Insect Repellent Termed Twice As Good by USDA Test

The latest thing in all-purpose insect repellents is diethyl toluamide. Test repellents containing this chemical display twice as much resistance to normal "wear-off action" as do other types. It will probably be available in several commercial products this spring.

The new repellent can be safely applied to the skin or clothing and will successfully protect the wearer against mosquitoes, chiggers, ticks, fleas, and biting flies, according to the USDA. It offers better protection against mosquitoes generally than any other single chemical or combination of chemicals.

Its high resistance to rubbing means longer-lasting protection for farmers and all outdoorsmen. The new repellent outperforms all others against the stable fly and is as good as any other for deer flies or sand flies. It is the best repellent so far developed for ticks. In addition, a pleasant lotion "feel" makes it ideal for

There were four absentees in Miss McElrath's first grade room on Monday.

Both Miss McElrath's and Mrs. Newton's first grade rooms enjoyed a visitor on Monday. She was Mrs. Tommy Hale, first grade teacher in McLean. The snow caused her to remain here until Monday noon with relatives.

Mrs. Gurley has thirty students in her room. This is one section of the fourth grade. Twenty-eight children made 100 in spelling this week. Even though we were working on a program the week before, the large number of students were able to reach the 100 mark. Ann Coleman and Vivian Maddox have made 100 in spelling every week so far this year.

Auto Inspection Deadline April 15

Only two-thirds of the total number of vehicle owners in Texas have received their 1957 vehicle inspection stickers, Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety said today. He warned against the last minute rush at inspection stations at the close of the inspection period April 15.

"Of the more than four million vehicle owners in Texas only about 2,500,000 have had their cars, trucks and other vehicles inspected, leaving more than one million to act within the remaining three weeks."

The state police director reminded motorists of the impending deadline with a note of concern. He suggested that automobile owners visit a near-by inspection station now before inspection lines become long and they suffer an undue loss of time and effort.

In commenting generally on the inspection program Col. Garrison said the correction of mechanical defects in vehicles operated upon our state highways plays a substantial part in preventing traffic accidents.

An Open Letter To The Patrons Of The Memphis Independent School District

After much thought, study and prayer I have decided to put my name on the ballot for the election of School Board Trustees. I have made this decision without influence from any individual or group in our community. I have made this decision because it is my sincere belief that as a member of the School Board I could make a substantial contribution toward giving Memphis the best possible school system. If I am able to do this, then I feel it is my obligation to the community to offer my services.

I owe no special favor to and hold no prejudice toward any employee of our school—past, present or future, not to or toward any member of the Board—past, present or future. My only obligation to these people, and to all the people in this community, is to be honest, fair, tolerant and considerate in all my dealings. This I will do either on or off the School Board.

Whether I am elected to the School Board or not, I intend to continue saying and doing ONLY those things which I sincerely believe to be right and for the best interest of our school.

We all have a tremendous stake in our school system. Primarily, this is our children—their education, training, physical development and proper preparation for adult life. If we don't try our best to do a good job of this in our homes, churches and schools, then it would be better that we had no children. This is a sacred privilege that we as parents and citizens possess and unless we properly use this privilege, it will be taken away from us, and from our children when they become adults.

Our schools are important. It is our biggest business establishment. We can ONLY have a good community when we have a good school. We can only have good schools with the helpful interest of the majority of our citizens. So, whether you want me as a member of the school Board or not, express this interest by voting Saturday, April 6th.

In case you want to know, space for this letter was purchased by me and no one else.

BUDGET FOR CONVENIENCE

Wayne Hutcherson Conserves Soil

Wayne Hutcherson, who lives six miles south of Memphis, has completed a waterway on his farm which makes the severe erosion which has been plaguing his farm a thing of the past.

The waterway is designed to control water from the area which falls in this area during heavy rains. The structure is located on the southwest of his home and has given him considerable relief during the past few years.

The area is too steep and of the heavy soil to terrace under government aid. In the past it has been terraced and the structures have washed away and time again, thus making a terrace system to hold water that fell on the area would be too costly.

Hutcherson consulted with Royce Frisbie and Royce Frisbie of the local office of SCS, who are supervising the area they are working on.

The structure is designed to control the maximum amount of water that falls in this area during heavy rains.

The entire area covers about one and one-half acres and will carry the water from the field without letting it wash out a gully.

The construction work was accomplished with graders.

Hutcherson has planted rye in the waterway which will be used next spring when he has the King Ranch Blue Stem grass will hold the soil in place.

The great advantage of a waterway is that it spreads the water over a large area so that it does not flow with a force which erodes the soil.

Hutcherson stated that in an area of his is a gully which is only a small wash 15 years old. The gully now has taken the place of cultivation than it was in the same spot would have been, and the gully is growing deeper each year.

