Local Businesses To Close Thursday For Thanksgiving

After a complete mix-up last year on Thanksgiving, indications are that the majority of local businesses will be closed next Thursday to observe "turkey day."

It will be remembered that last year Texas observed the fifth Thursday in the month as Thanksgiving while the rest of the nation, and local government offices, observed the fourth Thursday.

This was changed by the last session of the State Legislature so that now the observance will be on the fourth Thursday.

Next week's issue of The Democrat will be published Wednesday afternoon.

County Farmers May Receive Pay For Placing Cotton Burs on Land

Hall County will have a program whereby payment can be made for placing cotton burs on the land if an application is approved by the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office, Lynn McKown, local ASC office manager, announced this week.

The program was discussed last Friday at a county agricultural conservation practices development meeting held at the court house. In attendance were representatives of the various agricultural agencies and county ASC committees.

The application, forwarded to the state office, asks for the establishment of a payment of $1.25 per ton, per acre, not to exceed a total of $6 per acre, for placing cotton burs on cropland for the control of winter erosion.

The request was the outgrowth of discussion by many county farmers on the need for such a program.

Also during the meeting, those in attendance discussed the present conservation practices program and agreed to continue the program next year under about the same provisions as have been carried out this year.

McKown said they hoped to have the cotton bur program in operation by Dec. 1, 1957.

Meeting for the discussion were representatives of the Soil Conservation Service, Farmers Home Administration, Hall County Soil Conservation District, and the rim fire rifles, and pistols will all be included in the competition.

Shotguns, large bore rifles, .22

Refreshments will be available at the range, according to the fire department representative.

"Because of rain, last Sunday's shoot was not well-attended. Many prizes of dressed turkeys, hams and bacon are left to be won. All gun fans are urged to come out and try their skill at winning a Thanksgiving dinner. For fun as well as prizes, come to the airport Sunday and bring your guns," Massey said.

ASC Office Gets Additional Money For Conservation

The county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office received an additional allotment of $5,450 to be used for conservation practices during the remainder of 1957, Lynn McKown, office manager, announced this week.

The additional allocation makes a total of $93,550 devoted to conservation practices in this county this year.

McKown urged county farmers who had a conservation practice which they could carry out before the end of the year to come by the office and make application now that money is available.

This additional money is allocated to cover regular ACP work, such as terraces and other conservation practices, he said.

Basketball Season Gets Underway; 30 Boys, 33 Girls Participating

Basketball workouts got underway this week for Memphis boys as the football season rolled behind, Coach Dave Corley reported.

The Cyclone girls basketball squad has been practicing for about two weeks with a total of 33 girls participating. They are also under the direction of Coach Corley.

Approximately 30 boys were on hand for the first workout session held Monday. Corley said that later in the season the squad will be divided into about 12 boys for the A squad and the rest on the B team.

The girls team at present has about 21 members on the A squad and 12 on the B team. Later in the year the A team will be reduced to 12 members.

The first A squad game of the season, for both boys and girls, will be held Tuesday night at Estelline beginning at 7 p. m.

Corley said he planned to carry all of the girls and most of the boys to Estelline for the event.

In pre-season scrimmage so far this year, the Memphis girls have defeated Hedley, 53-37; Kirkland, 45-25; Lelia Lake, 55-38; and lost to Lakeview, 34-37.

The Memphis B teams will compete in a tournament at Hedley Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. Local girls will meet Lelia Lake at 6 p. m. Thursday and the boys will compete against the same school at 7 p. m. that evening.

In commenting on the squads this year, Corley said that both A teams will be small. "We have a couple of tall boys and one or two tall girls," he said.

Work was also begun this week on refinishing the Memphis gymnasium floor. A complete sanding of the floor will be followed by several coats of varnish. The gymnasium will be completed in time for the first home game with Price College Tuesday night.

Memphis teams have been working out at Lakeview and Hedley during the refinishing work.

He worked for some time in missile research with Von Braun, chief of the U. S. Missile Development Program at Redstone Arsenal, Huntsville, Ala.

The in-service training program for administrators is a statewide project sponsored jointly by the Texas Association of School Administrators, Texas Education Agency, and the Kellogg Foundation.

Leads Nation In Grain Sorghum; Production Doubles That of Last Year

George E. Neel, Jr., Business Review

... Texas, the most important grain sorghum state in the nation, will produce approximately 100 per cent of a record crop estimated at 514 million bushels and 2 1/2 times the yield of last year.

all others. From 1941 to 1950 it represented about 30 per cent of the total grain grown in the state.

Numerous factors are responsible for the rapid expansion of sorghum in Texas and the Southwest, but perhaps the most important is that sorghum can thrive in a dry, semiarid climate where most other cereals grains cannot.

Almost as important as sorghum's adaptability to dry regions is its physical ability to be harvested entirely by machine. Because of this, fewer man hours are required to make a crop of sorghum today than almost any other grain. Sorghum has not always been physically adapted to mechanical harvest, however.

