Postex Mills Begin Sewing Sheets Mon.

Hall Plant, Postex Cotton Mills, began their operation in Memphis Monday morning as six ladies sat down at sewing machines, company officials said this week.

By Thursday, the number working had increased to 12 as the production of the sewers rose. At present there are six hemmers, one service man, four inspectors, and one paper wrapper employed, besides J. P. Parnell, manager, and Mrs. Hope Robinson, who came up from Post Monday to help with the instruction of the sewing.

"We are very well pleased with the operation so far, and everything is going on schedule," Louie Burks, manager of Postex said this week.

It was planned that two more persons be employed Thursday, which will make the total 14.

The equipment for the plant was moved in last Friday into the building on Noel Street, between Foxhall Motor Co. and J. C. Penney Co.

Chamber of Commerce officials stated that anyone desiring to make application for employment should contact the local office. Those persons who have not taken the speed test and desire to do so may come by the textile plant any afternoon between 3:30 and 4 p. m. this week or next, Parnell said.

It is planned that the plant will grow as the employees are trained until the capacity of the building is reached.

The operation here consists of the hemming of sheets.

R. D. Garretson Funeral Services Held Here Today

Funeral services for Robert Daniel Garretson, 77, who died Sunday in Lordsburg, N. M., were held at 10 a. m. today (Thursday) from the Spicer Funeral Chapel with Rev. Fern Miller, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating.

Interment was in Fairview Cemetery with services under the direction of Spicer Funeral Home. Mr. Garretson was born Sept. 6, 1885, in Okmulgee, Okla. He was married to Miss Laura Hendricks Feb. 11, 1912.

Survivors include four sons, Bert Ivan of Kennewich, Wash., Richard William, also of Kennewich, Horace John of Lordsburg, N. M., and Jack Wilburn of Antioch, Calif.; five daughters, Mrs. Opal Lorraine Hubbard of Kennewich, Wash., Mrs. Rosa Lee Davis of Long Beach, Calif., Mrs. Clara Bell Lyles of Antioch, Calif., Mrs. Maxine Thompson of Antioch, and Mrs. Frankie L. Hall of Antioch; 34 grandchildren; three sisters, Mrs. Sarah Ragsdale of Lordsburg, N. M., Mrs. Theodora Davidson of Los Angeles, Calif., and Mrs. Mary Ann Fullingame of Anaheim, Calif.

Man Electrocuted Near Lesley This Morning

Horace Wesley "Pete" Phillips, 33, was killed this morning, about 5:30 a. m. when his body came in contact with a high voltage electric line.

The accident occurred at Lesley as Phillips was working on lines belonging to the Hall County Electric Cooperative, Inc.

Phillips, whose home was in Vernon, had organized a construction company, and was working on his first job here in Hall County when the accident occurred. He had been in this type of work for a number of years.

He and his crew had been here for about three weeks rebuilding line for the cooperative, which is planning to provide three-phase service to the Brice Gin. (Continued on Page 12)

Funeral Services Held Today For Lesley Couple

Joint funeral services for Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Walter Moseley were held at 10:30 a. m. today (Thursday) from the Lesley Baptist Church with Rev. Kenneth Lowry, pastor, officiating.

Interment was in Childress Cemetery with services under the direction of Spicer Funeral Home.

Mrs. Moseley died Sunday afternoon about one-half mile from her home in the Lesley community as she sought aid for her husband, after he suffered a stroke.

Mr. Moseley died at 11 a. m. Wednesday in a local hospital, where he had been a patient since Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Moseley were married Feb. 1, 1903, in Childress and had lived in the Lesley community for the past 36 years. They were retired farmers.

The former Susan Georgeanne McGill, Mrs. Moseley was born Sept. 3, 1885. She was a member of the Lesley Baptist Church.

Mr. Moseley was born March 7, 1880, in Coryell County, Tex.

The couple is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Charlie Richardson of Houston and Mrs. Izzetta Spencer of Chicago; seven grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. Mrs. Moseley is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Elma Avery and Mrs. Edna Hughs, both of Childress, and one brother, John McGill of Wellington. Mr. Moseley has one sister, Mrs. Beth Kitchens of Long Beach, Calif., surviving.

Pall bearers were Bill Montgomery, Paul Montgomery, Jack Montgomery, D. C. Hall, W. M. Hughs and Johnny Hancock.

Lakeview Methodist Church To Hold Meeting Aug. 19-26

Rev. James C. Holman of the Grace Methodist Church in Abilene, will hold a meeting at the Lakeview Methodist Church, beginning Aug. 19, it was announced this week.

The meeting will continue through Aug. 26, with both morning and evening services scheduled. The various topics to be discussed and further details will be announced next week.

Troop 35 Hosts Dads Mon. Night

Memphis Boy Scout Troop 35 and their fathers enjoyed a swimming party and barbecued hamburger supper at the City Park Monday night.

Members of the troop met at the swimming pool at 5 p. m. Monday afternoon, where they gave a life saving demonstration and showed their swimming skills to the 25 fathers present. The demonstration lasted for one and one-half hours.

After the swimming demonstration, the group moved to the picnic area of the park. Here they enjoyed their meal.

Also attending the meeting were four visitors and the scout executive, "Tex" McCoy, ofampa.

Waples-Platter To Close Down Warehouse Here

Waples-Platter Co., wholesale grocery firm here, announced this week that the firm was moving their local operation to Lubbock where it will be combined with offices there, according to Hubert Jones, local manager.

Officials of the firm stated that their operation here has been very pleasant, but that the trend in the wholesale grocery business was toward centralization, around a large warehouse such as is operated in Lubbock.

J. D. Gamil, head of the firm in Fort Worth, stated that the association with the people in Memphis had been the best possible but that economics of operating a wholesale grocery firm from a small warehouse was no longer possible.

At present there are approximately nine families employed by the firm. The warehouse here will close Saturday, Aug. 18.

Two More Bees Needed For Hall County Picnic

Two bees have been donated for the Hall County Picnic, Byron Baldwin, chairman of the committee announced this week. The calves have been given by M. C. Allen at the Memphis Compress and the First State Bank, Mr. Baldwin said.

"We are expecting a large crowd this year, and are in need of two more bees," he added. Anyone who wants to donate a beef for the annual picnic is asked to contact Mr. Baldwin.

"The time is getting short as we need to feed the calves out before the picnic," the chairman said.

The date for the annual picnic is Sept. 17. In charge of feeding out the bees is a committee composed of Roy Gresham, Lowell Houston, Virginia Browder and Jimmy Hill.

City Council Sets Tax Rate At $1.40 Per Year

Members of the Memphis City Council, in a regular meeting Monday night passed an ordinance setting the tax rate at $1.40 for the coming year, according to Ben Parks, who acted as secretary for the group during the absence of A. L. Gailey.

This is the same rate as was in effect last year.

Members of the Council discussed the need of rest rooms at the City Park. Since they had received only one bid on the project, asked the committee to secure more bids before a decision was made.

The Council also received a plot on the Boykin Addition to Memphis, and action on this is expected in the near future.

Other business included the regular approval of bills and reports.

AFTER INSECTS—George Ferris is shown above on the Bill Prather farm near Newlin early this week as modern machines were being pitted against the age-old enemy of man, the insect. This sight was common in the county this week and will probably continue at a faster pace in the weeks to come as the farmers and the cotton insects battle it out.

one from a former Memphis man, Fred Boon of Exeter, Calif. "Dear Democrat: Thanks so much for the notice in the Hall County Picnic. It will be impossible to be there this year, as we have many friends there, and we have been there on the anniversary. The reason we were not there this year fell on a very sick man. He had broken ribs, a broken nose, head injuries and bruises. Fred would appreciate letters from any of his friends in Hall County. He will be in Exeter Memorial Hospital September if everyone writes well.—Mrs. Connie (Why not send him a card, Fred. I have many friends in wish you will be up and about. We will miss you at the picnic.)"

Memphis, in looking about ways and means of improving the looks of the town, might be having the sidewalks repaved in front of all the houses. Another thing, as has been mentioned before would add to the appearance of business houses—you could repair, change up, and paint the fronts.

This is August—for last year was the last of July, and it was July 31 along with the night-rain. Soon it will be September when a dog named "Soapy" was kicked by a neighbor who knew the next day would be the first of September that was the last of July. Come September and the Hall County Picnic after the middle of the month—Sunday, Sept. 16, to be in preparation for the picnic. Baldwin reports that the bees have been donated and put on feed shortly. "And, more bees are needed because we are to feed as many as last year," Byron grudgingly asserted.

The west of us "Soapy" is growing zinnias and feathers, and to the east W. B. Funk is daily gathering to feed a large family, the plant itself is not bad to it as one goes along the hot Dr. Pepper Company is putting Mexican Jumping Beans in cases of the soft drink. I wonder if it is a hint people should drink Dr. Pepper them up to the point they feel like jumping around! (Damn these flies!) We're in a cloud of spray, and for a minutes the flies hide away. Back they come more sticky ever. For our health's sake, do away with fly-breeding—such are easily burned. At the same time, we can get comfort and view much scenery around us.

