Caprock Translator System Goes Back On The Air After Two-week Shutdown

Caprock Translator System went back on the air Thursday, Feb. 14, after a shut-down for about two weeks. The shut-off was caused by financial difficulties, according to Arlie Shawhart, president of the non-profit television rebroadcasting corporation, which serves a wide area of rural families surrounding Memphis.

Shawhart stated that the board of directors wanted to thank all committees and individuals who have been contacting neighbors during the past few weeks, and who collected $5,470.00. This amount has been deposited to Caprock Translator System's account.

"From this fund we paid our annual payment to the bank of approximately $3,000," Shawhart stated. "A balance of $6,000 is still due on our bank note, and this will be paid off when two more payments are made during the next two years."

He said that there is a slight misunderstanding about the annual payment members are paying for the television service.

"The farm families (who actually own the system) should be paying $30.00 per year," Shawhart pointed out. "Originally, it was estimated that we could operate on $18 per year from our members, but we soon found out too many were not paying for the service; so a membership meeting was called. This happened about two years ago. At this meeting, the members voted that the charge should be increased to $30.00."

In further explaining the system's operation, Shawhart stated that, originally, 350 persons bought stock at $60 each, which brought in $21,000.00. Later 140 of this original group loaned $60 each to the system, which amounted to an additional $8,400.00. Then the directors, at the insistence of the membership, borrowed $12,000 from local banks.

"After paying off the bank note recently, we now have approximately $2,500.00 in our account," he added. "We expect to collect about the same amount by (Continued on Page 12)"

Quitaque Tops In Dist. 10-B; Girls Begin Play

Quitaque is the District Champion of 10-B boys basketball and will play Hedley in the bi-district contest. The Quitaque-Hedley Bi-District Game will be played at 8 p. m. Tuesday, Feb. 26, at Silverton.

Quitaque won the round-robin and the district tournament with a spotless record to claim the crown for the second consecutive year.

Quitaque defeated Matador 59-40 last Saturday night at Lakeview while Estelline defeated Lakeview in the first game.

In season standings, Matador and Estelline ended up tying for second place, but a flip of the coin gave the honor to Matador; so Estelline placed third.

Lakeview, Flomot and Turkey were in the bottom places of the district.

Coach Martin Issues Letter On Withdrawal

The Memphis High School Basketball Coach Bob Martin issued a statement this week in the form of a letter on the withdrawal of the Memphis Cyclone basketball team from competition in District 2-A, Friday afternoon before their final game Friday night.

The letter was headed, "An Open Letter To The People of Memphis," and is as follows:

"In reference to the withdrawal of the Memphis High School basketball team from the District 2-A basketball race I would like to clear up several questions by explaining exactly the situation as it happened.

"Last Friday, February 15, 1963, the school officials of Memphis received a phone call from Clarendon High School from the office of Supt. of Schools asking that an official investigation be made into the eligibility of one of the Memphis players. It stated that the boy had been promoted from the seventh grade at Lelia Lake in 1957. If that boy had not dropped out of school prior to entering the eighth grade in 1957 his eligibility would end at the end of the 1961-62 school year.

"The officials of this school notified me of the inquiry and together we conducted the investigation asked for by Clarendon. Upon finding an error made in our school records in 1959, we immediately took steps to protect the interest of this school. The name of our team was voluntarily withdrawn from the certification lists in Austin, Lubbock and our district headquarters and a ruling asked from our district on the matter. If we had insisted that Clarendon issue a formal protest to Austin to correct the matter we would have been jeopardizing the athletic status of this school for the next two to five years.

"I wish to make it clear that without the inquest of Clarendon there would have been no hint of an error. No one in this school knew of such an error. The action taken by both schools was an honest effort to assure honesty and fair play in the athletics here at Memphis. The incident is tragic due to the people affected but the actions taken by this school should be lauded as an example of the honest efforts of this school to maintain a high level in the development of the character of the students of Memphis High School.

"I hope that this will answer most of the questions in the minds of the interested parties and pledge myself to continue to work for the betterment of youth in this community."

The letter was signed by Coach Bob Martin, basketball coach, Memphis High School.

On or about April 15, 1963, a dream of residents of Lakeview will become reality. This is the estimated completion date of the Lakeview Water Supply Corporation is expected to start furnishing water to residents in and around that town.

Monday morning, E. Leon Thurman, of Childress county supervisor of the Farmers Home Administration office in Memphis, presented B. E. Davenport, chairman of the Lakeview Water Supply Corporation board, with a check of $110,000, a soil and water association loan by FHA.

Present at the meeting Monday morning besides Supervisor Thurman and Chairman Davenport were: officers of the association, R. C. Clements, J. B. Skinner, and Woodrow W. Mullin. Joseph D. Durham is also an officer but he was not present Monday.

Man Winter is determined to make periodic visits to the United States of America—the greatest and the most beautiful country in the world. When Mr. Winter shows up he showers us with white and fleecy snow flakes. Last winter, he let us have wet snow to the amount of about 40 inches without blowing wind, according to J. J. McMickin, weather reporter for more than 50 years. That, added to the amount of snow the week before, gave moisture to the amount of around .70 inch. This Thursday morning, in sufficient quantity to cover the ground, paid McMickin's report for the past week shows mild temperatures as follows: February 14, 26-54; 15th, 24-52; 16th, 24-50; 17th, 26-50; 18th, 26-64; 19th, 26-64; and yesterday, 30-70.

The Highway Committee of the Chamber of Commerce will begin some study and work for a highway up Palo Verde Park highway. This could start about the Red River southwest of Brice. It has been mentioned frequently by road enthusiasts all over the Panhandle.

