Exchange Student To Leave For Home Friday

Heinz-Erich Ludemann, the American Field Service exchange student in Memphis, will conclude his 10-month visit in Memphis Friday morning when he leaves to catch a bus in Amarillo at 10:30 a. m.

Heiner will meet with 11 other AFS students in the Panhandle area and will go to Tulsa, Okla., where they will be joined by other students. This group, consisting of 18 girls and 12 boys will leave for Washington, D. C. on Monday, June 26, on a Greyhound bus.

In Washington, the 1854 AFS students will assemble for eight-day tours, and an address by President John Kennedy.

Heiner said he would leave from New York on Thursday, June 29 for Frankfurt, Germany, where he will meet his mother, Mrs. Margarethe Ludemann.

Heiner's plans for the rest of the summer include making up his school work in 13 or 14 subjects he has missed. He explained that as his plans stand now, he will complete his work for Gymnasium (German School) at Easter, 1963 when he is 20 years old.

Following his completion of school work, he said he would like to go to the University and study Psychology, Journalism and Theology.

Concerning any future plans of his returning to the United States, Heiner said, "I would like to come back to the United States again working with a German firm." He explained that there is a big field in many German firms working as field representatives in other countries.

"I sincerely hope that the local chapter of the American Field Service will be able to bring another foreign student to Memphis and can make his or her stay here as enjoyable as mine has been," he said.

"I would like to thank all of the people in Memphis and this area for all the acts of kindness shown me. And I would especially like to thank the Gailey family for providing a model American home and a very good home for me. I would like to thank the AFS staff, clubs, the School Board and staff, the teachers and students for being so kind to me," he said.

"I will be taking more from Memphis than just my new cowboy suit, and will try to be a good representative of Texas and Memphis. I will carry with me a clear understanding of the people which I will be telling about when I return home," he said.

Highlighting his 10-month stay in Memphis, Heiner recalled several events. He was especially thrilled with the football games and the band trips during the fall.

"Also," he said, "I had a most wonderful but unusual Christmas (Continued on Page Ten)

MISS TOPS GILREATH

Tops Gilreath Is B&PW Club District Director

Tops Gilreath, past president of the local Business and Professional Women's Club, was installed as District Director of District 10 B&PW Clubs, at the annual state convention held in Abilene June 9 through 11.

More than 900 delegates from throughout the state attended the three-day meet. Going from here were Miss Gilreath, Mrs. H. J. Howell, incoming president of the local club; and Miss Roselyn Williams, who was the club's delegate.

Miss Elizabeth Tandy of Fort Worth will head the organization as president. Other officers installed included Mrs. Hope E. Conroe of Lubbock, first vice president; Mrs. Modell Scruggs of Houston, second vice president; Mrs. Dordya Jarvis of Brownwood, third vice president; Mrs. Thelma H. Jarrott of Marshall, recording secretary, and Mrs. Odessa J. Clark of Fort Worth, treasurer.

Miss Gilreath will be one of 15 District Directors in the state who will work with the official staff during the coming year. Out-going director for District 10 is Shella Sharpe of Wichita Falls.

Miss Gilreath, Hall County superintendent, has been an active member of the local Business and Professional Women's Club for a number of years. She is a past president and has held various other offices in the club.

Figures Presented On Total Tax Cost

Hall County taxpayers will pay $416,908.80 as a total cost to retire the county hospital bonds, according to Paul Spillman, attorney for the Commissioners Court. This amount is in addition to the $250,000.00 bond issue.

The above figure was given at a meeting of the four fact-finding committees for the county hospital Friday afternoon in the Memphis court house. The committees were appointed by the Commissioners Court at their regular monthly meeting, Monday, June 12. They were named to gather information regarding the hospital, and to present it, along with recommendations, to the Court at some future date.

The organizational session of the citizens committees began at 4:30 p. m. Spillman told the group that they had been appointed to "find facts," which would be turned in for consideration by the Commissioners.

He stated that the four Memphis doctors met Thursday night, June 15, and discussed the proposed hospital. Their suggestions would be submitted to the proper committee.

Among the suggestions which the physicians made was that of establishing at least 48 beds in the hospital. It was explained that the physicians had arrived at this number by suggesting that six double-bed rooms be available, and 18 large single-bed rooms. These latter would be able to handle two beds each in case of need.

Duties of each of the four committees were outlined.

Spillman then presented a financial analysis of the proposition, saying, "I point out these facts to show that the Commissioners and people of Hall County have a serious problem. You can see from this report that any mistake in a project of this nature can be extremely costly to the county. I bring this up to impress upon you committee members the seriousness of your responsibility. The Commissioners want you to investigate these various fields of study and report back to them (Continued on Page Ten)

BLACKMAIL BACKFIRE

Castro's sordid attempt to blackmail this country has gone far enough, and should be branded before the entire world for what it is and what it stands for. His "iron for flesh" deal was recognized by all decent human beings as nothing more than an act of international piracy and a perfect example of the philosophy that constitutes the difference between our way of life and that to which he subscribes. This pronouncement, above all others, clearly demonstrates the basic principle upon which Castro and his cohorts operate. The dignity of the individual has no place in his ideology, except as regards his own person, which is usually the case with dictators.

