forty years ago a fellow townsman joined the Waples-Platter wholesale grocery firm in Memphis and has been actively associated therewith ever since. Now in his retirement—a time in which all active participants are to some extent. This Member is Ottie F. Jones, and being Ottie, we know that he is not to be content with idleness. We predict that he will continue to take an interest in and an active part in community affairs, as he has attended to personal affairs of which will partly atone for his retirement. Ottie has been identified with the business interests of Memphis nearly half a century, and won the admiration and respect of the entire citizen-has been a busy week and national in politics. Today the inauguration of Governor Daniel and Lt. Gov. Ramsey place at Austin with but little attention from over the state. Washington all is agog for the inauguration of Democratic president Kennedy and John F. Kennedy to take place tomorrow. Texans as well as others from all other states have been converging on the capitol for the ceremonies.

er the inauguration comes a period of readjustment under a new regime, and all are hopeful and prayerful that peace may be maintained all over the world. We hope for a safe and sane course which will ward off any enemy of democracy's enemies and avert a conflagration that will engulf the world.

President Eisenhower closed his 10 years as president with the action of having kept us out of Vietnam. No one questions President Eisenhower's sincerity and modesty. He ends tomorrow a career as a great soldier and a great statesman.

Harvest Nears End; Totals 58,637 Bales

The 1960 Hall County cotton crop may reach 60,000 bales. However, this week's ginning figure was 58,637, a survey by telephone revealed this morning.

According to several gin managers, there is less than 1,000 bales left to be gathered, so the estimate of 60,000 might not be reached.

The 1960 cotton crop was a surprise to many growers and ginners, in that late rains and late planting was not as much of a deterrent as was earlier thought. Also the abundant moisture caused dry land yields to be as much, and in some instances, even more than from irrigated fields.

The 1959 and 1960 cotton crops will go down in history as two of the best, based upon yield per acre, that the county has recorded. This year Hall County farmers will make a yield of approximately 60,000 bales on 83,821 measure acres. This figures slightly under three-quarters of a bale per acre yield, well above average. A one-half bale per acre average is considered good in Hall County.

Russell served as Master of Memphis Lodge of Masons in 1950; High Priest of Memphis Chapter, Royal Arch Masons in 1955; Master of Memphis Council, Royal and Select Masters, in 1955; Commander of Memphis Commandry, Knights Templar, in 1957.

He was elected to membership in Texas Priory and his election confirmed by Convent General of the Order on Jan. 5. A certificate of membership has been mailed to him.

There are 60 Pories of the Order in North America with a present membership of 6,300, the news release stated.

Brucellosis Study To Be Given At Meeting Jan. 26

The beef cattle sub-committee of the Hall County Program Building committee met recently, and discussed the three types of Brucellosis programs.

Members of the sub-committee are as follows: T. R. Fuston, chairman, Joe Montgomery, R. A. Eddleman, Ronnie George and Lee Scrivner. Harold Hodges, president of the Program Building committee and a member of the sub-committee, suggested that a county-wide meeting be held, and a state veterinarian be invited, in order that the beef cattle producers may hear an explanation of the three types of Brucellosis programs.

The county-wide meeting will be held Jan. 26, beginning at 7:30 p. m., in the district court room in Memphis. It is being sponsored by the Hall County Farm Bureau, the Hall County Program Building committee and the Extension Service.

Total Deposits Show Increase Of $48,451.48

Hall County goes into 1961 with more money in its bank accounts than at any time in recent years. However, according to the financial statements issued by the four county banks, the increase is only slight.

A comparison of demand deposit figures for Dec. 31, 1959 and 1960 show that the increase was $48,451.48. However, since Dec. 31, deposits in the four county banks have increased and loans have decreased.

At the year's end, combined assets in the four banks totaled $10,712,396.17. This is an increase of $168,069.79 over the figure a year earlier.

