Will Ehrle, State Representative-elect from Childress, called for a recognition of "our basic American principles of democracy, and a re-statement of the fact that the things which unite us as Americans are far stronger than those which separate us." Ehrle spoke on Tuesday to the Memphis Rotary Club, and Wednesday appeared before the Lions Club. "In this national election year, when our two great parties are locked in a struggle for leadership of our country, we must realize that as Americans we have much in common whether we be Democrats or Republicans," he stated. "Though I am a Democrat and a Democratic nominee for State Representative," Ehrle added, "I believe that to safeguard our country and our way of life, and to foster our American heritage of liberty and freedom, we must all unite on our basic principles." Ehrle pointed out five principles that he believed were common to all Americans, and should be the foundation of both political parties. They are as follows: 1. A faith in Almighty God and in the equality of man-kind under God. 2. Protection of individual freedoms from both foreign and domestic enemies. 3. Equality of opportunities for all people regardless of station or walk in life. 4. The elimination of poverty in the United States and a raised standard of living for all people. 5. Restored and renewed faith in these United States and in the American way of life. The speaker gave a brief history of the two major parties, their organization and development up to this year. He stated that to understand the parties and their platforms a person should have some knowledge of their traditions and place in the nation's history. It was pointed out that the Republican party was originally started by a group of New England manufacturers seeking higher tariffs, and that the Democratic party was formed by Thomas Jefferson and a group of Southern farmers in opposition to the northern industrialists. Ehrle closed by offering his thanks to the people of Hall County for the large majority in the past election.

Report From Washington

By Walter Rogers
Congressman, 18th District

Politics Are Funny
Whenever things seem to be running smoothly in a political party, you can usually look for a blowup of some kind. This seems to be what happened in the Republican Party when Harold Stassen decided he did not want Nixon for Vice-President. His public announcement to that effect certainly threw things in an uproar on Capitol Hill among the Congressmen and Senators. The day that Stassen did this trick, he was probably called every name known in the English language and a great number in foreign tongues. It was difficult to discuss anything with a Republican Congressman other than what a low-down heel Harold Stassen was. It was very obvious that many of these men had certainly not anticipated such a move and knew nothing of it beforehand. However, some excellent political prognosticators in Washington believe that this entire episode was a preconceived and deliberately planned publicity scheme to help Nixon. The upper echelon, or heavy thinkers in the Republican Party, realized that many people in this country did not look with great favor upon Vice-President Nixon. Some would be skeptical because of his extreme partisanship, others doubting him because of the unanswered questions concerning his political slush fund raised by California millionaires, others feeling that he was a front for the Old Guard Republicans who have caused Eisenhower much trouble, others thinking that he did not have mental presidential stature. That because the President's health was in a stage of touch and go, these directors of the Republican Party were thought to feel that they either had to ditch Nixon or build him up. They had difficulty in finding someone who would play the lead role in this Madison Avenue conceived publicity stunt. However, Harold Stassen, realizing that he had little chance for the Vice-Presidency or Presidency, might have thought that, if he could be Secretary of State or Secretary of Defense, his political wounds would be well salved. So, he volunteered his services as the hatchet man in this drama. The politicians figured that they did not stand to lose. In the first place, if the Stassen movement took hold and "Dump Nixon" recruits were large in number, a satisfactory replacement would be chosen. On the other hand, if the "Dump Nixon" movement did not take hold, it would provide an excellent publicity stage from which Nixon could repeat his "Checkers" performance of 1952. In this latter case they figure that Nixon, with his present experience, can put on a tear jerking act that will surpass his previous performance and result in "poor Richard" playing the role of a martyr attacked by self-centered politicians, that he will be the proverbial American underdog, the modern day David, who will slay the political Goliath, alias Harold Stassen, and save the country. As people say, "politics are funny!"

Now for the Other Party
This letter is being written while things are popping politically at the Democratic Convention in Chicago. When the Convention first opened, many things pointed to the possibility of a completely free convention in which neither of the two advertised candidates, Stevenson and Harriman would be nominated. This thought was bolstered by Truman's endorsement of Harriman. Many felt that this would stop the Stevenson bandwagon, create a deadlock and provide an opening for another and more acceptable candidate. It was thought that the southern states would remain out of the fracas until the time came for getting behind one of the "favorite sons." However, some of the southern delegates had hitched onto Adlai's bandwagon and refused to turn loose. Some other folks from that section failed to come through with strong endorsements of particular "favorite sons." This lack of enthusiasm didn't exactly add any fuel to the fire some of the "favorite sons" were trying to get started. In fact, it was like pouring a little cold water on some of the hopes. As these situations began to develop, it was obvious that the leaders in the Democratic Party had decided on Stevenson as the nominee and intended to meet and turn back any attempts to interfere with this decision. The effectiveness of their plan was evidenced by the ineffectiveness of Truman's endorsement of Harriman. Few, if any ever expected Harriman to get the nomination. He would not have been acceptable to the South with or without a satisfactory Vice-Presidential candidate. There were a number of Stevenson pledged delegates who would not have gone to Harriman under any circumstances. This meant that Harriman's greatest hope of accomplishment at the Convention was limited to blocking Stevenson's nomination. This would, no doubt, have been accomplished had it not been for the fact that the present leaders in the Democratic Party were almost unanimous in their support for Stevenson.

