Odom Offers Sale Hospital To County

Odom appeared before Commissioners Court Tuesday morning to "talk hospital."

Odom stated that he had submitted to the Commissioners a plan to sell the hospital to the county for $50,000. The building cost $18,000, and the land $32,000.

Proposition Dr. Odom was the leasing of the hospital, which has a 32-bed ward, for $400 per month for the county taking over the lease at the end of the year. This would be a $48,000.

Odom stated that the foundation of the hospital and that a ward could be added to the building.

Odom told the commissioners he would keep his hospital if the county hospital was not built. He said that he may have it into a non-profit hospital.

He invited the commissioners to look over the hospital and facilities.

The commissioners discussed the two proposals, but took no action on them.

Contracts were signed for the leasing of a yard and a half loader from Plains Machinery Co. of Amarillo for Precinct No. 4 (Turkey).

The Commissioners also voted the approval of borrowing $2,000 for Precinct No. 2 (Lakeview.)

The court approved the reports and paying of regular monthly bills. The commissioners canvassed the returns from the general election which was held last Tuesday. They found no discrepancies in the totals, which were announced earlier.

Noblitt Speaks To Rotary Club On Boys Ranch

Ray Noblitt, of Clarendon, presented an inspiring program on Boys Ranch to members of the local Rotary Club Tuesday at the regular noon luncheon meeting.

Program Chairman Bob Fowler introduced Noblitt to members of the club and eight visitors.

Noblitt began his talk by saying that every child needs a shirt-tail to hang to. Each boy has someone who is his ideal, and his life is governed by what his ideal does.

Then he gave a portion of the history of Cal Farley, his early life, his hopes and dreams, the beginning of the Maverick Club, and finally the establishment of Boys Ranch in the Old Tascosa Court-house.

Noblitt quoted several gems of wisdom about how to run a home. One of these was: "it takes a heap of living in a house to call it a home."

In the home, he said, is where the boy learns the difference between right and wrong, learns the discipline which comes when his parents tell him no. And in the home, he said, is where the child first learns about God, and Christ. The home is the shirt-tail most children cling to. This is especially true when the home has Christ as a partner.

At Boys Ranch, Noblitt said, Cal Farley and the rest of the staff, try to give those boys some shirt-tail to cling to. Besides the spiritual and educational guidance the boys receive, they also can learn any one of 14 vocational skills. He also explained that all boys graduating from Boys Ranch have the opportunity to go to college, if their grades qualify them, and they have the desire to go. Most of these boys are sent by donations from individuals, firms and big corporations. "But on two occasions, Mr. Farley has sent the boys himself," Noblitt said.

Noblitt concluded his talk with the idea that if all homes accepted the responsibility of raising their children there would be no need for Boys Ranch, but this will never be; so Boys Ranch will have to continue to be the home for many boys who have no other home.

Survey This Week Shows Ginning Total For County At 16,020 Bales

County gins hit an almost record-setting pace this week in processing 6,020 bales, bringing the season's total to 16,020 bales.

However, this figure is still better than 12,000 bales less than at this time last year, when 29,696 bales were ginned, despite a week of cold icy weather from Nov. 12 to Nov. 19.

If the dry weather holds, full scale cotton stripping will get under way next week, reports indicate. Several farmers already are running their cotton strippers.

At this time last year, the harvest of the county's cotton crop was estimated from 60 to 70 per cent complete, while at this time it is being estimated in the neighborhood of one-third complete.

It is being estimated that the county will harvest from between 50,000 to 60,000 bales this year.

A. E. Anthony, officer in charge of the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture Cotton Classing office in Memphis, said that the office had classed 52,970 samples by Wednesday.

"We are doing about 3,500 per day," he said.

The classing office has seven classifiers on duty besides Mr. Anthony.

"We are running about three days behind," he added.

He said that the staple length is holding up very well on the whole but the grade seems to have slipped a little.

In the week's period ending last Friday, Nov. 11, the classing office here had graded 14,648 samples, which brought the year's total to 39,935.

Last week's results of classing in percentages include: white, strict middling 2, middling 10, strict low middling plus 1, strict low middling 8, low middling plus 1, low middling 3; light spotted, 20 strict middling, 40 middling, 13 strict low middling, and 1 low middling; 1 per cent was spotted.

