Suicide Victim Found Thurs.

The body of James Clay Ellis, 25, was found this morning, just off Highway 256 on the road to Bryant Lake five miles east of Memphis by Thomas Patterson, an employee of Frank Monzingo, shortly before 7 a. m.

Ellis was a suicide victim. Justice of the Peace J. S. Grimes handed down the official coroner's verdict of suicide shortly before noon today.

Ellis' body was found in a 1958 white Chevrolet. He took his life by placing a 12-gauge shotgun to his head with his left hand, and pulled the trigger with his right. His left hand was still clutching the barrel of the weapon when Sheriff W. P. Baten, Jr., arrived at the scene.

Sheriff Baten said the suicide took place between the time it stopped raining last night and 5 a. m. this morning when the car was seen.

Two notes were left by the victim. One contained the address of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Plunk of Tullia, and the other was an unsigned suicide note containing the following words: "Mr. President—A time has come at which I must admit I have reneged against God and man. I can only beg man's forgiveness but am praying for God's."

Sheriff Baten said that only two shells were found for the old 12-gauge shotgun. One of the shells had misfired.

Ellis was born Aug. 8, 1937, and has been a civilian worker at Altus Air Force Base.

The body was taken to Spicer Funeral Home in Memphis where it is awaiting funeral arrangements.

Ellis was an employee of General Dynamics and working at Altus Air Force Base. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ellis of Kress, and is survived by his parents, two brothers, Dennis and Ronny, and one sister, Cerina, all of Kress.

Wheat Referendum Set For August 30

The marketing quota referendum on the 1963 wheat crop will be held on August 30, 1962. Polls will be open in all six ACP Communities, Lynn McKown, manager of the county ASC office, said.

The 1963 wheat crop will be the tenth consecutive crop on which marketing quotas have been proclaimed. Quotas were approved in each previous instance by substantially more than the required two-thirds.

The marketing quota referendum on the 1963 wheat crop will be supported at $1.82 per bushel. In the event quotas are disapproved, the support price to farmers, who remain within their allotments, will be $1.21 per bushel, he said.

Due to the lack of new wheat legislation, the 1963 wheat program will be operated under the farm act of 1938 which will permit the planting of up to 15 acres of wheat without price support and will not carry a penalty.

Plan To Support Your School

School Board members met Monday night and undertook the laborous task of approving the 1962-63 Official Budget of the Memphis Independent School District. The budget was set at $362,050.19.

The job of approving a school district's budget is a long affair. Each item must be taken, examined to see if it reflects the board's planning, and if it does, put it in the budget.

The budget is approved, enrollment dates set, faculty meetings scheduled, the MHS band has begun its pre-school practicing, and within a few days the football squad will begin drills.

Summer is almost gone, fall is just around the corner. It is now time for each citizen to make plans to support their school programs by taking an active part. Go to the games, go to the plays, be active in PTA and other organizations. You will be a better citizen and the school program will be better.

A Woman's Propheys 500 Years Old

Recently one of our readers brought in a poem written by Mother Shipton about 500 years ago. She was born in Norfolk, England, and died in Clifton, Yorkshire, in 1449 A.D., 43 years before Columbus discovered America. Some of the things she discusses have come to pass and others appear that they might. Whether there is really anything to the prophecy or not will probably depend on the various religious convictions of our readers. However, the poem is interesting in any event.

A carriage without horses shall go,
Disaster fill the world with woe;
In London Primrose Hill shall be,
Its center hold a Bishop's See.
Around the world men's thoughts shall fly,
Quick as the twinkling of an eye.

And waters shall great wonder do—
How strange, and yet it shall come true.
Then upside down the world shall be,
And gold found at the root of tree;
Thro, towering hills proud men shall ride,
Nor hoss nor ass move by his side.

Beneath the waters men shall walk;
Shall ride, shall sleep, and even talk.
And in the air men shall be seen,
In white, in black, as well as green.
A great man then shall come and go,
For prophecy declares it so.

In water iron then shall float
As easy as a wooden boat.
Gold shall be found in stream or stone,
In land that is as yet unknown.
Water and fire shall wonders do,
And England shall admit the Jew.

The Jew that once was held in scorn
Shall of a Christian then be born.
A house of glass shall come to pass
In England—but alas, alas!
A war will follow with the work
Where dwells the pagan and the Turk.

The States will lock in fierce strife,
And seek to take each other's life;
When North shall thus divide the South
The eagle builds in lion's mouth.
Then tax and blood and cruel war
Shall come to every humble door.

Three times shall sunny, lovely France
Be led to play a bloody dance;
Before the people shall be free;
Three tyrant rulers shall they see;
Three rulers, in succession, be—
Each sprung from diff'rent dynasty.

