City Council Approves Budget Of $91,080.88 for Coming Year

Estimate Receipts At $95,429.53

The Memphis City Council Tuesday night adopted a budget of $91,080.88 for the fiscal year beginning Oct. 1, 1961, according to City Secretary A. L. Gailey.

Estimated receipts for the coming fiscal year are $95,429.53. Of this amount $61,079.32 is expected to come from ad valorem taxes, $9,943.03 from gross receipts taxes, $2,824.52 from swimming pool, $2,497.50 from cemetery charges, $15,933.75 from sewer charges, $1,528.95 from fines, etc., and $1,622.46 from miscellaneous receipts.

Expenditures for the coming year are estimated at $91,080.88, leaving a proposed surplus of $4,348.65. At the same time the budget was adopted, the council provided that $3,000 of the estimated surplus, if it materializes, be set aside in a reserve fund for a sewage disposal plant.

It was brought at the meeting that the present plant has for several years been considered obsolete and inadequate after inspection by the State Department of Health and that sometime in the future it would be necessary to alleviate this condition. Council members felt that it would be proper to begin now to build a fund for that purpose.

Estimated expenditures by departments are as follows: street $15,836, police $13,825, fire $13,858, health and sanitation $6,970, Carnegie Library and park $2,078, city park $2,050, cemetery $4,420, swimming pool $5,787, general administrative expenses $14,795, interest and sinking fund requirements $11,461.99.

Bonds and Warrants
At present the city has three bond issues and one time warrant outstanding. Included in this are: bonds to purchase the airport, the 1953 park series (swimming pool), the 1953 street series, and warrants for street improvement.

The municipal airport series has $3,750 outstanding with interest due this fiscal year of $93.75 and $750 payment to the sinking fund making a total of $843.75. This bond issue will be paid in full in July of 1966.

The street improvement warrants have $18,600 outstanding with $930.00 due in interest and $2,850 for sinking fund payment for welfare work.

Rains Damage Some Crops Monday, Tues.

Rains Monday night and Tuesday morning left some Hall County fields with extensive damage, but the county as a whole came out of the rain series in good condition, according to reports from various areas.

Here in Memphis a total of 1.87 inches of moisture was recorded by J. J. McMickin, official weather observer. About two inches was reported at Brice. Cropland in the Deep Lake area were washed badly, which will necessitate replanting. It was reported that crops were hailed out in the Antelope Flat community.

The damage was, in most cases, confined to spotted areas and did not follow any general pattern.

Rainfall amounts declined just south of Memphis, with Estelline reporting approximately one inch. Some hail accompanied the rain here in Memphis, but very little damage has been reported.

Rainfall in the Turkey area has been reported as only a shower.

Temperatures during the past week have been pleasant with the highest, 91, being recorded Monday. The low temperature has varied from 62 degrees Tuesday and Wednesday mornings to 75 last Saturday morning.

Hall County Soil Conservation District News

This year is an excellent time to plant a soil improving crop in the Hall County Soil Conservation District, says Charley B. Cape of the Soil Conservation Service.

Soil improving crops can be planted on land that is placed in the new Feed-Grain Program. One good soil building crop is Guar. Guar is a good soil conditioner and can be planted about this time of year. It is adapted to a wide range of soils. It grows best on sandy loams and the lighter soils. One advantage of guar is that it does not "yellow out."

Guar is planted with regular planting equipment. Guar should be planted from 1 to 2 inches deep and at the rate of 5 to 6 pounds per acre. For best results the guar seed should be inoculated with a special nitrogen fixing bacteria before planting.

Some advantages of guar are: Puts residues and nitrogen into your soils for new life; Greatly increases the water intake of the soil and the water holding capacity; Gives you increased yields on the crops that follow guar; Guar reduces the effect of rootrot and insect damage on cotton and last of all guar is drought resistant and thrives in hot weather.

Other soil building and soil improving crops can be planted on Feed Grain land which includes several different varieties of peas and rye.

So this would be a good year to improve land that needs a soil building and soil improving crop. For more information about these crops contact your local Soil Conservation Service personnel at the courthouse in Memphis.

Check Health of Replacement Gilts Before Buying

Be cautious when buying gilts for this spring's pig crop, Dr. C. M. Patterson, Texas Extension Veterinarian, warns that the disease record of the herd should be studied very carefully before buying. Test gilts for leptospirosis and brucellosis. Be careful to avoid bringing chronic pneumonia into the herd. Control parasites promptly. Vaccinate gilts for erysipelas and cholera. Check for symptoms of atrophic rhinitis.

Texas Department Of Public Safety

(Editor's Note: Following is the first of a series of articles appearing in The Memphis Democrat detailing the evolution and organization of the Texas Department of Public Safety and the numerous vital services this agency provides for the people of Texas.)

The DPS Story — 25 Years Of Service and Protection

The Texas Department of Public Safety on August 10, 1960, rounded out a quarter-century of service and protection for the people of Texas in an era of trial and transition during which the present-day concept of law enforcement evolved.

Since its inception over 25 years ago, the department has become recognized as one of the most respected organizations of its kind in the nation.

The department was created by the legislature on August 10, 1935, at a time when it was realized that the state's part in crime prevention and traffic control was inadequate and improperly organized.

A meager Highway Patrol at that time was under the jurisdiction of the State Highway Department, and the only existing state police force for criminal activity was the Texas Rangers, then under the supervision of the Adjutant General.

These two formed the nucleus of the department as it exists today, although it has been given many and varied duties and responsibilities since then.

