Memphis To Travel To Lefors For Tough Game

The Memphis Cyclone football team will go to Lefors Friday night to battle the Pirates for whatever piece of the District championship they might be able to get.

Coach Don Lambert stated Thursday morning that Dale Sexton has returned to school, and will probably see limited action at Lefors. Sexton has been ill for a week and a half.

The game Friday night is a "must" for the Cyclone to win if they are to stay in the District running. The possibility of a three-way tie with the McLean Tigers and the Lefors Pirates is certainly a possibility.

Of the two "ifs" facing the Cyclone, only one of them can be controlled by the local team. The first is whether the Memphis team can defeat the Pirates Friday night. If the local boys win, then the second "if" will rest on the shoulders of the Pirates—if they can defeat the McLean Tigers. Should these things happen, then a toss of the coin would determine the District representative to play either Gruver or Stinnett in Bi-District.

Coach Don Lambert stated that the game Friday night will be a tough one.

"It was no accident that the Pirates tied White Deer and fought Stinnett to a 14-12 game," Coach Lambert said.

The clash Friday night will be a grudge game between the Lefors team and the Cyclone. The Cyclone still remembers last season's defeat at the hands of the Pirates, 14-0.

To Lefors, a winner of two conference games this season, the game Friday night is the first of two tough ones they need in order to win the District Championship hands down. Should they defeat Memphis, they will still have to beat McLean to have any part of the title, that is, if McLean does not lose Friday night to Coach Hinks' Clarendon Bronchos.

From a comparative standpoint, the Cyclone will have a weight advantage of a few pounds per man, while Lefors will have the advantage of superior speed. The Pirates have four starters back from last year, and the Cyclone has seven.

The Lefors team has not been a high-scoring club and depends on its tough defense and hustle to win games. The basic formation is a split-T. The Pirates do not use a passing attack to any great extent. Against Canadian last week they attempted six passes but did not complete any of them.

Evidence of what a scrapping team the Pirates are, can be seen in the number of yards they were penalized last Friday night. They drew 231 yards in penalties to 45 assessed against Canadian.

The Cyclone may play without the services of their 225-pound tackle, Dale Sexton. He is still on the doubtful list; however, reports are that he is doing much better and is recovering from a sinus and throat infection.

Freshman back, Mike Crow, may see action Friday night.

"The squad had a good workout Tuesday, and worked out in the gymnasium Wednesday," the coach said.

Law Officers Here Have Busy Weekend

Hall County experienced one of its heaviest weekends of crime last week, Sheriff W. P. Baten, Jr., said Wednesday.

The sheriff's department investigated three shootings, a knifeing, a gambling violation, three drinking offenses, and a family argument investigation which resulted in no charges being filed.

Robert Hughes, a negro, was charged with aggravated assault and fined $100 and court cost before County Judge Tracy Davis for the shooting of Riley Wade, another negro. Wade was shot in the arm and leg with a .25 caliber automatic pistol, in the Joe Fields Cafe in Morningside Saturday night.

Neal Wade, brother of Riley Wade, was fined $200 and court cost on an aggravated assault charge for stabbing Robert Hughes in the back. This is the second time Neal Wade has been before Judge Davis on a similar charge.

The .25 caliber automatic could not be found Saturday night, Sheriff Baten said; however, a lead to the whereabouts of the gun was discovered Sunday morning. Sheriff Baten said he went to this negro's house to get the gun and found out that a daughter in the family had been shot through the hand by the weapon while she was examining it.

Another negro shooting took place early Saturday evening at the Parnell gin quarters. John L. Jones, a negro, was shot in the left shoulder with a .25 caliber automatic. Sheriff Baten said that he is looking for Ed Lock, another negro, who is suspected of having done the shooting.

Estelline Girl Fractures Skull In Fall Tuesday

Jeanette Pepper, a 15-year-old student in Estelline High School, received a skull fracture when she fell and hit her head on a gas pipe in the "Spook" house at the Halloween Carnival there Tuesday night.

Jeanette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reno Pepper of Estelline, was rushed to Memphis following the accident and is in Odom Hospital where she is reported in good condition.

Attending Physician Robert E. Clark said Wednesday that normally a fall such as this would result in a fractured skull, but Jeanette hit on a gas plug.

Bear Cubs, Turks Tangle Friday At Estelline

The Turkey Turks and the Estelline Bear Cubs will continue their grudge battle Friday night at 7:30 p. m. at the Estelline Stadium.

Coach U. F. Coker's Turks will be playing without the services of Don Guest, first string quarterback, and also George Hawkins. Both boys are on crutches this week. Guest is suffering with a muscle separation in the hip, and Hawkins has a broken blood vessel in his thigh.

Quarterbacking the team will probably be Freshman Jacky Young. On the brighter side for the Turks, Jack Meacham, their 170-pound, 6-foot, 2-inch tackle, will be back in the lineup for the first time since before the Silverton game. Meacham received a broken foot in workouts before the Silverton game. Meacham is one of the Turks' best defensive boys.

The Estelline Bear Cubs will go into the contest with no major injuries, Coach Jimmy Don Adams said this week. The game Friday night will be the last scheduled contest of the season for the Bear Cubs. The Cubs lost their first District game to Matador two weeks ago. The Turks are scheduled to play Matador next week.

Both teams had open dates last (Continued on Page Ten)

Burglars Hit Uncle Pete's Store Tuesday

An unknown number of burglars forced open the back door of Uncle Pete Rigsby's Dry Goods Store in Estelline Halloween night and carried off several items of clothing.

Taken from the store were five pairs of shoes, eight or nine blouses, and several pairs of men's Sledges pants. No money was taken.

Deputy Sheriff Elmer Neel stated that apparently the burglars were looking for sizes to fit because almost all of the pants were thrown upon the floor.

Turkey Shoot To Be Held Sunday

The Memphis Volunteer Fire Dept. will sponsor a Turkey Shoot Sunday afternoon, Nov. 5, weather permitting, it was announced this week.

The shoot will be at the Memphis Rifle and Pistol Club trap range, located at the Memphis airport. Prizes will consist of turkeys, hams and bacon.

