Cyclone Downs Dodson 42-29 Here Tuesday

The two Memphis basketball teams will travel to Dodson tonight (Thursday) for a return match with the Mustangs, it was announced Tuesday by Coach Bob Martin. The game time was changed from Friday night to Thursday night due to the Memphis Senior Play.

Coach Martin's Cyclone eagles went onto the court Tuesday night against the undefeated Dodson team in a game that early predictions had Dodson a favorite.

However, taking an early lead in the first quarter, the Cyclone never did trail, and slowly increased its lead to a 42-29 victory when the final buzzer sounded. Also victorious was the Memphis "B" team who defeated a smaller Dodson team (Continued on Page 12)

Letters To Santa To Be Published In Democrat Dec. 20

The first Santa Claus letter arrived this week at The Democrat office to be forwarded to the North Pole. The letter was written by Mary Lee Linville, 720 N. 16th Street.

For the convenience of area youngsters, a mail box will be provided by The Democrat at the courthouse Wednesday.

Letters sent to The Democrat will be published in the annual Christmas edition on Thursday, Dec. 20.

Volunteer Workers To Sack 1,400 Bags Of Candies, Fruits, Nuts For Children

Hall County children will have a chance to visit and talk with Santa Claus here next Wednesday, Dec. 5, according to word received from Santa's workshop at the North Pole.

Jolly Old St. Nick is expected to begin visiting with pre-school children at 1:15 p. m. Wednesday when he will appear at the county courthouse.

J. M. Ferrel, Jr., chairman of the retailers committee of the Chamber of Commerce and Hall County Board of Development, stated that the event will be conducted this year as in the past, with pre-school children receiving bags of candy, fruit and nuts and visiting with Santa from 1:15 p. m. until 2:45 p. m. At 2:15 p. m. the first buses will bring children from school. The buses will continue to bring the school children until all those in the elementary grades have visited with Santa.

In addition to the Memphis children, letters have been sent inviting the children of Turkey, Lakeview, Estelline, Hedley and Quail schools to come and visit with Santa.

The message from Santa Claus also said that later in the month he may get back to Memphis; however, he wanted to see all the children he could next Wednesday to get their wishes and desires for Christmas. Santa's message did not say what dates he may be back.

The holiday spirit of the season was aided last week when crews from West Texas Utilities Company, aided by ones from General Telephone Company and others, put up Christmas lights in the downtown area. This year, the all-blue lights around the courthouse, add greatly to the color scheme.

Memphis business firms are beginning to decorate and plan for Christmas.

Members of both of the local P-TA's along with C. of C. officials and other volunteer help will prepare 1,400 bags of candy, fruit and nuts which will be distributed to the children next Wednesday. The bags will be prepared Tuesday, and Mrs. Kathryn Latimer, president of Austin P-TA, and Mrs. A. H. Hull, president of Travis P-TA, will head the respective work crews. Also these organizations will supply 10 persons to help Santa Wednesday by handing out the bags to the children.

C. of C. officials announced this week that several other Christmas projects are being planned. These will be announced later.

Cotton Quota Up For Vote Dec. 11

Cotton growers have a quota vote coming up Tuesday, Dec. 11. Cotton growers will vote on whether they want to continue marketing quotas on the 1963 crop, Joe C. Montgomery, chairman, Hall County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said today. Marketing quotas have been in effect continuously on upland cotton since 1954.

"If at least two-thirds of the cotton growers voting in the referendum approve of quotas," he declared, "then quotas will be in effect for the 1963 upland cotton crop, marketing penalties will apply to any 'excess' cotton produced on a farm, and price support at a level within the range of 65 to 90 per cent of parity will be available to farmers who comply with their farm acreage allotments. The actual level will be announced later.

