Advanced Ticket Sales Are Good

Mrs. Roy L. Guthrie, one of the nation's top 10 teachers, and Dr. W. C. Davis, superintendent of Memphis Schools for the past 29 years, will be honored at the Memphis Ex-Students Banquet at 7:30 p. m. Saturday at the Community Center. Tickets to the affair will be available at the door or at a booth located downtown, the senior class said. If advanced ticket sales are any indication, the annual banquet is going to be one of the largest in recent years, it was reported this week. Mrs. L. E. Hughes, chairman of the food committee, said that plans now call for preparing 350 plates. However, if ticket sales in the last few days are high, more food may be prepared. Over 200 persons have already indicated they desired to attend. President Bill Combs stated that this year, due to the nature of the program and due to the facilities of the Community Center, which will seat up to 500 persons, sales are not limited to exes only, and all who are interested in attending are asked to contact any member of the senior class or Combs to reserve tickets. Many college age students will wait until they arrive in Memphis before purchasing tickets, it was reported, so there is no way of estimating how many will be present at the banquet. One more addition to the program was listed this week when Mrs. Terra Cagle Bass, who played a piano solo, "Valse, Op. 42," by Chopin, at the 1914 graduation of Memphis High, consented to play the number at the banquet. Several members of the 1914 class have indicated they will attend the affair. These include: John Bass, Mrs. Terra Bass, John Deaver, Neville Wrenn, Mrs. Elsie Guthrie, who will be honored at the banquet, Mrs. Alma Swift Decker, Byron Baldwin, Mrs. Leota Bryant Jameson, and possibly others. All exes are encouraged to be at the coffee at the Memphis Country Club from 4 to 6 p. m., and to attend the social at the Country Club after the banquet, President Combs said. Honored guests at the banquet will be Dr. W. C. Davis and Mrs. Roy L. Guthrie. R. C. Lemons will give the presentation for Dr. Davis, and Byron Baldwin will give the presentation for Mrs. Guthrie. ### Texas Industrial Week!

For our readers who are not aware of the fact, next week, April 1-7, has been designated Texas Industrial Week by Governor John Connally. In looking over the information supplied by Texas Manufacturers Assn., several items of interest were found which are well worth comment.

TMA pointed out that the most important single development in Texas during the past decade has been its industrial growth, which has been five times that of the national average.

Even here in Memphis, Hall County, we have seen additional jobs open up due to the establishment of industry during the past two years. Because Hall County contains no petroleum plants, the only other major job-producing enterprise in this area is agriculture, which has been undergoing a change during the past two decades.

Our Chamber of Commerce released statistics concerning what 100 workers in a new industrial plant will support concerning the local labor force and community gain: 359 more people, 65 more employed in non-manufacturing, 91 more school children, $710,000 more personal income per year, 100 more households, $331,000 more retail sales per year, 97 more passenger cars registered, $229,000 more bank deposits, three more retail establishments.

And to these economic factors are added state and local taxes by the new plant and new workers and by the business establishments favorably affected by new employment.

Texas Governor Connally said that through the Texas Industrial Commission "we are actively seeking new plants and encouraging the expansion of others. In 1963 Texas ranked second only to New York in new plant locations."

Governor Connally urged all Texans to understand the need for maintaining an economic climate conducive to industrial development and the companion need for stable government on the State and local levels. In this era of technological change, it is essential that we encourage the creation of new job opportunities through industrial growth, resulting in more business, more trade, more income and more investment capital, the governor said.

Industry, with its job opportunities, is the soundest and quickest way of causing an economic advance; and if Texas expects to continue to grow in population and develop its economic base, it must be done through industrial expansion.

In order to attract industry, a good business climate is necessary and this is not something that just happens; it is a combination of circumstances, conditions, and attitudes which are prevalent in the community. It often requires a long period of time to achieve a good business climate which can be maintained only by great effort.

What are the ingredients of a good business climate? The Texas Manufacturers Assn. says it takes a stable government on the state and local level, sound labor-management relations, equitable taxes, and a friendly community attitude.

Our state is fortunate in having the resources, the manpower, the capital, the transportation, the water, the fuel, and the power that industry requires when looking for new industrial locations. However, other states have the same attractions to offer, and are in active competition with the Lone Star State for industrial expansion.

Much has been said and written about attracting industry to an area. However, the state and the community which offers the best business climate will be the area favored for industrial growth and new job opportunities.

Recently, industry has discovered the large labor supply found in "rural America", and has begun to establish what is considered high-labor factories in many rural communities. Mechanization in some factories have replaced large numbers of workers. In other facilities, skilled labor is high in demand.