Spring, Deck Wells of the Region Leader felt so well morning that he penned some lines, and I am wondering how poetic he feels these sultry mornings. Read his effusion:

One of those perfect spring days that come so often in abundance to rival the awe-beauty of the winter stars and the October sunsets. The air is hot and a soft breeze stirs the leaves of the trees. The singing doves are sounding their melody and a cardinal is perched on the sycamore. The glad-lance have poised their blooms in the face of the rising sun and the flowers have a fat and comely look. It is time to give for another wondrous day of being alive and in good

Swat and Spray

Summer, with all its many varied sides, showed another one this week as the temperature climbed above the hundred mark several times. During the past weeks of rain and cool weather, most of us had forgotten that summer was supposed to be the hot time of the year.

After all the damp weather, the flies are now out in full force. The sale of fly swatters and insect spray has been good, but from the number which keep flying in the back door of The Democrat, it seems that so far we humans haven't been able to make much dent on the fly population.

It would probably be a great help in this direction if there was some method by which the trash in Memphis could be kept in closed cans and do away with some of the breeding places of the flies. Most towns do not allow burning of trash, and require that all trash be kept in covered cans. This of course necessitates the picking up of the trash much more often, and costs the city more money. But it would be a real step toward doing away with the fly population and would also help keep the air free from odor, especially at night. It seems that no matter how hard we try to burn all the trash, there still remains some which will smoke on into the night... with the odor being accentuated by the air conditioner.

This method of trash collection would also result in a much cleaner and better looking town. As Memphis grows in the future we hope that the citizens will keep this in mind as one of the ways in which the community can go forward. It may not be practical at present, but we may be able to put it into city planning in the years to come.

Drivers' License Mess

There are now some 76 million motor vehicles in this country, driven by more than 90 million people, and Detroit is currently racking up its second best auto-building year in history.

It is estimated that by 1975 there will be 110 million vehicles and 125 million drivers.

Traffic deaths in 1961 were 38,000. Unless safety work is greatly increased, 50,000 human beings will die in traffic in 1975.

Better roads, of course, are an important part of improving automobile safety. The Interstate Freeway System is a massive step in this direction.

A major area of concern, however, according to the Automotive Safety Foundation in Washington, is driver licensing.

Early licensing laws were primarily intended to identify drivers and provide revenue. It is surprising to realize that even as late as 1932, only 21 states required prospective drivers to pass an examination in driving competency. It is a shock to learn that not until 1959 did all states require some type of examination.

Two officials of the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators, John C. Kerrick and Dr. Joseph P. Hennessee, state that even today "The potentially powerful and effective drivers' license remains basically an ID card, sometimes handy in establishing a birth date or in cashing a check."

"It remains," they say, "our most neglected safety device."

Present-day state laws are a hodgepodge. Unlike most other kinds of licenses, which are valid only within the state which issues them (such as for doctors and lawyers), a driving license permits anyone to travel freely in any state. Drivers who have passed rigid qualifications are mixing with other drivers who may have met only minimum requirements.

The most serious driver licensing differences involve regulations as to who may drive (minimum ages go as low as 14; eyesight limits vary from 20-30 to 20-70 vision), examination standards and laws regarding license suspension or revocation.

In the 1920s the Uniform Vehicle Code was developed by numerous public agencies and private groups and has constantly been brought up to date.

The states are slowly moving toward adopting the code's recommendations in many, if not most, aspects of motor vehicle use. But the extent of interstate co-operation is evidenced by the fact that 25 bills relating to motor vehicles and highway safety were pending in Congress early this year.

It is one more area where the federal government may be forced to step in where the doctrine of "states' rights" is failing.

Forgotten War

Continued centennial commemorations of the Civil War this year tend to obscure the fact that 1962 is also the sesquicentennial of another war, the War of 1812.

This is not surprising, for it was a minor war compared to the great conflict between the states. It was an unpopular war (we still Perry's victory on Lake Erie ("We have met the enemy and they are ours").

The capture of Washington and burning of the White House.

The bombardment of Fort Mifflin and the birth of the "Star Spangled Banner."

Andy Jackson and the Battle of New Orleans.

Historians have begun to take a second look at this neglected war. In spite of the fact that it could have been averted, it did result in certain benefits, such as a new feeling of national unity.

It put the final seal on the American Revolution, convincing Britain that America was indeed bent upon following her own destiny.

For that reason, some call it "The Second War of Independence."

Memories Turning Back Time

40 YEARS AGO August 10, 1922

One of the most unusual and enjoyable entertainments ever given in this section was held last Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Vardy at the old "62" ranch headquarters south of Estelline.

The meeting was held in honor of Judge R. E. Tackitt of Estelline and pioneer citizens from half a dozen counties were present by invitation.

You are requested to attend a meeting of the Hall County Farm Bureau to be held at the court house on Saturday the 12th, 1922 at 10 o'clock a. m.

The meeting is for the purpose of electing a President, Secretary, and a Board of Directors for the coming year, and such other business as will need to come before members at this time.

The Texas State Democratic Executive Committee made short work Monday of the task assigned it by the statutes to canvass and certify the names of the party nominees and the names of the two leading candidates in the four States contests in which no candidate received a majority of the ballots cast.

Ernest Mollison left for Dallas Monday on a business mission. Charlie Rich left Sunday afternoon for a few days visit at Hereford, Amarillo, and other points.

Miss Mona Ross came in Monday from Dallas, where she spent her vacation with relatives. William Walker and family accompanied by Mr. Walker's sister, Mrs. Chapman, returned Friday of last week from Carter, Oklahoma where they visited relatives and friends.

J. W. Duncan of Des Moines, New Mexico, is here this week attending to business matters.

Story Told About Pioneers

Mrs. Ola C. Hopkins, Okla., who is correspondent for a number of Oklahoma papers, recently wrote a story for her paper concerning the pioneer who reaches the age of 95.

There was a time when six children gathered around the family table, attended a small one-room rural school as they grew to maturity. Their only son was killed in 1947 in an explosion at a refinery at Borger, Texas, and a daughter died in 1936. Others are four daughters, Mrs. Jocie Mae Hiett, near Hollis; Lillian Haddock, Siloam Springs, Ark.; Dorris Tillery, San Gabriel, Calif.; and Helen Jones, Ft. Worth. Dorris and Helen are registered nurses on special duty.

From a two-room box frame house that made their first home on the homestead the present residence has grown into a place of modern innovations and conveniences. An all-electric, save four gas heaters, they have dial telephone, radio, TV, "and even electric blankets," Reeves rejoiced.

Though 25 miles from Hollis, county seat for them and 35 from Mangum in an out-of-the-way area, the Reeves declare it has been a long and interesting life together.

Born at Cave Springs, Georgia and lured by tales of cowboys, cattle, prairies and bears and "Go west, young man, go west," he left his Southern home to work at Memphis, Texas for an uncle in 1892. Six years later he had married a Memphis young lady, Miss Mollie Howe.

"Thereafter moving to our new dugout home on a three and one-half sections of land in Donley county, twenty miles north of Memphis, we faced the 64-dollar question of how to make a living. This resulted in moving into Memphis where he worked at digging cisterns, walls and carpentering, until we filed on the present homestead in Oklahoma." Since that time he has continued at various jobs in addition to farming such as fireman for gins at Carl and

Madge, nearby trading centers, operated a blacksmith shop and molasses mill making as much as 100 gallons of molasses for neighbors who grew their cane, he recalled.

In a drouth period he worked at Burk Burnett, Texas, and has hauled ice from Hollis to distribute throughout the countryside before days of REA. In more recent years he hauled apples by truck loads from Colorado and New Mexico for local distribution. And throughout the years he has sold vegetables from his own small truck plot.

He learned gardening and loved it from early youth and remembers he made his own "allowance" by taking 100,000 cuttings from waste on his uncle's grape vines after they had been pruned. These were sold to a nursery, but Mr. Reeves doesn't remember the price he got. He didn't seem to mind the early day hardships of going by means of wagon and team to Mangum for farm and produce needs of his family, although it took two days' and three if roads were muddy," he recalls. "I stayed at Davis wagon-yard and ate at a short-order stand where we could get a big T-bone or round steak with bread and coffee for 15 cents."

But the Reeves will never forget the drouth years of the 1890's when they watched settlers leave the Panhandle by scores to keep from starving. "I've seen as many as 50 covered wagons per day headed southeast and at camp sites I've seen several rabbit hides the next day. Even medical care was cheap in frontier days. "During a spell of typhoid in 1904 my doctor made several trips from his home five miles away and furnished all the medicine and when I asked for my bill he said $20."

Reeves remembers that Memphis once had a flour mill that burned, as did several residences. Families went away to find work. Prosperity returned by 1900 as the Panhandle boomed again. Memphis had the first telephone in 1899. "Ed Hison and I put in a little exchange and built a toll line to Newlin and Wellington," he said. "We were never happier than on our wedding day when Judge Pardue read the wedding rites, and moved into a one-room dugout, which seemed palatial for a honeymoon," both agreed.