Contests will start promptly at 1 p. m. In case of bad weather, the shoot will be postponed one week—to the following Sunday, it was announced.

Rains This Week Measure 1.40 Inches Here, Up To 3 Inches In County

The three-day rains this week measured 1.40 inches in Memphis and up to 3 inches in other portions of the County, reports indicated Thursday morning.

J. J. McMickin, official weather observer reported that Memphis received .70 of an inch of moisture Wednesday and Wednesday night, .10 Tuesday and .60 of an inch Monday.

In the Plaska area from 2 to 3 inches of rain fell this week, and in the Lakeview area from 2 and a half to 3 inches fell. In the Estelline area more than 3 inches were measured.

Out at Lesley, reports indicated that from .10 to an inch and a half fell during the week. In the Turkey area less than one inch was measured.

The only damage reported during the wet spell resulted Sunday afternoon in the Lakeview area when high winds and light hail lashed a strip about two miles wide and 10 miles long.

The storm lasted about 15 minutes and dumped an inch and a half of moisture over the area. Some wind damaged was reported.

Rains in Hall County the first part of this week slowed the harvest of the 1961 cotton crop to a snail's pace. Prior to the rain, which began Sunday, the gins of the county processed 3,948 bales to bring the year's total to 25,967.

The 1961 harvest has been unusual due to the early harvest of approximately 37 per cent of the crop before the freeze. This figure is based on a total yield of 70,000 bales.

Weather reports are promising the first freeze for this area to be Saturday, which would be several days earlier than last year's first freeze on Nov. 10, when the temperature dropped to 22 degrees.

The only weather damage to the crop was reported about 5:30 p. m. Sunday when high winds and some hail lashed the Lakeview area. The area covered appeared to be about two miles wide and 10 miles long. The wind turned over cotton trailers, and did some minor damage in the area.

It will take several days of dry weather before the cotton harvest can be resumed.

Mr. Kermit Voelkel, officer in charge of the USDA Cotton Classing office in Memphis, said Thursday morning that they have been able to cut their backlog from 22,000 samples to 14,000 samples this week due to the wet weather throughout the 12-county area.

Comparison of Agricultural Production

With the nation's farmers harvesting good crops in nearly every section, it is timely to compare U. S. and Russian agricultural production. The facts which have come to our attention prove conclusively that the communist methods of controlling farming have failed in many respects.

In The Agricultural Situation, USDA, the following information was recently released:

Together, the United States and the Soviet Union account for more than one-quarter of the world's annual farm output. During 1958, the last year for which comparisons are available, Soviet farm production made up 11 per cent of the world agricultural production, and U. S. farm production comprised 16 per cent.

The production of farm commodities in the U.S.S.R. during 1958 (Russia's record year) is roughly estimated at about two-thirds of the U. S. level. On a per capita basis, the Soviet output is reduced to about half that of the United States.

Wheat and potatoes are much larger components of total farm output in the U.S.S.R. than in the United States, where corn is the leading crop. Total grain production in Russia is about half the U. S. level. Sugarbeet production is also more important there than here. U. S. Vegetable production exceeds Soviet production and we produce more than three times as many fruits of a much wider variety.

Our production of cotton is twice that of the U.S.S.R. Higher yields are reported in the Soviet Union because their cotton is grown on irrigated land and only 25 to 30 per cent is in the U. S.

Despite recent rapid growth of livestock production in the Soviet Union, the output in the U. S. is still much greater. Meat production here is over twice that of the Soviet Union. Egg production is 2½ times as high, and poultry production is almost four times as large.

Estimates by U. S. soil authorities indicate that U.S.S.R. has over 3½ times more wheatland than the United States, but the Soviet has nothing to compare with our Corn and Cotton Belts in terms of both soils and climate. Thus far, climate has been more a limiting factor to expand farm output in the U.S.S.R. than has land.

U. S. food production should easily support the growing population on a widely varied diet for some time to come. For the present the major agricultural problem is that of controlling burdensome farm surpluses. The situation in the Soviet Union, however, is more precarious and shortages of animal products especially recur.

What Other Editors Say

Flowers and Editors
Attractive gals, wives, mothers and even grandmothers don't drop their uppers when somebody remembers them with roses. They're the kind of folks who're supposed to receive them.

What happens when a grizzled, gruff, semi-cynical typewriter hack with a middle-age spread above and behind finds somebody has delivered roses to his desk? He sits there like a blubbery idiot, of course. Even his typewriter won't sputter out a "Well thanks, what is a character like me supposed to do with roses?"

It would be unheard of for a man, with hair growing out his nose and ears and between his toes and a four o'clock shadow on a face he scraped an hour earlier, to admit outright, "I like roses," or "Aren't those pretty."

The absolutely normal reaction would be to grumble, "Get those blasted things out of here. Things like that are for women."

This scribe didn't grumble normally Monday morning when Mrs. Curtis Davlin, widow of a good friend of years gone by, sent in a unique arrangement of roses, some of the buds very rare—even to an orchid one. He said almost nothing.

Punny how a little arrangement of flowers can make a man feel insignificant—a little crumb of uncouth flesh in the presence of beauty so delicate and fragile that only a divine hand could have set in motion its creation.

Everyone Needs Poll Tax
It would appear that elected officials of cities, counties, and state do not think the business they are tending belongs to the public.

Why is it so hard to find out what goes on behind the doors of city meetings, county courts, and state legislature sessions? Is it because these officials are doing something they don't want their fellow citizens to know about or is there simply a tendency toward wanting to run the government, whatever it might be, to suit themselves and the population be hanged?

Probably it is a part of both. Anyone who has ever served the public knows that regardless of panies. But the payoff at times, large or small, has its effect on our government.

We need to get this type of man out of our government. We need to have men heading our policy making departments that will not vote against a good policy simply because his followers do not like it.

There is only one way we can have this type of officials. That is to elect them through majority votes in elections. Poll taxes are on sale now at the courthouse in Crosbyton. Without your receipt you will not be able to have your say in your government this coming election year.

