Hedley Cotton Festival To Be Held Oct. 12-13

The 11th Annual Hedley Cotton Festival will get underway Friday and Saturday, Oct. 12 and 13, in Hedley, it was announced this week by Herlie Moreman and Clifford Johnson, co-chairmen of the festival.

"Most of the attractions that have performed at past Festivals plan to be back again this year, along with several new ones," the chairmen said.

The co-chairmen stated that according to plans released by the parade chairman, more bands and marching units are expected this year, along with more floats, some of which are expected to come from neighboring towns.

"Among the former attractions who will be back are Cotton John and his crew, Honest Jess and his Cavaliers, the tumbling team and trampoline performers from the Maverick Club at Amarillo. One of the new attractions this year will be the "Order of the Arrow" Indian Dancers who will give an exhibition Saturday morning, march in the parade, and give another performance in the afternoon," the chairmen said.

The Midway this year will be by the Central State Shows of Hazelton, Kans. They will have eight or nine new rides and numerous booths and concessions. The Midway will be open Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

"The Cotton Festival, Hedley's way of giving thanks for the festival, is sponsored by the Hedley Lions Club. District Governor Sam Pagan of Shamrock will attend the Festival as well as many other noted Lions Club officials. The District Governor will make his address Saturday morning of the Festival and crown the incoming Queen at 8 p. m. that evening," they said.

Since October is Foreign Nations month in Lions International, the Hedley Lions Club will have the flags of the 72 nations in which there are Lions Clubs. The club hopes to have enough representatives of these foreign nations to have many flags carried in the parade. The chairmen said the Memphis Boy Scouts are helping in this project.

Memphis Educators To Be Honored At Banquet

The Memphis Lions Club will honor the faculty and administration of the Memphis School system with a banquet at 7:30 p. m. Monday, Oct. 8, at Travis School Cafeteria.

Rev. J. B. Thompson, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Memphis, will be the guest speaker.

Also on the program will be the presentation of Monarch Chevron awards for longtime Lions club membership by Deputy District Governor Clifford Johnson of Hedley. These awards will be for 10, 15 and 20 years of service.

Special music for the program will be presented by Mrs. Clifford Pedersen, accompanied by Mrs. George Ferris.

Lakeview Hosts Miami In Dist. Contest Friday

The Lakeview Eagles under Coach Leon Van Alstine will open their district play Friday night at 7:30 o'clock when they host the Miami 8-man team at Eagle Stadium.

Miami, ranked one of the strongest 8-man teams in the Panhandle, is expected to be the favorite.

Coach Van Alstine's Eagles, who have a one win, two loss record, have been showing steady improvement all season, and are expected to make their bid for the championship in the contest.

Both teams will be seeking to stay in the race for the district crown.

The Eagles lost a defensive battle with Guthrie last Friday night, 8-0. Guthrie scored on a long pass play in the second quarter. Lakeview started several drives which put them deep in Guthrie territory, but were unable to come up with a scoring combination.

Official Memorandum

By PRICE DANIEL
Governor of Texas

Austin, Texas

GREETINGS:

Cotton, which has played so vital a role in the development of Texas, remains one of the agricultural mainstays of its economy. Value of cotton produced in this State exceeds $20 billion, and this crop's service to mankind is beyond measure.

Eleven years ago, Hedley Cotton Festival was launched under joint sponsorship of the local Lions Club and Booster Club to celebrate and give thanks for the bountiful cotton crops produced in the area.

Residents of the entire Texas Panhandle are invited to Hedley for the two day festival, climaxed by the coronation of the Queen of Cotton. Seven thousand persons have attended each of the ten previous Cotton Festivals in Hedley, a town of 500 population.

The Festival is the only one of its kind and is sanctioned by the National Cotton Council. Festival committees promote improvement of the soil and the growing of better grades of cotton.

THEREFORE, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate October 12-13, 1962, date of the Eleventh Annual Hedley Cotton Festival, as

COTTON FESTIVAL DAYS

Community-Wide Public Meeting To Be Held At Palace Theatre Thursday

A community public meeting for all taxpayers and voters of Memphis will be held Thursday, Oct. 11, at the Palace Theatre. The meeting will start promptly at 2:30 p. m.

According to the announcement, the purpose of the meeting will be to discuss public housing, a community building, and housing for the aged of the city.

Representatives of the Public Housing Administration will be here to discuss all phases of the program. A question-and-answer period will be held during the session.

The purpose of the meeting will be the possible construction in Memphis of the housing facility and the community building, it was explained. Legal, administrative and architectural officials of PHA will be here to explain details of the program.

The proposal, as is being discussed locally, calls for the construction of 60 housing units (low rent). Early plans call for 45 units for whites, 10 for colored citizens, and 5 for Latin-Americans; and as many units for the aged as they qualify under the Old Age plan.

