Andy Rogers Sez!

Dreams of and plans for a state water program long have held the imagination of the people of Texas. It has been a thorny problem but at last our goal seems to be in view. This session of your state legislature has been distinguished from those of the past probably not so much for what it has done as by what it has refused to do. For at least ten years the legislature was pressured to pass a water program which would have been financed by a state-wide ad valorem tax. Even as late as the 1955 session, water program sponsors—who are also the main sponsors of the present legislation which seems likely to be passed—were in favor of financing the program by the property tax method. This would have meant that the people of West Texas would have had to pay taxes on their farms, ranches, businesses and homes to finance water projects for our industrial and big city interests, ninety percent of which are and would remain in South and East Texas. Only through the courage and steadfastness of a small but dedicated minority of members, most of them from West Texas, have these old "loaded-dice" finance plans been dropped. The water program sponsors and the big city industrial interests have finally had to settle for a finance plan based in effect on issue of bonds for each individual project. These bonds would be backed by the state, of course, but in the end the users of the water, those who benefit by its use, will pay for the projects. It is unfortunate but true that the water program is not directly important to the people of the 30th Senatorial District. As it is presently written, it will affect only the one or two projects below the caprock and will not even aid our giant proposed Canadian River Project. But it is indeed a boon that at last the danger is removed that we will have to pay for someone else's water benefits. One current sponsor of water legislation came up with the idea that the men, women and children who use our facilities for hunting, fishing, boating, water-skiing, etc., should be taxed to help pay for the water program. This proposal was met with such a storm of protest that it was immediately dropped.

While I'm thinking about water and what it costs, I'm reminded that this is the first legislature in many years which hasn't been pressured by the big city fat cats to abolish or seriously damage our program of building farm-to-market roads. This would be about the worst thing that could happen to the people of West Texas, but one big city senator who is current sponsor of much water legislation had the nerve to suggest that the FM road program be discontinued and the money used to pay for the water program. I'm happy to report that this sort of talk soon died out under the strong opposition of some of the responsible leaders of West Texas organizations.

We should be gratified and pleased by the great number of appointments to state commissions and administrative bodies that have been made from our 30th Senatorial District. As you know, the district was only created by the law passed in 1951 and had its first senator with my election in 1952. However, since that time the 30th district has been represented by the major three-man boards such as the Public Safety Commission, the State Highway Commission and the Board of Water Engineers, as well as on the State Banking Commission, the Board of Optometry and others. Most recently, a district man has been appointed to the Texas Tech Board of Regents, and two of six members of the Board of Regents of Texas State Teachers Colleges. This is a good record, especially in view of the fact that, populationwise, our district is only about half the size of the average district and only one-sixth to one-ninth the size of some city districts.

Few actions of the legislature during my eight and one-half years of service have left such a bad taste in my mouth as the hypocrisy of both houses in passing a so-called Code of Ethics and then refusing to put teeth in it. As one House member said to me, "They're just trying to fool the people of Texas."

Apparently, this session has reversed the old belief that the Senate is more "conservative" than the House. The House passed the Pool Bill and also sent the Senate a bill asking for a U. S. Constitutional Amendment to limit the personal income tax. The Senate knocked down the constitutional amendment bill by a vote of 14-13 (passage would have required a two-thirds majority), and on the Pool Bill didn't even vote on it by not allowing it to come up for consideration.

It hasn't been noted by many people, but Bascom Giles, our former manipulator of the public lands and moneys, has been eligible for some time for parole from the Huntsville State Penitentiary. This of course is mainly due to the light sentences he was given for the secondary offenses for which he was tried. It is a curious fact that he has not forced action on the Board of Pardons and Paroles.

Speaking of generally unnoticed facts, do you remember the special senate committee created to investigate the U. S. Trust and Guaranty collapse and scandal and the possibility of pay-offs to legislators? Well, that committee has never made a report! This is the committee from which Senator Searcy Bracewell of Houston resigned in protest against its policy of secret meetings.

On a more humorous subject—during the recent special senatorial election campaign, one of the candidates, State Agriculture Commissioner John White, daily issued a statement to the Capitol press representatives. Written on a letterhead bearing a smiling picture of himself, the release generally told in glowing terms of the progress of his campaign. Well, on the day after the election Mr. White issued his last release to the Capitol pressmen. In the middle of the gleaming white page was just the word: "Agad."

Because of the press of legislative matters and reduced staff during this legislative session, I have not been able to write the weekly letter to the people of the 30th district as has been my practice in the past. However, in these closing weeks I hope to give several reports which will give citizens an idea of the performance of the legislature—both the good and the bad that it has accomplished.