Glenn Shelton, a Wichita Falls Record-News columnist, in yesterday's issue told how he failed to walk the 50 miles to the other day, and quoted another walk-attempter's letter which was shown "the heart of Texans." The letter read, "I knew I wasn't in very good shape, Glenn, but when everything else gave out I could just put it on my back and make it all the way, Glenn. But I tried. Oh, God, I tried! But after 34 long Texas miles, when each falter was pure agony, and every cotton-picking bone, tissue and muscle in my old frame was screaming at my lame brain to fall out. I cried a little then—great choking sobs. I couldn't hold back. Lying there all alone in the grass with beer cans and broken bottles and stuff, ashamed and because I couldn't make my aching body go on. I was 65 years-old, Glenn, and hadn't cried on the outside since I was a baby. Glenn, some of them made it, and some like me, didn't; but there were no losers in yesterday's walk because they all played the game. Hell, I wouldn't have walked for nothing. Ole man K says he is going to bury me like that. You and me both know he's just popping

America still has millions and millions of people who are just like those who attempted to make the 50-mile walk. Those millions, when the time comes, if it ever comes, will show Mr. K and all his kind that America will not be abandoned. Let's stop whining. Let's be Americans dedicated to upholding the American way of life.

"High" Food Cost Needs Second Look

Much has been said about the "high" cost of food during the past several years, which should be carefully considered in the face of statistics. The facts show that the cost of food has gone up less than any other thing which the average family pays for.

In a recent release from the office of John C. White, Commissioner of the Texas Department of Agriculture, the matter is discussed in detail. Under the title, "What Happens to Your Food Dollar?" the overall picture is clearly presented. The article follows:

How many times have you looked at the price tag after a trip to the super market and exclaimed, "Just look at this grocery bill!"

It seems as if the family grocery expense gets bigger every week and that food prices are enormous. But here is a suggestion.

The next time you unload the car on returning from the supermarket, spread the items out on the kitchen table and have a look at them. It may surprise you. How many of those items are "non-food" purchases? How many can you actually eat, and how much of it is soap, tooth paste, household cleansers, mops, gadgets, beauty preparations and even toys, books and magazines?

The supermarket today is a combination grocery store, notions dispenser, hardware seller, dry goods vendor, toy shop, tobacconist, and library. This vast neon-trimmed shopping arena, with its thousands of square feet of floor space and parking area is the modern day counterpart of the old general store. You can spend a lot of money here.

Yet we make a common mistake of getting home from a trip to this wonderland of national products and bemoaning the high cost of "groceries". Who is the first to get the blame for it? Too often, the scapegoat of our wrath is the farmer—that guy "out there somewhere".

Sure, your shopping bill at the supermarket is higher. But a recent report by Purdue University revealed that about 20 percent of what you carried home in that grocery sack was non-food items.

Farm food is still your best buy, and the item whose cost has risen more slowly than nearly any other item you purchase. Farm food sold in retail stores has gone up in price some 13 per cent in the past decade. Meanwhile, all other items that we buy for daily living has gone up an average of 32 percent. Housing costs are up nearly 33 per cent in the same period. Rent has skyrocketed 44 per cent. And transportation has soared 50 per cent.

We as a nation pay a smaller part of our income for food than any other industrialized country. We spend about 20 per cent of our earnings for food compared to 30 per cent in France and England, 42 per cent in Japan, 45 per cent in West Germany and 56 per cent in Russia.

In abundance, variety, convenience, and wholesomeness, American food is without equal—including its fair price.

The Line Is A Fine One

Somewhere else in this issue we made the statement that the line between a blessing and curse is often a fine one. To borrow our own expression, we might also say that the line between news and advertising is also a fine one. In fact it is so fine as to be unseen.

All of our papers are inconsistent when it comes to separating the advertising from news, not because we want to be but because we aren't wise enough to know how not to be.

Sometimes a patron raises an eyebrow when he places a classified ad and discovers that there is a charge. He reasons to himself, "I placed this same ad on the 'trading post' of some radio station and there was no charge, so why can't the newspaper carry it free?"

The answer to this one is easy. It might be noted that these "trading post" programs have sponsors who pay for the program and give the time to the public for an assortment of announcements. The newspaper can do the same thing if some sponsor wants to buy a page and donate it to the public.