In the early part of this century Texas sorghum stalks grew from 10 to 12 feet tall. Harvesting was done with a pocket knife or corn knife and the grain heads thrown into a wagon box. But it was during this period that the mechanical harvester arrived on the American farming scene, completely revolutionized it—that is, all except sorghum harvest.

To take advantage of this opportunity, a different type of lower height had to be developed. In endeavoring to do this, the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Stations worked intensively developing hybrids. From 1920 to 1930 plant breeders in these agencies altered considerably the tall, late type, but though this early alteration made sorghum more easily harvested by hand it did not cause sufficient change for adequate combine harvest. But in the 1940's, double-dwarf types were developed that were of suitable height for combine harvest. Merely developing sorghum of correct combine height did not satisfy these researchers. Work on hybrids continued, and in 1957 seven new varieties, said to be the first practical sorghum hybrids, were made available to Texas farmers for planting. Approximately 12,000 acres were devoted in 1956 to production of seeds of these hybrids, which are considered to be the best of several hundred produced by the Lubbock and Chilled Stations.

These hybrids are of excellent height for combine harvest—from four to five feet. Yields are 20 to 40 per cent greater from these plants than from older varieties; they show rapid growth, are of uniform height, and reach early maturity.

Due to similar composition of the two grains, industrial processing plants have found that virtually the same products can be obtained in the milling of sorghum as are obtained from the processing of corn. Because of occasional corn shortages, plus the fact that sorghum can be produced and sold cheaper, industrial processing of sorghum grain is expanding—both in the number of plants engaged in sorghum processing and in the number of products obtained.

ed foods, and synthetic rubber. The oil, which is pressed from the germ, makes up about 2 per cent of the original grain. It is used in the production of a variety of purposes, such as soaps, glycerine, margarine, mayonnaise, and pharmaceutical preparations. The remaining material amounts to approximately 35 per cent of the processed grain and is available as feed for farm animals in the form of sorghum gluten feed and sorghum gluten meal.

Another recently expanded outlet for sorghum has been through Products obtained from sorghum include starch, sugar, oil, and animal feeds. From these basic products, the number of subsequent usages is enormous. Starch, which represents about one-third of the original grain, is used in confections, bakery products, cosmetics, brewing, paper, textiles, pharmaceutical preparations, and in many other products. A little more than 30 per cent of the grain ends up as sugar, used in such products as confections, carbonated beverages, canned and process-grain exports. Europe and the Near East have been using the grain primarily for feed, but India and other Far Eastern countries use it largely in a home-ground meal for human consumption.

Apparently, sorghum has attained considerable popularity in these overseas countries, since about one-third of recent U. S. crops have been sold as exports. In 1950 the United States exported about 75,000,000 bushels of sorghum grain—a considerable increase from the 1946 exportation of only 23,978,000 bushels.

However, there is still much room for improvement in sorghum grain utilization. At present, under its price support program, the federal government holds about 75 million bushels, and some officials estimate that the record harvest ahead will increase this amount by as much as 100 million bushels. While farmers seem inclined to leave the problem of surplus grain to the government, any drastic revision of the price support program might affect sorghum production. If corn prices were to remain relatively high, however, much sorghum grain would supplant corn as livestock feed.

IN 58 DAYS A '58 PLYMOUTH RAN 58,000 MILES—EQUAL TO MORE THAN TWICE AROUND THE WORLD

AND IT DROVE EVERY INCH OF THE WAY!

... saw this car was tough. Designed it that way. ... why we weren't afraid to give it the toughest test run of all time... with all America as the "track." ... didn't coddle this Plymouth. Didn't ship it carefully from place to place. Instead, we aimed it out of Los Angeles one misty morning and sent it on a course that ran 58,000 miles through 37 states. ... time limit? Only 58 days. ... equivalent of 6 years' driving compressed into little more than 3 weeks!

Three times this Plymouth crossed the Rockies. Three times it wound its way up and down across the country... passing through more than 1200 cities and towns. Whipping over turnpikes... creeping through city traffic... arrowing down super-highways... feeling its way through 500 miles of rutted detours. And when the drivers turned the key to end the marathon, it still looked, ran and rode like new.

This is what lasting value really means. The ability to take everything that American roads and weather can dish out—and come up grinning. Why don't you give Plymouth a test drive yourself—today? You'll see what we mean.

That's the Plymouth "track"... and just look at that route! Every possible road and weather condition. Plymouth ran every inch of that murderous route 3 times in just 58 days. What greater proof of lasting, built-in stamina!

Star of the Forward Look... Plymouth ahead for keeps!

Beverly Crawford Feted With Shower In Wright Home

The home of Mrs. Guy Wright, 321 N. 11th, was the scene Thursday evening, Nov. 14, for a lovely bridal shower honoring Beverly Crawford, bride-elect of Rayford Hutcherson.