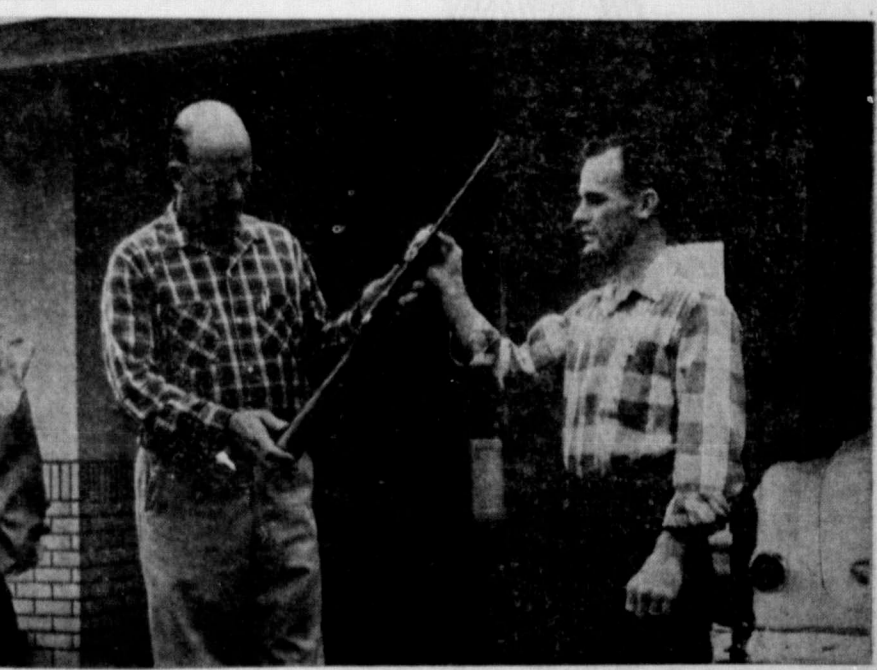

"On the other hand, if more than one-third of the growers who vote oppose the cotton quotas, then there will be no quotas and no penalties applicable to the 1963 upland cotton crop, and price support to farmers who comply with their farm acreage allotments will be available at 50 per cent of parity as directed by law.

Farmers engaged in the production of upland cotton in 1962 will be eligible to vote in the cotton referendum. The term "engaged in production" includes planting cotton even though the crop is not harvested if such failure to harvest is not caused by the neglect of the farmer. Also, cotton producers whose allotment history for 1962 is protected under applicable provisions of law are considered "engaged in production" and eligible to vote.

The chairman explained that individual farm allotment notices for cotton will be mailed to farmers prior to the referendum.

The voting in Hall County will take place Tuesday, Dec. 11, 1962. The polls will be open between the hours of 8 a. m. and 6 p. m.

Survivors include his wife; a daughter, Mrs. Jimmy Jenkins of Olton; three grandchildren; a brother, Perry T. Ashcraft of Lindale, and three sisters, Mrs. Ione Dean of Tyler, Mrs. Ida Walker of Brownfield and Mrs. John Graham of Lindale.

Moscow's Changing Tune

Today, many analysts are trying to explain what are the effects of the Cuban Crisis? Who won, who lost, what did the winner receive, what did the loser concede, and what is so important, what positions are being taken now?

First of all, it was determined right quick that the Russian Bear did not consider missile sites in Cuba very important. These sites were taken out without fuss or bother. The reason may be found in that Cuba under Castro is a big headache to the Communist world, especially in the economic field.

America has won many friends and increasing solidarity with other Latin American nations by exposing what it means to become an ally of Russia.

Due to this nations firm stand, Moscow's tune has undergone a change. What line Moscow will take is yet not apparent, but Khrushchev appeared to be thoroughly impressed with President Kennedy's preparation for military action in Cuba and the mobilization of numerous U. S. military units on such quick notice.

At the same time there are reports that the Kremlin is very much annoyed with the recent action of Red China, in attacking India. Relations between these two giants have been growing cool for some time, and now they are said to be the coolest they have been since China became a Communist country. The Russians are growing increasingly fearful of the population explosion in Red China. The Chinese are seeking land from India now, and the Russians are wondering how long it will be before they eye the virgin fields of Siberia for conquest.

