Everything On The Rise!

Reports from all over the nation are received by newspapers at the end of each year and from the reports, one thing is very apparent, everything is on the rise.

J. Edgar Hoover revealed in the year-end report to Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy that the FBI had recorded increases in all major categories of FBI accomplishments during the past year.

The FBI final tabulations for 1963 reflected more than 12,900 convictions in FBI cases.

Commenting on the continued increase in violations of the Federal Bank Robbery and Incidental Crimes Statute, Mr. Hoover stated, "An average of 135 robberies, burglaries and larcenies of banks and other financial institutions covered by the Statute have been reported to the FBI each month last year. This figure represents an increase of 20 per cent over the number of offenses in this category committed in 1962."

So crime is still on the increase as is the apprehension of criminals. This seems to be becoming a traditional report.

The Texas motorists are tramping a little harder on the gas pedal since the state's new 70-mile-per-hour speed law went into effect Sept. 1, 1963, the Texas Highway Dept. announced.

The average speed of all vehicles surveyed by the department was 56.5 mph before the law became effective and 59.3 mph after. By comparison the 1962 survey of vehicles—passenger cars, trucks, buses—indicated an average speed of 53.2 mph.

Of the vehicles surveyed 11.1 per cent of the passenger cars were exceeding the new speed law. In 1962 the number of passenger cars which exceeded the then-speed limit of 60 mph represented 16 per cent of the total. In June-July, 1963, this number had jumped to 32.8 per cent, although the old speed law still was in effect.

The Texas Retail Grocers Assn. estimates total retail food volume for 1963 at an all-time high of $2,751,638,242—marking the 24th straight year the food industry within the state has registered gains over the previous year. Estimated total 1963 volume represents a 5.1 per cent increase over 1962 volume of $2,620,607,850. The 1962 increase was five per cent.

Reports on National and State population also record increases and predict continued increase through 1970.

The authorities predict that the U. S. will have a vehicle population of 95 million cars, trucks and buses traveling some 900 billion miles by 1970. Presently the figure is 79 million motor vehicles rolling up 767 billion miles last year.

At the present time, there are about 140,000 automobile repair shops in the United States. In addition to auto dealers, these include nearly 71,000 general repair shops, more than 14,000 top and body repair stations and thousands of other maintenance establishments.

All of these things sum up the national picture of growth. With the growth must come a continuing awareness of the responsibilities of being citizens of this free nation.

These growing trends will continue through 1964 and we, as a city, county, and state, must accept this growth, plan for the changes this growth will bring, and use the knowledge of the past to lay better plans for the future.

A Re-statement . . .

At this, the beginning of a new year, we want to re-affirm our statement of policy . . . our pledge of service to our community and our country and our faith in them . . . an affirmation which appeared in these columns when The Record first came under its present management more than a decade ago, and one which has been re-stated at intervals since that time.

These are the principles on which this newspaper is operated: We believe in the freedom of the press. We are grateful for it. We will defend it to the limit of our ability.

We believe, too, that in return for that freedom, we owe an obligation of service to our community. We believe that it is our duty to provide you with complete and unbiased reporting of the news of our community.

We will strive always for accuracy . . . and being human, we will not always achieve it. But we pledge to you that we will never knowingly mislead you . . . and will never refuse to make correction if any error in fact is called to our attention.

We will do our best to keep you informed regarding the public affairs of our community, because we believe that an informed public is our best guarantee of freedom.

We will strive always to base our reporting of the news on fact, and to confine our own opinions and comments on it to our editorial columns. We will continue to present our own views on public questions, editorially, as clearly and concisely as possible . . . because we believe that you have a right to know where your newspaper stands on any public question.

At the same time, we will not deny you, as individuals, the right to public expression of your own views . . . whether your ideas agree with ours or not. As always, the columns of The Record will be open to you for publication, over your signature, of your own views on questions of public interest . . . subject only to the restrictions of libel and the standards of common decency.

But we will neither publish nor acknowledge unsigned and anonymous communications, regardless of their content.