It was explained that the community building for the entire city would be used for meetings of local civic clubs, Boy and Girl Scouts, the PCA, REA, town hall meetings, conventions, etc. To be constructed, if the plan is approved, will be complete facilities, including a kitchen, lounges, recreation rooms, etc.

It was pointed out that Memphis is the largest county seat town in Texas without these facilities.

Everyone who is interested in the proposal is urged to attend the open meeting. All questions will be answered by the speakers, and the legal, financial and possible locations will be fully discussed.

Travis Baptists To Have Revival Meet Oct. 5-14

A series of Fall Revival meetings will start Friday evening, Oct. 5, at the Travis Baptist Church in Memphis, according to the pastor, Rev. L. E. Barrett. The series will end Wednesday, Oct. 14.

Services will be held twice daily. The morning services will start at 10 a. m., and those in the evening at 7:30 p. m.

Rev. Carroll B. Ray of Pampa will do the preaching. Rev. Ray is secretary of District No. 10, of the Baptist General Conference. The music director for the series of meetings will be Burton Sutterfield of Perryton. Both Rev. Ray and Mr. Sutterfield are outstanding in their fields of endeavor, according to the local pastor.

"Come worship with us," invited Rev. Barrett. "You are invited to attend any or all of these services."

The 1962 cotton crop harvest is getting off to a slow start, ginning reports of 13 county gins revealed this morning. The total ginning figure today was 1,899 bales.

Last year on Oct. 5, the county had ginned 4,174 bales of cotton.

Farmers over the county reported that some defoliation was done this week in the more mature cotton fields.

Heaviest ginning has been done in Turkey and Memphis, the reports from the gins showed.

Kermit Voelkel, officer in charge of the USDA Cotton Classing Office in Memphis, said today that the crop harvest over the entire area has been much slower than last year. The Memphis office has classed, 2,729 samples as of Wednesday, while last year, 13,839 samples has been classed by Oct. 3.

Mr. Voelkel said that the office here is still receiving some pre-mature open cotton, which opened during the hot August weather. He said that these samples are not micronaire as high as the mature cotton which is being classed.

"We are receiving a higher micronaire reading from some gin points," he said, "but other gin points are still ginning pre-mature cotton."

All over the entire area, farmers are hoping for a late frost to allow the late cotton to mature before its growth is stopped by a freeze, thus causing a premature opening of the bolls.

Mr. Voelkel said the office here is receiving around 750 samples per day.

Eddie Moore Is On Astronaut's Recovery Ship

Local Residents Invited To Open House Sunday

Open House will be held at the Memphis Country Club Sunday afternoon between the hours of 3 and 5 o'clock, Mrs. David Aronoff, chairman of the Welcomette Committee of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce, the sponsoring organization, said this week.

"The get-together is for everyone, and a cordial invitation is extended to area residents to attend," she stated.

Honor guests on this occasion will be "newcomers" to the city. Special invitations have been mailed to the new residents, and should some family fail to receive an invitation, it was through an oversight. Members of the committee hope they will attend, and not feel that an invitation is necessary.

Plans are being made for 300 residents to attend the social, at which more than 40 new families will be honor guests.

Twenty-two members of the home economics class of Memphis High School have volunteered their services as baby sitters for the afternoon to new residents. Sponsor for the group is Mrs. W. B. Wilson, Jr., home economics instructor in the local high school.

There will be no program, as the meeting is strictly a get-acquainted mixer in which residents will have a chance to meet newcomers and old-time friends, as well as spend an afternoon of visiting and fellowship.

Members of the committee will serve punch, coffee, cookies and sandwiches.

Memphis Rifle And Pistol Club To Meet Sunday

Members of the Memphis Rifle and Pistol Club will meet Sunday at 2 p. m. at the range, located east of the Memphis air port, Roy Curran, president, announced this week.

During the meeting, new officers will be elected for the coming year.

What Makes A Community Grow?

What will make a community grow? The answer is . . . basic employment.
For every five new people added to basic employment, seven and a half new people are required for service employment, and these 12½ workers support at least 23 non-working people which are, of course, the families of the workers.
That's a total population growth of 35½ — 12½ plus 23.
In this country, farms and ranches offer this basic employment. So do business firms that take raw products and process them, or manufacture, or produce a product for sale or consumption.
Memphis, in the past several years has experienced a growth. Most of it is due to the increase in basic employment brought about by General Telephone Co. of the Southwest, Hol-Par, Postex Cotton Mill Sewing Plant, and many new smaller businesses.
Continued efforts are being made to secure more permanent types of industry to utilize raw materials for Memphis, thus insuring a steady and continued growth. The future depends to a great extent upon the vision and faith of the people who live in Memphis right now.

