Farm Problems Go Back To Past

At this time it is not known what kind of Farm Bill will be enacted by Congress before it adjourns. But the recent vote in the House of Representatives (on returning the bill to committee) is causing much publicity in the nation's press.

As always, most of the comment against the administration's Farm Bill comes from the city press, although some newspapers in agricultural communities carry the same line. Some of the arguments in print against the proposed bill go something like this: "Farmers want freedom to plant." The same proponents of the so-called "farm freedom" also say they want a free competitive enterprise system in American agriculture.

These arguments have a familiar ring in the ears of the majority of Hall County farmers. The wise farmer who recognizes the benefits of controls and marketing quotas has his decision upon history. And history shows the low prices which farmers received for their labors in the 1930's—when there were no controls or price supports.

Congressman Walter Rogers is being criticized in some quarters for his vote. As in the past, he voted for the producers. He has taken the results of referendums of the farmers in past years, which showed they approved of controls and price supports by large majorities.

An analysis of the situation—the votes and the efforts to influence them—shows that there were a number of people who were more interested in trying to embarrass the administration than there were in trying to work out a sound farm program.

This brings up efforts in the past by the corn producing area of this nation. The "corn growers" have, by concerted efforts, been able to kick around the entire agricultural segment of our economy, by influencing the vote of many Senators and Congressmen. The time has come when the leaders in this area should weigh out the things that have been done in the past—to protect the corn farmers—and discriminate against our grain sorghum growers. This would cause some people in the Panhandle to take a different view of these matters.

We would like to tell the critics of the farm program that the defeated bill would have saved the taxpayers $4 billion, or $20 each for every man, woman and child in this country. Also, it would have afforded a full and free choice on the part of the farmers to accept (1) high price supports with rigid controls; (2) low price supports with lower controls; or (3) no controls and no price supports.

The above facts have not been passed on to the masses of the people.

Unless two-thirds of the farmers voted for one of the first two choices, the third choice would have been automatically brought into being. This is a free choice.

The bill would have eliminated much of the discrimination in favor of the corn growers. After all, the carry-over of grain sorghum is approximately three times the carry-over of corn. If surplus is our problem, then the bill would have gone a long way toward eliminating it.

Nothing brings prosperity to towns such as Memphis like profits in the pockets of farmers. Due to this fact, the kind of farm legislation passed at Washington have a direct bearing on all of us.

Tax Relief Where It Will Do The Most Good

Throughout the last months there have been many indications that a tax cut of some kind may become a reality in the years to come. We, too, believe that taxes have reached a point where they are beginning to restrict the growth of the country. However we think that the best method of providing relief is at the bottom and not at the top of the scale.

The reasons for this assumption are based on economic fact. Under the program now, there is an allowance of $600 per person. Not everyone knows that $600 won't rear a child, but this is not the basis of the real reason for the cut at the bottom end of the bracket.

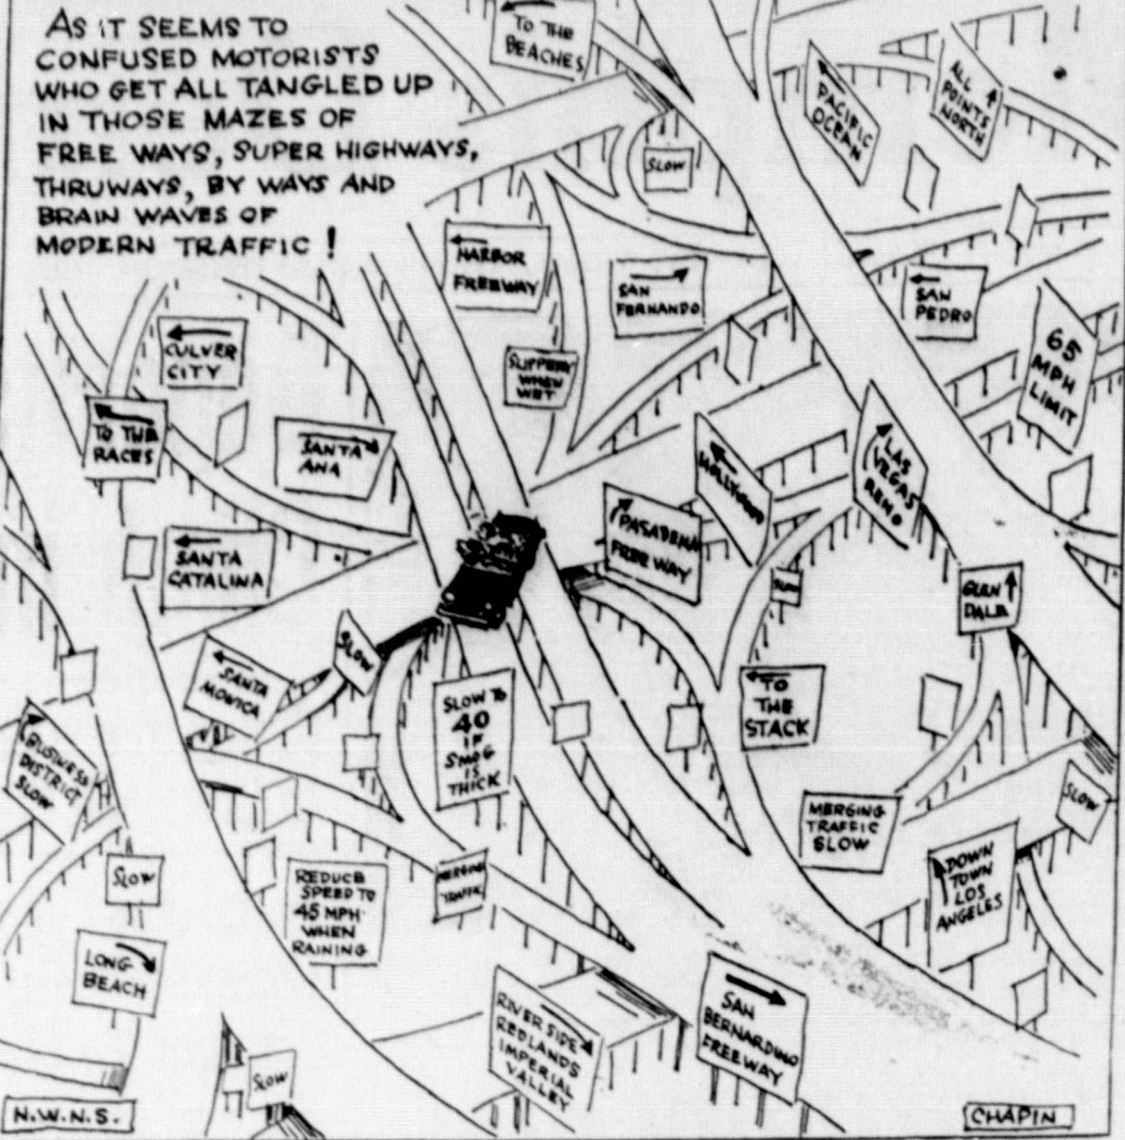

The real reason is that those persons who will be affected most by an increase in the $600 allowance, will be the ones who are now spending most of what they make and if they get a little tax relief, they will spend this money also, and put it into circulation. It will first go to stores for goods, then to the wholesaler for more goods, then to the manufacturer and up the line; actually stimulating the economy more in the long run than if it were granted to the manufacturer in the first place.

