Homecoming Game To Be Here Friday

Memphis Cyclone will meet here Friday night at 8 p. m. in the annual Homecoming football game for the local school.

Ex-students, in conjunction with the local school authorities, are planning a pep rally Friday afternoon at 2:30 p. m. The pep rally will be held on the south side of the court house, Mrs. Mil-Stephens, ex-student president.

A band will play several numbers and high school cheer leaders will lead the group in yells.

Mrs. Wilma Martin Crew Leader Farm Census

Appointment of Mrs. Wilma Martin of Memphis as a crew leader for the 1959 Census of Agriculture was announced last week by Field Director James W. Martin.

Mrs. Martin will direct a force of census takers who will canvass farms in Donley, Childress and counties. Before assuming the post, she will go to Lubbock where she will receive five days of training by a member of the census bureau's staff. Topics to be covered include procedures for taking census takers, census training, canvassing methods, preparation and submission of reports, and the supervision of the takers to insure a complete accurate count.

Mrs. Martin is one of the people in the field operations of the Census of Agriculture, according to Stroud. It is her responsibility to recruit and train census takers and supervise their work; plan and allocate work; review the work of census takers and take remedial action where necessary, and conduct difficult interviews.

After completing her training, Mrs. Martin will return to this county where she will spend several weeks recruiting census takers and training them in preparation for the start of the field campaign Nov. 18.

Children To Collect Money For UNICEF

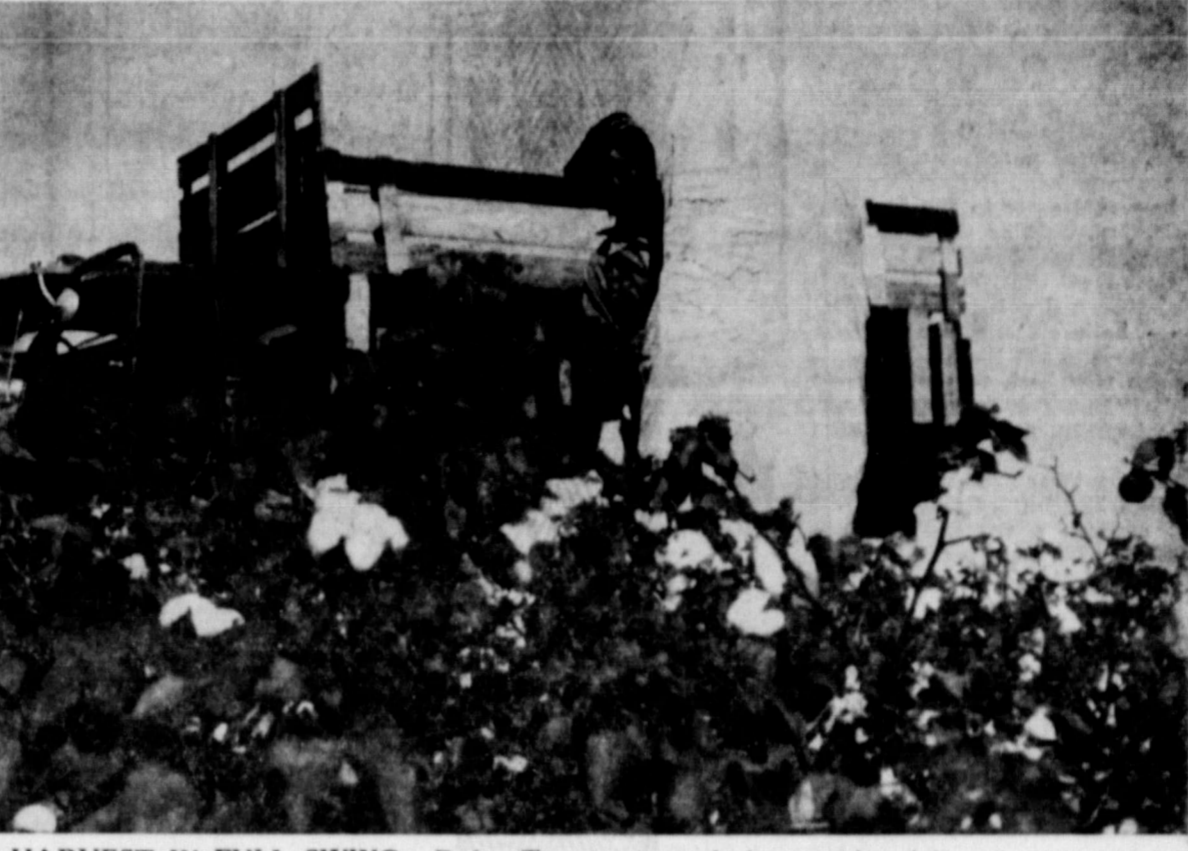

This year again grade school trick-or-treaters will collect money for the United Nations International Childrens Emergency Fund.

The effort here is being sponsored by the 1913 Study Club. It was pointed out that one cent will provide enough money for vaccine to protect a child against tuberculosis. Five cents will provide enough penicillin to cure a child of yaws, the crippling illness for which 27 million people have already received treatment in 27 countries with UNICEF help.

Ten cents will provide about 50 glasses of milk for the children of large areas of the world.

Citizens are urged to donate whatever amounts they can when the children call Saturday night.

Office Here Classes 13,684 Bales Last Week

Good weather this week enabled farmers to continue the harvest of cotton at a fast pace as a total of 17,187 bales were ginned by Thursday, according to a telephone survey of county gins.

Harvest in the Turkey area is a little ahead of that in the rest of the county, according to reports.

The cotton classing office in Memphis last week took care of 13,684 samples, according to A. E. Anthony, officer in charge.

This brings the total for the year classed here to 36,082 bales, from the 12-county area served by the office.

Grades this week have continued to be fairly good, with 48 per cent of the cotton middling and above.

Complete results of the last week's classing is as follows: three per cent strict middling, 45 per cent middling, 4 per cent strict low middling plus, 13 per cent strict low middling, 1 per cent low middling plus, 1 per cent low middling light spotted, 15 per cent middling light spotted, 2 per cent strict low middling light spotted.

The staple length for the past week was as follows: 2 per cent one and one-sixteenth, 7 per cent one and one-thirty second, 25 per cent one inch, 31 per cent thirty-one thirty-seconds, 24 per cent fifteen-sixteenths, 8 per cent twenty-nine thirty-seconds, 3 per cent seven-eighths and shorter.

The local office has been receiving cotton at about the rate of 3500 to 4000 bales per day, Anthony said. The office was about three days behind with the classing Thursday.

Quail Season Opens Dec. 1, Limit 15

Hall County hunters may kill more quail during the regular hunting season than has been permitted for many years, Walter D. Hicks local game warden, announced last week.