Get down to the courthouse and pay your poll taxes, then when we have elections next year, get out and vote your opinion. It you do not like the way things are run, vote the men that are responsible out of office. If you cast your vote, then things aren't run to your satisfaction you have the right to complain. If you don't cast your vote you have no right or reason to criticize.

Little Theatre Enjoys One-Act Play Wednesday

"Sheer Extravagance," a one-act comedy, was presented to members of the Memphis Little Theatre on Oct. 25. The play had as its theme, the age-old problem of finances, with the wife spending and the husband complaining. Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Harper Celebrate 70th Wedding Anniversary Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Harper, long-time Newlin residents, celebrated their 70th wedding anniversary at their home Sunday, Oct. 29.

Here to enjoy the occasion with them were several of their children and grandchildren.

Nancy Elizabeth Glover and William Jefferson Harper were united in marriage Oct. 29, 1891, in Fayette County, Ala., near Glen Allen where they were both born and reared.

In 1900, Mr. and Mrs. Harper decided to come to Texas. They first settled in Wood County where they lived five years. Traveling in a covered wagon, they came on to Newlin in 1905.

Looking back, Mr. and Mrs. Harper recalled that they walked a great portion of the way, especially through the blackland country.

Arriving at Newlin, they were guests of the George Tucker family, former friends in Alabama, until they could find a place to live. After some time, they moved on a farm belonging to Theodora Pyle on Jonah Creek in the Harrell Chapel community; later moving to the Even land in the Gilpin community where the Leon Helms now live.

Later they bought land which has been their home throughout the years and where their family was reared.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Harper enjoy comparatively good health. In fact, when Mrs. Harper broke her hip in July, she stated that was the first time she had been to a doctor in 38 years. She is still in a wheel chair and spends much of her time reading the Bible.

Mr. and Mrs. Harper are the parents of 12 children, 10 of whom are still living. One child died in infancy and a daughter, Mrs. Hubert Abram, died in 1940.

They can boast of five generations, 36 grandchildren, 54 great-grandchildren and six great-great-grandchildren.

Their children are: Mrs. Maude Alexander, Sudan; Mrs. Dorsie Fowler of Galt, Calif.; Felton Harper of Muleshoe; Lewis Harper of Sudan; Mrs. Ella Gresham of Munday; Mrs. Stella Phillips of Clarendon; Mrs. Mozelle Skinner of Amarillo; Mrs. Dora El Ralls of Happy; Mrs. Jenny Bell Phillips of Muleshoe.

MRS. JERRY CLUCK

Monzingo-Cluck Nuptial Vows Read In Pretty Church Service Saturday

Nuptial vows were solemnized Saturday evening at 6:30 o'clock in the First Baptist Church for Miss Carol Ann Monzingo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Monzingo, 1315 Bradford St., and Jerry Patrick Cluck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cluck of Dimmitt.

The Rev. Fern Miller, pastor, read the double-reading ceremony before a nuptial space decorated with greenery and branched candelabra holding lighted orchid tapers. The candelabras were entwined with greenery and decorated with purple grapes. Marking the bridal aisle were miniature coronas of orchid mums tied with purple satin ribbon.

A prelude of wedding selections was played by Mrs. T. L. Rouse, organist, who also accompanied Mrs. Ace Gailey, soloist, as she sang "Because," "I'll Walk Beside You," and the "Lord's Prayer" following the vows. Mrs. Rouse played the traditional wedding marches for the processional and recessional.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of silk and acetate tissue taffeta fashioned with fitted bodice and long sleeves which tapered to points over the hands. Alenax lace edged the back panels to give the wide-flared skirt the look of a fairyland apron, and more lace traced the scooped neckline.

Her shoulder-length veil of illusion fell from a crown of seed pearls and crystal, and she carried a single white orchid showered with ribbons atop a white Bille.

She carried out the traditional bridal custom of wearing "something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue and a six pence in her shoe." The something old was pearl earrings belonging to her mother, and the something borrowed was a garter, which had been worn by Betty Henderson, cousin of the bride, in her wedding.

Attendants

Matron-of-honor was Mrs. Don Reeves of Canyon, while bridesmaids were Mrs. Gayle Monzingo of Memphis, sister-in-law of the bride; Mrs. Durwood Henderson of Amarillo, cousin of the bride; Mrs. Rodney Smith of Hart, and Miss Billie Cluck of Dimmitt, sisters of the groom.

Mrs. Reeves was attired in a frock of velvet and satin, fashioned with deep purple velvet bodice and lighter shade satin skirt. The fitted bodice was styled with three-quarter length sleeves and scooped neckline. She wore a matching headdress of velvet and satin shoes, and carried a bouquet of orchid mums tied with purple velvet streamers.

Bridesmaids wore identical dresses with matching headdress and shoes and also carried bouquets of orchid mums showered with velvet streamers of purple ribbon.

Ronnie Farris of Hart, cousin of the groom, was best man while ushers were R. J. Cluck and Jimmy Cluck of Dimmitt, brothers of the groom; and Gayle Monzingo, brother of the bride.

Little Matt Monzingo, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer. He carried the rings on a white satin and lace pillow belonging to the matron-of-honor, Mrs. Don Reeves, which was used in her wedding.

Candlelighters were Lowell Neumayer, Audrey Beth Burnett, Billy Jo Farris, cousin of the groom, and Deeda Hickey, cousin of the bride. Miss Hickey and Miss Burnett wore satin dresses of orchid styled identical to the other attendants.

Mrs. Monzingo, mother of the bride, wore a Dior blue frock styled with blouson top with grey accessories, while the groom's mother chose a dress of raw silk in a shade of mauve with matching accessories. Both wore coronas of orchids.

Immediately following the ceremony, a receiving line, consisting of the wedding party, was formed in the vestibule of the church. Afterwards the wedding party and relatives of the families gathered at the home of the bride's parents to see the newlyweds depart on a honeymoon trip to Colorado and points north.

Rehearsal Luncheon

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cluck, parents of the groom, were hosts at a rehearsal luncheon for members of the wedding party Saturday afternoon. The luncheon was held in the dining room of the Cyclone Drive Inn.