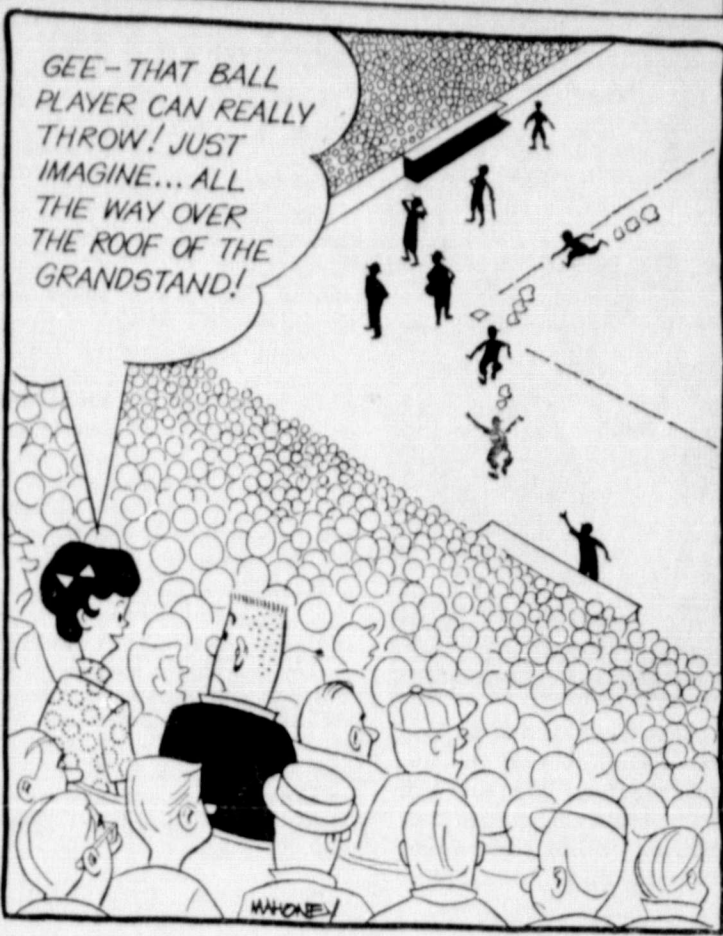

Mrs. H. B. Gilmore left Sunday for her home in Dallas after a two weeks vacation here with her daughter, Mrs. Gene Lindsey and family, and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Durwood Henderson of Amarillo spent the weekend here with Mrs. Henderson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Hickey.

Mrs. C. R. Burks of Del Norte, Colo., and Mrs. Warren Witham and Tony and Mike of Newark, Calif., are visiting here this week with Mrs. Bernie McCoy.

Mrs. Richard Limer and sons visited in Shamrock Sunday with her sister, Mrs. George Birch, who is ill.

HALF-PAST TEEN

Madge, nearby trading centers, operated a blacksmith shop and molasses mill making as much as 100 gallons of molasses for neighbors who grew their cane, he recalled.

Lorene Evans Opens New Beauty Shop This Week

Lorene Evans announced this week the opening of the West Side Beauty Shop in her home at 1402 Montgomery Street.

Mrs. Evans has had eight years experience in hair dressing and cosmetology. She owned and operated a shop in Paris prior to moving here.

She received her training at Isabell's University of Beauty Culture and Jessie Lee's Hair Design Institute in Lubbock.

The shop will remain open until nine o'clock on Thursday to accommodate ladies who work, Mrs. Evans said.

Mrs. Kate Parks visited in Amarillo last week with Mr. and Mrs. Ladson Worley.

Mrs. Don Rosson and Donna of Amarillo visited here the first of the week with their parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Spoon and Ann.

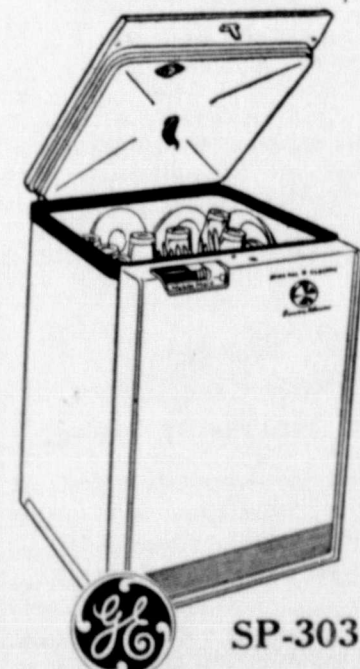

Mrs. Felix Jarrell and Patsy Jarrell spent the weekend in Amarillo with Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Dunn and went to Canyon to attend the wedding of Miss Carolyn Hoover.

Mr. and Mrs. Candler Hawkins of Marionville, Mo., arrived here Sunday to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Harrison and Mrs. Carl Harrison and other relatives and friends.

Mrs. W. E. Hill of Fort Worth is here visiting with friends. A former Memphis resident, Mrs. Hill lived here for many years prior to moving to Fort Worth about two years ago.

New Cotton Spinning Method Is Developed

A radically new experimental cotton spinning machine, developed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture engineers, may be an important step toward eventual automation in cotton spinning mills.

Although much additional research will be needed to perfect its operation, the prototype apparatus has demonstrated advantages that could lead to considerably savings of time and labor required in spinning cotton yarn.

Inventors of the machine, known as the SRRL Ringless Spinning Machine, are G. J. Kyame and H. R. Copeland of USDA's Agricultural Research Service. Their machine spins cotton without the use of bobbin, ring or traveler, which limit the rate of yarn production and the size and shape of yarn packages in current spinning.

The machine has two major faults, say the inventors. It puts more twist in the cotton than is desirable in a satisfactory yarn and the yarn varies in thickness and strength along its entire length and its appearance is inferior.

In conventional spinning, a bobbin is mounted on a spindle that revolves inside a closed ring at speeds up to 12,000 revolutions per minute. As the bobbin turns, twist is imparted to a strand of fiber, converting it into yarn. The yarn, in turn, is wound around the bobbin.

In the SRRL Machine, the yarn is wound directly from the spindle into packages of any shape or size needed for later processing steps. This eliminates time and labor now required to change bobbins and rewind the yarn.

The manufacture of cotton yarn consists of an expensive series of disconnected processes. Although several of these have been combined or connected, many textile people agree that the full advantage of automation cannot be realized in spinning mills until present processes are replaced by an entirely new spinning procedure. The SRRL Ringless Spinning Machine, officials believe, is a step in this direction.

Mrs. Ruthie B. Brown of Alvord arrived here Monday for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Funk.

IMPEACHING A WITNESS

A story they tell on Lincoln is how he once proved his client's innocence by "impeaching" an eye witness.

Lincoln's client had stolen a chicken, the witness owned, at a certain time on a certain night.

Asked how he could see so well at night, the witness declared "by the light of the moon—just as clear as clear."

Lincoln "impeached" the testimony with ease by pulling an old almanac out of his pocket. It showed that no moon was up at that time, nor was it full on that date.

Trials are hard on everybody—witnesses and parties alike. They often take place when other ways to settle a dispute have failed, and there are hard feelings. But granting good faith, people do make mistakes in what they recall. After they have told their story a few times, many are dead certain—like Lincoln's witness—that they did see and hear what they say they did.

And so, for the sake of justice, courts allow each side to test a witness' reliability. Sometimes a witness is so obviously prejudiced or so obviously twisting the facts the cross-examiner easily discredits his story.

But often sincere witnesses tell different stories, and the jury has a right to know how much weight to give each. It is the jury's sworn duty, in fact, to weigh the credibility of witnesses. And a good way is to see how a witness' story hangs together under fire or checks other known facts.

(This news feature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Mrs. G. N. Scruggs and Mrs. Lowell Wells of Wellington visited here Monday with Mrs. Sidney Baker.

There is no greater security than the knowledge that one is doing the right thing.

NEWLIN

By MRS. ANNIE HAMILTON

Mrs. Bill Townes and Mrs. Alma Schibe of Wichita Falls came over the weekend to visit Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Laurence.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Helms Sr. have returned home after two weeks visit with relatives in California.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Hoover on gaining a son-in-law. Mr. and Mrs. Hoover and girls, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Nelson and Guy Lynn, Mrs. G. E. Nelson, and Mrs. R. O. Nelson all went to Canyon Saturday, to attend the wedding and to wish the happy couple well. Mrs. Buster Morrison and Mrs. Gale Morrison also went.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hamilton made a business trip to Quannah Wednesday, and visited Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Wells.

Mrs. M. Tompson of Crowell and Mrs. Hubert Wells of Quannah stopped Monday to see us.

Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Collins and girls of Amarillo visited his brother and family, Miss Inez McGraw and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hamilton two days this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hugh is visiting his mother, Mrs. Lelia Hughs over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Sexton were visiting relatives Sunday, but we were unable to learn who they were visiting.

Jay Mark Morrison of Amarillo is visiting here this week with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Miller.

