Report From Washington

By Walter Rogers

CONGRESSMAN, 30th District

The 85th Congress Convenes

Shortly after high noon on the 3rd day of January the Honorable Sam Rayburn, who had been duly elected Speaker, tapped his gavel and called to order the first session of the 85th Congress of the United States of America. Across the Capitol the same procedure obtained in the Senate where the Vice President was presiding. The oath of office was administered to all those present and the organizational activities commenced immediately.

There was ample indication from the beginning that this session of the Congress would not go wanting for explosive issues. In fact, Dulles had been conferring with Members of Congress for several days prior to January 3 in an effort to obtain some degree of unanimity in passing the resolution to grant unlimited power to the President for use of American boys in foreign areas. At the same time it was announced that the President would appeal to a joint session of the Congress on January 5 in an effort to push over the resolution.

These activities clearly indicate that most of the big issues will stem from the International problems and our foreign policy. The Hungarian Refugee program will prove much more explosive than anticipated by many. People are beginning to ask numerous questions concerning this particular situation. For instance, the Washington mail brings in such questions as these: What is the national extraction or the predominant blood line of the refugees? What is their average age? What kind of work can they do? What work are they willing to do? Why isn't Russia making an effort to keep them from escaping? Is it possible that some of them have been Moscow trained? Will the relaxing of our immigration laws, in order to take care of these refugees on a temporary basis, result in efforts to completely change our immigration laws? Are many of these people more interested in obtaining U. S. Citizenship than what happens to Hungary?

There is no reason why these questions and many others should not be answered fully and to the satisfaction of the people of this country. At the present time there are doubts in many minds. One woman called an agency which had been advertised as having something to do with this program. She explained to the agency that she could provide facilities and employment for one or two who would be interested in doing domestic work. She was advised by the agency that the refugees were not interested in doing domestic work. This situation created two questions in my mind. In the first place, if they were interested in escaping, it would seem to me that they would not be so choosy about their employment. In the second place, it occurred to me that a troublesome situation could develop from the importation of skilled workers to replace our own citizens in many instances. There has been a growing fear on the part of many of our people who are getting up in years that their services are no longer needed or wanted in the skilled-worker field and in several of the commercial fields. Many of these people have written me concerning their dilemma. It would be tragic if people from foreign countries were imported into our own country and placed into jobs that should be occupied by our own citizens regardless of the particular work to be done. Many other incidents such as the above have given rise to the doubts and created the questions. Therefore, I think that an early answer to all of the questions would be in order.

U. S. Troops on Foreign Soil
Probably the most important issue that will face this Congress and this country for a long time to come is the request of President Eisenhower that he be granted unlimited power to use American boys in foreign lands to help stem communism. Everyone would join in most any effort to help stem communism, but it must be remembered that the use of American boys in foreign fields is a very serious matter. Under such powers the President could dispatch the troops to such places as he saw fit and say that it was being done for the purpose of stemming communism. No one would doubt his sincerity in this conclusion, but there are many, many people in this country who could very well conclude that the use of American troops in that particular area was not stemming communism. In other words, there is no need to beg the question. If it is the opinion and will of the American people that one man, to wit, the President of the United States, should have the authority to dispatch American boys in uniform to any part of the world, that power should be unlimited. Communism knows no particular area. It can be employed in several widely separated places simultaneously or can be handled in such manner as Moscow might desire. The real question is whether or not one man should have such power or whether the matter should be left to the elected representatives of the people to act at such time as need for action arises.

In my opinion, the elected representatives of the people of this country will act with necessary dispatch when and if the time comes that the shedding of American blood on foreign soil is necessary for the preservation of our nation. God forbid that it ever does.

Morris Odom Named USO Co. Chairman

Morris Odom was named this week as chairman of Hall County on the Texas United Defense Fund, the state-wide group which will sponsor USO's campaign for $792,396 in Texas this year.

The quota for Hall County is $800.00. At present there are 199 servicemen from Hall County serving in the Armed Forces.

Odom was appointed by L. C. Martin, who is district chairman of the USO to the young men and women of the Nation's armed forces.

There was a 20 per cent drop in forest fires in the U. S. over recent months.

Better Poultry Now Available

The American housewife, says Kermit Schlamb, extension poultry marketing specialist, can be thanked for the improved appearance of poultry offered on today's market. Store sales showed that women prefer a ready dressed, meaty bird with yellow skin and light pinfeathers that eliminate the tedious job that formerly was a part of getting a chicken or turkey ready for cooking. Breeders went to work to help the producers meet these requirements and today's poultry is the result.

MRS. GENE MURRAY

Miss Elizabeth Grundy Becomes Bride Of Gene Murray in Pretty Church Rites

Nuptial vows were exchanged Sunday, Dec. 23 in the First Presbyterian Church in Memphis by Miss Elizabeth Grundy, daughter of Mrs. Allen Grundy, and Gene Erwin Murray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Murray of Childress.

The Rev. Frank E. King, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, read the double ring service.

The background for the altar area was formed by a fan-shaped arrangement of huckleberry and jade, flanked by baskets of white gladioli and palm trees. Christmas cedar and white tapers provided further decorations throughout the sanctuary.

Organ selections presented during the prelude included "Air" and "Jesus, Joy of Man's Desiring" by Bach and "Arioso" by Handel. Organist was Miss Helen Bremer of Childress, who also played the traditional wedding marches. Miss Joann Stanaland of Tulia sang "I Love Thee" by Grieg and the Wedding Hymn, "O Perfect Love," accompanied at the piano by Miss Juanelva Rose, also of Tulia.

The bride's only attendant was her cousin, Miss Tommye Noel. She wore a chapel-length aqua taffeta dress, fashioned along princess lines, and carried a crescent-shaped bouquet of white pom-pom mums.

