Hall Commissioners Vote Tuesday To Move Hospital To Hampton Site

The Hall County Commissioners Court, in a special meeting Tuesday, voted to change the hospital site from the Thompson site, located in the north part of the Whaley Addition, to the Hampton site, located on Highway 287 north of town.

Judge Tracy Davis called the court together and stated that the meeting was to consider changing the site. Ed Hutcherson, Commissioner from Precinct No. 1, stated that he thought it would be good business to select the Hampton site because it would be donated, and that the county could sell the land they have already purchased as the Thompson site for at least $7,500, and then they would receive $2,500 in the Hampton donation, making a total of $10,000 more for the hospital fund.

Pat Brittain, Commissioner from Precinct No. 4, stated that he was in favor of the site on the highway.

"You all know that I've been against the hospital, but since we are going to have to build it, I'm in favor of building it in a place where it can be seen as a place of beauty and an asset to the county," he said.

H. W. (Shorty) Spear, Commissioner from Precinct No. 2 and O. R. Lambert, Commissioner from Precinct No. 3, stated that (Continued on Page Twelve)

Firemen Answer Nine Fires In Area This Week

The Memphis Volunteer Fire Department has been busy the past week with a total of nine fires since last Thursday.

The greatest amount of damage was Monday night when fire destroyed a house in Morningside addition. The building belonged to Finis Garrett and was almost completely destroyed.

The week got off to a fast start last Saturday with a fire five miles east of Memphis at a bridge and then later in the day the area around the city dump grounds caught fire. Also on that date firemen extinguished a grass fire four miles south of Memphis.

Sunday was quiet with only one call and that being back to the place south of Memphis where the grass was again on fire.

Monday the fire at Morningside kept firemen busy as well as a grass fire near the cemetery on land owned by Mrs. Jack Lewis.

Tuesday morning the firemen answered a call at Friendship to put out a fire in a ground silo on the Cecil Stargel land, and then about noon they went to Tucker's Cleaners where a dryer was on fire. Homer Tucker stated that the clothes in the dryer were destroyed and the damage to the dryer was considerable. He stated that the clothing was covered by insurance.

Then Tuesday afternoon fire again broke out in grass along (Continued on Page Twelve)

Space Achievements

The U.S. this week watched the successful launching of our man in space with the entire world being witnesses through the television screens. Many people have been disappointed by our failure to achieve this goal sooner; however, the method in which we finally achieved it must have made a great impression on the people of other nations. As one commentator put it, our fish-bowl style launching achieves much which was missing in the Russian claims.

And speaking of Russian rockets, Dan True of Amarillo brought up an interesting speculation the day that Glenn orbited the earth three times. He wondered if the Russians really had the capability to launch a man into space at whatever time they wanted. Because if they did, why didn't they capitalize on the chance to shoot another man into orbit while the rest of the world was waiting on us during the past two weeks. This is an interesting observation and it may be close to true. We, too, doubt that the Russians can put a man up when they want. We think they have to work for months and years just to prepare one vehicle for the launch, whereas, the United States has more or less a geared production now of materials needed to make continued launchings and technical developments and space explorations indicate.

The next step, after this tremendous three times around the earth, is a program where one is put into orbit and then another shot up and joined onto it. The technical problems of hitting a small object whirling around the earth are almost too many for our minds to grasp. However, plans are being made at this time for such a project. If this next program is successful, then it will be a method to launch a vehicle at the moon without having to overcome the great gravitational pull of the earth. This is possible because the first shot could put the payload in orbit, and then the second could take up fuel which it could use to achieve a shot at the moon from orbit.

It is our feeling that the rest of the world this week felt a little safer knowing that we, and not the Russians alone, have the capability to orbit and return to earth safely. The U.S. has many "friends" in this world who would leave us if they thought that we were behind the Russians in technical development. These people also can have no doubts in their minds about our capability when we test our greatest achievements out in the open in full sight of all newsmen from all over the world.

In our praise for John Glenn, we should not forget that the entire project is a great team effort — all the way from the people who produce the parts used in the rocket to the some 18,000 persons employed in the tracking of the vehicle in orbit. These are only small things, but the overall impression they give on the world is that one man is not the key to our success in any program. It is an overall program which will function with or without a few key personnel.

It was a difficult decision to open the doors to publicity on such space shots as this. Our frankness in success and failure, shows that we have nothing to be ashamed of in our efforts. It also puts Russia on a bad spot because before long a lot of people are going to be asking for permission to watch the next Russian shot. How they will answer is only speculation at this time, however, if they continue to refuse, there may be a good number of honest people in other nations who will begin to doubt that Russia can even put another man in orbit. This will be an interesting game of chess to watch in the months to come.