Financial assistance is available for the construction of waterways.

Several centuries ago the kind of a baker sold his customers indicated the buyer's degree of freshness of great import, too. Freshness was for royalty, one-day old for nobility, two-day old for the gentry, three-day old for the middle class, and four-day old for the peasants.

Mr. E. L. Derr Jr., and sons, and David, of Fort Worth, spending this week here in Memphis, are the parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Roberts.

He was named after June, his first wife, and after her marriage.

NEW WATERWAY COMPLETED—Wayne Hutcherson, left and Royce Frisbie of the Hall County Soil Conservation District office in Memphis are shown above as they inspect a waterway recently completed on Hutcherson's farm. They are checking to see if the rye he planted for a cover crop is starting to come up.

Boykin Drive Honors Pioneer Family

Charles S. Boykin Came To Texas After Stock Market Crash in '93

The dramatic threads that have been woven into texture and pattern of Memphis are poignantly symbolized in the lives of Charles Stuart Boykin and Kate Pearl Davis Boykin. For Memphis is no lethargic settlement that "just grew" in the mild and traditional way of most communities.

Memphis was a fresh new world, created at a spectacular moment in time and settled by a staunch breed of people who brought with them a long heritage of courage and aristocracy, pride and fortitude, bred of distant upheavals that had pushed them and their forebears westward for centuries.

It was truly a time and a place in history where only the strong could dream, only the strong endure. Confederate Army officers, old Indian fighters, Englishmen and Scotchmen and even a few straying Yankees—all converged at this crossroad on the beautiful Texas prairie...

...to become ranch men or cowhands, wheat growers, cotton farmers, townsmen, businessmen, bankers.

It was the kind of a place to attract a man like Charles S. Boykin when he came to Texas, after the panic of '93 had collapsed the stock market in Chicago. For though he had been born and bred on a historic plantation near Mobile, Ala., in 1850, and educated in Staunton Military Academy and Virginia Military Institute, he had wondered far and wide before he came to Texas. His father, a plantation owner, cotton manufacturer and banker of Mobile, Ala., was Burwell Boykin.

When Charles S. Boykin finished school in Lexington, Va., he went to British Honduras and visited with his aunt, Kate McKee, wife of the British Governor of that colony. Next he went to St. Louis and Chicago where he made and lost several fortunes on the stock exchanges in those cities.

When Charles S. Boykin arrived in Texas in '93, his total capital consisted of a collection of diamonds, for he had been a connoisseur of gems and his hobby now stood him in good stead after he was wiped out on the stock market. In Texas he invested in property in Mineral Wells, where he built some of the early hotels; he also bought property in Dallas; he became a partner in the Fort Worth brokerage firm of Cowley-Boykin; he developed a string of lumber yards in the Panhandle with Memphis as headquarters. (The lumber warehouse was in the rear and his office in the front of the property which has recently been divided to provide a strip 20 feet wide, which was presented as a gift to the city by the Boykin heirs for widening the highway which bears his name.)

A gourmet and a dilettante on the one hand, a sportsman and businessman on the other, Mr. Boykin very much enjoyed hunting and camping on the prairies, loved fine dogs and horses, and at different times ordered purebred Grey Hounds and Great Danes, as well as Kentucky horses, shipped to him in Memphis.

An amusing vignette of his bachelor years in Memphis was printed in the Dallas News a few years ago in an interview with lumberman Herbert Gorgy of Shamrock, whose first job was with the Boykin Lumber Co. Mr. Boykin had his living quarters in his business building, but, having grown up in a more luxurious world, he assigned his young assistant the job of arriving early enough to build a fire so that Mr. Boykin would not have to get up in the cold.

(The Boykin family history will be continued next week.)

Questions & Answers For Veterans

Q—I am a disabled Korea veteran and I would like to take vocational rehabilitation training in a European college. Is this possible? A—Under the law, it would not be possible. Vocational rehabilitation is not available in foreign countries, except in the Philippines for eligible U. S. citizens living there.

Q—I have just come out of military service. Will the VA find me a job? A—Finding employment for veterans is not one of VA's functions, under the law. What you should do is apply at your nearest public employment office.

Q—My World War II permanent GI insurance lapsed, and VA automatically continued it in force under extended term insurance. I want to reinstate my permanent policy. Will I have to take a physical examination? A—If you reinstate within five years of the date the extended insurance would expire, you will not need a medical examination or any medical evidence of your good health. If you reinstate after that time limit, you will be required to take an examination.

Q—If a school was approved by VA to train veterans under the World War II GI Bill, will it also be considered approved to train Korea veterans? A—Not necessarily. World War II GI Bill approval does not carry over. The school's courses must be approved specifically for Korea veterans.