The history of law enforcement in Texas is, in a sense, the history of Texas itself. It began in 1823, when Stephen F. Austin, having received permission to colonize the territory, realized that he would have to provide some form of protection for his colonists. He hired 10 men, and because they were required to range over a wide region to scout for marauding Indians they became known as Rangers. These were the forerunners of the Texas Rangers, whose tradition as fearless and competent lawmen has been carried forward into modern-day Texiana.

In 1927, the legislature, because of the increasing truck traffic problem resulting in actual and potential damage to highways and bridges and endangering the public safety, authorized the Texas Highway Department to employ 18 license and weight inspectors and one chief inspector to enforce existing regulations.

The principal reasons for the increase in truck traffic during 1927 and immediately prior to 1927 were the transportation of baled cotton from Central and North Texas to Houston for export, and the discovery of oil in the Burkburnett area.

The increasing use of motor trucks, many of them home-made and makeshift contraptions, with inadequate brakes, steering mechanisms and tires for the loads they were carrying, created a serious menace to the safety of the travelling public.

The highway system, although satisfactory for normal passenger car traffic of the time, was not conducive to safety when these cumbersome affairs called trucks were operated over narrow, hog-backed highways at 40 to 50 miles per hour. And many of these operators took their half out of the middle of these roads in order to keep their loads level.

Two years later, the legislature authorized the expansion of this group to 50 men, to be known as the State Highway Patrol, and to be charged with the duty of enforcing all laws relating to vehicles and their use on the public highways. This force was increased to 120 in 1931.

The law creating the Texas Department of Public Safety vested in the agency "the enforcement of the laws protecting the public safety and providing for the prevention and detection of crime."

The law provided that the department be composed of three divisions: The Texas Rangers, the Texas Highway Patrol, and the Headquarters Division. The Rangers were transferred from the Adjutant General's office, and the Patrol was transferred from the Highway Department to the new Department of Public Safety.

The control of the department is vested in a Public Safety Commission of three members, each of whom serves a six-year term with one member's term expiring each two years. Commission members are appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate. The commission names the director and the assistant director.

On September 1, 1957, the legislature authorized a major reorganization plan proposed by the Texas Research League after an exhaustive study. Under this plan, the Department of Public Safety decentralized its work loads and brought its personnel closer to the people.

This was done by creating six regional commands, each headed by a senior officer with the rank of major, who was placed in charge of the Highway Patrol, the License and Weight program, the Motor Vehicle Inspection program, Driver license examinations, Communications and the Safety Education Service in his region. Each regional headquarters maintains a limited crime laboratory.

The Texas Rangers are assigned to six companies with the same boundaries as the regional commands, each headed by a Captain directly responsible to the director of the department. The Narcotics Section and Intelligence Section, each headed by an agent-in-charge are part of the Director's Staff, operating statewide out of the Austin headquarters.

The supporting headquarters divisions, sections and bureaus all were consolidated into four major divisions — the Identification and Criminal Records Division, the Personnel and Staff Services Division, the Driver and Vehicle Records Division, and the Inspection and Planning Division.

The responsibilities of the department fall into three general categories:

1. General crime suppression and control.
2. Motor vehicle highway transportation management.
3. Disaster and emergency activities.

To meet these responsibilities and the problems they present, the department has the following specific programs: (1) crime control, (2) police traffic supervision, (3) driver licensing, (4) vehicle inspection, (5) safety responsibility, (6) accident records, (7) safety education, (8) disaster and emergency service, and (9) police training.

Try Cottonseed Hulls For Bloat Preventative

Cottonseed hulls help prevent bloat caused by grazing young legume pastures. It is good management to fill animals on dry roughage before starting legume grazing and to feed at least small amounts of dry roughage as long as the legumes are soft and fast growing. Five to fifteen per cent cottonseed meal may be easily mixed with cottonseed hulls to insure adequate consumption of the hulls on lush pasture.

J. W. Coppedge Attends REA Board Meeting

J. W. Coppedge, manager of the local Electric Co-Op, was in San Antonio on Thursday and Friday of last week to attend a state board meeting of the Texas Electric Co-Operative, Inc.

Mr. Coppedge is a member of the board, representing Group 5 of the Texas Association which includes an area from Perryton to Slaton and from Childress to Dalhart. Plans for the annual state meeting which will be held in San Antonio later in the summer were made at the board meeting. Accompanying Mr. Coppedge to San Antonio was Heiner Ludemann and Larry Parks. En route home, the group came by way of Austin in order for Ludemann to see the Capitol city before returning to his home in Germany later this month.

Since World War II, the U. S. has added 163,000 miles of new highways but in the same period automobile manufacturers have turned out 264,000 miles of motor vehicles, bumper to bumper.

Strikes and the Missile Program

Hence, in the lit- sense of the word, a strike case is a strike against the ver rather than the govern- This revelation will no doubt many, and it would be most if it were not for other of the law, to-wit: the Management Relations Act 1947 (the Taft-Hartley Act). this Act, provision is made the President of the United to initiate proceedings to a strike or lockout. This under the Taft-Hartley Act, no doubt, have been exer- by the President of the States in the recent con- concerning the missile had the matter not been forthwith.

this power of the President is un-constitutional and whether or not the Taft-Hartley Act was intended to apply only to an industry-wide strike or a strike involving a substantial portion of the operations of an industry, speaking numerically or percentage-wise. At the present time, these two matters have been settled by a decision of a New York Federal Court where- in these two questions and others were at issue. In that case, the industry in question was the Atomic Energy Commission and involved the Latin American Locomotive Company under contract with the Atomic Energy Commission for the production of certain items used in the atomic program. The decision was written by Chief Judge Knight of the United States District Court for the Western District of New York, and an application for a Writ of Certiorari to the United States Supreme Court was denied. This simply means that the Supreme Court was not at issue with the findings in the case and, hence, refused to re- view it. In the decision, Judge Knight made several statements which would be good to remember. In one instance, he said, "The strike in effect is a strike against the government." In another instance, he stated as follows: "This is far from an ordinary controversy. It seems unthinkable that a strike in a plant producing for the government items now virtually necessary to the defense of this country and the security of its people, should be permitted to continue."

