Cotton Harvesting Now Stands At 60,363 Bales

Hall County cotton harvesting continued at a fast clip this week as the total ginning figure climbed to 60,363 bales, according to a telephone survey Thursday morning.

Most of the gins reported that they were a day or two behind and there is an estimated 2,000 bales on gin yards in the county.

Last year at this time there had been 43,000 bales ginned and icy weather had brought the harvest to a halt.

It is reported that most of the cotton is harvested south of Red River and in the Turkey area. However, there is still quite a lot of harvesting underway in the Lakeview area.

The cotton classing office in Memphis has classed 164,397 bales as of Wednesday night, according to Kermit Voelkel, officer in charge, and expected to reach the 170,000 bale figure by Thursday evening. Last year at this time they had classed 130,000 samples.

So far they are about three days behind with about 13,000 samples not classed. Wednesday the office received 5,000 samples and expects to receive them at the rate of 4,000 to 5,000 per day, if the weather continues to be fair, Voelkel said.

At present there are eight classers working in the office. Recent additions include William Brasher, state senator from Mississippi and from the Greenwood office. Another new classer is Leonard McNair, also of Greenwood.

Other new employees in the office include Sandra Poff of Hedley, Wanda Webster, Jerrie Nabers, Edwina Duncan, Finas Allen, all of Estelline, and Josie Hutchins of Estelline.

This week 41 per cent of the cotton was white as compared with 21 per cent last week, and 56 per cent was light spot as compared to 69 per cent last week.

As far as staple length is concerned, 95 per cent is in the 15-16 to 31-32 category. The micro-reading of the cotton dropped a little, the officer pointed out, but stated that it was a reflection of cotton from the entire 12-county classing area and not of the cotton from the Memphis trade territory. The cotton in this immediate area is continuing to hold up well.

Micronaire readings for this past week were as follows: 2.7 to 3.0, 13 per cent; 3.1 to 3.5, 37 per cent; 3.6 to 4.0, 38 per cent; 4.1 to 4.5, 11 per cent; 4.6 to 5.0, 1 per cent.

Some Parasites Found In Quail From County

Since the opening of quail season last weekend, several reports have been circulated here that birds have been found with parasites embedded in their muscles.

Walter Hicks, local game warden, stated that the state specialists had found some of the parasites last year in the counties south of here, but as yet have not been able to definitely determine the infestation or to what extent it might be harmful to humans if eaten.

The parasite at first is probably too small to be seen but later grows to a size about an eighth of an inch long and can be found in the muscle of the bird, forming a cyst.

Local doctors stated that they did not think that eating the meat would be harmful if it were cooked well done, but, as one said, "I'm just not hungry for quail this year."

The parasite may be similar to that found in pork.

Oklahoma Officers Dismiss Probe In Welcher Death

According to a report last week in the Quannah Tribune-Chief, Oklahoma officials have completed the investigation of the death of J. J. Welcher of Memphis.

"As far as we are concerned, no crime was committed in Oklahoma," Jackson County Attorney Loys Criswell of Altus told the Quannah paper last week.

Criswell made the statement in dismissing the investigation into the death of J. J. Welcher of Memphis.

"Our investigation revealed to our satisfaction that no crime was committed in regard to Welcher's death in Oklahoma," he said, "if any crime was committed, it was committed in Texas."

Welcher allegedly was injured or beaten in an affray at the Cowshed Tavern, across the Red River eight miles north of Quannah, according to persons there and a Childress man who had accompanied him to the tavern.

Chief of Police Alvin Maddox of Childress told the Childress Index, "We have gone as far as we can go here, and if further official action and investigation takes place, if any complaints or charges are filed, or an arrest made, it will have to take place in Oklahoma."

County Cotton Allotment Is Set At 101,573

The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office here announced this week that the Hall County 1962 cotton allotment is 101,573 acres.

This is 2950 acres less than the allotment this year of 104,523. The individual farm allotments were mailed Monday, Dec. 4.

The 1962 allotment for individual farms was determined by the application of a county factor which gave each producer 96.89 of his 1961 allotment.

The final 1961 cotton allotment was 105,453 acres. This included 600 acres released by other counties to be used by Hall County farmers in 1961 and 336 acres transferred in permanently from adjoining counties.

All cotton producers were urged to vote Tuesday, Dec. 12, in the annual cotton referendum.

Annual Delphian Christmas Tour Of Homes To Be Held Sunday

The Tour of Homes Decorated for Christmas, sponsored each year by the Delphian Club, will be held Sunday afternoon, Dec. 10, from 2 until 5 o'clock, Mrs. Cyril Keith, president, has announced.

Tickets are now on sale and may be purchased from any member of the club. The tour is open to the public, and all those who enjoy Christmas decorations are invited to attend.

Those who plan to make the tour are asked to call first at the home of Mrs. Mildred Stephens, 403 South Sixth Street. Other homes included in the tour are Mrs. Lee Thornton, Mrs. Carl Wood, Mrs. W. C. Dickey, Mrs. A. W. Howard and Mrs. Olton Pate.