Staple length of the cotton was: 2 per cent 29-32, 19 per cent 15-16, 49 per cent 31-32, 22 per cent 1 inch, 7 per cent 1-1.32, 1 per cent 1-1.16.

Burglars Get $150 From Safe At Hughs' Sat.

The safe at Hughs Battery and Electric was broken into last Saturday night, and approximately $150 in bills and change was taken.

The repair shop belonging to Gene Hughs was entered through a window in the rear of the building.

The safe was moved into the rear of the building, and cut open with the firm's blow torch. When the door was cut off, the bills and change were taken, and checks were left in the safe. Nothing else was missed, with the exception of possibly several screw drivers, Sheriff W. P. Baten Jr. said.

The burglary was discovered shortly after noon Sunday, and reported to the local Sheriff's office.

Sheriff Baten said that apparently the burglars left through the front door of the establishment.

Cyclone Receives Co-Champion Honors In District Competition

The Cyclone's win over Canadian last Friday, 19-6, and Lefors' loss to McLean, 13-6, but the Cyclone in the co-championship position, sharing the honor with Lefors.

Lefors will represent the district, playing Stinnett for bi-district this weekend.

When the team returned Friday night, about 2 a. m., from Canadian via the Wellington highway, a large sign, held by local fans, welcomed them as district co-champions.

A bonfire was erected on the parking lot at Cyclone Stadium, and an estimated crowd of 100 students and parents were on hand to welcome the team. The squad had learned of McLean's victory over Lefors while in Canadian.

Early season predictions gave the Cyclone a two win, eight loss season. However, after the season ended, the Cyclone won five, tied two and lost three. They lost to Class AA Tulla and Spur, and to Lefors in district play. They tied Hollis and Paducah. The Cyclone was victorious over Estelline, Wellington, McLean, Clarendon, and Canadian.

The local team scored 118 points this season, and their opponents tallied 161 points. The Cyclone gained 2,142 yards running and passing against their opponents' total of 1,929.

Oil Well Being Drilled on T. E. Speer Land

An oil well will be drilled on the T. E. Speer land on Section 19, T. 10 N., R. 10 E., S. 10 W., of H. & G. N. Ry. Co. Surrounded by two miles northwest of Memphis in Hall County, reaching a 2,500-foot level Wednesday.

The well is being drilled by the Speer Drilling Co., Inc., of Memphis, for the Sun Oil Co., which will lease on that property.

Speers Drilling Co. is owned by M. W. Alexander and J. Gardner who are both in Memphis to supervise the operation.

Alexander said Wednesday that the past three days of drilling have cut to the 2,350-foot level. He estimated that Wednesday's shift would cut about 60 feet.

Jack Hobbs is in charge of the daylight drilling and is the tool pusher. Macon Gardner also serves as tool pusher.

Wednesday the drill bit was cutting through shell, anhydrite and lime, core readings indicated.

Alexander said that the company's contract called for the drilling of a 7,800-foot well.

"However," he said, "at 3,200 feet, if the reading is running low, we have been instructed to abandon drilling."

If the drilling company goes to 7,800, it will take approximately 31 days if everything runs on schedule, Alexander estimated.

Farm Facts

"Farmers must be getting rich," the city housewife too often complains when she goes to pay for her food at the supermarket check-out counter.

The facts are, however, that the farmer's part of her food dollar has actually declined, that an hour's pay will buy more food today than it would a few years ago, that the farmer is caught in a "cost-price" squeeze, and that his net income is much lower than that of the average non-farm person.

Farmers average well below the minimum wages for most workers and still less than average industrial wages. In fact, the farmer's income is about half that of his city brother.

During 1938, the hourly income for farm labor and management was 97 cents, while workers in manufacturing industries received $2.13 per hour.

Average net income per person of the farm population from all sources was $1,066. This included $298 received for work off the farm, the value of products consumed on the farm, and the rental value of the farm dwelling. By comparison, the average non-farm person's net income amounted to $2,066. This is $1,000 a year more.

The farm person's net income has risen 25.2 per cent from the 1947-49 average, while the non-farm individual's rose by 39.6 per cent.

Delphian Club Enjoys Book Review Tues.

Miss Maud Milam was hostess to members of the Delphian Club on Tuesday, Nov. 15.

Mrs. Mildred Stephens, president, presided during the business meeting. During the session, the fact was brought out that every member of the club present had voted in the recent presidential election.