Total deposits for the end of 1960 were $9,554,278.81. The Dec. 31, 1959, total deposit figure was $9,505,827.23. The increase totaled $48,451.48.

During this past year, demand deposits decreased $43,134.47 according to the latest report. Demand deposits at the end of 1960 were $7,533,267.53.

Loans and discounts increased during the past year. The increase amounted to $319,240.11. On Dec. 31, 1960, $2,542,533.26 was listed under the loans and discounts columns of the four banks.

However, in comparing the figures, it is readily seen that most of the cotton crop had been sold at year-end in 1959, while last year's crop was approximately three-fourths harvested.

After all cotton is sold, Hall County should have more money in the banks than at any time in several years.

At no time in the past several years has the citizens of the county entered a new year in so optimistic a mind. It is reflected by remarks of both farmers and business men. From the producers standpoint, the amount of moisture in the ground give good prospects for another banner year.

Hubert Jones Is Named Waples-Platter Manager

J. D. Gamel, executive vice president and general manager of Waples-Platter Co., Fort Worth, has named Hubert A. Jones as manager and area sales manager of Waples-Platter Co., Memphis, succeeding Ottie F. Jones, who has entered semi-retirement.

Hubert was born in Memphis, graduated from Memphis High School and entered Texas Tech. However, he quit college to volunteer for services in World War II.

Mr. Gamel stated in his letter announcing Ottie Jones' semi-retirement: "Ottie joined this company on Aug. 15, 1919, and has served the company in an outstanding fashion in each assignment to which he has been assigned. Ottie will continue to be available to the company and to assist us as he has always so generously done."

Ottie Jones was born in Memphis in 1894 and is a graduate of Memphis High School and Goodnight Baptist College and Metropolitan Business College. He served in France in 1917-18-19, with General John J. Pershing's American Expeditionary Forces. He went to France with the Rainbow Division.

Upon his discharge from the Army in 1919, he went to work for Waples-Platter Co., Memphis, and served as shipping clerk, salesman and manager.

In recalling the history of the company in Memphis, he stated at the time he went to work it was located in the building now occupied by Finch & DeWees Implement Co., but later the company bought out Nobles Bros., and consolidated their stock and operated out of the warehouse, where Moss Motor formerly operated. Later, he said, the company purchased the entire block where the firm is now located from the City of Memphis, and built the present warehouse.

Ottie Jones married the former Gussie C. Ayers in 1920, and they are the parents of four children, L. F. and Hubert, Mrs. D. S. Johnson and Mrs. Billy Ray Jones, all of whom live in Memphis.

He has served as commander of the American Legion, and was active in the establishment of the City Park. He served as first chairman of the park board, and has served on the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce and is a past president of that organization.

Mr. Jones stated that his retirement was on a voluntary basis, and that Mr. Gamel is retaining him in the company as counselor.

He is hoping that his semi-retirement will give him more time to devote to his fishing hobby and he wants to attend as many football and basketball (Continued on Page 10)

Senator YARBOROUGH'S REPORT

Dear Fellow Texans: The new Cold War Veterans GI Bill to extend educational and on-the-job training opportunities 4 1/2 million Americans who helped keep the Free World's guard high in this Cold War has gone to the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee for study.

Thirty-one Senators joined me in sponsorship of this proposal which shows that there is national recognition of the program's value.

Some 200,000 Texans would be eligible for schooling or specialized training under the bill. It passed the Senate 57-31 last session but died in the House Veterans Committee.

Today, time and events dictate even more strongly the passage of this program for these reasons: (1) It is a matter of individual justice, because only about 46 per cent of our young men serve under current draft procedures; leaving the 54 per cent who do not serve with a struggle unless these veterans are furnished some educational training.

(2) It is a matter of national economic benefit, for it assures that some 4 1/2 million men will have a chance for professional or technical training that will increase productivity and minimize serious, heavy unemployment among those who are untrained.

(3) It is a matter of national security, for it will greatly improve the attitude and morale of men called to service.

