Democrat's Cotton Guessing Contest Opens This Week

For the 17th consecutive year, The Memphis Democrat will sponsor its Annual Cotton Guessing Contest. The contest will get underway Friday morning, Oct. 4, at 8 a. m. and will continue through Saturday, Oct. 26.

This is the annual contest in which readers of The Democrat match their knowledge, their wits and their luck against the many elements of weather, insects, etc., in an effort to estimate the amount of cotton Hall County farmers will gin this season.

All readers are eligible to enter. All a person had to do to enter is come by the office of this newspaper and make a prediction. Or, if more convenient, mail a card or letter to The Democrat, Box 192, Memphis, Texas, and list your name, your address and your guess. No entries will be taken over the telephone.

Remember that the last day of the contest is Saturday, Oct. 26.

The person guessing closest to the actual number of bales ginned will win a three-year subscription to The Democrat. Second place winner will receive a two-year subscription, and third place will receive a one-year subscription.

This contest is not restricted to residents of this county only, or just residents of Texas. Any reader of the newspaper may enter. The total number of bales ginned in Hall County will be the figure used to determine the winner.

The Democrat will publish the names of the winners when the final figures are released on the 1963 crop by the U. S. Department of Interior. This report generally arrives the latter part of March each year.

According to Lynn McKown, office manager of ASCS, a total of 84,500 acres are planted in cotton this year. Last year approximately 92,797 acres were planted in cotton, and the year before 98,000 acres.

Top winner of the 1962 Cotton Guessing Contest was Mrs. Perry Hale. Her guess was 61,512 bales, which came within 79 bales of the official report which listed Hall County cotton yield for 1962 at 61,433 bales. Second place winner was Mrs. M. A. Wiley of Lakeview, whose guess was 61,135. Third place went to W. D. Young who guessed 61,111 bales.

A total of 270 readers entered the contest last year.

Cyclone Has Open Date Fri.

The Memphis Cyclone has an open date Friday night of this week.

The Cyclone is working hard on its offensive and defensive assignments, preparing for the Memphis-Shamrock game, which will be played at Shamrock Friday, Oct. 11.

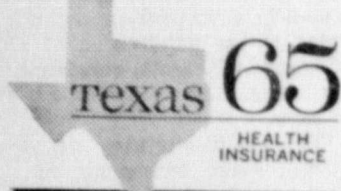

Gov. John Connally spiked increasing rumors of a "near future" special legislative session on congressional redistricting and made clear that he plans to await the decision of a federal court on this touchy issue.

In a specially-called press conference, the Governor also emphasized his support for poll tax repeal. He said "chaos" will result at the polls if the state constitutional amendment is rejected and the federal amendment to ban the poll tax requirement for voting in presidential and congressional elections is ratified.

Connally was in Washington this week to discuss U. S. financing of the screwworm eradication program, oil imports, forest lands around Toledo Bend Dam, the Jefferson County seawall project and possibility of a national park in the Guadalupe Mountain Peak area.

He said that President Ken-

Connally indicated no surprise at a recent statewide Beldon poll which showed that 61 per cent of the voters interviewed approved of the way he is running his office. That's an increase of seven per cent since May. Survey revealed that Mexican-American, negro and labor representatives liked the Governor by about the same percentage as other voters.

Redistricting Suit Heard

A federal court took under advisement a Republican group's suit for Texas congressional reapportionment. Suit alleges discrimination against big cities in present representation.

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr argued that the U. S. Supreme Court has furnished the Legislature no real guidelines for carving out new districts.

Rep. Menton Murray of Harlingen, chairman of the House Committee on Congressional and Legislative Districts, testified that this was a key factor in the Legislature's failure to redistrict this year.

Await Federal Action

Carr told newsmen he plans to take speedy action to enforce the Texas Communist registration law after the federal government turns its proceedings against John W. Stanford Jr. of San Antonio.

U. S. Subversive Activities Control Board held lengthy hearings on alleged-Communist Stanford's activities at the request of U. S. Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy.

Stanford refused to register under either State or Federal Communist control laws. Recently he wrote President Kennedy: "The government has no business telling me what my politics should be."

Disaster Areas Proclaimed

President Kennedy has notified Governor Connally that he has declared the zone hit by Hurricane Cindy on September 16 as a "major disaster" area. He also advised that damages are being surveyed by federal government representatives to determine assistance requirements. President Kennedy pledged "all possible assistance" in the rehabilitation of the area.

Vacancy Claim

Guerry Strong of Austin contends that a land "vacancy" exists in Victoria County. However, his claim has been turned down by Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler.

So Strong will file suit in Victoria County within 90 days, seeking to have some 6,300 acres of land declared the property of the public school fund, instead of private owners. Since the land involved contains much oil and gas production, the claim is being hotly contested by the landowners and oil and gas companies with interests in the area.

Strong has filed another claim in Hidalgo County on a long, thin stretch of land which has 1,800 landowners.

Should Strong be successful, the "good faith claimants" will have the right to buy back the land they thought they owned, at a price to be set by Sadler. Strong will get one-sixteenth of the oil and gas, and the school fund will get the rest of the royalty.

Stock Issues Mount High

State Securities Commissioner William M. King says August permits for issuing stock in Texas exceeded the July figure by $2,000,000. Total reached was $19,499,357. Big push for state-based securities sales brought the fiscal 1963 total of securities authorized by the state board to $2,500,000.

Health Report

Only 49 cases of polio had been reported to the State Health Department by mid-month.

Veneral disease is on the upswing in Texas. By September 14, a total of 21,405 cases of gonorrhea had been reported, compared to 1962's high of 20,086. Syphilis cases totaled 4,156, compared to 3,562 at this point last year.

Thornberry Resigns

Tenth District Congressman Homer Thornberry of Austin has resigned. Effective date is Dec. 20. Thornberry is to become a federal district judge in El Paso.

Voters will select a new congressman on Nov. 9. That's the day Texans vote on the four proposed constitutional amendments.

Immediately following Thornberry's resignation J. J. (Jake) Pickle of Austin resigned his post on the Texas Employment Commission and announced as a candidate for Congress.

Pickle, 49, was appointed by Gov. Price Daniel to a five-year term on the TEC in January of 1961. He has been active in Democratic circles since his graduation from the University of Texas in 1938.

Rep. Jack Ritter Jr. of Austin announced for the post several weeks ago when Thornberry first indicated he might resign.

part of 48 counties in West Texas, was the subject of a two-day hearing before the Texas Water Pollution Control Board.

Water districts in the area from Dalhart to Odessa asked the board to outlaw the use of open, unlined salt water disposal pits by oil and gas operators. Their experts contend that the salt seeps into the underground formation, contaminating the water.

Oilmen were concerned that the Pollution Control Board might set up regulations for the use of salt water disposal wells which would replace the pits as a means of getting rid of the water. They want supervision of their operations to remain under the Railroad Commission.

Board delayed hearing until Nov. 20, to give the oil industry time to make suggestions for curbing the problem.

News in Brief

Secretary of State Crawford Martin warns that Texas Automobile clubs which continue to operate without the new State Certificate of Authority will be turned over to the attorney general soon.

First enrollment period for the new "Over 65" health insurance is Oct. 1-31. Governor Connally called attention to the program with a special proclamation.

House General Investigating Committee took its first look at allegations of faulty construction in nursing homes for the aged. Governor's Committee on Aging will move "to eliminate whatever weakness may exist in present regulations and codes for construction of nursing homes after its own study" says Chairman Walter Richter, State Senator from Gonzales.

Farmers Union Co-Op Gins Are Ready For 1963 Ginning Season

plants owned by the Farmers Union Cooperative Gins serving their customers, both in Memphis and Plaska, this week. Both plants are placed in "like new" condition after the past several years of operation. The Memphis plant manager, John L. Burnett, and the Plaska plant manager, Billy Hancock, are here today.

He added that the gins will buy cotton this year, due to arrangements with Plains Cotton Co-operative. Also, a water truck is being operated for the convenience of gin customers, with free delivery being available.

The Farmers Union was established on April 17, 1920, and the gin plant at Plaska was erected in 1928, according to records in the gin office here. Burnett was named general manager of the gins in August, 1954. Hancock assumed his duties as plant manager at Plaska in 1955.

The plants had processed about 75 bales of cotton up to noon Tuesday.