The Record is a private company, operated for private profit. But it is a public news medium . . . and as such, we hope that it merits and will continue to merit, your confidence and your trust.

—The Canadian Record.

W. T. Martin of Alamogordo, N. M., visited here over the weekend with his mother, Mrs. Ella Johnson, and sister, Mrs. Arvor McQueen and Mr. McQueen. Also visiting here was Mr. Martin's son, Thomas, who is a student at S.M.U. in Dallas.

That's a silly question. I take it for granted you are, mom. Do you know that it's been proven the average woman puts in over sixty 8-hour working days per year in hand-washing dishes? . . . time that you can put to far better use.

An automatic dishwasher is the answer to your dishwashing chore. It will save you more than half of your after-meal cleanup time, and keep the kitchen neat and clean after between meal snacks. As sure as I'm Reddy Kilowatt, you'll have to admit that continuing to do the dishes by hand is about as pointless as laundering the clothes by hand.

Round and About
By HELEN COMBS

Residents waited patiently for the gas to be turned on Monday night, and the only outward sign of cold homes were the burning porch lights at about half of the homes about the city. Never have our street so well-lighted as were extending a welcome to the vicemen who were working night to get the meters on and fuel into the homes.

In all, speaking weather-wise, the time to be without gas has not come at a better time. The weather was mild and was not needed as badly as it is at this time of year. Even so, we were thankful every morning to be able to get a warm and comfortable modern luxury we too take for granted!

Herschel, the gas story was different kind! He sat until the hours of the morning—to be exact—near the linemen waiting patiently for the metal pots to heat and a check on the thermostat control the heat to see everything would operate and the machines become overheated. Ever worked fine and the machine was back in operation at Tuesday morning.

Our equipment problem of which few of our are aware. But the machine we use is quite intricate to do have problems now and when we do have a break the men work until the machine is put back into order as they have that Thursday to meet. It takes highly skilled men to operate modern printing equipment.

But, along with our problems, we have our bright moments, too! An unusual treat during the holiday season was a letter which arrived from Amarillo and enclosed was a check for $5.00, marked "box of candy". The letter was from Dr. and Mrs. Roy L. Vinyard and read in part: "We just wanted to congratulate the whole staff of The Memphis Democrat on this week's edition . . . it's the best that has come off the press in the thirty years I have been a subscriber. May the light and love Jesus brought into the world bring each one of you joy, peace, and happiness throughout 1964. God bless you and keep you. R. L. Vinyard." Thanks, Dr. Roy, and we are enjoying that box of candy on Claude's desk as you designated.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Salmon, who live on Rt. 1, Lakeview, were surprised during the holiday to receive a greeting from Mrs. Edward Olson in Calasas, Calif. They were surprised because Mrs. Olson was not known to them . . . but after reading her message they learned she had recently visited in Europe and while sight-seeing in Copenhagen had met their son James and a friend of his, who were on 10-day leave from their station at Bonn, Germany. Mrs. Olson wrote to say that James looked happy and healthy and seemed to be enjoying his leave very much and that it had been a pleasure to meet their son. Small world these days with Americans scattered all around the globe!

NEWS FLASH—Elsie Guthrie, one of Memphis' dedicated and hard-working teachers, has been chosen among the ten finalists in the "National Teacher of the Year" contest being sponsored by Look Magazine in cooperation with the U. S. Office of Education. We are extremely proud of Elsie and know her many students, both present and past, will be delighted that she has received this outstanding honor and recognition for her years of service to the youth of our area. We can think of no one who is more deserving than Mrs. Guthrie . . . congratulations, Elsie!

Today's chuckle: Prospective employer: "You say, sir, you were at your last place for 23 years? Why did you leave?" Prospective employee: "I was paroled."

URDENS CONFRONTING THE PRESIDENT

As the turn of the corner into the year each of us looks down the road marked "1964" to reading on what lies ahead personal and professional and in the future of our No man in the United States looks forward to a more array of problems, a mental and physical burden those which face the President. Having been thrust suddenly to the world's most critical position by the accession of President Kennedy, Johnson faces challenges of a magnitude and deliver before faced by a U.S. President.