The flower girl was Martha Lynn Grundy, niece of the bride. Her princess style dress was of white brocade taffeta and she wore a headband of feathered aqua carnations. She carried a white basket tied in aqua ribbons and scattered white flower petals before the bride.

Allen Thompson Grundy, nephew of the bride, entered with his sister and served as ring bearer, carrying the two rings on miniature pillows.

Given in marriage by her brother, Larry Grundy, the bride was attired in a chapel-length satin brocade gown, designed in princess silhouette with portrait neckline and three quarter length sleeves. Her shoulder tip veil of tulle illusion was held by a feathered headpiece. She wore lace mits and carried a crescent-shaped bouquet of Red American Beauty roses.

The bride's mother wore a French blue dress with white accessories, while Mrs. Murray, the mother of the groom, chose a dove gray dress and wore white accessories. Both had white carnation corsages.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the Grundy home with the wedding party, immediate families and shower hostesses attending. The bride's chosen colors of white and ice blue were carried out in the reception rooms. Guests were registered by Miss Evelyn Weir of Childress.

The bride's table was laid with an Irish linen cloth and centered with an arrangement featuring a miniature bride and groom. The doll bride was dressed in white brocade, identical to the bride's gown. A tiered wedding cake, decorated with white roses and ice blue wedding bells was served by Mrs. Larry Grundy and punch was poured by Mrs. Scotty Grundy. Also assisting in serving were Mrs. Kenneth Givens, and Mrs. Ewell Noel and Mrs. Glen Bruce.

The bride was graduated from Memphis High School and is now a senior attending West Texas State College at Canyon. The groom is a graduate of Childress High School, received his degree from WTSC last August and is now serving in the armed forces at Fort Carson, Colorado Springs.

Among out-of-town relatives and friends attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Montgomery, Sr., of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Ewell Noel and Miss Tommye Noel of Denton, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Grundy and children of Bartlesville, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. Scotty Grundy of Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Miles Kinard and Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Kinard of Ordway, Colo., Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kinard and Mike of Esteline, Mrs. R. T. Davenport of Raton, N. M., Mrs. A. D. Jack E. Hightower of Vernon Is Guest Speaker at Atalantean Club Meeting

Jack E. Hightower of Vernon, District Attorney of the 46th District, was guest speaker when the Atalantean Club met on Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 2, in the home of Mrs. H. B. Estes.

A former Memphis resident, Mr. Hightower was reared here and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hightower. He was introduced by Mrs. S. B. Pallmeyer.

Speaking on "Informed Legislation," Mr. Hightower discussed what the individual as a voter and a citizen of the community could do. He stressed that it is our government and our state and it is our duty to be an informed citizen. As a state and nation we must wake up as individuals that we are people and know what we are voting for.

He urged that we write individual letters to our congressmen and senators rather than petitions and let them know how we feel and what we think. He stated that we pay taxes and should know and keep up with our natural resources in Texas.

He also gave a viewpoint on candidates who come to the door. "We are so prone to shut the door in their face," he commented. "Instead we should invite them in and ask them questions and if they can't answer them and look you in the eye then you had better not vote for that candidate," he added.

In conclusion, he pointed out that too often people go to the polls on election day and do not know the amendments and vote most any way. We should read the amendments and know what we are voting for.

During the business session officers were elected with Mrs. N. A. Hightower, president presiding.

Making up the official staff for the 1957-58 club year will be Mrs. L. C. Martin, president; Mrs. Herbert Curry, first vice president; Mrs. Bill Cosby, second vice president; Mrs. J. W. Coppedge, secretary; Mrs. Ralph Williams, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Cecil McCollum, treasurer; Mrs. H. B. Estes, parliamentarian; Mrs. Elria Davenport, historian and Mrs. Ed Foxhall, reporter.

The next meeting is slated for Jan. 16 in the home of Mrs. Ralph Williams.

Refreshments of salad, sandwiches, potato chips, mints, coffee and tea were served during the social hour.

Members present were Mmes. W. R. Scott, Jack Rose, Robert Sexauer, Ralph Williams, S. B. Pallmeyer, Myrtis Phelan, J. A.

HOMER W. TUCKER

Duval County, USA

This is the second in a series of articles by New York newspaper reporters Frederick Hodgson and Franz Rosenwald, who recently spent several weeks in Duval County, South Texas, gathering facts for this series.

FREDERICK HODGSON
 DUEVAL, TEX.—To know Duval County is to know the power of George Parr. To know the county is to know Parr himself. Parr, and that of his power, is based on the power, by tradition an "angel" of the people in Duval County, so called even by his families may have his land since the days of the conquistadors. Most of the people in Duval County are poor. Many are desperately poor. Many speak no English.

The feeling, the psychology, the atmosphere, is that of the frontier, of violence and of sudden death. It would give a man from Austin, from Dallas or from Chicago quite a jolt to sit in a man's office as I did and ask a casual question about another man and have your host slam a loaded .45 on the polished desk so hard that it left a dent.

"One of these days the blankety blank so and so is going to walk in here and I'm going to kill him."

Or to hear a peace officer say very seriously that if he were such and such a man—naming him—that he wouldn't fool around waiting for the law, he'd just up and kill the fellow who had gunned a relative.

Or to hear another man tell of visiting a friend in jail for murder, a friend who was acquitted quickly when the case went to a jury. I asked for the circumstances.

"Oh, he was throwing out of a bar when he said, 'Go ahead, why don't you kill me! My friend said 'Alright, if that's what you want.' Bang!"

It's not so many years ago that these same men were killing Mexican raiders from across the Rio Grande on sight—and asking questions afterward.