Ginner in Memphis is Walter Jones, while Tony Salinas is ginner at Plaska. Bookkeepers at Memphis are Harold Hodges and Mrs. Lois Taylor. Working in the office at Plaska are Robert Allen Hodges and Ellen Sams.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Hawkins and Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Hawkins of Dallas were here last week to attend funeral services Wednesday at the Travis Baptist Church for Ed Murdock.

The Record Speaks

WHETHER YOU HARVEST YOUR COTTON CROP BY HAND or STRIPPER

IT MEANS MORE MONEY WHEN YOU BRING IT TO EITHER OF THESE

FARMER-OWNED GINS!

A check of the record gives us reason to be proud of the kind of service which these two farmer-owned gins have established. Our entire operation is aimed at giving the growers of this area the finest ginning possible . . . and other services which are needed.

As we begin another ginning season, we take this opportunity to thank each and every one who has given us their patronage during past years. This past business is appreciated . . . and at the same time we want to state that we shall continue to serve the ginning needs of our friends this season.

Both the plant in Memphis and the one at Plaska are like new in every way. Every piece of equipment has been repaired, if needed, and checked throughout. The bales which have already been ginned show everything to be in first class shape.

VALUABLE HUMUS IN YOUR SOIL
You can return your burs to your land when you gin here. Again we are making it possible for our customers to haul them away as time permits. Our Bur Fans meet government regulations.

WE WILL BUY YOUR COTTON THIS SEASON
With special arrangements with the Plains Cotton Co-operative, we will be able to buy your cotton again this year. Basis will be posted on cotton each day in our gin office. Payments will be made immediately to each grower.

Again this year we will be operating a water truck for the convenience of our customers. Call either gin office, and a load of water will be delivered free of charge without delay.

SEE US IF YOU NEED FIELD HANDS—As in the past, we will work with our customers in obtaining hands, and will use our housing units for their benefit.

Milo Residue Management Is Very Important

The residue from a crop of milo or corn is valuable in the maintenance of soil productivity and should be considered as an asset instead of a liability, according to County Agent W. E. Hooser.

Approximately 6000 pounds of residue from a 5000-pound milo crop contains about 85 pounds of total nitrogen, 25 pounds of phosphorus, and 125 pounds of potassium. With good management these nutrients can contribute substantially to the requirements of the next crop.

Perhaps of greater importance is the effect of the residues on the maintenance or improvement of the physical structure of the soil as reflected in better water intake and retention, and better tillage, he said.

Many farmers follow the desirable practice of shredding the stalks immediately after harvest and the question whether or not to apply nitrogen to speed up the decomposition often arises. It is evident that for maximum protection against erosion much of the residue should remain on the surface. Surface applied nitrogen and the exposed residue cannot be expected to greatly speed up the decaying process and a portion of the nitrogen can be lost to the atmosphere if left on the surface. Nitrogen applied to the residue should be worked into the soil at least partially if the organisms are to be active, he added.

Another factor to consider is that decomposition slows down as soil temperatures drop, and it proceeds fastest when soil temperature is ideal for plant growth.

Hooser stated that if the residue is likely to be a problem in next year's cropping operation, nitrogen applied ahead of land cultivation can speed up residue breakdown. On the heavier soils it may be practical to apply all of the nitrogen needed for next year's crop provided the nitrogen is not left exposed on the surface.

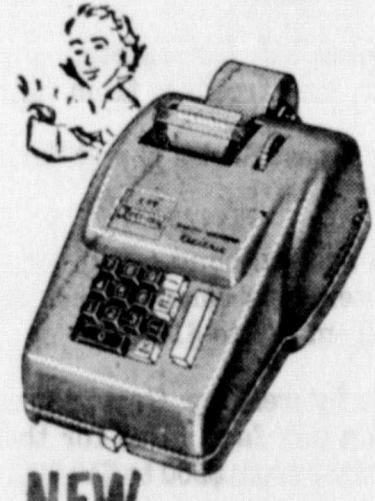

"The practice of applying sufficient fertilizer to take care of residue decomposition while the next crop is growing is quite satisfactory if you remember to use enough to take care of both the residue and the crop requirement," he concluded.

To Remove Fish Smell

After handling or cleaning fish your hands are apt to smell disagreeable. Usually the odor is hard to remove.

Try rubbing your hands with toothpaste. Smear the paste on liberally, rinse, then dry, and the fishy smell will be gone.

Junior Fire Marshal Program To Begin In Schools Monday

Pupils in the kindergarten, first and second grades here will join with 4,500,000 boys and girls across the country to help combat the increasing toll of deaths and property damage in fires.

Firemen of the Memphis Volunteer Fire Department will distribute Fire Prevention literature and forms to each room Monday, Fire Chief Kenneth Dale announced this week.

The firemen will return Thursday to the rooms and pass out badges and Junior Fire Marshal hats to students who qualify, Chief Dale said.

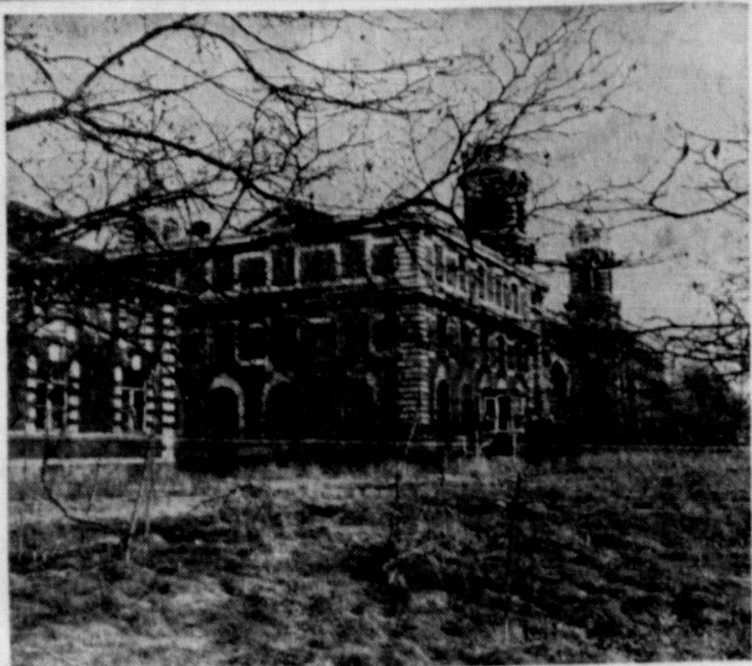

The students also will be given a ride on the fire truck, he added.

The campaign, beginning next week, will start the year-long school Junior Fire Marshal program and the annual observance of National Fire Prevention week, set for Oct. 6-12.

The object of the Junior Fire Marshal program is to help eliminate common causes of fires in homes. Boys and girls will inspect their homes for fire hazards with the help of parents. Special check lists are provided for them. When the pupils complete their home reports, they qualify as Junior Fire Marshals.

The Junior Fire Marshal program is sponsored in local schools by Dunbar & Dunbar and the Memphis Fire Department.

Chief Dale said the school which does the best job of completing reports, on a percentage basis, will receive a special Junior Fire Marshal Achievement Award Flag.

SILENT, WITH PAST . . . One-time main building on Ellis Island stands silent and empty since 1954. It once was the center of bustling immigrants awaiting entrance to the U.S.

Schools in this area are among more than 15,000 across the country who are participating in the fire prevention and safety program, a national public service of the Hartford Insurance Group.

The check list for the pupils' home report is carried in the current issue of the Junior Fire Marshal Magazine, distributed to the schools by firemen. The list covers the most frequent causes of home fires, including worn electrical connections, overloaded circuits, improperly stored flammable materials, unscreened fireplaces, defective heating systems, rubbish and improper adult smoking habits.

"Last year there were more than 359,000 fires in dwellings in the nation," says Chief Dale, "a total exceeding the number of fires in all other types of buildings put together. More than 11,800 people lost their lives, and many more thousands were injured. Fire is the number one cause of accidental injury and death of children in homes.

"Most of these fires were caused by carelessness, neglect, or oversight. They could have been prevented by removing common hazards like the ones the Junior Fire Marshals will be inspecting the homes for. That's why we feel that the school program is such an important part of fire prevention work."

Every family should make a home inspection regularly, according to Chief Dale. He emphasized one item on the Junior Fire Marshal report that will help to save lives: planning in advance escape routes from every room in the house for every member of the family if a fire should break out.

