O. E. Setliff, Manager of Caprock TV System Visits Washington

O. E. Setliff, manager of the local Caprock Translator system, returned last week from Washington, D. C., where he discussed problems and possibilities of the area translator systems with the Federal Communication Committee.

Setliff had a two-hour session with Commissioner Lee and also conferred with Allen Gordon, chief of the Bureau of License and Standards.

"In the interest of improving and expanding translator service in this area, the commission suggested we organize an association which will be able to work with the commission in furthering the translator system," Setliff said.

As a result of this meeting with FCC, an area meeting was called at Wellington on Friday night and the National Association of UHF Translator System was formed and temporary officers elected.

Joe Durham of Lakeview was named president of the association; O. E. Setliff, secretary-treasurer; directors are Glen Bell of Shamrock, Dr. Jack Fox of Childress, Travis McGuire of Dodson and Orville Setliff of Turkey.

MARK F. COOPER

Mark F. Cooper Speaks To Lions, Rotary Tuesday

Mark F. Cooper of San Angelo was the guest speaker Tuesday at noon to a joint meeting of the Memphis Rotary and Lions Clubs.

Cooper, who is director of public relations for General Telephone Company of the Southwest, spoke on the problem of complacency among citizens as far as politics are concerned.

The speaker told the group that he was concerned because a great number of people do not know what they really are politically. This problem is confused even further by the various names by which political segments are called, he continued.

Cooper went on to discuss several phases of government, stating that he didn't like the price (Continued on Page Ten)

Last Thursday night the Memphis Chamber of Commerce and Hall County Board of Development held its annual banquet with Dan Eddy of Dallas as the main speaker.

W. P. Baten Jr. was installed as new president of the organization. Jack Norman will serve as vice president and Allen Dunbar as secretary.

The speaker pointed out to the group that a community cannot stand still—it is either progressing or it is going backward. The best way to help your community is to get behind the work of the chamber of commerce and accomplish these goals, he said.

In discussing the problems of communities he reminded the listeners that Dallas had no natural resources. "All we have is 700,000 people; all trying to keep selling Dallas."

The speaker also pointed out that when industry comes in to look at a town, it considers more than the physical location for the plant.

"They are going to look at your schools, churches, paving, and the other things that it takes to make a community. They are going to ask themselves, 'Is this a place where our employees will be happy?' All of these things have a great bearing on the economic development of a community."

Eddy reminded the listeners of the difference between the Sea of Galilee, which takes water in at one end and gives it out at the other, and the Dead Sea, which takes water in and hoards it. The Sea of Galilee is abundant with life and children play on its beaches while its hoarding neighbor, the Dead Sea, is exactly as its name—dead. "Towns are like this, too," he said. "It takes a certain amount of giving to keep your town alive."

"The only difference in a rut and a grave is the depth," he said. The speaker urged those in attendance to go home and dedicate (Continued on Page Ten)

Grandson of Local Resident Dies In Plane Crash

Word was received here Wednesday night that Robert Glen Roden, 27-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Roden of Dallas and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Mabry and Mrs. Mattie Roden of Memphis, was killed in a plane crash Wednesday about 6 p. m. near Dallas.

Robert was born in Memphis Aug. 2, 1934. The family moved from here when he was about four years old. He finished high school in Dallas where his family has resided for the past 14 years.

Mr. Roden was a student at the University of Texas at Austin for two years before entering the Navy and was trained at the Naval Air Station at Pensacola, Fla.

After over two years active service he again became a student at the University of Texas and was in his senior year.

Since his separation from the service he had remained in the Naval Reserve and at the time of the accident he was making a routine cross-country flight.

He was married to Marilyn Ruth McKay in Richmond, Va., in 1959.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Roden and sister Janice of Dallas; and daughter, Kathy McKay of Austin; and other relatives and a host of friends.

Army Engineers Propose New Experiments on Estelline Spring

Sunday a story came out of Washington, and was carried in one of the area daily papers concerning the work on the salt hole at Estelline.

