Bank Deposits Show Year's Increase Of Over $200,000

At the close of business June 15, the statement of conditions of the four county banks shows an increase of $200,059.53 in total deposits over last June's financial report.

The total deposits figure for the city is $7,673,849.85, as compared with last year's June total of $7,473,790.28.

City To Aid In Clearing Lots

City crews are in the process of cutting vacant lots in the city to help keep down insect growth. E. C. Rice, city alderman announced this week.

There is a small charge to the property holder, Rice said, however this charge is kept as low as possible, just covering the cost.

"If any property owners in the city would like for the city's crew to cut their lots, they should contact Bill Kilpatrick or City Secretary Dwight Kinard," Rice said.

"We must try to keep the weeds down as much as possible and must try to eliminate stagnant water," he explained, "before we start spraying to kill mosquitoes, flies and other undesirable insects."

Eleven Scouts Attend Pre-Jamboree Meeting

Eleven Memphis Boy Scouts attended a pre-Jamboree training camp at Lefors Friday, Saturday and Sunday. The purpose of the encampment was to train the scouts and leaders in the skills required at the National Jamboree.

Attending were Billy Cosby, B. H. Cook, John Lemons, Gary Gibson, Lowell McKown, Gary Gentry, Billy Ed Thompson, Larry Wynne, Larry Helm, Mike Branigan and Randy Robertson. The scouts have been divided into troops and patrols for the Jamboree. Billy Ed Thompson will serve as Patrol Leader of the Flaming Arrow Patrol of Troop 58.

At the pre-Jamboree encampment, a complete camp was set up just as it will appear in Colorado Springs.

The Fifth National Jamboree will be held in Colorado Springs, July 22 to 28 on the site of the 2,000-acre Reverse J Diamond Ranch. More than a year of planning and a lot of cooperation is behind the gigantic project.

The Adobe Walls Council will have a delegation of 160 scouts and leaders to attend the National Jamboree in July. They will leave by bus for the Jamboree site on July 20 at 6 a. m. Pickups will be made of scouts in Borger, Spearman, Guyton and Boise City. At the site, a city of thousands of neat tents will be divided into of $7,473,790.28. However, as is normally the trend, this June's figure is almost one million dollars short of the March figure of $8,602,498.12.

However, in June 1957, total deposits in county banks were listed at $6,174,243.03, so this is a $1,599,606.82 increase since the middle of 1957.

As might be expected, the total resources figure for the first half of this year showed an increase over last year's figure. This year total resources amounted to $8,805,054.85 while last year they totaled $8,500,948.86. This is an increase of $304,105.99.

There is also a decrease shown between the June and the March figures for this year. In March, the total resources were listed at $9,681,345.27 which shows a decrease of $876,290.42.

This month's figures show that the demand deposits in the county's banks are just about the same as last year's. As of June 15, the demand deposits were $5,995,997.31 while in June of last year they were listed as slightly over six million dollars. There has been a decrease of $785,349.34 in demand deposits since March of this year.

Under the loans and discounts column, the figures show a $631,167.09 increase over this time last year. This month's total for loans and discounts is $3,190,109.17 while last year's total was $2,458,942.08.

However, there has been a decrease of $908,566.27 in loans and discounts since 1958 the figures indicate. The June, 1958, figure for loans and discounts was $4,098,675.44.

The above figures indicate that there is still a steady rise in bank deposits since the drought years in the mid 50's, however, the increase this year was not as high as it was in 1958 and 1959.

MILLS ROBERTS

Mills Roberts Is New Rotary Club President

President John Fowler of the Rotary Club presented the gavel to the Club's new president, Mills Roberts, at the conclusion of the program Tuesday.

President Roberts' first official act as the new head of the local civic club was to adjourn the meeting.

Other officers who will serve during 1960-61 include: Jim Beeson, vice president; G. M. Duren, secretary-treasurer. Directors include Mills Roberts, Jim Beeson, G. M. Duren, H. E. Craig, R. D. Avery, T. J. Bridges and John Fowler.

Rotarian Sim Goodall announced to the club that Christian Gisslar, the 23-year-old Swedish student, will arrive Sunday morning by bus from New York.

She is expected to stay approximately 12 weeks in the U.S.A., and most of this time will be in Memphis as guest of the local Rotary Club. Goodall said that everything is in readiness for Miss Gisslar's visit here.

Rotarian Robert Clark gave the program at the noon luncheon. He spoke on new medical advances in several fields of surgery and medical diagnosis of diseases.

Hall County voters will go to the polls Saturday to decide whether this county will retain the office of County Tax Assessor-Collector.

County voters will be facing a small ballot with only one issue to be decided, whether they will vote FOR or AGAINST the adding of an Assessor-Collector of Taxes to the list of authorized county officials.

Some interest has been stimulated by the special election as shown by the fact that five persons have voted absentee. Wednesday was the last day that residents were able to vote absentee in the special election. Mrs. Ruby Goodnight, County Clerk, said.

If county citizens vote against the retaining of the office of assessor-collector of taxes, this office and the office of County Sheriff will be joined as of Jan. 1, 1961.

The law of the State of Texas reads that if a county's official population drops below 10,000, the office of County Sheriff, and Tax-Assessor-Collector is automatically joined at the end of the term of the holder of the office of Tax Assessor-Collector, according to Judge Tracy Davis.

So far, political observers in the county are predicting a tight vote in Saturday's election.

County voters will vote in each of the 12 voting precincts, with polls opening at 8 a. m. and closing at 7 p. m. Presiding judges will make their returns to the County Clerk's office after the polls close Saturday.

According to Judge Davis, the only other offices which will be joined are the offices of District Clerk and County Clerk. This union will be made at the close of the term of the District Clerk who presently holds the office, or in two years, Judge Davis said.

Judge Davis added that there has been nothing definitely concluded on the joining of any other county offices.

The screen was blown down by a small twister on July 10, 1959. Construction was begun May 29 by Contractor Alvin Hacker of Stratford. New equipment has also been installed in the concession stand, Boren said.

The opening night feature will be "Big Country" starring Gregory Peck, Jean Simmons and Burl Ives.

County, City Officials Meet With OCDM Representative

County and city officials met Tuesday afternoon with an official of the Office of Civil Defense Mobilization and a highway department engineer regarding their application for disaster funds.