A Very Important Freedom

(Following is an Editorial written by Janice Trapp, a high school editorial writer for the Whirlwind page of the Floyd County Hesperian. Janice writes about National Newspaper week, which will come up October 14-20, and has some refreshing ideas on a much-written-about subject — our Constitutional Freedoms.)
President John F. Kennedy, has endorsed the observance of National Press Week. It is designed specifically to focus the Spotlight on the role the newspaper plays in "protecting the people's three great freedoms—Freedom of the Press, Freedom of Speech, and Freedom of Religion."
This is a worthwhile objective, for freedom of the press is the key to an informed public and therefore a free public. It is a key that we should cherish, but do we?
Freedom is, as Webster says, ". . . Exemption from external control, interference, and regulation." Freedom of the mind, then, is "Exemption from external influence, etc."
How often have we heard the expression, "The power of the press? Many times, no doubt, for it does exist, and unfortunately this power is not always encased by the truth."
There is a moral obligation that newspapers should follow, but unfortunately there are still acts of sensationalism and prejudice, realized and unrealized in our papers today. This then implies that there is an obligation for us as individuals to assume.
This obligation, specifically, is for us to seek out, recognize and support the absolute truth about news information. Know your reporters, read more than one newspaper, and demand the truth. These, and many others, are some of the things we can do to maintain our constitutional right, Freedom of the Press, and insure our democratic way of life.
Are you willing to meet your obligation for the protection of this right?

What is a Competitor ?

A competitor is a person who spends his days, and often his nights, dreaming up ways to give our customers better service. When he finds out how, it will be our turn to find still better ways to keep our customers happy.
A competitor sometimes does more for us than a friend. A friend is too polite to point out our weaknesses, but a competitor will take the trouble to advertise them.
A competitor is never too far away to affect our jobs. If the quality of our work decreases, or the alertness of our service, he will prosper—and we all feel the effect.
A competitor's ability should never be underestimated. The business graveyard is full of companies who figured the competition was stupid, shortsighted or just plain lazy.
A competitor helps make life worth living. He keeps us alert and in peak condition. Without his rivalry we would find the race less interesting and the victory less satisfying.
A competitor is hard to live with, but harder to live without. Competition brings progress by encouraging the development of better products at better prices. It makes you, as a customer, boss of the economy.

What Other Editors Say

Red Arms in Cuba
Secretary of State Dean Rusk has spelled out how far the U. S. will go to prevent Russia from using Cuba as a base to move Communist arms or armed forces into other countries of this hemisphere.
Mr. Rusk, in testimony before Senate committees released Thursday, said:
". . . If the Cubans or Soviets in Cuba attempted to move arms illicitly into other Latin-American countries, the armed forces of the United States would be used to intercept such traffic."
He also said the U. S. is conducting "close surveillance" of the Caribbean and will enforce its right to continue to do so. This, he added could "lead to certain incidents, which would involve the use of the armed forces of the United States."
These are the most specific statements the Kennedy administration has made in its plan to contain the Communist military build-up in Cuba.
Of course they offer no complete final solutions to the Cuban-Soviet problem. We still don't know everything about the build-up of Red arms for Castro—or how far it may go. And there is no indication of what, if anything, may be done to prevent Cuba's so-called "defensive" arms from being turned into "offensive" might.
But Mr. Rusk's clarification, as far as it goes, is frank and forthright—and needed to be made. It may do more than vaguely worded resolutions of Congress to convince the Kremlin there are brinks beyond which the U. S. won't be pushed.

Too Old At Forty-Five
A great deal has been said lately for the advantages an employer might find in employing those persons in the later years of their working life. Still, there seems to be many employers who are afraid to employ anyone except those who are in the prime of their working life.
Some firms have even had a policy to get rid of their employees when a certain age is reached, unless that person is in the higher echelon of the operation of the business.
The International Shoe Company tannery is generally considered as a reversing factor in the general personnel practices used by many other employers. For instance, recently a potential employee applied for a job and was refused because he was in his early forties. The tannery informed him that he was too young. Their policies required the personnel practice of not hiring any worker who is under forty-five years old.
This idea is the result of a vice-president, Mr. R. H. Richards, who himself is sixty-one years old, and is in charge of the tannery's operation. Mr. Richards believes that industry will benefit when they shake the taboo of not hiring men who are over forty-five years of age.
Mr. Richards says: "It has been our experience that older men are easier to work with, and, above all, have more mature judgement than younger men."
Under the tannery's present policy, employees may retire at sixty-five and benefit from the company's pension program, but they do not have to.

The local unions for the tannery do not go along with the minimum age limit but reluctantly admit that it is good for the old men to have a place in which to get a job. With International's experience with older men and their potential, the personnel experts of the day may face a set-back in their present procedures.
There must be many places in industry where older men can serve as capably, if not more so, than their younger counterparts. With some effort, almost any industry should be able to utilize their older personnel to advantage.