Theme of the tour this year is "The Spirit of Christmas."

Home decorations will feature many new, interesting and unique ideas this year, Mrs. Stephens, reporter for the club, said.

"This is a tour you will want to make and one that you will thoroughly enjoy," she added.

"You will want to see the turkey breast sleigh with tiny white reindeer and silver glitter, the aluminum tree with red balls, a bit of driftwood for candleholders emphasized by silver poinsettia, a miniature tree some three feet tall bought in 1927 with candleholders attached, and the hand-made candles and unusual candleholders made from old light fixtures that are now extinct.

"Or, perhaps you would enjoy seeing the white felt cloth with sequins too numerous to count, the centerpiece of poinsettias surrounded by candles, or the tooth-pick tree and a clown fashioned by an 11-year-old girl.

"Then, there will be the religious scenes including a miniature manger scene, and hanging on a plain wall a beautiful Madonna.

At another home the children have decorated a tall green tree topped by an angel with silver reflector and ornaments of long streamer-like curls of foil made from frozen pie-tins.

"At the home of Mrs. Dickey, stamp albums will be on display and will be especially interesting to men who make the tour. Included will be the interesting album, 'Israel, the Land of the Bible,' an almost complete collection of registered covers, and her Christmas stamp album.

"At the spacious country home of Mrs. A. W. Howard, tasty refreshments will be served and the home of Mrs. Dickey will be the scene for the club tea.

"We hope that you will make the tour this year. The above-mentioned are just a few of the highlights that await our guests. There will be many more clever ideas featured in home decor for Christmas," Mrs. Stephens said.

Record Set Straight on Missile Firing

During the last months there has been some comment in government circles to the effect that the Navy's Polaris missiles, fired from submarines, had not been as accurate as would be desired. The unofficial reports in circulation said that four out of every ten firings missed the targets by wide margins in tests conducted last spring.

Navy Secretary John B. Connally set the record straight last week in a speech during the commissioning exercises for the new nuclear-powered aircraft carrier Enterprise at Newport News, Va. He told those present that "in the last 10 consecutive firings from our submerged Polaris submarine the Navy has chalked up the fantastic score of 10 out of 10 perfect shots. These 10 shots went down range considerably more than 1200 miles to land squarely on their targets with accuracies that exceeded our expectations by far."

At present the U. S. has six Polaris submarines carrying 96 missiles with the fleet, and 23 more nuclear-powered submarines under construction.

We know very little about the art of warfare but it would seem to the casual observer that the submarine may be the best defensive weapon in the years ahead. During the last major war submarines played a large part in both defense and offense. If you doubt this statement just ask some of the sailors who had to fight against the silent, unseen foe. And the capability of the sub has been greatly increased with the addition of nuclear power so that they can stay under water for unlimited periods and now even fire a missile without coming up to the surface and exposing themselves. In the new age of great devastation above the surface of land and water, the dark depths of the sea may be one of the best places in which to invest our money. Because with a fleet of hidden launching pads, no aggressor could ever be safe from our striking power, even if he could destroy all of our airbases and missile launching sites.

In all of our defense efforts we must continue to be on the lookout for places where improvement could be made, but on the other hand there seems to have been lately a fad of criticism by a lot of people who speak whereof they know nothing. Sometimes it is a lot easier to criticize than to investigate and really report on the actual facts.

What Other Editors Say

Takes a Heap 'a Givin'

Poet Edgar A. Guest once said in his famous poem, "It takes a heap o' livin' to make a house a home . . ."

And it apparently takes a heap of giving to make an average American, if we are to judge from statistics recently gathered.

American citizens in 1938 contributed the phenomenal amount of $7.4 billion to various philanthropic purposes. This did not include other billions that were extracted from these same Americans by the federal government and shipped around the globe on an equally impressive philanthropic program called foreign aid.

Americans lead the world, in fact lead world history, in the matter of giving of their resources. This generous nature, nurtured in a Christian and democratic society, is part of our heritage.

Of course, sometimes giving becomes a chore instead of a joy. The housewife who is called upon to canvass her block with her "worker's kit" for contributions and pledges sometimes wonders if it is worth while.

The businessman, whose door gets quite a workout during fall drive season, often wonders if there is not some answer. All causes are generally good causes, some better than others, of course. It is hard to give to everything and harder to work as a solicitor in every drive.

Cities with United Funds have worked out an efficient system whereby a citizen can make an annual pledge, and in the good old American custom, pay it by the month.

Here in Perryton, we have just completed some major drives, including the Boy Scout, Girl Scout, and Red Cross. At the same time, our churches are seeking more funds and two major denominations are in the midst of building fund campaigns.

Are we over-giving? We think not. Despite the impressive total figure cited by the giving statistics of this nation, we doubt if anyone in America actually "give until it hurts" unless they happen to have a very low pain threshold in the pocketbook vicinity.

It is a tribute to the vast wealth, productivity, and unique character of this nation that it can give $7.4 billion to various charity projects at home and at the same time keep up half of the world with tax money.