When I went to Chicago it was my great hope that the nomination would not go to those who had been advertised, but would go to a man not burdened with political scars, a new face on the political horizon, who could and would receive the wholehearted and unconditional endorsement of every Democrat throughout the nation. I still believe that would have been the result of the stalemate between Harriman and Stevenson had developed, resulting in the freeing of the delegates and creating a free convention.

Read Your Bible

SEARCH THE SCRIPTURES

The Bible is not arranged like a dictionary or an encyclopedia. Its subject matter is not classified, so that you can turn to a certain place and find all that is taught on that particular subject in that one place.

It therefore becomes necessary for people to search the scriptures in order to have knowledge of what is taught. Jesus told the Jews, "Search the scriptures, for in them ye think ye have eternal life, but they are they that testify of me." (Jno. 5:39). The Jews had the idea that they could gain eternal life by following the teachings of the Old Testament but Jesus declared that he himself was the giver of eternal life and that the Old Testament testified and prophesied of him.

Many people in this day and age are guessing as to the right road to heaven and need this admonition given by Christ to, "search the scriptures." The vast number of people who are attempting to serve the Lord in divers ways is abundant evidence that many are ignorant of the Bible. The Bible does not teach many ways of salvation; it teaches only one (Matt. 7:13-14). I was approached by a man the other day who said he was a preacher and he said we (he and I) were of different faiths but that was all right. We are of different faiths, but the last part of his declaration is wrong - IT IS NOT ALL RIGHT IN THE SIGHT OF GOD. In Ephesians 4:4 we read, "THERE IS ONE FAITH." Speaking of this one faith Jude says, "Contend earnestly for THE FAITH once for all delivered unto the saints." (Jude 3). When we are of different faiths someone is wrong and maybe both of us are wrong. Where there is, "one faith" there cannot be (acceptable unto God) a multiplicity of faiths. We often hear in prayers, "Thank you for the MANY FAITHS". This language is inspired of satan and is not found in the Bible anywhere. God did not author, sanction, nor does he condone the many faiths found in a divided and mutilated Christendom.

The faith revealed in the Bible is the faith we must adhere to. Will you, "search the scriptures daily to see whether these things are so." (Acts 17:11) and do the Lords will in everything.

Social Security News

By JOHN R. SANDERSON

One completely new provision contained in the 1956 amendments to the Social Security Act is that for the payment of cash disability payments. To qualify for these payments, which will be effective in July, 1957, the following requirements must be met:

The worker must be disabled to the extent that he cannot engage in any substantial, gainful work. This disability must have been in existence at least 6 months and must have started before the worker became 65 years of age.

The worker must have been in social security covered work for at least 5 of the 10 years just before he became disabled, and for at least 1 1/2 of the 3 years before disability began.

To receive cash disability payments he must be at least 50 years of age. To protect his wage record, however, the worker should make an inquiry at the nearest social security office if he meets the requirements and is under age 50.

Medical proof of the disability must be furnished.

Anyone who meets these requirements should contact his nearest social security office unless he has already done so during the past two years in connection with establishing his disability under the old law. Workers who have already filed proof of disability will be contacted by their social security office after October 1, in order to obtain an application for these payments.

Non-profit organizations organized exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, or literary or educational purposes have always been exempt from compulsory coverage under the Social Security Act. Other non-profit organizations, such as Chambers of Commerce, Cemetery Associations, etc. are not exempt as to wages of as much as $50 paid any one employee within a calendar quarter.

Amendments to the Social Security Act in 1950 provided that totally exempt organizations could be covered under social security by signing a waiver of their social security tax exemption and with approval of two-thirds of their employees. Many of these organizations, especially churches, community chests, church schools etc., exercised this option and began reporting their employees.

According to John R. Sanderson, manager of the Amarillo Social Security Office, some of these organizations failed to file with the Internal Revenue Service the necessary waiver form and accompanying list of employees who desired coverage. In these cases, Sanderson says, the coverage is not actually in effect even though the social security tax is being deducted and social security tax returns are being filed. Employees and employers in this category should satisfy themselves that their coverage is actually in effect, Sanderson says, to prevent the disappointment which will follow if the terms of the law have not been complied with in electing this coverage.