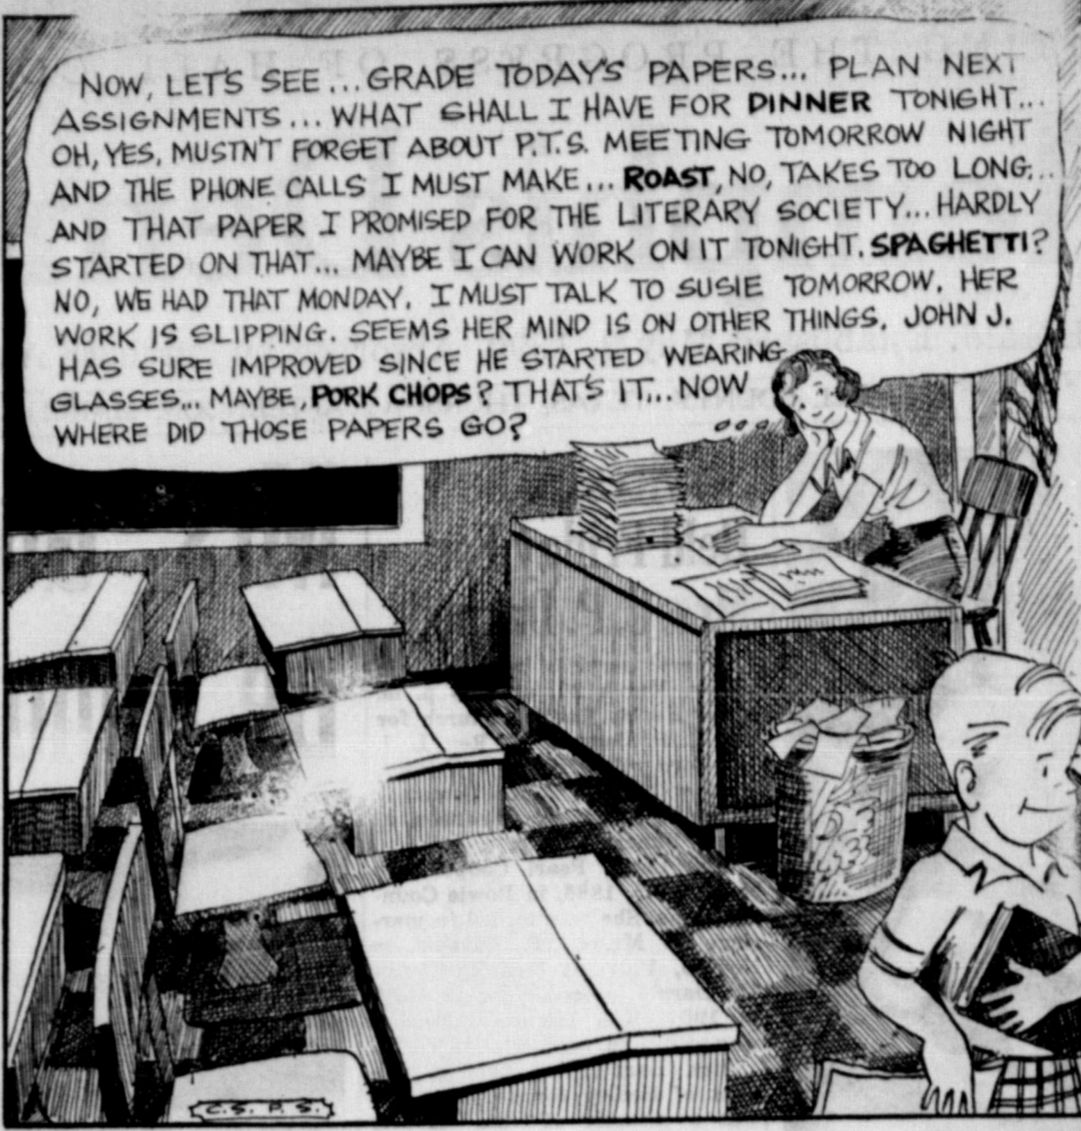

This factor, plus many others, is why industry, in some fields, is turning to rural communities, where they are welcomed with open arms, instead of establishing in highly populated areas where they will be in open competition for labor and also where they "pay through the nose" for everything they get.

In the field of rural community development, Texas has a bigger problem than any state in the nation. The State government realizing the unusually large number of communities (10,000 population and below), located in its boundaries, has for the past two years, through the efforts of the Texas Industrial Commission, Harry W. Clark, executive director, began developing strong local industrial development committees. It is through the efforts of these that much work is being done toward establishing industry in local communities.