Mrs. C. D. Morris, program chairman, introduced the program on Americanism with the topic "A Hand in Things To Come—Abundant—Life, Sharing, Joy," and the Bible quotation, "For whoever would save his life will lose it; but whoever loses his life for My sake, he will save it." Mrs. Henry Hays gave the meditation. She gave a brief resume of the first Thanksgiving including the Mayflower Compact and the communal system of government. She concluded with the poem, "I Thank Thee, Lord, for Golden Grain in Store," by W. W. Reid.

Mrs. Bob Fowler presented an excellent review of A. Drury's Pulitzer Prize winning political novel, "Advise and Consent." The story, which takes place in Washington, deals with the appointment of a new Secretary of State, the backing of the presidential election, the opposition to the nomination and the final triumph of right over scandal, pressure and ill-feeling. It also gives an insight into the organization and workings of various government committees in action little known to the general public.

Delicious refreshments were served to Meses. J. L. Barnes, Henry Hays, A. Anisman, Jack Boone, Clyde Smith, Cyril Keith, Mildred Stephens, R. H. Wherry, Bob Fowler, C. D. Morris, Joe Mothershed, Sim Goodall, J. W. Stokes, J. S. McMurry, W. C. Dickey, Bill Combs, and the hostess, Miss Maud Milam.

After a hard fought first half, Memphis Cyclone unleashed its offensive attack to defeat a scrapping Canadian Wildcat 19-6 Friday night at Allen Field.

Only did the local team's men show that they could block in defense they held Canadian only 99 yards on the ground and 18 yards in the air. Canadian netted only one pass and made first downs.

Canadian's score came early in first quarter, when a Cyclone was knocked loose from the end and Canadian recovered on Cyclone 10.

Three plays later the Wildcats were running over from the 4 line to put Canadian ahead. Outside Linebacker Eddie Outside Linebacker Eddie crashed through a blocker to punt the ball, saving points for the local squad on extra points.

The Cyclone kicked off to the Canadian which took over the ball on down 33. In seven plays on carries by Eddie Jones and Craig, the Cyclone had marched three first downs to the 21. Two plays later the Cyclone made their first penetration but were unable to pick up yard after they had drawn a yard off-sides penalty.

Canadian took over on their 17, were held, penalized, and led out to the Cyclone 29. In plays later the Cyclone facing a 4th down and 4 led so QB Bunky Adcock led out to the Wildcat 30. Canadian moved for two first downs on the running of Eckles. A completed pass to HB Ron-Summer which netted 18 yards. The drive was stopped so they led to the Cyclone 20. The Cyclone moved for one first down to the 33. Then Adcock was led to punt again, on a 4th and station. Canadian took over their own 14. After drawing a penalty, Canadian quick-kicked to 41.

The Cyclone began its first drive at this point, marching 59 yards in nine plays. FB Bert Gardner, carrying through the hole, racked up 16 yards to Canadian 43. QB Adcock plowed his way for 20 more yards to Canadian 20. A pass from Adcock to End Garland Moore moved the ball to the Canadian 5. On the next play, FB Gardner carried over to score and the ball game was tied up. Then Guard Dee Miller place kicked the extra point and the Cyclone was leading.

BROCHURE — The Memphis Chamber of Commerce has published a brochure about the facilities of Cyclone Stadium for those schools in the area seeking places to hold bi-district and regional games. Above is the picture of Allen Field House, a new addition to the facilities at the field. An internal picture of the field house's facilities was also in the brochure. Other pictures included were of the two stands. The brochure, containing many interesting facts about the field, was compiled by Chamber of Commerce Manager Clifford Farmer under the direction of the board of directors.

The half ended a few plays later.

The second half of play was opened when Canadian Back Eckles returned the Cyclone kickoff to the 47. Canadian was held and forced to punt. The ball fell dead on the Cyclone 4 yard line.

At this point the Cyclone started the longest drive of the game. Marching 91 yards on 17 plays, the Cyclone had the ball on the Canadian 5. Eddie Jones carried into the end zone, was knocked loose from the ball and Canadian recovered behind their own goal line for a touch back.

Canadian took over the ball on their own 20, were held to an 8 yard gain in three downs, punted on the fourth down to the Cyclone 33.