At the time Castro proposed this unconscionable and inhuman trade, everyone should have recognized that the author of such devilry must be wholly devoid of character and integrity. Nevertheless, many people in this country took the position that the humanitarian thing to do was to accept the offer and thereby show to the world that this country, in pursuit of its Christian principles, considered human life as the property of God, and would do whatever was necessary to prevent its destruction. Others took the position that this was not the issue, but that the whole matter was a question of pure and simple mail in which no individual in this country should have a part. This controversy has raged during all of the negotiations, and will probably not be settled regardless of what is done.

Looking at the matter objectively as it presently stands, it seems to me that the recent statements and demands of Castro prove beyond any question of doubt that he had no intention of ever releasing the prisoners. His sole intention was the same as that which usually prompts the pirate, the extortionist, and the blackmailer. That is, to get hold of the material wealth demanded and then destroy the victim. In my further opinion, his greed has caused him to overplay his hand. When he was able to have a visit from negotiators, he probably felt that he may as well ask for more, so long as people were willing to deal with a scoundrel. This, in my opinion, is where his greed completely condemned him. He has now proven beyond any question of doubt that his Communistic beliefs underwrite the proposition that material is superior to human life, and that he is completely devoid of any character or integrity.

Assuming that there was some justification in the first instance to try to meet the requirements of the "iron for flesh" offer, it should now be clearly evident that the chances for the salvation of these prisoners will not depend upon whether or not tractors or bulldozers were delivered to the Bearded Wonder. If ten thousand bulldozers were delivered to Castro tomorrow, the lives of the prisoners in Cuba wouldn't be worth a plugged nickel. If these prisoners, or any of them are saved, it is going to be because the world recognizes what has happened. The world should be told now in unmistakable terms that Castro has not only made the offer but has openly admitted it, and has now reneged on it and is trying to extort more and more. Under the circumstances he has convicted himself completely under any system of law ever employed by mankind. Hence, it would seem to me that the time is ripe to tell Mr. Castro that there will be no tractors and there will be no bulldozers, but that if he harms even one of the prisoners he has attempted to use as pawns, he must stand condemned before the bar of the world opinion and every judicial system in existence as an international murderer, and that he should expect to pay the same penalty as has been paid by other international murderers—to wit: Hitler, Mussolini, and company.

CARD OF THANKS
I want to thank all of my friends for the nice cards, letters, flowers and visits while I was in the hospital.

tioners this week are: Mr. and Mrs. Herb Curry and son Reggie who are touring the northeastern states... Mr. and Mrs. Ed Foxhall and son Edward Neal who are vacationing in California. We understand Edward was looking forward to his first visit to Disneyland. Mrs. Bill Leslie will be off Sunday to Indiana to attend a meeting of the United Presbyterian Women at Purdue University... and Mrs. D. L. C. Kinard and granddaughter Diane will leave for California Saturday to visit relatives and while there visit Disneyland and other points of interest... the J. Claude Wells will be in Dallas to attend the annual meeting of the Texas Press Association.

Thinking of our senior partner, we thought while he was out of town would be a good time to slip in an excerpt from the Wellington Leader which appeared in last week's "Deck's Didactics" written by Deskins Wells: "Just before coming to the hospital on May 31, I happened to read in The Memphis Democrat that J. Claude Wells was observing his 58th year as an editor and publisher. Can you imagine a man with enough vitality to even endure in this sometimes nerve wracking and often strenuous business for well over a half century? But he has done it with courage, charm and understanding. So many of my close friends in this business have gone on when they were just reaching their peak that I can't keep from marveling at the healthy mind in a healthy body and the extraordinary constitution that has kept him active and useful so long. He is by many years the dean of Panhandle editors. Homer Steen of Floydada is the only one who is even close to him. Here is a salute to the great old man with the young mind.

"His wife, Pearl Wells, has been one of my favorite people for many years. I was sixteen when I started working as a printer's devil on The Wellington Leader. Cousin Pearl was working on the paper at the time and as late as 1925 when they moved to Memphis. She has been my confidante and counselor since I was sixteen. I might say that I have had two wonderful, wonderful mothers since my father died."

Then in conclusion, may we quote this little poem, which appeared in Ed Boliver's column in the Hedley Informer last week: AIN'T IT THE TRUTH? The editor at the pearly gate, His face looked worn and old; He merely asked the man of fate for admission to the fold. "What have you done," asked Peter "To seek admission here?" "Oh I used to run a paper On earth for many a year." The gate swung open sharply As Peter touched the bell: "Come in, lad, and take your harp, You've had enough of hell."

Deferred grazing is a means of allowing mother nature to improve the vegetation on your rangeland. Deferred grazing is carried out by removing all of the stock from a pasture during all or part of the year. For maximum results deferral should be done during the growing season.

Grasses need a rest to regain their vigor and growth and to make a seed crop. Grass that is kept grazed too close will gradually weaken and die out. Approximately 90 per cent of the food for plant growth, is manufactured in the leaves. Raw plant foods or materials—water and nutrients—are taken in through the roots, then transplanted through the stems to the leaves, where, with the aid of sunlight and air, food is manufactured for the life and growth of the plants. growth and to make seed. Areas that have been seeded to grass or have had brush controlled should be deferred for an entire growing season. Thus allowing new seeding to become well established, and, following brush control, allowing the grass to recover from the competition of the brush. The rains, recently, have given the grass a chance to make a good growth. Now would be a good time to begin deferral on all or portions of your rangeland. Further information on the best periods of deferral for your particular type of pasture can be obtained from the local Soil Conservation Service personnel assisting the Hall County Soil Conservation District.