Presiding over the meeting was Tracy Davis, county judge. Also present were Mayor James Skinner of Memphis, Mayor James Howell of Lakeview; the four county commissioners, Ed Hutcherson, H. W. Spear, O. R. Lambert and Pat Brittain; and Aldermen Gene Hughs, E. C. Rice and O. M. Gunstream of Memphis.

E. E. Wheatley, federal official from the OCDM, Denton, Texas, explained briefly Public Law 875, which governs the government's participation when disasters strike cities or towns. Also present and taking part in the discussion was C. B. Hudson of Clarendon, resident engineer of the Texas Highway Department.

Early in the meeting, Paul Spillman, advisor, told the group that Governor Price Daniel had declared Hall County as having undergone a disaster from the floods two weeks ago. He added that the request was now before the president in Washington, who would declare this a disaster area.

"Any funds you get from federal government will be in the form of a grant," Wheatley stated. "We are making a preliminary survey in a three-county area, and will make our report direct to Washington within the next few days."

He had checked areas in Precincts No. 1 and 2 and the City of Lakeview prior to the meeting. After the session adjourned, he began an inspection of damages within the City of Memphis.

"We have found that there is a great deal of damage in your county from what we have seen so far," Wheatley added. "We will be checking to see what type of work will be eligible to come under the requirements of PL 875, and will determine what kind of recommendations we will make to Washington."

After the designation is made, a state highway engineer will go over each project, and decide upon eligibility. Wheatley added, explaining that their work Tuesday was only a preliminary survey of damages.

The OCDM official estimated that a final report will be received from Washington within a week or ten days after their recommendations reach Washington.

Others present at the meeting were B. E. Davenport and Jack Wolf of Lakeview; Eddie Foxhall, Jack Kilpatrick, Lynn McKown, J. C. Wells and Herschel Combs of Memphis.

SENATOR ☆☆☆ Yarborough's Report

One of the most important challenges facing us here at home is to find the key to wiping out the widespread unemployment that persists during this period of "spotted prosperity."

Examples of "spotted prosperity":

Last year, the average family income in America rose to an all-time high of $6,500. Yet approximately 5 per cent of our entire labor force, three and one-half million Americans, couldn't find jobs they needed to decently support their families.

Last year, four more major American corporations were added to that exclusive group of big businesses which have annual sales of over $1 billion, making a total of 49 such corporations in America. But, on the other hand, last year, 100,672 small businesses went bankrupt — the highest number of failures in a single year in history.

We have been fortunate that the situation in Texas has been better than many places. But even in Texas we have around 150,000 men hunting work and last year we had 340 business failures.

The problem of "spotted prosperity" is very complex. Yet, it demands solution in order for our free enterprise system to really work for all American families.

A special Senate study of the manpower requirements, resources, and chronic unemployment is scheduled to start soon. It's my privilege to have been named a member of the Senate Employment and Manpower Subcommittee which was designated to make this vital study.

One of the major factors already found to blame for this spotted prosperity has been our nation's snail pace rate of economic growth over the past seven years. Our large population growths are adding around 875,000 new workers to our labor force each year, but we aren't building enough homes and schools or creating enough new businesses and plants to have work for all these new workers.

Solution of this problem of spotted prosperity and too slow economic growth hold great promise for better life for millions of Americans. Economists tell us that we stand at the threshold of a fabulous decade, the decade of the '60's. They say that by meeting these challenges, we Americans can increase our production by a tremendous 50 per cent in the next 10 years. This would mean an average increase of 25 per cent in the living standards of every American family by the year 1970. Texas, as one of the fastest growing states, can be expected to participate in this advance to the fullest.

Highway Patrol Ready To Handle July 4 Traffic

While the drivers of Texas are making plans for Fourth of July trips, the Texas Department of Public is getting ready to handle a record flow of holiday traffic.

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas DPS announced today that all available patrolmen and equipment will be in service during the Operation Deathwatch period extending from 12:01 a. m. July 2 through 11:59 p. m. July 4. The department announced earlier its prediction that 27 motorcades would occur in the 72 hour period.

Garrison said patrolmen of the department's License and Weight service and Motor Vehicle Inspection service would join Texas Highway Patrolmen in patrolling Texas highways over the July Fourth weekend.

Hall County Soil Conservation District News

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

Farmers in this area are urged by the Hall County Soil Conservation District Supervisors to consider planting a soil improving crop of some kind this year, according to Charley Cape, SCS work unit conservationist for Hall County.

This is a particularly suitable time for planting such crops, in view of the acreage controls, Cape went on to explain.

Some of the soil building crops suggested by the supervisors include: guar and cowpeas, such as blackeyes, brown crowders, Chinese Reds, New Era, and Brabams.

It is estimated that a good growth of cowpeas will put approximately 90 pounds of pure nitrogen into the soil. Soil Conservation Service technicians also say that both cowpeas and guar help maintain the needed organic matter in the soil. Some of the land in this area is becoming deficient in this respect.

The soil builders have other advantages also, such as aiding soil to absorb and hold more water and help prevent the soil from blowing and washing. Guar in addition to being a soil builder is a feed and cash crop. Guar is planted with a maize plate at the rate of 4 to 6 pounds per acre.

If further information is desired on the above crops, farmers may obtain it at the SCS office in the Courthouse here.

Representative, 18th Congressional District Report From Washington
By WALTER ROGERS

Almost any youngster will vouch for the fact that "if" is a mighty big word. That one syllable can pack more meaning and important than the most ponderous and lengthy words in our language. And this lesson has not lost its meaning on Americans, for we have saved ourselves a great deal of unnecessary difficulty by refusing—as one of our proverbs has it—to "cross that bridge until we come to it." For "if" can bring into play countless numbers of vague and worrisome possibilities which are senseless to pursue.

But in the field of foreign policy, it is becoming more and more clear that a greater willingness to consider "if" has enabled the Soviet Union to reap larger dividends. Our dislike for ambiguity has found us unprepared for a number of the world crises which the USSR has exploited successfully. And the most unpleasant feature of this tendency in our diplomacy is the fact that many of these crucial international events could have been anticipated.