A Successful Season

Congratulations are in order this week for the Memphis Cyclone Basketball Squad and Coach Bob Martin as they finish their season. The team didn't win first in district competition but they came so close that McLean is still shaking. And more important that this, the squad played hard, with good team spirit all during the season. Their last game here Friday was won in an overtime period, and a recent game at Clarendon went three overtimes before the Cyclone finally won.

These instances show that the boys are receiving valuable training toward being able to come through when the pressure is on. Sports fans who weren't in attendance at any of the games this season missed a real thrill in seeing the spirit and dedicated effort of the team.

Richmond Honors Fighting Secretary

An impressive statue of Mirabeau Bonaparte Lamar, valiant military hero and acclaimed Father of Education in Texas, stands in Richmond, southwest of Houston.

Lamar served as Secretary of War and was the commander of the cavalry at the Battle of San Jacinto.

He was well known for his service both as President and Vice-President of the Republic of Texas and was instrumental in securing a public endowment for Texas schools.

Side-Wheelers At Jefferson

Old side-wheeler boats used to churn up from New Orleans to Jefferson, in the northeast part of the state.

In 1874 a natural barrier in the Red River was removed. This resulted in a lowering of the water level seven feet in Cypress Bayou, thus making it unnavigable for boat transportation.

This ended Jefferson's standing as the principal river port and gate-of-entry to Texas.

Only Alto Site Remains

Texas expelled the Neches Indians from the state in 1839.

The site of one of their old villages is just five miles southwest of Alto, Cherokee County, in the central portion of East Texas.

This village was active in the lives of the Neches at the beginning of the 18th century.

The Neches River was named for these Indians, as was a nearby mission established by the Cherokee Indians, the Mission San Francisco de los Neches.

Need for Understanding

This community has always had somewhat of a division into two or more groups — representing different points of view on politics and local issues, and in this respect we suppose we are no different from most communities.

In fact, if there were not opposition to every community project that comes up, we would begin to wonder if something were wrong.

Here lately, however, a division has begun to appear which is not good and which should not be allowed to stand.

This is the growing feeling of distrust and hostility that is being shown between city people and rural people in this county. We don't know why, but there seems to be a sort of whispering campaign afoot to fan this distrust and great antagonism between city and rural people.

This should not be. There is no difference in what is good for the community — whether seen through a city man's eyes or a rural man's eyes. Most of this distrust is based on misunderstanding.

For example, a group met with the Perryton school board Tuesday night, gathered there because they wanted to be sure that the proposal to combine the school and city tax collection offices was not a plot to put rural people under control of the city government and boost their taxes at will.

They were told that the only reason the school was considering combining the offices was that it would save money in cutting out duplication of effort and making more efficient use of machines and personnel. The school tax structure would not be changed and remains under the strict control of the school board, and that elected body alone.

This explanation satisfied the group, or at least most of them.

A great many farmers and ranchers feel that taxes on their land is footing the bill for the Perryton school system, when their children did not cause the demand for new buildings which causes the tax boost and they are not happy about it.

By the same token, a great many city people feel that the county is extracting taxes from them in an inequitable manner, taking their money and putting it into improving a farmer's road which the city dweller never uses and never sees. This feeling is intensified when he reads about farm land selling for $230 per acre which is on the county tax roll for only $7 per acre.

The farmer and rancher is sometimes bitter about having his house, barn and other improvements taxed for school tax purposes when he knows that his house is not worth as much in the country as it would be in town.

The city man is sometimes upset because the county takes all the license tag money and uses it on county roads when 90 per cent of the tags are sold for automobiles within the city of Perryton.

One thing the city dweller and the rural dweller have in common — they both dislike high taxes and dislike taxes even more when they think they are not getting a fair shake.

There is a great need for understanding one another's problems here. The future of the two areas are bound together. The city of Perryton depends upon the productivity of the soil in the area that surrounds it. The residents of the farm and ranches depend upon the cities far more than they realize. By a little understanding and working together, we could all enjoy life a lot more. Let's quit carrying tales to our neighbors.

Political Developments

Six years ago after Texas had, for the second successive time, swung into the Republican columns in a national presidential election, many political observers were hailing the dawn of a two-party system in this traditionally and Democratically-divided state.

Two years ago, when the Republican presidential candidate waged a losing campaign against native-son opposition but still managed to score heavily at the polls, many still forecast the birth of a respectable Republican organization in the state.

Last year when Republican John Tower was actually elected to the United States Senate from Texas in a special election, many pundits hailed his election as confirmation of the rise of Republicanism south of the Red River.

More experienced observers, considering the multiple-complications of a special election in which one Republican was pitted against 69 Democrats, were less impressed with the Tower victory as a triumph of Republicanism.