ANOTHER BIG REASON BEHIND THE BIG BOOM IN FORD SALES:

Galaxie styling is inspiring more admiration (and imitation) than any other car on the road!

This is the look that started with Thunderbird—sired the Galaxie—and quickly became the styling success of the Sixties.

Many cars have tried to copy it. No car has succeeded. Incomparably beautiful, the 1961 Galaxie maintains its distinction—as originals always do.

Styling is only part of Galaxie's distinction: this is the car that's beautifully built to take care of itself. The '61 Ford goes 30,000 miles between chassis lubrications... 4,000 miles between oil changes. Bracketed adjuster controls call. The muffler is built to last three times as long as ordinary ones. The body is specially treated to resist rust and corrosion. The finish never needs waxing.

Wouldn't it make sense to STOP spending money on an old car that can never do for you what a new Ford can do?

SWAP right now while your Ford Dealer's sales are booming—and the swapping is easier than it's ever been before.

SENATOR ☆☆☆ Yarborough's Report

Most of us are acutely aware of the vital need for conserving and developing our water resources in Texas. We know that to a great extent the growth and industrialization of our state will depend not only on having an adequate supply of fresh water, but also upon key navigation projects to increase and improve our deep water outlets to the Gulf of Mexico.

These past few weeks, dozens of delegations from all sections of the state have come to Washington to testify before Congressional committees on behalf of water projects and civil works needed within Texas. It has been my privilege to work closely with these visiting delegations and with the experienced Congressmen who represent Texas in Washington, and to appear before committees with them in support of many of these projects.

One of the most encouraging parts of this work is that the Kennedy Administration has fostered a new attitude toward such projects. In contrast to the "no new starts" operation of the past Administration, the Kennedy Administration has planned and recommended many new starts in Texas and across the nation.

Four of these "new starts" this year in Texas include: a new flood control survey of Buffalo Bayou near Houston; a new planning start on the Fort Worth Floodway Extension; a $500,000 new construction start on the Somerville Reservoir; and a $600,000 start on the Port Aransas-Corpus Christi navigation channel.

In addition to these "new starts," I have urged continued and speeded up work on more than 20 other Texas projects. For example, I joined this past week with a delegation of more than 70 Texans urging faster action on the Trinity Watershed survey. President Kennedy has budgeted $250,000 for this vital survey, but we have asked that that amount be raised to $360,000. This would let the Army engineers move ahead with the project at a maximum speed and finish this whole survey in one year.

Projects of considerable importance to East Texas are the Sabine and Neches River Surveys. I've urged an appropriation of over $200,000 next fiscal year to speed up this work, which I have long felt was too long delayed. Senator Morris Sheppard, as a Congressman, was working to have this survey finished in 1914, and now I'm proud to report that the Bureau of the Budget has approved at least $175,000 of this money to survey the whole watershed of the Neches and Sabine Rivers. Having adequate supplies of water is a key factor to the municipal growth and industrial growth and development of this whole area of East Texas.

Two other projects which I'm strongly supporting are studies of the Arkansas-Red River and the Little Brazos rivers. Both of these surveys are preliminary steps to proper water conservation and development programs.

Some of the other major projects and the funds to be used for their development, appropriated and budgeted for appropriation this year include: San Antonio Channel, $2,400,000; Port Mansfield, $2,639,000; McGee Bend Dam, $9,600,000; Sabine-Neches Waterway, $2,250,000; Matagorda Ship Channel, $405,000; Waco Dam Project, $8,500,000; Stillhouse Hollow, $500,000; Proctor Dam, $4,500,000.

Economic benefits for these far outweigh their cost. Before any of them has been approved, there must be a feasibility survey and report of practical, feasible and profit making advantage to the area and nation before money can be spent for them.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Memphis, Texas
June 19, 1961
To the Editor of the Memphis Democrat
Memphis, Texas

Dear Sir:

It would seem that the primary subject at this time concerns this fiasco about the County Hospital and Disaster Relief Program. I use the word "fiasco" advisedly—Re: Webster's New Collegiate Dictionary, since it appears that a large group of well-meaning, intelligent people do not realize that our county has come to the place where we have to Kow-Tow—Re: Webster's New Collegiate Dictionary—to a minority of individuals who call themselves Democrats and Profess to be members of a Democratic Society. I have long since crossed the fence as far as politics are concerned. For the pure and simple reason that I cannot, with any degree of honesty, follow the dictates of the few who would choose to run the county their way—with no regard to what WE, the people think, need, desire or voted for.

I cannot, in any measure, endorse any move which would see this county paying Paul Spillman $20 per hour to strangle the negotiations concerning the County Hospital, which would be of benefit to every individual in this county and outlying counties.

I would prefer to know that my tax money was being used to benefit some unfortunate individual who needed medical care rather than paying Paul Spillman $20 per hour to hold up proceedings, fire smoke screens of "ideas," or otherwise impede the movement of a needed, well-meant march toward progress for our county. Instead of progress, we have notoriety, for what it is worth. I have had inquires from Dumas, Pampa, Amarillo, Childress, Quanah, and Wichita Falls about what has happened to the citizens of Hall County, that we should be so subdued by a small group who profess to be interested in our welfare. You know, sometimes it is rather difficult to keep from giving an answer that would be as explicit as it well could be.