Ruling In Public Interest
Advocates of the imposition of Canon 35 on Texas courts lost ground at the opening of the Billie Sol Estes trial before Judge Otis T. Dunagan of Tyler.
Canon 35 is part of the code of ethics adopted by the American Bar Association governing conduct of judges on the bench. It denies them the right to permit photographs to be taken in a courtroom during a trial and extends the ban to radio and television.
The State Bar of Texas, after a year's inquiry, declared that Canon 35 is not needed in Texas and that each judge should retain the right to conduct his court in his own discretion and with his present full powers.
The judicial section of the State Bar will consider the ABA code of ethics, including Canon 35, at its meeting in Austin this week. The judges could vote to surrender their authority and accept the outside imposition of rigid rules drawn by a non-official agency.
Judge Dunagan specifically authorized courtroom pictures in the Estes trial, and audio and video reporting. He said filming could be carried on without any interference with court decorum.
The judge commented that the trial was of wide public interest; that any citizen has the constitutional right to attend, see and hear the trial. It is just as reasonable, Judge Dunagan said, to permit them to read about the trial, see pictures of, or hear it from their homes as the people crowded into his 250-seat courtroom.
Newspapers are rightly interested in being able to present pictures of outstanding trials, the same as of the inauguration of a President, the marriage of a queen, or the funeral of the highest dignitary, all accepted as a matter of course. Judge Dunagan's ruling is to be commended as in

GOVERNOR PRICE DANIEL hands his proclamation of National Fire Prevention Week, October 7 to 13, to Fire Chief W. E. Zorn of Del Rio, Texas. Zorn is president of the State Firemen's and Fire Marshals' Association of Texas. Members of the state board of insurance, the state fire marshal and Austin fire marshal look on while the governor serves the proclamation.

Fire Dept. To Observe Fire Prevention Week

The Memphis Volunteer Fire Department will participate in the state-wide Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 7-13, it was announced this week by Fire Chief Kenneth Dale.

Members of the department will pass out Fire Prevention literature to all the schools during the week, the fire chief said.

All kindergarten, first and second grade students will ride on a fire truck as a part of the fire prevention program, he said.

Chief Dale pointed out that every week should be fire prevention week in Memphis, but especially during the week of Oct. 7-13. The fire department wants every citizen to be especially conscious of fire hazards and to take necessary steps to eliminate them.

Amendment To Constitution Is Rogers' Proposal

Rep. Walter Rogers, congressman from this district, this week proposed an amendment to the Constitution requiring the advice and consent of the House of Representatives in making of treaties.

Under Section 2 of Article II of the Constitution, the President is granted power to make treaties provided two-thirds of the Senators present concur.

The Rogers amendment would call for further consideration by also requiring ratification of a treaty by a simple majority of

J. Scott Peddie, Former Resident, Enters Ministry

An invitation and letter was received by Mrs. R. L. Madden last week from Lexington, Ky., regarding J. Scott Peddie, who is grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Thompson, who for years lived next door to the Maddens.

The invitation is explanatory. It reads: "God willing, the Rt. Rev. William R. Moody, D. D. Bishop of Lexington will ordain to the Sacred Order of Priesthood The Rev. Joseph Scott Peddie on Sept. 2, 1962, at the Church of the Good Shepherd, Lexington, Ky. Your prayers and presence is requested."

For 20 years, Scott Peddie served in the Army Air Force, and of late years has been, as he puts the House of Representatives. "Such provision would more properly reflect the will of the people," Rogers said, "and would place the responsibility for treaties directly with their duly elected representatives where it should rest."

Aside from the "additional and much-needed safeguard" the Rogers amendment seeks to provide, the Texas Congressman emphasized the value of his amendment in settling the dispute created by the so-called "Bricker Amendment" with relation to the scope of treaties.

Hall County Soil Conservation District News

President John F. Kennedy has proclaimed Oct. 7 through 13, 1962, as National Fire Prevention Week. Farm fires cost 163 millions of dollars last year. That's a very slight reduction from 1960. Farm fire losses last year were a tenth of the total fire loss for the entire country. The National Fire Association estimate of the total 1961 fire loss was $1,615,000.

Last year our nation lost 11,700 human lives to fire. More than half of them occurred in dwellings. About 800 people die every year in farm fires—most of those, too, in homes. The most dangerous fires were between midnight and 6 in the morning—the hours of deep sleep. The winter months are the most dangerous, with nearly twice as many deaths in December and January as in other months. This points up the need for checking your farm and farmstead for measures to prevent fires as soon as possible.

Walter Nichols, Former Gold Medal Band Member, Dies

Walter Nichols, a former Memphis resident, passed away in Colorado Springs, Colo., Sept. 23, according to a message received here by his cousin, Angus Huckaby. Living members of the old Gold Medal Band will remember Walter as one of the original players in the band.