According to a recent proclamation, issued last week by the Texas Game and Fish Commission, the daily bag limit for wild quail will be 15, and not more than 45 during any period of seven days. Prior to this, the limit was 12 per day.

Hicks also announced that the open season for quail has been set from Dec. 1, 1959, to Jan. 16, 1960, both days inclusive. He announced the definite dates for the season to clarify rumors and published information which pointed to an earlier date this winter.

"The proposal was made during the summer drought to extend the hunting season on quail. Since the rains, it has been definitely set for the 32-county area of the Panhandle, which includes Hall County," he explained.

According to the proclamation, the following shall apply:
It is lawful to hunt or shoot game animals and game birds with a rifle or shotgun, capable of being fired from the shoulder, or

Farm Bureau Elects Officers, Adopts Resolutions For State

In a meeting Saturday night at the Travis Cafeteria, the Hall County Farm Bureau elected officers and prepared a set of resolutions to present to the state convention scheduled for Nov. 9 through 11 in San Antonio.

The group named Harold Hodges as president for this year, and selected several new directors. Those named to directorship are Melton Cotton of Turkey, Robert Clark of Lakeview, Wayne Hutcherson of Memphis, Arthur Beck of Turkey, Brown Smith, outgoing president, will also serve on the board this year.

Archie Shawhart is vice president of the organization. Other directors are J. W. Longshore, M. R. Long, Clee Parr, all of Memphis, and Clinton Richburg of Estelita.

The organization adopted a total of 10 resolutions in the county convention here Saturday night. They will be presented to the state convention by Brown Smith, who is a member of the state resolutions committee. Several other local members of the organization are expected to attend the state event.

The resolutions are summarized as follows:

- Instruct the U. S. Department of Agriculture to maintain the present standards of classing cotton.
- Ask the Dept. of Agriculture and other appropriate agencies to promote a campaign to tell the public who is profiting from the ever-increasing price spread between basic crops and processed items.
- Make the responsibility for that farmers might not be discriminated against.

- Recommended that the law regarding children working during school hours be changed in order to permit the children to pull bolls during school hours since many of the children go to school in South Texas and make up the loss of time by starting school earlier there.
- Recommend that no increase be made in the minimum hour and (Continued on Page 12)

B & PW Club Play Nov. 6, 7 Promises Entertainment and Laughs Galore

By VIRGINIA BROWDER

If you have never seen Dr. David Aronofsky as the hard-boiled but lovable "Judge Roy Bean," if you have never heard Bill Leslie sing—then do so Friday or Saturday nights, Nov. 6 or 7.

This rip-snortin' western melodrammer, "The Law West of the Pecos," is one you dare not miss and is being sponsored by the Business and Professional Womens Club of Memphis.

Anything is likely to happen—and does—when Carl Baker, as Pistol Pete, drinks "picklin' alcohol." But Pete is tough and it takes more than that to kill him. Johnny Harrel as Riverboat Roy from New Orleans deals a mean hand of stud poker but is finally brought to justice by his honor, Judge Bean.

A goodly sprinkling of music of the Gay Nineties vintage livens up the scene when Letha Springer, as Frisco Fan, the beguiling sourette, and Mary Nell Sexauer as the beautiful Lilly Langtry with her troupe of actresses sets the local yokels on their ears with their soothing melodies. A blending of the voices of Buster Heim, Robert Stewart, Johnny Harrel, and Thurman Ellerd go to make up a "Barber Shop Quartette" the like of which you have never before heard.

And, for good measure, Dorothy Wheeler as "Molly Darling" will yodel her way straight to your hearts. Floyd Barton as the saloon piano player and Mack Graham with his fiddle band will leave nothing wanting as to musical trimmings. Richard Stotts as Cowboy Joe, and Toke Clements as the station agent, not to mention Floyd Hardin as Chief Crazy Horse, will keep things a-poppin' in "The Law West of the Pecos." Don't miss it!

Child Dies In Farm Home Fire Tuesday

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon for Donald, two and one-half year old boy who died when fire broke out at a farm home, located three miles northeast of Lakeview.

The blaze occurred about 2:30 Monday. There were four people at home, according to the fire department. The oldest boy, 10 years old, was reading a book to the children in the front room. The children were four, two and one-half, and nine months.

A four-year-old girl went into the kitchen to get a drink of water while there struck a match, lighting a fire on some paper in the room. Sheriff W. P. Baten, explained in reporting how the fire started.

The boy then moved all of the furniture out of the house and ran down the road in front. He then went to a nearby field to tell persons working there about the fire. When he returned, the two and one-half year old boy had run back into the house. The structure was on fire all over, the youth told the sheriff.

The parents are Mr. and Mrs. James Atkins and were working in a field about one-half mile away at the time the fire started. The family had been living in the farm house on the R. E. Lowe land for several months. They came to Hall County from Dallas about a year ago. Barney Burnett is farming the land.

Funeral arrangements were under the direction of Spicer Funeral Home.

The boy's body was discovered by searchers in the area of the front room. Memphis firemen were called to the scene to cool off the fire, and help in the search for the body.

Saturday night the carnival will get underway at 6:30 p. m. with several different events, including bingo, dunking board, etc., to furnish entertainment. A beef will be given away by the Lakeview Lions Club Saturday night.

Crowning of the kings and queens of the grade and high school will highlight activity Monday evening.

All children from pre-school age through the seventh grade are invited to participate in the parade. The parade will leave from the high school at 4 p. m., and all those who plan to enter are requested to be there promptly at that time. West Texas State College Planning 50th Anniversary Homecoming Nov. 7

Incorporating the best features of homecomings of the past, the Golden Anniversary Homecoming Nov. 7 at West Texas State College is expected to attract the largest crowd of returning ex-students in the 50-year history of the college.

Preparations are being completed to make the slate of events on Homecoming Day full and attractive to former students. The Homecoming celebration is one of four major observances scheduled for WT's Golden Anniversary.

Homecoming events include a parade, barbecue, football game, club teas, parties, and smokers, and a dance. Pre-Homecoming activities include Western Week, a Homecoming assembly, open house, a B-Team football game with Texas Tech, concert and play in the new Fine Arts Building.

The 25th anniversary class of 1934 will hold its reunion, and members of the college's early classes will also meet.

Exes planning to attend the barbecue, which will be catered by Walter Jetton Foods of Fort Worth, have been urged to make reservations through the Ex-Students Association. Cost per plate will be $1.25.

Registration and a business meeting of the exes are scheduled at 9 a. m. in the Administration Building. The parade through Canyon will start at 10:30 and the barbecue, to be held in old Buffalo Stadium, will be at noon. The football game, between the Buffs and Virginia Tech will be at 2 p. m.