This is the backbone of Texas' Industrial growth, growth which Memphis is experiencing now because of the work of the industrial development committee which is constantly seeking new prospects.

What Other Editors Say

Age of the Mechanic

Nobody needs to be reminded that America is a land on wheels, with automobiles clogging the highways and parking lots and creating problems for every city in the land.

And along with all of this easy transportation caused by the car has come more problems than solutions.

There was an article in a news magazine this week concerning the automobile as one of the biggest problems facing college administrators these days. How to find a parking place is a problem that hits a student as hard as how to pass a course.

We are quite dependent upon the automobile, even to the point where we drive a couple of blocks and circle a block a dozen times looking for a parking place when it would have been easier and simpler to walk in the first place.

Automobile sales continue to set new records. The 1955 year hit 7 million bars and this was passed with the 1963 year and #### 1964 looks like another dandy.

Automobiles are lasting longer, ride better, and are much more complicated pieces of machinery than ever before.

And one of the biggest problems of all is how to find people that can keep the automobile in repair—the mechanic.

It would appear that a nation of kids addicted to hot rodding and car talk would fill the ranks of garage mechanics, but not so. The average age of the automobile mechanic is 55 years of age and few youngsters go into the field, which is wide open and pays well.

In this day when we are educating in literature and the arts, we are reminded that there is a gnawing need for a skilled mechanic to keep the wheels of this nation turning. The automobile industry is only as good as the men who keep the machines running.—Ochiltree County Herald.

Hoffa's Sentence And Judge's Talk

After listening for seven weeks to the testimony and reviewing the evidence in the trial which led to the conviction of Jimmy Hoffa for trying to fix a jury, a U. S. District Court Judge Frank Wilson had these things to say:

The jury's verdict was "clearly supported by the evidence."

Hoffa's crime was committed "knowingly and corruptly."

Most of those who stand before the court for sentencing have committed crimes against property or against individuals.

But Hoffa was convicted of "seeking to corrupt the administration of justice itself."

"Now," added the judge, "if a conviction of such an offense were to go unpunished and this type of conduct and this type of offense permitted to pass without any action by this court, it would surely destroy this country more quickly and more surely than any combination of foreign foes that we could ever possibly have."

Any corruption is damaging to the general welfare of the nation.

Corruption in the processes of government is doubly damaging.

But worst of all is an attempt to rig the system by which the guilty are distinguished from the innocent. If the jury system, es-

World of Ours

Described By Mrs. Kinard Following Extended Tour

By LOTTIE KINARD

One of the most thrilling experiences of a lifetime is a trip to travel by jet plane for the time you have nibbled on the air, eaten your way aboard the plane, and then on your way and dropping down for a while in some far away place. Time seems almost to stand still and it slips quickly when you are traveling. You lose all account of the weeks and you become obsessed with the sights, the sounds and the world of activities around you. We made 25 flights by air, besides the hundreds of miles by bus or train and more under our own power, to bed many nights footed and weary to awaken the morning refreshed and ready to go with our cameras. We went forth for more interesting sights. We cross every continent, we conquered every continent, we traveled distances beyond what most people consider and important places can see more than you might think.

We traveled over many of the world's airways of the world, American Japan Air Lines, Pacific, Malaysian Air, Air India Civil Air Transport, Philippine Airlines, British Overseas Airways, Middle East Airlines, British Overseas Airways and Olympic Airways. We mingled with many nationalities, Japanese, Chinese, Indian, African, Jordanians, Turkish, Greek and Brit- nish. We found mutual un- derstanding and mutual esteem in our travels and all of the call- ing friendly Texans.