The Junior Fire Marshal program is now in its first year in the local schools. Through the program, the schools are provided with fire prevention and safety material.

Around and About

By HELEN COMBS

Time moves on . . . fall is here. But it would seem we are trying to linger in the shade of summer along with the weather.

Last week we wrote a news story about Bob Douthit taking a course in First Aid and now being a qualified teacher in this field . . . but somehow we used the words "Life Saving" in place of "First Aid." We knew that Bob was not going to teach swimming classes in the fall and winter months, but sub-consciously wrote it anyway. No doubt that comes from all the publicity we have given during the summer on Red Cross life saving courses. We understand Bob is not only going to teach first aid to General Telephone personnel, but is also offering his services as an instructor to other groups who might be interested in it.

A visitor in the office Saturday was Mrs. J. W. Wiley of Santa Ana, Calif., who is here with her husband visiting their parents, Mrs. J. H. Barbee, Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Wiley. The Californians were reared here, and try to make annual visits back home. However, it had been two years since Mrs. Wiley had visited here and three since her husband had been able to come. "We are especially enjoying our visit here this year. It's so nice and cool in comparison to the 113-degree temperature being recorded in Santa Ana," she said. She added that the high temperature was nothing unusual for Santa Ana as they always have a heat wave at this time each year.

Mrs. Brown Smith underwent major surgery at St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo Tuesday. After surgery she was reported to be recovering nicely. She is in Room 422 at St. Anthony's and we are sure would enjoy receiving cards from friends here.

We understand Jerry Moss and Athalee Beckham won first place in the mixed team gold tournament at the Country Club last Saturday, and Harley Taylor and Honoria Helm defeated Mickey Daugherty and Vi McQueen in a sudden death play-off on the 11th hole for second place. Because of the windstorm that blew in that afternoon, the putting contest was not held. But a few did attend the picnic supper.

The ballroom at the Country Club has taken on a new look this summer. Several members of the club, the female members, have been busy for the past couple of weeks painting and finishing the ladies lounge, which is located downstairs and was built during the summer for women golfers. To date we have not seen the room, but have heard that it's very nice. You guessed it: we haven't found time the past few weeks for even one round of golf.

This year marks the 57th birthday of the Memphis Chapter No. 351, Order of the Eastern Star. A tribute honoring the founding of this organization was given by Worthy Matron Mary Gene Hicks at the regular meeting Monday evening in the Masonic Hall.

Miss Ira Hammond and Mrs. B. Webster are making plans for some dried arrangements this winter. They returned Tuesday from a weekend trip to St. Jo and Dallas where they visited relatives over the weekend. We chatted with them briefly in front of the post office where they had stopped for their mail, and noted the assortment of unusual materials which they had brought back to work with, in the back seat of their car. Reminded us of our roadside stop on our vacation and gathered sea oats . . . which are now hanging in our garage. Hope we get around to using them in a dried arrangement. We are kinda like a friend of ours who once was asked if she did all the things she talked about. "No," she replied, "I just get fun out of talking about doing them."

Tanya, who gathers material for the column, "Memories," from the old files of The Democrat each week, often notes the change the last 40 to 50 years have made in our way of life. This week, she said, "Why, even the jokes have changed!"

To illustrate her point, she typed for us the following from the files of the paper 40 years ago: "An English woman recently wrote to a newspaper that she began life as A. Mann (Alice Mann). She married a Mr. Husband and so became A. Husband. He died and she married again, this time to a Mr. Maiden. Be-

Mrs. Dee Walker Is Birthday Honoree Sept. 27

Mrs. Dee Walker of Estelline was honored at a surprise birthday dinner on Sunday, Sept. 27.

When she returned from Sunday School and church, she found her guests waiting to sing "Happy Birthday." She was presented with a large white cake decorated with red roses baked by her brother at Amarillo Air Force Base. Mrs. Walker stated that she did not think that her family could ever keep anything from her, but this was a complete surprise.

Those attending were: Mrs. Walker's children: Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Walker and three boys from Vernon, Mr. and Mrs. Garland Walker and two children of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Collins (Billie Lois) and four sons of Estelline, Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Nelson (Linda) of Dimmit, Dee Walker, her husband, David and Gary of Estelline; two brothers, Mr. and Mrs. Odell Rawls of Dimmitt and Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Rawls of Perryton; her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Patton of Amarillo, a nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Rawls and two sons of Dimmitt, and Grandmother Walker from Burkburnett, who plans to visit for about two weeks.

The only children unable to attend were Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Walker (Barbara) of Killeen.

This Year Marks 57th Birthday Of OES Chapter

Memphis Chapter No. 351, Order of the Eastern Star, met in the Masonic Hall at 8:30 p. m. for a regular meeting on Oct. 1.

A brief business session was conducted. Following the business meeting, the Worthy Matron, Mary Gene Hicks, gave a beautiful tribute honoring the founding of the Memphis OES Chapter. This year marks the 57th birthday anniversary of the local chapter.

At the close of the program, the members enjoyed birthday cake and punch. Then gifts were presented to the Worthy Matron by the members.

The next regular meeting is to be Nov. 5, at 7:30 p. m. in the Masonic Hall. All members are cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. Claudia Welch Is Honoree At Farewell Coffee

A farewell coffee was given in honor of Mrs. Claudia Welch of Estelline on Thursday, Sept. 26, at 9:30 a. m. with Mrs. William Collier as hostess.

Mrs. Jack Boney, Jr., served coffee or tea and sweet breads to the following: Mmes. Gerald Fowler, Joe Bob Nivens, Ted Hudlow, Royce Denton, Paul Collins, Rab Holland, Jerrel Rapp, Bill Abram, Jack Kinard, Billy Joe Rothwell, Rayford Jones, Jimmie Webb (mother of Mrs. Welch), the honoree and the hostess.

Approximately 10 children attended and were served Cokes and animal crackers. Claudia and Juanita Welch and four children, James, Frankie, Ann and Beth, plan to move in about a week to Faulkner, Kans., where they have purchased a ranch.

Mrs. Williams Is Honoree At Coffee Sept 26

The J. O. Y. Circle of the First Christian Church honored Mrs. Peggy Williams with a going-away coffee Thursday morning, Sept. 26, in the home of Mrs. Faye Posey.

Mrs. Williams opened an assortment of gifts from her many friends. Delicious refreshments were served to Mmes. Faye Maddox, Inez Aspgren, Marce Johnson, Jennie Murdock, Edith Murdock, Mary Ellen Murdock, Loraine Limer, Vee Knight, Dorcille Widener, Dorothy Stargel, Thursa Smith, Bernice McIntush, Shirley Haskell, the honoree, Mrs. Williams, and the hostess, Mrs. Posey.

Coming a widow for the second time, she concluded that though born A. Mann, she would die A. Maiden.

Methodist WSCS Continues Study At Mon. Meeting

The Woman's Society of Christian Service met Monday, Sept. 30, at 3 p. m. in the Methodist Church annex to continue the study of "The Christian Mission in Southern Asia" with Mrs. L. G. DeBerry as the leader. After her brief introduction, Mrs. J. B. Thompson gave an impressive meditation, quoting the scripture about the woman at the well from the fourth Chapter of John.

Mrs. Thompson had prepared a lovely worship setting on a table covered with an East Indian cloth. It consisted of a cardboard figure of the woman at the well, backed by the greenery of poinsettia plants. There was a string of bells on the table also. Mrs. Thompson rang each bell and explained that in India each bell with its different sound was used for a different animal. She concluded with an appropriate prayer poem by Edna Wheeler Wilcox.

Some of the members participated in a roll call giving information about the various countries studied. Mrs. Ed Hutcherson told the interesting biography of D. D. Devanavian, author of the text, "Christian Issues in Southern Asia." He gave the opening address when the World Council of Churches held its latest meeting in New Delhi and is quite an influential person in Southern Asia, according to Mrs. Hutcherson's review.

Mrs. F. W. Foxhall was the moderator of a panel concerning Pakistan. She gave a resume of the historical background of the country, including East and West Pakistan. Mrs. M. G. Tarver gave an informative discussion of the progress of education naming some Methodist schools in this program. She concluded with a human interest story from the Lit-Lit paper about a struggling young Indian artist who had been directed by Christian influence and had won first place for his painting of an Indian madonna and child for Christmas cards. Incidentally, Mrs. Tarver saw this painting while she was in New York.