While club teas and smokers are held at 4:30 p. m., the Class of '34 will hold its reunion in the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum. A dance, first ever to be held in the Field House, is slated from 8 p. m. until 12:30. Admission of $1.00 per person will be charged for those who dance, but the bleachers in the Field House will be open for visiting. Dr. J. A. Hill, WT president emeritus, will autograph copies of his book, "More Than Brick and Mortar," a history of WT, at the Ex-Students Office throughout the day.

Names on Moon Would Confuse Poet

The poet who first rhymed moon with June, spoon and croon could have been the same man who named he bumps and holes on earth's natural satellite.

The first rocket ship to the moon may well land in the Sea of Tranquility, for example. If it misses that mark, it could land in the Sea of Crises.

From that point, a spaceman could walk north to investigate the Sea of Fertility and the Sea of Nectar. Hopping across a mountain range and the Catharina crater, he would come to the Sea of Clouds, just west of the Sea of Moisture. He might want to bypass the Ocean of Storms and stroll south between Copernicus and Kepler — both craters named for scientists — to the Bay of Dewes.

On his way back to the spaceship, he might look over the Lake of the Sleepers and the Lake of the Dead.

Of course, these names — translated into English from Latin — might confuse a spaceman with no poetry in his soul. According to World Book Encyclopedia, there is no water on the moon . . . and the "seas" and "oceans" are just dry plains.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Ewing of Borger and Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Shankle visited in Breckenridge with their mother, Mrs. W. E. Ewing.

HALF-PAST TEEN

Report From Washington

By WALTER ROGERS Representative, 18th Congressional District

The American Indian—1959 Ask the average man in the street today questions relating to the history and the current status of the American Indian and the chances are his answer will be the result of knowledge gained from either the television or motion picture screen. This method, though often a pleasant pastime, does not often produce a broad understanding of the American Indian, his problems, his advances, his contribution to our present day society, nor the present relations of the Federal Government to the American Indian.

The House Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs, which has legislative jurisdiction in matters concerning American Indians and of which I am a Member, has undertaken a study recently to determine information not currently tabulated and which is necessary to legislate intelligently and with understanding. The completed study is much too lengthy to cover in this newsletter, but some facts were brought out which are most interesting. They were assembled from many sources including all the Federal Government Agencies having any jurisdiction in Indian affairs, State and local governments and from private organizations devoted to Indian welfare.

of Indian descent who is a member of any recognized Indian tribe now under Federal jurisdiction." Various states employ different definitions.

Annual direct expenditures by the Federal Government for Indian affairs from 1789 through 1958 have varied from $31 in 1800 to $135,173,235 in 1958. The Federal Agency having the greatest jurisdiction in the administration of Indian matters is the Bureau of Indian Affairs. Many other Federal Agencies have functions relating to the American Indian. These include the Division of Indian Health of the Public Health Service; the Indian Claims Commission; the Land division of the Department of Justice; the Indian Claims Section of the General Accounting Office; the Department of the Treasury which handles Indian tribal funds as well as many others contributing either directly or indirectly.

It was found that 312,390 Indians were living on reservations as of October 1956, and of this number 143,078 were over 21 years of age. In studying the Indian tribal elections, the Committee discovered 122 tribes employ the secret ballot in election and 39 tribes do not. Tribal councils reportedly use the secret ballot on 91 reservations and do not use same on 46 reservations.

One of the wittiest men I ever knew was Charley Garibaldi, desk sergeant at the police station in Memphis when I entered newspaper work. Not only was he witty but he could think of something clever to say at the time and not half an hour later, as is the case with most of us. His humor gained much of its effect from the grace and ease with which it was delivered, much in the manner of a polished actor.

I had been working on the "police run" only a few days when a young man was brought in on a reckless driving charge. We recognized each other as schoolmates. Soon afterward, another acquaintance of high school days was brought in on a speeding charge. After he had posted bond and left, Garibaldi demanded, "Was that a school for crime that you attended?" — which amused the officers and, of course, embarrassed the young and serious reporter.

A youth about six feet, three was brought in one night. The sergeant asked, "How old are you?" "Sixteen," was the answer. Garibaldi declared, "You ought to be a lot of help to your parents when you grow up."

The desk sergeant had a remarkable memory. When I returned to headquarters after having been out for supper and would if anything had happened, he would give a reply that was strictly accurate in every detail, and without referring to any notes.

"Jerry Blaine, 27, traveling salesman, 2300 Light Avenue, was struck by an automobile as he was crossing the street at Union and Third at 8:15 o'clock tonight. The driver, Henry Hammers of 1102 Gusty Lane, was released on $500 bond on a careless driving charge. "Blaine was taken in a Shannon ambulance to the City-County Hospital where he is expected to recover in spite of the treatment.

Senator Chauncey M. Depew, actor of the late Nineteenth Century, accepted, on only a few days notice, an invitation to deliver the oration at the unveiling of the Statue of Liberty in New York Harbor. George W. Curtis, a scholarly orator, said to Depew, "I was very much surprised that you accepted the invitation. I decided, because there was only one man until that unveiling." Curtis accepted that he always refused an important invitation unless he had three months.

Charles A. Williams has returned from Colorado where he spent the summer.

Brownie Troop Holds Investiture Ceremony Mon.

Brownie Troop No. 8, newly organized this year of second grade girls from Travis school, held its investiture ceremony Monday night, Oct. 26, in the parlor of the First Presbyterian Church, with the families of the girls as guests.

The welcome was given by the troop's president, Miss Lynette Spicer. After the flag ceremony and singing of America and the Brownie Smile Song, each girl gave her Brownie promise and told why she wanted to be a Brownie. Pins were presented by the troop leaders, Mrs. Clinton Voyles and Mrs. Y. Z. Taylor.

The following girls were invested: Misses Prissi Carter, Tony Elem, Rita Graham, Sue McCra-vey, Jo Ann Scott, Marcy Shepherd, Lynette Spicer, Anita Taylor, Nancy Voyles, and Patricia Wilson.

To close the ceremony the new Brownies were joined by the three Girl Scouts present in the singing of "Girl Scouts Together."

Week-of-Prayer Is Observed by Methodist Women

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Wesleyan Service Guild met in joint session Monday, Oct. 26, at 7 p. m. in the First Methodist Church annex for the Week-of-Prayer and Self-Denial program.

The meeting was begun by Rev. O. B. Herring giving the invocation for the sacrificial supper.

The theme of the program was "O Send Us Forth to Make All Hands Thine Own." After the opening hymn, "O Lion Haste," the group gave responsive readings on Missions.