Memphis drew a 15 yard penalty, so Adcock was forced to punt. Canadian took over near mid field stripe. FB Eckles blasted through the center of the Cyclone line for 22 yards to the Cyclone 30. On two more carries, the Wildcats netted four yards, and on ed back to pass, hurled a long one, and a Canadian back intercepted the pass and ran it back to the 50. Canadian failed to make a first down in four tries, so Memphis took over on the 41.

Memphis moved for one first down to the Canadian 46, but four plays netted them only nine yards so the Wildcats took over on their own 35. Canadian went to the air at this point, and threw one incomplete pass. On the second pass play, the Cyclone defensive line led by Sam Goodnight crashed through and dropped the passer for a 12 yard loss.

Then on the next pass, Bunky Adcock intercepted and ran it down to the Canadian 12 yard line, setting up the Cyclone's last score.

Larry Craig blasted for three yards to the Canadian 9, then FB Gardner carried over right tackle for eight more yards to the Canadian one. On the next play, HB Douglas Peters carried over to score. The pass for extra points went incomplete, so the score was 19-6.

In the closing minutes of the game, Goodnight kicked off with the ball flat on the ground. The ball hit a Canadian lineman, and Gary Gillespie fell on it, on the Cyclone 48.

Guard Don Gailey carried on a guard around play picking up four yards, and Larry Craig ground out 11 more. During this part of the game, Coach Don Lambert was substituting freshmen and sophomores into the Cyclone lineup after each play.

On the last play of the game, No. 31, Bill J. Pounds carried for seven yards around his left end to the Canadian 30.

Due to injuries, the Cyclone lineup had several changes Friday night. Dale Sexton was out with an appendectomy and Sam Goodnight filled in at offensive tackle as well as manning his usual defensive position. Lacy Montgomery was out of the lineup due to a knee injury, so Eddie Jones played right half back. Sophomore End Jackie Bridges got to see action during the game relieving Senior Wayne Leslie, who played most of the game despite a cracked rib, an injury he received in the Lefors game.

Perry Wright served as the squads quarterback during the first portion of the game, due to the fact that Bunky Adcock had an injured left hand, from last week's workouts. Dwight Gailey was also out of the lineup because of illness. He had been doing suoman service on defense for the squad most of the season.

Memphis backs and lineman Don Gailey gained 323 yards during the game. Larry Craig carried 16

Phone with the built-in switchboard

Here's a phone designed to play a big role in business offices. Right in this single instrument are all the conveniences of a telephone switchboard.

Six push buttons give you complete control over all incoming and outgoing calls. You can select any of five lines—talk on one while holding calls on others—"buzz" your secretary—or use the phone as an office intercom. Lights in the buttons tell you which lines are busy, which are free.

Our "phone with the built-in switchboard" is another example of how General Telephone works to make the telephone a more convenient and valuable instrument of communications for everyone.

Call or visit our Business Office and learn how little it costs to have the "switchboard" service of a push-button phone.

Jackie Crawford, Don Chaney Marry In Amarillo Rites Nov. 4

Jackie Crawford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Crawford of Memphis, became the bride of Don Chaney, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Chaney of Unice, N. M., on Friday, Nov. 4, in the Washington Street Christian Church with Jack Cox, minister, officiating.

For her marriage, the bride chose a baby blue wool sheath accented with blue accessories and a corsage of white carnations trimmed in blue.

Mrs. Beverly Hutcherson, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She was attired in a fur-trimmed suit of royal blue complimented with matching accessories.

Carlton Clayton of Amarillo and formerly of Memphis served as best man.

Following a short wedding trip to Lubbock and New Mexico, Mr. and Mrs. Chaney are at home at 1211C Van Buren, Amarillo. The groom is employed at Southern Finance Co. while the bride is employed at radio station KZIP.

I Give You Texas

By BOYCE HOUSE

When it comes to being lucky, I haven't been. I've won only twice on "chances"—and one of them really didn't count, exactly. Then there was the time that I came close to winning. To help a patriotic organization in our town, they raffled off a $2,000 car at a dollar a chance. On the appointed day, a shot was fired at a board with the numbers on it and mine was missed by just two.

In Waco back about 1940 the Harley Sadler show was appearing at the Cotton Palace. Between acts, they would sell candy—you know, the special introductory offer. You paid 25 cents for a package; wasn't much candy, five pieces or maybe four but a prize with each and every package. Usually, the prize was a tin whistle or a pocket comb but, occasionally, the award would be a fountain pen or a pair of silk stockings or something like that.