In the years immediately ahead, this nation must move forward on all educational fronts. We cannot afford to overlook the value of established programs that have proved out well, from the standpoint both of the individuals concerned and of society as a whole. And that is the kind of program we have in the Cold War GI Bill—for here we can point to positive accomplishments and results from our past dealings with the veterans of this nation.

In enacting the two previous GI bills, for veterans of World War II and the Korean Conflict, the Congress wisely provided two of the most farsighted, beneficial programs ever known to any society or government. In education alone the two previous GI bills gave the nation 450,000 engineers and 180,000 doctors and nurses. It provided training for more than 150,000 physicists, chemists and other scientists. About 230,000 teachers—our most sorely needed trained human resource—now in very short supply—are now available because of these bills.

But the college trained professionals constitute only a part of the national dividends that will accrue from this measure. Equally important are the technicians and skilled workers who will be produced by the training in schools below college level—on-the-job and on-the-farm training. These types of training, which will be pursued by almost half of the persons expected to seek training under the Cold War GI Bill, are more important than ever before.

Death On The Highways!

The grim fact which faces this nation, this state, and this county each year is the traffic death toll. It took on a little brighter look when 1960 came to a close.

Here in Hall County, only two persons were killed in rural traffic accidents in 1960 as compared to five persons killed in 1959. Another excellent record was set in the county during Operation Death-Watch which came to a close at midnight Dec. 31. No rural accidents occurred during the holiday season in Hall County.

For the month of December, one rural accident was reported with two persons injured and a property damage of $125 incurred.

A look at Hall County's rural traffic record for the entire year showed there were 42 accidents accounting for two persons killed, 22 injured and a property damage of $27,989.00.

In comparison, in 1959 there were 43 accidents accounting for five persons killed, 31 injured and a property damage of $27,470. Although the figures show an improvement in 1960, the situation is still far from being satisfactory. The highway patrolmen and county and city officers will continue their vigilance to try and prevent traffic accidents, however, it is primarily the job of each and every person who drives an automobile to see that traffic laws are obeyed, and driving courtesies are practiced.

How does Hall County compare with the other counties in the 5-B District of the Texas Department of Public Safety? Statistics show that in 1960 the county was below average in the number of traffic accidents in the 31-county district.

None of the 31 counties went through the year without a rural traffic accident of some kind. However, five counties were able to survive the year without a fatal accident.

The average for the district includes 2.6 fatal accidents, 20 personal injury accidents, 37 property damage accidents, 60 accidents per county, 3 deaths per county, 33 persons injured per county, and property damage at $41,054.32. As these figures show, Hall County is considerably better than the average.

The Texas Department of Public Safety closed its Operation Death-Watch period of ten days at midnight January 1, 1961 with 83 traffic deaths as compared to 97 during the holidays the year before. With late deaths of those critically injured the figure is expected to come close to the predicted 90 motoricides," stated Highway Patrol Sergeant D. R. Dowdy.

Figures and statistics in themselves do not tell the full story of traffic accidents. It never tells of the broken homes, the persons who will be crippled for life, the children who might have grown up to be this nation's leaders.

The traffic problem is a serious one. One which we need to think of daily; one which only the citizens can solve; and one which will always be with us. Remember, drive as safely as you can, allow for the necessary time you need to get to your destination, and then do everything in your power to get there. Don't pass on hills, don't pass more than one car at a time, and don't speed. And one of the best statements which has been given, "if you drive, don't drink, and if you have been drinking, don't drive."

Reds Pose Dangerous Threat

To Southeast Asia in Laos

When rightist forces friendly to the United States appear to be winning in Laos at the moment, there is no occasion for satisfaction with the course of events there. The Laotian is probably the most dangerous situation to confront the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization since it was founded following the French defeat in Indo-China. That disaster ended in extension of the Communist empire halfway down Indo-China with creation of the Red state of North Viet Nam.