The bride is a graduate of the Memphis High School. She attended Trinity University, Texas Technological College, Lubbock, and received her degree from West Texas State College. For the past two years she taught in the Dimmitt High School, and was head of the business department. The bridegroom is a graduate of Dimmitt High School, Head of Levelland Junior College, West Texas State College, now associated with his father's farming and ranching at the Pampa, Dimmitt, Amarillo, Quitoque and Hart.

Around and About

By HELEN CORCORAN

After three days of rain, citizens awoke Thursday to see a bright, clear day coming up over the horizon. The air was brisk, but pleasant and weather reports forecast front moving in later in the day with colder weather in store.

Cotton harvest has been helped by the rains... had a chance to catch up with ton that was already on the way.

The last of the season's chrysanthemums are in bloom about town... residents have pretty well picked over the crop. But none prettier than Mrs. Stephens, who lives at 1125 5th Street. She has several and the tallest plants have been seen in Memphis. We understand Mrs. Stephens ordered them from South Carolina.

Mrs. C. W. Kinslow has a house guest for the past few days... Mrs. A. S. Collins, a character in the town... Another is Mrs. F. E. King, who is in this part of the state... Mrs. Collins commented on the hospital our city.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

you drive with care. First, stay in the ruts. Work your speed up to about 10 or 15 miles per hour and drive as much as possible in high gear. The momentum will carry you through minor bogs.

There will be times when you have to use second or low gear, but when you do, try to avoid spinning the wheels excessively. Spinning only digs the ruts deeper.

If you must stop, do so only on relatively firm ground or on a stretch where you can again build up that 10 to 15 miles per hour speed.

If necessary, walk ahead to find another stopping spot before proceeding.

Now suppose you are in hilly country. Even in wet weather, there isn't a lot of danger in bogging because the soil usually is rocky. But such soil can get slick. Sometimes it's difficult to maintain enough traction to make a grade.

You can attack this problem in several ways.

First back off and try to get a better running start. Don't try a 60 mile per hour run. Drive at a safe speed. You can judge what a safe speed is by the terrain.

It is always well to remember that if you store all your heavy gear in the trunk of the car it puts added weight on the drive wheels, for increased traction.

A third way of licking the problem is to turn around and back up the grade.

Remember, if you get stuck, you can get out with some ingenuity, a little thought, and lots of work.

Trophies Arrive For Bowling Tournament Here

The trophies for the ABC-sanctioned Men's Bowling Tournament are here, Bobby Duncan announced this week, and are on display at the Memphis Bowl.

Duncan stated that approximately 60 men have entered the tournament so far; however, there was still plenty of room for a number of others. The tournament will be played at noon, Monday through Saturday for six weeks, beginning Monday, Nov. 13.

Duncan extended an invitation to all to come by the Bowl and see the trophies on display.

Patching Holes in Boots

An enduring emergency patch for that hole in your rubber boot can be made by heating (not too hot) enough common tire tape to do the job, and applying to the dried surface of the boot. It lasts!

Eagles Seek Second Place At Booker Friday

The Lakeview Eagles will be seeking second place in the District race at Booker Friday night in the last game of the season for the Hall County eight-man squad.

Booker is considered one of the toughest teams in the district, although they were defeated last week by Miami, 24-20.

The Eagles, under Coach Bob Taylor, have only one boy on the doubtful list due to injuries this week. Paul Ponder received an injury to a wrist in the Lakeview-Darrouzett game Friday night.

The Eagles defeated Darrouzett 20-14 in a hard-fought game at Lakeview. They scored first in the first quarter when David Payne broke loose and raced 43 yards. The try for extra points was no good.

In the second quarter, QB Tony Sahagun passed to Rodney Clark, who covered the 20 yards to the goal line for the second TD. Sahagun carried for the extra points. The halftime score was 14-8.

In the final period of play, a pass from Sahagun to Clark, who pitched out to Jerry Clements was good for the Eagles' final TD. The play covered 15 yards. The final score was Lakeview 20, Darrouzett 14.

TIPS For Outdoorsmen

A Few Hunting Don'ts

Never say anything against your hunting partner's dog. Also, don't pat it or feed it. And don't give the dog orders.

If you kill a bird, tell the owner... not the dog.

Follow these don'ts and you will keep the respect and friendship of your partner.

Be Careful With Bullets

Carrying loose ammunition in your pocket is foolhardy. The little .22 cartridges are especially dangerous. They are small and easily lost, and may turn up in the open fireplace with a bang—literally.

For Better Shooting

As you get older, the open sights of your rifle get fuzzier and won't stay on the target. You find yourself missing the target often.

Of course, this can be overcome by using scope sights. But often a scope isn't feasible, or you may not like scopes.

So, the next best thing to do is to switch from open to ring, or peep sights. You won't have to squint, and your target is again clear.

Better change the front sight at the same time. Replace with one that has a higher post. Most rifles are drilled to receive peep sights, so you can install it yourself.

Remember the Dogs

Hunting dogs, especially setters, have a mighty hard time in hot weather. So, don't forget to give yours plenty of shade and water at all times. Many sportsmen are inclined to neglect the pooch during off-season.

Carsick Pup Needs Air

When your pup begins to get carsick he will drool at the mouth. That's the time to hustle him out of the car in a hurry (to avoid much unpleasantness) and walk him around in the fresh air.

Lakeview Girls Basketball Team To Host Samnorwood

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

Family Guide

Why not write out a personal record for those who must settle your estate after you are gone? This, over and above your will. One man sat down in front of a microphone and made a tape for the advice of his family.

Well, however you do it, list the names, addresses, birth dates of yourself, your wife or husband, your children, father, and mother.

Tell the names of your trusted friends who can advise them.