Mrs. Guy Cox enlightened the members on a phase of the economy of West Pakistan by recounting the project of building a hospital in Lahore. It is the United Christian Hospital, and she gave an insight into the management and labor situation there.

Mrs. McDaniel was the director of a splendid playlet about the customs of courtship and marriage in Southern Asia and the United States. The cast consisted

Hook-Levy Nuptials Are Read Saturday

Miss Beatrice Hook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Hook of Memphis, became the bride of Lee Levy of Amarillo in an impressive double-ring ceremony Saturday morning, Sept. 28, at the Travis Baptist Church in Memphis.

Lee is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wilkins of Dallas. He, too, is employed in Amarillo.

The bride was attired in a street-length dress of white silk organza fashioned with a scalloped hemline and trimmed in Chantilly lace. The dress also featured long tapered sleeves fitted at the wrist. She wore a finger-tip veil of white illusion. Her bouquet was of pink and white carnations.

Judge Dent Meets With Directors of Upper Red Flood Control Dist. Thurs.

Members of the board of directors of the Upper Red River Flood Control and Irrigation District met in Childress last Thursday afternoon with Judge Otho Dent, a member of the Texas Water Commission, and Marvin Sherbert, a member of the Texas Water Development Board, and State Senator Andy Rogers.

The meeting was held in the office of C. C. Broughton, president of the District.

Judge Dent told the group that the "state of California feels that water impounded for recreation is worth seven times as much as water impounded for irrigation."

"Texas has not recognized that fact but is coming to realize more and more the importance of impounding water for recreation."

The feasibility of extending the district, which now includes Childress, Hall and Briscoe Counties, to the New Mexico border or to where it will include all of the waters on the Prairie Dog Town Fork of Red River from the Panhandle were discussed.

It was reported that the Bureau of Reclamation was interested in the District being maintained because of the pollution and siltation the river causes to Lake Texoma. The lake has lost 20 per cent of its storage capacity because of siltation.

"We feel that all of the waters of the Prairie Dog Town Fork will be impounded within the next 15 years to control the pollution and siltation," Broughton said.

Members of the District board are Broughton, O. R. Stark, Jr., Quitaque; Carl Hill, Parnell; Fred Mercer, Silverton; O. E. Bevers, Lakeview; Orville Setliff, Turkey.

If You Are 65, Check With Social Security

Anyone who is now 65 or older, and who has worked in employment covered by social security at any time, may be losing money regularly by not finding out what his rights are, according to Hal Geldon, district manager of Social Security in Amarillo.

"With the amendments of 1961, many people who were previously ineligible, became eligible under the reduced work requirement," he explained. "And since benefits can be paid retroactively for only 12 months, each month's delay may cost one monthly benefit check."

Even those who are still earning more than $1200 should inquire promptly at age 65, because under the more flexible "retirement test" some benefits may be payable even where earnings are substantially greater than $1200.

Further information may be obtained from the Social Security Administration office at 1006 Adams St., Amarillo.

Agriculture Agent W. H. Hooser announced this week that the Hall County 4-H Clubs will be reviewing Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 6-12.

Agent John F. Kennedy presented this date as National Fire Prevention Week. He asked that each individual dedicate our year-round program to this enemy that destroys businesses and lives," the agent said.

The United States has lost $1,500,000,000 in fire damage, 11,800 American lives in fires last year and one-third of these were children under 15.

GIN MANAGER—Shown above is D. F. (Dink) Miller, gin manager of the Memphis Farmers Co-Op Gin. Miller is in his third season as manager of the farmer owned gin.

Memphis Farmers Co-Op Gin Installs New Press, Overhauls Other Equipment

Memphis Farmers Co-Op Gin has already processed 57 bales of cotton, up to noon Tuesday, Manager D. F. (Dink) Miller has announced. The plant, which features modern equipment, is owned by farmers of this area.

A new press has been installed at the gin, and every unit of equipment has been overhauled and serviced during the past summer, Miller said. A competent gin crew, headed by Oran Adcock, has been employed for the season. Mrs. Myrtle Helm will again serve as bookkeeper in the gin office.

Officers of the cooperative gin are: Phaeton Alexander, president; W. H. Reed, Jr., vice president; and Joyce Webster, secretary. The other two directors are O. C. Stilwell and Cleo Parr.

According to the manager, the gin will buy cotton from local growers through the Plains Cotton

Co-operative this season. He said that prices are posted each day in the gin office, and payments will be made immediately at quoted prices.

"If our patrons are in need of field hands, we'll try to help in getting them," Miller added.

The gin had processed a total of 57 bales up to noon Tuesday, according to the manager. Last season a total of 5,507 bales were ginned at Memphis Farmers Co-Op. The cooperative was established in 1928, according to records at the gin office.

Manager Miller was reared here, and is a graduate of the local high school. He farmed for several years, and had much experience in the gin business before being named manager in 1961.

Cotton Trailers Are Important For Harvesting

Cotton trailers, designed for the job to be done and kept in good condition, can cut harvesting costs and thus increase the per bale income for the cotton producer, points out B. G. Reeves, extension cotton mechanization and ginning specialist.

He offers the following suggestions as a guide for readying trailers. Those used with spindle pickers should be large enough to hold at least three bales. Therefore, the dimensions of the box should allow for a minimum of 750 cubic feet. In some instances, he adds, a five-bale trailer may work better if adaptable to field, road and gin yard conditions. The height of the box should be right for the dumping of the picker basket.

Stripper trailers, Reeves says, should be large enough to hold a minimum of two bales. Approximately 450 cubic feet of trailer space is required for the proper handling of a bale of stripper harvested cotton, he adds.

There should be no loose nails, scrap metal, rocks or stumps in the trailer for such materials may be picked up by the gin suction. Trailer sides should be mesh wire, or slatted or perforated and the front end should be of solid material to prevent contamination of the load by road oil and tar.

Reeves says to keep the cotton loose and dry while it is on the trailer. This will make for a better ginning job and generally results in a better grade.

He advises that trailers sufficient to handle at least one day's harvesting be available, and adds that more may be desirable depending upon local harvesting and ginning conditions.

Finally, he emphasizes the need for equipping trailers with reflectors and a tail light for insuring safe operation after dark on public roads.

France has received more military aid from the United States since 1950 than any other country.

Make the Most Out of Your COTTON Modern Equipment In A Fine Gin Plant Means More Money In Your Pocket

... Whether you use field hands or a stripper to harvest your crop.

Our gin is modern in every respect, with much extra equipment being operated to give our customers TURNOUT AND STAPLE SECOND TO NONE. The staple tells the story. Our plant was designed with the thought in mind that much cotton in this area will be harvested by use of strippers. A new press has been installed, which will help in giving more efficient ginning.

This farmer-owned gin, operated by a competent crew, is already giving the best ginning service modern machinery can produce. Ask those farmers who ginned with us last year, or those who have already brought cotton in this season.

Again this year, the Memphis Farmers Co-op Gin will be buying cotton from local growers through the Plains Cotton Co-Operative. Each day prices are posted in our gin office. We will be able to pay you immediately at the quoted price. Check with us about this service if you want to sell.

We'll Help You Get Field Hands To Gather Your Crop

Just come in and let us know if you are needing field hands. We will work with you, and will do all in our power to help.

We Are Carrying a Full Stock of Trailer Tires and Tubes. See Us.

Remember: This Is A FARMER-OWNED GIN

By keeping YOUR gin busy during the following months, you will be helping it to have a more profitable operation this season. As you know, all profits from our operation are returned directly to our patrons.

When waiter set the plate before him, customer eyed same a minute, then "You played h you scrambled wrong egg."

Battle Field of Honor

by Kay Stinsman

We have each to determine whether this world is a battle field where we fight to get what we can for ourselves, or a field of honor where we give all we can for our fellow man. As we plot the course of our future we must decide whether our life is going to be spent conquering for ourselves or helping our fellow man.

Of course, if you are only interested in yourself and not in your fellow man, here are some Don'ts for high school students.

Don't get to school until 8:51 in the morning, for the tardy bell won't ring until 9:00, and it will give the teacher lots of pleasure to mark you present after having marked you absent.