TUB NIGHT . . . TV actress Jackie Monroe tests antique "empire" model bathtub, very ornate, but without faucets or drain pipes.

derson says, to prevent the disappointment which will follow if the terms of the law have not been complied with in electing this coverage.

A representative of the district social security office will be in Memphis Monday, Aug. 13, at 1 p. m. Anyone having questions should contact him at the Court House on that date.

Garden Party at Baskerville Home For TEL Class

Members of the TEL Class were entertained with a lovely garden party Thursday evening, August 9, at the home of Mrs. Emma Baskerville. Meses. T. A. Bales, Mary Bownds and Hulda Wilson were co-hostesses for the occasion.

The highlight of the program came as Claude Wells further carried out the theme "God in Nature" by showing slides of a trip through the southern states and ending in Florida. He began by showing beautiful pictures of nature in our home town and progressed from here to points of interest in their trip. Appropriate comments were given by both Mr. and Mrs. Wells and were thoroughly enjoyed by the group.

What Grandmother did that Granddaughter doesn't!

For one thing Grandmother spent 5 1/2 hours a day in the kitchen. Granddaughter doesn't—she spends about an hour and a half on the average.

Plenty of low-cost electricity is the biggest part of the reason why. There's more than enough to do your cooking, your mixing, your dishwashing, your water heating.

And the men and women at your electric service company are planning and building ahead so there will be plenty for granddaughter, too.

In fact, you can be sure of plenty of electricity always when you are served by an independent electric company like this one.

Before You Vote, I Want You To Know:

First: I am proud of the training and experience I've received. I am a graduate of Wellington High School, hold a law degree from S. M. U., have practiced law 6 1/2 years in Childress, and have served Childress as City Attorney for 6 years. I'm also proud to have been admitted to partnership with C. A. Williams and C. C. Broughton within one year after my graduation from law school.

Second: In my campaign for the office of District Attorney, I have not engaged in low level, name calling, mud slinging tactics, nor do I now intend to be led into such tactics by a desperate politician.

Third: I want to remind you that I was given a strong majority of the votes in the First Primary in Childress County, where both of your candidates live. Who is better able to judge the merits, qualifications and character of a candidate than the people among whom he lives.

Fourth: I am very grateful for the splendid vote I received in Hall County in the First Primary. Your continued active support will be deeply appreciated.

Are We Counting on the Other Fellow to Take Care of Our Future...

when he may not be working at the job

This is a good way to arrange for an unsatisfactory future . . . physical or economic.

For instance . . . some of us depend on our good neighbors to spend THEIR money in the home community to keep it going so we can make a living in it . . . while we do OUR buying somewhere else.

But . . . sort of like when a couple of fellows in a car each thinks the other one is driving . . . the habit of "Letting George Do It" can darken the future if George happens to be letting YOU do it.

And, anyhow, even if we DO have lots of good neighbors trading at home to support US, and our schools and churches and other community activities . . . THINK how much BETTER all of these would be supported if ALL OF US were buying everything we could at home.

Trading with home merchants is just good practical business sense anyhow . . . because we automatically get more for our money from them than out-of-town stores can give us . . . the EXTRA PREMIUM of community prosperity that only home business establishments can throw in for free with the goods we buy.

It Pays to Buy

General, State Waterfowl Authorities Predict Good Duck Season This Year

Direct reports from a symposium of Federal and state waterfowl authorities indicated that substantial duck flights from the Texas skies again are expected, according to the Executive Secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

Only early fall rains are needed to provide "a very good duck and goose season for hunters."

Singleton, wildlife biologist specializing in waterfowl, reported from a Central Flyway meeting, with assurances from authorities on the nesting areas that "the excellent season of last fall apparently repeated again this year."

Singleton, who reported that the population that moves toward the breeding areas is satisfactory, produced a satisfactory season when considering the output of the Executive Secretary's office.

Water is needed to repeat the heavily populated areas when lack of rain concentrates in South Texas.

Similar to last fall is the condition in the Panhandle where an abundant number of waterfowl were reported last season to provide fine hunting for that area.

Singleton painted a gloomy picture of present upper coast drought conditions. He said the dry weather has cost Texas an estimated eighty per cent of its native mottled duck population. Conditions now are even worse than 1955. Singleton said as of Aug. 8, the Houston area is far drier. Last year, it got .63 inches of moisture this year as compared with roughly ten inches last year in July.

"When water and food are in short supply in the upper coast where the hunting pressure is greatest," he said, "the waterfowl naturally move on southward along the coast until they find water and food in the areas where the hunting pressure is comparatively light."