The story stated that the Army Engineers are trying for a go-ahead on experiments to curb salt water pollution of Southwestern streams, Sen. Robert Kerr, Democrat, of Oklahoma, said Saturday.

If the program is authorized and successful in Texas, it could salvage up to 36 million acre feet of water a year for use in the Red and Arkansas River basins, the senator was quoted as saying.

The Rivers and Harbors Board has been given an interim survey report by the Tulsa District engineer of the Army Engineers recommending congressional authorization for experimental construction work in two Red River basin areas.

The estimated cost is $300,000. One project would provide an earth dike around the Estelline spring one-half mile east of the town.

The spring is located on property owned by the Mill Iron Ranch and is well known to most area residents for its salt content.

The second proposed project would be a concrete standpipe at a smaller spring near Guthrie, along the South Fork of the Wichita River.

The tests would continue for about six months or until results become apparent.

"The purpose of the experimental work is to test the merits of two different methods of chloride control and management for reducing chlorides, which, if found successful, would have obvious cost advantages over other alternate methods and would be applicable to other similar situations," the engineers said.

Don McBride, an aide to Sen. Kerr, chairman of the Senate Public Works subcommittee, said the Army Engineers and U. S. Public Health Service are cooperating in a broad investigation of the salt pollution problem in the Arkansas - Red River basins.

SALT HOLE — The salt water hole at Estelline has changed appearance considerably during the last several months as the Army Engineers and the U. S. Public Health Service has been carrying out their program of investigation of salt pollution in the Arkansas-Red River basins. The small dike and spillway above is part of the work which has been carried out. In the water above can be seen at the right top the "old diving board" constructed by enterprising kids in years past.

Money Taken From Safe At Estelline School

Burglars last Friday night broke into the Estelline school and took over $280 from the safe, Sheriff W. P. Baten Jr. reported this week.

The burglars entered the high school building by breaking out the glass in the front door and unlocking it. They then broke out the glass in Supt. JoEd Cupell's office; and, when they could not open the door this way, they pried it open with a bar.

They then knocked the knob off the safe and punched the pin, allowing it to be opened. The money taken was in the safe. The burglars also entered the principal's office by prying open the door and opened a filing cabinet there. However, there was no money in the cabinet.

All of the cabinets and desks in the offices had apparently been searched, but there was no damage to the building, other than what was done to gain entrance.

Sheriff Baten stated that it looked like this was the work of someone familiar with safes.

SAFE JOB — Last Friday night the safe at the Estelline school was broken open with approximately $280 taken, according to Supt. JoEd Cupell. Entrance to the building was gained by breaking a window in the front door.

A New Chamber of Commerce Year

The annual banquet last Thursday night of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce and Hall County Board of Development was the kickoff event for the new year of work. The installation of Hall County Sheriff W. P. Baten Jr. as the new president of the organization points to the overall area development spirits of the group.

During the past years the local group has worked toward the betterment of the community and area on various projects, and hopes to continue, with renewed efforts, toward the goal of better economic achievements in the future. We must go forward because there is no standing still. There is no such thing as holding your own; you either gain or lose.

Memphis has made many accomplishments in the past and has many things to be proud of. We have one of the nicest parks anywhere in this area. Our schools, and churches are a credit to our community. The location of the cotton classing office here by the Rolling Plains Cotton Producers, Inc. has made this the center for a 12-county area. In addition of the General Telephone Co. division office.

Good as these things are, we cannot sit back now and be complacent about the future. There are still many other things which must be accomplished before a general overall development plan is underway. The City Hall, to mention only one project, has arrived at a ripe old age, as buildings go, and sometime in the months and years to come will have to be replaced. We need more coordination for the development of our natural agricultural products as well as an overall plan for the continued economic development of this county.

These are some of the problems facing the Chamber of Commerce and Hall County Board of Development as the members begin the new year. They can be solved only by the cooperation of all of the people. There is nothing too big to lift if there are enough hands trying.

Skip Row Planting

The Agriculture Department recently announced a two-in-two-out policy to apply to cotton for the coming year which may be of considerable economic value to this area. Under the new policy only that land actually planted in cotton will be counted toward the allotment.