Don't pick up any waste paper you see lying around; leave it wherever it may be, because the janitors are hired to pick up scraps of paper, and the smaller the pieces, the more interesting the work.

Don't fail to walk with a heavy tread when coming into the study hall late. This does not disturb those who already are interested in their work.

Don't fail to deposit your gum in the fountains; the sight of it adds much to the pleasure of those who come to drink.

Don't let anyone beat you to the pep rallies when the bell rings. It's your right and privilege to get there first, even if you have to knock over several other students in the rush.

Don't pay attention in class, the teacher enjoys giving the assignments, 10 or 12 times.

Don't turn your work in on time, your teacher has nothing better to do than to grade late papers.

He stated that he is making plans to run for National office and plans to submit his application for America Farmer Degree.

He also stated that he is making plans to enroll at East Texas State College.

From here, Mays went to Lakeview to visit the FFA Chapter there.

Travis News

by Tony Monzingo

We have twenty-four pupils in room 10 at Travis, stated Mrs. Bessie Mae Newton, twelve girls and twelve boys in the First Grade. There are 17 of our pupils who are permanent residents in Memphis, and seven of our pupils have come with their parents to work with the cotton crop.

The boys and girls want to say: "Dear Mother and Father, we are trying to learn to be good listeners, and we are doing our best to take care of ourselves."

The second and third grades at Travis have each made an Insect Zoo and have studied about insects in their science books, library books, Encyclopedias, magazines, newspapers, and Weekly readers.

They have also watched colored educational films concerning the study of insects.

The zoo consists of the following insects: grasshoppers, crickets, ants, beetles, assassin bugs, butterflies, moths, wasps, bees and praying mantis. The pupils are very pleased with their temporary homes, proper food, and firsthand information of insects, as they have gained much knowledge through their study.

The third grade has also made a terrarium that houses a tiger salamander, a bullfrog, a leopard frog, a lizard and a number of horned toads, and these students are enjoying their animal friends while learning about them.

At Travis Elementary School, the students in Mrs. Farmer's room have published the first edition of the Fourth Grade Newspaper, which is displayed on the bulletin board. Each child has contributed to this in his very best handwriting with colored illustrations.

There is an editorial column on Safety, another on pets and several columns of new items about places the children visited last summer and what they saw. This project is correlated with Science, health, English, spelling, Social Studies, handwriting, and art, Mrs. Farmer said.

Mrs. Reba Stroble visited the Fort Worth elementary schools recently and was the guest of Mrs. Maidee Thompson, former Memphian. While there Mrs. Stroble attended the schools remedial reading classes and their methods of teaching this clinic was observed.

The schools science program and testing methods were also studied by Mrs. Stroble and many teaching aids were acquired during the visit.

Miss Ira Hammond and Mrs. B. Webster returned home Tuesday after spending the weekend visiting in St. Jo and Dallas with relatives.

A new compulsory school attendance law now requires school children ages seven to 16 to go to school 165 days out of the year.

Before the 58th Legislature passed this law, the minimum attendance requirement was 120 days. This left a wide margin for truancy—especially by the children of migrant farm workers who are on the move two to four months out of the year.

It has been estimated that 10 per cent of the state's population is functionally illiterate. On the average a Latin-American child will not go past the fourth grade. Average Anglos finish the 10th grade and the average Negro completed the eighth.

It will be up to the individual school systems to see that children attend 165 days a year, according to Leon Graham, deputy commissioner of the Texas Education Agency. However, the main responsibility lies with the parents. If a school officer warns the parents of a truant child, they are subject to a fine of $5 for the next day he fails to attend school, after a warning a $10 fine is levied for the second offense, and $25 for each subsequent offense.

Band News

Last weeks football show at Sanford-Fritch was a series of routines to Sound and Fury, Salutation, New Colonial, and Victory March. The show was a fine performance.

The town will agree that Memphis High has a fine band, but this wouldn't help much if it wasn't for the cheerleaders who have always given the Cyclones boosters a great deal of spirit during the ball games and pep rallies. The football team, the band, and the cheerleaders are all important in making a fine showing for Memphis every Friday night.

The band and the Thespian Society would like to thank the student body, the faculty and especially Mrs. Guthrie and Mr. Bradley for the assistance and guidance they gave us in making the "Wizard of Oz" possible.

The band appreciates the fine support it gets from the student body and the spectators. Your applause when we do our half-time show gives us a reason to do our routines better than ever.

Miss Ira Hammond and Mrs. B. Webster returned home Tuesday after spending the weekend visiting in St. Jo and Dallas with relatives.

Elephants

by Jimmie Ward
Speaking of elephant jokes, take a look at these.

Why don't many elephants graduate from college?

Because not too many graduate from High School.

Why do elephants walk sideways in the grass?

To trip field mice.

Why do elephants wear red tennis shoes?

To sneak up on red ants.

How can you tell if an elephant was in the bathtub with you?

Drain the bathtub and look for his footprints.

How do you make a statue of an elephant?

Get a piece of stone and cut away everything that doesn't look like an elephant.

True Beauty
by Janice Pounds

Beauty isn't only skin-deep. A "true" beauty is one who can project her charms so that she isn't only physically attractive.

Physical beauty can fade. Whereas, a girl who is a natural beauty in other ways will be considered pretty when she is a hundred years old!

What is a natural or true beauty? She is the girl who stands out in a crowd! She is graceful, confident, kind, intelligent, well-dressed, and humble.

"Miss Arkansas" in the "Miss America" pageant this year said humility is a virtue which a girl possesses, other people know she has it, but she doesn't.

Nothing is any prettier in a girl than daintiness and truth combined.

"There never was a heart truly great and generous that was not also tender."

United States' Agricultural Protectionism

There is so much written today about the protectionism given the nation's agricultural economy that a report released last month by Secretary of Agriculture Freeman was most refreshing in its scope and outlook on this issue.

The information concerned a highly significant study of non-tariff agricultural protectionism as it is practiced by 17 of the leading nations that participate in world trade.

The study, prepared by a group of international economists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, using carefully determined criteria applied equally to all selected countries, shows that all our major trading partners practice a higher degree of agricultural protectionism through non-tariff barriers than does the United States.

Secretary Freeman said, "While it is impossible to measure non-tariff agricultural protectionism precisely, our economists were able to arrive at effective indicators by comparing the portion of each country's agricultural production that is protected from outside competition by non-tariff import controls."

Using non-tariff import controls as the criteria, the study found selected countries to be protecting the following percentages of their domestic agricultural production from outside competition:

United States 26 percent; United Kingdom 37 percent; Canada 41 percent; Australia 41 percent; Italy 63 percent; Belgium 76 percent; Japan 76 percent; Netherlands 79 percent; Greece 82 percent; Denmark 87 percent; Austria 91 percent; West Germany 93 percent; France 94 percent; Switzerland 94 percent; Norway 97 percent; New Zealand 100 percent; and Portugal 100 percent.

The reason for U. S. concern over non-tariff import controls (such as import quotas, embargoes, variable levies, monopolies, preferential treatment, import licensing, bi-lateral agreements, etc.) is that they tend to be arbitrary national trade barriers. This means the importing of agricultural products is at the discretion of the government. Unlike fixed tariffs, the non-tariff controls in the past have been subject to very little reduction as a result of international arbitration and negotiation.

American agriculture repeatedly has been accused, both at home and abroad, of maintaining a highly protectionist trade structure. The facts show that this is not true. The United States is among the most liberal in the world in its agricultural import policies. The farmers of the United States carry out their production operations with far less protection from competitive imports than do farmers of practically all other countries.

And in the past few years, substantial reductions in our import protections have been made.

The study report revealed that today we exercise import controls only on wheat, sugar, peanuts, cotton, and dairy products. All other agricultural products may and do come into the United States in unlimited quantities, subject only to meeting health, sanitation, and quarantine safety requirements, and to payment where specified of fixed tariffs.

The study did not report on U. S. agricultural tariffs but here again for most farm products our tariffs are moderate and we are at the low end of the scale among major agricultural exporting countries.

Two-way trade in agricultural products practiced by the United States is of a vigorous healthful nature. We are both the world's largest exporter of agricultural products and, because of our high purchasing power and liberal policies, the world's second largest importer of agricultural products, exceeded only by the United Kingdom.

While we import large amounts of non-competitive products such as coffee, cocoa, bananas, crude rubber, spices, and so on, over half of our agricultural imports are products that compete with our own farm production.