In the light of Tower's subsequent and frequent political pronouncements, it is becoming increasingly obvious that John Tower represents a victory, not for the Republican Party, but for the ultra-right wing elements represented by the John Birch Society and its associated fronts.

And it is an advantage which the Birch-bloc is urgently pushing.

The Republican party in Texas, such as it is, is being taken over by this group, apparently . . . and, in the Panhandle at least, effectively. Much ado is being made of the election . . . again is a special election . . . of Kenneth Kohler of Amarillo to the Texas Legislature as a Republican. And now comes an announcement from Mayor Jack Seale of Amarillo, whom the Birch Society boasts after the fact of having elected, that he will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress from the 18th District.

Mayor Seale's ambition to take over Democrat Walter Rogers' seat is somewhat complicated by the fact that the Republican Party this year, by law, must make its nominations through primary elections . . . but this shouldn't pose too great an obstacle. It does mean, however, that the successful Republican candidate will have to face a single Democratic nominee at the general election in November . . . and that should provide an interesting and revealing test of strength.

So should the candidacy of General Walker, if he decides to run, as is rumored, as a candidate for Governor of Texas on the Republican ticket. We hope he does, . . . for the General's open and

Around and About

By HELEN COMBS
We know this is February... but it's hard and still winter... believe with the budding of shrubs and trees, jonquils peep...

And at least one Memphian, O. Phillips, journeyed home with a plentiful catch. The Phillips home was the scene for a fish party Monday when Mr. and Mrs. Phillips had all the family in for dinner. There were the Orvill Phillips, the Cecil Phillips, the Phillips, the Ray Phillips, the R. Phillips, the Roy Widener, the J. N. Helms, Jr., and the O. Clarks. I'm sure you will agree Mr. Phillips has to be quite a fisherman to feed the members of his family!

For Mr. and Mrs. Garvis Davis and Mr. and Mrs. E. L. McQueen was a week's fishing at Possum Kingdom. We didn't find out about the catch, but we did learn they fished in comfort. The Davis' have a floating cabin. At least that's what we'd call it... and you simply lift the trap door and fish from your rocking chair. Now that's the kind of fishing we could enjoy.

While trying their hand at fishing this weekend will be J. M. Ferrell and Mr. and Mrs. John L. Burnett, who left early Wednesday morning for Possum Kingdom.

But for two local men, F. E. Longino and Olton Pate, it was a different story... they were marooned in a snow storm in South Dakota over the weekend. In fact, they would have been stranded in the country but for the aid of several men who took arms pushing the cars out of the drifts. Not only had it snowed 21 inches, but was blowing, too! Seems they got out just in time as eight more inches of snow was predicted the day they left for home.

Off for distant points the past few days were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Allen Ballard, who are spending a month vacationing in Hawaii; Filma Martin who is visiting in Chattanooga, Tenn., with her new granddaughter and of course with the members of the Malcolm Martin family, too; Mrs. C. W. Winslow who is visiting in Bay City; Mrs. W. C. Dickey who is in Houston with her aunt, Mrs. Garner; Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Greene and Mrs. D. A. Neeley and Winnie Casella who are all in Mineral Wells vacationing.

Speaking of the Tri-State Hardware & Imp. Association meeting in Amarillo last week, Hattie Dem Thompson was lamenting the fact that now she isn't eligible to win a prize... her name is drawn each year! It's kinda embarrassing, too, she admits when they keep drawing her name, and even her husband, Billy, drew it one year. Since Billy is a director of the association, she just gracefully refused the prize which was passed on to some other member of the association.

We had a most pleasant surprise last week when Tanya arrived home unannounced for a few days visit while Billy was on full scale maneuvers with the 9th Armored Division at Fort Polk, La. And, being a dutiful daughter, she came right on down to the office to help us out with our overdue bookkeeping chores. Her assistance was most welcome, too.

Americans watched the successful launching of our man in space Tuesday morning with awe and a silent prayer for John Glenn, who was risking his life to further the American space program. It was a happy moment for millions of Americans when Mr. Glenn arrived safely back to earth. We noted with pride it was the Atlas missile used in the launching... pride because Herchel's brother is one of the group of electronic engineers who have been working on the missile at San Diego, Calif., since its beginning.

Local Beauticians Attend State Show In Dallas: New Hair Styles Forseen

Mrs. Wyley Whitley and Mrs. Glenda Maddox were in Dallas last week to attend the annual Beauty Salon Week for Texas. The beauty show opened Sunday with headquarters at the Adolphus Hotel.

More than 6,000 hair stylists, models and exhibitors attended the annual event. The show included contests between hair stylists, lessons in advanced spring hair styling and the introduction of new beauty products.