George B. Parr's father, old Senator Archie Parr, and the son after him, put the anti-Mexican, patronizing psychology of the "Anglo" into reverse. They then parlayed the gratitude and adoration of the Latins into one of the most cynical, most ruthless dictatorships in American history.

Old Archie, then a red-necked, cocky little $25 a month cow puncher, arrived in San Diego at the turn of the century and took the side of the "Mexicans" against the "Anglos."

The "Anglos" in Duval were then split into two factions, led by the Robinsons and the Hoffmans. Archie shrewdly moved in between the two groups, voted his Mexicans as a solid unit and before a dozen years had passed he owned the county as a private barony. He knew every political trick in the book and added some of his own. The title "Duke of Duval" was no empty honor.

Old Archie was a small man, pot-bellied in his later years, who spoke Spanish like a native and thought like a Mexican. He apparently sincerely loved his followers, loved them as a man might love a faithful dog. He punished them when they were naughty, fed them when they were hungry, led them like a flock of sheep, robbed them blind, tended their hurts and used them so adroitly that no man dared oppose him. He made alliances with political leaders in adjoining counties. His power was vast.

Old Archie sat in the State Senate for twenty years, ran a rip-roaring wide open county back home in Duval where not a dog barked without permission. He controlled the courts, the police, the schools, the rackets, everything in the county. He manipulated elections with the dexterity of a gambler with a deck of cards. There were sporadic revolts against his rule, of course, but these were put down ruthlessly. On primary day in 1912, for example, three men were shot to death in the street in front of the Courthouse. Two years later a determined attempt was made by Parr foes to clean up Duval by the simple expedient of abolishing the county altogether. It didn't work. In 1915 the Texas Supreme Court ordered an audit of the county's books and the Courthouse burned down after the auditors had worked only one day, destroying the records.

In building his power, and in consolidating it, Old Archie had one powerful force operating in his favor—the Constitution of the State of Texas.

Ironically, that much-amended Constitution of 1878 was framed deliberately to give counties the greatest possible measure of home rule. Behind the solid rampart of that document the Duke of Duval ruled with the absolute authority of Medici.

Thus it was the Constitution, as much as Parr himself, that posed the serious obstacle to Attorney John Ben Shepperd in his march on the Duchy of Duval. He had to stay carefully within its obsolete framework while fighting against forces that cared not one snap of the fingers for all the law in Texas.

Old Archie's son, the present Duke of Duval, grew up in this atmosphere of corrupt politics. He knew of the liquor-laden pack trains that came into the county during the lush days of prohibition. He knew of the other things that went on, and he learned well. His playmates were the Latin children of San Diego. Spanish, not English, was his mother's tongue. Among his playmates was Manuel "Meme" Marroquin, now Parr's most bitter enemy, editor of a militant little bi-lingual newspaper "New Duval." Other articles in this series will tell more of Marroquin, a man who has suffered much, including physical beatings, at the hands of the Boss and his henchmen.

Mrs. A. B. Daulton Services Held In Childress

Final rites for Mrs. A. B. Daulton, 60, resident of the Carey community since 1914, were held at the First Assembly of God Church in Childress Wednesday afternoon with Rev. C. V. McMullen, pastor, in charge of the services.

Mrs. Daulton died at her home south of Carey Sunday morning. Interment was in the Childress Cemetery under the direction of Spicer Funeral Home.

Miss Mirtie Oma Walker was born Feb. 13, 1896 in Collin County and was united in marriage to Arthur Baker Daulton on Jan. 11, 1913 at Sherman.

The family moved to Carey in 1914 and had made their home there since that time. She was a member of the Assembly of God Church.

Mrs. Daulton is survived by her husband, two daughters, Mrs. Beal Smith of Tell and Mrs. Maxie Allen of Zail, Ariz.; one son, James Daulton of Norwalk, Calif.; 11 grandchildren; two great-grandchildren; two brothers, A. A. Walker of Estelline and Otto Walker of Oklahoma City, Okla.; one sister, Mrs. Beatrice Langford of Denver, Colo.; two half-brothers, Lee and Jake Davis of Childress and a half-sister, Mrs. Hubert Moore of Childress.

Delphian Club Meets in Home of Mrs. A. Anisman

Mrs. A. Anisman was hostess to members of the Delphian Club on Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 1, at her home on South Eighth St.

The program study for the afternoon was "Highway to Better Nutrition." In introducing the study, Mrs. Lynn McKown, program chairman, said that women who knew more about nutrition have better homes.

A radio script, "The Label Does The Work," was read by Mrs. Hershel Potts and Mrs. J. K. Porter, who pointed out that housewives should read the labels on the cans and cartons of the products they buy. The label holds the maker responsible for the statements made on the label as to quantity, quality, size or whatever information is given.

Mrs. Ben Wilson, Jr., gave the "Little Purple Stamp." First, she stressed the goodness of the Food and Drug Act passed in 1906, telling how its passage helped to stop so many people from dying with food poisoning. The meat you buy with that little purple stamp means that the meat has been inspected by a government inspector and meets government specifications, Mrs. Wilson said. There are also city, local and state laws which protect the buyer from faulty meat, Mrs. Wilson added.

Mrs. O. R. Goodall gave "Is The Poultry You Buy Good Enough to Eat?" Poultry, unlike most major foods need not be inspected for wholesomeness, Mrs. Goodall said. Therefore, chickens and turkeys are sometimes sold with sores, swelling and disease. Inspection by trained men and women is needed during poultry processing to guarantee the consumer a wholesome and clean product, Mrs. Goodall concluded.

A short business session was conducted by the club president, Mrs. J. L. Barnes. Cake and coffee was served to Meses. Walter Hicks, Hershel Potts, Lynn McKown, Clyde Smith, Ben Wilson, Jr., C. D. Morris, Jack Boone, J. S. McMurry, R. H. Wherry, Sidney Baker, Mildred Stephens, J. L. Barnes, G. W. Kesterson, O. R. Goodall, J. K. Porter and hostess, Mrs. Anisman.