Every confidence that Johnson will meet these challenges with courage, intelligence and imagination. In meeting his responsibilities, the President be as aware as any other that this is an election year that political considerations that he establish a name for himself in his own name before the people of the United States to well goes far beyond political considerations; in fact, the very survival of the nation and the Free World depend on how well a President meets the challenges that are his.

alone to meet.

President Johnson, looking down the 1964 road, can find his resources tested in an endless parade of problems involving our relations with the world: Cuba continues under armed Communist domination, a Red thorn in the side of the Western Hemisphere; the costly and near stalemated war continues in South Viet Nam—a war bringing a rising toll of American casualties; South American countries are under the eroding subversive pressures of Cuban, Russian, and Red Chinese brands of communism; France, under DeGaulle's "France comes first" leadership, poses problems for the solidity of the Atlantic Alliance; Italy's new government contains the threat of growing neutralism in that country and more problems for NATO; the political storm is rising in Britain, with an election showdown between Conservative and Labor parties likely to come this spring; Berlin remains a Cold War tinderbox, as does the continued domestic problems, all permeated with controversy, include tax reduction and reform; civil rights; the level of defense spending and the assignment of defense expenditures; farm problems (including wheat); medical care legislation; aid to education; unemployment; and many others. The foreign aid program, under constant fire for a number of years and sure to remain mired in dispute, could be termed a program half domestic and half foreign in nature. The importance of proposals regarded as purely domestic is heightened by the absolute necessity of the United States to maintain its economic stability so as to be able to work in the world for a position of strength.

But foreign affairs, policies, programs, and strategies are paramount considerations for a President who, by the Constitution, is charged to function as the chief architect of American foreign policy. With the other Presidents who have held that lonely post in the years since World War II, President Lyndon Johnson is well aware that a serious mistake in foreign policy could mean the incineration of the Northern Hemisphere. Despite a phalanx of advisers and staff assistants and experts of every kind, the final decisions in the foreign policy area remain the President's to make. It is hard, hard, hard—and very lonely work.

And so, I would urge all Americans regardless of political party or political convictions to respect the President and his office and the enormity of his duties; to recognize the Constitutional obligation that is his to formulate a program of legislation and to lead the Nation's foreign policy; to acknowledge the love he shares with us for our country; to acknowledge his boundless desire to see our country prosper in continued safety and full sovereignty; to support those programs we can support, to reject those we can not support—but to support or reject in a spirit of good will and with a willingness to examine the opposing point of view; and, of course, to pray to Divine Providence that our President will continue to have His guidance and be strengthened thereby.

Hall County Soil Conservation District News

The most important people who do conservation work are the owners and operators of farm and ranch land. There are many groups, societies, organizations and agencies that encourage conservation, but the most important conservationist of all is the man on the land.

The greater part of our land is in private ownership. There is where many of our streams originate. Most of our grassland and cropland is under private ownership. Therefore, the responsibility of carrying out soil and water conservation rests on each individual land owner and operator.

The biggest job of soil and water conservation is being done within Soil Conservation Districts, such as the Hall County Soil Conservation District.

A Soil Conservation District represents all of the people in the District and is the farmers' and ranchers' personal conservation agency. In Texas, Districts are authorized by state law. Each District is a segment of state government. A District is voted in to exist by the landowners within the particular area to be covered by the District.

Each Soil Conservation District is administered by a governing body of five local landowners. These persons, called Supervisors, are elected by their friends and neighbors who are also landowners in the District.

These supervisors serve without pay. Yet it is their responsibility to administer their Districts; plan and carry out their District programs; spend whatever funds that they have available for the benefit of the District and program; take care of District property; see to it that all farmers and ranchers in the District get technical information and other assistance they need to do the conservation job on the land; and keep all of the people in the District informed about the conservation problem and progress made toward its solution.

The District's request assistance from the Soil Conservation Service in carrying out its soil and water conservation program within the District. Then, the Soil Conservation Service provides technicians, trained to help farmers and ranchers carry out the conservation program or plan best adapted to their particular farm or ranch unit.