The total effect of all the Kremlin's problems has brought about a change in the Soviets' relations with the U. S. Whether this is only the latest propaganda game being played by Moscow or whether there is really something substantial in this theory will be known in a very short time.

'Tis Better To Get Caught

"Nothing is worse than doing something wrong and not getting caught at it."

This sage bit of philosophy came not from a trained psychologist or an unusually observant adult but from one of our own Junior Staff Leaders, 17-year-old Leon Martin of Hereford, Texas, as we discussed some of the problems boys seem to have when they first come to the Ranch.

I was struck with the understanding and clear reasoning of this fine young man because he was voicing an opinion I and a good many others have held for a long time. The one difference, however, is that I reached my conclusion only after many years of experience in working with the type of boys we have at Boys Ranch. Just to sound him out, I asked Leon exactly what he had meant by that statement and I was pleasantly surprised when he said that, in some ways it had two meanings. The most obvious one, he explained, was that if a boy did something wrong and was not caught and corrected right then and there, he would probably do it again.

Then, if he was permitted to get away with small wrongdoings, it wouldn't be long before he would try something bigger, finally graduating to serious offenses that could result in loss, damage or personal injury to some innocent person and apprehension and prison for himself, usually bringing shame and hardship on his family. "Nothing is worse than doing something wrong and not getting caught at it."

Leon then went on to explain the second meaning which concerned some people who through a peculiar mental quirk, would do almost anything, including committing a crime, to bring attention to themselves and thereby, recognition. He had read somewhere that this could be an all-consuming urge and this is frequently true.

Police files contain hundreds of cases where an offense is committed with no clues whatsoever as to who the offender is, and yet he is eventually apprehended simply because he was not getting the attention he felt he deserved and had to brag to someone of his "accomplishments." It is nothing more than human nature to seek some sort of recognition and the desire is just as strong in the criminal as in the law-abiding citizen.

I thoroughly enjoyed my conversation with Leon as he explained the thinking behind his statement and I was particularly proud when he said that he and all the other boys wanted to work with the staff in any way possible to help guide and correct boys who, for one reason or another, seemed unable to keep out of trouble.

As far as Leon was concerned, it was nothing more than a matter of correcting a boy every time he stepped out of line and explaining the reason for the correction because, "Nothing is worse than doing something wrong and not getting caught at it."

What Other Editors Say

Use Your Mind

How many friends do you know who talk for talk's sake? Can you listen carefully to many people and conclude they are really trying to think through things and make intelligent comments?

In other words, when we discuss issues or topics of the day, do we attempt to understand both sides and look into the facts—even if that takes an effort—or do we just jump to a conclusion or say something that will be popular or that will provoke a laugh?

Real thinkers are always valuable assets to a community but they are—all too often—rare. It is easy to slip into the habit of loose talk and loose thinking, or lazy thinking.

The individual who trains himself to hold his tongue, and who thinks about what he is going to say carefully, before he says it, will soon gain both knowledge and respect in his community, among his associates.

The freedom to dissent, to think for oneself, is a heritage dear to all of us. We were not in the beginning a nation of sheep; we are not today. This is because there have always been Americans who think for themselves, who use their minds independently, which helps keep this nation strong and prevents corruption and despotism.

In our community we must tolerate opposing views and the opinion of those who differ with us. We must, literally, oppose those with whom we disagree with all our energy, but we must, likewise, defend their right to disagree. Disagreements and vigorous differences of opinions in politics, economics, local government, civic improvement and in other fields is a healthy sign that people are thinking.

Intelligent people can disagree—perhaps about almost everything—without being personal or anything personal being involved. That is the test—and a sign—of maturity and wisdom, and democracy at work.