Then, when the fiercest fight is done,
England and France shall be as one.
The British olive next shall twine,
In marriage with the German vine.
Men walk beneath and over streams—
Fulfilled shall be our strangest dreams.

All England's sons shall plow the land
Shall oft be seen with book in hand.
The poor shall now most wisdom know
And water wind where corn did grow;
Great houses stand in farflung vale,
All covered o'er with snow and hail.

And now a word in uncouth rhyme,
Of what shall be in future time;
For in those wondrous, far-off days
The women shall adopt a craze
To dress like men and trousers wear,
And cut off their lovely lock of hair.

They'll ride astride with brazen brow,
As witches on a broomstick now,
Then love shall die and marriage cease,
And nations wane as babes decrease.
And wives shall fondle cats and dogs,
And men live much the same as hogs.

In nineteen hundred twenty-six
Build houses light of straw and sticks,
For then shall mighty wars be planned,
And fire and sword shall sweep the land.
But those who live the century through,
In fear and trembling this will do:

Flee to the mountain and the dens,
To bogs and forests and wild fens—
For storms shall rage and oceans roar
When Gabriel stands on sea and shore;
And as he blows his wondrous horn,
Old worlds shall die and new be born.

What Other Editors Say

The folly of being your own doctor never was more tragically portrayed than in the case of Mrs. Sherri Finkbine.

The 30-year-old television performer from Phoenix, Arizona, has gone to Sweden for an abortion because she doesn't want to risk giving birth to a malformed baby.

This risk arises from the fact she took thalidomide pills during early pregnancy when, as the evidence now shows, the drug is most likely to harm an unborn child.

The world's sympathy goes out to Mrs. Finkbine. But the world also should learn a lesson from her experience — and that is the peril of people treating themselves with drugs they know little or nothing about.

According to reports, Mrs. Finkbine's husband, Robert, picked up some thalidomide pills last summer in Europe — where they could be bought as easily as aspirin, even though U. S. drug authorities were holding them off the market here pending proof of their safety.

Sometime later Mrs. Finkbine, like many other expectant mothers, developed severe nausea. Instead of asking a doctor for a remedy, she took some of the pills.

Thousands of Americans do something like this every day. They diagnose their own ills and prescribe their own treatments—often using medicine left over from some previous sickness in the household.

People who wouldn't dare wire their own homes or attempt to fix their own autos think nothing of tinkering with one of their most prized possessions — their own health.

Mrs. Finkbine's case should serve as a constant reminder that when you don't feel right you should consult your physician and let him figure out what's wrong and what to do about it.

That's what doctors are for.

Everybody's Expert

Over the years, FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover has been possibly the nation's most persistent, outspoken and relentless sentinel with which the Communist conspiracy in this country has had to contend. The necessity and usefulness of the FBI's alertness have been obvious, and well understood by the American people.

When, then, comes this W. H. Ferry, described as a vice president of the Fund for the Republic? Mr. Ferry made a speech in Seattle belittling the FBI and accusing Mr. Hoover of building up a "mischief-making tapestry of legend and illusion" about Communist activities.

He referred to the Communist menace as "sententious poppycock," and then raved on from there.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy promptly slapped him down. So did the chairmen of both political parties, senators and others.

Combatting Communism, said Mr. Kennedy, is a job for experts, and "Mr. Hoover is my expert." He is everybody's expert, and a good thing for Mr. Ferry and his Fund for the Republic that he is, or neither might be so free to pop off in this manner.

In any case, which side is Mr.

He referred to it as "the collapse of Kennedy's popularity."

True, the President's popularity has dropped a few points from its record high, just as did Roosevelt's and Eisenhower's at the end of their first eighteen months in office.

But what this editor didn't go on to explain was that Eisenhower achieved Kennedy's PRESENT popularity rating only twice during his eight years in the White House! Kennedy has consistently

LOANS To Meet Individual Needs

Indebtedness is good, provided it does not run over too long a period of time. It is a method of progress . . . of having the many things today rather than at some future time. Borrowing money is the American way of operating. But the thing to bear in mind, is not finding an agency to lend money, but paying off your loan within the time specified.

Because of our interest in the general welfare of the people of this area, we know the value of ample credit . . . available instantly as it is needed. We know that ready cash can make the difference in profit and loss for a farmer or rancher, as readily as for a business man. The individual, too, encounters the need for cash to help him or her through difficult periods.

It is our aim to make your borrowing as quick and convenient as possible . . . and at reasonable rates. Keep in touch with us. Let us know how your financial affairs are progressing and what your possible needs will be. If you want to borrow money, come in and talk it over with one of our officers. They are anxious to help you in any manner they can.

Local Cancer Society Has Memorial Fund

Response to numerous requests from families and individuals, the American Cancer Society has inaugurated a memorial fund which families and friends of cancer victims may contribute to. Ben Parks, Memorial Chairman of the Hall County Memorial fund has been selected because so many families and individuals have sought to commemorate a loved one who has died of cancer," he said.