We believe that the present tax rate has about reached the limit of diminishing returns in almost every field. Small businessmen are caught in the squeeze just like big businessmen. There is a point where business can be taxed out of existence and this point may be reached one of these days.

He Did His Full Duty
In East Texas within the city of Palestine, stands a monument for Jim H. Reagan.
Thereon, a visitor will find a most appropriate quotation: "The old Roman's highest ambition was to do his full duty; Consciousness of having done it was his ample reward."
It is a large monument. It had to be in order to list the accomplishments of Reagan.
Inscribed on it is a list of the positions held by Reagan from 1845 to 1905. They include Probate Judge, Texas Legislator, District Judge, U. S. Congressman, Confederate Congressman, Postmaster of the Confederate States of America, Secretary of the Treasury of the Confederate States, Delegate to the Texas Constitutional Convention, Chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission, and author of "Memoirs of Secession and Civil War."
It can truly be said that this man did his "full duty."

What Other Editors Say

Falling Chips
"Let the chips fall where they may," is the cry from newspapers and commentators all over the land. That is when the matter under discussion is the Estes case. It is devoutly hoped by most of them that it will implicate men high in the Democratic administration. A lot of printer's ink has been used to show pictures of Democrats in Estes office, and mention has been made of these in hundreds of news media. But only twice in all these weeks have I seen mention of the fact that the famous gallery has a picture of David Dwight Eisenhower. And why shouldn't a grateful Billie Sol honor the head of the administration under which he got his running start in grand larceny. It was in Eisenhower's administration that most of the grain was grown and stored that was making money for the Wonder Boy of Pecos. It was in that administration that Estes built up his empire of elevators, of fertilizer tanks, of cotton farms, of newspapers and funeral homes, and no telling what else. It was under that administration that USDA man Marshall became so involved that his tragic death has left open the horrible suspicion of murder. We're for it. Let the chips fall where they may, but don't take down any pictures from that gallery until all the chips have fallen. We have no doubt whatever about the honor and probity of Mr. Eisenhower any more than we have of the other eminent figures in the picture gallery, but if pictures on the wall indicate guilt, as many editors have inferred, then let's not omit one of the most famous from the line-up.
Senator Stuart Symington is stirring up some odorous facts in the investigation of stock-piling in National Defense. This item stirred Mr. Eisenhower to fury: "Three days before George Humphrey became Eisenhower's Secretary of the Treasury, the Hanna Mining Company, a subsidiary of the Ohio industrial complex Humphrey headed, received a $103 million contract to supply stockpile nickel. The General Accounting Office, Congress' financial watchdog "reported . . . The Hanna Mining and Smelting contracts eliminated practically any link to the Hanna companies of financial loss. As other presidents before him, and as Mr. Eisenhower did for Sherman Adams, the doughty general stood up for his trusted friend to say: "If (Humphrey) ever did a dishonest thing . . . I'm ready to mount the cross and you can put nails and spear in me." It is hard for a great man to hear wrong-doing imputed to one who has been his co-worker in a great enterprise, and it is human and natural for him to speak in his defense. But I'm still ready for the chips to fall where they may.

It was different a century ago in the South and in Texas. The War ended and the South was assessed serfdom as was the style in those days; the people who had knowledge and experience in government were disfranchised, and punitive taxes were imposed to make the "Rebels" pay the costs of the war. There was no outpouring of millions to rehabilitate the south as there has been in the recent years that have disturbed this planet. The government fell into the hands of the manumitted negroes and characters who have been playfully nominated as Carpetbaggers. Naturally these were Republicans, and it was a generation before the native population could recover control of the corrupted and ravaged government. But naturally the native population was Democratic and remained so all these two score and some odd years. In the meantime Texas has changed enormously; great riches have been acquired and the whole state has benefitted. However, in any society only a very few can be millionaires, and so with the accumulation of great wealth there has been a comparable increment of power. And it is historical that the rich and powerful have always exploited the weaker members of society. The multimillionaires of Texas have embarked upon a campaign to make Texas Republican—and they are making pretty good progress at it, but the South Plains country in a vast surprise showing did cast a majority of its vote for the gubernatorial candidate who has a record of loyalty to the Democratic party. All's not lost yet.

Final, completed plans, including blue-prints and detailed specifications for the court house building, offered in exchange for the present site and the old building, were submitted by Dr. W. Wilson to the commissioners court Monday afternoon.
Notice that this would probably be done was published in "News Around the County Court House" in last week's Democrat and a considerable crowd, including most of the business men and property owners around the square were interested spectators.
Dr. Wilson made a brief statement to the effect that the proposed building, with a site to be selected, would cost approximately $100,000.00 and that in addition to this the county would save about $26,000.00, the estimated cost of paving.
A parade, presumably by visiting Ku Klux Klan from nearby towns was staged here last Thursday night at 9:30 o'clock.
Long before this hour the streets leading to the square were blocked with cars and cars were parked in double lines around the square, sidewalks, and a part of the streets, particularly on the north side, were filled with people curious to view the marchers.

Monday morning the group visited Andrew Jackson's Home, "The Hermitage" and that evening they were entertained with a picnic supper at Norris Dam in Tennessee. From the Dam they drove to Johnson City, where they spent the night.
The next day they ate lunch in Roanoke, Va., had supper at Charlottesville and spend the night in Fredericksburg, Va.
From there they drove to Mt. Vernon where they visited George Washington's Estate. From there they drove to Washington, D. C. where they spent two days sight-seeing. The first day they were in Washington it was raining, which rather handicapped their activities. Carolene said, "However, we did visit the Washington Monument, Lincoln Memorial, saw the changing of the Guards at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier and Islamic Center, F. B. I.," she continued.
On Thursday the delegates saw the Department of Interior, Bureau of Engraving, the White House, had lunch in the Supreme Court cafeteria, visited the Supreme Court, the U. S. Capitol, Smithsonian Institute, Ford Theater, and the Lincoln Museum.
Both evenings the group enjoyed dinner in Holloway House.
The delegates left Washington Friday morning for Baltimore, Md., and stopped there to visit Ft. McHenry. They had lunch at Gettysburg and spent three hours touring the battle grounds. They then visited Valley Forge Park, Washington's Army headquarters, and went from there to Long Wood Gardens, the world famous Dupont gardens.