Ever since, the new free countries of South Viet Nam and Laos have been under direct Communist threat, with Cambodia and Thailand also menaced.

Loas, a primitive country of only 3,000,000 inhabitants, might not seem so important. But Red conquest of Laos would mean not only one more free nation lost but also direct pressure on Thailand and Cambodia. It must not happen.

The State Department is giving complete support to the new regime battling the Communist forces, and has warned in effect that Soviet or Red Chinese intervention involves great danger. The Reds, for their part, are building a case for increased intervention — they already have flown in large guns as well as no doubt furnishing Viet Nam and probably Red Chinese troops in disguise — by charging American intervention.

If this situation is temporized with, Laos probably will be lost. Meanwhile, Americans can reflect lugubriously on the fact that Laos has received more American aid than any other country in proportion to population but, as in some other cases, this vast outlay of money seems to have done little good, if any.

Claims Vs. Facts

A news item in The New York Times reports a leading economist as saying that "claims of the Soviet Union that its economic system was more efficient than that of the United States could not be supported by the facts."

The economist is John M. Cassels, of the Rockefeller Office. If present growth rates are maintained, he said, Russia's per capita output will not equal ours for more than a century, which is a far cry from Khrushchev's contention that she will pass us by 1970.

Crackers and Soup

A midwestern governor made this confession:

"When I was a boy, my grandfather told me that if I was to be invited to nice places, I mustn't crumble crackers in my soup. So I didn't; but I never had soup without wanting to—bad.

"Then came a time when President Roosevelt had me to lunch at the White House and there was the soup, and there were the crackers, which I ate one by one as my grandfather would have wished. Suddenly there came a sound that froze me—the sound of crumbling crackers, splashing lightly into soup. From the corner of my eye, I saw the President of the United States, scion of the bluest blood in America, crackling crackers into his soup with aristocratic assurance.

"I dropped whatever conservation I was making, seized my crackers with both hands, snowed them into my soup, and cursed my dear grandfather for 50 wasted years."

Growth Unlimited

... AND "LAYS MONEY ON THE LINE" TO BACK UP THE BELIEF

Why is our faith backed by dollars? Very simply, it is because the Southwest is growing 25% faster than the nation, and the WTU service area is the CENTER OF THE SOUTHWEST. As a result, one of our major projects is designed to stimulate this growth, and another is designed to add service facilities to meet it. These projects are described briefly below. We will keep you informed of their progress as we go along, since they are of vital importance to this community. It is our conviction that with faith, vision and cooperative effort on the part of all of us, the Center of the Southwest has a sound foundation for GROWTH UNLIMITED in the years ahead.

OUR AREA DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM PROMOTES Growth Unlimited

For many years we have been engaged in a program designed to inform business executives about the industrial advantages of the Center of the Southwest. This activity is being continued in 1961 with an expanded area development program. It includes a new series of ads running in a number of national publications, which depict the growth potential of this area and the states it serves. The national advertising schedule, the information brochures we are publishing, the trips we will make to industrial centers, and the fine cooperative spirit of communities like this one, all combine to promote GROWTH UNLIMITED.

$50 MILLION EXPANSION PREPARES FOR Growth Unlimited

On the shores of Oak Creek Lake in Cooke County, construction is progressing rapidly on a large new WTU generating station. It is tangible evidence of the expansion being made in our generating and distribution facilities, in anticipation of coming growth in the Center of the Southwest. An area expansion program, costing in excess of $10 million, is well under way, and will continue through the months ahead. It will permit us to keep pace with the growing needs of this growing area. It is proof that here is GROWTH UNLIMITED.

The mathematics of finance will meet on Thursday nights for each week for the Spring semester for three hours of credit, and should appeal to business people throughout the area covering such topics as interest, taxes, annuities, amortizations, stocks, bonds, insurance, and various types of discount such as bank discount, straight discount, and general discounts.