Distributions made in memory of a friend or a member of the family are acknowledged by the American Cancer Society, and a memorial card is sent to the family. A memorial has been received and giving the name of the donor. These contributions may be in any amount.

"Memorial funds are used to support the Society's three-fold attack on cancer through research, education, and service. Although the major source of funds for this program came from the Society's annual April Crusade, memorial funds received throughout the year are becoming of increasing importance to the Society as more families and individuals become aware that they can contribute in the name of a loved one to the ultimate victory over the dread disease.

"The American Cancer Society is deeply grateful to individuals and families throughout the country who are using this practical means of assisting the Society to carry on the fight against cancer."

Memorial funds should be sent to the American Cancer Society, Hall County Unit, Ben Parks, care of First National Bank, Memphis, Texas.

Dr. Joe Findley Speaks Tuesday To Rotarians

Dr. Joe Findley, professor of psychology at West Texas State College, and former pastor of the First Christian Church in Memphis, presented the program at the noon luncheon of the Rotary Club Tuesday.

Dr. Findley spoke on the three general trends in psychology called, controlled behavior, predicted behavior, and liberation of human behavior. Of these three, Dr. Findley said he was more in favor of the liberation of human behavior by helping to overcome fear.

He stated that a trend in today's press of trying to scare people, is a bad one, in his opinion. He said people today go through life worrying about, or fearing that, a certain thing will happen. This, he said, is not natural.

Also, he said, we live our lives as one constant battle. Life, he explained, should be an adventure, not a battleground.

He said of the other two trends in psychology that doctors have learned that IQ scores do not measure the complete knowledge of an individual, nor does the condition and response theory always hold true and produce the desired results.

Dr. Findley was introduced to the club by E. E. Roberts, program chairman.

Water Company Receives Safety Merit Award

Frank B. Foxhall, manager of the water system here, has received an Award of Merit for safety, according to information received in Memphis last week.

The award was made by the American Water Works Association, Southwest Section. The notification read, in part:

"The award is sent to you for your excellent safety record in the operation of your water works system for the year 1961."

The Donley County Water Control and Improvement District is now eligible to receive national acknowledgement in the form of a plaque from the national association.

Foxhall stated that, as far as he can ascertain, the local system has had an excellent safety record since 1933.

Homecoming At Estelline Planned For September 1

The date for the annual Homecoming at Estelline School is to be Saturday, Sept. 1, according to an announcement made this week.

Registration will get underway at 9 a. m., followed with a coffee and luncheon at the noon hour in the cafeteria.

The annual business session will be held at 1 p. m. followed by a watermelon feast that night at 8 p. m. on the school's tennis courts.

According to the announcement, all the Homecoming activities will be at the school, either in the Homemaking Cottage, auditorium or school grounds.

The senior mothers will serve the noon lunch in the cafeteria.

All Estelline ex-students and former residents are invited to attend. Also, local residents are urged to be present. One of the criticisms offered by former Estelline residents, who returned for the Homecoming last year, was that they did not see enough local people present. It was pointed out.

This year those planning the Homecoming are urging all long-time residents, former teachers, and anyone interested in the city of Estelline to attend. You do not have to be a graduate of the Estelline School, the announcement stated.

Girl Scouts and Leaders Enjoy Week's Outing At Camp Kiowa

MAKING HER MAIDEN VOYAGE — Penne Percy, the 1962 Maid of Cotton, has just opened her international fashion and good will tour. She's one girl who doesn't travel light, however. Going with her on the 50,000-mile journey will be 22 pieces of coated cotton Skyway luggage containing her fabulous all-cotton wardrobe created by top American designers. The Maid's tour will take her to 28 cities in the United States and Canada, and four European countries.

Eight Girl Scouts and three adult leaders from Memphis attended the annual camp activities at Camp Kiowa, near Canadian, Aug. 6 to 11.

Attending from Memphis were Intermediate Scouts Judy Baker, Jane Hoover, Wynema Graham and Belinda Wells with Miss Mattie Lou Copeland as leaders; Senior Scouts Elmonette Branigan and Laurel Pounds with Mrs. Brode Hoover and Mrs. Elmont Branigan as leaders. Mrs. Baker Mrs. Graham, Rita Graham and Keith Graham accompanied the group to Canadian and Mrs. Graham assisted in helping the group return home.

The group enjoyed swimming, canoeing, boating, archery and lessons on camp crafts. Each member received a great deal of experience during the week along with a good case of Camp Kiowa measles, better known as mosquito bites, Mrs. Branigan said.

Cooking was done on charcoal burners and the girls were pleasantly surprised to find the number of goods which could be cooked in dutch ovens. Stew and red beans were among the staple foods cooked. Cobblers, pies and rolls were also cooked in dutch ovens and one group of girls baked an up-side down cake.