A New Marker For Deaf Smith

Recent research on the part of a Dallas newspaperman has pointed up the fact that Deaf Smith, for whom this county was named, is buried near Richmond, capital of Fort Bend County. He also exposes the fact that the grave of the famous Texas scout is poorly marked with a "small, muddy looking square stone which reads: "Deaf Smith The Texas Spy Died Nov. 30, 1837"

As news of this marker leaked back into Deaf Smith county, the reported condition of the marker has resulted in some comment, including a $25 contribution from R. J. Richardson, who feels that residents of this county may wish to erect a more fitting and more elaborate marker in behalf of Deaf Smith. The idea, to say the least, has merit and would not tax anyone heavily. It might even provide an excellent project for some interested club or group.

Deaf Smith, without doubt, was a colorful character, and contributed much toward establishing the independence of Texas. At least one historian says Texas would never have won the battle of San Jacinto without the services of the scout.

A fitting marker for the county for which Deaf Smith was named would certainly be in order. What do you think?

Strong Leadership For Redevelopment Program

The first step in the county's redevelopment program since it was designated as eligible under the Area Redevelopment Program has come with the selection of a strong slate of officers to head the committee to plan the overall program.

This program, as yet without an official title, will determine how far into area development the county goes. The strong conservative leadership provided by the officers, Henry Sullivan as chairman, John Robert Henard, vice-chairman, and N. M. Higdon, secretary, assures that whatever part of the program is entered into,

In a meeting of this group last week, it was made clear that designation of Collingsworth as being eligible for Area Redevelopment does not mean that the county has to accept any number of projects or to accept any assistance at all.

It can stop right here if that is the wishes of the people. There can be one project, such as a dam, and no more, the leaders say.

Area redevelopment goes into many fields, most of them yet to be studied locally.

If a project is entered into, it means the acceptance of federal money, although there must be some local financial participation, the amount depending on the type of project.

Four county administrative bodies gave approval and asked for the county to be designated: the county through its commissioners court; the City of Wellington; the City of Dodson; and the Collingsworth County Water Control and Improvement District.

Ford ideas so contagious they started a new trend in cars!

If you think today's cars have a lot in common, credit the Ford sketches above. For these ideas sparked a revolution in car design that's reflected wherever you look on the American road.

Ford ideas have a habit of being exciting—practical, too. Consider the innovations found only in our '63s. There is Ford Galaxie's smooth new velvet ride. It cost Ford $10 million to bring it to you, but costs you not a penny extra to enjoy. There is Ford's full twice-a-year or 6,000-mile maintenance* schedule that cuts service worry and expense to a minimum. There's a new manual transmission that lets you shift down from second to first without coming to a stop. And for '63, there's the biggest choice of models ever offered—44 in all!

Only Ford offers all these advantages now. Other cars will eventually catch up—but if you can't wait, here's a tip: See your Ford Dealer today!

School-To-Home System Installed For Lanny Crow

Lanny Crow, seventh grade son of Mrs. Henry Crow, returned to his classroom Tuesday, but he is still confined to his room. He will be in a leg cast for more weeks, doctors predicted.

The seventh grader received a letter while playing football last week. He has been out of school since that time.

The first time in Memphis, Tenn., the facilities of General Electric Company of the South were used in the School-to-Home system installed in Mrs. W. C. Davis' home and in Lanny's bedroom. The system can listen to the classes and participate in discussions by means of a two-way communication system carried over television.

Using the facilities of the School-to-Home system, Lanny was able to keep up with his school work. After the technical difficulties were worked out in the system, Danny's class conducted a welcome-back ceremony Tuesday.

Mrs. Crow said that Danny is left alone in his room during classes.

Tax Reform

In view of recent developments with relation to proposed tax cuts and tax revision measures, I want to discuss herein several important aspects of tax reform which would have a most beneficial result in my opinion.