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health. HENRY A. HOLLE, M.D., Commissioner

Various educated guesses as to the number of "undiscovered" diabetics in the United States place the figure somewhere between one and two million. Undoubtedly a fair portion of them are Texans.

Diabetes is a general systemic disease in which the body loses its ability to burn and store sugar normally. All starches in foods are converted in the stomach and intestines into sugar. As sugar they are absorbed into the blood and pass through the liver and into general circulation to all parts of the body.

Normally the gland called the pancreas produces a secretion called insulin which is also poured into the blood. In the presence of insulin, the sugar of the blood is burned, especially by muscular activity. Any excess of sugar in the presence of a normal amount of insulin is temporarily stored, mostly in the liver, and released as needed into the blood.

This is the normal pattern. But in a person suffering with diabetes the pancreas fails to produce sufficient insulin. And when starches are eaten and absorbed as sugar, the body is unable to control the sugar normally by storing it in the liver or to burn it effectively in muscle exercise. Result: the sugar content of the blood increases to abnormal levels.

Because the diabetic is unable to burn the sugar efficiently for energy, he becomes weak and tired. His body needs nourishment and he therefore develops great hunger. But because he cannot utilize the starches, he uses up his own tissues and continues to lose weight.

When the blood sugar gets too high, the kidneys, in an effort to lower it, removes some of the sugar by excreting it in urine. This, in turn, makes the body dry and creates a thirst.

Proof of the hereditary nature of diabetes is the fact that surveys of diabetic children show that 80 per cent of families in which there is or has been diabetes.

Overeating and lack of muscular exercise are conditions which tend to promote obesity which in turn creates a tendency toward diabetes. It has been shown that 20 fat persons develop the disease for every thin one who does. The obvious moral is do not overeat, do not remain overweight and get plenty of muscular exercise.

You can judge your own tendency toward diabetes in the light of what has been said: Are you overweight? Do you over eat? Is there diabetes in your family? Also, do you have any of the symptoms: great hunger, loss of strength, loss of weight, persistent thirst, or excessive urination? If so, you're a likely candidate for a unalysis or blood sugar test by your family physician.

Trade names are curious words, often with no apparent derivation. "Kodak" for example, was the result of George Eastman's experimenting with hundreds of combinations of letters in 1888 in an effort to coin a short, punchy and easily-remembered word as a trademark for his camera.

United States shrimping, which now brings in an annual 220 million pounds of shrimp, did not put out to sea until 1917. It was at this time that the small offshore boats were replaced by ocean-going trawlers and the industry began its big-time career.

The word "nut" we are told by the processors of Royal Nuts, comes from the Anglo-Saxon hnutu, which has lost two letters in modern parlance.

Brazil is larger than the United States.

VOTE APRIL 2nd . . . For

JUDGE

Ralph Yarborough

For U. S. Senator

In The Special Senate Election Coming Up Next Tuesday, The Issue Is Whether To Elect A Democrat Or A Republican

Thad Hutcheson is the leading Republican candidate, and he is running his race as a member of the Republican team of Ike, Benson and the members of the millionaire cabinet of the present administration. There should be no doubt in any voter's mind as to what kind of representation would be rendered the State of Texas if he goes to Washington.

In the Democratic column there are 20 names. Only Ralph Yarborough, Congressman Martin Dies, Commissioner John White and State Sen. Searcy Bracewell have enough support to be considered as contenders. Bracewell's only claim to distinction is that he is an Eisenhower Democrat. He now holds a public office, serving the City of Houston and Harris County. Commissioner John White is another candidate who now holds a public office. In past races he was considered a "poor boy" candidate, but has suddenly found campaign funds to enter the special Senate race, and is devoting his energies to continuing a campaign of character assassination against Judge Yarborough. Martin Dies is another office holder. He has been adopted by the daily press and old Shivercrat political machine as their candidate. He is being backed by those powerful forces which brought Texas the shame and disgrace of the veterans land board scandals, the present state insurance mess, and several years of state government in which people have had no voice. Voters should know by now that when this faction supports a candidate, it is because they know they can control him if he is elected.

More Elections May Be Called In Texas This Year!

The average person—farmer, housewife, employee or businessman—can understand the full meaning behind an individual HOLDING A PUBLIC OFFICE (and drawing his regular salary), and RUNNING FOR ANOTHER PUBLIC OFFICE (with all taxpayers paying part of the campaign bill). If Dies should be elected, the people of Texas will again be forced (through their commissioners courts) to dig up another quarter million dollars to pay for another SPECIAL ELECTION in all counties to fill the office he now holds. Also, if White or Bracewell should be elected, other vacancy will occur in each case. This is something to think about when you go the polls next Tuesday.

