myriad of other practices carried out on the farm.

Why wouldn't it be possible to set up a Castro County Farm Experiment Station, so to speak. Such a setup would be administered by the county agent and other local agricultural workers. Either a section of land could be purchased through a cooperative plan or problems could be assigned to interested farmers for solution on their premises.

We can't say for sure, but the merchants of Dimmitt, Hart and Nazareth would probably go all out if the farmers showed enough interest in the project. It could put this country and its production years ahead and insure a higher net income for all its citizens . . . if it worked as good as it could.—Castro County News,

Dr. Rose Taking Reading Course

Dr. Jack L. Rose attended a session of a course in Amarillo Saturday designed to increase reading speed and comprehension. Tests have shown that the course results in individuals reading much faster, while at the same time training them to retain the meaning of a greater percentage of the material.

Farm Tax Returns Due by February 15

Farmers who passed up the January 15 deadline for filing estimates of 1955 income need to file their final 1955 income tax return by February 15 to avoid penalty, says H. B. Hamill of the Amarillo Internal Revenue Office.

For income tax purposes, a farmer is one who derives two-thirds or more of his gross income from farming.

Congress granted a federal charter to the Boy Scouts of America in 1916.

Care Urged In Preparing Brooder Houses For Chicks

COLLEGE STATION—Texas poultrymen should give careful attention to the cleaning and repairing of brooder houses in preparation for growing chicks, says Ben Wormeli, Extension Poultry Husbandman of Texas A. and M. College. The brooder house should be cleaned and put into good repair by making sure that all windows, doors and ventilator sections are well fitted and working smoothly. The roof should be checked for leaks. Thermostat apparatus on brooder stoves should be carefully checked and stoves cleaned to assure a dependable source of heat when it is needed, says Wormeli. Adequate feeder and watering space is recognized by poultrymen as important to uniform growth of all birds. Up to three weeks of age, birds should be provided with one inch of feeder space per bird. It should be increased to two inches from three to four weeks of age, and during six to seven weeks, it should be increased to three inches per bird. These needs can be met by one four foot trough for each 100 chicks at the start. At six to seven weeks of age they will need three troughs four feet long by four inches deep per 100 birds. Wormeli recommends five one gallon waterers by each brooder having a capacity of 500 chicks. From two to three weeks of age, two waterers with a three gallon capacity should be provided for each 100 birds. If a water system is available, a four foot automatic water trough should be provided for each 250 chicks. Where chicks have access to range, Wormeli recommends one square foot of floor space for every two birds. Since green feed is often not available on the range, there is a trend toward growing pullet replacement chicks in confinement, he adds. Under these conditions each bird should be provided with one square foot of floor space, until they are eight to nine weeks of age. On this basis a 30 by 40 foot house would be required to raise replacements for a thousand hen laying flock. Wormeli adds that it will probably be to the poultryman's advantage to double this space, 30 by 80 feet, and keep the pullets confined to the house until maturity. One sound method that is being employed by some poultrymen is to leave the chicks in one house for the six months growing period and for the first year of egg production. Making sure the brooder house and equipment is adequate and in good repair will pay good dividends in the production of a high percentage of good quality, uniform pullets for next year's laying flock, says Wormeli.

UT Round-Up Slated April 6-7

AUSTIN—The University of Texas' annual Round-Up will be April 6 and 7 this spring. Previous dates for the celebration had been March 23 and 24, but a committee of faculty students planning Round-Up events made the change because the March dates conflict with mid-term examinations. Also, the April dates will coincide with the Texas Relays, which in recent years have been held at the same time is Round-Up.

The probability of good weather is also better in April than in March, explained Dr. Alfred Lee Seely, chairman of the faculty-student committee.

At a recent school for training Scout executives for the Boy Scouts of America, men taking the course included leaders from Finland, Brazil, Norway, Burma, and the Philippine Islands.

In the eastern floods in 1955 Boy Scouts engaged in rescues, delivered food and good drinking water, and served as messengers for relief officials.