Program means an organized massacre of a group or class.

Annual Junior-Senior Banquet For Estelline Schols Is Held Friday

The Estelline Junior Class entertained the Estelline Seniors with a Spring Serenade Banquet on April 12 in the basement of the Estelline Methodist Church.

The formally dressed young people assembled in the reception room to be served fruit juice cocktails from a table resplendent with a miniature maypole surrounded by carnation corsages. Each junior read a clever toast to a senior and the girls were given pink carnation corsages and the boys were given boutonnieres.

The banquet hall was beautifully decorated in spring colors, featuring a large pink foil umbrella. The centerpiece on the table was of pink carnations and fern flanked by pink tapers. Table decorations were "bunny cakes," and other fancy cakes, pink tapers, pink foil nut cups, and pink and silver foil umbrellas covering program booklets. Table runners were pink with silver lace. The menu, prepared and served by the mothers of the juniors, consisted of baked ham, asparagus with cheese sauce, baked beans, baked potatoes, rolls, butter, spring garden salad, tea and coffee, and rainbow ice cream with pink angel cake.

Marie Ward, president of the junior class, expressed welcome to the guests. Don Ferrel gave the invocation. The junior girls sang two groups of spring songs and the junior boys sang "Easter Parade." Accompanist was Carolyn Hoover.

Following the banquet the junior mothers sponsored a prom at the Childress Community House.

Attending were: Ronny Burl Bruce, Ronald Crump, Jimmie Dunn, Karen Eddins, Evelyn Hudlow, James Huffmaster, Hugh Wayne Lang, Gayle Morrison, Bennie Nelson, Keith Rogers, Willie Mae Ward, LaQuetta Wade, Linda Morrison, Charles Anderson, Mary Nell Couch, Daves Contreras, Don Ferrel, Bobby Hayes, Imojean Freeze, Carolyn Hoover, Gaynelle Jones, Russell Latham, Burton Lathram, Janet Long, Wanda Mabry, Bettye Orcutt, Julia Richburg, Loyd Stephens, Ned Sweatt, and Marie Ward, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Ballard, and Mrs. E. F. Kennedy.

Delphian Club Meets In Boone Home

Mrs. Jack Boone was hostess to members of the Delphian Club for the regular meeting held April 2 at 4:00 p. m.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. J. L. Barnes. Members gave the pledge to the flag. Mrs. Lynn McKown, chairman, introduced the program entitled "Over the Highway with Religion." "To make our lives more complete each of us depends on God and are faithful to our own choice of faith as we go forth 'On the Highway With Religion'", she stated.

Mrs. Mildren Stephens gave "Road to Peace"; "Faith is the Cornerstone on which our nation was built. It is Faith that has kept our country free. It is because we believe that God intends all men to be free and equal that we demand free government for ourselves and that we carry the torch for others. Where religious faith is strong, the force of freedom is strong. It means that men and women in the Armed Services will feel the support of the coordinated thinking of all religious forces in America and realize as never before that theirs is a service to God as well as to country," she concluded.

In a talk on "Chapel for Delinquents" Mrs. Kenneth Dale told the following story: "One time when Lewis Nordyke gave a commencement talk at the State School for Girls at Gainsville, he noticed that the school did not have a Chapel. Now, all people, no matter how bad they may be, need a place to worship God. After Mr. Nordyke left, he decided to find out why one couldn't be constructed, and so on investigation he found that the cause was lack of funds. Mr. Nordyke set about finding funds. To churches, clubs, P. T. A. organizations and other helpful organizations to get them to raise funds to help build a Chapel for those delinquent girls. Not just for them, but other places so that these people who have broken the law will have a place to worship."

Mrs. Jack Boone's contribution was "Revolution of Sunday School." "Most of us are well pleased with our Sunda Schools. They are a place for our children to learn about God or a baby sitter. But are they doing what they should?" Mrs. Boone began. She continued, "By new methods, Sunday School has become a good place for all of us to learn about God. By religious music, flannel grafts, make-believe plays, records and games, books and Bibles in hand, religious learning is being put forth. Some churches are building educational buildings before they build sanctuaries. Yes, our Sunday Schools are working faith for a troubled world. When a child reaches out his hand and says, 'Let me see,' give him the picture and let him see."