Why Should Judge Yarborough Be Elected To The Senate?

Most people are familiar with Judge Yarborough's general platform, and his record of public service which began over 20 years ago. Below are some specific points which are of interest to Hall County voters: FARM PROGRAM — He said in Fort Worth recently: "I am for restoration of fixed-price crop supports at 90 per cent of parity. Surely price supports at 90 per cent of parity is not unfair to anybody. Prosperity for all the people is based on prosperity on the farms. Declining farm prosperity means trouble for all of us. That is why I will continue to be, as I have always been, for restoration of fixed-price crop supports at 90 per cent of parity."

TAXES — He wants an increase in the personal exemptions from $600 to $800 a year. "Let human beings that breathe and have souls get some of those tax cuts," he said.

OLD AGE PENSIONS — He is for keeping social security benefits in step with rising standards of living, as the Democratic platform provides. "Texas," he says, "has the cruellest old age pensions of any great American state."

Judge Yarborough has established himself as a true Democrat dedicated to the principle of government of the people, by the people, and for the people. In the eyes of his friends and supporters, he has become the symbol of honor and decency in government.

Report From Washington

By Walter Rogers
 Correspondent, 18th District

The final cut amounted to about 10 per cent of the budget estimate. If all bills could be cut in like manner, it would mean a 7 billion dollar reduction in the proposed expenditure for this year.

Approximately 82 per cent of the funds included in the bill passed by the House were Veterans Administration funds. The other 18 per cent was allocated among 18 other independent agencies. I thought that this action would be front page news in Washington, but not so. When my morning paper came there was a slight mention of the bill on the front page, but the story was in the second section of the newspaper.

The House of Representatives is in a budget cutting mood and chances are that measurable cuts will be made in each bill as it reaches the House for debate. Some have said that Congress is getting itself in position to again be accused of "fiscal irresponsibility," as it was when it tried to cut taxes for the small income people. One fellow was heard

Preparations For Grass Planting Should Be Made

Large acreages of permanent grasses will soon be seeded by farmers and ranchers in the Hall County Soil Conservation District, William C. Swindle, technician for the unit, said this week.

Joe Montgomery, Ed Foxhall, Leo Koeninger, and Louis Richards of the Memphis area plan to seed permanent grasses this year, as well as F. O. Ham and Lee Scrivner of Turkey, T. H. Gattis of Brice and Bill Bradley of Newlin.

The district has about 68,000 acres of cropland that should be returned to grass, Swindle said. This large area consists of lands that are too steep, too shallow, too sandy, or for other reasons unsuitable for farming. Grass will greatly benefit this type of land, he stated.

If you have land in cultivation that you are considering returning to grass, now is the time to begin necessary preparations by making arrangements for the use of a grass drill and by ordering the grass seed, Swindle added.

Grass seed should be planted into a dead stubble of sudan, cane, or other crop stubble. If the grass is to be planted next spring, then a good stubble crop should be planted this year in preparation for the seeding of the grass.

Technicians of the Soil Conservation Service will be glad to furnish information on the kind of grass to fit your soil, the neto remark that if the recent budget was an example of "fiscal responsibility," a little touch of "fiscal irresponsibility" might be in order. He felt that if someone didn't stop being so "fiscally responsible," it was going to bankrupt the nation.

Mid-East Situation

Everyone is getting into the act in trying to settle the Mid-East problems. There are a number of independent committees composed of self-appointed individuals and groups. Some of these are strongly partisan, either for Israel on the one hand or for Egypt on the other. Others appear to be organizations that recognize an opportunity to turn a quick dollar. Some are business groups who feel that they can provide the answer. One such group has termed itself the "Mid-East Settlement Committee" and is headed by Mr. E. W. Greenwood as chairman. The headquarters for this group seems to be the Shoreham Hotel in Washington. It has issued a press release, a plan and proposal to handle the situation, and a proposal to finance handling of it by issuance of world peace bonds. According to the press release, Mr. Greenwood has visited with Nasser in Egypt and has had constructive talks with him. He states that his plan has been submitted to President Eisenhower, to Secretary Humphrey, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and the State Department. He doesn't state why he by-passed the House of Representatives' Committee on Foreign Affairs.

I have heard by grapevine that the State Department has told this Committee its proposals are impossible. I am told the Committee is made up of several business men from the West Coast and that they are spending their own money to get this movement snow-balling. I read their proposals, especially those concerned with the issuance of world peace bonds, the proceeds of which are to be used to assist all of these countries. The not unusual provision in this proposal is the suggestion that the bonds be guaranteed by the United States Government. There seems to be quite a few people willing to take a chance and inter into a new program and new venture if their success is guaranteed by Uncle Sam. Washington has a full share of those who preach free enterprise but hang around the Capitol trying to get handouts from the federal government.