Hay Gin

Down in East Texas where the boll weevil has won out over the cotton farmer, there is considerable activity around the old, rusting gins.

Believe it or not, but they are bailing hay! The gin's bale press can put 10 to 12 regular bales of hay into a single bale. They can ship three times as much hay to South Texas and other market areas in this manner. Besides farmers figure they can store more hay in less expensive barns.

With 16,000 acres of Coastal Bermuda hay in the county, the farmers figured if they couldn't beat 'em, they'd join 'em. So far, they haven't run into any hay weevils.

I Give You Texas

By Boyce House

Life as editor of a small daily in a West Texas town in the 1920's had its lighter side. After working up into the night Saturday, in order to get out the Sunday issue of the Eastland Daily Oil Belt News, there was the luxury of sleeping late and then having as the first meal of the day the six-course dinner (seventy-five cents) at 1 o'clock at the Majestic Cafe.

After consuming the feast in leisurely fashion, I would walk to Connelee Park in the edge of town to see a baseball game. Our town had a good team, made up mainly of oil field workers, with a sprinkling of players who had professional experience, though now slowed down from age.

The star slugger was "Big Boy" Davis, owner of a bakery; and the ace pitcher was Rawley Fairbairn, electrical shop proprietor. Fairbairn was a "elippery elm" (pronounced "el-um") pitcher and when he moistened the ball, neither the batter nor catcher and, for that mater, not even the pitcher himself, had any idea where the ball would go.

There was a leather-lunged Eastland fan who was good at "riding" players on the visiting team. He carried a baseball bat, which had the effect of discouraging others from taking a swing at him and when anyone tried to make a retort, he thumped the bat on the floor and drowned out the other's words.

The summer sunlight was dazzling and the heat was intense in the daytime but it was cool at night. It was in late September that I made an acquaintance with a Texas "Norther." Attired in a summer suit, I was watching a baseball game with great enjoyment when, all at once, I realized I was freezing. The temperature had dropped thirty degrees in fewer minutes than that and we fans built bonfires and shiveringly watched the last four innings. Chilled though we were, it never occurred to us to leave.

We can remember when the country's crime problems were solved in the highchair instead of the electric chair.

DRY RUN . . . This 50-ft. houseboat stands on dry land on Bruce Catlin's St. Paul, Minn., farm. When the Catlins bought the farm, they just brought along their houseboat.

ridge type terrace is the standard terrace. Terraces must be laid out with proper interval so that they can handle the normal rainfall. The soil and the slope of the land are two other important items to consider when planning a terrace system. It is almost impossible to hold or maintain terraces on land that is too steep or too sandy. Where land is too steep or sandy, it should be put back into permanent vegetation, such as native grass.

As most everyone knows, one broken terrace can ruin a whole system of terraces. When a terrace breaks, the next terrace below will have to handle more water than it was designed for, causing it to break. This usually starts a chain reaction that breaks the rest of the terraces to the bottom of the slope.

The proper maintenance of a terrace system is just as important at the original construction. All farming operations should be performed parallel to the terraces. All low places in the terrace ridge which may occur as a result of excessive settling or from pulling equipment across the terraces should be regularly built up. Terraces should be plowed up each year to maintain their effective height and cross section.

Your local Soil Conservation Service technicians, assisting the District, are available to assist you in planning, laying out terrace systems, and in the maintenance of existing systems.

Hall County Soil Conservation District News

The Supervisors of the Hall County Soil Conservation District want to remind the cooperators of the District that with fall harvest of crops well under way, it is time to plan in the construction of new terraces or repairing their old terraces.

A good terrace system has many advantages, some of which are: increased yields, control of water erosion, conservation of moisture, and permanent guide lines for contour farming.

In order for a terrace system to be efficient it must first be planned properly. All outside water has to be taken care of before installing a terrace system. Then terraces should be built to specifications. In this area the level,

Cowboys used to call a sheep camp a "maniac den", believing that anyone who would herd sheep must be "more or less crazy."

The term "nester", for a range settler, originated when the homesteader cleared a patch of brush and stacked it in a circular form to protect his feed patch from range cattle. It looked like a giant bird's nest.

ods for manufacturing all-cotton stretch yarn and fabrics have been developed, according to Dr. C. H. Fisher, who heads the Department's Southern Utilization and Development Division, New Orleans.

He listed the methods as slack mercerization of fabric to impart specific amounts of stretch; back-twisting resin-treated yarns, which cause them to take the shape of tiny helical coil springs and crimping yarns first made thermoplastic by chemical treatment.

The first method is now undergoing industrial evaluation by one company for use in plastic-coated automobile upholstery and interior linings. Other manufacturers plan to evaluate the three methods in making fabrics for knit bathing suits and dresses, hosiery, foundation garments, sweaters, knit skirts and furniture slipcovers.

Consumer demand for high-stretch fabrics is increasing rapidly, and imparting stretch to cotton can help increase consumption of this agricultural commodity, Dr. Fisher said.