Guests calling between the hours of 7:00 and 9:00 p. m. were greeted by Mrs. Wright, and presented to a receiving line composed of the honoree, her mother, Mrs. W. J. Crawford, and the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Ida Hutcherson.

Misses Monta June Saye and Iola Robertson alternated at the guest register.

The refreshment table, laid with a white cloth, was centered with a tiered glass stand on which tiny figures of a bride and three bridesmaids stood. They were dressed to carry out the bride-elect's chosen colors, blue and white. Blue napkins, printed in silver to say "Beverly and Rayford," were also arranged on the table. Dainty mints, cookies, and nuts were served. Misses Priscilla Wright, Jackie Crawford, and Mrs. Kenneth Barbee presided alternately at the crystal punch service.

On display in adjoining rooms of the party suite was a lovely array of gifts presented to the honoree by her friends.

Cohostesses with Mrs. Wright for the courtesy were Mes. Leslie Foxhall, Rachel Jones, M. C. Robertson, O. R. Saye, Sacky Watson, Frank Monzingo, Roy Patton, Wendell Harrison, W. C. ### Around and About by Helen Combs

A girl from Holland, who was a student at Texas Tech, once commented to us on the wonderful sunshine we have here in Texas, stating she felt that it accounts for the unusually cheerful attitudes of our people.

Perhaps never, certainly not in a long time, has the sunshine looked as good to us as it has this week. Without doubt, we could see an immediate change in those about us as the sun shown out bright and clear Monday morning . . . we shed cloaks of gloom for one of cheerfulness!

A worthwhile project was begun last week by the Travis Parent-teacher Association when they started a fund to air condition the Travis Cafetorium. The organization placed $70 in the fund from proceeds raised in the recent Halloween Carnival.

Mrs. David Aronofsky, who is the unit's reporter, said the group hoped other organizations in the city would join with them in this project. Taking the place of a city auditorium, the cafetorium is used by many organizations for various gatherings . . . and many times there is a need for an air conditioned building.

W. V. Coursey, long-time manager of the local water company is missing at his usual post this week. Mr. Coursey is receiving treatment at a local hospital after becoming ill during office hours Friday.

Another long-time resident, Mrs. Geo. Bass, is also confined to a local hospital. Mrs. Bass suffered a stroke several days ago. Not many weeks ago, Mrs. Ernest Lee brought us four of the nicest hot pan mats which Mrs. Bass crocheted. She told us then how much her mother enjoyed crocheting . . . and how difficult it was to keep her supplied with the certain kind of yarn which she used.

A November Peach? Yes, indeed! Mrs. J. H. Hodges, who lives at 812 Montgomery, enjoyed such a treat Saturday when she picked a ripe peach from the tree in her back yard. Mrs. Hodges, who is 85 years of age, said the peach was of normal size and was on a lower branch of the tree.

Congratulations to W. W. Tumlinson who celebrated his 78th birthday Sunday with a dinner at the family home. A retired gin worker who was employed by Farmers Co-op Gin for many years, Mr. Tumlinson enjoys the best of health. We first met Mr. Tumlinson several years ago when he needed a record played to listen to a recording sent to him by the U. S. Air Force. The record was one made by his son, Capt. Tumlinson, who was serving in the Far East during the Korean War.

We're looking forward to the weekend . . . our granddaughter Susan and her parents are coming up from Ft. Worth. We're anxious to see what six month old Debbie and Susan, who is 18 months, think of each other. Honestly, these grandchildren are more fun . . . no problem at all really . . . if they're naughty just hand them over to mom and dad!

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Dunbar returned Tuesday from Fort Worth where they spent the weekend visiting with their daughter, Mrs. M. J. Hodge and family.

Pathfinders' Meet In McQueen Home

William Henry Drummond's statement, "The family circle is the supreme conductor of Christianity" was used as the core for the Pathfinder's program Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 12, in the home of Mrs. E. L. McQueen. To introduce the program, "Mattie's TV Home Show," the president, Mrs. A. O. Gidden read the poem: "God Bless the Homes of Earth Today" by Grace Nell Crowell.

For the meditation Mrs. O. M. Gunstream read and interpreted the poem "Bless Our House". Having been set to music, this lyric has become one of our most popular songs. The roll was answered by an exchange of favorite recipes. In discussing "Myths and Legends of Flowers around the Calendar," Mrs. Ernest Lee quoted Percy Bysshe Shelly, who said, "Methought that of these visionary flowers I made a nosegay". With myth and legend she explained that the flowers of the months are: January, snowdrop; February, violet; March, daffodil; April, sweetpea; May, Lilly of the valley; June, the rose; July, water lily; August, poppy; September, morning glory; October, goldenrod; November, chrysanthemum; December, holly.