In addition to the cooking and training, the Scouts enjoyed meeting girls from over the Panhandle, exchanging memos and ideas which everyone will treasure for many years to come, the leaders here said.

Each night a Council meeting was held with impressive ceremonies. Also each troop presented a skit either on Tuesday or Wednesday evenings. The staff members selected the top four skits to be presented Thursday evening for visitors. Troop No. 187, under the leadership of Mrs. Brode Hoover, presented a skit which was selected as the number one skit.

Three members from each troop joined in a very impressive flag ceremony the closing program using the flags of the 50 states and the World Association of the Girl Scouts flag along with the United States flag. After the ceremony, every one followed a winding trail through the darkness with lighted fires at intervals. At each light, one phase of the Girl Scout Promise was written on a sign. At the end of the trail, the group entered the Council ring at which a huge bonfire burned. More lighted torches were used to depict the various phases of the Girl Scout Program. Throughout the week, at every camp area and at all camp programs, songs were sung. The adults found the entire group very co-operative, leaders said.

Encampment at Kiowa this year were 52 senior Scouts, 74 intermediate Scouts, 23 leaders, 15 on the administrative staff and 7 children. Mrs. Marion Osborne was camp director and Celia Fowler served as program co-ordinator. Both of these ladies are from the Pampa Council office.

According to the leaders the camp was found to be educational as well as enjoyable with the exception of inadequate camping facilities which the two groups were to take. A number of materials will be needed before Girl Scouts attend another year and anyone wishing to aid this cause will certainly be of great help, the leaders said. Several properties of the local Boy Scout Troop were borrowed. Even these things should be within the local Girl Scout Troops for such purposes, the leaders said.

The leaders are planning a pre-camp outing before next year which they think will be an asset to those who have never attended a camping.

Department Of Public Safety

Civil Defense and Disaster Relief - Warnings, Communications, Service

Under the Civil Protection Act of 1951, and by Executive Order of the Governor, the Texas Department of Public Safety is responsible for warnings, communications, and police service as related to emergency or disaster situations.

The system of warnings it has established is designed to reach many other state departments and the political subdivisions of the state for dissemination to the general public in the event of actual or threatened danger from natural causes as well as possible enemy attack.

The communications system which has been established is designed to carry intelligence reports, reconnaissance details, and requests for assistance to district and state control centers; and to transmit instructions and coordination of disaster or emergency operations.

The basic responsibilities of police services in a major disaster of any kind are to reduce casualties, to minimize property damage, and to restore as rapidly as possible the basic elements of community life.

The Texas Department of Public Safety plans for and directs statewide police services in such emergencies, as an integral part of the State Defense and Disaster Relief System. The regional commander of each of the six department regions coordinates, plans and conducts such civil defense activities for his region as are inherent in his normal responsibilities, or as may be assigned by the director.

The Texas Highway Patrol captain is delegated direct responsibilities within his district. He serves as Liaison Officer for the Governor's Division of Defense and Disaster Relief and as chairman of the District Disaster Committee.

Police services, under emergency of disaster conditions, are responsible for reconnaissance of the extent of damages, injuries and deaths; emergency traffic control to keep available routes open for evacuation and for transportation of necessary supplies and personnel; protection of property and prevention of looting; control of panic; prevention of sabotage and espionage; control of maximum security prisoners; and reconnaissance for unexploded or other explosive materials.

Personnel of virtually every division, section or service of the Department are highly trained to participate in almost any kind of emergency because in a sense, emergency is their business.

TIPS FOR OUTDOORSMEN

Cleaning Reels

Experts have found that the best solution for cleaning fishing reels is a mixture of two parts alcohol to one part light reel or gun oil.

Mix well and clean reel thoroughly.

When the alcohol evaporates, it leaves a light, protective film of oil which keeps reel parts from rusting, or corroding.

Prevent Depredation In Camp

Wild animals are a constant source of depredation in camp.

They gnaw equipment because of the sweat salt they find on such items as axe handles, etc. They break open bags and damage cans in search of food.

Usually this occurs during the night, or when the camp is deserted.

You can prevent this aggravation by spraying your equipment and stores with nicotine sulphate. It is a chemical inoffensive to man, but repugnant to animals. Pests will give camps, so sprayed, a wide berth.

Piney Woods Fire Starter

Outdoorsmen in East Texas, near the piney woods, find an easy fire starter in chunks of pine resin scraped from pine trees and stumps.

They use the resin either direct or they soak 4-inch lengths of rope in melted resin, then wrap these rope lengths in foil.

Cleaning Bottoms of Boats

One of the best cleaners you can find, and certainly the handiest, for removing scum from a boat bottom, is rough sand and a wet burlap rag.

Turn the boat bottomside up and scrub it with the sanded rag. It does a great job.