Mrs. L. G. DeBerry gave an informative talk on "Observing the Week of Prayer," followed by a prayer led by Mrs. M. G. Tarver. The article "African Girls Get a Chance," was discussed in an interesting way by Mrs. John Fowler. The recipient of the Week of Prayer and Self-Denial offering was explained by Mrs. Barney Burnett. This year the offering goes to town and country work in the United States, and schools, literature and Christian Social centers in Africa. As soon as the offering was taken, Mrs. Hester Bownds brought the meeting to a close with prayer.

Those attending were Misses A. O. Gidden, O. B. Herring, R. S. Greene, M. G. Tarver, L. G. DeBerry, W. F. McElreath, Ruby Compton, Hester Bownds, Rupert Wynn, Barney Burnett, F. W. Foxhall, John Fowler and Miss Dorothy Gowan.

Beautiful Tokays Are Luscious

Everyone likes Tokay grapes plain. The season August 15 to September 30 is so short that we should enjoy them many ways. These beautiful reddish grapes from California make a delightful dessert, served well-chilled with cheese and crackers or a few crisp cookies. But you'll find these crisp, juicy red grapes are delicious, too, in salads. For warm weather eating, serve "Tokay Salad Ring" — a tangy orange gelatin ring rich with cream cheese and whipped cream and filled with halved, seeded Tokays, bananas and pineapple. It's a salad that's both beautiful and delicious! Try it while Tokay grapes are most plentiful — during August and September.

Tokay Salad Ring
 2 (3 oz.) pkgs. orange gelatin
 2 cups hot water
 1 cup fresh orange juice
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1 (8 oz.) pkg. cream cheese
 1/3 cup fresh lemon juice
 1-1/2 cups whipping cream
 2 cups Tokay grapes
 1 (9 oz.) can sliced pineapple
 2 bananas, peeled and sliced

Dissolve gelatin in hot water; add orange juice and salt. Chill until mixture is nearly set. Beat cream cheese until soft; add lemon juice gradually, beating until smooth. Beat cream cheese into gelatin mixture, using rotary beater. Whip cream; fold into gelatin mixture. Turn into a (6 1/4 cup) ring mold; chill until firm — 4 to 6 hours. Unmold on platter. Cut grapes into halves; remove seeds. Cut pineapple into large wedges. Combine grapes, pineapple and bananas; mix lightly and spoon into center of ring. Garnish with small clusters of Tokay grapes. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Grass Seeding
The seeding of low productive cropland that is subject to severe wind and water erosion to native grasses in the Hall County Soil

M. G. Tarver. Total registration, which included several pastors and guests, was one hundred and thirty-five.

Conservation District has been accelerated the past year.

Farmers and ranchers can use various conservation programs to assist in establishing native grasses to cultivated cropland. Land placed in the Soil Bank this year can be established to native grass cover. Producers may also use the Agricultural Conservation Program practice A-3 or the Great Plains Conservation Program to plant native grass.

If no federal cost sharing is desired your local SCS technicians will be glad to assist you in determining the proper native grass mixture for your soil.

Where native grass seeding is planned following sorghum dead litter cover, one should shred the sorghum dead litter cover to a stubble height from 2 to 8 inches. This will insure that the standing stubble will remain in place until spring. Long experience shows that if sorghum stubble is not mowed or shredded in the fall prior to frost, the plants will usually break over at ground level, whip loose during the winter and early spring and blow away to leave neither stubble nor surface litter for protection.

Shredding to leave stubble from 6 to 8 inches high is preferred over mowing for this operation. This must be done in the fall to even the most immature sorghum growth, and should be done to an aftermath growth following harvest of a sorghum crop when the latter occurs.

For more information about grass seedings and native grass mixtures contact your local Soil Conservation Service Technicians.

SHRINK RESISTANT COTTONS

Most cottons now are treated to resist shrinkage. Many cotton knits are given special finishes to make them resistant to shrinking or stretching. The tag will tell the purchaser if the knit has been specially treated and if it can be machine washed and dried.

Cooling Waters Cause Turnover In Texas Lakes

The "turnover" of lakes means the mixing of water in lakes, according to the assistant director of Inland Fisheries, Texas Game and Fish Commission. "This mixing is brought about by the cooling of the water in lakes during the late fall of the year."

In the early summer or late spring three distinct layers of water form in the larger lakes and in some of the smaller lakes of the state. The upper layer is called the Epilimnion, the middle layer is the Thermocline, and the lower layer is the Hypolimnion. The top layer becomes warmed by the sun and since warm water is light, it tends to remain at the surface. In the middle layer there is a rapid decrease in temperature in a downward direction. The lower layer remains cool and because cold water is heavy, tends to remain at the bottom of the lake.

In late spring or early summer, the top layer is relatively thin. As the sun's rays heat the water, this layer becomes thicker and extends itself deeper until, in some of our deeper lakes, it may be as much as 60 feet thick in late summer.

The lower layer becomes a "biological desert" in which there is very little or no oxygen and only anaerobic bacteria can survive. The wind continues to circulate the top layer but, because it is lighter water, it fails to mix with the lower heavier water in the Thermocline and in the bottom layer. This causes the bottom layer of water to become stagnant and to contain odoriferous decomposition gases, toxic to fish.

As cool, fall weather moves in, the upper water is cooled, becomes heavier, and settles to a lower level. As it settles, mixing between the upper layer and the bottom layer commences. Once more, the winds churn the water and assist this mixing action.

Soon, the three layers are one and the temperature is fairly uniform from the bottom to the top of the lake.

The odor, noticeable in the tail-races below dams is caused by the drawoff or water from the lower levels of the lakes.

By early winter, the lakes have "turned over."

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Smith of Childress spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Davis.

Travis Third Graders Make Tour of Several Memphis Firms Last Week

The third grade children at Travis Elementary School last week toured several businesses in Memphis, and inspected the new automobiles.

The idea for the tour came about after a discussion of the new small cars in a weekly newspaper the children receive.

The class then visited Foxhall Motor Co., where Don Carmen discussed the new Falcon. Mrs. E. H. Melton and Sue served as hostesses there.

While on the tour the class also visited the Memphis Studio to see how pictures were taken and developed. Jamie Hough explained the process.

happened. So, to cut a long story short, he had to pay the tax, plus interest, and civil and criminal penalties.

Richard Roe, another taxpayer, was worth $50,000 in 1946, but in 1950 the government claimed he was worth $200,000. Roe tried to show but he couldn't, that he had much more money in 1946 than the government showed. For alas, the government's old tax returns showed that Richard had reported a small income in 1946, and had mortgaged his home and business. Besides, Roe spent freely much more than his reported income, and could not show that he received gifts or other non-taxable money. So the court found a large unreported income, and Richard was convicted for fraud.

By keeping proper records of all transactions over a period of years a taxpayer can properly account for receipt and expenditure of income so that he can forestall the revenue service from using the net worth method.