Water or not, field men already have recorded first migratory duck arrivals in the Panhandle. They were blue wing teal which usually arrive along the upper coast about mid-August.

"Blue wings build up pretty fast in Texas after mid-August," said Singleton. "Much depends on the weather up north. Pintails begin migrating toward the coastal wintering grounds the first week in September."

Game Warden Tom Waddell at Eagle Lake, where a tremendous waterfowl concentration has developed in recent years, said he traditionally clocked the first blue wing arrivals "on August 14." He said first geese to arrive were white fronts.

Singleton said Canadas were the first geese to arrive in the upper coast although the average person considers the snow geese to appear first. "This is because the snows are so easy to see," he said.

Meanwhile, the Commission awaits Federal announcement late this month setting the waterfowl harvest regulations. The Commission has suggested half an hour before sunrise on November 2 for the season opener.

Antelope License Clarified

AUSTIN — The Chief Clerk of the Game and Fish Commission said non-residents may qualify for the fall antelope season providing resident Texans do not use the estimated eleven hundred, special permits to be issued.

He said several persons, mainly service personnel, have asked. These inquirers are in the state only temporarily or have been here less than the six months minimum period required under state law.

The Chief Clerk held out some hope for this special group of applicants since requests for actual special licenses have lagged. The non-residents will be notified promptly after the August 31 deadline.

Earlier he had urged persons interested in the antelope hunts to be held West of the Pecos and in the Panhandle to write for standard detailed information.

If there are more applicants than permits available, public drawings will be held in the Commission's Austin office to determine the special licenses.

The special shoot will be held West of the Pecos in two three-day periods from October 1 through October 7, and in three-day periods in the Panhandle from October 11 through October 19.

Violators Get Heavy Penalties

AUSTIN — Texas Justices of the Peace continue to belabor persons caught telephoning fish, according to the monthly arrest report announced by the Director of Law Enforcement for the Game and Fish Commission.

Six different $200 fines were levied for using the old fashioned magneto-type electrical device to shock fish and subdue game fish. Costs on each of these cases averaged almost $40.

The individual fine for three Fort Worth men arrested on telephoning counts was $50, with costs added.

Justices of the Peace also moved to discourage night hunting of deer, which shows a seasonal rise this time of the year when the whitetails begin re-appearing after the procreation period.

Several $100 fines plus costs were assessed. Three Beeville men caught by game wardens while trying for some pre-season enson paid fines totaling more than $200, in addition to court costs.

The monthly bag of persons fishing without a proper license was one hundred eighteen.

The Farm Plank

(Below is a reprint of the farm plank of the Democratic Party Platform. We reprint it in order that our readers may have time to study it in its entirety.)

Sustained national prosperity is dependent upon a vigorous agricultural economy.

We condemn the defeatist attitude of the Eisenhower Administration in refusing to take effective action to assure the well-being of farm families. We condemn its fear of abundance, its lack of initiative in developing domestic markets and its dismal failure to obtain for the American farmer his traditional and deserved share of the world market. Its extravagant expenditure of money intended for agricultural benefit, without either direction or results, is a national calamity.

The Eisenhower Administration has failed utterly to develop any programs to meet the desperate needs of farmers in the face of fantastic promises to do so, and it has sabotaged the progressive programs inherited from prior Democratic Administrations by failing to administer them properly in the interest either of farmers or of the nation as a whole.

Specifically, we denounce President Eisenhower's veto of the constructive legislation proposed and passed by the Democratic 84th Congress to reverse the alarming fall of farm prices and restore farmers to a position of first-class economic citizenship in the sharing of benefits from American productive ability.

We also condemn the Republican Administration for its abandonment of the true principles of soil conservation and for its destruction of the Soil Conservation Service. We pledge to support continued improvements in the soil-bank program passed by the Democratic 84th Congress and originally opposed by President Eisenhower and Secretary Ezra Taft Benson. We deplore the diversion of this conservation program into a direct vote-buying scheme.

Farmers have had to struggle for three and one-half years while their net farm income has fallen more than 4 billion dollars a year. Their parity ratio, which under Democratic Administrations had been 100 per cent or more during the 11 years prior to 1933, dropped to as low as 80 per cent during the Eisenhower Administration, and the farmers' share of the consumers' food dollar shrank from 47 cents in 1932 to as low as only 38 cents. One stark fact stands clearly for all to see—disastrously low farm prices and record-high consumer prices vie with each other for the attention of responsible government. In reducing this incongruous spread lies the answer to some of the most vexing problems of agriculture economics.

In their courageous fight to save their homes and land, American farmers have gone deeper and deeper into debt. Last year farmers' mortgage indebtedness increased more than in any year with the exception of the year 1923.