Some of these are most vociferous about free enterprise, private enterprise and keeping the government out of business. Personally I would defer to no one in my sincere desire that free, private, and fair enterprise prevail, with only such amount of interference from the government as would be necessary to prevent exploitation and to see that the rules of fair play are observed. It is for that reason that I am sometimes amused at some of the individuals or groups who appear before the Congress bellowing free enterprise, but quietly seeking aid or assistance from the tax-coffers. Many of these schemes are operated under misleading names, but the end result is usually some law giving preferred treatment to a particular group, either in tax matters or by guaranteeing obligations or otherwise providing a cloak of protection. It has been suggested that these types of groups have their own definition of free enterprise, viz: "A philosophy whereby the government enacts laws to provide one preferred group with the freedom to exploit all others, if such preferred group will furnish the enterprise to do it."

Lecture on Radiation Fallout Danger And Storms To Be Presented Friday

The second and last lecture on "The Effect of Radiation Fall-Out in the Event of an Atomic Explosion" will be given at the Travis Cafetorium at 7:30 Friday evening. The program is being sponsored by the Austin and Travis Parent-Teacher Associations.

The lecture is being brought to inform area residents how to protect themselves in the event of an atomic explosion at Los Alamos, N. M., or Amarillo. It has been pointed out that under certain conditions an atomic explosion at Los Alamos could endanger persons in this area through fallout.

Members of the sponsoring organizations urge local residents to attend the lecture. Fire Chief Thomas Clayton will have charge of the lecture and discussion which is held in co-operation with the local Ground Observation Corps unit.

In last week's lecture, Clayton explained the need for civilian defense education. He stated that trained civilian defense teams would have several jobs in the event of a disaster. They would alleviate suffering, extinguish fires, rescue injured and feed the survivors.

It was brought out that families should remain in homes until the danger is over. In the case of radiation, this could be as long as seven days.

To prepare for such an emergency families should store food for themselves and two others to last for seven days. This includes water, which is also subject to radiation contamination.

He stressed the need for an emergency pantry, pointing out that no city in the nation is more than eight hours away from Siberia.

The fire siren in Memphis will blow from three to five minutes in case of a disaster or severe storm. In the case of a tornado, the safest place is underground. In homes one should get in the lower, southeast corner or basement and open windows on the north and east side.

In the open country, one should travel at a right angle to the funnel, which usually moves from 25 to 40 miles per hour in a southwest to northeast direction, he continued. If there is no time to escape, it is best to lie in a ditch.

Other information of interest to area residents will be presented at the meeting Friday.

Big "Gas" Tank

Navy ships operated by nuclear power will not be confronted with the limitations of fuel capacity. The potential energy in a two-pound lump of uranium the size of a golf ball equals about 460,000 gallons of fuel oil or 3,000 tons of coal.

An acorn was frequently used as a design on Colonial furniture because it was considered a symbol of hospitality.

The circumference of the globe is 25,020 miles.

George Washington laid the cornerstone of the national capitol.

TRANSFERRED TO FORT WORTH—Patrolman Clinton Culp, above, and Mrs. Culp and children left Memphis this week to make their home in Fort Worth, after he received notice transferring him to that city. The family had made Memphis their home since the fall of 1951, and were very active in church and community work.

Re seeding Texas Ranges

In the face of recent rains in Texas, after a lingering drought which has left countless Texas ranges baked bare of grass, consideration must be given to reestablishing these pastures in the quickest and surest manner possible.

In recent tests to determine best methods and grass strains for re-establishing rangeland, significant findings have resulted which should prove valuable in all of Texas' widely scattered range areas.

Treatments used in the re-grassing study included pitting (a tilled area 3-6 inches deep, 3-5 feet wide) without reseeded, pitting after seeding and pitting before seeding. Grasses used in the tests included strains of sideoats grama and VII mesquite.

In nearly all operations where pitting was used, moisture-holding capacity was improved and native growth was stimulated. The best results came from broadcast seeding following pitting, despite the fact that pitting alone proved worthwhile where any significant growth existed. Native grasses that reseeded best on their own were sand mulch, purple three-own and sideoats grama.

Solid pitting in every instance proved more valuable than skip-pitting done at 6 to 10 foot intervals, because of the greater moisture storing capacity.

New Regrassing Seed In tests being held elsewhere, a new strain of sideoats grama grass called Colonado, has proved to be probably the most desirable reseed for the bald range. Among its best-selling qualities are a high seedling vigor and ability to produce stands, a winter-hardiness, and a high average protein content. The good seed strength of the new variety apparently is due to the fact that its seeds are considerably larger than those of other strains of sideoats grama.