These developments are a result of the broad program conducted by the USDA's Agricultural Research Service to find new uses and new markets for cotton.

MINUTE MEDITATION

Illness is the unwelcome guest that will sooner or later knock on every door and go uninvited into each house.

He lays his fingers of disease and decay upon the human body; he lashes and rakes it with the pains of every ailment.

Illness attacks the body where ever he chooses; he leaves it indisposed and stops most of its activity by laying his infirmity upon it.

Illness is a ruthless aggressor who takes away our good health, the soundness of our body, the strength of our manhood and the vigor of our youth.

Pliney said, "When a man is laboring under the pain of any sickness, it is then that he recollects that there is a God, and he himself is but a man."

George Bernard Shaw said, "I enjoy convalescence. It is the part that makes the illness worthwhile."

Illness, then, does have at least this point; he slows us down and even stops us sometimes. He makes us take note of this world that it is passing away. Seeing the insecurity of his life, man longs for the life beyond where sickness cannot touch him.

—Cecil Hadaway

Memphis Cyclone Basketball Loses Close Game Tuesday At Wellington By Score of 42-40

Memphis Cyclone basketball team dropped a hard-fought Wellington Tuesday night at the Cyclone home court. The Cyclone led 42 to 40.

The Cyclone took the lead early in the second half and had a 12 to 10 lead at the end of the first quarter. The Cyclone was ahead 19 to 17. The Cyclone led 29 to 27 at the end of the second quarter. The Cyclone was ahead by four points when the Cyclone scored three points in the third quarter. Wellington scored three points in the fourth quarter. Wellington player tossed a 20-foot shot, and it went through the basket.

Coach Bob Martin said the Cyclone man for Memphis scored with 13 points. The Cyclone led the scoring for the game with 14 points. Wellington hit but eight free throws during the night," Coach Bob Martin said. "However, we had an average of 38 per cent from the floor, including a cold first half. The boys played their best game of the season so far, working a lot smoother, and they fouled only eight times during the game."

The Memphis B team lost to Wellington 31 to 27, after being behind 23-12 at the end of the first half. The boys played a good second half, but could not quite make up the difference in scores before the time ran out, the coach said.

"We will be on the road from now until Dec. 21, play at the Shamrock tournament this weekend, out at Lakeview Dec. 12, and in the Silverton tournament Dec. 12 to 16. Dec. 19 Memphis will journey to Dodson, and then Dec. 21 Silverton will play here," Martin said.

Todd, Lefors tackle; Dale Sexton, Memphis tackle; Dwight Gailey, Memphis end; Don McCool, Lefors end; Ronny Line and Scott Dunman, Lefors linebackers; Eddie Jones, Memphis cornerback; Don Woods, McLean cornerback; Jim Watson, McLean halfback; Jackie Bridges, Memphis halfback; Terry Brown, Canadian halfback.

In this great country you can still get all you want from the best filling station in the world—your own dining room.

Lakeview Loses Two Basketball Games To Quail

Tuesday night at Quail the Lakeview Eagles lost both their boys and girls games.

In the boys game the final score was Lakeview 18, Quail 44. The score at the half was 6-20 with Lakeview again on the short end. Tony Sahagun led the scoring for the Eagles with 8 points while Billy Wilson of Quail made 20 points. All of Lakeview's scoring was done with long shots.

In the girls game the score was 59-34 with Quail carrying a substantial lead throughout the entire game. At the half the score was gan to roll in the fourth quarter, sinking 14 points, but it was not enough to catch up.

High scorer for Lakeview was Winnie Nabers with 20 points. Rita Patterson led the Quail scoring with 26 points.

Lakeview will not play next week and their next game will be Dec. 19 when they meet Turkey at Lakeview in the first district tilt.

The junior high team will play Monday night, Dec. 11, at Quail, and Thursday night, Dec. 14, at Flomot.

A wise man said: You can not make a good hand out of a heel.

Memphis To Play In Shamrock Tournament

The Memphis Cyclone basketball team will journey to Shamrock this weekend where they will compete in the first of several tournaments which have been scheduled for this year.

Coach Bob Martin stated that the team would play Wheeler in the first match at 10:45 a. m. Thursday, today. If the team wins this game, they will meet the winner of the Shamrock-Wellington game Friday morning at 10:45 a. m.

However, if the Cyclone loses, then they will play the loser of the Shamrock-Wellington game in the consolation bracket at 2:15 p. m. Friday.

If Memphis wins their first two games, then the team will play Saturday morning, and if they win this game they will play Saturday night.

Most of us don't trust people for two reasons: First, because we don't know them; and second, because we do.

News from the Lesley Baptist Church

Howdy, Folks.

I. Here is some local news from the Lesley Baptist Church. Monday night we had quite a turnout from Lesley to go to the Baptist Church of Hedley and "M" night. "M" stands for Training Union "Mobilization" night. Mrs. Bryan Adams represented us from Lesley on the program. Rev. Glenn Hickey from First Baptist Church, Wellington, delivered an inspiring message on "Lengthening . . . and Strengthening" our local churches.