The guest speaker, Mrs. Mildred Stephens, warned that now is the time for preparing flower beds; she urged that people plant more flowering trees; and then she demonstrated several artistic floral arrangements.

During the business meeting the pledge to remember Boys' Ranch and the state Hospital in Wichita Falls with a Christmas gift was renewed.

Those enjoying a delicious refreshment were Mes. Barney Burnett, Hester Bownds, E. L. Kilgore, W. F. Ritchie, A. Gidden, A. O. Gidden, O. M. Gunstream, J. J. McDaniel, J. R. Mitchell, Gene Chamberlain, Earnest Lee, E. L. McQueen and guest, Mrs. Mildred Stephens.

The members will meet again on Tuesday, November 26, at 6:30 in the home of Mrs. A. O. Gidden for a Thanksgiving dinner and program.

Report From Washington

By Walter Rogers
Congressman, 18th District

The National Debt

On November 7, 1957, the daily statement of the United States Treasury reflected that interest on the public debt, since July 1, 1957, amounted to 1 billion 805 million 476 thousand 235 dollars and 28 cents. This was an increase of 403 million dollars in less than 5 months, while the amount of the public debt, itself, was approximately the same. In other words, the American taxpayers were required to pay almost 3 million dollars additional each day during the fiscal year of 1958, which began on July 1, 1957, than they were required to pay for the same amount of money during the fiscal year of 1957, which began on July 1, 1956. At this rate, increased interest alone will consume approximately 1 billion dol-ars for 1958. Most interesting when compared with the amount that we have been spending on research and development of long-range ballistic missiles. According to recent reports from high officials, the expenditures for this program have been approximately 1 billion dollars per year. In other words, the INCREASE in the interest rate alone on the national debt may amount to more than has been spent on research and development of the long-range missiles program. This caused one fellow to observe that, if high government officials in this country had been as concerned about raising a sputnik as they were about raising interest rates, we would still be ahead of Russia.

TOO LITTLE, TOO LATE is the way we Dodge dealers feel about competitors' efforts to match the Swept-Wing 58. They lowered the roof some, but left the sides high. Their windshields got smaller while ours got bigger. So much for styling. Then, for another important comparison, take ride. Here's Dodge with Torsion-Aire suspension that just about everybody admits is the greatest advance in sway-free, dip-free, silent going that any car offers. So what do these other cars do? They borrow an air suspension system that's been used in buses for two years! (Costing well over $100.00 extra.) And most of 'em still don't have push-button driving—much less Dodge TorqueFlite—the proven automatic transmission. If you're a little disappointed in the '58 version of your car, come in and see our Swept-Wing 58. The others are catching on—but they can't catch up.

Ralph Yarborough's Report

By RALPH YARBOROUGH
U. S. Senator

Texas, our so-called "land of the big rich," is unfortunately still the "state of the hungry old folk."

But it is encouraging to note that Texans voted in favor of the Constitutional Amendment to boost old age pension checks $2 a month.

This meager raise is a pitiful increase to tack on a starvation allotment, but at least it shows we Texans are moving in the right direction.

In my recent fact-finding visits to all parts of the State, I have found that our old folk who have so little are the ones who have been hit the hardest by the continual cost of living increases.

Some death certificates list the cause of death as "malnutrition," which usually means the person couldn't get sufficient variety of food to avoid starving.

We Texans like to brag about everything in our State being the biggest and best, and that is the way it should be. Yet, we certainly can't brag about the way we take care of our old people.

The average monthly old age assistance grant in Texas is $45.05 compared to the national average on such checks of $59.01. Texas is nearly $15 a month below the national average and ranks 40th among the 48 states. Of all the assistance paid in Texas, over 65 per cent of it comes from the Federal Government, so it is evident this critical problem requires action by our State Legis-

I believe that our pension average should be raised to at least $65, and I want to work with all people who want to do something about these measly, miserly pensions.

Everytime there is a movement to raise old age pensions, some selfish interests and unconcerned politicians holler, "It's socialism." This criticism is plainly selfishness. We are strengthening—not softening—the moral fibre of Texas when we answer the needs of those who have done a life's work. We will be doing only what is right and decent when we provide them with enough milk and bread and a little meat.

Terraces Completed On Several Farms In Turkey Area

J. J. James, Tink and Dean Lane, and O. D. Bray Sr. of the Turkey Community have been doing considerable terrace work. These men are cooperators in the Hall County Soil Conservation District.

New terraces were constructed on the James and Lane farms. The terraces on the Bray farm were enlargement of old terraces.

Terraces are used for intercepting the flow of water across cultivated land at frequent intervals to hold it on the land allowing it to be absorbed by the soil. They also act as a guide line for contour cultivation.

The surveying and checking systems were done by the technicians of the Soil Conservation Service.

