Hall Countians—Wake Up!

In case you haven't looked at the calendar lately, this is Thursday, Jan. 16. In a short half month, only 15 more days, you may find yourself in a pathetic condition, one that no citizen in this nation over 21 years of age should ever be in.

For on Jan. 31, 1964, the agencies which sell poll tax receipts in this county will close their doors and you will find yourself an ineligible voter during the year 1964, if you are between the ages of 21 and 60.

We encourage all citizens who are required to have a poll tax to be eligible voters to go to the nearest place and pay the $1.75 charge for the receipt. Then, when election polls open, exercise your right by going to the polls and voting for the candidates of your choice.

Why have only 900 people in Hall County (as of Monday) purchased poll tax receipts? This is a presidential election year and promises to be one of the "hottest" political years in the history.

Hall County Tax Assessor, Mrs. Melissa Anderson, said this week that the pace has started picking up in her office, but the number is far, far short of normal. "We should have sold over 2,000 poll tax receipts by this time," she said.

Have citizens of this nation, state and county reached the point where they do not care who the governing officials are? We can't believe this is the case. No, rather, we feel it is a reflection on the circumstances surrounding the state's constitutional amendment election held last November. By that time, many citizens had already paid their County taxes to get the discount allowed. But now, these same people have to return to the Tax Assessor-Collector's office and pay their poll tax.

It costs less than a half a cent a day to enfranchise yourself in Texas, if you are between 21 and 60—nothing if you have passed 60. Or five packs of cigarettes, or one and three-quarters movies, or three or four lines of bowling. This is really cheap.

Voting returns and statistics in our county are alarming when one considers the very small number of eligible voters casting ballots thus determining all our political future. It is extremely important that we retain self-government, elect qualified candidates and continue majority rule. Now is the time to do something about it and paying of the poll tax is the first step.

Recently, in the Venezuelan presidential election over 95 per cent of the electorate voted, preserving their freedom despite a campaign of terror by pro-Castro communists.

Our government is the responsibility of all citizens. Place a high premium on your vote, buy your poll tax receipt, and cast your vote to the best of your ability after studying the issues and examining the candidates.

What Other Editors Say

Larceny!!

If we will water the newspapers, listen to reports over TV and radio, I think most of us will concede that we are progressing towards an era where larceny is becoming accepted. Not large thefts or crimes, but the small cancerous type of larceny, that will eventually ruin our society.

The worker, who, while paid for 40 hours of labor, is proud of the fact that he only works 32; the motorist who skips the parking meter and brags about not being caught speeding; the people who fling income tax returns; the bargain hunter, buying shoddy merchandise at fantastically low prices—are all outsmarting themselves. You, an individual, get only what you put into both life and merchandise. Too many of us today seem to be looking for something for nothing, and in so doing we tend to degrade our nation and the youth who will one day be our citizens. We are practicing, on smaller scales the same things we have laws on our statutes which ask for punishment of imprisonment and heavy fines to prevent. Is this living the type of life that will help our nation continue to be the world leader it is at present? I think not!—Marvin Tomme in Ralls Banner.

No More Blackface

The Perryton Lions Club used to put on a Negro Minstrel which saw the members in blackface with jokes, song and dances.

Times have changed so that this is probably against the law by now.

The 64th annual Mummers Parade in Philadelphia was scheduled this year as usual, with members of the parade dressed in minstrel costumes and in blackface, putting on traditional hi-jinks as the parade moved down the street.

But a group of civil rights groups secured an injunction prohibiting Mummers from blacking their faces and marching in the parade, on the grounds that blackface costumes tend to degrade the Negro and destroy his dignity!

Not only that, the Negro groups in Philadelphia announced they would prevent any blackface costuming by force if necessary and as a result the Philadelphia police force called on extra reinforcements to lay out the heaviest guard in Philadelphia history.

Parents feared violence and kept their children home and stayed home themselves. As a result, the smallest crowd in history watched the parade, which had no blackface performers and no "color."

Even Al Jolson, the famed minstrel singer, was banned. A character depicting Jolson was allowed, but edited to take out the Negro dialect. It was not very good.