Mrs. Ed Hillhouse and children and Miss Ethel Hillhouse took Miss Margaret Ann Scott to her home in Cooper last week. While gone they also visited in Paris and saw "Six Flags Over Texas" near Dallas.

Mrs. Willie Payne, who recently underwent surgery in Amarillo, has returned home and is improving nicely. Visiting here with her are Mr. and Mrs. Roland Claybrooks of Lindsay, Okla.

C. E. Stevens Retires From Navy After 20 Years

Claude E. Stevens, HM First Class, has retired from the U. S. Navy after 20 years service. He and his family are moving to Amarillo this week.

For the past three years, Stevens has been serving with the Naval training center in Dallas.

Stevens is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Stevens of Memphis.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Van Ausdall and Edwin and Gary of Amarillo visited Mr. and Mrs. Foy Young Sunday. Miss Betty Ann Young, who has been ill with pneumonia, is now home and doing nicely after receiving treatment for several days in a local hospital.

Various educated guesses as to the number of "undiscovered" diabetics in the United States place the figure somewhere between one and two million. Undoubtedly a fair proportion of them are Texans.

Diabetes is a general systemic disease in which the body loses its ability to burn and store sugar normally. All starches in foods are converted in the stomach and intestines into sugar. As sugar they are absorbed into the blood and pass through the liver and into general circulation to all parts of the body.

Normally the gland called the pancreas produces a secretion called insulin which is also poured into the blood. In the presence of insulin, the sugar of the blood is burned, especially by muscular activity. Any excess of sugar in the presence of a normal amount of insulin is temporarily stored, mostly in the liver, and released as needed into the blood.

This is the normal pattern. But in a person suffering with diabetes the pancreas fails to produce sufficient insulin. And when starches are eaten and absorbed as sugar, the body is unable to control the sugar normally by storing it in the liver or to burn it efficiently in muscle exercise. Result: the sugar content of the blood increases to abnormal levels.

Because the diabetic is unable to burn the sugar efficiently for energy, he becomes weak and tired. His body needs nourishment and he therefore develops great hunger. But because he cannot utilize the starches, he uses up his own tissues and continues to lose weight.

When the blood sugar gets too high, the kidneys, in an effort to lower it, removes some of the sugar by excreting it in urine. This, in turn, makes the body dry and creates a thirst.

Proof of the hereditary nature of diabetes is the fact that surveys of diabetic children show that 60 percent of their families have other members with diabetes.

Overeating and lack of muscular exercise are conditions which tend to promote obesity which in turn creates a tendency toward diabetes. It has been shown that 20 fat persons develop the disease for every thin one who does. The obvious moral is do not overeat, do not remain overweight, and get plenty of muscular exercise.

You can judge your own tendency toward diabetes in the light of what has been said. Are you overweight? Do you over eat? Is there diabetes in your family? Also, do you have any of the symptoms: great hunger, loss of strength, loss of weight, persistent thirst, or excessive urination? If so, you're a likely candidate for a urinalysis or blood sugar test by your family physician.

Estelline Laundry Installs Dry Cleaning Machine

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Gowdy of Estelline this week announced they have installed a coin-operated Whirlpool Cleaning machine in their Automatic Laundry in Estelline.

"We invite our customers to come by Saturday, Aug. 11, for our formal opening," Mrs. Gowdy said. "We are introducing our new machine with a special price of $1.00 per load all day Saturday."

The machine cleans 8 pounds of clothes per load. Regular rates will be $1.50 per load if the customer does them and $2.00 per load if we do them, Mrs. Gowdy said.

J. D. Skaggs Is New Employee At Harrison Hdw.

New employee this week at Harrison Hardware Company is J. D. Skaggs who comes here from the John Deere Imp. Co., in Amarillo.

Mr. Skaggs is not new to Memphis having been employed here for a number of years with Harrison Hdw. prior to going to Amarillo several months ago. The Skaggs family reside in Hedley.

Mrs. Drucille Householder of Amarillo is here visiting her sister, Mrs. J. S. McMurry.

Mrs. Angus Huckaby went to Albuquerque Thursday of last week in response to a message that her brother was seriously ill.

Velma B. Welch, Former Resident Dies in El Paso

A former Memphis resident, Velma B. Welch, died July 22 in El Paso, according to word received here this week.

She is survived by two sons, Carl Eddie Welch of 10088 New Castle Land, El Paso, and Daymon R. Delch, 415 South Lake Street, Madera, Calif.

Chapel services were held at Kaster and Maxon Funeral Home in El Paso with the burial being in the Arbor Vitae Cemetery in Madera, Calif.

Carl Welch accompanied the body from El Paso to California. Mrs. Welch was 51 years of age and the cause of death was determined to be a heart attack.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Breedlove and Mrs. Wesley Breedlove left Saturday for Norfolk, Va., to meet their son and husband, Wesley Breedlove. Wesley, who has been serving with the U. S. Navy for the past four years, is receiving his discharge and will accompany them home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Wells of Abilene were here to spend the weekend with her mother, Mrs. H. M. Guest, and sisters, Mrs. Myrtle Howard and Mr. and Mrs. Gip McMurry. Mrs. Howard accompanied them to Abilene Sunday where she will spend 10 days vacationing.

Gary Bruner Attends Workshop In Washington

Gary Bruner, a Tyler high school student and son of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Bruner, former Memphians, is in Washington, D. C. attending a five-week Human Events Summer Journalism Workshop, sponsored by Human Events newspaper, a national conservative newspaper, his father said this week when he visited here with Mrs. Naomi Perkins.

Mrs. Bruner is the former Freda Grant and was reared in Memphis. She formerly was employed in the office of W. B. Hooser, county agent.

While in Washington, Gary will be entirely on his own, and will have to work to fulfill the stiff requirements expected by the editors of Human Events. The youth who attend the workshop from all parts of the nation, receive no pay, and all the writing they do is done on their own time.

Mostly they expect to do research on certain fields of their own interests, and they concentrate their efforts on one or two subjects.

While in Washington, Gary hopes to talk to Ralph Yarborough, John Tower, Lindley Breckworth, Lifeline commentator, Wayne Poucher and Mutual News commentator Fulton Lewis Jr. He hopes to get some of their viewpoints and use them in his work. Gary will be a senior in Tyler high school this fall.

K. D. Chick Is New Owner of White Auto Store

K. D. Chick took over as owner and operator of the local Auto Store Monday. The former owner was B. D. McKendree who opened the store here last month.

Mr. Chick's family arrived Tuesday morning, and are residing at 902 1/2 Robertson. They have two children, age six; and Stephen, age 10 months. The family has been residing in San Angelo.

The new owner was with Roebuck & Co. for 13 years and has managed stores for 20 years.

He will hold a Grand Opening of White's at a later date. Definite plans for the future of Mr. and Mrs. McKendree and their children were not announced.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Billington and son of Houston arrived Tuesday morning, and are residing at 902 1/2 Robertson. They will visit in the home of Mrs. Billington and Mrs. Robert Billington family. A teacher in the Branch High School in Houston for the past eleven years, Billington recently received his master's degree from the University of Houston.

Report From Washington

By WALTER ROGERS
Representative, 18th
Congressional District

USA vs. USSR

Khrushchev was reported to have said to the capitalistic world, "I will bury you." He is also reported to have said that, "in a few years we will catch up and overtake the U. S. in per capita production of meat and milk." In my opinion, his first alleged statement was rather fallacious as the second is daily falling behind. This is evidenced by the recent cost increase in Russian food products — an would seem that the complete failure to carry out their agricultural threats would definitely convince them of the complete absurdity of even the thought of "burying" anyone but themselves.

The Soviet Union has not overtaken this country in per capita milk and meat production or anything else. The fact is that it is daily falling behind. This is evidenced by the recent cost increase in Russian food products — an action which is supposed to channel more funds into their space activities (another area in which the Soviet is fast falling behind) and, at the same time, reduce the consumption of agricultural products that are in scarcity.

The Soviet population is growing at the rate of 3 to 4 million a year. However, in comparison with other countries this increase in population is not a major problem insofar as available land for production is concerned. In many countries there is much less than one acre of arable land to each individual. In fact, the ratio of arable land to population in the whole of Asia is less than an acre per person. This explains some of the trials and tribulations faced by the Chinese Communists on this problem. In the Soviet Union there are 220 million people with 500 million acres of arable land. Hence, the ratio of land to population in Russia is more than double that of Asia and several times the ratio of many other countries. So the problem is not the lack of land. It is climatic conditions and the lack of "know-how." It is the latter that caused Khrushchev to suggest to his people that they follow the leadership of the free world in farming methods and in expanding their agricultural production. However, it is going to take more than words from Mr. K. to meet this problem in the USSR. For instance, the Soviets do not have the tractors and other farm implements with which to farm the land. They do not have the fertilizers, herbicides and fungicides which modern technology in the U. S. has developed. In January of 1962, the records reflect that the U. S. had 4 times as many tractors as the USSR; more than twice as many grain combines, almost 3 times the silage harvesters; 4 times the number of trucks; more than 12 times the number of tractor trailers, and almost 4 times the number of tractor drawn plows. Another interesting factor is that Soviet agricultural consumption of electricity in 1959 was less than one-third of that in the U. S. On the state farms with thousands of head of cattle, not more than one-fourth of the cows are machine-milked in the USSR. It might also be pointed out that many of the machines above referred to are inoperable much of the time due to poor workmanship and poor maintenance and care as well as a serious lack of spare parts.