The Supervisors of the Hall County Soil Conservation District, which covers both Hall and Childress Counties, are Wayne Hutcheson, Memphis; Lee Scrivner, Turkey; Bill Bradley, Memphis; Earnest Rae, Tell; and Kenneth Ellis, Kirkland. They have a regular meeting every second Wednesday, of each month, in Childress in the County Courthouse.

Barnes-Robertson Nuptial Vows Read In Pretty Home Service

Nuptial vows were solemnized at 3:00 p. m. Saturday, December 21, to unite in marriage Miss Jo Beth Barnes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Barnes, and Lee E. Robertson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard A. Robertson of Hale Center.

Rev. Tom Posey, minister of the First Christian Church, read the double-ring ceremony at the country home of the bride's parents.

The nuptial space was decorated with a futura archway. On one side was a large pink candle in an arrangement of pink poinsettias and holly. The other arch was of two white tapers flanked by white poinsettias and holly in relation to the arch. The tradition of the candles was carried out after the couple were pronounced man and wife (by each taking a white taper from the archway and together lighting the single pink Christmas candle symbolizing "one love—one life.")

Pre-nuptial organ selections were played by Miss Carolyn Montgomery, who also played the traditional wedding marches for the processional and the recessional.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose an imported white knit suit with matching kid gloves from France. Her matching accessories were a white mink hat and white lizard shoes and her bouquet was a white orchid with white rose buds.

Steve Paris, nephew of the bride, lit the two tapers for the ceremony and Ted Jay Barnes, brother of the bride, served as the usher.

Joe Robertson of Littlefield, brother of the groom, served as the best man.