...come to be the controlling factor in vaulting U. S. beef production. Beef output has just about doubled in the past three decades, which is not likely to surprise anyone. What may be surprising, however, is the fact that only half of this huge increase is due to growing numbers of cattle in range inventories at any one time. The other half has come from more beef produced per head.

In other words, the numbers of cattle on the nation's ranges at any one time are only a factor of 50 per cent in the total production of beef.

Growing cattle numbers have just about kept pace with our growing population in the past 30 years. The number of people and the number of cattle each increased approximately 43 per cent. If beef production were controlled by numbers alone, consumers would be supplied with no more beef per capita than they were getting three decades ago.

But production of beef per head during the same period increased by 44 per cent and U. S. consumers must now eat more beef per capita.

Just what has brought about this phenomenal gain in production per head? Aside from the cumulative advances in breeding, feeding, disease and parasite control, there is the growing percentage of heaves going to the slaughter pens rather than lighter dairy cattle.

Another reason is the higher birth rates and lower death losses for calves. Calf births per 100 cows have increased from 75 per year in the 1920's to 87 in the past few years. This has been achieved in spite of the shift from milk cows to beef cattle, which are not so reliable as breeders. More animals are being kept to maturity before slaughter, making up about 70 per cent now compare with 50 per cent in the 1920's and 1930's. Dressed weight has increased by some 80 pounds per head.

These figures give a fairly clear indication of the future outlook. If cattle numbers alone should go up from 100 to 110 million in the next five years, production probably would rise from the present 14½ to about 17 billion pounds of beef per year, and half of the increase would come from higher productivity per head.

Light Control For More Eggs Per Bird
Recent findings on the effect of light on poultry have caused poultrymen to sit up and take notice.

Nature in her wisdom has seen fit to correlate reproduction with the light phase of seasonal change. Age effects the response of poultry to light. During the brooding period the chick needs lots of light. This means that all-night lights are beneficial during the brooding period. During the rearing period the light requirement is quite different. Rest periods are necessary for proper growth as the birds become older.

In the summer months additional lights may be given at night to induce greater feed consumption. Intermittent light is preferable. For example, one hour of light could be followed by a rest period of three hours of darkness and the process repeated throughout the night.

Too much light during the growing period is harmful in several ways. All-night light of high intensity may encourage feather picking. More important is the possible reduced life-time productivity of pullets given all-night lights during the growing period.

Three hours of light required for egg production is not an all-or-none reaction. Pullets will reach sexual maturity with six hours of light. In addition to the hours of light, the intensity must be considered. While one foot candle is required for optimum egg production when the hens are given 14 hours of light, about a fourth of that amount is required when all-night lights are used. With fryers, it is necessary only to give enough light so the birds can see to eat.

Tests are still being conducted, but with the desire to get a sustained high egg production, it is quite certain that most poultrymen should consider light control for pullets.

Mrs. T. M. Harrison spoke on "The Importance of Feeling Inferior" by Marie Beynon Ray, and on two articles, "The Power Within You" and "The Code of Inner Power" from "The Creative Power from Within You" by Harold Therman. Mrs. Harrison concluded her part with this thought stabilizer, "My faith in myself and what I am doing will always be equal to whatever obstacles or setbacks I may be called upon to face."

Cuban Troubles

For several months now that new Central American boss, Castro, has been dumping cold water on the warm relations between this country and Cuba. We had no love for the old Cuban rulers and were at first pleased to see that a change was underway. However, now it looks like this new ruler may be playing cards to closely with the communist camp.

The Castro regime has always been unfriendly toward the United States. Most of us remember that the group took several American servicemen prisoners early in the fighting in that country. This one move should have been enough to cause the U. S. State Department to examine the man's motives a little more closely. There was a time in American history when the powers in Washington believed that it was their business to look after the smaller American nations. It seems that this theory has just about been thrown out the window in recent years.

Washington wheels may wake up surprised one morning and find that Castro has become so friendly with the Communist camp that he has granted them bases there. Of course this is a long supposition, but it is not entirely impossible.

Safety at Halloween

Motorists have been reminded time and again of the need for safety precautions on the highways of the state. Much of the information given publicity has come from the office of J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association. Now the manager is turning to the approach of Halloween, and recently sent this thought to mothers and fathers as a thought:

- "The highway isn't the only hazard spot for Halloweeners. The home and its surroundings can be just as big a booby trap."
- The idea behind the reminder is to keep the trick-and-treaters safe as they tramp from house to house Saturday night.
- Citizens are reminded that they cannot count upon excited youngsters to "play it safe." The excitement of the occasion causes normal cautionary instructions from parents to be ignored.

To guard against a tragedy that may mar a child's Halloween, the director recommends:

1. Light your porch if there's any chance of a visit from trick-or-treaters Saturday evening. An excited youngster is ripe for a tumble in the dark.
2. Make sure your yard isn't an obstacle course for children. Cover excavations. Tie stripes of white cloth to temporary fences around shrubbery or newly seeded grass.
3. If you have a dog, keep it secured. The strange sights and sounds of youngsters dressed up to look like ghosts and goblins could excite it—with dire results.

The Rules Are at Fault

The railroad industry, in its fight for survival, is making a determined effort to rid itself of featherbedding practices, resulting from obsolete and senseless work rules, that are costing the nation a minimum of $500 million a year.

Spokesmen for the railroad brotherhoods have charged that this effort is, in reality, an attack upon the employees of the railroad industry.

That charge brought an unequivocal reply from a leader in the battle against wasteful and destructive featherbedding—President Loomis of the Association of American Railroads. In a letter to a union official, he said: "I challenge you to find a single statement written or uttered by me or any other railroad spokesman to support such a charge. I have repeatedly emphasized that outmoded work rules, and not the people who are trapped and victimized by these rules, are the issue. In my very first statement on this subject last February I specifically said: 'I am not attacking railroad labor. There is no more able or conscientious work force in any industry in the nation. I am however attacking and condemning the deadly rules our workers must work by.'"

Loomis went on to point out that an average of 1,000 railroad jobs have disappeared each week over the past 10 years. He added: "If you share our deep concern over the problems causing this downhill trend, you will call a halt to a campaign of misinformation and join with management in attacking the real cause of this industry's loss of ground including the progress-blocking, entangling maze of outmoded and wasteful work rules which are placing our industry under such a handicap in meeting competition."

Press Paragraphs -

QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

By Al Melinger
In The Baytown Sun

One of the frequently noted observations about the Baytown population (and probably most of Harris County) is the remarkably high percentage of citizens who just got here lately. Almost every reference here to another part of the country brings a series of reminiscences from transplanted northerners, southerners or westerners.

Once we made a casual reference to The Boston Transcript pertaining to a traditional peculiarity of the publication noted 20 years ago. A member of the Baytown audience promptly advised that the Transcript had been long out of business. He just got here from Massachusetts.