II. Tuesday at 3:00 p. m. our WMS ladies met for a missions study program. All ladies are encouraged to attend WMS every Tuesday at 3:00 p. m.

III. Wednesday night at 7:00 p. m. was our monthly business and prayer meeting night. (There's power in prayer.)

IV. Thursday night at 7:00 p. m. is our visitation night. This is a good way to answer some of our prayers for church attendance.

V. Friday night at 7:30 p. m. we will have our Latin-American services at the Brice Baptist Church. We had 31 in attendance last week at Lesley.

VI. Last week about 25 young people plus seven sponsors had a good time together on a hayride-roasting weiners, playing volleyball. Mel Roy Cofer drove the pickup and really gave us a good ride although I thought we were on a roller coaster a couple of times. I'm glad that I had gone "Snipe Hunting" previously because some of the folks wanted the preacher to hold a "gunny" sack while everyone else went home (er, I mean went to chase the snipes into the gunny sack). Ha!

Well folks, come to see us next Sunday. We had 29 in Sunday School and 35 in Training Union this week. If you see something missing from this "Ch...ch" that means UR.

Dec. 3 to 9 Designated As Beef Week Here

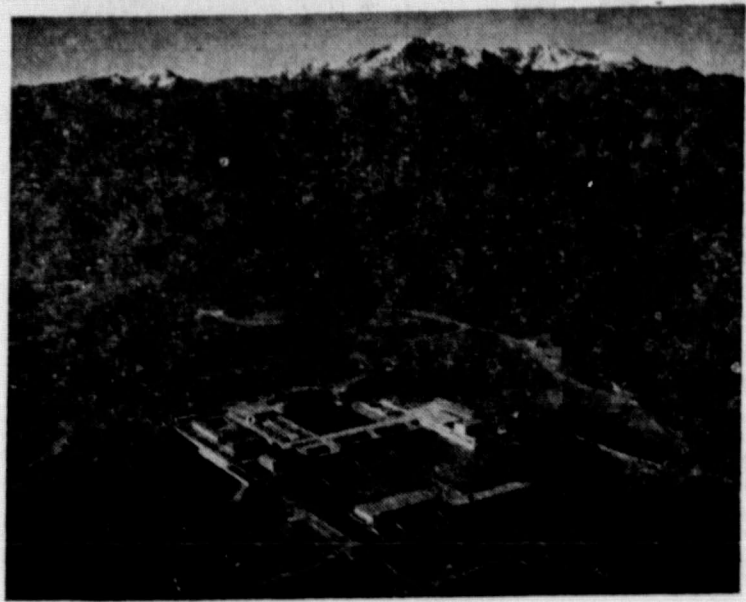

The week of December 3-9 was designated Beef Week in Memphis this week when Mayor H. J. Howell signed a formal proclamation paying tribute to "the many significant contributions made by the state's cattle industry to the welfare of all Texans."

Mayor Howell presented the proclamation to F. A. Finch, who is Texas Beef Council chairman for Hall County.

"Historically, the cattle industry in Texas is older than Texas itself. Economically, the cattle industry has set the pace for Texas, and continues to be a leading growth factor in the state's economy, constantly seeking new techniques for building an even more rewarding future for all our citizens," the proclamation read.

In proclaiming Beef Week, the Mayor urged "appreciation and recognition from our citizens for the many continuing contributions of this great industry."

AMERICANA College Notebook United States Air Force Academy

Briefly stated, the mission of the United States Air Force Academy is to educate, train and motivate young men for lifetime careers as Air Force officers. In more detail, the mission is to provide instruction, experience and motivation to each cadet so that he will graduate with the knowledge, character and qualities of leadership essential to his progressive development as a career officer in the United States Air Force.

Cadets who complete the four-year course of study at the Academy north of Colorado Springs, Colorado, graduate with Bachelor of Science degrees and commissions as second lieutenants in the Regular Air Force.

The Air Force Academy was authorized by the 83rd Congress, in 1954. The site near Colorado Springs was chosen after a commission visited proposed sites in 22 states. In 1955, the Academy was established at an interim site on Lowry Air Force Base in Denver. Three small classes of 300 cadets entered the Academy during the first three years of its existence, and another class of 454 entered in the summer of 1957. The first full-sized class of approximately 750 cadets entered in the summer of 1958, when the Cadet Wing moved to the new site. By 1962, the Air Force Cadet Wing will reach its authorized strength of 2,512, the same as the Corps of Cadets at West Point.

The four-year Academy curriculum is designed to provide a foundation for further development in any of the numerous career fields open to Air Force officers. It is neither an engineering nor a liberal arts program but combines certain elements of both.

The required academic program totals 144 1/2 semester hours and is balanced almost evenly between the basic and applied sciences, and the humanities and social sciences. However, cadets with exceptional ability or previous college training may participate in the Curriculum Enrichment Program, established at the Academy in 1957. Under the enrichment program, cadets may broaden their knowledge or specialize in a subject area by validating courses previously taken, and by taking overload courses above the prescribed semester load. Thus, they are free to take substitute courses offered in the enrichment program.

proof decorations also can be used.