Tax Man — SAM SEZ

A lot of folks who work at one place and live in another have trouble with Internal Revenue over where their home is. A man who has voted in Wise County during all of his adult 50 years is rather surprised to find out that his tax home is in Fort Worth when he has a full time permanent job in Fort Worth. Generally speaking, for tax purposes, and especially for computing travel expense, your tax home is where you work, not where Mom and the kids stay.

Billy Don Johnson returned Sunday from Amarillo after having undergone surgery on his knee. His condition is reported as very good.

The Amarillo Social Security Office, together with 557 other District Offices of the Social Security Administration, is cooperating with farm and business industries in the nationwide observance of Farm-City Week, John R. Sanderson, District Manager, announced today.

Since the objection of National Farm-City Week (Nov. 22-28), is to stress the interrelation of rural and urban peoples, Sanderson said that the Social Security Administration will emphasize the "oneness" of its old-age survivors, and disability program.

"Some people do not fully understand that the social security program is the same for the farmer and for the city person," Sanderson said. "Many farmers still think that old-age, survivors, and disability insurance for them and their families is a distinct and separate program from the social security program for city folks. Some believe erroneously, that when they reach retirement age they just have to apply at their social security district office for farmers' benefits and then go right on with their farming activities," he declared.

As a possible reason for this misunderstanding, may be that the social security law does contain a few special provisions for farmers in recognition of the fact that farming differs in many ways from the operation of other business enterprises. There provisions relate to the way self-employed farmers are permitted to figure their net earnings for social security purposes if their gross farm income is not more than $1,800 and their net is less than $1,200; also, the manner in which farm rental income received from a tenant or share-farmer can count for social security credit if the farm landlord "materially participates" in the operation of the land he rents out.

These special provisions for farm operators, however, have nothing to do with the type of social security benefits payable or work eligibility for benefits. Farmers and their families qualify for these Federal insurance payments based in a farmer's work under social security just like millions of city workers who are employed or self-employed in offices, factories, mercantile enterprises or covered professions in urban areas.

The interdependence of farm and city is a factor in the extension of old-age, survivors, and disability insurance to farm people, and it is the reason why the Social Security Administration is wholeheartedly cooperating in the observance of National Farm-City Week," Sanderson declared.

How to Keep a Free Press FREE

SELDOM does Freedom of the Press disappear in one annihilating blow.

In countries where the Press has been chained, there was first a period when it failed to realize and resist the beginnings of its end — the first encroachments on its freedom. There were powerful interests which wanted certain facts "kept out of the newspapers." There was pressure here and pressure there to have the truth withheld.

Before the Press of any nation succumbs to tyranny, there always has been a period of failure to speak out.

Here in America there is only the limitation of national security — the necessity to protect and preserve confidential military and scientific information — which can be accepted by a Press that is determined to stay free.

America's newspapers have made, and will continue to make, a conscientious effort to protect that security — at the same time keeping the people informed as fully as possible on all matters concerning their welfare. So long as American newspapers pursue that policy fearlessly, our Press, our people and our country shall remain free of tyranny.

The time limit for final passage. Because of the Constitution limit of 30 days for each special session, the session was over at the stroke of midnight.

Tension mounted as the clock ticked away the seconds and the minutes. At 11:38, the Conference Committee brought in their report. Only 22 minutes remained before the final stroke. But with a scant eight minutes left the previous question was moved and a last ditch stand to defeat the lobby bill was killed.

Second Called Session Starts

Now we've started all over again with a 2nd Special Session to consider an anti-troop bill. We'll see what happens next week.

Carolyn Floyd Chosen Queen of Lakeview Eagles

Carolyn Floyd, junior, was crowned Queen for 1957-1958 of the Lakeview Eagles football team during half-time of the Lakeview-Estelline game on Friday night.

The election of queen was by secret ballot, and her identity was not revealed until announcement at the game by Principal Jess Whittington.

The pep squad and football team formed a heart in which the queen stood to be crowned by captain of the team, Kenneth Sanders. He also presented her with a beautiful bouquet of white mums.

Her attendants and their escorts were: Cleta Garrison, escorted by Tony Molloy; Patsy Nabers, escorted by Co-Captain Jimmy Molloy; Betty Barclay, escorted by Co-Captain Roy Pate. The attendants were given corsages of red carnations.

Keith Robertson, another co-captain, was ill and unable to take part in the ceremony.

TSTA Banquet Held Nov. 11 In Cafetorium

On Monday night, Nov. 11, the annual T. S. T. A. banquet was held in the Travis Cafetorium. Teachers from the Lakeview, Estelline, Turkey and Memphis schools were present.

Mrs. Roy L. Guthrie gave the invocation. Welcome was extended by Supt. W. C. Davis.

A delicious meal was served to the members. Tables were decorated with the school colors of each of the schools represented.

Mr. Davis then introduced the speaker, L. P. Sturgeon, public relations director of the Texas State Teachers Association.

Mr. Sturgeon discussed problems vital to the teaching profession.