And a recent reference to Memphis, Texas, brought the following results:

1. Nomination to the short grass fraternity by Jack Jacobs, ex Oklahoman who is now the biggest bank vice president in Harris Co., outside of Houston.
2. The knowledge that Barrister David Duncan is a former resident of Estelle, Texas, chiefly distinguished by being a suburb of Memphis and by once having won the state basketball championship.
3. A copy of The Memphis Democrat.

It was the latter event which revived a train of memory extending back more than three decades when this department first inked his hands on the Democrat presses, assisting in the editorial birth pangs of The Breeze which is the name we bestowed on the high school newspaper. The yearbook was the Sandstorm, and going along with the atmospheric theme, the football team was the Cyclone.

According to the current Democrat, those selfsame Cyclones were scheduled last week to confront arch-enemy Clarendon in a contest which is now history but not as historical as our last remembered foray against this ancient foe. Feelings ran so high that the game was held half-way between the towns on a Hedley, Texas, grid-iron which sloped gently, causing punted balls to roll erratically. Memphis had a demoniac aggregation with such stellar performers as Hubert Dennis and Bonnie Cohen in the backfield, Ollie Lee at center, plus the Lemons brothers, and the coach was Blake Bolton or maybe Matt Nobles.

Memory pales but the score seems now to have been a 19-19 tie. Few current Memphians are likely to remember this epochal engagement but there are sure to be some citizens around the Square who will recall a 150-0 defeat at Silverton. Maybe it was just a round 100 but it was what the sporting gentry call a decisive victory.

Thirty years ago Memphis was a typical Panhandle community surrounded by sand and straight green rows of cotton. On occasion the sand would rise up into a big brown blanket which seeped through clothing, doors, windows. Medium-sized locust trees dotted the town and their trunks were dutifully whitewashed each Spring by Boy Scouts. Paul James' hand played around the square on Saturday nights, always including a trambone-happy rendition of The Old Grey Mare.

It is a commentary on the size of Texas that this writer has spent three active decades in the state since leaving Memphis and never has gotten back to the county seat of Hall.

Proof of the Pudding

Those who are advocating peace via disarming America should take a second look at what is responsible for our peace today. They would have us believe that a disarmed America would lessen world tension, for getting that a disarmed America got us in two major wars in this century. So it isn't the United Nations or disarmament that keeps us out of war, it is our ability to make war. Is this immoral or anti-Christian? Since the United States does not have a history of aggression and since our strength deters aggression, I can not see that it is the least immoral or anti-Christian.

Lynn Landrum, in his Dallas News column, Thinking Out Loud, gave us some thought provokers last week when he said: The truth is that the best strategic intelligence we had — under the Democrats and under the Republicans — believed that a ring of air bases around Russia would be cheaper, more accurate and more devastating in bomb war than would intercontinental missiles alone. In short, somebody at Washington decided that the order in which we would go at this business of defending America would be: (1) Airbase encirclement of Russia. (2) Atomic submarines. (3) Combat rockets and counter-rockets. (4) Long-range missiles. (5) Intercontinental missiles. (6) Space rockets. (7) Manned space rockets.

Maybe that order of emphasis was all a mistake. The column doesn't know. But consider:

1. When Khrushchev shouts that the airbase encirclement must go, it means that encirclement is the checkmate to Russian rocketry.
2. When Khrushchev warns against a war to end civilization, it means that he is well aware of what we can do to defend ourselves now — and in the foreseeable future.
3. Hitting the moon is not one hundredth as essential to defense of the U.S. against Russia as being able at will to hit Moscow.
4. When Khrushchev travels all the way over here to tell us to end the cold war, it means that America is winning the cold war now.
5. When Khrushchev goes back

Turning Back Time
From
The Democrat Files

30 YEARS AGO

October 4, 1929

A development project was organized by some 100 business men of Memphis recently, the purpose of which was to develop a parcel of land which consists of 719 acres located four miles northeast of the city on the Quail road. On this tract of land is 65 tillable acres and this will, in all probability, be placed in cultivation within the near future. . . . The much acclaimed Memphis Cyclone met the real opposition of the current football season in the game with the Canyon Eagles last Friday afternoon and came off the field defeated, but not whipped, bearing the short end of an 18 to 6 score. Memphis went into the game crippled and heavily outweighed by the Eagles, but this writer is not in the habit of making alibis for the home team, and none will be attempted.

20 YEARS AGO

October 27, 1939

The Memphis Cyclone is prepared in earnest this week for the game with the Wheeler Mustangs in Cyclone Stadium here Friday night. Game time has been changed from 8 to 8:30 to prevent any interference with the city-wide revival now in progress. . . . That the Fort Worth & Denver Railroad line running through Memphis will be served by a streamlined diesel powered Zephyr train was revealed this week by Ralph Budd, president of the Burlington system. Budd said the modern train would be scheduled on this line by next summer. . . . Specifications for the 126-mile extension to the Hall Co. Electric Co-op line are almost completed and will be ready to submit to Rural Electrification Administration headquarters, Washington, in the next few days, Alvis Yarbrough, project superintendent, said Tuesday. . . . Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Ferrel Jr. of Memphis spent Sunday with Mr. Ferrel's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Ferrel Sr.

Playing without the services of Mr. Inside (Andy Gardenhire), the Memphis Cyclone relies on Mr. Outside (Bobby Crooks), and the dash champion carried the Black and Gold to victory over the McLean High Tigers in the last home game of the season at Cyclone Stadium Friday night. Although the two teams were tied 13-13 at the end of the game, Memphis won the game on penetrations, 5 to 4. . . . South Plains farmers can profit from national cotton yield reports which indicate that insects were responsible for a 63,000-bale decrease in the 1949 production, despite the favorable crop conditions. . . . According to wire releases, President Truman last week signed into law the bill increasing minimum wage law from 40 to 75 cents per hour. The new law will become effective 90 days after the president signed the bill. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Ace Gailey attended the Baylor Homecoming and football game in Waco last weekend. . . . Billy Howard West, who is attending Hardin-Simmons, Abilene, visited here over the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack West.

Roll Call Makes Up Program at Delphian Club

On Tuesday, Oct. 20, Mrs. W. C. Dickey was hostess to the Delphian Club with the president, Mrs. Mildred Stephens, presiding. Mrs. C. D. Keath gave the meditation taking a scripture from Psalms 121:1-2. She said, "There was a young boy asked of his guide if he saw God in nature." The guide replied, "That he looked for Him so much, that he rarely saw anything else." The guide said, "As we subject ourselves to God's will we become more Christ like so that others may look into our lives and see Him abiding there."

Roll call was answered in a very unique manner for the afternoon program with each club member giving a poem, a current event, a magazine article or a quotation as suited her own whimsy.