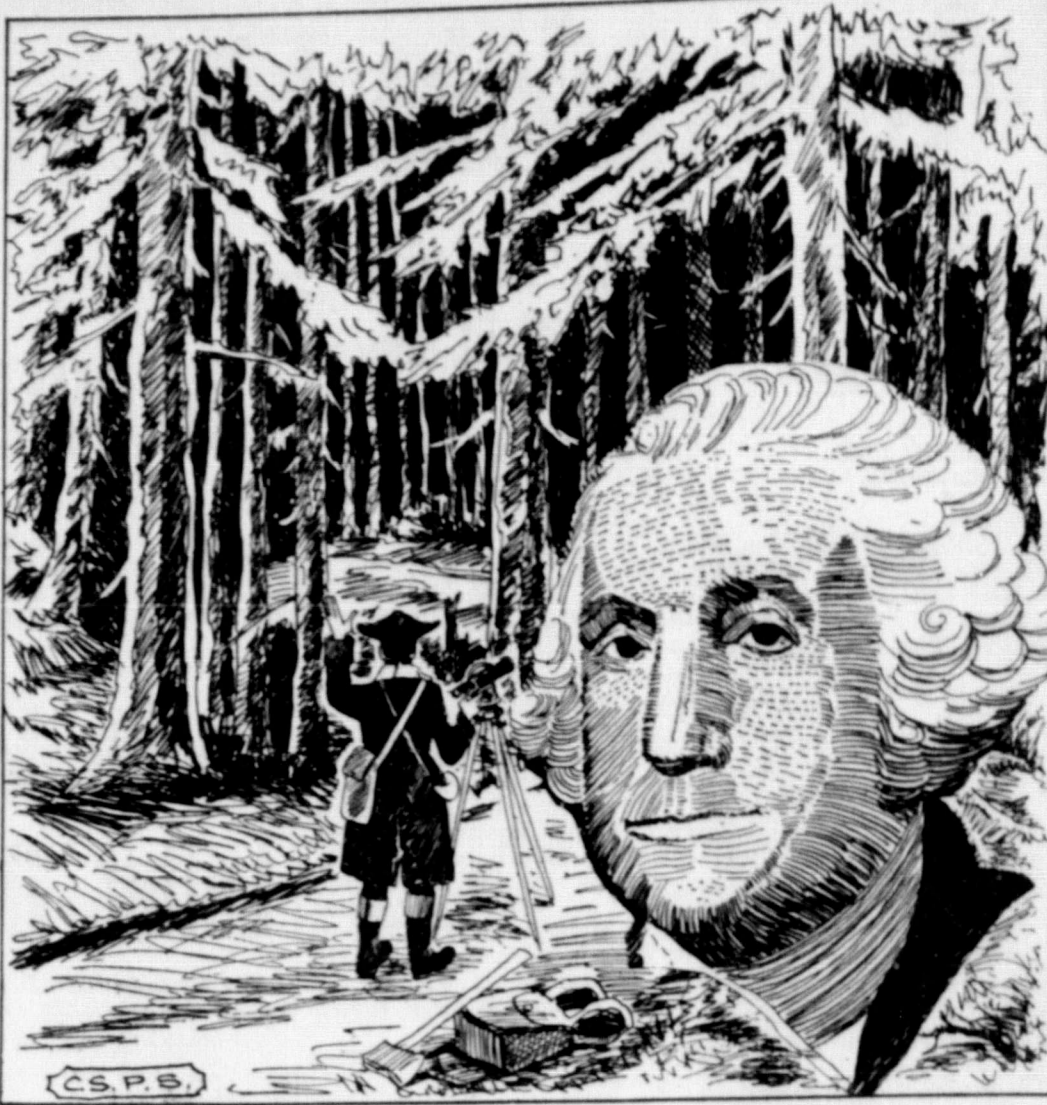

Then there are times when persons want "news" stories inserted which are designed to promote a private project which will put dollars in the pockets of these persons. They want the newspaper to promote their project—free. There are other problems when private groups are in competition with established business houses which buy advertising. There are times when merchants support a particular project, then the sponsors of the project come to the newspaper asking that it give free advertising to the merchants because they supported the project.

Occasionally a paper is asked why it doesn't have a "home furnishings" section, an agricultural section devoted to a stock show, or something similar, "like they have in the dailies." When one examines these "special sections" in the dailies, it is always noted that these sections are sponsored by merchants directly or indirectly connected with these promotions. Advertising to support the entire section is extra advertising by dealers in home furnishings, or perhaps by concerns dealing primarily with farmers who welcome visitors to the stock shows or publicly congratulate the youth who exhibit the animals.

Most papers want to serve, to please their readers. They want to carry all the stock show or home furnishing news they can. But a paper is a business institution. It takes advertising revenue to pay for almost all the overhead in running a paper. Subscriptions are a business liability. It is the advertiser, not the subscriber, who carries the load. Advertisers like it that way because the more subscribers there are, the more valuable is his advertisement. We wish we could devote all our space to news and promotions—but we can carry only as much free material as the advertising revenue will permit. A paper is a business institution first, a public service organization next—economics makes it that way.

We try to apportion our free space in such a way that there will be something of interest for everybody. Club women want space. The school wants space. The chamber of commerce wants space. The communities surrounding Tullia want space. The local farm agencies want space. Space is wanted for wedding stories and pictures, anniversaries, and feature stories. Numerous groups want stories to promote projects and causes. We're glad it's that way, else several thousands of people wouldn't want the paper each week.

Newspaper charges for its non-free services are neither fines or attempts to extort the public. No newspaper these days is getting rich. It takes money—lots of it—to run a newspaper. That's why it must charge for some of its services. And we readily plead guilty to the charge of inconsistency—we don't know where the line separating advertising and free services should be drawn.

Proposed Legislation

As is usual about this time each year, there are a few minor bills coming before committees and sub-committees that take up more time than is usually necessary in the line of national lawmaking. This year has seen a revival of the old question of asking Congress to regulate sale of firearms. This is one of several steps to either license or restrict the sale of firearms to individuals. And probably the good lawmakers are thinking of their own hides after some of the mistakes that have been made in the past few years. Back to looking at the facts at hand—nowhere in the bill has a word been said about the citizen who uses his gun for pleasure and sport. Not one word has been said on behalf of the individual who is guaranteed by the Bill of Rights, the right to keep arms. The only thing that has been said is that sale of firearms contributes to juvenile delinquency. I seriously doubt this. I was raised with a gun and as far as I know I didn't shoot anyone—at least there have been no complaints to date. And as to contributing to juvenile delinquency, in the hands of the average American sportsman-gun owner, a well aimed, loaded and cocked two barrel shotgun pointed at the mid-section of a potential criminal is one of the best deterrents to crime I can think of. In the 16th century Machiavelli wrote, "Hence it comes about that all armed Prophets have been victorious, and all unarmed Prophets have been destroyed." We should have learned this in World Wars One, Two and the Korean conflict when the U.S. jerked up plain, ordinary gun-totin' country boys and made sharpshooting military men out of them. —Ralls Banner

Something To Think About

What Money Will Buy
And Will Not Buy
A bed, but not a good night's sleep;
It will buy books, but not brains;
It will buy food, but not an appetite;
It will buy finery, but not beauty;
It will buy a house, but it cannot buy a home;

It will buy medicine, but not health;
It will buy amusement, but not happiness;
Money will buy preaching, but not the truth;
It will buy a church building, but not salvation.
Covet a golden tongue more than a greenback?
Money will buy a ticket, but not to Heaven.
So help us to say always the Almighty God
Rather than the almighty dollar.
Money will buy us a ticket almost anywhere,
But it won't buy us a way to Heaven above.
So, if in God we trust,
Let us not say the almighty dollar,
But rather the Almighty God, who alone is almighty.