The next meeting is scheduled for January 15 at 4 p. m. in the home of Mrs. J. S. McMurry.

SAVE From $50.00 to $100.00 on TV SETS

Yes, I over-bought for Christmas and am overloaded on the cheap and medium priced sets, as most people bought the better and higher priced sets.

So, will sell a part of them at cost plus $20.00 until the stock is reduced.

As Philco has no "bugs" we did not have to come out in January with new models but will carry through 17 of the same models, and just add a few different cabinets that the women want.

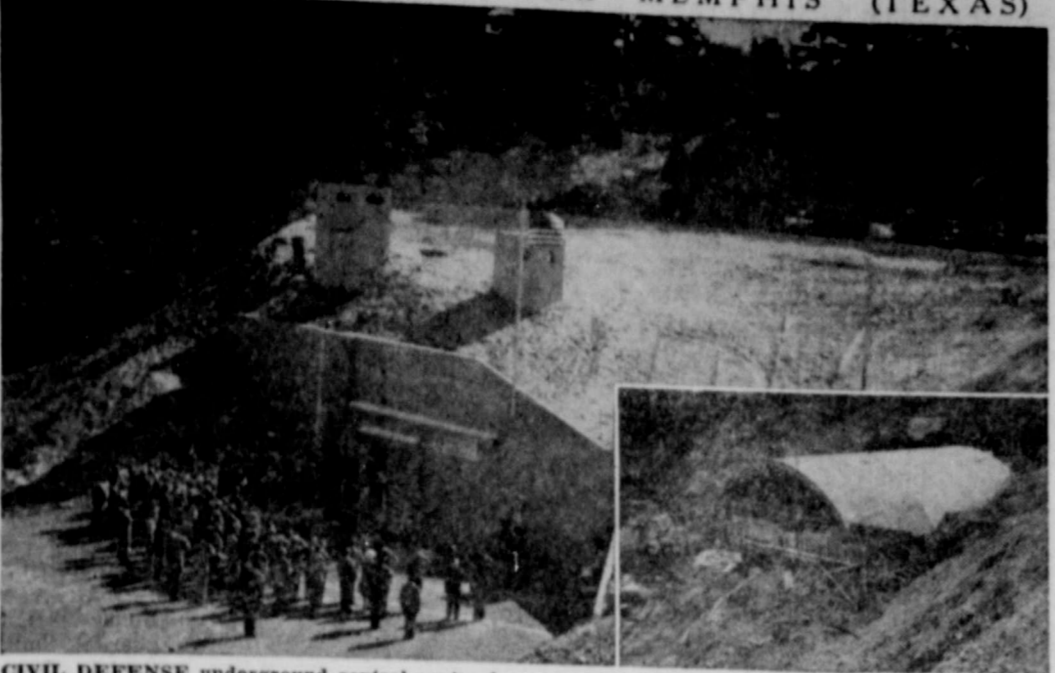

Also a big reduction on all small appliances.

Regional Workshop For Superintendents Held in Turkey

"Health and Physical Education in the Schools" was the subject of discussion at the regional workshop for school administrators held in Turkey Thursday, Jan. 3. Mary Foreman, county superintendent, said this week.

Lewis Spears, consultant from the Texas Education Agency in the field of Health and Safety Education met with the group.

The regional workshops are a part of a project of the Texas Association of School Administrators for 1956-57. The Turkey meeting was the fourth meeting for this school year. Two previous meetings were held in Clark-endon and one in Turkey. The group will meet again on Jan. 31 in the Memphis High School Cafeteria.

Superintendents attending the meeting were Wade Kimbrough, Childress W. M. Roberts, Estel-line; O. K. Edmondson, Turkey; Miss Bonnie Willis, Hall County supervisor; J. S. Hines, Hedley; John C. Winter Comes, Now Where is the Snow?

Winter moved in with a blast early Wednesday afternoon and sent thermometers plunging to a low of 19 degrees early Thursday morning, according to John J. McMickin, official weather observer.

The high Wednesday before the cold front hit was 76 degrees.

Last weekend area hopes were held high as the clouds hung close to the ground but Memphis received only .04 of an inch of moisture before the weather cleared.

Predictions today list a possibility of snow for this week's end but chances are that the area will remain dry for some time to come.

Other temperature extremes recorded by McMickin are as follows: Tuesday 30-76, Monday 35-75, Sunday 36-61, Saturday 39-43, Friday 29-49.

New Variety Of Winter Oat Proves Promising

Bronco, new attractive, light red-grain oat variety, developed by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the USDA, has equaled or outyielded present Texas commercial varieties in adapted areas of the state and exhibited more winter hardiness than such varieties as Mustang or New Nortex.

Developed from a Lee-Victoria x Fulwin cross, Bronco displayed superior winter hardiness to other varieties by posting an average survival of 73.1 per cent in nine northwest Texas tests, where differential killing occurred. Mustang's average survival in these tests was 67.0 and New Nortex registered a 46.1 per cent survival. In five North Central Texas tests, Bronco averaged 100 per cent survival, while Mustang averaged 99.6 and New Nortex 77.6.

The new variety produced 6.7 bushels more than Mustang and 9.1 bushels more than Red Rust-proof with equal or superior test. This information was gathered in 44 comparisons made in southern states. Bronco is not recommended for grain production in Central or South Texas because of susceptibility to some varieties of leaf rust, and extreme susceptibility to stem rust.

Bronco showed marked resistance to soil-borne mosaic at some locations in trials held in other states. In both field and laboratory tests Bronco showed good resistance to Helminthosporium blight, a soil-borne disease prevalent in the more humid areas of the state.