The Soviets have apparently failed miserably in proper usage of chemical fertilizers which could have measurably increased the yield per acre as it has in the U. S. They have been highly unsuccessful in the use of herbicides to control weeds, pests and diseases, both in crops and animals. Their irrigation activities have fallen far behind those in the free world and especially in the U. S. Most of their irrigation has been confined to cotton growing areas in the Asiatic portions of their country. As the present time, they are moving forward on restoring an irrigation program that was dropped several years ago, but it will be some time before the fruits of that activity can be realized.

There is much more that could be said on this subject that I am sure would be of interest but space will not permit. However, I would not conclude this newsletter without pointing out one of the primary reasons for our extreme success in agriculture and the Soviet's dismal failure. Soviet agriculture is socialized in collective and state farms. U. S. agriculture, on the other hand, is predominately family owned and operated. The Soviet situation is further aggravated by the fact that the tenure, the initiative and the power of decision of Soviet farm managers is seriously curtailed by constant interference and harassment of the Party-State-bureaucracy — also the requirements by the central government as to crop patterns and productions "norms". There are other impediments in the path of the Russian farmer, from the type of machinery he is required to use to the crops he must plant. It would seem that the total lack of accomplishment would prove to the people of Russia that Communism won't work. In fact, they have a perfect example, in the agricultural picture. The farmers are allowed to operate some plots on their own and to own a very few animals. The plots represent less than 4 per cent of the sown acreage, yet this private sector accounted in 1959 for nearly half of the total meat and milk output, more than 80 per cent of the eggs; 46 per cent of the green vegetables and over 60 per cent of the potato production. The peasant has to depend upon his private "acre and cow" for 38 per cent of his income.

All of which reminds me of the story of the Agricultural Commissar who was checking the satellite countries for production. He asked one farm manager: "How is potato production?" to which the farm manager replied: "The piles of potatoes reach almost to Heaven". The Commissar angrily commented: "You know there is no heaven", to which the farm manager responded: "Yes, I know, and their are no potatoes."

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Snowdon and Elaine were in Amarillo over the weekend where they attended a reunion for delegates to the United Nations Pilgrimage. The reunion was held at the IOOF Hall. On Sunday several delegates from down state stopped here to visit in the Snowdon home who had been in Amarillo for the reunion, and were en route home.

David Aronofsky, Billy Cosby Leave For Music Camp

Mrs. David Aronofsky and son David and Billy Cosby left Tuesday for Denver, Colo., where they will visit with Mrs. Aronofsky's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Judd.

Mrs. Aronofsky will take David and Billy to Gunnison Saturday where they will attend the 29th annual Gunnison Music Camp.

The camp will continue for two weeks and will be held on the campus of Western State College.

Mrs. Aronofsky and son Donnie, who has been visiting in Colorado for several weeks, will return home the first of next week.

Mrs. B. B. Dyer and children of Pampa visited Mrs. Rex Hull several days last week.

Carolyn Hoover Becomes Bride Of Robert Miller in Canyon Rites

A double-ring ceremony uniting Miss Carolyn Gail Hoover, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Hoover of Newlin, to Robert Allen Miller was solemnized Saturday, Aug. 4, at 7 p. m. in the Joseph A. Hill Chapel in Canyon.

The groom is the son of Mrs. N. R. Miller of Dawn and the late N. R. Miller of Dawn.

Rev. Arthur M. Brewer of Lubbock performed the ceremony before an altar flanked on either side with white gladioli and candleabra holding lighted tapers.

The wedding music was provided by Miss Dianne Moore of Clarendon. Mrs. James Dunn sang "I Love Thee" and "Because" before the ceremony and as the couple knelt before the altar she sang "Wedding Prayer"

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a formal floor-length gown of chantilly lace over satin styled with scalloped bateau neckline and long tapered sleeves. The satin formed a front panel in a princess effect. Her finger tip veil of illusion was attached to a tiara covered with pearls and iridescent sequins. A bouquet of white roses in a shower of Stephanotis topped a white heirloom Bible.

Attendants

Matron of honor was Mrs. Gayle Morrison of Dallas. Bridesmaids were Misses Jerri Moore of Wheeler, Patricia Dealy of Amarillo, and Patricia Fawbush of Canyon. They wore identical street-length dresses of orchid pima mist over taffeta fashioned with scalloped necklines and princess skirts. They wore matching headbands and carried nosegays of white carnations.

Candlelighters were Misses Lynette and Chalannes Hoover, sisters of the bride, who wore dresses identical to those of the attendants.

Serving his brother as best man was Bill Miller of Dawn. Groomsmen were Henry Webb of Canyon, Robert Clements of Canyon and Charles Davenport of Dawn.

Ringbearer was Guy Lynn Nelson of Childress, cousin of the bride.

Ushers were James Dunn of Canyon and Bill Wimberley of Dawn. For her daughter's wedding the bride's mother chose a navy silk suit with blue and white accessories. The groom's mother wore a black two-piece dress with white accessories. Both wore corsages of white carnations.

MRS. ROBERT ALLEN MILLER

A reception at the Baptist Student Center in Canyon followed the ceremony. Registering the guests was Miss Patsy Jarrell of Memphis, cousin of the bride. Serving the traditional wedding cake and punch from a table laid with a white crocheted cloth accented with orchid and white colors were Misses Lucy Beth and Gail Miller of Abilene, sisters of the groom.

For a wedding trip, the bride chose a black and white checked suit with white accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a 1962 graduate of West Texas State College and the groom is a student there. The couple will make their home in White Deer where the bride will teach English in the White Deer Public Schools, and the groom will serve as music director of the First Baptist Church there while continuing his college work.

Newlin Mothers Hold Picnic Here

The annual picnic of the Newlin Mothers Club was held August 3, at the Rotary Bowl in the Memphis City Park. Everyone brought a basket lunch and a big appetite. There were so many good things to eat that everyone wished they could consume more than they did. After the supper everyone enjoyed a good old time visiting and planning to come again next year.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Gus Odom, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ellis and Cindy, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Koeniger and Neva Sue, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Gardenhire, Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Misenhimer and Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hamilton.

Dennis Family Holds 11th Annual Reunion

The eleventh annual reunion of the Dennis family was held on August 4 and 5 at the American Legion Hall in Memphis.

A sandwich supper and visiting were enjoyed by all Saturday night with the noon meal as the highlight of the occasion Sunday.

Music was furnished Saturday night and Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Gilliam, Gordon Gilliam and Charles Massey.

The group enjoyed the lovely floral arrangement sent by Mrs. Valta (Dutch) Williams who was unable to attend.

A business meeting was held Sunday afternoon with the J. L. Dennis family presiding. The J. U. Dennis family was elected officers for the coming year.

Out of 89 relatives and friends in attendance the oldest person attending was Mrs. J. H. McManus, who was 84, and the youngest was William Thomas Davis, six weeks old son of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Davis.

There were five members of the J. H. (Uncle Joe) Dennis family present. They were Mrs. J. H. McManus of Sulphur Springs, John Davis, Mrs. T. J. Hampton, Mrs. Pearl Massey, J. U. Dennis, all of Memphis.

Out of town relatives attending were Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Massey, Bertha Massey of Sulphur Springs, Mr. and Mrs. Bill A. Wallace of Wylie, Elgie Smith of Dallas, D. L. Howard of Anton,

Around and About

By HELEN COMBS

This is a nice week . . . members of the 49th Armored Division are arriving home from Ft. Polk, and our son is again in civilian clothes. Although this is our fourth stretch in the Army . . . that is for our sons . . . we have been lucky and none of them have served during a hot-war time. Only those mothers and wives who have sons and husbands called into service can know the joy of having them back home again!

This is the week when a long-desired ambition for our city became a reality . . . the first sheets were produced Tuesday by our new textile mills, the Postex-Co. If you would like to see the first sheets hemmed by local workers, they are on display in Baldwin's window.

It was our privilege recently as a member of the Welcomette Committee of the Chamber of Commerce to work two days with company officials of Postex Mills in helping with registration for local women seeking employment with the new industry. We learned that many of the women who have been employed in the Post plant, have worked for the company for many years . . . some for more than 30 years. The plant here is an expansion of the company. The Post plant will continue to operate, making towels instead of sheets, we understand.

Speaking of the weather . . . it's warm this week especially after the cool days we enjoyed along with the daily shower a few short days ago. But August is well on the way, and fall will be here before we know it. Already fall activities are being planned by clubs and schools. Band and football practice begin shortly and that first football game is just around the corner.

At the moment summer vacation is still the topic of conversation as most local citizens are either planning a trip or have completed one already.