The missile program, the outer space program, the atomic energy program and other programs of this nature that are being primarily financed by the Federal government in order to insure the best interests, the safety and the welfare of this country, can and should be worked and developed in full cooperation and conjunction with the basic concepts of our free enterprise system. However, it would be good to note that abuses in the development of these programs by either labor or management or both would provide fuel for the fire of those who would like to see the government take over all operations completely and operate them directly. It would seem to be much better for both labor and management to use the utmost discretion in their operations concerning these activities, to the end that neither jeopardizes the free enterprise system.

Corona, Stephens To Play in Annual Greenbelt Bowl

Two Estelline boys, Jerry Stephens and Paul Corona, have been selected to play on the West team for the annual Greenbelt Bowl Game.

The event will be held in Childress on August 12.

All but seven of 19,570 U. S. dollar coins minted in 1804 were lost at sea. Today the existing coins are valued at several thousand dollars.

The attack aircraft carrier USS Franklin D. Roosevelt is longer than three football fields placed end-to-end.

Laff Of The Week

"If you'll shut your big mouth for a few minutes, Mac—I'll tell you why I was fired from my last three jobs."

Wild Animals Not For Pets

Warnings that individuals who catch young wildlife for pets or harm protected birds will be prosecuted, have been issued by the law enforcement division of the Game and Fish Commission.

We get complaints every day that persons have been picking up young of the wild, particularly fawns, says J. B. Phillips, assistant director. "This is strictly against the law and wardens have been instructed to make arrests and file cases."

Every day complaints come in that fawns have been picked up, some of them when the mother deer is close by. He pointed out that the wild animal usually takes care of itself much better if left alone. Permits are required for raising wildlife in captivity and the permit must be held before the animal is captured.

At the same time, complaints also are being filed against persons catching protected birds or destroying nests. Among them were several filed in Austin against persons who invaded a swallow rookery on the Highland Lakes with air rifles and sling shots.

Baby birds are used to bait trot lines. If the bird is a protected species complaints are filed and the guilty person usually is given a stiff fine.

Numerous arrests have resulted from pictures appearing in newspapers of persons displaying a baby animal. This is strong evidence which stands up in court when cases are filed.

There were 74,417,000 telephones in the U. S. served by the independent and Bell telephones at the end of 1960.

Value of Fertilizer Shown in Cotton Demonstrations

The Cotton Fertilizer Result Demonstration conducted on the Holland and Eddleman farm one mile southeast of Estelline on Highway 287, really opened the eyes of many farmers, bankers, and agencies on the value of fertilizer in growing cotton on very fine, sandy loam soil, W. H. Hooser, county agent, said.

Lankart 57 was the cotton variety used in this test at the rate of 10 pounds of seed per acre. The test plot was planted June 15 and harvested October 26 and November 23.

The plot size and test layouts were six rows wide and fertilizer was applied to the entire length of the field. Cotton has been grown on this plot for fifteen years. The total rainfall received this year was 38 inches, Hooser said.

The soil was tested at College Station. The organic matter was very low; nitrogen was very low; phosphorous was very high; and potassium was very high. The soil chemist recommended 20-0-0. The results of the test are as follows:

Treatment	Lint Yields
NPK	Lbs. per acre
0-0-0	306
18-0-0	396
24-0-0	439
20-0-0	475
40-0-0	439

The yields were determined by hand harvesting and the demonstration area was uniform. The yield of the 20-25-0 treatment indicates a deficiency in phosphorus. The 40-0-0 treatment yielded no more than the 24-0-0 indicating that 40 pounds of Nitrogen is more than enough to correct the Nitrogen deficiency of this soil.

Since Nitrogen was included in all the fertilizer treatments, all were profitable. Nitrogen applied alone at 24 pounds per acre gave the highest returns per dollar invested. Side-dressing with Nitrogen at the four-leaf stage was effective on many farms in Hall County in 1960. Adequate moisture will continue to be the key to profitable fertilizer response. Favorable moisture and otherwise good seasons for the past two years has resulted in profitable fertilizer use, Hooser stated.

The two most profitable treatments for the demonstration on the Holland and Eddleman soil fertility result test are as follows: Most Profitable Treatment, 20-25-0; Increased Profit Per Acre, $32.15; Second Most Profitable Per Acre, 24-0-0; Increased Profit Per Acre, $32.84.

Profit per acre is value of increased yields less fertilizer cost, application cost and additional harvesting cost.

According to Hooser, "As a result of this and other tests in Hall County, many farmers have tested their soil and added fertilizer in 1961."

On March 17, 1880 the USS Constellation left New York with a cargo of food for famine sufferers in Ireland.

Ninety per cent of the independent telephones are now dial operated.

The Fair APPAREL FOR MEN AND WOMEN

Around and About

By HELEN COMBS

Weather-wise, fate has smiled upon us... so far we have missed the damaging hails and floods that have swept over many points in the Panhandle the past 10 days.