While selected from the same cross as Mustang, Bronco differs from this variety in more ways than grain color. Bronco is a late-maturing variety, averaging 5 to 7 days later than Mustang and its seedling growth habit is very prostrate during early winter. The variety responds slowly to periods of warm weather, making it less desirable for a winter pasture, but increasing its possibilities for survival.

How To Test Brakes

One out of every five cars on the road today has imperfectly functioning brakes that need adjustment or relining, according to a national survey.

This disconcerting fact is reported by American Brakeblok, one of the nation's largest manufacturers of brake lining for automobiles and trucks.

But how can the average motorist tell whether his brakes need attention? To enable him to find out quickly and simply, Brakeblok safety engineers have devised this five-point test:

1. How far down does the brake pedal move when you step on it? If it comes within 1 1/4 inches of the floorboard, your brakes need either an adjustment or new linings.
2. Does the pedal have a spongy feel? If you cannot feel it coming to a distinct stop when depressed, there may be air in the hydraulic lines. Get a mechanic to bleed the air out of the lines.
3. Does your car pull or swerve to the left or right when the brakes are applied? This could mean several things: worn or improper lining; a leak in the hydraulic lines, causing the brake on one side to function effectively while that on the other side is virtually not working; grease, oil or other foreign substance on the lining; hydraulic fluid from the wheel cylinder on the lining.
4. Remove a wheel or two and inspect the lining itself. If it's worn down to the rivet heads, or to a thickness of only about 1/8 of an inch, a relining job is called for.
5. Does your car stop within the recommended distance when the brakes are applied—30 feet, from the instant your foot hits the brake, at 40 miles an hour; 94 feet at 60 miles an hour?

If your car fails any of these tests, better get it to a first-class mechanic right away.

Good Government Starts At The Polls

Politics, the art of government, is making the headlines daily as members of the national congress perform their assigned duties. First action in the U. S. Senate was taken last Friday night when members voted 55-38 to beat a ban on use of the "filibuster." This test of strength came one day after the Democrats had organized the Senate by a vote of 47 to 49.

This week the House and Senate at Austin were organized, and a new governor will be sworn in next Tuesday. The people elected by the voters will begin making the decisions which will affect the affairs of every citizen in one way or another.

The important fact to remember is that only those persons who had received a majority vote in some race are the chosen representatives of everyone. No one can estimate what might have happened if all adult citizens in Texas had qualified themselves by payment of poll taxes, and had exercised their right to vote in the 1956 elections. Probably a few different faces could be seen in several offices.

A recent survey by the Houston Chronicle of the nation's voting record in 1956 shows that the masses are becoming more interested in better government. In the general election last November, 77.4 per cent of the eligible voters went to the polls. The figures show that only 60.4 per cent of the civilian population of this nation who were old enough to vote cast their ballots.

Some people will view the above figures with dismay, and it is something which should be corrected. No one seems to have the correct answer as to why about four out of each ten persons fail to exercise their right to vote. But a trend which started immediately after World War II is continuing. The records show that a greater and greater percentage of U. S. citizens are becoming active. It was only a short time ago that slightly more than one-half of the adults chose all public officials.

It has been estimated that approximately 500 persons who were of voting age did not pay poll taxes in Hall County last year. The potential voting strength of this county has been estimated from 2800 to 3200; yet total votes cast here in the first primary last July were slightly above 2,000.

How many people will be eligible to vote in any elections which might come up this year in our county? If something doesn't happen to cause several hundred citizens to get their poll taxes paid before Jan. 31, approximately 25% of the people will be eligible to vote. A check last week showed that a total of 537 poll taxes had been issued in the office of Mrs. W. C. Anderson, county tax collector.

The course of government, from the local level to the capitals at Austin and Washington, is determined by elections. Better government always comes from large votes. But they will not be tabulated in 1957 unless the apathy of the people is overcome, and they purchase those all-important poll taxes. Deadline for payment is the last day in January.

Here's a thought to remember: "Get your poll tax—and vote in every election!"

"The Ideas of Communism Are Dead"

Only time can put events in their proper perspective. The news that makes black headlines today may be as dead as the Pharaohs tomorrow. But it seems as certain as anything can be that history will record that the most significant and far-reaching event of 1956, and perhaps of many years, was the revolt of Hungary.

This uprising was successful in the ordinary sense of the word. Rifles and improvised grenades and fists, unfortunately, are not a match for tanks and artillery. But in another, more fundamental sense, this act on the part of an oppressed people was almost incredibly successful.

It showed that courage, and the willingness to risk death and torture in the pursuit of freedom exist in undiminished vigor in this chaotic world.

It showed peoples everywhere, once and for all, the cruel true face of communism. This is enormously important. Reports from country after country state that membership in communist parties has abruptly declined, and that the circulations of communist and communist-sympathizing organs are shrinking. Well-known writers and other molders of opinion, who out of a mistaken and stubborn idealism once supported or tolerated communism, have openly proclaimed their defection from the party and from the Kremlin. The ruthless acts of the Soviet government and the Red Army have excited almost universal horror.

It showed, above all, that communism contains the seeds of its own destruction, and that its very structure is crumbling. A view that is held by all manner of experts was thus expressed by Kurt S. Lachmann, a journalist of long experience in Eastern Europe, in U. S. News & World Report: "What we are witnessing now is the gradual decomposition of the entire communist system . . . the ideas of communism are dead. What remains is the lumbering, armored body of Soviet military might."

This does not mean that there can be any relaxation in the Western world—its governments and forces must be more wary and alert than ever. To quote Mr. Lachmann again, "Dictators . . . are being cornered. It is well to remember that cornered animals often are dangerous." Desperate fanatics are capable of the most desperately fanatical acts. There is always the possibility that, seeing their own world collapsing under the weight of its sins and excesses, they will attempt to bring all the rest of the world down too.