Miracle Of Rain

Although man has made amazing scientific achievements, nature still puts on the greatest show on earth and exhibits miracles, every day, which put man's best efforts to shame.
Some people fail to recognize the miracles which occur around them every day. For example, take the occurrence of rain, upon which event the hopes of millions of farmers, and others, are hinging.
A farmer, with a hundred acres of planted crops, must have, of all things, a plentiful supply of water. If he receives a rainfall of one inch, which often occurs during the planting season, nature has dropped 2,714,300 gallons of water on his crops. And nature

The Highway Patrol Supervisor pointed out that rural motor vehicle traffic deaths, injuries and accidents slightly decreased in the 31 county Panhandle district during January, 1963, as compared with the same month for 1962.

Five deaths were tallied last month as compared to seven in January, 1962, 61 injuries as compared to 81 for January, 1962. A total of 132 rural traffic accidents were investigated as compared to 162 for January, 1962.

"This slight over-all decrease of deaths, injuries and accidents is encouraging, but these figures must be greatly reduced for each of the following months of 1963 if we are to have a safe year in

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kesting

Don't settle for second best when you choose a fishing boat, whether from a catalog or in a dealer's showroom. You don't have to, says Willard Crandall, Boats Editor of Sports Afield Magazine. Nor do you have to splurge. In your price range you will find almost any kind of boat. Maybe it will be a simple, light aluminum one, or a wide plywood one. Perhaps you like both boats. That's an indication, then, that neither boat is ideal for you.

Choose your boat for sturdy quality first, then for the finer details, so that it will be a pleasure to be aboard and to take care of it. Choose the boat to suit motor vehicle travel," the Sergeant stated.

The Veteran Patrol Supervisor reminded motorists that the law requires all Texas registered motor vehicles to have valid inspection stickers displayed by midnight April 15. The best way to avoid the long line expected in the last minute rush is to have your vehicle inspected now.

Nucleus Of Optimist Club Is Formed Monday Night; Meeting Set For Fri.

Seventeen men were present Monday night at the Big O Restaurant for the first meeting in an effort to organize an Optimist Club in Memphis.

At the conclusion of the meeting, 14 men signed applications to join the club, which are being held by the temporary secretary-treasurer, Hubert Jones, who was elected Monday night. Sam Putts was elected temporary chairman of the group.

The group voted to have a dinner meeting at the Big O Restaurant at 7:30 p.m. Friday night, Feb. 22, to continue solicitation of members. Chairman Putts will arrange a menu for the dinner and all those interested in becoming members are urged to be present.

Bill Jenkins president of the Pampa Optimist Evening Club, and five other members of that organization were on hand to answer questions of those present at the meeting.

Brochures concerning the organization, dues, projects, programs, special weeks, and officers of the Optimist Club International were handed out and discussed in detail. It was explained to the group that an Optimist Club is an organization which works primarily with boys of ages 8 through 14, in the fields of baseball, basketball, and other sports along with some literary events.

George Massie gave a three minute talk on "What My Optimist Club Means To Me."

Newt Secrest, Past Lt. Governor, gave a report on the organization and history of Optimist International. He explained that in Texas Optimist Clubs are sponsoring four boys homes in Houston, Corpus Christi, Harlingen and Beaumont. He said that there are over 600 projects in which clubs can participate, and almost all of them are working with boys.

During the question and answer period, President Jenkins was asked what projects the Pampa clubs are now working with and he listed the following: 1. boxing, 2. sixth and seventh grade basketball, 3. baseball (18 teams), ALPS TUNNEL . . . Photo shows interior of St. Bernard Highway tunnel which will link Italy and Switzerland with the first year road connection by 1963.

Young Texan program, 4. Bicycle Safety Inspection Program, 5. Youth Appreciation Week, and 6. Jr. Optimist Club program. The club is co-sponsors of many projects, he said.

Mr. Secrest said there are now 2,200 clubs with 80,000 members listed with Optimist International.

If the club is organized in Memphis, it is a requirement of the sponsoring club, the Pampa Optimist Evening Club, will have to meet with them for six months. The club would meet weekly at a time voted on by the members, it was announced.

Those seeking information about the organization may obtain it by contacting the chairman or secretary-treasurer, Sam Putts or Hubert Jones.

Chamber of Commerce Has Building Medallion For Shoe Bar Headquarters

Chamber of Commerce Manager Clifford Farmer stated this week that the Texas State Historical Survey Committee has awarded a Historical Building Medallion for the Shoe Bar Ranch Headquarters building located two miles north of Lakeview.

The building is presently the residence of Mrs. J. H. Barbee. The building is an adobe walls structure, and is considered to be the oldest standing building in Hall County.

A letter from the Texas State Historical Survey Committee, George W. Hill, Executive Director, dated Feb. 13, 1963 and addressed to Manager Farmer stated:

"The Texas State Historical Survey Committee is pleased to announce the award of the Historical Building Medallion for the Shoe Bar Ranch Headquarters.

"The Medallion has been mailed to you. If you have not already received it, you should in the next few days. (The medallion is at the C. of C. managers office).

"If any ceremonies are planned, please let us know, and we will be happy to work with you on the program and publicity if you so desire."

Manager Farmer said the Area Development committee under Tommie M. Potts, chairman, has shown much interest in the project and will take the matter under discussion at their next meeting.

Many residents are familiar with the history of the Shoe Bar Ranch Headquarters building, however, for those who are not aware of the importance of the structure in the history of Hall County, the following is some information about its lustrous past.