It was exactly a year ago the county suffered heavy food damage. We were reminded of this fact when Minister Cecil Hadaway of the Church of Christ remarked that he and his family spent Monday night in Lubbock... not quite trusting the clouds after their harrowing experience of last year. They were attempting to return home from Lubbock, exactly a year ago, when their car stalled in a dip just before they reached Red River bridge on Highway 256.

Ross and Ruby Lee Gentry had as weekend guests visitors from South America—Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Boyd and Cynthia and John. Mrs. Boyd is a former Memphis resident and has many friends here. They have been living in Maracaibo, Venezuela, for the past three and a half years where Mr. Boyd is employed as a geologist with Richmond Exploration Co.

Recently while the Kennedys were visiting in Canada, this notation with an Ottawa dateline caught my eye in a news story carried by a daily paper: "If Jacqueline Kennedy proves as popular in the rest of the world as she already is in Canada's capital, U. S. diplomacy can stop worrying. The Americans will easily outcharm the best the Soviets can do."

And it seems that our first lady, along with the support of her husband, Jack, has succeeded in doing just that in her European tour. In our humble and sincere opinion, the Queen of England, groomed for her station since childhood, is no more charming than our first lady. We were extremely proud of our President and his wife as they were filmed in Europe this week, and as they dined with the Queen of England. We were interested to learn that this is the first President of the United States to be entertained by the English royal family since Woodrow Wilson's day.

HALF-PAST TEEN

THE COMPUTER—He took a trip from coast to coast. But will you ever hear him boast of what he saw, or hear him speak of jeweled lake or mountain peak? Oh, no, my friend, for these were lost while he was counting up the cost. He'll show you, in his little book, the miles he drove, the gas it took!

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY: An ounce of keep-your-mouth-shut beats a ton of explanation!

Former Estelline Student Receives Honors In Colo.

Miss Gerry Elizabeth Kennedy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Kennedy of Broomfield Heights, Colorado, and formerly of Estelline, graduated from Louisville Colorado High School on May 26. As one of the honor graduates, she ranked fifth in the class of fifty-six.

On Thursday evening, May 18, she was a guest of the Boulder Valley Teachers Federation for an Awards Banquet. Eight graduating seniors in the Boulder Valley area, of which Miss Kennedy was one, were selected as outstanding and most promising graduates to enter the teaching profession. Each honoree received a twenty-five dollar bond and a five dollar bill. At the Awards Assembly in her high school, she received three outstanding student awards. These were in Latin II, American problems and bookkeeping. On the National Bookkeeping Tests, Gerry ranked the highest of any student who has graduated from Louisville High School.

During the two years since she moved from Estelline to Colorado, Gerry has been on the 90-100 honor roll each six weeks and has been exempt from all semester tests. She was on the paper and annual staff this year and was in the senior play.

She will enroll in Colorado University in Fort Collins in September.

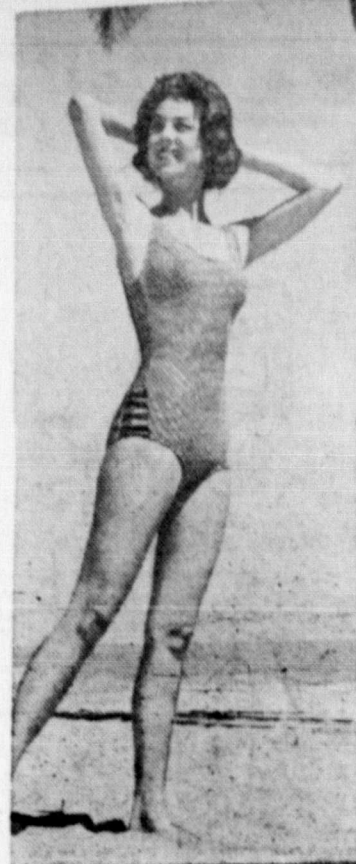

Sharon Duren Enters Amarillo Tech.

Miss Sharon Ann Duren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Duren, is attending Amarillo Technical College. She started classes on June 5.

Sharon is a graduate of Lakeview High School, and will study I. B. M. machines.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Hadaway and daughter, Gayle, and Betty Ann Young were in Lubbock Monday to attend the Youth Lecture-ship program at the Lubbock Christian College Monday.

General Telephone Company of the Southwest employed over 3,400 persons at the end of 1960.

BEACH SEEN... Carol Easter, who lives year-round at Miami Beach, Fla., is used to being a tourist attraction on the beach.

Former Memphians Invited To Attend Amarillo Picnic

Ex-Hall Countians are invited to attend a picnic at Thompson Park in Amarillo on Sunday, June 11. An annual event, the social will get underway at 4:30 p. m.

Former Memphians are asked to bring picnic baskets, their own drinks, paper plates, cups, etc. The meal will be served at 6 p. m. The event is planned in order that former Memphians in the Amarillo area may have a chance to get together for an evening of visiting, those making the announcement said.

Social Security Goes to 19,000 In Panhandle

By the end of 1960, there were 19,233 people in the Texas Panhandle receiving old-age, survivors and disability insurance benefits, according to Hal Geldon, manager of the Amarillo Social Security Office. The total benefits paid to these people for December, 1960, was $1,129,145.

This is an increase in the number of people receiving benefits by about 10 1/2 per cent over the same month in the previous year, Geldon said.

Nationally, almost 15 million people were receiving about a billion dollars a month in old-age, survivors, and disability insurance benefits at the close of 1960. Hall County people participate and share in this program along with the rest of the United States. In December, 1960, there were 732 persons in the county receiving monthly payments. These insurance benefits totaled $38,142 for the month.