Mrs. Manar is asking that the gifts be sent to the hospital as soon as possible so that they may be processed in plenty of time for Christmas.

Cash donations will also be accepted gratefully by the Volunteer Council. The money will be used to purchase last-minute items for the patients' Christmas. Checks should be made out to: Volunteer Services Council of the Wichita Falls State Hospital.

Sound and About

By HELEN COMBS

Highlight of Sunday afternoon will be the annual Christmas tour of homes. The tour is sponsored each year by the Delphian Club. We have thoroughly enjoyed each year and are looking forward to Sunday. If you have not made this as one of your plans, get into the spirit of the holiday season.

Those who are interested in Christmas decor, many interesting ideas can be found at the Dumas homes. Tickets may be secured from any member of the Dumas Club.

Quarter-final football games in the order of the day the past week. Dumas citizens turned out 100 per cent, or so it seemed, to follow their team to Childress. Cafes here were crowded at the noon hour . . . and several former Memphis residents, now of Dumas, visiting about town. They were Mrs. Alvin Massey and Abbie Louise, Mrs. J. C. Aris and Mrs. Aris and David.

and Mrs. H. H. Lindsey are on a dashing one-day trip to Memphis Sunday in order to attend the Christmas Cantata at the Methodist Church in which Mrs. Marilyn Heath took part.

Thinking of granddaughters that our little five-year-old and three-year-old granddaughters of Houston are going to a style show Saturday . . . Houston is just a bit far away from a dashing one-day trip!

Here at home, our four granddaughters, Debbie, is going to the new trend for baking a true modern fashion. She couldn't believe the cake we were baking one evening last week taking one out of a box!

Thanksgiving dinner with all trimmings was enjoyed Sunday though a bit late, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Wright. Dinner was postponed until Mrs. David Corley and Mrs. Gene Corley and Mrs. Don Corley of Dumas and Miss Priscilla Wright of Amarillo.

This weekend was a gala reunion for the members of the Tom Wilcox family at Quail. Capt. and Mrs. Fred Barnes and Sue, Walter and Jo arrived home after three years in Germany where Capt. Barnes was stationed with the Air Force. Meeting them here were Wilcox' three other daughters and families, Mr. and Mrs. John Coleman of Pecos, Mr. and Mrs. John Bransford and Johnny Leama of Shreveport, and Mrs. Bob Wilson, who is a student at WTSC. Capt. and Mrs. Barnes will establish residence at Quail and plan to return to Quail for the Christmas holidays.

W. L. Dugger, who lives at 1017 Brumley, said residents in the neighborhood are quite concerned about losing their pet dogs several in that neighborhood last month. Not only do they hate their pets, but they are concerned that some child in the neighborhood might come in contact with the poison. Among own-ers, German shepherds have died in a regional.

MRS. WILLIAM MOORE

Miss Barbara Mauck Becomes Bride Of William Moore in Memphis Rites

Miss Barbara Mauck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mauck, became the bride of William Moore, son of Mrs. Hazel Moore, on Saturday, Nov. 25.

Rev. V. C. Sparks, pastor of the Assembly of God Church, read the double-ring ceremony in the church parsonage.

Attending the wedding were the parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Greeson.

For her wedding the bride chose a frock of pink lace with matching accessories accented with a corsage of white carnations.

The day was cold, But the bells did toll. The organ started humming, The harp started strumming, And the bells did toll.

The lovely bride Whispered, "I do"— Her husband by her side Whispered it, too. And the bells did toll.

The chaplain said, "I now pronounce you man and wife."

Hunters Reminded To Be Cautious Around Railroads

With hunters in the fields, a reminder that railroads must prohibit trespassing on their property in the interest of safety was issued by R. W. Brewer, chief special agent for the Fort Worth and Denver Railway Co., recently.

Pointing out that hunting and fishing licenses do not convey the privilege of trespassing, Brewer

GOVERNOR PROCLAIMS CHRISTMAS SEAL DAYS—Governor Dan Claitor proclaimed Christmas Seal Days in Texas from November 13 to December 25, and urged all Texans to use Christmas Seals and thus support the TB-control work of the Texas Tuberculosis Association, and county TB associations. Shown with Governor Claitor on the occasion of signing the Christmas Seal proclamation are two brothers who have a real interest in TB-control. They are Albert (right) and Alfred Flores Jr. whose grandmother, Mrs. Hilaria Munoz, has been a TB patient hospitalized in Austin for more than a year. The boys took their grandmother's picture with them to show the governor. They have lived with their grandparents since their mother's death when Albert was born.

said the ban is strictly enforced by all railroads in order to protect sportsmen and the public generally, and to prevent damage to railroad facilities from careless use of firearms.