But despite our liberal agricultural trade policies, we have a net favorable balance in our agricultural trade. In 1962, U. S. commercial exports of farm products sold for dollars came to $3.5 billion, whereas our imports of competitive agricultural products came to $2.2 billion, a net favorable dollar trade balance of $1.3 billion.

We agree with the Secretary of Agriculture that we are not to seek complete freedom for trade. For many reasons—economics, political, and social—no country is either prepared or willing to remove all protections from its agriculture. The basic question has to do with the degree of protection. High tariff and non-tariff barriers do not allow the fruits of agricultural science and technology and efficiency to be made readily available to consumers; for this to come to pass, nations must participate in active two-way trade. It would appear that the United States has accepted this healthy attitude and the consumers in this nation are the beneficiaries.

How To Lose Jobs

The trend toward more and more automation is causing more and more jobs to be taken over by machine and it appears that this country will continue to see machines develop which will do tasks faster and cheaper than a man can do it.

In fact, automation is downright frightening to some people and the labor unions in particular are studying ways to keep men working instead of machines.

And why is this fast development of machines to take the place of men?

Because the price of labor has risen to the point where industry can invest in the cost of a machine and repay this cost quickly with the money saved that would have been paid out to men.

The growing group of unemployed people in this country are likely to remain unemployed because they are unskilled labor—equipped with nothing more than a strong back and there is little demand for manual labor these days.

What caused this trend?

Our federal government, with its minimum wage laws, and our labor unions, with their constant demands for more pay, have pushed the price of labor upward to where manual labor does not compete with machine labor.

Congress increased the minimum wage for labor with the object of helping the nation's workers. The results have been higher prices for consumer goods, fewer jobs and five million unemployed.

This month the minimum wage was given another boost, by law, and more business concerns were brought under its provisions. This will result in more pay for millions of workers but it will also result in a loss of jobs for many more people who work for companies who cannot absorb the increased cost of labor and must get along with less people.

We believe that the federal wage and hour act has contributed greatly to juvenile delinquency in this country because the law prevents a youngster from working until he is 16 and then only under certain regulated conditions.

An artificial floor under wage rates might be laudable and in theory it affords everybody a decent standard of living. But when a business finds that its labor costs are eating up not only the profits but sometimes the capital, the owners are quite likely to look around for a machine that will do the job and not have to be placed on the payroll.

Every industry has entered into automation. The booster stations in the natural gas industry are now automated to where machines have displaced hundreds of men at every station. All of manufacturing has seen machines displace men.

The more wages are boosted artificially the faster will be the development of machines to displace men. This is a prime example of how to lose jobs and create another problem for the American people.

Enjoy Your Life

Americans are the richest people on the face of the earth. In luxuries and labor-saving devices, they have more, per family, than any other people on earth. On the other hand, it has been said, and rightly so, that Americans often get very little out of life.

Of course, one cannot cite a few simple examples and prove a point in a discussion of this kind. However, suffice it to say some of the world's greatest scholars and wisest men believe that the average individual in Western Europe gets far greater mileage out of the few benefits and pleasures he enjoys in life than do Americans—with their money. We are inclined to agree with that analysis. In the final test it is not how much money, or how many luxuries, or how much wealth a family can amass.

The final test, and what life is all about, is whether through good and clean Christian living, through a humble and appreciative approach to life's pages, one can laugh, enjoy himself, and understand, to some extent at least, himself, others and the world about him.

Basic Community Loyalty

If there weren't some red faces around the Chamber of Commerce director's table this month, there should have been. It has been the custom for the Chamber to buy a new bathing suit each year for its entry in Perryton's "Wheatheart" contest, and this year was no exception. But although at least three C-C member stores handle bathing suits, including some of the nation's top lines, "M's Canadian" this year wore a bathing suit purchased from a Pampa clothier and the C-C board of directors had to okay the $30.55 bill for it.

Nobody in the Chamber of Commerce, of course, had anything to do with the selection of the bathing suit. . . and apparently neither M's Wheatheart nor her ESA-sponsors saw anything untoward about going out of town to buy it. Maybe you don't either. But it seems to us that this calls for a closer look at the basic loyalties of community living. —Canadian Record

Oldsmobiles Go on Display Fri.

Oldsmobile's new Jetstar 88, with the new F-85's, Dynamic 88's, 98's and Super 88's, will be on display at the Oldsmobile showroom on Friday, Oct. 4, it was announced by Tommie Potts and Homer Oldsmobile dealers here.

The new Jetstar 88, lower-priced companion to Oldsmobile's famous, high performance Dynamic 88 and Super 88, is powered by the Jetfire Rocket engine, an ultra-high compression, 330 cubic inch Jetfire Rocket V-8 engine.

"In addition," he said, "we'll be showing Oldsmobile's new price class sports-car, the Starfire, powered by the big, 330-cubic-inch Starfire engine.

"The 1964 Oldsmobiles," Potts said, "are designed to meet the discriminating tastes of the young of all ages."

The Jetstar 88 will be shown in a 4-door sedan, coupe and convertible, and a full-size Oldsmobile with a special 123-inch wheelbase. The car is designed to meet the increasing number of "up-and coming" younger families. It is a lighter car, fleet in appearance, and fleet in action with its new lightweight cast-iron Jetfire Rocket V-8 engine.

"The engine is teamed," he continued, "with an entirely new automatic transmission, the Jetway, consisting of an automatic gear shift and a torque amplifying feature which permits extra performance without downshifting.

"There are many other new and wonderful things about the 1964 Oldsmobiles," Potts continued. "Styling is brilliant, fresh and new, with the accent on youthful appearance. For '64, the unmistakable, ready-to-go Oldsmobile look is apparent in every model, in every series.

"From the new Jetstars to the magnificent 98's," he added, "each series is highlighted by the use of specific grilles, rear bumpers, rear quarters, tail lamp assemblies and the placement and shape of accent trim, including newly designed rocker panel moldings.

"The Starfire has been dramatically changed," he continued, "to accentuate its performance image. The rear roof supporting structure is designed to further stress the sharp, crisp lines of the concave rear window. In the lower body a functional engine compartment air outlet is placed directly behind the front wheel opening. Inboard driving lamps are sports-car styled.

"The 98 for 1964, more distinctive and elegant than ever," Potts said, "is the most magnificent car Oldsmobile has ever produced. A new rear quarter profile further emphasizes the long, sleek look of this most luxurious Oldsmobile series.

"Interiors for 1964," he added, "are sparkling and glamorous with intriguing new patterns in authentic encampment of Indians from the Iroquois Nation the 'Wonderful World of Jewelry and Gifts,' 'Optical Maser' demonstration of a new concept of transmitting communications over light beams, PFA children's barnyard, new 1964 model cars in the Automobile Show and 'Live' television broadcasts from the Gas Exhibits Building.

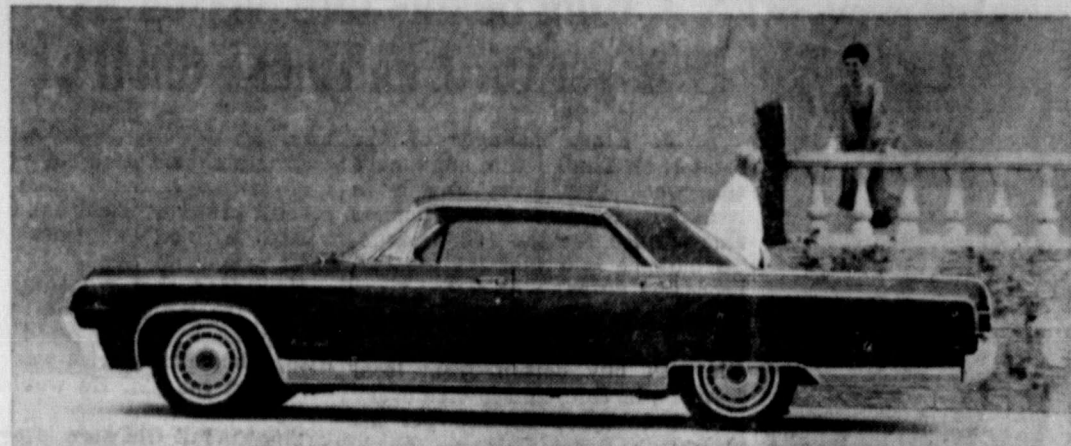

Daily free fashion shows, a quilting bee, demonstrations of food preparation in the "Texas Kitchen Window" and the traditional displays of prize-winning arts and crafts and homemaking skills will be in evidence in the Women's Building.