Many suggestions and recommendations have been made through the years as to methods and manners of reducing or abolishing the income tax. The present campaign is to try to obtain an increase in the deduction allowed for individuals and their dependents. The present deduction for the average American citizen is $600 for the individual and $600 for each dependent. I am happy that this movement has begun. In 1951, I introduced legislation to increase the individual exemption to $1,000 and to increase the exemption for dependents to $750. A number of people asked me why I limited the dependent's increase to $750. My answer was that I had no objection to the bill being amended and the amount increased to $1,000 for dependents, but in view of the size of my family, I didn't want the bill to appear as a bill for personal relief simply because I had six children. In a subsequent Congress, I reintroduced the bill and increased the $750 figure to $1,000, at the request of a number of other Members of Congress.

I have continued to press for the passage of this legislation through the years because I have long felt that it was the fairest way to give proper tax relief. Further, it would provide much needed assistance in many families throughout this country in helping to raise minor children. Someone who thinks that you can raise a child for $600 a year has not had much experience doing it. In my opinion, the increase in the individual and dependent's exemptions would not only afford much needed tax relief to people throughout this country on a fair basis, but it could very well constitute the economic stimulant needed in many of our communities and areas and, in fact, would.

It is my hope that the people will keep this campaign going full steam. Certainly every effort should be made to continually evaluate the tax structure of this country for the possible reduction and relief needed in all areas of the economy, commensurate with the maintenance of the proper defense of this country and its economic structure. But, in my opinion, the increase in income tax exemptions for individuals and their dependents would do more to stabilize the general economy, stimulate the purchasing power, and improve the national product than any other one factor.

Laff Of The Week

"I'm not leaving you alone with that until I hear it talk!"

The present tax structure has not been subjected to a thorough revision for a long time. It has, in one sense of speaking, become a series of patch-works. The tax base has been looked upon as being too narrow, especially in the upper brackets. The lowering of these tax rates could stimulate additional investment, and it is the consensus of many that this base should be broadened, especially as it relates to the business rate. It is thought that this would generate significant new investment and aid measurably in reducing unemployment. I think this is certainly true and should be included in any new tax measure. The primary goal should be to weigh the matter out most carefully. Our national product could be endangered by the new economic blocs being formed in the world. Hence, we should try to work out our tax structure so that business activity would be invigorated rather than stifled.

Gamma Kappa Chapter Places Magazine In Library

The Gamma Kappa Chapter of the Delta Kappa Gamma Society in Texas is sending a complimentary subscription to the quarterly magazine to the Carnegie Library, according to an announcement made this week by Miss Zady Belle Walker.

The Delta Kappa Gamma Society is an international organization for women educators with chapters throughout the United States and six Canadian provinces, she explained.

"The articles are written to appeal to the more than 82,000 members, who include women on all levels of education from nursery school teachers to college presidents, members of Congress and representatives in the United Nations," Miss Walker said.

While many of the articles deal with education in the United States and other countries, others are concerned with various subjects included in the program foci, such as intercultural relations, development of human resources and recognition of women leaders all over the world, she added.

National Beta Club HHS Has Meet Tues.

The National Beta Club of Hedley High School held its annual meeting Tuesday.

A discussion was held concerning the qualifications necessary to become a member and the amount of dues to be paid by a person before he may become a member.

The club elected officers for 1962-63. They are: Jimmy Reynolds; vice president, Noel Clifton; secretary, Gentry; treasurer, Sandra ...

Hedley Students Listed On CJC Honor Roll

Two Hedley students were listed on the scholastic Honor Roll of Clarendon Junior College for the first nine weeks of the first semester of the fall term. They were Jon Leggett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd C. Leggett and Sharon Davis Gray. Also listed on the list was John Kennedy, sophomore from Quail High School.

Jon graduated from Hedley High School in 1961 as valedictorian of the class. Sharon is also a 1961 graduate of Hedley High School.

Students on the Dean's honor roll have achieved a 2.6 quality grade point average, which is equal to an A-average in 12 or more college hours of work and because of this fine scholastic performance they are honored with this recognition. Oliver J. Abel, dean of the college, stated, and school head determine what local scholastic standards shall prevail.