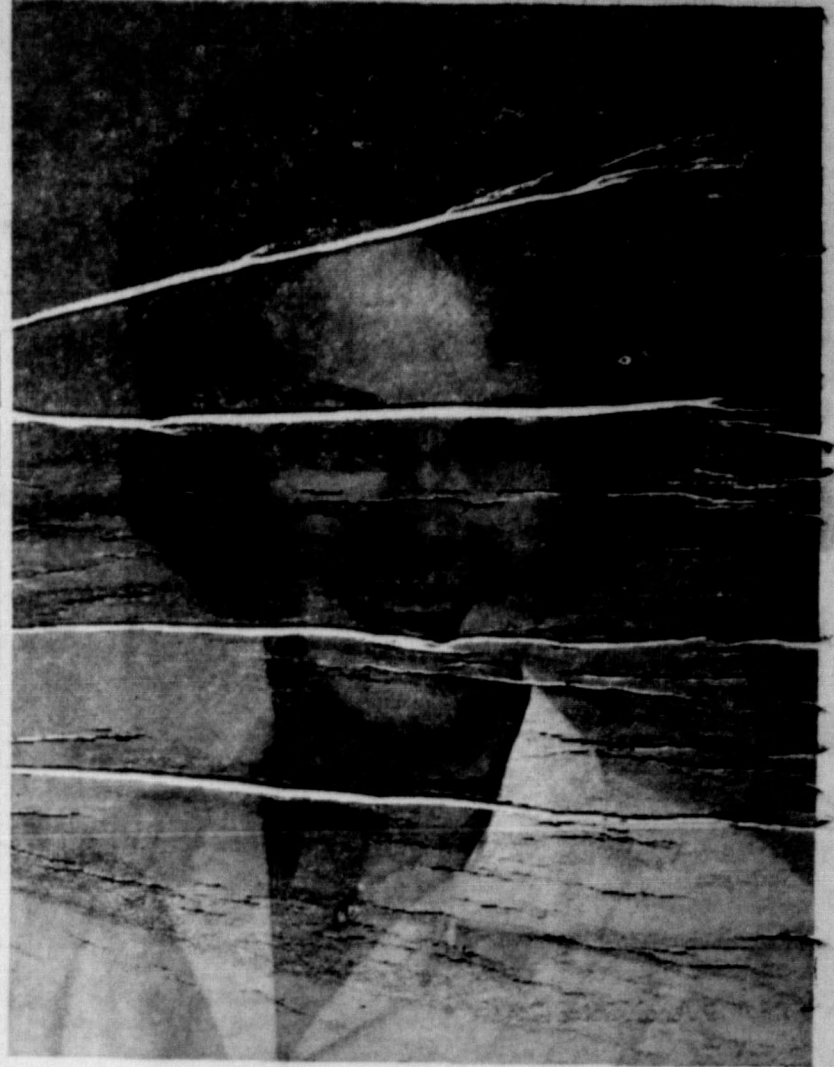

Mrs. Barnes chose for her daughter's wedding a royal blue crepe and wool dress, accented with matching accessories, while the groom's mother, Mrs. Robertson, wore a winter green wool dress with matching accessories. Both wore corsages of feathered carnations with pine needles.

Immediately following the wedding ceremony, a reception was held. The bride's table was laid with a white net cloth over an undershirt of pink accented by an arrangement of pink poinsettias and holly.

Nuts and punch were served with the two-tiered wedding cake which was topped with wedding bells. Miss Anita Martin of Hale Center and Miss Carolyn Montgomery presided at the refreshment table. Mrs. Danny Davidson presided at the guest register.

Mrs. Robertson is presently serving on the Tech Student Council; is an executive officer in Gamma Phi Beta sorority and is a member and officer of Phi Upsilon Omicron, a professional honorary sorority. She is listed on the (Continued on Page 12)

Hall County Vets Receive $75,515 During 1963

More than $75,515.00 was paid to the veterans and their families in Hall County during 1963. This information was revealed in a letter written to Hubert Dennis, Veterans County Service Officer, this week by Charles L. Morris, executive director of the Veterans Affairs Commission, Austin.

Mr. Morris wrote: "Dear Mr. Dennis: "Our official state records show that during the past year more than $75,515.00 was paid to the veterans and their families of your county. This amount represents only the cases that were handled through the Veterans Affairs Commission and the organizations with which we are accredited.