Miss Margaret Vinci Heldt, Chicago, and Woody Ringler, Orlando, Fla., instructed in styling away from the heavily back-combed balloon look, Mrs. Whitley said. The name for this revolutionary contrast with soft moving hair is Dancing Hair. With the look generally short, the important point is that the hair must conform with the line of the head, then have the light-hearted touch of curls that seem to dance out of the head, the stylists said.

Miss Heldt, who was on the national committee that met in New York in October to set the spring trends, explained the procedure. "After studying sketches of the contour designers and milliners and conferring with fashion editors, tors, we began to sketch a mood to go with softness and feminine ruffles in fashions and high crowns in hats with which we could put accents on the hair.

"When the hair doesn't have natural body, a permanent wave is vital. The hair needs body wave to be manageable but it shouldn't be tight to fit the design. The length is from one-half to one and one-half inches at the nap and blended and tapered to 5 inches at the crown. In front is blends from three and one-half inches to five inches from the hairline," Miss Heldt said.

MINUTE MEDITATION

The skeptic says, "Where is God?" The believing child answers, "Where is he not?"

David said, "The heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament sheweth his handywork. Day unto day uttereth speech, and night unto night sheweth knowledge. There is no speech nor language where their voice is not heard" (Psalms 19:1-3).

All of nature cries with voluminous voices, echoing in endless overtones, singing praises to his matchless name, convincing us without a doubt that there is a God. The painted skies, the living desert, the flowing spring, and everything that moves and breathes says that there is a God.

God's own individual design is stamped on every snowflake; he arranges the clouds that soar on high; when he speaks, it thunders and the earth trembles; then, it sighs.

After the quiet of dawn, the sun rises in silence; the wind whispers to the sea; there is a song in every tree; you there, who have ears to hear and eyes to see, is it possible that all this could happen by chance?

God help my unbelief. How could I ever doubt? Surely there is a God, for all these things are impossible without him.

Heatly Is Candidate for Representative

(Bill) Heatly of Paducah issued his formal announcement as a candidate for the 82nd District of the Texas Legislature today. Heatly is a senior member of the Legislature, and is offering himself as a candidate for re-election to the Legislature to represent Hall County; and seven counties now making up the 82nd District. Heatly is a lawyer, farmer, rancher and business man from Cottle, Texas. He has been in the Legislature since 1955, representing the 82nd District composed of Cottle, Paducah, Foard, and Wilbarger counties. With re-districting last year, Hall, Motley, and Wilbarger counties were combined with these, making the new 82nd District, geographically, the largest legislative district in the state. Heatly is not new in service to the Legislature. He has served with other members from his area on the steering committee when the Greenbelt Municipal Water District was established. He was without pay, for the first time when the first presentation was made before the State Board of Water Engineers when the State Board made the first presentation of the water rights in behalf of the Greenbelt District. Later, as a member of the Legislature, Heatly assisted in the passage of the bill which established the legal body, the Greenbelt Municipal and Industrial Water District. Heatly is 49 years old and has resided in Paducah with his wife and three boys since 1947. He is an elder in the First Christian Church of Paducah and is now serving as Chairman of its Building Committee. Heatly has served as President of the Paducah Lions Club; has served on the Texas Commission of Alcoholism, and is presently a charter member of the Board of Directors of the newly created Chamber of Commerce of Paducah, as well as many other important civic and fraternal capacities. He is a member of the Knights of Pythias Lodge No. 241 in Childress. He owns his home in Paducah and farms and ranches in Cottle and Dickens Counties, and so knows the problems facing landowners and taxpayers first hand. Heatly states that he attended public school in Hart, Texas where he was reared on a farm, and that he later attended Decatur Baptist College after graduating, he enrolled in Baylor University and received his AB and LLB degrees from Baylor. As a member of the Legislature during the last four terms of years each, Heatly has served as chairman of the State Affairs Committee and the Appropriations Committee, probably the two most important committees in the Legislature. He has also served on the Legislative Budget Board, the Legislative Audit Committee, the three most important between-terms activities of the Legislature. He has also represented Texas many times at various sessions of the Southern Regional Education Board, an activity of the Southern Governors Conference. On his return to the Legislature, Heatly will find fewer than ten members out of 150 who will have been in the Legislature longer than the eight years he will have served. This seniority will stand him in good stead in serving the people of Hall County and the Southeast Panhandle and North

A Thursday afternoon session will mark the opening of the executive committee quarterly meeting. Guest speaker at this meeting will be Herb Stevens, Comptroller for the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Chicago. study committee reports, these inequities should be corrected," he said. Heatly states that 85 per cent of all of the money spent by the Texas Legislature is spent on the following: education, both public and high levels; highways; mental institutions, welfare and penal and reform schools. During his tenure in office, he has supported all constructive measures which have aided in elevating the standards of both the public schools and colleges, and will continue to support such measures. He points with pride to his work on hospitals and special schools in elevating them, thereby helping many unfortunate people who have become afflicted. Heatly has also been a supporter of the M. D. Anderson Hospital in Houston that has the responsibility for the care, treatment and research of cancer. During his tenure of office Heatly states that one of the major accomplishments and perhaps that which he feels the best about, is the fact that he has had the opportunity to assist many boys and girls to obtain part-time employment at the state-supported colleges in order that they might further their education. Heatly is a Democrat, and states if re-elected the democratic nominee again for the position which he seeks, he will continue to give the people of this district a completely sober representation at all times. Now that the district contains eight counties, Heatly hopes to be able to get around to see all the people, but by this announcement earnestly solicits each voters' vote and influence.