The Democratic Party met similar situations forthrightly in the past with concrete, remedial action. It has legitimate pride in its consistent record of initiating and developing every constructive program designed to protect and conserve the human and natural resources so vital to our rural economy. These programs enabled consumers to obtain more abundant supplies of high-quality food and fiber at reasonable prices while maintaining adequate income for farmers and improving the level of family living in rural areas.

In order to regain the ground lost during the Eisenhower Administration, and in order to serve both consumers and producers, the Democratic Party pledges continuous and vigorous support to the following policies:

Sponsor a positive and comprehensive program to conserve our soil, water and forest resources for future generations;
 Promote programs which will protect and preserve the family-type farm as a bulwark of American life and encourage farm-home ownership, including assistance to family farmers and young farmers in the form of especially designed credit and price-support programs, technical aid and enlarged soil-conservation allowances;

Maintain adequate reserves of agricultural commodities strategically located, for national-security purposes. Such stockpiles should be handled as necessary strategic reserves, so that farmers will not be penalized by depressed prices for their efficiency and diligence in producing abundance;

Promote international exchange of commodities by creating an international food reserve, fostering commodity agreements, and vigorously administering the International Trade and Development Act;

Undertake immediately by appropriate action to endeavor to regain full 100 per cent of parity for the farmers received under the Democratic Administrations. We will achieve this by means of support on basic commodities at 90 per cent of parity and by means of commodity loans, direct purchases, direct payments to producers, marketing agreements and orders, production adjustments or a combination of these, including legislation, to bring order and stability into the relationship between the producer, the processor and the consumer;

Develop practical measures for extending price supports to feed grains and other nonbasic staples, and to the producers of perishable commodities, such as meat, poultry, dairy products and the like;

Inaugurate a food stamp or other supplemental food program administered by appropriate State or local agencies to insure that no needy family shall be denied an adequate and wholesome diet because of low income;

Continue and expand school-lunch and special-milk program to meet the dietary needs of all school children;

Increase the distribution of food to public institutions and organizations and qualified private charitable agencies, and increase the distribution of food and fiber to needy people in other nations through recognized charitable and religious channels;

Devise and employ effective means to reduce the spread between producers' prices and consumers' costs, and improve market facilities and marketing practices;

Expand the program of agricultural research for better distribution, preservation and marketing of farm products to serve

Facts about Right To Work

Retail sales are among the best barometers of business conditions. They strongly reflect the status of employment, of wages and income and the health of family pocketbooks.

A survey based on U. S. Bureau of Census figures, shows that retail sales increased by an average of 38.4 per cent between 1948 and 1954 in the 12 states having right-to-work laws during that period. In the 36 non-right-to-work states and D. C., the gain was much less — 29.9 per cent.

No one claims that right-to-work laws were the sole reason for the difference. But the comparison is important because it has been argued that the right to work principle would undermine the economic welfare of working people and cause all manners of financial difficulties in the states adopting it. Actually, the right-to-work law is the direct interest of working people. It says, in effect, that a man can join a union or not join, as he wishes and that in neither case can that be a condition of employment. In other words, he is a free agent. The union must sell itself to him on its merits—not through coercion and the knowledge that he won't be able to get or hold a job if he doesn't join. That cannot help but make for better and more effective unions.

Finally, the right-to-work is as precious a right as any people can possess — and it should be legally considered so. Without it there can be no real freedom. It is the firm, unyielding shield that stands between the individual and dictatorship from the employer on the one hand and the labor organization on the other. — Munday Times

both producers and consumers, and promote increased industrial use of farm surpluses;

Provide for an increased reservoir of farm credit at lower rates, designed particularly to accommodate small family-type farmers, and extend crop insurance to maximum coverage and protection;

Return the administration of farm programs to farmer-elected committees, eliminate the deplorable political abuse in federal employment in many agricultural counties as practiced by the Eisenhower Administration, and restore leadership to the administration of soil-conservation districts;

Insure reliable and low-cost rural electric and telephone service;

Exercise authority in existing law relating to imports of price-supported agricultural commodities in raw, manufactured or processed form as part of our national policy to minimize damage to our domestic economy;

Encourage bona fide farm co-operatives which help farmers reduce the cost-price squeeze, and protect such co-operatives against punitive taxation;

Expand farm-forestry marketing research and price reporting on timber products, and provide adequate credit designed to meet the needs of timber farmers; and Enact a comprehensive farm program which, under intelligent and sympathetic Democratic administration, will make the rural homes of America better and healthier places in which to live.