More than 2,200 head of purebred cattle, swine, sheep and goats will compete in the 11th annual Pan-American Livestock Exposition, Oct. 5-13, and there are approximately 2,500 entries in the Junior Livestock Show Oct. 16-19. Twelve hundred horses and ponies will perform in the free horse shows.

Special free attractions include the Texas Music Festival Oct. 8, Dallas Symphony Spectacular Oct. 10, Military Tattoo Oct. 12, East Texas on Parade Oct. 15 and a College Jazz Show Oct. 16.

Keyed to the Americana theme of the Fair, there will be a colorful "Parade of the Stars and Stripes" around the fairgrounds each evening at 6:45 p. m.

combinations of trim materials. Tailored specifically for each series, interior trims range from the smartly fashioned fabrics and vinyls of the 88's to the rich looking satin-weave nylon in the elegant 98's.

"Big, powerful 394-cubic-inch Rocket engines," Potts added, "are standard on all Dynamic and Super 88's and 98's. Horsepower goes up to 330, with compression ratios as high as 10.25 to 1."

Teamed with Oldsmobile Rocket engines is the famous Hydra-Matic transmission, standard equipment on 1964 Starfires and 98's, and available at extra cost on the Jetstar I and on Dynamic and Super 88 models.

New brake linings of an improved composition provide more effective braking and increased wear qualities. In addition, front brake drums are of heavier construction for better cooling.

Oldsmobile continues to offer a wide selection of other recently developed optional equipment items, including such popular accessories as Tilt-Away steering wheel, AM-FM radio, Reverbatone speaker and Cruise Control.

There are ten interior colors for 1964, including fresh new hues of bright red, aqua, and green. Customers may choose from 16 exterior colors, among them six new ones, two new shades of green, a dark aqua, beige, yellow and light blue.

F-85 Series
"The F-85," Potts said, "is a totally new automobile, styled for more beauty, designed with greater interior measurements for maximum utility, and powered by a brand new engine for more performance."

"The F-85," he added "is a greater value than ever before, with more leg-room, head-room and entrance room.

"It is styled to present a clean, sharp image," he said, "with the immediately recognizable 'action' look of Oldsmobile from every angle.

"In engineering design, too," he added, "the F-85 is a completely new car, with its own new chassis and power train and independent body-frame construction.

"The F-85's new Jetfire Rocket engine," Potts said, "gives exceptional performance in this car. The engine, a light-weight cast-iron V-8, uses the most advanced foundry techniques and is produced in Oldsmobile's Rocket Engine plant.

Potts said the new 330 cubic-inch engine for F-85 models delivers 230 horsepower and uses regular grade gasolines. The Cutlass Sports coupe and Cutlass convertible, along with the newly introduced Cutlass Holiday coupe, are powered by an ultra-high compression, 290 h. p. Cutlass engine, equipped with a four-barrel carburetor and designed for use with premium fuels.

"For those buyers," he said, "who are primarily interested in fuel economy and low price, Oldsmobile offers a new 155-horsepower V-6 engine. With our V-6, Oldsmobile engineers, long noted for their skills in the reduction of noise and vibration, have achieved new standards of smoothness and quietness.

"Another important component of the new F-85 power train," Potts stated, "is the Jetway automatic transmission."

He said the Jetway and a floor-mounted four-speed manual transmission is standard on all F-85 models. This transmission is also available with floor-mounted controls.

The 1964 F-85's are available in standard and deluxe sedans, coupes and station wagons, a Cutlass convertible, a Cutlass Sports coupe, and a Cutlass Holiday coupe — 9 models in all. Bucket seats are standard in four of these models — the V-6 Sports coupe, the Cutlass Sports coupe, Cutlass Holiday coupe and the Cutlass Convertible.

TINDALL GIN MANAGER—Above is pictured S. J. King, J. M. Tindall Gin manager, who this year begins his 15th season as manager of the gin here, since he took over in 1949, three years after the gin was established. The gin has five Hardwicke-Etter stands and is ready for this year's harvesting season.

S. J. King Begins 15th Season As Manager Of J. M. Tindall Gin Here

S. J. King, manager of the local J. M. Tindall Gin, announced this week that everything is in readiness to give his customers fine service for the 1963 season. To date he said that the gin had processed 20 bales of cotton from the 1963 crop.

Again this year, the Tindall Gin will buy cotton from local farmers, he said, and invited every grower to come by and get his prices.

The local J. M. Tindall Gin was established in Memphis in 1946. It is one of 10 gins which are owned and operated by J. M. Tindall Gins, with headquarters at Twitty, Texas.

Mr. King came here in 1949, and assumed his duties as manager of the gin. He came from Dallas County, where he managed a cooperative gin. He is a veteran gin manager.

"We have just about every service to offer the cotton farmers of this area," he said. "If a farmer should need cotton trailers—we have them. Also, have several crews of field hands, and believe we can get more of our customers need them."

He added that a loading rack was on the gin yard, and was for use by farmers who needed water. Also, a bur-haul service was available from the gin. He would furnish details.

The Tindall Gin here is equipped with five Hardwicke-Etter stands as well as other equipment with the exception of the Moss Lint Cleaner.

Ginners at Tindall's this year include John Carson, Coy Clark and W. C. Morrison. Mrs. Frankie Spry will serve as bookkeeper in the gin office.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Brown visited in Canyon with his sisters and their families Saturday and attended the WTSU - U. of Pacific football game.

NEWLIN

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Tomb of Abilene and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Murry of Altus, Okla., visited a few hours in Newlin one day last week with old acquaintances and looking over their former home. The ladies will be remembered as Alma and Zell Mann, and their mother was a music teacher here about 1910 to 1913. They were eager to see everyone they might have known then.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Helm and Mike visited Capt. and Mrs. Jack Helm and children at Clinton Sherman Air Force Base in Oklahoma over the weekend.

Brenda Stewart is spending a few days in Dallas with her father, Owen Stewart, and family.

Mrs. Will Smith spent a few days last week in the hospital at Memphis, but at this time she is reported to be feeling much better.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lorah of Portales, N. M., visited with her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Henry and Sherrill.

TIPS for OUTDOORSMEN

Natural Lure Selector
If you, as a fly fisherman, are uncertain which lure to use at a particular place, on a given day, hang several pieces of fly paper overnight near the water you are to fish.

Next morning examine the bugs stuck to the paper and select a lure closely resembling the live bugs.

A Bass Jigging Trick
When bumping the bottom for winter bass, there is no better bait than the popular plastic worm and jig... especially if the worm is blue.

However, if you wrap a tinfoil strip about an inch wide around the worm, nearest the hook, your luck probably will double. Flashing of the foil attracts the reluctant lunker lurking nearby.

Unsnarling Lures
When the monofilament line on a spinning reel does get fouled up, it sure makes a mess of itself.

Such a "birdsnest" snarl usually takes tedious and laborous work to untangle.

Simplify the job by using a good strong toothpick. Or better still, carry with you a small crochet needle. The notched point burrows deep into the birdsnest to lift out the crossed line.

Mark Your Equipment
Equipment not only can be lost or stolen on a camping trip, it can become mixed with that of your companions or left at camp when you depart.

It's wise to plainly mark each piece of your property with name, address and phone number, using a ballpoint pen to keep markings waterproof. A laundry marking pen is ideal for such purposes.

Washing Equipment
When you get home from a camping or fishing trip, fill a washtub half-full of water. Add detergent and stir well.

Then toss in all pieces of tackle such as stringers, bait buckets, scalers, cleaning knives and sacks used to carry fish. Let them soak for an hour or two. Then empty the suds and rinse. This procedure will clean your gear of fish odors.

Be sure to dry equipment well before storing.

'64 Jet-smooth Luxury CHEVROLET

Besides looks, ride and power - what's so special about it?
(it's so reasonably priced)

Kind of leaves the high-priced cars some explaining to do, wouldn't you say? Long and luxurious—with a fresh-creamed look. Richer roomy interiors with subtle new blendings of colors and fabrics. Like the ultra-soft vinyl upholstery in the new Chevrolet Impala Super Sport Series.