A Sound Fishing Tip

Don't let muddy water discourage you from fishing.

Murky water often is better than clear water, because when a fish's vision is obscured it feeds by sound — carried to it either by radar-like nerve endings, or its hollow bones that act as sound chambers.

Fish pin-point the location of your lure by its vibrations. So, in murky water, or any water after dark, use a good noisy lure which gives off heavy vibrations that a fish can hear.

Reel from slow to faster, until you feel the lure's strongest pulsations, then maintain that speed throughout retrieve.

To Keep Fish Tasty

Stringers are handy. So are ice chests. But both have shortcomings when it comes to keeping fish fresh for the pan.

Better way are: Remove hooks and place live catch in a live bait well. Then keep the fish cool on the way home in a wet burlap bag.

Before cooking, soak filets in salt and soda for at least an hour.

Dress Up Your Jigging Bait

Don't bother mixing your own dough for carp bait.

Just open a can of biscuit dough and mix with cotton balls. Easiest bait you ever made — and it will catch catfish, too.

Keep Guns Rust-Free

Wherever your hot water heater is located is where your guns should be stored.

The low constant heat of the gas burner is just enough to keep guns free of moisture and rust.

Red Shrimp For Bait

Shrimp are great salt water bait.

Increase the potential by adding a few drops of red cake coloring, red Easter egg dye, or mercurochrome to the water.

The red dye will stain your shrimp a strong red and add to their "appeal" when on your hook.

Real Feathers To Train A Pup

Bird-dog pups train more quickly when real bird feathers are used to train them to fetch and carry.

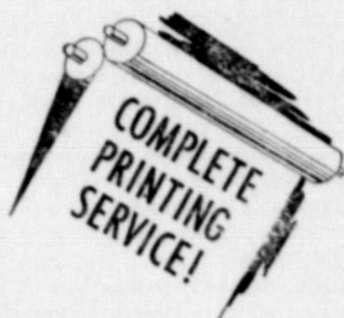

Skin a quail from your next bag salt and dry skin, then roll skin around a small ball.

Have pup retrieve the feather covered ball to give him the feel and smell of bird feathers.

Landing Nets Tangle Easily

While you're walking out and from a fishing spot, landing nets seem to have an irritating habit of tangling on every bush you pass.

Avoid this irritation by thrusting the net inside a burlap sack or plastic bag before starting out.