For the entire state of Texas, old-age, survivors, and disability insurance payments at the end of December were being paid to 599,032 persons at the rate of $33,439,869 per month. Benefits totaling $397,481,000 were paid in Texas during 1960.

Planned Calving Has Advantages

"A short calving season has many advantages," says Frank Baker, Oklahoma State Livestock Specialist. It eliminates unprofitable summer calves. It takes less labor, fewer pastures, less fencing, and less equipment. The livestock specialist says that good managers plan two short calving periods. For spring calves, bulls are kept away from cows from August 1 to April 15. For fall calves, bulls are shut away from March 1 to December 15. Other advantages of this breeding system are: cows are easier to watch during calving; cows may be fed more economically and correctly; a sizeable calf crop may be marketed at better advantage; cow productivity is easier to compare accurately and accurate, timely records are guides to a more efficient culling program.

The telephone company is the only utility supplying its customers with all essential equipment and making repairs free of charge.

AMERICANA College Notebook Northwestern University

Northwestern University, Evanston, Illinois, was founded in 1851 as one of the pioneer independent institutions of higher learning in the rapidly developing heartland of America. Today, Northwestern serves not only mid-America, but the nation as well. On its campuses in suburban Evanston and metropolitan Chicago, it encompasses the four coordinate branches of education; in Evanston, a traditionally strong complex of undergraduate schools and a Graduate School that is rapidly expanding in scope and growing in recognition, and on the Chicago Campus, professional schools long acknowledged as being in the first rank, and the oldest and largest program of evening study in the greater Chicago community.

Study for the 6,000 undergraduate students at Northwestern centers around seven undergraduate schools in Evanston, integrated by a program of general education. The program allows students to pursue work in each of the following areas: reading, writing, and speaking; natural science; social science; fine arts; literature, and music; history, philosophy and religion.

The seven undergraduate schools are: The School of Business; The School of Education; The Medill School of Journalism; The College of Liberal Arts; The School of Music; The School of Speech; The Technological Institute.

The Medill School of Journalism of Northwestern University has long enjoyed a world-wide reputation for superior professional education. The faculty is composed of seasoned newspapermen, magazine writers, editors and broadcasters. Graduate students may do internship at Chicago's City News Bureau, nationally known as one of the best training grounds for metropolitan reporters. Since its founding in 1921, more than 2,900 students from every state and many foreign countries have been graduated from Medill.

The School of Music at Northwestern was one of the first degree-conferring schools of its kind in the country. Today it prepares students for a career as a performer, composer, conductor, critic, or teacher.

The world no longer has such a figure as "Doc" Martin, wearing a slouch hat and a shapeless blue serge suit with grease spots, with his buggy and his sleek, silky racing mare and an old clodhopper of a horse that was a disguised thoroughbred.

The approaching race was the talk of the town and there must have been close to 500 people at the track. It was almost 2 o'clock and only Traylor and his bay had put in their appearance. Then "Doc" rode up—only he was on that shaggy plowhorse that had been hitched to the buggy. There was a general laugh. It was well that the crowd laughed before the race for that uncouth creature made a runaway of it.

There was some haggling to the effect that the mare was supposed to have run but Martin declared, "The only stipulation was that my horse was to run—and he is my horse and he sure did run."

So he collected and departed—to "take" the sports in some other town.

Each Lodge presented the President a gift as a token of appreciation for their good work she and her officers are doing.

The program concluded with the group singing the Presidents theme song. There were 73 registered guests. Mrs. Ellen Golston, Quana, and Mrs. Estelle Barber were recognized as District Deputy Presidents and received special regalia. Also present were six Lodge Deputies and members from Lakeview, Clarendon, Shamrock, Wellington, Childress, Quana, Estelline and Memphis.

Rebekah Lodge Hosts to Districts 5 and 6; State Officers Attend

The Memphis Rebekah Lodge was host to Districts 5 and 6 on May 29th, at a meeting held in the local I. O. O. F. Hall. Noble Grand, Mona Robertson gave the call to order and presided during a brief business session and the introduction of distinguished guests.

The most honored guest was Mrs. Elfrida Schreiber of Galveston, the President of the Rebekah Assembly of Texas. Attending from Pampa were Mrs. Ellen Kretzmeier, Assembly Warden and Mr. Roy Kretzmeier, Past Grand Master of Texas. Also present were Grand Patriarch Monroe Pleasant and Mrs. Pleasant from San Antonio.

The highlight of the evening was the clever presentation of the President's program. The symbol and emblem are the "ship" and the "anchor". The slogan: "Let's sail on the good ship Rebekah." The theme: "Anchor our ships on the sea of fraternity." The objective is to build better ships using "Oddfellowship" as the Flagship. The Sistership is "Rebekah Oddfellowship"; followed by the fleet Friendship, Membership, Leadership, Stewardship, and (most important of all) Worship. Mrs. Schreiber also brought a message from Grand Master E. V. Riley.

Be Careful In Using Insect Poisons

The season to battle insects is here, and the accepted method is the use of poisons.

In a timely release, the Texas Health Department has mailed out several suggestions on how to handle the insect killers. The person using the poisons must be careful, since the lethal spray or dust can cause illness. Death can even result as is shown by reports each year.

It is entirely possible to avoid this not-to-unlikely contingency, however. All that is required is the ability to read the following recommendations and the wit to accept them at face value. They were compiled by the chemists who compound our most potent insecticides. Who should know better how they should be safely used?