Dutch Vallance made a trip to Lakeview Sunday afternoon. The drive which normally takes about 10 minutes, took him four hours. The delay—four flats and all on different tires. We surmise he must hold some kind of a record now!

Tuesday morning the sun was out . . . and Dr. and Mrs. Goldall and Eddie Foxhall departed by private plane for Nashville, Tenn., to spend four days with Capt. and Mrs. Sim Goodall and their three daughters. In fact, the Goodalls have a new granddaughter whom they have not seen. However, Betty hesitatingly admitted, she was more anxious to see her two older granddaughters whom she had missed so much since they had moved away.

And that same Tuesday morning another plane circled the ranch home of Clyde and Kathryn Milam. They were expecting no visitors . . . especially in a Cessna . . . so were puzzled as to who it might be. However, they took the hint and dashed to the local airport. Upon arrival they found their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Toner and Sandra Kathryn and Suzanne Marie of Petaluma, Calif. The Milams knew their daughter and son-in-law were doing some flying . . . but never suspected they were planning to head their plane down Texas way. It will be a reunion for the Milam family as their other daughter, Mrs. Julius F. Neel, and family are here.

A highlight for Mr. and Mrs. Robert Breedlove and Mrs. Wesley Breedlove while they are in Norfolk, Va., will be a cruise aboard the USS Storm, the ship on which SFM-2 Breedlove has been serving while with the U. S. Navy. Families of the men will be guests of the Navy for this special cruise. Breedlove, who has completed four years with the Navy will receive his discharge this week.

The thought of snow is refreshing these hot summer days . . . and that is just what you could have found in the Clent Srygley yard had you driven by Tuesday afternoon. Pansy and Clent arrived home from a vacation in Taylor Park, Colo., and brought their fish back—packed in snow they scooped up on the mountain side.

This little poem we thought expressed the vacationer's plight to a tee - -

"Vacation Blues"
Little bank roll, here we part,
Let me hug you to my heart,
All the year I've clung to you;
I've been faithful, you've been true!
Little bank roll, in a day
You and I will start away
To a vacation spot - - -
I'll come back, but you will not!

Bollworms Are On Increase County Agent Says

Bollworm infestations have increased to damaging proportions, especially in the larger or older cotton, according to W. B. Hooser, county agent.

Bollworms should be controlled while they are small. Such worms are much easier to kill, and early control prevents excessive damage of farms, Hooser said.

"Make repeat insecticidal applications until worms and brought under control," he said.

Delta Kappa Gamma Society To Hold Convention In Philadelphia

The Delta Kappa Gamma Society, honorary organization for women educators, will meet for the international convention on August 6 to 11 at the Bellevue Stratford Hotel in Philadelphia. Over 2,000 members of the 81,000-member society are expected to be present.

The local Gamma Kappa Chapter, organized in 1939, is part of this international society. Miss Bula Lee Carter of Fort Worth, Alpha State honorary founder and organizer of Gamma Kappa Chapter, is to be presented by the committee on nominations for membership on the International Committee on Personnel.

Local chapter members are Mmes. Marjorie Bain of Turkey, Maxine Cape, Anna May Foster, Carrie Belle King, Brunetta Morris, Suzanne Pettyjohn, Reba Stroehle, Audrey Tribble and Misses Alma Bruce, Tops Gilreath, Ethel Hillhouse, Esta McElrath, Margaret McElreath, Sady Belle Walker and Neville Wrenn.

Miss Sora Ellis of Talladega, Ala., international president, will preside over all the business sessions. This convention will be a history making one for Delta Kappa Gamma, for a long-range plan for study and action prepared by the committee under the direction of Miss Ola B. Hiller of Flint, Mich., immediate past international president, at the mandate of the 1960 convention in Miami, will be voted upon. This program provides for increased leadership training; combinations and streamlining of several committees for more effective action; and studies and evaluations of the huge scholarship program of the organization looking toward new and more effective emphases, of the role of the organization in today's world, and of its services to women educators in other countries.

Proposals of the Long Range Planning Committee were thoroughly presented and studies at four regional conferences during the summer of 1961. The plan which will be voted upon in Philadelphia is the outcome of these discussions. Mrs. Velma Weaver of Clarendon, Mrs. Anna May Foster and Miss Zady Belle Walker of Memphis participated at the Southwest Regional in Phoenix.

At the Alpha State Convention in June in Austin, attended by Gamma Kappa members Anna May Foster, Brunetta Morris, Alma Bruce, Margaret McElreath, Reba Stroehle and Zady Belle Walker of Memphis, Velma Weaver and Inez Blankenship of Clarendon, L. C. Swatt and Myrtle Hill of Wellington, delegates instructed Mrs. Ethel Sloan of Houston, Alpha State president, to cast the Texas votes in favor of the plan.

The Educator's Award of $1,000 for the most significant contribution education written by a woman between April 1, 1960 and April 1, 1962, will be presented at the Birthday luncheon Thursday, Aug. 9. At the 1960 Convention, Dr. Blanche Jefferson, assistant professor of art at the University of Pittsburgh, received the award for her book, "Teaching Art to Children."

Recipients of the four annual international scholarships of $2,500 each will be announced at the luncheon. In 1954 the society celebrated its Silver Anniversary by awarding 52 scholarships for graduate study of $1,300 each, one to a member in each state and Canadian province in which there was a Delta Kappa Gamma organization. At the 1960 Convention 57 scholarships of $2,500 each were presented to members in the 50 states, the District of Columbia, and six provinces.

Dr. Clara Cockerille, professor of education, Westminster College, New Wilmington, Pa., a well-known and highly regarded educator, will speak at the Birthday luncheon. The title of her address will be "We Hold These Truths."

At the Presidents and Founders of the convention will be Dr. Vera M. Dean, editorial consultant's Banquet on the final evening ant of Foreign Policy Association staff. She has chosen as her subject "Asia and Africa: Contrasts and Comparisons."

Decline of Texas Tourist Industry Is Slowed Down During Past Year

The decline of the Texas tourist industry slowed slightly but did not stop in 1961.

The annual Tourist Industry Report compiled by the state's official tourist agency, the Texas Highway Department, revealed today that the number of tourists visiting Texas dropped for the fourth straight year.

Total visitors to Texas during 1961 were 8,408,000, a decline of some two per cent below the 8,600,000 who visited the state in 1960.

Last year's guests spent only $440 million in the state as compared to 1960's total expenditure of $457 million.

The reason for the continued sag is the tourist advertising programs of other states, said Herbert C. Pstry, Jr., chairman of the Texas Highway Commission.

"Aggressive media advertising programs by other states continue to lure prospective visitors away from Texas — a state which has no funds as yet for media advertising," Pstry said.

He pointed out that the 1961 drop was slightly less than the decline registered during several previous years, and said he believed it is due to two things:

1. The effect of the "collateral" tourist attraction program being waged by the Highway Department (operation of Tourist Bureaus, distribution of Travel maps and brochures);
2. The concerted efforts of many local tourist development groups and chambers of commerce and the assistance of the newly created Texas Tourist Council, a private organization designed to supplement state tourist-attracting activities.

GREENBELT QUEEN—Leslie Helm, left, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Helm of Memphis was named runnerup in the Greenbelt Bowl Queen contest last Saturday night. The winner of the event was Jodie Seale of Electra, shown in the center, and Carol West, at right, who represented Silverton, was the other runnerup.

Texas anglers who use artificial lures are perhaps the most original and apt of any bi-ped on earth, when it comes to bait.

Should they want to go fishing and the usual lures aren't available, they create their own version of what fish like.

Sure, they haunt the sporting goods stores too, just like all other fishermen. They fill their tackle boxes with lures of every hue and shape.

But if for any reason, they find themselves without lures, these Texas artisans of the artificial lure make their very own.

Everything from dentures to squirrel tails are used as improvised bait. Horsehair, chicken feathers, bucktails, felt, calico, tin foil, glass, pine cones . . . these and many others are used to fool the fish.

When the minnow bucket gets empty, or the last worm in the can is used up, many bank fishermen quit for the day. They needn't! Not when there is so much natural bait available.

After all — fish relish a change of diet just like you do. So offer it to them!

Most fish that go for minnows or worms will strike equally well, sometimes better, on such bait as hellgrammites, rotten eggs, Ivory soap, wash grubs, grasshoppers, crickets, chicken liver, chicken entrails, caterpillars, whole corn and even grapes to name a few.

Hellgrammites make excellent bait and they stay alive on the hook indefinitely.

To gather a can of them, wade through shallow riffles turning over stones as you wade. More often than not you will find hellgrammites under these stones.

Use a small minnow net to scoop them up. If you must use your bare hands be careful, for this fellow is armed with vicious, but non-poisonous nippers.

To bait up, insert the hook under the hard collar the hellgrammite wears.

Rotten eggs should be used only in an emergency — for obvious reasons.

But they do make good catfish bait when tied in a tobacco sack. Just punch several holes in the eggs — after placing them in the sack — then attach to hook.

The stink travels out and attracts catfish like crazy.