Report From Washington

By WALTER ROGERS
Representative, 18th
Congressional District

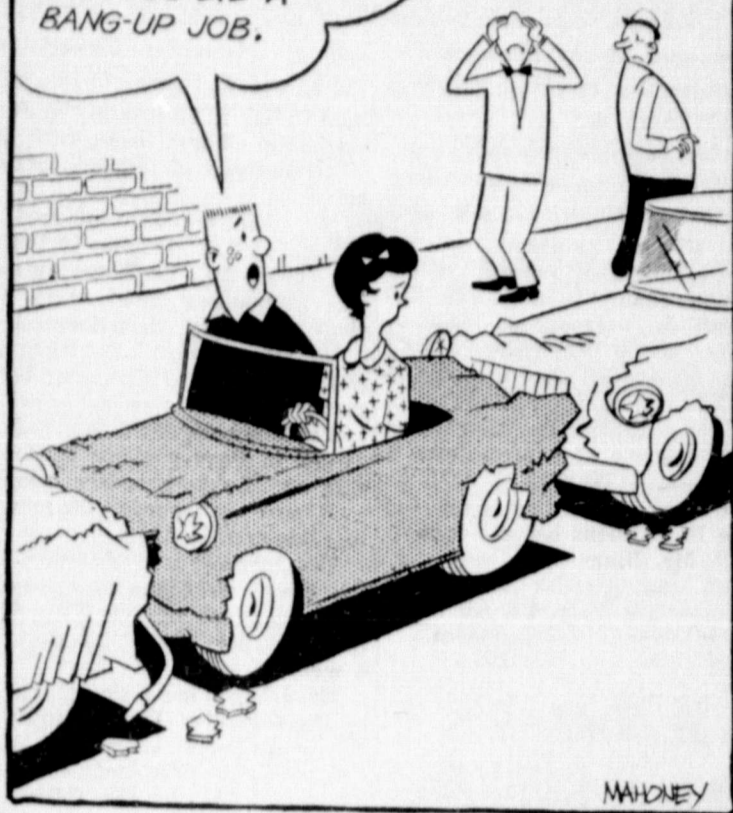

The Nation's Capital
The City of Washington in the District of Columbia is the subject of daily conversation throughout the world, some pro and some con. I doubt that there is a citizen in a civilized or semi-civilized country who has not heard of the Nation's Capital. In this city are many places of interest, historical and otherwise. The Capitol Building itself, is, of course, the Number One attraction. It occurred to me that there are many people throughout the country, and especially in the District, who have never had an opportunity to visit in Washington. Each year thousands of people, including many children of school age and those graduates from high school, come to see the Capitol Building and the other points of interest. However, a visit to these points does not always provide the sightseer with all of the information that is of interest. Hence, it occurred to me that it might be in order to issue a newsletter some of the data about our Capitol City. The site was originally a ten-mile square tract, consisting of a part of Maryland and Virginia and was fixed on April 15, 1791. However, in 1846 the Congress transferred to Virginia the portion of the District that had been furnished by that State. Hence, the present District of Columbia consists of that portion originally donated by Maryland. It was chosen in an effort to get away from large population centers of the time. An offer of a price of $500 or a medal of the same value was to be awarded to the party coming forward with the most approved plan for a Capitol Building. Some 14 to 16 plans were submitted but none was satisfactory. It was the plan of Dr. William Thornton of Tortola, West Indies, that was accepted on April 5, 1793. On September 18, 1793, the cornerstone was laid with Masonic ceremonies. The plan provided for a central section nearly square in area, surmounted by a low dome. The central section was flanked on the north and south by rectangular buildings. The north wing was finished in 1800 and the south wing in 1811. A wooden passageway connected the two buildings. This condition existed when the interior of both buildings was burned by the British in August 24, 1814. Restoration proceeded but was not actually completed until 1829. The original Capitol as completed was 352 feet 4 inches in length and 229 feet in depth. The cost of the building, including the grading of the grounds, repairs, etc., up to the year 1827, was $2,433,844.13. The building of the House and Senate wings was commenced in 1851. The Capitol has a floor of 16 1/2 acres, and 540 rooms are devoted to offices, committees, and storage purposes. The Dome as presently constituted is of cast iron and was completed in 1865. The exterior diameter of the Dome is 135 feet, 5 inches. The influence of the sun upon this vast iron structure is great. Old Sol sways this tremendous weight of approximately 4,455 tons, or 8,909,209 pounds, causing it to oscillate a distance of three and four inches. The motion is south, southwest, then west, and as the retiring sun declines and finally disappears, north, northeast, and east, returning to its original position. The Capitol Building is situated on a plateau 88 feet above the level of the Potomac River and covers an area of 153,112 square feet, or approximately 3 1/2 acres. Atop the building is a statue which has caused guesswork on the part of many as to identification. The true fact is that this is the Statue of Freedom. It is entirely of bronze and weighs 14,985 pounds, is 16 feet 6 inches high, and cost $23,796.82. It is a figure of a woman clad in flowing draperies with her right hand resting upon the hilt of a sheathed sword and her left holding a wreath and grasping a shield. At the waist, a brooch bearing the letters "U.S." holds the drapery in place. The head is covered by a helmet encircled with stars and surmounted by a crest composed of an eagle's head and a bold arrangement of feathers, suggested by the costume of our Indian tribes. As a protection from lightning, 10 bronze points, tipped with platinum, are placed as follows: one on the head; six on the feathers in the headdress one on each shoulder; and one on the shield. Among the other items of interest in the Capitol Buildings are the Senate snuff boxes, Washington's tomb and the catafalque, the rotunda frieze, and statuary hall. There are several publications concerning these matters that might be of interest to many of you who

Hall County Soil Conservation District News

Soil that is lost from wind erosion is often the cream of the land. It takes several hundred years to replace an inch of topsoil, that has been blown away.

If you are planning to defoliate and strip your cotton this fall—you should plan now on getting a cover crop on the land says Chaley B. Cape of the Soil Conservation Service, because this is the type of land that will be subject to severe wind erosion this coming spring.

A very good method to stop wind erosion is to drill rye or winter peas on the land as a cover crop. This will give good protection against wind erosion and at the same time give other added benefits. The Hall County Soil Conservation District has a machine to plant rye or Austrian Winter peas in cotton middles without harm to the cotton. The machine plans two rows in each middle, three middles at a time. If farmers are interested in using this machine they may contact Wayne Hutcherson at Memphis to obtain the inter-row seeder.

Now is the time of the year to start planning your cover crop for this fall. If a good cover of rye or other sown crops can be plan a trip to Washington. If you will write me well in advance, I will be happy to send them to you, and you may be better versed when you get here than the guides who will take you on a tour.

Something you should think about if you're about to buy a truck:

If all trucks were built the same way, cost the same to keep up, were worth the same at trade-in . . . then probably the price tag would be your only concern. It can't be, of course, because some trucks have more quality than others. And marks of quality are the real keys to low cost. Chevrolet trucks, for example, have double-wall construction, which gives bodies and cabs more strength. Cabs are insulated against heat, cold and noise. A big part of road shock, which shortens truck life, is damped out by Chevrolet's suspension system; it also makes riding in the truck a pleasure. Pickup bodies and cabs are separated to eliminate stress between them.