This is speculation. But there is nothing speculative about the fundamental lesson that has come to us out of Hungary—a lesson that is destined to be read to us again and again, as communism goes through its death agonies, however long that may take.

Super-government, all-powerful government, monolithic government, socialism, communism—whatever name you want to use—is the implacable enemy of human freedom. It reduces the individual to the stature of a cipher. It makes a mockery of every concept of human dignity, human rights, the preciousness of human life.

What is the status of Freedom of Information in this country?

After reading the report on the Advancement of Freedom of Information Committee of Sigma Delta Chi, we find:

Only 22 states have statutes guaranteeing their citizens the right to inspect records of their governments.

The states are Alabama, Arizona, California, Florida, Idaho, Indiana, Kentucky, Michigan, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Mississippi, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, North Carolina, Oregon, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Utah, Washington, and Wisconsin.

Only 10 states have a statute stipulating that meetings of government bodies must be open. These states are Alabama, Indiana, California, Washington, Utah, Idaho, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Maryland and Louisiana.

Thus, concludes the committee in 26 states it is possible for the politician, at his will, to close the records of the citizens government at any time and in 38 states it is possible for him, at his will, to conduct the business of the people in secret sessions behind locked doors.—Claude News

Southern Accent

With so many Yankees invading the South we fear that the time might come when the Southern accent will become as extinct as the whooping crane. But until that time comes we would prefer that TV comedians stop putting saccharine and arsenic in the Southern accent and Texas drawl.

The Southern accent in each state is as different as night and day. The fact is that there are as many Southern accents as there are Southern States. Not only do Southerners in different states have different ways of speaking, but every Texan knows that even the accent between those in deep East Texas is different from that out on the Texas plains.

Not even the drawl is common to all southern accents. We here in Texas certainly do not talk the same as those in the Carolinas. There are Southern dialects in which words are not wafted slowly into the air, but pronounced rather quickly and melodiously.

Ashley Cooper, writing in the Charleston News Courier has compiled a dictionary of Charleston use that he says is for use of the tourists visiting the Holy City. Undoubtedly the dictionary has found its way to New York and is now standard equipment for some of the TV comedians. Here are a few samples that we thought might provoke your sense of humor.

Abode—A wooden plank. A boot—approximately. Air—What you hear with, Bare Bull—Nick-name for William. Coat—Where they got that judge and all.

Cup—Place for housing hens. Des Moines—They belong to me. Faints—A barricade of wood, brick or stone. Flow—What you stand on in a house. Frustrate—Tops. Go it!—An animal that eats tin cans and smells bad. Hall—The abode of integration and other evil spirits. Halo—Greeting similar to how do you do? Harmony—Cooked grits. Hawers—Quadrupeds that eat hay. Hone—Something on an auto

Traffic Violations

Quite frequently we receive a card from William R. Sullivan of Los Angeles, Calif., on which he pens a bit of philosophy or perhaps a mere observation. Most all his material is food for thought.

On his latest card he writes, "Fines do not seem to be the answer to our traffic violations. Perhaps better results could be obtained by impounding the car from one to 30 days. If we had to do without the use of it for a few days each time maybe we might become educated."

Informative Panel Discussion Held At Austin PTA

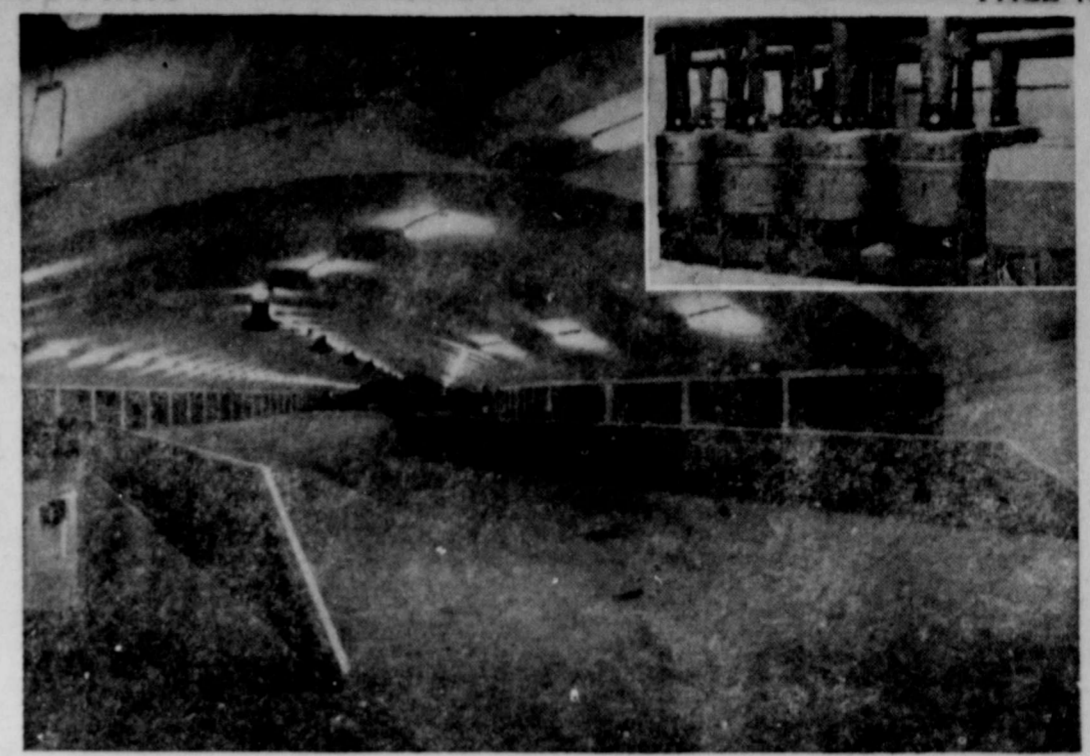

The Stephen F. Austin Parent-Teacher Association met in regular session on Tuesday evening, Jan. 8, in the school auditorium.