1. Read the label carefully and make sure you understand it. The warnings are never exaggerated. Always keep the material in its original container, covered, and with the warning label attached.
2. Keep the pesticide away from children and pets. Never give a neighbor part of it in an unlabeled container. When you aren't using it, store the material on a high shelf or in a closet where it won't be exposed to excessive sun or cold. Never keep it around food or feed stuff.
3. Don't smoke while spraying, and wash your hands and face after you get through spraying or dusting the garden or flower bed. The transfer of insecticide residue from hands to mouth can be dangerous.
4. Be extremely careful not to spill the insecticide on your skin, and avoid breathing spray or dust. A damp handkerchief tied around your nose and mouth is a good safeguard.
5. When spraying around pet or livestock quarters, cover all food and water containers before starting the job. Guard against contaminating fish ponds.
6. When the last bit of insecticide has been used, dispose of the container so it poses no hazards to humans or animals.

Brainwashing Didn't Work After All

The Army recently came out with a report that the overwhelming majority of the soldiers taken prisoner during the Korean War did not succumb to the brainwashing techniques of the North Koreans.

Of the 7,158 Americans taken prisoner there were only 425 who are now suspected of any misbehavior. This is only 6 per cent, a much smaller number than originally suspected.

This, the report states, is despite the fact that 90 per cent of the prisoners were captured during the first 12 months and remained prisoners for three years. The opinion now is that they behaved as well as military men have acted in any war in which we have been engaged.

What Other Editors Say

A Government of Laws

A Supreme Court decision last week awarding back-pay from the U. S. Army to three American turncoat soldiers who had sold out to the Communists after being captured in Korea was, predictably, drawing plenty of criticism from loyal Americans.

Critics of the Court . . . particularly those of the "impeach Earl Warren" stripe . . . were quick to seize this decision as further evidence of Supreme Court treachery.

This charge, like many of its kind, won't stand up under close examination of the evidence, however.

Supreme Court justices, unanimous in their decision, were equally unanimous in expressing their contempt for the turncoats . . . but once more demonstrated that ours is a government of laws, not of men.

Under the law, every American soldier is entitled to his pay while a prisoner of war . . . unless or until he is dishonorably discharged from the service. It was this law which the Court upheld in its decision . . . not the conduct of the three deserters.

Dishonorable discharges for the three men in question were not ordered until in January 1954 . . . several months after they had publicly elected to stay with the Communists. The Defense Department might be justly criticized for having let them remain so long on the Army rolls . . . but the Supreme Court can hardly be blamed for ruling that they were entitled to their pay for as long as the Army kept them on its payroll.

The law that American soldiers who become prisoners of war are entitled to their regular pay even while they are in enemy hands was designed for the protection of the American soldier . . . and it's a good law. The fact that it was abused by three soldiers who were unworthy to wear the uniform of their country doesn't make the law a bad one, or justify our disregarding it.

Interesting Items

From London comes this news item: Decorator Adrian Gryzans was asked to design a fabulous bedroom for the favorite daughter of Emir of Kuwait. His suggestion: a glass floor beneath which is an aquarium containing 4,000 exotic fish. The walls will be covered with monkey hairs that are kept in constant gentle motion by the air-conditioning system . . .

From New York comes the idea of a yawning doll which can be made to yawn constantly at bedtime and psychologically will make a child sleepy, too . . .

And from New Castle, Pa., an inventor has come up with a clamp that will enable a woman to put on a bracelet without help. One end of the clamp holds the end of the bracelet in its jaws while you put the other end around your arm! . . .

From Lubbock . . . A wealthy Texan returning from a grand tour was asked by an artist friend if he had picked up a Van Gough or a Picasso. "Nah," he replied, "they're all left-handed drivers over there and besides, I already have three cars." . . .

Four-foot television screens and programs that will challenge the movies are forecast for less than a decade hence. They will be incorporated in the home by the builder. Giant draperies so that they may be exposed when the program is ready, just as curtains are drawn back in the theater . . .

From the front page of The Claude News comes this amusing Teacher's Lament . . . "Some people say a teacher is made of steel . . . Their minds can think, but their bodies can't feel . . . Iron and steel and Hickory tea: . . . Frown and gripes from nine till three . . . You teach eight full hours, and what do you get? . . . Another day older and deeper in debt . . . You pay your dues to this and that . . . Then for 29 days your billfold's flat . . . I was born one morning when it was cloudy and cool . . . Picked up my register and headed for school . . . I wrote 84 names on the home-room roll, and the Principal said, "Well, bless my soul," . . . You teach eight full hours and what do you get? . . . Cuts and bruises and dirt and sweat . . . I've got 84 kids and 43 seats . . . 61 talking while 23 sleep; . . . I can hardly get them all through the door . . . And if I don't watch out, they'll send me more . . . I taught eight full hours, my day is made, . . .

Adair-May Nuptials Read In California

A recent wedding in California of interest to friends here is that of Miss Lynne Adair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Adair and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jett Fore, Beverly Hills, Calif., to Robert May of Hollywood, Calif. The wedding was performed on April 7 at the Covenant Presbyterian Church with the Rev. Donald E. Roberts reading the wedding rites.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a chapel train gown of rose pattern chantilly lace over nylon net and taffeta, accented with a Sabrina neckline and finger tip sleeves. Her crown of seed pearls caught a shoulder length veil and she carried a bouquet of white stephanotis and feathered with carnations, centered with a white orchid.

Attending the bride were her sister, Miss Charlene Adair as maid of honor and Miss Barbara Chadwick and Miss Carolyn Meyers as bridesmaids. Their waltz length gowns of coral chiffon were complemented by bouquets of variegated carnations.