A film strip, "Crossroads U. S. A." was also shown. Dainty refreshments were served to the following: Mrs. O. R. Gondall, C. C. Hodges, J. S. McMurry, Kenneth Dale, Lynn Mc-

Mizpah Guild Meets For Study

The Mizpah Guild of the First Presbyterian Church met April 15 at 7:30 p. m. in the home of Mrs. W. E. Leslie with Mrs. Joe Bob Browning as hostess.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Brode Hoover, president. Mrs. John Deaver offered the opening prayer. The devotional was brought by Mrs. O. V. Alexander entitled "Why He Arose."

Mrs. C. W. Kinslow brought the last two chapters of the book, "Jesus Teachings on Citizenship," entitled "By What Means?" and "With What Hope?" Mrs. Kinslow pointed out that in "our American democracy we are committed to the idea that a man is innocent until he is proven guilty. We are committed further to the ideal of freedom of expression as well as freedom of worship, and the two are very closely related. We believe that it is dangerous to repress error, for it opens the way to ultimate repression of truth by those in authority who think and probably quite erroneously that they alone have the truth. Truth makes its way in the world through the free and unrestricted commerce of ideas. That is our democratic creed; it is also an element in our Christian Creed." Plans were made to attend the Kown, Mildred Stephens, Henry Hays, J. W. Stokes, R. H. Wherry, R. J. Thomson, Weldon McCreary, J. L. Barnes, J. K. Porter, Clyde Smith, Ben Wilson Jr., Robert Clark, and the hostess, Mrs. Jack Boone.

Teachers and Administrators Hold Study Meet

Clarendon was the scene Tuesday of the last meeting of the year for teachers and administrators of this area in a study program, a project of the Texas Education Agency and the Texas Association of School Administrators.

The group held eight meetings this year in Clarendon, Turkey and Memphis. Graduation requirements was the subject discussed at the first three meetings while the last five were devoted to a study of a physical education program.

Consultants at the meetings were Lewis Spears, director of safety and physical education from the Texas Education Agency, and Dr. Ray Karellis, head of the health and physical education department at Texas Technological College.

Approximately 40 teachers from Childress, Donley, Collingsworth, and Hall counties were present at the Clarendon session.

Present from Hall County were R. V. Wood and Clarence Wooten of Estelline, Misses Bonnie Willis, Ethel Hillhouse and Mary Foreman.

John Paul Jones was the first great U. S. naval hero.

William C. Swindle Promoted to Capt. In Army Reserve

Loran Denton Named President TSTA Organization

The east meeting of the Hall County unit of the Texas State Teachers Association was held in the Lakeview cafeteria Monday night with the junior class acting as the sponsoring group.

Highlight of the evening was the election of officers for the coming year. Loran Denton, Lakeview superintendent, was named president; W. C. Davis, Memphis superintendent, first vice president; R. V. Wood, Estelline high school principal, second vice president; Mary Foreman, county superintendent, secretary-treasurer.

The speaker for the occasion was Dr. James P. Cornette, president of West Texas State College.

Fifty-nine teachers and their guests were present for the meeting.

Memphis Baseball Teams Open Season Against Lakeview

Memphis defeated Lakeview in the first baseball game of the season Tuesday afternoon at the field in Lakeview by a score of 32-0, with Campbell Morris, the starting pitcher, credited with the win.

The Memphis nine will play Turkey Thursday afternoon, according to Coach Nolan Poteet. The site for the game had not been selected Wednesday morning.

Other games which the Memphis baseball team will play this spring includes the following: April 23—Lakeview at Memphis.

April 24—Childress at Memphis.

April 26—Quanah at Quanah.

April 29—Quanah at Memphis.

April 30—Turkey (to be decided.)

May 3—Estelline at Memphis.

May 7—Samnorwood at Samnorwood.

May 10—Samnorwood at Memphis.

May 14—Estelline at Estelline.

All games scheduled for Memphis will begin at 4 p. m. while those played in other towns will depend on the time the other team wants to play, Poteet said.

Memphis is not playing in a district this year, the coach continued, but organized a team only for the fun of playing baseball. Members of the starting team are Benny Wisenhunt, catcher; Campbell Morris, Tom Wyatt and Billy Don Johnson, pitchers; Jerry Hickey, first base; Eddie Pland, second base; Robert Morris, short stop; Coy West, third base; Morris Crump, centerfield. The two pitchers will play right and left field.

Other members of the team are Jimmy Winters, James Davis, Johnny LeCroy, Doyle McMurry and Tommy Brewer.

Poteet said the team was a stronger group than he had last year, with latter depth and better all around hitting ability.

Are The Republicans Trying To Wreck The Farm Program?