During the United States at- tention, we flew into the Ha- waii Islands where we spent a few days touring the island of Oahu and the beautiful Honolulu with its Waikiki and its distinctive hotels, the Kahala Hilton, one of the most fabulous of the Hil- lites. The longest flight of our tour was from Honolulu to Tokyo where we landed at the Tokyo International Airport in a driv- ing car. Tokyo is the world's largest city having 10 million peo- ple and a full of activity and ex- citement for visitors. It has a blending of the East and the West, the Old of the New and the poor road conditions, the traffic congestion is terrific. We visited many points of inter- est in the city including the Im- perial Palace grounds, Tokyo Tower, the Shrine Garden, the Em- peror's Residences, the Ginza Street shopping area and many other in- teresting places. Tokyo has many houses and theaters, they have more movies than any other city in the world. We had the opportunity to see a marvelous at- tention at the Kokusai Theatre. We took a motor coach was wonderful. There we saw Chuzenji, the Pagodas, Torii and Toshogu Hindu Shrine under a soft blanket of snow. The scenery was very beautiful and the mountain roads very precipitous. Next came an excursion to Hakone National Park and we stayed at the famous resort hotel of Fujiya, and at Kamakura, we saw the great Buddha, the largest in the world. The train service in Japan is considered the best in the world and our trip from Atami, via Yokahama to Kyoto was most interesting. A Sukiyaki dinner in Japan is a must so we mastered the art of Japanese dining in true chopstick style seated on the floor. We rode all around Fujiyama, the most famous mountain in all of Japan. Its beauty and grandeur is breathtaking. Kyoto proved to be a most attractive city and rich in history and legends of Japan. At Nara we visited the Todaiji Temple interna- tionally famous because of its col-ossal bronze image of Buddha. Back in Tokyo, we stayed at the fabulous Tokyo Hilton and after ten days of sightseeing in Japan our troupe of ten was joined by the main group of 24 and we were soon on our way to Taipei in Taiwan or Formosa. We stopped there at the Grand Hotel, one of the best in the Far East with its Imperial Chinese palatial archi- tecture and decor. We were wel- come with a Chinese dinner of the most exotic food, served Chinese style with chopsticks. While in Formosa, we visited Green Lake, saw the natives plowing with water buffalo in the watery rice fields, visited the Aborigine vil- lages and rode on pioneer day rail flat cars to visit a mountain waterfall. We saw many points of interest in Taipei and our warm welcome to their country and the pleasant hospitality of these Chi- nese will linger long in our mem-ory.

Soon we were winging our way into Hong Kong, one of the most captivating and fascinating spots in all the Orient. Hong Kong has only a few tourist stops but the picturesque harbor is especially beautiful and another interesting place was the Tiger Balm Gardens. The floating restaurants are un- usual and we went in sampans one evening to have dinner aboard one. It was very exciting. Hong Kong is a shopper's paradise and we had great fun browsing in the shops. We made a harbor tour by yacht and many other interest- ing tours of the city, and drove in two miles of Red China where we had a glimpse across a river boundary.

One of our tours included a tour of the walled city where we saw great poverty and degradation. We visited the water front where so many thousands live their lives out and die on little boats. These people are tragical and it is not to see the many refugees who have fled their homes in Red Chi- na and are paying such a terrible price for freedom. It is indeed a sobering thought, but we loved Hong Kong and what this free city is doing to keep freedom alive in the Orient.

We soon departed for Manila in the Philippines which has be- come one of the most modern cit- ies in all of the Far East. Manila is very much Americanized but also greatly influenced by old Spanish customs. Manila is the capital and it is humid and hot most of the time. Our tour around the country included traveling through colorful rice paddies, banana plantations, coconut groves, bamboo thickets and small villages to Tagaytay and the Taal Vista Lodge, 200 ft. above sea level and overlooking Taal Volcano, situated in the center of Lake Taal. From here we saw Laguna de Bay, Batangas Bay and the China Sea. We visited the Las Pinas Church with its world famous Bamboo Organ built in 1793 and said to be the only one of its kind in the world. The Philippines are called the Pearl of the Orient. There are 7,000 islands in the group. The Filipino people are great lovers of music and their music is very nice. Our hotel, the Manila, was situated on the har- bor where we could see many large ships anchored. This hotel was the Victorian architecture and atmos- phere which is most charming and serves as a perfect backdrop for modern ideas which are becoming world wide. The hotel was espe- cially beautiful at night and we found the climate in Manila to be delightful. We left the Philippines very reluctantly but Malaysia was next on our itinerary.

We flew on Cathay Pacific air- lines from Manila to Singapore with a stop at Saigon. This airline is one of the best linking the is- lands of the Pacific with the main- land and the Malaysian Peninsula. Our itinerary called for a tour of Djakarta, Indonesia, and Ran- goon, Burma, and also Cambodia but they were close to U.S. vis- itors by our State Department, but we had many other interesting places we were allowed to enter. Singapore is called in Lion Cit- y and has 1 3/4 million in popu- lation and is the gateway between the East and the West. It was British Crown Colony until 1963 when they received their indepen- dence of which they are quite proud. We saw the interesting things in the city, the commercial center and surrounding suburban areas, the Jade collection, Bot- anical Gardens and Chinese sec- tion. There are 9 states in Malaya and a Sultan for each state. We went across the causeway to the capital of Malaya, Kuala Lumpur, the magnificent Bakar Mosque. Singaporeans are a happy, friend- ly people. They enjoy a healthy climate and live in freedom from want and fear. Their causeway straddles the straits of Johore which connects the China Sea and the Indian Ocean. They have a magnificent harbor and have 50 large ships per day.