Some of the thoughts were as Arthur Godfrey said, "I'm glad I'm alive. Long life is a privilege denied many; but life of any length is an opportunity to share in the marvel of creation. Even if we sit there and rot, we enrich the soil, in spite of ourselves. But to the extent that we make use of the faculties with which we are endowed, thus do we gather this glorious experience called life. I don't know about you, but I'm thankful I'm alive and busy living."

Another interesting sharing was a poem from Edgar A. Guest showing one's shortcomings and ways of overcoming them, especially if one is selfish; another said, "When I think of my troubles, then I think of someone else's troubles are so much greater than mine, I start counting my blessings and realize that my troubles are minor."

"Margaret Angeli has illustrated many of the old familiar nursery rhymes by having her own family pose for the characters that the writings become actual living things," quoted another.

From Leaves of Gold comes still another thought, "Friend is a person—who will lend you money when you're in need, who will sit by your bed when you are ill?" One told of her many favorite poems and then read one of her favorites.

Someone used a quotation from Robert Browning, "Making the best—my business is not to remove but to make the absolute best of what God made."

"Social Climbing is a part of the American way, healthy if restrained and absolutely necessary to our national well-being."

"Un-American? Far from it. Social climbing encourages ambition and drive, and these in turn help to assure our abundant life. New products, ideas, and opportunities are in part a measure of social climbing in our United States," concluded another.

A lovely salad plate was served to the following members: Mrs. A. Anisman, Mrs. J. L. Barnes, Mrs. Jack Boone, Mrs. Dickey, Mrs. Henry Hays, Mrs. Keith, Mrs. Belle Shults, Miss Maud Milam, Mrs. Clyde Smith, Mrs. Stephens, and Mrs. R. H. Wherry.

Leonard Hightower, Recent Bride, Complimented With Lovely Shower

Leonard Hightower, recent bride, was complimented with a lovely bridal shower on the evening, Oct. 22 at the home of Mrs. Jim Beeson, 814 1/2 street.

Guests were greeted by Mrs. Beeson, the honoree, Mrs. Leonard Hightower, Mrs. J. M. Ferrel, mother of the bride and Mrs. Hightower, mother of the bride.

Participation by the guests in the shower was presided over by Mrs. Youree.

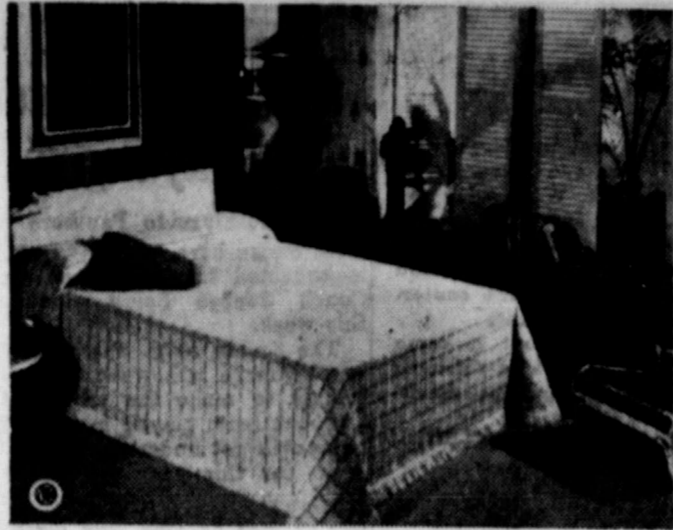

Guests included Miss Bettye Mackie Allen, Miss Barbara Simpson and Miss Barbara Simpson, who served punch and a table laid with a pastel chrysanthemum cloth. The table was decorated with white mums and small pink chrysanthemums.

Color scheme of pink, white and green was further carried out in the ribbon sandwiches of white and green and the cookies iced in white with tiny pink rose buds.

Mmes. John L. Burnett, Henry Scott, Myrtle Howard, Claude Hickey, A. O. Gidden, J. P. Godfrey, Burl Smith, Floyd Liner, and Ernest Lee Kilgore assisted with hostess duties, showing the guests through the rooms where many useful and beautiful gifts were displayed.

Other hostesses were Mmes. Elmont Branigan, Herb Curry, Omer Hill, Bess Crump, A. Huckaby, Gip McMurry, Rex Hull, O. S. Goodpasture, L. J. Kennon, Grady Simpson, Johnnie Brewer, Edgar Daugherty, T. D. Weatherby, Thomas Clayton and Elaine Clayton.

Approximately 75 guests called during the evening.

RETURN TO PARADISE—The exotic South Sea Islands served as inspiration for this inviting bedroom. The primitive charm of the room is enhanced by the textured cotton bedspread by Morgan-Jones, treated for minimum care. Wicker furniture, louvered shutters, and tropical plants make this room as fresh as an island breeze.

Capacity Crowd In Attendance at Poetry Program

An almost capacity audience attended the ceremony emphasizing poetry on Thursday evening, Oct. 22 at the Travis Cafetorium. In her greetings, Miss Esta McElreath, chairman, narrated a portion of the history of this essential genre of our American heritage. She mentioned the fact that the poetry week movement began in Texas and has now extended to international proportions.

The students of Mrs. Clifford Farmer gave a poetic reading—part choral and part solo—relating the founding of America by Columbus.

Little Misses V. Latimer and Jenice Talley, students of Mrs. Ben Oliver, gave a costume dance of "Dark Town Strutters' Ball".

Children from the first through the fourth grades who had won honors in the contest read their poems: First Place, Jane Hoover, "Trees"; second place Sandra Saye, "Halloween Night"; third place, Cynthia Evans, "Goblins".

In the division of grades from the fifth through eighth, Lowell McKown was recognized as the student who had written the most original poem, "Sputnik". Donald Jeffers won first place with "My Dream"; Susan McQueen, second with "Trees," and Glenda Bruce third with "Our Brave Forefathers".

In grades nine through twelve, Jan Mitchell placed first with "Everyday Living"; Alice Alamazon, second with "Goodby Dear Ole Memphis High"; and Sharon Hooser, third with "My Mother". Miss McElreath awarded to each of the first place winners a book of poems.

Mrs. C. H. Hamilton sang two numbers: "Come and Dance with Me" and "Put Your Trust in the Lord". Mrs. C. H. Bownds had written the words for both poems; Mrs. T. L. Rouse, who had composed the music for one of them accompanied Mrs. Hamilton.

Virginia Browder enchanted the audience with an appreciation of poetry and then with the reading of several of her original verses. A choral group of senior girls, composed of Jan Mitchell, Betty Lewis, Sylvia King, Pat Anthony, Wilma Martin, Judy Lemons, Paula Blevins, Priscilla Wright, and Trilby Townsend read Rudyard Kipling's "If". Priscilla Wright and Trilby Townsend interpreted sonnets, ballads, cinquains, quatrains, odes, hymns, nonsense rhymes, and didactic poems.