This Mummers Parade is one of the nation's best known events.

Does BLADDER IRRITATION MAKE YOU NERVOUS?

After 21, common Kidney or Bladder irritations affect twice as many women as men and may make you tense and nervous from too frequent, burning, or hobbling urination both day and night. Secondly, you may lose sleep and suffer from headaches, backache and feel old. Uro-Gen-Sol, the new, revolutionary, OXYTEX usually brings fast, relaxing comfort by curbing irritating germs in strong, acid urine and by analgesic pain relief. Get OXYTEX at drugists. Feel better fast.

According to one bit of information that came our way, there are 2.5 million Federal civilian employees. One million are working on defense projects, 600,000 are in the Post Office, and 175,000 are assigned to the Veteran's Administration.

Everything else the government does is done by 700,000 persons—fewer than the total employment in the telephone business.

This is no apology for unnecessary government employees. It is just a reminder that as the nation grows, each administration seems to find it necessary to add help. President Truman spent more Roosevelt, Eisenhower more than Truman, you could start almost anywhere and find the same general result.—Hon. Anvilier aid.

Government Spending

We hear a lot about the growth of government spending, but it might be interesting to look into how much of it is local and how much is on the national level.

Turning Back Time

From The Democrat Files

50 YEARS AGO

January 28, 1914
News was received in the city last week from Congressman Stephens stating that the inspector who was here some three weeks ago had reported favorably on building location for the post office and that the lots on southwest corner of Main and Seventh streets had been selected.

A. W. Read, Geo. Hattenbach, Mrs. D. A. Grundy, Mrs. J. R. Fore and Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Scott were among those attending the funeral of A. J. Kinard at Good-night Monday.

T. T. Harrison and wife of Hedley spent Friday in Memphis . . .

40 YEARS AGO

January 31, 1924
Mrs. B. Webster is announcing for the office of District Clerk is the third lady candidate to enter the political field this year. Mrs. Webster, who is the daughter of C. W. Brome, has lived here 19 years during which time she has acquired many Hall County friends . . .

At last, after years of waiting, Memphis is to have a new and commodious railway station. The building is to be of brick veneer to the window sills and stucco above and with a red brick California roof. The work of construction will begin April 1; the building to be completed within two months from that date.

Geo. Brome, Donald Lindsey and E. M. Ewen escorted by John Even left early this morning for A.&M. College where they will represent Memphis High School at a state conference held for older boys starting Friday.

20 YEARS AGO

January 27, 1944
Location of an important war installation in Memphis, the development of an abundant newly-discovered water supply and a concerted effort to attract new industries to this community are the major objectives of the Chamber of Commerce for 1944. Officers are C. C. Hodges, president; Byron Baldwin, first vice president; F. N. Foxhall, second vice president; and O. V. Alexander, secretary. Miss Ruby Hoffman was re-elected office secretary.

A solution to the city's problem, at times critical, which has been an obstacle to industrial development of Memphis, has been found. Exchange and thorough tests, made by city commission and the Chamber of Commerce, have resulted in an official report by the State Department of Water Engineers, the United States Department of the Interior and the Geological Survey of the United States as that an abundant water supply exists at the northwest of the city.

10 YEARS AGO

Ford Wins Motor Trend's "Car of the Year" Award

January 8: Motor Trend magazine's "Car of the Year" Award goes to an engineering breakthrough! It honors all the '64s from Ford "For engineering advancement in the concept of Total Performance, proven in open competition."

Thunderbird, Falcon, Super Torque Ford, Fairlane (reading counterclockwise): winners of Motor Trend's "Car of the Year" Award

Here's what the Motor Trend Award means to you . . .

The editors of Motor Trend, America's largest general automotive magazine, watched Ford's total performance in open competition . . . saw competition-modified Fords win every 500-mile stock car race in the last year, saw Ford-built engines win an era at Indianapolis and sweep the sports car circuits.

Then they drove the 1964 Ford Falcons, Fairlanes and Thunderbirds and discovered how the lessons of open competition have helped breed into them a new kind of total performance for the open road for your kind of driving. And then they made their award!