At this very moment, even the most unpracticed eye can find several potential trouble spots in the world, and yet we offer little or no indication that we have any sort of plan to deal with them and to counter Communist influences. Here are a few of the more obvious indications of future trouble, designed for a quiz for the Department of State.

1. Do we have any plan of diplomatic action if ties between the Soviet Union and Cuba become closer after the visit of Khrushchev to our Caribbean neighbor in the near future?

2. What means would we employ to continue access to West Berlin if the Soviet Union signed a separate peace treaty with East Germany and thereby sought to isolate West Berlin?

3. How would we act to prevent a collapse of our East Asian defense perimeter if the present Japanese government should be replaced by a Socialist-Communist one which sought to repudiate the security treaty?

4. If a revolt occurred in an Eastern European satellite nation, such as the one which occurred in Hungary, would our attitude be any more imaginative than the one adopted in that case?

5. Do we have any broad, long range plans—other than haphazard give-away programs—for achieving support of the vast neutralist nations of Africa and Asia?

6. How would we approach further turmoil if it exploded in the Middle East between the Arab League and Israel and how would we prevent any possible incursions by the Communist bloc?

7. Have we ever contemplated any changes in our efforts at home if the Soviet Union should achieve economic equality with the United States? Unfortunately, there is little evidence that these questions have been answered. It appears that we have been answering questions of equal severity in the past while being pressed by the heat of necessity. This is not to say that our State Department has not prepared plans of action in the event the several "IF" situations should develop. If there are such plans of action, it is understandable that they could not be made public in advance. However, there should be advance information conveyed to those who have the power of creating such situations. This advance information should be to the effect that this country has given thought to these possibilities, has prepared and developed effective plan to cope therewith, and will have no hesitancy in bringing it into play. This would not only improve our chances of preserving and bettering our prestige in the eyes of other nations, but it would also serve to discourage the ambitions of totalitarian nations and reduce their opportunities for the bluff and bluster technique. A firm, tough-minded policy would, in my opinion, be much more effective than the policy of mildness which has been pursued in an apparent effort to try to please all men in all things.

Corky and Mattie Grace Bridges of Pasadena are visiting with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Bridges for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ferguson of Amarillo spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ivy.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Cobb and children, Lois Ann, Stevie and Debbie, remained for a longer visit their vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Cobb. Their children, Lois Ann, Stevie and Debbie, remained for a longer visit while their parents are moving to Houston.

Forty-Four Girls Are Participating In Girl Scout Day Camp This Week

Forty-four girls from the Brownies, Intermediates and senior Girl Scouts of this area are participating this week in a five-day Summer Day Camp which began on Monday, June 27 and will continue through Friday, July 1.

Mrs. Brode Hoover, who has been active with the Girl Scouts for the past six years, is serving as supervisor for the group. The Day Camp is being held at the Giles Picnic grounds, property of the Lowell Houstons, eight miles northeast of the city.

Operating on the theory that good counselors make good camps, Mrs. Hoover as camp director, is being assisted by an excellent group of co-workers including Mrs. Elmont Branigan as business manager, Mrs. C. T. Snowdon, Mrs. W. R. Scott, Mrs. Y. Z. Taylor, Mrs. M. E. Shepard Jr., and Mr. Les Sims.

The outing and camp program will offer opportunity for experience in the out-of-doors; in group government, campcraft, singing, hikes, dramatics, cooking and many other adventures appropriate for each age level.

Among other adventures, the girls will learn to build fires, lay trails, find directions and, in general, make themselves safe and comfortable in the open with the natural materials at hand.

One of the highlights of the Day Camp will be cooking out at noon of the third day, except at that time, they will take their lunches already prepared. Besides cooking out on Wednesday, another feature of the five-day outing will be the 'visitation night' Thursday, then the girls will entertain their parents with plays and skits supervised by the adult members of the group.

And since health and safety are an important part of girl scouting, Mrs. W. H. Goodnight will be on hand at all times as 'camp nurse' to insure their welfare and make the 'hurts' (if any) well.

On the third day, Les Sims will evaluate the camp as to its beneficial merits and dispatch a written report of his findings to the headquarters office in Dallas. And each girl attending all five days will receive a certificate for her work.

Mrs. Henry Hays Enjoys Vacation In Dallas Last Week

Mrs. Henry Hays spent last week in Dallas staying with her grandson, Russel Dedric Clark, while his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Clark, attended a Hardware Mutual Sales Conference at the Western Hills Inn, midway between Dallas and Fort Worth.

Among those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Lester Campbell of Amarillo, formerly of Memphis.

John, who is the youngest salesman of that area, is making a very good record with Hardware Mutual, Mrs. Hays said.

Among festivities for the ladies was a luncheon at the Valley High Restaurant in Dallas followed with a style show by Neiman-Marcus.

The Friendly Sewing Club met with Mrs. Bray in their regular meeting to make bandages for cancer patients.

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Jerry Foster. "Blest Be the Tie" was sung by the group followed with a prayer given by Mrs. Lula McMurry. Mrs. Hankins gave the devotional for the day. The group closed the meeting with the Lord's Prayer repeated in unison.

Lovely refreshments were served to the following members: Mmes. Phillips, Boswell, Willingham, Jones, Wrenn, Simpson, Hammonds, Dickson, Foster, Webster, Hankins, Yarbrough, Lamb, McMurry, and the hostess, Mrs. Bray.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. A. B. Jones on Tuesday, July 12.

MRS. DON REEVES

Katherine Wright Becomes Bride of Don Reeves in Pretty Church Service

Miss Katherine Wright, daughter of Mrs. Lucille Wright and the late Don Wright, was married at 6 p. m. June 25 in the First Baptist Church of Memphis to Don Reeves, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Leon Reeves of Hedley. Rev. Fern A. Miller, pastor of the church read the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. T. L. Rouse, organist, played nuptial music and accompanied Rev. Paul Hancock, pastor of the First Christian Church of Clarendon as he sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bridal party stood in front of an arch of white mums entwined with greenery, flanked by candelabra with white tapers, and tall baskets of mums. Family pews were marked with white bows and daisies.