They stopped in Philadelphia where they saw Independence Hall and the Liberty Bell and visited the home of Betsy Ross.
They enjoyed supper at Centerton, N. J., where the IOOF Lodge entertained the group at a swimming party and weiner roast. That night they were guests in homes of lodge members. This was the only place where they were entertained in homes, Carolene said. The next morning they attended church service at the Methodist Church in Elmer, N. J. and left at 1 a. m. that day for New York City.
Headquarters for the delegates while in New York was the Sheraton-Atlantic Hotel. Upon arriving there they went to the colonial room where they met students from other states including California, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Maine, New York, and Wisconsin. These were the eight states represented other than Texas. There were 167 delegates present from the nine states, Carolene said.
The delegates spent six days in New York City with each day filled with sight-seeing and several visits to the United Nations Building, Carolene said. Each morning the delegates met at 7:45 for breakfast and a briefing of the activities planned for the day.
On Monday the group left at 8:45 a. m. for the United Nations Building where they enjoyed a guided tour of the building and spent the morning attending the General Assembly. They had lunch in the delegates dining room and spent the afternoon looking at a film and viewed portraits hanging in the building.
They left for the hotel at 4:15 p. m. and stopped for two hours of shopping at Macy's. That evening they visited the Empire State Building.
Tuesday, the delegates again visited the U. N. Building where they were photographed. They attended the morning and afternoon sessions and again had lunch in the delegates dining room.
That afternoon the delegates boarded three chartered buses for a visit to International House,

Columbia University, Julliard School of Music, Riverside Church and other places. They had dinner that evening in the International House where they visited with students from several different countries.
Wednesday morning they visited the Carnegie International House where they heard talks concerning the customs, government and educational system of many other countries.
On Wednesday afternoon they visited Franca's Tavern, oBard and Pearl where George Washington said farewell to his officers on Dec. 4, 1783 and then enjoyed a three-hour boat trip around Manhattan Island aboard "Manhattan" as a courtesy of the Odd Fellow and Rebecca Lodge of New York City.
They took the subway back to the hotel, which was their first chance to ride the subway.
They had dinner at various eating places and then attended Broadway plays. Carolene said she saw "A Man for All Seasons," but was not sure just which one Jo Ann attended.
Thursday the delegates visited the various New York delegates officer to the United Nations. Some are located in the U. N.

Building while others are elsewhere, Carolene said. She visited the office of the Dominican Republic and Pakistan.
They had dinner that evening at International Cafeteria in Rockefeller Center and later enjoyed a tour of the center.
That evening they attended a talent show.
Friday they again visited the U. N. Building and had lunch at the Sloane House. That evening they visited Radio City where they saw "A Touch of Mink."
Saturday morning they boarded the bus for Texas, taking a different route home. They went by way of Niagara Falls, and on down to Dearborn, Mich., where they visited Greenfield Village and Edison Museum.
Tuesday night they spent in Lincoln, Ill., and were guests at the Odd Fellow Home for children. The last night was spent at Springfield, Mo., and after enjoying a brief tour of the city they journeyed to Irving.
"The trip was an experience that Jo Ann and I will long remember," Carolene said, "And we are most grateful for the privilege of going."

Finch Granddaughter Is Valedictorian In Germany

Frances Ann Ray, 13-year-old daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Jeff G. Ray who are with the U. S. Army in Ulm, Germany and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Finch of Memphis, was chosen as valedictorian of the 8th grade spring graduating class in Germany.

As valedictorian of the class, Frances Ann received the privilege of giving the graduating address. She chose for her subject, "The American Spirit."

Frances Ann recently sent a copy of the speech to her grandparents here, and it is printed below in its entirety.

The American spirit has prevailed throughout the ages and has changed its shape and form many times.

Perhaps this spirit was born with the founding of our country in 1776. The phrase "all men are created equal" that Thomas Jefferson wrote into the Declaration of Independence and the rights and freedoms given to our people by the leaders at the Constitutional Convention prove that our spirit and ideals have long existed. Even way back in the 1800's one could see in the faces and actions of the pioneers our American spirit. One could hear and feel the pioneers' braveness and enthusiasm in every wagon wheel that rumbled westward.

Abraham Lincoln fought with determination over the slavery issue and for the solidarity of the nation. In the Gettysburg Address Lincoln reiterated the American spirit by stating we must all dedicate ourselves to the unfinished work that our people had thus far so nobly advanced and only in that way will our nation under God have a new birth of freedom and our government not perish from the earth.

Millions of inventions have arisen from the free minds of our people. These inventions range from the basic necessities, such as the electric motor, lights, and machinery to the ingenious devices that make our lives more pleasant today. Would as many of these ideas have been created without the free expression that our democracy has afforded these people? I believe not for our American spirit was a guiding light to them.

Our America today still has the same spirit but its spirit is in a more advanced form. Many times the loyalty to our country is not orally expressed but the spirit is not dead. Recently in our conquests of space we proved that the free people of America can organize and create and come to realize the high standards of achievement that America has always known. In math and science as researchers push on to new theories and ideas the same American spirit is these. As new drugs and aids to humanity are discovered the American spirit is present to help free people from disease. Our American Spirit is also portrayed in the willingness of doctors and missionaries to go into the backward countries and help improve the living conditions. In the recent troubles over integration the American spirit was shown when schools were open to all proving that all men have equal opportunities. The recent issues over the Berlin Wall prove our American spirit, as the U. S. sent protests about blocking off the people from freedom. The United States' concern for freedom also shows the American Spirit. The Voice of America and the Peace Corps illustrate the preceding statement. I hope these provide some proof that today the American spirit is not dead but in a different form than 100 or 200 years ago.

In the future it will be difficult to predict what will happen, but what does happen is up to us, the 8th grade class of 1962, to be instrumental in leading America toward it. For this we need educated and informed followers as well as leaders. Let us hope that in the future we seek the same high standards of living as today. Also let us hope that our love of freedom and democracy will prevail to lead toward a better country. Only the Creator knows what is to take place, but we can still help to make the future.

Growers Urged Watch For Insects

in Hall County has been urged and growers should be alert to the progress of the insects to prevent any serious infestations, according to W. B. county agent.

cotton insect control, Bollworm, has proven to be an economical investment in insect control program, not only from the standpoint of setting an early date of fruiting during the two weeks.

populations and damage during the past week in a few fields of late cotton, resulting in leaf injury, Extension Service peropper buildups were observed in Hall County, and growers are urged to check their cotton to prevent excessive early fruiting, warned.

Fleahopper control should be started as soon as 15 adults or more are found per hundred terminals. This is extremely important as cotton begins fruiting if a good set of early forms are to be produced.