Value such as this has induced more people to invest in Chevrolet trucks every year since 1937.

This can be a good time to buy a modern new Chevrolet truck

Late summer traditionally is the season for all-around savings on a new Chevrolet truck . . . selection is still good . . . deliveries are prompt . . . and Chevrolet dealers are doubly anxious to put you into a new vehicle in order to make way for next year's models. Coupled with the efficient performance a new Chevrolet truck will give you, it seems evident that you couldn't buy at a better time. Come in and take full advantage of it!

It occurred to me that there are many people throughout the country, and especially in the District, who have never had an opportunity to visit in Washington. Each year thousands of school children, including many children of high school age and those graduates from high school, come to see the Capitol Building and the other points of interest. However, a visit to these points does not always provide the sightseer with all of the information that is of interest. Hence, it occurred to me that it might be in order to make a newsletter some of the data about our Capitol City. The site was originally a ten-mile square tract, consisting of a part of Maryland and Virginia and was fixed on April 15, 1791. However, in 1846 the Congress transferred to Virginia the portion of the District that had been furnished by that State. Hence, the present District of Columbia consists of that portion originally donated by Maryland. It was chosen in an effort to get away from large population centers of the time. An offer of a price of $500 or a medal of the same value was to be awarded to the party coming forward with the most approved plan for a Capitol Building. Some 14 to 16 plans were submitted but none was satisfactory. It was the plan of Dr. William Thornton of Tortola, West Indies, that was accepted on April 5, 1793. On September 18, 1793, the cornerstone was laid with Masonic ceremonies. The plan provided for a central section nearly square in area, surrounded by a low dome. The central section was flanked on the north and south by rectangular buildings. The north wing was finished in 1811. A wooden passageway connected the two buildings. This condition existed when the interior of both buildings was burned by the British in August 24, 1814. Restoration proceeded but was not actually completed until 1829.

The original Capitol as completed was 352 feet 4 inches in length and 229 feet in depth. The cost of the building, including the grading of the grounds, repairs, etc., up to the year 1827, was $2,433,844.13. The building of the House and Senate wings was commenced in 1851. The Capitol has a floor of 16 1/2 acres, and 540 rooms are devoted to offices, committees, and storage purposes.

The Dome as presently constituted is of cast iron and was completed in 1865. The exterior diameter of the Dome is 135 feet, 5 inches. The influence of the sun upon this vast iron structure is great. Old Sol sways this tremendous weight of approximately 4,455 tons, or 8,909,200 pounds, causing it to oscillate a distance of three and four inches. The motion is south, southwest, then west, and as the retiring sun declines and finally disappears, north, northeast, and east, returning to its original position.

The Capitol Building is situated on a plateau 88 feet above the level of the Potomac River and covers an area of 153,112 square feet, or approximately 3 1/2 acres. Atop the building is a statue which has caused guesswork on the part of many as to identification. The true fact is that this is the Statue of Freedom. It is entirely of bronze and weighs 14,985 pounds, is 16 feet 6 inches high, and cost $23,796.82. It is a figure of a woman clad in flowing draperies with her right hand resting upon the hilt of a sheathed sword and her left holding a wreath and grasping a shield. At the waist, a brooch bearing the letters "U.S." holds the drapery in place. The head is covered by a helmet encircled with stars and surmounted by a crest composed of an eagle's head and a bold arrangement of feathers, suggested by the costume of our Indian tribes. As a protection from lightning, 10 bronze points, tipped with platinum, are placed as follows: one on the head; six on the feathers in the headdress one on each shoulder; and one on the shield.

Among the other items of interest in the Capitol Buildings are the Senate snuff boxes, Washington's tomb and the catafalque, the rotunda frieze, and statuary hall. There are several publications concerning these matters that might be of interest to many of you who

Hall County Soil Conservation District News

Soil that is lost from wind erosion is often the cream of the land. It takes several hundred years to replace an inch of topsoil, that has been blown away.

If you are planning to defoliate and strip your cotton this fall—you should plan now on getting a cover crop on the land says Chaley B. Cape of the Soil Conservation Service, because this is the type of land that will be subject to severe wind erosion this coming spring.

A very good method to stop wind erosion is to drill rye or winter peas on the land as a cover crop. This will give good protection against wind erosion and at the same time give other added benefits. The Hall County Soil Conservation District has a machine to plant rye or Austrian Winter peas in cotton middles without harm to the cotton. The machine plans two rows in each middle, three middles at a time. If farmers are interested in using this machine they may contact Wayne Hutcherson at Memphis to obtain the inter-row seeder.