Wood Installs Ice Vending Machine Here

An ice vending machine will be installed at Wood Bros. Super Market Friday, Carl Wood, owner, announced today.

The machine will be located adjacent to the store, on the west side of the building. The new facility, according to Wood, will dispense bags of ice when a coin is inserted. It will function 24 hours every day.

Also to be installed in the store will be an ice machine. This installation is scheduled to be completed Friday. The machine will produce cubes of ice three-quarters of an inch square. Store personnel will sack the ice from this machine, and place it in the vending machine, which will be located outside.

"It is our hope that people of this area may be able to obtain ice from these new facilities next Saturday," Wood stated.

He added that the two machines, purchased to serve the general public, are the first to be placed in operation in Memphis.

Raymond Ballew, accompanied by his brother, Jim Ballew, of Abilene, returned Tuesday from Tipp City, Ohio, where they visited with their sister, Mrs. Walter Meseck, who is ill.

Big Game Hunter Is Visitor Here

Ted Childers of Juneau, Alaska, visited in Memphis last week with his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Sanders, and a number of other relatives who came to visit in the Sanders home while Ted was here. This was his first trip here in 30 years.

Childers showed many colored pictures taken in Alaska to various groups — once to a school group, and all pronounced the pictures were not only interesting but very beautiful.

Before coming to Memphis Childers visited his old home near Tulsa, Okla., Dallas and Houston, and at each city he appeared on TV, and had feature stories in the various papers.

Following are excerpts concerning Childers taken from the Tulsa Daily World:

The year 1936 is one that Childers will never forget, for it was the year the Oklahoma-bred Childers surrendered his Navy Yard job at Bremerton, Wash., for the great outdoors of Alaska, and little did he think it would be 25 years before he'd leave the country of the "Big Brown Bears."

It's been a long time since Childers put down $27 to ride in the hold of the Yukon to Alaska.

"I always wanted to hunt and fish and got my chance in Alaska," he said.

Until he obtained his guide's license four years ago, he worked for the Game and Fish Department. His territory as guide is the southeastern district of Alaska of which the Brown bear domicile of Admiralty Island is a part.

As guide, Childers takes hunters into the brown bear haunts, and many hair-raising experiences are had... and according to the feature story about him, best hunting is the best and most exciting.

When asked who got the biggest bear on any one of his hunts, Childers named a Florida man who bagged an 800-pounder.

Zero weather greeted Childers on his arrival at Tulsa, and he stated, "the weather isn't as cold in the Southeastern part of Alaska as this, and it rarely gets down to zero."

One thing is certain, the story concluded, the enthusiastic big game hunter, guide and fishery biologist hasn't regretted a moment of his 25 years in Alaska. Fact is, he's looking ahead to 25 more.

Cecil McNeil Speaks on Safety At B&PW Meeting

Cecil McNeil of Amarillo, area safety director, Texas Department of Public Safety, was guest speaker at the regular luncheon meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club Thursday at noon in the Masonic Dining Hall. Also guests of the club were the two local patrolmen, Presley Thomson and Don Collins.

Louise Howell, president, presided at the meeting and introduced Molly Carlos, program chairman for the day, who in turn introduced Mr. McNeil.

Speaking on Safety, Mr. McNeil pointed out several things which could be done as a club and as individuals to improve safe driving in the state. He said that the department must have the support and cooperation of the citizens before an effective safety program can be maintained.

He listed the principal causes for traffic accidents as driving too fast for conditions or just plain speeding; driving while drinking; driving on the wrong side of the road; improper passing; improper parking and following too closely.

U. S. Highway accidents have killed more Americans between 1900-1960 than have died in all

The U. S. Wars, Mr. McNeil said. In the past 60 years, 1,340,854 have lost their lives on the U. S. highways while 1,130,393 have been killed in wars from 1775-1960.

Concluding, Mr. McNeil asked the group "Are you a Defensive Driver?" He cautioned the group to know the State traffic laws and to abide by them at all times; to give proper signals — making certain the other drivers understand your signals; to remain cautious at intersections while backing out; to respect and protect pedestrians; know the speed limit and keep within the limit; to observe safe distances between your vehicle and those ahead and behind you and practice the "Give" rather than "take" rule when it comes to "Right-of-Way."