The River Rhone in France is the swiftest in the world.

Delphian Club Given Information In Weathercasting

Mrs. Weldon McCreary was hostess to the Delphian Club on Nov. 19.

A program was presented on the "Gift of Caution," with Mrs. Ben Wilson, Jr., president, as leader.

The meditation was given by Mrs. Clyde Smith. Richard Bay, weather forecaster and program director of KFDA television station in Amarillo, was introduced as speaker on "Weather." He spoke at length on high and low pressure systems, explaining that high pressure is much like a mountain—building up higher. It has a definite circulation to it, spreading outward. The high pressure system revolves in a clockwise direction. Low pressure is like a deep valley, revolving in a counter-clockwise direction, Mr. Bay said.

Tornadoes, too, were discussed. Mr. Bay stated that not too much is actually known about a tornado. Only the tornado echo can be picked up. He said ground observers were needed for this purpose badly. The difference between a weather forecast and a warning was also explained. A forecast is only when there is a possibility of a tornado, while a warning comes when there is an actual tornado that has been sighted, Mr. Bay stated.

Refreshments of marachino nut cake and coffee were served to the following members: Mmes. A. Anisman, Sidney Baker, Charles Coley, J. L. Barnes, Jack Boone, Kenneth Dale, W. C. Dickey, Henry Hays, C. C. Hodges, J. S. McMurry, C. D. Morris, Clyde Smith, Mildred Stephens, J. W. Stokes, B. J. Thomson, R. H. Wherry, Ben Wilson, Jr., Carl Wood, and the hostess, Mrs. McCreary.

Mr. and Mrs. Preston Russey and Mr. and Mrs. Dee Yates, all of Fort Worth, were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Barbee of Lakeview over the weekend. On Sunday a family dinner was held. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Hap Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Martin and Danny, Mrs. Boyd Cummings and Jeanette, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Barbee, all of Memphis; Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Barbee, and Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Robertson, Keith, and Carl Wayne, all of Lakeview; Mr. and Mrs. Russey, and Mr. and Mrs. Yates of Fort Worth, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. J. Congratulations Cyclone, Coaches

We feel that congratulations are in order this week for the Cyclone football team and their coaches for the manner in which the group played throughout the season. They ended the year with a five win-five loss record and were co-champions of the district percentage wise. However, the recognition is not for winning but for the manner in which the team competed throughout the year.

Many times this year the team was considered the underdog, but they never let this dampen their spirit. In most of the games this season they faced teams which outweighed them as much as 10 pounds per man, but they continued to prove over and over again that a small man playing with his heart is better than a giant only half trying. This was evident in several of the games as the small Cyclone linemen continued to open holes in the opposing line and also as the line held their heavier foes. Backs are due for recognition also for the manner in which they carried the ball. They constantly kept driving, trying to pick up that extra yard before they were halted.

But most of all the squad proved anew the real value of teamwork. Eleven men working together were hard to defeat as all of the Cyclone foes will admit this year. Never before have we heard so much praise for the losing team as after the Wellington game. Even with no hope of winning in the closing minutes the squad continued to play as if it were the first quarter.

We want to thank the team for representing Memphis in a manner in which we can all be proud. The coaches and squad put in many long, hard hours in order to make the team the success it was.

Good Bye Huck Finn!

Stephen Foster's "Old Black Joe" is a piece of immortal Americana, loved and sung by tens of millions of people over the generations. But it has been banned from certain air networks—on the grounds that it contains racially offensive phrases.

Now the New York City Board of Education has taken
"The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn" from its approved textbook list for grade and junior high schools. A great many excellent critics regard Huck Finn as the greatest of all American novels, and practically all put it very high on the short list of genuine classics. The New York Times reports a publisher as saying the book was banned because, like Stephen Foster's wonderful old song, it was held to contain racially offensive material.

There is only one logical end to such a trend. All literary and musical material which happens to offend anyone should be banned—whether those offended are white men, yellow men, or black men; Protestants, Catholics or Jews; business men or labor leaders, and so on ad infinitum. Then we can all live in a cultural vacuum comparable to the Dark Ages.

The Enemy on the Highway

This nation spends some $40 billion a year to maintain its military defenses, in the hope that another war and the toll of death, destruction and human misery that would follow can be prevented. Yet, each year, the toll of death, destruction and human misery caused by highway accidents—of which the major cause is excessive speed—rivals the casualty lists of wars of the past.

The Texas Department of Public Safety warned last week that the most dangerous season of the year is approaching as far as highway casualties are concerned. Their statisticians predicted that about 48 per cent of the accidents for the year will happen between now and the new year's driving.

If you plan to drive to another town to celebrate Thanksgiving next week, be alert behind the wheel. Several hundred will probably observe Thanksgiving at the bedside of a relative who didn't quite make it in time for the annual dinner.