1938 HALL FARM COMMITTEE TO BE NAMED SATURDAY — The Hall County Farm Program Committee for 1938 will be named at a meeting of community representatives in Memphis Saturday, County Agent R. E. L. Pattillo announced this week after various community elections had been held throughout the county. Community committees were chosen in elections held at Memphis, Lakeview, Estelline and Turkey.

The three county committees chosen at the meeting will join the county agent and his assistant for schooling on the 1938 farm program in Amarillo Monday and Tuesday of next week, it has been announced.

GRID BANQUET IS SUCCESS — (By Ernest R. Haylor, Democrat Staff Member) It isn't often that a newspaper reporter becomes sentimental over a public gathering or anything else he is called upon to cover in his professional realms. In fact, I couldn't get that way if I wanted to. But, if I could I would describe the first annual Sideline banquet, held at the American Legion Hall here Monday night, honoring football teams of Hall County, as the most enjoyable affair it has ever been my pleasure to attend.

Coach "Dutch" Meyer, head mentor at T. C. U., expressed my sentiments exactly when he began his address with, "This is the finest banquet I have ever attended in my life. The uppermost feature, to me, is this bringing together of communities in a spirit that should prevail in football at all times." Never before, as far as is known here, have four rival football teams been brought together in such a fine spirit of friendliness.

STRICTLY PERSONAL — Mrs. C. S. Compton and Mrs. J. E. Roper were visitors in Amarillo Friday of last week. Miss Gertrude Rasco of Brownfield, teacher of public school music, spent the weekend here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Rasco. Mrs. Otho Fitzjarrald, Mrs. R. H. Wherry, and her sister, Mrs. J. E. Spence of Grapeland, who was here as a guest of Mrs. Fry, spent last Friday in visiting with relatives. Helen Kinslow of Lubbock Thursday and Friday here her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kinslow.

The estimate, based on a state population of 600,000, gives Texas an equivalent 4.3 per cent of its total population on the unemployed list. ALLEN HARP

FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY

BECAUSE ALLEN HARP IS THE BETTER QUALIFIED TO PERFORM THE DUTIES OF THE OFFICE

Allen Harp has presented facts in this campaign that have not been denied. He has correctly informed voters of the qualifications of the two candidates.

His opponent has published advertisements in every newspaper in the district (except in Childress) stating he has had 6 1/2 years experience in the practice of criminal law.

He has distributed a folder in every county in the district (except Childress county) stating he has had 7 years experience in practicing criminal law.

Why did he not distribute this folder in Childress county?

The answer is obvious. The people of Childress county know Mr. Forbis has not had one day's experience in the practice of Criminal Law.

Mr. Forbis has said that Allen Harp had only 2 1/2 years experience when appointed District Attorney. He did not tell you the 2 1/2 years was spent as County Attorney of Childress County, which consists entirely in the practice of Criminal Law.

We urge you to vote for Allen Harp, because Allen Harp has not misrepresented the facts.

WE SUBMIT TO YOU THAT A CANDIDATE WHO WILL MISREPRESENT THE FACTS TO GET ELECTED, WILL MISREPRESENT YOU IF ELECTED.

Does Price Daniel Fit Hall County's Economy?

You can read in black and white that our chief money crop, COTTON, will be down from last year about $12.50 per bale. This will mean about a HALF MILLION DOLLARS LESS MONEY for Hall County farmers!

Since the farm income is parallel to the volume of business which banks, merchants, professional people, and firms like auto and tractor dealerships enjoy—how can any one living in this area go for the administration which has brought it on us.

What's happening on the farms? What is happening to our REA? You might ask yourself: WHERE DOES PRICE DANIEL COME IN? Here's how he comes in . . .

He helped in every way—along with Shivers and the Republicans of Texas—to bring this Benson farm program on us with their "flexible farm plan!"

Last week The Democrat carried an advertisement headed, "Let's Keep the Record Straight." We agree with this statement, and want to give some reports from the CONGRESSIONAL RECORD about Mr. Daniel's vote for farmers. Here it is:

Price Daniel voted with Secretary Benson and the Republicans . . . and AGAINST TEXAS FARMERS and the Democrats . . . when he VOTED FOR the SLIDING SCALE PRICE SUPPORT PROGRAM (S3052) on August 9, 1954. (Congressional Record, Aug. 9, 1954, page No. 13152.)

This was a party-line vote, and Sen. Daniel voted with the Republicans! This bill (S 3052) was the legislation that started the downward SLIDE OF Grain Sorghum prices from 85% of Parity to LESS than 70%. Daniel voted for it!

After he helped lower grain sorghum prices, he now tries to claim credit for raising it part way back to where he found it.

Here's some more to "Keep the Record Straight":

Daniel again voted with the Republicans and Benson on Aug. 10, 1954 (Congressional Record, page 13256), and again on March 9, 1956 (S3183, Congressional Record March 9, 1956, Kerr Amendment and Humphrey Amendment.)