Write in clear detail where to find:

- Your will, your executor's name and the banker who knows your business affairs;
- Your certificate of birth, marriage, veterans' discharge and such papers;
- Your deposit box and its key;
- The amount and beneficiary of each of your insurance policies, your insurance agents and their addresses;
- Details about your mortgage, papers, notes, contracts, financial agreements, plus any stocks, bonds and the like, and your broker's name and address;

- Facts on your Social Security—your card number, its location, and your employer's name and address;
- Your tax records;
- Your debtors; creditors, and what is owed;
- Your lawyer's name, address, telephone, and papers in his safe-keeping;
- The name and address of any one who has your power of attorney;
- Your pension arrangements;
- The names of organizations to which you belong and any benefits which may be coming to your family from them;
- Funeral arrangements you prefer;
- Names and addresses of relations or friends you wish notified;
- Facts about your children's health record, facts they might find hard to get without help;
- A list of your personal belongings;
- Include any other facts that seem important.

Then, having completed this guide for your family, put it in a safe place—but not your safe deposit box. Tell your family or closest friend where to find the list.

Full measure for every dollar spent by the consuming public is the goal of the Texas Department of Agriculture.

HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT HERE RECENTLY EXPANDS FACILITIES

The newest structures in the Texas Highway Department building, located on 256 east of the depot. Department has constructed equipment rooms, a wash room and a tool room. Also added to the building are two new gas pumps.

Byrd, maintenance foreman for the Texas Highway Department, announced this week that he is now under way to remodel the old metal building, located to the east of the structure.

Byrd stated that the old steel building will be completely reworked on the inside and repainted the outside to match the new building.

The remodeling of the old building will be done by Highway Department crews," Mr. Byrd said.

Byrd, as maintenance foreman for an area covering all of Shelby County and two-thirds of Memphis, has a crew of 18 men. He is responsible for the maintenance of 245 miles of state highways in his district.

Byrd, a long-time employee of the Texas Highway Department, has worked on roads nearly his adult life. He has been in the Department since 1944—17 years. He is 64. Mr. Byrd is facing retirement next year. In discussing his approaching retirement, he said, "I regret that I am to retire at 65... the Texas Highway Department is a wonderful organization to work for, and I have enjoyed my many years working with the organization."

Byrd stated that his two counties are located within District 25, which has headquarters in Childers. Palmer Massey, district supervisor of District 25, said that Texas has 25 highway Department maintenance districts, and has 65,000 miles of roads to maintain. The Highway Department employs 16,000 men to do the maintenance work on the roads.

Byrd began his road work career after serving during World War I in Bastrop County. He married Miss Pearl in Elgin, Tex., in 1918. In 1924, he worked with the Department in Gainesville. Later he was a tractor and grader man in the Department stationed in Childers. Then, in the fall of 1929 he served as maintenance man for the area around Childers City. In 1931 he moved to Childers where he served as maintenance foreman until 1933, when he took over the Cottle-King area. He went from there to Shelby County. Then, he went to Childers where he stayed for some time before going to Childers. In 1944 he came to Memphis to take over as maintenance foreman for this two-county area.

subject of fallout shelters to be one of the major topics of the day, generated by two reports. One is the fear of the possibility that would be done to the body by radioactive fallout from the explosion of a nuclear weapon. The other is the concerted campaign which has been going on by enterprising operators to make good use of the public. The general fear of the human race everywhere is that the fallout shelter will create a fertile ground for scoundrels, tricksters, mountebanks to ply their wares. Hence, it would be well for the public to be well informed as to the nature of the shelter, whether for blast protection, to be sure that the contractor has the skill and the equipment which he advertises. Radio, television, and the press are widely used in many areas of the country, especially the metropolitan areas, to sell these shelters at prices ranging from as low as $150 to as much as $15,000 for the luxury type.

Small mail has brought in many requests for plans and specifications for a fallout shelter. Such a report was printed in June of this year by the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization, commonly known as OCDM, and may be obtained through the U. S. Government Printing Office for the price of ten cents. The demand was so great that the document had to be reprinted in November of 1960. It contains some very pertinent information with regard to the construction of a fallout shelter and also suggests as to equipment, medical publications, and other matters of interest and importance. It sums up, in five steps what every American should learn for protection. These are (1) attack warning signals and what they mean; (2) your community plan for emergency action; (3) protection from radioactive fallout; (4) first aid home emergency preparedness; and (5) the use of CONELRAD — 640 or 1240 on AM radio — for official directions.

This question of fallout shelters and civil defense generally brought forth a report from the Committee on Government Operations of the Congress. In this publication several pages were devoted to comments on the Soviet civil defense program. These are rather interesting, in view of the remarks allegedly made by Mrs. Khrushchev to one of the "Marchers for Peace" who purportedly walked from San Francisco to Moscow. As reported in the newspapers, Mrs. Khrushchev indicated to one of the marchers that bomb shelters were not being built in Russia and no general stepped-up civil defense program was being pushed. These statements, however, are in contradiction to the evidence brought before the Committee on Government Operations. At those hearings evidence was produced that Khrushchev had boasted of 22 million fully trained persons serving in civil defense and that the organization was being expanded. This would mean that about ten per cent of the Soviet people were a part of the civil defense operation. It was estimated at those hearings that the budget of the Soviet civil defense activities would range between $500 million and $1.5 billion. It was also estimated that the Soviet Union had spent approximately $3 billion in the last decade on civil defense activities. It might be pointed out that the Russians in Moscow have a built-in shelter and have had for some time. I refer to the subway, underground, or metropole as it is called in Russia. This subway is 43 to 45 miles long and approximately 100 feet deep. Plans are in the making to expand this operation by some 35 miles. Several years ago I was told by Russian officials that the subway was so arranged throughout the city that it was available to substantially all of the people of Moscow within a time period of approximately 15 to 20 minutes. In other words, they were pointing out to me that any Russian desiring to move from one part of the city to another could avail himself of this public transportation in a few short minutes. I would also point out that this subway is probably the cleanest thing in Russia. It is maintained in a spotless fashion and all of the stations are constructed of marble from one of the Soviet republics. It is entered in most instances by escalators in banks of approximately six to twelve. Whether or not the Soviet government had in mind the use of these stations as fallout shelters in the event of war, they may deny; but I can assure you that a better shelter could not have been built for this specific purpose. Hence, the words of Mrs. Khrushchev did not impress me.