What of the Disaster Relief Program? How much are we taxpayers going to pay Paul Spillman for this work? People of Hall County, it is my conviction that the major disaster is occurring in Hall County at this moment. Shall we then pay Paul whatever he decides to "take us for," in addition to the $20 per hour to keep us informed as to the travesty of this business that so vitally concerns every person in the county.

It is time to stand up and be counted. Do we work for progress and; for the things we need—indeed must have—if we are to continue as a county where people are proud to be in, instead of FROM? Or do we stand aside and let a few people put words and ideas in our mouths and minds, with no thought of the consequences except to put them on the map as GOOD CITIZENS — BIG WHEELS — POLITICAL WONDER BOYS — or BIG SHOTS(?)

It could be if the Hall County Committee for Good Government offered a few tractors in "exchange" ?? we might just accidentally see some positive action. I am only an individual, but I

192 Fishermen Caught Without Their Licenses

Too many Texas fishermen got by without buying a license during the month of May and 192 paid fines, according to the violations report of the Texas Fish Commission.

In all there were 333 fines and costs collected amounting to $783.03.

Eleven hunters paid fines shooting deer out of season. There was only one violation for "phoning" fish during the season. Heaviest fine of the month, $150, paid by a Midland man for possession of doe deer out of season.

Several night hunters paid ranging from $25 to $50 each. Capt. E. M. Spott, district law enforcement, warned fishermen that a $2.15 license required for any person between 17 and 65 fishing outside home county, or fishing in home county with any kind of winding device.

Yours very truly,
Jean McQueen

Whether you plan to keep your fishing rig for 10 years or use it off in a few months, you should maintain high trade-in value by keeping it in top shape.

When your trailer shows signs of wear, have it sand-blasted. Put on a protective coat of rust inhibitor before applying the finished coat of paint.

Check the wiring system that runs to the trailer lights. If worn or frayed, replace the entire system. Wiring should be of the waterproof type for at times it will be under water.

If you use the trailer on sandy beaches, periodically dismount the tires and check the casing walls for deposits of sand that could wear holes in the tubes and cause blowouts on the highway.

While the tires are off, check the rims for rust spots. Clean and repaint.

Windshields Need Attention

Wrap-around plastic windshields are nice, but they can be the source of a lot of trouble if not properly cared for.

Plastic windshields develop static charges and attract dust, with heavy deposits especially common after a trailer trip over the highways. Salt spray dries and leaves highly abrasive salt deposits; so keep that fact well in mind if you use your rig in the Gulf Coast area.

When cruising on a muddy river or lake, the silt-laden droplets can create pumice-like specks. Sand can get on the foredeck and grains of it will adhere to the windshield when wet.

Windshields do require special care. Here's how to do the job properly:

Rinse the windshield with plain water. Follow up with a gentle washing with mild soap and a soft cloth. Never use household or auto glass cleaners because they can dull the finish of the plastic.

You can purchase special cleaners for plastic windshields, some of which contain agents to minimize formation of static charges or leave a protective film.

There is one thing you should never do in windshield cleaning. Don't try to wipe off dust with a dry rag. It will scratch and scar the plastic.

Check Steering Systems

Your steering system should be cleaned and checked regularly. On the rope-and-pulley systems,

WATER FROM THE MOON

One way of increasing man's fresh water supply is to steam it from the moon, claims an industrial scientist. His theory: The rock formations on the moon contain as much as 5 per cent water. The water could be condensed by steaming it from the rocks with huge mirrors placed to reflect heat from the sun!

WATER RATIONING SPREADS

Lawns, gardens and people may go thirsty this summer, says the National Water Institute. In past years, over 1,000 communities throughout the country were forced to ration water supplies.

In 1960, there were nine days on which nobody died in Texas traffic, the largest number of "Deathless Days" in any single year since 1945. In 1959, there was only one "Deathless Day."

you store the rig, loosen all lashings. Over a period of time they can shrink and cause permanent damage to the hull in the way of twisting or distortion. This can happen overnight. This lashing can get set from dew or rain and will shrink when dried by the sun.

In closing, let me point out this fact: You'll get a much better trade-in price for your old rig if you have given it the care and attention it deserves.

Baseball Scouts Stop In Memphis Wednesday Morning

Jess Landrum of Beaumont, chief New York Yankee scout in this area, and Ernest "Dutch" Lorbeer, scout for the Detroit Tigers visited in Memphis Wednesday.

Landrum was on his way to Amarillo where he will hold try-outs for all young baseball players in this area on June 30 and July 1 beginning at 9:30 a. m. each day in the Potter County Park. Landrum said the try-outs are for young baseball players between the ages of 16 and 22.

Dutch Lorbeer held tryouts in Memphis in the late 1940's in the Estes Park.

DOWN THE DRAIN

In hot weather, home use of water rises sharply. According to the National Water Institute, the average home consumes over 150 gallons every day. A cooling shower bath requires five gallons of water a minute, a load of laundry uses up six gallons. Increased use of air conditioners, garbage disposal units and automatic dishwashers also put a heavy load on water supplies.

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Johnson and Mrs. Kate Crabb on Tuesday were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Castleman and boys of Hugo, Okla. The Castlemans were on their way to Colorado.

U. S. Agricultural Imports

The United States of America ranks second to the United Kingdom as an agricultural importer and accounts for one-sixth of the world's agricultural import trade.