We intend to keep the record straight. And from THE RECORD, the farmer's pocketbook will cause him to vote AGAINST Price Daniel next Saturday. He is a Johnny-Come-Lately as far as the farmer's welfare is concerned.

We are not sure we would have a Democrat in the governor's mansion if Daniel should be elected. By his own words he is "waiting" when asked if he would support the nominees of the Democratic party. (Brownell is probably out of pocket.) We don't believe this country will line up with that kind of Democrat.

Mr. Business Man:

You are having a hard time attracting industry and other business institutions to this area. We believe you will be helping yourself by helping your farmer friends. If we make money—your business gets better. You won't be helping us when you support a man who has let us down. We believe you are shrewd enough to recognize this, and

Vote For

Judge Ralph Yarborough

FOR GOVERNOR

P. S.: Why did Duval County give Price Daniel a 7-to-1 vote in the first primary? Why didn't Price Daniel, while serving as Attorney General in 1952, attend at least ONE meeting of the Veterans LAND BOARD? WHY is Price Daniel running for governor?

The above facts are given for your consideration. They are taken from "The Record," and are offered in all sincerity.

(This political advertisement paid for by Hall County Farmers who are going to vote for Judge Yarborough Aug. 25th)

Texas Farmers Heavy Participants In Soil Bank Acreage Reserve

COLLEGE STATION — Texas farmers will receive more than 23.8 million in payments for land placed in the soil bank acreage reserve program. Bob Cherry, extension economist, says that a total of 63,672 agreements were signed in Texas before the July 27 deadline.

Under the acreage reserve program, farmers are paid for each acre of land retired from production of basic crops up to a specified percentage of their allotments. The program is designed to aid soil improvement and reduce surplus production, points out Cherry.

Farmers of the nation have signed agreements covering approximately 10.7 million acres, while the 63,672 agreements signed in Texas cover 1,970,235-3/10 acres. The three tenths of an acre represents the acreage taken out of tobacco.

Cherry says that 14,708 wheat agreements covering 1,066,390 acres, and with payments expected to reach $6,193,574 had been signed in Texas. Texas cotton farmers signed 49,322 agreements, put 865,654 acres of cotton allotments into the acreage reserve and if they comply with all program requirements, can expect to receive $17,020,420 in government payments. Peanut producers of the state signed 3,195 agreements covering 33,905 acres for which they will receive $396,415. Only 74 acreage reserve agreements were signed by rice growers in Texas on 4,286 acres on which they will receive $219,487. The single tobacco grower, by reducing his allotment by three tenths of an acre and putting the reduction in the soil bank will receive $102.

The economist said the largest number of acres put under acreage reserve agreements was in the Panhandle district and in the districts immediately to the south and east of the Panhandle. Extension district 8 in central Texas and district 10, south-central, were other areas of heavy sign up.

ALLEN HARP Endorsed By Opponent

STATE OF TEXAS 1
100TH JUDICIAL DISTRICT 1

We, the undersigned resident practicing attorneys of the 100th Judicial District of Texas, hereby endorse Allen Harp, District Attorney of Childress, Texas, and urge his appointment as Judge of the 100th Judicial District in the event a vacancy should occur in said office in the near future.

Given under our hands this ___ day of November, A.D. 1954.

At the time of the signing of the above endorsement, it was contemplated that there might be a vacancy in the District Judge's office. The vacancy did not occur, but the endorsement of Allen Harp by Williams, Broughton and Forbis, not for District Attorney but for the higher office of District Judge, clearly shows the real respect they held for Allen Harp's character and ability before they decided they wanted to take the job of District Attorney away from him and appropriate it to their own law firm. With very few exceptions the lawyers of the 100th Judicial District signed this endorsement. The lawyers whose signatures appear on the above endorsement have not been contacted with reference to an endorsement in this particular race and their signatures thereto does not necessarily mean that they are supporting Allen Harp in this campaign.

During this campaign Allen Harp's character has not only been attacked but even his political affiliations have been misrepresented. The Forbis forces would have the loyal Democrats believe that I am a Republican. At the same time Mr. Forbis admits that he voted for Eisenhower. His campaign manager in Carson County is Friday Hughes, the Carson County Republican Chairman. Mr. Hughes has been taking Forbis to various towns in Carson County seeking support for him. I have never voted anything but the democratic ticket in my life and those who are close to me know this to be a fact. Many of the people and acts of the Democratic Party have not pleased me, but I have always felt that the interest of Texans and the South were best served by the Democratic Party. The fact that all four of my great grandfathers were Confederate soldiers could have something to do with my attitude.