Read Your Bible

By HARRY GRAHAM

Identifying THE CHURCH. In order to find the boundaries of a plot of ground, a surveyor must have a known beginning place. To locate the church, that Christ established in fulfillment of His promise (Mat. 16:18) one must know the origin of the church. With some three hundred different religious churches in the world today claiming to be the church, it is not surprising that many are confused. The Bible gives the pattern of worship, etc. as identifying marks of the church. He established. If the one you are a member of is not identified by the Bible, you may be assured it is not the New Testament church. Notice the origin of the New Testament church. THE CHURCH IN PROPHECY. We read of a church to be set up by the Messiah (Isa. 2:2-4; Dan. 9:24-27). THE CHURCH IN PREPARATION. John, the baptizer (baptizer or immerger), preached "the kingdom of heaven is at hand" (Mat. 3:2). He introduced the Messiah (Jesus) to the world. Jesus came to establish a kingdom and the church. The church was to be citizens of it (Mat. 8:5-13). The church is used for the first time in the Bible (Matthew 16:18) when Jesus promised to build it and to use the term synonymously with the word "Kingdom." The church is used synonymously throughout the New Testament. THE CHURCH IN FACT. Jesus spoke of the church as a thing in the future in Matthew 16:18. In Acts 1:6-7 it is declared as being in existence. Thus it is evident that the church was established sometime between the two. The gospel was to be preached as a fact first at Jerusalem. That preaching could only begin when the apostles were "clothed upon with power from on high" (Lk. 24:49). Jesus promised power when the Holy Spirit came (Acts 1:8). The apostles received the Spirit, and the power, on the day of Pentecost (Acts 2). Pentecost was the day of the culmination of the old and the ushering in of the new institution. Church of Christ

FHA Broadens Small Farm Lending

The Farmers Home Administration has broadened its lending authorities to meet the special needs of established small farmers who because of drought and other adverse conditions have been forced to work part-time off the farm in order to make a living for their families. This information was received here this week by Claude Moore, Hall County F. H. A. county supervisor, from Walter T. McKay, the agency's state director.

advancement during the evening.

Some of the Cub Scouts will be guests of the Memphis Rotary Club at their noon luncheon Tuesday, W. A. Leigon, Cubmaster, said.

At noon Wednesday, Troop 35 Scouts will have their 12th annual birthday party at the Memphis Lions Club luncheon in the Masonic Hall.

On Thursday night, Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts will attend a free show at the Palace Theatre, through courtesy of Bill Born, owner of the theatre. Myers asks Scouts to arrive at 6:30 p. m. that evening, so they can be ready when the show starts.

Saturday night, Feb. 11, the Scouts will have a formal party to close Scout Week in Memphis. The week is being observed throughout the nation, in recognition of the 46th anniversary of Scouting in America.

At present, there are 43 Cub Scouts and 44 Boy Scouts in Memphis, Myers states. There also are six Den mothers, six Den dads, and 12 committeemen for Pack 35.

Besides Scoutmaster Myers, there are 12 committeemen connected with Boy Scout activities.

This makes a total of 125 boys and adults who are actively participating in Scouting in and around Memphis, according to the Scoutmaster.

their number at each town through which they pass. Brief stops are planned in each community.

Farmer said a 12 by 30 foot double-faced sign has just been erected on the highway north of Amarillo. On one side it reads: "Stay on 287—Shortest, Most Direct Route to the South." On the other side it reads: "Stay on 287 — Shortest, Most Direct Route to Denver and the Yellowstone." All lettering is in Scotch-lite, so that it will show up at night.

In addition, 25,000 more 287 strip maps are being ordered for distribution to tourists. Previously, 50,000 of the maps were ordered. They will be placed at service stations and cafes.

The brooder house should be cleaned and put in good repair several days prior to the arrival of the chicks. Operate the brooding equipment, also, to be sure it is in proper operating condition. The first few days of the chick's life are very important. Give them the start they need.

Applications may be filed at the county offices of the Farmers Home Administration. The local county Farmers Home Administration Committee determines the eligibility of applicants for these loans.

Credit is also extended by the Farmers Home Administration over longer periods to finance adjustments and improvements in farming operations.