Later in the season as the plants are loading up satisfactorily, more and more consideration should be given to the amount of fruit on the plants and the amount of fleahopper damage observed with less emphasis on the actual population numbers.

Bollworm eggs, small worms and damage is common in many plantings of cotton in Hall County. Limited terminal and square damage has occurred in many fields checked. Growers are urged to watch their cotton closely, cautioned Hooser, in case the natural predators and parasites become ineffective in maintaining control of the bollworm population and chemical control is required.

Boll weevil migration from overwintering sites has continued during the past week. First generation adults have begun emerging from squares in which the eggs were placed about three weeks ago, Hooser reported. Farmers in the area are urged to check their fields for punctured squares, and begin control as soon as the number of punctured squares reaches 10 to 15 per cent.

According to the county agent,

Cyclone Band Members To Leave For WTSC Camp

Five members of the Memphis Cyclone Band will leave Saturday, July 15, for band camp at West Texas State College, Canyon.

The camp opens July 15 and will continue through July 27.

Planning to attend are four twirlers with the local band; Rosemary Harrison, Neva Sue Koeninger, Lynn Foxhall and Minka Sims. Also attending for the third consecutive year will be Jay Dunbar, who plays bass saxophone with the band.

Twirlers are planning to take private lessons under Bill Wood, a member of the Texas Technological staff.

Local students will participate in all the routine instruction offered during the camp.

economical boll weevil control is dependent on keeping the population small, setting the crop as early and rapidly as possible and protecting the crop (if necessary) until harvest.

Local Families Give Account Of Activities At Philmont Scout Camp

Three Memphis families attended the Philmont Volunteer Boy Scout Training Center near Cimarron, N. M. during the first week in July. All three men taking their families are workers in Boy Scout Troop 35.

Families attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Les Sims, Minka, Donna and Gary (Scoutmaster); Mr. and Mrs. Homer Tribble, Neil and Bob (committee chairman); Dr. and Mrs. Jack Rose, David, Vicki and Bruce (assistant Scoutmaster).

The Memphis Lions Club, which sponsors the Scout Troop, paid the tuition for the three men.

Philmont Scout Ranch is a national training center sprawling over 127,000 acres of mountains and ranch land. It represents the best there is in camping and training as a part of the program of the Boy Scouts of America.

The land and original home were donated by the Phillips family which founded the Phillips Oil Company. Financial support for the operation of the training center is obtained partly from the operation of the ranch property and partly from rent paid on an office building in Tulsa, Okla., which was also donated by the Phillips family.

Teddy Barnes
Pitches No-Hit Shut-Out Game

Teddy Barnes, who pitches for the American Legion Team of Childress, pitched a no-hit shut-out game against Canyon last Friday night for a win of 13-0 for the Childress team.

Closing a successful season, the Childress team lost only two games this season — one to the Palo Duro Team in Amarillo and one to Hereford.

Beginning his baseball career in Memphis, Teddy played here with the Farm Team and the Little League. He then went to Childress where he first played with the Pony Team and this year is with the American Legion which is made up of boys from 16 to 19 years of age.

Teddy, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Barnes of Newlin, holds a batting average of .410 for the season.

Incidentally, Soapy Tribble was pretty well "spent" after attempting to walk a loose log in the river. Being the good samaritan that he is, he was trying to retrieve a carton of milk for a buddy when he fell. The water was only knee deep, but it sure was cold, the local man reported.

Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Richards of Irving and Mrs. Oma Cole of Mansfield visited the 4th of July here with Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Richards. N. B. is a brother of Mr. Richards while Mrs. Cole is a niece. Also visiting in the Richards home were Mrs. Bertie Harrison of Hedley and her son, Billie Bob Harrison and family of Apple Valley, California.

Neil Tribble went out on a six-day hike with 21 other boys. They walked about 35 miles over rough country and camped under the stars. The boys on this expedition must be at least 14 years of age. The only handicap on the whole trip was caused by the lack of cooperation of the donkeys. It seems that they just lie down and rest when they are tired.

The Scout workers were divided into Patrols, just like a regular Boy Scout Troop. They worked in units with the same men the whole time they were there. One of the interesting things about the training course was in getting better acquainted with the men you were working with.

All three men felt that they had gained a lot of knowledge about visiting in the M. N. Orr home this week was Mrs. Bob Tines, daughter of Mrs. Orr, from Abilene and two granddaughters, Mrs. Ann Warts and Mrs. Roy Lower, and great grandchildren, Christi, Dale and Mike from San San Angelo. Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Orr and Linda of Wellington and Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Orr and Carolyn of Plaska, also visited in the Orr home.

Hall-Smart Nuptial Vows Read In Church Service At Lakeview

Nuptial vows were solemnized at 2:30 p. m. Sunday, July 1, in the First Baptist Church in Lakeview for Miss Linda Gaylynn Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Hall of Lakeview, and A/3c Roger L. Smart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smart of Somerset, Ohio.

Rev. H. W. Hill, pastor, read the double ring ceremony before an archway of greenery decorated with white bells flanked by floor baskets of white gladioli and branched candelabra holding lighted white tapers. A white prayer bench and background of greenery completed the setting.

Pre-nuptial selections were rendered by Mrs. L. G. Rasco, pianist, who also accompanied Sue Randal, sister of the bride, as she sang "O Promise Me," "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer." Mrs. Rasco also played the traditional wedding marches for the processional and recessional.

Attendants

Miss Mimie Anne Rice of Chicago, Ill., was maid of honor. She wore a pink lace dress over net and taffeta styled with a bouffant waltz-length skirt, scalloped neckline, short sleeves and cummerbund. She wore pink lace mitts, picture hat and matching pink shoes and carried a bouquet of white majestic daisies.

Sharon Kay Beardon of Colorado Springs, Colo., niece of the bride, was candlelighter and little Linda Beth Randal of Amarillo, niece of the bride was flower girl. They wore identical dresses of pink lace over pink cotton satin fashioned with cummerbund. They wore short pink mitts, white headband and wristlets of white feathered carnations.

Jimmy Don Molloy of Lakeview attended the groom as best man and ushers were Joe Randal of Amarillo, brother-in-law of the groom and Neely Carl Rice of Amarillo.

The Bride

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal wedding gown of slipper satin over lace fashioned with a rounded neckline accented by seed pearls. The basque waist had short sleeves and tiny covered buttons down the back. The unpressed pleated skirt fell into a short chapel train. The front of the skirt was shirred in self folds from the waist and down the side from over the Alecon lace.

Her finger-tip veil of French illusion edged in scalloped Alecon lace fell from a tiara of seed pearls, rhinestone and orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of white feathered carnations, surrounded by white Shasta daisies showered with white ribbon and tied with love knots atop a white Bible. Long lace mitts completed her attire.