Our next stop was Kuala Lum- pur which is a rapidly growing city, the capital of the young na- tion of Malaya. The most picture- sque of Kuala Lumpur's buildings are the Moorish style railway sta- tion and the Secretariat Buildings. We visited the beautiful Lake gardens and the prehistoric Batu Caves. In all parts of Malaya, rickshaws are the usual means of transport for short distances. We found that true in many more of the Oriental countries, some are called pedicabs and pedishaws, a bicycle being used for power. Side by side with their Moorish style architecture we find sky- scrapers, hotels and office build- ings of Kuala Lumpur. They have many beautiful parks studded with trees and flowers of vivid hues and colors. You will meet people of many races; we saw Ma- layans, Chinese, turbaned In- dians and gold robed monks, all mingling together in this city of brilliant and fascinating contrast.

HALF-PAST TEEN

Mrs. R. S. Greene Presents Original One-Act Play Wed.

"The Magnificent Huntingtons," a one act play written and directed by Mrs. R. S. Greene, was presented before members of the 1913 Study Club and guests on Wednesday afternoon. The meeting was held in the Greene home, 305 North 11th Street.

Preceding the program, Virginia Browder, president, conducted a short business session. It was reported that approximately $370.00 was realized from the two night's performance "The Nifty Nineties." The money will go into the community building fund.

Mrs. Greene introduced members of the cast and gave a short synopsis of the play. Members of the cast included Amelia and Martha Huntington, two old-maid sisters, members of a wealthy and aristocratic family; played by Peaches Harrison and Verna DeBerry; their young niece, Penelope Huntington, played by Gail Yancey; Frances Warring, played by Helen Combs, and her younger sister, played by Johnnie Hutcherson.

As the play opens, there is unrest in the Huntington home. Martha and her niece Penelope are tired of being dominated and forced to live in a miserly fashion despite their apparent wealth by Amelia, who takes care of all financial matters and doles out the money for all family expenses. Braving the wrath of Amelia, Martha rents a room to Frances Warring and her sister, Judith, who are in Huntington with a concert group that has been engaged to help raise funds for the community building project. Through the influence of the outsiders and the stubborn resistance of Martha, Amelia is finally made to see that she is forcing the family to live in a miserly, selfish and withdrawn manner unbecoming to a member of the Huntington family.

Circus Schedules Show In Memphis Saturday, Sunday

The true American circus, complete with Big Top, flying banners, menagerie and sawdust, will be on hand when Sells Bros. 3-Ring Circus comes to Memphis Saturday and Sunday with three performances at the old Fair Grounds here. The Fair Grounds are located east of the railroad tracks and south of the Highway Department buildings.

Two performances will be presented Saturday, Mar. 28. The first will start at 2 p. m., and the second will begin at 8 p. m. Sunday, only one performance is scheduled. It will begin at 2 p. m.

The circus performance in Memphis is being sponsored by the Simmons-Noel Post of the American Legion. Commander Bill Ballew stated Wednesday that the performances would be worth attending.

The management of the circus has announced that this year an all new low price policy is in effect. This has been made possible by a much larger tent, and many more seats, which by accommodating more patrons, enables them to reduce prices to less than has been charged by any major circus in over 20 years. They also pride themselves on the fact that no games of chance or gambling games are carried with the show, and that the entire circus is good clean entertainment for the entire family.

Admission charges are: 50 cents for children, and $1.00 for adults. —Adv.

Mullins-McElreath Vows Read March 6

Donna Derinda Mullins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wood Mullins of Lakeview, became the bride of Donald Ray McElreath, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan

McElreath, in a pretty home ceremony on March 6.

Tom Posey, minister of the First Christian Church of Memphis, read the marriage ceremony at 3 p. m. in the home of the bride's parents in Lakeview. Only members of the immediate families were present.

Given in marriage by her brother, Johnny Mullins of Lakeview, the bride wore a white sheath dress of French linen accented with pink accessories, and carried a bouquet of pink roses atop a white Bible.

Joyce Baker of Lakeview served as maid of honor and Benny Whisenand of Memphis was best man.

Around and About

The aroma of "goodies" in the home will be noted in most homes the next few days as local homes will be cooking for Easter. College students have already begun arriving for the Easter holiday. We are sorry to see that neither of our out-of-town children and their families be here this Easter.

There are numerous activities planned for the week including annual Chamber of Commerce luncheon on Thursday evening and the Student Banquet on Saturday evening. Both socials will be held in the new community auditorium, which local citizens will be displaying with pride to form-Memphians.