Petite Frances Johnston made a charming flower girl in her floor-length dress of coral nylon organdy. Miss Kathryn Browne attended the guest book.

Best man for the bridegroom was George Brownley. Ushers were Richard Stewart and Robert Heiser.

Soloist for the wedding was Mrs. Ellsworth Wilkin, who sang "Entreat Me Not to Leave Thee" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride is a graduate of Westchester High School and Santa Monica College and is currently employed at North American Aviation Company as a secretary. Mr. May was graduated from Jasack Valley High School, Hillsdale, N. J. and is employed at ABC television.

MINUTE MEDITATION

The church is not a band wagon on which to jump a ride, but it is a wheel to which we must put our shoulder and push.

The church is not a refrigerator to keep people cool, but it is a dynamo of power to charge the souls of men and women with the spirit of Christ.

The object of the church is not to tell men how to dodge their difficulties, but to furnish strength and courage to meet them.

The business of the church is not to furnish hammocks for the lazy, but jobs for the willing.

The church is not like a big league ball team where all the players are in top condition, but the church is more like a hospital where the sick are flocking to get well.

The church is not made of perfect people, but of people who are striving for perfection.

Lone Star Gas To Invest Over 9 Million in 1961

Lone Star Gas Company and its wholly-owned subsidiary, Lone Star Producing Company, plan to invest more than $9.3 million in the West Texas area during 1961 to maintain and strengthen natural gas service.

This expenditure is part of a record $33.6 million initial investment budget approved for Lone Star's service area during the year. The company now serves more than 857,000 residential, commercial and industrial natural gas customers in and around 462 cities, towns and communities in Texas and Southern Oklahoma.

Of the $9.3 million expenditure planned for West Texas, some $1.8 million will go for service lines, meters and regulators; extensions, fortifications and replacements of distribution mains; warehouse and office building improvements and numerous other service facilities.

This money will be applied in Lone Star's West Texas Region of Distribution consisting of some 100 towns and cities comprising the Abilene, Ballinger, Brownwood, Childress, Cisco, Colorado City, Eastland, San Angelo, Seymour, Snyder, Stamford, Sweetwater, Vernon and Wichita Falls districts.

About $4.5 million will be spent on extension and replacement of transmission and gathering pipelines; construction of and additions to gasoline plants, compressor stations and dehydration plants. An estimated $3 million of this money will be used on construction of a 52 mile 18 inch natural gas transmission pipeline, dehydration plant and compressor station in the West Texas area.

The new pipeline to run from Gordon to Springtown will increase capacity of Lone Star's transmission facilities by more than 100 million cubic feet of gas daily. The pipeline will link at Gordon to a 12 inch pipeline which terminates near the corner of Brown, Comanche and Eastland Counties. At Springtown it will link with a 48 mile 20 and 24 inch pipeline to Northwest Dallas County. Construction of the line is expected to begin soon.

Lone Star's president, L. T. Potted, said that the new pipeline demonstrates the company's confidence in the growth of energy demands in its present market areas, and confidence in West and West Central Texas gas producers.

New Provision Given By SS

Social Security benefits may now be paid to survivors of workers who died between March 31, 1938, and January 1, 1940, if the worker had at least a year and a half of social security work before he died, says Hal Geldon, Manager of the Amarillo Social Security Administration District Office.

Before the Social Security Amendments of 1960, no monthly benefits were payable to the survivors of a worker who died before 1940.

Under the new law, if such worker had worked under social security for at least a year and a half, benefits are payable to his widow and dependent mother at age 62, to his dependent father at age 65, and to his disabled children who were disabled before they became age 18. This is true even if the family had collected the "lump sum" at the time he died.

For further information regarding this new provision, write your social security office, 1006 Adams Street in Amarillo.

undertaken during Petry's first term of office are: Pecos River Bridge, Iron Bridge Reservoir Bridge, Corpus Christi Harbor Bridge, Aransas Pass Causeway, Lavaca Bay Causeway, and the Galveston Bay Causeway.

A Texas first in Petry's first term is the four-level interchange in Fort Worth. This major highway landmark was opened to traffic in 1958.

In 1956 the Federal Aid Highway Act concerning the Interstate Highway System was passed. The vast 3,033 Texas portion of the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways saw its initial contracts let shortly after passage of the new Act. Since the Act went into effect, 879 miles of the Interstate System have been completed in Texas, and 274 miles are under construction. Texas has consistently led every other state in both miles completed and miles under construction.

A total of 1,991 miles of multi-lane-divided highway has been added to the Texas Highway System during the past six years, increasing from 812 miles in 1855 to 2,803 miles now completed or under construction.

The building of multi-lane-divided highways has been largely necessitated by the increase in vehicles using Texas highways. A volume jump of 1.1 million in motor vehicle registration occurred from 1955 to 1960. Motor vehicle registrations increased from 3.8 million in 1955 to 4.9 million vehicles in Texas today — or a 28 per cent rise in vehicle population. These motor vehicle owners now drive 100 million miles per day in Texas.

During the past six years, 4,094 contracts have been executed on the total Texas Highway System. The total contract value amounts to $1.3 billion. The Department has received $396,603,202 from motor vehicle registration fees and $666,035,913 from the tax on gasoline during this time — a total of $1,035,639,115. The balance of available revenues came from federal aid and from appropriations of $15 million a year from the General Fund which is dedicated by law for construction of farm-to-market roads.