The "Car of the Year" Award is an impressive testimonial, but see for yourself—take the wheel of a '64 from Ford. The cars speak for themselves with their ease of handling in a supermarket parking lot or their greater stability on a slick blacktop.

Before you buy any new car this year, test-drive total performance in a Silent Super Torque Ford, now hundreds of pounds more car than anything in the field. Try America's only total performance compact, the Falcon V-8, totally new, totally changed. Or, any of the '64 Cars of the Year from Ford!

TRY TOTAL PERFORMANCE FOR A CHANGE!

That's Total Performance!

First Memphis Resident Donates Eyes to Eye Bank

The first pair of eyes to be received by the Hi-Plains Eye Bank in Amarillo from the Memphis area was taken to the eye bank last week, and used to restore sight.

Lions Clubs in this area are sponsoring the Eye Bank in Amarillo, and everyone is encouraged to enter into this great humanitarian endeavor by signing a card stating that in the event of your death, you are willing that your eyes be used to restore the wonderful gift of sight to some blind person, members of the local club stated.

Donor cards may be obtained from Dr. Jack L. Rose, who is coordinator for the Eye Bank in this area.

Not all so-called beavers are found in water and have webbed feet. The mountain beavers, or sewellels, found in the mountains of Oregon, Washington and northern California never go near the water. They have neither webbed feet nor flat tails. Furthermore they are no more given to felling trees and building dams or houses than are rabbits.

Fresh Ideas from MRS BAIRD'S BREAD HANDY TOY CARRIER

One of those colorful plastic utility buckets sold in variety stores makes a handy toy carrier. Use it outdoors as a pickup container for scattered yard toys. When taking a small child on a visit trip, fill the plastic bucket with favorite small toys. The child will enjoy carrying the bucket himself. It makes picking up the toys more like play. The bucket has no sharp edges to hurt the child or damage furniture.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Jan. 7, 1964

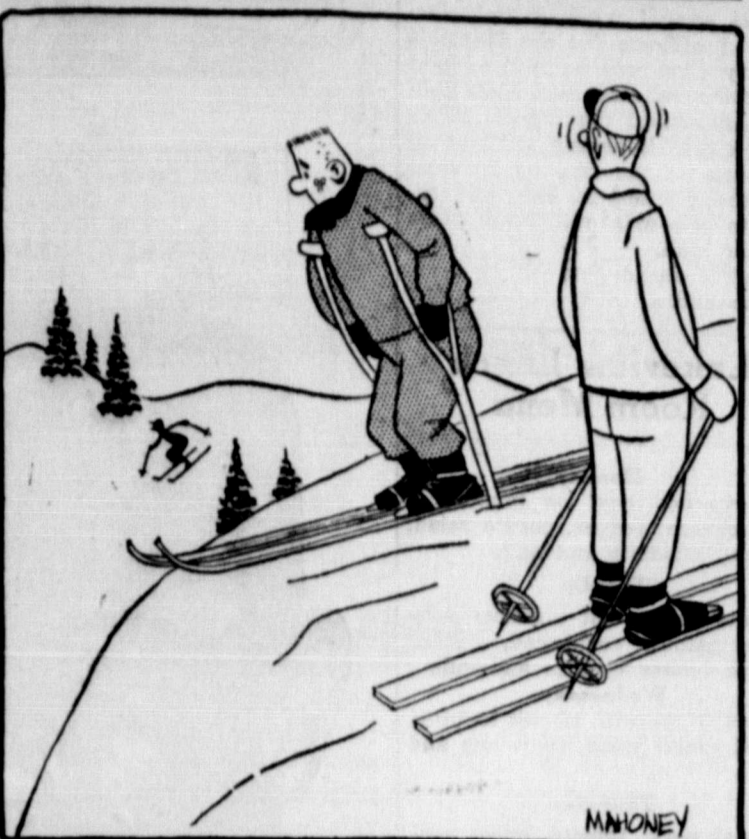

Writing you this note so that you might, in some way, express my thanks to the people of your city. I was in your city on Dec. 31, my brother and myself were involved in a traffic accident just outside of Memphis. We were comming to your town, and were treated by everyone that we met. I especially like to thank the nurses and the hospital, Highway Patrol, Collins and the R. S.