The two-rows-in-two-rows-out type planting can be advantageous in this county, especially in years of scant rainfall, most farmers say.

However, it is possible that there could be one drawback to the system. If a farmer plants 50 acres of cotton over 100 acres, leaving the in-between rows vacant, and as a result plants less grain sorghum, it might mean that in the long run he might end up with less grain sorghum history. The situation will probably not be the same on all farms and is also subject to whatever changes the Department of Agriculture might decide upon, but there is the above mentioned possibility.

New 10-Cent Charge
Well, it's official, the post office department will charge 10c for unclaimed 2nd class mail or for notices of change of addresses that are delivered back to the sender. Guess that's all right, since they've already put it into effect. I just have a word or two to say about it. First, I don't mind paying the 10c if that is actually what it takes to carry my notice back to me to change a subscriber's address. But I don't sure resent waiting a month before being notified of the move and then getting two or three of the things in a space of a day or two. I intend to get my dime back on the second notice if it takes six months. This rate hike was supposedly to help take care of the deficit in the postal department of the U. S. I don't doubt that there is one — a large one. After seeing prices of printing the department sells to customers, I don't see how they have held it to as much of a minimum as they have, except for charging more for postal rates. At present a printed return, stamped envelope is sold to postal patrons cheaper than most printers can buy the plain envelope. I don't mind competition — just put it on an equal basis with me. Also, the department complains about first class mail costing more and more to handle. It does, because when a sack of air mail isn't full first class mail is thrown in and air mail rates are paid on it by the department, not the sender. If the sender wants that much faster service, let him pay for it. I quit, but I ain't happy!

No Farm Surplus in Russia
With the continued rise of agricultural production, here and throughout the nation, a comparison with Russian production during recent seasons is interesting, particularly in view of Premier Khrushchev's pinpointing 1970 as the year in which the Soviet Union's production will leave the United States behind.

The Real McCoys By Ace Gailey

GRANTY YOU SHOULD WALK 'TIL YOU GET INSURED WITH

Kinard-Gailey Agency

MEMPHIS, TEXAS

One of the things which impressed Premier Khrushchev when he toured the United States was our corn production. This is the basis for our superiority in the production of meats and other livestock products, the Houston Post pointed out recently. His ambition for the Soviet Union to equal or surpass our corn production has fallen short of the goal. According to the Department of Agriculture figures, Russian corn production was only 15 per cent of that of the United States.

There is no lack of farm manpower in Russia, but this is not enough. Modern farming methods must be used and on a widespread basis. There is a constant battle to meet even basic food requirements in Russia, as contrasted to the problem of surpluses here. At the present, there is nothing to indicate that agricultural production in Russia will change drastically by the 1970 target date.

Representative, 18th

of Fiscal Requirements

any years there has been concern over the lack of information available to the Congress. Regard to the fiscal requirements of the executive branch of the government. Numerous attempts have been made to organize a more effective organization to more effectively evaluate the budget requests of the several executive departments of the Federal government. At the present time the requests of each department first go through the Bureau of the Budget, which is of the Executive Office of the President. There is no question that a thorough and complete examination is made of appropriation requests by the Bureau of the Budget. These requests are made the first instance by the agency or department broken down as to the divisions of that department creating the budget it is for these people in these requests of a department to think into the future on estimates as to how much will be needed. It is generally considered that very seldom are estimates less than the actual of the department. Usually more than the actual requests, which explains why the Bureau of the Budget is able to delete or delete items. It also is remembered that a large number of experts on fiscal matters working on the Bureau of the Budget, in these items, necessarily reflect the thinking of the Presidency as to what should or should not be included in the budget and the extent of it. Hence, the Bureau of the Budget will naturally furnish additional and further supporting data for those items of expenditure particularly favored by the Presidency. When the budget finally reaches the Congress, it has been the subject of deep and exhaustive study, both as to the suggested expenditures and as to the supporting data and justification for those expenditures, representing of course the thinking of the Executive Branch of the government. It comes to Congress for appropriation of public monies to meet the requests and demands. Congress is supposed to reflect the will of the people as to the expenditures to be made. The requests of the executive departments can be increased or decreased, or completely wiped out. Usually the budget requests are measurably cut by the Congress.