Petry was born in Carrizo Springs, Dimmit County. He attended the public schools of Car-

BUCKET SEATS ALONE DO NOT A MONZA MAKE

■ Gee! ■ Little did we know, when we introduced the Corvair Monza last year, that we were starting a Big Thing. We just thought it would be pleasant if you could buy a car that treats you, the driver, like you want to be treated. ■ The bucket seats, of course, are the most obvious evidence of our desire to please you. But they're not the most important thing. No sir. What's really vital is the way a Monza handles—something nobody in the U.S. has yet copied. Or can copy. Because Corvair is the only rear-engined car made in this country, and you know what that means: steering light as thistle-down. (You even park this one more easily, it steers so briskly.) Beautifully balanced braking—the car stays level even under panic braking, which we hope you'll never have to do. Traction and more traction, so you don't become a stick-in-the-mud. The kind of cornering that's sheer joy to experience. ■ You get more: a fully independent suspension that blots out road shocks before they can ruffle you. Clean, crisp styling. Thoroughgoing economy, from purchase price to operating cost. ■ You're not going to be satisfied with bucket seats alone, are you?

More Attend Giles Picnic Than In Past

Once more, the Giles Picnic is "tucked away." From New York City, Denver, Colo., San Fernando, Calif., New Haven, Conn., the four corners of Texas, and all the surrounding towns folks came to enjoy the annual gathering on the banks of Buck Creek. The fair weather, good food, lively music, and genial fellowship combined to make the 1961 picnic the best of the past five years, with over 800 attending.

Bob Ayers acted as master of ceremonies, and the combined musical talents of Richard Stotts, Walter Johnson, Allen Cope, the Gilliam brothers, with J. B. Yates, Ruby Glass, and Vee Knight taking turns at the piano kept feet shuffling and spirits high throughout the day and into the night.

The hymn singing, led by Malcolm Glass, was one of the program highlights. Special attention was given to the old-time cowboys with monologues for each one. Corsages and boutonnieres of red carnations were awarded the oldest gentleman present, S. S. Montgomery, the oldest lady and the ones who had come from the greatest distance.

Six hundred pounds of choice beef, raised by Roy Jewell of Hedley, was barbecued to perfection by Flip Breedlove of Clarendon, and served at noon along with 60 pounds of red beans, cakes, pies, and other goodies brought by the picnickers.

Not one arrest was made by Sheriff Walter Johnson of Giles, and Lowell Houston, mayor of Giles, declared a good time was had by all. In fact, Truett Berhns, sheriff of Donley County, said he'd never seen a nicer bunch of folks have more fun than those at the Giles Picnic.

Cotton Eppers, deputy of horse-shoe pitching, had a few players in the late afternoon, and there was dancing all during the day's festivities. Only about 500 registered with Mary Sue Stotts and Audrey Foster, but Flip Breedlove estimated the crowd to number about 800.

After a brief interlude of rest between 5 and 7 o'clock, about 150 people returned to the picnic grounds to dance until almost 11. Milton Beasley with his Memphis Eight, joined by a few couples from Wellington, square-danced until they tired. Then Mack Graham with his dance band played for round dancing.

The Bloomin' News

Next Monday may mark a milestone in the history of Hall County. That's the day for the regular meeting of the Commissioners. Many people are highly hopeful that the Commissioners will "do something" at this meeting which will get the County Hospital project moving.

The tomato planting season is just about over. We have lots of extra large plants that are just begging to be set out in your garden and if you come and get them between now and June 15th we'll let you have them for a nickel apiece, 50 cents a dozen or $3.00 per hundred.

All of you know that periwinkles are the finest hot weather blooming plants for this country. We have plenty of these plants and now is the best time to put them in your flower beds if you want a real pretty yard from now on till frost.

Many of you have asked about chrysanthemum plants for the yard. We have some extra nice ones in the peat moss pots which can be set out now. Most of these are the earlier varieties and will bloom before frost. We have all colors.

We again have African violets running out our ears so if you are interested in getting into this business of growing these, now is the time to do it, whether you want one or a dozen plants or a hundred plants. We have them at a real bargain in all sizes.

There will be another meeting of the proposed Hall County Committee for Good Government next Tuesday at 3:30 PM to survey and discuss the progress and further possibilities of this organization. The meeting will be held in the County Court room.

We still have quite an assortment of rose bushes, growing and blooming, that can be put in your yard and keep right on growing and blooming. We need the space for other crops so we would sure like for you to buy the rest of these.

Other Business
In other business which the Council discussed, O. I. Seale of Western Cottonoil Co. appeared and asked that the evaluation of the company property in Memphis be reduced since some of the buildings had been moved or torn down. This matter was referred to the tax committee, composed of Ben Parks, E. E. Roberts and Gayle Greene.

Hubert Dennis appeared before the Council, and asked that they investigate the drainage in some parts of town and see if something could be done to assist runoff of water after rains. This problem was referred to the street committee, composed of C. F. Srygley, Elmont Branigan and L. E. Hughes.

A letter from H. E. Craig, president of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce, was read, in which he asked that the Council investigate the possibility of paving the runways at the local airport. He stated that the airport was used a considerable amount and under the present conditions could not be used during weather. The matter was over to the airport committee composed of Gayle Greene, M. E. McNally, Jr.

The group then discussed a vacancy in the fire department and left the choice of a player to Ben Parks and E. E. Roberts, under whose name the department operates.

The Council also approved purchase of a small lawn for use at the City Hall, proved the payment of $250.

Completion of the 41st National System of Interstate Defense Highways will be estimated 4,000 lives a year.