The graduate members retain all rights and privileges except voting. Graduates may wear the club emblem and attend local, regional and state meetings. The club colors are "old gold and black." The motto is "Ducamus Alis Serviando". (Let us lead by serving others).

Patrol Investigates 2 Rural Accidents In Hall County

The Highway Patrol investigated two rural accidents in Hall County during the month according to Sergeant D. R. Dowdy, patrol supervisor of this area.

These wrecks accounted for an estimated property damage of $850.00.

The rural accident summary for Hall County from January through October of 1962 shows a total of 28 crashes. As a result of these crashes there were seven persons killed and 16 persons injured. The estimated property damage amounted to $21,967.00.

"Cold grim traffic facts alone are a challenge for every responsible citizen throughout the state to join in an all out effort to stop this needless tragedy this holiday season, Sgt. Dowdy said. "This can be done by observing all traffic laws and being a defensive driver; that is, be prepared for the unpredictable actions of the other drivers."

ter 25 generations. The railroad and the steamboat opened it up to settlement within a few decades.

In the early 1900s a gentleman from Philadelphia grew enthusiastic about private motor cars and foresaw the time when there would be a hundred or so in every city. I might add that he viewed this development as a boon to highway safety as it would free the country from drunken drivers and wild horses.

The economist Jevons, in 1860, was alarmed at the possible exhaustion of the earth's coal supply within a few years. I have heard similar predictions on petroleum almost yearly since my college days.

When events are viewed against the pattern of our country's steady long-term growth and prosperity, the bad times, so troublesome in their particular setting, fade first into unpleasant memories, and finally to unimportant historical items in dusty and forgotten archives.

Stray Bill Finds Home On Car Hood

The cotton harvest must have really started in Floydada or Falcons have money magnets, according to Mrs. Starr Johnson, Brice.

Friday, Mrs. Roland Salmon, Mrs. Jno. Lindley and Sammie Salmon were coming back from Lubbock. They noticed what looked like a leaf waving on the front end of the car hood. When they drove into a driveway, the leaf remained on the hood. As the leaf blew in the wind, it looked like a dollar bill. Curiosity finally getting the best of them, they got out to see—and it was m-o-n-e-y.

son squad 54-11, in the first game. The Memphis lads had had only two workouts when they met the Dodson squad in their first game of the season. "We didn't have time to work on court position or our free shots," Coach Martin said after the game, "and these were our weakest points." The coach felt the deciding factor was the local team's defensive effort.

"Dodson just couldn't get a shot over our hands, but when we didn't cover the shooter, the Dodson kids made the shot," the coach said. Coach Martin, remembering the first game last year, was pleased that none of the local team fouled out of the game.

The Cyclone's next home game is with Quannah next Tuesday, Dec. 4, with the "B" game beginning at 7 p.m.

Leverett Children Injured In Amarillo Car Collision

Linda Leverett, 12, and Barry Joe Leverett, 10, grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Leverett of Amarillo, former Memphis residents, were critically injured in a two-car collision near Amarillo Thanksgiving Day.

Also critically injured in the accident were the Leverett children's stepfather, Joed Davenport, 33, driver of the car in which the three were riding.

According to an eyewitness, the accident occurred when the station wagon driven by Mrs. Anita Burden turned left in front of the Helium Motel and Cafe, located 1.8 miles west of the Amarillo city limits, striking the Davenport car, which was traveling toward Amarillo. Also injured in the collision was Mrs. Burden's husband, Harry Burden, who was a passenger in the station wagon.

According to Mrs. Davenport, mother of the two children, the three, Davenport and the boy and girl, had been hunting and were returning home for their Thanksgiving dinner at the time of the crash.

According to Byron Baldwin, a cousin of the Leveretts, Barry Joe was still in a coma Tuesday and all three were listed on the critical list.

The grandparents were visiting in California and were en route home this week.