Mr. Richard Rosene of Stamford spent the weekend with his sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Watts.

Quail Hunt To Be Held at Howe Management Area

Another quail hunt is scheduled for the Panhandle this year on the Gene Howe Wildlife Management area, according to the Director of Wildlife Restoration, Texas Game and Fish Commission.

Dates for the hunt are Dec. 5, Dec. 19, Jan. 2, and Jan. 16. Applications now are being received for these hunts and permits will be issued after a public drawing to be held at 8 a. m., Nov. 13.

No preference can be given as to dates. All hunters will be required to hunt in pairs, with 13 pair each day, for a total of 104 hunters. Only persons 17 years of age or older can be considered in the drawings for these hunts.

According to all reports, hunting will be good on the area this year. The quail population is high and hunting success should be very good, if dogs are used.

Those receiving permits are urged to take their dogs to the hunt, to prevent loss of birds. Because of the heavy vegetation this year, the loss of cripples and dead birds will probably be high unless dogs are used.

Each man whose name is drawn will be permitted to hunt one day and will be entitled to the maximum of one day's limit, 12 quail.

Applications for the permits should be mailed to the Texas Game and Fish Commission, Walton State Bldg., Austin, in time to be there by the Nov. 13 deadline.

Mrs. Clifton Burnett, Mrs. Frank Monzingo and Mrs. Claude Hickey were Childress visitors Monday afternoon.

Dr. T. A. White To Speak Tonight At Lions Club Teachers' Banquet

The annual Memphis Lions Club Teachers Banquet will be held tonight at the Masonic Hall, beginning at 7 p. m. The speaker for the occasion will be Dr. Travis A. White, president of Midwestern University at Wichita Falls.

Lion President W. P. Baten Jr. will serve as master of ceremonies for the occasion. The local Lions Club each year holds such a banquet to honor Memphis teachers and school board members.

The speaker for the occasion, Dr. White, was born in Hammond, La., in 1909, and graduated from Byrd High School, Shreveport, La., in 1926. He attended Texas Christian University, received an A. B. degree in 1932 and a B. D. in 1934, with further graduate training at the University of Chicago in 1935 and Union Theological Seminary in 1941. TCU conferred on him the honorary degree of D. D. in 1949.

Dr. White is an active participant in civic and community life. He is a member of the downtown Rotary Club; is a thirty-second degree Mason; a member of the Salvation Army advisory board, the board of directors of the Boy's Club, and the board of directors of the United Fund.

The speaker has been a believer in and leader of young people through the years. It is his belief that a well rounded university education should help the student achieve personal stability, adequate social adjustment, vocational competence and spiritual awareness.

The committee in charge of the banquet include Clifford Farmer, Charlie Cape and Roy Coleman. They are being assisted by several other members of the club.

Mrs. Estelle Guthrie of Lubbock spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Dennis.

Fire Number Should Be Used Only For Fires

Councilmen Ben Parks and E. C. Rice again this week asked citizens not to dial CL 9-2323 for any purpose other than to report a fire.

According to firemen on duty at the City Hall, the "fire number" is being dialed too many times day and night—when no fire is being reported.

If a citizen wishes to speak to someone at the City Hall, they should dial the city police, CL 9-2244. The fire station line should always be left open for fire calls only.

Five Bus Drivers Receive Awards For Safety

Five bus drivers were presented Awards of Merit recently by W. C. Davis, superintendent of Memphis Schools.

The awards, sponsored and conducted by the Texas Safety Association and local schools, were designed to give public recognition to school bus drivers with accident-free records for the past year.

Superintendent Davis commended the five drivers and said, "Accident free driving of school buses over dirt roads, farm to market roads, and on the highways for a period of from one to ten years is an achievement the children, the parents and the school authorities really appreciate. We are proud of this record our bus drivers have accomplished."

Drivers who received certificates were: R. L. Duncan, J. D. Foster, Melvin Blum, B. J. Thomson and Ellis Devore.

The awards were signed by Superintendent Davis, President E. C. Stokely and General Manager J. O. Musick, both of the Texas Safety Association.

wage law and recommend that exemption be made of all persons employed by or in connection with any occupation that may reflect an increase in cost to the farmer.

10. Recommend that each electric cooperative examine its charter and by-laws to provide therein that a sale of substantially all of the property of the corporation may be effected only upon a vote of at least a majority of the membership of the cooperative, and further that a proxy shall not be counted in the computation of this vote.

And also that the statute under which the cooperatives are incorporated should be amended in order to require such a vote for sale of substantially all of the corporate assets or for dissolution of the corporation.

Recommend that the electric cooperatives pay for the money they borrow. A cooperative should pay the cost of that money to the government insofar as it can afford to do so while performing its entire area. As the cooperatives reach their growth, "we anticipate the time when they shall not have to depend upon government credit. That time has not yet arrived. Until it does, the government should continue to keep thoroughly safeguarded security for its investment and avoid all unnecessary cost of R.E.A. participation."

Recommend and urge the enactment of a state law to allow the electric cooperatives equal rights with other electric suppliers when they invade cooperative service areas.

Man Arrested In Clarendon Wanted Here Also

A Latin-American by the name of Johnny Samora was arrested last week in Clarendon by officers there on a charge of forgery.

The man was being sought by officers here on a similar charge, and will be returned here after his case is taken care of, Sheriff W. P. Baten Jr. said this week.

Unusual Egg Measures Eight Inches Around

Even the eggs are larger this year—if the one brought to The Democrat Wednesday by T. W. Luttrell is an indicator.

The hen egg measured eight inches around the long way and seven inches around the center. It weighed five ounces.

Luttrell stated that it came from a regular flock of chickens and was laid Wednesday morning.

Translator TV Discussed at Meeting Tuesday

Approximately 100 area farmers met Tuesday evening in the Memphis High School auditorium to discuss the Caprock Translator System, the progress made so far on the project, and laid plans for future work.

Joyce Webster, acting secretary for the organization, said that the farmers present decided to work about two more weeks signing up families to participate in the program.

"We need about 100 more participants and a little over 100 pledges from persons who will sign up when the translator station is constructed," he said.

Those present agreed that the proposal and guarantee submitted by the engineering firm was satisfactory. Federal Communication regulations provide that the organization must have 75 per cent of the money on hand and the rest covered by pledges before a permit will be issued.

Another meeting will be called in Memphis in about two weeks.

Estelene Meeting Monday night a meeting will be held in the Estelene High School auditorium beginning at 8 p. m.

The program will be outlined at this meeting, and persons will be brought up to date on progress.

All residents of that area are urged to be on hand for the meeting.