Now that rains have come some people over the area seem to think that we will have no more economic troubles. This line of reasoning will not stand up under a close examination of the facts. It is true that rain will help, but it is not a cure-all for this area. The only way we can be assured of a fair income for this area is to receive a fair price for our products

Senator Lyndon Johnson, Democratic majority leader in the United States Senate, recently made this point very plain by drawing a comparison between the prices farmers are receiving for their products and the price they have to pay for the things they purchase. Starting with 1947, the first real peacetime year after World War II economic dislocations had settled down, he noted the following changes in prices of some things that farmers must buy:

Gasoline—up 19 per cent; Automobiles—up 56 per cent; Tractors—up 40 per cent; 10 gallon milk cans—up 70 per cent; Steel Fence Posts—up 48 per cent; Barbed wire—up 51 per cent; Poultry netting—up 54 per cent.

Johnson then turned to changes since 1947 in some of the important things farmers sell:

Wheat—down 26 per cent; Corn—down 45 per cent; Potatoes—down 41 per cent; Hogs—down 42 per cent; Beef Cattle—down 20 per cent; Eggs—down 30 per cent; Milk—down 8 1/2 per cent; Cotton is down 12 per cent since 1952.

It takes only a quick glance at these figures to see that the farmer's profit has been cut down to the bone. In addition to this cut, there has been an 8-year drought to make things even worse. Add to this higher interest rates which farmers have to pay for the money they borrow and it easily seen why most farmers have their backs against the wall.

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson's price lowering program doesn't seem to be having the desired result in spite of all the economic predictions. High administration officials have stated that the way to reduce a surplus is to lower the price and soon the people will stop producing so much of the product since they can not make as much money from it. This may work fine in steel mills, automobile factories, and other industrial concerns, where one man on the top can control the entire output, but it will not work with farm products.

A farmer has only one source of income and that is his land. If the price of what he produces drops to a low point, the only way he can make money is to work harder and produce more of the product in order to keep enough food in the house to feed his family.

Senator Hubert Humphrey recently gave up after three months' effort of trying to compromise and negotiate with Secretary Benson, and charged on the Senate floor that Benson is 'deliberately' trying to sabotage the farm programs.

Humphrey charged that Benson has manipulated official figures and statistics, misrepresented facts, and drawn false conclusions to gain acceptance of his policies by those they were designed to injure. He has obstructed and delayed action on necessary farm legislation repeatedly and thus effectively thrown roadblocks in the way of orderly Congressional action.

Other charges were that Benson has deliberately and consciously operated the Department of Agriculture in a manner calculated to drive down farm prices received by farmers. This was supported by the fact that farm prices have dropped 18 per cent. (The consumer has not been helped much by this drop since retail food prices are down only 2 1/2 per cent.)

Humphrey further charged that Benson has not only increased production but also has mismanaged the farm programs to such an extent that the program now is costing 10 times more than it did in the past.

This problem of price supports concerns not only farmers, but everyone in this area who directly or indirectly earns a part of their living from agriculture. It includes everyone from the man who sells gasoline to the people who lend money.

EASTER MORNING

QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

Press Paragraphs—

LET'S GIVE HIM A CHANCE

By CHAS. A. GUY
Lubbock Avalanche-Journal
Well, Ralph Yarborough "finally done it" and even his most implacable political enemy must be having a hard time begrudging him his victory.

Only once in the five times the energetic Austin lawyer has run for State office have I voted for him, or this newspaper supported him. That was a quarter century or so ago, when he ran for attorney General, and lost. Yet I've always liked him personally, our differences being purely a matter of political issues. This he knows and often has noted. And this I want everybody to know, because in this space today I'm going to say some things about Ralph Yarborough that I know—along with some things I believe, although I can't say "I know." There's not always a corollary between what any man actually knows, and what he thinks. The one is fact, the other opinion.

But among the things I know about Ralph Yarborough — and have said in print during his three unsuccessful campaigns for Governor—is that he is personally honest and personally decent. This statement is not open to argument, because he has been engaged in so many bitter battles that if there were one dishonest, or indecent, blot on his "scutcheon, all the world would have known it long before now.

So we may safely go on from there. I know, too, that Ralph Yarborough is a fair-minded man. He has proved that to me as we have met for personal visits while he was engaged in campaigns in which I was on the other side.

Not once but a number of times, Ralph Yarborough has said to me: "I wish you were with me, but I respect your right not to be"—or words to that effect. He knew I was not opposing Yarborough the man, but Yarborough the candidate, simply because I couldn't see eye-to-eye with him and, especially with those closest to him, politically.