Well, my prize was a blanket. I don't want to mislead you; the blanket was not in the package of candy but there was a slip of paper which called for the blanket.

Afterward, I "accused" Harley who was a good friend, of arranging for me to be handed one of the main-prize packages but he said that wasn't the case at all—that I had actually won on my merits; that the vendors used to know which packages were the most valuable but they got to handing them to relatives and friends in the audience so now they didn't know, any more.

The other time that I won was on "country store night" at a Los Angeles movie house; but, when the number on my ticket stub was called, I didn't go forward. Wouldn't I have looked silly, lugging a big basket of groceries on a street car at 11 o'clock at night to a hotel in Culver City? (What's that? Did somebody say I look silly, anyhow?)

Back to that blanket. It was a quiet little number: blue and yellow. Premonition intuition—in- stinct—or something told me that this would be my only time ever to win anything; therefore, I decided to make the most of my moment.

So when I got back up town, I draped it around me, entered the lobby of the Raleigh Hotel, raised my right hand and said, "Ugh!" I was sensational.

The only child of a president to be born in the White House was Esther Cleveland, in 1893.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

is about birds... "screwy" birds you've seen, but seldom read about.

are called several names most of them unprintable. mating season is a good time to recognize them. If you recognize one of these birds... especially if you are one of these birds... you shouldn't go hunting. Maybe you should stay home or at least change your attitude.

None of us have our faults. None of us possesses all these failings. If you are one of these birds... you shouldn't go hunting. Maybe you should stay home or at least change your attitude.

He's just one bird that doesn't give a hoot. If his grandchildren have no place to hunt, it makes no difference to him. What the heck does he care about the future! He won't be here anyway.

This bird's even worse than the Migratory Litterbird. That creature has the same attitude, true enough. Also—the same lack of respect for the property of others. And the same lack of appreciation of what has been made available to him by the farmer, or the parks board, or the game and fish commission. He a litterbird wherever he goes.

Often wonder what his home looks like inside... don't you? Betcha there are banana peels everywhere, apple cores all over the house and empty beer cans scattered about every room.

Goodness knows what the messy place really looks like. Sure could not be a very tidy spot, judging by the way this bird litters up the outdoors.

There are plenty of other creatures of the woods and waves.

For example: the Redeyed Swallow—better known as the Boozeybird.

No need for him to wear heavy hunting clothes. He's fired up internally. Why be a comfortable 98 degrees, body-temperature bird, when you can feather your nest with 100-proof alcohol and feel so light-headed?

Actually this bird isn't light-headed, he's empty-headed. There are just no brain cells in that ivory-covered skull. Couldn't be, or he wouldn't be out hunting in that condition.

And, anyone who hunts with him better be a Roadrunner and in the finest trim. Otherwise he'll never make it back to camp... alive.

The Redeyed Swallow also has many traits common to the Large-mouth Grouse. Much of his time is allocated to complaints that are reminiscent of the Bellyaching Bullfrog, who's not ever a part of the feathery tribe.

While we're at it, let's not overlook the Dimwitted Woodruff. He's the hot-tempered animal who clobbers the park fountain if it fails to work. He does so with the park bench and he doesn't care which collapses first, so long as his temper is not restrained.

You've seen this bird I know. I'm talking about the Sneaky-eyed Woodpecker. He transfers shrubbery from the field to his own front yard.

Not to be overlooked is the Large-Pocketed Camprober. He is known to have carried off the grate from the roadside barbecue pits, to appropriate it for his own use. Neither does he think anything of totting all the extra state firewood home with him.

Then there's the Redhatted Loon who doesn't know the difference (or care) between a 12-point buck and the farmer's choice Jersey Cow. He's the farmer's delight. But only if the cow is heavily insured.

Too, let's not forget the Roostertailed Waterthrasher. He's the speed demon of the waterways. This gink "wakes up" the fishermen with mammoth man-made waves. He boils them up as close to the angler's boat as the law allows... if not closer.

All these birds are fun-spoilers for everyone else. Evidently as they are out for is a lark.

These birds are not legal game. But more than one hunter thinks they should be. Among those who think so are the farmers whose cows are killed; the landowners whose fences are torn down; and the hunters whose lives are endangered.