That anyone would be a part of a city with nice people as we met in your city. My sincere thanks and appreciation to all.

TIPS for OUTDOORSMEN

Many boaters, particularly fishermen, take their outboard motors from the water at the first real cold snap of fall and don't put them back again until the warming weather of early spring. For several months the motors are inactive. Usually they are put away with no thought as to maintenance.

And then the boaters wonder why the motors don't run as smoothly as they did when they were retired for the winter. Probably the most common mistake is to store a gas tank half full of fuel. Over the inactive time, this fuel goes bad. It still will run, mind you, but the old fuel causes a varnish-like substance to form inside the tank, and the old fuel will clog fuel pumps and carburetors.

With a little pre-storage care, the motor will run as good as new come spring. This maintenance doesn't take long, but it might save you many dollars in unnecessary repairs.

When you get ready to take your motor out for the winter, first warm it up in the water, while still on the boat, and remove the cowling. Put the motor in neutral and disconnect the fuel line. Then, while the engine is idling, inject storage seal (available at your outboard motor dealer) into the carburetor air intake. As the carburetor starts to run dry, apply an extra liberal dose. This method will effectively distribute the seal throughout the crankcase.

Now remove the motor from the transom, being careful to keep it upright until all water has drained from the driveshaft housing. Flush the cooling system with fresh water according to manufacturer's instruction.

Make sure all water drain holes in the gear housing are open and free, and the flushing plug is removed so that all water will drain out. This is very important. Trapped water may freeze and expand, thus cracking the gear housing and the water pump housing.

Remove the spark plugs and inject a small quantity of storage seal into each spark plug hole. Re-install the plugs and operate the manual starter to distribute the storage seal. Then lubricate the spark plug pin and all linkages as directed by your owner's guide.

Remove the air vent screw and grease filler plug with their accompanying washers. Insert a tube of the lubricant recommended for your outboard's lower unit into the grease filler hole and inject new grease until old grease starts to flow out of the air vent hole, indicating the housing is filled.

Next, replace the vent screw, filler screw and washers. Spray the entire powerhead with a coating of corrosion preventative to protect the finish of all parts beneath the cowl. The exterior of the motor also can be sprayed to protect the finish.

Remove the propeller and clean the shaft with steel wool; then apply graphite grease and re-install the propeller.

If you plan on leaving the motor on your boat, perhaps leaving the entire rib on a parked trailer, disconnect the battery terminals. Clean the battery paying particular attention to the removal of corrosion around terminal posts. Apply exterior corrosion and rust preventative. Check electrolyte and add distilled water as necessary to bring to recommended level.

It also helps to charge the battery until the specific gravity of the electrolyte reaches 1.260. Every 30 days re-check the electrolyte and take the specific battery reading. Apply a booster charge when hydrometer reading drops below 1.150. This may save your battery from one season to the next.

It is best to store the battery where it is not subject to temperature change.

Keep your motor in a clean dry location. It should be covered, but be sure there is enough air circulation to prevent moisture build-up.

Pour all the old fuel from your gas tank and sash a little fresh gasoline around in the tank, to remove all oil deposits. Leave the tank open until all excess fuel evaporates.

If you don't want to go to this much work, take your motor to your outboard dealer and let him make the necessary maintenance. In the long run it will be much cheaper than if you have to take it back to him in the spring, after nature has had a chance to take its toll.

About Your HEALTH

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health

Several thousands of Texans are proof that stroke victims need not lead lives of permanent invalidism. Even after suffering severe "cerebral vascular accidents," they have been totally or partially rehabilitated and have returned to their jobs or other worthwhile vocations.

There was a time—not long ago in terms of years—when they would have lain helpless and dependent until death released them from their torment.

The key to this dramatic advance is in starting rehabilitation early, as soon as the patient is able to communicate, and methodically continuing a prescribed series of exercises. The exercises are usually directed by a physiotherapist who works under the supervision of the patient's physician.