You and your family should know the fire department's phone number. Be sure firemen know how to reach your farm. Get everyone out of a burning house. Don't stop to dress children or save valuables. Call for help at the nearest telephone. Try to keep the fire from spreading if you can do so without the risk of your life. Protect other buildings, livestock and property.

Some of the causes of fire around the farm or ranch are: heating and cooking equipment, 44 per cent; defective electric wiring 12 per cent; smoking and matches 11 per cent; children playing with fire 14 per cent; lightning 3 per cent, and gas explosions 3 per cent.

Now is the time to check your farm and farmstead and help prevent fires in the Hall County Soil Conservation District. Don't give fire a place to start.

The Memphis Cyclone has a second open date in a row Friday night since the scheduled game with Turkey was postponed due to a conflict. Turkey is scheduled to play Lorenzo this Friday and Memphis next Friday. Memphis will play Shamrock next Friday night; so Turkey will have an open date.

Turkey was the only county team last Friday night to defeat their opponent. The Turks walked away from the game with a two-touchdown win over Claude. Estelline lost to a tough Rochester team, 44-0. The Lakeview Eagles were downed 8-0 by Guthrie in a defensive contest. Guthrie scored on a long pass play. The Eagles were able to start several drives, but never got across for a touchdown.

Now, about Friday night's contests: The Eagles will host one of the toughest 8-man teams in their conference, Miami, Friday night in their first conference game.

This game will tell which team will be in the running for the district championship. It is a must game for the Eagles. Miami will probably be favored, but anything can happen in an 8-man game; so this should prove to be one of the hardest of the season. Game time is 7:30 p. m. The Estelline Bear Cubs will host the Wheeler squad this Friday night, and will be seeking their first win. Turkey hosts Lorenzo.

Memphis fans last Thursday night watched two interesting football games at Cyclone Stadium. The Memphis Whirlwinds, the seventh and eighth grade team, lost to a larger (in size, not in number) team from Wellington. Coach Don Lambert said the local boys played a good game until the last period, when Wellington did most of their scoring. Memphis scored on a long drive the first time they got the ball. The Memphis B team battled a spirited Shamrock B team to a standstill and defeated them 34-0. Almost all of the touchdowns for Memphis were made on long passes to End Jim Odom. Odom played a fine game. New on the B team this year is Mike Kakara, a junior transfer student. Mike is looking real good as a halfback and is a fine kicker. He places kicks and does the punting.

Coach Don Lambert said this week that next Monday, for the first time this season, the whole Memphis Cyclone team will be back in uniform. For the past two weeks, five Memphis backs have been out of action. Monday, Senior Quarterback Dwight Gailey will start working out in earnest. Junior Halfback Bill Pounds will put his pads on Monday. Jimmy Sturdevant has been out of contact for a week with muscle injuries. Jack Stargel, who broke his foot in pre-season training, is expected to be back in uniform, and Don Craig, who injured his left arm in the Estelline game, is expected to begin workouts Monday. Coach Lambert said that during workouts this week the squad as a whole looks better than it ever has.

The Memphis Whirlwinds will play McLean at Cyclone Stadium Thursday night. The B team does not have a scheduled game.

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kesting

The Alaska Highway — formerly "Alkan" — remains the undefeated heavyweight champion for most vacationing campers who prefer to motor directly from their own driveway to strange and adventurous lands. It's a big one, says John Jobson, Camping Editor for Sports Afield Magazine. Sadly, and quite unnecessarily, many families view the actual journey with trepidation because there have been some fearful tales about hazards. In those earlier days conditions were experienced, depending upon the season, so tough that scores of timorous and disappointed vacationists turned around and headed for the street-lighted freeways of home. Highway maintenance and construction crews have been working on it all these years and, while Mother Nature sometimes gives them a set-back, the over-all picture is one of steady improvement. The roadbed is definitely less rough, and many curves have been eliminated. Roadside establishments are growing enormously, both in number and in quality.

For those who love the outdoors, the trip — in season — is at the top of the list of rewarding vacations. By following a few basic precautions, the journey is no more hazardous than any other vacation motor trip of similar duration. The Alaska Highway's southern terminus is the bustling town of Dawson Creek, British Columbia, Canada; from there it is 1520 miles to the city of Fairbanks, Alaska. Heading north, the highway is hard-surfaced a good bit beyond the town of Fort St. John. In any case, you soon hit the gravel, which continues until you reach the town of Whitehorse, Yukon Territory, where there is about a mile of pavement on the highway. The Canada-Alaska border is at Mile 1221, and there on

In 1960, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, meat animals accounted for 31.1% of the nation's agricultural receipts, and dairy products for 13.9%.