The budget itself, which is sent up by the President, is usually the product of many months of work. The difficulty which Congress experiences in dealing with a budget is the fact that there is so little time between the transmittal of the budget to the Congress and the beginning of the fiscal year to which it is applicable. For instance, the budget presented in the month of January each year must be acted upon not later than June 30th of that same year. This means that the Congress has at most approximately five and a half months to go over the matters therein contained. It must also be remembered that the folks in the Executive Branch of the government preparing these budgets and justifying them have this as a primary duty. The Members of Congress have thousands of duties, among which is the necessity to study and act on the appropriations bills. The Appropriations Committee of the Congress has 50 members. These are divided into Subcommittees, to which are assigned different phases of the budget requests. There is a very limited number of employees assigned to each Subcommittee to work with it on the subject. The problem resolves itself to this: we in the Congress are charged with completely evaluating in five and a half months with a very minute number of employees, comparatively speaking, the appropriations requests that have been studied and justified over a period of approximately 18 months by thousands of employees. You can readily see the proportion of the difficulties which we encounter in trying to do this.

I have long advocated the solution of this problem by the creation of a Committee on the Budget to constantly and continuously work in complete coordination with the several executive departments and agencies in the preparation of the budget in the first instance. This will enable the representatives of the people to have full and accurate information on all subjects at a moment's notice and would, in my opinion, provide the mechanics by which Federal expenditures could be measurably cut quickly. I would dare say that

Cyclone Downs Lefors For 3rd Conference Win

The Memphis Cyclone won their conference game of the season at Lefors Tuesday night by a score of 57 to 47. The win gives the team a season record of three wins and one loss as the conference play reaches the half-way point.

Lefors took the lead in the first quarter 11 to 16, and they led at the half 24 to 25. The Cyclone team continued to lead, 38 to 25 at the end of the third quarter. Memphis only taking the lead in the last quarter, and going ahead to win by 10 points.

The game was described by one observer as a real "chess" match with teams using their allotted 50 seconds to initiate changes in offense and defense.

The game was a battle of wits as the Cyclones used their offenses with us finally coming up with one they couldn't defend.

J. Pounds scored 16 points and led the Cyclones with 15 and Adcock sinking 15 and Sexton making 11.

McCool led the scoring for Lefors with 15 points.

Seasons Results
In the conference with four wins and no losses. They take on the Bronchos home Friday night.

McCool is in second place with Memphis in second place, being wins and one loss, being McLellan on the Tigers own.

Clarendon has two wins and losses, Canadian one win and losses and Lefors no wins or losses.

The first half of play has been hectic, with each team playing the other one time. The second half will consist of return matches of the teams playing on the court as compared with the first round.

Memphis and McLellan are contending for the first place with Memphis having only to beat McLellan when they play here and beat the other teams again for first place.

On the hand if McLellan can conquer winning streak she will have the crown. Clarendon is not out of the running but will have to beat Memphis and McLellan, and then have both these teams lose some more games to be the team of taking the honors.

Canadian and Lefors are both in the conference race, for practical purposes, but could play havoc with those in the lead by causing them to lose one or two.

So far this season Memphis scored 203 points. This came about by a defeat at the hands of McLellan by about 30 points, being the average up.

TWO POINTS — Dale Sexton, 34, goes for two points in the game against Clarendon here last Friday night to assist the Cyclone in winning 47 to 44. All during the second half Memphis was able to stay ahead of the Bronchos by at least 3 points.

Local Squad Downs Clarendon Friday

The Memphis Cyclone won a hard-fought conference game here last Friday night in the local gymnasium by defeating Clarendon 47 to 4.

The game got off to a slow start as far as the local five were concerned with Memphis trailing at the end of the first quarter, 9 to 12. At the half they had gained until they were ahead 27 to 24.

They still led at the end of the third quarter, 40 to 37, and managed to hold this lead until the end of the game.