On Saturday afternoon from 4 until 6 o'clock all ex-students are invited to the Country Club for an informal chat. This will be a good time for former classmates to meet and catch up on happenings of the past year or local citizens, as well as out-of-town visitors, are urged to attend both the banquet and the hour at the Country Club.

On Sunday morning, a joint Easter Service will be held in the new community center at 8 a. m. Ministers from several participating churches will part in the service. All area ministers are cordially invited to attend. Rev. Richard Avery stated.

Next week, a highlight of the Easter celebration will be the social given by the Delphian Club honoring the new women of Memphis. The program will be held in the sanctuary of the Methodist Church at 4 p. m. with Mrs. C. Dickey serving as hostess. A musical program will feature Robert Sexauer, accompanied by Miss Lilly Larsen. We are sure it will be a real treat for those attending. We are always glad to have the chance to hear Helen sing, as she is an accomplished musician with a very lovely voice. Miss Larsen is also a well-known musician and teacher.

The newcomers tea, which is held each year by the Delphian Club, is among one of the social affairs planned by the club during the year. We think it is a splendid way in which to welcome to the new women of Memphis.

Speaking of the Delphian Club, we offer congratulations on the awards won at the 25th District meeting in Little Falls Monday. The club placed second in several divisions and first on their program on "The Americas." Several women from here attended the one-day convention.

Mrs. A. W. Howard, who went as a delegate from the Woman's Club, said she had as much fun at the luncheon Mrs. Roy Howard, former Memphian and now resident of Wichita Falls, Mrs. Howard sent greetings to her many friends here.

Anderson and Alvin Massey visited Alvin's mother, Mrs. Pearl Massey, on Saturday. They also attended the firemen's meeting held Saturday at the Community Building.

B&PW NOMINEES—Two Memphis High School commercial students have been selected as "Outstanding Students" by the Business & Professional Women's Club. # King of the Mountain

What boy hasn't played at, or dreamed of being king of the mountain? Children—yes, and all too many adults—seem to find security in imagining themselves "the biggest thing in the world" . . . able to vanquish all comers.

With real maturity comes the realization that we aren't quite "the biggest thing in the world." And very often the foundation of true maturity is true religious faith. For faith asks not that we be "bigger and better" than others, but rather that we search everlastingly for the very best that we, as individuals, have in us.

Is "something big" missing from your life? Seek your faith. Help your children to seek theirs. Worship—this week—at your church or synagogue.

FIND THE STRENGTH FOR YOUR LIFE...

Worship together

Austin-Travis News

By Tony Monzingo

Beginning this week I am featuring short articles with pictures for the students in grade school who has been so helpful assembling information for me for this column.

This week three students in
Mrs. Gurley's third grade class Sharon Lambertson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Lambertson, Wayne Gordon, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Gordon, and Dale Coleman, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. D.
Coleman, are being featured.

All three are A students and Mrs. Gurley stated that all of these students are excellent and express their abilities in their schoolwork. The reporting and writing of the news is a valuable experience and is of great value in gathering and editing for grade school news, she said.

The fourth grade of Austin School would like to express its appreciation for the number of parents attending the open house.
Thirty-nine registered. The parents observed the children during lessons in arithmetic, English, science, geography, and an arithmetic game: "Show Me."

Eight members of the class entered the Science Fair. Bruce Rose, Mack Miller, and Tommy Hall won first place ribbons. Prentice Hicks and Mark Stevenson won second place ribbons. Carol Foxhall, Bobby Clark, and Larry Simpson won third place ribbons.

Bruce Rose, Prentice Hicks, and Mark Miller also won Star Awards.
They are now preparing to enter their science projects in the Science Fair in Amarillo, according to Miss Bruce, their teacher.

The second grade children of Mrs. King's room, assisted by Mrs.
Gayley, portrayed Indian life in story, rhythm and song. The children were dressed in native costume. They rendered the following selections: Master of Ceremonies—Mark Bradshaw, Background of Indian Music—Bill Yancey, History of the American Indian—Jim Dixon.

All the children participated in singing the songs: Grinding Corn,
My Bark Canoe, The Peace Pipe
Song, Sunrise Dance, Indian Children, Indian Mother's Song, Indians, Indian Dance, Magic Feathers, and Indian Song.

The children in the program
were: Ramona Bachman, Daryl Bland, Mark Bradshaw, Ronny
Browning, Caron Chambliss, Charlotte Carroll, Susan Chick, Jim Dixon, Mandy Garcia, Gary McAllister, Daniel Phelps, Delena Pickering, Jamie Ortiz, Beth Reddell, Edward Rodriguez, Terri Rogers,
Terry Mack Wells, Bill Yancey, Mario Vargas, and Glenda Carroll.