The adobe house on Oaks Creek, as the structure is referred to by Inez Baker in "Yesterday in Hall County," published in 1940, was the headquarters of Mr. Bugbee's Flying T. ranch. However, in 1891, the Bugbee-Coleman Land & Cattle Company was formed and the Flying T brand gave way to the Shoe Bar brand of Coleman, and the adobe house on Oaks Creek became the official headquarters of the Shoe Bar Ranch, which contained 100,000 acres of land and had under lease 300,000 acres.

Mrs. Baker stated that by the later part of 1889 Hall County began to consider self government. A mass meeting was held at the Shoe Bar Headquarters on Oaks Creek May 4, 1890, at which time final details were completed to petition the Commissioners Court of Donley County to establish Hall County. The petition with 150 names was presented on May 12, and the court set the election date for June 17, 1890.

The order calling the election stated that those voting in Precinct No. 2 would vote at the Shoe Bar Headquarters with W. R. Hill the presiding judge.

The original building walls 18-inches thick. The building has been added to the original three room building a part of Mrs. Barbee's knowledge, the Ranch Headquarters building in this part which will have a Historical Medallion, when issued.

Major Crime In Texas Continues Increase In 1962

Major crime in Texas continued its upward spiral in 1962, outstripping the population increase as an average of one offense was committed every two and one-half minutes.

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Department of Public Safety, reported that crime jumped 6.6 per cent in 1962 over the previous year, with the crime of auto theft showing the largest increase of 18.5 per cent.

Garrison said the 1962 figures represent an overall increase in crime in Texas of about 71 per cent since 1955.

"The crime rate per 100,000 population increased from 2,122.9 in 1961 to 2,261.5 in 1962, confirming once again the alarming trend that set in after World War II," he said.

The official 1962 crime report shows that murder was down 8.5 per cent, rape decreased 8.2 per cent, robbery dropped 2.1 per cent, while burglary increased 4.9 per cent, aggravated assault 6.4 per cent, theft 7.4 per cent, and auto theft 18.5 per cent.

In urban areas, there was an increase in major crime of 8.4 per cent, offset by a 3.9 per cent decline in rural areas.

By population groups, the greatest increase was 14.7 per cent in cities between 50,000 and 100,000, while the largest decrease was 15.5 per cent in counties with under five rural population per square mile.

Garrison said there was an 11.8 per cent increase in 1956, a 9.2 per cent increase in 1957, a 9.5 per cent increase in 1958, a 3.9 per cent increase in 1959, a 13.1 per cent increase in 1960, and a 2.2 per cent increase in 1961.

"The 1962 figures, according to our statistical services section, mean that on the average, there was one major crime every 2 1/2 minutes. Overall, there were an estimated 216,650 offenses in 1962, which compares with only 126,791 in 1956," he said.

It's the Law in TEXAS

Building Your Home
When you are ready to build, you will find that the law helps in many ways to make your home enjoyable and secure.

Have you decided on the type house you want and the amount you want to spend? If so, then let's go into details!

1. Your Lot: Junior's school or your church may be nearby, but find out—

(a) Whether they are planning to run a highway through the area or nearby, or make any improvement for which you can be assessed.

(b) What "Covenants" or restrictions run with the land? To protect residents, the plots or basic deeds of some neighborhoods call on you to build a certain size or type of house. Do you want to and can you afford to?

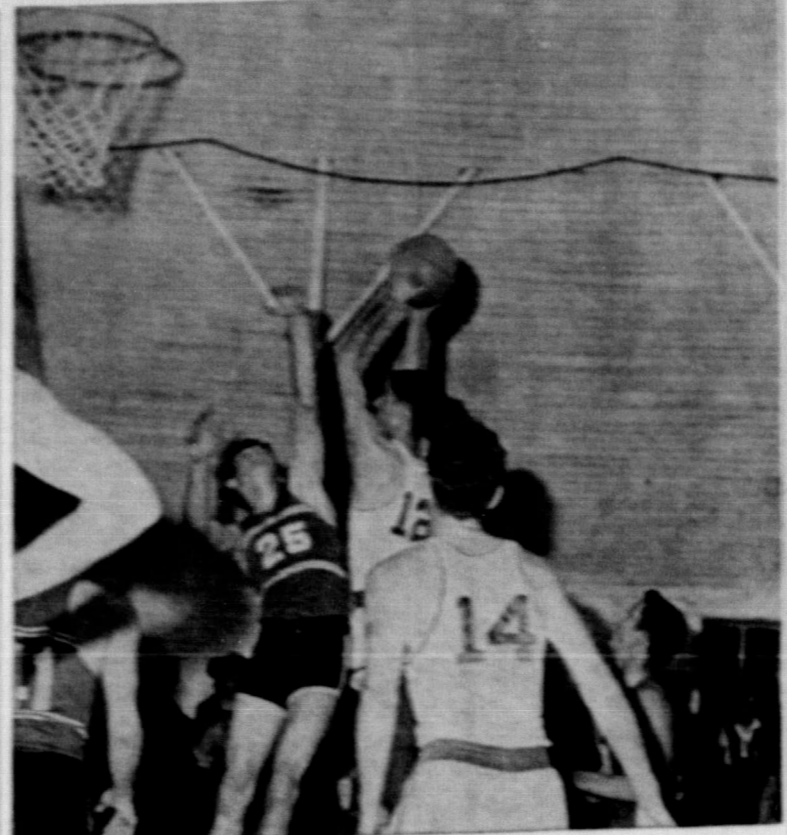

(c) Easements. Either you or your neighbors may need to run pipes, or string wires over each other's land or to share a driveway. Have the abstract checked carefully to disclose any easements.

2. Zoning Ordinances: For your protection the local government frequently zones some areas, for example, for single houses only, for multiple dwellings; for retail stores, for manufacturing, etc.

Unless the local governing body changes its zoning ordinance, no filling station, for instance, can go up next to you in a residential area.