Firing at game near telegraph, telephone and signal installations frequently results in gun shot damage to these facilities and could precipitate a major disaster on a busy rail system, since interruptions of signals and communications jeopardize the safety of train crews and passengers, the special agent stated.

If you want your progress to stop, just be totally satisfied.

Baby Sitters Require Home Safety Coaching

The baby sitter, unless selected and coached with great care, can be a real danger to the well-being of children, according to T. J. Bridges, Lone Star Gas Company manager.

Lone Star and The Memphis Democrat are co-sponsors of the 1961 Home Safety program in Memphis.

The following rules of procedure should be observed, Mr. Bridges said.

1. Be sure that the sitter is in good health.
2. Before the parents leave the house, they should see that the child is acquainted with the baby-sitter.
3. Give the sitter instruction regarding her duties. Include information on feeding, stories to be read, play routine, bathing and toilet procedures, sleeping garments, and medication.
4. Give the sitter written instruction on emergency procedures. These instructions should include the address and telephone number at which parents can be reached; the name, address and telephone number of the physician; the name, address and telephone number of the neighbor to be summoned if immediate help is needed; and the telephone numbers of the fire and police departments.
5. Acquaint the baby-sitter with features of the home. Coach her on precautions that should be taken to avoid cuts, burns, and falls. Point out the safe play areas and the danger spots within the house. Show her how to turn on and off the range and where to find light switches. Warn her of dangerous habits the child may have, such as a tendency to go too close to the portable fan or heater or to play with electric cords and sockets, and of the possible risk the

World Trade

The question facing this country as well as the rest of the world during the next few years will be world trade. Much has been said and written in regard to the effect that the Common Trade Bill will be one of the most important and most controversial issues in the coming Session of Congress. This is a true statement. At the present time, there is a violent revolution going on in the entire trade picture.

In any category is a two-way trade. Whether goods are sold or services, in kind, vice versa, the medium of exchange is money. It takes at least two to make a trade—be these individuals or nations.

Over the years it was the general custom for each country to stand on its own feet in dealing with others. There was a need to counteract a situation in many countries where one country could not stand against another, especially in the European area. There came a need to counteract a situation in many countries, because of the devastation created by World War II. The need to firm up economies became all the more important because of the threat of the USSR. The reconstruction of Europe, for the purpose of offsetting the development of Russia, will prove to be a two-way side in trade circles. These European countries are themselves into the OEEC, called "the Common Market." This was done in order to create a protective barrier toward a favorable inner market between the six countries by an outer tariff arrangement was designed to prevent outer interference in economic affairs of the six countries, by playing one against another but leaned to association with another group of countries including the European countries, known as "the Seven." However, as events occurred in the economic field it became apparent that England should make some association with the European Common Market. Negotiations are presently underway for the Union of the United Kingdom in the Common Market community. Although this may pose a rather difficult problem insofar as our own operations are concerned, these people are all friendly allies. Hence, an area of agreement can be found, as indicated by the Organization for Economic and Cultural Development, which includes Canada and the United States in an Atlantic community. Whatever difficulties may be encountered as between us and our friendly allies, these will be offset by the ability of the European Common Market to counter the attempts of the USSR to upset world markets.

In 1958, I addressed the Texas Service Stations Association in its statewide meeting at Amarillo and pointed out some of the situations that might be expected as soon as the Common Market got into operation. This address was made prior to the actual commencement of the Common Market activities. At that time I pointed out the need for some kind of unity in the economic battle that could be expected to be mounted by the Soviet Union. The Soviet Union had not at that time entered into measurable competition in world markets in the consumer goods area. This was due to the fact that Russian needs were absorbing its entire production and more. At that time, Russia had neither the quantity or quality of end products with which to compete in the world markets. However, it was anticipated and must now be anticipated that the USSR is making and will continue to make greater progress in both quantity and quality.

A splendid example of what can be expected from the USSR in the general world economic picture can be clearly seen by referring to the recent Soviet oil offensive. This is especially important to Texas and the Panhandle of Texas. Since 1956 the Soviet Union has increased its crude oil production by 108 per cent. During that time the United States has increased its production by 1 per cent. The United States is still the world's largest producer of oil; however, the tremendous increas-

The MEMPHIS DEMOCRAT

Former Memphian Has Book Published

Al Dewlen, who has won the second $10,000 McGraw-Hill Fiction Award on his novel, "Twilight of Honor," will be interviewed at 1:30 p. m. Monday afternoon over Channel 7, KVII-TV, Amarillo.

A resident of Amarillo, Dewlen was reared in Memphis and is a graduate of the local high school. His wife is the former Jean Lamb, daughter of Mrs. Jean Lamb of Memphis. The couple have one son, Mike.

Mr. Dewlen is the author of two previous novels, "The Night of the Tiger," and "The Bone Pickers."

A Book-of-the-Month Club selection, "Twilight of Honor" is a probing novel about a murder trial, a small town caught up in a frenzy of revenge, and one man's lonely battle for justice at any cost.