Today, more and more progressive hospitals, nursing and convalescent homes no longer consider themselves custodians of stroke victims, but institutions of education and training for the patient and his family. As soon as the immediate task of saving the patient's life has been accomplished, the rehabilitation process begins.

First the patient is helped to overcome his anxiety about his condition. Often this can be done by using as examples other patients who have made recoveries or noticeable progress.

The patient is then motivated to lead as close to a normal life as possible. His accomplishments are noted and complimented. A system of communications is arranged for the patient whose speech is impaired or who cannot speak at all.

A series of simple exercises consisting of massage, movement of the limbs, hands, feet and head

Boys and girls, here's your chance to earn $200 just for writing 300 words or less.

Each year the Fort Worth Press sponsors an Essay Contest as a part of their Conservation Awards Program. This contest is designed to afford an opportunity for the young people of Texas to participate in the awards program.

The contest is open for any Texas boy or girl 10 years old or younger who is in or out of school but not a high school graduate. Just write 300 words or less on the following subject: "Youth's Stake In Conservation".

Tell how soil and water conservation can affect your future. Don't try to tell what conservation is or how to conserve the land. Tell how it will help now and in the future.

This is an open contest and does not affect participation in Inter-scholastic League events. Besides the $200 first prize there are 50 trophies and medals for other winners. You may send individual entries or include them in class or club groups. Mail entries to Marvin Garrett, Conservation Director, Fort Worth Press, Fort Worth, Texas, by February 15, 1964.

The Supervisors of the Hall County Soil Conservation District urge the boys and girls of this district to enter the essay contest this year. It's easy. Learn about soil conservation, then sit down and write an essay on "Youth's Stake In Conservation".

Further information concerning the contest may be obtained by contacting the local Soil Conservation Service Office.

Many Farmers Lose Valuable Social Security

Many farmers lose valuable social security credit, according to Hal Geldon, district manager for social security in Amarillo.

Geldon said these are farmers who do not file income tax and self-employment reports on their farm earnings.

Geldon pointed out that Federal law requires farmers who clear at least $400 a year to file tax returns and pay social security taxes. Farmers who do not clear $400, but whose total farm sales are at least $600, may report this income and pay social security tax on it under special provisions for farmers only, and thus earn credit for low or no profit years.

In order to make proper reports, farmers should keep accurate records of their income and expenses. Reports for 1963 will be due soon and must be filed not later than February 15, 1964, to avoid penalty.

Geldon explained that all social security benefits are based on earnings credited to the worker's social security record. If the self-employed farmer does not report his earnings, there is no way the Social Security Administration can pay benefits when he reaches retirement age, becomes disabled, or dies. And he may also be breaking the law.

Both social security and Internal Revenue offices have free booklets that tell more about social security coverage for farmers. The social security office in Amarillo is at 1006 Adams Street.

West Texas Utilities Company Names S. B. Phillips, Jr. New President

Executive changes in West Texas Utilities Company's management were announced following a meeting of the Board of Directors, Monday morning.

Effective March 1, S. B. (Ski) Phillips, Jr., will succeed Cal Young as President. Also, J. F. Longley was promoted to Executive Vice President.

Mr. Phillips, a Vice President since 1940 and an employee since 1933, will succeed Cal Young as the chief executive of the company. Young, who reaches the mandatory retirement age of 65 on February 27, will be elevated to Chairman of the Board. Phillips was also elected to the Board of Directors.

Young in commenting on Phillips' election as president said, "I feel he is bringing to this position the youth, vigor, and ability it needs. He is well qualified and will make a very able president."

Phillips was born in 1905 in Portland, Oregon, and later moved with his family to Newton Center, Mass. He is a graduate of Phillips Exeter Academy and holds a Bachelor of Science from Harvard University.

Before joining WTU at San Angelo, Phillips worked with Commonwealth Edison Co. in Chicago. He has worked in the District Office in San Angelo, at the Comanche Generating Station, and directed the work of the Western Division of WTU's Farm and Ranch Development Service. Phillips, while in the Western Division, assisted in the Industrial Service until 1952 when he was promoted to District Manager of the Big Bend District with headquarters in Marfa. He served there for five years before being transferred to Abilene in 1957 as an administrative and executive assistant in the General Office. As a Vice President, Phillips had been responsible for the supervision and direction of the Personnel, Insurance-Safety, Purchasing and Stores Dept.