Miss Carol Ann Monzingo of Memphis, maid of honor, was attired in yellow silk organza over taffeta featuring a full skirt and cummerbund. Bridesmaid, Linda Fields of Amarillo and junior bridesmaid, Diane Gailey, Memphis, cousin of the bride, wore dresses identical to that of Miss Monzingo. All wore head bands of white daisies, white gloves and carried bouquets of daisies.

Bill Reeves of Fort Worth, brother of the groom, was best man. Groomsmen were Bill Jones of Plainview, brother-in-law of the groom and Terry Bailey of Perryton. Gayle Monzingo and Jack Montgomery lighted the candles. Bruce Wright, nephew of the bride carried the rings on a lace edged satin pillow.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her brother Don Wright Jr. of Amarillo, the bride wore a gown of white silk organza styled with a fitted bodice and bouffant skirt. The yoke was fashioned of Alencon lace with sabrina neck. A beaded coronet held the bride's finger-tip veil of silk illusion. She wore lace mitts and carried a white satin Bible with an arrangement of white sweetheart roses, festooned with pearls. The tradition of "something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue, with a silver sixpence in my shoe" was observed.

Following the wedding a reception for the bridal party, relatives, out of town guests and shower hostesses was held in the home of Mrs. D. L. C. Kinard, aunt of the bride, with Mrs. D. M. Foster of Canyon, also an aunt of the bride, sharing the hostess honors.

The young couple was assisted in receiving the guests by members of the wedding party. Mrs. Don Wright Jr. secured signatures in the wedding book.

The bride's table was laid with a floor length hand embroidered table cloth centered with an arrangement of the bouquets of the bride and her bridesmaids and silver candlesticks holding white candles. The tiered cake was beautifully decorated in the bride's chosen colors of yellow and white and topped with a miniature bride and groom. Punch was served from a crystal punch bowl. Assisting with hostess duties were the bride's cousins, Mrs. Frank Stallings of Austin, Mrs. Dwight Kinard and Mrs. A. L. Gailey of Memphis and other members of the house party, assisting were Mrs. Durwood Henderson of Canyon, Mrs. Gayle Monzingo and Misses Jo Ann Odom and Joy Beth Parks.

Mrs. Wright chose for her daughter's wedding a bone shaded lace dress with matching accessories and a corsage of pink french carnations with blue accent. Miss Myrtle Reeves, aunt of the groom, chose a gown of blue silk organza with blue accessories and wore a corsage of white carnations.

For travel the bride wore a black pique sheath with white feather hat, and wore a corsage of roses from her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Reeves is a graduate of the local high school and West Texas State College. She is a member of the Amarillo Public School faculty, teaching in the Will Rogers Elementary School.

Mr. Reeves attended Clarendon Junior College and West Texas State College where he will resume his studies in the fall. He is

Spices Have Played An Important Part In The History Of Mankind

When Christ likened the kingdom of heaven to a grain of mustard seed, he wasn't picking on the tiny seed but one of a select group of plants that has seasoned the world and sometimes directed its course.

Spices have been performing in the kitchen, in medicine, in romance and even politics, since the beginning of the world and even before.

The ancient Assyrians concluded that the gods met in council and hatched their plans over the glasses of sesame-wine.

The Queen of Sheba enticed Solomon with gifts of spices and the Egyptians used them to preserve their dead.

The Romans and Greeks perceived themselves with cinnamon and made love potions out of garlic. They fumigated their homes with thyme and planted parsley on their lawns.

Any boy knows he can catch a cold by sprinkling salt on its tail. The ancient farmers, however, were advised to use garlic. The seeds of onions were scattered on the ground to be eaten by the birds, which fell asleep and were easily captured.

Early medicines prescribed spices ranging from hiccups to cholera. Coriander was said to be good for ulcers; fennel, for liver ailments, and fenugreek for dandruff. Garlic was prescribed for leprosy, and mint, if held in the hand, prevented chafing of the feet. Hysterical females were urged to try mustard.

Spices, however, were not for the masses. In the 300's, for example, the emperor Constantine gave the Bishop of Rome a gift of cloves, saffron and pepper.

And when the Goths besieged Rome a century later, they demanded as ransom 5,000 pounds of gold, 30,000 pounds of silver and 3,000 pounds of pepper.

During the Middle Ages, when cooking was less than an art and baths were infrequent, spices were even more in demand. A pound of ginger was worth more than a sheep.

The profitable spice trade with the East helped transform Venice from a cluster of small mud islands into a cultural center of the Renaissance.

An attempt to cut out the middleman spurred Portuguese navigators down the uncharted coast of Africa and helped persuade Isabella to finance the voyages of Columbus.

The value of spices was so great that occasionally they were used as money; taxes and rents, for example, were assessed and paid in pepper.

Nowadays pepper is confined to the kitchen, where Americans consume it at the rate of 25,000 tons a year.

But a few years ago the town of Lyndhurst, N. J., was reported to have paid off 150 years of back rent on a schoolhouse . . . by forking over 150 peppercorns.

The program for the evening was on Christian Churches in Europe. The leader for the program was Mrs. J. W. Stokes. The opening prayer was given by Mrs. Kesterson. The devotional, "Saving Faith" was given by Mrs. Charles Hamilton. The evening program consisted of "The Mayfield Family" given by Mrs. Clyde Milam, "West Germany Christian Mission" given by Mrs. Howard Randal, "French Christian Mission" given by Mrs. Harry Aspren, "Church of Christ in Poland" given by Mrs. Joe Williams, Bro. Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Kesterson Observe Golden Wedding Anniversary Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Kesterson, who have resided in Memphis for more than 30 years, celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary Sunday with open house at their home, 902 Noel Street.

Friends called between the hours of 3 and 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The entertaining rooms were attractively decorated with several floor baskets and table arrangements of gold mums sent to the couple by friends.

All of their children and their families were present for the occasion and included Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Goodson and Miss Dorothy Ray Kesterson of Amarillo, Miss Doris Kesterson of Dallas and Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Kesterson and family of Enid, Okla.

In the dining room, the table was laid with a lovely white linen and cut work cloth and centered with an arrangement of yellow roses. The flowers were arranged in a beautiful bowl resting on a stand of decorated brass, a gift to the couple from Mrs. Kesterson's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Joe T. Davidson of Ozona.