The oil painting course will be under the direction of Miss Ruth Richerson; will meet three hours one night each week during the second semester, and an application has been forwarded to the Education Agency to approve college accreditation for this course.

Rev. W. R. Lawrence will direct the Bible instruction for the next semester, and any individual who has not taken Rev. Lawrence's survey of the Old Testament course should not put it off any longer, Dean Abel said.

The initial enrollment is Jan. 30. Feb. 6 will be the alternate enrollment date with Feb. 13 dead-

All of the night school courses with the exception of oil painting are presently approved for college credit, however, many of the night school adult students are pursuing the courses for cultural personal improvement and promotional purposes.

Inauguration
Friday, January 20th, at 12 noon a ceremony will take place in the rotunda of the Capitol Building of the United States. This ceremony is the inauguration of John F. Kennedy as President of the United States of America and Lyndon B. Johnson as Vice President of the United States of America. It will be the 43rd ceremony of its kind in the history of the United States. This ceremony will be a few short seconds of responsibility that has been equalled in the history of the United States. The cloak of responsibility that has been equalled in the history of the United States will be draped around the neck of the youngest man to be inaugurated as President of the United States. The President will be sworn in to office for the Constitutional term of four years. When this is done, the Vice President of the United States will take the oath and stand close ranks behind him and be sworn in to the same office. The next four years will undoubtedly see a great divergence of opinion throughout this country on many domestic issues. It also see a divergence of opinion on matters concerning foreign policy. But, whatever the personal feelings of any American we must never allow ourselves to be so split as to jeopardize the welfare and the best interests of this country in meeting challenges from foreign sources. This event will be heralded throughout the free world and watched with great interest in the Communist areas. It will mark the beginning of a new regime under the greatest government ever conceived by the mind of man. It will be watched by the free world because of their desire to continue to look to this country for leadership. It will be viewed with great interest by the Communists in all parts of the world with the hope of possibly detecting some weakness which can be exploited. People from all over the nation will come and for several days before and after the short ceremony which will make Private Citizen Eisenhower out of President Eisenhower, and President Kennedy out of Senator Kennedy, there will be many celebrations and ceremonies and the Nation's Capital will be crowded to overflowing. Already, the tickets to all of the ceremonies have been exhausted, hotel rooms have been sold out for months for a radius of fifty miles around Washington; the transportation facilities both within the city and moving in and out of the city will be sorely taxed to meet the demands. The Inaugural Ceremony itself will be viewed by thousands. But many more thousands who would like to view will be disappointed. There will just simply not be enough room to accommodate all of those who would like to attend. One of the reasons for this is the fact that this ceremony is held at the East Front of the Capitol. The site of the Capitol was chosen by George Washington. It was determined at that time that the Capitol should face the confluence of the Potomac and Anacostia Rivers. Across from the East Front of the Capitol is the Library of Congress and the Supreme Court Building. The East Front is flanked by the House Office Buildings and the Senate Office Buildings. Although there is a large space within the confines of these buildings, it would be difficult, if not impossible, to view that place where the President will be sworn except from a limited area. It has been my feeling that if the ceremonies were held on the west side of the Capitol, which is that portion of the Capitol viewed from downtown Washington and the side of the Capitol on which the White House is located, many more people could be accommodated. For instance, there is a Mall extending from the Capitol Building itself for many blocks to the Washington Monument and on to the Lincoln Memorial. The west side of the Capitol is by far the most beautiful side and many, many people have thought that it was the front of the Capitol because of its imposing beauty. The Inaugural Ceremony, if held on that side of the Capitol, could be so arranged that thousands more people could witness it in person.