When you find yourself in a bind for bait, open your tackle box and get out that small cake of Ivory soap you have packed away. Cut cake into a number of small cubes. Use these cubes as bait. They make a fair pole line and trotline bait for catfish.

Wasp-nest grubs make good bluegill and sunfish bait.

Gathering these grubs can be dangerous, for wasps don't take kindly to such raids. So try creeping up on the nest with an open container of gasoline . . . quickly douse the nest with the fluid—then run.

The gasoline will kill all the adult wasps instantly — except those away from the nest at the time. Make your raid at night and you'll catch all the wasps at once.

Once the wasps are killed, pull the nest down and dig out the grubs. They are good bait for bass, too.

Grasshoppers are widely used as bait. Bluegills, catfish and sunfish like them. No reason to wear yourself out chasing them. Wait until night, then use a flashlight. You can pick them up without trouble after dark.

Place the hoppers in a jar fixed so that only one at a time can be taken out. Otherwise all may escape.

To use, insert barb through the hard part of the grasshopper's shoulder. Don't dunk hopper as though you were giving it a bath, but let insect rest lightly on the water's surface.

Chicken livers can be cut into small chunks. So can chicken entrails. Both make excellent bait for catfish and bass.

Chicken blood, collected at the time the fowl is killed, if saved to congeal, can be cut into squares like fudge to use on your hook. These blood squares melt rapidly but will attract fish like a magnet.

A long overlooked emergency bait is plain moss. Not Spanish moss, but the close green moss that grows on wet trees or stagnant ponds. You'll catch bass, if bass are biting.

Then there is corn. Just plain old Indian corn that grows on cobs. For carp, buffalo and channel cats, cut grains off of the cob, string a number on a 2-0 hook and fish the bottom. If fresh "roasting ears" are not in season, try frozen corn kernels, or canned kernels of corn.

Another good bait that might not appeal to some fishermen is the black cockroach — the kind that is plentiful around Texas oak trees and damp basements. The cockroach is a successful bait—if you have the stomach to handle them and put them on your hook.

In the spring they make very good bait, unusually good, but—Peyu!

Anyway there are a number of different baits that will bring in fish and provide a change of diet for the finny tribe. Most of these baits are handy for you to find. Give 'em a try.

A change in your "offering" may bring surprising success and turn an unsuccessful trip into one you'll long remember.

Baptist Church At Estelline To Hold Meeting

The First Baptist Church at Estelline will hold revival services Aug. 19 through Aug. 26, it was announced this week.

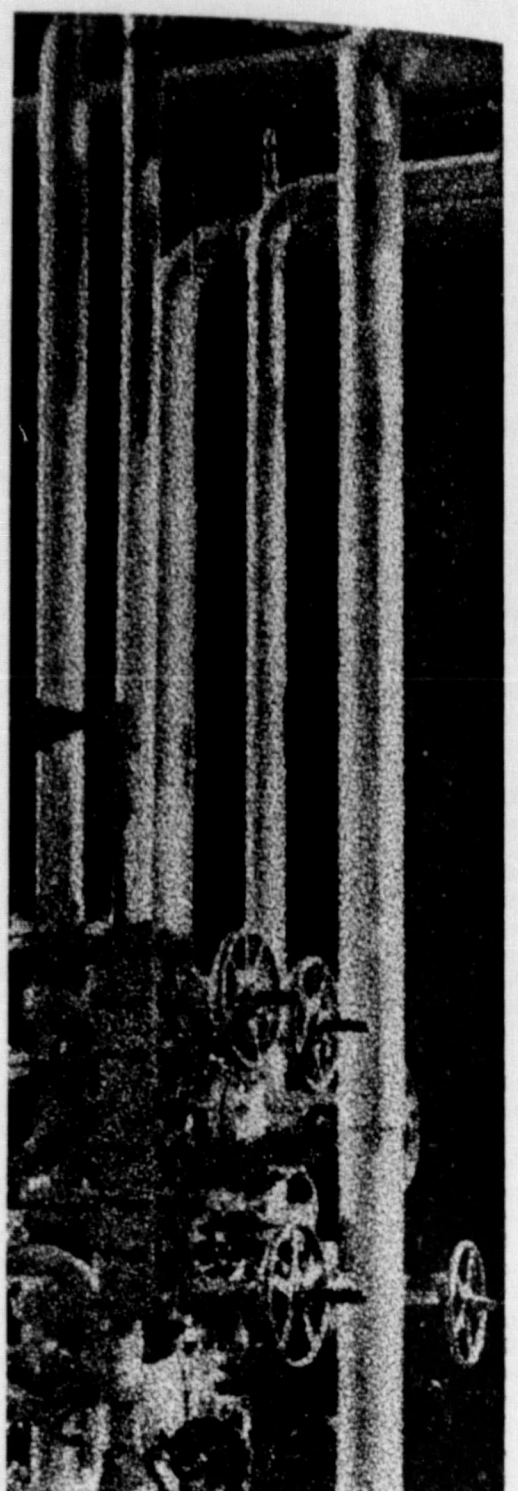

Rev. Clifford Jester, pastor of the Shady Oaks Baptist Church in Hurst will be the speaker for the meeting. He is a former Hall County man who grew up in the Harrell Chappell community.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Johnson and Debbie and Mrs. L. M. Johnson visited in Amarillo Sunday with Mrs. Margaret O'Sheim and son.

Mrs. Hal Goodnight spent the weekend in Panhandle with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cassidy and Susan and John.

Texas set four new all-time records in various phases of traffic operations in 1961; 4,854,000 licensed drivers, up 331,000 in a single year; 4,622,000 registered vehicles, up 121,000 from 1960; 240,000 miles of roads, including 62,600 miles of State-Federal highways, 140,800 miles of county roads and 36,600 miles of city streets, a new high.

Freddy E. and Charlotte Dennis of Kilgore are visiting and Mrs. Lowell Dennis and B. Le and Stacie Lee.

Sondra Stargel To Represent Memphis 'Miss Wheatheart' Contest Aug. 18

MEMPHIS BEAUTIES — These three girls were acclaimed winners in the Beauty Contest sponsored by the Memphis Jaycees on Friday evening. Miss Carol Smith, left, won second place in the contest; Sondra Stargel, center, was first place winner and Betty Long was third place winner. Miss Stargel will represent Memphis in the Miss Wheatheart contest to be held in Perryton on August 18. Miss Smith, Memphis senior, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Lee Smith. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Stargel has been chosen freshman twirler at Texas Technological College, beginning in September. Miss Long is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Shorty Long, is a junior in Memphis High School.

Miss Sondra Stargel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Stargel, was chosen to represent Memphis in the "Miss Wheatheart" contest to be held August 18 in Perryton. The selection was made by a trio of out-of-town judges at a Beauty Contest sponsored by the Memphis Jaycees on Friday evening in the Travis Cafetorium.

Winning second and third place in the contest were Miss Carol Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Lee Smith, and Miss Betty Long, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Shorty Long.

Cotton John Smith of KGNC, Amarillo, served as master of ceremonies for the evening. Music for the program was provided by two groups of musicians "The Dimensions" and "The Run Arounds."

Playing with "The Dimensions" were Larry Craig, Dick Morgan, Jimmy Fields and Brady Durrett. Playing with the "Run Arounds" were Jimmy Reynolds, David Moore and Bob Alewine.

President Al Chappell said they also wanted to express thanks to Mrs. David Aronofsky and Mrs. Bob Douthitt, who served as talent coaches.

Adding a bit of humor to the evening's program were David Duncan and Tiny Cope, who characterized "Miss Memphis of 1929."

Gifts in bonds, merchandise certificates and money totaling $270.00 were presented to the three winners. First place winner received $117.50 plus a trophy and an all expense paid trip to the "Miss Wheatheart" contest in Perryton. The trophy was presented by Mayor H. J. Howell.

Second place winner received $87.50 and third place winner $65.00. Among the gifts received by the second place winner was an engraved bracelet from Branigan Jewelry.

Miss Stargel, who was a member of the spring graduating class from Memphis High School, has received numerous honors during her four years in school. She was selected as first place winner in the senior division of the high school beauty contest last spring and has served four years as a twirler with the local band.

Miss Stargel recently was selected to twirl with the Texas Tech Band in try-outs in Lubbock, where she will be a freshman student this fall.

In addition to receiving state and national honors, the winner in the Wheatheart contest at Perryton will receive an all expense paid trip to the Worlds Fair in Seattle, Wash., for two.

"We have been invited to enter Miss Stargel in the "Miss Grain Sorghum" contest to be held Sept. 6 in Dimmitt, Al Chappell president of the Jaycees said. At this time we do not know if this will be possible or not, Mr. Chappell stated.

Judges for the contest were Truett Ball of KCTX, Childress, Jim Cristy, vice president of Pampa Jaycees and T. J. Trahan of Humble Oil Co., Houston.

Entering the contest were the following girls: Misses Cleata Lebow, Jo Ann Stanley, Sue Pounds, Sue Beth Stinsman, Betty Long, Celia Leslie, Tony Davis, Neita Gayle Reed, Helen Howard, Carol Smith and Sondra Stargel.