The double-wedding ring cake, which was served with orange punch, was decorated with yellow rose-buds. Mrs. A. G. Kesterson served punch and Miss Dorothy Ray Kesterson served the cake.

Irrigation and Soil Management Aid Productivity

Since soil is one of the most valuable assets a farmer possesses, its care and management should be a primary concern.

Much of the land in Texas is irrigated, and this poses additional problems and considerations for the farmer. To be able to manage this irrigated land correctly, he must understand the processes of soil formation, the texture and structure of the soil, the physical condition and organic content, the development of plants and the sources of plant nutrients. These factors must also be taken into consideration by the farmer who is trying to decide whether or not to irrigate.

John Box, assistant extension agronomist, and William F. Bennett, extension soil chemist for the Texas A & M College System, have written an informative and comprehensive publication on the irrigation and management of Texas soils. They discuss the many aspects of irrigation, and the publication should be helpful to anyone who is considering irrigation or who already operates an irrigated farm. The bulletin may be obtained from the local county agent or by writing the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas. Ask for B-941.

More Machines Used To Harvest Texas Cotton Crop

Increased mechanization marked the 1959-60 cotton harvest in Texas.

In keeping with the national trend, machine stripping and picking accounted for 44 per cent of the Texas upland cotton harvest. A year earlier, it was 35 per cent. Hand picking and snapping, with 56 per cent, still predominated, however.

A survey by the Agricultural Marketing Service, in cooperation with ginners, compressmen and warehousemen, shows that 42 per cent of the state's 4,371,000 bales ginned was hand stripped, and 14 per cent hand picked, compared to 49 per cent and 16 per cent, respectively in 1958-59. Machine picking gained from 4 to 10 per cent, and machine stripping increased from 31 to 34 per cent.

By comparison, the 1959-60 national average was 39 per cent hand picked; 18 per cent, hand snapped; 31 per cent, machine picked (a new high); and 12 per cent machine stripped. A year earlier, U. S. growers harvested 44 per cent by hand picking; 22 per cent by hand snapping; 21 per cent, machine picking; and 13 per cent by machine strippers.

Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico, with 48, 34 and 5 per cent respectively, were the only states that employed machine stripping extensively. South Carolina led with 92 per cent hand-picked and California was first in machine picking with 83 per cent.

The AMS survey also reveals, that Texas growers paid an average of $15.94 for ginning and wrapping each 500 pound gross-weight bale. A year earlier it was $15.40. Charges for bagging and ties, alone, averaged $4.34 a bale, 8 cents more than in 1958-59. The national average last season was $15.02, total charges, and $4.29 for bagging and ties only.

Last year, it took 1,435 pounds of Texas hand-picked seed cotton to make an average 500-pound bale, compared to the Cottonbelt average of 1,406. A bale of hand-snapped cotton in Texas required 1,932 pounds; machine picked, 1,515; and machine stripped, 2,078.

Vote To Keep Assessor-Collector of Taxes

The citizens of Hall County will determine a vital issue when they vote in the special election next Saturday. The proposition, as is simply stated upon the official ballot, is whether or not they want to add an Assessor-Collector of Taxes to the list of authorized county officials.

Unless the voters approve the proposition—vote for the addition of the office to the authorized list of county officials—the office of the County Tax Assessor-Collector will automatically be added to that of County Sheriff. The date this will take effect will be Jan. 1, 1961.

The Democrat believes that the two offices should be separated. They will not be unless the majority of voters mark their ballots "FOR"; that is, scratch out the last proposition, which begins with the word, "Against."

Under the state Constitution, when the population of a county falls below 10,000, the office of Tax Assessor-Collector automatically is joined with that of Sheriff. Preliminary report of the recent Census Bureau count for the county gives a figure of only 7,241. When the official figure is released later this year, there is no chance that it will move above the 10,000 figure. Therefore, the function of the tax office will go under the supervision of Sheriff W. P. Baten, Jr., unless the voters approve the establishment of the office separately at the polls next Saturday.

We believe that the consideration of efficiency should be considered carefully in this matter. Also, that no saving will be made if the two offices are combined. Both the office of Mrs. W. C. Anderson and Sheriff Baten are operating smoothly as they are. The combination, which will take place, is another matter. The Sheriff will assess and collect taxes if they are combined, along with his other duties. The county will not have a tax assessor-collector. It will take the same number of persons on the county payroll, if they are combined, as at present. Go to your regular polling place Saturday. Vote for adding a Tax Assessor-Collector to the list of authorized county officials. Our entire county will benefit from keeping the two offices separated.

Make The Holiday Trip Safe

Imagine, if you can, a deathly still nation over the Fourth of July, its streets deserted of motor vehicles, every car behind locked garage doors.

Think of it — no traffic on the streets. No trucks, buses, cars or whatnot clogging the streets and highways during the three-day holiday. No din of honking horns and blaring car radios and screeching tires.

Think of it . . . No trips to Grandma's house. No weekend outings. No one taking a vacation.

Of course, this is strictly fantasy. We're a motorized nation — a nation on wheels, a nation of people whose life is geared to the motor vehicle.

If we were ordered to keep our car in the garage for three days, we'd set up a fuss and holler that would be heard 'round the world. And rightly so!

The National Safety Council and TSA have always encouraged people to have fun over the holidays, to take trips, to get outdoors and enjoy life. But they point out, realistically it seems to us, that you can't have fun and enjoy life very well from a wheelchair . . . or a grave! So please be sure to use extra care and courtesy to meet extra danger!

Everyone agrees the auto and all it has brought to this nation are marvelous. But the auto was never intended to be an instrument of death over the Fourth of July holiday or any time of the year. So use it properly and drive courteously.

DISTURBING THOUGHTS ON THE "FOURTH"

"THE COMMUNISTS AIM IS TO DOMINATE THE WORLD, THEY RELY UPON TERROR AND OPPRESSION, THEY CONTROL THE PRESS AND RADIO, THEY FIX ELECTIONS AND SUPPRESS ALL PERSONAL FREEDOMS; THEY HAVE BROKEN TREATIES AND COMMITMENTS, THEY HAVE EMBARKED ON A COURSE OF FORCIBLE EXPANSION AND AGGRESSION, AND THEY THREATEN EVERY FREE NATION ON THE EARTH AND THEY HAVE BETRAYED THE HOPES OF THE WORLD."