The sideoats grammas, as a species, are a "mid-grass." They cure on the stem better than tall grasses, but not as well as the short grasses. They are deep-rooted, drawing moisture from as far down as seven feet.

This last quality alone makes Colonado, which admittedly was developed in Oklahoma, a good neighbor to thirsty Texas rangelands.

More Eggs Per Hen

Texas egg production may come into its own during 1957 if the Legislature gives it the needed boost through a uniform grading and inspection law.

Such legal protection, assuring the consumer of good quality by approving standards, should increase considerably the value of the egg on the market shelf. The next logical step for the farmer is to get increased egg production through efficient management.

High egg production, high efficiency and low mortality in the laying flock are going to be related to the bird's comfort. An extra two dozen eggs per layer, a saving of one-half pound of feed per dozen on all eggs produced, and a reduction in mortality of 5 per cent can mean $120-150 extra income per 100 laying hens.

One item often overlooked is ventilation. Proper ventilation of laying houses is necessary for providing fresh air and removing excessive moisture. Faulty ventilation can result in wide variations in house temperatures which will affect feed consumption and egg production.

Insulation of the poultry house makes ventilation fairly easy and helps: (1) conserve heat in win-

Yarborough Gets Independent Endorsement

Ed Pooley, editor of the El Paso Herald-Post, lauded recently by Time Magazine as one of Texas' most independent, straight-thinking newspapermen, has endorsed Judge Ralph Yarborough for the U. S. Senate.

In three separate editorials, Pooley called Yarborough "the best man" in the April 2 special election race, "able, intelligent and the sort of man Texas can be proud of," and a man who will make Texas "a fine, honest senator."

Pooley's latest editorial said:

Who is Yarborough? Who is Ralph W. Yarborough? What kind of man is this candidate for the United States Senate?

He was born and raised on an East Texas farm, the seventh of eleven children. He knows what it means to work with his hands.

He taught a country school.

He worked his way through the University of Texas Law School by waiting on tables at a boarding house, by being a hand on a cattle boat, in a library, and in the wheat and oil fields of Texas. He graduated with honors.

Then he came to El Paso as an associate in the Turney-Burgess Law Firm.

Any honest judge or lawyer who was in El Paso then will tell you Mr. Yarborough is a man of high character and ability.

After four years here, he was appointed an Assistant Attorney General of Texas and moved to Austin. Later he was appointed, then elected District Judge there. In both positions he was an outstanding success.

He did not run for re-election. He entered the army and served in Europe in General George Patton's 3rd army. He was sent with his 97th division to Japan when the fighting was over in Europe. After four years, he returned home in May, 1946, and resumed his law practice. He will make Texas and the Nation a fine, honest Senator. He will vote to cut the $72 billion budget now before congress. He wants to raise income tax exemptions from $600 to $800, he will consistently support measures to lower expenses and taxes. But he will be alert to see that the nation's defenses are not endangered. He met the Russians in Czechoslovakia when he was with General Patton. He didn't like them then. He doesn't like them now.

This man fits into the Washington picture. He will be of great service in the senate. Vote for Ralph Yarborough. He will make you proud you did.

Truckers Seek Increased Weights

Texas Highway Department engineers in Austin recently went on record as being opposed to bills before the legislature which seek to raise the gross weight allowed for trucks to 72,000 pounds. The present vehicle limits allow 58,420 pounds, and trucking interests are now seeking to increase the limits to 72,000 pounds by placing a second tandem axle under trucks.

Randle B. Alexander, chief bridge designer for the state, testified before the House of Representatives committee on motor traffic recently. He stated that 95 per cent of the bridges in the state can not safely carry the proposed 72,000 pounds. He said that "Only a maximum of 5 per cent of the bridges in Texas can carry 72,000 pound loads. I am not going to say that they are going to wreck our bridges, but in my opinion the life of the bridges will be shortened."

Trucking interests have, for many years, been seeking an increase in gross weight allowable. The legislature has felt in the past that the citizens of the state should not be taxed to build roads which would carry the greater weights, and we hope that they continue this belief.

Seven Years Is Too Long

Why President Eisenhower has asked Congress to approve a moratorium of seven years on the British debt is hard to understand. How does the President know that the United States is not going to desperately need the money during these seven years?

If a recession occurred, the United States would need the money.

Why not postpone the debt payments on a year-to-year basis, if Britain is experiencing financial difficulties? It seems foolish to commit the United States to such a long period.

Money, bled from the taxpayers, seems to mean nothing to the spenders in Washington.—Houston Chronicle

A Step Toward Better State Government

With all the fuss that has been going on in Austin the past few weeks, many people have shaken their heads in a knowing way and said, "I knew it all the time—our state government set-up is rotten."