Unusual Happings Around the State

Doody's Egg
GALVESTON—Doody, a little black hen, was the talk of the neighborhood when she laid a tiny little heart-shaped egg.
She surprised her owners, Mr. and Mrs. Al Jones and their seven children, and a poultry store owner, who said they never saw or heard of an egg like that.

The only one around who was unimpressed was Doody's red bantam spouse, Elvis, who was merely indifferent.

Girl Trouble
BROWNSVILLE—A couple of young Mexico City girls who wanted to tell their boy friends that they had arrived in Brownsville safely, sent fire equipment scurrying to E. Sixth and St. Francis Streets.
Police said the girls were attempting to mail post cards when they mistook a fire alarm box for a mail box.

"No damage other than the girls' embarrassment," police said.

He's Buffaloed
ALVIN—J. B. Choate frequently gives his buffalo a bottle of beer at his country store north of Alvin.

Choate is selling buffalo chips to souvenir minded tourists, and since buffalo are relatively scarce in these parts, he figures he has a corner on the market, so he sort of pampers his buffalo.

QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

Individual Americans...
Have Civil Rights, Too
If the august Justices of the Supreme Court would evidence as much concern for protecting the civil rights of individual citizens as they do for civil rights of certain well-organized racial and economic groups, they would command more respect from this corner.

The same Court, however,
which recently upset a great body of American law because it felt that the civil rights of some convicted Communists had been invaded by Congressional investigators... and Justice Department lawyers... who asked embarassing questions about their past associations, has turned a deaf ear to the plea of a handful of ordinary Americans who don't want to be forced to pay tribute to a labor union in order to hold their jobs.

The case in point is that of thirteen Santa Fe railway employees at Amarillo who have resisted enforced membership in labor unions.

The Santa Fe workers had already lost an appeal to the Texas Supreme Court which spinelessly ruled that the right-to-work laws of this state do not apply to railway employees covered by the National Railway Labor Act.

The Texas Supreme Court held that the workers could not be required to take a union oath or bow to other forms of union allegiance, but could be required to pay union dues... thus subjecting them to the payment of a financial tribute to a Labor Union for "protection" which they have not asked for and do not want.

The U. S. Supreme Court, by refusing to review their case, in effect placed its stamp of approval on this act of legalized extortion, which bears such a strong resemblance to the "protection" rackets of the Capone era that the layman would be hard-put to detect the difference.

The U. S. Supreme Court action was not surprising, since these liberal justices have repeatedly supported compulsory unionism as a condition of employment.

But we do not understand how these same justices, who have exhibited such grave concern for the civil rights of a racial minority (the Negroes of the South) can have so little concern for the economic rights of an economic minority (the non-union laborers).

Have we reached a point where the only way an American citizen can protect his civil liberties is by turning them over to some powerful organization for safe-keeping?
—The Canadian Record.

U. S. Apologizes

The United States, in the person of Herman B. Wells, goes before the United Nations and apologizes for its troubles in extending full civil rights to peoples of all races. It is, in the words of Mr.
Wells, a "long and difficult task."

No country in the world has more riotous "race problems" than Nehru's India with its caste system and the fierce division between Hindus and Moslems. India tolerates an external intervention from any agency.

The French told the United Nations a long time ago that its internal problems in Algeria are no part of the business of the United Nations. The Soviet, through Andrei Gromyko, has often selosed off debate on Russian problems which the Kremlin bosses hold are theirs alone. South Africa has its "apartheid" and does not explain its reason to the international police.

Why, then, should we?
Compared with other nations
we have a record we can be proud of in so far as our treatment of peoples of all races and class is concerned.

Why not emphasize the positive?—Houston Chronicle.

During the Boer War in South Africa (1899-1902) Thomas A.
Edison kept fully equipped "British" and "Boer" armies in the hills of northern New Jersey. As news of the real battles came from the front, these "armies" would go through the same action for motion picture cameras and the battle films would be sent to the movie houses.

Postmaster Urges Citizens To Mail Early for Xmas

Memphis Postmaster Jim Vallance reminded area residents this week that only a month remains before Christmas will again arrive upon the scene.

Predicting that the Christmas mail this year will set an all-time record, even exceeding that set in 1956, Vallance urged residents to begin making their plans for sending cards and gifts.

The postmaster urged special care in preparing gift packages for mails. Make sure that all addresses are legible and complete.

"If you have any articles of unusual size or bulk, better check with the post office before attempting to mail them," the postmaster said. The limits on size and weight of packages varies, depending on where you mail your packages, he added.

When wrapping gifts for mailing, it is always better to use corrugated cartons, especially where there are a number of various sized objects in the shipment, he said.

Use plenty of wadded tissue or newspaper for extra protection against shock, and securely wrap each package or carton in heavy paper, and then tie it with strong cord. Be sure to include an extra label with return address and the recipient's address inside the carton or package before it is wrapped.