Comments—

put Memphis and Hall County on the map, and has made other places in the Panhandle take notice of the GO GO spirit manifested by the many citizens living within the area. It has taken co-operation and community spirit to get things going forward, and this same spirit will keep the town growing in several ways. There are a few other things that ought to be done so that all facets of a live-wire town will be keeping step. One, for instance, is the need for an all-weather landing field at the airport. Some two or three years ago, the town and county almost had it planned to do this needed improvement co-operatively. For some reason, the plan was placed in status quo. What is the matter with kicking Mr. Status Quo in the pants and get the work done. The improvement surely can be made without voting another bond issue. What about it, Mr. GO GO?

There are a number of weeks in the year in which certain organizations are given deserved recognition. This week it is the Future Farmers of America being officially recognized for the work being done along agricultural lines. Our hats are off to those taking part in the movement, and our wishes are that the program will continue beneficial for years to come.

It has been suggested by a number of citizens that business buildings, modernized with new fronts and/or new paint, would add much to the attractiveness of the business part of town, and attract more enterprises—all of which would help to bring more trade. May I suggest a comparison? The peafowl struts and shows his beautiful plumage, then he looks at his feet (which are ungodly ugly) and his plumage falls. Most of the business houses have modern and business-like appearances to the visitor—then his gaze strays to some other places, and he gets a jolt.

Groundbreaking is being done today for an auditorium at the Travis Baptist Church in North Memphis. The present auditorium has become too small for a growing congregation. This is another forward-looking move in Memphis and in the religious life of Memphis.

Yesterday, three citizens asked why the three taxing units in Memphis, City, School and County, can't get together and do something about a lot of good lots (now grown up in weeds and are catch-alls for all kinds of rubbish) on which taxes have not been paid for years and years. Many of these lots would make choice building sites, and if sold and improved, would result in taxes being paid thereon—something not to be sneezed at by the taxing units. Isn't the question a proper one, and worth being studied by the Commissioners Court, the Board of Trustees and the City Council?

Bill Phileagen, formerly of Phileagenville, Texas, now living on West Main Street in Memphis, asks, "Why is it the people don't whistle anymore as they go to or from work?" The answer is easy. They may whistle, but can't be heard because they are in cars and have their radios going. Also, if you can remember when most people whistled, you are too old for the draft.

A few months ago, a Memphis woman talked about the need for a "lonely people" club, and after the first of the year she would attempt to get such a club organized. This club would have for its main object, the visiting of lonely people, entertaining them in some interesting way, so they could have a break in their loneliness. Such clubs have been organized in other places, and are proving to be of great satisfaction to those visited and to themselves as well. Indeed, it would help the visitors to do away with many idle hours also.

PREACHES THIRTY MINUTE SERMON ON 99TH BIRTHDAY
Preaching a 30-minute sermon on their 99th birthday is not something that happens to very many men, but this was the case with A. C. Huff, who lives at McLean, Texas, with his daughter, Mrs. Pete Fulbright. He was 99 years old on the 8th of February and on Sunday, the 10th, preached a 30-minute sermon at the regular worship hour of the church.

All of his immediate family, including four sons and four daughters, with the exception of one son, Otto A. Huff, of Pos Ridge, Ark., were present in the service. Due to his failing eyesight, he was not able to read, however all the scriptures used in his sermon were quoted from memory. His subject was: "The Crucifixion of Christ." His message touched many hearts and many tears were shed during the sermon. Mr. Huff has been preaching for 79 of the 99 years he has lived, and is well known all over Texas and Oklahoma.

Mr. Huff has a standing invitation to preach in the Vandellia Church of Christ, in Lubbock, on his 100th birthday and he is looking forward to that occasion.

He was at one time a singing school teacher and still attends a singing each week, directing several numbers.

James Futch of Estelline Goes To Church Meet

James J. Futch of the Estelline Methodist Church was one of the 60 persons who met to explore ways to prepare Methodist annual conferences and jurisdictions for possible changes in Methodist jurisdictional structure to create a truly inclusive church. The session was held recently in San Antonio.

The meeting was initiated by the General Conference through the offices of the Woman's Division of Christian Service and the Division of Human Relations and Economic Affairs of Methodism's General Board of Christian Concerns. The sponsoring agencies set the pattern for the 39 regional study sessions as the result of an Orientation Conference held March 20-24, 1961, in Louisville, Kentucky.

Presiding at the sessions held at Laurel Heights Methodist Church, San Antonio, was Rev. J. Frank Peery, pastor of the Methodist Church at Muleshoe. Rev. W. F. Hathaway, Jr., Methodist pastor at Columbus, Tex., served as secretary and co-ordinator of arrangements. Dr. Floyd Curl told the group that 1960-64 will give the Methodist Church a new perspective trying to solve the present relationships between several other groups in the church pointed out that previous had tied the racial problem abolition of the jurisdictional term, but since the 1961 Conference discussions had led to emphasize the maintaining the geographical divisions while absorbing the Central Jurisdiction into geographical jurisdictions.

Suppose your workers only worked "when they felt like it" and still you must be very sweet and never fire one of them. To get them to work you beg them, plead with them, tickle them on the chin, and use every means under the sun to try to get them to do the work. And suppose you were in competition with a notorious rascal (the devil) who had no scruples and was far more clever than you were and used such attractive things as fishing rods, soft pillows, TV programs, carnivals, movies, ball games, parties, pleasure drives and a thousand and one other things "to hurt your business."

Suppose your firm was heavily obligated to meet certain financial responsibilities and you had to depend upon your people to "give as they felt led" to carry out the biggest business in the world.

You wonder why we do not throw in the towel or run to the bridge and end it all? That's what many of you have done. We probably would if it were not for the number who love the Lord more than anything else in the world and who put God first in their lives and consider no sacrifice too great for their Lord. These are our pride and joy, the salt of the earth.

So you think you have ulcers, Mr. Business Man, you ought to be in our shoes for a while.