There are many other things pointed out in the report about the Soviet system. However, our major concern should be our own welfare. The problem should be approached on a sound and practical basis. It should not be a vehicle through which unscrupulous individuals or organizations could prey upon a fearful public. Neither should it be the basis of creating an overstuffed government department for political hacks.

Mrs. Ruby Fair of Amarillo visited with her cousin, Mrs. Katherine Huddleston here Friday.

Hall County Soil Conservation District News

A serious problem confronting farmers in many areas today is that of "plowpan", sometimes referred to as "tillage pans". Plow pans have long been recognized, but their effect on plant growth and crop yields have not been fully recognized.

Plow pans are nothing more than a compact layer of soil a few inches thick, that occur a few inches below the plow layer. They are caused mostly by tillage implements and farm tractors moving across the land. Plowpans may occur in most all types of soils, but tend to occur most frequently in loamy or sandy soils. Probably because these soils are tilled sooner after a rain when moisture conditions are high.

Farmers often wonder what effects hardpans have upon plants. The effects are most noticeable during years of low rainfall. The most harmful effect is the restriction and the movement of plant roots. When this happens plant roots do not penetrate as deeply into the soil as they should. This limits the amounts of moisture that the plant is capable of absorbing. This reduces crop yields. Plowpans restrict the amount of moisture that a soil can absorb and this causes runoff.

How is the best way to determine if a plowpan is present? One of the best indicators is the growth pattern of the plant roots. Plant roots will normally grow in the path of least resistance. A tap rooted plant such as cotton is easy to check. If a plowpan is present the root will show deformation at the depth that the plowpan occurs. In areas of severe plowpans the cotton taproot may turn a 90 degree angle and run laterally along the top of the plowpan.

Plants with fibrous root systems seem to be less affected by plowpans. They can be detected by removing the soil around the roots. If a plowpan is present many of the roots will run laterally in the plow layer.

A condition often observed is a few cotton plants scattered in a field that are much larger than most of the plants. When the roots of these plants are examined it will show that the taller plants have less restriction, allowing the roots to go deeper and receive more moisture.

Plowpans occur most frequently in this area when the soils have been farmed in continuous cotton or grain sorghums for many years. Areas that have been in small grains contain fewer plowpans.

What can be done about plowpans, the quickest way to get rid of one is to use a chisel or some

Don Reeves Is Member of WT Livestock Team

The West Texas State College livestock judging team has pulled through to a dozen top honors this fall in shows across the nation...

A member of the five-man team is Don Reeves of Hedley, husband of the former Katherine Wright of Memphis...

These boys are probably not the best in the nation, but we'll give anyone a run for their money when it comes to determining the quality of show and commercial farm animals...

The latest honors bestowed on the college by the five Texans came from the American Royal Livestock Exposition and Horse Show held last month in Kansas City, Mo.

Among 125 college students from throughout the nation, the group placed 12th in Intercollegiate Livestock Judging for animal husbandry majors from land grant and agriculture colleges.

In individual competition, two of the WT students ranked among the top 10 of the nation, Henry Holdman of Fabens ranked sixth in over all judging competition, with Reeves following in the 10th place slot...

The team also placed sixth in sheep judging and was awarded 10th place in cattle judging.

Earlier last month, the team entered the livestock judging competition at Memphis, Tenn., and was awarded third place in judging among 16 Southern states.

In the Memphis competition, Reeves came out with second place award and Jackson placed 10th in overall judging.

Quiet Halloween Night Is Reported By Chief Wright

Chief of Police Guy Wright said Wednesday that Memphis had a fairly quiet Halloween night Tuesday.

The only property damage he reported was to the Ritz Theatre where several display windows were broken. He reported one instance of oil being put on automobiles during the night.

"Other than these," he said, "this was one of the best Halloween's we have had."

The chief said that they always have several tires set on fire, trash cans turned over, and other minor disturbances, and this Halloween was no exception.

Secretary Gives Comparison of Farm Production

American farmers annually produce some 60 per cent more food and fiber than the Russians, even though the U. S. S. R. has three times as much land and eight times as many agricultural workers.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman, in an article in IMC World, employee publication of International Minerals and Chemical Corporation, points to these figures as evidence of "an unparalleled success story..."

The superiority of American agriculture is of "staggering significance," according to Freeman. Despite a smaller population and smaller labor force, the United States has five million more workers available for non-agricultural work because six million U. S. farmers far outstrip 48 million farmers in Russia.

Freeman writes that this is a "remarkable demonstration of the superiority of private versus state agriculture" within Russia itself.

He reveals that although less than five per cent of Russia's tilled acreage is privately owned, this private agriculture produced 65 per cent of its potatoes, 82 per cent of its eggs, and 50 per cent of its green vegetables.

Freeman listed poor climate, inadequate capital, and the collectivist system as the three major factors in the inferiority of Russian agriculture.

Four Estelline Firms Burglarized Wed.

Sheriff W. P. Baten announced Thursday afternoon that the burglary of Uncle Pete Rigsby's Store in Estelline has been solved and that five Mexicans are in custody of his office and will be charged with the burglary.

Also, Sheriff Baten said, four other stores in Estelline were burglarized Wednesday night. Hit by burglars were the Estelline Lumber Co., Doc Rogers Grocery, Texaco Service Station, and Richerson Cafe.

Items taken included six cartons of cigarettes, the service station cash register, and camera and radio from the cafe.

November Draft Quota For State Is 923 Men

The state draft quota for November calls for 923 men, 12 more than for October, Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, said this week.

The October call, previously announced, was 911, compared to September and August quotas of 1,112 and 561, respectively.

The November quota of 923 is the state's share of a national call of 20,000, all for the Army. The October national quota was 20,000 which also was for the Army.

Colonel Schwartz also announced that 6,071 men would be given pre-induction examination in November, compared to 6,002 in October.

Local board quotas for induction and pre-induction examination in November were mailed by state Selective Service headquarters recently.

The November quota will be filled with men who are at least 22 years old on November 1, with the exception of volunteers, or those whom the law terms delinquent, who may be younger.