She carried out the traditional bridal custom of wearing "something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue" and a six pence in her shoe. For something old, she wore an heirloom gold pin belonging to her grandmother Crawford, that is over 55 years old. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls.

Reception

Immediately following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Hall were hosts at a reception at their home in the Plaska community. The dining table was laid with a snow white Quaker lace cloth and appointed with crystal and silver. Centering the table was a bouquet of pink majestic daisies flanked on either side by pink tapers in crystal candelabra. The three-tiered wedding cake was a confection highlight with decorator's divites and accented by a miniature bride and groom on the top tier. Miss Paula Blevins of Memphis served the cake while Mrs. Kay Molloy of Tulsa served the pink frosted punch.

After the rehearsal Saturday evening at 4 p. m., Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Hall were hosts to the wedding party at their country home for refreshments. Gifts were given to the attendants by the bride and groom.

For a trip to Mobile, Ala., Mrs. Smart chose for travel a two-piece blue linen suit complemented with white accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Smart are at home at 810 S. Carolina, Mobile, Ala., where the groom is stationed at Brookley Air Force Base.

The bride was reared in Hall County and is a graduate of Lakeview high school. She was previously employed in the general office at Cal Farley's Boys Ranch headquarters in Amarillo.

The groom attended the Glenford, Ohio, high school.

Assembly Of God Church Members Enjoy Chicken Fry

Members of the Assembly of God Church enjoyed an old-fashioned chicken fry at the City Park on Tuesday evening.

Rev. V. C. Sparks, pastor, was in charge of the cooking, assisted by various other members of the church.

The group met at the park at 7 p. m. Served with the chicken was a variety of other picnic dishes.

Adcock Family Meets Here For Reunion Sunday

Children of J. A. Adcock, including nine brothers and sisters were in Memphis Sunday, July 1, for a family reunion.

All members of the family were in attendance, along with their families.

The group enjoyed dinner at the Cyclone Drive Inn and an afternoon of visiting.

Being more centrally located for all members of the family, Lubbock was chosen as the place to hold the reunion next year.

Enjoying the occasion were Joe Adcock of Memphis, Mrs. J. T. Whitten of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Adcock of Wichita Falls, Gary Adcock of Fort Polk, La., Joel Adcock, Jr., of Midland, Bill Adcock and family of Amarillo, Mrs. Laverne Hamel and family of Stratford, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lewis and family of Hobbs, N. M., Mr. and Mrs. Oran Adcock of Memphis, Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Ellerd of Memphis, and Mrs. Dwan Ellerd of Memphis and Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Saunders and family of Lakeview.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Ward of Tulsa visited Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hightower Sunday afternoon. They brought Alison Hightower, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hightower, to visit while they completed their vacation attending the Texas Bar Convention and visiting his sister, the H. T. Lillys of Mexico City.

Mrs. Morrison Is Hostess To Agnes Bailey Class

The Agnes Bailey Sunday School Class met Thursday, July 5, at 2:30 p. m. in the home of Mrs. J. W. Morrison for its monthly social.

Mrs. Ben Jackson presided over the meeting. The opening song was "What A Friend We Have in Jesus." Mrs. Rosa Longbine led in prayer.

Roll call was a verse of scripture. Mrs. R. R. Eddleman brought the devotional taken from I Cor., 13th Chapter and a poem "Wisdom of Youth."

Mrs. J. W. Morrison then led in prayer.

During the business session, minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. After the team captain's report, two new team captains were elected, and included Mrs. J. W. Morrison and Mrs. R. R. Eddleman.

Mrs. C. E. Nelson dismissed the group with prayer.

During the social hour, ice cream, cake and lemonade were served to the following members: Mmes. O. K. Young, Rosa Longbine, R. R. Eddleman, G. E. Nelson, Agnes Bailey, Ben Jackson, one guest, Mrs. Bertha Patterson and hostess, Mrs. J. W. Morrison.

Ford-Sexton Vows Read in Dodson

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Sexton are now at home at 608 South 5th St., following a wedding trip through Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi.

The couple exchanged vows in a double-ring ceremony Wednesday, June 20, in the home of the bride's parents at Dodson.

The ceremony was read by Rev. Gary West of Wellington.

Mrs. Sexton is the former Jimmie Ford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Crowder of Dodson. Mr. Sexton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Sexton, also of Dodson.

Mrs. Tommy Vann of Dodson was matron of honor while Tommy Vann, also of Dodson, served the groom as best man.

Guests were registered by Nickie Pointer of Dodson.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a pale blue street length dress styled with fitted bodice, three-quarter length sleeves and full skirt. She carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Sexton is a graduate of Dodson high school and has been employed for several years at the Paymaster Gin in Memphis.

Mr. Sexton moved from Dodson to California in 1936 where he attended high school. He served four years in the U. S. Navy and shortly after receiving his discharge he re-enlisted in the U. S. Marine Corps to serve four years during the Korean conflict.

Upon discharge from the Marine Corps in 1956, he was employed by Convair Aircraft Corp. in San Diego, Calif.

He moved back to Texas in 1961 and started painting signs and now has a sign shop in Memphis.

A reception was held following the ceremony. Misses Linda Ford and Shiela Ford, daughters of the bride, served the wedding cake and punch. They wore white dresses complemented with pink corsages, as did their small sister, Traci Ford.

Only a few close friends and relatives were present for the ceremony. Among those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Crowder, W. R. Sexton, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Pointer, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Hunt and Nicki Painter of Dodson, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kesterson and Dana, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hutcherson, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Allen, Miss Tommie Sue Roach, and Mrs. Thelma Scott, all of Memphis.

Those unable to attend were Mrs. Dessie Sexton, mother of the groom, and his brothers and sisters who now reside in California.

MRS ROBERT L. SMART

Tea-Shower Fetes Miss Gaylynn Hall

A recent social highlight was the lovely tea shower on Tuesday evening given to honor Miss Gaylynn Hall, bride-elect of Airman Third Class Roger L. Smart of Brookley Air Force Base, Mobile, Alabama.

The party room was attractively decorated in the bride's chosen colors of pink and white.

Guests who arrived at 7:30 p. m. were registered in the bride's book by Mrs. Sonja Hightnight. The registration table was covered with a crocheted table cloth over pink, centered with a bouquet of pink roses.

The attractively laid tea table was covered with a white crocheted cloth over pink, with a large heart shaped arrangement of net and pink roses centering the table, flanked on either side with crystal candelabras and pink tapers.

Mrs. Sharon Johnson and Mrs. Frankie Howard alternated at the punch service.

An appropriate program was given by Mrs. Clyde Reed and piano selections were played by Susan Sams throughout the party hours.