Now is the time of the year to start planning your cover crop for this fall. If a good cover of rye or other sown crops can be

Something you should think about if you're about to buy a truck:

If all trucks were built the same way, cost the same to keep up, were worth the same at trade-in . . . then probably the price tag would be your only concern. It can't be, of course, because some trucks have more quality than others. And marks of quality are the real keys to low cost. Chevrolet trucks, for example, have double-wall construction, which gives bodies and cabs more strength. Cabs are insulated against heat, cold and noise. A big part of road shock, which shortens truck life, is damped out by Chevrolet's suspension system; it also makes riding in the truck a pleasure. Pickup bodies and cabs are separated to eliminate stress between them.

Value such as this has induced more people to invest in Chevrolet trucks every year since 1937.

This can be a good time to buy a modern new Chevrolet truck

Late summer traditionally is the season for all-around savings on a new Chevrolet truck . . . selection is still good . . . deliveries are prompt . . . and Chevrolet dealers are doubly anxious to put you into a new vehicle in order to make way for next year's models. Coupled with the efficient performance a new Chevrolet truck will give you, it seems evident that you couldn't buy at a better time.

Come in and take full advantage of it!

Memphis Gridders To Begin Workout Monday

Coach Don Lambert announced this week that the first workout session of the Memphis Cyclone "A" and "B" teams will begin at 7:30 a.m., Monday, Aug. 20.

"We will issue equipment beginning at 1:30 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 19," the coach stated. The coach requested that all "A" and "B" squad boys be at the field house Sunday to draw equipment.

Coach Lambert also issued a special invitation to any boys who would like to come out for football this season to be at the field house Sunday afternoon.

The 1962 Cyclone team will be coached by Don Lambert, a graduate of North Texas State College, who is in his third season as head coach and in his fourth season as a coach in the Memphis school system.

Teams under Coach Lambert the past two seasons have been strong contenders for the District crown and have one Co-Championship to their credit, earned for the team effort by the 1960 squad.

Assisting Coach Lambert this season will be another familiar face to Memphis fans, Bob Martin, who is a Texas Tech graduate. Coach Martin has been the school's assistant football coach and basketball coach for the past three seasons.

Coach Lambert, who was very optimistic about the coming season, stated that the teams would hit the field Monday and have two workouts each day until school started.

The Cyclone will meet the Tulsa Hornets at Cyclone Stadium in the opening game of the season, Friday, Sept. 7.

Local School Board Approves 1962-63 Budget At Long Session Monday Night

The Memphis School Board met Monday night, approved the official budget for 1962-63, approved an amended budget for 1961-62, and handled other business.

Before the session got underway, in the absence of President Charles Snowden and President Pro Tem H. E. Craig, Alvin Phillips was elected by acclamation to serve as temporary chairman of the board.

The approving of the 1962-63 budget for the Memphis Independent School District in the amount of $362,050.19, was near the last of the two-and-a-half hour session. The budget, in its final state, was $17,292.19 above the total expenditures for the 1961-62 year. The budget showed that the expenditures for 1961-62 totaled $344,768.00.

The school board voted unanimously on a budget amendment which increased the 1961-62 official budget by $27,478.00. An amended budget is submitted each August to the State by each school district. The increase to the 1961-62 budget was due primarily to increased teachers salaries and the addition of two teachers to the faculty, which came about after the budget was approved last August, it was explained.

Fence Bid Accepted
The school board, in a three to two vote, accepted the low bid from Western Fence Company of Amarillo for the construction of a fence inclosing the bus shed and bus parking area at Memphis High School. The low bid was $544.35. The fence will connect the southwest corner of the Agriculture building and the northeast corner of the band house, the southwest corner of the band house to the northeast corner of the gym, the northwest corner of the gym to the southeast corner of the bus shed, and the northeast corner of the bus shed back to the northwest corner of the agriculture building. Five gates will be placed in the fence at key spots.

Roofing Bid Accepted
The board accepted the low bid of $575 of the Locklear Bros. Roofing Co. for re-roofing of the west wing of Travis Elementary School. Board Member L. J. Kenyon was given the authority by the board to inspect and approve repairs for other portions of the roof.

The board accepted the low bid of Texaco to supply the school district with gasoline for the coming year. The board approved the taking out of student insurance with the Southern General Insurance Co. of Atlanta, Ga.

The president of the board was authorized to borrow $10,000 to cover the August payroll of the district. Two milk contracts were given by the board. The Goldsmith Co. was given the contract to supply lunchrooms at Austin Elementary school and Morningside School. Borden Co. was given the Travis Elementary School contract.

In other action, the board accepted the resignations of Mrs. Celestine Tipps, colored school teacher, and Robert L. Duncan, bus driver.

In the final action of the board the following motion was passed unanimously: "This School Board complies with school policy and previous school board decisions in regard to the distance a bus will leave regular bus routes to pick up a student." The state law says this distance is three-quarters of one mile.

Summary of Budget
Following is a summary of the 1962-62 school budget which totaled $362,050.19.