These, together with poultry and eggs (9.7%) and miscellaneous "livestock and products," made up 55.7% of the total cash receipts for agriculture. Crops accounted for the remaining 44.3%.

Cattle and calves brought in $7,396 million of the $18,938 million for "livestock and products" and accounted for 21.7% of the total cash receipts.

About Your HEALTH

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health.

Early this fall more than 248,000 young Texans will be entering both private and public schools for the first time.

Even though the opening of school is still some weeks away, parents are busy making preparation to insure that their child makes a smooth adjustment to his new environment.

The child's adjustment will be more rapid and satisfactory if he starts his school life in good, sound health.

Have your family physician or local clinic give your child a complete physical examination including an eye check. His teeth should also be checked by the family dentist. If these examinations show there are ailments or defects that can and should be looked after, then follow the doctor's and dentist's advice and have them corrected, if possible, before you enroll him in school.

It's likely that your child has already been immunized against certain of the childhood diseases such as diphtheria, whooping cough, and smallpox. If not, have it done immediately either by your doctor or by the local health clinic. If all immunizations have been done previously, make sure your child gets the necessary booster dose.

Insist on your child's getting regular and sufficient hours of sleep to help him enjoy school. He needs ten to twelve hours of sleep in a quiet, darkened room with an open window to build up his energy and offset his tiredness.

Proper nutrition is very important. When school starts, allow enough time for a wholesome breakfast. A good breakfast includes citrus fruit or juice, milk, whole grain cereal or bread, eggs or bacon or both.

Attending the meeting were Sponsor Barney Bevers, Voting Delegates Dana Gibson and Rodney Sims, and Connie Mack Moore.

$100,000,000

Each year pharmaceutical firms spend more than $100-million searching for better drugs

That sounds like a lot of money! It's nothing compared to the cost of a bomber or a missile. Yet, some say, "the drug companies' research is aimed at a profit." Quite true! Aren't most things in this wonderful free enterprise system of ours? But we have the comfort of knowing that through even better medical research, the drug industry is always searching for drugs that will benefit us. Sure, it's a big gamble... and costly.

Many companies invest millions toward a goal only to have another company discover a new and better source or method that makes their efforts obsolete. In one such search for an antibiotic, 55 scientists screened 100,000 soil samples during two and a half years at an expenditure of over $4,000,000 before they found what they sought. Nowhere in human relations is there a better example of teamwork for the common good.

We can expect to live longer now because of medical and pharmaceutical research.

Football fans are off to high school and college games, bowlers are resuming tournament play, the business is picking up after the summer lull, and everyone is busy again!

For weeks now it seems, I have been busy house-hunting. We consider ourselves experts on the housing situation in Memphis... finally got Billy and Tanya settled, but are still in need of an unfurnished house for Farrell Kent and his family who have joined our staff from Lubbock. Lee and Evelyn Brown are also back with us, and are in the process of purchasing a home here.

As most of you know, Adrian and Carnis and our two grand-children, Debbie and Kent, have moved to Wichita Falls. As one friend said, we have lost our little pocket Combs. But Debbie assured us she will be back to see her Memphis friends just about every weekend.

Members of the Welcome Committee of the Chamber of Commerce are honoring newcomers to Memphis with an open house at the Country Club Sunday afternoon between the hours of 3 and 5 o'clock. A special invitation is extended to everyone to attend. In fact, all "old-timers" are urged to come out and meet the "new-timers."

Hall County cotton went on display in Chicago recently. Bobby Tate told us a few days ago. It happened this way: Bobby's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Rossen and Vic and Mark were visiting here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Davenport, when Vic, who entered kindergarten this year, decided to take a few bolls of cotton back home with him. Taking the cotton to school one day, he was quite pleased with the hit he made. His cotton display was sent from class to class throughout the elementary school. But there was more in store. A few days later the superintendent of school called at the Rossen home to ask if he might borrow the cotton to show to students in the Junior High and High School!

It's a small world after all, or so it seemed to Helen and Allen Dunbar when they found themselves seated just behind friends from Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. Coulter Sublett, at the Texas University-Texas Tech football game in Lubbock Saturday. He is a fraternity brother of Allen's, and the couples usually make arrangements to meet when they attend college games. But this year, Helen and Allen had not planned to attend the game in Lubbock until the last minute. So, on the way over, they decided the Subletts would probably be there but wondered how they would find them amid 42,000 fans. As they went up to find their seats, Helen heard the remark, "Well, there they are." She looked around, and there sat their friends from Dallas! They, too, had been looking around for the Dunbars and were amazed to find them walking toward them.

Little Tina Marie Moore, 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Moore, who arrived on her grandmother Bland's birthday, Sept. 25, is going to be the apple of several people's eye. She is not only the first grandchild on both the paternal and maternal sides, but the first great-grandchild and great-great-grandchild on her father's side of the family. The grandparents are Mrs. Frankie Marie Bland of Memphis, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Smith of Lakeview. The great-grandmother is Mrs. Garie Spruill of Memphis and the great-great-grandmother is Mrs. Sally Love of Memphis.