And while we must admit there are always bad apples in any barrel, it is hardly fair to brand all the fine public servants in Texas as crooks because of the poor standards of some.

The thing that amazes us is that we have a good state government as we do, considering the antiquated methods under which that government functions.

Take, for instance, our Legislature. It meets once every two years, and if the session lasts longer than 120 days, the only pay of the legislators stops.

And while national government and most businesses and municipalities operate on one-year budgets, the state government of Texas lingers along with a two-year budget, which means the budget must necessarily be mostly guesswork. Enacted in the spring of a year, it does not go into effect until that fall and then it runs for 24 months—and anybody in business can tell you it takes a mighty potent crystal ball to look that far into the future in that day and time.

We hold a lot about federal encroachment into states rights, but how can a state fulfill the duties of government here at home when it operates with "horse and buggy" machinery?

One of the most conspicuous weaknesses that could be remedied would be putting Legislators on fulltime, adequate salaries and allowing them to meet every January instead of every two years.—The Arlington Citizen

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Brode Hoover, and opened with a prayer by Mrs. Conley Ward. Roll call and the reading of the minutes were followed by plans for attending the meeting of the Amarillo Presbyterian March 25-26. A letter of appreciation from the Children's Home in Amarillo for the Guild's generous supply of peanut butter last month and a request for spaghetti and macaroni was read by Mrs. S. S. Montgomery. Mrs. Forrest Power gave the devotional meditation, using an article from the Presbyterian Life magazine entitled "The Dinky Trail." A continuation of "Jesus' Teachings On Citizenship," was conducted by Mrs. E. M. Wilson. By way of explaining Chapter 6, "Sickness and Health," Mrs. Wilson emphasized the fact that Jesus was interested in the bodies as well as the minds of men and that Jesus, when he dispatched his disciples on a preaching mission, gave them "authority over unclean spirits, to cast them out and heal every disease and every infirmity." Mrs. Wilson continued, "Christian citizens may differ as to methods, but all accept the goal... the elimination as far as possible of all needless human suffering at home and abroad. As followers of Christ, we should be concerned with health of body and mind, and soul." During the social interlude, lovely refreshments were served to twenty members.

A group of first and second grade girls sang three songs. Jay Holland and Gary Walker sang a costumed song "Dead Eye Dick." Sarah Holland and Noel Clifton, Jr., presented a Negro dance number.

The second part of the program was a Truth or Consequences program conducted by Mrs. Jack Kinnard.

The third part of the program was a Lost and Found program conducted by Mrs. Joe Bob Nixens. Members from the audience assisted in the last two parts.

The surprise part of the program was a musical interlude given by the "Honky Tonks," Robert, J. B., Joe, and Donald James. Soloist is Don James.

1913 Study Club Meets in Home of Mrs. H. A. Combs

Mrs. Herschel Combs was hostess to the members of The 1913 Study Club the afternoon of March 20 at which time those present were treated to a most enlightening program on geophysics and automation under the banner title of "Operation Science in Our Modern World."

In anticipation of the beginning of the Geophysical Year July 1, 1957, Mrs. Allen Dunbar declared, "Space is to be our new frontier." She then proceeded to acquaint the club with some of the phenomena of space travel, space satellites, and hopes for the future in outer space.

Mrs. Herschel Combs told of the marvelous experiments and explorations in "Antarctica: Third World" and further elaborated as to the rigors of life at the South Pole and in the antarctic regions where the six months of sunlight and six months of darkness regulates the living habits of those venturesome enough to undertake it.

An interplanetary quiz conducted by Mrs. Joe Montgomery proved informative even if the answers were read from slips of paper passed to the participants. Mrs. T. J. Dunbar climaxed the already awe-inspiring predictions with a discussion of the marvelous feats executed by robot machines such as electronic brains, intricate computing mechanisms, and electric eyes. And the predictions of things to come in this push-button world were further astounding.

The listeners were brought back to reality by a report of the entertainment and serious endeavors at The Texas Federated Women's Clubs convention March 14-15 in Amarillo. This report was given by Mrs. Boyd Rogers, delegate to the convention.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess to eighteen members.

"All for One, One for All"

We all know the wisdom of the saying, "United we stand, divided we fall." We all recognize the truth in the words "in union there is strength."

These words are full of meaning to the cotton farmer and the businessman. Both hear about the rapid development of synthetic fibers, the increasing quantities of paper, jute, and burlap on the market. But the cotton farmer and the cotton industry is not standing idly by in the face of aggressively competitive products. Both understand the value of organized cooperation and have united to combat competition.

The weapons of the National Cotton Council are research, production efficiency, sales promotion. The American people are hearing the whole story of cotton, and learning about cotton's natural superiority over all other products.