Gifts were displayed on tables covered with pink and white cloths, centered with an umbrella of white net and pink roses. She was assisted in opening gifts by her mother, Mrs. R. D. Hall and sister, Mrs. Sue Randal, and aunt of the bride, Mrs. Robert Muncy of Lockney.

Subsidies

A review of history would reveal that the government has been engaged in the subsidy-granting business for a long, long time. In the early days of this country, between 1827 and 1866, the government granted 6,340,839 acres of public land to private interests for the purpose of encouraging canal building and river improvement; and, in addition thereto, granted free certain rights-of-way. The rights-of-way, of course, were most valuable. The government at that time also made contributions by direct appropriations, stock subscriptions, and loans to private canal companies. Between 1850 and 1871 some 183 million acres of Federal and State lands were granted to railroads. Millions upon millions of dollars have been assigned by the Federal government to ocean and air mail subsidies to foster the development of transportation in the same manner as railroads and waterways had been supported in earlier years. The first mail subsidy was paid more than 100 years ago, in 1845. Millions of dollars have been used to subsidize the building of ships on American ways. In fact, only a few years ago $40 million was paid in the nature of a subsidy to help construct the private luxury liner, the USS United States that plies between this country and Europe. The total cost of that ship was $76,800,000. Hence, the government subsidy was more than the money invested by the private corporation.

In the early days the subsidy mechanism was intended to be employed for the purpose of expanding transportation, encouraging foreign trade, fostering domestic industrial development, and so forth. However, since the turn of the century, subsidies and subsidy-like programs have multiplied to such an extent that their impact is felt by virtually all elements in the nation's economic structure.

Probably the most publicized and widely advertised of government programs seems to be the agriculture program. However, it would be very well for those who are interested in the subsidy program to take a look at the entire picture. The last complication on the subject indicates government subsidies to business running well over $1 billion per year; subsidies to labor running well over $300 million per year; and subsidies to homeowners and tenants running some $40 million per year. These subsidies consist of everything from shipbuilding differential subsidies to accelerated tax amortization, to highway construction, to negotiating government contracts, to free services furnished by many of the boards and bureaus, to credit guaranties and direct loan programs, to airport grants, school lunch programs, and on and on. It seems that there is some kind of subsidy for every segment of our economy.

These subsidies have been expanded primarily due to the demands of the people who are receiving them that they be increased, plus the demands of those who are not receiving subsidies that they be included in the handouts. The primary reason that they have not been reduced is that everyone is most anxious to have the other fellow's subsidy cut and his own increased.

Who Got the Sugar?

As I have pointed out in previous newsletters, the sugar fight has been a long, tough and arduous one — tough and arduous because it involved money in the amount of $500 million paid out by Americans each year for imported sugar. My father once told me that if you want to see the real color of a man's eyes, start fooling with his pocketbook. The truth of this statement was certainly proven in the sugar battle. For more than ten years we have been fighting this battle in an effort to get more sugar produced by our own farmers. The going was slow and frustrating, because it is not easy to fight that kind of money. Nevertheless, our efforts were never relaxed and each year we made a little headway. Actually, we have won a victory this year in that we have finally broken the rigid limitation that had been placed on domestic farmers. Although we did not obtain the amount of sugar to which American farmers are entitled, we did gain enough to open the door and make it possible for private enterprise to move in and build some sugar mills in this country. If these people meant what they said to me and others during this fight over the years, they will move forward quickly toward building a mill in the Panhandle. My vote was cast against the sugar bill in its final form because, although we did gain ground as pointed out, we did not get all that we were entitled to and I shall continue my fight until that time comes.

It would seem that the boys who really got the "sugar" were the lobbyists for the foreign countries for participating in the American domestic sugar market. The whole situation reminded me of a story being told at the time Jack Dempsey was defending his title against the South American

Louis Firpo, "the Bull of the Pampas." The Richter, one of the greatest promoters of history, was handling the bout. There was much conjecture as to who might win. Mae West, who was then in her prime as a movie actress, was asked at a news conference, "Who do you think will win the Dempsey-Firpo fight?" She replied, "Tex Richter."

Mrs. Wendell Harrison has returned home after a week's vacation with her mother, Mrs. Ed Beck in Sylvester. Accompanying her home was a niece, Miss Connie Beck of Sylvester, who will visit here this week.

LADY BUGS

A Fresh Shipment Each Week

It Takes Only 1 Gallon For Every 10 Acres

$7.50 Per Gallon

After this week the price will be $8.00 per gallon. Some scarcity of Lady Bugs thus far, is the reason for increase in price.

Lady Bugs should be released through cotton when four or more inches tall (do not wait until you have had weevils). If you do Lady Bugs will not control over harmful insects, and you will have to spray.

The Lady Bug is an egg eater. Install them now.

Lettie Kinard, Granddaughters Return From New York Vacation

Lettie Kinard and her two granddaughters, Diane Gailey of Memphis and Janet Kinard of Amarillo, returned home from a delightful vacation in New York City, one of the largest and most exciting cities in the world, and to Washington, D. C., the beautiful capitol of the United States.

The trip to New York was made by train, and returned by train, in Amarillo Saturday. An interesting account of the trip is related by Mrs. Kinard, who made the trip especially to see her granddaughters.

The trip was made by Jet, which flew from Dallas by Jet, and returned by train, in Amarillo Saturday. An interesting account of the trip is related by Mrs. Kinard, who made the trip especially to see her granddaughters.

While in New York our address was Sheraton Park Hotel. For our first tour we made the circle trip around the island of Manhattan, by boat going through the Hudson River, East River and Harlem River from where we had a most interesting panoramic view of the elegance and magnificence of this great city. We saw all the great bridges which connect New York with the mainland, Long Island, and New Jersey. The most important of these being the Triborough which connects the Bronx, Queens and Brooklyn and the George Washington bridge spanning the Hudson River to New Jersey.

We toured the United Nations building, took a boat ride to the Statue of Liberty and from there you get a fine view of the city and far out onto the Atlantic. We visited Times square, Madison Square Garden, Greenwich Village, the Bowery, Chinatown, Wall Street, Columbia University, Grant's Tomb, Riverside Drive and the heart of Harlem, the largest Negro city in the world. Of course we went to the top of the Empire State Building from where you can see into seven states on a clear day.

"We had an interesting tour of Rockefeller Center for a behind scenes visit to NBC studios where we explored the mysteries of radio and TV. We were in the audience when "Play Your Hunch" was broadcast with Merv Griffin and Fabian on the show June 29.

"We saw many beautiful churches. Among them "The Little Church Around the Corner" in downtown Manhattan, also old Trinity Church on Wall Street, St. Patrick's Cathedral on Fifth Avenue and attended eleven o'clock services on Sunday in Riverside Church, one of the very famous churches of the city. We also attended Vesper services and organ recital at St. John, the Divine Cathedral, the largest Gothic Cathedral in the world.