Movie fans who failed to see "The Spiral Road," which showed at the local theater last weekend, missed one of the best movies of the year in my opinion. It was an adventure story with a good plot, moral uplifting quality and fine acting, not only by Rock Hudson, who played the leading role, but Burl Ives and others in the supporting cast.

Today's chuckle: "The people upstairs are very annoying" complained the tenant. "Last night they stomped and banged on the floor until after midnight." "Did they wake you?" asked the landlord. "No," explained the tenant, "luckily I was up, playing my tuba."

Visiting here with Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Chick and family are Mrs. Chick's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. McGouirk of Los Angeles, Cal.

Dinner guests Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Saunders at Lakeview were Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Eller, Mr. and Mrs. Duain Eller, Mr. B. J. Eller and Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Lindsey and family of Lubbock.

Laurene Chinn Is Speaker At 1913 Study Club Tea Wed.

and introduced Virginia Browder, who in turn introduced Mrs. Chinn.

In addition to writing three novels, Mrs. Chinn is head of Laurene Chinn Enterprises, a teachers' aid publishing business which she originated as a small project in 1947 to distribute her "unique project." Today a secretary is kept busy around the clock filling orders for the read-made comprehensive tests to match daily reading lessons for over 100 reading and science text and classics in use in American schools. Mrs. Browder said in introducing the speaker.

She has written many Bible stories for youth. Her first Biblical novel, "The Unanointed," the story of Joab and David, was a Literary Guild selection and a Doubleday Book Club choice. The life and times of the prophet Jeremiah was the subject matter for Mrs. Chinn's second novel, "Voice of the Lord," which appeared in 1961.

Her third novel, "Believe My Love," is just off the press and she held her first autograph party in Borger on Tuesday, Mrs. Browder concluded.

In a most interesting manner, Mrs. Chinn explained her reasons for writing her latest novel which is based on her own life and that of her American-Chinese husband, who is an engineer for Phillips Petroleum Company in Borger.

Mrs. Chinn said, "Believe My Love" has a strong story line. It was one that I wanted to write and one that haunted me.

"In places I made fiction out of fact to make the story believable and created situations that make things believable."

Although the story talks about race prejudice and minority groups, the story was not written

After the business meeting, members received their new year-books.

Mrs. O. M. Gunstream presented the day's meditation based on the scripture Luke 1:38. She said that it is not for the vessel to choose the type of service it will perform. The story of a victim of spinal meningitis illustrated that God does answer prayers, although he does not always grant specific requests.

Mrs. J. J. McDaniel presented a most interesting preview of the year's work. She described the Washington State Coliseum, an

Like others in that era, they were caught in the depression years which were felt to a great extent in metropolitan cities like Chicago, where they were living, she said.

In that era, minority groups were also excluded from many places, such as fraternities and certain jobs, the author said.

"He saw discrimination where it did not exist. This is true in all minority groups," the author said. "I have had an interesting life as a result of my marriage and I have two lovely children who are proud of their heritage, and four grandchildren," she added.

All of these facts and many more are revealed in Mrs. Chinn's latest novel.

An autograph party was held following the review.

Report From Washington

By WALTER ROGERS
Representative, 18th
Congressional District

The bill cleared the House by an overwhelming vote but has not yet been passed upon by the Senate. It would express to the world the opinion of the House of Representatives on this subject.

It is apparent that the United States alone cannot solve this problem so long as the nations friendly to us continue shipments to Cuba. Many of these nations were receiving foreign aid from this Country, while ships owned by nations of these countries are listed on the registry of those countries were continuing to ply the seas in trade with Cuba. My next thought was to limit the authority of our government to pay foreign aid to the countries permitting such practice. Hence I offered an amendment to the Foreign Aid Appropriations Bill which has met with favorable comment all over this Nation. This Amendment would simply give to a foreign country authorized to receive aid from this Country the choice of permitting this continuing trade with Cuba or accepting our foreign aid, grants and loans. The amendment would, therefore, help to solve one of the major problems and afford us the opportunity of seeing just who our friends are in this scrap.