Monthly draft calls in Texas this year ranged from 292 down to zero prior to August.

76 yards for a 7.6 average; and QB Perry Wright carried 4 times for 24 yards for a 6-yard average. Pounds also picked up 80 yards returning punts and intercepting passes, which does not figure into the yards made from the line of scrimmage.

First Half Play
The Bronchos received the kick-off and returned it to the Clarendon 38. On the third down, a pass to End Bill Hermesmyer set up a first down on the 47. This was as far as this drive went, so the Bronchos punted the ball to the Cyclone 8-yard line.

Two carries, one by Jones and the second by Pounds netted 5 yards. Then, on the third down, Pounds took a direct snap from center, bobbled the ball, then quick-kicked it 71 yards down the field giving Clarendon the ball on their 16.

Two good carries by John Cearley and a quarterback sneak by Dwight McAnear moved for one first down to the 27. A pass to Back Jim Robinson moved for another first to the 42. Here this drive was stopped and the Bronchos punted to the Memphis 26.

In the closing minutes of the first period, the Cyclone drew a 5-yard penalty which put them back to the 21, and left a first-and-15 situation. Then FB Jones blasted through the line for 12 yards, and then 14 more, and moved for a first down to the 47.

On the next play, Peters took a direct snap from Center Ronald Ables, circled right end behind Wright, Pounds and Jones, each throwing fine blocks, giving Peters wide open space. Forty yards later he was dropped by the Clarendon pursuit on the 13.

On the next play, Pounds made 5 yards, and then Jones made 2 more. On a third down and 3 needed, Pounds was dropped for a 2-yard loss. Then, Peters carried on the reverse, and QB Wright blocked a Clarendon defender, giving him the opening to score. A pass from Wright to End Dwight Gailey was good for the extra points; so the score was 8-0 with 10 minutes, 13 seconds left in the second quarter.

Richard Ellis kicked off for the Cyclone, and Clarendon took over the ball on the 30. They were held for three downs, and punted to the Cyclone 25, where the ball was taken by HB Pounds, who scampered 30 yards down the east sideline to the Clarendon 45.

Thus started the Cyclone's second TD drive of the night. QB Wright carried for 12 yards and a first down to the Clarendon 33. Then Jones roared through for 9 yards, and Pounds twisted through for 3 more and a first down to the Bronchos' 21.

The Bronchos put up a stubborn resistance; however, the Cyclone plunged into the line time and again, whittling away the yardage until Jones added the scoring punch on a 3-yard carry. The extra points try was no good and the score was 14-0.

The Bronchos started a drive on their 31, and moved the ball for two first downs to the Cyclone 45. Then on an end sweep Jones racked Robinson, jarring the ball out of his hands, and James Carroll of the Cyclone recovered it on his 42.

The Cyclone, aided by a 15-yard penalty against Clarendon, moved to the Bronchos' 31 when the half ended.

Second Half Play
The Cyclone received the kick-off and Eddie Jones returned it 25 yards to the Cyclone 47. Carries of 4 yards by Jones, 3 yards by Pounds and 7 yards by Jones moved for a first to the Bronchos' 39 yard line.

Here a beautifully executed pass to End Gailey was nullified by a 5-yard penalty. On the next play, a snap to Peters went past him, and Clarendon recovered the ball on the Cyclone 44. The Bronchos ran into a brick wall of opposition and could not make a first down; so the Cyclone took over on their 35.

Jones carried for 9 yards and Peters carried for 3 more to the Cyclone 47. Jones again picked up 8 yards and Wright added 3 more to the Clarendon 42, and the Cyclone was rolling for their third and final TD.

One of the few times that the Cyclone went to the air, turned out to be one of the most spectacular plays the local boys did all night. Wright rolled out to the left and threw the ball to End Jecky Bridges. Bridges and two Clarendon defenders went up into the air, but it was Bridges who came down with the pigskin, and raced 15 more yards to the Clarendon 6 before he was hauled down.

Bill Pounds carried through the line for 3 yards, and then Jones went over to score. The Cyclone was set back 5 yards on a penalty on the first try for extra point. Pounds carried from 8 yards out, negotiated most of the distance, but fell short of the line. The score was 20-0.

The Cyclone kicked off and Clarendon took over on the 39. The Bronchos were again held to a minus-9 yards in three plays, and punted to the Cyclone 30 where Pounds took the ball and ran 25 yards to the Clarendon 45.

Wright hit End Gailey for 9 yards, and Jones carried for 8 to the Clarendon 28. The Cyclone was penalized 15 yards, and then on the third down, lost the ball on a fumble. Clarendon took over on their 27; were held, and punted to the Cyclone 42.

Memphis threw one incomplete pass, and on the second down, the Bronchos intercepted a pass, and returned it to the Memphis 28.

Four plays later the Bronchos were still at the same spot on the field, and the Cyclone took over on their 27. A 5-yard penalty kept them in a hole, so a quick kick of 54 yards off the toe of Pounds gave Clarendon the ball on their own 20.

Coach Lambert began substituting frequently during this stage of the game. The Bronchos made 4 yards and then a pass to Robinson gained 20 more to the 46. Cearley picked up 16 yards on the next play, and QB McAnear made 15 more on the next to move the ball to the Cyclone 23.

Three plays netted Clarendon 4 yards, and then on the fourth down, a pass was completed to deep in Cyclone territory but a red flag thrown for an ineligible receiver down field nullified the play. One play later, Memphis took over the ball on their 37. Carries by Peters and Stargel

SLIPPERY HALF BACK — Pictured above HB Doug Peters shows part of the shifting ability which enabled him to avoid two would-be tacklers and turn what looked like a 3 yard loss into a 5 yard gain, in the closing minutes of the Memphis-Clarendon game Friday night. Clarendon's No. 25, Jerry Elmore was unable to tackle Peters. Also shown are QB Perry Wright, No. 10 and HB Jack Stargel. Peters carried the ball 10 times for 76 yards and scored one TD.