As further proof of the man's fairness, I think back to a few days following the July primary of 1954, when Ralph Yarborough was locked in a battle to the death with Allan Shivers. In Lubbock campaigning, Yarborough came to my office. "I just came by to thank you," he said, "for being fair with me. You fought me cleanly. You told no lies. You kept the discussion on the issues and, unlike some others, you didn't say a mean word about me. I know, because I read everything you wrote."

It took a big man to do that, so I know Ralph is big in heart. I thanked Ralph for his words and added this:

"Ralph, there are no flies on you as far as you're personally concerned. There never have been. I promise you that no matter how rough the run-off gets, there's be no dishonest implications, in anything I write. You can count on that."

"I know," said Ralph Yarborough. "That's why I'm here." As for some of the other things I know about Ralph Yarborough, I know he's a fighter—but so does everybody else. I know, too, that as much as any man, he wants to do the right thing. Any mistakes he may make will be of the head and not of the heart.

I know that when he votes in Washington he will favor his friends, whenever he thinks he both can and should, and I wouldn't think much of him if he didn't. I also know that he'll work at his job, unstintingly, because he is a worker at everything in which has a part.

Very high on the things I think about Ralph Yarborough is that he's going to surprise a lot of people by being far less "liberal" than he has been painted.

Despite some of his staunch backers, whose views are extremely radical, I do not think Ralph Yarborough is a "left winger," as some of his detractors have insisted. I do not think he is a left-winger, because nothing in his previous personal, or political life so marks him. To be sure, the left-wing rag-a-tag has supported him in his last four campaigns, along with a great many very fine, clear-thinking people, but they have been for Yarborough largely because they had nowhere else to go. I don't think Ralph Yarborough is going to let them make a stooge of him, if for no other reason that he's never been a stooge for anybody in the past.

As Texans discuss Ralph Yarborough's potentialities as a United States Senator, it's a good time to think back to 1948, when Lyndon Johnson first was elected to the Upper House.

Although he immediately came out against the then most pressing New Deal goals—revision of the Taft-Hartley Law and Socialized medicine—and his pugnacious conserving opponent, Coke Stevenson, kept silent, a lot of people insisted Lyndon Johnson was a "left-winger."

Some pointed to the fact that President Roosevelt had helped Johnson when the latter was a young Representative, which fact, they hinted, indicated that Johnson was likely to put a bomb under the Capital.

Yet Lyndon Johnson went to Washington to become about as sound a middle-of-the-roader as the Senate has—a powerful Senator and certainly one who has the support of the overwhelming majority of his fellow Texans. I think Ralph Yarborough's Senatorial viewpoint is likely to be very similar to that of Lyndon Johnson. If it is, he'll still have his detractors, but they'll be far, far from a majority of the voters.

If the special Senatorial election were to be held tomorrow, instead of having been held on last Tuesday, I'd vote as I did last Tuesday. But the election has been held, Ralph Yarborough won it—and now I hope he'll make a crack-jack Senator from the viewpoint of the majority of Texans, not just those who voted for him Tuesday, who were far from a majority.

There's nothing in the world Ralph Yarborough can do for me, personally, except as he may do for all Texans—be a good Senator. I've got a job, all my brothers-in-law are not only working, but are doing better than I am—so none of us need any patronage and certainly have none coming.

But what I'm getting at is this: Ralph Yarborough is now my Senator, just as much as he is the Senator of those who voted for him.

I'm going to be pulling for him—and hoping for him—to be a

Jim-dandy and I hope the majority of Texans will do the same, and until he disappoints them.

Most people don't care who the United States Senator is, so long as he is honest and decent, so long as he is working and fair, sound and able.

If Yarborough turns out to be that sort of Senator, as he well may, more power to him. Why not give him a chance to prove himself?

New York Schools An interesting example of far people will go to carry out an idea that takes the imagination is given the operation of New York schools. For example, school children in areas where there are no Negro children are transported by bus to schools in other parts of the city, on the theory that the child should be deprived of associating with children of all backgrounds. This might seem to be a commendable scheme, but it is a case of segregation to renege on the promise of the Supreme Court's decision in 1954 that school segregation is unconstitutional.

The Supreme Court's decision was not what was intended in many ways. If we understand the ruling decision simply said that a child could not be excluded from school because of race, since the Fourteenth Amendment guaranteed "equal protection of the law" to everybody. The meaning of this simple requirement has been stretched far beyond its scope of minds of many, who act as if the Supreme Court has no integration under any and all circumstances.