"We made a shopping tour along Fifth Avenue, visiting all the famous shops such as Saks, Lord and Taylor, Berdorf-Goodman & Best and spent some time in Macy's, the largest department store in the U. S.

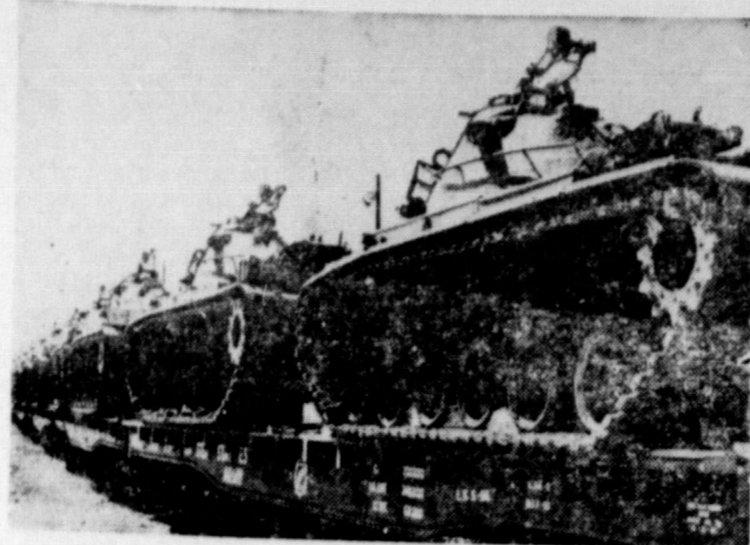

"We went to several Broadway musical comedies including "Carnival", "My Fair Lady", "Sound of Music" and saw the world famous Rockettes in Radio City Music Hall. Also went to see "A Touch of Mink" in Radio City.

"We also ate at many exciting dining places of different nationalities of French, Swedish, Persian, Spanish and Italian cuisine.

"New York with its magnificent harbors has ships of all the nations docked there. The stately Queen Mary was docked there during our stay.

We left New York with its glamor, its magnitude and its excitement, very reluctantly.

Next, we went to Washington, D. C., a beautiful city of power, influence and great elegance. We felt the spirit of our great heritage of freedom as we viewed the monuments of Jefferson, Washington, and Lincoln. The greatest spots of interest are the White House and the imposing structure over the Capital Building. We made the tour of the White House, seeing the Grand Ball Room, the ROLLING TANKS—Above are railroad flat cars loaded with tanks on their way from Fort Hood, Tex., to Fort Polk, La., several months ago. They have been used in extensive combat training by the 49th Armored Division, composed of U. S. Army Reservists and members of the National Guard. Serving with the 49th from Memphis are Lieut. Billy A. Combs and Pfc. Johnny Harrell.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our thanks and appreciation to our friends who were so kind during L. A.'s stay in the hospital. The cards, letters, visits and flowers were appreciated. We wish also to thank Dr. O. R. Goodall and staff. If anything could compensate for being sick in the hospital, their kindness and care would.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Bray

Those visiting in the James Bray and L. A. Bray homes last week were Mr. and Mrs. James Bray and Danny and Dianne of Pakland, Oreg., Mr. and Mrs. Bill Dunn and Billie of Amarillo and Mrs. E. J. Galloway of Amarillo. They also visited with Mr. Bray who was receiving treatment in Goodall Hospital.

Red Room, The Green Room, The Blue Room and the State Dining Room in Gold.

A tour of the stately Capital Building where Congress was in session was most interesting. We visited the National Archives Building, the National Art Gallery, Bureau of Engraving and Printing, the Natural History Building, the Smithsonian Institute, where we were greatly impressed with the inaugural dresses of all the first ladies Martha Washington down to Mamie Eisenhower, as well as the first airplane, the Spirit of St. Louis and the great progress we have made in aviation ever since Lindbergh.

There are many beautiful parks in Washington and on the 4th of July at the Washington Monument Park the Navy Band gave a concert followed by a magnificent fireworks display that was breathtaking. While in Washington we saw "West Side Story" and at the Carter Barron Amphitheatre at Rock Creek Park, an outdoor theatre, we sat under the stars to see "The Mikado."

We dined at many different restaurants including "Tokyo Subi Yaki", where we removed our shoes, sat on mats and ate with chop sticks.

We met many interesting personalities, among them the President of Columbia Guielernio Valencia and his party and two federal security officers assigned by President Kennedy for protection of the group. We traveled with them from New York to Washington and found them very friendly. While in Washington we stayed at the Statler Hilton Hotel. Everywhere we went people knew we were from Texas because of our accent and beaus of our friendliness.