Let's not spoil the fun for anyone. As we take to the field for a day of pleasant hunting, let's be more considerate of "the other fellow." Let's give thanks to those who make this great sport possible. And let's do our part to make it an event for all to enjoy and to live to remember.

will serve as tour leader. He has extended an invitation to any one interested to join the group which will leave Texas on Nov. 26 and return on Dec. 1.

Travel will be in Pullman cars with departures from both Lubbock and Fort Worth on the afternoon of Nov. 26. The cars will be put on the same train in Kansas City. The first stop will be in Chicago to attend the world famous International Livestock Exposition where the judging of fat livestock will be observed including carlot champions and the naming of the grand champion fat steer of the Show. Visits will also be made to processing plants to inspect dressed carcasses of fat cattle.

From Chicago, the tour will move to Iowa State University where livestock feeding specialists will take the visitors to farms for observations and discussions with farmer-feeders.

Dean Stangel said, "We hope these personal contacts will cause our own farmers and ranchmen to take a closer look at their operations and determine whether or not livestock feeding might offer a new source of income. We believe many will see opportunities for such programs."

In addition to the farm and feeder visits, the tour members will also see the vast research facilities at Iowa State University and hold discussions with national leaders on feeding and management problems.

Most county agents and local chambers of commerce in West Texas can supply detailed information on the tour. It can also be obtained by writing the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, Box 1561, Abilene, Texas. Reservations should be made as soon as possible, Dean Stangel said.

Frances Polson Cleveland, at 22, was one of the youngest women to become First Lady. She was the former ward of Grover Cleveland.

First president to be married in office was John Tyler. He married Julia Gardiner in 1844, two years after his first wife died.

Cattle Feeding To Be Studied In Corn Belt

Many areas of Texas have the ingredients—plenty of grain, livestock and favorable climatic conditions—to make livestock feeding a profitable operation. In order for interested farmers, ranchmen, bankers and agriculturists to get first hand information on how successful livestock feeding operations are carried out in the Corn Belt, the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with Texas A & M College and Texas Tech College, is sponsoring a tour into the heart of the nation's great feeding area.

EDITORIAL

The Mandate Of The People

(Editor's Note: The following was written by Congressman Walter Rogers, U. S. Representative from this district, in his office in Washington following the recent election. It graphically states the position of the sincere and patriotic leaders of this nation.)

On November 8, 1960 the people of the United States exercised their right of franchise; a right enjoyed by very few people throughout the world; a right indispensable to the preservation of a government by law rather than by man; a right, the proper exercise of which is the keystone of democracy.

The result of the exercise of that right by well over 60 million Americans is indicative of many things. Pollsters, lawyers, editorial writers, columnists, political experts, and others will be analyzing that vote for many months and years to come. These analyses will produce as many meanings attributed to the votes and the voters as the number of people who undertake to treat the subject. Many will say that the system in this country is wrong, that it is unfair, that it does not permit the true reflection of the feeling of the majority of the people. Others will say that the system should be retained as the most perfect system yet devised by man. The electoral college method of electing a president has been under fire for a long time. Many attempts will be made in the future, near and far, but I seriously doubt that the system will be changed until there is definite proof that an alternative is better.

I would like to submit my feeling as to the real meaning of what happened on November 8, 1960. In my opinion the most significant fact was the closeness of the election, regardless of who won. It reflected the wealth of strength in the democratic process and it contained a mandate from the people to the elected officials that should and must be honored. The people said, in effect, that they want a balanced, sound, and honest government, free of extremist policies in either the direction of statism or monopolism, properly tempered so that the fullest strength can be realized. The people of this country from all walks of life; the farmer, the laborer, the professional, the housewife, the corporate representative, the butcher, the baker, and the candlestick maker, all spoke to make up the one voice that constituted the voice of the people. To all who would hear, that voice had the same clear, rich tones of the voice in 1787 that said to the world:

"We the People of the United States, in Order to form a more perfect Union, establish Justice, insure domestic Tranquility, provide for the common defence, promote the general Welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to ourselves and our Posterity, do ordain and establish this CONSTITUTION for the United States of America."

With that preamble, the Constitution of the United States of America, one of the greatest documents ever struck off by the hand of man, was commenced. The people of this country in this election have truly evidenced that we are jealous of our rights and liberties, and that those entrusted with them will be held to full account.