County Sports

By Bill Combs

Coach Don Lambert's Cyclones are preparing for another tough game in District competition this week. One of the big question marks facing the squad is whether their big tackle, Dale Sexton, will be able to see action Friday night or not. Sexton was in bed last week with a sinus infection, and did not play in the Clarendon game. He was not in school Tuesday; however, reports were that he was better. On defense, Sexton was replaced last week by Donnie Bridges, a freshman, who did a good job, Coach Lambert said. On offense, Dale's stand-in was James Carroll, a 210-pound defensive specialist. An addition to the squad, who may see some action Friday night, is Make Crow who has been out of the workouts for several weeks with a broken wrist.

What about the Lefors Pirates?

They are considered fast, hit hard and don't mind getting penalized. They drew 231 yards in penalties against Canadian last week. They depend on their speed and hustle to win the games, and have a reputation of getting up for the big boys. They tied White Deer 6 to 6 and lost to Stinnett 14-12. The club has a tough defense although Clarendon scored more points (20) against them than any other team they have played. They defeated Clarendon 22-20. The only shut-out they have had this season was against Wellington, in a 14-0 game on a wet field.

What's riding on the game? The Cyclone must win this one to have any chance at representing district. However, the Lefors team has not lost a district game and wants this one, as well as the McLean game, so they will have a clear District title. McLean at this point, does not have a downhill slide to the crown. They will play Clarendon at Clarendon Friday night and then play host to Lefors. Either one of these teams are capable of defeating them.

In the three-team, District 9-B race, Matador is a strong favorite with Turkey picked a strong second. The Bear Cubs and the Turks will play Friday night at Estel-line. Turkey will be favored in the game, but Estel-line has the advantage of playing host. Don Guest, the Turks' outstanding performer, is on crutches. However, the Turks dealt Boys Ranch a sound defeat without him two weeks ago. The Turks will play Matador next Friday night.

In eight-man football, the Lakeview Eagles have a cinch on third place in District; and if they can defeat Booker at Booker Friday night, they will win second, behind Miami, who defeated them 14-0. The Eagles defeated Darrouzett last Friday. The game at Booker will conclude the season for the Eagles.

MINUTE MEDITATION

Our Father, and our God, help us to be loyal in heart and brave in spirit. Protect us from sin and keep us pure that we may be true men of God.

Help us to love one another as you have loved us and give us strength to our utmost need.

Give us faith to move the mountains, a faith that glows in word and deed.

Make us to live in the truth, to honor all men, to love the brotherhood with a pure heart fervently.

Teach us to fear God and keep his commandments and do good to all men as we have opportunity.

For no man can live to himself nor die to himself and none goes his way alone; for all that we do for others shall be done for us, and whether we live or die, we are the Lord's.

Grant that we may seek after the living God and let us not be so satisfied with the stream of life that we forget the Fountain.

Lead us in paths of righteousness and deliver us from sin and corruption, and may our love for thee ever be a living fire, through Christ Jesus.

-Cecil Hadaway

Chevrolet Will Celebrate It's 50th Anniversary

Potts Chevrolet In Business Here For 33 Years

Potts Chevrolet Company will join Chevrolet Motor Division and dealers over the nation Friday, Nov. 3, in observance of the 50th anniversary of the company.

According to Tomie M. Potts and Homer W. Tucker, owners of the local dealership, a week-long observance will be featured. Area residents are invited to visit the Potts Chevrolet Company during the period.

Also, the occasion marks 33 years of selling and servicing Chevrolet cars and trucks by the Memphis firm.

Early Beginning

Chevrolet, after overcoming early hardships, has become the world's best-selling car. The company started in an old garage building in Detroit with shoe-string financing, and sold less than 25,000 cars during its first five years. The company was founded by William C. Durant, a Flint businessman who in 1908 had organized the General Motors Corporation which later became General Motors Corporation. Because of financial difficulties, he lost control of his youthful consolidation, and in 1910 looked for a new vehicle with which he could regain power in the automotive industry. To this end, he organized the Chevrolet Motor Company which was incorporated on Nov. 3, 1911.

To design a car for his new company, Durant hired Louis Chevrolet, one of three French brothers who had gained worldwide fame as race drivers. Chevrolet spent two years designing a car which, with some styling modifications, was put into production in 1912 but received limited public acceptance.

Even before his 1911 experimental model had been put into production, however, Louis Chevrolet left the company to return to his first love of racing.

The first Chevrolet plant was a small barn-like garage on West

Grand Boulevard in Detroit. With employment of a few hundred people, the plant turned out 2,999 cars during its first year of operation in 1912.

The year 1913 began a period of accelerating popularity for Chevrolet cars and expansion of plant facilities to accommodate the increasing demand.

During this same year, Durant merged Chevrolet with the Little Motor Car Company of Flint and moved his Detroit operations to the Flint Wagon Works. A second assembly plant was also leased in New York City in 1913.

Chevrolet became a part of General Motors in 1918 and embarked upon a new era of further growth and expansion.

Results of a survey taken of all General Motors properties in 1920 by a top firm of industrial engineers came a recommendation that Chevrolet be liquidated because it "could not hope to compete in its field." Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., then GM vice president in charge of operations and later long-time GM president and board chairman, argued strongly against the recommendation. He won his point with GM President Pierre S. du Pont and Chevrolet was saved.

By 1930, Chevrolet had won industry leadership in passenger car sales, spurred by the introduction of a modern six-cylinder, 46-horsepower engine in 1929. This was an exclusive which it enjoyed in its field for four years.

During the next three decades, it relinquished this leadership only three times—in 1935, 1957 and 1959.

In trucks, Chevrolet has held continuous sales leadership since 1938.

During its 50-year history, Chevrolet has built more than 45 million cars and trucks for both domestic and foreign distribution. It took Chevrolet nearly 12 years to produce its first million vehicles. Today it takes about five and one-half months of regular operations.

Over the years, Chevrolet has pioneered a host of engineering improvements in the low-price field, bringing within reach of the CHEVROLET AND HIS CAR — Famous race driver Louis Chevrolet displays his experimental 1911 car which went into production in 1912.