This information was released in the Foreign Agriculture Circular of the United States Department of Agriculture this year. During the fiscal year 1959-60, U. S. agricultural imports totaled $4,017 million, virtually unchanged from the previous year. The commodity make-up of agricultural imports, with supplementary (competitive) and complimentary (noncompetitive) commodities accounting for equal shares in recent years.

The circular explains that 50 per cent of the imports of agriculture commodities are those which are grown in the United States. It stated: "About half of the imported agricultural products are similar to those grown in this country although in many instances they are not produced in sufficient volume to meet domestic demand, or the imported commodity provides a variety not available in the domestic market. Commodities of this nature are referred to as supplementary to U. S. production and include apparel wool, cane sugar, cattle, cheese, cotton, most fruits, grains, meats, nuts, oilbearing materials, sheep and lamb skins, tobacco, and vegetables. Some fruits and vegetables are imported during the winter and early spring months when domestic production is low."

During 1959-60 the United States imported over one-half of the world's coffee, over two-fifths of the banana shipments, nearly one-third of the cacao beans, over one-fourth of the cane sugar and crude natural rubber, and about one-tenth each of wool, tobacco, and tea entering world trade. The United States thus provided a dollar market for all of the major agricultural economies of the world.

The United States imports agricultural commodities from more than 125 different countries, though the bulk comes from relatively few. Ten countries in 1959-60 accounted for three-fifths of all U. S. agricultural imports—including more than three-fifths of the supplementary commodities and over half of the complementary. These countries are Brazil, Cuba, Colombia, the Philippines, Mexico, Canada, Indonesia, New Zealand, Australia, and the Federation of Malaya. Each marketed over $100 million worth of agricultural products in the United States during 1959-60.

These principal suppliers can be further characterized by the commodities which they shipped to the United States during 1959-60. For example, Brazil was the leading supplier of coffee, providing 42 per cent of U. S. imports. From Cuba, the United States obtained 71 per cent of its sugar imports. Mexico was a principal supplier of cattle and meats; and Canada, animal products. Indonesia and the Federation of Malaya supplied almost one-half of U. S. imports of crude natural rubber while Australia and New Zealand were among chief sources of meat products and wool. From Colombia we received more than 25 per cent of the coffee imports and from the Philippines all of the copra and 23 per cent of the cane sugar imports.

The United States is a nation with many agricultural surpluses, however, it ranks second in agricultural imports of all the nations. During the 1959-60 years, the United States imported over $100 millions worth of grains and animal products from Canada while surpluses in grains were forcing lower prices in the United States.

Another factor pointed out was the huge import in sugar cane. High Plains farmers have been conducting a drive for sugar beet allotments. So far they have been unsuccessful.

A course of action this nation needs to adopt is to take care of the agricultural market of products within the United States before "providing a dollar market for all of the major agricultural economies of the world."

What Other Editors Say

Facts of Life

An editor is one of those unfortunate people who never does anything right. If he stays on the street he should be in his office working. If he stays in the office he should be out on the street getting news. If he doesn't take a stand on every issue he is scared, if he does take a stand he is crazy for antagonizing half his customers.

Of course editors are not the only people who have trouble. I might mention Myrtle Reeves or O'Neill Weatherly who could tell about the electric or water customer who wants high powered service at a very low powered price, or the grocery customer who buys at home when he wants credit and goes out of town when he has cash, or the garage customer who wants $200 worth of parts put in his car and then tells the mechanic he will have to charge it until next fall, and next fall somehow doesn't arrive.

Maybe I'd better drop the subject before we all get sick and have to see the doctor—on credit. —The Hedley Informer

Taxes, Taxes and Taxes

Everything you touch is taxed and people get mighty weary of taxes gradually eating away at everything they make.

Our local county, school and city property recently underwent an attempt at increase and equalization of property. However, most of the concern is around the equalization of county taxes. Some say the equalization was long past due and is justified; others feel that many of the increases have been much too high; and still others believe they should be left alone because, in combination, all taxes are too high now.

In the man, however, many seem to feel more economy could be instituted in county government. Whether this can be done with one of the lowest county tax structures in the state is debatable and depends on how many and what kind of services we are going to demand of the county government.

I am glad to pay an increase in my county taxes because I favor a strong county government, but if my valuation had been unusually high it might be a different story, and I'm sure some of them have been evaluated too high, but the equalization board is supposed to handle such cases.

Another thing to remember, a weak county government is inductive to corrupt government or consolidated government. There are some strong elements in Austin who would dearly love to annex Armstrong and two or three other counties with Potter County and make Amarillo the county seat. If our county government should become much weaker that weakness could be used as a legislative pry-hole to bring about such an annexation.

So, perhaps we should work this from both ends, i.e. practice "wise, economy in county government but at the same time have a justifiable tax income that puts the county on a sound financial basis and county officials can be paid reasonable salaries. One farmer put it this way: "Let's pull Armstrong County taxes into the 20th century."

It actually amounts to, "Which pocket am I going to put the tax monies in." Most families will pay from $50 to $300 a month federal income tax. Shall we take a part of that, which is deductible, and give to our city, school and county or send it all to the federal government? —The Claude News

Confused World

It might be interesting to graduates and their families to think a moment about the mixed-up age in which we live. Youngsters these days hear a lot about beatniks and others sour on life, as we find it on this earth.

But this is not new. In the twenties it was the flappers, in the thirties strange conduct was laid to the depression, and in the forties curious behavior was often attributed to the war years. Every decade, it seems, there is something.