ACROSS the DESK

What Other Editors Say

Many New Jobs

Automation scares a good many working people who see the machine move dirt that once furnished shovel men many jobs, and the same thing happen in many other lines. They see the workingman robbed of bread and butter for his family. But the history of such new ways of doing business is that they result in general betterment of mankind and that they actually increase the number of jobs. As automation increases one wonders where the jobs of the future will come from. One suggestion recently was that myriads of new jobs are going to be created by the introduction of de-salting water. The cost of de-salting has been lowered from $1 per thousand gallons to 30 cents already. When the cost of the process gets down to 3 or 4 cents business will pick up. The de-salters will be in business. Other myriads of jobs are going to be furnished when man learns to harness the sun's rays for power. Also weather control, believe it or not, offers a bright prospect for the future, jobwise. —Floyd County Hesperian

Inflation Ending?

If the postwar inflation era is, indeed, ended it means that the United States will have to obtain more production at lower or no increased costs. If we are to stay in competition with the highly efficient countries of Western Europe and Japan, we'll have to avoid, among other things, costly strikes such as the one in steel. Ever increasing prices have left the doors wide open to good, cheap foreign products against which it will be extremely difficult to shut them out again. —The Portland Oregonian

Full-Feeding Cattle

The thing they talked about at the recent West Texas Chamber of Commerce meeting in Dumas was not how to get an industry; it was how to get a dam. It was how to feed cattle, so report officers of Collingsworth Chamber of Commerce, who were there.

Full-feeding our own cattle with our own feed, right here at home is considered by WTCC one of its major objectives. It is also part of the program of work of the Collingsworth C-C and local agricultural and business leaders have urged it for some years.

Now is the time to examine it seriously. This is not to discount one iota the work toward getting a dam in Collingsworth or getting an industry. But it is to point up a new source of income that is ready-made for us.

Our milo production pushes upward each year, with more acreage that must go into it, improved varieties and irrigation. A few men have full-fed steers on a small scale here in the past. It is already proved by large feeding projects in operation on the Plains that feed lots with 10,000 head capacity are not day-dreams. But small feed-lot operations can be profitable too. Our cotton production will supplement it.

We have the cattle, the best money can buy. For several years many more Louisiana cattle have come in regularly.

But they don't stay. They winter here and get in excellent condition as far as they go. Then they go out in box cars or trucks to feeders in California or Arizona or Colorado or back to Illinois and Iowa.

At the same time our milo and our cottonseed are loaded up and when Collingsworth steers meet Collingsworth feed, it is in those California or Arizona feedlots.

These buyers seek out Collingsworth for one reason only—we have what they want and we will sell it. They buy to make a profit—the profit we could make and keep in our own pockets.

The Wellington Leader believes full-feeding can work here. We have what it takes: cattle, feed, cottonseed, climate and the background for know-how. Year in and year out, our milo crop is a more reliable producer than some of our other money crops.

What applies to cattle will also apply to hogs.

Full-feeding should not be rushed into. Like any other business venture, it should be carefully planned. Not every farmer or rancher should go into it. Some don't have the time. Some are not suited by temperament. Willingness to do a hard, routine job day after day, and the daring gamble on the livestock market, do not always go together.

But we believe that here is opportunity itself for some men who are willing to work at it.—The Wellington Leader.

Another hed please?

The cow, the sow, and the hen are the mainstay of the food providers on the farm. They are very helpful, too, lifting the mortgage plaster off the farm. It is difficult to estimate the revenues that comes from the cow, the sow, and the hen, in Martin County. The sow is pretty well left out of the picture of these three farm products.

Weekly, hundreds of men and women on the farms trek to market with their egg basket and milk cans, and Stanton figures prominently as a market for these two revenue-bearing farm products.

(Corvair doesn't need it)

Corvair's ingenious design simply places the engine in the rear. That means less weight on the front wheels and a lighter, happier feel in the curve of your hands. No power assist is needed in a car that's naturally nimble. See what a fresh engineering approach can do? From handling and parking ease right on, there just isn't anything ordinary or conventional about Corvair. Look at its practically flat floor, four-wheel independent suspension, fold-down rear seat. Its air-cooled rear engine that never needs water or antifreeze or radiator repairs. . . and leaves engine heat and noise back where you've been. "EXCEPT FOR THE FEW MINUTES WE LOST WHILE THEY CALLED AN AMBULANCE... WE'RE REALLY MAKING TIME THIS TRIP"

Jackie Ben Boone, who is with the Marines at Okinawa, writes his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Boone of Memphis, that he was with the Marines who guarded President Eisenhower on his visit to that island when so many Communist rioters made such a showing.

J. A. Ballard of Estelline and R. W. Scales met in the Democrat office Saturday and in their talks they learned that both Ballard and Mrs. Scales were born in Hall County. Mrs. Scales was the daughter of the late Zeb Land.

Commission got a dizzying view of spiraling expenses. Sub-committees of the commission will study the problem of future costs and how to meet them through the summer and make reports to the entire commission Sept. 10. Commission's report and recommendations to the governor are due Oct. 10.

Estimates of their future needs made by major state agencies for the Commission indicated a need for spending $19,000,000 more each year to meet growth needs.

Governor Daniel told the commission he hoped they could find ways to scale down the new money needs and find revenue sources that would grow as population and demands for services increase. MORE FROM FUNDS? — Facing a money-short future, a State Senate Committee is studying the possibility of earning higher returns from the investment of state trust funds.

Sen. Hubert Hudson heads the panel which is studying administration and investment of four funds totaling $1,200,000,000. They are the University Permanent Fund, the Permanent School Fund, the Teachers Retirement System Fund and the State Employees Retirement Fund.

Mortgage bankers suggested to the panel that the funds could earn a higher return without sacrifice of salary by investing in government-insured home mortgages. Some panel members observed that the funds now invested in federal bonds were not earning as much as was being lost through inflation.

For the past three years some of the University's Permanent Fund has been invested in corporate securities which has increased its earnings over what it had been from government bonds.

Senators also discussed the possibility of saving through a unified organization for administering and counseling on the four funds.