The local post office hopes to keep its good record of handling Christmas mails by getting everything processed and delivered well before Christmas Eve, the postmaster said.

NEW TEXAS TECH STADIUM—Pictured above is an architect's conception of the expanded and re-modeled Clifford B. and Andrey Jones Stadium which is scheduled for completion in 1960, the first year of Tech participation in Southwest Conference football title play. ### Ground Observer Corps Post Here Alerted for Friday

The Memphis post of the Ground Observer Corps will hold an area-wide alert Friday from 6 until 9 p. m., Hubert Dennis, supervisor of the post stated this week.

Dennis urged all members to report to the observation building at that time. He invited anyone interested in joining to also meet at that time.

The supervisor stated that they would be happy to have visitors during the exercise.

"During the alert we will spot every airplane that comes into the area and report its flight to a filter center in Oklahoma City. There it will be tracked by reports from the various observation posts," Dennis said.

The organization uses a building, recently constructed, on top of the court house as their base of operation.

shouldn't be long before the gravel is spread and then topped.

Memphis doesn't look so good to local people, and therefore it evidently doesn't appeal to visitors right now, because of the littered appearance of the whole town, due to fallen leaves and other trash that has been blown in by recent winds. It is that time of year for residents to start raking and burning. Let's not become litterbugs. Rather, let's be clean-cruffers.

Recently, Frank Finch, who operates two ranches in this area, invited the writer to accompany him on a trip to the ranches. We went first to his ranch east of Hedley. There he and his ranch operators proceeded to work some calves. We helped by staying out of their way. Sat in the car trying to keep warm, while they toiled and perspired—not seeming to notice the coolness of the day.

From there we went to his ranch south of Hedley. It was an interesting trip, seeing country that was familiar to us back in 1910-17 when we published The Hedley Informer.

The Finch Ranch is really worth visiting. Living water on every section, with only one windmill, with grass better than usual and small farms scattered over the ranch in the more level places. Feed and winter pasture grown to furnish feed for the livestock during the winter.

We must have gone over every section of the ranch. It has plenty of rough places for cattle's protection in winter. Quite a lot of timber along the running streams, which at that time was ablaze with Autumn colors. A number of large oak trees (such as one seldom seen in this area) and plenty of cottonwood trees, with an abundance of wild plum bushes adding their deep-red splash to hillsides.

This ranch, in early days, was part of the old Shoebat holdings, and was known as the Indian Creek Camp.

home of Joe Dary in Morningside. A disagreement arose and Chism inflicted a knife wound on the left forearm of Powers, cutting an artery in the arm. Powers was taken to a local hospital after losing a large amount of blood, but is reported to be in good condition.

Chism pleaded guilty to a charge of aggravated assault Monday, and was fined $75 and costs, a total of $105.30.

The second incident took place about 11 a. m. Saturday night at the Lucy Robinson Cafe in Morningside, when James Arthur Knox Jr. of East Texas and L. O. Tillman, local resident, got into an argument over personal affairs. Knox inflicted a chest wound on Tillman with a pocket knife. Sheriff Baten said. The wound was shallow and not of a serious nature, the sheriff added.

Knox was fined $25 and costs after pleading guilty to aggravated assault in County Court, amounting to $55.30. Both men were still in jail Wednesday in lieu of payment of their fines.

bales this week.

The Texas Employment Commission reported the first of this week that there was an estimated un-filled opening for 1,200 field hands.

On the grain sorghum scene, buyers here reported this week that grain of less than 15 per cent moisture was bringing $1.35 per hundred. Grain of less than 13 per cent moisture can be placed in the loan for a net of about $1.62 after storage costs are paid, however, there has been only a small amount of county grain which is that dry.

Buyers said that the moisture was not from unripened grain but from rain and dew.

Over the county this year there is approximately 90,000 acres of grain sorghum. With yields reported from 700 to 2,000 pounds per acre, and even as high as 3,000 pounds in a few exceptional cases, there is a good chance that the grain crop could be worth about a million dollars.

However, if wet weather should continue, it would reduce the harvest considerably.

An estimated 2,850 tons of grain has been shipped so far out of an estimated production of 36,000 tons. However, some has gone into storage, but there is still a large majority of the grain crop still in the field.

Memphis received .41 of an inch of rain last Sunday to start the week off. Temperatures have been cold for the most part with a low this morning of 32 degrees.

Other temperatures recorded by John McMickin, official weather observer, were as follows: Wednesday 54-26, Tuesday 51-27, Monday 50-35, Sunday 48-47, Saturday 55-48, Friday 75-35.

Texas pharmacists were welcomed by Dean Henry M. Burlage, of the College of Pharmacy, who also awarded certificates to participants. Other University staff members taking part were Dr. Bernice M. Moore of the Hogg Foundation for Mental Health, Dr. John Emerson David and Vernon A. Green, both of the College of Pharmacy.