Our government, like a fine watch, is made up of many parts, without any single one of which an imbalance could be created; but with all of which performing the service for which they were designed, true balance is attained. Our government and our philosophy will survive, so long as none of us forgets the presence and necessity of others.

THANKSGIVING DAY IN SUBURBIA

What Other Editors Say

Kennedy Gracious in Victory

Another part of the picture of President-Elect John F. Kennedy was beginning to emerge today—that of a victor who could be gracious and generous in victory.

They gave Kennedy an opening at his news conference yesterday to pour it in the Republicans a la Harry Truman — to try to picture the GOP as disgraced and deserted by the people. And, with considerable charm, John Kennedy declined it.

A questioner pointed out that several times during the campaign Vice President Nixon had said if he were defeated it would mean the repudiation of the Republican Administration.

Unhesitatingly, Kennedy disagreed. His victory, he said, was a victory for the Democrats, "but I don't think we can certainly call the result a repudiation of anyone . . . The responsibility (given to the Democrats) is clear . . . But I don't think that Mr. Nixon should feel in any sense, or the President, or the Republican Party, that they have been repudiated . . . I think an alternative course, an alternative group, an alternative philosophy and an alternative party was selected."

That was the tone of the president-elect's first full-scale news conference. This aggressive young man with strong ideas never once tried to throw his weight around. Instead, he was trying to bind the nation's political wounds.

Somebody asked if he had plans to use Nixon in his administration. But Kennedy stuck with Emily Post: He replied merely that he would rather talk with Nixon before saying anything because after all, he didn't know Nixon's plans.

Similarly, he was respectful when asked about utilizing president Eisenhower's experience. He admitted he had "some thoughts," but added, "I thought I would wait until I talked to him about it."

Kennedy announced six important appointments, only two days after the election, including the reappointment of Central Intelligence Agency Director Allen Dulles and FBI chief J. Edgar Hoover, and the naming of his special council, press secretary and assistant press secretary.

The President of the U. S. may be the most powerful man in the world, but his wife can't redecorate her home without the approval of Congress. World Book Encyclopedia reports that it requires an act of Congress to change any feature of the state rooms, which are used for public affairs, in the White House.

KEEP BUSINESS RECORDS

Extra income can result from well kept farm or ranch business records. C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist, says that good records can often help farmers and ranchmen make the right management decisions. Too, he adds, records are very important come tax paying time. Local county extension agents can supply information and publications on record keeping.

Rehearsals Begin On 'Happy Holiday' PTA Musical, To Be Presented Dec. 6

Rehearsals began last week on "Happy Holiday," a musical, which is being presented by the Stephen F. Austin and Wm. Travis Parent-Teacher Associations.

The musical will be presented on Tuesday evening, Dec. 6, at 7 p.m. in the high school auditorium. Sponsored jointly by the two local PTA units, the musical is being directed by Virginia Browder, assisted by Tops Gilreath.

Tickets, which will go on sale in the near future, will be 75 cents for adults and 25 cents for students.

A multitude of students from kindergarten through the seventh grade will participate in the musical. Many colorful costumes will add to the beauty of the setting, Mrs. Temple Deaver, Jr., publicity chairman, said.

In addition to musical selections by the elementary students, a variety of specialty numbers will be presented by high school students and talented adults of the city, Mrs. Deaver said.

The show, "Happy Holiday," takes its name from the type of music that will be presented. Music significant of some of America's most popular holidays will be used such as St. Valentine, St. Patrick's Day, Easter, July 4th, autumn days, and as a grand finale—Christmas.

Among the specialty numbers will be "Golden Ear Rings" sung by Miss Jeanne Vallance, talented Memphis High School senior, Mrs. Deaver said.

Another feature of the evening will be a candy stand, the chairman pointed out.

"We will have for sale a variety of home-made candies, made by members of the Parent-Teacher units," he added.

MINUTE MEDITATION

The Hand of God

The hand of God rules the world with certainty and purpose.

In the affairs of men he governs just as he has his way in the whirlwind.

The Bible says that not even a sparrow can fall to the ground without the Father.

This being true, is it possible that a nation can rise without his assistance?

"Except the Lord build the house, they labor in vain that build it."