Big Jess Hutcherson, one of the richest, most generous, and best-loved men in the Texas Panhandle, is found brutally and senselessly murdered. Half a dozen witnesses can account for every move he made the afternoon before in the company of a young hitchhiker and his teen-age wife—at least until the moment the trio bought a bottle and checked in at a motel.

The stunned but infuriated townspeople organize every resource to find the killers and bring them back to what should be swift punishment. The blue-ribbon jury, chosen from among the town's best people, are mostly Jess Hutcherson's friends.

Owen Paulk, the court-appointed lawyer for the defense, has handled no trial work for five years. Organizing his case Paulk realizes with growing sense of shock that this will be a fair trial in name only.

Loathing his impossible assignment no less than the man he must defend, he is determined to fight the mockery of justice contrived by the town and save his client's life. As this rich, fascinating courtroom drama unfolds, with its many subplots and big cast of sharply drawn characters, Paulk finds his legal ethics challenged, his career weighed in the balance and his values turned upside down.

Deeper and deeper he digs into Big Jess Hutcherson's past and into the methods and motives of the prosecution until he finds himself in a strange chilling world where, to save a thug, he must ruin the lives of innocent people and destroy a fine man's reputation.

Stubbornly unearthing the grim events despite agonizing self-doubts, he must present painfully shocking evidence that draws gasps of disbelief from his courtroom and audience. Amidst growing tension and personal conflicts, he struggles with basic moral issues far more important than the fate of a brutal, mindless young criminal.

In "Twilight of Honor," Dewlen re-creates a trial and the private lives it devastates—both in the court and beyond—with unforgettable dramatic power and narrative excitement.

Burglars Hit Plaska Store Second Time

Burglars Sunday night broke into the Plaska store and took approximately $300 from the safe, Sheriff W. P. Baten Jr. stated this week.

This was the second time this fall that the store had been burglarized.

Entry was gained by removing the glass from one of the front windows, the same method which was used last time.

The money was in a safe, on which the combination does not work, and the burglars broke open a lock which was in a welded hasp on the safe door.

Missing was about $150 in change belonging to the store and about $150 in change belonging to the postal department.

HOTTEST NOVEMBER IN FORD HISTORY!

And here's what started the heat wave!

Last month more Americans bought Fords than in any November in history. The blazing success of the long Ford line was end-to-end, all across the country and up and down it, too. ■ Everywhere the people flocked into their Ford Dealers and bought smart new Falcons, and the new Falcon Squire, the glittering swift Galaxies, the famous Ford Station Wagons and the hot Thunderbirds. And they poured in to see and buy up the brand-new Fairlanes just introduced. ■ There are four magic reasons—why behind the smashing success of the long Ford line for 1962. First of all is utterly modern styling, the fresh crisp lines that are now being so widely copied by other car-makers, the smart look that dominates the industry. Second is absolute power in eleven kinds of engines, giving you anything you could want in engine options. Third is total economy—every Ford model is priced directly at your pocketbook, and every Ford, large, medium or small, gives you gasoline mileage outstanding in its class. Fourth is the service-saving concept—every Ford car is built to cut down maintenance worries and problems, with service-saving features other cars may have some day. ■ Ford leadership from Falcons to Thunderbirds is founded on trend-setting innovations. . . The hot ideas come from Ford. And at the heart of Ford success is an almost revolutionary new concept of quality . . . most serious and direct concern with the actual part-by-part quality. For the hot trends in the hot cars, for a new experience in quality, and for the best buys on the American Road, see your Ford Dealer.

PRODUCTS OF Ford MOTOR COMPANY

NOW THERE ARE FOUR CLASSES OF CARS ... AND ONLY FORD HAS ALL FOUR!

COMPACT CLASS:

FORD FALCON

This class includes cars with 106- to 114-inch wheelbase. Most popular by far (a million happy owners!) is the Ford Falcon. Falcon is America's lowest-priced* 6-passenger car, set a 25-year record for Sixes or Eights in last spring's Mobilgas Economy Run, gives you a choice of 13 models, including the Futura and new Falcon Squire wagon.

FAIRLANE CLASS:

FORD FAIRLANE

The Ford Fairlane is the first member of a new class which combines the advantages of both compact and big cars . . . you get big car room, ride and performance . . . compact savings and maneuverability. Priced below many compacts, Fairlane even rivals some in gas economy. Has twice-a-year maintenance introduced by the Galaxie.

FULL-SIZE CLASS:

GALAXIE BY FORD

The class for families who want big car comfort, performance and prestige. Value leader is the Ford Galaxie—which has every essential feature of far costlier fine cars. With the optional Thunderbird 390 V-8 engine, a Galaxie will outperform America's most expensive luxury cars. Requires servicing only twice a year, or every 6,000 miles.

LUXURY CLASS:

FORD THUNDERBIRD

The top class—cars for people who want the very finest. First of the trim-size luxury cars, the 4-passenger Thunderbird is the most distinctive car in this class. Its styling set the trend for an entire generation of cars and now finds a new elegance in the Landau. And Thunderbird's performance is just this side of flight.