However, a country could say that they preferred to trade with Cuba and turn down the foreign aid, or some countries, friendly to us but not receiving foreign aid, would not be effected. Efforts were being made and had been made in our diplomatic circles to persuade friendly nations to cease this trade with Cuba. It was the opinion of many that if effective results could be brought about by agreement with these nations, it would be more helpful in the solution of the overall problem. However, as time ran on, it became apparent that all the foreign nations were not going to make such an agreement. In recent weeks several of such nations freely voiced publicly their intention not to cease this trade. Consequently, it was my opinion that it was time for the Congress to act on this subject. Therefore, I introduced HR 13214 which reads as follows:

Cuban Cure
I had an uncle who considered himself quite a philosopher. He had many sayings among which was the following, "there are more ways to kill a cat than stuffing it on butter." I think this axiom could be applied to Castro and the present Cuban situation. Much has been said about the possibilities of a blockade. A blockade, as such, under international law is an act of war. Whether or not a war would be precipitated by a physical blockade is unknown. Such action would involve the calculated risk incident thereto. However, it is my opinion that if a physical blockade procedure is followed, this Country should be ready, able and willing to go to war so that there would be no misunderstanding on the part of the American people. It is my personal feeling that Cuba now constitutes a cancer on the Western Hemisphere that must be removed—a job that can be done with great success just as a skilled surgeon would remove the cancer from a human body if the matter is properly approached. In pursuing this thought which I have tried to study very carefully, I decided during the early part of this year that efforts must be made to prevent trade with Cuba at every turn. Prior efforts on the part of a number of us in Congress had produced the discontinuance of the sugar purchases as well as several other economic sanctions. The Inter-state and Foreign Commerce Committee, of which I am a member, gave approval to a bill introduced by my good friend and colleague, Congressman Paul Rogers. This measure prohibited the shipment of Cuban goods into the United States and in interstate commerce.

CANDY by Tom Dorr

"That all ports of the United States are hereby closed to all vessels while engaged in trade or commerce with Cuba (except United States installations therein), or while engaged on any voyage during which such vessel has engaged in trade or commerce with Cuba (except U. S. installations therein), except where such vessels are required to enter ports of the U. S. for repairs or emergencies recognized as such under international law.

"Sec. 2. Any vessel which enters or attempts to enter any port of the U. S. during a period when the ports of the U. S. are closed to it under the first section of this Act shall, together with such cargo, be forfeited." Much could be said about this law but space here will not permit. Suffice it to say that of this proposal can be

Farm Bureau Seeks Policy Resolutions

The director of the Hall County Farm Bureau asked this week that anyone desiring to turn in policy resolutions, to do so before the end of the month.

"The Hall County Farm Bureau would like persons of this county to submit any suggestions of resolutions to the board of directors, or mail to the office as soon as possible," a spokesman for the directors said.

Farm Bureau policy is made up of resolutions starting at county level all over the United States, and being voted on at county, state, and national level, it was pointed out.

"The only way Farm Bureau can be better suited to the people's needs is through direct participation of interested persons. Those wishing to criticize the Farm Bureau should do so by submitting policy ideas, for this is where those policies being criticized are made," the spokesman said.

"We need to make our local Farm Bureau better with new ideas and participation by local people," the spokesman concluded.

General Law On Employing Children Farms Is Explained This Week

Farmers this week were told of the child-labor requirements of the Federal Fair Labor Standards Act. Several questions were covered in the Federal Labor Standards Act: Do the child-labor requirements apply to agriculture? Do they apply to products of agriculture or indirectly to interstate or foreign commerce? What are the requirements? What are these requirements? What are the requirements? What are these requirements?

not hired by him personally? A farmer is responsible for every under-age child working on his farm. This includes children hired either individually or as a part of a family group by labor contractors, processors, or others. 6. What are the penalties for violation? The act provides, in case of willful violation, a fine up to $10,000. For a second offense, committed after conviction for a similar offense, a fine of not more than $10,000 or imprisonment of not more than six months, or both, may be imposed.

New 24-Month Warranty Goes To Ford Buyers

Eddie Foxhall, owner of Foxhall Motor Co., Memphis, this week announced that all purchasers of 1963 Ford cars and trucks will receive a 24-month or 24,000-mile warranty.

The new warranty, Mr. Foxhall said, represents a doubling of the 12-month, 12,000-mile warranty, with which Ford dealers led the industry in offering to their customers in the 1961 model year.

The 24,000-mile warranty was pioneered by the Lincoln Continental on 1961 models. "Extension of this warranty to other car and truck models for 1963," Foxhall said, "is possible because of continued progress toward quality and reliability goals that year after year have enabled Ford dealers to be the leader in providing products requiring less and less maintenance."

Terms of the new warranty provide that for 24 months or for 24,000 miles, whichever comes first, free replacement, including related labor, will be made by authorized dealers of any part with a defect in workmanship or materials. Tires and tubes are not covered by the warranty; appropriate adjustments will continue to be made by the tire people. Owners will remain responsible for normal operations, such as wheel, brake and clutch adjustments and engine tune-ups, and for routine replacement of such items as filters, spark plugs, ignition points, wiper blades, and brake and clutch linings. The warranty also will not apply to deterioration of soft trim and appearance items due to usage and exposure to the elements.

The new warranty covers both the original owner and subsequent owners during the specified mileage and time periods.