A new rule governing School buses is now in effect. The driver of a vehicle is still required to come to a full stop when approaching a stopped school bus, but after stopping may now proceed at a rate of speed not to exceed 10 miles per hour, Mr. McNeil concluded.

Short talks were made by Mr. Thomson and Mr. Collins to conclude the program.

One other guest, Mickey McDonald of Amarillo, was also in attendance.

Hall County Soil Conservation

The disposition of outside runoff water is an ever increasing problem to farmers and ranchers of the Hall County Soil Conservation District. Terrace systems are damaged each year by this problem. Waterways along natural water courses could be one answer to this problem.

A waterway is a means of conducting runoff water from an area to a safe point of release with a minimum of erosion. Waterways are designed and treated either with vegetation or by mechanical means so that water can be moved along at a safe velocity.

When a waterway is located at another location other than a natural drainage way it will probably have to have some excavation work done and the sides raised so that it will contain the runoff water in the desired area. These waterways should also be established to grass as soon as possible following completion. Some of the grasses adapted for waterway seeding are King Ranch bluestem, buffalograss, grama grasses, vine mesquite, switchgrass, and bermuda grass.

After the vegetation has been established in the waterway, it can be utilized in several ways. Vegetation can be used for controlling erosion, seed production,

Howdy, folks. We had a wonderful attendance in Sunday School this past week. There were 55 plus 10 more in the morning worship service. I'm not going to say too much about our evening service; not too much to say but the Lord blessed all that were in the service. We are very happy about the six that were baptized Sunday night a week ago and the two that joined by letter into our church fellowship. Those who were baptized were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Garcia, Leon and Patsy Sue Farica, and Mr. and Mrs. Parque Flores. James and Ann Moss joined by letter and our prayers are that God may richly bless these eight Christian folks as we work together here at Lesley. Last Monday the other Baptist churches in our association met at Lesley to discuss the $25,000,000 campaign to aid our Baptist colleges since we do not believe in federal aid for denominational institutions. Tuesday we met with the Lakeview Baptist Church for our monthly Workers' Conference and enjoyed the food and fellowship. Wednesday night we began preparing for our March 23rd revival. Friday night at 7:30 p. m. we shall meet for visitation. Our Brice-Lesley Colored Mission is coming along very well. We had 28 colored folks last Sunday afternoon at 2:30 at Brice. Mrs. Mary Jane Lessiter accepted Jesus as her Savior. We extend to all you an invitation to visit with us. God bless you all. Kenneth Lowry

State Fishermen Are Warned To Buy Licenses

Spring weather has kindled the urge to fish, and fishermen are reminded that a fishing license is required in most instances, according to J. B. Phillips, coordinator of law enforcement for the Game and Fish Commission.

This applies to both resident and non-resident fishermen, fishing in fresh water or salt water, except for persons fishing within their own county with an ordinary pole and line, or persons under 17 or over 65. Persons fishing within their own county with any type of winding device are required to buy licenses, also.

The Texas license fee, at $2.15, offers an inducement to non-residents, because it is the only fishing license in any state available to non-residents at the same price as to residents. All other states charge additional fees for non-residents.

Memphis edged ahead for a final total of 52 to 56. Bunky Adcock was high point man for the night with 15 points. Anthony McCool led the scoring for Lefors with 15 points also.

Game and Fish Commission. Birds will be available for this purpose at 50 cents each, which is approximately half the cost of production, according to Cutbirth.

When applications are filed, the area is inspected by Game Department personnel as to availability of food and cover. If these two items are found ample, authorization then is issued for the purchase of quail for restocking purposes. These applications should be sent directly to the Game and Fish Commission in Austin.

Some quail also will be available without charge this year for restocking by 4-H and FFA Clubs, under a program recently adopted by the Game and Fish Commission.

Donnie Spicer Joins 600 Club In Bowling

Donnie Spicer, a member of the Senior All-Star League, bowled a 600 series Wednesday evening at the local bowl to place among the four top bowlers of the city.

Previous to Wednesday, only three men had bowled a 600 series, including George Ferris with a 612; C. A. Lebow with a 604, and Don Rice with two 600 series, a 604 and a 605.

Spicer's games Wednesday were 233, 214 and 166, totaling a 603 for the series.

Quail Surveys Now Underway In Coastal Area

Surveys are now being made in the coastal areas hit by Carla last September, in an effort to determine quail losses. Following this, a restocking of quail from the Tyler State Game Farm will begin as soon as mature birds are available, according to W. J. Cutbirth, Jr., assistant executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

In many areas along the middle and upper coast of Texas, quail were annihilated during the Carla disturbance last year. Some landowners have reported a few birds migrating into the area, but generally the breeding stock is very low, according to the reports. A check is now being made of these areas. They will be restocked with birds from the hatchery on a no-cost basis, in those areas where the need is shown.