WARNING FOR DRIVERS—This year's Fourth of July falls on a Monday, making a longer holiday for fun — and accidents.

Department of Public Safety has predicted 27 traffic deaths in Texas between 11:15 p. m. July 2 and 11:59 p. m. July 4.

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., DPS director, said all available patrolmen, including those from licensing and weights and inspection would be on the road.

SAUNDERS CASE ARGUED — Court of Criminal Appeals is to rule next fall in a case hinging on whether a witness can be convicted of perjury in connection with testimony before a legislative committee.

Defendant in the case is J. Byron Saunders, former chairman of the State Board of Insurance, who was convicted and sentenced to two years imprisonment for lying to a legislative committee about funds received from ICT Insurance Co. while he was in office. Saunders' attorney contended that perjury is possible only before a judicial body, not before a legislative committee.

With school out and the summer holidays here, the number of persons enjoying the great outdoors is increasing tremendously.

Weekend driving is especially hazardous. Add to the ever-present dangers of highway accidents a big holiday weekend, such as the upcoming Fourth of July vacation period, and you have an especially dangerous time for the motorist.

July Fourth, this year, falls on Monday.

That means Saturday, Sunday and Monday traffic will be heavy, very heavy. In fact, the greatest traffic load of the year — any year — is the Fourth of July weekend. And this one this year has an extra day.

That means you've got to be careful!

You must observe the speed warnings as well as all other safety traffic signs. These signs are placed on the highway as a warning for you . . . not to you.

However, there will be patrolmen on every highway and in the greatest numbers ever, come July 2-3-4.

So, be careful and play it safe. It's your life, as well as the lives of others, that's at stake. Your property and their property too.

So don't let even one tiny black mark appear on your insurance record. That can prove costly too, you know.

Not more than two out of 10 outdoorsmen know that a motorist can be arrested if he drives more than 45 mph while pulling a boat. Did you know that?

Well, it will pay you to remember it — and especially so during the July 4th weekend.

A jackknifing trailer can do tremendous damage . . . to property and people. So if you're trailering a boat, be sure that the trailer is well hitched. See that a safety chain is attached from trailer to car. Double-check to be certain that the cable pulls the boat snugly forward to balance your craft properly and seat it tightly.

See that the transom tie-downs are tight. Be sure that the tires are properly inflated and have no thin spots that may cause a blow-out, or lost traction.

Either a red warning light must be on the rear of the trailer, or a red reflector attached to the stern of the boat, where it is clearly visible, when you're driving at night.

Equally important, be sure you have a 1960 trailer license . . . and that your boat is numbered in keeping with Texas laws.

Okay, you've launched your boat and you're on your way.

Do you have a cost-guard-approved life preserver aboard, for each passenger? If not you're violating the Federal and State laws regarding safety afloat. And you are violating the first rule of safety if you don't make the kiddies wear life vests.

Do you have at least two paddles aboard, just in case of motor failure?

Outboarders should remove the tank from one boat and fill the tank either at the filling station pump or on the dock — not while the tank is in the boat. Inboarders should exercise even greater care. Two inboards have exploded on Lake Austin, already, this very summer. Accumulated gas fumes in the bilge ignited when the ignition key was turned on.

The dangers of water are hidden ones. They develop suddenly and unexpectedly, and without any warning.

There are hundreds of different ways. Nearly all are due to carelessness. Some are from stupidity — like trying to carry eight passengers in a five passenger boat. Some are from pranksters who just must have their fun. But — ninety eight per cent of the accidents on our waterways could have been prevented — if the persons involved had been safety conscious.

Eulaine Ellis of Dallas spent the weekend with Mrs. H. B. Bennett.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM YOUR CAPITOL

With the searing summer heat, Texas are putting new emphasis on getting a statewide plan. Though Texas is supposed to be in a seven-year wet cycle, unexpected harsh drought on parts of South Central in late spring and early summer. As one scorching day followed another, crops were stunted and pastureland began to burn. Though conditions were better here, the difficulties of the drought in the areas around the City lent emphasis to Gov. Daniel's plea for a "crash plan" to develop a water plan. Many don't do it, said the governor, the federal government take over. The plan is to have a complete plan for development of water ready by May 1. To help meet this deadline, the governor asked representatives of river authorities and districts to file updated master plans for their areas with the Water Board by Nov. 1. He also asked river authorities to lend men and technical personnel to prepare the state plan. Meanwhile, farmers, watching corn burn up in the fields, what comfort they could get from the often repeated statement "Texas has plenty of water; it's a matter of distribution." UPGRADES AHEAD—Look ahead 10 years at estimated state government, the State Finance Advisory

Deutsch Donkey Derby Contestants Pass Thru Memphis Late Friday

The Deutsch Donkey Derby moved into Memphis late Friday afternoon at anything but a blistering pace. Three riders spent the night here, then mounted their donkeys, and proceeded on their way toward Dallas.

The Derby is being publicized as an 865-mile burro race from Lake City, Colorado, to Lake City USA, Texas. The Texas city is a brand-new community, located just north of Dallas on U. S. Freeway 77. George C. Deutsch, head of Deutsch Enterprises, is building 2,500 homes in Lake City USA. He has posted a $1,000 prize for the first burro rider to reach Lake City USA. He will pay $500 for the second place winner, and $250 for third.

The burros and their riders left Lake City, Colo., at 3:30 p. m. Thursday, June 9. They average about 30 miles per day, and expect to reach Lake City USA about July 4.

Four riders started the race. One, Slim Bloxom, 50-year-old itinerant sign painter and guitar player, dropped out after the first 100 miles. Still in are Don Craig, 25, of Lake City, Colo.; Ed Emery, 21, of Los Angeles, Calif.; and Bill Sunderlin, 19, of Iowa, Colo.

The riders reported they have been enduring a succession of hardships, including heavy hailstorms twice and a sleet storm. A rattlesnake struck at one of the burros, but missed. The prizes at the end of the Derby is all that is keeping them on their mounts, they added.

'Snakey' Is What C. F. Stout Says About His Farm

It's definitely "snakey" around the C. F. Stout farm, with an unprecedented number of reptiles being killed during the past few months.

Mr. Stout reported Sunday morning that the family had killed a coral snake. This made the total "take" four for the week. Previous to the killing of the poisonous coral, they killed two rattlers and one coach whip. The latter was found in their storm cellar.