A veteran of WW II, he is enrolled in the Army Air Corp at Good-follows Field, San Angelo, in 1942. He served at the Pentagon in Washington and in the China-India theatre. He was released from active duty as a Major in 1944.

In San Angelo, Marfa, and Abilene, Phillips has established a record as an active participant in community life and civic work.

Phillips married the former Frances Raa of San Angelo and they have four children: three daughters and a son.

Longley has been with WTU since 1926. He is a native of Baylor County and a graduate of Texas A. & M. Beginning as an engineer, he served successfully as chief dispatcher, superintendent of production and engineering and as vice president in charge of the company's district operations since 1953. He was elected a Director in 1956.

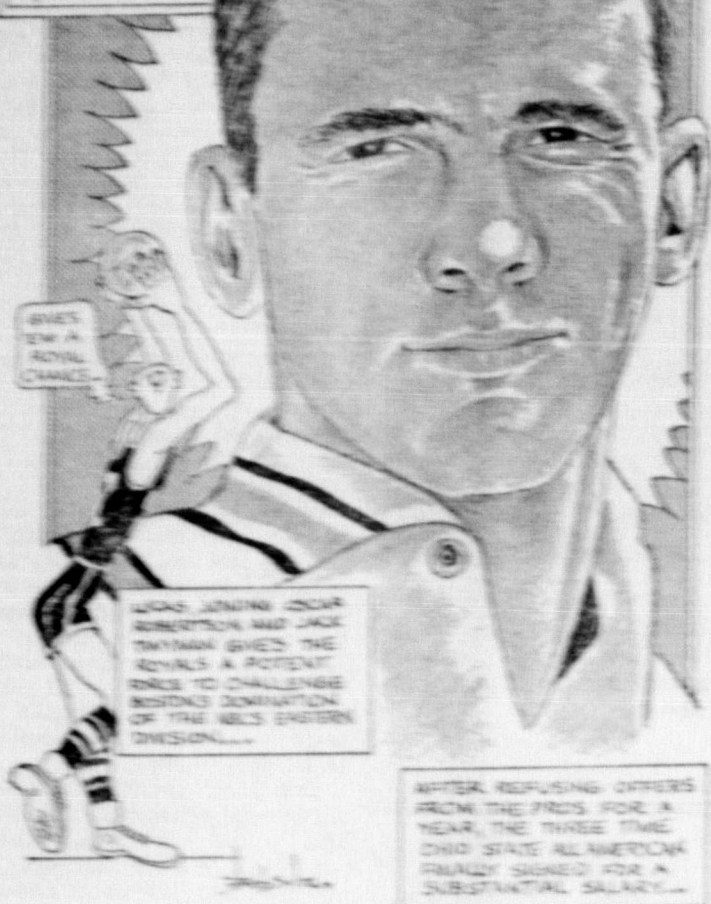

Young's career in the electric field spans more than 42 years. He joined WTU in 1924 and has served as president of the company since August, 1953. In commenting on his own role as Chairman of the Board, Young said, "My role will be one of consultation and advice when it is needed and requested." Young has filled the top positions of vice president in Abilene and was elected the outstanding citizen in 1954.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

By Vern Sanford
I'll bet you didn't know that: Fish, like humans, get seasick if left to the mercy of the waves for an extended period.

The mullet is the only fish rich enough to fry in its own fat.

Frequently the words "frog" and "toad" are incorrectly used. In general, frogs have smooth skins and toads warty skins.

The mountain lion, largest cat in North America, is the only one that has a long tail and is unspotted when fully grown.

Gopher turtles of the South and West are exclusively terrestrial and never go near water.

Honey bees carry water as well as honey. Special carriers bring it to the hive, dip it out, seal it in cells, or even act as storage tanks themselves until the water is needed.

Just before the molting period, ducks and geese fly to bodies of water where they will be safe from land enemies. Reason is they molt their primary feathers all at once, and for a short period can not fly.