The young lady of today, however, does face a mixed-up world. We are witnessing a battle between democracy and communism and the contest is too even to foretell the outcome or feel secure about it. In this country we race

Elaine Snowdon Elected Officer At Girls State

Elaine Snowdon, a Citizen of the American Legion Auxiliary Girls State, now in progress in Austin at the Texas School for the Blind, was elected as County Commissioner, Place No. 1, County of You, this week.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Snowdon and was sponsored to Girl's State by the local American Legion Auxiliary Unit. Girls State was organized as a national Americanism activity in 1937 by the American Legion Auxiliary Unit.

Non-partisan and non-political, the purpose of the Girls State program is to provide citizenship training for girls of high school age, to afford them an opportunity to live together as a self-governing group and to inform them of the duties, privileges and responsibilities which they will assume when they become adults.

The 1961 session of the American Legion Auxiliary Bluebonnet Girls State has grown from an experimental conference of 94 girls, held at Baylor University in 1941, to become the largest single extracurricular educational program for high school girls in Texas.

Associate Justice Meade Griffin of the Texas Supreme Court administered the oath of office to the various elected state officials of Bluebonnet Girls State Monday, June 19, in the Rotunda of the State Capitol.

MINUTE MEDITATION

This world is not my home, for I am just a passing stranger on my way from time to eternity.

My treasures are not to be found in this earth, neither do I hold its silver and gold dear to my heart.

The country to which I am going is that wonderful land of forever and ever where there is no night.

This beautiful country lies some where beyond the River of Death near the Great White Throne of heaven where the Master is waiting for me.

One day when this tongue shall speak no more, these eyes see no more, this heart beats no more, then this body shall be laid away to rest in the silence of the dust.

But angels shall come and carry my soul away to Abraham's bosom, the first stopping place between here and that wonderful land of forever and ever.

The way of eternity is long and hard and there are many dangers, but I am not afraid, for Jesus is my pilot and I've got my eye on him.

Methodist Youth, Guests Enjoy Barbeque Party

Competition at archery and darts kept the Methodist Youth group busy Wednesday evening, June 14, while they gathered for a barbeque party in the back yard of the Lynn McKown home.

After a meal of barbecued hamburgers, baked beans, salad, potato chips, lemonade and ice cream sundaes, those present sat in a large circle to listen to guitar music and singing by Peter Overgardt, a foreign exchange student from Denmark. Peter also contributed a meditation on "Christian Living", after which Heiner Lude-mann, Memphis foreign student from Germany, gave a short talk on "Christianity and What It Means to Me."

This was the first meeting of a twelve-week program planned for the Methodist youth by the Methodist Church and their youth director, Jim Smith. In addition to a guest invited by each MYF member, the Presbyterian Youth Group was present. Rev. O. B. Herring, Rev. and Mrs. Richard Avery and Mrs. Lee Brown, Methodist youth counselor, were also present.

"Every Methodist Youth is cordially invited to attend and take part in the weekly meetings of the 'summer-long' program," according to Jim Smith, youth leader.

Betty Lemons To Join Assembly Staff At McMurry College

Betty Lemons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Lemons, will join the staff for the Annual Senior Assembly to be held on the McMurry College campus June 26-30.

Around 250 Methodist high school youths from the entire Northwest Texas Conference will attend the assembly which will feature the Rev. Bill Kent of Abilene, former missionary to Bolivia, as speaker.

Jim Smith, youth director of the local church, and Elaine Snowdon are planning to attend.

Personnel and Staff Services Division

Statistics — The DPS Fleet

personnel, training and services responsibilities of the department are carried out through coordinated efforts of five divisions: Personnel and Training, General Office Services, Fleet Operations and Plant, and Personnel and Training.

During the biennium, 430,000 motor vehicle traffic accidents occurring in Texas were reported to the department. These were analyzed for causative factors, both engineering and enforcement, and data concerning their circumstances were compiled. Appropriate information was furnished to local, state and national groups concerned with various phases of accident prevention.

In the past two year, 700,000 daily reports from patrolmen in the field services were tabulated for data to be used for evaluating their respective performances, to record volumes of duties performed and hours worked and to assist in the development of personnel assignments and work schedules.

Over 500,000 records of persons arrested by department personnel were processed and data compiled for use by the department in planning its enforcement program, to evaluate the effectiveness of enforcement policies and to correlate the enforcement effort with the problems it is directed to correct.

General Office Services

The purchase and distribution of most non-inventories supplies is carried out by General Office Services. These include stationery, office supplies and related items as well as uniforms, guns, ammunition and other supply items which are needed by the uniformed and other law enforcement units throughout the state.

The duplicating service, which is essential in the rapid circulation of information on wanted persons as well as other data, is provided by this bureau.

During the past two year period, General Office Services provided for the purchase or preparation and distribution of one million driving handbooks, 520,000 arrest ticket books, 5,000 Digest of Texas Motor Vehicle Laws and 5,000 Texas Motor Vehicle Law Books.

Statistical Services also compiles data on the suspension of persons' driving privilege under the driver license and safety responsibility statutes, furnishes data to agencies in other states on their drivers arrested or involved in accidents in Texas, and prepares countless special studies of accident experience and enforcement effort.

EARS HAVE IT . . . Workman stands beside massive ear-shaped forms near Vantage, Wash., which are really two sections of a huge turbine cone to be installed in the powerhouse at Wanapum Dam.