Some people ask why the front of the Capitol was so arranged that it faces away from the city of Washington proper and the White House. There are several stories in answer to this query, but the one that has appeared to me to be most plausible is the following. It seems that at the time it was determined to face the Capitol toward the confluence of the Potomac and Anacostia Rivers, some land grabbers who had inside information immediately moved in and bought up all of the land between the river fronts and the Capitol Building and boosted the price so high that it was almost prohibitive. In retaliation, the people moved into the area between the back of the Capitol and the White House, much of which was semi-swampland. This was filled and made usable. It is in this area that the business district of the city of Washington is presently located, as well as many government buildings, including the Smithsonian Institution, Treasury, Department of Justice, The Archives, Labor Department, Department of Commerce, Post Office Department, etc. In any event, I do hope that any of you who visit Washington will not fail to view Washington from the west side of the Capitol, preferably inside of the building. Looking down the Mall to the Washington and Lincoln memorials, you will view one of the most beautiful scenes in your experience.

Local Cagers To Begin District Play Friday

The Memphis Cyclone and Cyclonette basketball teams will begin district conference play Friday night at Canadian.

Coach Bob Martin stated that the district basketball conference will be about the same as the district football conference. Any of the teams have a chance at the title.

However, at this time, indications are that Clarendon and Canadian hold a slight edge. It is indicated that no team will be able to go through district without a defeat.

The Memphis boys will enter district with an eight win, eight loss record so far this season. Coach Martin said, the squad has won eight out of the last 13 basketball games with their win over Paducah last Friday night, 55-47.

The Cyclone took an early lead in the game and held it. The Paducah girls were victorious over the local girls, 61-41.

For the season, Memphis boys have averaged 53 points per game to their opponents' 42. Ronald Ables has led in scoring with a 10.7 point per game average, and Jackie Bridges is second with a 9.5 average. Don Gailey has scored 120 points in 16 games, and Perry Wright has tallied 99 points. Total points for the local boys are 848 in 16 games.

The Memphis girls team will enter district play with a 12 loss, four win record. The girls have been averaging 37 points per game while their opponents have been hitting 48 points. Sondra Stargel has been leading in scoring for the girls, with Carleen Harrison and Jo Ann Widener also in the upper scoring figures.

Linda Saye and Toni Davis, along with several other players, have been doing a good job guarding their opponents' offensive trio in many of the season's games.

Next Tuesday night the local cager squad will host the two teams from McLean for their first district play.

The district basketball championships will be decided in two-game per team matches, one game on each of the two teams' home courts.

Memphis will be host to McLean and Lefors in the first half of play, and to Canadian and Clarendon in the second half.

games as he can. He will also look after his farming interests, and "take life a little easier."

Hubert Jones went to work for Waples-Platter Co. early in his life and has served as janitor, warehouse worker, truck driver, office manager, salesman, and now manager.

He married the former Katherine Baker and they have two children, "Hoot" and Cathy.

Hugh Lee, sales manager of this territory, at Lubbock, has added to Hubert's territory several other towns including Pampa, Lefors, Claude and Wheeler.

The Memphis House now is responsible for distribution of the Company's merchandise starting at Claude on the Denver Railway, all the way to and including Wichita Falls, west to Silverton, then Spur, Paducah, and across to Frederick, Altus, Granite, Mangum and Sayre, Okla.

Employees are: Hubert, R. E. Crooks, "Johnny" McClure, Edgar Daugherty, James Colson, Ken Bevers, Bobby Joe Sperry, Jerry Lemons, L. L. Mason, Mrs. Billy Ray Jones, Oattie Jones and salesman, Spencer Pressley of Lefors.

Mr. Gamel has assured Oattie Jones that his plans are to maintain the Memphis House, and this is something in view of the large consolidations going on in the food industry. Memphis is one of the few Houses they now operate.

Firemen Answer Two Alarms Wed.

The two Memphis fire trucks were kept busy last night fighting trash fires around the Memphis Farmers Co-Op Gin and the Farmers Union Co-Op Gin at Plaska.

The Big Mack truck was on its way to a fire in Quail when the call came in that 2,000 gallons of LPG was in danger near the Plaska gin.