Mrs. T. C. Hulsey Gives Book Review At Pathfinders'

Mrs. Tommy C. Hulsey was guest reviewer for the Pathfinders' Council when they met in the home of Mrs. E. L. McQueen April 9.

For her review, Mrs. Hulsey selected "Year of Love" by Margaret Lee Runbeck, a beautiful love story of a young couple in India and their struggle to help in education and enlightenment of India's young people. The difficulties they encountered from age-old traditions and the consequences of their daring to imitate the type of marriage they observed between the American missionaries made a fascinating tale.

Mrs. W. W. Linville, gave an Easter devotional to complete the program, and Mrs. A. O. Gidden, president, gave a special welcome to the guests, Mrs. J. M. Bass of Clarendon, Mrs. David Hudgins, Mrs. John Smith and Mrs. C. A. Veteto.

Lovely refreshments of cheese sandwiches, cake squares and punch were served to Mesdames Gene Chamberlain, J. J. McDaniel, W. F. Ritchie, J. R. Mitchell, Barney Burnett, A. Gidden, guest speaker Mrs. Hulsey, Special guests and the hostess.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Gene Chamberlain on April 23.

"Good humor is one of the best articles of dress one can wear in society." This quotation by Hackberry caught our eye as we turned through the pages of a small magazine. Perhaps the good humor which is reflected on Easter Sunday as family united to attend services is one of the reasons we enjoy this season.

Admitting that a new Easter bonnet can do much to lift the spirits of a woman, the joy of having the family together again can do even more.

Signs would indicate that at last the man winter has turned his back on us... but with Easter still around the corner who would dare to predict that you won't need that winter coat again!

Have you noticed the yards around town? Not since we have lived here, have we seen so much interest in beautifying the yards as is being manifested this spring. Perhaps this foreign weed which is growing in profusion all over town has caused some of us to get busy.

Several people have asked us the name of the weed which is causing so much back-breaking effort to eradicate. After doing some chopping and weed pulling, we, too, became curious.

Monday we pointed the weed out to William C. Swindle, who is technician for the Hall County Soil Conservation District. He is going to do some research, and hand us a write-up on the weed for the paper next week.

Congratulations to the Lakeview tennis team, which won the honor of competing in Austin for the state title. Both Lakeview teams won in the Interscholastic League meet in Lubbock. Miss Rita Durrett won in the girls singles and Brenda Brister and Martha Joy Reed in the girls doubles.

Marvin Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Brown Smith, has recently been awarded his second scholarship since entering Texas Tech three years ago. This time it was the $250 American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers Scholarship in Petroleum Engineering. In 1954, he received the $500 Harrington freshman engineering scholarship. We know his parents, as well as his friends, are justly proud of the fine work Marvin is doing at Tech.

Another mother who had cause to rejoice doubly last week was none other than Mrs. R. E. Newman of Hedley. In the same week her son, R. F. Newman of Borger was sworn into his new job as employee representative on the Texas Employment Commission, and her daughter, Mrs. L. A. Tucker of Estelline was honored by the Estelline Board of Education and was presented with a service pin for 33 years of service as a teacher in the Estelline Public Schools.

Perchance you missed our column last week... may we add by way of explanation that our granddaughter was here... of course with her parents. At eleven months, we found she could occupy the entire time of both her grandparents and her aunt and uncle as well.

After all, we didn't believe we could do any lasting damage in the way of spoiling in just one short week. Now that A. J. is out of the Army, they will be establishing residence in Fort Worth where he will be employed as an engineer with Convair Aircraft.

The Estelline Senior Class presented the P. T. A. program on April 4. The program was arranged to compliment the children who will start to school in September and their parents. Each senior read an appropriate poem to carry out the idea. Mrs. Raleigh Adams played theme songs and children from the elementary and junior high school pantomimed. The

Mrs. A. D. Britt spoke on the subject "Children Are People." She introduced the pre-school children present, and their families. Mrs. E. F. Kennedy introduced each senior, who in turn introduced his parents or grandparents.

Mrs. Rabb Holland conducted a business meeting. New officers for next school term were elected as follows: president, Mrs. Rabb Holland; vice-president and program chairman, Mrs. O. B. Hoover; second vice-president and finance chairman, Mrs. Joe Eddins; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Frank Cooper, and publicity chairman, Mrs. Crump Ferrel.