Stephen F. Austin Elementary School registered 132 visitors
during the Texas Annual Public Schools Week, March 2 through 6.
The visitors observed the children at work in regular classes.
They were able to observe methods of teaching, techniques in use, and aids in use in the various subjects.

The faculty wishes to express its appreciation for the large number of interested patrons who brought their children back for the night session, visited the class work, and assisted in the coffee break. It was an enjoyable, worthwhile experience.

The second graders at Austin have been studying peanuts in their science book. Recently they planted peas and some flower seeds for their project. They like to tend their plants and watch how fast their peas, especially, are growing.

The first grade at Austin School completed a unit on our state last week. The work was on display for visitors to see. This work included folders of writing, phonic work sheets, and illustrated stories. The creative work consisted of cowboys, horses, ranch scenes, cattle, cattle brands, and many things about Texas.

The class work on Thursday evening included a basic reading lesson, chart reading, chalk board stories, experience chart reading, a manuscript writing lesson, arithmetic readiness demonstration, a phonics game, and both Science and Health lessons.

Dear Parents
We want to thank each parent who came to school on Thursday, March 5. We are sorry there was not enough time for each of you to hear your own child read aloud.
Beginning the first Monday in April, if you are a parent who did not hear your child read, if you visit our room I will let your child read to you. The children are disappointed, and so was I, but we'll be expecting you in April.

We feel very proud of the children in Room 10 who took part in the Science Fair. We want to thank each parent who helped with the exhibits.

Mrs. Newton's 1st grade.
Room 10, Travis.

Friday morning, Mrs. Stilwell's second grade at Austin gave the assembly program, consisting of Indian songs and dances under the direction of Mrs. Gayley, the music teacher. Several parent attended the program, stated Mrs. Stilwell.

Mrs. Stroehle's third grade at Travis took a field trip Thursday, March 19, the object being to study the function of our community helpers. The class visited the following public buildings: the Li-

Toby Crooks Is 440-Yard Winner At Panhandle

The Memphis High track team competed in the Panhandle Relays Saturday and placed eighth out of the 31 teams entered,
Coach Charles Chambliss said.

The real high point in the day for Memphis was when Junior Toby Crooks won first place in the 440-yard dash with a time of 52.3, his best time of the year.

Coach Chambliss said that Toby has been working hard on the race and he wants to win district in the event.

The 440-yard relay team turned in a 45.9 effort to place 5th, which was a slower time than last week's 45.4 at Lefors.

Coach Chambliss said he is pleased with the way his runners are improving and he feels that the District meet will be the team's best effort. "We're working hard for that meet," he said.

Last year, Wellington completely dominated the district meet and they have many of the same boys back this year.

Editorial
AMERICANISM
By KAY STENSMAN
Is Americanism? The New World dictionary defines Americanism as devotion to the United States. But is that all Americanism is? Isn't it also democracy, to church, community? Everybody heard the slogan "Charity begin at home," well, shouldn't we begin at his home, his church, he will love his country. Why is Americanism preferred above other philosophies?
government? It's because Americanism stresses government and abolishes all feelings of home and church, while Americanism is home and church.
The members of congress
prayer and Bible reading in public schools, they out-part of Americanism. If emphasizing patriotism
in homes, churches and communities, we shall have taken a step toward the re-establishment of the principles upon which our government was founded.

Report From Washington

By WALTER ROGERS
Representative, 18th
Congressional District

...areas in which levels of income, employment, and education are extremely low.

Among the groups on whom the focus of attention is falling is that comprised by descendants of the "first Americans"—the American Indian. Poverty is not limited to city slums and so-called "distressed areas"—it exists in the wide open space of east and west, on the lands Uncle Sam set aside as Indian reservations. Phillo Nash, the Commissioner of Indian Affairs in the Department of the Interior, states the situation bluntly: "Most Indians are poor, desperately poor—as poor as anybody we know of in this rich country of ours."

According to the 1960 census, there were 552,228 Indians and Alaska Natives, 509,147 Indians in the United States excluding Alaska. More than half of the total live on reservations. Approximately 380,000 Indian people come within the scope of the programs of the Bureau of Indian Affairs, and most of these live on reservations in sparsely populated rural areas far from cities where industrial employment might be available. This is the situation affecting Indians on reservations:

Unemployment runs between 40 and 50 percent—seven or eight times the national average.