A choice of seven engines, no less, with output all the way up to 425 hp.* And a choice of four smooth transmissions to go with them. And underlying it all, the opulent feel of this '64 Chevrolet's Jet-smooth ride.

Matter of fact, the most noticeable difference between this beautiful new 1964 Chevrolet and the high-priced cars is the price itself.

Let your dealer show you how much luxury that reasonable Chevrolet price now buys.

The Canadian Wheat Deal

A call is being made by some Americans for a re-examination of United States export policies in the wake of Canada's half-million-dollar sale of wheat to the Soviet Union. Strictly from a business standpoint the deal was a good one for Canada; the Canadians will receive good, hard currency—not soft Russian rubles—just as they're receiving good, sound dollars in their $700 million past and future grain deals with Communist China. Strictly from a business standpoint, Canada's deal makes it possible to move more of our own wheat into world markets—some of it to Canada itself to replace depleted reserves.

But business is not strictly business where the Communists are concerned. Despite talk that Canada's deal amounts to a political setback for the Soviets, whose agricultural failures are thus pointed up for all the world to see, the deal can only strengthen the economic position of the Soviet and its Iron Curtain satellites—and Cuba. The Soviets have plenty of gold. They can afford to part with some of it in exchange for the grain they must have if Russians and satellite peoples are not to become restive.

Food is as much a weapon in the Cold War as is the military. It's a cruel fact of life in the modern world that warfare—hot or cold—involves the total commitment of national resources, populations as well as industrial and agricultural productive capacities. The current phase of the East-West conflict amounts to an imposing test of the abilities of two opposite systems to provide for the well-being of humanity. Our conviction, and certainly that of the Canadians, is that freedom under democratic government is the best way for man to attain his material and spiritual goals. The Communist belief is that state supremacy through totalitarian control is the only course through which man can attain an abundant, if soul-less, existence. The conflict between the two systems will continue through the foreseeable future, and as it goes on the capacities of the Free and Communist worlds to provide for their peoples will continue to be tested.

Some argue that for humanitarian purposes we should modify our export policies to sell foodstuffs to Iron Curtain countries, including the Chinese Communists. It is an appeal that bypasses the dominant fact that these nations are bent on the destruction of free men and their governments, including the United States.

At the moment, the United States—in assessing Canada's action—is in the same position as would be a sporting goods store owner who sees his competitor across the street sell a basket of revolvers to a gang of known criminals. We wish we'd gotten the dollars in our till, but we know that the effect of the sale may be to hasten the day that the gang returns to stage the promised hold-up.

I regret that the Canadian government can't see that point. And I trust our own government, despite our wheat surplus and balance-of-payment problems, will not lose sight of it.

Appearing below are the names of "flag"—first-place—winners in the contest I announced several weeks ago. Hall County Soil Conservation District News

"Gins in this area should not burn a bur," was a statement made by the Spur Experiment Station a few years ago. This statement has been made several times by other people, who are interested in seeing our farm land maintained and improved.

There has been a lot of experimental work done on the application of cotton burs to the soil. The Lubbock Experiment Station and the Spur Experiment Station have both been carrying on this experiment. At the Lubbock Experiment Station tests conducted on dryland cotton have shown interesting results. Over a four year study, lint yields were increased 27 pounds per acre per ton of burs, additional residual effects increased yields 28 pounds per acre over 5 more years. The yield increase on irrigated land has been considerably higher than this.

Each bale of cotton that is harvested by pulling or stripping, produces an average of 675 pounds of burs, stems and waste. A ton of these contain $7.65 worth of nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium.

For best results apply burs to the same location for at least three years. A minimum amount of 3 tons per acre should be applied. The residual effect from these burs will be evident for 3 to 5 years. The tests run at Lubbock showed no increase in plant diseases or insects. As far as weed seeds are concerned, more seeds will enter the fields by wind, water and implements than by the burs.

An application of commercial nitrogen put on as the burs are put down is beneficial as it will help decompose the burs faster, and provide more free nitrogen to the crops.

For additional information on the benefits of cotton burs, a bulletin can be made available from the County Agents office.

Eagles Down Cyclone 56-14

The Sanford-Fritch Eagles unleashed a tough ground attack Friday night against the Cyclone defense and routed the Memphis team 56-14.

The Eagles could do no wrong in the first half and held a 44-0 halftime lead over the visitors.

The Eagles' QB C. Whaley opened scoring with a 12-yard carry, climaxing a drive in the early minutes of the first quarter. D. Marcum added the two points.

The Cyclone moved the ball deep into Eagle territory on a long run by Toby Crooks after the kickoff, but Memphis lost the ball on downs.

The Eagles marched 78 yards to score again with Marcum carrying over. D. Stottlenyre added the extra points.

Then, the next time the Eagles got their hands on the ball, their quarterback, on a keeper, scampered 34 yards for another score, and Marcum carried for the extra points, making the score 22-0 at the beginning of the second quarter.

Next to score for the Eagles was T. Davis on a 47-yard carry. Marcum added two more points to the scoreboard.

The Cyclone's lone fumble set up the Eagles' next score on the Memphis 40. A 15-yard penalty against Memphis got the Eagles out of a hole on a 3rd and 8 situation; and on the next play, Marcum carried 24 yards for another touchdown. The score was 38-0.

Marcum carried for their next score, climaxing a long drive, from the six-yard line, which made the halftime score 44-0.

The second half of the game saw Memphis scoring twice and Sanford-Fritch scoring twice.

Memphis scored in the third quarter after taking over from an Eagle fumble on the Sanford-Fritch 35. A 36-yard pass play from QB Jimmy Sturdevant to End Jim Odom was good for the score. The extra points try was no good.

The Eagles came back after the kickoff and marched 60 yards to score with D. Scott going over for the touchdown.

The ball changed hands twice before the Cyclone started their touchdown drive in the fourth quarter when the Chiefs lost a fumble on the Memphis 35.

A 15-yard pass from Sturdevant to Odom started the drive.

The Cyclone offense started rolling with Crooks gaining 13 yards on an end sweep, and five more on the next play. FB Mike Crow carried for 11 yards to the 20. Jack Stargel picked up six more, and then Toby Crooks went into the end zone for the score.

He also carried for the two-point conversion.

The Eagles last TD came on a 75-yard interception return by J. Spencer in the closing minutes of the fourth quarter, making the final score 56-14.

The Cyclone started a drive in last minutes of the game, and moved the ball 50 yards in four downs; then lost the ball on downs deep in the Eagles' territory. The Sanford-Fritch had the ball when the game ended.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

By Vern Sanford

Family campers during 1962 increased so rapidly many of them gave up in disgust because they couldn't find a place to pitch their tents.

This was true not only in Texas but across the nation. Also in Mexico and Canada.

According to figures recently released by the director of national parks, camp-use days in 1962 were recorded at 6,106,030. This is an increase of 14 per cent over the previous year.

This year the peak will go higher. To date, very few landowners have found a way to take advantage of this new economy. Some don't even want to fool with campers.

Most of the state parks, national forest areas and other public lands have provided camp grounds and camp sites. These places usually provide adequate water, cook-out spots and sanitary facilities to make camping easier.

While there is a craze for primitive camping, most of the campers demand some degree of comfort and convenience. They want to get back to nature, but they want to do it the comfortable way.

They sleep in their station wagons, or on soft rubber mattresses on good quality cots. They want plenty of wood and water handy. Some even cook with electricity provided in the public camping areas.

More leisure hours and additional facilities, plus a desire to "rough it", are responsible for this camp craze. Summer vacation periods with camp-outs by the Boy Scouts and other organizations also help the cause.

Most of the time it's just that mom and dad have a desire to give public areas is a paying proposition. It can be profitable to a landowner, too.

In many instances the owners themselves can be blamed for lack of interest on the part of landowners. Too many campers are asked to leave their litter for the owner.

This is noticeable even in roadside parks, where tables, benches, fireplaces and trash cans are courteously provided. The users walk away from their camp and cans around to attract and varmints. And to the landscape!

Watermelon eaters are bad about this. They stop at the first roadside stand and eat the melon. When they'll leave the rind and an extremely sticky mess for the next fellow who comes along.

If you love the great outdoors help preserve it in all its glory.

Texas is the land of opportunity with plenty of land.

A smart change of pace!