If you were in serious trouble and needed a lawyer to defend you, you certainly would hire the one you thought could do the best job for you. If you were hiring someone to prosecute a culprit who had made depredations on you or your family, you would certainly hire the one you thought best qualified to do the job. You wouldn't care whether we was cute or not. You wouldn't give a hoot whether he could make a pretty speech at a social function. You wouldn't even care whether he was a member of the same church of which you were a member. You may not think so—in fact you may not give it any thought at all—but next Saturday you are hiring someone with your tax dollar to prosecute a culprit who WILL commit criminal acts against you, your family or your neighbor. You are not hiring a lawyer for just one case, you are hiring a lawyer for four years—come what may.

(The following is concerned only with the qualifying experience of the candidates for District Attorney and is not intended to reflect on Harp's opponent in any other way.)

QUALIFYING EXPERIENCE OF THE CANDIDATES FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY

ALLEN HARP

- Served a term in the Legislature where laws are made.
- Served six years as Official Court Reporter. The time was spent in the court room where cases are actually tried.
- Served two years and three months as County Attorney for Childress County.
- Served a little more than six years as District Attorney of the 100th Judicial District.

OPPONENT

NONE

During the time I have been serving as District Attorney I have had to run every two years. The term of office has now been extended to four years and the salary was recently increased by the Legislature. I would certainly appreciate serving one four year term at the increased salary, and I will not again be a candidate for District Attorney.

Durable chromium-plating actually is made up of layers of three different metals to provide protection and beauty. The surface to be plated is first given a copper coating to aid in holding the subsequent nickel-plating which provides the essential corrosion protection. The chromium-plating goes on last. Although the chromium gives a very high luster, it is actually porous, containing many microscopic cracks. The purpose of the nickel-plating beneath the chromium is to seal off these holes so that air and corrosives cannot get through to the base metal and cause it to corrode.

Cover Crop Keeps Soil From Moving

It has been said, "When the soil moves, people move. When the soil fails, life fails," said Wm. C. Swindle, technician of the Soil Conservation office here this week.

There are many conservation practices that are needed to keep the soil from moving, he said, and control soil erosion in the Hall County Soil Conservation District. One of the more apparent soil hazards in this area is the blowing of soil during the winter and spring. Swindle continued. Cover cropping is one of the most beneficial conservation practices that can be applied to help control the blowing of the soil.

A cover crop is a crop that is established for the purpose of protecting the soil from the elements. Close growing crops, legumes or non-legumes, are needed as a part of a crop rotation or as special crop for land cover in any row crop farming area, Swindle said.

Cover crops are also beneficial in many other ways besides helping control wind erosion. A good cover crop will help prevent water runoff and will increase water intake into the soil, add organic matter, and help keep nitrogen from leaching from the soil, he explained.

Austrian winter peas, rye, vetch and small grains may be planted in this area to serve as cover 25,000-SEAT HOME FOR BUFFS—Here is an artist's drawing of West Texas State's slick 25,000-seat football stadium, due to be built in 1958. The horseshoe structure will be located on Highways 60 and 87, 13 miles south of Amarillo and two miles north of Canyon.

crops for protection of the soil. If peas or vetch are used, they should be inoculated before planting, he said.

During the month of April 1956, there were three fairly severe dust storms recorded in this area by SCS technicians. In one dust storm on April 9, 1956, a total of approximately 90,000 acres of cropland in Hall County were damaged by blowing dust, Swindle said. About 10,000 acres of this soil was blowing with severe damage. Since Hall County has only 235,480 acres of cropland, this represents a fairly high percentage of soil damaged by wind. If there had been cover crops on this land, the extent of damage would not have been so extensive, he said.

"We can hardly afford to let our soil move at this rate, especially when it takes nature from 400-1000 years to replace a single inch of topsoil. Now is the time to begin thinking about and making preparations for the planting of cover crops. Farmers desiring additional information are invited to contact the local SCS office, Swindle concluded.

Electronics Industry May Come to Texas

AUSTIN — Texas has an excellent chance to put its brand on a sizeable part of the fast-growing electronics industry, a University of Texas Bureau of Business Research staff member asserts.

James H. Keahey, writing in the current issue of Texas Business Review, says the state has great potential in all three basic electronics markets — defense, industry and entertainment.

"And Texas has an ace in the hole: the market for Texas-made electronics devices is not limited by the state's boundaries. Texas as would be the logical Southwest and, more important, all of Latin America," he said. Texas also is strong in factor important to electronics industry — sources, Keahey points out. Industry is still heavily dependent on hand labor, and production requires hundreds of workers, usually women, to assemble the components. Texas' talent Commission studies that when new jobs are opened up, however, take them, and manufacturers have little trouble staffing plants.