Nearly 200,000 individual mailings were made of the weekly Law Enforcement Bulletin on wanted persons, and information on driver license and safety responsibility suspensions.

Nearly 11,000 uniform items were purchased and distributed to law enforcement personnel. Approximately 1,000 pieces of internal communication were handled each day through the department's centralized mail room. Over 40,000 pieces of first class mail were received and handled each day during the biennium.

Fleet Operations

The Fleet Operations Bureau maintains the motor vehicle fleet and the communications equipment which is essential for effective police operation. The day by day demands include repairs and preventative maintenance for over 1,200 motor vehicles and their mobile radio equipment as well as the maintenance of 22 fixed radio stations and 12 relays and repeaters.

During the biennium 752 new automobiles were purchased and equipped for department use. Cars no longer of value to the department were removed from service and sold through established procedures. The automobile shop made 870 major automobile repairs and more than 5,000 minor repairs in order to keep the department's motor fleet in good operating condition.

air conditioning, cleaning and maintenance of the buildings as well as landscaping and maintenance of the grounds of the department's headquarters. The care of the equipment and transmission lines (gas, electricity, and water) necessary for the generation and distribution of heat, water, light and air conditioning is also the responsibility of this unit. The scope of the activity perhaps can best be described by noting that more than 180,000 square feet of floor space is involved.

Chemical Poisoning of Foods

Ever since the start of public water fluoridation for the sake of dental health and the cranberry contamination scare of recent years, there has been growing concern in Texas and elsewhere that we are being "poisoned" by our own progress in chemistry.

The fact is that there is no evidence that any material approved for use in agriculture or public health has proven detrimental to man in connection with his diet.

The cause for alarm in practically every instance has been the peddling of misinformation, half-truths, statements out of context and concocted stories by seekers of notoriety. These alarmists are often food-faddists or well-intentioned but uninformed people who believe that nothing wholesome ever came out of a chemical factory.

Actually, a vitamin is a vitamin whether it's made in a chemical factory or whether it comes from an orange. Oranges, especially Texas oranges, of course, are one of our best sources of natural Vitamin C, and in taste far superior to a vitamin pill.

Fluoridation of water—which must be exacting and carefully controlled—has reduced dental decay in youngsters by 50 to 60 per cent in those communities which follow competent scientific advice. Anti-fluoridationists claim there's a difference between natural and artificially fluoridated water. Water with the mineral nutrient fluoride added and food enriched with vitamins have as much purity as ever and certainly more wholesome.

To cite an example close to home, in a recent year there was a sudden alarm sent against use of a chemical cotton defoliant containing arsenic acid because some Texas cottonseed oil products were found to have six parts arsenic acid per million. This seemed shocking and dangerous to the uninformed who weren't aware that arsenic acid is also a by-product of sea-food and that a small shrimp cocktail contains a harmless 150 parts arsenic acid per million. The alarm was soon quieted.

Insecticides, certainly no aid to food enrichment as such, are nonetheless vital to production of healthy and undamaged food-stuffs. Use of such chemicals is carefully controlled and, despite fears and shoutings of alarmists, there is no record of any cancer or other serious human illness resultant from use of agricultural chemicals on food crops.

Fortifying of food is one of the outstanding advances of public health of all times. Vitamin D added to milk and other foods has helped abolish rickets. Salt with iodine added has practically eliminated simple goiter.

We have the best and finest food in history—also the safest. Thanks to the many responsible companies that have in mind the welfare of the people as well as profits and the capable professional staff of the Food and Drug Administration, we can be confident and unafraid.

Committees—

with documentary proof of your findings."

Financial Analysis
According to a written copy, the attorney issued the following financial analysis to the members of the committees:

"The Commissioners Court of Hall County upon the advice of the county judge and his planning committee and the bond advisor entered an order issuing the $250,000.00 in bonds at 4 per cent interest rate for 10 years and 4 1/2 per cent rate for 10 years. These bonds have no right of prior redemption; that is, pay off before maturity, and the Commissioners were forced to take a look at the results of the issuance of the bonds upon the tax structure of Hall County. The following are facts according to the records of Hall County:

"Bonds, $250,000.00; interest on bonds, $130,025.00; additional taxes assessed payable to State because of 21 per cent increase for year 1960, $7,726.19, 20-year cost, $154,523.00.

"Economy index under Gilmer-Aikin school law increased 8.3 per cent for year of 1961 because of county valuation increase (schools pay State increase for year 1961), $6,618.00, 20-year cost, $132,360.00.

"Total cost for issuance of $250,000.00 in bonds under present plan, $416,908.00. Pay back bonds, $250,000.00; total cost to Hall County taxpayers, $666,908.80.

"Proposed Hill-Burton (funds), $250,000.00; total construction cost, $916,908.80."

Also attached to the above financial report statement, was the following:
"The majority of the Commissioners were confronted with these figures, believe it imperative they employ advice and question the advisability of following the advice of the county judge and his planning board.

"The county judge and his good government committee has requested the Commissioners to immediately pick a site and let a contract for construction of a hospital and comply with the Hill-Burton law and put the $250,000.00 which the county has voted up to be matched by $250,000.00 of Hill-Burton money which will necessitate a tax valuation increase of $4,000,000.00 which will increase the county valuation from $10,366,897.00 in 1959 to $16,462,153.00 for 1961. This increase would be necessary to provide operating funds of at least $35,000.00 as required by the Hill-Burton law.