Will Writes from Austin

By WILL EHRLE
State Representative
88th District

The Texas House of Representatives accomplished some good constructive work this past week in its fight against the proposed changes in the law concerning illegal voting and misconduct of some members. Many of the stories you read in the daily papers are the result of the daily work of the members who are fighting for the people.

Sparse Area School Bill
Senate Bill (No. 95) passed this week and now goes to the Governor to sign. This measure, called the "Sparse Area School Bill," concerns the professional unit allocations under the present law relating to the school districts in sparsely settled areas. All of the counties in the 88th District should be benefited by this legislation. As of next year, it will be some help (though not enough) to our smaller schools in Texas. I was surprised that there was not a big fight over this measure by the big city representatives, but it passed rather easily.

Congressional Redistricting Gets Tentative Approval
The House has also tentatively approved a measure which would re-district the State of Texas into new Congressional Districts and would do away with the congressman-at-large post. Our district, the 18th, would not have been changed as the proposal was written. The majority of the opposition to this bill came because of the fact that Texas will probably get at least one additional Congressman in 1960 after the next Federal Census. This opposition contended that it would be better to wait until after the next census and then create two new districts at the same time. My guess is that this measure will probably die in the Senate.

Sub-Committee Working on Rural Electric Bill
A State Affairs Sub-Committee is still working on a bill to remedy the present desperate situation in which our REA Co-ops find themselves. The bill would absolve a recent Supreme Court decision which has severely threatened the continued operation and growth of the REA system. It is possible that this sub-committee will report on this bill next week.

Probation Bill Passes
A bill creating a more effective adult probation system in Texas has also passed the House. This measure, I believe, is a step in the right direction to rehabilitate persons who are convicted of an offense and later paroled. If we can help them become good and useful citizens, the State will have performed a wonderful service to society. At the same time, it will save a great deal of money since it is very expensive to keep a man in prison, particularly when he keeps going back and back. This probation system can help prevent our youthful offenders from becoming habitual criminals.

Greenbelt Amendment
The Greenbelt Municipal and Industrial Water Authority Amendment has now passed the Senate and was sent to the Governor. By the time of this reading, I am sure that he will have signed it. (As a new member of the House, this will be my first law on the books, and I hope it will be of great benefit and value to the people of our area.)

Austin News

The first grade children are making plans for Easter. Some of the activities are: a flower shop sale of flowers and novelties, making Easter baskets for a friend, caring for plants, and discussing new clothes.

The second grade had fifteen children absent Monday because of measles.

The third grade read the story of "The Egg Tree" last week. None of the children had ever seen an Easter Egg Tree. They became very enthusiastic in planning an Egg Tree party. Each child brought a boiled egg for "Dying Day". Then the fun began for these third graders. After the eggs were dyed, they were fastened to the tree with cellophane tape. One of the boys Jimmy Lavender, provided us with a small tree. Decorating the tree was very exciting. Some of the eggs were placed in the grass around the flower pot which held the tree. During the week, we discussed eggs as good food.

The entire Easter Egg project proved to be most worthwhile for our grade.

It provided opportunities for activities involving planning, discussions, questioning, handling materials and sharing with others.

Eleven or twelve children in the third grade have been absent each day this week on account of the measles epidemic.

Lynn Gibson and Nedra Miller were chosen as the students of the next two weeks.

Rosemary Harrison and Neil are to edit the 3rd grade news for the following two weeks.

Weekend guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kilpatrick were Mr. and Mrs. Truett Stoveall of Kress, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Foster of Giles, Mr. and Mrs. Ansil Adamson of Hedley and Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Kilpatrick, Jr., and Merle Lee and Teresa Kay.

Visiting here with Mrs. Roy McClure and in the Herschel Combs home Thursday were Mrs. L. A. Dickey, Mrs. Paul Brewer, Mrs. Travis Buske and Nora Mae, all of Wellington.

Attending the annual district conference of Parent-Teacher Assn. in Gruver Saturday were Mrs. Brode Hoover, Mrs. Weldon McCreary and Mrs. Doyle Fowler.

Mrs. E. D. West of Stamford is visiting here this week with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Don West.

Mrs. Ed McCreary spent the weekend in Borger with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Dennis and boys.