USDA Reports Availability Of Cotton Micronaire Readings For 1963-64 Crop

Micronaire readings of samples of cotton submitted for classification under the Smith Doxey Program will be available on a fee basis during the 1963-64 season, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

This service provides a measurement of fiber fineness of cotton as determined by airflow instruments. Fiber fineness is a quality factor important in spinning. Testing for micronaire readings is authorized under the Cotton Testing Service Act.

The micronaire reading service was introduced beginning November 1 of the 1962-63 season and was used extensively by farmers in West Texas and Oklahoma. The Altus Classing Office issued micronaire readings on forty-one per cent of all cotton classed this season, reports C. E. Cox, officer in charge. Fifty-two per cent of the total bales classed by the Memphis sub-office carried micronaire readings. A fee of eight cents per sample was charged for this service. The fee for the coming season will be determined by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and will be announced about May 1.

Applications for the testing service must be submitted by a ginmer to the Agricultural Marketing Service cotton classing office serving the territory in which the gin is located. All samples submitted for classification from a gin that files an application for the mic-ronaire service will be tested. Applications should be submitted as soon as possible but no later than July 1. Several weeks are required to install equipment and train personnel to provide the testing service. Classing offices may not be able to provide testing service to gins submitting applications after July 1 if a shortage of equipment and trained personnel occurs.

The gin that submits application for the service will be responsible for payment of the test fee. Applications for micronaire readings and additional details regarding the service may be obtained from any local Cotton Division Classing Office of the Agricultural Marketing Service.

Highway Department Wages War On Highway Bridges In Amarillo

ably along an unfrozen highway, then suddenly streak onto a glazed-over bridge. A skid, quite possibly a fatal wreck, may result.

Deeply aware of the danger, the Texas Highway Department's chief defense against snow and ice is sand and salt. All-night work shifts by maintenance crews anticipating flash freezes are commonplace in winter.

They will be for some time to come, but the electrical deterrent has obviated shovels and sand boxes at bridges where it has been installed experimentally.

The experimental anti-icing systems have been built into the Amarillo and Wichita Falls bridges during regular construction. They are absolutely safe — no motorist or pedestrian could be burned or shocked by an electrically heated bridge.

Objects of research being carried on at the two cities — under controlled conditions insofar as Old Man Winter cooperates — is to develop the most efficient and dependable method to correct the ice bridge problem in Texas.

Research is also being carried on to find a way in which the "anti-icing" method can be adopted to existing bridges.

Highway Department engineers believe they are establishing a solid beach head in their cold war against the ice of Texas.

'King of Kings,' Christian Epic, To Be Shown At Palace Feb. 24 - Feb. 28

Coming to the Palace Theatre this week is Samuel Bronston's production of "King of Kings," Bill Boren, owner, announced.

Throughout the entire history of the world, no other series of events has been of greater and more lasting influence on the hearts and minds of men than the birth, life and death of Jesus Christ. Source of constant hope and inspiration for centuries, the mission of Christ, as revealed in the Bible, remains today the most beloved story ever known.

But, until now, the most dramatic of all, the towering narrative of the people and times of Jesus, remained to be depicted, as only it could be told through the vast and unlimited scope of today's motion picture screen. Bringing this drama to the screen long had been the dedicated dream of Samuel Bronston, Mr. Boren said.

It is the context of the times, against the spectacular panorama of a heathen world, that the figure of Christ becomes most inspirational, amid such conflicting personages as Pontius Pilate, the ruthless Roman; Herod Antipas, the desolute puppet; Salome, the siren; John the Baptist, the wilderness prophet; Judas, the betrayer; Barabbas, the violent and impatient rebel; Lucius, the doubting centurion; and all the other who figure in the Christian epic.

Jeffrey Hunter in the role of Christ and Siobhan McKenna, noted Irish actress, as Mary, superbly portray characters in scenes recreated as accurately as possible.

Cameras began turning on "King of Kings" April 24, 1960. But for two years previously, a virtual army of artisans and craftsmen, representative of scores of specialized skills, had toiled to bring together the manifold elements necessary for so gigantic a film endeavor.

Through the years, the Bible's illuminated pages have inspired a treasure of great literary and dramatic works—books, plays and films—all of tremendous power and appeal.

Miss Pat Dial, District Advisor of Quivera Girl Scout Council, conducted the second leadership course on the Program Change in the Girl Scout program at a meeting held Monday night, Feb. 18, in the home of Mrs. L. C. Martin.

The new program is planned to be more interesting to girls of all ages.

Miss Mary Hubbard was welcomed as the new troop leader of Troop 195 and Linda Lemons will be her assistant.

Mrs. Brode Hoover, Neighborhood Chairman, expressed her appreciation to both the ladies for volunteering to continue with this troop.

Attending the meeting were: Mmes. W. R. Scott, Brode Hoover, Elmont Branigan and Misses Mary Hubbard, Linda Lemons and Pat Dial.

Texas Pauses To Pay Tribute During FFA Week, Feb. 16-23

The Future Farmers of America Chapters in Hall County are joining with other chapters in Texas this week celebrating FFA Week in Texas. Feb. 16-23 has been proclaimed FFA Week by Texas Governor John Connally.

The Vocational Agriculture program in the school systems has been an important part of the education of high school boys for a number of years.

Here in Memphis, the program was first started in 1935 in MHS with Riley Carlton the first vocational agriculture teacher. The Memphis FFA chapter was chartered on Oct. 17, 1936 with Carlton serving as the advisor.

Other vocational agriculture teachers who have served in the system since that time were: Johnny Key, Mr. Warren, Gene Barnett, Weldon McCreary, Herschel Potts and presently, Neal Hindman.

At the present time the Memphis FFA Chapter is composed of 45 members. The officers are: Robert Maddox, president; Donnie Bridges, vice president; Michael Widener, reporter; Jack Stargel, treasurer; Dale Sexton, secretary;

James Carroll, sentinel. The Greenhand Chapter officers are: Jimmy Strygley, president; Jimmy Sturdevant, vice president; John Miller, secretary; Gary Graham, treasurer; Carl Houston, reporter; B. H. Cook, sentinel.