The House Sparrow, formerly known as English Sparrow, was introduced into New York City from England in 1852.

Some snakes have been known to live for one or two years without food by absorbing the fat of their own bodies.

Members of the pigeon family drink by suction. Other birds take the water into their mouths and throw their heads back in order to swallow.

By pushing their trunks up above the surface of the water and breathing through them, elephants can walk along the bottom of a river.

The leopard, once supposed to be a cross between the lion and the panther, takes its name from two words—leo, meaning lion, and pardus, meaning panther.

The armadillo gets its name from the Spanish name meaning "clad in armor."

Electric sparks stirred up from a cat's body, when the fur is under friction, are caused by the peculiar dryness of the hair, which is free from the oily substance common to the coats of most mammals.

Gophers are called "mole-worms" in some southern states. Part of the West they are called to as "dogs."

Copperhead snakes have no and fangs at birth.

The earthworm gets traction movement by being covered with small bristles. These bristles press against the walls of the tunnel and allow the worm to gain a foothold.

Jackrabbits have been clocked at 40 miles per hour. In a race among North American mammals, they concede only to the cheetah.

All bumble bees except the yellow-bellied bumble bee die in the winter. She survives to produce another generation.

Insects have no lungs. They breathe from tubes running through their bodies.

MINERALS PRODUCTION REFLECTS ECONOMIC STRENGTH

The economy booms and the effects are felt right down the line of the smallest business firm on Main Street—and by you. The economy lags and effects also spiral down to affect your earnings, the vitality of your business, the future of your...

previous high established in 1962. The 1963 total represents the largest value increase since 1956 and continues an upward trend begun in 1959.

Of direct interest to Panhandle residents are the figures as they relate to crude petroleum, natural gas, and helium. The position of these industries is vital to our area.

Crude petroleum production continued to expand in 1963, reaching 2,760 million barrels, and topping the 1962 record by 3.2 percent. Total value of crude petroleum at the well increased by 3 percent to approximately $8 billion. The average value at the wellhead was $2.98 per barrel, compared with the 1962 average of $2.90 per barrel. Total demand for all oils in 1963 averaged 10,745,000 barrels daily, or 3.3 percent higher than 1962. Marketed production of natural gas in 1963 was 14,500 billion cubic feet, with an average value at the wellhead of 15.7 cents per thousand cubic feet. This represents a gain of 4.6 percent in production and an increase of 0.2 cents per thousand cubic feet in average value compared with the 1962 figure. Value of natural gas output rose 6 percent to nearly $2.3 billion. Natural gas processing plants increased their output of natural gas liquids at the unusually high rate of 7 percent in 1963 to attain a total of 16,700 million gallons. Most of the gain was in the production of LP gas and ethane. Overage value of all natural gas liquids was 5.2 cents per gallon, an increase of 0.1 cents per gallon compared with 1962. Helium shipments for consumption during 1963 reached a record volume of more than 600 million cubic feet. Helium output not shipped to consumers was stored underground in the Cliffside field northwest of Amarillo for later withdrawal and use. More than 1,300 million cubic feet of helium was purchased from five industry plants under the government-industry cooperative long-range helium conservation program and added to the volume in underground storage, bringing the total volume in storage to slightly more than 2 billion cubic feet.

The figures as they relate to crude petroleum and natural gas reflect the general soundness of the total U. S. economy. The production of crude rose as did that of natural gas because of the rising demand for these fuels. More cars were on the road, more Americans had more money with which to take vacation trips, more highway mileage was constructed. The level of factory production continued high with the resultant high demand for heating fuels. The level of housing construction was high, and again the effect was felt in an upward demand for fuel for heating. Electric utility companies, major users of natural gas in the generation of electric power, enjoyed a rising demand for electric power to turn the machines of industry and run domestic appliances, and this bounty was passed on to those who produce the natural gas to fire the turbines.