Whatever houses men may build whether religious, political or social, if God be left out they shall come to nought as the tower of Babel.

Let us build solidly on the eternal principles of righteousness.

Let us cleave to the old fashioned virtues of clean living, clear thinking and honorable labor.

Review Rules Before Going On Deer Hunt

"Hunters heading for the field should take time out now to rehearse some important musts," suggests J. B. Phillips, assistant director of law enforcement, Texas Game and Fish Commission. "This involves everything from giving equipment of the hunt a once-over, to the care of the kill."

Each year brings tragedy to the families of many hunters because of faulty guns or failure to obey the rules of safe hunting, according to Phillips.

"A careful review of these rules and a double check of rifles and ammo may be more important than many hunters realize," he said.

The assistant director also reminded hunters that crippled deer are potential killers.

"Be positive that the deer you shoot are dead before getting too close to them. Only recently a story from out of the state told about a hunter who was killed by a wounded deer."

The woods this hunting season will be filled with hunters. Many of them will be out for the first time, and they will not be on guard at all times. The director suggested that these novices be extra careful, both when handling their rifles and when sighting in on deer.

"Be certain it's a deer—a legal deer," he added.

Taking care of the meat after the deer has been bagged also is important.

"Know how to properly care for venison before you shoot. Lots of good meat is lost each year because of spoilage," said the director. "If you don't know how to care for the meat, ask someone before the hunt."

BRIDE-TO-BE— Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Holt announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Nila Rae, to Bobby Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Scott. The Wedding will be solemnized on Saturday, Nov. 26, at the Baptist Church in Lakeview. Friends of the couple are cordially invited to attend.

Lakeview Football Squad Entertained With Banquet Mon.

The Lakeview Junior High football team was entertained with a banquet on Monday evening, Nov. 14, at the Lakeview school.

Guest speaker for the evening was Coach Bob Owens of Amarillo, who talked to the group on "Football and Clean Living."

Paul Kitchens, Lakeview coach, served as master of ceremonies. After recognizing members of the football squad, the captain and co-captain of the team, the Football Queen was presented. Dana Gibson is the captain and Rodney Sams the co-captain. Miss Jodena Pate was selected by the team as Football Queen.

Attending, other than the football team, were parents of the squad, and several other guests.

The first mistress of the White house was Mrs. John Adams, according to World Book Encyclopedia. The mansion was uncompleted when the couple moved in and Abigail Adams was unimpressed with her new home, where she had to hang out the family wash in the East Room.

Historic Red River Crossing

Six million cattle and horses forded "Doan's Crossing" during the great cattle drives from Texas to Kansas in the latter 1800's.

A small monument at this Red River crossing now reads:

"You don't need much monument if the cause is good. It's only those monuments that are for no reason at all that has to be big. Good luck to you all anyhow. Yours Will Rogers"

Doans, Texas, is located on the Red River, just west of Wichita Falls and 20 miles north of Vernon, in Wilbarger County.

Mass Grave at Leander
The terrible story of the Webster Massacre is now written in stone above its victims, in a cemetery at Leander, in Williamson County, north of Austin.

In 1839 the Comanche Indians attacked John Webster and his party of about 30 settlers. They were trapped by the Indians in the open prairie after attempting to escape under darkness.

Mrs. Webster and her two children were imprisoned, but all others were killed.

Victims were buried in one box, about the size of a wagon body. Their remains still are there.

Orozimbo Imprisons General
"Orozimbo" was the name of the home of Dr. James Aeneas Phelps, hospital surgeon of the Texas Army at San Jacinto.

His home was used to imprison the Mexican General Santa Anna from July to November in 1836, following the defeat of the Mexican Army and the victory in the fight for Texas' independence.

"Orozimbo" is located about 12 miles north of West Columbia, in Brazoria County, southeast of Houston.

Rangers Battled Indians
Bird Creek Battlefield is located in Central Texas, just west of Temple, in Bell County. It is the spot where Captain Bird valiantly died in battle in 1839.

A highway marker, erected at the site in memory of Captain Bird, reads: "With only 14 Texas Rangers he met 240 Indians at this point, and routed them."

It was against such odds as that pioneers settled Texas.

David Crockett Memorial
David Crockett, the Tennessee statesman and hero of the Alamo, is commemorated at the David Crockett Memorial Building, located in the Park of Crockett, Texas.