Randy Brown of the local chapter serves as the Greenbelt District Parliamentarian.

Miss Carol Smith is the local chapters sweetheart and was recently elected Sweetheart of the Greenbelt District. She will compete for Area FFA Sweetheart in May at the Area I FFA Convention.

Memphis FFA delegates to the State FFA Convention held in Ft. Worth this past summer were Randy Brown, Jimmy Widener and Mike Webster.

The FFA motto sets the goals which chapters try to accomplish through the course in Vocational Agriculture: "Learning to Do, Doing to Learn, Earning to Live, Living to Serve."

The theme of FFA Week this year is "Agriculture—Vital to America." Texas now has over 900 active FFA chapters with over 39,000 active members and more than a quarter of a million former members. Governor Connally stated that during the past 34 years, the Texas Association, FFA, has performed valuable services to our State by developing leadership, encouraging cooperation, promoting good citizenship, teaching sound methods of farming, and inspiring patriotism among its members.

Governor Connally urged all citizens to give recognition and encouragement to these young men who are preparing for careers in agriculture.

Lt. Governor Preston Smith stated in his news release entitled "Agriculture—Vital to America," the following: "Agriculture has always been, and will remain, a basic factor in the Texas economy. It is also a vital part of the Texas tradition. Even though our towns and cities are rapidly running up a big population lead over our rural areas, Texans will always be thought of as people on the farm, the ranch, the great outdoors."

He stated that to conquer the new problems and temper the old ones, Texas agriculture needs now—as never before—people who are equipped, trained and dedicated to a role of modern farm leadership. He said, "I know of no better training ground for this vital leadership than the Future Farmers of America program."

The Free World's Arsenal

The United States has a clearly defined policy of keeping our military and our arms at the ready. The cost is enormous to the free world. But I believe that no one who would see the United States as a free nation would object to the cost of maintaining our military and our arms at the ready. We are in the most flexible position in the world today. Let no one doubt that we are in the most flexible position in the world today.

force is to deter war by its capability to destroy the enemy's war-making potential, including not only his nuclear strike force and military installations, but also his urban society, if necessary.

In the same period, our general purpose air and ground forces have been boosted. In 1961, the U. S. Army was composed of 11 combat-ready divisions. Today its strength totals 16 divisions ready for combat — an increase of 45 per cent. In 1961, we had 16 tactical fighter wings in the Air Force; today our tactical fighter wings total 21 — an increase of 31 per cent.

One of the major areas of our defense buildup has been in what are called counter-insurgency forces, units ready to conduct guerrilla warfare anywhere in the world. These units are being developed under the spur of President Kennedy's conviction that sublimated, indirect Communist aggression involving the use of guerillas is the most likely form of aggression through this decade. Since January, 1961, the strength of our counter-insurgency forces has been doubled and re-doubled. This force is 540 per cent stronger than it was two years ago.

General Maxwell D. Taylor, President Kennedy's military advisor, said in a speech recently: "Mindful of the dangers of atomic warfare, we require a military policy which takes as its primary purpose the deterrence of that disaster. At the same time, however, it must give due recognition to the need to cope with many situations short of general war. . . Happily, I believe that these objectives are thoroughly recognized and accepted in Washington today. When achieved they will assure our leaders a wide range of choice when, at some future critical moment of our nation's history, they may be obliged to decide the issues of peace or war."

Defense Secretary McNamara recently told the House Armed Services Committee: "Last year I told this committee 'there is no question but that, today, our Strategic Retaliatory Forces are fully capable of destroying the Soviet target system, even after absorbing an initial surprise attack.' This statement is still true. We have a total of about 650 manned bombers on 15 minute ground alert and over 200 operational Atlas, Titan and Minuteman missiles on launchers and about 144 Polaris missiles in submarines. And this force is rapidly expanding as additional Minuteman and Polaris enter our operational inventory."

Secretary McNamara added, "Allowing for losses from an initial enemy attack and attrition enroute to target, we calculate that our forces today could still destroy the Soviet Union without any help from the deployed tactical air units or carrier task forces or Thor or Jupiter IRBMs."

The President's Budget proposal for the coming fiscal year calls for defense expenditures totaling $56 billion — an increase of $2.6 billion over the current fiscal year and about $10 billion more than 1960. The proposal calls for additional purchases of intercontinental ballistic missiles and for six more Polaris submarines. Stress is being placed on improving the non-nuclear general forces. Members of the Armed Forces on active duty at the end of 1964 are expected to number 2.7 million. Our reserve strength will total one million men and women. Part of our defense expenditure next year will go to continuing research and development projects — a new general purpose booster rocket for the national space program, ballistic missile defense systems, a variety of anti-submarine warfare projects, a new tactical fighter aircraft, the Defense Communications Satellite System, and a Mobile Mid-Range Ballistic Missile. All of these are important to our future security in a dangerous world.

President Kennedy pointed out in his State of the Union Address that we continue "to require the best defense in the world — a defense which is suited to the Sixties. This means, unfortunately, a rising defense budget — for there is no substitute for adequate defense, and no 'bargain basement' ing in the only scheduled game. Friday night Matador will play the winner of the Thursday night game, while Lakeview will be pitted against Quitaque in the second game.

The loser's of Friday night's games will play at 7 p. m. Saturday night, and then the winners will play at 8:30 to determine the tournament championship.

Exciting Game

One of the most exciting games of the boys tournament was Friday night's contest between Matador and Estelline. Estelline was trailing 15-2 at the end of the first quarter, but came back to tie the game up in the final period. Estelline's high scorer, Teddy Barnes, fouled out of the game with four minutes showing on the clock.

The game went into two three-minute overtime periods before Matador was able to out-score the Bear Cubs.