The game was quite rough, for a sport not devoted to personal contact, with the Clarendon team using height to no good advantage in the early period to control rebounds.

The Cyclone soon found the range though and held Clarendon to 12 points in the second quarter while scoring 18 themselves.

From that point on the game was a defensive battle with both teams scoring 12 points in the third quarter and then 7 points.

Estelline Loses Three Games To Quitaque Friday

The Estelline teams lost three games to Quitaque last Friday night away from home.

The series began with a loss by the "B" boys 33 to 45. Gaylan Simpson was high pointer for Estelline with 21 tallies.

Quitaque made it a clean sweep by downing the boys 38 to 57. Rolfe Wooten was high-point man with 13 points for Estelline.

Cyclone Has Open Date Friday

Friday night the Memphis Cyclone will have an open date with the conference play beginning again next Tuesday night when they journey to Canadian.

Friday night, Feb. 9, McLellan will play here in what will probably be the deciding game of the conference championship.

Tuesday, Feb. 13, Memphis will go to Clarendon and then Friday, 16, Lefors will play here in the last regular game of the season.

Estelline Wins Two Games From Turkey Tuesday

Tuesday night the Estelline Bear Cubs won two games from Turkey with the girls winning in an overtime period, 31 to 29 and the boys winning 45 to 29.

The Turkey girls took the lead in the game, 9 to 4 at the end of the first quarter but Estelline then surged ahead 12 to 16 by the end of the first half.

Estelline led 23 to 19 at the end of the third quarter. During the fourth quarter Estelline was held to 6 points while Turkey chalked up 10, making it 29 all when the time ran out. This called for an overtime period during which Larna Williams scored two points for Estelline and gave them the two-point victory.

Brenda Stewart took honors as high-pointer for Estelline with 12 tallies while Margie Mullins led the Turkey scoring with 13 points.

In the boys event Estelline took an early lead, being ahead at the close of the first quarter 10 to 2. They led 22 to 13 at the half and then 35 to 15 at the end of the third period. The final score was 45 to 29.

High-point man for Estelline was Rolfe Wooten with 19 points, followed closely by Teddy Barnes with 16 points. Ronnie Richmond led the scoring for Turkey with 10 points.

Friday night the teams will play at Lakeview. The following weekend the district tournament will be held Feb. 8, 9 and 10 in Matarior.

News from the Lesley Baptist Church

Howdy folks.

This week seemed a little crowded for some of the Baptist ministers and laymen from these parts since we went to the Evangelistic Conference in Dallas last week. We all can say we were really inspired! This past Sunday was "Commitment of Life" day at Lesley and I was certainly thankful and humbled as I watched over twenty of our folks renew their vows of dedication to the Lord. Our attendance in Sunday School was up to 42 and around 55 in the worship services. The Lord blessed us equally well in the evening services as we had 45 in Training Union and about 47 in the evening worship service. Tuesday at 3:00 P. M. the W.

IN MEMORIAM

(A memorial tribute to Mrs. Floyd (Dora) McIntosh)

'Tis a year today since we laid her to rest
And we wept bitter tears at her passing.
Yet, dare we to say that the Lord knows not best
Or questioning His wisdom with asking.

Patience and faith heal breaks in the heart.
In time, a will to go on is given.
We are grateful, in our lives, she had a part
And are content she is with God in Heaven.

About People

Memphis, was a business visitor Tuesday . . . J. H. Smith, one of the county's prosperous farmers, makes business trip to North Texas.

(Note: The town boom slogan below was apropos in 1908, and would fit conditions in 1962):

A Town Boom Slogan
Now's the time to boom the town—Sing her praises up and down—Best old burg there is on earth—Is the burg that gave you birth. Tell your neighbors what it's worth—

Get busy!
Other towns are crowding us—Make a furor, make a fuss—Never let the grass be green—In the streets. It might be seen! Mow it with the boom machine—

Get busy!
What's the use to sit and mope? Hustle, rustle! That's the dope! Are there drones within the hive? Chuck 'em out! They're not alive! Busy bees alone may thrive.