Comments -

(Continued from page 1) which the membership and the public generally are invited. A nice program has been arranged, President Paul Morris stated, and informative talks will be made by both local and visiting gardeners. One subject especially appropriate will be discussed by County Agent W. B. Hooser, and that is the alkali soil predominate in Memphis and how to overcome its yellowing effects on plants.

One of the most pitiful stories ever to come out of this area was that concerning a highly respected and well-beloved aged couple, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Moseley, who resided in the Lesley community many years. Mrs. Moseley had been in a local hospital and was released Saturday. Sunday, Mr. Moseley had a severe heart attack and Mrs. Moseley started for a neighboring home to get help. Several hours later she was found dead—didn't reach the neighbor's home. Mr. Moseley was paralyzed and passed away yesterday, not knowing that his beloved companion had already passed on. All the Lesley folks are shocked, for several there have said the Moseley couple were the best citizens, friends and neighbors ever to reside in the community. We imagine that if these good people had been given a choice they would have preferred going to the Beyond together, and it so happened.

Memphis City Park was put into being back in the 1930s, during drouth and depression, and all citizens joined in helping to make the place one of the nicest recreation centers in the Panhandle, and through the years has been the gathering center for families, friends, and various groups from all over to hold their meetings, picnics, etc. Little did the promoters and the general public dream that it would come to the point where on weekends the facilities of the park are crowded with people who were not even living in the county at that time. At times the swimming pool swarms with youngsters, crowding out the residents' children who grew up here in the area. Other times the picnic units are taken over the same way. There is nothing that can be done legally to put a stop, or curtail such activities.

From a health standpoint, dysentery and other diseases get rampant among local and transients. The park is a public institution, and therefore no one can be kept out—so what?

Due to conditions now existing, the sponsors of securing donations for rest rooms and ladies lounge at City Park, decided a lounge is not feasible at this time, and thanked the Jaycees for offering to solicit funds. The City Council deferred action to build rest rooms at this time for the same reason. Checks given for the project will be returned to the donors with thanks for being public spirited.

His brother and brother-in-law were working with him on the job at the time the accident occurred. His father was here with the crew and was in Memphis this morning at the time of the accident.

A verdict of accidental death was ruled by Justice of Peace J. S. Grimes.

Survivors include a wife and three children of Vernon.

Estelline School Employs New English Teacher

Mrs. Dick Delaney of Childress has accepted the position of English teacher in the Estelline School, according to an announcement made this week. She will teach in the Junior and Senior High School.

Mrs. Delaney has over 12 years teaching experience. She holds her B. A. degree from West Texas State College, Canyon, and has studied at Boulder, Colo., the University of Texas and Texas Tech College. She is now working on her master's degree in English.

She formerly taught in Kirkland, Tell, Hereford, Carey, Booker, and her most recent experience was in Community Center near Childress.

Mr. and Mrs. Delaney and their daughter, Rita, who is a freshman student in high school, have moved to Estelline.

Mrs. Delaney will have charge of all the English and possibly have a class in journalism, it was announced.

Joan Edwards, Lois Edwards and Patsy Cooper of Fort Worth, toured Palo Duro Canyon and the Musec at Canyon Saturday.

Mrs. Robert Clark Attends Aunt's Funeral Service

Mrs. Mary Nichols, 68, aunt of Mrs. Robert Clark, died Thursday in Trinidad, Colo. Mrs. Clark went to Trinidad to attend the service which was held at the Campbell-Lewis Chapel Saturday, with Major Fred Cherb officiating.

Her body was carried to Dallas for burial beside her husband, Major Damon Nichols.

Major and Mrs. Nichols had devoted their life to work with the Salvation Army. Mrs. Nichols had worked with the organization for more than 40 years.

Services in Dallas for Mrs. Nichols were conducted by the Salvation Army with Col. Morrison and Brig. Sawyer officiating. The service was held at 3 p. m. Monday at Restland Memorial Chapel.

Bobby and Billy Clark joined their mother in Dallas for the service there.

In addition to her niece here, Mrs. Nichols is survived by one sister, three brothers and a number of nieces and nephews.

Electric Co-Op Re-Elects Two Directors Thurs.

Members of the Hall County Electric Cooperative, Inc., enjoyed the annual watermelon feast at the City Park Thursday evening, prior to the regular business session.

A large crowd was in attendance this year from the area served by the electric cooperative. Music was furnished by V. C. Durrett of Lakeview, Ted Bruce of Parnell and Jerrel Rapp of Estelline.

C. V. Murrif of Brice and W. W. (Bill) George of Turkey were re-elected directors to serve three year terms. Other directors are Sam Ross of Flomot, Don Leary of Estelline, Furman Vinson of Matador, H. C. Fowler of Brice, and D. C. Messick of Memphis.

John Deaver, attorney for the cooperative, was in charge of the business session.

WTSC To Hold Conference On Reading Aug. 14-16

The tenth annual Reading Conference, sponsored by the Texas Association for the Improvement of Reading, will be held at West Texas State College Aug. 14, 15 and 16. Tops Gilreath, county superintendent, announced this week.

Several teachers from the county are making plans to attend the conference, she said. Conference fee is $7.50 for the three-day meeting. Fee for one day is $3.00. Registration will begin at 7 a. m. Tuesday in the Student Union Building and registration will be held at 8 a. m. the two succeeding days.

Leading textbook companies have made their materials available for a textbook exhibit. Mrs. Beulah McGlaun of Tulla will serve as section chairman for Grades 1, 2 and 3; Mrs. Juanita Stinnett of Amarillo is section chairman for Grades 4, 5 and 6; Mrs. Bella Icenhower of Borger is chairman for Junior and Senior High School; Lee Steinkoenig of Borger is chairman for the administrators section.

Local Dogs Are Creating Problems For Mailmen

Two Memphis mail carriers were bitten during the past week while in the performance of their duty as local dogs seemed to resent the mail carriers as bad as some humans did income tax collectors earlier in the year.

Assistant Postmaster Glynn Thompson this week asked patrons to keep their dogs in the back yard until the mail has been delivered each day.

This request applies to those animals which have a tendency to be unfriendly to the mail men.

Man Charged With Marijuana Possession Here

County officials this week charged Eriberto Saucedo with the possession of marijuana.

Saucedo, who is 35 years old, was picked up Saturday on suspicion of being intoxicated, after he was seen on a local street by highway patrolmen.

Further investigation revealed that he was carrying a sack containing marijuana, Sheriff W. P. Baten said.

The man lists his home as Nixon, Tex., and told officers that he had been in Childress for the past two weeks. He allegedly came to Memphis last Saturday about two hours before he was picked up.

Saucedo appeared before Justice of Peace J. S. Grimes Monday and his bond was set at $2,000, and the case bound over to the grand jury, which is scheduled to meet early in September.

He was still in the county jail Wednesday, having failed to post the necessary bond.

Man Pleads Guilty To Wine Charge

Hebry C. Henderson, negro, pled guilty this week to a charge of possession of wine for the purpose of sale.

He was assessed a fine of $250 and costs of $27.30 by Judge Tracy Davis. Henderson was arrested July 21 by county officers and charged with the violation.

Also during the past week there have been two cases of shoplifting taken care of by county officials. Sheriff W. P. Baten, Jr., urged merchants to be especially watchful this time of year.

Plastic Bag Results In Death of Child

A four-month old colored child, Clarence Etta Marshall, died Tuesday about 9 p.m. from suffocation as a result of a plastic bag being thrown in its bed.

The child's grandmother, Mrs. A. B. Scott of Morningside, said the child was asleep in the bedroom and apparently one of the older children took the bag and threw it into the bed.

When the family noticed it about 9 p.m. the child was dead. The child's mother, Ida Louise Marshall, was staying with the Scotts.

Services for the child are being planned for Sunday.

C of C Committee Lists Three New Families Here

Added to the new list of families who moved to Memphis this week were Mr. and Mrs. George Jones, who reside at 1620 Bradford St., Mr. and Mrs. Jack Goff, and Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Morris, 1516 Dover.

A list of new families is being compiled by the Welcomes, a Chamber of Commerce committee, with Mrs. David Aronofsky serving as chairman. Residents are requested to call Mrs. Aronofsky or other members of the committee if they know of a new family moving into their neighborhood.

Visiting in the Aldon Edwards home over the weekend were: Mrs. Audra Edwards, Lois Edwards, Patsy Cooper and Mrs. Zeno Edwards of Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Ledford and Carl Lee of Wichita Falls, and Mrs. C. T. Vickers, Mrs. Ben Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Coy Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Ledford, Marion Long and C. Long.

CARD OF THANKS

To our friends and neighbors who made contributions to pay our doctor and hospital we would like to say thank you for your generosity and for us at a time of need.

May God bless each and one of you.

The family of Mrs. Floyd W.

Mrs. Angus Huckaby is in buquerque, N. M., to be with brother, Earl Harvey, who recently underwent lung surgery. Huckaby said today that Mrs. Harvey is doing as well as expected.