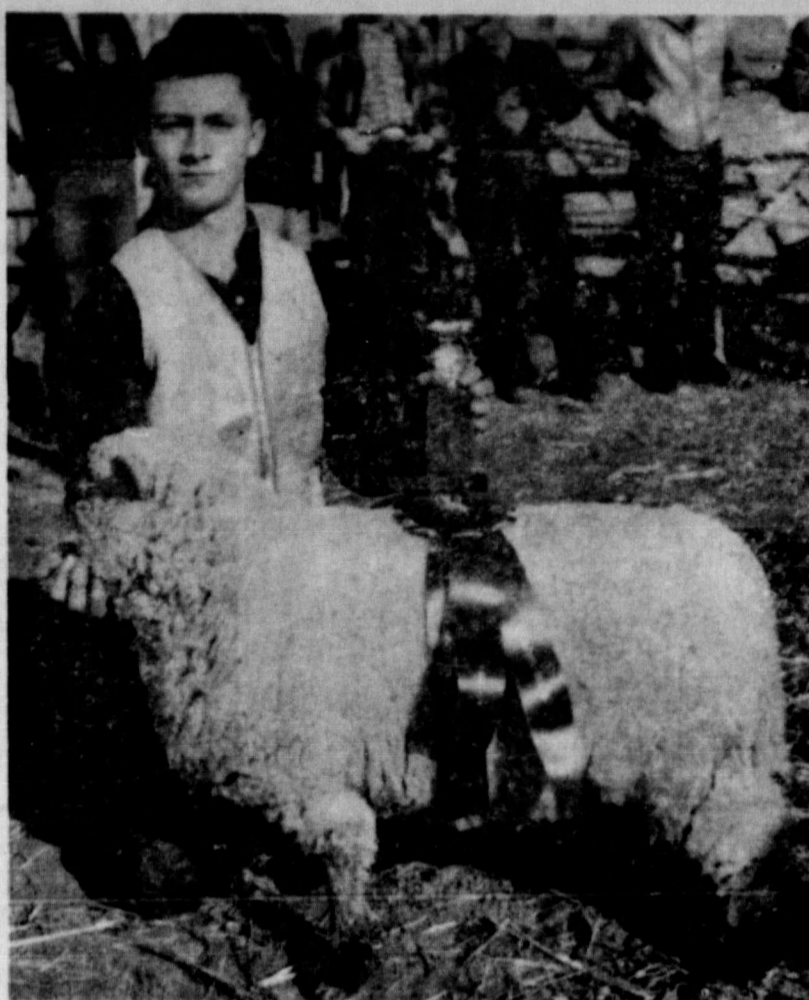

"None of the benefits paid by the Federal government to veterans, their dependents and survivors are automatic. Each eligible person must make formal application for any benefits to which he or she may be entitled. The amount of Federal benefits brought into your county last year clearly indicates that you are rendering an outstanding service to the veterans of your county.

"We have enjoyed working with you this past year, and we wish to congratulate you on the success which your office has apparently experienced. It is our hope that we may be permitted to continue to work closely with you as we pursue our mutual objective of providing assistance to the veterans of our state and nation. Sincerely yours, Charles L. Morris."

Fibrous or firm food plays an important role in keeping the mouth naturally clean and providing a massaging effect on the gums.

For this reason, the consumption of foods such as candy, pastry, chewing gum, sweetened beverages, etc., should be kept to a minimum. High carbohydrate confections are the most undesirable.

Application For Increase In Cotton Allotments May Be Made After Jan. 13

The Hall County ASCA Office will begin accepting written applications for increases in 1964 cotton allotments on Monday, Jan. 13, 1964, Lynn McKown, office manager, announced this week.

The closing date for accepting requests will be March 4, 1964. As the acreage, if any, to increase county allotments will not be available to the county committee until after March 4, all applications filed before March 4, 1964, will be given the same consideration, McKown said.

Due to insect damage in other areas of the state, it is expected that there will be an increase in the amount of released cotton acreage for reapportionment in 1964. In 1963, Hall County received an increase in acreage of 2,352 acres; in 1962 we received 3,065 acres. As every one thousand acres of increase in the county cotton allotment acreage will add $110,000.00 to the county economy, it is to the best interest of everyone to obtain all released acreage possible, it was pointed out.

All producers who have acreage available for an increase in their 1964 cotton acreage allotment are requested to make their written requests to the ASCS office not later than March 4, 1964, McKown said. As the amount of increased acreage received by the county committee will be determined by the acreage requested, you cannot receive an increase until you make a request for your individual farm, he concluded.

The only helium-producing plant in the U. S. is near Amarillo.

Two 19-year-old Turkey boys died early Tuesday morning from injuries received in a one-car accident in Turkey at 2:15 a. m.

Jimmy Doyle Yates, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Yates of Turkey, died at 8:45 a. m. Tuesday in Goodall Hospital here where he was taken following the wreck. He was in critical condition until his death.

Charles Mason, a Negro, the driver of the 1957 Chevrolet station wagon, died at 6:30 a. m. in Stanley Hospital in Matador. He was the son of Mrs. Janet Mason of Turkey.

Highway Patrolman Don Collins, the investigating officer, said that the car skidded 215 feet before hitting a power pole which was broken, continued another 50 feet where it knocked over three gasoline pumps, the supports of the awning, and a fire hydrant, before coming to rest in front of the Young Farm Supply and Gulf Service Station. Also knocked over was the Gulf sign post in front of the station.

Patrolman Collins said that Byron Young estimated damage to the front of the station at $2,000.

The bodies of the two boys were taken to Endy and Seal Funeral Home in Turkey.

Horned lizards often bury themselves in the sand. Then they change the color of their bodies to match the color of the sand as they lie in wait for their prey. They can change from dark to light, and back again, in a few minutes.

The dragon's head is mostly eyes with which it can see the thinnest prey far away.

'64 Jet-smooth Luxury Chevrolet

What does it take to make a car a great highway performer?

If the car happens to be a '64 Chevrolet, one thing only. A highway.