We, in Hall County, have a big stake in the future of cotton. We can help assure that future by regularly purchasing cotton products. Our purchases help us as well as others, and make us active partners in the cotton industry which has become an example of the words—"All for one, one for all."

C. of C. Committees Lay Plans for Year's Work

The Agricultural Committee of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce and Hall county Board of Development met Saturday in the City Hall and named as the number one project for the year the proposal to get Hall County designated as an irrigation county.

J. W. Coppedge, chairman of the committee, explained that the designation would enable farmers to get soil and water testing completed easier.

Other members of the board pointed out that it would enter into the Federal Land Bank loans; and that if the government price support program was ever shifted from the acre basis to the pound basis it would make our production be figured on the irrigation basis instead of the dry-land basis.

The group also discussed the need for a fertilizer specialist in Memphis and discussed the idea of another cash crop for the area. It was brought out that farmers in this area would soon need a supply of grass seed to plant 25,000 acres and members of the board were asked to help locate the seed.

Committee members also discussed the possibility of some type industrial payroll which farmers and their families could use to supplement their farm incomes.

Industrial Committee

The Industrial Committee of the Chamber of Commerce and Hall County Board of Development met Tuesday in the city hall with Chairman Homer Tucker presiding.

The group discussed several contacts which had been made in an effort to secure an industry for Memphis. The committee will meet about once a month, Tucker said, to discuss this important problem.

One of the members reported on a contact he had made in Dallas and another told of a planned visit to a California firm. The group all agree to contact manufacturing firms in their line of business and attempt to interest them in Memphis. The need for a machine shop was discussed and the possibility of a liquid fertilizer concern was brought up.

Chamber of Commerce President Ed Foxhall was on hand for both of the meetings as well as all members of the committees, except those who were out of town.

The highway committee will meet in the City Hall at 2 p. m. Saturday afternoon and all members of the committee are urged to be present for this session to plan the program for the year.

Total Rainfall Measures 3.42 In.

Memphis was in the edge of the tremendous snowstorm which lashed the top of the Panhandle last weekend, which dropped snow here to a depth of only two inches. The area didn't escape the high winds though, and some damage, mostly of a minor nature, has been reported.

Last Saturday morning John J. McMickin, official weather recorder, measured .17 of an inch of rain and then Sunday morning the snow melted down to .20 of an inch of moisture.

This brings the total rainfall for the year to 3.42 inches, putting the area well above the average for January, February and March, which is 2.23 inches, according to the Texas Almanac.

Low temperature this morning was 36 degrees with warmer weather predicted. Other temperatures recorded by McMickin are as follows: Wednesday 60-29, Tuesday 58-30, Monday 47-26, Sunday 40-31, Saturday 42-37, Friday 59-43.

Election

Commissioner John White, Thad Hutcheson of Houston, the leading Republican contender, is not expected to get many votes in this county.

A total of 22 names will confront county voters when they go to the polls Tuesday. Names on the ticket are: Elmer Adams, H. J. Antoine, Sr., Rev. M. T. Banks, Jacob Bergolofsky, Searcy Bracewell, John C. Burns, Sr., Frank G. Corjez, J. Cal Courtney, R. W. Curtin, Martin Dies, C. O. Foerster, Jr., Curtis Ford, Ralph W. Hammonds, James P. Hart, Charles W. Hill, Thad Hutcheson, Walter Scott McNutt, Clyde R. Orms, John C. White, J. Perrin Willis, Hugh Wilson and Ralph W. Yarborough.

A total of 1165 county residents paid poll taxes this year so the voting in the election will probably be around 1200. Persons over 60 years of age do not have to pay their poll tax in order to vote.

Voting places, and the presiding election judges, are as follows:

Business and Professional Women's Club To Sponsor Personality Course

A study course on "Psychology of the Improvement of Personality" is being featured in Memphis during April by the Memphis Business and Professional Women's Club. The course is open to the public, and the charge will be $4.00 for the entire study.

Given in a series of four lectures, the classes will be held at the Travis Cafeteria at 7:30 p. m. on April 4, 11, 18, and 25.

Dr. Jack Walker, associate professor of speech at West Texas State College, Canyon, will teach the course. Well qualified in this field, Dr. Walker holds a B. S., M. A. and Ph. D. degrees. The course will be the same as the one being taught in the college, and also in Amarillo Center.

The purpose of the course is to help each individual to achieve his or her maximum effect in dealing with people. Such points as appearance, voice, intelligence, interests, emotions and social adaptation will serve as a practical end to be studied.

Anyone who is interested in taking this course on personality improvement should contact Mary Foreman, Wilma Leslie or Susie Coleman.