"These facts require much study and it is my opinion that approximately $286,883.00 can be saved in tax money to Hall County taxpayers by the adoption of a proper payment method on the bonds already issued, and it is the desire of a majority of the Commissioners Court to take every means to make the tax burden as light as possible and still give the citizens of Hall County the best possible service.

"The four doctors of the city have met and have made suggestions and stand ready to give advice to the committees and Commissioners.

"The Commissioners have had a very difficult year with their road problems and have approved for this county $102,000.00 from O.C.D.M. for re-imbusement on the road expenditures. The City of Memphis and City of Lakeview also are participating in this program and receiving funds. Much excess equipment has been received by the county and the two cities.

"The Court will follow the mandate of the people, but only after giving a complete study to each problem and only after seeking competent advice and will not be pushed in the future into quick action such as they have been on the issuance of the hospital bonds."

The committee members then discussed several phases of the proposal in an effort to carry out the Court's instructions.

W. E. Leslie pointed out, "On this $35,000.00 needed for operating first year—maybe the county will have that much left over from the construction costs."

Spillman said that might be correct, adding, "We don't know at this stage even what size hospital is needed. But the figures were based on what could happen if the amount had to be raised by taxes."

"Actually, here is the problem. When you raise valuations to pay off the bonds, you raise the economic index of the county and the schools will receive less from the state. Also, the state gets a definite percentage of all money collected from county taxes."

The possibility of establishing a hospital district were discussed, and advantages were pointed out.

"The minutes of the Commissioners Court some time ago show that they looked into the hospital district idea and turned it down," Leslie said.

The matter will be investigated further, according to the attorney. Leslie stated that he had some information on the Hill-Burton law, and would be happy to share it with other committees.

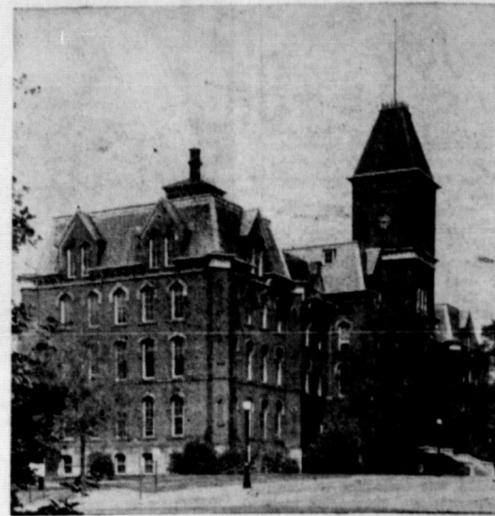

"I'm on this committee to look into the possibility of purchasing hospitals," Ben Parks said. "Can the money from these bonds be used for this purpose if this should be feasible?"

Spillman answered, "According

Ohio State University

University Hall, Ohio State University

Ohio State University began Sept. 17, 1873, when 25 students presented themselves for admission to the Ohio Agricultural and Mechanical College, located on a farm site north of Columbus. The college had been chartered three years earlier by the Ohio Legislature, under provisions of the federal Land-Grant Act of 1862, signed by President Lincoln.

In 1878, after several reorganizations, the institution was named The Ohio State University. From that beginning, with instruction limited to agriculture and mechanic arts, the University has grown to 84 different departments of instruction offering nearly 4,000 courses. With a student body enrollment exceeding 25,000 annually, Ohio State University is the largest educational institution in Ohio and ranks among the top 10 in the nation.

The departments of instruction at Ohio State University are organized into 10 colleges, a graduate school and eight special schools. Colleges include: Law, Pharmacy and Veterinary Medicine, Arts and Sciences, Engineering, Education, Medicine, Dentistry, Commerce and Administration, Agriculture and Home Economics. Special schools are those of Journalism, Nursing, Optometry, Social Work, Aviation, Music, Fine and Applied Arts, and Architecture and Landscape Architecture.

The University's growth is shown in its physical expansion. When it opened, University Hall, built at a cost of $112,484, was the only structure on the campus, except for residences occupied by the president and the professor of agriculture. Today, there are some 120 permanent buildings, situated on 2,780 acres.

to the minutes of the Court and the papers filed in calling the election, all that is mentioned is establishing and maintaining a hospital. So, they could be used in any manner."

A discussion then followed about the size of the proposed hospital, in which the suggestions of Memphis doctors were outlined.

After the various phases of the problem were discussed, the group broke up into various committees, which selected their chairmen. Chairmen and other committee members are as follows:

Committee No. 1: R. C. Clements, chairman; W. E. Leslie, Jim Hutchins, Jess Meacham and DeWells. M. E. McNally, Jr., was originally named to this committee. He declined to serve, and Wells was appointed to take his place.

Committee No. 2: J. W. Coppedge, chairman; Bill Cosby, H. D. Payne, Glosston Halford and W. B. Mullin. Mr. Mullin replaces Mrs. J. B. Bray, who was originally appointed.

Committee No. 3: Sim Goodall, chairman; Joyce Webster, Ernest Rea, Mrs. Vera Guest and Joe Barnett. B. E. Davenport was originally appointed to this committee, and was replaced by Barnett.

Committee No. 4: Harry Barnhill, chairman; Ben Parks, Tomie Potts, V. C. Durrett and Carl Hill.