After the invocation by Mrs. Bill Cosby, a short business session was conducted by the vice president, Mrs. Jack Rose, in the absence of the president, Mrs. Zeno Lemons, who is presently hospitalized recuperating from surgery.

First grade members under the direction of their teacher, Mrs. Clarence Morris, led in pledge of allegiance to the flag, then sang a number of patriotic songs.

As the program a most informative and interesting panel discussion was held by Wendell Harrison. The subject under discussion was "School Financing." Very able participants were R. C. Lemons, Miss Mary Foreman and Miss Topsy Gilreath. Mr. Lemons discussed on local level, Miss Foreman on county level, and Miss Gilreath on state level.

The next meeting will be held in conjunction with Travis PTA in the form of a Founder's Day Tea February 14 at 3 p. m. in the Travis School cafeteria. The tea honors past presidents and commemorates the birthday of PTA.

Soil Conservation Service To Expand Program in Great Plains Area of U. S.

The local Soil Conservation Service received notification this week from State Conservationist H. N. Smith that quick action will be taken to put into effect the stepped-up Great Plains program in this area.

Smith said that he has called a conference of state leaders of agricultural programs and agencies in Texas for Jan. 11 at College Station to blue print the plan of action on the farm and range lands of the 85 counties in that portion of the state.

Administrative responsibility for and leadership in the Great Plains program was recently placed on the Soil Conservation Service by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson.

Smith pointed out that the order provided for the combining of resources of the Department of Agriculture's various agencies in a step-by-step process for making long-time adjustment in land use, cropping systems, and in the treatment of cultivated lands and ranges, under the climatic hazards of the Great Plains.

The Great Plains program, brought into being by Public Law 1021, passed last August, is designed to give farmers and ranchers, in the Great Plains area of the 10 involved states, both immediate and long-range help in the use of their land within its capabilities, Smith pointed out.

He explained that Public Law 1021 authorized an appropriation of not over $150 million for a 15-year period. Funds to aid farmers and ranchers are expected to be available after July 1, 1957. Expenditures may not exceed $25 million in any one year.

The program will apply to counties to be designated by the Secretary of Agriculture in portions of Colorado, Kansas, Montana, Nebraska, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Texas and Wyoming. "The continued drought in these states has emphasized the need for such a program to help develop a more stable farm and ranch economy in this region," Smith said.

Wind erosion conditions in the Great Plains area of Texas are serious with 403,000 acres damaged during October and November. Approximately 6,500,000 acres in a 68 county area of northwest Texas are in condition to be damaged by wind erosion this winter and spring, Smith announced.

He emphasized that the Great Plains program is not an annual or disaster type program nor does it replace any other existing agricultural program.

"This is a way to an enduring agriculture based on the capabilities of land and geared to the climatic hazards that we all know are ever present in this important area," he said. "It is not a production adjustment or an income supplement program. It is a voluntary program with long-term assurance of needed financial help for a complete soil and water conservation plan applied to individual farms and ranches."

"The program," Smith added, "will point up the responsibility of local people in fitting their agriculture to the capabilities of the land and the hazards of climate. This responsibility is shared by farmers and ranchers, soil conservation districts, county committees, county commissioners and by all other groups, urban and rural, interested in the economy and the development of their home areas."

This money is in addition to the $56,000 which the county was allocated in the first budget announcement about two weeks ago. This brings the total amount available for the Conservation Reserve program for this year to $177,707. Of course, a large part of this money must be used to make payments on the land which was placed under the Conservation Reserve program last year.

Hall County farmers signed up 10,818 acres for the program in 1956 and will receive payments totaling $183,806 for their 1956 contracts by the time all of the practices have been completed, McKown said.

An additional 6,635 acres have been signed-up this year, for which money is available, and another 3,000 acres have been signed-up for which there is no money available. McKown said that no more money will probably be allotted to this county until after March 15, 1957. Another $50,000 is needed to cover the acreage already signed-up under the program.

The total amount in the Conservation Reserve is about 7 per cent of the Hall County crop land. The annual rent from this land will bring in payments of $192,000 and, over the five-year period for which the contracts cover, will total $960,000.

Read Your Bible By HARRY GRAHAM MUST OBEY THE NEW TESTAMENT The New Testament reveals that God has vested "all authority" in Christ (Matt. 28:18), and that Christ serves as God's spokesman today (Heb. 1:1-2). As the New Testament alone sets forth Christ's instructions to his disciples, it alone must serve as the basis for all religious teaching and practice. This idea is fundamental with members of churches of Christ. We believe that teaching the New Testament without modification is the only way to lead men and women to become Christians. We affirm that it is pertinent to ask such questions as: Why not obey Christ only, become a Christian only and remain a Christian only? Why become a member of a denomination and wear a denominational name? Why subscribe to any creed other than the New Testament? An historical view will help to clarify the position of members of the church of Christ: The establishment of the church, often referred to in the Bible as the kingdom, was foretold by the prophets and John the Baptist; and while upon the earth Jesus promised to "build" his church (Matt. 16:18). It is evident from the scriptures that the coming of the Holy Spirit on the first Pentecost after the resurrection of Christ (Acts 2) marked the establishment of the church. Before that day scriptural references to the establishment of the church indicate it a future event. After Pentecost the church is spoken of as an established institution. What was taught at Jerusalem over 1900 years ago is exactly the doctrine taught and believed by members of the church of Christ today. Church of Christ

Department of Agriculture Tells of Electric Advances During 1956

The rural electric systems have little more than a pair of lines supported by wooden poles and Rural Electrification Administration loans—celebrating their coming of age in their communities and a financial performance, the department of Agriculture says today.