Three Memphis Scouts Are At Aquatic Camp

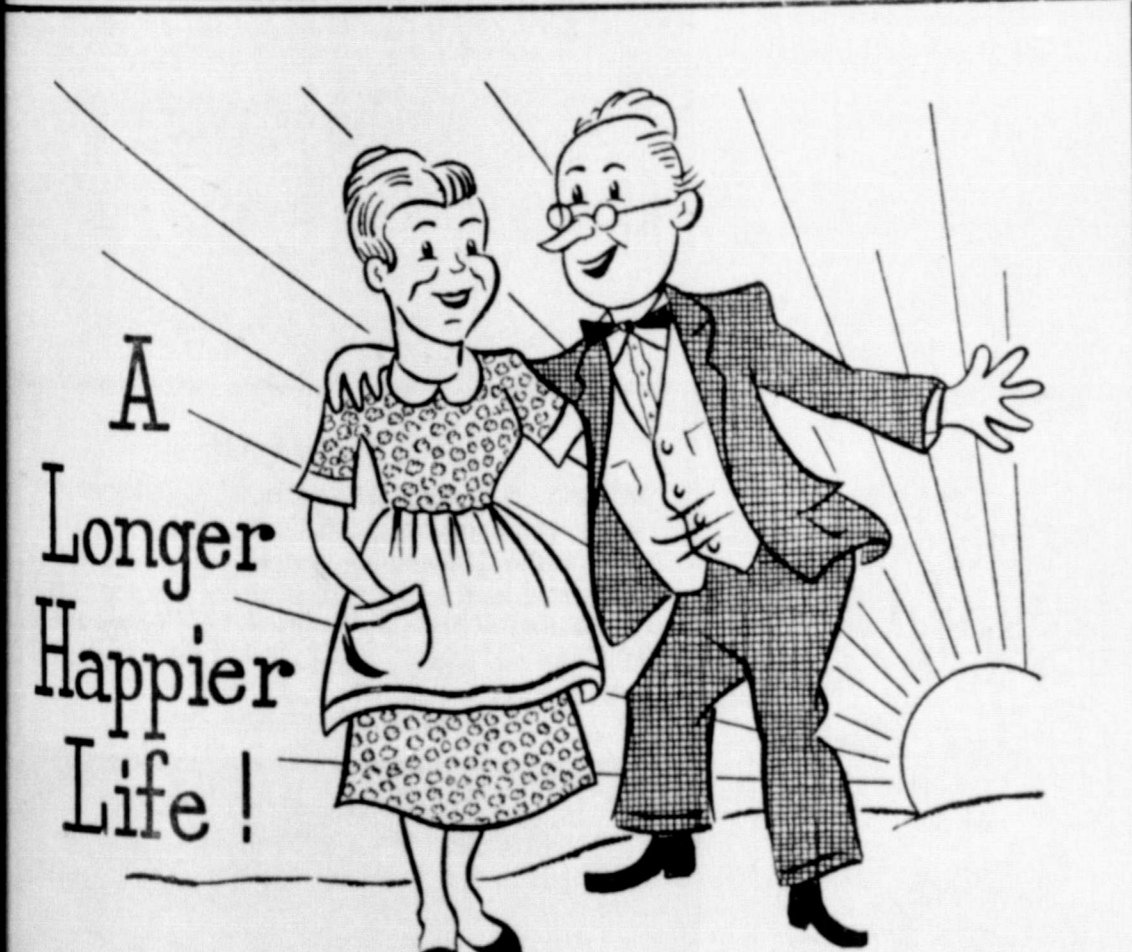

Three Memphis Scouts are at Camp Kiowa this week attending Aquatic Camp, a week on the waterfront. Enjoying this phase of the scouting program are Neal Tribble, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Tribble, Larry Helm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Buster Helm and Gary Rea, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Rea.

During the week, the Scouts will receive instruction in canoeing, rowing, life saving, and swimming. This course when completed and all requirements passed, entitles the Scout to a certificate as a Boy Scout Life Guard.

Mike Branigan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmont Branigan, who had made plans to attend the camp this week came down with a sore throat and was unable to attend.

Accompanying the Scouts to the camp Sunday were Elmont Branigan, Elmonette and Mike and Cris Clements and Mrs. Buster Helm. Bob Reilly, who has been a visitor in the Helm home last week, boarded a train in Shamrock for his home in Okema, Okla.

Mrs. J. M. Saunders and Mrs. Mary Elkins and James were Amarillo visitors last week. Mrs. Saunders visited with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Robertson while Mrs. Elkins visited her sister, Mrs. Webster and family. On July 4th the group enjoyed the fireworks display. They returned home on Friday.

A Longer Happier Life!

In 1900 the average life expectancy was about 42 years. Today, life expectancy has increased to 67. Yes, 25 years of normal, productive life have been added to the life span of the average American.

The Doctor and the Pharmacist and their colleagues in allied professions have contributed greatly to longer and healthier lives for us... through new drugs, new surgical techniques, new diagnostic tests and many other advances.

For example, not so long ago a diabetic faced a two-to-one chance of an early death. Now, he can live a normal life expectancy on a drug whose daily cost is less than the price of a pack of cigarettes.

Research finds the many new drugs which have lengthened our life expectancy.

Consider an epileptic who can now be a productive, self-supporting citizen because medical research has produced a drug costing only pennies a day.

only a GAS refrigerator is built for "Family-Duty" and here's why:

LONG LIFE
10-YEAR WARRANTY

LONGEST WARRANTY ON THE MARKET— Family-planned 10-year warranty on the sealed GAS system is twice as long as any other — backed by reliable Lone Star Gas service. Expect and get long life and trouble-free service with gas.

THIS... NOT THIS

MONEY-SAVING OPERATION — Refrigeration costs less because it's GAS! No moving parts to wear in the GAS cooling system mean lower repair costs and less worry than with compressor types. Thousands of quarter-century old gas refrigerators still give top performance and consistent low-cost gas operation.

ICE DISPENSER AND FROST-FREE MODELS — Ice is always fingertip-handly in the server basket. Absolutely no frost forms in frost-free GAS refrigerator-freezer models. Big, zero-degree freezer is a separate compartment. GAS refrigerator prices are the lowest ever . . . and they're built to work better, last longer — and for less!

Cleaning Will Remove Most All Worms In Fish

The ordinary cleaning of fish will remove practically all of the parasitic worms found on bass in Texas, with the exception of the yellow and black grubs. Marion Toole, coordinator of inland fisheries of the Game and Fish Commission, is getting many questions concerning worms found in cleaning fish.
Since these worms are not hosted by man, they would not be injurious if eaten. This is especially true if the fish is well cooked, according to Toole.
"It is possible to find the bass tape worm, Proteocephalus ambloplitis, in places in Texas," he says. "These are cestode worms and occur in the intestines of the bass. They will be eliminated from a fish by cleaning the fish."
"The bass tape worm also goes through a life cycle in order to continue its existence in the world. They produce eggs which break off from the adult form and are shed the anus of the fish into the water.
"In the water, the wall of the proglottid disintegrates and the eggs are released into the water. The eggs are then eaten by some crustaceans, such as the cyclops or diaptomus and in these small animals the eggs hatch and develop into the proceroid.
"When the crustacean in turn is eaten by the fish, the parasite which is a proceroid larvae, bores through the wall of the digestive tract and invades the tissue of the viscera.
"The final host is usually one of the centrarchids which eats the infected, secondary fish host and as the secondary host is digested, the larvae are released into the intestines of the fish (black bass, goggle-eyes, crappie, etc.) and grow into adult tape worms, anchoring themselves to the fish.
"Usually when yellow or black grubs are found encysted along the dorsal spine of a fish, by cutting off a little muscle tissue these worms can be removed."
Among visitors in the Elmont Branigan home during the July 4th holiday and weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Smith of Fresno, Calif., Mrs. Freddie Smith of Hitchcock, Okla., W. A. Branigan and son Gary of Hollis, Okla., and Mrs. H. T. Branigan of Hollis.

Surviving, other than the parents, are a sister, Marilyn of the home; her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. McClure of Wellington and formerly of Memphis.

Three Firms In Hedley To Hold Open House Sat.

Open house will be held Saturday, July 14, for Hedley's latest business relocations, according to an announcement early this week.
The three businesses are now housed on the lower floor of the Adamson Building. They are: Clifford Johnson Insurance Agency, Mrs. Clifford Johnson Floral business, and the Cherry Radio and TV Shop. The building is located on the west side of Main Street, near the middle of the block. Extensive remodeling and redecorating has been done in the building.
All three businesses have been in operation for some time, but the owners feel they will be better able to serve the community in the new location.
The public is invited to come in Saturday, and receive free favors and refreshments. Hours of the open house will be from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.
Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Philpot of Greenville visited here over the weekend with their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Philpot and children.