The Memphis truck was in Hedley, and turned around to answer the Plaska call. Fires in both Memphis and Plaska proved to be burning gas and trash. Firemen were able to extinguish the blazes before any damage resulted.

Ben Parks Is Guest Speaker At Meeting Of Estelline FFA

The Estelline FFA chapter held their regular meeting Monday, Jan. 16.

After the opening ceremony and short business session, Ben Parks, vice president of the First National Bank in Memphis, was the guest speaker. He gave a very thorough discussion on the procedure a boy would use to borrow money for a project. He also told the chapter members some of his experiences as a member in the FFA. He asked for direct questions from the boys, and then answered them satisfactorily. Mr. Parks invited all the boys to come to his bank and discuss their personal business problems with him, or, if they had no business problems, just to drop in and visit with him any time.

The boys invited the speaker to return and visit them at any time. Then they conducted their closing ceremony.

Twenty-four members of the chapter were present.

Prairie, and daughter, Mrs. Ruth Womack of Houston, were at her bedside for the operation. Also present was Carl Wood.

Her condition was still critical late yesterday, according to Mr. Wood, who arrived in Memphis early this morning from San Antonio.

The Blood in New

IT'S HERE. Like we told you last week, we are proud to announce the arrival of our first shipment of FRANKOMA Pottery Dinnerware. It's oven-proof, it's beautiful and it's reasonably priced. Come see it.

We should have thrown out our chest and boasted just after the Rose Parade. FTD's float entry, "Hearts and Flowers," won the President's Trophy. This is the seventh year FTD has entered a float and the seventh year FTD has won a major prize. Seems only natural though that a Florists Association should be able to come up with an outstanding presentation in this great floral spectacular. The designer was one of our members, Walter W. Garbett, of Pasadena.

What kind of new State taxes do you want us to use to raise the 225 million dollars for the next two years? Here are the six proposals most likely to be considered: Payroll tax, Broad Selective Sales tax, Manufacturers tax, Gas Gathering tax, State Income tax and General Sales tax. If you want a brief, unbiased run-down on each of these, come by and I'll give it to you.

The first year I'm exempt from payment of Poll tax, they'll probably abolish it. But I paid mine this year because we're going to elect a U. S. Senator, School and City officials and I've even heard comments about a certain type of election that was held in Precinct 2 of Lubbock County last year.

Recently a Jr. High teacher asked for a definition of the word "boutonniere." A cute little teenage girl arose and said, "It's the CARNATION you give your date when he brings you a corsage."

One of our common failings is the fact that so many times when someone has an idea that would be real good for our community, people will say, "That's a mighty good idea" and then nobody will do anything about it. A shining example of this is the idea of a Community Chest or United Fund or whatever you want to call it—let's get our heads together and have one drive to end all the other drives and solicitations of money in our community.

We had two distinctly pleasant experiences this week. One was the honor of pinning a red carnation boutonniere on three of the "founding fathers" of the Memphis Rotary Club, who, incidentally, are still very active in their club and in our community. The other was a visit to our greenhouse and shop by a group of Girl Scouts. You all are always welcome and we will always try to make your visits interesting and pleasant.

Farm Facts

Agriculture is big business. It is one of the nation's biggest businesses. Farm investment in the U.S. exceeds $200 billion and it has been climbing steadily over the years.

The Agricultural Marketing Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture points out that total assets of agriculture—value of land and buildings, machinery and motor vehicles, crop and livestock inventories, and financial assets—increased from $53 billion on January 1, 1940, to more than $208 billion on January 1, 1960. This was almost a fourfold increase.

Approximately 30 per cent of the increase in total farm assets resulted from investment by farmers in the various types of farm capital assets, in excess of depreciation or depletion. The remaining 70 per cent represented capital gains to the owners.

The aggregate increase in value of farm assets from 1940 through 1959, net of farm investment, was $109.6 billion, or an average of $5.5 billion each year. Higher val-