Get busy!
Tackle projects that progress—Do we want improvements? YES! Do we want to spread and grow bigger? SUREST THING YOU KNOW!
Show the world outside it's so—GET BUSY!

CARD OF THANKS

May we in our humble way, say Thanks to each of you for your thoughtfulness in our great loss. We, even in our sorrow, have so many things to be thankful for. We are thankful that we had the privilege of keeping our Father for 80 years. That we have so many friends to share our sorrow and grief with us, we are grateful for each person who took time to stop by and express your sympathy, for the food brought and served, for the many beautiful flowers, and for the comfort in the messages of the many, many cards of condolence we received. To have friends and neighbors to stand by one brings a ray of light to a dark day. May God bless each of you in our prayer.

'Gip' McMurry Announces for County Judge

E. (Gip) McMurry this week authorized The Memphis Democrat to announce that he is a candidate for County Judge of Hall County, subject to the decision of the voters at the Democratic primaries. In announcing that he was entering the race, he issued the following statement:

"To the Citizens of Hall County: "I have decided to submit myself as a candidate for the position of County Judge, and want to use this means of making my intentions known, and to ask for your support in the forthcoming race. Much thought has gone into this decision, and many persons have encouraged me to make the announcement.

"Hall County has been my home since 1906 when my family moved here, locating on a farm two miles east of Plaska. I have been engaged in different enterprises since reaching manhood. As many of you know, I have farmed and have been in charge of renting farms several times; managed stores owned by the Farmers Union at both Plaska and Memphis. Later I was in the automotive supply business here in Memphis, and for the last six years have been in the real estate business, associated with J. B. (Bryan) Adams of Lesley.

"Therefore, I am no stranger to the people of my county, and believe I am familiar with our problems.

"This is the first time in my life that I have announced as a candidate for county office. I am making this announcement with the belief that I can work for and with all the people of Hall County. I realize that the County Judge should serve all the people—those on the south side of Red River as well as those who reside on the north. All of us have common problems, and we need to work together to solve them.

"If you should elect me as your County Judge, I will devote all my time to serving you. I believe this is a full-time job, and the person who serves should give all his energies and time to fulfilling the duties and obligations of the office. I would do all in my power to work in harmony with all other elected officials of our county.

"In the months to come, I shall try to see as many of you as I can. I want you to feel free to discuss my candidacy with me, and your advice and suggestions will be considered carefully.

"In the meantime, I have one promise to make to you: If you elect me to the office I seek, I will do all in my power to give you an honest and efficient administration.

Respectfully submitted,
E. (Gip) McMurry."

Hall County Soil Conservation District News

Soil testing should be considered by farmers in the Hall County Soil Conservation District as one of the steps in a good land management program. You can use the information from a soils test in many ways. Such information as the soil productivity, amounts of fertilizer to apply, soil acidity, or saline conditions can be determined from a soil test. A good soil test will give this information—a poorly taken soil sample may be worse than none at all.

A spade can be used to collect the soil for the test. A hole should be dug to plow depth and a slice of soil one-half inch thick should be removed from the side of the hole. The soil should be trimmed from the spade so that a ribbon one inch wide is left at the center of the spade. It should be placed in a pail with 10 to 20 other samples taken in the field. The samples in the pail should be mixed together. Information on where to send the soil sample can be obtained from your county agent. Under ordinary management practices the fertility level of soils do not change rapidly. Sampling a field once every 3 to 5 years or once a rotation usually is enough.

Soils that are low producers can be improved by other means than fertilizers. As a general rule the soils in the Hall County SCD are low in organic matter and nitrogen. By planting a high residue producing crop on land that has been in cotton the past number of years will increase the organic matter of the soil. A cover crop of rye or winter peas will also increase the organic matter.

Tests have been conducted and it has been found that cowpex will return from 60 to 90 pounds of nitrogen to the soil per acre. Before planting, the cowpex seed should be inoculated with nitrogen fixing bacteria.

This is the time of the year to consider having your soil tested and deciding on a good conservation crop rotation for your farm. The technicians of the Soil Conservation Service are available to assist you in developing a soil and water conservation plan for your farm or ranch.