You'll find everything else already neatly packaged for you—on the car exactly as you pick it off the showroom floor.

There's a choice of seven engines—all the way up to a twin-carb high-compression 425-hp V8*—and four transmissions, including a finely honed 4-speed stick shift.*

And underlying it all—a bump-skimming Jet-smooth ride that helps keep the performance great even when the highway isn't so great.

What about special performance equipment? Professional driving skills? Performance tires?

Nobody has to doctor or coax or coax these Chevrolets to get the best out of them.

And that's really the best of a great highway performer: Just about anyone can kick out of driving one, just about anyone.

Next time you're out your dealer's allow a few extra minutes to sample one of these highway performers on your own. You're really all you'll need. The time in a Chevrolet.

 of binoculars is invaluable to the outdoorsman. Yet few know what to look for in a pair of binoculars. This whether the binoculars are used in hunting or for a hobby is not always clear. You may be just watching a game of golf or a baseball game. Telescopic sights coming in more in vogue, you see hunters lugging binoculars into the woods. But have you ever had a great majority of ribbon hunters usually carrying binoculars handy? A good reason, of course, is that the top notch hunter is an individual. He spends more time looking and less time shooting. A knoll or hillside or a tree—with a pair of binoculars—and just spend your time. You will be surprised at more you can see. A quality pair of binoculars has the ability to almost penetrate the light, making it seem as if you were under feeble light conditions. Binoculars come in different sizes and prices. There has been an input from Japan. Most binoculars are economical. But like anything else, you get just about what you pay for. The idea is to know what you are looking for before you purchase binoculars. Most people simply wander into a sporting goods store, pick up a pair, look around for a moment, and then say, "I'll take them." But you might find that you are looking through the glasses length of time without a protesting. Although they may appear all right, they may be out of alignment and put a strain on your eyes. A check for alignment is important. Focus the glasses on some object, such as the top of a tree, and slowly push the object away from your eyes. The glasses get toward arm's length and you see two distinct images. If the glasses are not aligned properly, the images will not merge into one even when the binoculars are at arm's length.

A pair of binoculars has many advantages over the scope-sight of a rifle for the job it is intended to do. For one, it is tiring to hold a rifle up to your shoulder for any length of time. Binoculars are much lighter. For another, binoculars have a wider field of view, thus permitting you to study a larger area at one glance. For instance, a good six-power binocular will have a field of view at least 450 feet at 1,000 yards. A seven-power job won't be far behind, something like 400 feet. Compare this to a six-power scope which has a view of roughly 200 feet at the same distance. Contrary to popular belief, a number such as 6X30 and 7X35 does not in any way indicate the field of view of that particular glass. Instead, the first number indicates the power of the binoculars while the second is the diameter of the objective, or forward lens. The larger the number, the larger the objective lens. A larger objective lens will permit the entrance of more light and consequently you'll be able to see better in weak light conditions. A 7X50 pair of binoculars, for example, will permit much more light to reach your eye than will a 6X30. In a few instances, the field of view may be indicated on the binoculars. Usually it is indicated with a figure like 7 degrees plus 12, which of course, is an angular measurement. Since one degree field of view is 52 1/2 feet at 1,000 yards, you can compute the field of your instrument by some simple mathematics. In the above case, it would mean multiply seven times 52 1/2, then adding 12 more feet. Binoculars are focused to the user's eyesight in two ways. With the center focusing unit you can adjust both eyepieces at once. Individual focus is achieved by adjusting the focusing knob on each eye piece. There are several things which determine the price of any particular pair of binoculars. Power of magnification and size of the objective lenses combine to make one. The stronger the power and the larger the objective lenses, of course, the higher the price. Durability and type of construction also have a lot to do with price, along with the quality of the lenses. Important to consider, however, is that the stronger the power and the larger the objective lenses, the more the instrument will weigh. A pair of 6X30 binoculars will be considerably lighter than the 8X50 size. If you're going to carry a pair slung around your neck all day, it may be wise to sacrifice some power for lighter weight. This again is a matter of choice. So, pick a pair that suits your own individual needs and desires.