Family income on the reservations averages between one-fourth and one-third the national average. Average Indian reservation family income was $1,500 for 1962. Nine out of ten Indian families live in housing that is far below minimum standards of comfort, safety, and decency.

Average schooling of young adults on reservations is only

Hall County Soil Conservation District News

Progressive farmers in The Hall County Soil Conservation District have demonstrated that more income can be made from a soil improving system of farming than one that depletes soil fertility. Soils are depleted to a degree every time plant food nutrients or organic matter is removed by cropping of erosion and not replaced.

When soils contain sufficient organic matter to keep them in good physical condition and enough plant food is used, a bale of cotton can be produced from 15 usable inches of water. 4500 lbs. grain sorghums from 25 inches, 40 bushels of wheat from 20 inches and 4 tons of alfalfa from 32 inches. Twice as much moisture is required to produce the above yields when soils are low in organic matter and no fertilizer is used.

The most practical way to maintain organic matter in the soil is to grow high residue producing crops such as grain sorghums or plant cover crops such as rye in a good rotation system. Cotton burrs or other residue should be applied when available and application is feasible. An average return of 4000 pounds of residue is required to maintain soil organic matter. Grain sorghum that produces 4500 lbs. per acre will return about 5500 lbs. of organic matter to the soil. Organic matter cannot be maintained when cotton is grown or when grain yields are too low.

Large amounts of plant foods are utilized when crops are produced. To produce a bale of cotton 80 lbs. of nitrogen, 40 lbs. of phosphate, and 60 lbs. of potash are required. A yield of 4500 lbs. of grain sorghums requires 110 lbs. nitrogen, 60 lbs. phosphate, and 70 lbs. potash. Six tons of bermuda grass hay requires 240 lbs. nitrogen, 80 lbs. phosphate and 220 lbs. potash.

A large amount of plant food is removed in the harvested portion of the crop. For example, one bale of cotton that has been stripped removes 50 lbs. nitrogen, 25 lbs. phosphate and 50 lbs. potash. Six tons of bermuda grass hay removes 180 lbs. nitrogen, 60 lbs. phosphate and 180 lbs. of potash. To improve soil fertility more of each of the plant food nutrients must be applied than removed. The amount of applied plant food nutrients will vary with the crop grown, soil moisture, the physical condition of the soil and the organic content of the soil. The plant will get 30-70 per cent of the nitrogen, 10-30 per cent of the phosphate and 30-60 per cent of the potash the first year that the fertilizer is applied. The nutrients remaining in the soil will be used by subsequent crops.

The soil must supply plants with a well balanced supply of plant food in order to produce high yields. Fertile soils are our nation's greatest assets. If you do not have a planned cropping system on your farm that will improve the soil, contact the personnel of the Soil Conservation Service and they will be glad to supply you information about how your soil can be improved.

Dear Sir:

Find enclosed check for renewal of the Democrat. Although I no longer live there, I still enjoy the paper and still remember so many people there. I enjoy very much Claude's Comments. Indians do, indeed, make up one of the Nation's "pockets of poverty." Publicity concerning the Indians has centered on that small minority of tribes and individuals which have received enormous sums from oil and gas and other minerals. But the great majority of Indians lack the vocational training to compete for the few skilled jobs that can be found in their home areas. Unskilled agricultural jobs are growing fewer as more and more farmers follow the trend toward mechanized operations. A young Indian adult with no more than an eighth grade education is lucky to get a job of any kind—but he must generally content himself with a low-paying job which leads nowhere in terms of salary and advancement. Much worse is the plight of the Indian who has less than an eighth-grade education or no education at all.

Through vocational training programs, programs aimed at improving housing, programs to improve grazing and agricultural resources, programs aimed at providing credit for business and individual development, encourage-

Chevrolet will go to any length to make you happy

Things have changed a lot since a Chevy was only a Chevy. Especially your ideas of what you want a Chevy to be. So now you have the Jet-smooth Chevrolet—17½ feet of pure luxury, bumper to bumper. The size makes it a luxury car. But not the price. Or you can choose the thrifty Chevy II, a 15¼-foot family car with all kinds of passenger and luggage space. This year, your choice might be the new 16-foot-plus Chevelle, sized to fit nicely between Chevrolet and Chevy II (and between parking meters, with five whole feet left over). Then, too, there's the sporty 15-foot Corvair, so right for so many people (you girls, in particular) that we've never touched an inch of it. And finally, Corvette—still 14½ feet and still too much for any true sports-car lover to say no to. The long and short of it is, you don't have to go to any length to find exactly the kind of car you want. Just see the five different lines of cars at your Chevrolet dealer's.