Attention to sales and management practices, together with an influx of non-farm residents and small industries moving from crowded cities, pushed total operating revenues past the $500 million mark for the first time in the 21-year-old program. In 1956 the systems reported $449,625,487 of operating revenues. Total net margins, after deductions for expenses, depreciation and interest, rose more than 25 percent over the previous year and reached a record $73.3 million.

LEGAL NOTICES

STATE OF TEXAS TO: WALTER T. WOOLDRIDGE vs. EDITH E. WOOLDRIDGE, Defendants.

Edith E. Wooldridge, Defendant, is hereby commanded to appear before the Honorable 100th Court of Hall County at the Court House thereof, in Memphis, Texas, on the 10th day of January, 1957, at 10 o'clock of the first Monday next after the expiration of forty-two days from the date of the issuance of this citation, same being the 13th day of February A. D. 1957, in this cause, to answer to the Plaintiff's Petition filed in the Court, on the 13th day of December, A. D. 1956, in this cause, styled J. A. Wooldridge, Plaintiff, vs. Donald J. Wooldridge and wife, Edith E. Wooldridge, Defendants.

Even more impressive are the indications of growing maturity and financial stability to be found on the 1956 reports from our borrowers," Mr. Hamill added.

REA's preliminary 1956 figures reflect the expanding use of electric power for farm production. Average monthly consumption by all residential consumers, including farm users, rose 12 per cent over 1955 to 269 kilowatt hours, but the extra power came at lower cost.

Thousands of rural subscribers received new dial telephone service during 1956 as a result of the REA telephone program. REA telephone borrowers placed in service an estimated 271 new dial exchanges and completed an estimated 27,700 miles of line during the 12-month period. Since the start of the REA telephone program several years ago, some 250 individual borrowers have placed in operation 990 dial exchanges with the aid of REA financing. These borrowers also constructed 81,800 miles of telephone line.

The total number of REA telephone borrowers passed 500 during the year and was expected to reach 508 by December 31. This is an addition of an estimated 93 new borrowers during the year. Telephone loans for 1956 are expected to total $82 million which will bring the total loans under the program to $351 million by the end of the calendar year.

from the office of James Z. Pearce, Amarillo, Texas

A large number of agents and attorneys enrolled to practice before the Treasury Department will have to renew their Treasury Card during 1957. James Z. Pearce, administrative officer of the Amarillo Office of Internal Revenue Service, stated that some 62,000 enrollees are required to renew their enrollment during 1957 under the regulations governing such practice.

These are persons who, as of the time of their prior enrollment, were found qualified to represent claimants before the Department, principally in Internal Revenue matters, and whose enrollments expire next year. Enrollment cards are valid for five years following date of issuance. The large number of practitioners who must file renewal applications in 1957 results from the running of this five-year limitation made effective beginning January 1, 1952.

A recent amendment to the regulations permits application for renewal of enrollment to be made at any time during a 24-month period, beginning one year before and ending one year after expiration date. Holder of a void card is not permitted to practice before the Treasury Department.

Pierce said machinery to process the expected peak load of renewals is being set up immediately in the Dallas District Office. He urged enrollees confronted with early expiration dates to file applications in those offices beginning in mid-December.

Renewal applications (Form 23-A) will be available in North Texas on approximately Jan. 1, Pierce explained. A number of practitioners have already requested renewal applications and the Internal Revenue Service will mail the new Form 23A to them as soon as the forms have been received.

The Memphis boxing team is in Plainview this week participating in the Plainview District Golden Gloves tournament which will end Friday night.

Billy Ed Thompson lost his first match Tuesday night to Chester Barlow of Tulsa in a close decision.

Ronnie George won his first match the same night by defeating Bill Hardy of Tulsa.

Tonight, Thursday, Jimmy Bounds of Lakeview will meet Joe Martinez of Plainview. A Childress boy, Jerry Cawthorn, will also fight under the Memphis banner tonight.

In the final matches Friday night Royce Young will meet Jerry Perez, who has won the open division at Amarillo for the past two years. George Freelen will meet at Latin American boy in the finals of the 112 pounds high school division.

Two Wellington boys, Clinton Gibbs and Junior White will also be representing Memphis in the finals Friday night when they meet Ross Bond and Howard Foster, respectively.

Frank Smith Jr., J. Henry Ford, Ted Graham and Dr. O. R. Goodall have been coaching the team for the past two weeks getting the boys in condition for the coming tournaments.

The boys will also enter the Berger District tournament scheduled for Jan. 17, 18 and 19 and the Wellington District tournament, Jan. 24, 25 and 26, Smith said. The district tournaments are held each year prior to the Amarillo Regional Golden Gloves event which will begin on Jan. 29 and continue through Feb. 2.

Smith explained that any boy who wins one of the district tournaments is not eligible to compete in any of the other district events since he has to represent the district he won in at the regional series.

The only left-handed slugger on this year's team is Ronnie George. "This is his first year on the team, but he has looked good in workouts," Smith said.

Seven Miles of Farm-to-Market Road To Be Built

Contract for paving seven miles of a farm-to-market road in Hall County will be let in Austin Jan. 22. According to a contractor's notice, released by W. O. Hamm, Texas Highway Department resident engineer of Childress, the pavement will extend northeast of Plaska to the end of F. M. Highway No. 1041 near the Friendship School.

The new pavement will be a continuation of the road which joins State Highway 256 near the southwest corner of the city limits. It will include construction of a bridge across Indian Creek at a location northeast of Plaska.

The designation of this improvement was made by the commissioners court approximately a year ago.