For the first time since 1955, Pennsylvania anthracite production showed an increase over the previous year—and anthracite registered a remarkable 20 percent value increase. Heavier industrial demand and the settling of labor difficulties were among factors contributing to increased output of such materials as iron ore, bauxite, molybdenum, lead, and zinc, which accounted for most of the growth in metal output. Silver prices continued to rise and, as a result, the production value of that metal gained 13 percent.

that the Gross National Product has reached the $600 billion annual level but that "it easily could and should be $30 billion higher." It is obvious that strengthening the economy to this extent would mean another round of new records in 1964 for the production and value of minerals.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Dennis returned last week from a visit of several weeks with kinsmen in Alabama, in and around Birmingham. They report an enjoyable time, despite some bad weather.

Raymond Ballew should return home the latter part of this week from the Mayo Clinic where he has been undergoing treatment since Dec. 30.

Cyclone Hosts Canadian Here Friday Night

The Memphis Cyclone will play host to the A and B teams from Canadian Friday with the first game beginning at 6:30 p. m.

Both Canadian and Memphis lost their district openers Tuesday night.

The Cyclone lost to Wellington Tuesday night by a score of 62-45 at Wellington while the Canadian Wildcats lost to LeFevre 66 to 36.

Then, next Tuesday night, the Cyclone travels to McLean to take on the Tigers on their home court. McLean defeated Clarendon Tuesday 66-59 in their district opener.

Coach Milton Miller said the Canadian games promises to be a good one, however, he has not seen the Canadian team play. A large crowd is expected to be on hand for the first home district basketball game.

James Waites and Skipper Spillman tied for high point honors in the Memphis-Wellington game. Both boys scored 16 points. Jim Odom scored 14 points to be second high point man.

Wellington took a 14-12 first quarter lead and increased it to the final victory of 62-45.

In the B game, Memphis was downed 47 to 43 by the Wellington lads. Jerry Moss scored 12 points for the local squad to be the high point man for Memphis. Wellington has good depth and a tough defense, Coach Miller said, and we weren't hitting our shots from outside like we can.

Junior High Teams

The two Memphis Junior High basketball teams will travel to Quanah Friday afternoon. Coach Bert Glascock said this week.

The 7th grade team will play at 5:30 while the 8th graders will play at 7 p. m., he said.

Monday, the two teams play Children's teams and both local teams got beat. Children's 8th graders won 52-22 while the 7th graders won 77-27.

Coach Glascock said that this was the first basketball game for either of the teams.

Four Men Run For Memphis City Council

City Secretary A. L. Galer announced this week that four men have filed for re-election to Alderman positions on the Memphis City Council.

Those filing included: E. E. Roberts from Ward 1, Guy Davis from Ward 2, Gayle Gossett from Ward 3, and B. G. Blumkin from Ward 4.

The deadline for filing is 30 days prior to the election date, the City Secretary said.

Dr. O. R. Goodall Is Director Of Amarillo Bank

Dr. O. R. Goodall, long-time Memphis physician, was listed as a new director of the North State Bank of Amarillo, according to publicity in an Amarillo newspaper which arrived here Wednesday morning. The announcement was made by James F. Smith, chairman of the board of directors of the bank, after a stockholders meeting Tuesday night.

Dr. Goodall came to Memphis in December, 1923, and has practiced since that date. In 1932 he was elected by the stockholders of the First State Bank of Memphis as a director, and has served since that date.

The Amarillo bank opened for business in 1959. According to the report, deposits in the bank increased to about 13 million dollars in the past 18 months.

Lee Roy Henderson Is Charged With Assault With Intent

A Negro male, Lee Roy Henderson, has been charged with assault with intent to murder following the Saturday night shooting of two Negro women in Morningville.

Henderson was taken before Justice of Peace J. E. Grimes, who set the bond at $4,000, Tuesday.

The two victims of the shooting were Kinnie Mae Anderson and her daughter, Norma Faye Scott.

Sheriff Elmer Neal said that the two women were shot in the legs by a 28-gauge shotgun.

HMS "Victory", Lord Nelson's ship is in dry dock at Portsmouth, England, and can be inspected daily until sundown.

John Law's scheme of exploiting the resources of French Louisiana was known as the Mississippi Bubble.

Driving with one arm around the girl friend is sure to end in a church ceremony—either a wedding or a funeral.