"It's getting so we dread to get out and around our place," Mr. Stout added. "Have seen and killed more snakes this year than any previous period I can remember."

Troop 35 Takes 6-Day Trip To Cimarron, N. M.

Fifteen Scouts of Troop 35 and three leaders returned late Tuesday from a six-day trip to Cimarron, N. M.

"We all had a real good time, and the boys learned a lot about scouting," one of the leaders said.

During the six days the group was gone, they visited Filmont Scout Ranch, attending church there Sunday. They visited Kit Carson's Museum, hiked, went mountain climbing and spent one day in Red River, N. M. fishing, where the boys caught a mess of trout and held a fish fry that night.

They climaxed their trip with a 10-mile ride on horseback. Scouts attending were: Paul Carroll, Bobby Carroll, Mike Webster, Hoot Jones, Danny Greenway, Dalton Freeman, Ronny Freeman, Neil Tribble, David Lemons, Mike McCreavey, Ernie Lee Spruill, Billy Foster, Ronnie Pekrul and Don Craig.

Scout leaders going on the trip were: Murray Smith, Scout executive of the Comanche District, Homer Tribble and Les Sims. Visiting in the home of Mrs. W. B. Scott Sunday and Monday were Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Chappell and their daughter, Linda, a girlfriend, Jan Bowman, also a sister, Mrs. Carrie L. Jack, all of Dallas. Mrs. Jack is a sister to Mrs. Scott. She will remain here for several days.

Troop 34 Scouts Return Saturday From Kiowah Trip

The Boy Scouts of Troop No. 34 returned home Saturday evening after spending a week at Camp Kiowah near Canadian, according to Scoutmaster Boaz Stotts.

Scouts earning Merit Badges were as follows: Jimmy Sturdevant, R. B. Spruill, Jeff Moore, and Toby Crooks, canoeing; B. H. Cook, swimming; Billy Ed Thompson, Larry Wynn and John Lemons, nature.

Billy Ed Thompson and B. H. Cook advanced to Life Scout; Jimmy Sturdevant and Jeff Moore advanced to First Class Scout.

Jimmy Don Sturdevant and R. B. Spruill were taped out Friday night at the Order of the Arrow Top Out ceremony and became candidates for membership in the Order.

"The Scouts enjoyed the camp very much and wanted to thank the following persons who provided transportation to and from the camp: Mrs. Billy Thompson, Raymond Ballew, Mr. and Mrs. Rheaupert Wynn, Mrs. Bray Cook and "Red" Moore," Scoutmaster Stotts said.

Troop No. 34 is under the sponsorship of the First State Bank of Memphis.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas
 A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

Juries, Old and New
 Speaking before juries — the beginning of jury trials — goes way back to Greek colonies about 600 B. C., in lawsuits over lands seized by tyrants.

Soon afterwards Athens itself took over such oratory, but seems never to have worked out rules of evidence or control of the trial by a judge.

Jurors often booed or cheered the parties, talked together, and shouted at speakers. What one man knew or thought he knew about the case he told his neighbor.

All evidence could go: personal knowledge, hearsay, prejudice, and a juror's opinion.

The Athenian juror had power: Each "dicast" a juror chosen by lot, was both jurymen and judge.

Jurors sat in many courts; the smallest had 201 dicasts, the largest one such as tried Socrates had 601. (The odd man broke tie.) The jurors heard and decided their cases out in public, often amid swarms of citizens and foreigners.

One day to each case; and the accused — like Socrates — had to prove his innocence.

Each juror earned one obol a day — about three cents.

Each juror swore: "I shall vote according to the laws of the Athenian people and the Council of the Five Hundred; but as to things about which there are no laws, I shall judge as best I can without favor or enmity. I shall judge as to things at issue and shall listen fairly to both the accuser and the defendant. These things I swear by Zeus, by Apollo, by Demeter. May there be blessing on me if I keep my oath; but if not, let there be ruin for me and my family."

Today as yesterday our juries are under fire: Some say juries waste time, people won't serve; jurors make stupid mistakes. Let experts do justice, critics say.

Such things hold true only if citizens forsake their right to serve.

Only a free people can enjoy the privilege of jury duty. A Greek thinker once said that the mark of a citizen, as opposed to an alien, was his right to share in administering justice.

When jury duty calls, think of yourself as seeking truth, hearing all the evidence, heeding the court's instructions, following the lawyer's arguments, and laying aside prejudice.

Mrs. T. E. Noel's Mother Dies Monday In Corsicana

Funeral services for Mrs. Crowther, mother of Mrs. T. E. Noel of Denton and formerly of Memphis, were held at 10:30 a. m. Wednesday in Corsicana.

Mrs. Crowther died Monday in Corsicana. Burial was in the Cemetery in that city.

The Crowther family were former residents of Corsicana. In more recent years, Mrs. Crowther had made her home in Dallas and Denton. She had been in failing health for several years.

Improvements in the control of communicable diseases — malaria, tuberculosis, yellow fever and typhoid — have made all of these diseases, except tuberculosis, curiosities in Texas.

The chronic diseases — heart and vascular disorders, cancer, and diabetes — are now leading causes of death along with accidents and infant deaths.

Percentage-wise, the ten leading causes of death accounted for almost 82 per cent of the total deaths last year.

Accurate Social Security Records Key To Payments

The social security benefits payable to a farm worker and his family in the future depend upon the amount of wages credited each year to the worker's personal social security account, according to Hal Geldon, Manager of the Amarillo Social Security Office.

It is the farm employer's responsibility to file a social security report of the wages of any worker who is paid $150 or more cash in a year, or who worked for him on 20 days or more during the year on a time basis. But it is up to the farm worker to see that his wages are being reported properly.

One way a farm worker can be certain his social security account is growing year by year is by making sure his employer has his correct social security number. He should also get in touch with the nearest social security office once a year in order to check the amount of wages being credited to his social security record.

Geldon stated that if a worker has never had a social security number, or has lost it, he may get a new number or a duplicate of his old social security card by filling out an application at the nearest post office or social security office. If a woman worker has changed her name through marriage since she got her social security card, she should apply for a duplicate card showing her married name.