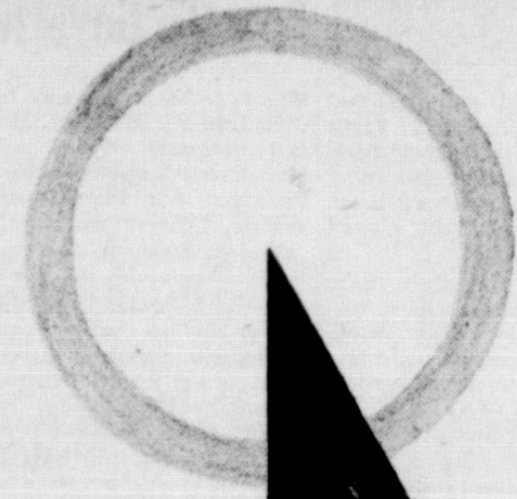

Mrs. John Dieball of Binger, Okla., visited last week with her daughter, Mrs. Brode Hoover and family.

OLDSMOBILE

GEARED TO SOUTHWESTERN LIVING

"You'll like it even better when you drive it!"

Neighbor: Say, your new Olds sure looks like a lot of car!
Olds Owner: That's nothing, wait'll you take a ride.
(A few minutes later:)
Neighbor: Man-oh-man, where'd all that power come from? I've never felt anything like that before!
Olds Owner: That's Oldsmobile's new J-2 Rocket Engine!
Neighbor: What's that? Tell me how it works.
Olds Owner: When you're driving under ordinary conditions, it uses only one carburetor. That means economy with a capital E. But when you need a sudden burst of power, for safety's sake, you just press the accelerator three-quarters of the way down—and two additional carburetors cut in!
Neighbor: In other words, with J-2, you can have economy when you want it and power when you need it. That's for me!
Olds Owner: Better see your Olds dealer. He's expecting you!

Youth Center Meets, Adopts Two New Rules Tuesday

A total of 123 youths were present Saturday night at the meeting of the Memphis Youth Center in their building near the City Park.

A cake sale, which was held the same day, netted the group about $45. At the meeting Saturday night another $23 was raised from the operation of the concession stand and new memberships.

The governing body of the group met in the Cyclone Drive Inn Tuesday and discussed several problems confronting the organization. The group adopted two new rules. Chaperons at the meetings will not be allowed to dance at the center and girls will not be allowed to enter the center wearing shorts.

The group also appointed a complaint committee composed of Mrs. Gentry, Miss Phillips, Ted Myers and Frank Smith. These persons will hear complaints from members of the center, and bring them before the governing body, which is composed of the elected officers of the club.

The group extended their thanks to the several parents who were present at the center Saturday night and welcomed their suggestions as to how the club could be improved.

Membership of the club now totals 167.

Greenbelt Water Bill Passes House, Goes To Governor

A bill by State Senator Andy Rogers to clear the way for validation of the Greenbelt Municipal and Industrial Water Authority has passed the House of Representatives and now goes to the governor to be signed.

The Childress senator was joined in sponsorship of the bill by Rep. Will Ehrlé, also of Childress, in the House.

The bill amends a 1954 statute creating the water authority so as to remove a stumbling block to confirmation elections. The measure makes clear that a city election confirming the authority would not obligate the city to future participation. It would also allow additional towns to join in the project which contemplates a two million-dollar dam on the Salt Fork of Red River and a pipeline supply to the member towns. Towns now included in the act are Memphis, Wellington, Childress, Clarendon, Hedley Quanah and Paducah.

"The passage of this bill will allow our towns to go ahead with their confirmation elections so that the water rights will not be lost to some other area," Senator Rogers said Monday. "The Oklahoma people just across the line are thirsty for some of this water, and under interstate agreements, they might be able to get it if we forfeit our right."

Senator Rogers said that none of the seven cities now involved would be placed under any obligation by electing to confirm the Greenbelt Authority, but could back out of the Authority at any time before a required second confirmation election.

"But we need this first election to insure that we'll be able to hold onto our rights to the water," he said.

Soil Bank Grazing Closed Monday

A telegram received by The Democrat Thursday from Congressman Walter Rogers stated that the grazing date for Soil Bank crops will not be extended beyond April 15.

The telegram is in part as follows:

"The Department of Agriculture refuses to change expiration date for grazing of soil bank crops from April 15 to May 15 in storm ridden area.

Numerous requests to the Department of Agriculture based upon arguments that this same area has undergone six years of drought plus the recent blizzards has failed to alter the department's position.

They advised again this morning that they will not extend the grazing period to May 15."

Paula McCauley took third place in the ready writing event, and Truman Smith fourth place in extemporaneous speech.

In the slide rule contest, Bobby Scott placed sixth and Franklin LeCroy 14th.

Paul Wilson was the only entry in the track and field events, and was unable to place in shot put and discus competition.

Over 18 districts and 100 schools were represented at the Lubbock meet.