In other areas, individuals desiring quail for restocking now can file their application with the

Texans Oppose Resolutions on Mourning Doves

Texas sportsmen will oppose the passage of HR9882, introduced by Congressman Joseph E. Karth of Minnesota. This Resolution would amend the Migratory Bird Treaty Act, to prohibit the hunting of mourning doves. H. D. Dodgen, executive secretary of the Texas Game and Fish Commission, has written to Texas members of Congress and to members of the Commission, pointing out that the mourning dove population during the last two years increased sufficiently that U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service increased the bag limit from 10 to 15 birds per day, and possession limit from 20 to 30 birds. He says that in the 1960 hunting season, some 450,000 Texas hunters bagged in excess of 14 million birds.

The Resolution offered by Congressman Karth provides that "notwithstanding any other provisions of this Act, the Secretary of the Interior shall not allow the hunting, taking, capturing, killing, possession, sale, purchase, shipment, transportation, carriage or export at any time, of the mourning dove."

The mourning dove has been the principal game bird of Texas for a good many years. In Minnesota, however, it is considered a song bird and the killing is prohibited under state law. This is true in a number of states, particularly in the Middle West. The bird being migratory, many of those harvested in Texas come from nesting grounds throughout the Middle West.

Texans may express their attitude to their Congressmen in Washington, according to Mr. Dodgen.

If necessity is the mother of invention, then luxury must be the father of it.

Report From Washington

By WALTER ROGERS
Representative, 18th
Congressional District

What Is The Bill of Rights?

How many Americans know the answer to this question? Each day brings forth on the radio, the television, and the newspapers suggestions and observations on Communism, what it means, what it stands for, and how to defeat it. Personally, I have been a member of the National Football League since I was a child. I have thought that the best way to win a football game is to have a good offense. When I was in high school our football team told me one day that you could not win a football game unless you could get your hands on the ball. In other words, you can't have a touchdown so long as the opposition has the ball.

I began to wonder recently if we were not giving too much free advertising to Communism and paying too little attention to the priceless heritage we have. Hence, I set out on a mission to find out what the average American knows about this country. Feeling that the only way to find out is to ask the American people, I chose it for the key question to be asked. I made a list of asking total strangers in different areas of our economy the question: "Where could I find the Bill of Rights?" The answer is simple. It is, "The Bill of Rights is the first ten amendments to the Constitution of the United States." Out of 30 times I posed this question, I got eight right answer seven times. In fairness, I should say that I did not pose this question to people who were known to me to be so interested with the government and with the legal profession that they would probably know the answer. On the other hand, the people I put the question to were total strangers to me and the question was conducted over a period of approximately six months in different areas of the nation. The answers ranged from the sublime to the ridiculous. One was a complete recitation of the Bill of Rights, which came from a bearded fellow wearing tennis shoes. He not only recited the ten amendments word for word, but he went around for ten minutes undertaking to give me additional information for which I did not ask. This experience caused me to suspend the test for about two weeks. The other extreme in answers could be the one which I got from a cab driver. He advised me that he did not know the Bill of Rights was lost. This opened a very interesting conversation, because I explained to him that there was quite a division of opinion in this country on the subject. I found out that he had no idea where to look for the Bill of Rights, but he assured me that he would look it up and read it word for word.

In view of these experiences, and for fear that some may not have had the opportunity to have access to a copy of the Constitution, I felt that it would be nice if everyone could have a copy of the Bill of Rights to refer to on an occasion. Hence, I am including it in this newsletter and hope it will be taken up by all as the best weapon against Communism; the affirmative approach against ideologies that would destroy the dignity of Man; the hallmark of freedom; and the recognition of the individual dignity of a human being.

DeBerry presented an interesting overall picture of the study after which Mrs. Guy Smith discussed "The Search for Christian Unity," in an informative manner, stating that conversion rather than doctrine was the important message for he missionary. Mrs. R. S. Greene talked on "Methodist Meeting the Challenge" giving the group a keen insight to what their church is accomplishing. Mrs. Bob Hutcheson gave a visual aid report, holding everyone's attention with news facts of life in Latin America. Especially interesting were pictures of missionaries who did work in Cuba and are now in Florida caring for refugees from the former country.

Other members gave news reports. Mrs. W. F. McElreath stated that Brazil, with five other nations, held out against conference action to expel Castro's government from the Organization of American States. Expulsion was voted by a bare two-thirds major-

Burglars Sunday Night Hit Cooley Trading Post

Sunday night burglars entered the Cooley Trading Post here and took approximately $180 worth of merchandise, according to estimates of Mrs. Helen Parker, owner.

Entry was gained by pushing heavy screen wire off a window and then crawling through another window into the back of the store. From there they broke a hasp off of the back door of the store, which does not occupy all of the building.

Taken during the burglary were four watches, three jackets, dress shoes, at least 30 knives, a necktie, socks, shirts and billfolds.

Local county and city officers were working on the burglary this week.

WTU Organizes New Operating Panhandle Dist.

The organization of a new operating district of the West Texas Utilities Company was announced today by Cal Young, WTU president.

The new operating district will be known as the Panhandle District. It was formed by combining the Quanah and Childress Districts. J. C. Randel, manager of the Quanah District and acting manager of the Childress District, has been named manager of the new district.

Randel, who has been manager of the Quanah District since 1956, assumed supervision of both districts in December of last year following the death of Allan Shaban, manager of the Childress District.

The district office, which will be located in Childress, will be almost in the exact center of the Panhandle District. The district will extend approximately 60 miles in each direction from Vernon on the east to Quitaque on the west, from Shamrock on the north to Paducah and Matador on the south.

Young emphasized that only the two district offices were involved. He pointed out that in no event would personnel in the district offices concerned lose seniority or be released.

Natalie Wood, Newcomer W. Beatty Star In "Splendor In The Grass"

Probing the powerful passions and poignant pathos of young love, Elia Kazan's provocative production of "Splendor in the Grass" opens Sunday at the Tower Drive-In Theater, starring Natalie Wood, Pat Hingle, Aubrey Christie, Barbara Loden, Sohra Lampert and introducing Warren Beatty in the Warner Bros. Technicolor presentation of William Inge's first original screenplay.

Kazan encouraged Inge to write the drama directly for the screen after the playwright had recounted a vignette from his childhood in Kansas to the renowned stage and screen director during the preparation of Kazan's stage production of Inge's "The Dark at the Top of the Stars."

Miss Wood and newcomer Beatty are topcast as a pair of high school sweethearts struggling with their mutually strong physical attraction to each other and unable to communicate with their uncompromising parents.

"Splendor in the Grass" provides Miss Wood with the most challenging role of her 19-year career and brings Beatty to the screen in the most eagerly anticipated film debut of the year. Beatty, like Hingle, and Misses Christie, Loden and Lampert is a product of the Broadway stage, most recently having appeared in Pulitzer Prize winner Lige's "A Loss of Roses."

Also bowing in the boldy themed film is popular nightclub comedienne Phyllis Diller, whom Kazan selected to impersonate Texaco Guinan in a New York nightclub sequence at the height of the Roaring '20's.

Four File For Positions On City Council

In the forthcoming annual city election, there have been four men who have placed their names on the ballot so far, according to the city secretary, Ace Galey.

In Ward 1, E. E. Roberts is seeking re-election, as is Gayle Greene in Ward 3 and B. O. Shankle in Ward 4.

In Ward 2 Gene Hughs is not seeking re-election, and Coy Davis has requested that his name be placed on the ballot for the position.

The election will be held April 3, and the deadline for making application for name to be placed on the ballot is 30 days prior to the election, it was explained.

O. V. Alexander was named election judge for the event at the February meeting of the City Council. The group also approved $1,000 to purchase and equip a Dodge Power Wagon from Mill Iron Ranch to be made into a grass fire fighting truck.

The Council also passed a new ordinance setting speed zones on Highway 256 through the city limits and employed Orvil Crump as the new park attendant to replace R. B. Roland who resigned.

Public Schools Week To Observed Here March 5 to 9

Public Schools Week in Memphis will be celebrated during the week of March 5 to 9, Supt. W. C. Davis has announced.

Complete plans for the observance are being formulated this week and will be announced in the near future.

Each year at this time the schools of Memphis take this opportunity to better acquaint the town with the programs of the schools here.

Commissioners

(Continued from Page One) they thought the hospital should be built on the site already chosen because the county had already purchased the land for that purpose and that the Thompson site was farther from the highway and would be quieter. Lambert also stated that he thought the extra acreage around the Thompson site would eventually more than pay for the difference in the purchased land and the donated land.

When Judge Davis called for the vote, Commissioners Hutcherson and Brittain voted to move the site to the Hampton property, and Commissioners Lambert and Spear voted to keep the site at the Thompson land.

Judge Davis voted to move the site to the Hampton land, breaking the tie.

Surveying of the Hampton site was underway today, Thursday, and soil testing and other engineering work is expected to be done in the near future.

In the story of the commissioners Court meeting last week it was stated that one of the employees of Precinct No. 3 received a raise. This was a typographical error. It should have read Precinct No. 4.

Firemen Answer
